Student Opinion Will Decide Future of Pedestrian Mall

By Richard De Santo Staff Reporter

“This is a completely student-oriented decision. If an overwhelming amount of students want the mall opened, then the mall will be opened.” So states Mrs. Vincent Calabrese, vice-president for business and finance, concerning the pedestrian mall which was closed to vehicular traffic for the first time this past fall. Calabrese, one of the originators and supporters of the pedestrian mall, will meet with a committee from the Student Advisory Council today to discuss the future of the mall.

Calabrese said that the committee feels that the institution of the mall is “premature” and should be reconsidered when traffic difficulties are alleviated during the peak traffic hours of 7 to 9 a.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. According to Calabrese, the mall has nothing to do with any traffic problems affecting MSC commuters. He pointed out that the delay in the morning is caused by the Valley road-Normal avenue congestion, having nothing to do with the campus itself. The back-up which stops campus traffic in the evening exists because there are only two exits from the campus. He noted that even if the mall were opened, the traffic would still have to channel into the same exit, creating the same traffic backup. He added that the proposed bridge would be the answer to the traffic congestion problem.

In describing the origin of the pedestrian mall idea, Calabrese said that a series of meetings was held over the summer involving members of the SGA and other campus organizations and members of the faculty. He said that the end result of these meetings was the overwhelming approval of the idea.

However, Calabrese stressed that there is no official or administrative policy concerning the closing of the pedestrian mall and that the matter will be governed by student reaction.

Washington Freeze Didn’t Halt Protest

March Orderly – Disruptions Minor

By David M. Levine
Managing Editor

WASHINGTON – It was a chilling 33 degrees and the early morning’s darkness blackened the streets of the nation’s capital. Common sense told Washingtonians to stay indoors for the biting cold winds were seemingly harsh enough to interrupt the daily routine of the city.

It had roused the evening before and predictions of snow-flurries came from the weather bureau. Washington turned into a sea of mud.

But they were there lining the streets in front of the Capitol building Saturday at 1 a.m. There were about 1500 of them and each carried the name of a man killed in Vietnam printed on white cardboard attached with string around their necks.

They carried candles which flickered in the wind. Pennsylvania avenue was aglow. They marched silently toward their destination. From Arlington National Cemetery through frigid Washington streets until they reached the Capitol. There they removed the cardboard name-tags and put them into a crude wooden casket.

“There’s coffee over there,” a comely blonde marshall from the New Mobilization committee told the demonstrators. “It’s hot,” she said as they passed by the caskets, slowly and solemnly. “Busses are leaving soon,” she yelled. “The buses will take you to the church for lodging,” she stated.

These were the protesters. They came from every state in America, some were Canadians and a few came from Mexico. They were dressed in blue jeans and fur, business suits and maxicoats. They were the teenagers and the over-30 set. Businessmen and students, families and crippled war veterans. “We are not the silent majority,” posters read. “We are here,” said one 72-year-old woman from Baltimore, “to show Mr. Nixon that we are not silent.” These were the people that made up the March Against Death.

The death march continued until 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning, a total 40 hours from Thursday through Saturday. “People have taken it seriously and have acted in a dignified manner,” said a spokesman for the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. (The “Mobe,” as it is called, was responsible for the planning and conceiving of the Washington demonstrations as far back as six months ago.)

“We feel,” he continued, “that the impact of the Washington moratorium is dramatic. Today’s actions will be felt in years to come.”

And the dramatic impact was seen when over 250,000 people flocked to a rally held on the grounds of the Capitol building. The crowd viewed representatives from various leftist groups, including the Black Panthers, the Students for a Democratic Society and the Irish Republicans. The participants shouted “Peace. Now!” in unison as marchers carried homemade posters and signs demanding: “End Capitalism, End War,” “War and Inflation Erode Our Wages,” and “Stop This Stupid War!”

“We’re here because it is about time that the jerks in the White House listen to the people for a change,” stated a spokesman for the Michigan-based Teachers for Peace. “Face it,” he said, “there are 250,000 of us here, and Nixon says that he received 52,000 telegrams from the so-called silent majority…. I believe we are speaking for the true majority of Americans.”

“But,” added a Cambridge, Mass. woman, “it’s the system that we must change. If we work toward the ideal of socialism in our nation, we can truly avoid war in the future.”

And after the day of marching and shouting antiewar slogans, the...
UP AND COMING: Topped by Old Glory, the Pike crane will eventually be replaced by MSC's 16-story dormitory.

FROM DOWN UNDER: New pipes for the enlarged steam lines have to replace the existing ones. This changeover has been underway since last April.

ALMOST BUT NOT QUITE ready for use, Partridge Hall, MSC's first air-conditioned classroom building will be ready for occupancy for the spring semester. The School of Humanities will be housed here.
Ombudsman Depends on Student Needs

Post Centralize Answers

By Kathy Vargo

Staff Reporter

Is Montclair State College planning an office of ombudsman to hear student grievances?

This question, asked by a few MSC students in response to the creation of the office at Cornell University and City College of New York, was answered by Lawton W. Blanton, dean of students at MSC. Blanton stated, last week: “Right now there isn’t any plan for such an office. However, this doesn’t mean the college won’t create the office in the future if a majority of students desire it.”

Seated around a small table in the dean’s office, Blanton and Edward C. Martin, assistant director of student personnel, discussed why they feel an ombudsman isn’t necessary for Montclair State.

“If a student has a gripe, Blanton believes, he can go to a number of school offices instead of just one. For example, he said, “It has always been my job as dean to hear student complaints. Besides myself.”

RR Bridge Will Ease Traffic Exit

By Mary Jean Strycharz

Staff Reporter

To lessen some of MSC’s existing traffic problems, construction of a $55,000 overpass bridge and parking lot along the western side of the campus will begin in the spring.

According to Mr. Vincent B. Calabrese, vice-president of business and finance, the bridge will extend over the Erie-Lackawanna railroad tracks, paralleling the campus on the west side, will connect with Clove road, a municipal road of Little Falls, and will extend over the existing freshman parking lot.

It will “provide additional, much-needed access and egress to and from the campus, and will eliminate the traffic resulting from the congestion caused by the limited number of access and egress points,” stated Calabrese. The back-up traffic which now exists during early morning and late afternoon hours affects not only campus but municipal roads, often causing massive traffic jams.

The parking lot, which will be equipped with site lighting for night use, will accommodate approximately 200 cars, and have both an entrance and an exit from Clove road.

Both bridge and parking lot are expected to be completed by September, and therefore, ready for use by students for the 1970 fall semester, Calabrese said.

The land on which the building project is to take place costs approximately $50,000 and was previously owned by six different owners. Although there was some delay in acquiring part of the land, which was sold to another buyer before the college, Calabrese stated that MSC had “no problem” in buying the land from the new owners. “Most of the land has already been bought,” he added.

The bridge will contain a raised pedestrian walk with vehicle guard rails and a seven foot high continuous fence barrier, as required by the railroad. Railroad standards regarding concrete piers and overhead clearances are incorporated into the design of the bridge.

The campus architects responsible for the construction of the bridge and parking lot are Urban, Mahony, and Zwonce of Princeton.

Calabrese stated that MSC had “no problem” in buying the land from the new owners. “Most of the land has already been bought,” he added.

The bridge will contain a raised pedestrian walk with vehicle guard rails and a seven foot high continuous fence barrier, as required by the railroad. Railroad standards regarding concrete piers and overhead clearances are incorporated into the design of the bridge.

The campus architects responsible for the construction of the bridge and parking lot are Urban, Mahony, and Zwonce of Princeton.

Continued From Page One

protesters settled down to a mass rally on the grounds of the Washington monument. They listened to speakers and heard Arlo Guthrie sing protest songs.

The rally was soon disrupted by nearly 150 militants labeling themselves Weatherman, Crazies and Yippies. Shouting obscenities, the militants dashed through crowds of spectators and carried banners with the slogan: “Ho-Ho-Ho Chi Minh, the NLF (Viet Cong), Goodbye Goeple.”

“We’re off to the Department of Justice to protest the atrocities of Vietnam,” one Weatherman said as he began to chant: “Free Bobby Scale, Jail Nixon.” He claimed that Scale was a political prisoner, while Nixon “is the real criminal.”

After marching along Pennsylvania avenue, curious bystanders joined with the militants to observe their actions. They marched around the block housing the Justice Department and militants shouted: “F— You! F— You!” to dignitaries who were apparently unmoved by the shouts.

Soon after, a few began to gather around the front door of the Justice Department. As the militants began to chant “kick the ass of the middle class” a few hurled bottles containing red paint against the building. Police moved in and fired tear gas into the crowd of an estimated 6000.

By 9 p.m. Saturday, the crowds had diminished except for a few hard core radicals who remained in the area of the Justice Department. Finally police moved in and 135 militants were jailed, according to a spokesman for the Metropolitan Police Department.

One Weatherman who was jailed and later released stated that his group was provoked by the police “by the very fact that they were standing there.”

A student from Rutgers-New Brunswick, stated, however, that "all the marches were peaceful" and attempted to influence governmental policy "until fools like the Weathermen stepped in.”

The student went on to say: “I don’t know what effect this will have on the government, but I’m hoping the press plays down their (the militant’s) antics.

Meanwhile, moratorium leaders are saying that the Washington demonstrations were a "huge success," and a spokesman for the Move added: “We’re all set for Christmas eve.”

CAMPUS QUIET during D.C. PROTEST

Montclair State College was quiet during last weekend’s Washington demonstrations. According to Mr. Edward Martin, assistant dean, classes at the college were going “fairly well.”

According to an observer, at least 75 local students participated in the Washington demonstrations.

--- Levine.
A Policy Making Organization

Several student government representatives have noted that they cannot make any value-judgments on the campus drug policy since they may not adequately represent campus opinion. Two weeks ago, Dr. Thomas H. Richardson requested an opinion from SGA which he could present to the Faculty Council regarding a recommended student position that the college should follow during the two-day November moratorium. SGA replied: "No Comment."

These two statements by the SGA lead us to question SGA's position as a policy making organization. As a elected body of student representatives, legislators are responsible for more than doling out student activity fee money.

Policy decisions are also a part of student government. Unfortunately, some of our delegates prefer not to commit themselves to a stance.

It is recognized that no group of 40 individuals could express views which would appeal to 4500 people. But those voters who have delegated their support to the SGA legislature expect some opinion to be expressed in their behalf.

We would like to see SGA steer away from this noncommittal course it has been following and take up its responsibility as a student policy making organization.

A Campus Drug Policy

For two years now, students and administrators have been working to compose a suitable campus drug abuse policy. However, one reason for the delay in its completion, is the vagueness of the policy.

Students present on the committee have questioned the legal procedures regarding penalties for campus drug abuse. We further question the college's right to have questioned the legal procedures between the student and the machinery.

A Request for an Ombudsman

Montclair's cumbersome administration needs an ombudsman to act as liaison between the student and the machinery.

As the college expands we see more and more administration being formed on the department, school and college level. Little does the student know to whom he can turn.

What we'd like to see is an ombudsman who can speak for the student to the administration, and who can direct the often-confused student to his needed source of information.

"It's Your SGA"

Right now we've been told that almost everyone in the student personnel department acts as an ombudsman in one way or other. Perhaps, but that doesn't clarify the college's position on an intermediary meant just for the students.

We are asking for the student personnel department under Dean Lawton Blanton to take some definite action toward securing one person to act as ombudsman on the Montclair State College campus.

We feel that an ombudsman is a great need of today's student and can certainly benefit tomorrow's student.

For May Primary

Urban Delegates Select Black Mayoral Candidate

By Patricia M. Romanish

Staff Reporter

NEWARK - Members of the black and Puerto Rican communities of Newark united to nominate mayoral council candidates for the May 1970 primary election at the Black and Puerto Rican Political Convention held last weekend.

The convention, according to Mr. Robert Curvin, chairman of Plane Newark Community Planning Committee and teacher of political science at Rutgers-Newark, had no political party affiliation. Every precinct and district leader, a representative of every church organization, as well as 75 selected individuals of both the Democratic and Republican Parties in the black and Puerto Rican community were invited as voting delegates to the convention.

At a press conference Curvin said that the leadership of Newark has been educated -- from Germans to Jews to Italians -- in a city where blacks constitute over 50% of the people. We, in the city of Newark are faced with an unresponsive, corrupt and ineffective minority government that many people have no confidence in to deal with problems.

In previous elections many black candidates ran, thus splitting the black vote.

'A Exam Taking Is an Art'

AMES, IOWA (ACP) -- Some students have the ability to successfully take examinations and some don't. Those who do not have the talent find themselves with a real headache, often bordering on near-panic.

Marie McManus, an assistant professor and psychologist in the counseling service at Iowa State University, who has been studying this problem for several years, started a pilot project last winter at Iowa State to help students who experience anxiety when "test time" rolls around.

She organized, through the counseling service, a small class of students to participate in a seven-week program of what might well be called behavior therapy for the test-anxious student. All were volunteers. The class was a good cross-section of the student body, including men and women from freshmen to graduate students. These were not poorly-motivated our low-ability students.

Young people with this problem are in the same boat as those persons who can't stand up before an audience and make a speech. Reactions are much the same: headaches, shakiness, stomach upset, sweaty palms, or simply sitting around worrying about the stimulus. We also assist them to diminish the things they do to help students who experience anxiety during "test time" rolls around.

In previous elections many black candidates ran, thus splitting the black vote.

"While it is good to be a little nervous or 'charged up' about an examination, that's normal. "The object is not to become overly motivated."

This new counseling project, Miss McManus has, two objectives. "To help the student to learn other responses to an examination situation: how to learn to calm relaxation along with his study time, rather than sit around worrying about the problem. We show them ways of overcoming the fear. The voluntary nature of the project is what has been a frightening stimulus. We also assist them to diminish the things they do to raise their own anxiety level."

Montclair serving the college community since 1928

The Montclarion is published weekly throughout the college year, September 15 through May 15, by the Board of Trustees, Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, New Jersey 07043. Periodicals postage paid at Montclair and additional mailing offices.

The Montclarion is distributed at a profit to the college to subsidize student activity. The Montclarion is open to any college student. Contributions or correspondence should be addressed to: Montclarion, The Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, New Jersey 07043. Copyright 1969, The Montclarion. No part of this publication may be reproduced without written permission of the editor. Students and college community are urged to submit articles regarding the college and community. Manuscripts are welcome and may be submitted in either typewritten or handwritten form. All letters, articles and subscriptions should be addressed to the Montclarion. Subscriptions, $2.50 per year. Change of address should be sent before the month of publication.

The Montclarion is published weekly throughout the college year, September 15 through May 15, by the Board of Trustees, Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, New Jersey 07043. Periodicals postage paid at Montclair and additional mailing offices.

The Montclarion is distributed at a profit to the college to subsidize student activity. The Montclarion is open to any college student. Contributions or correspondence should be addressed to: Montclarion, The Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, New Jersey 07043. Copyright 1969, The Montclarion. No part of this publication may be reproduced without written permission of the editor. Students and college community are urged to submit articles regarding the college and community. Manuscripts are welcome and may be submitted in either typewritten or handwritten form. All letters, articles and subscriptions should be addressed to the Montclarion. Subscriptions, $2.50 per year. Change of address should be sent before the month of publication.
The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

During that year, the Soviet Union defected East Germany as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the Concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.

The world turned upside down -- or so it seemed. The Catholic Church was forced to come to terms with the civil rights movement as a "voluntary union of like-minded people," and took a great step in this direction with the concordat of 1963. The Concordat with the Holy See also permitted the exercise of the ministry of priests in the United States. The Union with the Holy See has been recognized by the United States since 1933.
Estimates ran from 250,000 to 800,000 people who at

All weekend long crowds poured through the capital city.

They Came ...

Dick Gregory on Spiro Agnew.

In freezing temperatures fires kept the crowds warm.

A way of demonstrating.
They came from all over, for peace and for America.

... in Peace
Who's Who Includes 21 MSC Seniors

Montclair State College has selected 21 seniors to be listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." The winners were selected from the entire senior class on such attributes as scholarship, leadership, and service to the school.

21 SELECTED

Selected were: John Burke, Carlene Cheatham, Frank Cripps, Jordan Denner, Barbara Fischer, Ronald Goldstein, Ronald Green, Michael Hogan, Stanley Jakubik, John LaManna, Joseph Macaluso, Michelle Mancini, Mari-Jo Marra, Dale Rodgers, Daniel Rodgers, Mark Rudnick, Robert Stickel, Gregory Studerus, Daniel Sullivan, Miriam Taub and James Wynne.

Advisory Committee Unifies Residents

The off-campus housing office at MSC is aware of student concerns on this problem, which is the reason this advisory committee was formed five years ago.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of off-campus affairs, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Members of the off-campus housing office at MSC are aware of student concerns on this problem, which is the reason this advisory committee was formed five years ago.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women's off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Problem of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student can be frightening and perplexing. Members of the off-campus housing office at MSC are aware of student concerns on this problem, which is the reason this advisory committee was formed five years ago.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women's off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.

Mrs. Lois Redd, coordinator of women’s off-campus housing, stated that the purpose of the committee is to communicate with students, so they may present their viewpoint. The board listens to and discusses complaints of students. She added that the concerns of housemothers are also revealed to students at these informal meetings.

The off-campus advisory committee is composed of 17 girls who meet bimonthly. Besides advising students on personal problems of loneliness and adjustment to unfamiliar surroundings facing the off-campus student, the committee can be frightening and perplexing.
LUNAR MODULE PILOT Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. deploys the Passive Seismic Experiment Package on the moon's surface which will relay information to earth concerning moonquakes, landslides and meteorite impacts. Aldrin's mission was also to bring back those moon rocks now under study at Princeton University.

Princeton Studies Moon Rocks Brought to Earth on Apollo 11

By David Kerr
Staff Reporter

Princeton - They came from 250,000 miles out in space, they landed in the Pacific Ocean, and they were transported to Princeton University by plane. What are they? Rocks from the moon brought back by Buzz Aldrin, Neil Armstrong, and Michael Collins after their successful journey to our only satellite in July.

Four pieces of these rocks were loaned to Princeton University by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration last week for intensive study and analysis by the university's department of geology.

Prof. Robert Hargraves is in charge of the study which will try to determine the composition of the moon rocks or tektites. When this reporter arrived at the university, Hargraves was enclosing one small piece of the sample into a plastic case for study. He remarked, "they kind of resemble tramprock, but they are really made of basalt."

When asked about security, he replied, "very heavy security precautions are being taken to insure the safety of the rocks. We certainly don't want them being stolen."

Prof. Lincoln Hollister, will do a microprobe analysis of the fourgram sample. The microprobe will determine the amount of each element contained in the rocks by bombarding them with x-rays. The machine is also fitted with an electron microscope which will take close-up pictures of the sample.

Hollister commented on the worth of the rocks. "They are really priceless and, actually, no price can be put on them unless one of them is stolen or lost."

Although four grams is a very small piece of the moon, the Princeton professors feel it is enough to enable them to study the rocks thoroughly.

Mr. Theodore C. Forestam designed the apparatus which will prepare microscopic particles of the moon for the microprobe and it was through his efforts that this reporter became the only person outside of the University staff to have a brief look at a piece of the moon.

The rocks look very unimpressive. They resemble small pieces of gravel of the kind used in paving roads and are gray in color. Yet, they have come some 250,000 miles across space in a container with three humans in it called "Columbia."

Girls Decide Upon Closed Door Policy

“A step toward independence” is the thought of the girls in Chapin, Freeman and Russ halls on a weekend closed-door policy. According to Mary Jean Agunsday, president of the women’s dorm council, at MSC, a questionnaire distributed to female residence hall students showed that most of them approved the closed-door policy on weekends.

Miss Agunsday, in her sixth-floor dorm room stated that a committee is currently studying the girls’ responses and brochures from several colleges which have already adopted closed-door policies.

She continued, saying that of approximately 276 respondents to the questionnaire in Freeman hall, only 20 disapproved of visiting the girls’ rooms. Miss Agunsday said that the main complaint is that the closed-door policy may infringe upon the roommates of girls who have male guests in their rooms.

She added that those who favor the closed-door policy vary in their opinions about dress codes and the desirability of families entering the dorms. Some feel that the clothing worn in public rooms is appropriate, while many believe the type of dress should be left to the decision of the student.

To see a journalism department which will circulate to the individual residents. She noted that almost everyone was in favor of having the presence of male guests announced through the intercom system. Points such as these present problems for the committee, explained Miss Agunsday, but she added, "we must smooth out the rough edges and try to come up with a final piece of policy that will be acceptable to everyone."

The committee is headed by Alice Gertz, vice-president of dorm council. It is composed of representatives from three women’s dorms, desk girls and interested students. Miss Gertz, who shares the sixth-floor apartment with Miss Agunsday, stated that the committee is still in the process of compiling information and that it is working out the fine points of developing a suitable policy. She said a resolution must be drawn up and presented to the coordinators of the residence halls and President Thomas H. Richardson for approval. She added that even though the committee is resistant that the resolution will be approved, the members must be prepared with alternatives.

Miss Gertz commented that if accepted, the closed-door policy will become effective next semester.

Levine Heads Public Relations

By Susan Dominski
Staff Reporter

David M. Levine, managing editor of the MONTCLARION, now fills the newly-created office of Student Government Association public relations director. Levine, SGA representative to the social science programs, fills the position of public relations director.

Editor of The International Journal and a native of Newark, N.J., he plans "to establish a newsletter which will circulate to other academic departments, informing them of SGA activities." By working with SGA public relations director Mrs. Mary McKnight, he hopes to "keep the local press informed of all student activities at MSC."

"The aspiring journalist and freelance writer plans to work with a staff," he said. "I am very proud that the SGA has initiated such a progressive step." He added: "As the college grows larger, there is a greater need for keeping students and the press in the metropolitan area informed about activities. SGA will be taking progressive stands on issues such as educational reforms in the near future."

This 20-year-old part-time reporter for United Press International plans to send press releases to high schools and local dailies about bills supporting educational reforms passed by the SGA, and how the student fits into today's society.

To see a journalism department established at MSC is his greatest wish, and Levine hopes "to keep the public informed of what's happening here."

Levine was named editor of The MONTCLARION last week by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration last week. He was formerly the editor of The Newark Daily News and The Montclair Free Press.

Cooks Wanted Male or Female

We will work around your hours

See Dale Jefferson, director of dining services
ext. 372 or 256

November 26 is the last day for withdrawal from courses without an automatic "E"
Southern Conn. Not To Be Underrated

Having their best season ever, the Montclair State College football team will carry on this year’s campaign by facing Southern Connecticut State College, New Haven, on Saturday night at 8 p.m.

As of Nov. 7, the Southern Connecticut Owls were sporting a dismal 1-6 record. This record is by no means an indication that the Owls are a poor team. They have lost by some very close scores, losing to both the University of Maine and Drexel by seven points. Adelphi by six, and the University of Bridgeport, Glassboro, and C.W. Post by either one or two points.

The Southern Connecticut team, coached by Harry Shay, has a young team this year, combined with many seasoned veterans. The team is led by quarterback Jack Bloomgingle. Bloomgingle has set four school records this year, while completing 52 out of 113 passes for 746 yards and six touchdowns. The Owls also feature two hard-running sophomores halfbacks. Walt Shelton has carried the ball 120 times for 378 yards and five touchdowns. Shelton is averaging 3.2 yards per carry. John Hayden has gained 216 yards in 23 carries for a 9.4 average and two TD’s. Hayden has seen limited action so far this season.

The leading receivers for the Southern Connecticut team are Shelton, who has 15 receptions for 290 yards and three touchdowns, sophomore Gordon Taylor, 11 receptions for 115 yards, and senior Angelo Carionco, 10 receptions for 165 yards. Both Taylor and Carionco have one touchdown each.

The top defensive player for Southern Connecticut is John Moore. Moore, a senior safety, has intercepted five passes so far this season. Moore also shares co-captain duties with Gene Mettall, an offensive tackle.

Team statistics for the Southern Connecticut State College team are 973 yards rushing, 567 yards passing, 60 complete passes in 127 attempts, and 17 interceptions have been made by the team’s defense.

Kowalczyk

The ECAC has 16 rulings on eligibility regarding amateurism, and the loss of eligibility. The first two rulings will be evaluated in this week’s commentary.

(1) If you permit the use of your name or picture in commercial advertising.

What does using your name or picture in commercial advertising have to do with your playing ability? Whether or not you receive pay for this is not stated, but in any event it doesn’t matter. Using your identity in an advertisement is not making you a better player or superior to other athletes, and should not have any bearing on your amateur status.

(2) If you receive payment or accept a gift or loan for playing, coaching, officiating, or teaching in any sport.

What is wrong with coaching, playing, officiating, or teaching in any sport? If you have the capability to teach children how to play a sport, or if you have the knowledge to officiate a game, why not get paid for it? Officiating, coaching, playing or teaching, and getting paid for it, should not jeopardize a student’s amateur status. These things won’t really improve his playing ability tremendously, if it improves it at all.

More points of this ECAC statement. If eligibility is ruled on, will be discussed next week.

Orrick Enters Second Season

"He’s the best coach I’ve ever seen," declares Rich Schwarz, MSC’s assistant gymnastics coach. Orrick, who is a member of the Intercollegiate Gymnastic League and NCAA Regional Gymnastic Champion.

In 1968, Orrick assumed the position of instructor in MSC’s men’s physical education dept. Prior to his teaching at MSC, he was assistant gymnastic coach at the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

Coach Orrick is well-liked by the members of his team. "He’s personal," comments senior Ron Poling, "and we can identify with him."

Orrick excels on the trampoline, the highbar and long horse vaulting. He was captain of Syracuse University’s most outstanding gymnast and team twice won the Most Outstanding Gymnast Award at Syracuse. In his junior year, Orrick was the Eastern Atlantic Athletic Conference title and qualified it for the NCAA College Nationals in 1968 and eighth in the 1968 Olympic trials in California.

Miss Wood also carries her share of awards. She placed fifth for the shot and discus in the 1968 and fourth nationally. She is the N.J. shot put and discus champ.

Dr. Joan Schleerde is reorganizing the track team for the spring season, said Miss Wood. Orrick, a fixture at MSC, will be evaluating the rulings on amateurism for the physical, mental, social and educational benefits he derives therefrom. To whom athletics is an assembly. One who takes or has taken pay, or has accepted the promise of pay, in any form, for participation in athletics or has directly or indirectly used his athletic skill for pay in any form shall not be eligible for inter-collegiate athletics, it being understood that an undergraduate participating in athletics may accept scholarships or educational grants-in-aid from his institution provided such aid is not in conflict with governing legislative of this conference.

Amateurism and Ineligibility in Sports

The MONTCLARION, Sports Commentary will evaluate the rulings on amateurism and ineligibility regarding amateurism, as defined by the Eastern Coast Athletic Conference. Before going into the evaluation of the ineligibility concerning amateurism, it would first like to quote from ECAC Bylaws, article two, section one, the "Principle of Amateurism:..."?

"An amateur student is one who engages in athletics for the physical, mental, social and educational benefits he derives therefrom, and to whom athletics is an assembly. One who takes or has taken pay, or has accepted the promise of pay, in any form, for participation in athletics or has directly or indirectly used his athletic skill for pay in any form shall not be eligible for inter-collegiate athletics, it being understood that an undergraduate participating in athletics may accept scholarships or educational grants-in-aid from his institution provided such aid is not in conflict with governing legislative of this conference."
Horn Charms Tracksters Into 7-6 Season Record

By Carol Sokowitz
Staff Reporter

"Charm and a little hocus-pocus," confided Dr. George Horn, Montclair State College's cross-country coach, was what he used to bring his team to a 7-6 record this season. The outstanding success of MSC's cross-country team at the end of the season surprised everyone but Horn, who had predicted the team would improve with every meet. The harriers ended the second half of the season with a record of 6-1, winning all six in a row. Horn came to MSC in September, 1966, when he was appointed associate professor of health and physical education. He is currently in his fourth year as coach of MSC's cross-country team. He also coaches indoor and outdoor track.

When asked why a former Albright College football player would be interested in cross-country, Horn replied, "My uncle, Jim Rosenberger, was a runner in the 1912 Olympics and he got me interested in track. He was track coach at St. John's and when I was a small boy he would take me with him to watch the college and I've been a lifelong fan."

Montclair State College Athletic Conference "Coach of the Year" for his job in leading Montclair to the finest season in the 41 year history of basketball at MSC. The Indians finished the season with a 24-3 mark, including champions of the New Jersey State Athletic Conference, the NCAA East Area College division, and a trip to the National Championships in Evanston, Ill. They were also voted the outstanding team in division II of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Horn replied, "I was a runner in the 1912 Olympics and I got me interested in track. He was track coach at St. John's and when I was a small boy he would take me with him to watch the college and I've been a lifelong fan."
MSC Faces 3-0 Loss in Playoff

By Carol Sakowitz Staff Reporter

Yesterday, 1000 fans watched as Montclair State College's highly rated soccer team was defeated 3-0 by the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin field in Philadelphia. The loss eliminates MSC from the 1969 NCAA soccer finals.

The bulk of the U. of P.'s attack was led by forwards Tom Lieberman and Stan Startzell. Lieberman led in game scoring with his ground shot, from 17 yards out, into the lower right corner of the net. The U. of P.'s lead remained 1-0 until 1:51 in the fourth period when Lieberman again scored.

Assisted this time by Tom Hutchinson, Lieberman's shot from the upper right side of the field was made at 9:30 in the fourth period. The goal was the first of the season for Lieberman who played his best game of the season.

The U. of P.'s first goal was scored by Lieberman at 12:16 in the first period. Lieberman scored when his ground shot, from 17 yards out, went into the lower right corner of the net. The U. of P.'s lead remained 1-0 until 51:51 in the fourth period when Lieberman again scored.

But after the U. of P.'s initial goal, MSC was unable to regain their former control and failed in their 25 goal shots. The U. of P.'s well-balanced team was able to score three times out of the 18 goal shots that they took.

This year is the second that MSC has competed in NCAA playoffs, the first time in 1968. They had to face each other after defeating Baltimore but were defeated by Springfield.

MSC's soccer team ends their 1969 season with a 12-1 conference record, 22-1 overall. The U. of P.'s record of 8-3 has allowed them to participate in NCAA divisional play-offs for the first time. Their defeat of MSC enables them to move up in the play-offs. On Fri., Nov. 21, they will face a tough Philadelphia Textile team. Textile, ranked first in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, previously defeated West Chester 2-1 in another playoff game.

MONTCLARIOS - November 19, 1969

Page 12

Sports

MSC Overcomes Glassboro

By Al Shapley Staff Reporter

After falling behind, 13-0, at the half, the Indians of Montclair State bounced back to a 23-13 victory over Glassboro State last Saturday night on Sprague field. The Indians are now atop the New Jersey State College Conference standings with a record of 3-0. By beating Glassboro the Indians also gain sole possession of second place in the Eastern Football Conference and lift their overall record to seven wins and two losses.

In the action of the first half the 4-121 fans saw Montclair fumble, throw interceptions, drop passes and allow a punt to be blocked. Glassboro was ready and eager to take advantage of Montclair's mistakes.

Late in the first quarter, Glassboro defensive back Mike McEvoy picked off a pass that was thrown behind Montclair's punter, sent out to boot the ball out of bounds.

When the U. of P.'s initial effort at scoring was blocked, the Indians of Montclair were now on the short end of a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

With only one second left on the scoreboard Glassboro, who was on its own two-yard line, made a final attempt to score. The Indian defense, however, converged on the Glassboro quarterback and middle guard Jules Gertic pinned him behind his own goal line for Montclair's final two points.

What had been a 13-0 score at the half was abruptly changed to a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

Glassboro, now playing erratic football, threw another stray pass which Brunelli picked off setting up the Indian third score. Gara once again handed off to Cooper who thundered 18 yards for his second touchdown and the third for the Indians within seven minutes.

On this play, as on the other two long touchdowns, a great deal of credit goes to the Montclair interior linemen. Center Steve DiGeronimo, guards Al Avignone and John Bellavia, and tackles Jeff Tomaszewski and Tracy Battaglini made holes in the Glassboro line that made the runs of Morschauser and Cooper appear easy.

MSC's soccer team ends their 1969 season with a 12-1 conference record, 22-1 overall. The U. of P.'s record of 8-3 has allowed them to participate in NCAA divisional play-offs for the first time. Their defeat of MSC enables them to move up in the play-offs. On Fri., Nov. 21, they will face a tough Philadelphia Textile team. Textile, ranked first in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, previously defeated West Chester 2-1 in another playoff game.

MSC - Castellucci, 19 yard field goal
MSC - Castellucci, 27 yard field goal
MSC - Kuczynski, 22 yard run with blocked punt (Castellucci kick)
MSC - Morschauser, 25 yard touchdown (Brewster kick)
MSC - Cooper, 18 yard run, (Brewster kick)
MSC - Safety, (Glassboro qb. tackled behind own goal)

Page 12 - MONTCLARIOS - November 19, 1969

Sports

MSC Overcomes Glassboro

By Al Shapley Staff Reporter

After falling behind, 13-0, at the half, the Indians of Montclair State bounced back to a 23-13 victory over Glassboro State last Saturday night on Sprague field. The Indians are now on top of the New Jersey State College Conference standings with a record of 3-0. By beating Glassboro the Indians also gain sole possession of second place in the Eastern Football Conference and lift their overall record to seven wins and two losses.

In the action of the first half the 4-121 fans saw Montclair fumble, throw interceptions, drop passes and allow a punt to be blocked. Glassboro was ready and eager to take advantage of Montclair's mistakes.

Late in the first quarter, Glassboro defensive back Mike McEvoy picked off a pass that was thrown behind Montclair's punter, sent out to boot the ball out of bounds.

When the U. of P.'s initial effort at scoring was blocked, the Indians of Montclair were now on the short end of a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

With only one second left on the scoreboard Glassboro, who was on its own two-yard line, made a final attempt to score. The Indian defense, however, converged on the Glassboro quarterback and middle guard Jules Gertic pinned him behind his own goal line for Montclair's final two points.

What had been a 13-0 score at the half was abruptly changed to a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

Glassboro, now playing erratic football, threw another stray pass which Brunelli picked off setting up the Indian third score. Gara once again handed off to Cooper who thundered 18 yards for his second touchdown and the third for the Indians within seven minutes.

On this play, as on the other two long touchdowns, a great deal of credit goes to the Montclair interior linemen. Center Steve DiGeronimo, guards Al Avignone and John Bellavia, and tackles Jeff Tomaszewski and Tracy Battaglini made holes in the Glassboro line that made the runs of Morschauser and Cooper appear easy.

MSC's soccer team ends their 1969 season with a 12-1 conference record, 22-1 overall. The U. of P.'s record of 8-3 has allowed them to participate in NCAA divisional play-offs for the first time. Their defeat of MSC enables them to move up in the play-offs. On Fri., Nov. 21, they will face a tough Philadelphia Textile team. Textile, ranked first in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, previously defeated West Chester 2-1 in another playoff game.

MSC - Castellucci, 19 yard field goal
MSC - Castellucci, 27 yard field goal
MSC - Kuczynski, 22 yard run with blocked punt (Castellucci kick)
MSC - Morschauser, 25 yard touchdown (Brewster kick)
MSC - Cooper, 18 yard run, (Brewster kick)
MSC - Safety, (Glassboro qb. tackled behind own goal)

MSC Overcomes Glassboro

By Al Shapley Staff Reporter

After falling behind, 13-0, at the half, the Indians of Montclair State bounced back to a 23-13 victory over Glassboro State last Saturday night on Sprague field. The Indians are now on top of the New Jersey State College Conference standings with a record of 3-0. By beating Glassboro the Indians also gain sole possession of second place in the Eastern Football Conference and lift their overall record to seven wins and two losses.

In the action of the first half the 4-121 fans saw Montclair fumble, throw interceptions, drop passes and allow a punt to be blocked. Glassboro was ready and eager to take advantage of Montclair's mistakes.

Late in the first quarter, Glassboro defensive back Mike McEvoy picked off a pass that was thrown behind Montclair's punter, sent out to boot the ball out of bounds.

When the U. of P.'s initial effort at scoring was blocked, the Indians of Montclair were now on the short end of a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

With only one second left on the scoreboard Glassboro, who was on its own two-yard line, made a final attempt to score. The Indian defense, however, converged on the Glassboro quarterback and middle guard Jules Gertic pinned him behind his own goal line for Montclair's final two points.

What had been a 13-0 score at the half was abruptly changed to a 21-13 score by the aggressive Indians. The Indians threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but were unable to score until Glassboro made its final mistake.

Glassboro, now playing erratic football, threw another stray pass which Brunelli picked off setting up the Indian third score. Gara once again handed off to Cooper who thundered 18 yards for his second touchdown and the third for the Indians within seven minutes.

On this play, as on the other two long touchdowns, a great deal of credit goes to the Montclair interior linemen. Center Steve DiGeronimo, guards Al Avignone and John Bellavia, and tackles Jeff Tomaszewski and Tracy Battaglini made holes in the Glassboro line that made the runs of Morschauser and Cooper appear easy.

MSC's soccer team ends their 1969 season with a 12-1 conference record, 22-1 overall. The U. of P.'s record of 8-3 has allowed them to participate in NCAA divisional play-offs for the first time. Their defeat of MSC enables them to move up in the play-offs. On Fri., Nov. 21, they will face a tough Philadelphia Textile team. Textile, ranked first in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, previously defeated West Chester 2-1 in another playoff game.

MSC - Castellucci, 19 yard field goal
MSC - Castellucci, 27 yard field goal
MSC - Kuczynski, 22 yard run with blocked punt (Castellucci kick)
MSC - Morschauser, 25 yard touchdown (Brewster kick)
MSC - Cooper, 18 yard run, (Brewster kick)
MSC - Safety, (Glassboro qb. tackled behind own goal)