Homecoming ’68 Starts Tonight

Campus Robberies
Net $325 in Cash

By DAVID M. LEVINE

A series of two robberies with losses totaling nearly $325 was discovered on Life Hall on Mon., morning, Oct. 28.

According to SGA treasurer Stan Jakubik, receipts totaling $240 from a CINA-sponsored dance held Saturday evening were robbed from a locked cabinet in the CINA-VWMS office in Memorial Auditorium on Sun., Oct. 27. CINA chairman Fran Cripps was not available for comment.

In another incident, Mrs. Doris Asdal, director of the Faculty-Student Cooperative, reported that cash was stolen from a locked cabinet sometime during the weekend at the Fishbowl located in Life Hall lobby.

According to Mrs. Asdal, "there may be a definite link between the two incidents" and the police of Little Falls and Montclair are currently investigating the situation.

According to Jakubik, there is no evidence to show that the locks at the CINA office and the Fishbowl were forced open. In the CINA office, however, the cabinet containing the receipts was apparently ripped open. "Fingerprints were smeared and could not be deciphered," claimed the SGA treasurer.

In a letter to the editor of the MONTCLAIR CIN, chairman Karl Niebala was elected to the post of SGA treasurer.

Ralph Riccardi, an off-campus English major from Cliffside Park, was elected to the presidency of the class of ’72 in the recent freshman class elections. Upon hearing of his victory, he was extremely excited and quite surprised by the huge margin by which he won. Ralph had 244 votes while the closest contender had 77.

Upon reflection, however, Ralph began to appreciate the responsibility and hard work that comes with such an undertaking. He hopes he will be a capable leader, and he is eager to begin the organization of his class. The new president has no time to spare. As in the past, the freshman class is participating in Homecoming by building a float and organizing the bonfire-pep rally for tomorrow night.

The vice-president of the class of ’72 is John Walker, a speech major from Hackensack and Tom Benn, an English major and dorm student from Lakewood.

Gary Puckett and the Union Gap, the headliners of Sunday’s Homecoming concert.

In a unique concept for Montclair State, students are being asked to participate with the faculty in the changing of the Montclarion’s Mock Presidential Election, won by Republican candidate Richard Nixon, with 40 per cent of the vote.

In Curriculum Changes

Proposals on Curriculum Changes have been instituted within the framework of current departmental course structures.

A. The establishment of “experimental sections” within a course.

In such sections the subject would be taught in a manner uncommon to Montclair. Tutoring, seminars and independent research would be used, depending on the will of the students and faculty.

B. New courses, or additions to existing courses, will be adopted. Examples are courses in urban sociology and Negro history.

C. New practices will be innovated within existing courses. Students will be encouraged to propose changes to professors on methods in teaching courses. Professors can also initiate change.

D. Two separate courses will be correlated. Courses such as history and science will be scheduled back to back. The history professor will teach what influence science has had on history, and the science professor will teach what influence science has had on history.

A new walkway has been constructed from the center of campus to Valley Road. Father Davis, college chaplain, refers to this construction as temporary cement block structures.

Gary Puckett and the Union Gap, the nationally famous rock-soul music group, will perform in concert tonight at 8 p.m. This is one of the highlights of the MSC Homecoming weekend. At 10:30 p.m., the Homecoming parade begins at 2 p.m. and will wind its way through the streets of Upper Montclair. The main attraction of the parade will be the marching of the nationally famous MUCHACHOS DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS. The parade will be formed to hammer out the details of the approved proposals.

The proposals are as follows:

Proposal One-Curriculum and Changes

A. The establishment of new courses such as history and science will be scheduled back to back. The history professor will teach what influence science has had on history, and the science professor will teach what influence science has had on history.

B. New courses, or additions to existing courses, will be adopted. Examples are courses in urban sociology and Negro history.

C. New practices will be innovated within existing courses. Students will be encouraged to propose changes to professors on methods in teaching courses. Professors can also initiate change.

Greeks Donate $385 For Library Purchases

The "Meet the Greeks" dance held in September was so successful that Sprague Library has received a donation of $385 from the proceeds. The inter-fraternity and inter-sorority councils of MSC sponsored the affair as a first annual joint venture. This donation has set a precedent for the following "Meet the Greeks" dances. Each year the profits will be donated to the library for a different area.

Neither Joan McCafferty, president of ISC, or Kurt Epps, president of IFC, expected such a large turnout for the dance. Over 600 people attended. The two organizations decided to do something with the extra money that would show that the Greeks want to benefit the campus. They contacted Dr. John Beard, representing Sprague Library, who accepted the donation.

This year, the $385 will be used to buy books in the field of English. Joan and Kurt said that English was chosen because it is a broad field that everyone could profit from, even non-majors.

Dr. Beard estimated that the money will purchase approximately 75 volumes. He stated that perhaps they will be books not usually bought with regular budget funds. Miss Gibson, library science coordinator, will work with Joan and Kurt in the selection.

Dr. Beard added that the Greek spirit of service would immediately benefit the entire college. They contacted Dr. John Beard, head librarian of Sprague, who accepted the donation.

According to Shanker, the way to advance blacks and Puerto Ricans is to give them the opportunity to obtain jobs, houses and a good education. Teachers get the blame for the deficits of our society while actually they dedicate themselves to the betterment, despite their lack of salary.

Salaries Not Key Issue
Salary, however, is not the key issue. Shanker says that civil and professional rights are at stake.

"There is not enough radicalism, if radicalism serves to further the cause of the majority of the society. We have to turn the civil rights movement around to a new direction," concluded Shanker, as the crowd of local New Jersey teachers and students received him with a standing ovation.

In the question and answer period following the lecture, Shanker asked why Mayor Lindsay is still hurting the students of New York but "schools will be open in New Jersey.

Soul Dinner

Food, Philosophy and Music

By PAT PEPIN

Soul is a trumpet walk. Soul is a city street filled with sight and sound — polyrhythms of people doing their own thing. Soul is honest self-expression. It has no color barriers, but it seems to come naturally to blacks.

"Soul," says Claude Brown, "is being true to yourself... to what is you. Soul isn't put on — it just comes out."

And expression of soul is what it's all about on the Montclair State campus — you only have to look for it. Those who attended the First Annual Soul Dinner Oct. 17, found it.

Sponsored by the Black Organization for Success in Society (BOSS), a newly-created organization for black unity and campus involvement, the Soul Dinner was both a fund-raising event and an attempt at introducing soul to the campus community. Response from over 600 students, faculty and administrative members who bought tickets was enthusiastic, especially about the food. Cornbread, fried chicken and black-eyed peas were familiar items on the menu. Collard greens, hog maws and chitlins were unfamiliar foods to many who attended. All represented the best in soul food — tastefully prepared by ABC Caldeaux Food service cooks who volunteered their services.

Also donating their services were the kitchen help and all who entertained, including the five-piece band led by Bill May. BOSs hopes to become the center for black activities on the MSC campus, accomplishing black unity through soul.
Faculty Student Co-op
Innovates Fishbowl

By COLLEEN DELANEY

Do you ever get hungry between classes? Do you ever want to buy a magazine, cigarettes or just a piece of bubble gum? Well, if you have been answering yes, maybe the "new" Fishbowl in Life Hall will appease your needs. The Fishbowl is the faculty-student Co-op sponsored store, which was recently reconstructed and now sells a variety of products. "We have 43 brands of cigarettes, over 50 varieties of candy, and popular magazines and THE NEW YORK TIMES," explained a store employee.

Mrs. Jean Heke, supervisor, commented PLAYBOY Magazine and Marlboro cigarettes seem to be leading in sales right now, but each day the sales increase in all items. The store seems to be answering well. "We have an energetic and hard-working bunch of students working for us too." The 12 student employees are paid through the profits of the store.

Mr. Jon McKnight, the director of Life Hall, pointed out that the objective of the Fishbowl is "service to the students and the faculty. The new Fishbowl will enable students and faculty to buy cigarettes and candy more conveniently than having to go two or three miles to a store," Mr. McKnight concluded.

The Fishbowl is open every day from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. except on Sunday where there are tentative plans for the store to remain open during brunch. Suggestions for keeping the Fishbowl open during plays and lectures that take place at night are also being considered.

A COMMUNITY AFFAIR

If one drives down Valley Road into the center of Upper Montclair, he will notice a large banner strung across the street, reading

"Upper Montclair State College, Homecoming, Nov. 1-3, 1968." This is just one of the physical manifestations of the support which the Town of Montclair is enthusiastically giving to the college’s annual event.

In years past, the floats entered in competition would parade through town, this being the extent of community support. But this year, with stores donating gifts, placing ads in programs, and sponsoring the drift, MCS’s Homecoming is truly a college and a community enterprise.

The town of Montclair and its mayor, Matthew G. Carter, are to be thanked for their concern and interest in this special college event.

WALK ON THE WILD SIDE

The traffic situation on campus may be MSC’s worst problem; however, the pedestrian situation is running a close second.

Reference is made to the area behind the fine arts building where there are no sidewalks running parallel with the roadway.

Many times, especially at the rush hours of 8 and 9 a.m. and 4, 5 and 6 p.m., the rush of students walking in the roadway is hazardous to both driver and pedestrian.

The sidewalk itself becomes a sidewalk running parallel to the roadway. The sidewalk would run behind Sprague Library, in front of the fine arts building and even pass in front of Partridge Hall.

The sidewalk would alleviate the aggravation faced by the community as the students try to exit off of campus through a mass of pedestrians and it will also relieve the pedestrian of walking either next to the moving vehicles or through the MSC mud.
RE: TRY FUNDING

To the Editor:

An article appearing in the Oct. 4 issue of MONTCLARION indicated that direct financial aid in tuition in New Jersey's state colleges was being used to assist programs for the disadvantaged. In view of this published statement, it seems appropriate to submit to you and your readers some of the facts about the funding of Project TRY.

Project, Talent Research for Youth, is a state-wide proposal under a federal program called, "Contracts to Encourage Full Utilization of Educational Talent," designed to cut down on the number of persons failing to develop their talents through education because of lack of personal financial resources.

Montclair's program met with such success as to warrant refunding for the 1968-69 year under the same contract. Part of the success was the locating, identifying and placing in college of over 700 persons who were judged to have capacity to profit from a college education but who probably would not not have enrolled this fall without the kind of encouragement and assistance offered through TRY. Fifty-five of these 300 plus are attending Montclair full time this fall, another indication of our evening division on a part time basis.

Financial assistance for these two groups of students at Montclair comes from three sources: 1) The New Jersey State Educational Opportunity Fund, E.O.F., 2) The Federal Economic Opportunity Grant Program, and 3) Private contributions. The E.O.F. monies were authorized in a special act of the Legislature passed in June of 1968. Under the E.O.F. Act, a commitment was made to provide direct assistance for the students already identified under Project TRY to help them meet the regular cost of college attendance, i.e., tuition, books, and room and board where appropriate.

In anticipation of the arrival of an unusually large number of financially needy students this year, the college also applied for and was granted a supplementary award under the Economic Opportunity Act (E.O.G.). This award was over and above that which had already been authorized and was specifically earmarked to match the anticipated E.O.F. Funds.

Direct financial aid for TRY-founded students is thus totally outside of the money normally used for aid at MSC.

GEORGE E. KING
Coordinator of Programs for Disadvantaged Students

To Encourage Full Utilization of Educational Talent, was our proposal under a Federal Economic Opportunity Fund, Educational Opportunity Fund, which normally used for aid at MSC, was thus extended coverage to the TRY students who display the aptitude and indifferent attitude of Montclair students. We must agree with this if you call apathetic students those who do not occupy building, parade around in ridiculous costumes and conspire to overthrow the government of the United States with guerilla tactics.

Why does a perfect size 7 look perfect only 21 days every month?

It has nothing to do with calories. It's a special female weight gain... caused by temporary water-weight build-up. Oh, you know... that uncomfortable full feeling that makes you want to go on the week before your menstrual period. This fluid retention not only plays havoc with your looks but how you feel as well. (It puts pressure on delicate nerves and tissues, which can lead to pre-menstrual cramps and headaches, leaves emotions on edge.)

Today’s most frequently performed opera, written in the 19th century with romantic Victorian values. To change these values to suit present-day standards is difficult and rare. On Oct. 17, with the unveiling of the production of Gounod’s FAUST, the New York City Opera accomplished this task with the assistance of Frank Corso’s exciting direction.

The underlying moral of FAUST is that good triumphs over evil, yet through Mr. Corso’s direction, it became good doesn’t always win. The drama took on a realistic mood quite convincingly. The rather stark, but were in keeping with the mood only convincingly. The rather stark, but were in keeping with the mood of a new production of Gounod’s FAUST, while Faust is held back over evil, yet through Mr. Cosaro’s perform ed operas are those standards is difficult and rare.

The book is good and the music is pleasing. Nevertheless, James Mitchell’s initial directing assignment proved disheartening. The production lacked fluidity, caused by jumbled blocking and poor timing.

The hit of the evening was Dagna, playing a relatively minor role. Accented by a ventriloquist. Dagna is known as the bamboo blonde of early television. She is Mae West personified, or at least tries to be. Her initial appearance in a tight-fitting suit was dandy.

“Don’t you think I look like a big bottle of catapillars?” she asks. As he begins to sing, “The production...”

The book was updated utilizing current politics and fads as gags. Perhaps too much time can be spent cutting qualified performers and creating a polished production.

The hit of the evening was “How To Steal An Election,” with a straight-guy, an Irish Catholic.

The People Vs. Ranchman is a jolting attack on violence and human rights.

Mr. Sinatra is evident in the book.

Owls Down MSC, 36-10
Halfback Friary Stars

By MIKE GALOS

Led by the spectacular running of senior halfback Brian Friary, Southern Connecticut State College defeated the Indians of Montclair State last Saturday, 36-10, in an Eastern Football Conference game at New Haven, Conn.

The Owls jumped out to a quick 12-0 lead on touchdown runs of 6 yards by halfback Vin Ruzza and 1 yard by Dan Nolan, the quarterback.

That lead dwindled to 12-7 when Montclair quarterback Bert Schultz capped a 24 yard drive with a 4 yard TD run around right end and Dan Rodgers added the extra point. The touchdown was set up by a pass interception by Indian linebacker Frank Williams.

After Montclair’s touchdown, Friary took over. He scored from 1 yard out with 1:08 left in the half, 27 seconds later, after Schultz had been intercepted by linebacker Frank Lauria, he went 29 yards to a TD, twirling and breaking tackles along the way. Mr. Friary added a 66 yard touchdown run early in the third quarter and for the day carried the ball 20 times for 148 yards and three touchdowns.

Montclair State’s only other score came on a 28 yard, third quarter field goal by Dan Rodgers.

Alert defense paid off for Southern Connecticut as their defenders picked off 4 MSC passes and recovered two fumbles.

The Indians head into their Homecoming clash against Trenton State Saturday night with an overall record of two wins and four losses, 1-2 in the Conference. Southern Connecticut leads the conference with a 3-0-1 record, 3-2-1 overall, the tie coming at the hands of Trenton State.

Dick Willing: Former Coach And MSC Prof

One of collegiate sports most dedicated men, Dick Willing, passed away Oct. 4 while enroute to attend the Olympic Games in Mexico City.

Willing, who handled both track and cross-country at Montclair State, retired, after active coaching in 1965. However, he maintained his interest in track and cross-country via his participation in the New Jersey AAU in various capacities.

A soft-spoken man who was hardly without his pipe, Willing came to Montclair State in 1947 from Mountain Lakes High School. He was a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

After reactivating cross-country as a varsity sport in 1947, Willing coached the hill and dale squad for 17 years. He did not coach in 1959 while on leave to help the Greek Olympic team prepare for the 1960 games.

One of the major accomplishments of his track career came in 1961 when he led the Indians to the Collegiate Track Conference Championships. The Indians dominated the New Jersey Intercollegiate Track Conference, winning seven straight titles from 1951 to 1957.

Speaking for the department of intercollegiate athletics, Bill DiGregorio, director of athletics, said, "I know of very few coaches who took such a personal interest in their sport as did Dick Willing. He has helped write many outstanding pages in Montclair State athletic history. He was a fine gentleman and scholar. We shall miss him."

The late coach was 57 years of age at the time of his death.

Montclair Monarchs have fallen behind for an arch twilight showdown after each rolled to victories in the Intramural Football Semifinals. The two will meet on Mon., Nov. 4 at 8 p.m. in the first night championship game in the history of Montclair State to determine the grid Iron Championship. Two Lambda Chi Delta at Agora and Lambda Chi Delta for third place honors in the preliminary contest began the evening.

Agora, led by Bill Vrecenak’s three second half touchdown interceptions, coasted to an easy 27-2 win over a TAB team which came up flat for the finals.

Agora, whorolled in the game from the opening play when Agora struck for a long TD bomb to Steve Ackerman, Mike Law’s safety cut the lead to 27-6 in the third quarter and for the day carried the ball 20 times for 148 yards and three touchdowns.

Montclair First—Football Championships Under Lights

By KEN TECZA

A famine has hit Montclair State in cross-country where usually there is an abundance in victories. At the halfway point this season, Coach George Horn’s varsity was still seeking its initial victory. Their record is 0-7 as of Nov. 4.

In the team’s most recent meet before publication, the Hawks of Monmouth College tripped the Indians by a 17-38 score. The best Montclair could do was a fourth place finish by Hibbs. Montclair also had the final four places. The loss to Monmouth was the seventh this season with five meets left to go, including the NAIA championships Nov. 9.

Although Dr. Horn may be going through some of his three of four seasons at Montclair, he is anxiously anticipating the 1969 season, when the Montclair cross-country team is once again expected to be at the top.

The soccer team continued on its winning ways this past week with victories over City College of New York, 2-1 and Paterson State, 3-1, coach Leonard Lucenko, “rose to the occasion” against the New York school.

Montclair goals were scored by Jay Gavitt and John Smith. Joe Saleni did an excellent job on defense.

The Indians’ next foe, Paterson State, was again a winning effort but was somewhat of a letdown after the CCNY game. The three Indians who were able to beat Paterson goalie Tom Dilly were John Smith, Jack Banks and Jay Gavitt.

So far the Indians seem to play their best game against tough competition. With lesser opponents, Paterson State, the Indians allowed their overconfidence by taking some wild shots. Coach Lucenko feels the team must be consistent against all opponents and while this may be difficult it is essential in winning.

The Indian’s next opponent, Fairleigh Dickinson, will provide plenty of good competition with the Indians looking for their sixth win against only one loss.
