Partridge to be Feted At Testimonial Dinner

Dr. E. DeAlton Partridge, former president of Montclair State, will be honored at a dinner Oct. 30 at the Robin Hood Inn, Clifton, in recognition of his outstanding service in the field of education. The affair, which is open to the public, is being sponsored by five of our college’s organizations: the Faculty Association, Staff Association, Alumni Association, College Development Fund, and Student Government Association.

Co-Chairmen

Co-chairmen are Dr. Edward Ambry, associate dean, and Miss Emma Fantone, co-ordinator of the Audio-Visual Center. Tickets, priced at $10.00 a plate, may be obtained from Miss Fantone at the Audio-Visual Center in College Hall.

According to the chairmen, the program is being planned as a tribute to Dr. Partridge’s many achievements and interests. It will highlight his contributions to education, in general; to audio-visual education and educational television, in particular; to the community and college, and, through his current position as president of the Near East Foundation, to the cause of international understanding. His interest in youth, as evidenced by his books on adolescence, work, sex, and juvenile delinquency, and service to the Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, and YMCA, will be noted, as will his enthusiasm for the outdoors and photography.

A graduate of Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, Dr. Partridge took his doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia. He worked as a statistician and director of research for the Boy Scouts of America from 1938 until joining the Montclair State Faculty in 1937. During World War II he served as a Lieut. Cmdr. in the Navy. Returning to the college after the war, he was named dean of instruction in 1947 and president in 1951.

In 1964, Dr. Partridge left Montclair State to assume his present duties. He has made several trips to the Near East since taking over as head of the foundation.

The Newman House, located at 874 Valley Road, was organized for just such a purpose. Under the auspices of the Newman Apostolate, the House hopes to offer an atmosphere of brotherhood and a chance to become better acquainted with one’s fellow student outside of the classroom setting.

Off Campus House Opens for Newman

How many times during the busy college day have you longed for a quiet place to just sit and think about the important questions of life? How many times have you longed to find someone with a friendly ear to whom you could communicate your inmost thoughts?

The Newman House, located at 874 Valley Road, was organized for just such a purpose. Under the auspices of the Newman Apostolate, the House hopes to offer an atmosphere of brotherhood and a chance to become better acquainted with one’s fellow student outside of the classroom setting.

Due to the efforts of the Newman Student Board headed by senior Nick Calamusa, a folk Mass is now offered every Sunday morning for the convenience of those Catholic students on campus. There is now also a full-time chaplain, Fr. Thomas E. Davis at the Newman House for the benefit of any interested students.

‘La Campana’ Plans Theme

The editors of La Campana, 1967 are concerned about the problems that face every generation of Montclair State College students, but they are not concerned by way of complaint. Our college is in a period of transition in which the students themselves are taking an active part in solving the campus problems. The students have seen a goal, and instead of sitting back and talking about the merits of the

MSC Takes Strides Toward Solving Parking Problems

With approximately 3000 available parking spaces on the Montclair State College campus and a new lot soon to be completed, the commuting students should now be able to find available parking spaces throughout the day. This is the first year at MSC that the amount of parking spaces is almost equal to the number of commuting students.

The new parking lot was added this fall adjacent to Webster Hall, providing 200 more spaces. Plans are also now underway for an additional lot near the Mallory and Peterson Halls to be covered with stones with a capacity for another 200 cars.

Extra Area

Although this extra area is being constructed, the maintenance department feels that parking spaces are available and student complaints of having no place to park are not justified.

Fines Increase

According to a survey taken every two years by the maintenance department in all MSC parking lots, it was found that 100 to 200 spaces were available behind-Webster Hall, depending on the time of day. The new lot adjacent to Webster Hall was also found to have the majority of its spaces unfilled.

Due to the added space, the car pool plan originally set up to lessen the amount of cars coming onto the campus has not been put into effect.

Fine Increase

The increase in student parking spaces has also resulted in an increase in the ticket fines from $2.00 to $3.50. The purpose of the fine is not to raise money, but to discourage illegal parking. The money collected from these fines goes into a separate account to aid parking on campus.

New Road

Another plan soon to be completed by the maintenance department is the connection of the road in front of Webster Hall to the freeway. This will alleviate some traffic by allowing more cars to leave the campus from the exit next to Sprague Field.

Although the parking problem may have been lessened, the problem of traffic jams when leaving the campus, especially at four, five and six o'clock still exists. Presently, only two roads provide exits from the campus.

Since there is no traffic light at the intersection of Normal and Upper Mountain Avenues and only a blinker at Valley Road and Normal Ave., the traffic moves slowly when leaving the campus. However, at certain rush hours Montclair police direct the flow of traffic leaving the school.

The possibility of building another exit from the campus is now under consideration. This would be located at the north end of the freshman lot and would extend over the railroad tracks. This road would provide an alternate route to Upper Mountain Ave.

Psychology Dent Begin

Brower Named Chairman

In the past ten years, Montclair State College has made great progress and growth. As the learning power of the students has expanded so have the facilities of Montclair. The new addition to the curriculum, the Department of Psychology, has been announced by President Thomas Richardson. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Daniel Brower, the new department has a faculty of 19 full-time members.

Recently, the psychology courses were taught under the Department of Education. Now a full major is being developed for 1968 and thereafter.

Although the psychology department is a newcomer to the college, by no means is its chairman, Dr. Brower, joined the MSC faculty in 1957 and rose to the position of associate professor of psychology in 1965. Our Student Counseling Center of today was established by him and he served as its coordinator from 1960 to 1965.

Brower's Background Given

Before his appointment to MSC, he taught at NYU's Washington Square College and at the university's College of Medicine and at the City College of New York. He also received a clinical experience at the Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital, St. Barnabas Hospital and the Montclair Guidance Center and has been a frequent consultant to this industry.

Besides heading the psychology department at the present time, he maintains a part-time private practice for diagnostic and treatment purposes. He has been a frequent consultant and examiner for the American Board of Examiners in Professions of Psychology and is himself a Diplomat in Clinical Psychology.

Many Publications

Besides being a teacher and counselor, Dr. Brower has had over 50 publications, among them, in the American Men of Science, Who's Who in the East.

A former New Yorker, Dr. Brower moved to Upper Montclair in 1952. His wife, the former Judith Fagen, is a child psychologist. Their son, William Charles is a psychology major in the pre-medical course at the University of Vermont.

We would like to correct the last paragraph of the President's Desk in the previous issue of the Montclarion. The paragraph should have read: "In the history of civilization, America has created much that is fine and beautiful. In the history of man's struggle to educate himself, our society has also produced much which can bring us pride. Can we now bring to our profession new qualities of perspective which will allow us to mount the insularity of our profession... We apologize for the error.
Newman is 'Happening'

The twang of guitars, the crash of drums, and the bobbing of balloons signaled the arrival of the Newman Apostolate 'Happening' on Tues., Oct. 9 in the MSC Memorial Auditorium at 8 P.M.

Following the theme of Christian in the Modern World, visual aids and off-beat music were employed to introduce the plans for the Catholic youth organization for the 1967-68 school year.

Written by Nina D'Amico, senior, the script consisted of a series of vignettes projected on a screen, combined with the reading of the following monologue by the Newman Apostolate.

World of '60's

The 'Happening' depicted the world of the 1960's. On the battlefields of Vietnam, among the hungry of the world, in the rotten cities of America, and in the chambers of diplomatic dialogue, there are countless instances of man's inhumanity to man. In this kind of a world that the Christian of today seeks to bring about the goal of Christ's universal kingdom. All men feel the need to belong, for "no man walks alone without despair."

CH Speaks

The magazine drive at College High School is under way until Oct. 11. The eleventh graders, tradition setting a bad example, would like to see a lot of participation in the drive. Commissions from the magazine drive will go into the Student Activities Fund. In addition, the magazine drive is open to all students. At 4 P.M. in the MSC, the senior class of 67-68 has scheduled for Monday, Oct. 9. Speeches by candidates are scheduled for Mon., Oct. 12 in Memorial Auditorium.

Class of 71 to Elect Officers on October 19

Those freshmen who are interested in taking an active part in the class of 1971 will have the opportunity to do so in the upcoming freshman class elections. To choose a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the class of 1971 will be held in the Grace Memorial Auditorium on Tues., Oct. 19, from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

Also included on the ballot will be the selection of two freshmen representatives to the SGA legislature.

According to Bob Hillenbrand, vice-president of the SGA, "the elections will provide an excellent opportunity for better class spirit and morale in the Newman State College of Mortician's new students. We would like to see a lot of participation by the freshman class." All freshmen interested in running are encouraged to attend the election assembly to be held on Tues., Oct. 3 at 11 A.M. in Memorial Auditorium. Bob Hillenbrand will discuss the regulations concerning the election proceedings. Prospective candidates will be able to receive petitions in the SGA office, which is located on the first floor of Hillen Hall beginning Sept. 28. Petitions will be due by 4 P.M. on Oct. 4 in the SGA office, with official campaigning to begin on Tues., Oct. 9. Speeches by candidates are scheduled for Mon., Oct. 12 in Memorial Auditorium.

Three vacancies for department representatives will also be filled in an election to be held Oct. 5. One representative each from the fine arts, home economics and industrial education and technology departments are needed in the SGA legislature. To be eligible for election a student must be a member of the department he plans to represent.

Curriculum construction in English were the concerns of the 1967 English Conference held at Montclair State from June 26-30, presented in conjunction with a study made this past semester in College High School, under the auspices of the Perspective Teacher Fellowship Program. Mrs. Muriel Becker and Mr. Morton D. Rich, assistant professors of English at MSC, supervised the research and co-directed the conference.

Participation was by invitation, and those attending included English supervisors and department chairmen of New Jersey secondary schools. A different topic was covered each day, and guest speakers, specialists in the fields of literature and language, added depth to the subjects under discussion.

Guest Speakers

Current development in secondary curriculum construction was covered the first day by Dr. Michael Shugro of the Modern Language Association.

Dr. Louise M. Rosenblatt, professor of English and speech at New York University, discussed the teaching of literature.

The Montclair State graduate and IN-SERVICE programs were discussed by Professor James Pettigrew, Dr. Steven Earley and Dr. Charles Lefout. Members of these programs participated in the discussion.

Dr. George Petty, a MSC faculty member last year, covered the final day's topic, "The Use of Federal Funds to Improve English Studies."

Results

Several important results of the conference can be noted. The MSC English department is now better informed about teaching practices in New Jersey secondary schools. Moreover, by learning more about the changing needs of these schools, MSC can produce teachers who can more effectively respond to the varied needs of today's youth. The conference enabled local teachers to learn how MSC operates, what type of experience can be gained from College High, and what these experiences can lead to. Finally, MSC has moved toward leadership in curriculum construction in secondary schools.

In Appreciation

Montclair State College has always been grateful for the friendship, generosity and guidance of its religious chaplains. It is indeed impressive to note the growth in both religious activities and participation. It is encouraging to see the support which the administration, student body and residents in the surrounding area have given the growing list of religious activities.

This growing list has been supplemented by the establishment of Newman House. Located on Valley Road, the Newman House will provide a center for worship, discussion and fellowship. Father Davis, who acts as the religious program on campus, we offer our thanks to the Archbishop of New York City. Although opinions were varied, anyone truly interested in the furtherance and betterment of American education are interested in working on the MONTCLARION reading, and business are particularly needed. Our college has a long history of active and effective student governments, therefore, I hope that these requests will give of themselves to these activities, affording them an opportunity to make His work truly theirs.

No Lark to Park?

Parking is, was, and will ever be a problem at Montclair State College. However, we may hope for the Montclairion to venture that this as a result of recent improvements, many of the problems have been alleviated. We further feel that credit and congratulations should be extended to Mr. McGinty and his maintenance staff. Due to the concern and cooperation of the administration, little more of the same type of concern and action that has been evidenced, the long-standing parking situation may someday cease to be a problem.

The End

As college students enrolled in a teacher training institution, we all felt some degree of responsibility and interest in following the proceedings of the recent teacher strike in New York City. Although opinions were varied, anyone truly interested in the furtherance and betterment of American education must have signified in relief at the conclusion of the strike. We of the Montclairon staff are grateful at the strike's termination and faculty in the whole area of academic freedom and student participation in the procedure which I described above was a step in the right direction. Certainly we want everyone's opinion as to the direction and extent of change. I know that the faculty, through their departments and councils, will have much to say. Student Government is the main instrument of democratic representation for students and I hope that it will be utilized to help us reach our goals. The climate for change is here and the value of the new and broad base of interest and a general willingness to participate.

SOCIetal BENEFITS for STUDENTS-

The Social Security law provides monthly benefits to children when a parent on whom they were dependent dies or starts receiving Social Security retirement or disability benefits.

Until 1965 these benefits could not be paid after the child reached age 18 unless he was disabled. Now the payments can be made after 18 and up to age 22, provided the child is full-time student in an educational institution.

An educational institution is one which meets at least one of the following tests:
1. It is operated or directly supported by the United States, or a state or local government-ent entity.
2. It is accredited by a nationally-recognized or state-recognized accrediting agency.
3. It is approved as an educational institution by a state.
4. Its credits are accepted on transfer (or equivalency) by three or more accredited schools on the same basis as credits from the school.

The Responsibilities of a Student Receiving Benefits:
1. To advise the Social Security office if he transfers to another school. (His benefits will start again, benefits may be resumed.)
2. To advise the Social Security office if he quits full-time attendance immediately after the period of non-attendance begins, and expects to earn more than $1500 in a calendar year.

Provisions Affecting Payments
A student is not eligible for benefits if he is attending school as part of his job; that is, at the request or requirement of his employer, who pays him while attending.

A student may receive benefits if he is attending school for only part of the month. (For example, if he attends school only from Sept. 22 to Sept. 29, he may receive a benefit for the month of September.)

In addition, a student is deemed to be in full-time attendance and benefits may be paid him for a period of up to four months of non-attendance (for example, during a summer vacation period) if:
1. He was in full-time attendance immediately before the period of non-attendance began, and
2. He either:
   (a) Intends to return to full-time attendance;
   (b) Actually returns to full-time attendance at that time.

When a student wants to apply for Social Security benefits and has a question about his payments, he should contact his nearest Social Security office.

Illya Darling Provides Glimpse of Greek World
by Bonnie Marranca

Illya Darling is an absolute enchantment on the stage. It is a beautiful, charming play, it is thoroughly Greek. It is happy. It is feminine.

The play, adapted from the movie Never on Sunday, takes place in the Greek fishing village of Piraeus. Illya Darling is a lovely, shrewd woman whose adored by all. Homer Thrace (Ossen Beam) is a bumbling naive teacher, from Connecticut who comes to Greece for a holiday.

Disenchanted with the men of Piraeus, the village where he spends most of their time singing, dancing and drinking, he complains, "Why is it only women like Greece?" He meets Illya. Her zest for life and love impresses him; he sets out to reform her by cultural indoctrination. Rome's subtle trick is that Illya must be free to be her kind of Greek woman.

There is no doubt that Melina Mercouri's skill and beauty impresses the spirit of the Greeks—their freedom of mind, soul, and body. Melina has a sensuous quality, which makes her glamorous and, to unhumbled, so amazing. Melina Mercouri's throaty Greek is an accented version of the original. As she sings and dances on the stage, she exudes life, she lives; she does not exist. The plaintive, enchanting music written by Mikis Theodorakis is full of life and love and Greek. Beautiful strains of music coming from the Greek bouzouki lend an air of romanticism to the play. The music is an im-

Speaking visually, the scenery looks naive school teacher from Piraeus. At Webster Hall is a newly constructed gravel parking area with a capacity of 200. For the most part this area and the far rows of the old parking lot behind Webster Hall are unused. In addition to these existing available spaces is a 300 car temporary parking lot. This lot was not needed at the end of the semester, but would be necessary for our food service to allow students to pay the price of lunch when new ideas are being tried and when old ideas are being discarded.

A student is not eligible for benefits if he is attending school as part of his job, that is, at the request or requirement of his employer, who pays him while attending.

There is no doubt that Melina Mercouri's rendition of "Never on Sunday," sung in the original Greek, is a show stopper.

Perhaps the only flaw marring the characterization of Greek is that Melina Mercouri's costumes are, at times, too modern to be seen in a Greek church. Illya Darling is such a delight that any minor flaws can be overlooked in favor of its shining qualities. There is no doubt that this play is Greek, through and through. Melina Mercouri's costumes are a delight. Show tunes are nothing special.

Illya Darling is a beautiful, charming play, it is thoroughly Greek. It is happy. It is feminine.
EXPERIMENTERS FIND PLENTY

Would you like to hike in the Swiss Alps, study the language of Spain, or compare music and art throughout Germany or learn about and visit Sweden, Austria, Mexico, Spain, France, Poland, U.S.A., Great Britain, and the Netherlands?

I WOULD LIKE TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE EXPERIMENT WAY TO GET THIS EXPERIENCE.

In the three months twenty-eight Montclair State students have visited more than a dozen countries on the Experiment in International Living. Each of these students has received a valuable insight into other ways of life, a hands-on experience spending four to five weeks living with a family, traveling with a family, and discussing experiences.

There are those, however, who rejected the Experiment. Nineteen participants in another way of life rather than being tourists or ob­servers. They want to learn to live in a new culture leaving behind their own culture.

They seek the opportunity to make new friends and to live internationally, even though it may be an exciting and challenging, if times, extremely difficult.

I found the Austrian people very pleasant people who would do almost anything for you. Of course, I frequently needed assistance in my daily activities. Numerous occasions I found myself explaining what I wanted to buy because of my lack of knowledge of the language. However, the Austrian people were very patient and understanding. Sometimes I didn't get quite the idea of what I was trying to say, and it was fun to see what I did get.

They always tried to help me stay and after an enjoyable two week tour of Austria, I spent four weeks living with a family in one of the great cities of the world.

Innsbruck, Vienna, Graz, Prague, and Frankfurt, I have been able to learn about and appreciate the diversity of language and culture.

I had the advantage of seeing both Belgium and France. During the four weeks with the Experiment, I lived in a family in Liege, a city in eastern Belgium. In Belgian, we were taken to a French; this was an invaluable opportunity to learn their language.

Usually accompanied by my Belgian "sister", my activities included sightseeing via walks in Liege, celebrating Belgian and French national holidays, an auto race, swimming, hiking, and trips to other Belgian cities. Being ac­quainted day to complete family, they shared their customs and got countless insights into Belgian life.

Leaving Belgium, my group of Experimenters arrived in Paris, the capital of France. Paris, justly called the "City of Light", is located in the middle of the iconic and memorable experiences of the French people. This family spoke only French; this was an invaluable experience for me.

Our orientation was held July 1-3 in London, sponsored by the SGA. Our group included: Bruce Greenwood via the SGA and Patti Lang of Emerson College.

STATEMENT A COLUMN OF COMMENT

by Joe Kloss

The campus is back to normal, just the way you want it! Congratulations to the tired student who can't carry his empty milk carton to the garbage upon rising from sunning himself on the lawn. They tell me that the grass is greener—underneath the garbage.

The only way we can teach students to keep their campus home clean is to have a campaign plan. We could give you a free piece of candy to every piece of garbage you threw away. Then we would run out of candy and the campus would surely forget about the candy and keep the garbage in the garbage cans.

Dear campusers, if you write to the Admin. Office in the commuter's cafeteria. Your table decorations are very attractive. The students are human and clean up when they have finished. Why should newspaper columnists have to be foster mothers?

Special thanks go out today from the girls in Chapin and Russ Halls. Thank you good state baccaraturs for the lovely paint job you promised us this summer. As we sit on our beds and count the paint chips falling from the ceiling again, we will be with you. When we run out of places to move our furniture, we can move to the ancient stains we shall send for your pictures. Thank you for any roommates, both of them. Three girls, two closets, and two elec-tronics. The only challenge. Thank you again for the promise to paint by Christ-mas. I don't think we will.

When, and only when, the government and the people of this community decide that men, black, white, yellow, red and green shall be judged on their abilities alone, we will be taking a big step toward racial equality and the perfect society. As they say, as long as a white man is chosen above a more qualified Negro, or a Negro chosen just because he is a

STUDENT TEXTILE EXHIBIT OPENS IN LIBRARY LOBBY

by Pat Lyons

The fine arts department is presenting a textile exhibit in Sprague Library this week.

Four general areas are treated in this presentation. Caracame knotting dates back to Babylonian times, when it was used as decorative fringe. Today, it can be worked as a simple wall hanging or it can have a complex sculptured effect.

Various Types

Two types of rugs on display, show the variations of numerous weaving techniques. Hooked rugs are looped onto a burlap backing. Pile rugs are knotted by loom or on a backing.

Double weave is done by hand or on a loom and can be traced back to the Persians. Another form of weaving, when removed from the loom, in two layers and can create a spiral effect.

Dying Process

Ready-made fabrics are dyed by several methods to produce attractive results. Indonesian people employed a system called batik. Wax is applied to the fabric and then immersed in dyes. The wax repels the dye to create whatever patterns the artist has in mind. India has been a leader in the art of dyeing. It might be a good idea to put your head and heart back on and put your work in working condition for the next two weeks. See you then.

Ferris Optimistic for Indians Despite Early Football Start

by John Dantoni

The season opened too soon for us this year; we just weren’t ready. Usually we’ve had at least three weeks to prepare for the season but due to Montclair’s late academic start, NCAA rules prevented us from practicing until Aug. 31.

Montclair State College football coach Hank Ferris was commenting on the Indians 17-13 opening game loss to East Stroudsburg. Besides having practices cut to a two week period, coach Ferris’ squad was also hindered by the loss of players through graduation and transfer. “Here at Montclair we are unable to offer scholarships. To a boy a scholarship becomes a status symbol and thus when other schools of offer them our boys dropped out. We’ve lost a lot of good players.”

These unexpected losses at several positions will force Montclair to start nine new players in the opener. Besides having practices cut to a two week period, coach Ferris still thinks that “if we hit our stride and minimize our mistakes we can have a good year.”

Quarterbacks

To help minimize mistakes, Ferris has added the quarterback position and the secondary. Bill Kulikowski, who quarterbacked the Indians in the East Stroudsburg game, will be moved back to his familiar position in the defensive secondary. This move was made necessary by the inadequate showing of the secondary in the opening game where the Indians lost to the Rams by a score of 21-0. Kulikowski will be replaced by Doug Fitts, and the fullback spot will be speedster Bob Brosio, Fred Henry, Harold Bell, Tony Valpoyo, Tony Dinetta and Jack Landfried. Landfried’s efforts, fumbles recovered and blocks or tackles of the week. Ferris earning such awards in the opening game were Jack Harrington as “Player of the Week.”

This honor enables him to assist captain Jack Harrington as an honorary captain in the Cortland State game.

Despite the award system Mon. Oct. 2, 1967, when New Jersey State played Pennsylvania State University, Ferris feels the offense was the key in the team’s victory. “Here at Montclair we are unable to offer scholarships. To a boy a scholarship becomes a status symbol and thus when other schools of offer them our boys dropped out. We’ve lost a lot of good players.”

This year’s schedule is rough and as Ferris himself states “all the teams are loaded.” Perhaps this is the year that the Indians will claim a few scalps.

Cross Country Team Sparked With High-Spirited Runners

The Montclair State cross country team opened its 1967 season Sat., Sept. 23, against United States Coast Guard at New London, Conn.

Coach George A. Horn is optimistic about the prospects of a very good season because of the high spirit among the runners.

The cross-country team has a its captain, senior Jim Harris of Newark, the New Jersey State Conference Champion. Other veterans on the team include seniors Jim Zaccone of Hackensack, Jim Nichols of Palisades Park, and Rodney Hamilton, a junior from Butler. Sophomore on the team for the first time are Dale Rogers of Ramapo, Jim Cummings of Bloomfield, and Mike Mous. Much of Coach Horn’s optimism is due to the strong freshman group on the team. These runners including Frank Grice, Jr., of Seaide Park, Paul Benenson of Nutley, David Evans of Montclair, Bruce Kinter of Trenton, Stanley Grajezowski, and John Moraina of Totowa Borough.

15 Meets

The cross-country team will compete against 16 teams before its season terminates on Nov. 11, when the team will compete in the Northeast Inter-collegiate Association championship meet. Last year James Harries took the Zanezene third and tenth. "Any difficulty that we will encounter we will overcome due to the unknown quality of the teams we meet. I have faith in my runners. Moreover, if we have a bad race, I will run cross country in order to get in shape for outdoor track. We can come out for the team and is welcome."
Open Recreation Program Available

Do you often find yourself with lots of free time on your hands on Sunday afternoon? Does the campus seem deserted and lifeless? There’s a great solution to this problem and it’s waiting in the Lower Lounge of Life Hall. It is called open recreation, and it is the perfect answer to that common cry, “There’s nothing doing around here on weekends.”

Beginning Sept. 24, every Sunday from 12:30 P.M. until 5:30 P.M., the lounge will be transformed into a recreation room, well-equipped with billiard and ping pong tables, as well as various group activities and card games. Refreshments will be available from the various vending machines. There will be a small rental fee of one dollar an hour for the use of the pool tables. The price will amount to practically nothing when it is divided among all those who will be playing together.

The open recreation program was instituted last year, and now it will be better than ever—if you want it to be. The program is under the direction of Mr. Frank Turton, Assistant to the Director of Life Hall. Next semester a recreation building will be opened in Annex 3. It will be called the Temporary Union Building, better known as TUB. This will then be used until the permanent union building is available. Mr. Turton would like to hold open recreation on Saturday as well as Sunday, in the future, if it proves to be a success. Remember, it’s in the students’ hands. What better way to spend your extra hour on Sunday? Do yourself a favor. Stop in at open recreation and see what it’s all about. You’ll be glad you did.

Lettermen Add to Bright Picture for Soccer Team

Last season, the Montclair State College varsity soccer team posted a 4-7-3 record; but, with nine lettermen returning, coach Leo Lucenko is confident that this year’s booters will better that mark.

Coach Lucenko, although not completely satisfied with pre-season scrimmages, has setting his sights on a successful campaign. He feels that the Indians will be a threat to such fine teams as Trenton State and Pratt as the team works together as a unit.

Freshmen Members

When the team opened its sea­son against Newark College of Engineering at Brookdale Park, coach Lucenko had installed six freshmen in starting positions:

John Shumlas, fullback; Gerd Trommer, fullback; John Smith, forward; Joseph Cannardi, for­ward; and Gus Migliori, an out­standing redshirted freshman. Lucenko feels that switching Migliori from forward to center halfback will increase his scor­ing potential. Ed Mess will be at left halfback.

The Indians will be using a 3-3-4 system made up of three fullbacks, three halfbacks, and four forwards. Scottish born Jimmy Stuart has been installed at the second center halfback spot; Arvi Saar, born in Austria, will start at the inside left for­ward. Last year it was Saar who led all scorers at MSC with 11 goals.

Alan Cazra, last season’s all­conference selection at center halfback, has been switched to right halfback to help out with play making chores.

Returning this year, will be Wilhelm Tell at the center half­back spot. Tell was severely in­jured in the third game last sea­son and was out for the rest of the year. Pulled recovered from his injury, Tell has improved in his health and ability to play.

Goalie

The big weakness is at goalie where Lucenko has four boys trying out: Jimmy Lew, Jay Drucker, Henry Massak and Tommy Hartmann.

Anyone at MSC with experi­ence playing any position in soc­cer is urged to see coach Lucen­ko at his office in the Panzer Gym Annex.
