Of course, the chancellor's name is Ralph A. Dungan, not with a "c" as it now appears on the sign marking the new college center, outside Partridge Hall. The MONTCLARION's sources in Trenton indicate that the state is aware of the error. However, the funds to buy the paint necessary to change the "c" to a "g" are allegedly held up in one of the Assembly's committees. Expected completion date for the correction is January 1972.

Dorm-Address Voting Urged
But Law Still Requires Home Registration

TRENTON (UPI) - New Jersey's attorney general wants the law changed so that 18-year-olds who choose to vote in the area they attend college may be permitted to do so.

But, George F. Kugler Jr. said Wednesday, that until the law is changed, he will urge that the present statute be followed, which requires students to register to vote on the basis of their permanent home address, not their temporary college one.

KUGLER, REACTING to a decision Tuesday from Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield, which permits college students in that county to register to vote in the locale where they attend college, said he will appeal that ruling to get final "clarification" on the matter from the New Jersey Supreme Court.

The attorney general said he was directing his staff to prepare the necessary papers to file an appeal that he hoped the New Jersey high court would accept sometime in the next few months — an appeal that would rule on Kingfield's decision.

Kugler, who said he would not seek a postponement of the final date of registration, which closed yesterday, called for a change in the state election laws and amendments that would permit students to make the decision where they would establish their home at the age of 18.

STILL, KUGLER said, at the present in New Jersey, "We cannot treat students any different than anyone else" under present law.

Kugler called Kingfield's decision "a little bit too narrow."

"You don't automatically register a student because he lives in a dorm," Kugler told newsmen. "He must be a resident of the state."

SPEAKING in his office here, Kugler said there was little urgency to obtaining a final answer from the court because "very few students are affected." He meant, he said later, that very few students have applied to register at the place of their attending school.

Kugler said he hoped the high court would accept the case without having the state Appellate Division hear the case. This is not an unusual procedure.

datebook

TODAY

ELECTIONS for the freshman class and for unfilled legislative offices from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the lobby of Memorial auditorium.

FILMS for the "History of Cinema as Art" 1-4 p.m. in L-135. This week: "Potemkin", "Olympia" (diving sequence) and "Triumph of the Will."

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25

FOOTBALL. MSC at East Stroudsburg, Pa. at 3 p.m.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

OPEN HOUSE for the Inter-Sorority Council from 1:30-3 p.m. in the cafeteria of the student life building.

BASEBALL. MSC at Lafayette, Pa. doubleheader, starting at noon.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

EXPERIMENT IN INTERNATIONAL LIVING meeting for the alumni of summer 1971 at 6 p.m. in the lower lounge of the student life building.

PLAYERS meeting, playreading committee selections at 6 p.m. in the studio theater. Open to all students.

CHEERLEADING TRY-OUTS. Organizational meeting at 4 p.m. in Panzer gym.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

DIALOGUE. "The Why of Belief" with Dr. G. Brantl, Mr. R. Streeter, and Mr. S. Johnson at 8 p.m. at Newman House.

WRESTLING. Candidates meeting at 4 p.m. in P-004.

WRESTLING. Candidates meeting at 4 p.m. in P-004. CROSS COUNTRY. Fairleigh Dickinson University and Rider College at MSC, 4 p.m. at Garrett mountain.

SOPHOMORE CLASS meeting in the lower lounge of the student life building. Time to be announced.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

CONSERVATION CLUB meeting at 7:30 p.m. in V 155. SOCCER, NCE at MSC, 3:30 at Brookdale park.
You Can’t Beat the Mileage

MSC Cyclers and Their Non-Automotive Habits

By Jo-Ellen Scudese
Staff Writer

Slick 10-speed English racers, as well as strenuous, single-speed Columbia are just a few of the types of bicycles to be found in various nooks and crannies on the Montclair State campus this fall.

The two-wheeler is coming into its own once again. With the ever-increasing automobile traffic problem, the once-defunct “wooden horse” is becoming the “faster, cheaper” way to get to college these days.

ALLYNN GOOEN, a MSC frosh hailing from Woodbridge, in central New Jersey, commutes one and one-half miles every day from his off-campus residence via his Raleigh. “It’s cheap from his off-campus residence one and one-half miles every day.”

GOOEN, a MSC frosh hailing from Woodbridge, in central New Jersey, commutes one and one-half miles every day from his off-campus residence via his Raleigh. “It’s cheap — you certainly can’t beat the good mileage,” he chuckled.

In an effort toward the increasing number of bike riders on campus, Gooen suggested it would be helpful if the college put up some bike racks equipped with overheads for rain. “Three or four wouldn’t be too costly for SGA to handle and maybe the college could build some small roads especially for the bicycles,” Gooen concluded.

Janet Blanks, a sophomore from East Orange, rides over seven miles to MSC each morning — an hour and a half, one-way. Why does she do it?

“Mostly because I enjoy riding, it’s economical and it’s good exercise,” Miss Blanks explained.

STUDENTS ARE not the only people cashing in on the good mileage, “getting on campus, parking, and walking to my office. But most of all,” he continued, “I ride because I enjoy it. It’s a freeing kind of thing to do. You’re using your own powers, and directly facing the elements ... there is a marvelous sense of no other forces trying to order your life.”

What do our bike commuters do in the winter? Dean Pratt’s answer is, “As far as the weather is concerned, Slick 10-speed English racers, and all winter occasionally I do ride a bus.”

QUARTERLY, the literary magazine of Montclair State, announces the opening of the fall submissions period. Art, essays, poetry, drama and any conceivable creative effort that can be placed on the printed page are welcome. In addition, several openings are vacant on the editorial staff and assistants are vitally needed. Submit all manuscripts to the QUARTERLY office, 2nd floor, Life Hall. Submissions close Oct. 19 for the first issue. For additional information call 893-4389.

COMMUTER COMMISSION -- Lost in Red Tape Traffic?

Last year, the Montclair State Commuter Commission seemed to be on the verge of providing MSC’s drivers with relevant information. Now, the objectives of the commission seem to be in question — as is the status of the organization.

The commission is now bottled up in committee. According to Robert Watson, SGA history department representative, the problem is one of structure within the SGA — whether the commission should become an extension of the SGA or a separately-chartered organization.

Of Prime concern to the commission is the establishment of an effective means of communication between the commuters, the MSC administration and the campus security patrol.

One of these means will be the publication of a newsletter, according to Marguerite Banks, the commission’s first chairman. Miss Banks stated last year that "this newsletter will include everything commuters should know about parking, where to go when they receive a ticket and what they can or cannot do. We hope to devote one section to those students who need rides to specific areas."

Along with the newsletter will go strategically placed bulletin boards that will attempt to service the students on a larger scale.

You Can’t Beat the Mileage
MSC Cyclers and Their Non-Automotive Habits

By Jo-Ellen Scudese
Staff Writer

Slick 10-speed English racers, as well as strenuous, single-speed Columbia are just a few of the types of bicycles to be found in various nooks and crannies on the Montclair State campus this fall.

The two-wheeler is coming into its own once again. With the ever-increasing automobile traffic problem, the once-defunct “wooden horse” is becoming the “faster, cheaper” way to get to college these days.

ALLYNN GOOEN, a MSC frosh hailing from Woodbridge, in central New Jersey, commutes one and one-half miles every day from his off-campus residence via his Raleigh. “It’s cheap — you certainly can’t beat the good mileage,” he chuckled.

In an effort toward the increasing number of bike riders on campus, Gooen suggested it would be helpful if the college put up some bike racks equipped with overheads for rain. “Three or four wouldn’t be too costly for SGA to handle and maybe the college could build some small roads especially for the bicycles,” Gooen concluded.

Janet Blanks, a sophomore from East Orange, rides over seven miles to MSC each morning — an hour and a half, one-way. Why does she do it?

“Mostly because I enjoy riding, it’s economical and it’s good exercise,” Miss Blanks explained.

STUDENTS ARE not the only people cashing in on the good mileage, “getting on campus, parking, and walking to my office. But most of all,” he continued, “I ride because I enjoy it. It’s a freeing kind of thing to do. You’re using your own powers, and directly facing the elements ... there is a marvelous sense of no other forces trying to order your life.”

What do our bike commuters do in the winter? Dean Pratt’s answer is, “As far as the weather is concerned, Slick 10-speed English racers, and all winter occasionally I do ride a bus.”

QUARTERLY, the literary magazine of Montclair State, announces the opening of the fall submissions period. Art, essays, poetry, drama and any conceivable creative effort that can be placed on the printed page are welcome. In addition, several openings are vacant on the editorial staff and assistants are vitally needed. Submit all manuscripts to the QUARTERLY office, 2nd floor, Life Hall. Submissions close Oct. 19 for the first issue. For additional information call 893-4389.

COMMUTER COMMISSION -- Lost in Red Tape Traffic?

Last year, the Montclair State Commuter Commission seemed to be on the verge of providing MSC’s drivers with relevant information. Now, the objectives of the commission seem to be in question — as is the status of the organization.

The commission is now bottled up in committee. According to Robert Watson, SGA history department representative, the problem is one of structure within the SGA — whether the commission should become an extension of the SGA or a separately-chartered organization.

Of Prime concern to the commission is the establishment of an effective means of communication between the commuters, the MSC administration and the campus security patrol.

One of these means will be the publication of a newsletter, according to Marguerite Banks, the commission’s first chairman. Miss Banks stated last year that "this newsletter will include everything commuters should know about parking, where to go when they receive a ticket and what they can or cannot do. We hope to devote one section to those students who need rides to specific areas."

Along with the newsletter will go strategically placed bulletin boards that will attempt to service the students on a larger scale.

Slick 10-speed English racers, as well as strenuous, single-speed Columbia are just a few of the types of bicycles to be found in various nooks and crannies on the Montclair State campus this fall.

The two-wheeler is coming into its own once again. With the ever-increasing automobile traffic problem, the once-defunct “wooden horse” is becoming the “faster, cheaper” way to get to college these days.

ALLYNN GOOEN, a MSC frosh hailing from Woodbridge, in central New Jersey, commutes one and one-half miles every day from his off-campus residence via his Raleigh. “It’s cheap — you certainly can’t beat the good mileage,” he chuckled.

In an effort toward the increasing number of bike riders on campus, Gooen suggested it would be helpful if the college put up some bike racks equipped with overheads for rain. “Three or four wouldn’t be too costly for SGA to handle and maybe the college could build some small roads especially for the bicycles,” Gooen concluded.

Janet Blanks, a sophomore from East Orange, rides over seven miles to MSC each morning — an hour and a half, one-way. Why does she do it?

“Mostly because I enjoy riding, it’s economical and it’s good exercise,” Miss Blanks explained.

STUDENTS ARE not the only people cashing in on the good mileage, “getting on campus, parking, and walking to my office. But most of all,” he continued, “I ride because I enjoy it. It’s a freeing kind of thing to do. You’re using your own powers, and directly facing the elements ... there is a marvelous sense of no other forces trying to order your life.”

What do our bike commuters do in the winter? Dean Pratt’s answer is, “As far as the weather is concerned, Slick 10-speed English racers, and all winter occasionally I do ride a bus.”

QUARTERLY, the literary magazine of Montclair State, announces the opening of the fall submissions period. Art, essays, poetry, drama and any conceivable creative effort that can be placed on the printed page are welcome. In addition, several openings are vacant on the editorial staff and assistants are vitally needed. Submit all manuscripts to the QUARTERLY office, 2nd floor, Life Hall. Submissions close Oct. 19 for the first issue. For additional information call 893-4389.

COMMUTER COMMISSION -- Lost in Red Tape Traffic?

Last year, the Montclair State Commuter Commission seemed to be on the verge of providing MSC’s drivers with relevant information. Now, the objectives of the commission seem to be in question — as is the status of the organization.

The commission is now bottled up in committee. According to Robert Watson, SGA history department representative, the problem is one of structure within the SGA — whether the commission should become an extension of the SGA or a separately-chartered organization.

Of Prime concern to the commission is the establishment of an effective means of communication between the commuters, the MSC administration and the campus security patrol.

One of these means will be the publication of a newsletter, according to Marguerite Banks, the commission’s first chairman. Miss Banks stated last year that "this newsletter will include everything commuters should know about parking, where to go when they receive a ticket and what they can or cannot do. We hope to devote one section to those students who need rides to specific areas."

Along with the newsletter will go strategically placed bulletin boards that will attempt to service the students on a larger scale.
Coeds Live and Learn

"Coeducational housing is a living-learning experience," according to Freeman Hall director Robert Giordano. But living and learning can also be the result of a security-stopped Friday night party.

According to a security guard on duty Friday evening, dorm director Giordano called the security office and asked for several guards to come over and break up the party. "Because of the dance (the rumored Greatful Dead concert) being cancelled, a lot of kids must have been looking for a good time," the guard stated late Friday night. "They found out about the party, and pretty soon there were a lot of kids up at Freeman Hall. The party was broken up shortly after midnight, and guards were subsequently checking student ID cards.

But Giordano thinks problems like this can be overcome. "Altho conflicts may arise," he added, "if each resident respects one another as adult human beings and considers the problems and needs of each other, inconveniences will be minimal."

Coed living is basically good, Giordano believes, and helps to break down barriers in meeting the opposite sex. Self-confidence is also increased, he added.

The coed living experiment resulted from students' requests last January, and received administrative approval.

Evaluations Ready
For Spring Term

By Sue Handelman
Staff Writer

Faculty evaluation results and conclusions will be available in time for spring registration, according to Eileen Patton, coeditor of the evaluation program. The results will be published in a booklet similar to the Master Schedule of Courses.

The booklet will include faculty information on each course and student opinions, statistically computed. The editors will add explanations of the statistics involved.

According to Miss Patton, "This evaluation was conceived to help students choose their courses more wisely." She emphasized that "in order for the concept of a faculty evaluation to work, it has to be done on a yearly basis, because we need a comparison from year to year before a final judgment can be made."

Student Aid Reduced,
Job Scarcity Results

By Diane Forden
Staff Writer

Reduction of state funds for student financial aid services has created a temporary job scarcity on campus. According to Ulrich J. Neuner, financial aid director, "funds allocated to the college under the work-study and Economic Opportunity Funds programs have been reduced 40%, thus creating an extra burden on the Work Scholarship allocation."

There are 245 students on the work-study program and 102 students on the EOF program, according to Neuner. "On file for placement we have about 76 applications and they're coming in every day," he said.

Neuner stated that the $1.80 per hour rate may not be increased in order to create more jobs. "We're trying to stretch our dollar as far as possible in order to give students more financial need. "As far as the work-study program is concerned, we consider students whose total family income is $7800 or less," Neuner stated.

"In regard to the EOF program, we try to assist students who are in dire need or come from homes where there are unusual problems and whose income is not above the $7500 range."

MSC Grad

Arlene Petty -- J.C. Mayor?

By Susan Kelly
Staff Writer

Arlene Petty wants to give the voters of Jersey City a chance to elect an honest mayor. To give them that chance, Miss Petty, a 1971 graduate of Montclair State, is running for that office.

"Jersey City has so much to offer and it is dying," said the red-haired candidate. A life-long resident of Jersey City, Miss Petty cited the average educational level of the residents as a determining factor for her candidacy.

"Most people have been very encouraging," she said. "Discussing the alleged corruption of the Jersey City government, Miss Petty stated that "even if only part of it is true, it is appalling." Miss Petty is currently working towards her masters degree in student personnel guidance at MSc. She is a graduate assistant in Bohn Hall and is employed by the Economic Opportunity Fund (EOF) in housing and urban problems.

"Although she has had no previous experience, Miss Petty stated that "there are many people who are qualified to run for mayor but who are not honest." She confessed doubts as to actually winning the mayor's seat but hopes that her candidacy will at least "make people aware that they can run for mayor and try to change things."

Miss Petty is running as an independent and will not run under an established party.

As to public reaction to her candidacy, Miss Petty said that "most people have been very favorable. "People have been very encouraging," she said.

5 Minus 1 is Still a Long Wait

By Annette Marandino
Staff Writer

The difficulties and delays experienced by MSC students during registration will be somewhat lessened this spring, according to Anthony Notare, computer center director.

He commented that the improvement would come about as a result of the elimination of some computer problems that have been encountered in the past. Citing a specific example, Notare stated that students can expect 99% accuracy in class designation, thereby eliminating one of the five registration lines.

Recently, Notare, Dr. Thomas H. Richardson, members of the registrar's staff and various department chairmen met to discuss past failures, and possible future improvements of the computer system. Notare declined to comment on the specific problems that have plagued the computer system, explaining that it would be unethical, since it concerns other people.

Commenting on the innovative period, Notare stated that students would be guaranteed in-person registration for students who pre-registered for innovative offerings. As for the regular spring semester, he added that procedures for pre-registration will be the same as they have in the past, but he anticipates the elimination of much of the confusion that has occurred previously.
Prison Resolution
Was Moral Issue

The events at Attica and San Quentin are still confused, clouded with contradictory stories, charges and countercharges. However, the fact remains that those two horrifying days have brought the crisis in American prisons to the attention of the public and to the Montclair State campus.

A resolution was passed at Tuesday's SGA meeting "strongly protesting the brutal and inhumane treatment in American prisons" over the objections of some representatives who believed the statement took a political stand on the riots.

We refer, of course, to the STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION's weekly legislative meetings, held in studio theater (K-200) at 4 p.m. Tuesday — but particularly to a new addition ... the legislation s p o n s o r e d by s u c h Provoriented people as math department rep Leon Varjian, fine and performing arts school rep Alan Jacobs and fine arts department rep Bruce Conforth.

Much of the Provpeople's legislation promises to be of a concerned, humanitarian nature — such as their bill concerning inhumane treatment of prisoners at Attica State Prison and San Quentin State Prison or their bill protesting the use of non-organic insecticides on the MSC campus.

But much of their legislation — at least from the eyes of some legislators — seems to be of a greatly satiric nature, such as their proposal to fill the area between Sprague library and the industrial arts building with Brazilian quicksand or their bill to substitute the letter "x" for the letter "k" in all SGA literature and correspondence. SGA President TERRY B. LEE seems to be concerned that what the Provpeople are doing will harm SGA. But it's just possible that the Provpeople's satiric legislation will appeal to the cynical MSC student's mind enough to make him attend the weekly legislative meetings. And a lot of legislators feel that it'd be better to get the student body there "for laughs" than not to get them there at all.

The Legislative Provo

The mild controversy over the choice of productions for Players' 1971-72 season may be offset by one of the greatest comedy productions on the Montclair State campus — and hopefully, one of the best-attended.

We refer, of course, to the STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION's weekly legislative meetings, held in studio theater (K-200) at 4 p.m. Tuesday — but particularly to a new addition ... the legislation sponsored by such Provoriented people as math department rep Leon Varjian, fine and performing arts school rep Alan Jacobs and fine arts department rep Bruce Conforth.

Much of the Provpeople's legislation promises to be of a concerned, humanitarian nature — such as their bill concerning inhumane treatment of prisoners at Attica State Prison and San Quentin State Prison or their bill protesting the use of non-organic insecticides on the MSC campus.

But much of their legislation — at least from the eyes of some legislators — seems to be of a greatly satiric nature, such as their proposal to fill the area between Sprague library and the industrial arts building with Brazilian quicksand or their bill to substitute the letter "x" for the letter "k" in all SGA literature and correspondence. SGA President TERRY B. LEE seems to be concerned that what the Provpeople are doing will harm SGA. But it's just possible that the Provpeople's satiric legislation will appeal to the cynical MSC student's mind enough to make him attend the weekly legislative meetings. And a lot of legislators feel that it'd be better to get the student body there "for laughs" than not to get them there at all.

The Legislative Provo

The mild controversy over the choice of productions for Players' 1971-72 season may be offset by one of the greatest comedy productions on the Montclair State campus — and hopefully, one of the best-attended.

We refer, of course, to the STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION's weekly legislative meetings, held in studio theater (K-200) at 4 p.m. Tuesday — but particularly to a new addition ... the legislation sponsored by such Provoriented people as math department rep Leon Varjian, fine and performing arts school rep Alan Jacobs and fine arts department rep Bruce Conforth.

Much of the Provpeople's legislation promises to be of a concerned, humanitarian nature — such as their bill concerning inhumane treatment of prisoners at Attica State Prison and San Quentin State Prison or their bill protesting the use of non-organic insecticides on the MSC campus.

But much of their legislation — at least from the eyes of some legislators — seems to be of a greatly satiric nature, such as their proposal to fill the area between Sprague library and the industrial arts building with Brazilian quicksand or their bill to substitute the letter "x" for the letter "k" in all SGA literature and correspondence.

SGA President TERRY B. LEE seems to be concerned that what the Provpeople are doing will harm SGA. But it's just possible that the Provpeople's satiric legislation will appeal to the cynical MSC student's mind enough to make him attend the weekly legislative meetings. And a lot of legislators feel that it'd be better to get the student body there "for laughs" than not to get them there at all.

The Legislative Provo...
Soapbox

Master Schedules Obsolete

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.

To the Editor:

I think everyone agrees that he has a legitimate gripe against the administration here at MSC. One gripe in particular, however, should have substantial damage to student learning.

The procedure of distributing master schedules in April or May for the following semester is a waste of time and for the next semester is not only self-defeating. What recourse is there for a student, he finds as he schedules a class, he finds as he learns it from - a parent or a friend.

In his piece, Parnell said, the master schedules are living, real-life experiences he should be required, don’t have to be taught in the classroom.
Films and newsreels pervade campus

By Chic Miles
Staff Writer

Dynamic, aggressive and hard-working are the impressions one gets after talking with Arnie DePasquale, student and cochairman of the College Life Union Board (CLUB) Cinema Committee. Now working for United Press International television news, Arnie has been a main cog in obtaining feature movies for Montclair State.

A big success last year, Club Cinema scheduled such movies as "2001", "Boys in the Band", and "Patton". "Woodstock" will be included among the ten future movie features of this year. Also included in the curricula are cartoons, sport films, and other short features that will be shown in the various lounges on campus. CLUB is worked on a non-profit basis, but if a profit is made, more films will be shown at a low cost — or for free.

NEWSREELS

"Home-Grown Newsreels" was an idea brought into existence last year by the Cinema Committee with the help of DePasquale.

"Home-Grown Newsreels" are films made on campus of the major events of the year. "Hopefully we will make movies of homecoming, the Christmas Ball, and of all other important events here at Montclair State this year," DePasquale stated. Other plans are also in the making. "Every time there is a film presented here, we will attempt to have an actor, producer, or director of the film here also," remarked Arnie.

Working in conjunction with West Point and the University of Miami, CLUB hopes to trade and share newsreels.

 Asked if he was optimistic that this project was going to be successful, the young man replied, "People in CLUB are not lazy, they like to do things. When people get involved in something, they become interested."

- ONE ACTS -

SNOB SOAP
Channel 13 is planning to show all 26 episodes of the Forsyth Saga in a marathon 24-hour showing from Sat., Sept. 25, 8 p.m., thru Sun., Sept. 26, 8 p.m.

CAN YOU CROAK
"The Frogs," a Greek comedy by Aristophanes, is being produced by Sandi Grecco, a speech and theater major, this semester. Auditions are being held on Tues., Sept. 28, 4-5 p.m. and 6-10 p.m., and Wed., Sept. 29, 6-10 p.m., in Memorial auditorium. Copies of the Richmond Lattimore translation are available in Sprague library.

THE PLAY'S THE THING
There will be a Players meeting on Mon., Sept. 27, 6:30 p.m., in the Studio Theater (K-200). The playreading committee, which will ultimately pick next season's plays, will be selected at this time.

Mike Nichols' "Carnal Knowledge," currently in national release across the country, marks a reunion of the premier stage and film director and the author-cartoonist-playwright-scenarist, Jules Feiffer. The two originally collaborated on the Broadway musical, "The Apple Tree," in 1966.

Feiffer wrote "Carnal Knowledge" as a stage vehicle, but Nichols saw it as an incisive screenplay. The rest is history. The Joseph E. Levine presentation for Avco Embassy Pictures is receiving worldwide critical acclaim.

Nichols will soon begin rehearsals on a Broadway play, "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" after which he will start a new film for Avco Embassy Pictures.

THAT'S FAR ENOUGH: Kutztown halfback Doug Dennison is tied up by MSC's Jerry Caputo as guard Bob De Goria closes in. MSC scored a comeback victory in the season opener at Kutztown, 25-20.

Kutztown Cut Down, 25-20

By Carol Sakowitz
Staff Writer
KUTZTOWN, PA. — Kutztown State College threw Montclair State for a loop last Saturday, as the Bears staged a come-from-behind victory over the Bears, 25-20.

Glen Morschauser, MSC's veteran halfback, sparked a sudden-attack offense with two touchdowns. Morschauser, an All-East honorable mention last season, brought his career scoring record to 26 touchdowns. Morschauser, an All-East honorable mention last season, brought his career scoring record to 26 touchdowns.

MSC CAME up with the winning run against Baruch's two, but seven miscues provided the edge.

Baruch needed to oust MSC from the tournament. MSC's shaving first baseman, Charlie Williams, collected three hits against Baruch.

Karl Cordon also had a good day at the plate against Baruch, punching out two singles. Tony Scarletti only had one hit against Baruch, but that was a run-producing triple.

DeJIANNE WAS one of the heroes in Sunday's game against St. Peter's. DeJianne collected three hits against Baruch, and singled to start the rally. The Indians managed to get bases loaded before pitcher Kevin Cooney squeaked home the winning run.

The Indians slugged 11 hits against Baruch's two, but seven miscues provided the edge.

The turning point for MSC came early in the third quarter. Trailing 14-3 at the half, middle guard Tom D'Onofrio blocked a KSC punt and set the offense up on Kutztown's 11-yard line. The block, which highlighted an outstanding defensive effort by D'Onofrio, gave him a berth on the All-East first team this week.

The heroes on the part of D'Onofrio caused a great change in the ineffective MSC offense which managed to score only three points in the first half despite advancing twice to KSC's five-yard line. A KSC penalty brought the ball to the three and two plays later, Brewer handled off to Morschauser for the first down.

Brewer brought the ball over himself for the first TD. Brewer passed to Morschauser for the two-point conversion. At 5:49 MSC trailed KSC by three points and began the move toward an opening game victory.

MSC 0 3 15 7 — 25
KSC 0 14 6 0 — 20

Touchdowns: MSC-Morschauser 2, Brewer 1; KSC-Parry, Groman.

Field goals: MSC-Brewster 1-2.

Baruch needed to oust MSC from the tournament. MSC's shaving first baseman, Charlie Williams, collected three hits against Baruch.

Karl Cordon also had a good day at the plate against Baruch, punching out two singles. Tony Scarletti only had one hit against Baruch, but that was a run-producing triple.

DeJIANNE WAS one of the heroes in Sunday's game against St. Peter's. DeJianne collected three hits against Baruch, and singled to start the rally. The Indians managed to get bases loaded before pitcher Kevin Cooney squeaked home the winning run.

The Indians slugged 11 hits against Baruch's two, but seven miscues provided the edge.

The turning point for MSC came early in the third quarter. Trailing 14-3 at the half, middle guard Tom D'Onofrio blocked a KSC punt and set the offense up on Kutztown's 11-yard line. The block, which highlighted an outstanding defensive effort by D'Onofrio, gave him a berth on the All-East first team this week.

The heroes on the part of D'Onofrio caused a great change in the ineffective MSC offense which managed to score only three points in the first half despite advancing twice to KSC's five-yard line. A KSC penalty brought the ball to the three and two plays later, Brewer handled off to Morschauser for the first down.

Brewer brought the ball over himself for the first TD. Brewer passed to Morschauser for the two-point conversion. At 5:49 MSC trailed KSC by three points and began the move toward an opening game victory.

MSC 0 3 15 7 — 25
KSC 0 14 6 0 — 20

Touchdowns: MSC-Morschauser 2, Brewer 1; KSC-Parry, Groman.

Field goals: MSC-Brewster 1-2.

Baruch needed to oust MSC from the tournament. MSC's shaving first baseman, Charlie Williams, collected three hits against Baruch.

Karl Cordon also had a good day at the plate against Baruch, punching out two singles. Tony Scarletti only had one hit against Baruch, but that was a run-producing triple.

DeJIANNE WAS one of the heroes in Sunday's game against St. Peter's. DeJianne collected three hits against Baruch, and singled to start the rally. The Indians managed to get bases loaded before pitcher Kevin Cooney squeaked home the winning run.

The Indians slugged 11 hits against Baruch's two, but seven miscues provided the edge.

The turning point for MSC came early in the third quarter. Trailing 14-3 at the half, middle guard Tom D'Onofrio blocked a KSC punt and set the offense up on Kutztown's 11-yard line. The block, which highlighted an outstanding defensive effort by D'Onofrio, gave him a berth on the All-East first team this week.

The heroes on the part of D'Onofrio caused a great change in the ineffective MSC offense which managed to score only three points in the first half despite advancing twice to KSC's five-yard line. A KSC penalty brought the ball to the three and two plays later, Brewer handled off to Morschauser for the first down.

Brewer brought the ball over himself for the first TD. Brewer passed to Morschauser for the two-point conversion. At 5:49 MSC trailed KSC by three points and began the move toward an opening game victory.

MSC 0 3 15 7 — 25
KSC 0 14 6 0 — 20

Touchdowns: MSC-Morschauser 2, Brewer 1; KSC-Parry, Groman.

Field goals: MSC-Brewster 1-2.
PROVO REPRESENTATIVE, Harold C. Bohn Jr., arrives at building dedication with his press secretary, Leon Varjian.

POINTING OUT HIS MONUMENT, Harold C. Bohn Jr. gives a dedication address.

HAMMERING IT UP, Provopeople secure their sign to Bohn's front lawn.

PROVOPEOPLE unveiling Bohn's bone

HAROLD C. BOHN, JR. being rushed away from inquiring photographers.