Dormitories Unite in Face Of Planned $200 Increase

By Pat Hanrahan

MSC dormitory students are banding together in a unified protest against the proposed $200 increase in state college dormitory rents. This raise was brought to the attention of students and administration at a meeting of dorm council members and resident assistants in Grace Freeman Hall last Thursday night.

President Thomas Richardson had received word from Trenton earlier in the day about the imminent price rise. It is up to the State Board of Higher Education to determine if the new fees will go into effect. A discussion and subsequent vote by the board will take place this Friday in Trenton.

Student reaction has come in many forms, from dormitory resolutions urging the State Board to consider the problem further, to buttons and banners proclaiming, "Hell, no, we won't pay." The administration is working with the students in their fight to make the feelings known to the state.

One of the student leaders in the fight is Jesse Young, a resident assistant of Webster Hall. Young thought it necessary for Webster residents to know of the impending price increase.

hike. After the Freeman meeting, at approximately 10-30 p.m., he called a general meeting of Webster residents. Stone Hall was alerted as well as members of the women's dormitory council.

The combined group met with Dean Lawton Blanton, Mr. Richard Taubald (men's housing) and Miss Doris Reinhardt (women's housing) until the early hours of the morning. Young, together with a small group of students composed of the first draft of a dorm resolution. It is their wish that this resolution be presented in person to the State Board before the vote occurs.

The completed resolution states five reasons which the students assert make the rent hike unjust. Among them is their contention that there is no guarantee that the increase will result in improvements to the present dorms. According to Mr. Vincent Calabrese, director of business services, all monies from the dorms will go into a "general pot" for all state colleges. Another reason cited by the resolution is the fact that it is through the state's negligence that needed facilities were not built long ago, at a time when the costs could be spread out.

Frank Cripps, a Webster resident and a member of SGA, complained that needed dorms that should have been built years ago, are being planned now. It is unfair, he claims, that the students should have to pay for the state's negligence. The resolution also states the possibility that the dorms, both new and old, will not be filled since most students have attended state colleges due to lower costs than other colleges.

In the resolution it is proposed that the Board of Higher Education establish "means of communication between the students, faculty and administration of MSC through the office of the President." The needs and problems of the existing dorms should be considered before new facilities are built, it states, as well as a recommendation that it is more feasible to have a gradual increase.

At a meeting of about 40 students and administrators last Friday in Dean Blanton's office, opinions were voiced. Mary Jean Agnusday, president of the women's dormitory council, endorsed Jesse Young's resolution. As to the increase, "We can't afford it."

Kathy Senner, a junior English major living in Chapin Hall, answers that $200 is "too much." She continued to say that she couldn't see using the money on "buildings we will never see."

Blanton admitted that "We're going to have to help students get money." He mentioned the $1,090 rent bill of Rutgers students but stated that they have good facilities while MSC's are poor. MSC students pay $818 a year for room and board at present.

Calabrese revealed that this would be a statewide increase. MSC, Glassboro and Trenton all have proposed new dorms. Alice Gertz, 1970, said "This is going to be a bad increase because loans and scholarships are being cut down."

Calabrese reminded those present that, "Every generation helps to support the rest."

Stated Frank Cripps: "We want some kind of equity. I don't care if the raise went to something concrete. Something has to be done now." He mentioned the needed repairs in the present dorms: broken furniture, poor insulation and needed facilities. Calabrese admitted that a gradual increase would be better.

A bill was presented to the SGA yesterday by Cripps, Tom Benn, Bonnie Miller, Jan Domanski and Mark Rudnick. Included in it is the assertion that the raise is merely an added burden on a minority of students without an equal return. The possibility of increased off-campus rents was also revealed as an outgrowth of the dorm hike.

The bill states that the State Board of Higher Education is not sufficiently aware of the situation.

At a meeting with student representatives and administrators on Friday evening, Richardson called the proposed SGA bill "excellent." Of the dorm resolution, he stated it was "completely in order," especially the fourth point which blames the state for past negligence in the building of facilities.

SGA Election Scheduled

Committee Report

Campus Security Inadequate
By Rich Kamencik
News Editor

The Security Investigation Committee of the Student Government Association (SGA) has published an initial report which includes various recommendations. Essentially, this report conveys the impression that campus security is far from adequate.

One of the committee's members, Frank Cripps, has stated, "I wouldn't recommend any girl walking around this campus alone at night." Referring to the freshman parking lot and other deserted spots on campus, Cripps also said, "there are areas on campus no one should walk on at night."

The report, entitled "Part I - Formal Security" has broken down "problems of security into three topics, all of which lead back to money."

While the 14-man security force is personally well-qualified, the report asserts that this force is inadequate in size and equipment. It is noted that on the 12:8 a.m. shift, only two men are on duty to protect the campus. The report recommends that the size of the force be increased from 14 to 20. As of this printing, no new men have been hired.

Even though it has limited access to some college vehicles, this report stresses that "security does not have any vehicles of its own." The report calls attention to the fact that "on about five occasions, security has been without a vehicle due to the fact it was either out of gas or had a broken door or a flat."

The main security vehicle, an International Scout, is poorly equipped regarding spotlights, fire extinguishers and first aid equipment. The report urges that security be given the permanent use of one vehicle.

"There is a definite lack of communications between the security men when the campus is locked up as on holidays and from 5 p.m. to 6 a.m. ... intra-campus communication is nil." Since a telephone booth must be used if a lone guard wants to contact the security shed, it is recommended that 2-way radios be immediately issued to all guards and installed in security vehicles.

The committee report also notes that often the security guards are not sufficiently informed as to events that are taking place on campus at night.

The Security Investigation Committee urges that security no longer remain under the jurisdiction of the maintenance department. Instead, the committee states that a separate security unit be formed with its own director, who should be responsible to the Business Manager of MSC.

Faculty members, "who leave doors open after the buildings have been closed," are urged to refrain from abusing their privilege to enter their buildings at any time.

Since MSC is actually located in three towns (Little Falls, Upper Montclair and Clifton), better cooperation is necessary with all the local police departments. The committee report believes that MSC has too often depended on the assistance of the Montclair Police.

There is only one fire alarm box on campus (in Russ Hall) that actually alerts a local fire department. "Needless to say, more fire alarms should be installed."

It is recommended that Life Hall be refitted with new locks. All campus locks should be attended to and repaired more quickly than is done at present.

Finally, the security report feels that the Administration should "set up a manual of rules to be followed by security men...," since there are no official "rules and regulations for them to follow."

On occasion, security guards have asked for I.D.'s from students acting suspiciously at night. Recently, a letter sent from the Administration to the security office stated that students are not to be annoyed at night. Larry Ridpath, the chairman of the Security Investigation Committee, said, "there's always a question of what these men may or may not do" in emergency situations.

Since the guards are not permitted to carry weapons, and are often walking alone on campus, Ridpath hopes, "That the risks the security guards take are appreciated."

Part II of the security report will be tentatively published within the next month. It will deal with the responsibilities of students and organizations regarding the maintenance of security.

CAMPUS SECURITY INADEQUATE
Montclair
Serving the College
Community Since 1928

The several Life Hall thefts and acts of vandalism which took place during the fall semester prompted a seven-member student committee to survey the Montclair State College security system. An extensive report consisting of two parts (part two to be available within the next few weeks) was presented to the SGA legislature for consideration on February 4. The views expressed in the report represent those of the committee, not of the SGA.

As revealed in the recent report of the security investigation committee, the present on-campus security precautions are decidedly lacking. Stemming from an obvious lack of funds and a failure to expand with the overall growing rate of Montclair State College, security has been forced to maintain a 24-hour coverage of the campus by relying on incomplete methods.

The committee sees the security system incomplete in the following three areas: equipment and manpower; structure and procedures; and policies.

Fourteen men are presently employed by the college as guards or security officers. However, only two or three men are available on each shift. And, since these men are responsible for general security of buildings and grounds as well as traffic control and ticketing, it is impossible for them to make frequent, extensive searches of each building.

As for vehicles, the security guards have no one vehicle designated for their use alone. Availability of transportation for security purposes is often questionable, especially during the day when many college departments use maintenance department vehicles.

The structures and procedures of the security system were found to be inconsistent. Specifically, the security officers are not always aware of the events taking place on campus. Access to both buildings and grounds at any hour of the day have been noted.

The policy problem has been directly related to the fact that the administration of the college has not set down specific rules for the security guards to follow. Security authority has not been properly outlined for the guards.

As recommended by the committee, security should be designated as a separate department of the college. Adequate funds for vehicles and manpower are an immediate matter for the college administration to provide.

It is also to be noted that the MONTC LARION editors had an ironic incident relating to the security system. On Sat., Feb. 15 at 11:15 p.m. the front doors of Life Hall were found to be unlocked although no one was in the building.

One of the editors phoned the security office to report this incident but by 5 a.m. no security officer had entered Life Hall to lock the building. However, the guards were available at 1 a.m. to ticket cars on campus. When the director of Life Hall was notified Sunday afternoon concerning the unlocked door, he reprimanded the editor for disturbing him on his day off. He felt that Life Hall seemed to be running quite well despite this obvious security flaw.

Concern? Negligence? Lack of manpower?

All three, combined with the lack of money to provide adequate protection, are placing Montclair State College in a very precarious situation. At present there is not enough security on campus and correction must take place.

The administration would be wise to consider every aspect of the report of the security investigation committee and to institute its recommendations.

Economics Responsible For Closing Newark's Library
By David M. Levine
Managing Editor

Newark is a fascinating city located at the mouth of Bloomfield avenue. Like any other American metropolis of our decade, Newark is troubled with educational, corruption and racial problems which stem in part from shoddy economics.

This past week the City Council voted to shut the eight branches of the Newark Public Library and city museum by April 1 because the municipality can't afford $3 million earmarked for those cultural institutions.

Municipal officials would do well to consider other financial moves. Realistically, Newark's cultural resources are vastly inadequate in relationship to the needs of a city that size. The public library in Newark and its museum are certainly one of the nation's finest. But Councilman Frank Addonizio (no relation to the city's mayor) argues that the library is used mainly by out-of-town residents.

Guss when the first American astronaut lands on the moon and you could win a two-week vacation any place on earth.

That's the basis of a nationwide contest being sponsored by the MONTCLARION and Today, the primary newspaper serving the Cape Kennedy area.

The contest was announced after the successful lunar flight of Apollo 11 by MONTCLARION editor Miriam Taub and Al Neuharth, executive vice-president of the Gannett Group and publisher of Gannett Florida, which includes Today.

Miss Taub and Neuharth said the contest is open to any man, woman or child in the United States and is expected to attract hundreds of thousands of entries over the next several months. The contest will close May 1.

Anyone entering must guess the year, month, day, hour and minute of the first American astronaut steps onto the surface of the moon.

The contest winners will be the first American Astronaut steps onto the surface of the moon, based on Cape Kennedy Time (Eastern Standard Time). The winners will receive a two-week, all expense-paid vacation at Cape Kennedy's Cocoa Beach to view a future space shot.

TO THE EDITOR:

Concerning the editorial entitled, "Wanted SGA Leadership," it is obvious that the editorial writer of the MONTCLARION feels that her views are well-founded, otherwise the statement would never have been made.

However, let us look at the article itself to validate or refute some of its claims: "Your SGA should be a dynamic leadership group which should initiate new programs for the growing Montclair State University." Certain, but the members of the SGA and its leaders (especially myself) are neither magicians nor mindreaders and as such have not the over-impelling capacities to know what programs "bark" deep in the minds of "Mike Montclair" the average MSC student.

Representing the SGA, I apologize to the world for not being able to editorialize on a moments notice concerning any given topic as can the MONTCLARION; however that is not what I consider my place.

It is my place to examine ALL alternatives and possibilities and from these, come up with a workable recommendation to present to the legislature which upon discussion will accept or reject the proposal. Certainly one man cannot handle such a load — hence, a committee. Compiling factual and authoritative data takes time and effort.

The students working on these committees put a great amount of work into their respective projects, after all, how else can one get an encompassing report dealing with all pros and cons? Certainly these reports take time, much time, and a great deal of patience to compile.

The overall solution is not as obvious as I might wish. Ideas for programs can be presented to the SGA president who is always available at sometime on Tuesday or Thursday in the SGA office.

People who wish to help on established committees and programs are also welcome. Maybe if more people were aware of this fact we could accomplish the ends for which I strive.

A comprehensive study of teacher education and certification in New Jersey has been launched by a subcommittee of the State Board of Examiners.

The study was initiated last week (Jan. 30-31) when the committee conducted a series of pre-hearings on concerns and problems regarding teacher certification. The committee now expects to receive the voluminous testimony and position papers which were received at the hearings and from other groups not present, preparatory to presenting any recommendations for action to the full Board of Examiners.

The committee is seeking to study procedures and trends within N.J. and other states concerning requirements and methods of issuing and improving teacher certificates.

The State Board of Examiners has sought the advice of those groups concerned with the educational process before making recommendations to the State Board of Education.

A major concern expressed by those testifying in the hearings was that providing an improved pre-service and in-service supervised student teaching experience or internship for every teacher.

Among other proposals were the reduction of numbers of certificates, regulations which will guard the public interest by maintaining reasonable requirements for teacher preparation, and the provision for flexibility in times of growing change. Many groups urged that teacher trainees should have improved training and experiences for working with children and youth in the inner city.

Jesse James Young: Price Fighter

By Dave Levine

Jesse James Young is a five-year man. He's also a price fighter. According to sources in Trenton, it's apparent that a $200 increase in dorm prices is coming by September.

Obviously disgruntled by Trenton's plans, Young, together with the Men's Dorm Council, has been instrumental in distributing literature showing reasons why a dorm price rise is ludicrous at this time.

"Actually," asserts Young, "we dare any member of the Board of Higher Ed to spend one night here."

Young, a 21-year-old student from Newark, referred to the poor conditions existing on MSC's dorms. "Poor heating, broken furniture and generally bad conditions are prevalent in the dorms," he claims.

Rich Faust: 'Laugh-In' Must Go

By Rich Faust

Staff Reporter

The main problem with American comedians, too frequently voiced by many critics, foreign and domestic, is their assumption that if a joke is funny the first time, it will be twice as funny the second, ad infinitum. If nothing else, "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" reflects this attitude.

No doubt there are usually four or five funny moments each week, but spreading them over an hour is expecting too much from the viewing audience. Each and every old man, teletype line quotes, Dick Martin's promiscuous aunt and Henry Gibson's retarded poetry. The material was never strong enough to warrant constant repetition.

The single outstanding irritation of the program is the distinctly thin material. True, it provides the best chance for the few people involved to deliver their material like fifth-graders who have just learned "what goes" and are snickering in their lunch pails. "Bananas, melons" and practically 70 per cent of those single-word insertions before commercials have double meanings. If their delivery was clever enough, nothing could be better, providing everyone viewing appreciates suggestive humor. But delivery is nonexistent, and a great many people do not like suggestive humor.

The sponsors have fallen in love with "Laugh In's" possibilities, the program ranks high in the nation's minority. And after the Laugh In magazine, there follows Dick Martin's "nonexistent" suggestions for Rowan and Martin's legion of followers.

But just as "Why did the chicken...?" and the myriad of elephant and grape jokes have disappeared from the scene, one can hope that "Laugh In" might have a few more years to run. Other things are the exception, not the rule.

The teaching community considers it protection against unpredictable trends in the educational system. He cited the McCarthy era as an example, "Without the extreme of academic freedom we merely have propaganda mills," he summarized.

Most teachers "value their reputation among colleagues and take pride in a good job." This he feels, offsets the tendency to slough off after obtaining tenure. In cases of proven negligence or misconduct tenure has been broken. He feels cases such as these are the exception, not the rule.

He likened these to the cases of mothers convicted of criminal neglect or child-beating. "Because of these few do we attack motherhood?"

Does sex make you a conformist or a rebellious individual? This is the question that makes sex a slave to society? These and other intriguing questions are being explored in the works of Eugene Ionesco.'s Jack, or the Submission, now part of the evening of three that Players will present for its second production of the season.

Included on the agenda for the evening along with Jack will be Charles Divenzenzo's The Drapes Come and Samuel Beckett's Act Without Words. The plays will be performed in Memorial Auditorium on Feb. 27, 28 and March 1, 3 in the evening with a matinee performance on Feb. 28. All three plays come under the heading of theatre of the absurd and give promise for an interesting evening.

The author of Jack, the Romanian-born Ionesco, began writing for the theatre in 1948. He wrote in French, the language of his adopted country. His first play was called The Bald Soprano which is as much as seven years. Communication initiated in the Harry A. Sprague Dewey Decimal System to the Library of Congress System, Library by Dr. John Beard. This may seem like a paradox, since it is usually considered to be a conformist? Is it lust and desire that drives the producer of the season.

By Donald Rosser
Special to the Montclairion

City dwellers rioted; the poor people demonstrated; students closed their schools; but the biggest blow struck against the 'Establishment' during 1968 was a song entitled "Harper Valley P. T. A." So successful was this humorous piece of social criticism that at least one college professor is analyzing its deeper meanings.

"Doubtless, the underdog syndrome to which Americans are particularly vulnerable is operating here," says Dr. John Jarolimek, chairman of music and instruction at the University of Wyoming. That a "little nobody" can confront "one of society's most sacred institutions, the P. T. A." and win it hands down -- that's the message.

During this period the library will have a split personality. One part will be running Dewey Decimal System while the other part will be operating on the Library of Congress System. This may seem confusing but we are assured by Beard that it should not be.

During this period the library will have a split personality. One part will be running Dewey Decimal System while the other part will be operating on the Library of Congress System. This may seem confusing but we are assured by Beard that it should not be. But if the students should find it too much to handle, they shouldn't panic prematurely -- the librarians are usually there to come to their rescue.

I am delighted that we have people like Mrs. Johnson around," says Dr. Jarolimek, himself a former P. T. A. president. "They keep the rest of us honest."

"Self-righteousness is persistent," says the Old Testament advice, convincing. Let him who is without sin cast the first stone. Says Dr. Jarolimek, "Isn't it that 2,000 years later we find precisely the same message in such an unlikely setting as a meeting of the Harper Valley P. T. A."

"Evidently, self-righteousness is a rather persistent and long-lasting characteristic of human behavior. This, along with the absolutely irrefutable urge to stick one's nose into someone else's affairs (Presumably in the interest of society) combine to make one somewhat optimistic that songs like 'Harper Valley P. T. A.' will be around for a long time."

How to Make a Fortune By Carrying a Torch

By Martin Kasindorf
Newsweek Feature Service

LOS ANGELES — The latest flash from Jimmy Webb's 22-room, Early Rubirosa mansion high atop the Hollywood haze is that Jimmy — and this will amaze you, heartthrob fans — Jimmy may be getting over Susie. Yes, he's that sort of looking at putting Susie plumb out of mind.

That ain't so easy after a felter's carried a torch for four years and made about $2 million flash from Jimmy Webb's music. I mean, any more to me than it means any more to me than it anticlimatic.

I first met Susie, a busty, all-America cheerleader who was only partially successful. She is the cute, blonde, in the album Webb wrote for

Born 22 years ago in the dusty Oklahoma town of Elk City, eldest of seven children of an amalgamated all the brighter. He owns seven high-priced cars, is personally incorporated half a dozen ways and owns a large closetful of expensive Italian fibres.

For a while he scraped by on beans, working for a tiny music publisher, but one day the thoughts of Susie just reared up and came down an hour later as "By the Time I Get to Phoenix." A couple of weeks later "Up, Up and Away" — now TWA's theme song and Webb's mother lode — was in the same way, taking only 35 minutes.

That was a brief 18 months ago, and in the interim Jimmy has amalgamated all the brighter all the way. He owns seven high-priced cars, is personally incorporated half a dozen ways and owns a large closetful of expensive Italian fibres.

A whole generation on film

Reviewed by

Diane Wald

"There's a whole generation," sings Scott MacKenzie at the beginning of D. A. Pennebaker's love-song documentary of the Monterey Pop Music Festival, "with a new explanation — people in motion." The words are delivered with a straight camera — the sincerity of the pop movement at its best. A quality of dedication is evident in both performers and audience that is unequalled in most concert situations.

The film's power comes not so much from the selection of songs (Simon and Garfunkel, for example, do only a disjointed rendition of "Feelin' Groovy"), but from the beautiful sound-snapshots of the artists and audience. Pennebaker builds a sound-screen of lights and faces. Hard lights flood Janis Joplin's sound-scaffold of light and faces. A recently discovered deadpan from the audience on the same screen proclaims: "But from the beautiful beginning of D. A. Pennebaker's years on Broadway is beyond and using a mink stole as a beach towel. It includes youth and divorce from a non-existent wife..."

If, as they promised in concert, they get away from the traditional Union Gap sound, this group may be around for quite awhile.

Cactus' Blooms at Papermill

Reviewed by

Maurice J. Moran

Cactus Flower has found a new home. After three years on Broadway, it graces the stage of the Papermill with Bert Felman in the role of the "cactus" who blooms for love.

The play is basically a re-hash of the comic debut scene. A bachelor dentist, courting a young girl, tells her that he is married. He then has his secretary play the role of his wife. Each deception is followed by a bigger and better one. This includes an imaginary divorce from a non-existent woman and using a mint-stole as a beach towel. It includes youth and idealism expressing contempt in "that dirty s.o.b." And, thank God, it includes Beverly Palmer.

Wasted on the panel of "I've Got A Secret," she reveals all the secrets of this deceptively beautiful and white flutter of Burrows. A word must be said for April Shawhan, the delightful choo-choo who plays Don Bartou, the dentist, with more than her teeth.

How the play lasted all those years on Broadway is beyond imagination. But, it's here now, and if you haven't a play to see, you can still play before it closes on March 23. Or, in the words of the dentist's secretary, "If you're in pain, better make it a week from Thursday."

Incredible

Gary Puckett & Union Gap

Last fall, MSC was graced by Gary Puckett and the Union Gap. Before that, it was the general opinion of this campus that Gary Puckett was the entire band, based on the fact that it is his voice that dominates all four of the hit singles the group has had. Now, it has been discovered that all that is Union Gap is Gary Puckett.

This comes across very well in their latest album, Incredible, on Columbia. Of course, there are new sounds, as in "The Reversal of Possy," a slow ballad, sung by Gary. But, for the first time, the group's best cut is through some very good harmony.

The Country/Western sound comes through when the bass guitar takes over the lead singing. Also, the drummer, formerly of the Good Times, takes over in one cut. Some of the music here is rock, while the music from Bubble Gum music is evident in work other than Gary's harmonies.

If, as they promised in concert, they get away from the traditional Union Gap sound, this group may be around for quite awhile.

Who Knows Where The Time Goes?

Judy Collins

Elektra - $3.95

Folk music will never be the same. Ever since Bob Dylan strutted out on the Newport stage with electric guitars, it hasn't been the same. During a summer tour of concerts, Judy Collins was accompanied by organ, bass and drums. Judy Collins is a folkinger who began nearly five years ago in the anti-war vein. Spurred on by her successful single, "Both Sides Now," she has recently released an album in conjunction with the theme from "The Subject Was Roses," "Who Knows Where The Time Goes.

One of the better cuts on the album is "The First Boy I Loved," a paraphrase of a song by The Incredible String Band. If you can't remember what a first love is like, listen to Judy on this cut. "My Father" is an original by Miss Collins. It's the fanciful tale of moving to France and ending up in the same rut you moved away from.

Touch 'n go Critters

Project 3 - $3.95

What happens to a commercial rock group that begins to explore its musical abilities? If the group happens to be the Critters, it drops out of sight and finds itself on an obscure easy-listening label. Then it offers us "Touch 'n Go," a mixed offering of jazz, soul and rock flavored modern music.

The Critters, after several top-40 successes, under a few personnel changes, now attempt to write and interpret a wider range of music than before. They have done this, while generally preserving their identification with close harmony and beautiful melodies.

Because of the range of this experimentation, the album suffers from a lack of unity. It's a little difficult to associate the opening rock, "Fush 'n Go" and the jazz-oriented "Cool Sunday Morning" (with its Swingin' Singers introduction) with the same group. Perhaps a more unfortunate aspect of the album is the obvious vocal similarity of some numbers to those of the Beach Boys.

Mention should be made of the fine stereo quality of the record. The Project 3 label takes great care in its stereo process with much success.

Hard-core fans of relentless rock won't like this album. Those who thrive on melody and harmony will find it a joy. Pay special attention to "A Moment of Being With You."

The Critters are alive and well somewhere.
Duncan: Autonomy With Restrictions

By Roberta Kuehl

"I do not support S-256," but "I happen to be a decentralizer myself," stated Ralph Duncan, Chancellor of Higher Education, at a press conference held last Wednesday in Trenton.

To queries concerning his college autonomy, Duncan replied that the college presidents are taking off all of the restrictions of the existing laws and replacing them with nothing.

Rather than support S-256, Duncan has drawn up his own bill — similar in ideals yet different in practice. Duncan insists that the State Board of Education set standards to guide the state colleges in their decision making. Regarding the future of his bill, Duncan sees his role as "not administrative," and he looks upon himself as "an intervenor" doing "what's best for N.J. students."

Throughout the conference, the students steadily searched for clarification of Duncan's plans and thoughts by asking both subtle and direct questions. It was felt by most students however, that their questions were not answered satisfactorily.

Stover Named Ass't Dean Of Students

President Thomas H. Richardson has announced the appointment of Raymond M. Stover to the newly created post of assistant dean of students. Mr. Stover will serve as administrative assistant to the dean of students. Lawton W. Blanton, and as coordinator of work in three offices: admissions, academic counseling, and registration.

Stover joined the Montclair State staff in 1962 as an assistant director of students with the rank of assistant professor and last fall was promoted to associate professor. He has completed course work on his doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia, and is at present working on his dissertation on "Student Perception of Residence Halls," using the Montclair State dormitories as a basis for his study.

Community T-Group Series
Initiated by MSC's Gorman

By Richard Kaneniek
News Editor

Montclair was the scene of a day-long sensitivity training experience which brought together 100 representatives of all racial and economic sections of the town.

Dr. Alfred Gorman, professor of education at MSC, directed the training session that occurred on Feb. 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at St. Paul's Baptist Church in Montclair.

Gorman was assisted by the Rev. Murray Maclnness of the National Council of Churches, John Copeland of the National YMCA Board, and Mr. Tete H. Tetens, also a professor of Education at MSC.

Gorman notes that too often members of groups prefer to discuss “topics” rather than share their own experiences with each other in an honest fashion. He said that “we don’t solve inter-racial matters by lecturing” to each other.

World Campus Afloat is a college that does more than broaden horizons.

It sails to them and beyond.

Once again, beginning in October of 1969, the World Campus Afloat program of Chapman College and Associated Colleges and Universities will take qualified students, faculty and staff into the world laboratory.

In-port programs relevant to fully-accredited coursework taught aboard ship add the dimension of personal experience to formal learning.

Classes are held six days a week at sea aboard the s.s. Ryndam which has been equipped with classrooms, laboratories, library, student union, dining room and dormitories.

Chapman College now is accepting applications for the Fall and Spring semesters of the 1969-70 academic year. Fall semesters depart New York for ports in Western Europe and the Mediterranean, Africa and South America, ending in Los Angeles. Spring semesters circle the world from Los Angeles through the Orient, India and South Africa to New York.

NJEA Supports Expansion Of College Lab Schools

RATHER THAN CLOSING "laboratory schools" at the New State Colleges, the state should improve and expand them into true centers of educational research and experimentation, the New Jersey Education Assn. said today.

Most authorities agree that classroom participation is the most effective way to train future teachers, says an editorial in the current edition of the NJEA Review, "the laboratory school is considered an essential educational facility."

Comments the NJEA Review: "The laboratory school, as is type of the laboratory in any academic discipline, is the critical link between theory and learning experiences. Such facilities need dramatic improvement, not displacement."

Questionnaire Sent By Advisory Board

The Off-Campus Advisory Board is seeking help in representing the ever-increasing number of off-campus apartment residents by means of a questionnaire. This questionnaire will also aid in the formation of next year’s housing policies.

The Advisory Board, now going into its third year, was founded for the purpose of aiding all off-campus women students. It represents and assists the women students as well as the Director of Women’s Housing.

The Board takes part in various activities such as parents’ day, freshmen orientation, social hours, housemothers and the publication of a free handbook.

Indians Clinch Conference Title With Romp Over Glassboro State

By Mike Galos

Special to the Montclarion

The Indians of Montclair State clinched their second straight New Jersey State College Athletic Conference Championship on Saturday night, romping over Glassboro State, 99-72, at Glassboro.

Montclair State has captured four conference crowns since the league was formed in 1957.

Balanced scoring was the key to victory with all five starters hitting double figures led by sophomore guard, Harry James,' 19 points. He had an outstanding game, grabbing 19 rebounds and contributing 14 assists along with his 19 points.

The victory was the Indians' seventh in a row and raised their overall record to 17-2, 8-0 in the Conference. More important, the win was another step toward an NCAA small college tournament bid, hopefully the first in MSC history.

Star Fencer Bryer Unbeaten

By James Collins

Dave Bryer, rated the top sabre fencer in the state, has helped to make fencing a fast growing sport in the MSC sports scene. He is unbeaten in dual meet competition with 44 victories. His team spirit and self-determination, depicted in the last three meets where he won eight matches despite a severely sprained ankle, has made him one of the best in the Mid-Atlantic area.

Bryer began fencing as a sophomore at Essex Catholic High under the able direction of Coach Dan Dambella. "As coach go, I'd rate him as the best I've ever had," he remarked. Essex Catholic went on to win the state championships the next three years as Bryer set a school/record in wins with a 149-42 record.

The sophomore special science major summed up his high school days by saying, "I was really for Olympic miler Marty Liquori." When asked to elucidate he smiled and replied, "That's when you set the pace and on the last lap he runs by you and says thanks," adding, "I took a lot of seconds."

One of the surprises of the coming track season could come in the form of a 23 year old transfer from Manhattan College: Paul Drew.

Paul, a native of Harrison, N.J., is a very capable and determined competitor on the track. His ability as evidenced by his record, has brought him invitations to many large meets. Recently, in Madison Square Garden, he competed with Olympic gold medal winner, Willie Davenport. Davenport just missed a world's record in one particular heat finishing a few steps ahead of Paul.

Drew's collegiate accomplishments are supplemented by a sparkling schoolboy career. At St. Benedict's High School in Newark, under "very influential" coaches Fran Murphy and Wayne Letwink, Paul was (by 1963) the N.J. State Prep Champion in the high jump and 60-yard hurldes. Catholic Conference Champion and he held the N.J. state indoor record for the high hurdles.

Frequentl Paul participated in seven events in one meet. He set a school record by scoring 19 points in an outdoor dual meet with Bordentown Military Institute. Paul won the high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, took a second place in the low hurdles and 100-yard dash and threw the shot. As a frosh hurdler under coach John McHugh at Manhattan College, Paul attained the distinction of being Metropolitan Outdoor Hurdle Champion. He participated in many meets including the NYAC meet and the Milrose Games.

Paul looked forward to graduation next year and eventually teaching English. But right now, he has his eye on the coming track season.

NCAA Bound Gymnasts Score High Over West Virginia

By Joe Macaluso

In their first meeting with the University of West Virginia, sporting a 7-3 record, the MSC gymnasts overpowered the visitors 138.79 to 119.61. Although MSC teams are in the small college division, the gymnasts are well on the way to picking up schedules with the larger colleges and universities.

Coach Terry Orlick was pleased with the team's best performance of the season. The score of 138.79 is the highest one since the team was forced to drop trampoline. By surpassing a score of 135 by almost four points, the MSC gymnasts are eligible to compete in the NCAA college division championships to be held late in March at San Fernando Valley State College in California.

Matmen Record 8-1, As Grieco Unbeaten

The Montclair State wrestling team has stormed to an excellent 8-1 record losing only to East Stroudsburg State which has the top small college wrestling team in the country. Captain Jim Grieco is undefeated in dual-meet competition with a perfect 9-0 record while Mike Nuzzo and John Lyons sport fine 8-1 marks followed by Roy Genatt (7-2) and John Bellavia (6-2). The individual overall records are supplemented by their performances at the Oneonta State Invitational, where MSC placed fourth with 41 points. Mike Nuzzo was the only first place winner.

The heavier weight classes, with Bellavia, Grieco, Nuzzo, and Lyons, have carried the team which has been hit by injuries in the lower weights. Don Leamna has joined the squad to fill in for Doug Nogaki, out for the year. Many of the lower weight wrestlers are wrestling out of their weight classes. Roy Genatt has looked the best among the lower weight classes.

Coach Tim Sullivan has done a fine job with his team. The former Cortland State standouts led last year's team to the District No. 31, NAIA championship and a fifth in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Championships. Assistant coach Joe Ivers is a fine instructor, and deals with the finer points. He was a Passaic county "Coach of the Year" at Clifton.

Outstanding freshmen are Tom Mangano, Marvin Hamilton, Barry Jackson, and Rich Lorman with Ron Cordero, John Walker, Jim Moharity and George McGuire also coming up to make next year's team stronger and deeper in manpower.

Jim Grieco

Jim Grieco rates as the top 167-pound wrestler in the state as well as in the metropolitan area. As coach Tim Sullivan puts it: "Jim is one of the few MSC athletes who could excel at any college or university in the country. He is 17-3 on the year including tournament play and 73-18-1 lifetime for an MSC career record."

Grieco's style is defensive as he waits for his opponent to make a mistake, defying him to attack as he maneuvers to apply the "cradle." His favorite pinning move is the "souffle," and before hitting the mat, twists and all the know-how.

Dave Cornelisse

Dave Cornelisse, (145), sophomore phys. ed. major.

The former Hanover Park star did not wrestle last year but was called into service by Sullivan when Nogaki got hurt. He is a 1-3 fourth year with an impressive win against Glassboro State. Leaman surprised at 137 and is maturing quickly as a wrestler.

Glenn Guarino

Glenn Guarino, (123), junior industrial arts major.

"A coach’s dream" is how Sullivan describes John Bellavia, star 160-lb. matman for Montclair State. "He’s quiet does what he’s told and always puts out 100 per cent. He is one of the outstanding sophomore wrestlers in the metropolitan area. Bellavia is 6-2 in dual meet competition and 7-3 overall. He finished with a fine 14-3 mark last year placing first in the Districts and third at the Mets.

The soph phys-ed major wrestled at Vailsburg under Johnny Allen, who also coached 3-time NCAA champ Mike Caruso, where John was 2-time City Champ A member of Agora, he started last year at guard for MSC’s grid team.

Mike Nuzzo

Mike Nuzzo 12-0 dual-mat mark.

Although operating in the shadow of Grieco, Mike Nuzzo has also distinguished himself as the outstanding 177-pound wrestler in New Jersey and the metropolitan area.

Of Nuzzo, Sullivan says, "Mike is wrestling out of his weight class; he should be at 167 or 160. But his outstanding ability as a wrestler enables him to pin opponents when he shouldn’t normally be able to. He is, without a doubt, one of the best in the area.

Mike also was the only MSC wrestler who placed first at the Oneonta State Invitational, making his 10-1 on the year. Mike is the only married man on the team. His wife, Jane, was graduated from MSC last year and they have a son, Michael Jr., who was born last October and is now a big bruiser at 22" weighing 15 pounds.

He is a junior physical education major and a member of Psi Chi fraternity.

John Lyons

"John Lyons falls into the Bellavia category," state Sully. "He is a pleasure to coach, always giving 100%." The "unheavy heavy-weight" often has to give away from 20 to 50 pounds but has amassed an 8-1 dual meet record, 9-2 overall.

The former Hanover Park standout finished second in the Districts last year and his last five wins have decided four of the last five meets.

John is a smart wrestler and has improved over the years. He has done a great job for a team with a great lack of depth.

He is a senior phys-ed major and a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa.
