CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES: Although the city of Clifton has filed a nuisance charge against the college, construction on the 16-story dormitory will continue as scheduled.

Calabrese's remarks that the city would not stand for it, "it will improve the area, not hurt it."

State to ask for local approval prior to the start of construction.

"The state is running roughshod throughout the newspapers at least four times in recent weeks.

Failing to comply with the request to halt construction, the college was served with a nuisance charge by the Board of Health of Clifton. Since the college is situated on state property it is not subject to municipal regulations.

Presently the matter is in the hands of Arthur J. Sills, attorney general for the state of New Jersey. Dormitory construction is continuing as scheduled.

The Faculty Council has unanimously approved a subcommittee proposal effective this spring whereby students will be able to evaluate their faculty members.

The intent is that evaluations are to be used for the evaluation of the professor.

Anderson stated that since the evaluations will be in the hands of the individual professors, "hopefully the faculty members will use this to take any steps for self-improvement. Only this semester will the evaluations be kept strictly by the professors.

The Faculty Council proposal also called for a committee to develop a satisfactory evaluation form. Evaluation forms similar to those now available in the academic dean's office will be modified by the ad-hoc committee for use by faculty members.

The ad-hoc committee (committee on student-faculty relationships) chaired by Mills hopes to develop objectives for the faculty evaluation forms for the eventual use in "determining tenure, teacher ineffectiveness, etc."

Mills noted that both the students and faculty on the committee held a very positive attitude toward faculty evaluations. The proposal was meant to be an educational process... to let the professor understand how the student perceives him, the course, the content."

At present, the Faculty Council is communicating with all faculty members as to their recent recommendation. However, Anderson noted that the Council is not a policy-making organization but can only make recommendations that may be the basis for policy. Only through a statement issued by Dr. Richardson can the evaluations be made mandatory for all faculty.
Clark Kerr, speaking on the problems in today's institutions of higher education, will present his views on "The Best of Times, the Worst of Times." A CLU sponsored lecture tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium. Those interested may also attend a question and answer period at 9:30 p.m. in the Studio Theatre.

Clark Kerr speaks to student groups on campus during the day. Presidents of several other colleges will be invited to MSC for the talks. A coffee-hour, also being planned so that students may address him personally, but this idea is as yet tentative.

The former president of the University of California at Berkeley, Clark Kerr was in office during the riots which resulted from the Free Speech Movement in 1964. Removed from this position by Gov. Ronald Reagan, Kerr now is chairman of the Carnegie Foundation for Higher Education.

As stated in the draft, "The subcommittee on campus student employment was charged with the responsibility of defining and categorizing the various areas of student employment on campus. The committee recognizes that existing disparity with regard to wage scales, hours, responsibilities, experience, need and sources of revenue led to or would lead to low student morale, negative attitudes and general unrest among the campus working students. While the committee recognizes its primary function as a fact-finding committee, it does take the liberty of making certain recommendations which appear as part of this statement." This draft statement was submitted to Richardson for approval according to a further recommendation for the formation of a standing committee on campus student employment. Such a committee, consisting of faculty, students and administration, was approved.

"We hope to institute actual policy change as of the next college, fiscal year July 1. Mr. Michael Lowenthal, member of the subcommittee who formulated the draft statement. Policy change is expected to be determined by mid-May.
The newspaper business, like any other significant enterprise, is a field ridden with a hefty amount of competition and criticism. More often than not, however, a newspaper usually finds itself walking a tightrope — trying to please everyone while following the stringent demands of journalistic style, space and time.

It's easy to criticize a newspaper because mistakes are usually numerous — misspelled names, wrong pictures and occasionally a wrong fact. In all, however, the clear intention of our newspaper always comes through — to report news and information in a manner as interesting and as relevant as possible.

And apparently the MONTCLARION is doing a good job at it. This past week the MONTCLARION was awarded first class ratings by the Associated Collegiate Press and the Columbia School of Journalism's Scholastic Press Association.

These are indeed impressive awards that the many reporters and editors of our college newspaper can look to as a source of inspiration. The MONTCLARION is a "thoroughly informative, entertaining and provocative newspaper," commented the judge from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

In recent weeks, however, this newspaper has been subjected to unfounded criticism based on the whims of some SEC legislators. Their comments have little merit in view of their lack of journalistic insight. We can only hope that these student leaders, eager to weigh the feelings of the student body against the MONTCLARION, handle their position with some degree of responsibility and intelligence.

Focus on the Faculty

However, it must be remembered that the Faculty Council cannot enforce this recommendation for evaluation. Although the proposal was unanimously accepted by the Faculty Council representatives, the Council cannot assure the students and administration that all faculty members will volunteer to be evaluated.

It is hoped that with the Faculty Council recommendation, all faculty members will participate in the evaluation. It must be remembered that the intention of the evaluation is to enlighten the professor as to the effectiveness of his teaching techniques, his course and course content.

Through this anonymous style of communication, the faculty members will certainly become more aware of what actually may be taking place in their classes. It is certainly hoped that constructive, useful comments will be presented, giving the faculty some honest student feedback.

The following is the last of a four-part series on today's underground press written by MONTCLARION Managing Editor David M. Levine.

Until recently America's underground press has largely been in the hands of the nation's idealistic youths who believe their philosophies and intuitions can only be best conveyed thru the brightly colored pages of an underground tabloid.

With the increasingly large circulations of these papers, a new underground is emerging seemingly disinterested with the usual diet of rock music and drugs offered by their comrades. Apparently the new underground hopes to penetrate every available phase of American society. High schools in the metropolitan area are faced with the internal distribution of underground newspapers which take cracks at the administrators of many local educational institutions. And, in many cases, the students caught distributing underground gazettes face expulsion.

Nonunionized businesses, too, are constantly faced with the distribution of "progressive labor" newspapers which, in most cases, do not carry the name of a publisher or editorial staff names. Underground Hits Ft. Dix

Perhaps the most recent, astonishing example of underground penetration is the distribution of tabloid-sized (a tabloid newspaper is the same size as the MONTCLARION) newspapers at the Fort Dix military base.

An army officials recently reported that a newspaper calling itself "Shakedown" is being distributed on the base. The officials would like to halt the distribution of this publication at Ft. Dix, but they cannot find the source circulating the underground GI paper.

Shakedown features news about disturbances at military installations around the nation. The names of similar publications and where the GI can go for legal assistance is also found in the paper.

Fatigue Press in Austin, Tex., Short Timer of Columbus, S.C. and the Last Harass from Augusta, Ga. are some of the prominent underground GI gazettes.

"This paper is written and published by a group of Fort Dix GIs who in doing so have freed their minds from the involuntary servitude of the military machine." That's the motto Shakedown.

CURRENT INVESTIGATION

Currently under investigation is Pfc. Dennis Davis, alleged editor of Last Harass. Davis, who has 26, was a graduate student at Columbia University before being drafted. He refused to sign a loyalty oath at the time of his induction.

Davis will know by the end of this week whether he'll receive a dishonorable discharge from the Army or remain at Ft. Gordon for his last 20 days.

GETTING BIGGER

Although not a new concept, America's underground press is beginning to receive wide attention. The underground presses of the past have been criticized to criticize the administration in power, then die off. Penetration of society is in the ambition of today's underground.

A Tribute to an
MSC Benefactor

To the Editors:

One of the intriguing aspects of a college is the memories it gathers over the years, testifying to the large human endeavor that creates a place of learning and improvement.

Recently, a benefactor of Montclair, Katherine Blossom Webster, died at the age of 94. She was the widow of the first chairman of the department of English, Edward H. Webster, for whom Webster Hall is named. When Webster was dedicated in 1963, Mrs. Webster responded to Dr. Partington’s dedication address ably and graciously because the college’s development means much to her.

Born in Brooklyn Heights, she was graduated from Packer Institute. So keen was her mind and so great was her interest in the fight to educate girls, that Mr. Webster always jokingly referred to her as the “Ph.D. mind in the family.” When Mr. Webster died, she decided that the college, to which he had given 10 of the best years of his life, should proudly be his. He would thus cease his collection of modern poetry, many first editions limited and autographed, which is in the Sprague Library.

In behalf of those few left from the original faculty, I wish to honor Mrs. Webster because she, like her husband, is a symbol of the devotion that established the College on a foundation not only academic and professional ideals but also uniting labor in transforming those ideals into reality.

Montclair College is earnestly laboring to establish a greater college, those who have labored and are still laboring for it. The administration, in designing a functional interviewing program, where representatives from all walks of life would meet with interested seniors on campus.

This could be done much in the same manner as teacher interviews are presently conducted. I feel strongly that if Montclair State is to truly become a liberal arts college, then we need to see that graduating seniors have every opportunity to seek employment in other areas rather than just offering employment in the teaching field.

To conclude, there is much to be done in our class in this next year. If elected your president of the senior class, I, Kowalski, would ask Mr. Nelson to consider the qualifications of these students. Without a change in the curriculum, the educationally disadvantaged student will have a very tough time to maintain his grades. It is very possible that the students will fail in their first year. The demands of the few, in this case, were met; to what advantage remains to be seen, and unnoticed. Complete disregard for the majority of the student body in takings should not be granted. The disadvantaged includes both financially and educationally. The disadvantaged admits to the lack of finances for this plan. Nor do they insist to change the curriculum to better suit the needs of the students. A Year of Decision

To the Editor:

This year will be a year of decision for Montclair State. It is a year in which all of our lives will be greatly affected as graduation approaches. If elected president of the class of 1970, I would endeavor to enable seniors to have an opportunity to visit with employers of various vocations from all areas of the employment spectrum.

In conclusion I must say personally that Mr. Nelson used the maximum amount of policy and not the actual practice to maximize his changes. He must find a way to maintain the system without basis, but insulting. The number of students receiving assistance under the State Guaranteed Loan Program has reached an all-time high, more than tripling in the past two years," said Chancellor Ralph A. Dunagan.

"One out of every six New Jersey residents attending college in or out of state is now receiving some assistance under the loan program," Dunagan said.

Over 32,000 loans were made in the first half of this fiscal year, a 55 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Since its inception in 1960, the State Loan Program has guaranteed more than 76,000 loans totaling nearly $74,000,000. Under the program, students may borrow up to $1,300 a year, but the total loans may not exceed $7,500 for both undergraduate and graduate study.

The amount of the average loan increased slightly to $1,042.40. More than 92 per cent of the borrowers are undergraduate students.

The loan, to help pay college costs, are at the rate of seven percent simple interest a year. The Federal Government pays the interest while the student is in college, provided the borrower’s adjusted family income is under $15,000 at the time the loan is made.

Jersey Student Loans Reach All-Time High

TRENTON — “The number of students receiving assistance under the State Guaranteed Loan Program has reached an all-time high, more than tripling in the past two years,” said Chancellor Ralph A. Dunagan.

“Of course we can’t do that. The Rutgers administration has itself only been in existence for less than one semester. Dr. Kowalski is presently in the process of a student advisory council which will meet regularly. I believe strongly that if Mr. Webster died, the administration would do everything within its power to hold this collection of modern poetry, many first editions limited and autographed, which is in the Sprague Library.

In behalf of those few left from the original faculty, I wish to honor Mrs. Webster because she, like her husband, is a symbol of the devotion that established the College on a foundation not only academic and professional ideals but also uniting labor in transforming those ideals into reality.

SINCE YOU ASKED ME...

Communication Gap?

By Jane Conforth

Rowing Reporter

QUESTION: Do you think there is a communications problem between students and faculty at MCG?

Irene Karpask, junior, business major: "Not if you're a business major. I would hesitate to talk to a faculty member who is not in my major field because I don't know them. But my business professors are easy to talk to because I have gotten to know them."

Grace Spancino, freshman, French major: "I have no problem. Most of my professors are open to communication. If anything is wrong, I know the French professors encourage you to come and talk."

Jim Sullivan, sophomore, English major: "In my department, no. But in trying to get in touch with teachers other than in my major field, I have had some difficulty, especially in the science department."

John Rolak, junior, physics major: "In some cases yes. I find it easy to talk to teachers in my major, but it would be good if there was more contact between the students ad the faculty."

FACULTY RESPONSES

James Keenan, social science department: "Yes. It's related to the size of the institution and the fact that most of the students are commuters. There's no formal place where faculty and students come together. If there was a place specifically for them to get together, communication might be improved."

Marcia Laurota, math department: "If there is no communication, it's because many students are afraid to avail themselves of the opportunity to speak to instructors."

Mrs. Robert McCaul, business department: "In our department there is a very good communication. Recently a student group was formed, and they met with our faculty and formulated programs with us. At our last faculty meeting we had five students present, and they contributed ideas to our meeting."

UNION Sen. George McGovern spoke to a near capacity crowd of 950 students, teachers, reporters and residents here, Tues. afternoon, March 25. The lecture was part of the Dr. M. Ernest Townsend Memorial Lecture Series sponsored by Newark State College and held in the College Theatre for the Performing Arts.

McGovern, a "dove" by self-classification, conceded himself with the American involvement in Vietnam and the influences which this commitment holds and has held since 1945, on determining our economic, military and political trends. The senator brought to mind the unparalleled priority which the Vietnam issue has assumed by saying that the "American people are growing weary" of the military involvement in southeast Asia. He asked us to view the circumstances which had placed us into this stalemated effort, while disclosing that the cost of the Vietnam conflict, in American lives, will surpass the 33,630 lost in the Korean war by the end of March.

McGovern said the tremendous drain of French forces at Dinh Bien Fu, the struggling factions of their country, and the American military and political trends. The senator phrased it, "even in an area which needs the United States, we have not been able to support that country and have been unable to press our political and economic needs.

McGovern urged us to abandon the "action-reaction syndrome," which has become a standard in Vietnamese policies. "We should move in a different direction," he said.

"Up until now we have maximized contact with the enemy where we should be minimizing it. Concerning reports of Vietnam and actions taken by our country, McGovern said, "Don't let anyone fool you."

McGovern suggested a coalition government, consisting of elements from all factions in Vietnam, including the military, the National Liberation Front, the Buddhists, the Catholics and the neutrals. Accompanied by military withdrawal, this move would speed the resolution of the Vietnam problem. McGovern feels that, "The fate of the world will not be resolved in Saigon." Realizing the dangers of his course, McGovern concluded his oration by saying: "My course is free from danger and hazard."
ZET placed third with three. Sig took second with eight and only three fraternities, Psi Chi, unattached, gave a fine 50-yard freestyle in 26 seconds. Houston Webber, also unattached, was the outstanding individual as he finished second in the 25-yard freestyle in 11.9 seconds and the 25-yard freestyle.

Claydon Leads To 6-1 Victory

The freshman baseball team, under coach Alex "Sanduch" Tornillo, started off on a winning note, defeating Fordham U., 6-1, yesterday. Rich Claydon pitched the first five innings giving up the one run in the first. Claydon displayed blazing speed with nine K's. Paul Parker mopped up the last four with shutout ball and seven K's.

Bob Brewer led the hitting support with three hits and two RBIs. Tom Rotheraker chipped in with two hits.

As Swashbucklers Take 4th

Led by Dave Bryer and Dale Rodgers, Montclair State College's varsity fencing team experienced another successful season during the past winter posting a dual match record of eight wins and four defeats.

Coach Walter Gaylor's team set a new record for most wins in a single season with eight victories. The overall mark of 8-4 was the second best record in the school's five-year history since the sport was reintroduced on a varsity basis.

Bryer, a sophomore from Fairfield, led the highly successful sabre team with a record of 34 wins and only 1 defeat. The Indians won 32 dual match victories in a row this season before dropping his only bout in the final match of the season against Army.

Bryer, now a sophomore and undefeated as a freshman in varsity competition, ran his consecutive dual match winning streak to 36 straight bouts over the last two seasons.

Rodgers, a junior from Franklin Lakes, posted a dual match record of 38-2 and won his last 18 bouts in a row. A three-year veteran, Rodgers now has a varsity record in sabre of 75 bout wins in 81 outings.

Jordan Denner, a junior from Springfield, rounded out the fine sabre team with a 23-13 record.

The sabre team's 12 match schedule undertaken by the Indians in 1968-69 posted an amazing mark of 9-17.

Todd Boepple, a sophomore from West Caldwell, turned in the top mark in foil with a 23-13 mark, while Jim Robertson, a junior from Lanoka Harbor, was second with a 15-13 mark.

Bruce Kinter, a sophomore from Trenton, posted the best record in epee winning 17 of 34 bouts.

The foil team for the season was 57-51 while the young epee team managed 45 wins losing 63 bouts.

During the 1968-69 season, Montclair State posted wins over Paterson State, Pace, Jersey City State, Fairleigh Dickinson, St. Peter's, Rochester Institute of Technology, Hobart and the University of Buffalo.

Buonomo Impresses at Hot Corner for Sanduch

When his brother, Bucky (Wayne), taught him how to play baseball 11 years ago, Rich Buonomo could hardly toss a ball 30 feet. Now as an MSC freshman, the graduate of Bogota High is zinging bullets across the infield from third base, hitting the ball with authority and fighting hard for a starting berth on coach Al Tornillo's frosh diamond squad. Of all the candidates, Buonomo has looked the most impressive.

Buonomo, an all-county and all-league selection in his senior year, played his high school ball at the hot corner for coach Jack Speary at Bogota. He earned two varsity awards, hitting .400 and belting three home runs last year, played his high school ball at the hot corner for coach Jack Speary at Bogota. He earned two varsity awards, hitting .400 and belting three home runs last year, and captained the team last year. He also wrestled in his freshman year under Leo Janendo and made the varsity.

In addition to baseball, Buonomo played football here at MSC as the starting fullback for the frosh eleven. At Bogota, under Speary, Buonomo played third base and was 9-6. He also wrestled in his freshman year under Leo Janendo and made the varsity.

Sunny California was the site for the National Collegiate Athletic Association division gymnastics championships last Friday. Coach Terry Orlick, Rich Schwarz and Dave Green, representing MSC, made the long trip cross-country to San Fernando Valley State College.

There were 40 to 50 of the top small college gymnasts entered in each event. Schwarz gave a fine performance finishing ninth on the long horse and 12th on the parallel bars. Green also excelled as he finished 12th on the high bar.

Both were disappointed that they did not finish in the final field, composed of the top six. But Orlick felt they did a real good job and was pleased with their performances.

In addition, he stated that MSC was not a "known" school at the tournament and that this had a definite effect on the scorers.

Jerauld Hurls MSC Over FDU;

Inglis Twirls Nifty 1-Hitter

Petie Jerauld opened the 1969 baseball season, which is coach Bill Dioguardi's 21st and last at MSC, with a fine performance last Tuesday at FDU. Going a strong six innings, the ace Indian pitcher gave up only two hits as the two runs scored against him came in on a wind blown fly ball. His teammates provided him with plenty of support. Center fielder Dave Clark and catcher Frank Rouzi hit opening inning doubles to produce a run. In the fifth, Steve Samson, playing at the hot corner, rapped a single to start things off. Jerauld helped his own cause by belting a double.

Tom McCormick, the keystoner who is trying to make a comeback after the sophomore jinx hit him last year, knocked them both in with another single. Shortstop Rich San Fillipo crashed a homer in the sixth to up the count to 7-2. The final score was 9-6.

Against Newark State, Ken Inglis pitched a masterpiece to shutout the previously undefeated conqueror of Glassboro, 3-0. Inglis struck out 17 and the leadoff single in the first was the only hit he gave up.

Fourth inning hits by Samson, Carmen DiSimone a double, and Clark produced the only run needed.

Dioguardi gave his appraisal of the team from what has been exhibited in Florida and in the first two games. "Pitching has been the strong point — a big surprise. Injuries to Fred Keimel and Pete Jerardul prior to the season were expected to hurt our chances for a good start. There has been some fine offensive play by both the infield and outfield. The hitting is good in spots but needs improvement to take up the slack for the pitching."

This was the first year that MSC gymnasts ever made the nationals.

Next year's championship will be held closer to the Metropolitan area, probably in the Midwest. This will allow MSC to enter as a team.

The first three place finishers were San Fernando Valley State, Southern Connecticut State and Springfield College respectively.

Buonomo, who keeps in shape by weightlifting, points to Peter Alteri and Speary, two of his high school coaches and both graduates of MSC, as being very influential regarding his athletic endeavors and his coming to Montclair.

Sunny California was the site for the National Collegiate Athletic Association college division gymnastics championships last Friday. Coach Terry Orlick, Rich Schwarz and Dave Green, representing MSC, made the long trip cross-country to San Fernando Valley State College.

There were 40 to 50 of the top small college gymnasts entered in each event. Schwarz gave a fine performance finishing ninth on the long horse and 12th on the parallel bars. Green also excelled as he finished 12th on the high bar.

Both were disappointed that they did not finish in the final field, composed of the top six. But Orlick felt they did a real good job and was pleased with their performances.

In addition, he stated that MSC was not a "known" school at the tournament and that this had a definite effect on the scorers.

Jerauld Hurls MSC Over FDU;

Inglis Twirls Nifty 1-Hitter

Petie Jerauld opened the 1969 baseball season, which is coach Bill Dioguardi's 21st and last at MSC, with a fine performance last Tuesday at FDU. Going a strong six innings, the ace Indian pitcher gave up only two hits as the two runs scored against him came in on a wind blown fly ball. His teammates provided him with plenty of support. Center fielder Dave Clark and catcher Frank Rouzi hit opening inning doubles to produce a run. In the fifth, Steve Samson, playing at the hot corner, rapped a single to start things off. Jerauld helped his own cause by belting a double.

Tom McCormick, the keystoner who is trying to make a comeback after the sophomore jinx hit him last year, knocked them both in with another single. Shortstop Rich San Fillipo crashed a homer in the sixth to up the count to 7-2. The final score was 9-6.

Against Newark State, Ken Inglis pitched a masterpiece to shutout the previously undefeated conqueror of Glassboro, 3-0. Inglis struck out 17 and the leadoff single in the first was the only hit he gave up.

Fourth inning hits by Samson, Carmen DiSimone a double, and Clark produced the only run needed.

Dioguardi gave his appraisal of the team from what has been exhibited in Florida and in the first two games. "Pitching has been the strong point — a big surprise. Injuries to Fred Keimel and Pete Jerardul prior to the season were expected to hurt our chances for a good start. There has been some fine offensive play by both the infield and outfield. The hitting is good in spots but needs improvement to take up the slack for the pitching."

This was the first year that MSC gymnasts ever made the nationals.

Next year's championship will be held closer to the Metropolitan area, probably in the Midwest. This will allow MSC to enter as a team.

The first three place finishers were San Fernando Valley State, Southern Connecticut State and Springfield College respectively.
