MSC Offered Choice '68

In an attempt to stimulate students to involve themselves in the Presidential election and in order to communicate the purpose and importance of voting itself, Choice '68 was held at MSC. On April 24 and 25, students were given a chance to state their sentiments on the candidates and issues of this year's election.

Ballots containing various questions and potential Presidential candidates were available to all interested students at the Life Hall polling areas but student apathy prevented any coordination of these efforts. Russell Layne, campus coordinator of Choice '68, has stated that all balloting procedures and regulations were faithfully adhered to. Different political organizations on campus had the opportunity to publicly campaign for certain candidates.

(Continued on Page 2)

Traffic Problem Brought to Light

At the writing of this article, another accident has been added to the list of bent fenders and smashed headlights which are the result of daily traffic jams at the corner of Normal Avenue and Valley Road. The students of MSC are petitioning the Division of Motor Vehicles for a traffic light at this corner, located on the borderline of Upper Montclair and Clifton.

To date, 1500 students have signed the petition which was presented to Min June Strelecki, Director of Motor Vehicles in Trenton, on May 9. By this date, many more signatures are expected to have been added.

Begun Nine Years Ago

The drive for the traffic light is being conducted by the campus radio station, WVMS, through its new publication, COMMITTER CHRONICLE. According to Larry Ridenpath, editor of the CHRONICLE, requests for a traffic light began nine years ago. In 1964 surveys of the situation were made by both the county and the state, and it was decided that a light was definitely needed to enhance safety and convenience.

Essex County officials proceeded to devise a schematic diagram of the area involved revealing projected plans for a light and other safety improvements. A push button mechanism controlling the light was included in the plans for the benefit of pedestrians. The diagram was revised in 1967, but both designs were rejected by the state.

The roadblock lies in the fact that the state will not approve the

(Continued on Page 9)

First Annual MSC Spring Weekend

Montclair's first spring weekend offering three days of activities will be presented through the efforts of CLUB and SGA. This entertaining weekend will be held on May 17, 18 and 19.

The idea of a spring weekend is to bridge the gap between winter weekend and June. MSC has Homecoming Weekend in the fall, a Winter Weekend in February and then, until this year, has had nothing resembling either weekend during the spring.

It is believed that an event such as this one will keep the student body on campus, and thus avoid the label of "a suicide college." In addition it will give the students an opportunity to have guests, and show them an exciting and interesting time.

The events scheduled are as follows: On Friday night, May 17, the movie "Barefoot in the Park" will be shown at 7:30 P.M. in Memorial Auditorium. The price will be 50 cents. CLUB will present "Spanky and Our Gang" and Richard Pryor in concert at 8 P.M. on Saturday evening in Panzer Gymnasium. Tickets will be priced at $2 for students.

(Continued on Page 5)

C.A.U.S.E. Gains Support of Trustees' Chairman

Dr. W. Lincoln Hawkins, chairman of the Montclair State College Board of Trustees, has issued a statement in support of the Committee for Aid to Underdeveloped State Education (C.A.U.S.E.) a student group at the college, and its efforts on behalf of higher education in New Jersey. Representatives of the committee appeared before the board at a recent meeting to explain their purpose and seek help in carrying it out.

Commenting the students for their concern for their alma mater and the positive actions they are taking in support of its needs.

The Committee for Aid to Underdeveloped State Education (C.A.U.S.E.) whose initials significantly give its members a C.A.U.S.E. to work for — was established in February by a small group of dedicated students and has since made dramatic gains towards the realization of its objectives. It circulated a petition on campus, protesting lack of funds for higher education in New Jersey, and in a few short days amassed over 2,200 signatures, more than half the undergraduate enrollment. It has publicized its activities in successive issues of the MONTCLARION, student newspaper, and has sent representatives to the State Department of Higher Education, legislative committees, and our own Board of Trustees.

(Continued on Page 12)

Ernest Jaeger Named ‘Editor of the Year’

The members of Montclair State's literary publications recently garnered praise at the annual awards banquet of the New Jersey Collegiate Press Association on Sun., May 5, at Newark College of Engineering. Ernest Jaeger was awarded the association’s EDITOR OF THE YEAR award. Miriam Taub, managing editor of the MONTCLARION, was elected corresponding secretary for the Association. The QUARTERLY took six places in the Association’s annual newspaper and literary magazine competition.

Ernie, a senior English major, was both Editor-in-Chief of the MONTCLARION and the QUARTERLY during his college career. He is also a member of Aldorina, Senate, English Club, College Life Union Board, and formerly, the Dean’s Advisory Committee. Currently, he is president of the senior class. Last year he served as magazine coordinator for the New Jersey Collegiate Press Association. His award as Editor of the Year recognizes his achievement in campus journalism and his contributions to the Association. Miriam is a sophmore English major. Her duties as corresponding secretary will center on improving the state-wide system of communications for the

(Continued on Page 9)
MONTCLARION
May 10, 1968

Education Department Revamps Observation Program

By JAMES COTTINGHAM
and JOE KLOZA

The education department of Montclair State College conducted an experimental program during the fall of 1967 which enabled each student assistant to a public school teacher for one semester, 1968, will have two full days to observe at their schools on Sept. 19 and 20. These two days are being provided so that the school administration can meet with all students at one time for orientation and interviewing, so that the students will be able to see what the total day of a teacher is like. Students should plan to arrive at school at 9 A.M. on Sept. 19 for the orientation meeting. On Sept. 20, students should arrive at the school prior to the time it opens, and should remain until the teachers leave on both days.

Students will be required to complete at least 20 clock hours of teacher assistant activity. These 20 hours should be distributed among the various categories of activities according to the following time schedule:

A. observation of students 2-5 hours
B. examinations 0-2 hours
C. performing teacher related duties 5-10 hours
D. discussions with staff and students 2-5 hours
E. teaching and tutoring 1-3 hours

On May 14, all sophomores in business ed., distributive ed., English, fine arts, home economics, industrial education, foreign languages, music, and speech will participate in the Teacher Assistant Program during the fall semester. Students who major in mathematics, physical education, science, or social sciences will participate in the spring semester.

Just as a nation's people organize and vote for their representatives every four years, a college must depend also on its yearly campaigns and selection of student government officials. This year, on May 3, SGA elections were held at Montclair State in the Memorial Auditorium. As a result of the recent election, the new officers for 1968-69 Student Government Association are: Robert Martinez, president; Dan Sullivan, vice-president; Kathy Mancini, secretary; Stan Jakubik, treasurer.

President-elect Bob Martinez has had valuable experience in student government work, coming as he does from the class of 1967. He is currently serving as treasurer of C L U B , as well as being this year's Carnival Director.

Dan Sullivan, the incoming vice-president, is a member of the C L U B executive board. He also serves as the Montclair State representative to the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Kathy Mancini, math major and resident of Freeman Hall, is prepared for her new position as secretary by her experience in the same position for the sophomore class. Stan Jakubik, social science major from Webster Hall, ran unopposed for the office of treasurer.

SGA's new officers have definite plans for next year. Both president and secretary-elect Kathy Mancini feel a need for better communications between the SGA and students. With this in mind, Martinez appoints a student advisor to the Executive Board, while Kathy Mancini thought more widespread publicity of SGA meetings and decisions would be helpful.

The system of rolling admissions, which will go in effect next September, permits the admissions office to notify students of their acceptance or rejection as soon as their application is processed. Applications will be accepted as late as Feb. 1 (as opposed to preceding years when a Jan. 1 deadline was in effect) and the last possible notification will be April 15 (May 15 in 1967). May 1 is still the scheduled reply deadline.

Impeachments Impossible

With approximately 5,700 applications coming in each year, personal interviews of each are virtually impossible. Therefore, achievement tests were required for further screening this year of persons applying to the following major departments: English, foreign language, mathematics, science, and the social sciences history. The personal interview is still felt to be a necessity in the speech and physical education departments.

The new slate of officers take the achievement tests into consideration, but the tests are not part of the overall formula as was used two years ago. At that time college board scores alone counted for a third of the applicants total evaluation. Rank in class (which is now considered the most valuable statistic from a reputable institution), along with the high school report card, counted for another one third. The third was governed by high school counselors' recommendations and judgments of the college's admissions staff. Such a limiting formula has been abolished.

Individual consideration of each application by at least two of the three admissions staff personnel is the deciding factor in narrowing the number down to approximately 1,500 potential freshmen. Of that number, 950 are expected to actually enter as the freshmen class.

Changes Under Consideration

However, the most controversial changes are those still being discussed. The proposed change is that the student need not specify a major plan of study upon applying for admission. This seems advantageous to the student, in that he does not face a commitment until he is settled in the school and has become familiar with its departments.

In reality, though, this may create some serious disadvantages. The principal disadvantage is that the admissions staff will be unable to tell whether the student has enough background and potential ability to succeed in the major he eventually chooses; and secondly the system will no longer allow admissions by department. The possible imbalance of department sizes, and consequently sudden changes in the required number of faculty personnel, which the new system might create is a prime concern of college administrators considering the proposed change.

SUMMER JOBS

Work & Vacation this Summer at the Jersey Shore

 Earn $1500 or more working for New Jersey's leading ice cream vending company.

PLEASANT OUTDOOR WORK
FULL OR PART TIME
Write for application
& details
CARNABY BAR
ICE CREAM CORP.
Route 36, Box K
Eatontown, New Jersey

5700 To 950:
Innovations For Admissions

According to admissions staff assistant Miss Mary B. Wilkins, "rolling" admissions is the latest innovation to be instituted for admitting the next freshman class to Montclair State. Next fall's incoming freshmen were faced with a requirement of achievement tests in order to evaluate and place them in their proper field of study. But freshmen in the future may not have to specify a major to apply. Two years ago a student was judged according to a "formula of thirds," whereas now high school academic performance, as added in his high school report, is the major deciding factor.

The system of rolling admissions, which will go in effect next September, permits the admissions office to notify students of their acceptance or rejection as soon as their application is processed. Applications will be accepted as late as Feb. 1 (as opposed to preceding years when a Jan. 1 deadline was in effect) and the last possible notification will be April 15 (May 15 in 1967). May 1 is still the scheduled reply deadline.

Impeachments Impossible

With approximately 5,700 applications coming in each year, personal interviews of each are virtually impossible. Therefore, achievement tests were required for further screening this year of persons applying to the following major departments: English, foreign language, mathematics, science, and the social sciences history. The personal interview is still felt to be a necessity in the speech and physical education departments.

The new slate of officers take the achievement tests into consideration, but the tests are not part of the overall formula as was used two years ago. At that time college board scores alone counted for a third of the applicants total evaluation. Rank in class (which is now considered the most valuable statistic from a reputable institution), along with the high school report card, counted for another one third. The third was governed by high school counselors' recommendations and judgments of the college's admissions staff. Such a limiting formula has been abolished.

Individual consideration of each application by at least two of the three admissions staff personnel is the deciding factor in narrowing the number down to approximately 1,500 potential freshmen. Of that number, 950 are expected to actually enter as the freshmen class.

Changes Under Consideration

However, the most controversial changes are those still being discussed. The proposed change is that the student need not specify a major plan of study upon applying for admission. This seems advantageous to the student, in that he does not face a commitment until he is settled in the school and has become familiar with its departments.

In reality, though, this may create some serious disadvantages. The principal disadvantage is that the admissions staff will be unable to tell whether the student has enough background and potential ability to succeed in the major he eventually chooses; and secondly the system will no longer allow admissions by department. The possible imbalance of department sizes, and consequently sudden changes in the required number of faculty personnel, which the new system might create is a prime concern of college administrators considering the proposed change.

SUMMER JOBS

Work & Vacation this Summer at the Jersey Shore

 Earn $1500 or more working for New Jersey's leading ice cream vending company.

PLEASANT OUTDOOR WORK
FULL OR PART TIME
Write for application
& details
CARNABY BAR
ICE CREAM CORP.
Route 36, Box K
Eatontown, New Jersey

5700 To 950:
Innovations For Admissions

According to admissions staff assistant Miss Mary B. Wilkins, "rolling" admissions is the latest innovation to be instituted for admitting the next freshman class to Montclair State. Next fall's incoming freshmen were faced with a requirement of achievement tests in order to evaluate and place them in their proper field of study. But freshmen in the future may not have to specify a major to apply. Two years ago a student was judged according to a "formula of thirds," whereas now high school academic performance, as added in his high school report, is the major deciding factor.

The system of rolling admissions, which will go in effect next September, permits the admissions office to notify students of their acceptance or rejection as soon as their application is processed. Applications will be accepted as late as Feb. 1 (as opposed to preceding years when a Jan. 1 deadline was in effect) and the last possible notification will be April 15 (May 15 in 1967). May 1 is still the scheduled reply deadline.

Impeachments Impossible

With approximately 5,700 applications coming in each year, personal interviews of each are virtually impossible. Therefore, achievement tests were required for further screening this year of persons applying to the following major departments: English, foreign language, mathematics, science, and the social sciences history. The personal interview is still felt to be a necessity in the speech and physical education departments.

The new slate of officers take the achievement tests into consideration, but the tests are not part of the overall formula as was used two years ago. At that time college board scores alone counted for a third of the applicants total evaluation. Rank in class (which is now considered the most valuable statistic from a reputable institution), along with the high school report card, counted for another one third. The third was governed by high school counselors' recommendations and judgments of the college's admissions staff. Such a limiting formula has been abolished.

Individual consideration of each application by at least two of the three admissions staff personnel is the deciding factor in narrowing the number down to approximately 1,500 potential freshmen. Of that number, 950 are expected to actually enter as the freshmen class.

Changes Under Consideration

However, the most controversial changes are those still being discussed. The proposed change is that the student need not specify a major plan of study upon applying for admission. This seems advantageous to the student, in that he does not face a commitment until he is settled in the school and has become familiar with its departments.

In reality, though, this may create some serious disadvantages. The principal disadvantage is that the admissions staff will be unable to tell whether the student has enough background and potential ability to succeed in the major he eventually chooses; and secondly the system will no longer allow admissions by department. The possible imbalance of department sizes, and consequently sudden changes in the required number of faculty personnel, which the new system might create is a prime concern of college administrators considering the proposed change.

SUMMER JOBS

Work & Vacation this Summer at the Jersey Shore

 Earn $1500 or more working for New Jersey's leading ice cream vending company.

PLEASANT OUTDOOR WORK
FULL OR PART TIME
Write for application
& details
CARNABY BAR
ICE CREAM CORP.
Route 36, Box K
Eatontown, New Jersey
Whatever Happened To Pass-Fail?

One pass-fail course per semester under consideration

Dr. Seymour Fersh, education director of the Asia Society, will address the Phi Beta Kappa Alumni Association of Northern New Jersey May 9 at Montclair State College. His topic will be "Studying Asian Cultures: Windows and Mirrors."

Dr. Fersh joined the Asia Society, a non-profit, educational foundation for better understanding between the United States and Asia, in 1961. In 1958-59 Dr. Fersh was a Fulbright professor in India, and in the summer of 1962, he served in Paris with UNESCO.

A $3,500 scholarship is offered by the department of Home and Family Life to individuals committed to teacher and family life education. Miss Lois J. Guthrie, a member of the home economics department at Montclair State, has been named the first recipient of the Laura W. Drummond Memorial Scholarship for full-time study toward her doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia, during the coming academic year.

A new union is operating on campus known as the Secretarial and Clerical Chapter of the American Federation of Teachers. This chapter is affiliated with the newly formed Montclair State College Faculty Local of the New Jersey State Federation of Teachers. A constitution is in the process of being drawn up, and it is expected that all office personnel will be eligible for membership.

The underlying premise for the formation of the chapter is that if government (the State of New Jersey in this case) is to deny its members the sovereign right to strike, it must provide them with a compensating method of insuring themselves a fair deal and protecting them against arbitrary and capricious decisions by public officials.

Temporary officers of the chapter are: Eleanor Loewenthal, president; Vera Brenten, secretary; Kitty Koch, treasurer. Members are entitled to the following: occupational liability insurance of $100,000; a $1,000 accidental death benefit for members of participating local unions; special group rates on life insurance, disability insurance and a special insurance plan with protection up to $25,000 for loss of speech, sight or hearing. Members will receive these benefits immediately upon joining the chapter.

At press time, the executive board will have met with Mr. Calabrese to present its demands. A report will be submitted to the membership at the next meeting of the organization on May 15.

Examinations and Academic Standards. Reports are expected from the Administrative Council, departmental faculty groups and a student committee. These reports will be submitted and evaluated before any Pass-Fail grading system is adopted.

Whatever kind of Pass-Fail system is now being discussed in MSC? The system would NOT cover ALL final grades. The Faculty Committee is unanimously in favor of a Pass-Fail system connected with student teaching. A suggested Pass-Fail system, other than in student teaching, would allow students to choose one course a semester for Pass-Fail credit. The student would start to select these courses in his sophomore year. A maximum total of 15 Pass-Fail credit hours could be accumulated by any one student in MSC. The Pass-Fail courses are not permitted in the student's major, minor, concentration or professional education programs. The Pass-Fail system under discussion is a very limited one.

This new system has been the subject of many controversial discussions in MSC as well as other colleges. There are many advantages and disadvantages in the Pass-Fail system. It could encourage a new interest in learning which could substitute the typical college struggle for top grades. It could help raise and broaden requirements for certain grades. It could give confidence to students who want to take a one-credit course, but are afraid of not getting a high grade. The ideal situation would rid Pass-Fail of its disadvantages and benefit from its advantages.
Press: Purse Power

Like that of the U.S. government, the purpose of MSC's Bureau of Publications, is basically "to provide for the common defense and to insure domestic tranquillity," or in other words, to create unity among the publications and to provide an effective outlet for voicing opinions of this influential group.

The voice now wishes to be heard. After careful consideration, the Bureau has decided that the current system of purse strings being held by the SGA is unfair. Recent testimony to this fact is the "funds in abeyance" decision of the SGA concerning GALUMPH humor magazine (see April 26 issue). The MONTCLARIAN, as a fellow sympathizer as to the trials and tribulations of producing a publication, must stand on record as condemning the use of a brute police force in ridding the campus of a small, hard-core group of radicals forced a halt a seemingly endless demonstration. Intervention proved to be the only way to defend and to insure domestic tranquillity, as to how their funds are being used.

"As a possible solution to this potentially dangerous problem with its implications of bias and/or censorship, the Bureau of Publications suggests that a compromise be initiated, whereby the Bureau of Publications and the executive board of the SGA, Dr. Richardson, Mr. Neuner, and Dean Bilham, would comprise the executive board which would try all "criminal" cases levied against any of the publications. This group would also be responsible for approval of the yearbook."

Publications are public servants and must be fiscally autonomous to encourage fair play. The MONTCLARIAN urges that this proposal be taken into consideration.

"Thick-Skulled" Actions

While outward calm has returned to New York's Columbia University, the rebellion of a small, hard-core group of radicals forced a rather reluctant administration to employ brute police force in ridding the campus of these agitators.

Unfortunately as it was, police intervention proved to be the only way to halt a seemingly endless demonstration. These hooligans appear to represent a new wave of student power that prefers to deal irrationally with the problems of current affairs: a disjointed, disjointed movement for their cause, whose college education does not encompass a three-credit course called "Introduction to Violence as a means of agitation."

The MONTCLARIAN frowns upon violent action as demonstrated by the shot-headed radical minority at Columbia. Indeed, their thick-skulled actions only dirty up already distorted view of the American college student.

Ramblings

* The MONTCLARIAN has been working feverishly in past issues to dispel any fears or suspicions on the part of administrators, contributors or readers that we are "out for blood." It is not our intention to slant or pervert the news that it would in any way assassinate the character of any one person or institution. Rather, we wish to present news, facts, and truth in our news stories, as the saying goes. Editors alone would represent the personal viewpoint of the Editor.

"We have also stated that the company requests lately that the MONTCLARIAN should publish weekly. We are grateful for this confidence and if conditions permit, we would be willing to sweat a little more to put out a better publication more often. We're willing but we'll need your help. Will you help us?

* Did you know the word "American" ends in "I" can? * Pledging is here again and with it, the cheers and jeer of onlookers. Whatever your political viewpoints, remember this is a free country. And by the way, if you talk or squawk (?): There is such a thing as free will and the pledges of their own accord have elected to undergo the activity entailed.

However, both cheerers and jeerers would be wise to re-evaluate their arguments and/or goals. The sororities are now in the process of undertaking industrious and constructive pledge projects. They do not just make their pledges sing or just write letters to boyfriends: One suggested pledge project is to aid in the Trevor Holmes contest for the need aid for the higher education. But sororities are not blameless either, for they must remember that their goal is to solidify the sisterhood and not to degrade individuals.

Our Trustees?

Our state Senators have voted 22-0 to revise the 1966 Higher Education Act in regard to the appointment of our Board of Trustees.

If this bill is also approved by the state House of Representatives, the members of the Board would then be chosen by the governor with the approval of the Senate. This would take away the appointment power from the state colleges themselves.

We fail to see the reasoning behind such an illogical move. We do not doubt a thinking—a politically oriented move destroying the status of autonomy the state colleges now possess.

It is our belief that only the administration of each state college is qualified to choose their own Trustees.

Any move to take power away from the administration is a move to give probably unqualified persons the right of appointment.

Do these persons feel they are fully acquainted with the problems of the state colleges and can therefore choose for them? We believe not.

The Observer: Your Handwriting is Showing

By DAVID M. LEVINE

"Handwriting can reveal hidden traits of character. Look at the sign at the county fair. "Your handwriting analyzed for 25c" reads a sign.

So you walk in. Pay your two bits and some spook behind a virtual bulge tells you that you are extremely talented, since your handwriting proves it.

You walk home with your inflated ego and proclaim to the world that you are a potential genius, secretly disbelieving it all the while.

But believe it or not, handwriting analysis (or "graphology") is as real as the Census. Graphology, as you might want to call it, is actually a "semi-accepted" science throughout the world. And apart from the pseudo-analysts that are so popular at American julification ceremonies, there are actually professional graphologists that devote their lives to the study of handwriting, proving that one's personality actually comes out in their script.

"Handwriting analysis involved in this "science" is Dr. Hal Falcon, author of a recent book entitled H O W TO A D V A N C E Y O U R H ANDWRITING. In his book, Dr. Falcon builds up a case trying to prove the value of professional handwriting analysis through actual "experiments." And by interpreting handwriting specimens, Dr. Falcon proceeds to ascertain personality traits that can easily be detected by the pro.

But apart from serving the purposes of the amusement world, the services of graphologists are sometimes used by police to determine forged signatures. And some handwriting experts are employed by some large corporations to determine if they actually have honest employees. Dr. Falcon is also called in professional graphologists to determine the extent of illness in some cases and handwriting probably manifests itself in handwriting.

In fact, as Dr. Falcon points out, "whatever characteristics a person shows in one type of action that is habitual, he tends to show same traits in all other types of habitual action." And handwriting is a habitual action.

So after reading Dr. Falcon's rather interesting book, THE OBSERVER has decided to take a limited number of clients interested in discovering their personalities through graphology.

The OBSERVER asked his "select clientele" to write the following phrase:

"WRITE: HANDWRITING TELLS 2,472 DETAILS"

The Results

Example No. 1: This person is no doubt a science major—biology, physics. Each letter connects, suggesting a logical mind. Some letters stand up while others slant to the right, suggesting that the person is an ambivert. Note the European "T"—it suggests non-conformity.

Example No. 2: This specimen is from an individual that was no doubt good with figures; the ornate "A" suggests this.

Example No. 3: This handwriting of a person suggests extroversion, since all letters slant to the right. The unique dots over each "i" suggests uncertainty.

Example No. 4: This handwriting is from an extremely logical person, since each letter connects. This person, however, has a tendency to be absent-minded, since he or she forgot to dot the "i." A tendency to be unsure forced this person to underline the names.

Example No. 5: This person is quite outspoken (note the broken "d"). The "i" leading into "tells" suggests a literary type of personality and therefore may be a speech, English, or social studies major. However, the broken "i" and "a" (in "details") suggests a somewhat illogical personality. But since all other letters are connected, this suggests a creativity, probably in creative writing.

Deadline—May 15

Of course this is only a small portion of THE OBSERVER's prowess in graphology. So if you're actually dying to know what your handwriting tells, THE OBSERVER will analyze your handwriting on a check made payable to the MONTCLARIAN for $5.00 (student discounts not available).
To the Editor:

Apathy is removable, yet commitment to objectives is not. Accusing nearly all students at MSC that they are pathetically inert is nauseating to have to read, hear, and read again. Take the wasted time employed in such distorted and belabored criticism of our campus and convert it into real efforts to encourage each one of us with self-pride and a joy of identification.

Let us recognize the involvement and cooperation of the administration and the student body in such effective programs as SPURT, SPU, and early TRY. The Players have never disappointed the student body by their intelligence, their scholarship, and theatrical skill they have demonstrated. To see the Greeks take pride, excitement, and strength from association in their many activities invalidates the complaints made repetitively against the climate of non-concern.

The only thing unreceptive, disappointing, and discouraging on this campus is unjustified disillusionment. The common cold endured is disillusion, not apathy, at MSC.

In reference to the Junior Informal, I was disturbed by the facts that 29 bids were sold and half those who helped to sell them were underclassmen. Yet upon this reconsideration, I, as social chairman, may have imposed a social calendar which was rejected by the class members because they were socially committed to their fraternities, sororities and clubs. I feel that the Class of 1969 is not socially apathetic, but merely dissatisfied with the lack of respect for those who do not recognize their academic needs and desires.

To impose one idea and not recognize the other is to deny the student respect for his individuality, to decry his desire, to eliminate his own personal identification and to stimulate, only naturally, as it is called at MSC, apathy.

HARRY F. KUHN III
Vice-President
Class of 1969

REPLYING TO A REPLY TO THE EDITOR

This letter is in response to William Eickhorst’s “Answer to Dean Hamdan” in the April 26 issue of the MONTCLARION. Concerning Vietnam, in my original statement I said, “We should get negotiations underway and prepare for an eventual withdrawal.” I fail to see what Mr. Eickhorst terms “... running from Vietnam with our tail between our legs,” and that I believe that “... no problem is so big that it can’t be run away from.” I would say that it is a wise man who realizes that the path he follows leads to disaster and alters it, and a foolish man who keeps on going.

I would like to quote from Mrs. Martin Luther King’s Ten Commandments on Vietnam:

1. “Thou shalt not believe the Vietnamese love us.”
2. “Thou shalt not believe that the Saigon government has the support of the people.”

Any reporter will tell you this. A government not supported by its people will never succeed, no matter how much men and money we sacrifice for it.

3. “Thou shalt not believe that the majority of South Vietnamese look upon the Vietcong as terrorists.” The Vietcong represent liberation, the same as the Viet Minh against the French.

For these reasons and many others, I believe the course we follow in Vietnam leads to disaster as pointed out by the late President Kennedy: “We must remember that it is their war, not ours. It is their country, not ours.... We cannot always impose our will on the other 94 per cent of mankind.”

I might suggest that you look into your conscience and see that you cannot justify fighting another human being simply because he has a different ideology. I might also suggest that communism is not the worst thing that could happen to the Vietnamese. In fact, communism sometimes is a stepping stone to democracy.

You say, “A victory in Vietnam without the use of the savage tactics of World War II can be achieved if the military forces of this country could fight the war without the intervention of the politicians.” I would like to know how? How many more Americans must die or be crippled because of their involvement in the war? Is there any hope for justice, truth, or beauty in the society today? They glorify the Guevera, their example of youthful revolutionary leadership. Some of them cheer for Ho and call for his victory. Many believe that they can apply a personal veto to any war with which they may disagree. Then again, many of these youthful revolutions are our most frequent drug offenders.

This situation of youth deserting American ideals and goals is an enormous problem for all Americans. The want for more and more freedom can go to extremes. It has gotten to the point where citizens are advocating victory for the enemy and armed overthrow of the existing government in the United States. The youth listen to T.V. and watch the government takes little, if any, steps to ward off these apocalyptic. I criticize some of our youth for moving in this direction, but I also blame the government for allowing conditions to become such that this segment of youth movement has found a vacuum existing that they believe must be filled.

Sincerely,

JOE KLOZA
Sandy Dennis Plays D.H. Lawrence Role

"The Fox," based on the story by D.H. Lawrence, has a good theme, the movie itself is a rather shallow portrayal and lacks the completeness and artistry of the book. "The Fox" does more to discredit Modern Dance to the audience.

The scene is Bally Farm, a snow-swept, isolated scene in the New England hills. March (Ann Heywood) and Jill (Sandy Dennis) who run the farm, are on the verge of collapse when Paul (Keir Dullea) suddenly appears. From then on, there is no question that it is a triangular tug-of-war to see who is the first to succumb to Lawrence's passion.

The story is centrally one of incompatible love that somehow always seems inevitable. Ann Heywood, the victim of a perverted sexual desire, carries on with Sandy Dennis. Keir Dullea symbolizes the degeneracy and cunning of the male fox, and it is he who acts as the insatiable force that always demands natural love. Dullea, of DAVID AND LISA fame, again displays his fine ability of being able to project the autistic personality. Ann Heywood does not offer much acting, but she manages to provide a few laughs when the drama gets soggy. Sandy Dennis is at her usual worst, and even her schoolmarm smile can't pull her through.

The setting is in line with the theme, depicting the spiritual decay that existed in New England. The photography was fairly good, as it capitalized on the February snow. The soundtracks were offered in lieu of speech. By MICHAEL HEANEY

Cultural Events
ART AROUND TOWN
Asia House – The Art of the Korean Potter
Cloisters — Medieval Art
Guggenheim Museum – Paintings, frescoes, sculpture by Paul Feeley
Metropolitan Museum Of Art – Fashions and Folies: Erte and His Contemporaries
Museum of Modern Art — Isamu Noguchi:
Surrealism, and Their Heritage
Whitney Museum Of American Art – Issam Noguchi: retrospective of sculpture

DANCE COMPANIES
Asian Byron Dance Theatre – program: Modern Dance, Pop-Gospel, Poetry and Music
Players Workshop
Manhattan Festival Ballet celebrates its 10th season. Theatre 80, St. Marks
Eleo Pomare Company – program: Modern Dance. St. Marks Playhouse
New York City Ballet – presentation of noted works. Lincoln Center

Jefferson Airplane: Sensitive Performers
by MAURICE MORAN
High in the mezzanine section of the old Village Theatre (2nd Ave and 6th St.), surrounded by no less than 50 stagelight units, an audience is confronted by wire jets screaming overhead, a film projecting a landing strip on stage and the boom of guitars. It is the beginning of a Jefferson Airplane trip in New York's new Fillmore East.

The N.Y. Fillmore is an eastern version of the West Coast wonder which, for the past three years, has presented the public with acts it didn’t want. And the man behind the philosophy is Bill Graham, former manager of the Fillmore. Graham does not take complete credit for the idea. It was an outgrowth of national promotion. But the lunch table have changed from what color pedal pushers to the difference between Mr. vs. Mike Bloomfield’s handling of the guitar.

And it was this spirit in which the Fillmore East opened just a month ago. It is in this same spirit that the Fillmore will offer concerts on the final weekends of May by the Blue Cheer and the Moby Grape, respectively. Will the public respond? Consider this: one concert overhead in the men’s room... "Hey, who’s playing here tonight?" "Who cares, it’s the Fillmore?"

Author of COWARD Asks — to Kill or Not to Kill?

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

To kill or not to kill? — the question that everyone is asking, and trying to answer.

Author of COWARD Asks — to Kill or Not to Kill?

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.

The front jacket of Tom Tiede’s first novel, COWARD, describes the book as “the story of a young draftee who refuses to fight in a war he cannot believe in.” It sounds familiar. But COWARD goes further than its front jacket’s simplistic assertion. It is a narrative of frightened men. This “coward” of this book is Private Nathan Leonard Long. Branded as a coward because he conducted a hunger strike when he was assigned to Vietnam, Nathan Long died a coward in the eyes of his fellow soldiers.

Tom Tiede writes, eloquently at times but always forcefully, of the dilemma of “both the soldier who is frightened and does not shoot.” He is a coward. But death interrupts his inner turmoil. Private Long... felt no more pain, no more thirst. His confusion, his agony were at an end. But we are not dead. And yet we will forget Nat Long. We already have. He really existed.
STATEMENT
A COLUMN OF COMMENT

By TIM FANNING
Will the United States face a major war in 1968? The People’s Army” marches on Washington, D.C.? Will the “Armistice” of 1967 hold, or will the “nonviolent invasion” that Martin Luther King Jr. urged, or will insurrection start in an area which was recently scarred with burning, looting and violence? These are a few of the questions that interested Americans are asking themselves. Almost 200 years ago a group of men gathered together and wrote the Constitution for this country, the preamble of which reads:

“We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.”

Almost 200 years ago a group of men gathered together and wrote the Constitution for this country, the preamble of which reads:

“We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.”

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

The preamble to the Constitution states: “We the People of the United States ...”

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insur
SYMBOLIC BURIAL: Students involved with the Committee for Aid to Underdeveloped State Education (C.A.U.S.E.) deposited coffin representing the death of higher education on the lawn in front of Memorial Auditorium.

JACOBSEN’S SPORT SHOP
OUR ONLY STORE
"EVERYTHING FOR THE SPORTSMAN"
526 BLOOMFIELD AVE  746-6000  MONTCLAIR N. J. 07042

‘Upward Bound’ Set For Summer Program
Dr. John G. Redd, Director of Project Upward Bound, has announced plans for the continuation of the summer phase of the program on the campus of Montclair State College. Once again, the students who presently reside in Jersey City will live during the summer on the college campus and share in the facilities offered here. They will participate in a program of academic, cultural, and recreational activities. Financial backing for the project is covered by a government grant of $86,672.00.

To date, faculty of Montclair State College hired to participate in the program include John Almquist, English; Chester Rzonca, industrial arts; and Henry Ferris, physical education.

Students include Terry Bowman, ’68, biology; Sallie Crowter, ’68, English; Barbara Phillips, ’68, Spanish; Patricia Wilson, ’69, mathematics; Robert Martinez, ’70, English; Vladimir Samohutin, ’68, English; and Joe Singleton, ’69, fine arts.

Funeral March in Trenton Shows “Higher ED is Dead”
By MIRIAM TAUB

Student representatives from all six state colleges traveled to Trenton to plead for more state aid to higher education. On Mon., May 6, under the statewide direction of CUE, committee for undergraduate education, over 2200 students united to further focus attention to the fact that New Jersey ranks 50th in the country in state aid to higher education.

The students marched from Cadwalader Park in Trenton to the State House where they deposited five coffins symbolizing the death of higher education in New Jersey. The march continued to the War Memorial Building where speakers from the state government addressed the students.

Speakers included Assemblyman McDonough, chairman of the state education committee, the Honorable Richard J. Hughes, governor of New Jersey and Ralph Dungan, chancellor of higher education.

REACTION
My reaction to the original plan for a student march on Trenton was extremely favorable. It is the duty of the state to provide for our colleges; a duty which they have so far ignored.

But have we accomplished anything? I feel we have stressed in a totally constructive way that students care about the future of higher education in New Jersey.

We are the future of New Jersey and, the future voters. We care about our cause.

A sign exhibited on one of the state education buildings in Trenton has stated our plea for aid: INVEST IN HIGHER EDUCATION. This is our desperate need which has long been neglected.

SUMMER JOBS—COUNSELORS
Spend 8 weeks in Pennsylvania camp
Several specialty and general counselor positions available.
Contact: Mr. Appelbaum
Montclair State College
Ext. 234 or 322

LOUVIS CHAR-BROIL
Breakfast — Lunch — Dinner
Monday to Saturday
7 A.M. to 9 P.M.
613 Valley Road
Upper Montclair
PI 4-9559 — 746-0911
Orders to take out

We showed our interest and grave concern for the desperate situation the state colleges are now facing. We hoped for favorable reactions from our state officials above and beyond the comment from Ralph Dungan, chancellor of higher education, that he approves of our interest in higher education.

It was disappointing to hear these officials speaking and yet saying little concerning actual plans for the state colleges.

Governor Hughes spoke of a dissonance between the political parties and of his so-called accomplishments concerning aid to higher education. He did not have any to show us.

Assemblyman McDonough stressed the plans to add funds for scholarships to state college students. Unfortunately, this is not the answer to our problems. Unless adequate facilities are provided for expansion, the state colleges will not be able to accept students to receive these scholarships.

We wanted to hear the plans in precise and available form. All we heard was cheap talk. There was more that could have been said.

I believe it is the duty of the state to provide for our colleges; a duty which they have so far ignored.

But have we accomplished anything? I feel we have. We have stressed in a totally constructive way that students care about the future of higher education in New Jersey.

We are the future of New Jersey and, the future voters. We care about our cause.

A sign exhibited on one of the state education buildings in Trenton has stated our plea for aid: INVEST IN HIGHER EDUCATION. This is our desperate need which has long been neglected.

Mass Schedule — Ascension Thursdays
10 a.m. Newman House
12 noon Amphitheater (Memorial Auditorium in case of bad weather).
7:30 p.m. Studio Theater, Speech Building

Student Concern: When students can be seen and heard, they volunteer to participate. When a project calls for aid which doesn’t offer recognition (at left), the response is nil.
By THOMAS DALE

In conclusion to a national week of concern, the MSC campus held a moratorium on Fri., April 26. This attempt at reviving student concern followed an Angry Arts Festival which was held to raise money for the Coalition Committee. Due to poor publicity, however, the festival was postponed. Other events of the week included a film, "The War Game," shown on Thursday, and a march in New York City in answer to the National Loyalty Day Parade.

The Coalition Committee, a student-faculty ad hoc committee, is composed of the on-campus organizations: The Newman Fellowship, The Protestant Foundation, The Star of David, and an alternative to attending regularly scheduled classes. Fully realizing the possible implications of this type of program, the administration prior to the program. President Richardson gave administrative assurance that no reprisals would be taken against any student who chose to follow his own conscience rather than the regulations of the academic community.

It has been found that repetitive stimulation is the most effective program to raise and continue interest and concern in the vital issues which face the students of today. The Coalition is only an alternative which feels deeply enough to care to work in a constructive direction.

Campus Groups Form ‘Coalition’

Help Requested

The age old question of "Must we wait until someone gets killed?" has now penetrated the issue. Essex County officials, at all times extremely cooperative according to Ridpath. But they are stalemated at this point, reluctant to pay $53,000 for a change they deem unnecessary. The intersection, which now has a blinker light, was the scene of four accidents last year, not to mention the innumerable scrapes and bumps that remain unreported. The corner is becoming increasingly dangerous with growing enrollment at the college and a greater volume of thoroughfare on Valley Road.

What can MSC students do to help get some action? Larry Ridpath suggests that all commuting students and their parents write to June Strelecki, Director, Division of Motor Vehicles, 25 South Montgomery Street, Trenton, New Jersey, 08625, and ask her to personally review and approve the count’s design for the installation.

'Light' (Continued from Page 1)

What can MSC students do to help get some action? Larry Ridpath suggests that all commuting students and their parents write to June Strelecki, Director, Division of Motor Vehicles, 25 South Montgomery Street, Trenton, New Jersey, 08625, and ask her to personally review and approve the count’s design for the installation.

Editor (Continued from Page 1)

Association. She will also be responsible for all official correspondences which will be circulated throughout the state.

QUARTERLY, the campus literary magazine which last year won the Association’s first place award for general excellence, won six awards this year. The layout staff won third place for the layout of the Spring 1968 issue. Don Bradford won a third place award for his poem in the Autumn 1967 issue of the magazine. Diane Wald won first place for a poem published in the Spring 1966 issue of the magazine. Karen Zauske won honorable mention in the literary magazine prose competition. An honorable mention in the art division of the literary magazine competition was awarded to Marilyn Lockmuller. Marilyn Mauro was awarded third place in the literary magazine art competition for her sketch published in the Spring 1968 issue of the magazine.

Get your bumblebee degree

Email in one of three exciting classes. Charger R/T, Coronet R/T, or Dart GSTSport. Each has its own distinctive sporty style, but all three have a lot in common. Like automatic transmissions, wide-tread red line tires, special handling packages, and a long list of other standard and optional features.

Dodge Charger R/T

To help you make the grade, the standard engines for the Scat Pack include a 340-cu.-in. V8 for the Dart GTS. And for Charger R/T and Coronet R/T, a 440 Magnum V8. Or for a more accelerated course, you can order the optional 426 Hemi.

To add some color to campus, get your Official Dodge Scat Pack Jacket in the official "Dodge Red" Color - with the authentic embroidered "bumblebee" design on front and back. Send for yours today.

Dodge Dart GSTsport

All three members of the Scat Pack offer distincting marks at no extra cost. Bold bumblebee stripes wrapped around the rear. Or Rallye stripes along the side. Or if you prefer to be a little more modest, no stripes at all. It’s your choice. Ready for class? With the Scat Pack, you’ve got it. Why not sign up at your nearby Dodge Dealer’s and get your Bumblebee Degree, today?
If these kids don't make it, neither do we.

These are big city school children. They are partners of all who try to build and keep our cities alive with hope and promise of personal dignity. If we fail these partners, they will fail, as finally will we all.

To the Bell System, they also are customers and, prospectively, many are fellow employees. Those we hire will bring with them attitudes and skills produced by city life and city schools. Their qualities will help shape the quality of our service. And service is our product.

Bell System companies and people are increasingly engaged to help meet the problems of the cities, especially those concerning education and employability. In these areas our skills and other business resources may have extra value. We shall try to keep our deeds outrunning our words.
Indians Hurt Playoff Hopes; Lose To Glassboro, Paterson

By JOHN DANTONI
Montclair State College, after extending its winning streak to five games, suffered a 5-0 embarrassment at the hands of Glassboro College.

The Indians started fast again in this contest by building up a 4-0 lead in the first three innings on a single by Joe Peterson, one of the most outstanding victories of the season. This was the second best offensive effort of the Indians this season at the plate in the seventh inning.

The Profs came back with two runs in the bottom of the third and three more in the fifth, highlighted by Jim Grotos's lead-off home run. The Indians threatened in the ninth, but Chuck Doherty's leaping catch on Jim Downing's drive to deep right center with a mate aboard, was the closest the Indians came.

The loss went to Pete Jerauld. The Profs moved to a commanding two-game lead over the Indians.

Failure to hold a four-run lead against Glassboro for the second time this year was the closest the Indians came to winning the game.

The win, the sixteenth straight for the Indians, gave the team a 10-3 overall record and an 8-2 record in conference play.

The Indians are extremely high under Coach Frank Filaldo, Ken Meek's Slugging Infielder

The outstanding success of Montclair State College's baseball nine this year after transferring from Rockland Community College.

Ken Meek of Mahwah. The 6-1 and 185 pounder has made a number of big surprises but none as big or as pleasant as to the plate, three of the safeties to the plate in the seventh inning, including an 18-2 trouncing of arch rival, Fairleigh Dickinson.

Ken Meek's performance in the 13-9 Indian victory was outstanding success of Montclair State College as Glasboro rallied for five runs in a 5-4 decision over Montclair.

The Indians scored 10 runs in that seventh inning on three hits, four Blue Devil errors, two walks, and two hit batters. Freshman hurler, Ken Inglia, who came in relief of starter Ralph Miller, got the win, his second decision without a loss.

The Indians are extremely high under Coach Frank Filaldo, Ken Meek's Slugging Infielder.

The outstanding success of Montclair State College as Glasboro rallied for five runs in a 5-4 decision over Montclair.

The Indians scored 10 runs in that seventh inning on three hits, four Blue Devil errors, two walks, and two hit batters. Freshman hurler, Ken Inglia, who came in relief of starter Ralph Miller, got the win, his second decision without a loss.

The Indians are extremely high under Coach Frank Filaldo, Ken Meek's Slugging Infielder.

The outstanding success of Montclair State College as Glasboro rallied for five runs in a 5-4 decision over Montclair.

The Indians scored 10 runs in that seventh inning on three hits, four Blue Devil errors, two walks, and two hit batters. Freshman hurler, Ken Inglia, who came in relief of starter Ralph Miller, got the win, his second decision without a loss.
Montclair Women Fencers Place Third in Nationals

Mrs. Anthony Desideriociol's fencers captured third place in the 40th annual National Collegiate Women's Fencing Championships held at Fadleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, Cornell University took the title, followed by Paterson State College.

Pacing the team in their 11-1 seasonal record was sophomore Evelyn Haase, a physical education major, who is the outstanding performer finishing fourth in the individual go. Miss Haase hails from Cliffside Park, Captain Barbara Berte, a junior education major, who is the second place finisher in the individual go, Miss Berte hails from Cliffside Park, and Karen Van Bavel, a freshman Spanish major, is an experienced left-hander with several years of training on the Ramapo Regional High School team. Miss Nancy Miralaldi, a sophomore physical education major, also has had several years of high school experience of which to boast. Miss Miralaldi is from Bayonne.

In 1966, Montclair State finished second in the Intercollegiate Championships, and now, in 1968, the Indians have placed second in the state of New Jersey, there only loss being to Paterson State.

Supporting the varsity members were the junior varsity team consisting of captain Bonnie Levine, a freshman Spanish major; Melanie Hawryluk, a junior French major; Mona Lanterman, a freshman Spanish major; Carol Ormsby, a freshman home economics major; Cheryl Noble, a freshman home economics major; and Kapoo, the team's mascot.

Tennis Squad Upsets Monmouth College, 5-4

The Montclair State tennis team, after a tough 5-4 loss to NCE, won its first conference match 6-2 over Newark State College. Gary Savercool and Dan Sullivan turned in strong performances with 6-0, 6-1 and 6-3, 6-1 victories respectively. Chet Mazula and Bob Seiler also turned in strong performances with 6-0, 6-1 and 6-3, 6-1 victories respectively. Gary Savercool and Sullivan won the fifth and deciding point for MSC by beating Glassboro's 1st doubles team.

The following procedure for complaints about stolen articles has been released by Dean Lawton J. Blanton:

1. Students finding articles stolen should report such to the office of the Director of Life Hall immediately.
2. Theft report forms will be checked frequenly to use if any patterns are being established.
3. Articles turned in to the lost and found will be compared with theft report forms to see if a match up can be made.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL SCORES

| TAB'S Pineapples | Independent League | Louge Busters 3 | Bob Fleischer – 3 \- hitter | Homeruns: 6 |
| TAB's –Smith, Spooner | Louge Busters – Van Dyke |
| Catholic Establishment 11 | Italians 2 |
| Catholic Establishment 6 | Bears 0 |
| Zaco Doon's Raiders 12 | Italians 10 |
| Homers: | Italians – Carris |
| Gamma Sigma Chi 13 | Senate 10 |
| Lambda Chi Delta 10 | Homeruns: |
| Sigma Phi | Gamma – Molinaki |
| Tau Sigma Delta 9 | Homers:
| TOP – Manzella | Tau – Mancini, Lanif |
| Lambda Chi Delta 4 | In order to keep your contact lenses as comfortable and convenient as they were meant to be, you have to take care of them. But until now you needed two or more separate solutions to properly prepare and maintain your contacts. Not with Lensine. Lensine is the one lens solution for complete contact lens care.

Cleaning your contacts with Lensine renews the build-up of foreign deposits on the lens. And soaking your contacts in Lensine overnight assures you of proper lens hygiene. You get a free soaking case when you purchase the lensine. It has been demonstrated that improper storage between wearings may result in the growth of bacteria on the lenses. This is a sure cause of eye irritation and in some cases can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in Lensine which is made from the natural fluids of the eye. Just a drop or two of Lensine, before you insert your lens, coats and lubricates it allowing the lens to float more freely in the eye's fluids. That's because Lensine is an "isotonic" solution, which means that it blends with the natural fluids of the eye. Let your contacts be the comfort they were meant to be. Get some Lensine, from the Murine Company, Inc.