ACU - I, REGION III CONFERENCE
BEGINNING AT COLLEGE TODAY

MSC has the distinct honor of hosting this year's annual International-Region III Conference of the Association of College Unions. The dates of the conference are Fri., Nov. 3 and Sat., Nov. 4. Delegates from 40 colleges located in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Puerto Rico will assemble to compare and discuss college union activities.

A college union board directs the major social affairs of its campus. These affairs include concerts, lectures, films, professional entertainment, social social events, and a variety of other programs.

This year's conference has a slightly different format, for, instead of holding seminars on college union goals, programs, and the normal sphere of college union activities, the conference will be centered around the idea of group interaction. In order to set up the best possible lines of communication, there will be approximately 20 groups of 12 delegates, each delegate from a different college. These groups will be used to show the delegates the importance of organizing the students on their own individual campus. The groups theory will also show the benefits of a large number of students working together in order to accomplish a common goal.

The conference will open at 1:00 P.M. on Friday with registration. During registration, which will last until 2:30 P.M., a buffet for the conference delegates will be held in the Life Hall Lower Lounge. The lounge will be closed to students the entire day. Many of the participating colleges will have special displays in the lobby of the Memorial Auditorium and in the Grace Fresena Reading Room.

WHO'S WHO HONORS

Twenty-one seniors have been selected to represent Montclair State College in the 1968 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. These outstanding students are: Jeffrey Balkus, Elizabeth Best, Donald Bowers, Theresa Bowman, Judith Breslow, Kathleen Bruno, Charles Croce, Alan Da Conzo, Richard Davis, Leonard Elovitz, Anita Garrity, Bruce Greenwood, Joseph Kloze, Sharon Koval, Donald Makin, Peter Menendez, Phillip Lipp, Vladimir Samohutin, Ronald Sazbo, and Joseph Valeski.

To be eligible for election to Who's Who honors, candidates must possess outstanding achievements in scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, and professional promise. The maximum number of students for admission during any one academic year is limited to two per cent of the total enrollment of the senior class.

Voting Procedures

Voting procedures were as follows: An original voting list, consisting of the entire membership of the senior class, was compiled by Mr. Raymond M. Stover, assistant director of students. This list was distributed for the primary balloting to the selection committee for the purpose of narrowing down the list to 40 semi-finalists chosen for final consideration. The selection committee consisted of the members of the Student Government Association, the Student Gov't., Executive Board, and the college administration, including the department chairmen and the personnel department.

The semi-finalists were notified and asked to submit a list of what they considered their four most significant contributions to the campus. Their cumulative averages were also considered.

The second and final ballots were considered by the same selection committee. These ballots were then counted by Mr. Stover and two representatives of the SGA Legislature.

SHAKESPEARE'S MACBETH PRESENTED BY PLAYERS AS FIRST PRODUCTION

Last night Players opened its season with Shakespeare's tragedy Macbeth. Written in 1606, the plot was taken from Holinshed's "Chronicles of England, Scotland, and Ireland." The real Macbeth, an 11th-century Scottish thane, plotted the murder of his king with the aid of his wife and friend, Banquo. When adapting the story, though, Shakespeare realized that it would be impossible for him to present Banquo, the ancestor of King James I, as a rebel and regicide. Therefore, he altered history and portrayed him as the innocent victim of Macbeth's ruthless ambition.

When writing Macbeth, the author was also very much aware of the popular belief in witches. The use of the supernatural elements (apparitions, "daggers in the air" and witches) particularly delighted Shakespeare. He became a monstrously wicked man when he chose to follow the dictates of his overwhelming ambition. This tragic flaw causes him to perpetrate a series of murders and ultimately creates for him a living hell.

The atmosphere around him becomes one of darkness and dejection and pessimism. With his vivid imagination, he envisoned the deeds he has committed and is obsessed by the haunting voices within his soul telling him that he shall "sleep no more."

Slowly, the outer and inner forces close in upon Macbeth. The witches have betrayed him; their prophecies have given him a false sense of security. Birnam wood is moving toward Dunsinane. Finally, he stands face to face with the man who he knows will ultimately kill him.

The degenerated Macbeth bravely meets his adversary and accepts his doom. It is perhaps ironic that a statement which earlier described the dealings of the traitorous Thane of Cawdor aptly suits Macbeth's final moments: "Nothing in his life become him like the leaving it."

Charles Croce who will portray Macbeth in Players first production of the season.
Jack Warner who will portray Littlechap in the production of 'Stop the World . . . which will appear here at MSC on Nov. 16 and 17.

'Throw the World' to Appear at College Nov. 16 and 17

Stop the World— I Want To Get Off. The beguiling British musical that delighted Broadway audiences for 16 months, is coming to Montclair State College on November 16 and 17, at 8:30 P.M. in Memorial Auditorium.

Called a "new-style" musical, Stop the World follows no previous pattern for American stage entertainments—being somewhat along the lines of an adult English pantomime. The humor of the drama has unusual width, ranging from broad to shrewdly-pointed, from frivolous to stinging satire, in the English music hall tradition of mixing corn with clever commentary.

The show came into being as a result of a flirtant remark by Jack Newley, Bernard Deitch, and Roy Newley what kind of part he would accept. "A 'one man review with ten girls,'" said Newley, kid-dingly expressing every actor's dream. Definitively surprised he replied that he would put on such a show if Newley could find one. With this promise in mind, Newley and his well-qualified friend, Leslie Bricou, wrote Stop the World.

The musical is a satirical chronicle of the life of a twentieth century pamjandrum, a member of Parliament. At the end, Littlechap, a sly, dapper, little blank of a man - and his ambition. He is the star of a six-act Australian production of Stop the World; and, in 1963, he directed and starred in his own production of Stop the World, which made a nation-wide tour of American universities and theatres.

Mr. Warner will be accompanied on stage by June Conington, who will portray a whole gallery of different women in Littlechap's life. Others in the cast include: Karen Reed, Dana Vass, Judy Congleton, Barbara Scores, Innis Anderson, Linda Parish, and Althia Rose.

Welcome ACU

The Association of College Unions begins its region three conference here at MSC today. We of the Montclarion would like to welcome the delegates to the conference and extend our best wishes to those of the College Life Union Board who have worked so hard to plan this event.

We have taken a great deal of pride in much which the College Life Union Board has done in the past. For the past three years CLUB has created programs which have added to many areas of the college community. Lectures, films, broadway shows, concerts, Human Relations Laboratory, Alley Club, open recreation, Homecoming and Carnival have all expanded the range of student interest and activity. CLUB has been forwarding the vital role of the contingent and essential workers. It has developed through the guidance of its advisers, an efficient way of planning programs. We at Montclair are fortunate in having a separate organization planning activities. In many colleges it is handled, very inefficiently, by the student government or the administration. We at Montclair would like to extend the independence that CLUB does have on this campus. We hope that such independence is appreciated by the organization.

We hope that the dedication, perseverance, and taste which have characterized CLUB in the past continue to be part of CLUB’s actions. We again send our best wishes to those attending the conference. You are most certainly welcome.

Notes

We extend best wishes to Players for every theatrical success with Macbeth. We welcome the Bard's inclusion in their program this year. Our congratulations to those newly elected officers of the freshman class. We remind the independence that CLUB does have on this campus. We hope that such independence is appreciated by the organization.

The Marching Band

Last year at this time we were writing editorials criticizing the college's marching band. We can't say we were wrong in writing such editorials; the marching band did leave much to be desired. However, these editorials written did seem to improve the situation. Anyone who has followed the progress of the football games this year can easily see a definite improvement in the marching band. Their selections are more entertaining; they have developed more of a “Big Ten” band flair. With the aid of new uniforms the band will truly be an asset to MSC.

We wish to congratulate those responsible for the improvements in the band. We extend our thanks to the student government for this and last year who have worked with the music majors, band officers, music department professors and the administration to make the sound of music at MSC a good sound!

A Fitting Tribute

Once again the time has come to commemorate and congratulate those seniors who because of their outstanding accomplishments and service to MSC have merited national recognition. The who’s who in American Colleges and Universities, We of the Montclarion staff join with the entire administration and student body in recognizing these 21 students and the well-wished homecoming which followed. Their fine character, genuine school spirit, tremendous leadership abilities, and fine scholastic achievements exemplify the kind of ideal spirit of which MSC can be proud.

Welcome Additions

Recent additions to the ever-increasing list of facilities for the use and enjoyment of the MSC student body are the indoor swimming pool in the newly-completed Panzer wing and the new tennis courts located behind the parking area in back of Finley Hall. We of the Montclarion staff, on behalf of the student body, would like to extend our thanks and gratitude to the administration and especially to the faculty of the Panzer School for making these facilities available. We hope students will respect and use the swimming pool and tennis courts which have been provided for their benefit.

Positions are now open to all students who are interested in working on the Montclarion staff as reporters, editorial assistants, or typists. Those students interested in make-up, proof reading, and business are particularly needed. Name: Class of

You may recall that the purpose of the Coordinating Council is to present the views of the three principal representative bodies on campus. Jeanet Toner '69

Dear Editor:

To say the least, I was ashamed, shocked, and a bit nauseated by the conduct of some of the students toward Phil Ochs at the concert presented on Oct. 21.

I do not condemn anyone for disagreeing with certain ideas; everyone is entitled to his own point of view. This opposition, however, does not have to be expressed in such a rude display as was seen Saturday night.

It was bad enough that about half of the students sat fit to walk out during the performance, but it was worse when I heard singing or talking, but a large number of students had the nerve to sing just infantile nonsense, to heckle, shout, and generally disrupt the entire concert.

If these objectors honestly believe that the people they do not agree with should be treated with contempt, why didn't they accept Phil Ochs's challenge to go up on the stage and "discuss their differences"? As Phil Ochs said, "There are many ways of showing cowardice."

Dear Editor:

To the right, we assume, they were all medically sick. I do not condemn anyone for not being enough to respect what they did was unbelievable. The viewpoint is, but to jeer, mock, insult a guest in the way others there who paid exactly the same price for their tickets, schooling, some people seem never to have learned even that what Phil Ochs said they were doing.

They squirmed in their seats during the antics of the juvenile group; they disdained to perform the he would express his attitudes and opinions the host was entitled to hear. I am a student at Montclair State University, and they realized, also, that a discussion at a concert was not proper. The entire group may have disagreed with what the performer said, but they realized that it was proper to listen to the views of other persons.

All in all, something must be done to stop the wrong done to Mr. Ochs. Apologies, although they might mean little, are in order at Montclair State's juvenile delinquents. Those people must learn the fundamentals of common decency and the intellectual open-mindedness necessary for teachers. Perhaps this happens, Montclair State might again use the name "col- lege" at the end of its name.

Dear Editor:

As a non-student, I cannot request a loan of $1000, this amount would be $5.00. If the loan should be disapproved, this insurance charge will be returned to the student.

The trend of the poll obviously demonstrates the loyalty of President Johnson's popularity due to the Vietnamese situation and various "Great Society" measures.

The three top Republican presidential contenders named more votes than President Johnson, MSC students showed that Robert F. Kennedy would be the best possible choice for the Democratic Party. Commenting on the candidacies of the Republican candidates, many students believed that the United States deserves better.

FINANCING OF LOANS

Loans are a reputable and qualified lending institution in New Jersey which has agreed to participate in having loans made guaranteed by the New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Authority. The loan applications are submitted to the lending institution in the presence of a bank officer.

The student is required to pay an insurance premium directly to the authority in order to qualify for a loan. If the loan application is submitted to the lending institution, it must be accompanied by a check payable to "Treasurer, State of New Jersey," for $6.00 for the first $1,000 of the loan, and $0.25 for each additional $1,000. If the loan is approved, the student signs a student agreement and note. Only the student's signature is required, except in the case of married students, where the spouse must co-sign. Copies of the note are kept by the student and the lending institution.

If eligible, the student must also complete an Application for Federal Interest Subsidy which is mailed directly by the lending institution to the student's home address.

5. The Bank (or other lending institution) will make a loan to the student in the amount approved by the student and the Federal Insurance Agency.

6. The student who received the loan must file a federal income tax return for the year in which the loan was received as soon as possible.

7. The student must repay the loan in a lump sum not later than nine months following graduation or withdrawal from school, the student pays 3 simple interest.

Students who are in financial need and who are under the age of 26, and who have never been married and have not dependent children may apply for a Federal Parent Loan for Education (PPLF). This PPLF is a guaranteed, fixed-interest loan made to a student's parent or guardian. The student pays no interest on the loan until the time of repayment, which is the same as for the FFEL. The student must file a federal income tax return for the year in which the loan was received as soon as possible.

8. The student who received the loan must file a federal income tax return for the year in which the loan was received as soon as possible.

9. If eligible, the student must also complete an Application for Federal Parent Loan for Education subsidy which is mailed directly by the lending institution to the student's home address.

FILING OF APPLICATION

Normally, applications should cover the needs for the student's entire academic year and should be submitted during the two months prior to the time when the student is accepted by the college for the academic year for which the loan is intended. They may, however, be submitted up to 10 months in advance of the beginning of the academic year. If the student is accepted by the college for the academic year following the current academic year, the student must reapply for the Federal Parent Loan.

For further information concerning this program, please see Mr. Neuner, in the Student Personnel Office.
Seven churches in the Montclair area are united ecumenically to carry out the Christian ministry at MSC as the Montclair Area MSC Church: Assembly, United Church of Christ (Congregational), Reformed Episcopal, Presbyterian and Methodist. Foundation advises on campus is the Rev. John Davis.

One is a series of "living room" exercises in which Catholic and Protestant students will converse on subjects of interest and concern to both faiths. The other activity outlined for the Protestants and New members this year is a discussion of foreign movies shown on the campus during the week with special emphasis on common problems. Activities will be held on Tuesday evening and Thursday night.

by Thomas Messinco

Since most of us at MSC plan to enter the teaching field, we should keep Nov. 9 to 11 free to attend the NJEA convention in Atlantic City. The purpose is to inform teachers and future teachers of the latest developments in education. As a reward for the good little teacher, there will be the usual convention parties and "going ons.

Scores of professional meetings will be held throughout the three days in Convention Hall and in the various hotels in Atlantic City. Many of the nation's leading educators and other noteworthy personalities will give enlightening and informative lectures.

Among the notables will be Martin Agornsky, CBS television news analyst, who will speak at Thursday evening's general session of "Justice and the Press."

Mrs. Elizabeth McGonigle, NJEA president, will also speak at the general session meeting on the vital issues facing teachers today in New Jersey.

The MSC Alumni Association has invited all Montclair student attending the NJEA Convention in Atlantic City to the Faculty-Alumni Tea to be held in the Crystal Room in the major hotel Dennis from 4 P.M. to 6 P.M. on Fri., Nov. 10.
