Universal Appeal

Top radio stations across the nation enthusiastically played their hits. Not only rock and roll, but also "easy listening stations" were anxious to play their refreshing sounds. They appealed to all audiences, adult and teen alike.

Joseph Kloza introduced Dr. Richardson and that the size of the freshman class did not create parking difficulties. The faculty advisory committee.

The creation and perfection of their own unique ballad style thus began. In the world of fast-paced rock and roll groups, they managed not only to survive but to make recording history of their own experience, present SGA candidates for the advancement of Montclair State.
PROFESSOR WILLIAM DELL'S FIRST BOOK IS PUBLISHED

A Benediction and Other Poems, the first edition of poetry by William C. Dell, has recently been published by Bobbs-Merrill in California, one of the most distinguished publishers of small literature. Mr. Dell is a graduate of the Montclair State College, and he has been instrumental in the fledgling literary and poetry scene on this campus.

Mr. Harold C. Bohn, chairman of the English department, commented enthusiastically on the first book: "In the four years that I have known Bill well, he has been instrumental in arousing student enthusiasm for poetry on this campus."

The purpose of the concert is to show the masses the relevance and importance of the jazz scene in today's contemporary religious scene. It hopes to demonstrate the fact that jazz, or any other musical idiom, is not profane and does not go against church teachings. The program consists of Bob performing contemporary songs he has composed with the help of worship services and record personnel. "I'm planning to release an album in the near future," Bob adds.

Robert Edwin (Steinfeld) will appear in a concert entitle d Praise the Lord in Many Voices. The entire concert will be composed of a selection of songs that are available on the Avant Garde label, and a selection of songs available in other albums. Bob's contribution was doubled in Mass: Mass for all.

Professor George J. Petrello of Montclair State's business department has decisively demonstrated the importance of the "corporate annual report" as a meaningful teaching aid. In his course "The Corporate Annual Report as a Teaching Tool," Professor Petrello used the "American Red Cross and the Essex County Blood Bank," which is complementary to the textbook "The Blood Report" by Professor Robert Steinfeld. "The Blood Report" was used as the textbook for the course "The Corporate Annual Report as a Teaching Tool," which is a part of the Business Administration curriculum.

Susan Banks who portrays Elmire is directed by Dr. Clyde CoEley in hiding Orgon, played by Charles Croce.

Players Will Present 'Tartuffe' Next Weekend

The Players production of Moliere's witty seventeenth-century comedy, Tartuffe, will be presented on April 27, 28, 29, and May 1, in Memorial Auditorium. Directed by Dr. Clyde McKelroy, the cast includes Elizabeth Schederland (Madame Pernelle), Charles Croce (Orgon), Susan Banks (Elmire), Walter Kotcha (Damis), Lynn Gehring (Mariane), John Parrillo (Valere), Michael San Giovanni (Cleante), Paul Hart (Tartuffe), Laura Gramaglia (Dorine), Joseph Dafty (Loyal), Cathy Ramsden (Filipote), and Daniel Ehring Robert Brewer, Joan Bayard, and Joan Breeman (Spectators).

Written in 1664, Tartuffe is the story of the unmasking of a religious hypocrite. Tartuffe, the "pious" man, worms his way into the household of Orgon, a prosperous middle-class family concerned with the life of a prosperous middle-class family during the reign of Louis XIV. Moliere's characters are eternal and have their counterparts to day.

Moliere's comedies were landmarks in the history of the theatre. Before his works appeared, comedy was confused to vulgar farce with stock situations and contrived, artificial plots. It was Moliere who set new standards by which comedy and comic acting have been judged ever since. Comedy should be a commentary on life. Moliere said. The comic playwright's objective should be to delight his audience by laughing at his own characters. He must show the grave discrepancy between what people are and what they think themselves to be. Although his characters are vain, gullible, pretentious, insincere, any hypocritical, Moliere is always understanding toward them.

In addition to the performance on campus, the Players production of Tartuffe will be part of the Festival of the Arts in Newton, New Jersey. On May 4 a matinee and evening performance will be given at the Newton High School Auditorium.

Carolyn Grasso, assistant director; Kathy Ramsden, and Lynn Gehring who plays Mariane relay instructions from the light control booth during rehearsal of 'Tartuffe.'

Dr. George Petty

PETTY RECEIVES DOCTORATE

George C. Petty, assistant to President Richardson and member of the English department faculty, was awarded a doctorate degree from New York University's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences where he also received his Master of Arts degree.

After graduating from Princeton University twenty years ago, Dr. Petty joined the aviation industry and while flying had the opportunity to travel to various libraries throughout Europe, principally the British Museum where he began research toward his thesis: Topical Poetry.

Dr. Petty explained that the paper concerned Middle English poetry. He feels that "with the separation of certain technological advances, the English speaking world has not progressed from the Middle Ages." This literary period dates from the Norman Conquest, 1066 A.D., to the time of Chaucer, 1715 A.D.

"The undergraduate program" Dr. Petty stated, "does not offer any courses specifically dealing with the Middle Ages." He went on to say that "the literature survey courses do present the topic briefly." Several schools as well as Montclair State College offer courses on the graduate level, he added.

When asked if the possible adoption of an undergraduate program in Middle English poetry in the undergraduate program of studies, Dr. Petty agreed that one or two courses should be offered, adding that they should be taught in Middle English. Dr. Petty could offer no date as to when such a program would begin at Montclair.

Concluding by stating that he felt Middle English is not as far removed from Modern English as one might assume except with respect to certain rules of grammar, Dr. Petty explained that the fundamental points could be grouped as essential. A student should understand enough of the grammatical rules to be able to more fully appreciate and communicate in Chaucer's language.

SGA Elections—

Time to Think

Student Government Association elections are tomorrow. Look around you. Take a good look around you. Who are you going to vote for? Well, that's rather obvious. Vote for the person who sits next to you in English class. He's definitely "groovey." The ability to fit into a groove—or a rut—is good character for an SGA officer. Don't think about it. This is an important aspect of the college followed. This was President T. Richardson took the opportunity to ask the students and the administration. "Where Were You?"

We were extremely proud that it was successfully carried out.

The Marathon—

A Success!

"Much Ado About Nothing." That something is our college. Yes, your college. The college you chose to be yours. What did you do for the marathon? Nothing. We thought you would do for the marathon you saw the amount of work the college. Did you go? Yes, good! If you did go to the marathon you saw the amount of work you chose to be yours. What did you do for the marathon? Nothing. We thought you would do.

We thought you would do for the marathon you saw the amount of work you chose to be yours. What did you do for the marathon? Nothing. We thought you would do.

The Forum—

Where Were You?

The President's Forum was called for the purpose of stimulating better communication between the students and the administration. President T. Richardson took the opportunity to inform the students on the progress being made concerning the parking problem, the creation of new student lounges and campus changes. A question and answer period concerning any aspect of the college followed. This was an ideal opportunity for any concerned student to question policies and practices of the administration.

With over 4000 students at MSC, many of whom are chronic complainers, this should have been the perfect time for their participation in the Forum. However, only about 60 people were concerned enough to show up to hear the President. Should we assume that more than 3900 students here do not care about their college? We of the Monclarion realize not everyone was able to attend the Forum due to classes and other obligations. But we also realize that more than 3900 students have inquired into the problems of MSC. Many complain that there are no parking spaces, yet few have ever initiated something that really finds out what is being done about it.

Apathy on the part of the students shows thoughtlessness and inconsideration for those who actually want something to be done. No one can force people to attend meetings and support the marathon. The students who actually want something to be done. No one can force people to attend meetings and support the marathon. The students who actually want something to be done.

If the college does not live up to the standard you want it to, you can do something about it other than complain.

Each class has SGA representatives, class officers and a class council. These people are representatives of your classes. They can only represent you if you inform them of what you think should be looked into.

For those who desire to express their opinions, this is the way. Already over 3900 of you passed up one good opportunity to find out about your school. Don't complain unless you are ready to discuss what you feel should be discussed.

Remember—this is your college and you can make it what you want it to be—but you have to do it yourself.

Stash the Trash

Due to the inconsideration of the students that frequent the Life Hall cafeteria during the day, the Clean Up Committee has been formed.

We of the Monclarion assumed the students of MSC had the maturity to behave themselves properly in a cafeteria. To throw away a coffee container, dirty paper napkin, or paper plate in the proper receptacle does not take much effort on the part of the student. Students want clean facilities, yet they make no effort to keep them clean.

By not showing respect for cafeteria facilities, the student is showing the lack of respect he has for himself and his college. In the future, we implore the students to use the waste pails and throw away their garbage. The cafeteria can be kept clean but only through student assistance.

Cooperate today to make the Life Hall cafeteria a clean one.

As SGA reporter for the school paper I have attended most of the meetings of the legislature. As a member of the Commuter's Advisory Committee, I have learned that something can be done to better the conditions at Montclair. As a member of the Commuter's Chronicle I have shown that I'm willing to work for the benefit of the greater community.

I feel that this is an important position as far as the students are concerned. Because of its importance I have considered this position for many months and have done careful research as to the proper person to fill this position. As a member of SGA I feel that I know what is expected of the position and that I can fill it.

Comments:

I think that the following activities, which I have participated in, will add to my qualifications:

1. Chairman of the Concert Committee.
2. Member of the JV basketball team.
3. Lived as a dorm student and now live in an off-campus apartment.
4. Delegate to Associate of College Unions.
5. Member of the newly formed SGA.
6. Attended all SGA legislature meetings of the second semester of this year.

This boy has 63 mothers

Let some child love you too

This child is Bolivar Muto, a five year old Ecuadorian boy who has been adopted by the women of Kappa Sigma Rho through the Foster Parents Plan, Inc. Since March 14, he has been receiving $15.00 (or $180.00 per year) for his care, which provides such things as brand clothing, food, diapers, tooth paste, soap, medical care, and so on. The sisters and tution, little Bolivar can now attend the school in the village where he has been living. The sisters of Kappa Sigma Rho also send frequent letters of gratitude and fond wishes from him translated through the plan. You, too, can "adopt" a needy or distressed child.

Tony Foster, who has been adopted by the Theta Tau Chapter of Alpha Mu Sigma, a university fraternity. They are: John VanDunk, John Dietsch, and Bill Nelson.

Several of the brothers spent an enjoyable Easter vacation in Fort Lauderdale, Florida which is evidence by the suntanned faces at the frat table. They are Pete Robolda, Vinny O'Brien, Jack Foster, John Hou- tel, Joe Dredes, and Joe Ponsi. Last Wednesday the men of Beta had a successful and en- joyable mixer with the women of Kappa Sigma Rho.

The men of Beta would like to congratulate Joe Klein and the 27 Hour Marathon commit- tee on a successful and enjoy- able "entertain in".

KAPPA SIGMA RHO

As you walk past the soci- ety's table in the cafeteria, you may notice seven tanned faces belonging to seven women of Kappa Sigma Rho. These women, individually and collectively made the best of their spring vacation, which included working with the disadvantaged children and giving classes in music and dancing. If you cannot attend you may secure information from Mrs. Lawrenz Kenn, SIGS director.

As the SGA election nears students are announc- ing their candidacy for a position. It is pleasing to hear how these potential leaders announce how informed they are of SGA af- fairs. Some of these have attended the meetings of the Student Legislator where a regular basis. These meetings are dull, but a person truly interested in the workings of the SGA should be willing to tolerate this drudgery in the interests of bet- ter understanding the Government.

For those unable to attend the meetings of the Student Legislator, a forum on this matter at the next meeting of the SGA. The questions will be presented by any interested SGA member.

When the other requirements are met but the student has not received a benefit payment for any month of the year count even if the student was not entitled to benefits. Benefits apply before benefits can be made for the period of non-attendance.

Earnings May Affect Payments

The earnings a student has from a job or from self-employment may affect his benefit pay- ments. Earnings for the whole year count even if the student has not entitled to benefits throughout the year.

The general rule is that a stu- dent can receive benefit pay- ments for all months of a year in which his earnings are $500 or less. If his annual earnings exceed $500, $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 in earnings. If his annual earnings exceed $1500, $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 of earnings.

However, a student can receive a benefit payment for any month in which he earns a benefit payment even if he exceeds $125. This applies to self-employment earnings of a parent on whose record a child receives benefits may also affect the child's payments.

Applying For Benefits

Young people who are receiv- ing benefits as they near age 18 (or who may be eligible for benefits in the near future) should begin to apply before they reach age that they need to do. This will increase the amounts of money that a student can receive benefits may also affect the child's payments.

Benefits During Vacations

Benefits can continue during a vacation or other period of non-attendance of up to four months if the student contributes to himself. The SGA should be willing to tolerate this drudgery in the interests of bet- ter understanding the Government.

For those unable to attend the meetings of the Student Legislator, a forum on this matter at the next meeting of the SGA. The questions will be presented by any interested SGA member.

Valhalla Glen, Place of Natural Beauty, an Educational Center

By Diane Zervopoulos

Many students and faculty members have little knowledge of the tract of land presently being purchased by Montclair State, a beautiful tract of land is Valhalla Glen in northern New Jersey. This beautiful evolution of the country was once a thriving Hemlock Forest, Lake Valhalla Glen, and the Brook which provided... of the forest from the pond to a large lake named Lake Valhalla. There are very few such glens remaining within the metropolitan area which consist of such valuable beauty. For the past three years Montclair State has been conducting a fund-raising campaign to enable the college to own thirty acres of this beautiful land. A sum of 74,000 has been agreed upon of which a debt of 18,000 presently remains to be paid within one year. Dr. Marie Kuhn, chairman of the Valhalla Glen campaign, has been active working with Dr. Joseph deNocker in order to secure this tract of land for the college. Both professors are members of our Science Department.

The Nature Conservancy, national organization, has been interested in preserving this tract of land by acquiring it for strictly educational use. The tract of land is not just any forest or woods—it is a very learning area. It contains many different types of trees. Just a few are hemlock, sugar maples, dogwoods, chestnut, red and black oak, shagbark hickory, white ash, and American beech. Besides, there are many different types of birds and insects which exist at Valhalla Glen which contain the characteristic trees and plants from the locations of the soil. Such communities are the Pocosin, the Emergent, Forest, Emergent, Lotic, Hemlock and the Wet Deciduous. The study and understanding of botany can be greatly facilitated here, especially plant ecology. Many topics for investigation through this tract of land and the present ponds have been developed to further benefit the study of sciences. This is one of the few Montclair State强行希望它能拥有而且用于这一有价值的土地。

It would be one full, complete dimension added to the resources of our college and to the education of New Jersey youth. It would enable us to preserve for future destruction one of the few remaining natural areas in the state of New Jersey. It is near several schools which have a dangerous risk of being destroyed, but yet so rich in natural plant and animal life to be worth more than a gold mine in principle. It is a unique and valuable asset to the college. This land contains an abundance of resources never secrets yet revealed.

Donations Received

Many donations have been received by various organizations and individuals willing to support our dreams. Such donations are from the SGA, Faculty Council, alumni, many conservation and garden clubs, and from anonymous and private individuals. Mrs. Mary Mabour, a biologist, has donated 100 copies of her book Red Lion Rampant. The book contains an informative history of Essex County tending of its origin, features, and historical sites. It is presently being sold in paperback form by Sigma Sigma Sigma at $1.25.

We would like you to join in and help with the project also. This is what you can do. Contact Dr. Rosen, or Dr. Becker of the Science Department and let them know you are willing to help do both. They need to publicize the money and prices are acceptable; in combination, these two gifts can't be beat. All contributions are tax deductible. To make checks payable to Valhalla Project, College Development Fund, MSC. Your help will certainly go a long way.

WRA Lacrosse

A women's lacrosse club, sponsored by the Student Association, will meet on Mon. and Wed. afternoons at Brookdale Park for all MSC women who are interested in playing this fast moving game. Lacrosse is an old Indian game played with a leather type basket attached to a pole called a crosse. The 12 team members advance a hard rubber ball by catching, throwing and running. In order to score, the ball is thrown through a triangular goal cage.

The Montclair women are learning the game at quick pace, throwing and the game strategy under the coaching direction of Miss Atwood, former lacrosse coach, and head of the physical education department.

Coach Bill DiGiordano’s Indians took right off on a season high note and combined timely hitting with excellent pitching to past victories in their initial two outings of the season.

In the season’s first game against Jersey City State, the Indians had the only undefeated team on campus as Coach Bruce Montgomery’s junior Indians have al ready captured two of three possible wins in opening contests.
