State Board Votes $200 Increase; Students Will Study Alternatives

By Don Pendley
Editorial Assistant

TRENTON — A bill to increase the room and board fees for the coming academic year has been passed by the New Jersey State Board of Higher Education. Included in the passage of the bill, however, was an agreement that the price raise to $1000 would be investigated by a committee of students from the state colleges.

A group of Montclair State students, headed by Jesse J. Young, chairman of the Joint Dormitories and Off-Campus Students’ Committee, went to the public meeting of the Board of Higher Education in Trenton last Friday to convince the Board to postpone their decision on raising the rates until all the alternatives could be looked into.

Young cited that the students at the various state colleges were not consulted upon the raising of the rates, and stated that any rise in the dorm rates would also affect the off-campus rates.

Included in the bill is the approval of the lease for the new dormitory to be built at MSC.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . .

Although the dormitory room fees are scheduled to rise for the coming year, facilities such as this Stone Hall study room will not feel the additional funds in the way of improvements. Increased fees do not mean improved facilities.

Social Science Dept. Prepares for Division

By Jane Conforth
Staff Reporter

The social science department is preparing for a division which will become effective in September.

School of Social and Behavioral Sciences is the working name which has been tagged to the new social science department. With the name comes additional changes in course and major offerings.

Five different majors will be available in the social sciences: history, political science, sociology, economics and transcultural studies. The last named is a disciplinary science which will incorporate history, anthropology and geography, and emphasize studies of Asia and Africa.

Anthropology and geography will have their own departments but will not be offered as majors.

In a recent interview, Dr. Phillip Cohen, chairman of the social science department, said of the new program, “I’ve worked on it and I’m very enthusiastic about it. We want to be as relevant as anybody. We want to meet the needs of those who want to go on to graduate school or government or industry, as well as teaching. If we make a mistake or two, that’s to our advantage too, because you can’t find out what’s right unless you make changes.”

One of these is that most freshmen at MSC will probably be liberal arts students. They will have some time to look around and then will choose their major in the sophomore year.

Freshmen will no longer be required to take World Civilization I and II. Instead they will elect six semester hours from a series of courses in the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences. Some of these courses are African Civilization and Contemporary Europe from 1914 to the Present.

Webster Welcomes Coeds

By George Gonas
Staff Reporter

The Visitation Committee of Webster Hall met with President Richardson last Wednesday to present him with the final draft of a proposal for a closed door visitation policy. After evaluating the proposal, President Richardson permitted the initiation of the program last Saturday as an experiment, pending additional consideration. Also attending the meeting were Dean Blanton, Mr. Richard Taubald, coordinator of mens’ housing and Mr. Richards, director of Webster Hall.

Before a permanent policy is accepted, however, legal points must be cleared in the final document.

The decision permitting visitation last weekend was based on figures that showed MSC in relation to other colleges in the United States. Taubald presented research done by the Association of College and University Housing Officers. Of 285 schools studied, 108 allowed room visitation at regular hours each week, 58 per cent of these institutions permitted the door to be closed.

Of colleges that do not allow regular visitation, many practiced “open house” or visitation on an infrequent schedule.

In northern New Jersey, the following three colleges presently have closed door policies: Fairleigh Dickerson University, Drew University and Rutgers University.

Bob Moller, president of Webster Hall commenting on the meeting said, “Although President Richardson found some slight discrepancies in the policy, he was very receptive to the idea.” He added that, “the visitation committee... was in total

OPEN HOUSE

The invitation is given to Daria Katz, sophomore French major, to take part in the closed door policy initiated by Webster Hall last weekend.
Richardson Approves Closed Door Experiment in Webster

The visitation committee consists of James Costabile, John Diamont, Bruce Kinter, Russell Layne and Moller.

Glassboro Aids Establishment Of Sea Lab
GLASBROO - Plans for a sea lab for the New Jersey state colleges are a step closer to completion. The Glassboro State College Board of Trustees approved a proposal to allow the college to join the Marine Science Consortium.

The consortium is examining plans for the consortium. Gloucester Community College, in the consortium. The Glassboro State College Board of Trustees approved a proposal to allow the college to join the Marine Science Consortium. The consortium is examining plans for the consortium. Gloucester County Community College joined in December 1968.

Donald Zalusky, assistant professor of science at Glassboro, explained that Glassboro's move would encourage other colleges to apply, as Glassboro has designated plans for the consortium. "Member schools may use the facilities in any way they see fit," Zalusky stated, "Professors may bring their classes to paint seascapes or to study oceanography."

A scuba-diving school is the first planned activity for the program. This activity, which will last one week, will be taught by specialists, recognized by the National Association for Underwater Instructors and the New York State Department of Education.

The consortium is examining seashore sites with the space and facilities needed for classrooms and labs.

SIGN IN PLEASE: John Diamont (left) greets Betty Custode and Bob Miller initiating the closed door policy in Webster Hall.

Miss MSC Finalists: Talent . . . Personality

By Arlene Petty
Staff Reporter

For the first time, the women of Delta Theta Pi will assist the men of Phi Lambda Pi as they jointly sponsor the Miss Montclair State Pageant, one of the preliminaries for the Miss New Jersey Pageant.

A total of 45 applicants were judged on talent, personality and narrowed down to 10 finalists last week in Memorial Auditorium. The girls will go on to the final competition on March 7, and will be judged by three faculty members, Dr. George Horn, Dr. Schleede and Dr. Astineto. The 10 finalists are Jeanne Brown, Ellen Fitzpatrick, Carol Tintle, Doris Lee, Faye Witcher, Linda Kinch, Chris Kinzie, Irene Haluska, Karen Tullo and Pat Waage.

The student who wins the title of Miss Montclair State will also receive a $150 scholarship, as well as a trophy. The first runner-up is given a $50 scholarship, and the girl voted Miss Congeniality will be presented with a trophy.

Miss Montclair State will also become the representative to the Miss New Jersey Pageant with all expenses paid. She will have the added honor of being the Homecoming Queen.

The pageant will be held in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the sponsoring organizations for $1. Tickets will be available at the door for $1.25.

During intermission at the pageant, entertainment will be provided by the women of Kappa Sigma Rho (winners of the Greek Sing), and the Good Life Trio, one female and two male students from MSC.

Miss Montclair State will also receive a $150 scholarship, as well as a trophy. The first runner-up is given a $50 scholarship, and the girl voted Miss Congeniality will be presented with a trophy.

Miss Montclair State will also become the representative to the Miss New Jersey Pageant with all expenses paid. She will have the added honor of being the Homecoming Queen.

The pageant will be held in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the sponsoring organizations for $1. Tickets will be available at the door for $1.25.

During intermission at the pageant, entertainment will be provided by the women of Kappa Sigma Rho (winners of the Greek Sing), and the Good Life Trio, one female and two male students from MSC.

May It Isn't Your Breath — — May It's Your Clothes

TAK YOUR BRA TH AWAY WITH BREAK-TAKING FASHIONS BY STERN BROTHERS PRESENTED BY THE DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB OF MSC

MARCH 5, 1969

B:15 P.M.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

TICKETS $1.25

YOU MAY NOT WANT THE MOUTHWASH FOR LOVERS.

Maybe It Isn't Your Breath — May It's Your Clothes

Hastiness of Trustees' Act

Protested by CHS Parents

By Roberta Kuehl

"The whole group is boiling because of inadequate hearing by the trustees," is Mr. Charles Burkeley's view of the proposed phasing out of College High. As a leader of the College High parents, Mr. Burkeley expressed concern for the academic future of those students presently attending this demonstration school.

"Legislative before legal measures" is the action Mr. Burkeley advocates to determine why all four state demonstration schools are simultaneously designated for closing. To investigate this and other issues, such as financial aid from the state, an association of all the involved schools was recently formed.

The assembly chambers of the Trenton State House will be the site of a public hearing on the proposed closing of the demonstration school for interested parties on March 6 at 10 a.m.

At this time spokesman from the College High parents and faculty, the MSC Board of Trustees, and the State Commission will present their plans for the consortium. Gloucester County Community College joined in December 1968.

Donald Zalusky, assistant professor of science at Glassboro, explained that Glassboro's move would encourage other colleges to apply, as Glassboro has designated plans for the consortium. "Member schools may use the facilities in any way they see fit," Zalusky stated, "Professors may bring their classes to paint seascapes or to study oceanography."

A scuba-diving school is the first planned activity for the program. This activity, which will last one week, will be taught by specialists, recognized by the National Association for Underwater Instructors and the New York State Department of Education.

The consortium is examining seashore sites with the space and facilities needed for classrooms and labs.

Maybe It Isn't Your Breath — May It's Your Clothes

Hastiness of Trustees' Act

Protested by CHS Parents

By Roberta Kuehl

"The whole group is boiling because of inadequate hearing by the trustees," is Mr. Charles Burkeley's view of the proposed phasing out of College High. As a leader of the College High parents, Mr. Burkeley expressed concern for the academic future of those students presently attending this demonstration school.

"Legislative before legal measures" is the action Mr. Burkeley advocates to determine why all four state demonstration schools are simultaneously designated for closing. To investigate this and other issues, such as financial aid from the state, an association of all the involved schools was recently formed.

The assembly chambers of the Trenton State House will be the site of a public hearing on the proposed closing of the demonstration school for interested parties on March 6 at 10 a.m.

At this time spokesman from the College High parents and faculty, the MSC Board of Trustees, and the State Commission will present their plans for the consortium. Gloucester County Community College joined in December 1968.

Donald Zalusky, assistant professor of science at Glassboro, explained that Glassboro's move would encourage other colleges to apply, as Glassboro has designated plans for the consortium. "Member schools may use the facilities in any way they see fit," Zalusky stated, "Professors may bring their classes to paint seascapes or to study oceanography."

A scuba-diving school is the first planned activity for the program. This activity, which will last one week, will be taught by specialists, recognized by the National Association for Underwater Instructors and the New York State Department of Education.

The consortium is examining seashore sites with the space and facilities needed for classrooms and labs.

Maybe It Isn't Your Breath — May It's Your Clothes

Hastiness of Trustees' Act

Protested by CHS Parents

By Roberta Kuehl

"The whole group is boiling because of inadequate hearing by the trustees," is Mr. Charles Burkeley's view of the proposed phasing out of College High. As a leader of the College High parents, Mr. Burkeley expressed concern for the academic future of those students presently attending this demonstration school.

"Legislative before legal measures" is the action Mr. Burkeley advocates to determine why all four state demonstration schools are simultaneously designated for closing. To investigate this and other issues, such as financial aid from the state, an association of all the involved schools was recently formed.

The assembly chambers of the Trenton State House will be the site of a public hearing on the proposed closing of the demonstration school for interested parties on March 6 at 10 a.m.

At this time spokesman from the College High parents and faculty, the MSC Board of Trustees, and the State Commission will present their plans for the consortium. Gloucester County Community College joined in December 1968.

Donald Zalusky, assistant professor of science at Glassboro, explained that Glassboro's move would encourage other colleges to apply, as Glassboro has designated plans for the consortium. "Member schools may use the facilities in any way they see fit," Zalusky stated, "Professors may bring their classes to paint seascapes or to study oceanography."

A scuba-diving school is the first planned activity for the program. This activity, which will last one week, will be taught by specialists, recognized by the National Association for Underwater Instructors and the New York State Department of Education.

The consortium is examining seashore sites with the space and facilities needed for classrooms and labs.

Maybe It Isn't Your Breath — May It's Your Clothes

Hastiness of Trustees' Act

Protested by CHS Parents

By Roberta Kuehl

"The whole group is boiling because of inadequate hearing by the trustees," is Mr. Charles Burkeley's view of the proposed phasing out of College High. As a leader of the College High parents, Mr. Burkeley expressed concern for the academic future of those students presently attending this demonstration school.

"Legislative before legal measures" is the action Mr. Burkeley advocates to determine why all four state demonstration schools are simultaneously designated for closing. To investigate this and other issues, such as financial aid from the state, an association of all the involved schools was recently formed.

The assembly chambers of the Trenton State House will be the site of a public hearing on the proposed closing of the demonstration school for interested parties on March 6 at 10 a.m.

At this time spokesman from the College High parents and faculty, the MSC Board of Trustees, and the State Commission will present their plans for the consortium. Gloucester County Community College joined in December 1968.
Mary McKnight: MSC's Happy Information Lady

By Mike Andrea
Staff Reporter

In this era of student revolts and teacher strikes, it's hard to find an educator who is perfect. Mrs. Mary McKnight is happy with her work. Mrs. Mary McKnight is one of those rare, content people and she's here at MSC as Coordinator of Public Information. She has the task of publicizing MSC, its students and faculty.

Mrs. McKnight is usually the first person to know when anything is going to happen at the college although she admits that sometimes she misses an activity. In an interview she related one of the mishaps. She happened to be on campus one Saturday when she saw numerous visitors on campus and hadn't the vaguest idea why they were there. She later found that they were next year's freshmen and their parents, attending an open house.

This mishap is about as rare as snow in June, since this reporter has found Mrs. McKnight to be an ever-available source of valuable news and information. This interview was the first time that Mrs. McKnight became the center of news instead of the distributor of it. When asked for information about herself, she asked, "Would you ever want to have a story about me?"

She revealed that she really was a journalist at heart. Her family has a newspaper background, dating back to her grandmother, who was a Civil War veteran. Although she says, "I'm a Yankee at heart," Mrs. McKnight was born and raised in the deep south of Georgia. She graduated from Agnes Scott College and received her master's degree in English at Vanderbilt University.

After graduation, she became interested in publicity and journalism and worked for several papers in the South, including the Chattanooga News Free Press. After moving north, she worked on the Montclair Times until 1966, when she came to MSC. She has been working in public information ever since.

Mrs. McKnight is very enthusiastic about her work here because she likes the students, faculty and campus community. "I couldn't support anything I didn't like, and that's why I like Montclair. I'm proud of both the administration and students alike."

Although she is happy at MSC, Mrs. McKnight is not willing to sit back in contentment. She has a few goals in sight among them being New York University and taking courses, "just for fun," as she stated it.

Concerning her work in the future at MSC, Mrs. McKnight said she would be most grateful if students and faculty with interesting careers or pasttimes would contact her so she could publicize them. "After all, it's the students and faculty who make a college." She would also like to initiate a photography contest at the college and bring in visitors from the campus community.
The Price of Education

(Montclair State College) student body at the state colleges could very well be responsible for hindering the students of New Jersey in their desire to receive a college education.

The purpose of the student committee of dormitory and off-campus student committee, to the State Board of Higher Education in Trenton. The committee represented the MSC students who are against the proposed increase in state college dormitory fees.)

It was believed that one of the purposes for the establishment of the state colleges was to supply teachers at a time of need as well as to provide advanced education for all people regardless of their socio-economic backgrounds. However, it is obvious that although the intentions of the state are to provide quality education at lower costs than private universities, that the state is more and more dependent upon the student to fund his own education.

The students at the state colleges all recognize that the state is subsidizing their education, paying approximately $900 toward each student at MSC as opposed to paying more, he is not assured of receiving his $1000 for their room and board, however, none of the fee increase would be designated for board. With the rise in dorm room rates, it is conceivable that with the expiration of the present food service contract in 1970, the newly contracted food service might also desire to raise its prices.

And of course the $184 increase does not mean that the present dorm facilities will be improved. Montclair State College is scheduled this spring for the construction of a 16-story dormitory. However, the older dormitories will still be in operation. In brief, the extra money will not be used to improve the already dilapidated dorm conditions. Repairs will not come from the increased rates. Although the student is paying more, he is not assured of receiving more for his money.

The students distributing the underground press are against the proposed increase in state college dormitory fees. (The following editorial contains portions from a speech presented by Jesse J. Young, chairman of the dormitory and off-campus student committee, to the State Board of Higher Education in Trenton. The committee represented the MSC students who are against the proposed increase in state college dormitory fees.)

At present the following suggestions have been made by the MSC student committee for a more equitable solution to the jump in the dorm fees:

1. The state should take on greater amortization by taking responsibility for operation and maintenance of the dormitory facilities, or
2. Each individual college can determine the best way possible for increased revenue.

The needs of the student are many; the state is overloading many of them in its unwise decision to do in one year raise the dorm fees from $818 to not less than $1000. At Montclair State College the increase would have the dormitory students pay over $1000 for their room and board, however, none of the fee increase would be designated for board. With the rise in dorm room rates, it is inconceivable that with the expiration of the present food service contract in 1970, the newly contracted food service might also desire to raise its prices.

And of course the $184 increase does not mean that the present dorm facilities will be improved. Montclair State College is scheduled this spring for the construction of a 16-story dormitory. However, the older dormitories will still be in operation. In brief, the extra money will not be used to improve the already dilapidated dorm conditions. Repairs will not come from the increased rates. Although the student is paying more, he is not assured of receiving more for his money.

Presently the Board is reevaluating its poorly planned increase. And although the state is in need of more money to aid higher education, certainly much more feasible and economical solutions can result.
It Can't Happen Here
To the Editor:
In the Feb. 19 issue of the MONTCLARION, in bold, black type of the headline, and the last line of the article, it was a grim declaration: "Campus Security Inadequate." This article, supported by the findings of a committee of seven — only two are identified — suggests "better cooperation" with the local police departments. A question which the student may have is, who authorized the committee and who is specifically interested in bringing more police on campus?

In Berkclair U. at Upparreda, N.J., a similar suggestion appeared in the "student" newspaper. Many authoritative agencies were then established on campus and when protest finally began, the administration could point to the newspaper and state: "It wasn't us. The students asked for it." Some found this difficult to believe; but after all, there it was, a print and newspapers don't lie.

One might consider that, after disturbances in colleges across the nation, somebody or another might be alarmed that his turn to "bit the wall" is coming. If I may indulge in under-statement, Montclair State is not Columbia or Berkeley or San Francisco State, it's not even the University of Wisconsin. Then again, maybe some of our students want to be second to call in the National Guard.

Guard Aren't Necessary
To the Editor:
By reading the Feb. 19 issue of the MONTCLARION one would get the impression that there were at least a few girls attacked on campus recently, and at worst, a couple of murders. Of course, we know that is far from being true.

Granted that there were "thugs and a lot of vandalism which took place last semester"; but they appeared to be of the less threatening type that have been prevented by the necessary (and obvious) precautionary measures. "Firefighters guards cannot prevent car thefts; but neither can 1400 if all we did to put valuable things in our cars and then left them open. Cars have locks for a purpose and so do rededrooms.

The Feb. 14 issue of the MONTCLARION contained an article entitled, "Night Managers Superive Life Hall." The article ends with, "Basically it is the student building it should remain open at night." So what was so alarming about a Life Hall door being open at 1 a.m.?

Your "Since You Asked Me" column showed that the students do not see any need for tighter security on campus....

When there are so many other things that need improvement on campus (and I'm sure there is no list) I see no immediate reason for money being spent on guards. Who are the members of the security investigation committee? Who appointed them? What is their function? What exactly those members will be protected against?

Zolima Freearn
graduate assistant, foreign language department.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The night managers supervise Life Hall until 10:30 p.m. when the building then, since no activities were scheduled in Life Hall for that Saturday night the building was locked after the cafeteria closed.

New Images
To the Editor:
My congratulations to the editors and contributors to the New Image for having the moral integrity to also publish their names. I know that there has been no innovation appearing in the last issue was the inclusion of material that I had written. However, there were also the typical half-truths, forged-over the identity of an enemy, cynicism tinged with hypocrisy.

For example: Inksley has commented on the "left" cliché "participatory democracy," but he assumes a political correctness of the freedom of speech. Inksley also mentions preservation of the idea that this country was founded.

I believe that freedom of speech was one of those ideals. If Inksley and his band have the "right" to listen to Mark Rudd then I maintain the "right" to listen to a recruit on campus. Perhaps if we also bury our heads in the sand the war will go away.

In the latest issue one will also find a sympathy seeking half-truth in the statement that the SDS was not "graced" with a SGA charter. Why not inform the reader that the SDS received a charter because they never applied for one? Why they didn't apply is open to interpretation but it may be that the unenamled past president was fearful that the issue would be brought up to the student body as a referendum. Such a fear would have been unwarranted since (a known "enemy" of SDS methodology) would have actively supported their right to charter if they met existing criteria.

William S. Eichholtz

Sorority Offers $150 Scholarship
By Chris MacMurray
Staff Reporter
The women members of Sigma Rh are now accepting applications for their annual Diane Schmidh scholarship. The scholarships were funded from various money-making activities sponsored by the sorority.

The $150 scholarship is in memory of Diane Schmidh, a sorority sister who was killed in a car accident in August of 1966. Any single sophomore or junior girl currently attending Montclair State College is eligible for the scholarship providing her cumulative average is 2.5 or above. Members of Kappa Sigma who are not eligible are also.

The scholarship, now in its second year, was originally suggested by Diane's parents. A donation of $150 towards the first award was made by Mr. Schmidh.

Applications for the award are judged by the sisters of Kappa Sigma, although students interested in financial need, scholarship and participation in extracurricular activities will also be considered.

It is the sorority's desire to obtain more of a response to the scholarship. Any interested girl is encouraged by the sorority to apply.

Applications are available in Mr. Neuner's office which is located in College Hall. The award will be presented at a May assembly.

KAPPA SIGMA RHO

The Women of KEP would like to welcome the newly elected new sisters: Elaine Grossi, Lynn Heiser, Pat Koezy, Chris Mac Murray, Linda Moses, Angela Stoll. Janice Tedesco and Edie Witte.

Congratulations are also extended to the newly elected officers: president, Michele Cappetta; vice-president, Jey Kavetsky; treasurer, Linda Kovacs; recording secretary, Sue Villere; corresponding secretary, Joan Frankel; parliamentarian, Carla Lounbury.

Married
Arlette Murphy, '69, to Michael Engle, U.S.A.F.

Pinned
Marnie Saunders, '70, to Ralph Hooker, '69, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Steven; Carla Lounbury, '71, to Cote, 72, Penelope.

TAU GAMMA ETA

The men of TAU BETA wish to congratulate their new officers: Bob Ceece, president; Ron Green, vice-president; Bob Greene, secretary; Peter Tumollo, treasurer.

This semester's charitable donation of $75 will be presented to the American Cancer Society.

The brothers would also like to thank Freeman Associates for their help in the most successful Basketball Button Sale.

GAMMA DELTA CHI

The new administration has officially taken over the duties of their appointed offices. Our congratulations to: Paul Antonio, president; Louis Broccoli, vice-president; Bill Molinski, treasurer; Phil Wagner, recording secretary; Jim Masters, parliamentarian; Steve Kross, corresponding secretary; Nick Pizzoli, Terry O'Leary and Rick Bishop, pledegemasters.

Special congratulations to brother Bob Pasternak who has recently become a member of Epsilon Pi Tau. We will argue that in Sigma Chi Fraternity for Industrial Education and Technology, we would also like to welcome three new brothers to our fraternity:

Rich Orloff, Tom Messineo and Nick Pizzili.

Engaged
Bill Molinski, '70, to Bobbie Conoy, '69, Delta Theta Pi; Glenn Koegel, '69, to Jane Ohi, '69, Gamma Phi. Notre Dame University.

Pinned

KAPPA RHO UPSILON

Kru's Mother-Daughter Banquet was held on Jan. 3 at Dowd's Steak House, Diane Popinno and Carole Di Camillo did a great job in organizing the affair. The sisters and their mothers all had an enjoyable time.

Our congratulations for spring semester are: Open House: Sara Jane Lynch and Pauletta Pelliari; Spring Tea, Lou Coletti and Marcy Novak's Folliett, Phyllis Palmori and Sherry Borden; Carnival, Linda Malek and Joanne Stefanckuy; pledge mistreses, Nancy Halvorsen and Sally Day; Father's Daughter Banquet, Diane Popinno.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Ellen Fitzpatrick, one of the 10 finalists in the Miss Montclair State Pageant, are extended.

Pinned
Linda Boyle, '70, to Bill Leppig, '69, West Point.

SENATE — PHI ALPHA PSI

The men of Senate would like to congratulate their new officers who were recently elected for the 1969-70 school year. They are: president, Mark Rudnick; vice-president, John Burke; treasurer, Ron Dreyer; recording secretary, Keith Haines; corresponding secretary, Jacee Haas; historian, Stan Grajewski.

We would also like to congratulate John Burke on his election to the vice-president of the IFC.

John Dreher, '70, to Patty Banks.

Pinned
Andy Patena, '69, to Joan Opiowicz, '70, Sigma Delta Phi.

NSA Fights CAB Ruling
Against Youth Fare Halt
WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States National Student Association (NSA) will fight the recommendations of a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) examining air fare matters as "unjustly discriminatory," and has retained legal counsel to prepare briefs and oral arguments for presentation before the CAB.

The announcement of NSA's action came from Service Division director, Alan C. Handlin, who noted that at present the Association is the only group representing students users of the airline youth fare which will make arguments before the Federal Aviation Board.

Abolition of youth fares is being sought by a number of bus companies. NSA will argue that the fare is a "grace of the unenlightened past" and that the fares should be abolished.

Written arguments will be presented to the CA...
Registration

Confusing or Consulting?

By Martin J. Fuoco
Education Editor

"Mr. Foley bent over backwards to accommodate students," declared Andy Paterna, '69, who worked on registration. "Registration is "not geared to students' needs," claimed Christa Spitzbarth, '70.

The above statement are examples of the varied opinions students and professors hold about the registration held at the beginning of February.

Last September, the registrar's office instituted computerized registration for the entire school. The computer, rather than the students, would pick class time and section. It was hoped that this system would give students what they needed and eliminate long waiting lines for courses.

However, registration and course changes remain a confusing process for many people.

Tony Fazio, '72, said that the schedules are so erratic that students, especially commuters, cannot get past time jobs. Judy Wenner, '70, complained that she did not "know the time or the professor" for her courses. "Impossible schedule" was the comment of Mona Smith, '70. Mrs. Smith has classes from 8 a.m. to 6:40 p.m. four days a week.

Robert Smith, '70, observed that the "last people to know (class time and size) were the professors." Smith had a course which kept changing hours until it was finally dropped. Hélène Pouey, '70, has "seven hours straight" of classes. She could not get her schedule changed. John Schindler, '70, refused to go through the "red tape" and did not bother to change his schedule. James Cassidy, '71, suggested that confusion could be avoided if schedule changes were done by mail.

Criticism also came from faculty circles. "Something has to be done" declared James Keenan, social science department chairman. Keenan said that elective courses are situated at awkward hours for students. There is course overload and imbalance of sections as students try to get better hours.

"Our problem is classroom accommodations," stated Raymond Jump, education. One of Jump's courses meets three times a week in three different places. Maynard Rich, social science, said that there are no class lists, so that a student does not know for sure what course he is in, and a professor does not know how many are in his classes. Rich complained that there is no way to determine class size, the result being that a professor cannot properly plan his courses.

Although criticism of registration was strong, present registration practices have a number of supporters. "Very systematic" was the description of Charles Boycey, '72. "Mr. Foley handled it very well," stated Robert Monda, '69. Barbara Michalik, '71, explained. "For once it was right for me!" Richard Bennet, '70, had no trouble changing five courses. "Everything worked fine for me," he said. Sue Kotulak, '72, who worked on registration, thought it "went smoothly" considering the large number being served.

Registration also had faculty support. Dr. Morris McGee, English professor and adviser, stated. "Most of my juniors had very little trouble." Dr. Howard Fox, former chairman of the speech department, feels that advanced registration makes it easier to establish class sections, especially for electives.

The math department, stated chairman Paul Clifford, had advanced schedules out by December. This enabled math majors to iron out their courses ahead of time. However, non-math majors got 5 p.m. classes and were unable to get section changes.

Robert Foley, associate registrar, explained registration problems in a short interview. His office handles 9,000 changes each semester, 8,000 of these "convenience changes," i.e., changes for no other reason than the students' convenience. All of these changes were made with "no questions asked," Foley claimed that students got what they wanted, and the large number of changes resulted in class lists being held up two weeks after classes started.

Foley stated that part of the difficulty of registration and course changes was that a "significant" number of students were not careful enough when filling out their pre-registration forms and following directions. Many students did not come for their course changes at the hour and day assigned. Foley claimed that freshmen and seniors came at their assigned times, but sophomores and juniors did not, resulting in crowding and long lines. There was no waiting for course changes when time schedules were followed.

No major registration changes are planned for next semester. However, work for change is going on. The college is studying the whole registration procedure. Foley is trying to get student choice of course time and professor. An SGA committee is working on the same problem.

Foley believes that student and faculty time should be spent in working on the same problem. The college is studying the whole registration procedure. Foley is trying to get student choice of course time and professor. An SGA committee is working on the same problem.

Foley believes that student and faculty time should be spent in working on the same problem. The college is studying the whole registration procedure. Foley is trying to get student choice of course time and professor. An SGA committee is working on the same problem.

The research will not be a rehash of already published ideas, but will be presentations of new ideas based on gathered data.
Horn Optimistic for Season

As Thomas, Drew Star at New London

By Rich Orloff

Sports Staff

With eyes on the Quantiac and Penn Relays in May, the Montclair State track team, under the leadership of Coach George Horn, seems to be headed for quite a rewarding year. Participating in the U.S. Coast Guard Invitational Meet in New London, Connecticut, the team gave Dr. Horn a preview of things to come. Outstanding performances from sophomore high-jumper Jim Thomas and transfer hurdler Paul Drew led the Indians to a seventh place finish out of ten teams.

Thomas, the defending champion, took a second by leapning 6’6” in the high jump. He holds the current official MSC high jump record of 6’6”, Coach Horn assures that he is “very consistent.”

Drew also copped a second place in the 60-yard high hurdles, and set a track record in a preliminary heat. This record was surpassed in the final heat.

But the real surprise of the day was the performance of the 4-4-5 relay team of Glenn Staudinger, Reaves, Demetrius Morris and Vic Mizzone missed a first place by seven-hundredths of a second, winning their heat by 100 yards.

At present, Horn is preparing 12 men for the Collegiate Track Conference Championships, individually and as a team, held at Queens College in March.

Photo for MONTCLARION

Fencers Bring ’69 Record to 8-2

By Wayne Potente

Sports Staff

The Montclair State fencing team flashed to three brilliant victories over the weekend, bringing their record to 8-2 for the year. On Friday night, the team travelled by aerobus to Rochester, New York and proceeded to whip a highly touted Rochester Institute of Technology by the scores of 15-12 and 16-11, respectively.

As usual, Coach Walter Gaylon’s swabbucklers were led by the vaunted sabre squad as captain Dale Rodgers and Dave Beyer won 9 bouts apiece, three in each meet. Jordan Denner chipped in with seven wins, going 3-0 against R.I.T. and Hobart. The team had a superb three-meet record of 25-2.

Todd Boepple led the foilman with six victories. He also went 3-0 against R.I.T. Ken Zurich, Jim Robertson and Bob Critchley all contributed to a fine foil showing with 13 wins.

The epee squad, although facing the strongest squad of each of the three teams, fared well enough to bring Horn a total of 11 victories. Mike Dawson, in his first year of fencing, had five victories to his credit and with available assistance from Dan Ehrgott, Bruce Kinter and Mark Ehrlit.

The qualifying preliminaries for the Mid-Atlantic Fencing Championship were held on Sunday as Rodgers and Bryer qualified in the two-match sabre squad event. They are the defending champions. In addition, they are entered in the individual category.

Rodgers also qualified in the epee in a simplex. He also went three weapons. He uses this particular one for the fencing aspect of the pentathlon which incorporates running, swimming, shooting, fencing and riding.

TOP Opens IM Season with Two Wins

By Wayne Potente

The season is now two weeks old and last year’s two league winners, the Lower Lounge S & A and TOP, the overall title winner, are leading their divisions.

The Lower Lounge team travelled by aerobus to Rochester, New York and proceeded to whip a highly touted Rochester Institute of Technology by the score of 19-18.

The following day saw the Thundering Herd, who had met with a loss to Zeta Phi Beta at Fordham, whip Psi Chi 36-24. The Thundering Herd’s lone foilman, Todd Boepple, carried the Thundering Herd to a win by scoring six victories in the first three meets.

The epee squad, although facing the strongest squad of each of the three teams, fared well enough to bring Horn a total of 11 victories. Mike Dawson, in his first year of fencing, had five victories to his credit and with available assistance from Dan Ehrgott, Bruce Kinter and Mark Ehrlit.

The qualifying preliminaries for the Mid-Atlantic Fencing Championship were held on Sunday as Rodgers and Bryer qualified in the two-match sabre squad event. They are the defending champions. In addition, they are entered in the individual category.

Rodgers also qualified in the epee in a simplex. He also went three weapons. He uses this particular one for the fencing aspect of the pentathlon which incorporates running, swimming, shooting, fencing and riding.

Top goes with...

- Feather in his cap
- March 26
- March 19
- March 5
- April 30
- April 16
- April 23
- April 28
- April 17
- April 24
- April 30
- May 7
- May 14
- May 21

SPORTS CAR CARTOON

For MONTCLARION

See John Aneson

Sports Editor

Montclair Office

Life Hall — second floor

WANTED

THE BOWLERO

50 Bowling Lanes

the COLLEGE bowl

Junction of Routes 3 and 48

Clifton, New Jersey

FUN WORKING IN EUROPE

GUARANTEED JOBS ABROAD! Get paid, travel, meet people.

SPORTS CAR CARTOON

For MONTCLARION

See John Aneson

Sports Editor

Montclair Office

Life Hall — second floor

WANTED

THE BOWLERO

50 Bowling Lanes

the COLLEGE bowl

Junction of Routes 3 and 48

Clifton, New Jersey

FUN WORKING IN EUROPE

GUARANTEED JOBS ABROAD! Get paid, travel, meet people.

SPORTS CAR CARTOON

For MONTCLARION

See John Aneson

Sports Editor

Montclair Office

Life Hall — second floor

WANTED

THE BOWLERO

50 Bowling Lanes

the COLLEGE bowl

Junction of Routes 3 and 48

Clifton, New Jersey

FUN WORKING IN EUROPE

GUARANTEED JOBS ABROAD! Get paid, travel, meet people.

SPORTS CAR CARTOON

For MONTCLARION

See John Aneson

Sports Editor

Montclair Office

Life Hall — second floor

WANTED

THE BOWLERO

50 Bowling Lanes

the COLLEGE bowl

Junction of Routes 3 and 48

Clifton, New Jersey

FUN WORKING IN EUROPE

GUARANTEED JOBS ABROAD! Get paid, travel, meet people.
Montclair Hopisters
Nab 20th Victory

By Mike Galos
Special to the Montclarion
Led by top scorer Luther Bowen and Bob Lester, the Montclair State hopisters rolled to their 20th victory of the season Saturday night with a 94-72 victory over Queens College at Queens College Gymnasium. Luther Bowen led all scorers with 33 points.

Gymnasts Score 2 Victories

By Joe Micalese
The Montclair State gymnastics team traveled to Queens College last Wednesday to score its most decisive victory of the season handling Queens 131.71 to 41.00 setback. Co-captains Rick Schwarz spearheaded the victory with three first places in floor exercise, horse and a tie with teammate Ron Poling in the parallel bars.

Results were: long horse, Rick Schwarz (first), Dave Green (second), Roger Brown (third); side horse, Joe Garrett (first), still rings, John Guenther (first), Ron Poling (second); Ralph Coscia (third); long horse, Schwarz (first), Green (second), Guenther (third); parallel bars, Schwarz and Poling (tie-first), Russ Spencer (third); high bar, Green (first), Schwarz (second), Jensen (third).

Saturday night saw the gymnasts defeat a strong West Chester State contingent by a score of 137.43 to 128.85 score. Rick Schwarz again stood out with two first places and two second places. Jon Guenther took another first place in the still rings. Dave Green came through with an outstanding 8.95 in the long horse.

Results were: long horse, Schwarz (first), and Green (third); still rings, Jon Guenther (first) and Poling (second); long horse, Green (first) and Schwarz (second); parallel bars, Neh Jensen (first), Schwarz (second), Poling (third), high bar, Schwarz (first), Jensen (second), Green (third).

Grieco Sustains First Loss

By John Aneson and Tom Benn
The wrestlers of Montclair State had an up-and-down week as they first crushed C.W. Post by a score of 26-13 and were then soundly beaten by a powerful NY Maritime, 27-5. Maritime is rated in the top 20 of all small-college teams in the nation.

Captain Jim Grieco, Roy Genatt and Dave Cornelisse all took losses this week. Coach football?

The team record is now 9-2. Roy Genatt also won against Maritime, this time by decision, and was the only grappler victorious in both meets. Mike Nuzzo drew an opportunity account for the team output of five. The team record is now 9-2, 3-1.

SPORTSQUIZ

By Ken Tezza
Aust. Sports Editor

The sports staff of the MONTCLARION has compiled a number of sports questions and "defies" the students and faculty to come up with the answers. The questions will vary and deal with the past and present. Here are this week’s "stumpers."

1. Who was the Yankee leftfielder in 1961, the year of the famous Maris-Mantle homerun duel?

2. He was Barry Kramer’s senior year.

3. He was the only New York Sox “Bonus Baby” in the mid-50’s.

4. Name the two men to wear the uniforms of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Celtics.

5. He was the first Boston Red Sox “Bonus Baby” in the mid-50’s.

6. What is Wilt Chamberlain’s middle name?

7. He took over for Lou Gehrig at first base when the "iron-horse" ended his consecutive game string in 1939.

8. He was the only New York Met pitcher with a winning record in 1962, their first year in the National League.

9. At what New Jersey High School did Vince Lombardi once coach football?

10. Who hit the first homerun at Shea Stadium?