INDIANS COP EASTERN CROWN

By Ken Tecza
Asst. Sports Editor

Syracuse, N.Y.: Evansville, Indiana is the next stop for the surging Indians of Montclair after sweeping the Eastern Regional NCAA College Division playoffs over this past weekend. By knocking off the host school LeMoyne, 81-77, and then running Wagner off the court by the lopsided score of 101-78, it enabled the Indians to gain a berth in the Nationals starting tonight.

A capacity crowd of 2,800 was present for both double-headers that included an enthusiastic contingent of MSC students who made the long trek by bus. The trip was more than worthwhile as the surging Indians put on a show that the people of Syracuse won't soon forget. Both wins were highlighted by an exhibition of basketball the way it should be played. The Indians scored from every angle, played tough defense, ran a potent fast break and most of all showed the poise and balance of a championship club.

Albany State did make amends for its loss to Wagner by upsetting LeMoyne for third place by one point, 71-70. A sure handed Rich Margison sank the key foul shot with three seconds left. His effort, 10 for 13 and a 24-point second half, treated the large Albany crowd to a sweet victory.

In downing LeMoyne on Friday night the Indians used the hot outside shooting of Luther Bowen, who ended up as the MVP of the tourney, and Bob Sienkiewicz, plus the rebounding of Bob Lester helped eliminate the host school. Chuck Brady opened the LeMoyne scoring with two quick buckets but the Indians came back to tie the score 9-9 on baskets by Mike Oakes and Bowen.

From that point on Montclair opened up a

“Exploration of Soul” Proposed for Black Lit

By Donald S. Rosser
Special to the Montclarion

Pressures are being widely exerted to institute courses in Negro history, but few forces are demanding the study of Negro literature. Now one author is proposing “a semester expedition of Soul.”

Such a course would expose all students to “the burning issues of our day” in “books that tell it like it is,” according to Dorothy Sterling of Rye, N.Y., who writes children’s books and admits that she is “hooked on black history.”

Negro students would find “books that speak to them”; white students would learn better prepared for “the larger adult world in which they are globally a minority.”

“A course in Soul literature could begin with a study of the Negro spirituals as poetry, Miss Sterling recommends, followed by work songs and the blues.”

The course could next consider modern Negro poetry, folk tales and Negro humor. Langston Hughes, the contemporary Negro author, has written books on all three subjects.

Cl asses c an r ead autobiographical works by Frederick Douglass, the escaped slave who became a famous author, lecturer and leader in the campaign for emancipation.

Historical novels and contemporary non-fiction give the Negro viewpoint on slavery, revolts, the Underground Railroad, the Civil War, Reconstruction, the growth of the Ku Klux Klan, Negro disfranchisement and the mid-century civil rights struggle.

The supply of books by and about Negroes is increasing, Miss Sterling reports, but “certainly not a flood.”

Except for Uncle Tom’s Cabin, books about Negroes were, until very recent, "box-office poison," she reports.

Children’s books about Negroes began appearing in the 1930’s. The 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision on school desegregation stirred a flurry of interest in adult books about Negroes, Miss Sterling reports, adding:

"Then came the student sit-ins and freedom rides, the Birmingham bombing, the Civil Rights Acts, the struggle against de facto segregation in the North." In every section of the country there has been a growing awareness of civil rights and a growing demand for picture books, stories, biographies, histories about Negroes.

Courses in Negro literature are one way to bridge racial antagonism among Americans, Miss Sterling believes. It’s a "fantastically difficult job," she concedes, but the power of poetry and prose can help develop "the frame of mind which will make conciliation possible."
Montclarion Editors Lead Fight for Journalism Major

By Chris MacMurray
Staff Reporter

According to the administration's plans for MSC's future, a major in journalism will be instituted here in 1972. Montclair. They believe this need should be realized as soon as possible.

MSC journalists Miriam Taub, David M. Levine and Donald Pendley are presently working in cooperation with Mr. Michael F.X. Grieco on a list of proposals and courses for the implementation of a journalistic major at MSC.

This list, to be completed this month, will be submitted to Dr. Harold C. Bohn, head of MSC's English department, for approval. According to Levine, Bohn is more than aware of our need for journalism.

Upon Bohn's approval the list will move on to Mr. Anthony Kuolt, assistant dean of the college. Thereafter, the approved list of proposals for a major in journalism at MSC will be in the hands of Dr. Thomas F.X. Grieco.

Editor-in-chief of the MONTCLARION, Miriam Taub aspires to be a professional journalist. In addition to the position she holds on campus, Miriam is president of Pi Delta Epsilon (National Collegiate Journalism Fraternity) and corresponding secretary of the New Jersey Press Association.

David M. Levine, currently managing editor of the MONTCLARION, is also a successful publisher. He is editor of International Journal, a magazine read in 60 foreign countries. Levine, a sophomore, hopes to become a professional journalist.

MSC JOURNALISTS: Left to right, Mr. Michael F. X. Grieco, MONTCLARION advisor, David M. Levine, managing editor, Don Pendley, editorial assistant and Miriam Taub, editor-in-chief, are all working on the proposed department of journalism to work in conjunction with the MONTCLARION.

Freshman Don Pendley, editorial assistant for the MONTCLARION, assistant editor of GALUMPH and business manager of QUARTERLY, plans to teach journalism. Pendley would like to see a major in journalism instituted in the very near future, since he feels that such a major would benefit all MSC publications.

Mr. Michael F.X. Grieco is assistant English professor at Montclair State, specializing in English literature. Grieco is currently the adviser of the MONTCLARION while at the same time studying for his Doctorate and directing Stone Hall.

A University of Kansas study points out an urgent need for journalists in this country. The study shows that at this moment there are many more available positions in the field of journalism than there are qualified journalists to fill them. Dr. Malcolm Applegate, assistant dean of the School of Journalism at Kansas recently asserted, "We just don't have enough people to recommend frustration."

According to Levine, the obvious need for journalists does not presuppose the fact that a background in journalism can help any student in all phases of academic study. States Levine, "The fact that MSC's course in journalism is an effective tool in their other courses proves that journalistic knowledge can be extremely useful in countless areas other than journalism."

In regard to MSC as a university, the implications for journalism are obvious. At the university level, recording, publishing and circulating needs will skyrocket. Newspaper work and journalistic experience will become increasingly invaluable to more and more students.

"Also," affirms Pendley, "an advanced curriculum which includes journalism is an absolute essential on the university level, for MSC or any other prospective student."

Student opinion at MSC appears to be in favor of a major in journalism at Montclair. According to a poll taken last May calling for student opinion as to what courses and majors were needed at Montclair State, 15 percent of those who participated asked for journalism.

MONTCLARION: Left to right, Mr. Michael F. X. Grieco, MONTCLARION advisor, David M. Levine, managing editor, Don Pendley, editorial assistant and Miriam Taub, editor-in-chief, are all working on the proposed department of journalism to work in conjunction with the MONTCLARION.

B. B. King, the great bluesman, will be at Montclair State University on March 17th. B. B. has been a sensation in Europe and has a great reputation in the States. He's a real blues legend, and his music is sure to be a hit with the crowd. Get your tickets now before they sell out! Montclair State University, Montclair State University.
NEWS NOTE: Where has all the quiet gone? It seems that the students of MSC have forgotten that Sprague is supposed to be a place of peace and quiet.

But in good conscience the main floor can't be called more than a zoo. The physical set-up of sitting five and six at a table leads to group discussions on the main floor. And that's not all. There's also the fan, the xerox machines, ringing telephones, clanging of shelves (as the library changes from the Dewey Decimal System to the Library of Congress system of cataloging) and the typing librarians. Then there's the turnstiles, circulation desk and changing of classes — all adding to Sprague's "serenity."

Obviously overabundance of noise is the problem. And although the librarians are not being paid to police the three floors, someone has to control the noise.

Therefore it is recommended that the college library committee, the library staff and the administration come up with immediate suggestions to alter the present library policy of permitting noise. It seems that nobody remembers that the library should be quiet.

Presently, the MONTCLARION editors have been working with Dr. Harold C. Bohn, chairman of the English department, and Mr. Michael F.X. Greico, assistant professor of English and MONTCLARION adviser, on developing suitable courses for a journalism program.

Plans for a full liberal arts major are in the formation utilizing information from several journalism schools around the country.

This department is not far-off: in the near future journalism will become an integral part of Montclair's campus and a link between all the schools of Montclair State University.

Several weeks ago the MONTCLARION editors began a campaign to develop a department of journalism on the MSC campus.

As part of a growing network of specialization, Montclair will develop many new departments and schools, one of which, the School of Fine and Performing Arts, will open in September.

To unite the college and its many schools, the campus communication systems must also expand. Through a department of journalism this can become a reality.

Although the MONTCLARION is only a weekly newspaper today, in the near future it will probably become a daily paper. A department of journalism will handle this important job.

MSC's Foreign Policy

To the Editor:
The Feb. 26 issue of the MONTCLARION contained an item by Richard Eickhorst in which he defended the right to listen to recruiters. The falsity here is in making this a freedom of speech issue which it is not.

The military came here not to debate, but to recruit. To support the right of the military to recruit is to ignore the rights of life and liberty of the Vietnamese people. If this is a war of genocide, we oppose it.

By allowing recruiters on campus, MSC is, in effect, actively supporting the Vietnam war. It does not advocate neutrality for the college, but think MSC should oppose LeMay's tactics and the institutions that support it.

True, we would not stop the recruiting in Vietnam by forbidding recruiters to come on campus, but we would not be contributing to it either.

On Creative Nonviolence

Ray McNerney feels that this is symptom of weakness. If strong, we would "close the draft boards through mass refusals of induction, through picketing, and even (shocking idea) through political action." But our major goals have not been reached through nonviolence. The war and the draft continue, as does racism and the war in the ghettos. We are frustrated. Frustration leads to bomb and dynamite attacks. This does not justify these actions; it merely explains them.

More Than Before

What is the course for the future? We must remember that the Movement encompasses many people, more than ever before. It has become politically and socially correct to oppose the war and draft. People, who now empathize with the Movement, will pressure us toward the socially acceptable means of protest. However, the early radical core has worked longer and been frustrated to a greater degree.

Some, who came to the Movement in the late '50s as believers in nonviolence, are now disillusioned by the draft.

Their threats continue as long as their frustration continues. There are those in the Movement, myself included, who have not reached that degree of frustration, who still have hope for the use of nonviolence. Our actions will be significant since we represent a large segment of Movement activists.

It is my hope that we can change the tactics of the frustrated back to nonviolent tactics which seem more positive. But, I chose to follow the path of the new tactics. Our actions will be significant since we represent a large segment of Movement activists.

Dear Mr. Niaastro:

Well, what can I tell you? I wish to God you were writing the reviews for The New York Times. Not only because your review of Celebration was more favorable than Mr. Barnes', but also because it struck me as being more perceptive (of course, I may be prejudiced about that) and better written.

At all events, I am extremely grateful to you, both for your notice and your thoughtfulness in sending it to me. I see by this and the other reviews on the same page that your critical staff is quite high-minded and astute, and that you are all more grateful for your words of praise.

I hope we will survive. God knows what the "system" and the system doesn't like that very much. We will see. We will see.

Psychology Offers
Counseling Services

By Michael Hanney
Staff Reporter

Among the many services offered at MSC is a program of psychological counseling, available to any full-time undergraduate student who feels that he has problems which are interfering with the normal activities of everyday living.

Initial sessions include a discussion of reasons for seeking aid and, probably, some psychological tests. Brief, intensive psychotherapy is offered without charge to those students who feel that fears, conflicts, depressions, tensions or self-doubts are interfering with optimum growth. Frank, open communication with the psychologist should speed the process of alleviating most problems.

Sometimes a student may wish to continue in greater depth with the therapy program started on campus. Occasionally the presenting problem is such that it should not be treated in the setting which includes friends and teachers. In these cases the counseling services are prepared to help make arrangements with a private psychotherapist or mental health agency.

The ethical practice standards of the American Psychological Association are used as guides by the specially appointed staff. This means that neither the student’s name nor the content of the therapy sessions can become a part of a student’s record without his permission.

One full-time, licensed, clinical psychologist, several part-time psychologists and a part-time psychiatrist are available on a schedule which covers every school day throughout the academic year. The psychological counseling staff is located in Annex 4; appointments may be made with the psychological counseling secretary.

The thought-provoking author of Are You Running With Me, Jesus?, Malcolm Boyd, will speak at the Montclair High School auditorium, Montclair. The lecture will take place on Fri., March 14 at 8:30 p.m. At this lecture Rev. Boyd will demonstrate the correlation between his thoughts and actions and the possibility of maturity and growth in the church.

Not only is Rev. Boyd an acclaimed author of several books revealing contemporary man’s expressions of prayer, but he is also an Episcopal priest, visiting chaplain (with William Sloan Coffin) and resident fellow at Yale University.

Past involvement as an early Freedom Rider and an early comer to the Peace Movement have helped him eliminate the traditional distance between clergy and laity, between prayer and ordinary life.

His performances at the hungry i, a San Francisco night club, actively realized one of his thoughts concerning man’s relationship to God, as he says in Are You Running With Me, Jesus?, “Don’t let us restrict you to a narrow ghetto labeled ‘religion,’ but lead us to worship you in the fullness of life as the lord of politics, economics and the arts.”

Coordinating Council

By Jeanne Schneider

A new council of students, faculty and administrators has been formed on the MSC campus. This new organization, called the Coordinating Council, is in the process of determining exactly what its powers and responsibilities should be.

Coordinating Council members are interested in the developments taking place at MSC. Police goals and the general setup of SMC are their main concerns.

Council member and SGA treasurer, Stanley Jakubik said that the council is seeking its definite role in the campus community. It has not been decided whether the council should serve solely as a recommending board to the MSC Board of Trustees.

Neither has it been determined if the council should serve as a coordinating organization or if it should be a decision-making body.

28-20 lead at the 8:50 mark. The Dolphins rallied from that point to surge ahead 32-31 on a layup by Matt Fallis. LeMoyne then went on to build up a 37-31 lead until Willie Moss, who has developed into Gelston’s key substitute, came in to can three jumpers to keep pace with the hot hand of the Dolphin’s Bob Bradley and Mike Kava.

Down 43-40 at the half Luther Bowen’s three point play opened up the second half that saw the game go in MSC’s favor to up the count at 45-43. From that point on it was Montclair holding on to the lead again with its deliberate sure fire attack.

Overall the Indians outscored LeMoyne 19-9 at the foul line to make the difference in the final outcome since they did outscore us 34-31 from the field.

The win set the stage for the championship game Saturday night. Wagner powered a dinky Albany State squad by a 109-64 mismatch. A confident and loose Montclair team took the floor with its sight on a record 34th win. While Wagner displayed its muscle and height against Albany they left their defense behind when they ran into “that team from Jersey.” It took Montclair little time in running up a lead, they scored 10 straight points in the opening half’s last four minutes to up a 9 point lead to 19 at the end of the opening halfs last four minutes.

The plush Hotel Syracuse served as home away from home for the entire Montclair contingent. Three buses of fans traveled over six hours to witness the tournament.

With 24 wins this year it marked the third straight 20 win season for the Indians. With their goal of a national championship the Indians could finish with an all time high of 27 wins against two defeats. They must win three games in Indiana to bring home championship.

This has been a banner year for the Montclair State gymnastics team as they have catapulted to a position as one of the top small-college gymnastics teams in the nation. It is the first time that the team ever qualified to enter the NCAA national competition.

The team qualified on three different occasions by scoring over 135.00 points. They accounted for the best scoring ever by a small-college gymnastics teams in position as one of the top ten in the nation. It is the first time that the team ever qualified to enter the NCAA national competition.

In addition, he is the only MSC gymnast to win the Most Valuable Gymnast award three years in a row as he tied Dave Green for honors this year.

Montclair State will host the first championship meet of the newly formed North Atlantic Gymnastics Conference this Saturday. The conference is composed of Cortland State, Long Island University, Montclair, Queens College, U.S. Coast Guard Academy and West Chester State. The locals defeated every other member during the regular season. I asked Rick what has made this team better than the other teams he has been on at MSC.

"Coach Orlick has made the big difference," he noted. "He makes you want to work. He has a good attitude and instills it in the other guys on the team. He is very knowledgeable, has a compatible personality and can really psyche up a team.

"In addition, we have added depth over the previous years. The spirit is tremendous."

Green voiced the same opinions. After Dave broke his sternum while executing a dismount off the high bar early this year, Orlick spent a great deal of extra time working with him. Green courageously came through this year as one of the top gymnasts in the nation along with Schwarz.

The entire team has nothing but pride in themselves and credit for their coach. Schwarz, a senior, and Green, a junior, are the only all-around competitors. They have spearheaded the improvement which has carried the team from run-of-the-mill to national power status. Jon Guenther, also a junior, has been outstanding on rings and has developed into a powerful three-piece performer.

Junior Nels Jensen has given top-notch performances in four events, sticking out on the p-bars. Reliable Ron Poling has been a solid point getter on the rings and p-bars. Ralph Coscia, the only other senior, is the most improved member of the squad and has spurred the ring team on to many victories.

The other co-captain Bob Day, is a junior and has sparked the side horse squad. Junior Joe Macaluso and sophomores Roger Brown, Joe Gareffa, John Molter and Russ Spencer have provided the depth that has complemented the backbone of the squad, Schwarz, Green, Guenther, Jensen and Poling.

Co-captains Rick Schwarz, Dave Green and Jon Guenther qualified for individual competition in the NCAA College Division Nationals at San Fernando Valley State College in California and all qualified in more than one event. Schwarz qualified on the parallel bars, floor exercise and the long horse with scores of over 8.5 in each. W h 10 as a perfect score, 8.5 is the national qualifying level.

Green qualified on the high bar and the long horse while Gunether qualified on the rings and the long horse. Because he did not meet the scholastic qualifications under the NCAA rulings, Gunether will not be able to compete in the nationals.

Schwarz, in the meet against LIU, put on an awesome display of versatility and excellence by taking four first places out of the six events, an MSC sports first. He won in floor exercise, long horse, parallel bars and the high bar. In addition, he is the only MSC gymnast to win the Most Valuable Gymnast award three years in a row as he tied Dave Green for honors this year.

Montclair State will host the first championship meet of the newly formed North Atlantic Gymnastics Conference this Saturday. The conference is composed of Cortland State, Long Island University, Montclair, Queens College, U.S. Coast Guard Academy and West Chester State. The locals defeated every other member during the regular season.
