Private Colleges Get Aid For NJ Students

By John Picinich

Staff Writer

In an effort to keep New Jersey college students within the state, the Board of Higher Education has adopted a program that financially compensates private New Jersey colleges for enrollment of New Jersey students.

Under the state "Program for Utilization of Resources," private colleges will be compensated in proportion to their current enrollment of New Jersey students and increases in that enrollment.

Colleges are to be compensated $600 for each additional full-time New Jersey undergraduate enrolled over the total enrollment of New Jersey students in the previous year. For example, if a college had a total enrollment of 700 New Jersey students which increased to 800 New Jersey students the next year, the college would receive $600 for each of the additional 100 students.

Additionally, the colleges will be compensated for their full-time New Jersey undergraduates. The colleges will be allocated $175 for each freshman and sophomore and $275 for each junior and senior.

Under the education grant colleges are given $300 for each enrolled full-time undergraduate in the previous year. The student must be a recipient of state financial aid, however, he or she may not have received loans or awards by the college of $1000 or more.

Although the aid to independent colleges in the program is primarily financial, the board is also authorized to provide colleges with computers, library materials and any other sources which are available to public colleges, according to the manual.

The program is being funded through monies appropriated by the state legislature, according to Mary Fairbanks, public information director for the Department of Higher Education.

Fairbanks stated that there was no relation between the aid program and the tuition rise in some colleges. "The tuition was raised because of the amount of money the board and the colleges themselves felt was needed," she explained.

All Independent colleges or universities of New Jersey with regional accreditation and 500 or more full-time undergraduates qualify for aid. The minimum enrollment requirement does not apply to a single-purpose professional school, however.

Theological and parochial schools do not qualify for aid under the program and colleges will not be compensated for students studying for the ministry or any other aspect of religious life.

Hopefully, the program will increase the number of classroom spaces available to state residents and lower the educational and operating costs per student, Fairbanks said.

The program is included in the "Manual of Administrative Procedures and Regulations for Aid to Independent Colleges" which was adopted at a board meeting in Trenton on Sept. 15.

The manual implements the provisions of an earlier experimental plan for "contracts with independent colleges" which the board had adopted in 1971.
Robberies Plague Bohn

"What happens and what is reported are two different things," said Keith Kauffman, Safety and Security director. Kauffman was referring to the rash of crimes committed in Bohn Hall since the beginning of the year.

Kauffman stated that five "reported" robberies had taken place. Most of the time cash was stolen, but other items such as a driver's license, a checkbook and a clock radio were also found missing. Rooms were entered while the girls had left them unlocked. None of the doors were forced open.

Campus security feels that it is a group working the robberies in Bohn. "Usually there is a knock on the door, if there is no answer the thieves enter. If the door is answered a flimsy excuse is given for knocking," Kauffman said that one girl was asleep when the thieves entered but they left before the girl could make an identification. A CASE in point is one girl who returned home at 2:15 am to find two thieves in her room. When confronted they ran and she was unable to identify them.

Security men were called, according to students on the floor to chase a thief to a lower level. No identification had been made so no arrest could take place. The victim admitted that she had left the key in the door.

According to Kauffman, "All personnel have been alerted." At a flash inspection last Friday, Kauffman reported that he still found keys in the doors on the 15th floor.

"If you know of a thief, stop in the security shack and report it," said Kauffman. The security people have a limited amount of eyes and ears, so the campus community should help. he said. If the students don't let the security department know the criminals cannot be apprehended.

Kauffmann emphatically suggested that all dorm students lock their doors. Also, girls should not leave pocketbooks in open view.

Tenure Threatened

By Pat Merocorelli
Staff Writer

A statement outlining the NJ Board of Higher Education's opposition to a high proportion of tenured faculty was released recently by Ralph Dungan, chancellor of higher education.

The statement is designed to keep 40% of the faculty in fear of their jobs according to Robert Dorner and Marcoantonio Lacatena, co-presidents of the MSC Faculty and the American Federation of Teachers local.

"A non-tenured faculty member is a docile faculty member," Lacatena said. "If the state increases the number of non-tenured faculty then it increases the apathy or docility of the faculty. In other words, they won't talk back."

The resolution, which does not have the force of law, states that each individual Board of Trustees should formulate a 10 year plan to insure a "reasonable" level of tenured faculty. According to the statement, the board feels a high proportion of tenured faculty is detrimental to institutional flexibility. Therefore, the 10 year plan would be designed to keep the tenure level consistent.

The statement's final acceptance is up to the individual Board of Trustees. Dorner commented that the MSC board assured him that they will form their own opinion of the document.

The resolution states tenure should only be offered to teachers with a doctorate and who have consistently met a high level of efficiency. The statement concluded with the board's desire that each college should establish a procedure for evaluating tenured faculty performance not less than every five years.

Dorner and Lacatena charge that the main focus of the resolution is economic since salaries are lower for non-tenured faculty members.

Dungan's aim is to make the college more efficient, both men commented. By efficient, Lacatena said, Dungan means "more degrees per dollar."

"But," Dorner added, "he gives a fantastic amount of lip service to quality." Dorner continued, "If he really wanted to improve the quality of education at Montclair, he should add $10000 to the salary ranges so the college can hire more experienced teachers.

Dorner and Lacatena assert that a tenure faculty member is liable to dismissal for various reasons and the college has mechanisms for abolishing departments even if the faculty members have tenure.

As now established by state law, a teacher is given tenure when he or she is re-hired for a fourth year. Once a teacher is granted tenure, the state must furnish a set of reasons for his dismissal. To dismiss a tenure teacher, the college officers must present formal charges which can then be challenged in court.

Tickets and Tow-Aways Begin

By Mike Hatem

As of Oct. 11, stronger measures are being taken against parking violations on and off campus. Summonses will be issued on Webster Hall Rd., on Valley Rd., and at the Robin Hood Inn and cars will be towed away.

Along Valley Rd., Clifton police will be issuing summons and towing away cars that block driveways and traffic. "We're having a lot of trouble with students parking overtime and violating restricted areas," explained the Clifton traffic officer on Oct. 11. He added, "We'll issue tickets and do whatever else needed to stop it.

The manager of the Robin Hood Inn commented on Oct. 12, "We have a small number of cars registered here for parking spaces. They give us no trouble. But there are some cars parked without permission and these are being towed."

Parking along the road to the campus service station is now clearly prohibited by a wooden block horse marked "tow-away zone."

According to Greg Carroll, assistant director of operations of the Student Center, parking along the road was one of our biggest problems at the gas station. People didn't want to hassle their way up here and it hurt us. We've been averaging about 1200 gallons daily businesswise, which is just breaking even. Now, with the access road clear, it's up to the students and faculty to make this operation work. We could easily pull 10,000 gallons a day with the number of cars at MSC."

The completion of the new quarry lot, scheduled to be paved by the end of October, may ease some of the problems, according to one security guard.

The new area is a shorter walking distance to the campus than the other quarry lots.
THR Rejects Day Care Proposal

By Susan Pickels
Staff Writer

Montclair State President Thomas H. Richardson has rejected a proposal for day care facilities, citing a lack of space and money as the reasons for its rejection.

The proposal was presented in August by the Affirmative Action Committee on the Status of Women (AACSW) and its Day Care Facilities Subcommittee (DCFS). These groups, concerned with issues effecting women's rights, feel that a day care center would, as stated in the proposal, "correct a situation which...hinders or prevents women from pursuing a career or an education while being a parent."

Richardson said that the proposal as defeated partially because it was to be located on campus. He explained that "the state would not allow campus space to be set aside for a day care center. It considers such a service to be peripheral, that is, not necessary to MSC's central goal of education."

"I do not want the day care center to be established off-campus," stated center advocate Carol Teploff. She continued to say that a "major point in having the facilities on campus is to provide a place where parents and children can be together during the day."

The nature of the center was also a disputed topic. The committees envisioned it to be not merely custodial in nature but also educational.

"The children would be in our care for many hours every week," explained Huberta Alcaro, chairwoman of the DCFS. "Instead of merely babysitting for them, we wanted to put the time to good use and offer them a chance to learn."

The center was intended to be run along the lines of a nursery school with a certified teacher present.

Richardson opposed this idea saying that "the goal in recent years has been to phase out anything on campus that is not directly concerned with education at the college level." He pointed out that College High will be removed from campus as of next year and that "that state would not allow an educational day care center on campus."

Another controversial area was the proposal that children be accepted on a first come, first served basis with each campus group-faculty, students and staff/administration-receiving 1/3 of the available space. A survey of the people who would use the facilities, taken by the committees, indicated that space for 48 children should be made available.

Based on these figures, only 15 children of students would have been accepted. "This is totally unrealistic," Richardson said. "No matter what system we used, it would not be fair," he continued. "There would be charges of discrimination by those who were rejected."

Alcaro does not think that the idea of a day care center is dead but she feels that greater student support is needed for it. She recalls that the DCFS was composed mainly of faculty members, with only one student showing up for the meetings.

"We were not able to show that this was not merely a faculty idea," Alcaro said. "The faculty feels that they have done all they could," she continued. "Now, it is up to the students to work for the day care facilities if they want them."

Alternative methods of establishing a center will be investigated. "Studies of the day care centers that have been set up at other state colleges could reveal possible sources of funding," Teploff said. The church at the corner of Valley Rd. and Mt. Hebron has been suggested as an alternate location.

Anyone interested in working on the center can contact Huberta Alcaro in V-152.

Board Considers Fee

By Joanne Surowicz

Staff Writer

Part time students may be assessed an activities fee beginning next semester if the Board of Trustees agrees to the proposal at the November meeting. Undergraduates now pay a mandatory $30 fee each semester which funds all SGA activities. Part time and graduate students have never paid any Activities Fee, nor have they been considered members of the Student Government Association.

Montclair State's change in concept from a fulltime/night school program to one 8 am—10 pm college theoretically views were raised at last campus activities. However the college community. Opposing forced to participate in the extent these students should be be obtained to provide a basis for further consideration at the meeting and the issue was tabled for further investigation. The Board pointed out this move is "an attitude change, not just a name change."

A PROGRESS REPORT on campus construction scheduled the tentative opening of the Clove Road apartments for January '74. Defects in the design of the new Math/Science building were mentioned and an investigation was proposed to correct the faulty situations.

Handicap Aid Investigated

Students who would like to have ramps installed on campus for those confined to wheelchairs have met with Jerome Quinn, facilities director, and Edward Martin, assistant director of the student body, to investigate possible construction of the ramps.

Freshman David Belavage explained that the students would like a ramp built between Partridge and Maloney Halls to aid the handicapped students when the campus mall is completed. He said that according to the present plans, the students would have to go around the mall in order to reach their classes. This would be very difficult in inclimate weather, he continued.

Quinn stated that while the proposal is being investigated, "it does not look too promising." He stated that the mall is designed to enable handicapped students to reach all areas of it bit he admitted that it would be "with difficulty."

HE POINTED OUT that construction of the ramps would be expensive, costing between $8,000-$10,000. While the ramps might be desirable, Quinn questioned their necessity saying that the money could be better used elsewhere. He said that the funds might be better used in the construction of elevators to aid the handicapped students in various buildings.

The students made additional requests on behalf of the handicapped. They requested the construction of ramps to all buildings on campus with signs in evidence so that they will not be blocked by parked cars.

Benavage also proposed the formation of an elevator maintenance committee to keep the elevators on campus in working condition. He pointed out that elevator companies frequently go on strike and when they break down, the handicapped students are sorely inconvenienced.

Benavage is the first handicapped student to be living on campus in any New Jersey College. He is one of the four handicapped students at MSC.

SRA to Push For Student Power

By Theresa Donnarumma
Staff Writer

"Students have the power to influence decisions made by local, state and federal political and social groups," said Julie Vega, a member of Students for Reform and Action (SRA), a new organization on campus.

"Our purpose," continued Vega, "is to make students aware of the existing conditions on and off-campus and to encourage the utilization of the power they have to change conditions."

According to the SRA statement of purpose, the organization is "a leader-less, non-bureaucratic, non-partisan, open and democratic committee to investigate, cajole, publish information and physically protest if need be, to bring an end to the many intolerable conditions that exist today."

The most pressing issues concerning the SRA members is to make the students aware of the attempt of centralization is NJ's higher education system and of American involvement in Indochina.

Research is now being done by the SRA on the Board of Higher Education's centralization plan to leave Trenton as the sole organizing power of all state colleges.

On the centralization issue the SRA program states, "We oppose the attempts of the Committee of Higher Education to reduce the free academic community at MSC and other state institutions to an automation producing factory. We have a right individually and collectively to determine our own educational goals. We plan to unite with active groups on and off other state and community college campuses to present a united statewide student front to prevent this oppressive institution of state control."

On Oct. 18 SRA took part in a campus forum to let MSC students know about the centralization issue.

Reg Murphy, another member, said, "Indochina is one of our prime concerns. We have allied ourselves with the Indochina Peace campaign—a new organization."

SRA's new approach is to acquaint the people with the history and culture of the Vietnamese as well as an examination of the impact of the war on the daily life of the Vietnamese.

SRA has and will continue to sponsor speakers for MSC students. Antiwar activist David Dellinger has already appeared on campus and on Oct. 20 at 2:00 pm in Life Hall cafeteria Dr. Benjamin Spock will talk to the students. The Socialist Labor Party will be on campus on Oct. 30.

Jerry Carver, a member of SRA, said, "All these speakers come for free. The only cost is security."

Carver adds, "Speakers like this have always been available, but the only organization on campus that sponsors speakers is so concerned with balance (in the political sense) that they don't get newsworthy people. We are an unchartered organization that can cut through bureaucratic nonsense and get the speaker we want."

In addition to speakers SRA will establish referral services such as food stamp information, free abortion referral, legal aid and draft counseling.

The SRA program asks the student to "unite for peace, freedom, justice and jobs."

Sororities Sponsor a Night of Song

By Rosemary Morra
Staff Writer

The women of Dalphac and Delta will sponsor the 16th annual Greek Sing on Fri., Nov. 1, at 7 pm in Memorial Auditorium. Sororities, fraternities and other campus organizations are eligible to participate in the Sing, designed to eliminate apathy in a spirit of friendly competition and entertainment.

Chairwomen Penny Galos, Carol Roof and Eileen Weiner have devised the rules for the program. "All organizations must perform from eight to ten minutes and have no more than 23 or less than 10 participating," said Galos, a junior. Each group will enter competition by presenting three songs which adhere to any central theme of the group's choice. All presentations must be a cappella (unaccompanied) chorus with at least a two-part harmony. "Attire shall be uniform and decided upon by each group," added Weiner. Hand gestures and body movements are allowed but fast dance steps are not, explained Galos.

Impartial judges will be selected both from the music and speech and theater departments. "Contestants will be judged on originality of theme, arrangement, appearance stage personality and over-all effect," stated Weiner. No definite decisions have been made concerning the prizes, which will be awarded at the close of the program.

"Probably trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners," Weiner said. Eight sororities, three fraternities and three organizations have already entered the contest. Theme, list of selections and $5 entrance fee should be submitted no later than Oct. 27.

LAST YEAR the over-all trophy went to Alpha Sigma Mu, whose theme was "man's quest." Sigma Delta Phi followed with its theme of "season to remember."

Greek Sing was inaugurated at Montclair State in 1957 to provide the opportunity for competition, recognition and entertainment through the medium of song. "The affair was an aim to get the student body together," said Laura Latka of Dalphac.

Last year's sculpture was "Grand Night for Singing."

With Help From Their Friends

Wayne Young, a staff writer, explained that Overbrook has approximately 3500 patients either of the geriatric or psychiatric type. Of the 1700 psychiatric patients a large number are eligible for college companions and often receive them upon request. Although the companions are not present to act as therapists, Young explained that many of the relationships do have therapeutic value especially when the ages of the people involved are close.

AMONG THE ACTIVITIES open to a companion and his patient are dances, concerts, physical events, games and art exhibitions. Sometimes just a quiet walk around the hospital grounds gives the patient a chance to discuss his problems. Young stressed that all students interested in participating in the college companion program should contact Brunell at the hospital.

Love is Going to Class

By Theresa Donnarumma
Staff Writer

"Is love real?" asked Jill Beerman. Even if it's not, the new "Love Class" certainly is. Every Wednesday night at 8 pm in the tiny Bohn Hall third floor lounge love is in session and open to all.

The "Love Class" is offered as a non-credit seminar through the Campus Community Program. Beerman, a student at MSC and the instructor of the course said, "We discuss the nature of love-if love exists or not. How love is manifested and how it can be used as a force for good."

BY RELATING TO others' personal experiences the students can see who they are in relation to other students. However, "It is not sensitivity training," said Beerman. "Nobody reacts on a personal level. They react only to the subject matter."

One of the main topics the students hope to discuss is the adjustment to adulthood and the new relationships that face them.
Forgotten People--

The construction of the mall is nearing completion. It's beautiful landscaping and walkways are designed for the needs of the campus community--or is it? Unfortunately the mall is not designed to accommodate the handicapped and those confined to the limited mobility of wheelchairs.

True they are only a minority, but if one ever was disabled he or she would find navigating not only the mall but the entire campus quite difficult. Such things as doorway posts in Mallory Hall and the absence of ramps to the entrances of many buildings make classes an ordeal to attend and dangerous as well.

But there does seem to be someone listening. Jerry Quinn, MSC director of institutional planning has met with handicapped students. To get an even better perspective, Quinn plans to travel around in a wheelchair. Hopefully, Quinn's experiment will provide some first-hand understanding for this seemingly forgotten group. Afterall, they too have paid for their education.

Day Care Needed

It is regrettable that the initial proposal for a day care center has been rejected. The fight for a center has been raging for several years and it is undeniable that the center would provide a much needed service to those MSC students who have children.

MSC president Thomas H. Richardson criticized the plan as being not directly related to education responsibilities. "What is needed now is a movement by the campus community to support the center," he said. "Minority communities are suffering and the center would provide a much needed service to those MSC students who have children."

So the plan is not as being not directly related to education responsibilities. "What is needed now is a movement by the campus community to support the center," he said. "Minority communities are suffering and the center would provide a much needed service to those MSC students who have children."

But what man could chose to be the full-time "homemaker" for his family and not be fearful of being condemned as being feminine? A woman can live in either world, the domestic as well as the outside, a man has no freedom of choice.

Lynda Emery

‘Liberate’ The Men

Dash it, fellows, it would appear that sturdy Sam and fun-loving Angelo are in for a peck of trouble from ne'er do well Bob Winsome and his band of toadies.

High above the new Student Center there circled a strange-looking "aeroplane." It was a makeshift craft, but it appeared to fly better than many a professionally built one. Inside the odd ship was the hero of many a student, Sam Plain. Some of you may have met him earlier in this series, when he and his chums tried to solve "The Mystery of the Tuition Increase," and give that bully, Dogone, the thrashing he so well deserved.

That is another story. Right now, the "aeroplane" was making a perfect three-point landing on the lawn of Montclair State, a picturesque institution of higher education located in uptown New Jersey. Whereupon, you may be sure, many an admiring glance was turned upward at the intrepid Plain.

Trouble

But even as he descended to meet his old friends, trouble was brewing in the basement of the Center. For there, "hanging around" in the billiard hall and, no doubt, smoking "cigarettes," lurked Bob Winsome and his despicable accomplice, Mumps Giltswoman. With them was their usual companion, William Ashill, whose folks were the rich and doting Presidents of the National Toothpaste Company. Our hero, of course, had met with Winsome before and well knew the habits of the boy bully, who was several years older than his class-mates, having been "left back" several times.

Winsome and his cronies, hearing the cheers from above, threw down their "cue sticks" and rushed to the stairs, for they were sure that their old enemy had arrived.

A DIME

"They wouldn't cheer for anyone but that rat, Plain." Winsome was heard to say nastily. He left a "dime" on the counter as they went out.

"You always wanted to be SGA president, didn't you?" said Mumps Giltswoman.

"You're darn tootin'," swore Winsome vellely.

"Wait a minute, boys," cried Ashill, stopping the others in their tracks, "I think I have a way to pay Plain back for the way he picks on us!"

And with that the three sneaks bent their heads together. What did they have planned? --to be continued next time!

McGovern Edges Nixon In Poll

If Montclair State is any indication, Senator George McGovern will fall short of receiving an overwhelming majority of the college vote. In a poll conducted by the MONTCLAIRON during the week of Oct. 9, McGovern holds a lead of only 2.5% over Richard Nixon. McGovern is supported by a majority of the college vote. The support for Nixon is more than 2 to 1 over McGovern.

A trend developed along sex lines, as 45% of the males polled went to McGovern. This appears to be the ladies man as 55% of the females supported Nixon.

Mike Lynch

Nominee Too Lofty

Last week I approached the kids manning the McGovern table in the Student Center and asked, “What is Senator George McGovern’s plan for controlling inflation?” There were thirty seconds of dead silence. Finally one of the volunteers admitted, “I don’t know. All I know is, he’s a moral man and he’ll control prices somehow.”

McGovern’s emphasis on lofty themes like morality enables him to avoid grubby little subjects like money. When “Meet the Press” interviewers asked how he would obtain the revenue to finance his extravagant promises, he impatiently replied, “I don’t want to get bogged down in monetary details,” and went on to mention more promises.

BONDS

He proposes to get the cash by closing “tax loopholes.” Actually the main loophole is the tax-exempt status of state and municipal bonds. No state can afford to match the high interest offered by corporation bonds, so there’s one log reason investors buy New Jersey bonds when they could do better with Chrysler or Enos-Ulitha Sum doesn’t tax the income they earn from state bonds.

Most middle-class Americans realize that they would foot the bill for McGovern’s income redistribution plan, or whatever his latest scheme-of-the-month is. Notice how his most fervent supporters are students or professionals from pretty affluent backgrounds? Organized labor, on the other hand, was shunted aside at the Democratic Convention.

CAPTURED

The nation’s majority party has been captured by a left-wing faction having little in common with the ordinary Democratic voter. Like most Irish-Americans, my family has always been partial to the Democrats; but it’s obvious to me which side offers intelligent leadership in 1972. America needs President Richard M. Nixon, now more than ever.

A Campus Walk

Stirs Memories

By Kay Finlaw
Staff Writer

For those seniors who have been at MSC for their entire college career a walk around campus stimulates many memories and realizations of change.

Walking down the hall in Freeman and seeing guys names on the doors reminds one of the days when Freeman Hall was strictly female, complete with 11 o’clock curfew, sign-out procedures, and no visitation policy. A visit to your professor’s office in the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences could mean a visit to your old dorm room in Russ Hall. Somehow it doesn’t seem like the place you use to call home, though.

All that cement at one end of College Hall and the protruding pipes with steam coming from somewhere are the only remnants of TUB. You can’t help thinking how permanently temporary that building was.

GARBAGE

A walk through Life Hall just isn’t as interesting as it use to be. Where are all the people? And what happened to all the memories and realizations of change.

As you enter the night-club atmosphere of the Student Center your thoughts center on that little yellow receipt through that mess?

GARBAGE

As for Mr. King’s comments about the Student Center, I think Mr. King has a helluva nerve saying that black students have to pay and I’m white. If he could do better with his middle-class kids manning the McGovern Center your thoughts center on that little yellow receipt reminding you of the student union building fee you’ve paid for the last one hundred semesters.

For those seniors who have been at MSC for their entire college career, a walk around campus really does stimulate memories and realizations of change.

To the Editor:

Bill Biard statement that the Catholic Church is sexist and without defining those labels within the context of his own understanding is both presumptuous and specious.

Mr. Baird also indicated that there are no black bishops in the United States. I have to disappoint Mr. Baird, but Bishop Harold Perry, SVD, Auxiliary Bishop of New Orleans, La., is black. Further, Archbishop Humberto S. Medeiros, of Boston is of Portuguese extraction. Aux. Bishop Juan A. Arzube of Los Angeles is of Ecuadorian descent. Aux. Bishop Patrick Flores of San Antonio is of Mexican American extraction--enough! I think I’ve made my point.

To the Editor:

Bill Biard statement that the Catholic Church is sexist and without defining those labels within the context of his own understanding is both presumptuous and specious.

Mr. Baird also indicated that there are no black bishops in the United States. I have to disappoint Mr. Baird, but Bishop Harold Perry, SVD, Auxiliary Bishop of New Orleans, La., is black. Further, Archbishop Humberto S. Medeiros, of Boston is of Portuguese extraction. Aux. Bishop Juan A. Arzube of Los Angeles is of Ecuadorian descent. Aux. Bishop Patrick Flores of San Antonio is of Mexican American extraction--enough! I think I’ve made my point.

'Hurry Harry' Dies
Survived By Cast

By Hal Plain

Actors have a difficult time finding work in today's job market. This must be the reason why "Hurry Harry" still had a cast when it opened for its market. This must be the reason actors apologizing as they that the audience could feel the painfully written and directed Broadway run. The show is so walked through their pieces.

Actually, "written" and "directed" don't really apply to this show. It seems to have just happened, like a terrible lump of wide-wale corderoy happened, like a terrible this show. It seems to have just covered something or other. The lighting by Martin Leek and Susan Perkis. As for costume, there was

The set, by Fred Voelpel, was terribly typical, indistinguishable from any other second-rate rock show. As if that weren't enough, the music was performed poorly, sounding muddy and wilted. The storyline of a young man who has everything and then decides that he doesn't want it has been trite for over 20 years. It is on this excuse that the author's inflict some really painful review-type material as the boy searches for the real "me."

Despite everything, the cast tried to do the best it could with this poor material. Out of pity for their reputations, the names of the cast won't be revealed. They just couldn't help themselves. Hopefully the show will be survived by the cast.

Philosophical cop on the Los Angeles police force. Such is the theme and mood of "The New Centurions."

The film has excellent acting, dedicated to his work. And like Scott, he handles them all with skill, sincerity and professionalism.

Unfortunately he is subject to the easy gaps and cheap thrills of Fleischer and Silliphant. In one scene, which borders on the ridiculous, he hangs on the door of a speeding car and is dragged endlessly over jockets, fences, bushes, roadblocks and other obstacles.

"The New Centurions" is one movie that demonstrates sympathy and respect—a theme which has not been too common lately. It is a movie that demands attention to the down to earth quality of his job and the dehydration of his life of dedication.

While lacking a coherent narrative, this new Fleischer presentation still comes off—thanks to Scott and Keach—as a sufficient and perceptive film.

Stickmen Begin Warm-Ups

Fall means football for players, coaches, cheerleaders and fans, but for the MSC lacrosse team, Fall also signals the start of conditioning for the coming spring season.

According to team co-captain Bill Davies, the stickmen will be working out daily in and around Panzer Gym for the next three weeks.

"IT'S MAINLY TO build skills and teach the fundamentals to all new members, as well as help the present team keep in shape," he explained. "We'll be ready for the season if we work together all the way through."

Jim Cresbaugh, a '72 MSC graduate who played lacrosse last spring, will be assisting at the practices and aiding coach Al Jackson during the '73 season.

The Indians have gained a slot in the Knickerbocker Lacrosse League, Davies continued, and will play a number of Long Island teams.

"WE'RE UNSURE OF our exact schedule as of now," he added, "but we hope to have more home games this year, if we have Brookdale Park as a playing and practice field."

The new varsity status of the stickmen will guarantee more equipment, Davies said, stressing the fact that "almost everyone who comes out will make the team."

"Lacrosse is one sport where no experience is necessary," he smiled. "We welcome the kids who've never played before—we'll teach them everything."

DAVIES ADDED THAT he and co-captain Houston Webber are planning to hold clinics to explain the sport to students.

"With at least eight men returning, and eight promising rookies, we should have a really good season," he said optimistically. "And we want everyone to understand what it's all about."

In Montclair State's first football game against Kutztown State, Franklin Walker stretched some muscles in his right leg.

Last Saturday, in MSC's fifth game against Central Connecticut State, Walker showed he was back in the groove as he scored the Indians' second touchdown and rushed for 63 yards.

"It bothered me when I ran," Walker commented. "You try to forget it, but it inhibits your movement," he added.

FELLOW RUNNING BACK and teammate Al Thompson, however, has remained nearly injury-free this year. "Injuries are mostly luck and I guess I've been lucky," he said.

Most times the two gridiron players find themselves blocking for each other. The offensive line usually carries the blocking load, but according to Walker and Thompson the inexperience of this line has caused the slow start of the Indians' running attack.

"They're inexperienced in working together," remarked Walker, with emphasis on the last word.

"THE MEN (UP FRONT) get used to how you hit the hole," said Thompson, explaining the importance of knowing what a teammate will do before he does it. "But it's tough on the lineman, too," he sympathized, "especially the younger ones."

Nevertheless, Walker is the team's second leading rusher with 168 yards with Thompson right behind with 123 yards.

Two of the more unusual occurrences of the Indians' season came during the East Stroudsburg game two weeks ago. The first was a "flea-flicker" kick-off return which saw quarterback Gary Acker take the kick and pull the defense towards him before interating to Bob Hermanni who scampered down the field with the score.

"THE FUNNY PART about the play," explained Walker, "was that Acker and Hermanni were the only ones who knew we were going to do it then. If the blockers had known the play, they would have shifted to Hermanni's side of the field and the lateral would not have been as successful, the junior physical education major rationalized.

The other oddity occurred in the fourth quarter of the same game and directly involved Thompson. "I was carrying the ball and slipped," he recalled. "They dived on me and when I looked up, everyone was fighting," said Thompson.
Booters to Open Four-Game Stand

Montclair State's soccer team suffered its first loss of the season last Saturday at New York University, 4-1. Joe Cozza tallied his second goal of the season for MSC's only score assisted by Nick Mykulak.

Following yesterday's game at Newark State, the Indians will open a four-game home stand Saturday with the first contest at 11 am against Queens College. The game site then switches to Pittser Field to Sprague Field on Wednesday when MSC takes on Fairleigh Dickinson University under the lights at 8 pm. Stoney Brook and Trenton State complete the home stand.

THE NYU contest was scoreless at the half; but the Indians took a quick 1-0 lead at the beginning of the second stanza on Cozza's goal.

Following what coach Bob Wolfarth termed "a questionable call" against the MSC defense, the dikes burst open and NYU scored twice to take the lead. However the defense of fullbacks John Tkaczuk and Roman Hanycz and Bill Gertner have tallied the other MSC goals.

Despite their initial defeat, the Indians still sit atop the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference. EIGHT OF THE Indians' last nine games will be against teams of the Metropolitan Collegiate Soccer Conference (Division I).

MSC has yet to oppose a team from this conference, its only slated contest thus far being rescheduled (City College of New York, Mon. Nov. 13, 3 pm at Brookdale Park.)

Despite their winning record, coach Bob Wolfarth has not been our forte," Wolfarth skillfully understated. "We pressed for offense but found it unsuccessful. "We pressed for goals and were caught with men short on defense and they scored two more goals," Wolfarth explained. "The score was not indicative of the game. If we had played back, it would have ended 2-1 instead of 4-1," he added.

JOE FIND SCORED twice for NYU and Roger Gestall and Nick Fila mino each put a goal past netminder Greg Reusch, who has just recovered from a knee injury.

MSC had lost to NYU last year, 1-0, and the latter holds the record for goals scored against the Indians with 10.

Despite their winning record, MSC has only scored nine goals in five games, five of those goals coming in one contest. "Offense has not been our forte," Wolfarth skillfully understated.

FORWARD PAUL PAPADOGEORGOPoulos leads the Indians in scoring with three goals. Tino Dominguez and Cozza are tied at two each. Roman Hanycz and Bill Gertner have tallied the other MSC goals.

However the defense of fullbacks John Tkaczuk and Nick Mykulak and goalkeepers Reusch and Chuck Doran have kept the goals against average down to 1.0 per game.

Despite their initial defeat, MSC still sits atop the New Jersey State College Conference, scoring wins over Glassboro State and William Paterson and tying Jersey City State.

MSC's record now stands at 3-1-1 overall and 2-0-1 in the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference.

HARRIERS TAKE DUAL MEET

The team was hardly excited over the win, however, coach Roy Pityanger was worried. "We've got to round out the scoring."

"One day we run like champs, the next day like chumps," the coach concluded.

The team was hardly excited with the victory, a let-down hardly unexpected after last week's winning effort against Paterson State.

Nonetheless, coach George Horn was worried. "We've got to get consistancy in our efforts," he said. "One day we run like champs, the next day like chumps," the coach concluded.

HORN ALSO REMINDED the squad that they had only one day to prepare for Tuesday's meet at Monmouth College. He advised them to concentrate on "quality" work. "Cut down on distance but power it out," he added.

On this rather warm and sunny Saturday past, Montclair State's cross country team coasted to an easy double-dual victory, beating Queens College, 21-34, and Trenton State, 29-40. Queens defeated Trenton, 23-37, to round out the scoring.

NEW BRITAIN, CONN—Saturday’s hard-earned, 28-23, victory over Central Connecticut State couldn’t have come at a better time for the Indians. The game marked the opening of Montclair State’s Eastern Football Conference play this season. All of the remaining contests are either EFC or New Jersey State College Conference battles.

MSC faces its first NJSCAC adversary against William Paterson College 8 pm this Saturday at Sprague Field.

THE WIN OVER CCSC was sorely needed, especially after the heart-breaking defeat the Indians suffered at the hands of Cortland State the week before. The effect of the victory showed on the beaming fact of coach Clary Anderson. "I was very impressed with the game," he commented. "CCSC is a great team with an explosive offense. They picked up 562 yards against Bridgeport last week. Beating a team that good has to be a big win."

Strangely enough, CCSC lost the Bridgeport game, 25-18. They also outgained the Indians in total offense, 346 yards to 223, but were again defeated. The reason being two costly turnovers by the Blue Devils, both of which the Indians capitalized on.

THE FIRST ONE came during the closing minutes of the second quarter with CCSC leading, 10-7. On second down and nine at the C-16 yard line, Blue Devil fullback Bill Tinlin fumbled, and MSC safety Rich Tate recovered it there, giving his team a first down and excellent field position. Taking advantage of the situation, halfback Franklin Walker proceeded to put the Indians in front by carrying the ball five consecutive times, the last being a one-yard run off left guard into the end zone. Kicker Moses Lajterman completed the PAT, making the score, 14-10, in MSC’s advantage.

The second blunder occurred at the tail-end of the third quarter with 1:31 to go and the score in CCSC’s favor, 17-14. Again on second and nine, but this time with the ball on the Connecticut’s 38-yard line, Blue Devil quarterback Dennis Schermerhorn, under the pressure of MSC left end Sylvester Burroughs, threw right into the open arms of MSC cornerback Frank Bender. Bender grabbed the ball at his own 49-yard line, and raced 56 yards for the TD. Lajterman kicked the extra-point, putting the Indians ahead, for good, 21-17.

MSC’s last touchdown of the day was the end result of a 28-yard drive which originated when CCSC punter Steve Robinson, under great pressure from the aggressive MSC defenders, booted one only six yards. The Indians took over at the CCSC 28-yard line and in another four plays had six more points on the board. This time it was fullback Frank Ripley who bullied his way into the CCSC end zone with a seven-yard run up the middle. Lajterman came out once more and did his thing quite well, making the score, 28-17, MSC on top. The TD came with 14:23 left in the game, ample time for a team like CCSC to grab two more touchdowns. But somehow, they just couldn’t do it. They did manage to push one more across however, marching 79 yards in eight plays which culminated in a two-yard touchdown run by halfback Jim Lally. Schermerhorn’s attempted run for the two-point conversion failed and with 6:57 left in the game, the score read, 28-23, in favor of MSC, which is how the contest ended.

"It was a team effort," Anderson stated after the game. "Acker (Gary) handled the ball very well, Whitman (Don), who accounted for MSC’s first TD with a 13 yard pass reception, punished excellently and Bender and Tate’s great defensive play was also a major factor in the win."

Bender had two interceptions on the day and Tate accounted for 20 tackles, 18 of them unsisted, as well as recovering the fumble that led to a touchdown. Anderson summed up his jubilant feelings when he concluded: "I MISSED A class reunion at Colgate, my old alma mater today, for this game, but I must say, it was well worth it. I’m really deeply satisfied."

Anderson didn’t look so satisfied at the start of the game when CCSC jumped out to a quick 10-0 lead via a five-yard TD pass from Schermerhorn to Bob Hayes and a 27-yard field goal by Bob Chaitleen. The touchdown came after the Blue Devils had charged 98 yards in 13 plays. After Chaitleen had boosted the extra point, MSC aficianados were overcome with “IT LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER ONE—OF-THEM-DAYS” blues.

Following Chaltler’s three-pointer with 2:08 remaining in the first quarter, it seemed as though everyone had given up hope at any chance for the Indians to win. Everyone, that is, except the Indians.

IT SHOULD BE noted here that Clary’s boys were five point underdogs going into the game. It should also be remembered that the Big Red Machine wasn’t given much of a chance against C.W. Post either. They won that battle 21-14.

No doubt being labelled underdog induced the Indians’ need to win all the more, as a method of proving the odds-makers wrong.
