Raise the Bar.

What do we mean?

The tenth season at Peak Performances is about new challenges. We are asking artists, as well as audience members like you, to share an extraordinary experience. We know you’re not looking for just another night out. You’re looking for a night you’ll never forget.

On any given night in the Kasser Theater, a wild collection of pathfinders and geniuses can be seen both onstage and in the seat right next to yours. The events highlighted within this book are the start of the next phase. Raise the Bar with us.

I look forward to seeing you at the Kasser.

Liz Gerring's glacier, a new dance work featuring an ever-evolving 360-degree soundscape by composer Michael J. Schumacher, explores the nature inside nature and sheds light on a raw, elemental state of existence. Over the past few years, Gerring's unfettered physicality has garnered attention from audiences and critics alike. Her company's signature style – athletic, precise action with an ever-rising, unstoppable momentum – is on full display in this, her largest-scale work to date.

Initially inspired by Raymond Carver’s short story Cathedral, in which a sightful man’s hand is guided by a blind man’s heart in drawing a cathedral, Fold Here unfolds in an implausible universe filled with empty cardboard boxes as the basic units of all existing matter. In pursuit of the boxes’ elusive essence, the performers explore the physical, sensorial, and spiritual properties of human beings—as parallel contents and containers of existence.

VIJAY IYER
WORLD PREMIERE – A PEAK COMMISSION

OPEN CITY
THE VIJAY IYER LARGE ENSEMBLE PROJECT
Oct. 4 – 7:30 p.m., Oct. 5 – 8:00 p.m.

Featuring Steve Coleman, Graham Haynes, Ambrose Akinmusire, Hafez Modirzadeh, and many others

Texts written and performed by Himanshu Suri and Teju Cole

Vijay Iyer, one of the most celebrated young jazz pianists and composers of his generation, is thinking big with this world premiere concert event. Featuring two dozen musicians and artists, OPEN CITY will include spoken text performed live by rap artist Himanshu Suri and Teju Cole, whose 2012 award-winning novel of the same name inspired this wide-ranging work.

Engage! Oct. 2 – 7:00 p.m.

Get to know the mind behind the music as Vijay Iyer hosts our seventh annual public forum on the state of the arts as viewed by contemporary artists and prominent thinkers. What is the relationship between rhythm, improvisation, and the body? Join us for a discussion that reconsiders music as an active experience that draws on a complex interplay of physical, social, and cultural awarenesses. Tickets free with purchase to either weekend concert, visit peakperfs.org for more info.

Be an OPEN CITY VIP! – Oct. 5

Help our ongoing mission to support emerging artists by becoming an OPEN CITY VIP. This special ticket offer includes free parking, premium seating, and access to exclusive events with the artists before and after the performance. WITH MIRÓ QUARTET
Oct. 6 – 3:00 p.m.

NORTHEAST PREMIERE – A PEAK COMMISSION
BULLYCIDE
Composed by David Del Tredici
with Orion Weiss (piano) and DaXun Zhang (double bass)
Mar. 30 – 3:00 p.m.

The Shanghai Quartet is celebrating their 30th anniversary with two concerts taking the group’s sound to new places. In the fall, the group joins forces with the Miro Quartet to become an octet supergroup, performing works by Shostakovich (Two Pieces for String Octet, Op. 11) and Mendelssohn (Octet in E-flat major, Op. 20). The highlight of the afternoon is the regional premiere of Dan Welcher’s Museon Polemos, described by the composer as “a ballet without dancers.”

In the spring, the Shanghai Quartet is proud to present the Northeast premiere of David Del Tredici’s Bullycide, a new work written in memory of five gay teens who committed suicide, including Rutgers student Tyler Clementi. With elements that revolve around the number “5”, the piece serves as a passionate tribute to five young men who left too soon and to the lives that might have been.

Find out more about Shanghai Quartet at shanghaiquartet.com.

Bullycide is commissioned by La Jolla Music Society for SummerFest, Peak Performances at Montclair State University and Chamber Music Northwest.

Dan Welcher’s Museon Polemos for double quartet was commissioned by Texas Performing Arts, made possible by a grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. It was premiered by the Shanghai and Miro Quartets at The University of Texas at Austin on 28 September 2012.

MOTHERLAND

Oct. 17 – 7:30 p.m.
Premiere Thursday offer! see page 34 for details.
Oct. 18 – 7:30 p.m., Oct. 19 – 8:00 p.m.,
Oct. 20 – 3:00 p.m.

2 hours, no intermission

Directed and Designed by Charlotte Vincent

Winding its way through airbrushed beauty, boob jobs and Botox, victim blaming, slut shaming, the might of motherhood and the challenge of childlessness, Motherland is a funny, moving show about having it all. With universal appeal and a potent mix of live music, theater, and dance, Motherland is a call to arms: one that raises a finger (guess which one) at the shallow hypocrisies of our time and asks “where are we now?”

TRAGEDY OF A Dance/Theater/Opera...?
TRAGÉDIE D'UNE AMITIÉ

Nov. 1 – 7:00 p.m.
Premiere Friday offer! see page 34 for details.
Nov. 2 – 7:00 p.m., Nov. 3 – 2:00 p.m.
3 hours, 10 minutes - no intermission
Performed in English and German with English Supertitles

Concept, Direction and Scenography by Jan Fabre
Text by Stefan Hertmans
Music by Moritz Eggert
with a recorded score performed by the Flanders Opera Symphony Orchestra

Inspired by Richard Wagner's 13 operatic masterpieces, Jan Fabre is putting his own shocking spin on the composer's 200th birthday, documenting the friendship and dramatic feud between Wagner and philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche. Racing from humor to horror across the span of Wagner's works, the piece features extremely graphic imagery and standout vocal performances from tenor Hans Peter Janssens and soprano Lies Vandeweghe.

In collaboration with writer Stefan Hertmans and German composer Moritz Eggert, Jan Fabre has constructed a stunning piece of art that is part opera, part theater, and not for the faint of heart.

This production contains graphic imagery and content. It is recommended only for those with strong stomachs and a taste for the bizarre.

A Winter Solstice Event with
Daphna Mor and Nina Stern recorders, ney, chalumeau
Ara Dinkjian oud
Tamer Pinarbasi Kanun
Jesse Kotansky violin
Omer Avital bass
Shane Shanahan and Glen Velez percussion

World music supergroup East of the River has a very different type of holiday concert in store this upcoming season. With a focus on the winter solstice, family, and new beginnings, Darkness Is Your Candle explores music of the Mediterranean, Balkans, Armenia, and the Middle East, presenting the earliest songs of those extraordinary cultures. Taking its name from the work of Persian poet Rumi, the program shifts from a lunar atmosphere in the first half of the program into rebirth and daylight in the second half, creating a unique and unforgettable musical journey for the New Year.

Choreography and Direction by Douglas Dunn
Video, Costume, and Lighting by Charles Atlas
Music and Musical Direction by Steven Taylor
Poetry and Lyrics by Anne Waldman

For his entire career, Douglas Dunn has done it his way – all the way. Now, witness his next surprising pivot forward. Aubade, his new dance/theater piece, is all about apprehending mortality and the unstoppable progress of time.

All the senses engage with scenic and video design, music, and lyrics by noted artists Charles Atlas, Steven Taylor, and Anne Waldman, respectively. As if that wasn’t enough, Douglas Dunn’s amazing company expands to even greater numbers by casting six Montclair State College of the Arts dance students. The title refers to the classic “aubade,” the opposite of a serenade. At its heart, the aubade is a morning song of love won and lost, and of endless possibilities both bitter and sweet.

Original Music by d. Sabela Grimes

Stardust explores the evolving nature of intimacy in our technology-driven, furiously-paced world. Redefining the coming-of-age story for the electronic age, the evening-length piece follows an African American gay urban teenager who is present only by the emotionally laden tweets and text messages he sends. Dance, multimedia, and the music of Nat King Cole and d. Sabela Grimes combine to form an intensely personal journey of self-discovery.

Atomos is the newest full-length work by cutting-edge choreographer Wayne McGregor. Imagining the indivisible, order created through uncuttable structures and interwoven with an architectural manipulation of bodies, the newest piece from Wayne McGregor is performed by his ten dancers in McGregor’s unique style – sculptural, rigorous, jarring and hauntingly beautiful. Neo-classical ambient composers A Winged Victory For The Sullen play a new live score, with lighting from Lucy Carter, film by Ravi Deepres, and costumes designed by Studio XO whose groundbreaking wearable technologies and digital skins place them at the forefront of fashion and technology.

AMERICAN PREMIERE
ORLANDO
Apr. 10 – 7:30 p.m.
Premiere Thursday offer! see page 34 for details.
Apr. 11 – 7:30 p.m., Apr. 12 – 8:00 p.m., Apr. 13 – 3:00 p.m.
65 minutes, no intermission

Directed by Cathie Boyd
Performed by Judith Williams
Text by Virginia Woolf, adapted by Darryl Pinckney
Original Score composed by Craig Armstrong and Antye Greie aka AGF

A transformative evening of theater, Orlando opens with the hero as a young man in Elizabethan England, and follows his transformations of fortune, love and even gender in this multi-faceted, century-spanning quest for “life and a lover”. A sensuous epic of self-discovery, Virginia Woolf’s novel has been described as the most charming love letter in literature, relishing an era where opulence and hedonism were savored.

SWIMMING WITH MY MOTHER
May 10 – 8:00 p.m., May 11 – 3:00 p.m.

50 minutes, no intermission

Concept and Choreography by David Bolger
Performed by Madge Bolger and David Bolger

A heartfelt journey for mothers and children of all ages, Swimming with My Mother tells the story of a boy who learns lifelong lessons from his mother, a swimming coach. Life passes in laps, things change and the boy teaches his mother to dance. As their own stories intertwine and swell like a rising tide, the bonds of familial love are revealed to the sultry tones of Nat King Cole. Performed by acclaimed Irish choreographer David Bolger and his 80-year-old mother Madge, this award-winning production is told with affectionate humor, and also includes a screening of Wildfire Films’ Deep End Dance, starring David and Madge. This Mother’s Day weekend, treat the mom in your life to this gentle and joyful story of the things we inherit, and the things we pass along.

STILL WILL BE HEARD

June 6 – 7:30 p.m.
Premiere Friday offer! see page 34 for details.
June 7 and 14 – 8:00 p.m., June 8 and 15 – 3:00 p.m.,
June 13 – 7:30 p.m.

Music by Liz Queler and Seth Farber
Book by Liz Queler and Edna St. Vincent Millay
Directed by Mindy Cooper
Set Design by Erhard Rom
Lighting Design by Aaron Copp
Costume Design by Vita Tzykun
Projection Design by S. Katy Tucker

Still Will Be Heard is a portrait of two lives intertwined. During her father’s last years suffering from Alzheimer’s Disease, singer/composer Liz Queler discovered a new and unexpected refuge in the words of poet Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Elements of folk, bluegrass, country, rock, and jazz breathe new life into Millay’s timeless poetry. The songs, interspersed with spoken word culled from the writings of both women, take us on a journey by turns dark, playful, fierce and beautiful. An on-stage company of actors and musicians brings these songs and stories to life, while scenic elements interweave archival images and video montages, creating a time and place where these paths meet.

The Office of Arts and Cultural Programming (ACP) at Montclair State provides a place for important artists to create and perform innovative works, produced and presented through its Peak Performances series. ACP aims to provide unique theatrical experiences that foster both creativity and learning for on-campus and community audiences throughout the academic year. In collaboration with Montclair State faculty and staff, as well as community-based cultural organizations, ACP offers master classes, workshops, lectures, and discussions designed to provide participants with a deeper understanding of the aesthetic, cultural, and social contexts of the performances presented.

Engage!

Enhance your visit to the Alexander Kasser Theater through ACP’s cultural engagement events. Share reflections and comments with artists and fellow audience members at a post-performance Community Conversation, get a behind-the-scenes peek into some of our most exciting and challenging productions at a pre-show Sneak Peek, or mix and mingle with the artists at an informal lobby reception. Ask a question, get an insider’s view, learn the story behind the story. All engagement events are free and open to the public. For updates throughout the season, visit peakperfs.org.
Creative Thinking Project

A partnership between ACP and Montclair State’s Research Academy for University Learning, the Creative Thinking project draws on Peak Performances artists to explore how creativity can be integrated into the curriculum to ignite innovation and critical thinking across disciplines as varied as the performing arts, math and science, humanities, and business. The cornerstone of the project is the Creative Thinking course (CRTH-151), now in its third semester. The course is based on the core premise that it is possible to develop tools and approaches to foster innovative thinking. Faculty from multiple departments lead the class in hands-on activities designed to help students synthesize an experiential and theoretical understanding of creative processes. Past guests have included such unique artists as choreographer Liz Lerman, director Robert Wilson, and musician Laurie Anderson. For more on Creative Thinking, visit peakperfs.org/creativethinking.
