Speak Privilege Upheld

Last week the world held its breath as the powers that be tentatively participated in a round of power politics.

Every American, be he laborer, college student, or professional, became acutely aware of the age in which we live.

Every American was also fully aware of the situation at hand. This was perhaps the enlightening aspect of the College Court appearance. In a sealed envelope, we receive the fruits of freedom which we enjoy.

The press, radio, and television coverage of the College Court events were reported almost as they happened.

Besides this privilege we enjoy in getting the facts from unfiltered mass media, we also enjoy the right to disagree with the decisions of those in power. This freedom of speech should not be taken for granted or spoken of lightly.

Any editor, news commentator, government official, or layman had the opportunity to voice his opinion. When the opinion supported President Kennedy or denounced his actions, it could be stated without fear of reprisal.

It is stated that we should be cognizant of the privileges we enjoy and through this awareness, learn to appreciate them.

Student Opinion Only

We feel it is our responsibility to acquaint students with as wide a range of news, opinions, and ideas as possible.

Therefore, the MONTCLARIION will often carry columns reflecting strong opinions on political, social or cultural topics as well as factual news items.

It should be understood that the columns which carry a by-line are solely expressions of the opinions of the individual writer.

It is not the columnist’s job to reflect student opinion. In such columns as “Political Notes,” “From the President’s Desk,” “World View” and “From Share I,” the writer has been asked to express his opinion on a certain subject.

The official policy of the MONTCLARIION as the student publication at MSC, is expressed only in this editorial pillar.

With this in mind, the various columns can be read and evaluated on the basis of the facts they contain and the worth of the opinion derived from these facts.

Civil Defence Course?

With the threat of nuclear war hovering over the present day, Civil Defence has become an important aspect in the modern day fight for survival. At Montclair State, a program in Civil Defence is now being offered on a voluntary basis.

The State Board of Education feels that this program is important and that each student should be aware of the steps to take in the event of a nuclear attack. We agree with the Board and urge all students at Montclair to take advantage of this opportunity.

This course involves twelve hours of training in Civil Defence. Upon completion of the course, students will receive a certificate stating that they have successfully completed the training and are qualified to serve as an instructor. At present, this course is NOT required for graduation from MSC. However, in the future, if the State Board should feel it is necessary to require this course for graduation, Montclair will have no choice but to accept it as it is the case of the rest of the courses that are required for graduation.

We agree with the Board’s feeling that twelve hours of this kind of work, well spent when perhaps it will result in the saving of many lives. Those who argue that there will never be a nuclear attack are gambling with human lives and are basically expressing the fact that nuclear attack is a definite possibility in the world in which we live. However, if the danger is real, we feel that all students should be aware of its existence and take proper steps to be prepared if it should become a reality.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I feel the article that appeared in the last edition of the newspaper in regard to the Highwaysmen was the opinion of the writer and not of the students. It was written extremely biased and inaccurate. The Highwaysmen were not the only singing group among the other folk groups but merely presenting their ideas and songs; many groups often practiced this. We feel that the purpose of the program was to present the Highwaysmen as a group and their work, not the songs they sang. The practice of changing the words to a folk song like "Me Tender" is from a folk song called "ala Lee" by Stephen Foster. As for their humor, we were never impressed that the Highwaysmen were presented as a singing group and not as comedians, although we did hear a considerable amount of laughter from the audience throughout the performance.

In the future, we feel the articles should be written with the view of the students and not of the writer.

Dear Editor,

Rather than criticizing the inadequate parking facilities that undoubtedly exist, why don’t we students react positively to the situation?

The way to express opinions, likes and dislikes is by speaking, by writing letters, articles, and poetry, and by voting for the candidate who represents your opinion in an election.

We write to express our opinion that the administration has been too busy making decisions about the use of these student funds.

The administration does not have to consult the student government association, the faculty, or the alumni about student activities. The administration does whatever it can to encourage such support and provide opportunities, as long as it is not completely out of keeping with the traditions of Montclair. If the administration is to step in and force their will on the student body, then the majority of students will have to support this action.

Dear Editor,

In a recent edition of Tribe talk, the Student Opinion column, “A Misrepresented Senior Class,” the student editor stated that the senior class was opposed to this action. We feel that this is a misrepresentation of the senior class. The senior class is not outgoing, nor are we the noisy kind of spirit that produces a considerable amount of noise. If you are referring to the senior class, then this is not the true representation of them.

Furthermore, the editor has no support from the senior class as a whole unless some sort of opinion sample or vote was taken. This was not done. We seniors have not misrepresented and denied our right of democratic representation.

Many of us do not feel as the editor does and shall not be included in his sweeping generalization.

Sincerely,

A Misrepresented Senior

From the President’s Desk

The present controversy which is concerned about the college and band, whether it should or should not march at football games, result in a sharpening up of a number of current conflicts at Montclair State College and student support for the Montclair Ragtime Band. Wistful discussion of this kind is inevitable when no single unanswerable answer is found.

We express the hope that the administration will take advantage of this opportunity. If it should become a reality, the saving of many lives may be secured. Seeded battles of this nature may arrive, coming game on October 13 were two parents of Montclair students. The other band game the father said to the mother, “This band is not as haphazard as it should be with the excellent performance on the field this year.

On the other hand, there are a number of ways of measuring school spirit, if one were to compare the floats that were prepared and paraded on homecoming day with other colleges the site of Montclair I am sure it would be difficult to find anywhere a better display of student ingenuity, cooperation, and hard work. Or take another example. The Montclair carnival which has been organized and supported by the student body. Where student funds are concerned, that insofar as measured by dollars, it is not the columnist’s job to reflect student opinion. Where student funds are concerned, the administration to step in and force their will on the student body, then the majority of students will have to support this action.

A marching band is extra-curricular activity at almost every college and university. It is the opinion derived from these facts.

Dear Editor,

We are writing to protest the article published in the newspaper regarding the Highwaysmen. In our October 13th issue, you reported almost as they happened.

We are aware of the fact that the Highwaysmen have appeared in the October 13th edition of the newspaper.

Finally, we do not believe Charlemagne Petros is a quill pen critic of folk music. She has already shown her feelings. The Highwaymen and Miss Petros is a feature editor. We feel she should carry comments to the editor of the section. Her opinions are her own, because the majority of students with whom we have discussed the matter enjoyed the Highwaysmen’s program thoroughly.

Sincerely,

John Ferraro

The Indians of Montclair roamed to their fifth win with a long-expected victory over DC Teachers. 490, here at Sprague Field. A rain-drenched field was the scene of the Indians' defeat over what some may call "the worst team in the nation." DC, fielded a big team of 23 players, ranging from 140 pounds to 200 pounds. This was the day when seven touchdowns were scored by seven different individuals for Montclair, varying from a run, a pass interception, and a picked-up fumble, to a completed pass to score.

For the approximately 100 devoted fans, who battled the forces of nature, it was a day of victory for the home team, filled with laughter or tears as gracefully bestowed on us by the antics of a seemingly disorganized DC. DC, received the opening kick-off but was stopped short, Montclair taking over to begin their first touchdown drive. Devo drove over on a yard carry for the first score of the game, although Francis had the honors of making the second score by completing a 52 yard pass from Bob Filorama.

The scoring punch was the home team's "loose" until Al DePalma intercepted a DC Teachers' pass and scampered for a nine yard TD, Fuji taking the honors next by going over on a one yard score.

Joe Sarno really brought about all the scoring possibilities when he picked up a DC fumble on the opponent's 30 yard line and then trampled the tiny TD. The windy, rainy weather did not cut down on the Indians' passing potential as Filorama connected with Frank Davide for a 48 yard completion. Mike Loughlin got the final touchdown for red and white when he went over from the DC's own 11.

Statistics may relate better to the reader the off-balance of this game, DC Teachers had a total rushing yardage of minus 27; but the newly elected co-captains Frank Votto and Pete Capitano have been conditioning the team three solid weeks. There have been several gridiron performances, and those players who can best position had better watch out. There's a tremendous amount of talent to choose from, and the author hopes to see the maximum. The Indian attack will vary, not so much defensively as offensively. The defense is usually no more offensively as defensively offensively; but a variety of defenses are figured to "hold" the opponent's man-to-man defense is always best, but is also the most difficult to perfect. The Indian version of a 1-3-1 formation is supposed to harass the opposition's most difficult to perfect. The Indian version of a 1-3-1 zone hopes it is used to its maximum.
