Bond Issue Would Give More
$$ To Roads Than To Schools

Immediately after voters of New Jersey flip the lever for their favorite nominee this November, they will be asked to vote on the largest BOND ISSUE in the history of the state—$990 million, spread over three needy areas. It is historical in another sense: it is one of the rare occasions that Governor Hughes and the legislature have worked toward the same cause.

Blanton Questions Need For Free MSC Campus, SDS Formations Rumored

By KARYN BYKOWSKY

"MSC is a political institution responsible to the public of New Jersey." Dean of Student, Lawton Blanton commented. "The State will not be as receptive to our needs if reactionary speakers come in to the campus."

This was the feeling which prompted Dean Blanton to issue a personal memorandum to SGA president Bob Martinez, stating the SGA should remember to reconsider the open campus ruling passed last year.

The Inter-Office memo left Martinez puzzled. "I don't know why Dean Blanton thought it necessary to mention this specific ruling," he observed. "Each new administration always reviews all past policies that concern them. We would have done it anyway."

However, Martinez does not anticipate withdrawal of the ruling. "I personally think that it's bad to reject any side of an issue without examining it first. It's also good for the image of the college to be open-minded," he said.

"I don't think that there has been any change in the feeling of students on maintaining an open campus," he continued. (Continued on Page 3)

Kuhn Hopes To Incite More
Campus Political Activity

The "Revive and Survive Experiment" sponsored by the class of 1969 will be held outside Life Hall on Oct. 17. The senior class president, Harry Kuhn, explains that "this year we intend to elevate and dignify our image as rationally thinking and responsible college students while we call in questions of state aid to higher education, academic respectability and responsibility, and finally the war in Vietnam and the draft."

A long counter in front of the Student Life Building will be constructed so as to avoid congestion and to provide enough surface area on which the student may document his one-act letter. The nature of the letter will determine to which legislator or to which Montclair State administration it will be sent. After the letters have been mailed to the designated recipients, the senior class president will invite the recipients to come on campus with answers and to present them to the student body in an open forum. Harry Kuhn emphasizes that "we cannot afford to be irresponsible nor irresponsible to the victimizing pressures upon us." (Continued on Page 6)

Most Tuition Money Goes To Schools, State Aid Expected

The money obtained via the tuition hike at Montclair State, which was the undergraduate fee rise from $150 to $350 per academic year, is reportedly to be used almost entirely for the financing of first year faculty salaries, studying the long range academic future of MSC, making various capital improvements and assisting programs for the disadvantaged.

McKnight Forecasts Future Activities

By MARTIN J. FUCIO

Life Hall has a new director and the College Life Union Board (CLUB) has a new advisor in charge of both of these activities is Jon O. McKnight. Mr. McKnight is a 25 year old graduate of the State University of New York at Geneseo. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in history and a master's degree in student personnel services. In his dual function, which began Aug. 1, Mr. McKnight helps schedule all

BOSS To Unify, Involve
Blacks; Dinner Planned

Black Organization for Success in Society (BOSS) is a newly chartered student organization at MSC. Founded in 1967, BOSS is the only organization of its kind on a New Jersey state college campus. The organization hopes to achieve high goals for all black students at MSC.

The purpose of BOSS is twofold; first, to unify black students into one organization, and second, to involve black students in campus events. There are 33 active members currently involved in BOSS, with more expected to join from the class of '72.

Two major events are planned for this year. The "Soul Dinner" will be held on Oct. 17 and is open to all students for a $2.50 admission fee. The other event is the "Soul Dance" on Nov. 23 in the Panzer Gym.

BOSS will be taking an active part in the Wednesday night seminars sponsored by the Newman Community. These seminars will educate students about life in the ghetto. (Continued on Page 7)
Project Try Welcomes 06 Undergraduates

The MSC community is currently attempting to show that it "gives a damn" as Project Try (Talent, Rand, Youth) begins its first semester on campus. The program is designed to help unaffiliated but bright students a fair chance to gain a college education.

Montclair is working on this project in conjunction with 14 other schools, three of which are out of state, and have poverty programs affiliated with their school. A total of 636 students are enrolled in these 15 colleges under the auspices of the state and federal governments, financial backers of the project. At MSC this fall, five students are being enrolled in the evening division only. In addition at Montclair, TRY activities are financially needy students who gained admission through the usual channels.

According to Mr. Arthur Taylor, Director of Recruitment for Project TRY, the primary levels students are in one of the other programs. However, the adjustment he referred to was not that of TRY students to the campus as one might expect, but of the campus to the TRY students. He said that the students are doing very well because of the fact that they are simply glad to be at Montclair for the opportunity of being afforded them. Thus far, stated Mr. Taylor, the students of TRY, for the most part, are on campus, have been quite enthusiastic.

The recruitment of individual tutors for the TRY students is reportedly progressing well so far. All students in the TRY program volunteered their services after only the initial two days that the project was introduced. These "headquarters" in the Student Life Building. An additional group of tutors will soon be on the scene.

TRY tentatively plans on having LeRoie Jones pay a visit to the campus for the purpose of speaking to a "limited audience" composed of TRY students. Upper Bound students, teachers, working in conjunction with Project TRY, and a number of other interested students. But for now it is a "closed" one. A poet by trade, Mr. Jones entered the national spotlight for his work as a civil rights activist.

Fourteen Montclair graduate students are presently gaining valuable experience through Project TRY on various campuses within the state. These students, who are taking part in this training program in addition to their graduate field of study, participate in a three hour weekly seminar session. Components of the overall program are a "sensitivity training program," involvement in community projects, and tutoring and counseling of, and development of communication with students in urban areas who may be TRY students of the future.

New Theatre Group Plans Announced

Last semester a small group of students felt there was a need for additional program in theatre at MSC. This group met informally during the summer. The result of their meeting was the formation of an experimental theatre group.

Greg Doucette, a member of the group, has stated that its purpose is "to provide a forum where the serious students of theatre can explore the various aspects of theatrical communication, both experimental and traditional."

There will be lists provided (in the speech lounge) for those students who wish to participate in the theatre group as producers, directors, technical directors, lighting designers, makeup and costume directors, business and stage managers, actors and crew members. All students are invited to sign any of these lists. A directory will be published with a picture of every theatre group member.

Even With Hangups, Orientation Proves Its Worth to MSC Fresh

By JILL SCHNEIDER Staff Reporter

It turns some on; it turns some off; and it tunes some out—this freshman orientation might know, freshman orientation has different effects on different people. So, regardless of all its hangups, was it all worth it?

Those who felt orientation was useful got to the core of the alleged foolishness. Freshman who, might know, freshman orientation has different effects on different people. So, regardless of all its hangups, was it all worth it?

Most people felt that four days was strictly enough. "The idea is wonderful, but I don't think orientation should have been drawn out for a week and two days," said a Montclair, who is taking the "why," and went along. The student personnel meetings and coffee hours were "very helpful," and volunteer services, such as the "headquarters" in the Student Life Building. An additional group of tutors is soon to be on the scene.

A few boys felt all that was necessary was "a map of the campus and instructions where to find what." And finding out things by themselves presented a challenge. One freshman felt that "the only pre-requisite (for production) is interest," even an aqua show in the Panzer pool would fall under the interests of this experimental theatre group, if it convinces the established criteria.

Most people felt that four days was strictly enough. "The idea is wonderful, but I don't think orientation should have been drawn out for a week and two days," said another freshman who was busy with classes that nobody bothered us anyway, agreed another freshman. There seemed to be enough confusion and problems of getting settled for incoming students without worrying about avoiding Sophomores. Perhaps a hint for improving next year's orientation might be to end before classes begin.

Despite all the trials and tribulations, much enthusiasm for the college was raised. Most freshmen felt that, "the idea is wonderful, but that orientation was for our own good and "is necessary evil."
Administrative Problems Is Key to N.Y. Teacher Strike

By THOMAS BOLTCOFF
MONTCLAIRON Education Editor

Strikes by the powerful teachers' unions have again kept New York City's school system from opening. The strike is not a mere matter of wage increase, but involves the principle of control of administrative policies and the power of the teacher in the classroom.

The strike paralyzed 53,000 of the city's 57,000 teachers and kept most of the 1.1 million students out of more than 900 schools.

The parents and administrators of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district, on which the strike is focused, have determinedly stated that they will control their schools and who teachers will teach them. They have demonstrated this policy by attempting to relocate their predominantly "undesirable" white teachers out of the predominantly black school and hiring as many as 500 black teachers who have agreed to back the policies of Rev. C. Herbert Oliver, the district's governing board.

The teachers, as a union, are concerned with teaching procedures, job security and the survival of the union. They feel that, according to union leader Albert Shankar, they are legally entitled to control their schools and who should see Mr. Neuner in the board.

"professionals who should not and will not be hired and fired by the parents of a community."

Originally, in order to solve a strike dispute a year ago, the Ford Foundation persuaded the city to allow the predominantly black parents to elect their own governing boards, control the curriculum staff and budget. The problem arose, however, when the city neglected to spell out the specific powers of each local board.

The 19-member Ocean Hill-Brownsville board oversees eight schools. It dismissed the teachers last spring in a test of its power. "The community," explained Rhody McCoy, unit administrator, "lost confidence in schools and schools in the other hand, felt stymied by the limits placed on their curriculum." This stand-off reached a head when the school system opened this fall and the ten teachers were not reinstalled.

The city has not ordered the 5,000 teachers back to work, in an effort to open the schools, but according to union leader Shankar, it is a cold day in hell when we (the teachers) go back to work for a board of incompetence and ignorance.

Financial Aid

The New Jersey State Scholarship Program added a new feature when Governor Richard Hughes signed into law Senate Bill 561. This bill will now allow students, who hold State Scholarships, to attend summer school under this program.

The State Scholarships pay recipients $550 annually on the cost of tuition, whichever is less. With scholarships at $4.5 million, students do not use $150 available to them.

Students wishing to carry a position are requested to pick up a petition at the SGA office in Life Hall. These forms will be available Oct. 7 and 8 and between 9-4. They are to be returned Oct. 10 during the same hours. No late petitions will be accepted.
“OPEN DOOR” POLICY

The Council on International and National Affairs (CINA) has voted to sponsor an academic “open door” policy whereby representatives from various political groups can come to the MSC campus and expound their views. Information and lively discussions are sure to ensue. Although there might be question in the minds of some as to the advisability of such a plan, the MONTCLARION feels the immediate danger inherent in such a proposal is minimal. Freedom of speech is one of the basic rights upon which this country was founded. If Communists, Fascists, Klu Klux Klaners, Catholics, Jews, Protestants or John Birchers wish to have their voices heard, they have a basic constitutional right to do so. And their listeners have the same right to listen or not to listen. One is never forced to hear and believe what he doesn’t want to.

In the same vein, this right to express one’s beliefs is also a privilege and, as such, must not be abused. If disorderly outbursts of any kind take place because of the misuse of CINA’s proposed policy, then the MONTCLARION will be forced to condemn such future activities.

DISCOURTESY

Courtsey is something which can be intrinsic to one’s personality, a result of his upbringing and personal beliefs. However, because it is the type of human virtue which can so easily be acquired, it is with this in mind that this editorial is written.

Witness to the deficiency in the exercise of this virtue was the recent senior class meeting of Sept. 26. Harry Kuhn, senior class president, called the meeting to explain his project “Survive and Revise,” which is directed at airing student gripes to the administration. The meeting was at an inopportune time and was long and drawn out, but students with real and sincere complaints would have made the effort.

New Jersey seems to be a city of strikes these days. With teachers, cabdrivers, garbage collectors, policemen, longshoremen making more and more demands, it is doubtful whether anyone anywhere is satisfied with anything.

Last spring’s “open door” policy whereby women were permitted into the men’s dormitories on alternate Sunday afternoons has not yet been reintroduced this year. The MONTCLARION wonders why this policy has been discontinued after only five months of existence.

BUILDING WHAT?

It is always interesting to learn of new college construction developments and of future expansion plans for Montclair State College.

However, when building plans are held up as a result of the Montclair New Jersey state building procedures there is great discouragement on the part of the entire campus. It is even more disheartening to discover that Partridge Hall, a 30 room, four story classroom building containing no laboratories or specially equipped classrooms, is estimated to be completed in January 1970.

This will be 19 months from the time construction was begun.

If there is apathy, discouragement or lack of faith in what is being told to the student as opposed to what is being done, this feeling is well understood.

When we finally enter the Partridge Hall of learning and leave behind the shabby rooms of Annex 2, perhaps then we will regain our optimism about what is happening physically to MSC.

RAMBLINGS II

The recent Board of Trustees meeting on Friday showed the willingness on the part of the administration to discuss student gripes. And once again few students, including three MONT YEAR’D reporters, attended the meeting. Granted, the meeting was at an inopportune time and was long and drawn out, but students with real and sincere complaints would have made the effort.

The change has already been approved by a representative group of faculty, students and administration. Before the final decision is made by the Board of Trustees, however, I would like to give the entire student body and faculty an opportunity to react to this proposed change in the end-of-year Baccalaureate/Commencement of ceremonies, please send a note to my office.

BOND ISSUE

I am worried about the fate of the 1960 Bond Issue for Higher Education. Some of my friends insist that there is no reason for anxiety; they point out that there is no opposition to the Bond Issue – both political parties are in favor of it. Even the New Jersey Taxpayers Association (a group normally conservative in its approach to expenditures) is backing the drive. The New Jersey Association of Manufacturers, the State Chamber of Commerce and many local Chambers of Commerce are also backing the Bond Issue for Higher Education.

I remain concerned, however, that we would be foolish to assume that our Bond Issue will glide through to passage without a fight. New Jersey does not have a commendable record in spending money allocated for higher education in the past some college bond issues have been defeated. Some political leaders are actively campaigning for the Bond Issue, yet the great mass of politicians are passive in their attitude toward the issue. National political trends, as they can be discerned from the polls, will also make one wonder whether this is a good year for passage of a Bond Issue.

General apathy is the greatest source of opposition. This issue is so easy to dismiss. In my opinion the man in the street just doesn’t know anything about the higher education predicament in our state and what is more, he doesn’t really care. If the citizens of our state go to the polls ill-informed and unconcerned, I can guarantee that they will not vote for the Bond Issue.

Montclair State College is due to receive 8.4 million dollars for new buildings and campus development if the Bond Issue passes. I appeal to all students to work vigorously for its passage. Our college and higher education in general will be in an emergency state if this Bond Issue fails. If we do not actively campaign for it, friends and relatives – ring door bells – I predict that the Bond Issue will not pass. Unless we start working now, we will have no one to blame but ourselves.

GRADUATE SCHOOL ASPIRANTS URGED TO PLAN AHEAD

Anyone preparing himself for admission to graduate school should be sure he has fulfilled all the requirements in advance. Among other things, many graduate schools now require scores from the Graduate Record Examination. The deadline for these tests is October 26 and December 14 in 1968 and on January 18, February 22, April 26, and July 12 in 1969. Individual applicants should be sure that they take the test in time to meet the deadlines of their intended graduate school or graduate department or fellowship granting agency. Early registration also ensures that the individual can receive his choice and without having to pay the three dollar fee for late registration.

The Graduate Record Examinations in this program include an Aptitude Test of general scholastic ability and Advanced Tests of Achievements in 22 major fields of study. Candidates determine from their past academic record, graduate schools or fellowship committees which of the examinations they should take and when they should be taken.

Full details and forms needed to apply for the GRE are contained in the BULLETIN OF INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES. If this booklet is not available on campus, you may request one from Educational Testing Service, Box 955, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; 990 Green Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201 or 1947 Center Street, Berkeley, California 94704.

Jersey Corruption Is Real
Don't Just Try to Prove It

If someone were to write a history of New Jersey, two centuries from today, it would be a pity to leave out a chapter dealing with corruption on the city and state levels. In all probability, the entire course of history in our time changes daily by the mere fact that corruption does exist, but don't dare try to prove it.

By the way, is corruption serious? The professor failed to produce facts necessary to blow the top of the kettle off.

It has been said that the State's Commission of Investigations would provide the necessary details through a Senate study. But what some senators do can be the topic of another study, at any rate.

On the local level, it has been claimed by Daily Leger that Rep. Cornelius Gallagher Bayonne "was a tool and collaborator of a Cosa Nostra ganglord". Gallagher, who portrays a "liberal" in Congress, was said to have been asked by "Bayonne Joe" Zicarelli, reputed Mafia figure, to halt a gambling crackdown by police in Bayonne, a city with a reputation.

And in Newark, Police Commissioner Dominick Spina has been indicted by a grand jury for permitting illegal gambling to take place in one city. A professional gambler in Newark told this reporter that "most bookies aren't afraid of the cops any more. In fact, he added, "some cops even make good money."

Mayor Being Investigated

The mayor of Newark is also in hot water. The Governor's Special Commission has been indicted by a grand jury for permitting illegal gambling to take place in one city. This commission, which is considered to be the worst grade and has the most fun simultaneously.

The administration need fear no Mark Rudd at Montclair State College. New Jersey can, like Columbia cannot happen here because the students simply will not act as fellow action. It is notable that the only demonstration of any note to occur recently at Montclair, last spring's moratorium, was supported and to a large extent organized by the administration.

The pervasive illusion that events in the world do not effect our lives is being shattered in a harmless show of immaturity. It is dangerous and self-destructive. Today's students, friends, and sweethearts are being killed in a war based on a foreign policy which is generally considered to be erroneous. Tomorrow, you may be fighting in Vietnam.

Today, the writer finished his studies in 1966, it took the government fifteen months to deal with the situation, but this seemed to him to the combat zone. Now, because of greater efficiency and expanded space, we would have you there in fifteen minutes, two weeks and one day you could be dead — killed in a war that you thought was less important than a pinocchio game.

Dr. Pratt Looks To MSC's Future
He Sees Montclair As a University

by DON PENDELEY
Staff Reporter

All-encompassing, yet vague, this week's "resident planner for fact academic affairs" has definite plans for the future of MSC. He believes that the student should realize his full academic and creative possibilities.

"I want to raise questions," said Dr. Pratt, "and then assess what Montclair State's position should be."

This aspect of questioning and creating has also become the driving force in his off-campus life. During his studying at degrees from different people and his travel to the field of liberal arts, where, for example, Spanish majors would spend time in a Spanish-speaking area and chemistry majors would become temporary research assistants; and 3) student-invented, student-led organizations for the accomplishment of whatever movies students wish to accomplish, ranging from the improvement of ghetto, to the creation of discussion groups and the changing of administrative rulings.

Dr. Pratt claims: "A college must make every student live up to the total creative urge he has. It is to this end that Dr. Pratt will strive."

Dramatic Seminars Highlight Newman

The Newman Community of MSC recently began its fall semester program for seminars "to dramatize the changing role of the relationship between the sexes on all levels and religion, have lost their holds upon his life. The young generation of today is thrust into a wilderness as dangerous to his life as any physical wilderness encountered by his pioneer ancestors. It is therefore appropriate that Vance Packard has given the title The Sexual Wilderness to his book about the struggles of today's youth. He discusses the changing role of the relationship between the sexes on all levels including companionship, sexual intimacy, marriage, divorce, and child rearing. Using concrete and always interesting examples, Mr. Packard has not only illuminated his topic but also states the problems we may face in the future and the ways society may solve these problems.

From a personal viewpoint, this book can be a guide for any college student who fears his problems with the world and with the opposite sex are completely unique. This book is not presented as a panacea for the ills of the changing concepts of sex in the individual or in society. It is a journalistic experience of merit which should be included as a guide to all people in our world.

ABC GLADIEUX FOOD SERVICE

is pleased to be on Montclair's Campus and happy to serve the students of this school and other New Jersey state colleges
Being judged on their togas. The watch the participating Greeks fun on Sat., Oct. 5. tomorrow night.

Those Greek organizations participating will begin the evening at 6:30 p.m. with the March of the Banners. Upon the sounding of the horns, the traditional torch will be carried through the campus by one of MSC’s own “olympic runners,” signifying the start of the competition.

The actual race will take place near the football field. Each organization, represented by one toga-clad driver and four “horses,” will compete for the coveted first prize which will be awarded to each first place sorority and fraternity.

Immediately following the contest, there will be a dance in the main gym, with entertainment by the FILET Quartet.

All are invited to see the winners receive their trophy and watch the participating Greeks being judged on their togas. The Greeks invite everyone to spend an evening of entertainment and fun on Sat., Oct. 5. 425 students originally accepted for 1968, only 181 finally elected to attend Princeton University.

A poll of those who declined entrance showed that they did so for a number of reasons: lack of women on campus; an inadequate social atmosphere; and dislike of the club system which prevails.

The question facing Princeton and other all-greek colleges is simple: Do we want our women to establish a sister relationship with an all-greek college?

There have been answers to this question, notably at Harvard, Columbia, Brown, Cornell and University of Pennsylvania. The first three have sister colleges while the last two have gone co-educational.

"Burden of Women"

But progress at the other institutions has been slow because of administrative neurosis. The alumni of the all-greek schools want to retain their individuality and aloofness while the all-girl schools are striving to lose their identity. Mr. Arthur Horton, an administrator at Princeton, feels that the "charisma which is Princeton" will be squashed by the burden of women.

However, both faculty and students overwhelmingly feel that the Gibbs would improve the intellectual, cultural, social and, of course, moral fibre of the university. Students believe that co-education is a more normal college experience than a sexually segregated one.

Traditionalism is not the force that it used to be. Values are relative qualities and relevant only within the social structure. It appears evident that both the college and the student are changing with the times.

Dr. Young: Students May Be Critical, But They Still Have Faith in Education

Dr. Frederic H. Young, formerly of the MSC English department, gave his last two lectures to the students and faculty on the topics of "The Process of Philosophical Thinking" and "The Product of Philosophical Thought." Dr. Young recently retired from the English faculty after 20 years of service as professor of English and dean of the college. He is a professor of philosophy and religion on the "World Campus Afloat," a vessel of S. Pierce, a 20th century New England lawyer.

Lecturing in foreign lands is no new experience to Dr. Young, having served as a visiting professor and lecturer in Innsbruck, Munich, West Berlin, southern California, Mexico, Australia, New South Wales and India. He has also written two books, the PHILOSOPHY OF HENRY SIDGURTHA, DEMIAN and STEPPENWOLF. In conclusion, Dr. Young stated that he "real faith that the students of today will, in general, meet the demands of a more complex society. The student of tomorrow is not better, than the present older generation."

At students, administrators, and faculty are requested to participate in the "Experiment." Even though the letters will be personally written, no individual will be questioned or intimidated because of his convictions. The senior class president re-iterates that "we shall educate rather than be educated."

The Experiment is the student's way of voicing his support of the "Charisma which is Montclair." The word "Charismata" is defined as the "ability to create a group which is charismatic and attractive to others."

In conclusion, Dr. Young stated that he "expresses real faith that the students of today will, in general, meet the demands of a more complex society. The student of tomorrow is not better, than the present older generation."
Terry Orlick New Gymnastics Coach

William P. Dioguardi, director of athletics at Montclair State College, has announced the appointment of Terrance (Terry) Orlick as head gymnastics coach at Montclair State College. Orlick will succeed William Savering, who resigned recently to accept a coaching position with the United States Naval Academy.

A native of New Jersey, Orlick comes from a family long interested in gymnastics. Outstanding as a high school athlete at Weehawken and Henry Hudson Regional High Schools, Orlick lettered in wrestling and captained the Weehawken High team in his junior year. As a senior, he transferred to Henry Hudson lettering in gymnastics and track. He was New Jersey Inter-scholastic Athletic Association, champion in floor exercise in 1963.

He received a full scholarship to Syracuse University and worked all around and trampoline, leading the team as captain in his senior year. Throughout his undergraduate years, and while earning his master's degree at William and Mary College, Orlick remained on the Dean's list. While at William and Mary he was assistant gymnastic and diving coach.

Throughout his gymnastic career, Terry Orlick has won a host of gymnastic titles. He met his wife, the former Cathy Payne, through their mutual interest in gymnastics. They now reside in Upper Montclair.

SPORTS VIEWS
By JOHN DANTONI
MONTCLARION Sports Editor

The annual bloodletting affectionately termed intramural football, has once again returned to Montclair State College. This year the program shows several innovations with the field of teams being expanded from 12 to 16, and with the establishment of two leagues (American and National) and two divisions (East and West) of four teams within each league.

With the scraping of the fraternity and independence league setup of the past, competition should be keener and leagues even more matched. Games are played on the baseball field and on the lawn in front of Webster Hall on Mondays at 5:15 and 6:00 p.m. and are well worth watching.

Montclair State's gridders finally clicked on a TD toss as sophomore quarterback Ken Tecza hit end John McNulty with a 20-yard scoring strike. However, it was too late to prevent a 34-14 drubbing by Delaware State.

On the national front, the World Series will be moving into Detroit by the time this article appears, and the first Gibson-McLain showdown will be in the record books. However, I am still willing to go out on a limb and pick the Cards to tame the Tigers in seven games. Bob Gibson will lead the way by winning three games and driving away into the sun with his third SPORTS MAGAZINE sports car, presented to the most valuable Singles player.

Though I pick the Cardinals, the Series will be exciting — far more than what can be said about the recent overall baseball season. In this year of the pitcher, the American League found itself setting unwanted batting records such as having Carl Yastrzemski as the only .301 hitter in the circuit. Carl's .301 average was also the lowest ever to win league honors.

Pitchers, on the other hand, had a picnic with nine men posting earned run averages under 2.00. As recently as 1961, Robin Roberts captured the E.R.A. crown with a 3.01 mark. In 1968 no fewer than 60 pitchers E.R.A.s were lower than Roberts' standard.

Although Christmas still seems far off the New Jersey Kiwanis are already working hard on the third annual New Jersey Kiwanis Basketball Classic.

The playoffs, formerly known as the Northern New Jersey Kiwanis Basketball Classic, will again be held in Panzer gym of Montclair State on Dec. 26 through Dec. 30. Montclair State will again participate, with the Indians seeking their third straight championship.

Indoor track buffs will do well to leave Jan. 24-25 open on their calendars, as the United States Track and Field Federation has set these dates for a spectacular Texas-style meet in the Astrodome.

The meet, termed as the "Astrodome-Federation National Relay Championships" will be held on the world's largest indoor banked wood track, a one-fifth mile oval. The big track will permit a full 100-yard dash to be run inside the oval — all in full view of the spectators.

MSC Pool Opened
To Montclair Public

"We must develop the desire of people to use the facilities at MSC," explained Bill Dioguardi, concerning the opening of the MSC pool to Montclair city residents this summer.

Through the efforts of Montclair mayor, Matthew G. Carter and Dr. Thomas Richardson, MSC's pool was made available to Montclair residents for nine days.

This arrangement was made in connection with Montclair's summer program in which five pools throughout the city of Montclair were secured for use by citizens of the community. Of the five pools, MSC's had the highest average attendance and was principally used by families while the other four pools attracted youngsters.

Mr. Dioguardi, director of athletics at MSC, said that the turnout during these days was encouraging — over 200 persons per day — and this increased the possibility of extending this program each year.

Mr. Dioguardi also stated that the physical education department is pleased with the reaction of students, faculty, and Montclair residents to the program.

Howard Doyle

Football Players Boil Under New Coach Doyle

By TOM BENN

Sports Staff

Just what kind of man is Howard Doyle? To different climbers, and to some he seems backfield, he is “Coach Doyle,” would have to know who he is. To Montclair State varsity offensive unit which finds but one Jim Smith at defensive tackle.

This defense led Montclair State's fine second half showing although it allowed only two touchdowns and the last four contests as the Indians closed with three straight wins.

It will be up to John Gardi, a junior quarterback, to help avoid miscues. If Gardi can use his flock of power runners (led by Greg Burkhardt, Frank Perry, Jerry Waller, Tim Poor and Tony Valpone) to get close to opponents' line, kicker Dan Rodgers will probably do the rest.

Rodgers, one of the nation's best place booters, goes into the current campaign as the all-time MSC kicker with eight extra points. In two years. Dan Rodgers will probably do the rest.

The 1968-69 Intramural program swung into action on Monday with an eight game football schedule. Surprisingly the offense stole most of the show as four squads managed to tally three or more touchdowns. Defense, however, still was proven as the name of the game with shutouts being posted in six of the eight contests. The scores: AMERICAN LEAGUE - Eastern Conference - Faculty-Try 12 - mountaineering. Perhaps his biggest feat in that field has been his conquest of Mount Blanc, the highest peak in Europe. Mount Blanc is located in the French Alps. This past summer was spent in the far West, climbing peaks in Colorado, California, Utah and other states.

His appointment to Montclair State's staff was not his first job. He spent two years at Westwood Junior High School, where his football team won fourteen out of fifteen games in two years, losing only once by a single point.

His immediate superior at MSC, Coach Hank Ferris, seems quite pleased with the work of Doyle and describes him as "a tremendous asset to the team."

"He's got a very impressive background," says Ferris. "He's very good with the kids; he is knowledgeable and is a very personable man. I just can't say enough nice things about him."

Several of the players hold a somewhat different view, though they say they've been impressed with his coaching ability. Greg Burkhardt, sitting on the sideline during a recent practice, describes Doyle as "a quiet person. He doesn't like to smile much."

"He seemed to agree with some things," says John Gardi, "and anything can happen."

Freshmen Gridders Open Against Rutgers Tonight

Tonight Montclair State College will field the first freshman football team in its history as the young Indians play host to the Rutgers University Frosh in an 8:00 p.m. contest at Sprague Field.

Unfamiliar and meticulous scouting has produced one of the finest groups of freshmen football players ever to enter MSC. The intensity of the search for talent can be seen in the fact that the players represent 32 high schools from throughout the state of New Jersey, three of whom received All State first team honors in high school. This first freshman team ever fielded for Montclair will be led through the season by Tom Tenta, who was very successful in recent years at Belleville High.

Although the starting quarterback has not yet been selected, Coach Tenta has two highly competent players to choose from in Bob Brewer and Ron Gara. A couple of players to watch are Jules Galtic, a 5-8, 180 pound middle guard from Irvington, and Lorry Adams, a 6-2, 200 pound linebacker from Uniondale.

Another scrimmage standout is Pete Contalde, a linebacker-center from Bayonne who weighs in at 210. With standouts in every area, Montclair students should be able to exact great things from their freshman team.

The first game is tonight so get out and support your team. The schedule is:

Oct. 4 - Rutgers, 8:00 p.m.; 11 - East Stroudsburg, 2:00 p.m. (A); 19 - Central Conn., 2:00 p.m. (A); 25 - Southern Conn., 2:00 p.m.; Nov. 1 - C. W. Post, 3:00 p.m. (A).
