BOSS Gets $450 of $13,700

The Black Organization for Success in Society (BOSS) was allotted $450 of their $13,700 request for additional funds by the Student Government Association in Tuesday's meeting of the legislature. The money, to be taken from the unappropriated surplus, will fund "Kwanza," an Afro-American Christmas celebration. BOSS originally requested $4700 to fund a black culture conference in which many New Jersey colleges and universities would participate. When asked why Montclair State was scheduled to pay all of the conference expenses, BOSS President Arthur Wertz explained that his organization had attended conferences at other schools for which they paid nothing but a registration fee. The bill, submitted by Sheila Russell, biology department representative, also provided $3000 for additional speakers during the 1971-72 school year, $1000 for dramatic presentations, $350 for a black library, $400 for art exhibitions and $3800 for Harambee, a newsletter published by BOSS. All of these requests were defeated by the legislature. Major objections were raised to the bill when SGA Treasurer Varjian, SGA math rep, and Music Organization Commission member, hold opposing views. in arts and the investigation will prove BOSS is not serving the needs of the entire campus community. They (BOSS) can only hurt others with irrelevancy when they don't relate to the entire community," he stated. A sadlal noted that no whites belong to BOSS. EMOTIONALISM was Oshin, who said: "BOSS must relate to the white community first, before we can relate to them." Miss Oshin commented and as a result, graduate student response has "been too good." In an effort to reach all the graduate students, a GSO committee is printing and distributing posters and flyers on campus. The group is also considering publishing a newsletter which would keep its members posted on GSO activities and meetings. GSO tries to schedule its meetings so that all can attend. It holds a meeting for four consecutive days, each meeting covering the same business. An interested grad student can then attend a meeting any day he has classes that week, without making an extra trip to MSC. For added availability, meetings are held at 6:45 p.m., between classes. GSO's next meeting is slated for Nov. 15, 16, 17 and 18, in the student life building's lower lounge.

MSC's Grad Students Gain GSO

The idea for GSO was born during the student strike in May 1970, Fox explained. At that time, grad students became acutely aware of the need for an organization through which they could voice their opinions. During the '70-71 school year, interested students met, wrote and ratified a constitution, created a governing board and elected officers. According to Fox, GSO is currently being financed by MSC President Thomas H. Richardson's office. However, by next fall, GSO should be fully incorporated and financially independent of the college administration. By then it should have the power to charge graduate students a slight activity fee to fund its operation, Fox said.
PUB and the Extra $12.50

As anyone who looks out of Partridge Hall can see, the Student Union Building is not going to be open by January. That is, of course, unless the construction workers decide to skip Christmas this year and God agrees to forget about snow.

The fact remains that, thanks to an SGA vote two years ago, Montclair State students are going to go PUB door to door next semester's tuition bill to pay for PUB's upkeep (Permanent Union Building ... PUB ... get it?).

Of course, the perfect answer for the powers-that-be is to declare the Student Union open — unfinished tho it may be — and collect the dough.

No one has yet explained where the money will go if PUB does open and we believe the extra $72,000 is worth asking a few questions about.

Three Cheers For Fac. Eval.

The faculty evaluation booklets were finally distributed Wednesday and all those involved deserve a warm round of applause for their work ... those who fought for the idea ... struggled to please the administration, faculty and SGA alternately ... squeezed the funding out of unappropriated surplus so the students wouldn't have to pay ...

To create any kind of publication from scratch takes dedication, perseverance and guts. The Faculty Evaluation Committee had all three.

More Points on Curriculum Change This Week

To the Editor:

It should be noted by all students concerned, who have read the notice titled "In Defense of Science," that a basic untruth exists in the entire paper's reasoning. This untruth is that there is a movement to eliminate the math and science requirement. What is being done is what the administration, faculty and SGA alternately ... squeezed the funding out of unappropriated surplus so the students wouldn't have to pay ...

To create any kind of publication from scratch takes dedication, perseverance and guts. The Faculty Evaluation Committee had all three.

Duane R. Perrelli, Speech, '73.

To the Editor:

Reading the letter to the editor from two members of the physics-science faculty (MONTCLARION, Oct. 29) goes a long way towards explaining what is wrong with the philosophy behind current curricular requirements. Those people who teach a course should think that course valuable is not surprising, for them to believe that this is a sufficient demonstration of such need is, however, taking things a bit far.

If science and math is useful to an individual student, one would expect that he would elect to take such course without curricular coercion. The fact is however that most of the math and science courses offered to non-majors are easier than the courses in the same area which the average collegebound student takes in New Jersey's better high schools.

For most students the 12-credit requirement is no more than a passing obstacle to be dispensed with in the most painless possible way. This usually amounts to either taking courses which contain information previously learned or picking the easiest courses and memorizing enough to pass them, and quickly forgetting the whole thing.

These 12 credits could much more profitably be applied to areas in which the student has interest and motivation. The philosophy necessary to successfully run a fine liberal arts institution cannot include forcing a student to take courses "for their own good." The best person to determine the interests of a student remains the student himself. If he is wrong, at least no one else is hurt.

Rich Insley, History '72.

To the Editor:

We, as concerned individuals and professionals involved in residence living, deeply deplore the blatantly racist literature distributed on this campus Friday, October 29, allegedly by persons from Seton Hall University. We find the content to be contrary to facts, destructive to the cause of interracial respect, reflective of the deliberations of sick minds, and insulting to the dignity of black people everywhere. We encourage all members of the Montclair State College community to work against the distribution and assimilation of such abhorrent ideas and literature.

As housing officers we are dedicated to fostering respect among persons of differing ethnic origins, varying lifestyles, and diverse socio-economic backgrounds. We condemn the efforts of any individual or group which inhibits the realization of these goals.

Reportage

Special to MONTCLARION

Mon., Nov. 15, begins a first-time innovation for the January innovative period. Unfortunately, there are still facts about the period that remain unknown or misunderstood.

If you are enrolled as a full-time student, you have already paid for the right to participate. One of the beauties of the current calendar is that innovation is a bonus beyond the traditional semester without financial hassle and "overload" red tape. All one need do is sign up in the registrar's office - the information is all there.

Despite lack of official noticing, nearly all courses in all schools remain open. Very few are closed and some have no limit. All open courses in all schools are available to any student in any major. The line is drawn where (rarely) an audition is required, and in such cases a little understanding can go a long way.

Second-semester student teachers may enroll in the period. Go to the student teaching and placement office now and they will facilitate eliminating conflicts.

In those experiences involving travel, it is quite possible you may go now and pay later. Contact the office of international and off-campus learning for details on specific flights.

This innovation concept is an experiment, but one in which we have everything to gain and nothing to lose. It provides opportunity for concentrated study without distractions from other, perhaps less stimulating, courses. This alone is ample reason to register. Realize that it is not impossible to drop later, but the sooner you go to register, the greater your field of choice.

New Year's job prospects are almost non-existent.

Now thru Christmas is the time to confer with instructors regarding ideas, expectations, suggested research, readings, and grading for your choice of the courses. There will be few finals this innovative period; even those it is backed by campuswide referendum.

Man is a creature of constant change. If you do not wish to be subject to reactionary social control, support the experiment, or at least its spirit. If you like the idea, let others know your thoughts and feelings. If you have criticisms and can visualize improvements, let the campus hear or read them.

I have remained a silent partner in this effort until now because I knew this concept had the documented support of so many students and faculty.

Now, I lease you, please do not miss and thereby lose this ideal opportunity for academic advancement and freedom. The rewards are self-evident.

A review of the review

Last Wednesday, the pages opened around campus on Montclair State's newest publication the Student Evaluation of Faculty (or is that the other way around?).

Officially called the "Survey of Courses and Teaching," the 208-page booklet has a tremendous cast of characters, its plotting is somewhat weak. With a cast of thousands, the author, (who remain unknown) present incisive insights into their characters.

For example, how could one top this flowing description given to one minor character: "1.53, 2.07, 0.61, 0.30, 1.00?" As far as writing style goes, the "statistical data" section has only one equal in the literary field... "Barnes & Noble's Advanced Logarithm Tables."

Criticism must be good, yet the concept will carry over to other aspects of f

Racism, be it white or black, is detestable. Yet just as vile is the misunderstanding and lack of communication which surrounds it.

Unfortunately, there exists at Montclair State a situation, which if handled improperly, can lead to a mushrooming of racial tensions out of all proportion. This situation is the impending battles between BOSS and the class I organization. The lack of communication is such that the idea, let others know your thoughts and feelings. "A beautiful, funny presentation"

By Carol Giordano
Staff writer

Anton Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard," to be performed at Montclair State College on Nov. 10-13, is described by Players' President Joe Black as "a beautiful, funny presentation of social phenomena in Russia at the end of the 19th century."

Players' production of "The Cherry Orchard," the last play written by the Russian dramatist, will be distinctive in that it is being produced as a comedy. Black explained that it was first performed in 1904 as a tragedy, an interpretation which angered Chekhov. Players is therefore following his original intention, he said, but he noted that "in trying to give a realistic view, Chekhov wrote neither straight comedy nor straight tragedy."

According to Dr. Clyde McElroy, who is directing the production, the play deals with a decaying society, where we can see the foolish side of the characters as well as their compassionate and humorous side. He added that "almost all critics claim that one of the reasons for Chekhov's greatness lies in the fact that he portrayed the inner lives of the people — both the comic and the tragic aspects."

McElroy emphasized that this production of "The Cherry Orchard" has been "an ensemble work on the part of the director and actors involved." He commented that the cast has had a great deal of freedom in developing their roles. He, the cast and the crew have held sessions together to discuss the characters and the play itself. To achieve historical accuracy, Players worked with the mother of cast member Val Kuklowsky, who at one time lived in Russia.

"This solidified our feeling of the characters and of Russia during the period of the play," McElroy explained.

"The Cherry Orchard" is Players' 1971-72 entry in the American College Theater Festival, which is sponsored by the American Educational Theater Association. According to festival rules, no more than 25 students may participate in the production, and the scenery, which has been designed by assistant speech professor W. Scott McConnell, must be included in an area of no more than 1000 cubic feet.

The play will be performed at MSC on Nov. 10-13 at 8:30 p.m. and on Nov. 12 at 2 p.m. in Memorial auditorium. Chekhov's classic drama takes place at the time when the Russian aristocracy was losing its power and "the poor and enslaved were on their way to becoming the bourgeoisie and attaining a position of social importance," Black said. "He was working on situations which he found very real and very pertinent to the times — situations that were universal in many instances."

"Fencing is not what most people think it is. It's not just Zorro jumping off tables," commented women's fencing coach Mrs. Domenica Desiderioscioli. "It's actually a very disciplined sport."

Mrs. Desi, as she is more commonly known, should know about such things. For the past two years she has guided Montclair State's fencers to a third place finish in the Women's Intercollegiate Fencing Association, in which 20 schools participate.

"IT'S A shame that fencing isn't taught in the high schools," the brunette coach said. "But then I find it more interesting to teach something like this from the beginning. In something like basketball, everyone has played a little or has some knowledge of the game. This is from scratch."

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, Mrs. Desi and her assistant, Nancy Miraldi (MSC '70) can be found in the gym instructing their squads to "lunge," "reprise," "recover," "advance" and "withdraw" in rapid succession.

Apparently fencing has its own kind of drawing power. Sophomore Mary Caprio went to gym 6 last fall to do a MONTCLARION write-up on the fencing team and has been fencing ever since. "I just walked in and I liked what I saw, so I joined," Miss Caprio said.

HOPING TO better last year's 7-2 record are returning fencers, Nancy Murray, Frieda Boehler, Margaret Davis, Susan Toker and Vickie Curliss. The women will be vying for four varsity and four junior varsity positions.

The fencing season opens December 11 with the Christmas invitational tournament at Lehman College. Last year, with over 100 fencers participating, MSC placed two fencers in the top ten. "We're going to have a winning team this year," remarked Mrs. Desi, who, in five years, has yet to do otherwise. "You have to think positively," she smiled.

WHAT GOES UP, MUST TOUCHDOWN

Junior fullback Al Thompson hurtles over the goal line for an early touchdown, one of many for MSC. The Indians swamped Trenton State 41-13.

Trenton Homecoming Ruined by MSC, 41-13

By Chic Miles
Sports Writer

TRENTON — Homecoming is a day of excitement, a beautiful queen, floats, and a football game — sometimes! It was Trenton State's day last Saturday, but disaster befell the campus in the shape of a Montclair State manslaughter of the Trenton's football team, 41-13.

It all started out innocently enough. The setting was perfect with warm, clear skies, and a cheering hometown crowd. Trenton first had the ball, but was forced to punt quickly. The first signs of the infamous deed unfolded at this point. The culprits took shape in running backs Glen Morschauser and Al Thompson, who mercilessly gouged holes in the Lion defense until the scoreboard read Montclair 6, Trenton 0. Bob Brewster knifed the goal post to end fhe first assault.

But let's not place all the blame upon these two thorns in the side of the Lion defense. A new face appeared on the scene in the guise of Franklin Walker. He made his presence known quickly as he stabbed thru a defensive lineman to bury yet another 6-point thorn deeper into the Lions.

The ritual lasted a never-ending 60 minutes. Assault after assault, touchdown after touchdown, until the scoreboard read, Montclair 41, Trenton 13. It took a devised reverse end-around pass play, which often looks better on locker room blackboards than it does on the football field, for Trenton to break the ice and get on the scoreboard.

When it was all over the roaring Lions had been diminished to helpless cubs. Brewster had a string of 23 consecutive extra point kicks bumping in a rebound by left winger Bill Kardoba.

This session literally belonged to the Indians who pressed on relentlessly but failed to find the target. The second quarter showed no pattern of change and the halftime whistle found the score knotted, 1-1.

MSC MADE full use of the locker room pep talk by Coach Len Lucenko at the halftime recess. The Indians scored soon after intermission, when skipper George Chapla headed home a ball that came off the crossbar on a shot by Telmo Pires.

It was in this session that the Indians displayed their ball magic which put the large crowd into sporadic states of hush. But Trenton capitalized on a 30 yard free kick which Armente uncorked past a badly-positioned keeper, Chuck Doran, almost at the end of the quarter.

This goal pulled the homesters out of their shambles, but the Indians rallied on to get

Booters Top Trenton, 3-2

TRENTON — Montclair State booters, who too often fail against Trenton State College when asked for the effort, hurled the Lions 3-2, in their road game Tuesday to register their second win against the opposition in 12 years.

The victory puts ithe Indians at 7-3-1 for the year, with three matches yet to be played.

Finding the cohesion and rhythm which they lacked all season, the Indians allowed the ball to do the work rather than run around like a bunch of hunted rabbits.

And altho the homesters shot ahead midway in the first quarter on a penalty kick by striker John Armente, the Indians never let up. They got their reward about five minutes later when striker Jean Charles IIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII.....
