Partridge to be Feted
At Testimonial Dinner

Dr. E. DeAlton Partridge, former president of Montclair State, will be honored at a dinner Oct. 30 at the Robin Hood Inn, Cliffside Park, in recognition of his outstanding service in the field of education. The affair, which is open to the public, is being sponsored by five of our college's organizations: the Faculty Association, Staff Association, Alumni Association, College Development Fund, and Student Government Association.

Co - Chairmen
Co-chairmen are Dr. Edward Ambry, associate dean, and Miss Emma Fantone, co-ordinator of the Audio-Visual Center. Tickets, priced at $10.00 a plate, may be obtained from Miss Fantone at the Audio-Visual Center in College Hall.

According to the chairmen, the program is being planned as a tribute to Dr. Partridge's many achievements and interests. It will highlight his contributions to education, in general; to audio-visual education and educational television, in particular; to the community and college, and, through his current position as president of the Near East Foundation, to the cause of international understanding. His interest in youth, as evidenced by his books on adolescence, work to combat juvenile delinquency, and service to the Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, and YMCA, will be noted, as will his enthusiasm for the outdoors and photography.

A graduate of Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, Dr. Partridge took his doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia. He worked as a statistician and director of research for the Boy Scouts of America from 1938 until joining the Montclair State Faculty in 1937. During World War II he served as a Lieutenant Commander, U.S.N.R., in the Navy. Returning to the college after the war, he was named dean of instruction in 1947 and president in 1951.

In 1964, Dr. Partridge left Montclair State to assume his present duties. He has made several trips to the Near East since taking over as head of the foundation.

Off Campus House
Opens for Newman

How many times during the busy college day have you longed for a quiet place to just sit and think about the important questions of life? How many times have you longed to find someone with a friendly ear to whom you could communicate your inmost thoughts?

The Newman House, located at 874 Valley Road, was organized for just such a purpose. Under the auspices of the Newman Apostolate, the House hopes to offer an atmosphere of brotherhood and Christian love to all students. Newman House also boasts a full-time chaplain and many lecture series, discussion groups, films, and retreats for those interested. But, most of all, Newman House wishes to extend a sincere invitation to brotherhood and a chance to become better acquainted with one’s fellow student outside of the classroom setting.

The Vienna Symphony, conducted by Wolfgang Sawallisch

Vienna Symphony to Appear
As Beginning of MOC Season

On Oct. 2, 1967, several busloads of genial Austrians, followed by a truckload of musical instruments, will arrive on our campus. They are the 125 men of the Vienna Symphony Orchestra. The orchestra, currently on its return tour of North America, is conducted by Wolfgang Sawallisch, one of the most brilliant of the younger generation of European conductors.

The Vienna Symphony Orchestra is an orchestra of the twentieth century. The date of its founding, 1900, is significant. It is a year that looked back toward the great romantic traditions of the nineteenth century and forward to the startling innovations of the twentieth. The orchestra has dedicated itself to perpetuating the greatest music of the past and introducing the best music of the present.

Popular Group
This symphony orchestra plays an enormous number of concerts each year from an immensely varied repertoire. Especially popular have been its "New Works" programs during which the orchestra has played several hundred performances and over 100 world premieres. Most of the great composers of the century have been associated with the orchestra, usually conducting programs of their own works, often in first performances. Among them have been Mahler, Schoenberg, Richard Strauss, Bartók, Debussy and Ravel, as well as such contemporaries as Stravinsky, Milhaud and Hindemith. This close contact between creative artist and performing ensemble has had favorable influences on both.

Concert Orchestra
The Vienna Symphony is Vienna's only symphony orchestra devoted exclusively to concerts. Its distinguished elder sister, the Vienna Philharmonic, only presents a limited number of concerts each season. Thus, the main burden of supplying music to the City of Music falls to the Vienna Symphony. In spite of its heavy commitments at home, the Vienna Symphony Orchestra has toured extensively. Today it is known in most of the centers of Western Europe and in many behind the Iron Curtain. Wolfgang Sawallisch is one of the most rapidly rising of the younger generation of European conductors. His first conducting experiences occurred in German opera theaters. As his reputation grew, he became increasingly in demand for guest engagements. In 1953, at the age of 30, he became the youngest ever invited to lead the famed Berlin Philharmonic. He was chosen as the Vienna Symphony Orchestra's permanent conductor in 1960 at the age of 37.

‘La Campana’ Plans Theme

The editors of La Campana, 1968 are concerned about the problems that face every generation of Montclair State College students, but they are not concerned by way of complaint. Our college is in a period of transition in which the students themselves are taking an active part in solving the campus problems.

The students have seen a goal, and instead of sitting back and talking about the merits of the (Continued on Page 2)
MSC Takes Strides Toward Solving Parking Problems

With approximately 3000 available parking spaces on the Montclair State College campus and a new lot soon to be completed, the commuting students should now be able to find available parking spaces throughout the day. This is the first year at MSC that the amount of parking spaces is almost equal to the number of commuting students. Parking in the old first-year parking lot was added this fall adjacent to Webster Hall, providing 200 more spaces. Plans are now underway for an additional area, located behind Mallory and Finney halls to be covered with stones with a capacity for another 300 cars.

Extra Area

Although this extra area is being constructed, the maintenance department feels that parking spaces are available and student complaints of having no place to park are not justified.

Fine Increase

According to a survey taken every other year by the maintenance department in all MSC parking lots, it was found that 100 to 200 spaces were available behind-Webster Hall, depending on the time of day. The new lot adjacent to Webster Hall was also found to have the majority of its spaces unfilled.

Due to the added space, the car pool plan originally set up to lessen the amount of cars coming onto the campus has not been put into effect.

Other Performances

Other than their performances at MSC, they have also been featured at The Cellar in Philadelphia, plus the Guild and industrial arts major, John Faginetto, and his band, the 'Dirdie Birdies' who will appear in concert Oct. 6.

Other Publications

Newman is 'Happening'

The twang of guitars, the crash of drums, and the bobbing of illuminated balloons signaled the arrival of the Newman Apostolate's 'Happening' Tuesday night in the MSC Memorial Auditorium at 8 P.M.

The Christian in the Modern World, visual aids and off-beat music were employed to introduce the plans of the Catholic youth organization for the year.

The apostolate, formed to carry on the work of the Newman Club, is sponsored by the Student Activities Fund. In order to finance the activities, the students were asked to purchase a $615 package that included a magazine drive, a three-week educational seminar, and a Newman apostolate orientation in the parish.

The chorus of the song, "No man walks alone without despair," was sung by the Newman group. It was both an expression of the need of the Gospel and a challenge to help each other to achieve God's plan.

The song was introduced by a group of students who had prepared a skit to illustrate the theme of the song. The skit depicted the world of the 1960's. On the battlefields of Vietnam, the hungry of the world, in the riots of the major cities, and in the chambers of diplomatic dialogue, there are countless instances of man's inhumanity to man.

The theme was that this is a world that the Christian of today seeks to bring about the goal of Church leaders: 'under our universal brotherhood. All men feel the need to belong, for "no man walks alone without despair."'

CH Speaks

The magazine drive at College High School is well under way. The edition deadlines are October 4 and November 11.

The seniors are expected to begin to sponsor competition for their classes. Commissioners from the magazine drive will go into the Student Activities Fund.

Many valuable prizes are being offered for various levels of participation. The prizes are transistor radios, watches and a trip to a Broadway play.

An outstanding individual effort was made by Craig Sorres, an enthusiastic eighth grader who contributed more than $300.

Since the ten-day drive began on Sept. 11, $1,733 worth of magazines have been sold. The seniors announced that their goal is $3,233. As in past seasons, the money will be divided into two equal portions.

One of the spokesmen was the Newman adviser, Father Thomas D'Alessandro. He encouraged the young people to "get involved in living." One of the aims of the Newman organization is "to bring the practice of religious activity out of the sanctuary and onto the campus."

Folk Mass Celebrated

The religious, educational, and social programs of the Newman Apostolate are directed toward these ends. A Folk Mass is celebrated Sun. mornings at 11 A.M. in the Music Building. Daily masses are celebrated at noon at the Newman House on Valley Road.

The thoughtful intentions behind the Folk Mass is a means of bringing the church in the perspective of life in the 1960's.

A Folk Mass will be held at the Newman Church on Friday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 P.M. All are welcome.

Seminars

Three seven-week educational seminars have been scheduled. Monday evenings, a course ex- amining the history of Ca tolichism, entitled, "The Catholic Faith Explained," will be offered. Wednesday evenings will see seminars on "Sex, Love, and Marriage" and "The Church's teaching of the dogmatic, liturgical, moral, and physical aspects." The church in the perspective of life in the 1960's will be the theme of the Thursday night seminar, entitled, "The Church in the Modern World."

All three sessions will begin at 7:30 P.M. at the Newman House.

Socially, the Newman Apostolate will journey to St. Paul's Abbey in Newton for their yearly retreat during the second weekend in January. An ecumenical weekend, to include all the religious groups on campus, Protestant and Jewish as well as Catholic, is also being considered.

In the words of Father Davis, "That is essentially what we have planned. Anything else will be a 'Happening.'"

Class of '71 to Elect Officers on October 19

Those freshmen who are interested in taking an active part in the class of 1971 will have the opportunity to do so in the upcoming freshman election. A president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the class of 1971 will be held in the Grace Freeman reading room in Life Hall, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Also included on the ballot will be the selection of two freshmen representatives to the SGA legislature.

According to Bob Hillenbrand, vice-president of the SGA, "The elections will provide an excellent opportunity for better class spirit and leadership from the Montclair State's new students. We would like to see a lot of participation from the freshman class."

All freshmen interested in running should attend the election assembly to be held on Tues., Oct. 3 at 3 P.M. in Memorial Auditorium. Bob Hillenbrand will discuss the regulations concerning the election proceedings.

Prospective candidates will be able to receive petitions in the SGA office in Life Hall on the 2nd floor of Life Hall beginning Sept. 30. Petitions will be due by 4 P.M. on Oct. 4 in the SGA office, with official campaigning to begin on Tues., Oct. 9. Speeches by candidates are scheduled for Mon., Oct. 12 in Memorial Auditorium.

Three vacancies for department representatives will also be filled in an election to be held Oct. 5. One representative each from the fine arts, home economics and industrial education and technology departments are needed in the SGA legislature. To be eligible for election a student must be a member of the department he plans to represent.

Montclair Plays Host To English Conference

Curriculum construction in English were the concerns of the 1967 English Conference held at Montclair State from June 26-30, presented in conjunction with a study made this past semester in College High School. Under the auspices of the Perspective Teacher Fellowship Program, Mrs. Muriel Becker and Mr. Morton D. Rich, assistant professors of English at MSC, supervised the plans for the conference and co-directed the conference.

Participation was by invitation, and those attending included English supervisors and department chairmen of New Jersey secondary schools. A different topic was covered each day, and guest speakers, specialists in the fields of literature and language, added depth to the subjects under discussion.

Guest Speakers

Current development in secondary curriculum construction was covered the first day by Dr. Michael Shugro of the Modern Language Association.

Dr. Louise M. Rosenblatt, professor of English and speech at New York University, discussed the teaching of literature.

The Montclair State graduate and IN-SERVICE programs were discussed by Professor James Pettigrove, Dr. Steven Earlley and Dr. Charles Leitzig. Members of these programs participated in the discussion.

Dr. George Petty, a MSC faculty member last year, covered the final day's topic: "The Use of Federal Funds to Improve English Studies."

Several important results of the conference can be noted. The MSC English department is now better informed about teaching practices in New Jersey secondary schools. Moreover, by learning more about the changing needs of these schools, MSC can produce teachers who can more effectively respond to the varied needs of today's youth. The conference enabled local teachers to learn how MSC operates, what type of experience can be gained from College High, and what these experiences can lead to. Finally, MSC has moved toward leadership in curriculum construction in secondary schools.
In Appreciation

Montclair State College has always been grateful for the friendship, generosity and guidance of its religious chaplains. It is indeed impressive to note the growth in both religious activities and participation. It is encouraging to see the support which the administration, student body and residents in the surrounding area have given the growing list of religious activities.

This growing list has been supplemented by the establishment of Newman House. Located on Valley Road, the Newman House will provide a center for worship, discussion and fellowship. Father Davis, who acts as the Newman Apostolate chaplain, has continued to give his time in developing the project. His warm, friendly wit is a definite asset to the student government and many of Montclair’s Jewish and Protestant students on campus. We, on behalf of the college, wish also to express our appreciation to the administration and the Newman House committee for aid and support in establishing Newman House.

As we write this editorial we can think of many individuals and groups who should receive our commendation for their work with religious activities on campus. We shall not go on here lest we forget a meaningful name. To all those who have devoted themselves to developing a meaningful religious program on campus, we offer our sincere thanks and a hearty welcome when we hope that their efforts will give of themselves to these activities, affording them an opportunity to make His work truly their own.

Communication

For Cooperation

We had the unfortunate pleasure of attending the first meeting of the Student Government Association Legislature which was held two weeks ago. The meeting, alluded to in the Letter to the Editor this issue, might be called disappointing, surprising and a bit nauseating. It was, at best, a poor beginning if we are to mistake the meeting for the legislature, if not for all of student government and many of Montclair’s organizations. Despite the efforts of an obviously competent group, many legislators participated in nothing short of sheer infantile nonsense. Many of these same legislators had conducted the budget hearing before it was presented by the treasurer. The animosities built up against the treasurer were not only a bit nauseating but also a waste of time.

We were indeed shocked at the conduct of some legislators. After all, we must be reminded that this is not the budget for the University and that it will not become overthrown by our insignificance. It was also discouraging to see the many vested interests within the members of the legislature. Might we strongly remind the members of the legislature that they represent students in their department or class, not their personal organization, fraternity or sorority.

We of the Montclarion would venture to say that much of this confusion has been brought about by a lack of communications. Communications are a two way channel; let’s make an attempt to listen carefully before we clog the channel.

No Lark to Park?

Parking is, was, and will ever be a problem at Montclair State College. However, we would like to stress that this is not as a result of recent improvements, many of the problems have been alleviated. We further feel that credit and congratulations should be extended to Mr. McGinty and his maintenance staff. Due to the concern and cooperation of the administration, the maintenance staff in this situation, there are now adequate parking spaces available on campus for committing students.

Nevertheless, problems still exist: a traffic light would be a definite asset to the intersection of Normal Avenue and Valley Road, perhaps a regular traffic light could be installed. Also, opening up the blockage now set up off the side of Normal Avenue would accommodate thru traffic and help to clear tie-ups. Finally, despite all or any improvements, it still seems to us that the best and only protection we can give to our cars is to keep them well locked. We hope that the students will give of themselves to these activities, affording them an opportunity to make His work truly their own.

The End

As college students enrolled in a teacher training institution, we all felt some degree of responsibility and interest in following the proceedings of the recent teacher strike in New York City. Although opinions were varied, anyone truly interested in the furtherance and betterment of the educational process must have sighed in relief at the conclusion of the strike. We, of the Montclarion staff are grateful at the strike’s termination and are aware of the hard work and sincere efforts on the part of all involved to affect the conclusion of the strike. We are confident that the return to normalcy will be quick and appreciated by many.

Positions are now open to all students who are interested in working on the MONTCLARION staff as reporters, editorial assistants, and other positions. These people interested in make-up, proof reading, and business are particularly needed.

Class of 1968

Montclarion

The coordinating committee will work in a manner similar to that of the Faculty Council. The coordinating committee will meet regularly (perhaps every two weeks) with the President and the Dean of the College. Membership on this committee should make it possible for Student Government to remain constantly apprised of decisions and developments. Membership should be extended to Mr. McGinty and his maintenance staff.

The coordinating committee will be made up of representatives of the Student Government and the Committee on Disciplinary. It is not with intention to criticize previous student governments, therefore, when we recognize that a change is now in order. We should advance another step in student involvement in “the decisions” of our academic community.

There has been much study done by leading collegiate associations on the subject of the students’ role in higher education. Student interest in taking additional responsibility can be observed across the country. Montclair certainly will keep pace in the improvement of administration. In three years we hope to see more vital role for students in college life.

The following steps have been taken to improve the status of student participation in the functioning of the college:

1. A college coordinating committee has been created in order to facilitate discussion and coordination of student activities. The coordinating committee is selected by the Administrative Council and four members chosen by the Faculty Council. The Student Government of Montclair State has also been invited to select four representatives. The coordinating committee will meet regularly (perhaps every two weeks) with the President and the Dean of the College. Membership on this committee should make it possible for Student Government to remain constantly apprised of decisions and developments. Membership should be extended to Mr. McGinty and his maintenance staff.

2. A student government. Committee will be added to many college committees. No committee which has a primary concern with student life and welfare will be without student representatives. The Dean of the College and the Committee on Committees are now in the process of making recommendations regarding this new arrangement.

3. A high degree of self-discipline exists in the college dormitories. The dormitory council effectively control the majority of student infractions of rules. Under the direction of the Dean of Students, new rules will be made to extend student and faculty participation in the handling of other disciplinary problems in the college. The first step in this process will be the moderation and formulating of the various rules which now set the limits of student behavior on campus.

Certain prerogatives of the faculty in the whole area of academic standards and performance will obviously need to be maintained. Improvement and modernization of our college mechanism for democratic living is the purpose of the coordinating committee. The procedure which has described above was to show in the right direction. Certainly we want everyone’s opinion as to the direction and extent of change. I know that the faculty, through their departments and councils, will have much to say. Student Government is the main instrument of democratic representation for students and I hope that it will be utilized to meet the needs of democratic government.

The climate for change is here and the value of the new institution has broad base of interest and a general willingness to participate.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS:
The Social Security law provides monthly benefits to children when a parent on whom they were dependent dies or starts receiving Social Security retirement or disability benefits.

Until 1965 these benefits could not be paid after the child reached age 18 unless he was disabled. Now the payments can be made after 18 and the child need not be disabled, provided he is an educational institution.

An educational institution is any school (1) which meets at least one of the following tests:
1. It is operated directly or indirectly supported by the United States, or a state, or local government or entity.
2. It is accredited by a nationally recognized or state-recognized accrediting agency.
3. It is approved as an educational institution by a state.
4. Its credits are accepted for transfer (or for admission) by three or more accredited schools on the same basis as credits from other institutions.

The Responsibilities of a Student Receiving Benefits:
1. To advise the Social Security office if he transfers to another educational institution.
2. To advise the Social Security office if he quits full-time attendance at his school.
3. To advise the Social Security office if other sources of income may begin any time.

Provisions Affecting Payments
A student is not eligible for benefits if he is attending school as part of his job — that is, at the request or requirement of his employer, if this pays him while attending.

A student may receive benefits while attending school only for part of the month. (For example, if he begins school on Sept. 14 and he receives benefits on Sept. 28, he may receive a benefit for the month of September.) In addition, a student is deemed to be in full-time attendance and eligibility may be paid him for a period of up to four months of non-attendance (for example, during a summer vacation period).

1. He was in full-time attendance immediately before the period of non-attendance began.
2. He either:
   (a) Intends to return to full-time attendance at his school and expects to earn more than $1500 in a calendar year.
   (b) He actually does return to full-time attendance at that time.

When a student wants to apply for Social Security benefits and has a question about his payments, he should see his nearest Social Security office.

Would you like to hike in the Swiss Alps, study the religious music throughout Germany or learn about and visit Sweden, Aus­tria, Mexico, Spain, France, Poland, U.S.S.R and Great Britain? Then read on. THE EXPERIMENT WAY

The Experiment is a program for students who have completed twentv-eight months twenty-eight Montclair State students have visited more than a dozen countries on the Expedition to Europe and Living in Belgium, Germany, Czechoslovakia, and Austria. Each of these students has received a valuable insight into other ways of living and has learned spending four to five weeks liv­ing with a family, traveling with your brother or sister for two weeks through the countries, and spending one week in one of the great cities of the world.

New Experiences Sought

In 1967 tens of thousands of young Americans will seek new experiences in strange and distant lands as members of universities; thousands will be herded in and out of trains and buses on whirlwind tours; others will live in a new culture leaving behind their own culture.

They seek the opportunity to make new friends and to live internationally, even though it may be at challenging and, at times, extremely difficult.

THROUGH UNDERSTANDING

happy to be coming home again but we were also said to be leaving behind the old world and meeting new friends. We had all had different experiences but we had all gained a unique perspective.

Sweden

The leader, of course, being Moscow.

Swedish farmer, Joseph Kloza from Hitler, and six million out of friends. We had all had different dish home life, happiness.

Kathy Bruno

I became a part of a lovely 22... grateful to be coming home again.

We had all had different "follow the leader" attitude, the result of the Polish government's had been murdered. I visited Warsaw.

My previous knowledge of Polish had been occupied by the German army, and the local farmers had completely destroyed on orders from Hitler, and six million out of a population of 30 million had been murdered.

Achschwitz, the "death camp" where four million Poles, men, women, and children were killed in ways unknown to man.

Living with the people I truly felt the frustrations of living under the control of the U.S.S.R. All my mail was stamped DAMAGED IN DELIVERY, which made it impossible for the official censor to open it. I waited in the mail office until nobody was around and then I opened it. When I was followed and stopped by the Secret Police, I waited three days and one hour before I had a line three people for one train ticket.

But there are other things—beautiful happenings about Poland. People! Wonderful, intelligent, and always opening their hearts to the American visitors.

I you think that he is dead but your twisting of his cross heart, your broken mind has wounded his heart, while his blood bathes your fingers.

Give me your hand.

Don't say that you're going together, I will soon come apart.

Wash your hand.

And keep it for your heart remains.

Those are the superficial reactions of my summer in Sweden, I could write more, but...

How can you explain "Heaven on earth" when you had seen an experiment, it was a delightful pleasure.

Joseph Kloza

My previous knowledge of Poland had left me with the impression that it was a place that did not exist in the past but was now virtually non-existent as a result of the Polish government's "follow the leader" attitude. The leadership of the Soviet Union dominated the country. This impression came to me as a result of the Polish government's efforts to prevent any form of dissent, social or political. The government's control over the people was at its peak, with the people being subjected to strict controls on their movements and言论 freedom.

We left Brussels for Paris the next morning, spent ten hours driving through the rigors of communal living and sleeping in a four-person tent, and this was the most memorable segment of our experience.

Our homestay was followed by a work project at the foot of Mt. Reineck in the Khibine mountains of Northern Sweden, where we were received and the eager acceptance we found as a member of the farming community made this the most heart-warming experience of my life.

This phrase was heard every morning at exactly 6 A.M. We were in the Kiev Medical Institute Sports Camp. It was a call for us to assemble on the meadow, where we were given the distances, the essence of the activity they expected us to perform, and the means for improving our exercises. Those of us who went late were soon shown the door.

The Russian students demonstrated a considerable appreciation for physical activities, particularly those requiring team competition. Tournaments in volleyball, basketball, etc., were regularly scheduled.

We three-week camp stay was the high point of our seven weeks in the Soviet Union. Here we lived with the people of our age, sharing our thoughts and feelings, our native experiences and customs. Essentially, we formed part of a whole. Everyone had to do his share of work, whether improving the camp facilities or clearing the camp grounds.

On the day of our departure it was difficult for us, as well as for the Russian people. They had learned to understand our experience into a memorable event and that international understanding begins with the understanding of oneself.

We had all had different experiences, but we had all gained a unique perspective.

A visit to Sweden is a journey through a thousand years. Each region has its own characteristics and see what interests him. Each visitor has to make his own opinion. It is an individual experience.

I was an exciting, memorable and fabulous summer. I shall return!

Tanzania

Donna Rae De Marco

Our Tanzanian Experiment began in Dar-Es-Salam, the capital city of Tanzania, where we spent four weeks in the homes of our respective families.

Living in a Muslim family, I found myself in the midst of Indian food, African language, and a new way of life. It was one of the most unique experiences of my life. The warmth with which we were accepted as a family made me the most part of the communal living segment of our Tanzanian experience.

STUDENT TEXTILE EXHIBIT OPENS IN LIBRARY LOBBY

by Pat Lyons

The fine arts department is presenting a textile exhibit in Sprague Library this week.

Four general areas are treated in this presentation. Caracame knotting dates back to Babylonian times, when it was used as a simple wall hanging or it can have a complex sculptured effect.

Various Types

Two types of rugs on display, show the variations of weaving techniques. Hooked rugs are looped onto a burlap backing. Pile rugs are knotted by loom or on a backing.

Double weave is done by hand or on a loom and can be traced back to the Peruvians. Another type of weaving, when removed from the loom, in two surfaces and creates a spiral effect.

Dying Process

Ready-made fabrics are dyed by several methods to produce attractive effects. Indonesian people employed a system called batik. Wax is applied to the fabric and the areas are dyed. The wax repels the dye to create whatever pattern the artist chooses. The tie-dye method of wrapping string tightly around tufts of cloth and then plunging it all into dyes of bright colors results in brilliant sunburst effects when the strings is removed.

A new form of interpretive embroidery called stitchery is presented in the exhibit. Strings, threads and ribbons are used imaginatively. The finished product can have a collage effect, or it can be quite similar to traditional embroidery. A variation of this system is the kelim. Although its history is quite long, today's artist is adapting it to contemporary pop-art. Bits and pieces of bright or somber colored fabrics are sewn together according to the students' interpretation.

Marines Will Arrive At MSC

A U.S. Marine Corps officer said at a press conference last week that the Marines would be in Montclair soon. He said that the Marines would begin their training program in the fall, and that they would be training in the area for at least six weeks. The officer did not specify the exact date of arrival, but said that the training would be for a period of six weeks each.

Ferris Optimistic for Indians

Despite Early Football Start

by John Dantoni

“The season opened too soon for us this year; we just weren’t ready. Usually we’ve had at least three weeks to prepare for the season but due to Montclair’s late academic start, NCAA rules prevented us from practicing until Aug. 31.”

Montclair State College football coach Hank Ferris was commenting on the Indians 17-13 opening game loss to East Stroudsburg.

Besides having practices cut to two a week period, coach Ferris’ squad was also hindered by the loss of players through graduation and transfer. “Here at Montclair we are unable to offer scholarships. To a boy a scholar­ships become a status symbol and through the losses of good players they have missed out. We’ve lost a lot of good players.”

These unexpected losses at several positions will force Montclair to start a new player on defense. However, despite dissatisfaction with the opening game loss, coach Ferris still thinks that “if we hit our stride and minimize our mistakes we can have a good year.”

Quarterbacks

To help minimize mistakes, Ferris has divided the quarterback position and the secondary. Bill Kulikowski, who quarter­backed the Indians last season in an 8-0 victory over East Stroudsburg, will be moved back to his familiar position in the defensive secondary. This move was made necessary by the inadequate show­ing of the secondary in the op­position game where Montclair was tor­tured, giving up 21 completion in 35 attempts, good for 246 yards. Included in this total were five straight passes which accounted for the winning score. Helping Kulikowski will be Tony Di Nettis, an ex-offi­cine halfback who was recently converted to defense.

The new quarterback will come from the ranks of John Gardi, a 5-11, 195 soph, or transfer stu­dent Walt Lappmann. Walt, who transferred from Manatee Junior College in Florida, is gi­ven the inside track. The Buther­ford junior, a former all-state­pick, stands 6-3 and weighs in 195. Another innovation at Montclair State, besides the new quarterback, is the award sys­tem. Players are given a star for outstanding efforts such as block­ed field goals or punts, intercept­ions, fumbles recovered and blocked or tackles of the week. Ferris honoring such awards in the opening game were Jack Harrington as an honor­ary captain, Mike Moneta as the winning quarterback Jack Harrington is an honor­ary captain in the Cort­land State game.

Despite the award system Mon­clair players still stick out Awards cannot change a forced early start or the haring away of valuable players. However, Ferris feels certain that his un­tested personnel is good enough to counteract the lack of experi­ence.

The 1967-1968 Indians

by Thoammas Gannon

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 P.M. on Sprague Field the Mont­clair State College Indians will face the Curry College Colonels in a football contest from Boston, Massachusetts. Curry plays in the New England Con­ference of the New England Maritime College, Bridgewater State College and Nichols College, a long­time rival of Trenton State.

Curry’s coach Dick Lasse has 19 lettermen returning from a squad which posted a 2-4 mark last season. Coach Lasse is es­pecially optimistic because his entire starting backfield is re­newal. At quarterback is 6­3 Gerry Sudali; at the left half back spot will be speedster Bob Claire; the right halfback is 219 pound Doug Fuitt, and the full­back is 220 pound senior Dick Donovan.

It published reports can be re­lied on, then Curry’s line is mam­moth. The Boston newspapers raved about Curry’s size under 220 pounds. Anchormen are Tom Dovic, Pat Schieppati and Bill Kuloust (250), and Dick Donovan (250). The ends are Mike Garri (230), John Doe and Bobpe Soocar (200). The off­ensive center is Bill Schafft (240).

The Indians have too much experience and too good a system to fail to the New England con­ference. Unless Curry tell us, we see it Montclair 35-14.

Cross Country Team Sparked

With High-Spirited Runners

The Montclair State cross country team opened its 1967 season Sat., Sept. 23, against United States Coast Guard at New London, Conn.

Coach George A. Horn is optimistic about the prospect of a very good season because of the high spirit among the runners.

The cross-country team has a its captain, senior Jim Harris of Newark, the New Jersey State Conference Champion. Other varsity men on the team include seniors Jim Zareno of Hackensack, Jim Nichols of Palisades Park, and Rodney Hamilton, a junior from Butler. Sophomores on the team for the first time are Dale Ro­gers of Ramapo, Jim Cummings of Bloomfield, and Mike Moneta. Much of Coach Horn’s opti­mism is due to the strong fresh
THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Now that the Football Indians have lost their first game, conjecture runs high as to whether or not they can quickly turn this season into a winning one. Whether or not they do, all reports for the future of this team have to be optimistic. The big reason for the loss to East Stroudsburg, 17-13, was lack of experience. Coach Ferris has nine new faces on the defensive squad.

He has three sophomores in the offensive backfield, with first and second-year men backing them up. Youth is the key to future success. Montclair has plenty of youth and in that youth they have depth.

The situation is reminiscent of the once locally Chicago Cub. Last season, Leo Durocher played all of his rookies and second-year men to give them all the experience he could; there is no where, in any spot, that you can get the experience you receive being tested on the field.

You can theorize all you want, but theory is of no use without practice. The Cubs, that year, finished a dismal tenth in the National League Standings.

NEW SWIMMING POOL TO OPEN

Within a month the new swimming pool should be operating for students use. The physical education department is planning several introductory “splash parties” for the students, faculty and staff. The dates and time for these events, as well as scheduled recreational use of the pool, will be posted in Life Hall and in the Panzer Gym.

Professor William P. Dioduardi, coordinator for the pool activities, has announced several activities for this semester including: a Senior Life Saving course; Water Safety Instructor’s course; courses for training officials for swimming, diving, and synchronized swimming; intra-mural competitive swimming and diving; and varsity competitive swimming and diving.

What they will build should be best meet the interest of the student body.

In order to help us plan the scheduling of activities in the swimming pool to meet the best interest of our students we solicit your cooperation. Please complete this questionnaire and return same to the Montclarion office for further information.
