Lettermen Perform Favorite Hits;
Sell-out Audience Attends Concert

The Lettermen gave a concert before a sell-out crowd in Panzer Gymnasium on Friday night, October 14.

Appearing on stage in red velvet pullovers, with white dickies and black sharkskin slacks, the Lettermen opened the concert with "More" and "Everybody Loves Somebody Sometimes.

Highlights of the concert included "Summer Song," "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," and "Theme from a Summer Place" by the trio, "Granada" and "Impossible Dream" by Jim. There was also a medley of "West Side Story" including such hits as "Tonight," "Maria," "Officer Krupke," and "Runaway."

The Lettermen played a four minute solo. The Lettermen returned and sang a medley of requests which included "The Way You Look Tonight," "When I Fall in Love," and "Cherish" for which they received a standing ovation. They returned and sang "I Believe" and received a second standing ovation.

All through the concert the Lettermen cracked jokes while maintaining a deep respect for the songs they sang. It was obvious from their performance that they really put their heart and soul into it and the result was an unexcelled concert at M.C.

This reporter, feeling very impressed, received a police escort into the Lettermen's dressing room (the boy's locker room in the basement of Panzer gym). The boys looked very happy in their royal blue velvet pullovers and olive green dicky eyes, we're very friendly and cooperative. Their first reaction was to the enthusiasm of Montclair which is celebrated on October 14.

When asked for their opinion of the English influence (Chat, Jeremy, the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, etc.) on the music industry, the boys had different reactions:

Toby does not object to the English groups because he feels "they are something which today's teenagers want" and that this new trend is just another psychological change; "at one time the demand was for everything American," Jim tended to favor this influence because he said, "they've created a demand for vocal groups, whereas twenty or thirty years ago, groups were not so big and single artists like Connie, Crosby, and Sinatra, were in".

What is their favorite recording? "I think every artist has a special place in his heart for something, we're very friendly and cooperative. The boys received a standing ovation.

The Newman Club Executive Board

Newman Club Outlines Policy For Apostolate

The Newman Apostolate this year assumes a definite and aggressive attitude toward its apostolic purpose. That purpose is to present the Catholic attitude concerning the social problems that we are facing and to observe daily. Not so much by definition, but by action, they hope to concern themselves with the prevalent problems, such as slums, Civil Rights, LSD, drug addiction, birth control, poverty, and prejudice. To the definition of the problem the club will apply "Christian Love."

The Newman Apostolate will sponsor such activities as a driving course for this semester and a food drive for the following semester. A retreat is now being scheduled for the Apostolate to be held at the Benedictine Abbey in Newton, New Jersey.

For the convenience of all concerned, meetings will not be restricted to any one evening of the week. Two meetings a month are scheduled, both of which will be held at the same time, and are related and arranged to meet the needs of the students in this particular faculty and related to the announced topic. Once again, the Catholic attitude will focus upon the campus.

Members of the club feel that they have an aseesdise and a dedicated faculty advisor in Mr. Peter Macaluso of the Social Studies Club. The Apostolate is under the jurisdicition of St. Casimir Church, and with its support, Father Thomas Madden, is its spiritual advisor.

The officers for the year 1967 are: Harry F. Kuhns III — President; Joseph J. Witalis II — Vice President; John Cartia — Vice President; Gerry Ferraro — Recording Secretary; and Nancy Petoa — Corresponding Secretary.

SPU Communications Policy Revised

Mr. Joseph Witalis Jr., President of the Montclair State College Chapter of the Students Union Peace Union, announced recently that, due to the misplacing of SPU materials, communications among students and with interested students in general will be handled by an open file in the office of Mr. Gaye Lay, Director of Life Hall. Anyone wishing to communicate with SPU, or wishing to find out about projects and meetings, will find all necessary information in this file. It is open for the inspection of the student body in general, and in the case of an organizational proposal, this policy will be continued until such time as a permanent plaque can be produced.

MSC Students To Study At Copenhagen University

Six students from the Campus, along with twenty-seven other state colleges of New Jersey, will begin an extensive course in European art, history, literature, and politics at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark.

The six Montclair representatives are: Patricia Novak, Senior, Fine Arts; Helen Kuchta, Senior, Fine Arts; Alan Mixon, Freshman; Robert Dozier, Sophomore; Nancy Nizio, Junior, English; and Nancy Bittner, Junior, English. They have been chosen from twenty applicants, chaired by Professor James Peterson, based on the students' academic achievements, their personality and readiness to profit from a year abroad.

The cooperative adventure of the six New Jersey state colleges — Glassboro, Jersey City, Montclair, Newark, Paterson, and Trenton — originated last September at a meeting in which an academic representative from Copenhagen University, acting as spokesman for urban-suburban America in the Senate, with sponsorship of the Model United Nations Association of the United Nations Association of the United Nations, was elected President and Erik Lange, state committee member, was chosen Vice President. The speaker is a trip to the Pine Barrens, so the program and a youth hostel before the program and a youth hostel before the end in June, at the end of the school year. All Montclair students are eligible for this program. Preference is given to students with a limited number of sophomore and junior credits. Those interested should see Dr. Nimmo Lange, state committee chairperson.

Critique: Man of La Mancha

by Barbara Kaplan

Unique in quality, a fascinating story, exciting songs and lyrics add up to a wonderful evening at the Arche Washington Square Theater. Where man of La Mancha is presently playing.

This production, directed by Albert Marine, makes good use of the thrust stage — actors entering from both sides of the stage, under the seat and alongside it. The set is used suitably, the costumes are quite effective, and the play is well performed. The author, Bulwer Lytton, created a dramatic and realistic interpretation of Whitman's poetry, and his Migratory Labor Act also was a cosponsor of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Blindly, the author of numerous scholarly works, Bishop Dougherty is a vice-president of the U. N. Let There Be Music

The marching band has come to our attention in the Letters to the Editor column of this issue. The marching band has long presented a rather bow-didactic and archaic image to us.

We have looked forward to hearing them perform at half-time, but we have always found ourselves greatly disappointed. The band has lacked a professional flair which has always been shown, otherwise, in their inability to perform in formation and their lack of enthusiasm.

The refusal of the marching band to travel along with our football team has also been a disappointment. The band, if no one else should be there to vividly add school spirit and support our teams efforts. It is true that not many of the other state colleges send their band to other states, but another state college. If we are going to develop fine teams, and invest money in a field to fulfill the football image—then we should carry this image to the fullest. The band has always been an integral part of the football season. A good band brings the spirit of the game to the hearts of those in the grandstands. Our band has lacked a professional flair which provides the opportunity for questions and discussion is usually provided. The program gives the student the opportunity for questions and discussion is usually provided. The program gives the student with serious aspirations to enter the teaching profession as a whole, to build pride in its competence and strength and to grow in the humility which inevitably will come as an appreciation of the intricacies of the intellectual task is developed. Thomas H. Richardson simply watching one of these for three home games. I use the team they’re good, prospects are game of football or for the entertainment accompanying it.

But here at M.S.C. things are a little different. We do have a great football team. They spend hours of practice and because of this and the fact that as a team they’re good, prospects are great for a winning season. But as for entertainment... The S.G.A. recently passed the 1966-67 budget of this budget, $1750, went to the Marching Band. For this sum, the band has gratefully agreed to march in the parade. This would do wonders for the relations the college has with the surrounding area and would have added that little extra needed to make the football team great. And yet I understand the band has added to that little extra needed to make the football team great. Many of us have been follow the football team for the away games. The cheerleaders give up their Saturdays after other weeks, but not once has the M.S.C. Band followed. The college has no musical representation at away games, and yet most schools who play us at home bring along their bands. This adds to the color of the game.

As student observers and participants, we began to realize the problems involved in the teaching profession. Talking and working with teachers from various schools and varying degrees of experience, we began a realistic understanding of what professionalism in a teaching career is all about!

Some others require a long time before they can perform. The developmental program does not allow the performance. He may have the ability to perform but he is not at the proper stage of development to perform. It may be all wrong to say to a child or an adolescent, "You've got a good head, now go ahead and do such and such." It may be better to say, "You're slow. You should be left back at school.' Let the young person find out for himself that he is better than the rest. There are stages of development that should be allowed to run their course. Sometimes an adolescent should be allowed, under scrutiny, to get worse before better.

Whereas Dr. Brower was participating member of the congress, it is interesting to note that both his wife and son were qualified to attend as student members. Mrs. Brower is a specialist in evaluating psychological services in Camden city's Project Upgrade, "Day Camp Can Help."

Dr. Stephen Kowalski has returned from a five month program in India where as supervisor of Science Education he was to supervise the science education summer institutes in the colleges and universities of the country. Upon arrival in New Delhi, Dr. Kowalski helped to clear the way for the institution to get the program underway and by ordering supplies.

During the second week of June, the American specialists arrived in New Delhi. These people were to be Indian students. After an organizational meeting a 75-item list was assembled by the various institutes throughout the city.

Dr. Kowalski's job was to supervise the institutes. He checked progress and helped to solve any problems which may have arisen.

Upon completion of the summer school program, the specialists and instructors returned to New Delhi for a debriefing where reports were given on the plans for next year's program.

Dr. Kowalski commented that the Indian students are "as bright if not brighter than American students."

He referred to them as "quite sharp" because there is little note taking. The student just listens and learns. He described the educational system in comparison to the British system twenty or thirty years ago. When a professor walks into the room, the class stands. Professors lecture for the entire period and there are few opportunities for questions asked or answered. The class ends when the professor leaves.

One of the purposes of the program was to indoctrinate the Indian students to ask questions and discuss problems. The program.

There has been a great expansion of credit which has made it a sales technique rather than a privilege as it once was.

Packard Opend C.L.U.B. Series

Vance Packard opened the 1966-67 lecture series with an address on the revolution in personal values. Dr. Packard first spoke on the Turner Thesis which says that the loss of the frontier was the change in the American value system. Then from Lodon they traveled through Cairo, Jerusalem and Robert Sterling Down's Yugoslavia. From there they flowed home, arriving on September 10.

Professor Packard emphasized the following points:

1. The relationship between the population and urbanization explained in character has been brought about by technology and the stimulation of latent wants by Madison Avenue.

2. A philosophy of life for commercial advertising has been developed which has been turned into a revolution in self indulgence.

3. Narcissism for commercial reasons has been in alliance with the amounts spent on cosmetics and self indulgence products by both men and women.

There has been also a promotion of status consciousness.

There has been a great expansion of credit which has made it a sales technique rather than a privilege as it once was.

Packard said that the previous points have been made during the previous revolution.

The Lambda Mu Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, National Music Fraternity, sponsored a special program of music on October 6th, to commemorate the founding of Sinfonia on that date in 1888. The program featured a work for brass ensemble, Rondo by Henry Cowell; Serenade for solo tubas by Peraino; and the Concerto in D minor, for two violins by J.S. Bach, among others. The entire program was performed by Sinfonians.

Following the concert, the customary smoker was held in order to present to Freshmen and non-Sinfonians many of the goals and ideals of the fraternity.

Dr. Ward Moore, Province Governor, presented a collection of fine photographs that were taken on his recent trip to Europe.

The next major event for Sinfonia will be the Musical America Program on November 30th.

You have five minutes to gulp down a nourishing lunch before dashing to your next class. The snack bar is jammed with fellow students with the same hungry look. Due to the planning and foresight of the Slater Food Service it is now possible to purchase a quick lunch at the recently initiated Snack Bar Annex.

Opened on Wednesday, September 5, the annex is located directly adjacent to the Snack Bar and beside the commuter lounge in Life Hall. It offers a menu of hot dogs, soda and various snacks which are available from ten in the morning until closing time at five o'clock. This important addition to Slater facilities was primarily due to the problem of over-crowded Snack Bar. With the prompt service afforded by the annex, it is hoped lunch crowds will be eliminated.

Indians Drop Last Two Contests; Injuries PLAGUE Montclair Team

Injuries, officials, and a collapsing defense have plagued coach Hank Ferris and the Montclair Indians this season. Despite recent games against powerhouse Central Connecticut State College and Southern Connecticut State College.

The Big Reds lost their first game of the season 24-21 to undefeated Central Connecticut State on Saturday, October 8 in New Britain. Montclair went out front 14-0 in the first quarter on a 43 yard run by defensive back Bill Kucklick who intercepted an A Jutze pass. The second touchdown came on a 22 yard run from Jim Carillo to Jack Landrigess.

In the third period Carillo hit Harold Bell with a 23 yard scoring pass and Dan Rogers kicked his third extra point of the day. At this point it looked like MSC was out in front for good but Central Connecticut came roaring back with Jutze hitting Mulligan with a 30 yard touchdown and Tom Redden

MSC To Visit Delaware St. For Annual Gridiron Meet

Montclair State College will attempt to return to the winning path on Saturday, October 29 when Ferris's Big Reds will go to Delaware and face Southern Connecticut State College at their campus in Dover, Delaware. The Indians and Delaware State have met twice previously and each has recorded one win. Last season at Clifton, MSC defeated DISC 26-5.

This game is always exciting with the Delaware State's band, cheerleaders and fans doing everything with a rock and roll beat. The band has a unique Marching Band uniform. Club BDA will sponsor a bus and we hope busses to the Delaware State game.

Basketball practice started last week with a number of last year's "esta-blished" players are doubtful of playing this year. Why?

There are twelve varisty uni- forms to fill the sixty candidates to fill the team. The competition should be tremendous, and the selection will be nothing short of a major headache. One of the better candidates will be Coach Dave Watkins.

Barroqueiro is being counted on by Apgar as a topflight ten- nis player for MSC for the last three years.

Apgar Elected Team Captain

Jack Apgar, a senior from Springfield has been elected cap- tain of Montclair State College's varsity basketball team, it has been announced by Dave Wat- kins, varsity coach.

Apgar, a senior, will be playing his third year of varsity basketball in 1966-67. The Spring- field field has been serving his second straight year as the Indians' hoops leader.

The new Montclair State cap- tain played his high school basketball at Northampton Regional High School (Springfield). He was a second team All-Stater in foot- ball and baseball.

A physical education major, Apgar scored 23 points in his sophomore season in 22 games for an average of 1.09 per contest. Last season he tallied 212 points in 26 contests.

An outstanding ball handler, Apgar is being counted on by Coach Dave Watkins to direct the Indians against those 1.09 per contest. Besides his basketball talent, Apgar has been a topflight tennis player for MSC.
