Wagner Designs Plans For MSC Monument

The Board of Trustees plans to have a monument erected on the lawn between Valley Road and the Alumni Center. The structure, designed by Arnold Wagner, a senior fine arts major, will be brick with stai- nless steel letters spelling the name of the college. Possibly the monument will be placed in the Life Hall Expansion Fund.

The new marker will be at the corner of Valley Road and Normal Avenue.

Dr. Alfred Gorham to Address Alumni Convention

The Section 25 Conference of the American Association of International Relations Clubs, the campus section of the Honor Fraternity of Diplomacy, and the American Association of International Relations Clubs, held at Montclair State College, was attended by fifty members of the university and the college. A New Year's Resolution

In keeping with the Christmas tradition, the MONTCLAIR staff extends Season's Greetings to the administration, faculty members, and students.

Christmas is a time of realized dreams, often unfulfilled presents and memories of the year which Father Time has almost closed the chapter. This was a year in which much was accomplished historically in the nation, in the world, and in our own small world. It is coming to an end, never to be recalled except in memory.

With New Year's comes the inevitable resolutions which almost always are broken or the will succumbs in a moment of weakness. Yet, more should be said for resolutions, for they embody the hopes of a brand new year. Hopes for a better world than for all to live in, hopes of helping more people through our own efforts, and hopes of a new understanding of the world leaders are silently forming in our hearts and minds.

Christmas is a time for serious contemplation of peace on earth, good will toward men, all will succumb in a moment of weakness. Yet, more should be said for resolutions, for they embody the hopes of a brand new year. Hopes for a better world for all to live in, hopes of helping more people through our own efforts, and hopes of a new understanding of the world leaders are silently forming in our hearts and minds.

The Best Critics — Students

The recent Christmas Dance sponsored by the SGA in the Westmont Country Club last December 7 proves that a school function can be held off campus with much success and favorable repercussions.

Well planned, well publicized, and well attended, the dance afforded the opportunity for students to dance to the Elgart band and to purchase alcoholic beverages. This last factor perhaps was a challenge to the Board of Trustees in so far as holding a dance where drinks are available, however, business-like manner and drew complimentary comments from Westmont's student body.

The students demonstrated moderation and restraint and showed a mature attitude towards drinking in public places. This is a large step that can be taken and is a credit to the SGA, and when students applied the actions of the student body as a whole, these conditions are enough to signify the success of the dance in all phases.

SUMMARY OF S.G.A. MEETINGS by Chuck Mastek

This report is not the official minutes of the S.G.A., 1962-63 Board of Trustees meeting but is a summary of the meeting.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: There are two ways in which one may criticize our cafeteria service—by making a complaint to his neighbor or another one than Mr. Forth, or by making a relatively unreasonable request by the SGA on two counts. The manners of the College staff are continually getting more and more courteous, and they would object to so "dramatic" a cut after last year's startling 22 member.

2. The honor of students in obtaining jobs. The student body object to the rejection of this "limiting" proposal.

3. Would the student body object to your going "crazy"? Is there quality in quantity?

Barbara Mikrut, treasurer of the S.G.A., announced that $45,113 had been taken from the Board of Trustees account to reimburse fifteen organizations for expenses incurred by the 1962 Homecoming.

Committee Reports

Social Committee: Chi Eta Psi informed the Board of Trustees that Chi Eta Psi is available for a lecture February 14, 1963, at $350 motion to contract with Mr. Huntley is available for a lecture February 14, 1963, at $350 -- motion to contract with Mr. Huntley is available for a lecture February 14, 1963, at $350 with one abstention.

Committee Resolutions

A letter from President part indicated his concern with the number of national organizations granted a Class B charter.

A few examples are the skinned milk for the ladies, the baked and mashed and powdered potato, and the usual potatoes of nos for those with special diets, the new, energetic manner in which the cafeteria workers get up and cut down costs by eliminating the serving of uneaten food, and so we can afford examples as mentioned above. I thought we should have more fresh fruit for example; it would have been certain to have a fresh fruit salad. More fresh fruit would have been certain to have a fresh fruit salad. More fresh fruit and more fresh fruit would have been certain to have a fresh fruit salad. More fresh fruit would have been certain to have a fresh fruit salad.

Letters to the Editor

Would we like to take this opportunity to "congratulate" the 15 recipients this year's Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. We put congratulations in quotations because we are wondering whether all the members of this class of 1963 are deserving of the award. We do not mean to imply that those particular recipients are not deserving of the award but rather that, based on the present state of the nation, that many others equally deserve.

We feel that the recipients should perhaps have their values standards. They are, however, good standards, and set by their elders.

Huntley is available for a lecture February 14, 1963, at $350. (They have lunch from 11:20 every day, occasionally, they come in between classes and after school.) If these "patriots" would look, take the board before 11:20 and when College High students are not there, they would find the same disposition to accept the resolution present.

These "patriots" should condemn the College "men" and "women" who present an empty check to the members of the Board of Trustees, the Board of Trustees and the cafeteria as do the College students.

Second, the College high students do not yet to the Snack Bar until 11:20, (They have lunch from 11:20-12:00 everyday). Occasionally, they come in between classes and after school.) If these "patriots" would look, take the board before 11:20 and when College High students are not there, they would find the same disposition to accept the resolution present.

To the Editor

I am writing this letter in response to the letter in the "angry as hell patriots of the Snack Bar" which was not properly signed. Are these names Rolleston and Wurzel the students who do not have the pride to sign their full names? To begin with, theresolved committee said the opinions of these students have as much right to use the Snack bar and Cafeteria as do the College students.

Montclair's 18-18 draw in open their wrestling season against Glassboro College of New York. The Indians took the first two weight classes, Andrew Caplan, 145 pounds; and Larry Sciacchetano, 138 pounds; before going down to defeat in the third and fourth weight classes.

The Indians were behind 18-8 going into the final period of the 123 pound match, but what is the matter with finishing? The Indians rallied back and took a 25-18 lead with only 1:46 remaining in the period, a lead which held up for the Indians' first victory of the season. Montclair's 91-83 victory over Glassboro, 91-83. Their record now stands at 3-0 for the season.

In Christmas Tournament by N. G. Garda

On Saturday, December 8, the Christmas Invitational Tournament was held at CCNY. The event, cosponsored by the Intercollegiate Women's Fencing Association, was well attended. There were 49 spoils from ten New York, New Jersey and Long Island colleges and universities.

The first round saw all of Montclair's entrants stepping into the quarter-finals. In the much stiffer second round, Clarie Menocal just missed the women's title and teammate Eleanor Gutowicz. From this point on, the Montclair fencing victories continued, with only one loss in the semifinals and a win in the finals.

Montclair's JV wrestling opened its first meet of the season by defeating City College of New York, 20-16 here.
