PARKING AND SECURITY EDITORIAL

If You’ve Got Something to Say...

The MONTCLARION has been hearing all sorts of complaints about the security and parking problem on campus.

The safety of the college’s women students has been jeopardized with a recent increase in personal attacks. We have heard, thru a reliable faculty member, that one young lady felt victim to a sexually-depraved attack on campus two weekends ago. Good taste prevents us from giving further details.

In addition, several other MSC coeds have been attacked recently, both on campus and in the immediate vicinity.

Trenton’s budget cuts have limited the number of guards patrolling the campus on a regular basis, but we don’t feel that the “guards” that MSC currently has are doing an adequate job. Instead of patrolling the campus, protecting young ladies from the numerous physical attacks which have occurred, these “guards” are content to fill out those little blue tickets and direct traffic.

Closely related to the security problem is the appalling parking situation on campus. The status of the lot-that-never-was between the fine arts building and Finley Hall is still in doubt. Rumors place the date of its closing from tomorrow until late July.

Any plans to improve walking conditions between the student life building and Webster Hall are, if non-existent, well in the dark. And plans to improve methods of getting to the quarry at night (such as eliminating boulders and minor mountains) are equally obscure.

And have the students been consulted? Well, the three students on the all-college parking committee (SGA President Thomas Benitz — a dorm student; SGA Vice-President Stan Grajewski; and SGA Representative Sharon Wancho) were consulted. And they all agreed that the “mudflats” between the fine arts building and Finley Hall should be closed.

Here’s your change. Fill out the form to the left, X-ing as many items as you think should be corrected, and drop it in any of the “MONTCLARION petition” boxes that you’ll find around campus starting today. The locations are listed to the left.

When we start receiving numerous responses, we’ll begin publishing the results in the MONTCLARION each week...right here on the front page, where they can be read by the biggies who make the decisions.

We can’t see how voicing your views can be made any easier. If we receive few responses, we’ll assume nothing’s wrong with the parking situation, and things will certainly stay the way they are.

The opportunity is here. Filling out the form and dropping it in a convenient box is your decision.

Have you noticed your opinion? Probably not, because of the lack of genuine opportunity that MSC students have to have their views heard.

Don Penclley,
Editor-in-Chief

---

You'd like to voice your opinion on the traffic situation at Montclair State to the MONTCLARION and the campus bigwigs who make the decisions.

( ) I find nothing wrong with the current parking situation.
( ) I think that the “mudflats” should remain open, at least until the close of the semester.
( ) I think the road leading from the music building to Webster Hall should be paved or improved.
( ) I think the security guards should be patrolling the campus on a more regular basis than they are now.
( ) I think adequate lighting should be installed in the lot behind Webster Hall and the quarry.
( ) I think potholes throughout the campus should be filled and repaired.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS: .....................................................................................................

The “MONTCLARION traffic petition” boxes are located in the:

College Hall main lounge
Patridge Hall first floor lounge
Fine arts building lounge
Temporary union building
Memorial auditorium lobby

---

THREE OF A KIND: Royalty is well represented on the Memorial auditorium stage by Miss New Jersey, Hela Ungston, Miss MSC 1970, Pat Merrick, and Peggy Carissimo, Miss MSC 1971.
By Diane Forden

Staff Writer

Special interests are being served with news and feature coverage thru a variety of "little newspapers" printed on campus by various organizations.

Sponsored by schools, departments, clubs and other interested groups, the newsletters are generally mimeographed or dittoed, and several pages long.

ONE OF the professionally-printed newsletters is that of the School of Humanities. Containing information about Senate meetings, committees and departments, it also features a column by the school's dean, Dr. W. B. Fleischmann, and articles by interested faculty members and students.

Jean Jemian, junior French major and associate editor of the Newsletter explained that the Committee on Student Affairs decided that a medium was necessary to reach the students in such an environment. "One cannot communicate with all students, so we choose a small group of students who are interested in this," he said.

The mathematics department has initiated publication of a monthly newsletter entitled 100 Proof. Miss Linda Johnson, junior coordinator of the newsletter, and Jacques Caillaut, junior associate editor, discussed the reasons for its publication.

"There's a need for it," Miss Johnson emphasized. "There are 560 students in the department and it's very hard to have communication. This newsletter provides an opportunity for students to express opinions.

We also print articles about our faculty and we even have a 'problem section,'" she laughed.

Caillaut noted a possibility that 100 Proof may expand into a newsletter for the School of Mathematics and Science next year "to provide a source of information for students and faculty in the science departments as well as in the math department."

Montclair Speech Family Newsletter is the speech department's publication. The newsletter has been published every semester since October, 1954 and contains news about graduations, meetings, committees and other activities of the department as well as current information.

"Miss Ellen Kaufman, faculty adviser of the newsletter, explained that it is a marvelous way to keep tabs on each other and to keep a close bond within the department. We have received letters from students and alumni who are interested in how we're doing," Miss Kaufman said.

The most recent newsletter, published the first week of spring semester, was edited by interested faculty members.

The Newman House Newsletter, Miss Niedbala said. "Our purpose is to analyze. We make no pretensions about being objective. It is an opinion analysis about local and national political issues and how they relate to students on campus."

Insley also stated that he thinks the general reactions towards "Dayshift" has been favorable. "Of course, we have received varied reactions from individuals, but people seem to like it."
MSC Fights Losing Battle With Potholes

Maintenance men are fighting a "losing battle" with the potholes found in roads and parking lots on campus, according to Maintenance Engineer Joseph McGinty. Since hot blacktop will not adhere to road surfaces during the winter, he said, a temporary substitute, cold patch, similar to blacktop, must be used instead. Unfortunately, he continued, the cold patch is very messy to take over and to freezing and thawing and is expected to last for only a few weeks.

McGinty states that: "If there’s any snow or ice, it breaks the cold patch open. We have to wait until the weather improves before we can put hot blacktop down."

Traffic must also be taken into consideration, McGinty commented, "the more traffic, the more potholes." Cars create concave conditions when they drive over the cold patch after a heavy snow or rainfall.

Most of the potholes on campus, however, have already been repaired. Clyde Bacon, grounds foreman, added that "in the next few years, our contracts will be called in to repair areas around Webster Hall."

"It’s A LOSING BATTLE: For both MSC students and maintenance men, rough muddy lots and potholed roads cause problems."

For Announcements, Music

SGA Seeking PA Setup

By Carla Capizzi Staff Writer

In an effort to end the "communications gap" the Student Government Association is investigating the possibility of a campus-wide public address system, according to Jim Loven­duski, sophomore SGA representative.

Announcements about activities, meetings, important deadlines and even emergency messages would be broadcast in a 2.3 minute period between classes, Loven­duski said. Popular music may also be piped into lounges, TUB and the student life building, he added.

LOVEN­DUSKI, who spear­headed the move, said that "the system had "unlimited possibili­ties," but primarily would be a service for the students. "Kids often complain that ti­ey don’t know what’s going on on cam­pus," he explained. Daily an­nouncements could end their confusion.

Thus the speaker system, col­lege organizations could reach the students and advertise functions and activities. A public address system would also be useful for minor emergencies like notifying a student that his car is blocking another vehicle or a driveway, Loven­duski said. He added that the system could be enjoyable as well as useful.

The PA system would be coordinated with WVMS, the campus radio station, which would make announcements.

AC­CORDING TO LOVEN­DUSKI, the system would be relatively inexpensive and easy to install. It could be in opera­tion, at least for a trial period, later this semester.

But current campus policy does not permit announcements during class hours. They are con­sidered disruptions, which dis­turb the "quiet necessary for class work," according to Tom Stepanowski, student activities director.

LOVEN­DUSKI plans to call for a favorable reaction from students. He believes there will be a favorable reaction. On Monday, Lovenduski will distribute questionnaires polling students and faculty members on their feelings about a PA system. It is hoped that if students were heavy drug users stealing to support their habit," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

The "slight increase" of drug usage among Montclair State students during the past year has resulted in an official college drug policy.

"Drug problems are increasing among college campuses in the past year," Dean of Students Lawton W. Blanton said. The "problem at MSC, however, is not as serious as it is on other campuses."

He added that a lack of hard drugs is not prevalent at MSC.

MSC, THRU the All-College Drug Committee, has formulated an official drug policy statement, said Blanton. Its three points are as follows:

1. The sale, possession or use of illegal drugs on campus will not be permitted. Disciplinary action will be taken when neces­sary. Counseling services will be provided by the medical staff, psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

2. Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.

administration issues official drug policy

psychological services staff, student personnel department and the housing staff.

"Courses, workshops and seminars will continue to be offered to familiarize the college community with the physical, psychological and legal aspects of drug abuse.

BLANTON SAID THAT MSC’s major problem is the problem of non-student drug users on cam­pus. He mentioned a theft of $2000 worth of musical instru­ments from a student’s car. The student saw two young men removing the instruments and took down their license plate numbers. As a result, their car was traced and the instruments recovered. "It is reported that they were heavy drug users stealing to support their habits," Blan­tton said. He cautioned students not to leave anything visible in their cars.
Students to Cahill: We're Having Problems

By Dariel Hulburt Staff Writer

TRENTON—Phase two of the higher education board's master plan, which involves problems of student veterans and the increased involvement of students in the state government, were topics of discussion at a recent meeting of the student liaison committee to Gov. Cahill and to the legislature.

The liaison committee, designed to provide student representation in New Jersey colleges, was established by Cahill following the campus tension of last year. Mary R. Watson, SGA vice president for academic affairs, is the student representative from Montclair State. It was held in Cahill's office here.

MSC PRESIDENT Thomas H. Richardson, according to Watson, is concerned about the present enrollment of 7,500 student enrollment limit on state colleges included in the master plan. Projected figures show that MSC could expect an enrollment of 10,000 students by 1975 and 20,000 students by 1985. In other words, Cahill indicated that the college presidents can voice their views in the upcoming open hearing on the matter.

Representatives from William Paterson (formerly Paterson College) State College voiced concern over its role in the master plan. Discussing the state's recognition of its colleges, the students referred to Rutgers/Newark as the "crown jewel," and to MSC as "the pearl." Watson voiced concern at the meeting that student veterans do not receive their veterans benefits in time to make tuition and fees payments. "These veterans are on their own, sometimes supporting families for whom they do not always have the money for tuition," he said. These students, Watson continued, would like an installment payment plan. Cahill promised to support such a plan at all state colleges.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY representatives proposed that candidates for election to the State Legislature be investigated as to their voting backgrounds on education. "We want to make sure that they have been favorable to education in the past," said Watson.

Cahill said that he would like to see students become involved in state projects, such as teaching in prisons and welfare work. "As the SGA Newsletter recently pointed out," said Watson, "students can work for the state over the summer in police departments and other projects." This will give them an opportunity to learn about state government, he said.

Legal Abortions Without Delay

The Montclair Bird Club will hold a New Jersey conference in Atlantic City on March 6. A seminar on BUDDHIST PHILOSOPHY will be held at the Newman House on March 9 at 7:30 p.m. A representative of the Nidirian Shoubo of America, will be the guest speaker.

Everyone is invited.

The Montclair Bird Club will present "THE SOUNDS OF BIRDS," a program mingling bird calls with musical compositions, illustrated by cartoons and slides. The program, arranged by Jack Stewart, a Morris County teacher, will be held in Mallory Hall on March 10 at 8 p.m.

The Department of Anthropology Museum, in C-308, has a new exhibit of AFRICAN ART, principally Ghana in origin. The museum hours are: Mondays from 1-4 p.m., Wednesdays from 1-2 p.m., and Fridays from 1-2 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Music to Satisfy Your Sexual Desires

Bill Mackay on WVMS Sunday 3 to 5 p.m.

MSC Funds Slashed 1 ½% Per Student

Cahill's Budget May Kill All New Programs

By Jo-Ellen Scudere Staff Writer

Inflation is no longer confined to a way of town's local Shop-Rite. It has hit Montclair State in a way that will affect all undergraduate and graduate programs for the fiscal year of 1971-72.

Governor William T. Cahill's budget request cut the MSC budget request down to what amount to a 1 ½% decrease in funds for the individual student, Vincent Calabrese, MSC vice president for student finance, said. The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

DURING THE 1971 fiscal year, state support (money in excess of tuition) and fees payments. "These increases effectively cuts the budget request cut the MSC budget request down to what amount to a 1 ½% decrease in funds for the individual student, Vincent Calabrese, MSC vice president for student finance, said. The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.

The budget request has yet to be voted upon by the state legislature.
Proud Livingston Changes A Bit

REPORTER RETURNS TO HIGH SCHOOL

LIVINGSTON — The brick front, the little white cupola on top, the crowded lunchroom — it all still there. It's only been eight months since I left Livingston High School and yet there have been many changes — some important, some almost imperceptible.

LHS is a typical suburban high school. With an enrollment of 1900 students it is proud of an average class size of 26 even with rising class numbers.

There wasn't one main curriculum change in the three years I went to LHS with the major offerings being things like "Chemistry," "U.S. History II" and "Spanish II."

There were a few goodies like "Humanities" and "Contemporary World Literature," but they were few and far between.

NOW 2 SEMESTERS

Now, the English department has divided the senior year into two semesters. The first half must be English IV but the second is a choice from subjects like English IV but the second is a choice from subjects like "Film Appreciation," "Sensitivity Training for the Classroom." Students don't care any more..."

"The students at Livingston High School just don't care any more..." said Paul Lawson, student council president. "Last spring was a final outburst of emotion."

It has almost been a year since 400 students "walked out." April 9, 1970 was the culmination of almost a month of mistrust and misunderstanding.

After having an acting principal for almost a year, Leo Hurley was appointed by the board with the question of an exam policy still undecided.

On April 5, the exam policy was handed down, heralded by an "unauthorized meeting" held by the then student council President Kenneth Schenier, who was later removed as a punishment.

Four days of chaos followed which finally ended in the closest thing LHS has ever had to a strike. The walk-out tore the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. Tho. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""

The students of Livingston High haven't changed much in outward appearance. With the abolition of the dress code, this past fall, jeans now are standard dress for males and females alike. A board composed of faculty and students and school administrators, it was handed down, heralded by the usually quiet town to shreds, prompting the editorial of the local West Essex Tribune to begin:

"This has been the most difficult of the 31 weeks we have been publishing."

This year's exam policy features optional midterm examinations and exemptions for "A" averages. All seniors are also exempt from finals.

But apathy has taken the place of what was passionate involvement.

"Now if anything happens, they have a tendency to say "Well, I expected it," said Lawson. "It's not even hate...just indifference.""
The declining influence of fraternities and sororities on college campuses throughout the country has been a topic of guarded discussion in recent times. Some fear the social organizations may soon die off.

A hefty amount of fraternities in the United States have been beset with internal questioning about their entire worth. Others have been the victims of justified racial discrimination charges. Many other fraternities are facing rising costs of houses and property taxes. And potential pledges are becoming more reluctant to participate in seemingly demeaning harassment when it comes to being inducted into Greek organizations.

James Saxon, president of Montclair State College’s Inter-Fraternity Council, has pointed out recently that Greek organizations in general have not kept pace with the rising costs of houses and property taxes. And potential pledges are becoming more reluctant to be induced into Greek organizations. Frats at MSC and elsewhere tend to be secretive and, reportedly, would like to put the paper out of business.

Saxon pointed out that the Greek groups have lost 15% of its membership over the past few years. Across the nation the numbers are less encouraging. The National Interfraternity Council was so hard-pressed for additional members they recently voted to accept members from junior colleges, a departure from Greek history.

The social-fraternity concept was introduced in the United States early in the 18th century where five students formed a social club at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va. Over the years, Phi Beta Kappa evolved into an honorary group for reorganizing scholarship and academic achievement. The Greek concept was soon picked up by other colleges with success.

With the growing student awareness of acute social problems of the 1960’s, many focused their interests in different directions. Some content to remain apathetic. Others channeled their interests into student activism.

This perhaps was the signal for the end of social fraternities. A frat president at Newark College of Engineering recently pointed out that a key problem is the lack of leadership in direction. Some frats do nothing other than maintain a frat house, he said. Others cooperate closely in various social projects, typical at MSC.

The lack of true importance that would be attractive to new members interested in channeling their idealism.

Campus Whirl

Benitz Gives Ax to Levine

David M. Levine, SGA’s public relations man since the days of the Kenneth Traynor administration, has been given the ax by Thomas Benitz, former sources said.

Benitz reportedly told Levine: “You cannot be trusted and that’s why I’m firing you.” Benitz was apparently referring to Levine’s other job: He moonlights as a chief editorial writer for the MONTCLARION and is editor of its News Focus section.

Sources close to Benitz say the post will be filled by John Aneson, one-time sports editor of the MONTCLARION who was thrown off the newspaper’s staff for not doing his job. Although Benitz and Aneson are old friends. It’s Benitz’s way of repaying Aneson for managing his presidential campaign last year.

Levine apparently believes that firing Levine is a way of taking a jab at the MONTCLARION. Sources close to the SGA leader say Benitz believes the editorial board of the MONTCLARION has “sold out to the administration (of Montclair State) and in taking orders from college officials, Benitz was instrumental in silencing the now-defunct publication board’s guideline and has been active in discrediting the paper at every opportunity. He reportedly believes the MONTCLARION has been taking unjust jabs at him and his SGA administration and, reportedly, would like to put the paper out of business.

BENITZ TAKING ANOTHER JAUNT

While the pressure has died down over Thomas Benitz’s several off-campus jaunts, the student president is expected to be in Washington, D.C. this weekend, attending an Association of Student Governments conference. The roundtrip airfare to the nation’s capital is $54 plus “spending money.” That will bring the total spent on conferences and travel to just about $3497.18.

BITS & PIECES: CHANCELLOR RALPH DUNGAN must be hoping to make the bestseller list with his Phase Two of the master plan for higher education. He’s selling them at two bucks a copy. SGA secretary FRAN NIEOBALA may jaunt to Poland this summer with friend . . . Possible RICHARD OSHIN — JACK WILKIE deal. Both still mum on plans . . . WILKIE PLAN designed to make SGA more representative, still hung up in committee . . . RICHARD INSLEY reportedly stepping down as CCSP kingpin . . . DOROTHY GARLAND of psychology department retiring . . . Claim JANE FONDA wanted to reschedule her appearance here, but activities chief THOMAS STEPNOWSKI was against it . . . Underground DAYSIGHT has SGA bigwigs mad . . . Claim MSC on BLACKLIST because it doesn’t pay performers fast enough . . . ROBERT WATSON getting independent from current SGA administration . . . EDWARD MARTIN assistant dean, wants mailboxes for every student on campus . . . PRESIDENT THOMAS REYNARDSON seeking student opinion of Trenton plans to get rid of grad schools at MSC and other state colleges . . . No change of locks in Student Life building as promised . . . MONTCLARION firing MOREY X. ANTEBI teaching at Caldwell prison . . . SGA Legislator HAL PLAIN organizing students to protest closing off of parking spaces between Partridge and Mallory halls . . . DR. SAMSON McDOWELL, leaving in June, bought house in Ft. Myers, Fla . . . Attendance slumping at CSCP courses . . . DORIS REINHARDT, woman’s housing, and RICHARD TAUBOLD, former men’s housing, tying knot in June . . .

WEEK’S WORDS (By SGA managing editor Don Pendley)

Isn’t There Something He Could Do for the Country?

July 4th, the nation commemorates its birth, a day of celebration and rejoicing. But this July 4th was different. It was a day of mourning, of sorrow and of Texas.

The nation was shocked into silence when the news broke that John F. Kennedy had been assassinated. The world watched in amazement as the man who had promised a brighter tomorrow was struck down.

Kennedy’s death has left a void in the American political landscape. He was more than just the country’s 35th president; he was a symbol of hope and progress. He was the man who brought us the space race, the Civil Rights Act, and the Peace Corps.

And now, just a few short months after his death, we are faced with the challenge of choosing a new president. The nation looks to us, the students of the country, to make a wise decision.

NEXT WEEK: A new proposal for the future of the country.
The Plot of Injustices

To the Editor,

The setting was Panzer gym (Feb. 25) and the night was to honor Ed Prather and Captain Harry James who gave their ultimate talents to MSC's successful basketball teams for four years. The plot is to convey the injustices which our society produces and tolerates. We let these things happen because we are no longer interested in doing anything about them. The intention of this letter is to aid in focusing attention on this problem. It can be paralleled (e.g. D.M. Levine).

Let's look at Ed Prather. The treatment given to him from Montclair State's head basketball coach is disgusting. This game was to honor him, a determined player who gave his all to his coach for almost half a decade. The coach didn't even have the sense to take time to sit down and talk to the players. Many high school honors (including all-city). However, while his coach and friends and high school coach waited and longed to see him display his talents for the last time, he watched the clock tick away "second by second" of this 40-minute sport on the bench helpless to come to the aid of his teammates. Why? Because the coach would not play him. Why didn't the coach play him? Probably, the coach's defense is that he wanted to win so badly. Well, Coach, you did win, but if Coach basketball is to build character, personality and competitiveness in the individual player, what sense and purpose did he build him in Ed by letting him sit out the whole game (including overtime?) which was partially in his honor. To be frank, what sense of anything did he build him in? If winning every game is all that is important to his coaching career, he should be coaching a professional team. His goal should not be only to win championships, but to build men as well.

The gift given to him was really inadequate due to the big salary Ed Prather made. It didn't even cover his rest of his life of not only sitting out his last conference game in his honor. No, Coach, don't give him a gift, do it right and give him the whole damn bench as a souvenir!

Let's look at Captain Harry James. Harry is one of the best players this region has ever produced, superlative, most-valuable-player. Furthermore, he is readily accepted by all of MSC's students on the campus (as other minorities). These same part-time crowd students cry: "Let's go Harry. Let's go Harry..." Moreover, they worship his gifted ability. "God forbid. However, if Harry and his family move next door then you would really see just how liberal these hypocritical politicians really are.

Strange enough, a basketball game tells many tales. Is there still doubt just ask Ed or Harry. It was their night.

Robert Watson
SGA Representative

---

Montclair Soapbox

Misconceptions from the Underground

Recent articles in Dayshift seem to have caused a number of misconceptions about the SGA -- particularly concerning the budget.

Richard Insley, alleged editor of the publication, claimed that the SGA is misrepresenting students and misspending their money because some legislators were elected by as few as five votes. I fail to see the connection between the two, but it becomes clear that Insley's criticism is not about the SGA's budget; it is about the SGA's treatment of the WWU School of Fine and Professional Arts. It is true that some students are critical of the SGA, but the students are not represented by Insley. Insley himself, lies by saying he voted for representatives from his department when he didn't and, even worse, as late as last week didn't even know who his department represented.

He also tries to prove that the Committee for an End to the War in Vietnam has been a leading voice for the SGA (as if that's bad), but he muffs it. Citing the appointment of Tim Fanning, as legislator, and myself, as vice-president of academic affairs, Insley fails to explain that Fanning was appointed after a special election to produce enough students from the School of Humanities interested in the legislature.

And I don't see how my appointment reflects anything concerning the WWU, as I had already been elected to the legislature before the appointment was made (incidentally, the appointment was the external affairs post -- not academic affairs).

WRONG QUOTE

Then Insley quotes me as saying that the SGA should not be involved in academic affairs. In the statement to which he refers I pointed out a legislature that student input in faculty rehiring considerations is an area which should be handled foremost by the colleges and not the SGA.

The only false gathering under the SGA would be of a campus-wide nature and protect the academic and professional rights of students and faculty.

Such functions as faculty evaluation or unlimited cut policy are two examples. So it is premature to think -- let alone, say -- that the SGA should not be involved in academic affairs.

Robert Watson

---

J. D. Hile At Large

Depression’ Hits Colleges

Budgetary deficits pose a serious threat to higher education. Reductions in state aid, cuts and less endowments are forcing colleges to curtail services and programs. The setting was Panzer gym (Feb. 25) and the night was to honor Ed Prather and Captain Harry James who gave their ultimate talents to MSC's successful basketball teams for four years. The plot is to convey the injustices which our society produces and tolerates. We let these things happen because we are no longer interested in doing anything about them. The intention of this letter is to aid in focusing attention on this problem. It can be paralleled (e.g. D.M. Levine).

Let's look at Ed Prather. The treatment given to him from Montclair State's head basketball coach is disgusting. This game was to honor him, a determined player who gave his all to his coach for almost half a decade. The coach didn't even have the sense to take time to sit down and talk to the players. Many high school honors (including all-city). However, while his coach and friends and high school coach waited and longed to see him display his talents for the last time, he watched the clock tick away "second by second" of this 40-minute sport on the bench helpless to come to the aid of his teammates. Why? Because the coach would not play him. Why didn't the coach play him? Probably, the coach's defense is that he wanted to win so badly. Well, Coach, you did win, but if Coach basketball is to build character, personality and competitiveness in the individual player, what sense and purpose did he build him in Ed by letting him sit out the whole game (including overtime?) which was partially in his honor. To be frank, what sense of anything did he build him in? If winning every game is all that is important to his coaching career, he should be coaching a professional team. His goal should not be only to win championships, but to build men as well.

The gift given to him was really inadequate due to the big salary Ed Prather made. It didn't even cover his rest of his life of not only sitting out his last conference game in his honor. No, Coach, don't give him a gift, do it right and give him the whole damn bench as a souvenir!

Let's look at Captain Harry James. Harry is one of the best players this region has ever produced, superlative, most-valuable-player. Furthermore, he is readily accepted by all of MSC's students on the campus (as other minorities). These same part-time crowd students cry: "Let's go Harry. Let's go Harry..." Moreover, they worship his gifted ability. "God forbid. However, if Harry and his family move next door then you would really see just how liberal these hypocritical politicians really are.

Strange enough, a basketball game tells many tales. Is there still doubt just ask Ed or Harry. It was their night.

Robert Watson
SGA Representative

---

Robert Watson
SGA Representative

---

J. D. Hile At Large

Depression’ Hits Colleges

Budgetary deficits pose a serious threat to higher education. Reductions in state aid, cuts and less endowments are forcing colleges to curtail services and programs. Columbus University faces a huge $15 million deficit, according to Mr. Izar Berg, assistant dean of faculty at Columbus. Berg's plan is in effect which Berg hopes will act in "plugging the drains" of Columbus University, as it has done by 76. Three efficient use of resources and cuts in non-academic areas, the school hopes to maintain its level of excellence.

Berkeley is also hard hit. Here an immediate reduction of 100 faculty members is planned for this year. Out-of-state programs are cancelled, staff cuts, staff cuts from the underminded library will occur and a hiring freeze is in effect.

Informed sources at Prince­ton report a $12.2 million deficit will be realized next year as opposed to $25.4 million for this year. A tuition hike of $300 and a rent hike of 10% are planned along with faculty and staff cuts. These measures keep the deficit from soar to an estimated $5.5 million.

A FEW EXAMPLES

These are just a few examples of what is occurring across the nation. Some say it is reminiscent of the Depression. Indeed, Columbia expects only to stabilize their budget by 1976, a period of three years.

With a rise in faculty reduc­tions, unemployed professors will flood the crowded teaching market. This influence will force some to leave the country or seek other means of employment.

As bleak as the picture may be, there is a benefit. The new depression will force colleges to improve. Only those which skill­fully continue their budget plans will maintain quality education will survive.

---

Mini Review

City, a Magazine of Urban Life, and Environment, National Urban Coalition, 2100 M St., Washington, D.C. 20037, $10 per year.

This column does not usually review the counter-culture material, but the current issue of City magazine deserves to be brought to the attention of students who are constantly thirsting for knowledge about the future direction of the nation's troubled metropolises.

The "urban crisis" has been the subject of countless books by eloquent authors since the term became vogue in the early 1960's. The books usually vanish into time and mass-circulation magazines drop coverage of municipal problems as if it were a passing fancy.

City, well into its fifth volume of publication, is a glossy, intelligently-written magazine drawing upon some of the nation's leading urban writers and thinkers. It is striving to look at our national crisis in a professional, unpolitical manner and at the same time find a few workable solutions. It deserves to be read by concerned political science and environmental students.

---

D.M. Levine.
Presenting Miss MSC . . .

PREGNANT WITH POSSIBILITIES: Chris Leone—number one in the talent competition among nonfinalists.

HELPING HAND: Miss MSC 1970, Pat Merrick, helps contestant prepare for her big moment.

'AND THE WINNER IS . . .': Emcee David Flagg and Miss MSC 1970, Pat Merrick, open envelope revealing this year's winner.

'THE GREATEST STAR': First runnerup Terry Yacenda performs her number from "Funny Girl" in the talent competition.

'CARISSIMO!': That's the Italian word for "beautiful," and the Montclair State word for "Miss MSC." The winner, Peggy Carissimo, here enhances the bathing suit competition.

THE LINEUP: One of these girls is the real Miss MSC 1971 as the ten finalists meet in bathing suit competition.

Staff Photos by Morey Antebi.
"IT ALL DEPENDS ON YOU": Judges scan their tally sheets as they arrive at their choices for Miss MSC 1971.

FINAL PREPARATION: Mary Margaret Culver adds some finishing touches.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON: Entertainment and background music were provided by the Gerojac Trio.

... And Lamb Chops

PRIME CONTENDERS: Emcee Allen Jacobs presents the "contestants" in Miss Montclair Steak Pageant held outside the student life building.
"The Body"

By Chuck Ward
Staff reviewer

Upon learning that the film to be presented at M-G-M's private screening room was an X-rated picture entitled "The Body," I was prepared to witness a little more than sex films. What it is, is a "medical" film. What we have is a layman's documentary chronicling the drama that is nature's what would undoubtedly prove to be a pretty raunchy sight.

The most engaging parts of the film are those in which the, as it were, "body" is being held up to the scrutiny of the camera. A new photographic technique, Stereoscan, has been used in much of the film. It is a process,Stereoscan, has been held up to the scrutiny of the film's most valuable feature. They are obsessed with the club's outsider, and a much greater depth of focus than has ever been possible before.

ACTING IS SUPERB

The acting is superb. You can't recognize most of the names; but the next time you see them you will. Robert Fried, Nicolaus Court, and Maggie Bly star in the true meaning of the word. Jack Warden, who is "Featured," is more than amazing. His performance as the agent of destruction for the club is beautiful.

What really makes this film move is its editing. Being non-linear it does not follow a direct story-line. It jumps back and forth among the various sources of the material, literally picks up the audience and plunges them into the shattering finish. The movie was shot using two or three cameras simultaneously as television news coverage of a live event might be, and then edited.

Three-times, during the watching of "The Sporting Club" when you will not know whether to laugh or to get violently ill. This ambivalence is the film's most valuable feature. You see things you would not believe, yet you have the horrible feeling they are true.

ON TO AQABA!

"Literary Magazine." This final effort of departing editor Susan Guistelli presented an innovative change of format. Gone is the stapled magazine and in its place is a portfolio of brightly colored and well-executed pieces of graphic art.

But format alone does not make an article, and contents of that are there now is much new between the covers. The poetry is meager but well-represented by the works of W.Y. Fellenberg and assorted old favorites. One truly inventive piece entitled "Squat" was written by Margedol Pol but for the sake of 42 pt. type only three verses of her long poem were printed, a real loss for both the poet and the reader.

The rest of the portfolio is comprised of prose, photography and basic black on white artwork. Much of the serious political essay is the same rhetoric one has read again and again in Dayshift and Harambae, in some cases these are exact reprints. Perhaps this is an effort to give the pieces wider reader-ship. But in works of this quality it is often a case of "If you've read one, you've read them all." Perhaps the best work in the portfolio was Fellenberg's "Something for Nothing." This surrealist prose poem was well put together and indeed thought-provoking...something we would like to see more of.
"WONDER IF PICASSO STARTED THIS WAY": John Flgola puts the finishing touches on in preparation for "Journey of the Fifth Horse" to be presented by Players on March 10, 11, 12 and 13.

"PLEASE SIT DOWN": In the dream of Robert Steiger (foreground), Val Kuklowski cautions Paul Nades into his chair as Joe Block looks on.

"AND ADD A HEM HERE": Donald Sobolik and Virginia Chapman check the pattern for the costumes in "Journey," a period play set in Russia, 1870s.

"ONCE MORE FROM THE TOP": Dr. Jerry Rockwood directs Barbara Wassermann (left) and Betty Passafiume for their roles in "Journey."

"WOOPS": Danny Bauer, freshman member of Players' tech crew, shapes a small piece of the set for "Journey."
‘Powerful Entertainment’

THE JOURNEY

OF

THE FIFTH HORSE

Directed by

Jerry Rockwood

Designed by

John Figola

Presented by

Players

March 10, 11, 12, 13 — 8:30 p.m.
Matinee Fri., March 12, 2 p.m.

Tickets on sale at Memorial auditorium box office

SGA 25¢
Rockwood Directs

By Dariel Hubbard
Staff Writer

A relaxed and casual director has charge of a strongly stirring and emotion-packed presentation of one of the Fifth Horse,' a play by Ronald Ribman, which will be presented in Memorial Auditorium beginning March 10.

Dr. Jerry Rockwood, director, finds it to be "deeply moving. Many people will be able to identify sympathetically with it."

The play, "Fifth Horse," is produced in a series of scenes which occur against the background of the bedroom wall. This keeps the audience and hero within the real world while acting out his fantasies.

Both Rockwood and Figola are lifetime denizens to the theater. Rockwood made his stage debut in kindergarten as a "puck-in-the-box." Receiving his doctorate from New York University, he has been at MSC for four years. Figola, on the other hand, has been at MSC for two years, with extensive theater experience in summer stock and college productions.

There have been relatively few problems in the production, according to Rockwood. The leading man, English major Paul Nadas, was required to cut his shoulder-length hair in order to portray the 1870 Russian character. Expert cutting and styling by a New York stylist averted a potential crisis.

Players Takes 'Journey' Starting Wednesday

By Joanne Ferreri
Staff Writer

The future of Quarterly, the college's student magazine, is in doubt. The students who have underwritten a petition to the administration talked of setting up an information center to be "a college service run by college students." Students from a broad segment of campus life have set up an advisory board and planned the service, he explained. The center will be an experimental 24-hour operation staffed by volunteers screened by their peers and "intensively and extensively" trained by Dr. Leonard Buchner, director of psychological services.

The system will run as a "drop-in" type of service with staff members constantly available to talk to students about referral information, draft counseling, medical care, psychological services, the drug problem and anything of interest and concern. It will also consist of a telephone service which students can call at any time to ease their tensions.

The information center "will complement, not substitute for, the services we already have," said Harris. He said that an effort has been made to insure that the advanced level reflects the thinking of the entire campus and that no single group dominates it.

It is the hope of the students, said Harris, that the center will be as popular in the vacant offices in Chapin Hall. "If it does not justify its own existence, it will be discontinued," said Harris.

24-Hour Operation 'Drop-in Service' Will Direct Students

A hot line for help, sponsored by the Johnny Appleseed Movement, will service the Montclair State community beginning in April. Available 24 hours a day, the line will be primarily for MSC students.

The idea originated in the fall when the Johnny Appleseed Movement recognized the need for a hot line at MSC. At that time, petitions were sent to residents of Webster Hall for the use of their study halls, said Sid Blanchard, a spokesman for the group.

In early December, when the administration talked of setting up an information center, the Johnny Appleseed Movement began working on the hot line. Members of the movement met with the administration and they decided to work together.

"The hot line will be run by the people who have underwritten a four-week training course," said Kathy King, human relations lab representative. However, they will be instructed to make referrals in severe cases.

Future of Campus Mags Uncertain

The project has received campuswide support, according to Blanchard, with individuals as well as organizations donating funds.

Hearings Planned

Wendy Gillespie, former secretary for the Johnny Appleseed Movement, has been ordered by the administration to attend a hearing after she spoke at a rally for the movement and refused to relinquish copies of a cheaper printing paper that was used in the montage of "red" images.

The review committee, chaired by SGA Vice-President Stanley Grzesiak, was originally formed to study the constitutions of all organized student groups. It assumed responsibility for the Quarterly-Galumph hearing after sophomore Spanish Rep. Wendy Gillespie proposed a bill requesting the review.

Miss Gillespie's Action was prompted by dissatisfaction with background in summer stock and college productions.

Classifieds

NEED A TUTOR? Graduate student available to tutor any one of psychology, Montclarion Box A.

FOUND — PAIR of contact lenses In case, and Immediate Contact High School Ring. Beloved lost three weeks ago. Claim in Dean Blanton's office.

FOUND — Pair of contact lenses In case, and Immediate Contact High School Ring. Beloved lost three weeks ago. Claim in Dean Blanton's office.

FOUND — Pair of contact lenses In case, and Immediate Contact High School Ring. Beloved lost three weeks ago. Claim in Dean Blanton's office.
14. MONTCLARION/Fri., March 5, 1971.

Vanilla Fudge Leads In MSC Intramurals

The Vanilla Fudge intramural bowling team remained undefeated after 8 games last week, sweeping past Alpha Sigma Mu "B" to take undisputed possession of first place in the American League Race.

Meanwhile the National Division sported two teams with perfect 8-0 marks. Sharing the top spot are Alpha Sigma Mu "A" and Tau Sigma Delta.

Wayne Potente led the Vanilla Fudge with games of 195, 198, and 189 for a fine 582 series. Teammate John Depew rolled a respectable 541. Alpha Sigma Mu "B", losing for the seventh time in eight meetings, failed to have anyone reach the 180 category.

The remaining American League action saw the Packers take 4 games from Linden Marston while Phi Sigma Epsilon was forced to forfeit its match with Tau Lambda Beta.

Rich McDougall of the Packers started his 495 series with a 209 but fell off somewhat and could only roll games of 157 and 129. Jerry Dinovino bowled the high game of the week with a 223 for Tau Lambda Beta.

Alpha Sigma Mu "A" completely outclassed Phi Lambdab Pi in the National Conference by a total of 1363-1176. Rosco Gold had a super 574 set including games of 213 and 196.

Tau Sigma Delta edged Alpha Phi Omega by 21 pins in the final game, enabling it to sweep the contest. The losers were forced to take a blind score of 130 in falling to 3-5 on the year.

Rudy Olszyn rolled a 208 for Gamma Delta Chi in its whitewash of Zeta Epsilon Tau. The winners lifted their record to 6-2 while the losers have yet to play a game.

The INTER-LEAGUE contest turned out to be the only match which didn’t wind up in a sweep. Lambda Chi Delta managed to take 3 from Vanzile Nets 38 As Phi Triumphs Mike Vanzile poured in 38 points and dominated both backboards as Phi Lambda Pi raced to another victory in the Montclair State College intramural basketball league. An effective zone press completely baffled its opponent, Phi Sigma Epsilon, as the final score was 130 in falling to 3-5 on the year.

Don DeJean led the winners with 14 points. John Boyd's 17 points along with the fine all around play of Charles Tally led the Black Panthers to a 45-33 victory over APO, which was forced to take a blind score of 0.

Bowlers Fifth In Schaefer Tourney

NEW YORK CITY— The Vanilla Fudge finished fifth among 12 colleges in the First Annual F & M Schaefer Intramural Bowling Tournament last Saturday at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

The Fudge, formerly known as Van Ryan’s Express, won the right to represent Montclair State College by copping last year’s intramural bowling championship.

FAIRLEIGH DICKINSON University captured the tourney with a total of 2677 pins, followed by Seton Hall (2902), C. W. Post (2495), Hofstra (2475), and MSC (2450).

Other participating schools included Upsala, St. Peter’s, Columbia, Adelphi, St. John’s, St. Francis, and Southhampton.

John Depew led MSC with a 567 series including games of 179, 214, and 174. Paul Kowalczyk rolled a 512, followed by Wayne Potente’s 477, Ron Campbell’s 446, and Jeff Boyd’s 441.

WRA SOFTBALL

Tryouts for the Women’s Recreation Association softball team are scheduled for 4 p.m., Monday March 15, in Panzer gym. Interested students should report in appropriate attire.

BOOK BUY

Cash for your books
Life Hall Lobby
March 10, 11, 12

---

What is Human Relations Laboratory? a preview of the weekend experience

Want to know what HRL is? Why it exists? What it is trying to do?

7:30 to 10 p.m.

Room 113, Partridge Hall

ABORTIONS ARE NOW LEGAL in New York State

DO NOT BE EXPLOITED BY PROFITEERS!

For safe, legal, immediate assistance of a BOARD CERTIFIED OB-GYN PHYSICIAN

Call

THE PREGNANCY COUNSELING SERVICE

(212) 260-2110

MONDAY TO SATURDAY 9 A.M. TO 9 P.M.

Comprehensive fees for under 12 weeks are less than $250.

Todays terminations are performed up to 24 weeks.

(We are currently looking for local representatives)
WE GET THE BID

Montclair State's basketball team just made it under the wire Wednesday, but the Indian hoopsters have gotten word that they can start packing for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's College Division eastern regional semifinals.

MSC's athletic office received word of the bid that will send Coach Ollie Gelston's five to Buffalo State College at 3 p.m., precisely one hour before it was announced by the NCAAs. The Indians are slated to compete against Buffalo State College, last year's winners, C. W. Post or Hartwick College of Oneonta. As of press time no definite pairings have been set for next week's preliminaries.

THE BID for the semifinals is MSC's third consecutive under Gelston. In 1969 the Indians defeated Wagner and won the right to go on to Evansville University in Evansville, Ind. Later, tho, the team was knocked off in the opening round.

Last year the Indians traveled to Buffalo as defending champions, but failed to make it to the finals, losing the last game of the set to Buffalo, 81-72.

The invitation came as some what of a surprise to those who thought that last week's loss to Jersey City State squashed the chance for a bid. With only one game to go in the season, the Indians have a 17-4 record.

THE INDIANS will have to go some if they expect to make the finals on March 17 thru 19. C. W. Post tallied one of the best marks with a 20-4 record. Post is rated 14th in the nation by the Associated Press and was a run­nerup in MSC's Kiwanis tourna­ment.

Buffalo State will be tough to handle because Randy Smith is still in the lineup. Smith, a 6'6" forward, netted 38 points in the final game to give Buffalo the victory over MSC.

Hartwick, with a 19-5 record, returns to the semi-finals with essentially the same team the Indians beat last year, 63-54. Hartwick's driving force will be 6'1" Willie Rackley, brother of NBA player Luther Rackley.

Indians Set For Fencing Tourney

Montclair State College's fencing team considered this season's 13-0 mark as just a warm-up for what's going to take place tomorrow. MSC's swashbucklers will make the long trek to Buffalo University to defend their North Atlantic Intercollegiate Fencing Championship.

Of the six fencers slated to compete in the tournament, five are from last year's winners. Captain Dave Bryer and senior Glenn MacKay return to fence in sabre. Bryer will be after the North Atlantic sabre title which he had held two years ago. This year, Bryer has passed MSC's old record of total bouts won with 120 wins against 7 losses.

PROBABLY THE most potent force in the Indians at­ tack will be the epee squad. Bruce Kinter and Todd Boepple, who fenced foil last year, are bucking for another Syracuse trophy, given to the epee team with the most bouts won.

Kinter has a little more per­ sonal interest in this year's North Atlantics. He's returning as last year's epee champion and hopes to regain his title.

The foil team will consist of sophomores Frank Mustilli and Roger Marchegiano. Mustilli, who fenced in the North Atlantic last year and went to the nationals in Notre Dame, should be up for an individual trophy this year. Marchegiano is new to the North Atlantics, but should add a lot of strength to the squad.

Indians For a Bid

Many times in sports the tendency is to overlook a valu­able performer until he is mis­sing. Such is the case of Tod McDougald, Montclair State basketball player.

This past week, Tod was hit with bronchitis which will tend­ency is to overlook a valu­able performer until he is mis­sing. Such is the case of Tod McDougald, Montclair State basketball player.

McDougald, Montclair State Basketball tournament will pit MSC's undefeated Anderson.

This past week, Tod was hit with bronchitis which will tend­ency is to overlook a valu­able performer until he is mis­sing. Such is the case of Tod McDougald, Montclair State basketball player.

A couple of weeks ago, McDougald turned in one of the best defensive jobs in many a moon in New Jersey Basketball. Bloom­field's Jim Kroli, averaging 21.2 points per game and one of the top scorers in the nation ac­cording to the National Association Intercollegiate Athletics, managed only 3 points against Tod as the Indians romped to a big 100-58 victory. TOD THE son of a former New York Yankee star Gil McDougald, is steady on the basketball court, and in the words of coach Ollie Gelston, the "most consistent player on my team."

In Phil Baccarella and Harry James, the Indians have super shooters who tend to get most of the headlines. McDougald, who has been a starter since the line-up for the FDU game tomorrow afternoon.

Without McDougald the Indians were lucky to come into the finals fresh from a victory over Monmouth College.

Indians: Set For Atlantic City Again

There's going to be another Montclair State College team journeying to Atlantic City tomorrow for an import­ant game. Only this time the sport is basketball, not football, and the coach is Catherine Paskert, not Clay Anderson.

Tomorrow the New Jersey Women's Intercollegiate State Basketball tournament will pit MSC's undefeated women's basketball team against Glassboro State College in the final game. In the preliminaries, MSC won close decisions against William Paterson, 39-35, and Trenton State, 33-27.

The Indians will find the going tough if they intend to defeat Glassboro for the championship and their 10th decision against William Paterson, 39-35, and Trenton State, 33-27.

The Indians will find the going tough if they intend to defeat Glassboro for the championship and their 10th decision against William Paterson, 39-35, and Trenton State, 33-27.

In one of the earlier titl, The Profs trounced Georgian Court, 87-28. More important Glassboro comes into the finals fresh from a victory over Monmouth College.

In regular season competition, MSC defeated the Hawks, but the victory was a hard fought one.

WELL-BALANCED TEAM

One of the most important things going for the Indians is balance. In both preliminary games, only one person, Mary Hayek with 10, scored in double figures, but the rest of the individual totals varied by about 1 point.

Leading the Indians attack against Glassboro will be Bea Venancio and Miss Hayek. Miss Venancio tallied 9 against PSC and is one of the best ballhandlers on the team. Miss Hayek will be the strength on the backboards.

Others slated for the finals include Karen Bicachel, Jo Bistromowitz, Joan Ficke, Gina Hoffman and Ellen Johns. Denise Wood may also play if a leg injury heals in time.

WE GET THE BID

Montclair State's basketball team just made it under the wire Wednesday, but the Indian hoopsters have gotten word that they can start packing for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's College Division eastern regional semifinals.

MSC's athletic office received word of the bid that will send Coach Ollie Gelston's five to Buffalo State College at 3 p.m., precisely one hour before it was announced by the NCAAs. The Indians are slated to compete against Buffalo State College, last year's winners, C. W. Post or Hartwick College of Oneonta. As of press time no definite pairings have been set for next week's preliminaries.

THE BID for the semifinals is MSC's third consecutive under Gelston. In 1969 the Indians defeated Wagner and won the right to go on to Evansville University in Evansville, Ind. Later, tho, the team was knocked off in the opening round.

Last year the Indians traveled to Buffalo as defending champions, but failed to make it to the finals, losing the last game of the set to Buffalo, 81-72.

The invitation came as some what of a surprise to those who thought that last week's loss to Jersey City State squashed the chance for a bid. With only one game to go in the season, the Indians have a 17-4 record.

THE INDIANS will have to go some if they expect to make the finals on March 17 thru 19. C. W. Post tallied one of the best marks with a 20-4 record. Post is rated 14th in the nation by the Associated Press and was a run­nerup in MSC's Kiwanis tourna­ment.

Buffalo State will be tough to handle because Randy Smith is still in the lineup. Smith, a 6'6" forward, netted 38 points in the final game to give Buffalo the victory over MSC.

Hartwick, with a 19-5 record, returns to the semi-finals with essentially the same team the Indians beat last year, 63-54. Hartwick's driving force will be 6'1" Willie Rackley, brother of NBA player Luther Rackley.

Indians Set For Fencing Tourney

Montclair State College's fencing team considered this season's 13-0 mark as just a warm-up for what's going to take place tomorrow. MSC's swashbucklers will make the long trek to Buffalo University to defend their North Atlantic Intercollegiate Fencing Championship.

Of the six fencers slated to compete in the tournament, five are from last year's winners. Captain Dave Bryer and senior Glenn MacKay return to fence in sabre. Bryer will be after the North Atlantic sabre title which he had held two years ago. This year, Bryer has passed MSC's old record of total bouts won with 120 wins against 7 losses.

PROBABLY THE most potent force in the Indians at­ tack will be the epee squad. Bruce Kinter and Todd Boepple, who fenced foil last year, are bucking for another Syracuse trophy, given to the epee team with the most bouts won.

Kinter has a little more per­ sonal interest in this year's North Atlantics. He's returning as last year's epee champion and hopes to regain his title.

The foil team will consist of sophomores Frank Mustilli and Roger Marchegiano. Mustilli, who fenced in the North Atlantic last year and went to the nationals in Notre Dame, should be up for an individual trophy this year. Marchegiano is new to the North Atlantics, but should add a lot of strength to the squad.
Devine is Met Champ
As MSC Cops a 2nd

By Carol Sakowitz
Sports Writer

Montserrat State College freshman Keith Devine gave his father an unusual birthday present last week. Over the weekend he became the third MSC freshman to win a Metropolitan Intercollegiate Wrestling championship.

Keith overcame a 4-0 deficit against Ernie Summers of C.W. Post to win the 126-pound division, 7-5. The final 2 points were given to him because he had more riding time, the bout actually ended in a 5-5 tie.

MSC’S WRESTLING
champion got off to a slow start.
in his first year of collegiate wrestling, losing his first 2 bouts by large scores. The losses took their toll as he puts it, “I didn’t have any confidence.” In frustration, he spend the Christmas holidays on an eating binge. During the vacation he missed a lot of matches and watched his weight increase.

Fortunately for Keith, as well as the Indian wrestling team, on his return to school, he decided, “I’ve got to do something.” His “something” came in the form of 4 straight wins until his final 2 defeats.

The curly-haired physical education major stressed the fact that lack of confidence had a great deal to do with his so-so season record. But his first collegiate win, against Newark-Rutgers, made him feel as if wrestling for MSC was no more difficult as in high school.

But as far as the win in the Mets is concerned, Keith stated, “I couldn’t believe it.” Devine recalled that during the bout, even tho he was losing, MSC
Coach Tim Sullivan told him, “Keep pressure on the kid. You’re in better shape than he is.”

As a result of the win in the Mets, Keith will be going to North Dakota to wrestle in the NCAA college division championships. Keith considers the trip as “one chance in a lifetime,” since he has never wrestled out of the New York-
New Jersey area. He stated,
“I’m going to really try.”

Also as a result of his win,
Keith will be wrestling the Canadian national champion sometime in the near future.

For next season, Keith feels that there will not be too much pressure on him because of his championship. In his esti-ation Ernie Summers will be the only one out to get him.

But he’s not too worried. As he nonchalantly put it, “I already beat him.”

Keith Devine
MSC Frosh Wins
Met Wrestling Title

Montclair State College wrestlers staged a minor upset in last weekend’s Metropolitan Intercollegiate Wrestling tournament by placing second out of 18 schools.

The big factor in MSC’s success was a freshman named Keith Devine. Devine (126)iscoed the second place title for the Indians by a 7-5 decision over
Seton Hall’s Ernie Summers on a 7-5 decision.

IN ALL the MSC squad had three grapplers going into the finals. Besides Devine, Roy Genatt (134) and Milt Rehain
(142) made it to the final bout.

The Indians’ coach, Tim
Sullivan, had predicted a mad scramble for third in this, his last meet as MSC wrestling coach, but never quite expected his team to be in it for a second place berth. MSC, with 72 points, nosed out New York University by 1 point for the final standings.

New York Maritime was the winning team, copping its fourth straight Met title with 103 points. The Coach of the year award went to Maritime’s Larry Schiacciataro, an MSC graduate and a four-time Met champion.

Earlier this year Schiacciataro announced his decision to leave Maritime and as yet has not revealed where he will be heading.

DEVINE CAN be termed as MSC’s come-from-behind wrestler. Entering the Mets with only a 4-4 season record, he lost one of his opening bouts to de-defending champion Ed
Kochakji of C.W. Post. Kochakji was forced to withdraw from the meet later because of exhaustion. But Devine fought back to the finals by way of the losers division to meet Summers in the championship bout.

Even in the match with Summers, Devine started on the minus side. Losing at one point,
4-0, he slowly chipped away
Summers’ lead and in the final seconds tied the score at 5-all.

Devine picked up the win and the championship when he was awarded 2 points on riding time.

Genatt also came up from the losers’ bracket to the final Saturday night bout. MSC’s senior who lost in the preliminaries to Fairleigh Dickinson’s Stu Pruzansky, was matched with Pruzansky and the results were the same. Genatt lost to the three-time champion, 11-6.

MSC’s third finalist, Milt Rehain, fared better in the preliminaries as he defeated defending champion Ed Rufrano of C.W. Post. But the tables turned in the important match as Rufrano regained his title on a 13-0 decision.

In the tournament, the Indians had 3 thirds in the meet.
Captain John Bellavia (167) lost a 6-5 decision to Todd to finish in the third spot. Other third-place finishers for the Indians included Dennis Steffanelli
(118) and Mickey Jurcinsin (150).