Recently, Life magazine called James Dickey the "hot test of emerging U.S. poets." Dickey looks upon poetry as "a guarantee of the value of the inner life, of man's real responses as compared to the responses he finds himself making to all the selfish agencies outside himself." In this lecture and reading, Dickey attempts to spread this concept. He will read from his works when he appears at Montclair State College.

Mr. Dickey's appointment as Professor Emeritus of Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, N. J., is in the capacity of the Lecturer in Poetry at Montclair State College. It will be held in Memorial Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Dickey is currently the Poetry Consultant to the Library of Congress. In this capacity he succeeds Stephen Spender, English poet and writer. Dickey's fourth published collection of poetry entitled Buckdancer's Choice was awarded the 1963 National Book Award for Poetry.

Mr. Dickey's appointment as Library of Congress poetry consultant preceded briefly the poet's winning of the Melville Cane Award from the Poetry Society of America, presented to him last January. At the joint Annual Ceremonial of the American Academy and the National Institute of Arts and Letters, held last May in New York City, Mr. Dickey was awarded a Mr. Dickey was awarded an honorary degree from both organizations.

Born in Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. Dickey served in the United States Air Force in World War II and in the Korean War. He was graduated from Vanderbilt University in 1942 and obtained an M.A. degree there in 1943. That same year, he joined the English faculty at Rice Institute where he returned to teach in 1952. He traveled to Europe in 1954 under a Sewanee Review Fellowship for poetry. He taught at the University of Florida and then spent nearly six years with advertising agencies in New York and Atlanta. He studied abroad in 1963 under a Guggenheim Fellowship. He was poet-in-residence at Reed College in Portland, Oregon in 1963 before he went to California to serve the San Francisco State College in the same capacity.

Among Dickey's literary honors, other than those previously mentioned, are an award from the Longview Foundation for a poem in the Sewanee Review and two awards from Poetry magazine. He also won the Union League Civic and Arts Foundation Prize in 1959 and the Vachel Lindsay Prize in 1969. His published poetry collections are Buckdancer's Choice, Halmons, DownEast with Other Poems. The Suspect in Poetry, was published in 1964. Admission to the program is free to students with an SGA card, $1.50 for all other students, and $1.00 for adults. A reception will follow the program.
Agora Sponsors Annual Queen of Hearts Contest

Eight lovely girls will compete for the honor of being crowned Agoras 1987 Queen of Hearts tonight. Immediately following the Agora vs. the Panzer Gym Agora will sponsor their annual charity Queen of Hearts dance in the cafeteria of Lichtenberg Hall.

A few weeks ago each of the sororities at Montclair State selected one or more potential candidates to be their representatives. Girls vying for the title of queen are Carole Fette, a sophomore from arts major of Kappa Sigma; Julie Guarino, a sophomore language major of Delta Chi; Chris Kibiel, a Sigma Theta Epsilon junior English major; and Karen Theriault, a sophomore math major from Mu Sigma. The girls vying for the title of queen are crowned Queen of Hearts.

The purpose of this dance, an annual event sponsored by Agora, is to raise money for the Essex County Heart Fund. Pictures of the girls have been displayed on campus this past week. By donating pennies the voter may select the girl of his choice. The penny will count as one vote for each individual candidate. The girl with the greatest amount of pennies will be crowned Queen of Hearts.

Music, which will be provided by the NPL's, will start at 9:30 p.m. John Sico, chairman of the dance, hoped for a large turnout at tonight's affair. The cover charge will be $1.00.

Agora has been an active fraternitv in fund raising drives. It is also the founder of the College-Student Assistant P.U.N. which is available to all Montclair State students.

Margain for Excellence Seen Important as College Grows

by Bill Lang

Beginning tomorrow many of us will start our final exams. For some this period will be a time of anxious anticipation for others it will forever be the transition from the old to the new.

Montclair is also making a transition. Its change is not as visible as a change in semesters, but it's there. The only indication we tend to accept the mile long journey from class to class as an ever present nuisance. It was not always so.

In 1964 when the present class of '86 accepted the great metamorphosis began. This year our school has grown from a large number of students accelerated the growth of the College and ended the era of a small state school with excellent facilities for all. It initiated instead an era planned with growing pains, for we definitely have temporary problems. Obviously, there are many situations that presently exist because of our rapid expansion: parking, cafeteria service, dormitories, etc. But rather than dwelling on the problems I will attempt to deal with the things being done to alleviate them.

Our State Government recent ly passed the Higher Education Act which will aid in the solution of such problems as classroom space, living situation and, in conjunction with the Federal Education Act, it will provide more dorm space. Now, thanks to the concern of the Commissioner of New Jersey for higher education, we can see the opening of a swimming pool and new little theater as well as the enlargement of our pool area.

The book entitled "The Government of the United States was written for the college and technical-school student taking its first course dealing with the government of the United States. The author of this book has made an effort to put a bias out of the book. The author has tried to put practical and concrete facts and not a lot of political jargon.

The book is designed in a manner enabling it to be used as either a sole text for a survey course in American government or in conjunction with other books in a more comprehensive course. This book instead of describing every detail of the national government concentrates on major aspects; political parties, pressure groups, federal courts, and the Presidency.

Supply Store Begins To Stock Paperbacks

The College Supply Store has recently received a great number of new paperback books. The books are not part of the required reading assignments and are designed to appeal to the efforts of several committees.

In February of 1965, a group of students concerned over the lack of reading material in the bookstore other than textbooks, spoke to Erik Engelf, former president of the SGA. Through him, they were referred to Mr. A. Kudt, assistant to the president, and finally to the Faculty Committee of the Bookstore, headed by Dr. M. Kuhlman. This committee set up a sub-committee made up of both students and faculty members. Mr. A. Lunsacco is head of this sub-committee.

The job of this group was to formulate a policy on the quality of the selections of the paperback books for the bookstore. All majors were considered as to books generally reading interest.

APRO National Convention Held

On December 27, 28, and 29, Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, held its 19th national convention in Minneapolis. Representing the NSU Phi Chapter here were Gerard Kenne and Joseph McIsaac.

The convention was held at the Radisson Hotel. Over 1,000 others from over 400 chapters were at attendance. Changes in the national constitution now permit graduate students to remain as active members. Delegates were each able to devour over 1000 pages of material, involving twenty years of攻 Read more

Veterans’ Corner

The law requires that monthly certificates of attendance signed by veterans be sent to the VA attesting the veteran has attended classes. Unfortunately, these certificates are sent only after a month’s school is completed. On the 20th of the following month, VA mails the payment checks. Proper and prompt sending of these certificates will eliminate delays.

The State of the Clarion

It is traditional for the Montclarion to evaluate itself at the time the newly-elected staff takes office. It is always upsetting to lose experienced and qualified seniors. This year the experience and qualifications of the graduating seniors will be difficult to replace. Consequently, the services they brought to the paper will be hard to duplicate.

Despite these losses, however, the Montclarion is in the best position staff-wise than it has been in at least two years. The retirement of Editor-in-Chief, Charles Barragato, Managing Editor, Laela Dungan, News and Features Editor, Beatrice Kivett, Make-up Editor, Martha Schervina, and Copy Editor, Robert Haff will particularly be felt. The skills and techniques they learned in their two and a half years tenure and the personal contributions they made to the paper will be difficult to replace.

But we must be better than the average. The Montclarion is our nearest rival, the Montclair Times. Let's face the new year with optimism. Conditions of overcrowdedness in our lounges, cafeterias and parking lots will be with us for a little while longer. As we continue to work on these problems we should spend some time thinking about presenting problems we should spend more time thinking about the Montclarion of the future — what the college should be like - what role should it play in the State. The goals of our college should be developed jointly by the entire college family — it's the responsibilities and the challenges which we must all accept.

Montclair Collection — A Tribute

A. M. Sullivan's gift of over 500 books of poetry to the College represents an extremely fine gesture. The major movements in American poetry since World War I are represented in the collection. This poetry library will be the basis for research for graduate students who will thus come to this campus to interpret these movements in poetry. As a result of this, Montclair State College could in essence become a center for the study of Modern Poetry.

However, it is poet Sullivan who will be best remembered. This collection represents his contribution to the world of poetry. Many of the books are signed by their authors. Still many more were given to Mr. Sullivan as a means of thanking him for what he had done for them. It was through his twelve-year radio program that Sullivan built up poetry in this country. With his program, Sullivan introduced the works of many new poets, who have since become established. He invited the poets to read their works over the air. He also invited critics to discuss the works of these poets.

Sullivan knew them all — both British and American. He did much for each of them. In appreciation they gave him the handiwork of their hearts. Being a published poet himself, Sullivan could truly appreciate these gifts.

The collection represents the best poetry of our time. It is a tribute to this college, a tribute to the instruction of the arts on this campus, and a tribute to the student writer on this campus. However, above all, the A. M. Sullivan Poetry Collection will forever remain a tribute to a distinguished poet.

Paperbacks — At Last!

The Montclarion, contrary to popular belief, is always eager to extend commendation or criticism when it is in order. Therefore, the staff sees a definite need to congratulate the College Supply Store for its recent addition of approximately 200 paperback books. These books, not required for course readings, cover every major field of study and are of general interest to the student. In addition to these books, an additional supply is soon expected.

Now the student with "time on his hands" can come into the bookstore and browse at leisure. He can now purchase books at the supply store for the sole purpose of his own personal enjoyment. This is important as students need an opportunity to expand their literary horizons beyond the required reading assignments.

Again the Montclarion would like to extend its congratulations to the College Supply Store for making this first step. However, we sincerely hope the bookstore will not stop at this early stage, but will continue to progress to the point where it can supply numerous titles for the benefit and enjoyment of all.

College administrations are quick to commend the rapid development of improved facilities; however, on their campuses it is of greater value when the students themselves appreciate the improvements made for their benefit.

Montclair Wins Kiwanis Tourney 70 - 67

The Montclair basketball team, which has lost only one game up to its meeting with Rutgers University, Pace College of New York, Paterson for Montclair were Luther Bo­ lion, with Newark Rutgers beat­¡rough. According to Bob Lester, decided , to run a tournament.

The Tournament itself came from an idea by Mr. Don Johnston of Cedar Grove. Mr. Johnston had the idea of holding one game at Christmas time. The Passaic Valley Ki­

wan Club, his own, took interest in the project and deecided to run a tournament. Eight teams participated in the Tournament, which took place during the Christmas holidays from December 27 through December 30. The teams in the Tournament were Bloomfield. FDU at Madison. Newark College of Engineering, Newark Rutgers University, Pace College of New York, Paterson State College. Uпасola College and Montclair State. Opening night action saw a double-head­er in which NCE rolled over Bloomfield 91-41, and Montclair downed a scrappy Paterson State club, 88-46. Second night action saw Bloomfield lose to Paterson State in the consolation, with Newark Rutgers beating Uпасola 78-68, and FDU beating Pace 83-63 in the two night games. This set the stage for the semi-final round with Rutgers Newark meeting FDU Madison and Montclair State taking on NCE. Rutgers Newark hustled, but as the game wore on, they were not much of a match for a bigger F D U team and lost 60-49. In the second game of the double­header, Montclair had a rough first half against NCE, but out­t hustled and out­shot them in the second half for an impres­sive 65-44 victory. The big guns for Montclair were Luther Bo­ lon, with 36 points, and Bob Lester, who had 27 rebounds. The team played well against Paterson with Dave Conroy high man in the second half and led at the half. Bob Gleason, Montclair's star, did not have a good game while Lester played well.

With P D U and Montclair winning their games, it brought matters down to the final night for a game that looked to be one of the tightest ones that either team would ever engage in. The game was close until those final 40 seconds; but after Bruning missed the shot, Mike Oakes put in a layup for the shot that sewed up the game up to its meeting with Monmouth and Trenton, concluding the Tournament.

Meet the 1966 - 1967 Indians

Bob Lester - Forward

If Bob Lester’s first two games at Montclair are any indication, the 6’1” former Central High School Star, will be one of the most exciting players ever to play for State Bob, who is a transfer from Fort Scott Junior College in Kansas, scored 31 points and pulled down 39 rebounds in the opening two games.

Michael Oakes - Forward

At the beginning of last year, the Arthur Johnson Regional product, was on the junior varsity team. Just after the varsity most exciting players ever to play for State were Bob, Tom, and Dave. Tom, who played high school basketball in Bayonne, was the second highest scorer on the team last year with 340 points for a 12.5 average. The 5’6” player is the finest sixth men around.

Bruce Riroc - Center

The “Fox” is the most improved player on the team this year. Never fully reaching his potential at New Providence High School, the 6’9” center seems to have come into his own this season. In the opening game Dave grabbed off 19 rebounds and scored 16 points. In the second game Dave had to sit out much of the time because of foul trouble but he still managed to score 8 points and 9 rebounds.

Keith Neigel - Forward

The 6’2” former St. Aloysius Star is one of the most prolific scorers in college basketball. Using a deft touch on his left hand, jump shot and near perfect foul shooting, Bob pumped in 1200 points in his first two varsity seasons. Last season, Bob led the team in rebounding, pulling down 331 “bounds.” Bob hit on 33 consecutive foul shots last year to set an NCAA record. The NAIA has honored Bob by naming him to their “Little All-American” team as an honorable mention.

Larry Markowitz - Guard

After scoring 309 points last season, the 6’1” product of East Orange High is expected to play an even bigger role this year. “Lute” also is a good rebounder for his size and his quickness and alert play can wreak an opponent’s offense. This year Bowen must carry much more of the load in the backcourt with Angar and La Meta in a reserve role.

Bob Gleason - Guard

Jack is back again as Indian captain this year. Last season, the 6’6” product of Johnathan Dayton Regional High School scored 312 points and led the team in assists. This season Jack will be used to back up Gleason and Bowen and should be one of the finest sixth men around.

Keith Neigel - Forward

At 6’3” the former Johnathan Dayton Regional High School star will be filling in at forward this year. Last year Keith rebounded well and scored 320 points for a 12.5 average. Keith is a good jump shot from the corner.

Bruce Biroc - Center

Bruce is a 6’7” transfer from Pensacola Junior College in Florida. Bruce shoots well from the outside and pulls down his share of rebounds; he’ll see plenty of action this year filling in for Oakes and Conoy.

Randy Heidemann - Guard

Randy, at 6’1”, led the junior varsity in scoring last year with a 19.6 ppg. average. Randy who played forward at Northern Valley High School is a fantastic shot but needs work in defense and ball handling.

Al Fudge - Guard

Al, who is 5’11”, played his high school ball at Arts High School in Newark and played on both Varsity and junior varsity good rebounder and ball handler.

Larry Markowitz - Guard

At 6’1”, Larry is a strong rebounder and tough competitor; he’ll see both varsity and junior varsity action this year.

'Hello Dolly', Long Running Hit Offers Many Joys to Students

by Bonnie Marranca

There is no reason to wonder why Hello, Dolly! has run over 1300 performances—if you've seen the show. An excellent cast, sparkling dance spots, dazzling scenery and exciting tunes complement one another to effect a thrilling entertainment piece.

Hello, Dolly, a David Merrick production, is directed and choreographed by Gower Champion. A winding ramp set beyond the orchestra pit is used for aisles by Dolly and for the extravagant "Hello, Dolly" dance scene. Situated only five feet from the first row seats, the ramp provides close contact and identification with the audience.

Gower Champion's sets add luster to the already excellent Horace Vangergetelder who is busy dating the women that Dolly has found for him. At times Vergeelder doesn't realizes that he loves Dolly until the last scene of the show.

David Burnas as the crochety old millionaire Horace Vandergetelder, is a wonderful funnyman. His comic routines, perfectly timed, are reminiscent of Vaudeville days. The costumes he wears are typical of his character, portraying a hoarse-voiced man whose bark is more than his bite.

Will Mackenzie as Cornelius and John Mineo as Barnaby play two Yorkers boys who leave their jobs to find excitement in the big city. They work well together and add zest to the otherwise sketchy plot.

The whole cast of Hello, Dolly, complement each other; no one tries to steal scenes or be particularly cute, as sometimes happens. Costumes, dancers and music are delightful, all adding color and sparkle to the scene.

Hello, Dolly provides a thrilling and entertaining experience for theatre goers. At the rate that Hello, Dolly is playing it is true that "Dolly may never go away." Don't wait to find out—I heartily recommend the show to you.

Women's Recreation Ass'n Completes Fall Calendar

The WRA has successfully completed their full sports calendar and has hopefully embarked on an equally successful winter program. Our volleyball club participated in three intercollegiate playdays and brought back such victories as the one at Paterson where they accumulated 6 wins and 0 losses. The field hockey team finished its season with a 2-1 record, and the fencing club, modern dance club, and gymnastics club are all continuing their programs into the winter.

The basketball team has a full schedule for the months of February and March against such schools as East Stroudsburg and Westchester. Their season looks very promising for the variety in a pre-season scrimmage secured a victory against New York City College: MSC 65, NYCC 38. The basketball club which meets every Monday in Gym 1 at 3:00 has playdays scheduled for our return in January.

Bowling has just begun at Bowlero and you can find 50 girls competing on teams every Wednesday at 4:00. The Rhythmic Gymnastics Club is preparing for the Panzer demonstration, while the gymnasts and fencers are diligently practicing for their up and coming meets. Amateur gymnasts gather together for club every Tuesday afternoon and Thursday night and the fencers do likewise on Monday and Wednesday nights.

Many clubs are offered to meet the varied interests of the sports-minded women on our campus. If you've ever had a secret desire to learn the Hula now is the time. We've done the next best thing, we've sponsored a Hawaiian dance club. It meets every Friday evening in the gym. So come on up on the roof, bring your friends and join in the fun.
