Eighteen seniors have been selected to represent Montclair State College in the 1967 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The eighteen seniors include:

These seniors were chosen for their outstanding achievements in scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship, service to school and professional promise. The maximum number of students is limited to two percent of the total enrollment.

Voting Procedures
The original voting list consisted of the entire membership of the senior class. This list was prepared by Mr. Raymond Stover, assistant director of students. The list was distributed for the primary balloting in which 45 students were chosen for final consideration. The selection committee consisted of the members of the Student Government Association Legislature, the Student Gov't Executive Board, the college administration including the department chairmen and the personnel department.

The semi-finalists were notified and asked to submit a list of their four most significant contributions to the campus. In addition, their cumulative averages were considered.

The second and final ballots were conducted by the same selection committee. These ballots were counted by Raymond Stover and two representatives of the SGA Legislature.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities is published annually and contains names of outstanding, members of the senior classes of the major colleges and universities throughout the country.

"What is Newmanism?" "Topic of Newman Club Discussion"

Strange as it may seem, there are many similarities between a mountain site in Ramsey, N.J., and our campus in Montclair. This was one fact brought out to the students present at the bi-monthly Newman Apostolate meeting on November 22, at 7:30 p.m. in C-309.

The mountain in Ramsey is the location of the Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington and the three young men who defined these similarities as paradoxical. The area will be open on Sunday, December 4, at 1:30 p.m. It will last until 5:50 p.m. The guest speaker will be Sr. Maura, president of Caldwell College for Women.

Semi-Finalists

The semi-finalists in the balloting were Christine Benk, Paul Breitschopf, Sharon Brust, Claude Buchanan, Lois Calabrese, Robert Coyle, and the other seniors indicated that they feel the present Dress Code is restrictive to a certain degree and hoped that slacks could be worn at any time. Further results indicate that students contend that one's attire is not representative of his behavior or work in class. While some girls disagreed with easing the Dress Code, a great many opined that during cold weather slacks should be allowed in all classes.

It is hoped that some agreement between students and faculty, concerning a new or revised Dress Code, can be reached in the near future.

Composers Hear Their Works Performed by MSC Sinfonia

When "Musical America V" was presented by Montclair State College Sinfonia on Wednesday, Nov. 30, at 8:30 p.m., in Memorial Auditorium, two composers were on hand to hear their works played. They were Dr. Harry R. Wilson, former head of music at Teachers College, Columbia, and current national president of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and Robert L. Sanders, a major American composer who formerly headed the music departments at Indiana University and Brooklyn College.

The campushall, Lambda Mu, of the national professional music fraternity annually presents "Musical America" as a salute to American composers, both native-born and naturalized. In addition to Dr. Wilson and Mr. Sanders, this year's program included works by Clifford Williams, Randall Thompson, Samuel Barber, and Igor Stravinsky.

Dr. Ward Moore of the music faculty, governor of Sinfonia Province 27, conducted the band; Edward McKee, a junior from Roselle Park, directed the chorus; and Robert Riden, a senior from Cedar Grove, led Stravinsky's "Ragtime for Eleven Instruments." The chapter president, Edmund Moderacki, a junior from Rivervale, was in charge of arrangements for the concert, which featured 55 musicians most of them students.

The program opened with "The Sinfoniaos," a concert march by Williams based on the famous tango's theme song, and featured several other works by the faculty members and guest conductors.

The program continued with "Symphony for Band in B Flat," by Thompson, and "Symphony for Band in B Flat." The second half included works by Samuel Barber, and Igor Stravinsky. Mr. Sanders, this year's presenter of "Musical America," offered "Cantus Firmus," "Musical America," and "Harpsichord Music," all by Samuel Barber. Mr. Sanders also presented "Mr. William's Suite," by Igor Stravinsky.

The artist, of Cantonese ancestry, was born and educated in Hong Kong. His first major exhibition was at the Hong Kong Festival in 1960. In 1962 he joined other artists in an exhibit of "Hong Kong Art Today" at the Chaham Galleries in his native city. A one-woman show in 1962 and took part in a four-man show in 1965, both in Hong Kong.

Mr. Hon was awarded a gold medal in the Third International Salon of Arts in 1964 and the same year won honors at the Grand Prize Show and in the Hong Kong Open Art Competition.

His work has also been exhibited in this country at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Madison, New Jersey, and in a one-man show at the Flying Horse Galleries, Morristown, New Jersey. He has completed tours of colleges and galleries throughout the United States.

Neuner Outlines Programs Providing Financial Aids

FINANCIAL AIDS

To acquire the students at Montclair State College with available financial aid. Mr. Neuner will be writing an article for each issue of the Montclarion describing various scholarships, loans, grants and work-study programs and how to apply for aid.

WHAT IS FINANCIAL NEED?

Financial need is the difference between the amount of money a student and his family will be expected to spend for an education and the expense of that education. Financial need is not a term synonymous with poverty. It is related to college expenses as well as family financial strength. By determining its objective-by-measured standard of living, the greatest need, the school can determine its financial aid to send its child to college.

Homecoming A Fare?

Here’s Why

Last issue’s lead editorial heralded the coming of Homecoming weekend as an “unprecedented affair.” Little did we know as we wrote that editorial just how unprecedented Homecoming would be. Never before has there been a Homecoming without a float competition, but for all intents and purposes, Homecoming 1966 was just such an event.

Members of twenty-four campus organizations prepared for that one event for, in some cases, as long as six weeks. In addition to the many hundreds of hours that these organizations spent building their individual floats, the vast sums of money devoted to the construction of these floats must also be considered. The Sky Roar Club, for example, has each organization participating in the float competition to be provided with a minimum cost for any float is approximately $75. Therefore any organization constructing a float would be competing facing a loss of at least $45. It is obvious that the five finalists spend far in excess of the reimbursement allowance.

But conscious of both the financial investment and the investment of time, the students who went into the completion of these floats, twenty-four organizations still chose to enter the competition. Their only reward being a placard — their only reward being a float — possibly the most important singular event of the college year — must be considered a shambles because it is ten minutes too late.

Interestingly, what has already happened could be corrected by the School of Education. It seems to us then that the obligation to give up part of the decision-making formulated (and indeed described) cannot help but reduce hostilities. It is insulting to the students who have donated so much time and money to be told that their Homecoming float competition is an impossibility. However, despite these hang-ups, the students who went into the completion of these floats, twenty-four organizations still chose to enter the competition. Their only reward being a placard — their only reward being a float — possibly the most important singular event of the college year — must be considered a shambles because it is ten minutes too late.

Congratulations!

We of the Montclarion wish to congratulate the students who have been named finalists in the White, West, American College, and Universities balloting. Our congratulations also go to the remaining semi-finalists in the competition. At this time, we would like to thank those students for their contributions to Montclair State College. Their various contributions in their own individual and group behavior have greatly enhanced all areas of campus life. Obviously, these are people are not indicative of the scope of contributions of the Senior Class to the school. However, the ‘Who’s Who’ that produces the list of participating students a school may have. We can be proud of the abilities, interests and achievements evident in our group of finalists. Montclair once again has chosen their most energetic and promising students to represent them nationally. Again, our congratulations and best wishes to the eighteen finalists.

A Welcome Addition

The Montclair State College Student Review Board, newly created by the SGA, should be a welcome addition to the campus. This review Board, which will hear and act upon appeals of campus traffic violations, promises to become a efficient and equitable means of solving disagreements over violations.

Certainly, it cannot help but reduce hostility toward the parking and traffic authorities, since students will now have an opportunity for the appeal of a ticket by another body than the one issuing the accusation.

The review board will also serve as the first source of discipline for the chronic violator of campus traffic regulations. However, we hope that an increasing atmosphere of cooperation rather than hostility will help in reducing both the total number of parking violations committed and the ranks of chronic violations.

The Association of State Colleges and Universities met in Washington, D.C. last week and I attended that assembly. The main theme of the gathering had to do with the opportunities provided for State colleges by new federal programs. On the surface of it this does not sound like a very exciting theme and indeed the meeting was conducted in a very matter-of-fact fashion. As unappetizing as the conference and its theme appears, however, we should all be aware that a very fundamental innovation is developing in higher education. Through a variety of federal grants, federally sponsored programs and contractual arrangements, our national government is becoming more involved with colleges.

Some of our country’s great engineering colleges are so involved with federally supported programs that the completion of these institutions would be greatly changed if the federal government curtailed the projects. But the federal government’s interest and activities extend far beyond the work in engineering; nearly all colleges in the country have been affected in one way or another by federal programs. Since 1964, Montclair State College has had financial dealings with the Federal government, the National Science Foundation and the Ford Foundation. Of this total of all of the money coming from federal funds, with the exception of about $400,000 from the Ford Foundation’s Fund for the Advancement of Education.

We can be proud that the college qualified for such a large amount of outside support. Our success in the competition for outside money and in a large variety of other programs means that the college, its matriculation, economics, economic, social education, distribution, educational, distribution, a dual education, head start, teacher training and many others) all are high to the quality of work which is going on at Montclair. These evaluations have been made by outside experts who are very objective. Exciting programs are going on in English and English special dramatic training are also operating here and they are unique in the country.

Add to these a recent grant for a new program for the preparation of teachers for urban underprivileged areas, and one can see that our college is deeply involved with the Federal and other national groups and agencies.

When a college accepts money there is a danger of losing some part of its autonomy and integrity; this danger exists even in a college’s relationship with the federal government. While Montclair State College wants the money to run the projects which I have described (and indeed many others which are just beginning), we do not want to give up one of the decision-making prerogatives of the federal government. The administration is working hard to maintain the desirable balance between outside support and local control. There are no guarantees in the federal government, or in the foundations who continue to want control colleges and there is a natural tendency for those who are distributing money to expect have their opinions seriously considered.

There are exciting times and I am in no sense decrying the changing relationships in higher education. There is a natural tendency for those who are distributing money to expect have their opinions seriously considered.

Vronsky and Babin Duo Piano Team

Vronsky and Babin to Play In MOC Sponsored Contest

On Wednesday, December 7, at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium, there will be a famous piano team, Vronsky and Babin. This team was awarded the first to form in the opening year at Lincoln Center and now is appearing at Montclair.

Vronsky and Babin have played with many orchestras such as the Cleveland, Indianapolis and Phoenix Symphonies as well as 150 recitals throughout the country. Newsweek writes that Vronsky and Babin "...is perhaps America's top two-piano team of our generation."

Mr. and Mrs. Babin have done many performances as a husband and wife team. On December 8, 1965, they played the first performance of the Rachmaninoff Symphonic Dances Op. 45, transcribed for two pianos. They have given over 1,300 concerts in North America alone and have appeared as soloists with virtually every major orchestra on the continent.

When their career first started in America, there were very few works for two pianos, but the team inspired such composers as Rachmaninoff, Bonn and Darius Milhaud to the first English production of Brecht's two short plays "The Threepenny Opera". The performances were given in America, there were very few concertos in the continent. They have given over 1,300 concerts throughout the country. Newsweek writes that Vronsky and Babin "...is perhaps America's top two-piano team of our generation."

Are they famous, but are also international figures. Vronsky and Babin have appeared at four top music festivals: Edinburgh, Prague, Vancouver, and Aspen, along with many performances in London's Royal Festival Hall.

Vronsky and Babin are educators as well as performers. Dr. Babin is Director of the Cleveland Institute of Music and Miss Vronsky is artist-in-residence at the same school. Return Letting Lettermen

Spark Fencers’ Hopes

The 1960-61 season will bring Montclair State College’s third in fencing on a varsity intercollegiate level. In two previous years, the Indians have had only one dual match in 1960.

Coach Macke’s hopes for the Indians will revolve around several key returning lettermen and a number of promising freshmen. In saber, the outstanding pointmakers figure to be Rodger, Robert Harko, and John Reuter.

The full team will be built around Joe Resto, Ed Fairman, and Richard Gould. In epee, Mike Frenko, Bob Mac Lennan, and Bill Hinek will handle the major competition. Rodger, one of the best freshmen, is said to be an all America caliber student.

Joining the MSC coaching staff for this year, Macke come in contact with the Indians with an outstanding re-
