WPC To Strike Monday

By John Picinich

In order to attain five demands that the All College Senate Committee of Tenure and Retraction (ASC-COTAR) of William Paterson College has drawn up and presented to the college's Board of Trustees, ACS-COTAR is planning a strike of students and teachers on Mon., March 19.

A referendum of the William Paterson College's Board of Trustees, acting under the watchful eye of ref. The MSC forward may have gotten by Bolduc, but the Indians couldn't shoot anything else. The resolution had not been put into effect previously.

Spokesmen for the BSCU said that they had not been informed of the new financial policy.

The SGA cabinet felt that it would not be submitted without the signatures of the three persons involved. A roll call vote was taken, but quorum was not reached. The SGA cabinet about them, she said that the members are being fired; written reasons for all firings; the abolition of the reorganization plan and a finding of impartial arbitration.

The referendum further states that teachers would not receive reasons for their dismissal.

Fernicola stated that classes at the college will be boycotted and picket lines set up on Monday.

According to a press release of the referendum, the votes of no confidence for the board of trustees and the academic vice-president Milton Grodsky and a vote of confidence for acting college president Frank Zanfino.

ASC-COTAR is an ad hoc committee composed of teachers and students, according to Sue Fernicola, editor of William Paterson's The Beacon.

The five demands of ACS-COTAR, Fernicola said, are a reduction in the number of William Paterson teachers not being retained; a stop in recruiting replacements in all departments where faculty members are being fired; written reasons for all firings; the abolition of the reorganization plan and a finding of impartial arbitration.

Center Seeks Image Cure

A new image for the campus health center? So says James Harris, assistant dean of students. "We're trying to do is create a warmer atmosphere at the center. We don't want to want students to 'come here' but when they do, we want to sure they receive the best treatment in all respects," he said.

Harris cited some of the problems that have shadowed the center, located at the north entrance of dormitory. "For one thing, many students have a misconception of the center's role," Harris said emphatically. Its main function is to provide emergency service and referral to all members of the community.

"If a student needs service that cannot be done at the infirmary, he or she is immediately taken to Mountainside Hospital (located in Montclair, about 15 minutes from campus). In addition, he said, "the doctor is on call 24 hours a day for whatever emergency might arise." Medical services are provided by Dr. Lillian Rosenberg, who lives in Montclair and is within 10 minutes of campus at any time. Dr. Rosenberg also has office hours from 9:11 a.m. daily except Fridays, when she is at the center from 9:10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m."

Harris pointed out that the center also provides tests and treatment for venereal disease (syphilis only - there are no facilities for treatment of gonorrhea) and tests and treatment referral for pregnancy. "Most students don't realize that we provide these kinds of services free of charge," he stated. "We want people to know what we can do for them and that we're anxious to help students in whatever way possible. If there are complaints we want students to come to us instead of fuming and spreading bad reports among themselves."

"We want constructive criticism," Harris said that many complaints arise because students expect a certain mode of treatment when they come to the center and often this treatment is unnecessary or not beneficial. Also, methods of dealing with various illnesses may vary with opinion from doctor to doctor. "We cited as an example students who have a cold and expect a penicillin shot or other medication, when in actuality these shots do nothing for a cold. Then when the nurse or doctor advises the student to rest and take aspirin, the patient thinks the center is treating him erroneously.

"WE FEEL that many (or most) of the students have bad opinion of the health center when they haven't even been there," Harris added. "We hope that in the coming year more people will learn to have confidence in the center, and I think we've having some success with it already," Harris concluded.

On Dec. 16, 1972, MSC welcomed the first NJ chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi, a nationally known fraternity that boasts such alumni members as Carl Stokes, former Cleveland mayor; Ralph Abernathy, successor to Martin Luther King, basketball star Wilt Chamberlain and tennis champion Arthur Ashe.

According to Roscoe Trotman, one of the first members of the MSC chapter, there are 500 undergraduate chapters of Kappa with a total of 80,000 alumni and undergraduate members. The predominently black fraternity tries to provide both social and academic functions, Trotman stated.

THE MSC chapter was founded through the efforts of Robert Belay, Robert Hintin and Daniel Roberts, three men who made Kappa history when they pledged at MSC, Trotman explained, because the secretary; Keeper of the Exchequer, president; Keeper of Records, treasurer; Strategist, one who keeps order at fraternity meetings and aide-de-camp.

However, their place in posterity has not yet assured since they have not yet been granted an official charter. In order to earn recognition from the fraternity,须有15 members before they will become Kappa brothers, Trotman added. However, these men can become Kappa brothers, Trotman explained, because they must maintain a 2.0 average and show worthy character and a sense of brotherhood. Pledging ceremonies are held twice in an academic year. The last one was held in November, 1972 and two more prospective pledges already.

In an effort to accommodate a broader cross-section of students, the Housing Policy Advisory Committee will utilize a lottery system in selecting next year's dorm residents, according to John Shearman, coordinator of Off-Campus Men's Housing. "By lottery, 20% of the available dorm spots will be awarded to those within the 20-mile radius and 80% of the space will be awarded to those beyond the 20-mile radius," Shearman said.

"In the past, we operated strictly on a distance basis," he noted. "We gave dorm preference to students living outside the 20-mile radius and excluded those who lived within that distance."

Shearman remarked that the lottery system will provide all students with an equal opportunity to live in the dorms without the initial rejection based on distance. The lottery is scheduled to begin shortly after March 23.

However, Shearman noted that incoming freshmen and transfer students will not be included in the lottery for upperclassmen applicants. "We are allotting 40-50% of available dorm spots to freshmen and transfers whom we've already accepted. Those who live beyond a 30-mile radius are automatically accepted and any remaining spots will be awarded by a separate lottery on May 1."

Applications for the dorms are available today, March 15, at the residence halls and in the Life Hall housing office. The deadline is Fri., March 23.

A meeting for all interested students will be held tonight at 7 pm in the Math-Science lecture hall to discuss dorm selection, room and board costs and other questions relating to residence hall living.

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees approved a proposal to construct a television studio on campus. The action was passed, pending the board's agreement, at last Thursday night's meeting.

Dr. John Gartley of the speech and theater department briefed the Board on the plan. According to Gartley, the primary need is for space to accommodate the increasing enrollment of students interested in media courses. The present studio, located in the basement of College Hall, is limited in both space and teaching facilities.

"In the fall of 1972 two courses were taught in television art totaling 56 students. This semester 18 credits are being offered with each class full at 40 students. Gartley attributes the rapid growth of the program to enthusiastic student demand and interest.

With the added studio facilities, the speech and theater department intends to extend the television courses to include the artistic principles of TV production, writing, directing, producing - and the academic theory of the media. Gartley foresees campus involvement on a statewide level with the Public Broadcasting Association and a cable television service to the neighboring communities of Clifton, Montclair and West Orange. "MCS-TV studio will be linked up to the antenna erected on the north west end of the campus."

Residents of Chapin Hall dorm next year will be participating in an innovative course designed to "integrate living and learning more closely," according to Joan Bukam, Chapin Hall director.

Described as an "experiment" in co-educational community living, the course will consist of weekly seminars and the dorm residents will be graded on a pass/fail basis. This "Community Living" course, worth three credits per semester, will be conducted on a yearly basis by Dr. Marcelle McGuire of the sociology department and Dr. Alan Rappaport of the home economics department.

Bukam remarked, "However, the plan,identifying director noted, "the emphasis of this program is not on the seminar and course aspect but on the experience of living in Chapin Hall. We hope to build an effective human community here."

Bukam commented that the primary structure of the course had been set up but that the participants in the course would have the responsibility of deciding any further course structure. "Our basic goal is to develop an understanding of what the community means to each person and to bring this out in the seminars," she emphasized.

"The course will be an experiment," Bukam said. "It is successful and it may extend to other dorms or perhaps extend the life of Chapin Hall another year," she said. Last year, plans to transform the classroom into an administrative or classroom building failed when protests from its female residents kept Chapin Hall a dorm. According to Bukam, enrollment for the course will be limited to the capacity of Chapin Hall which presently houses 95. Applicants will be required to cite any previous community living experience, why they are interested in living in the dorm and what expectations they have.

"The applications are important," Bukam commented. "We want a diverse group and individuals who are willing to go through the experience of building a community."

A committee of students, the housing committees and the Campus Community Program members will work on the selection. Bukam said, "The applications are available today, March 15 in the Life Hall housing office and in the Campus Community Program office on the fourth floor of the Student Center. The deadline is Fri., March 23."

Watebeds have been acclaimed by doctors and therapeutic specialists to be ideal for persons suffering from back, stomach, and neck problems. Veterans Older But Also Poorer

Editor's Note: Veterans find adjustment to college difficult because of an age disparity and more varied backgrounds than their college counterparts. However, they are also saddled with financial burdens and an impatience with college administrators.

By Tom Benn

The obvious comeback to this argument is that veterans are the beneficiaries of a tax-free education allowance from the Veterans Administration. The allowance for an unarmed vet is $220 per month during the school year. The payments, for full-time study, are less for part-timers and more for married vets. The maximum is 36 payments and the benefits must be used up within eight years from the date of separation from active duty. It sounds very nice, but vets are not happy with it. "Sure, it's a real godsend," said Rock, "but when you're self-sufficient, how far does it go? It will pay the rent and perhaps keep gas in the car, but that's about it."

"Have you ever tried to live on $220 a month?" asked Dwight Terrilugh, an Air Force veteran and a member of Alpha Sigma Mu, MSC's vet unit. "At the end of World War II, the government paid full tuition and books, plus a subsistence allowance, so a guy then could go to Yale or Harvard if he wanted to. Today, we're limited to state colleges."

"What's the poverty level in this country?" Rock asked, "about $3500? We're collecting $2200 and we're trying to go to college on that. We can't even collect welfare."

"Why should you be treated any differently?" and I said, 'You just said it. They're veterans.'"

A case in point is a State Assembly Bill A989, a bill that would reimburse state colleges up to $560 for approved courses. The bill, sponsored by Assemblyman William Hamilson (D-Middlesex), had been floundering in the Education Committee since April. A move to release the bill from committee fell one vote short Feb. 15 and on another vote last week, it was finally released to the Assembly floor. One possible reason for its successful release this time may have been the anger of nearly 100 vets who greeted the Education Committee after the vote in February, denounced their stalling and promised to work against them in coming elections.

Many of the vets were quick to blame Assemblyman John Ewing, the Republican chairman of the Education Committee, for the delay. Robert Chiemelewski, an East Rutherford vet who ran for town council last year, noted that the Somerset assemblyman had promised a group of vets in January, 1972 that "there would be some financial aid for veterans this year."

"Why should veterans be treated any differently?" I said, "You just said it. They're veterans."

"One administrator actually said that to me," he added. "He said, 'I resent when people say, 'Sure, we'll do anything for you,' until you come up to see them and then they say, 'Why should you be treated any differently than other students?'""

Rock commented, "The biggest problem we have is with administrative hassel."

Spring Schedule Changes Total 16,000

By Pat Sarver
Staff Writer

The registration office will be sending out student schedules for verification some time during the next two weeks, according to Registrar Marshall Butler.

Butler attributed the move to the fact that out of the approximately 7000 day and 7000 evening student, only 6600 day and 2600 evening students registered by mail. "The remainder had to register in person for various reasons," he explained.

ADDED TO this, out of the 6600 day students who pre-registered, only about 3500 received the full schedules that they requested. After including the student drop/adds, Butler estimated that there were approximately 16,000 course changes out of 40,000 total course entries for day students.

Butler stated that if the schedules do not match the courses and sections that the students are now attending, "students will have to show transaction (course change) slips to verify any discrepancies."

If the students cannot verify the changes, he continued, "we will probably accommodate them in those changes but require that they file drop/add slips plus the normal fees."

He added that in the fall, students in the wrong course or wrong section will not receive a grade.

"THE PROBLEMS in this office had increased during the first part of the school year but now they are diminishing," Butler said. Although the course scheduling is the biggest problem facing the office, they are making an effort to iron out problems in other areas also.

At the present time, evening and graduate division records are kept on a separate computer system. "This system is in the process of being merged with the day records," Butler explained. "Problems due to computer format changes are delaying the changeover and, in one instance, the addresses of approximately 200 evening students have been lost from the computer records," he continued.

There are advantages to the new computer system, however. "In the past," Butler says, "if the computer didn't schedule all the courses that a student requested, then all his courses were determined on a random basis."

"NOW THE computer is programmed to give four of the student course requests before scheduling the remainder at random," Butler said. "The result is that students get more of the courses that they want."

And You Thought That You Were Graduating...

Graduating seniors are asked to check the list posted outside the Office of the Registrar to make sure that their name is on the list for June. The deadline for filing for graduation and teacher certification is March 15th.
High Price
For Errors

On Tuesday, the SGA legislature voted to slap the Music
Arts and Organizations Commission (MAOC) and the Black Student Cooperative Union (BSCU) with a total of almost $1000 in fines for not following the proper procedure in submitting their contracts for SGA approval.

Granted, any contract signed by a Class One organization is binding upon the SGA and they should have the right to approve any contract which could become a legal threat to them.

However, the $600 taken from MAOC and the $350 taken from BSCU is an extremely high price to pay for a first offense. An effort should have been made to impress upon these organizations the importance of going through the proper financial channels and such punishment would be justifiable upon a second offense.

The SGA has itself to blame in part for procedural violations. In many cases there has been a substantial delay in getting SGA approval for checks and contracts. In operating a business, it is not possible to operate under such delays.

Although the SGA must guard the funds from overzealous administrators who would like to take away the students' right to administer their own funds, in doing so they are penalizing the people who produce 90% of the work that comes out of the SGA.

It is very easy for a group of people who meet once a week, or maybe twice, to vote to take away such a large amount of money from the Class One organizations. They do not feel the impact of a budget slash on an already limited budget. They do not realize what it is to put hours and hours of work each day into an organization only to have their budget cut when you trip on some red tape.

The irony is that the much-needed money will be taken from the organizations to sit in unappropriated surplus for the legislators to bicker over.

Dear President Richardson,

We feel the need to publicly express our appreciation to you for helping us in establishing a location for the Drop-In Center.

During our seven or so meetings we developed confidence in your judgment and ability to make the best decision.

We are not in the Recreation Lodge, we will announce many times over the confidence you have displayed in us.

Liquor Equals Violence?

To the Editor:

As a resident of Little Falls I oppose the granting of a liquor license to the Montclair State College Student Union Building. There was murder on the Montclair State College campus a few months ago. Those involved had been to a dance on campus.

If a murder could occur without the presence of alcoholic beverages on campus, what will take place if a liquor license is granted and eighteen year-old students and the usual contingency of non-student outsiders make the Student Union Building a hang out?

It appears presumptuous on the part of officials in charge of the business affairs at Montclair State College to include an area for alcoholic beverages in Student Union Building without first having the courtesy to inquire if the Township of Little Falls bars or is willing to create the license necessary to legalize an alcoholic beverage area on the college campus. The Little Falls police are overworked enough without creating another potential sore spot in the community.

Serious consideration should also be given to the effect of increased sewage created by new college facilities. The new college apartment complex planned for COVER Road should certainly be carefully evaluated. This tax free state complex, where taxable structures could otherwise exist, degreces Little Falls Township of revenues and deters the leveling of taxes paid by Little Falls citizens. If the tax free state college structures overburden the already burdened Little Falls sewage plant the effect could be the need of an enlarged or new sewage plant. The result being higher taxes paid by the citizens of Little Falls Township.

All this -- the loss of tax ratables that could have helped level taxes off, the construction of low cost college apartments similar to those in the urban areas disrupting the rural atmosphere, the increase in sewage that could inundate and disarm (sic) our existing plant, the need for a new sewage plant caused by these new tax free state structures and the increase in township taxes to pay for the new sewage plant these tax free structures may cause.

In conclusion it appears that if the liquor license should be granted to the Student Union Building on Montclair State College campus and increased vandalism, violence and even murder are the result. The Township Committee should be held accountable. This same township committee is responsible if new tax free state college structures are allowed to go up that cause a loss in ratables, an increased load on our sewage plant and the need for a new sewage plant resulting in money out of the pockets of tax payers of the Township of Little Falls.

Gymnastic Grips

To the Editor:

The coach of Montclair's women's gymnastics team is right. That is if you're white you can't play. I am the only non-white participant on the gymnastic team, I have been through this experience. And never again will I ever want to.

The way the system works is really amazing. The coach is the head, what she says and what's done is done because the coach is right! I have to go and comply -- she knows her stuff. Well, she's the coach isn't she? The coach is a really quiet person. She will go on for a whole month saying one word to you. As for training she will let you train yourself. It's sort of like a little game. "You miss three weeks of practice during innovative and I'll reject you when you return." You can tell her why you don't want to be there three weeks, but she will still play her game of rejection -- because she's the coach. Kind of makes you stand up and speak out.

Oh, for meets, she will ask you to come to one or "our" meets, but then she will say, "I have to suit up too!" But who is she trying to fool? If you don't have a uniform, how can you suit up? Oh yeah -- the coach is really something. As for this little game of rejection, I don't want to play anymore. But if you don't want to play, she will try to make you play anyway by twisting the game around. Coach, I got your message and you got mine.

CCP Protest

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to Gary Hoitsma's article in the March 8 MONTCLARION entitled "May 19: CCP is redundant in a free state." I would like to correct some misconceptions in Mr. Hoitsma's article.

The way the system works is totally lacking in facts supporting his views.

What to Mr. Hoitsma is quality education? CCP is designed to offer courses that are of current interest that the student can relate to himself and the world that exists around him now. If "we simply don't need what currently passes for "relevance," and never did," the growing student interest in CCP doesn't seem to be aware of it. If Mr. Hoitsma is correct in his assumption about the Campus Community Program, someone had better spread the word as it is getting larger. CCP will offer a greater number of courses come fall semester and student enrollment increases with each term.

The problem lies in Mr. Hoitsma's inability to realize that what is wrong with American education is not the existence of programs like CCP but the lack of them. The manner in which most standardized courses are currently run does not rely upon active student participation and this is the very core of CCP.

A difficult and uncertain year is ahead for all college presidents and students dependent on federal financing. Threatened multiple waves of funding bills, Congressional efforts to oversize these votes, requests by the President to Congress for previous appropriations, Presidential impoundment of funds and pending court suits challenging the President's impoundment authority - all these particular actions make possible a number of scenarios in the coming year. In short, it is nearly impossible to project the timing and ultimate level of appropriations in any particular program area such as higher education. "The President has repeatedly emphasized since the election his determination to hold spending down, to avoid a tax increase and reduce the scale of government operations. Major cutbacks in domestic spending are proposed, but the possibility, increasing reliance is placed on private insurance and financing mechanisms." These moves on the part of the Nixon Administration are obviously racist in nature. There is little concern for the blacks or the poor in this country. To sweep aside programs that were won after long struggle on the part of these people and to direct them to 'private financing mechanisms' is clearly an act that negates more than a decade of social progress. The budget calls for the termination of the phased-out, one-year nature of numerous longstanding programs where the Administration has concluded that there is little or no evidence of a need for continued Federal activity. Major reiteration is proposed for other programs. Wherever possible, increasing reliance is placed on private insurance and financing mechanisms."

The Jersey New school system would be the winner if MSC President RICHARDSON were given the soon-to-be-vacated Commissioner of Education post. Vice President, the job will have to be filled before TOW'S August 30th inauguration date. With the delays in the presidential search committee one wonders what will become of MSC. Another consideration will be relations between Richard Richardson and Chancellor of Higher Education RALPH A. DUCKWORTH. This might be a positive step, the job will be filled by the recent Boc Lodge base...With the LACROSSE TEAM practicing down in the query we're going to start a broken window rally. And it's a real shame the team will be unable to see themselves out walking all the way down to the pit. Maybe they should take the team shuttle. However, now that the team has acquired permission to use the facilities of Montclair's Anderson Park for their fourth home games and the Geofield School of Iowa County for their practices beginning the last week in March, we might find ourselves missing the sight of players sitting in sweats and helmets making their daily cross to the nearer reaches of the campus round about 3:30 in the afternoon... The WORK-SCHOLARSHIP KIDS should be breathing easier these days now that the EOF funds aren't going to be withheld. There have been stories circulating that Montclair State was going to follow the lead of other similarly hit colleges and functionalism is becoming fragmented and parcelled geography of the United States. The myth of the war economy bred war - or if not war economics on a current as the concept of functionalism is becoming dysfunctional in itself. There are numerous modern applications of functionalism. One of the "functions" of racism, of poverty, of sexism - even of war. New rationalizations and justifications are thrown up to buttress the myth - sometimes even by those who must watch the kids and the most talented of our social order. The MSC Jazz Orchestra will perform its only on-campus concert of the year on Thursday, March 20 at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium. The concert will include music reflecting all styles, from early jazz to modern jazz-rock.

The band was formed in 1969 by Jake Kulik, then a sophomore. Originally called the Softone Stage Band, as part of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the musicians' professional fraternity, it has recently become independent as a performing ensemble.

This performance climaxes a successful season of on-campus performances, which included the David Frye Show, a performance at Coffeehouse, several high school clinics and concerts and a prize-winning performance at the Gloucester State College Jazz Festival last month.

SOLOISTS WITH this big band jazz group will include trombonist Shad Royful on "The Swinger," also feature player Hugo Wood on "Self Help is Needed" and "Black Brown and Beautiful," pianist Dan Sovak on "S tep Right Up" and trumpet-fluegelhornist Warren Vache on "A Child is Born."

"The basic lack of understanding and conception of the art of jazz as it is known today, while not totally frowned upon by the campus community, is relegated to a rather obscure position," Kulik said. "Due to this, several undergraduates have formed the MSC Jazz Orchestra, in an effort to provide Montclair with jazz. Our concert program is varied and attempts to display all the various jazz forms of contemporary, traditional and jazz-rock."

Donation will be $1 per person for the performance.

Players Present Chamber Program

The Lewittlly Chamber Players will present a concert on Sun., March 25, at 4 pm in McClellan Recital Hall at Montclair State College. Admission is free. The members of the group are Nancy Clarke and Ann Liebowitz, violins; Loni Berkowitz, viola; Mary Gill, cello and Dorothy Priesing, piano. Presiding is a member of the Montclair State College faculty teaching piano.

The program will be open with "Three Madrigals" written by Bukulski Marlow for four and viola. Next Presing and Clarke will play George Walker's "Simulation in One Movement." They presented the New Jersey premiere of this 1958 composition last October at Drew University. Following intermission the entire ensemble will play Brahms' "Quintet in F minor for Piano and Strings, Opus 34."

CLARKE RECEIVED a scholarship to the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. She has appeared as soloist in New York, New Jersey, Philadelphia and throughout her native South. Recently, her concerts have included a solo-performance at St. Paul's Chapel in New York and a sonata recital at the Library Museum of Lincoln Center.

Lieberson studied with Boris Schwarz at Queens College and with Hugo Kortchak at Yale. A member of the American Symphony, she has played many chamber concerts in this area.

Berkowitz received her MA at the Manhattan School of Music, studying with Raphael Bronstein. She has been a member of the American Symphony, has performed in the Symphony of the New World and the Jackson Hole Fine Arts Festival. She has given many outstanding chamber recitals in the metropolitan area. PREISING IS a graduate of the Juilliard School and received the BS and MA from Columbia University. She has taught extensively at both institutions.

Gilli is a graduate of the Eastern School of Music and received a fellowship for graduate study at Juilliard.

Vienna Choir Boys

MSC Appearance During US Tour

The Vienna Choir Boys will be presented on Wed., March 21 at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium by MSC’s Music and Arts Organization Commission.

The choir, founded in 1498 by Imperial Decree of the Holy Roman Emperor Maximillian I, was kept as a performing unit exclusively for the Hapsburg Court until the fall of the Austrian Empire in 1918. Following that time, the historic Choir School had to depend on itself for support and public concerts were initiated in 1926. S. Hurok, the noted impresario who has sponsored each of the earlier twenty-seven American tours, first brought the Choir Boys to America in 1932.

A rotating system always leaves one complete choir unit in Vienna to sing at religious services at the Hofmusikkapelle and at St. Stephen's Cathedral, as well as to appear in performances requiring children at the Vienna State Opera. Other units travel around the world and each boy is given the opportunity to visit as many countries as possible.

SINCE BOYS' voices change, each choir that has appeared in America has been completely different. Two of the most famous choir members of the past were composers Haydn and Schubert.

A special subscription rate is being offered for the Choir Boys appearance as well as two other upcoming attractions—E. Power Biggs on Wed., April 4 and pantomimist Marcel Marceau on Tues., April 10.

The rate for MSC students for all three events is $5 for loge seats and $8 for orchestra.

Individually, tickets are $4 for all seats for the Biggs concert and $1.50 for loge and $2.50 for orchestra for the Boys’ Choir and Marceau.

Faculty and administration, as well as others, are $8 for loge seats and $10 for orchestra.

Individually tickets will be $4 for the Biggs concert, $3.50 for the loge and $4 for orchestra for the Boys’ Choir and Marceau.

Reservations may be made by calling 893-5231 or in the MAOC office in the lobby of the Memorial Auditorium any weekday from 10:11 am and noon to 3 pm.

Lacrosse Team Homeless No More

By John Tobinson
Sports Writer

After the daily hike to that wasteland called the quarry, disgruntled students must now face a new adversary. Big rusty Mash and sticks are racing around whipping a tiny ball through the air. Energetic parking lot attendants? Sorry, that’s Montclair State College’s new varsity lacrosse team’s biggest problem, lack of field facilities.

The team has had to find a number of school and local fields for practices and home games, with no success.

At press time, however, the MON TCLARION was informed by Bill Dioguardi, Montclair State’s athletic director, that the team would be able to use Anderson Field, off Valley Road near the Bellevue Theater for home games. This is similar to last year’s arrangement. Theater for home games. This is Valley Road near the Bellevue

Beginning the last week in March, the lacrosse team will begin holding practices at the Glenfield School field in Essex County the last week of March. When the field is ready of course you in the week.

“Coaches feel frustrated,” remarked captain Billy Palladino Monday morning, in an interview in the MON TCLARION office. “Jackson has the talent and the equipment, but no place to play,” continued the stocky, mustached athlete. “They won’t even close off the quarry for practice.”

“IF WE’VE got no home field,” added co-captain Dave Hobbs, hobbling by a knee injury, “no one will see us and lacrosse will disappear.”

Both captains considered Sprague Field “ideal” for the team’s four-hour games. They felt that Dioguardi has unjustly denied them its use, and that blocked their efforts to secure other fields.

“Dioguardi just doesn’t want anyone using Sprague Field,” charged an angry Dave. “Since the fall we’ve planned on using Brookside Park, but now the town won’t let us, or so Dioguardi says,” he concluded.

“We EVEN cleaned the grassy area,” added Palladino, “but now Dioguardi wants us to share it with intramurals.”

When contacted in his office that afternoon, Dioguardi vehemently refuted the charges. The administrator, in a brown checked jacket and gold-striped tie, explained, “This is a total misunderstanding.

When the lacrosse team was started, it was acknowledged that no facilities were available and that none would be. The lacrosse team is giving out a lot of ficticious statements,” he said, “and their leader, the athletic director, demands no one to make. Go see Uael McGinny (head of maintenance) or (Vincent) Calabrese (vice president in charge of business and financial)."

BEING PRESSURED on why the team couldn’t use Sprague Field, he replied, "This time of year is crucial for grass. The team will dig it up. Look at what happened to the student mall.

What about the Bohn Hall Field?"

"Of course it’s got to be shared," he positive approach, a ‘working together,’ was needed to solve the problem. He agreed that a petition would be effective, but only if aimed at the right people, namely Calabrese. He detailed present administration efforts to install artificial turf on Sprague Field (the only real solution) and documented his efforts towards securing Brookside and Anderson Parks, among others, for the team.

Calabrese was reached in his office Tuesday afternoon. He denied being in charge of facilities.

"The grass can take only a limited number of ancestors," the short, thick-haired official explained, "so"

At this time we would like to offer our sincere apology to the students present at the Cinema Presentation on the evening of March 13. We commend and thank you for your patience.

We can assure you that the malfunctions have been corrected and will not occur again.

The women's fencing team squeaked to their seventh win last Thursday, downsing Brooklyn College. The match was tied in bouts as each squad won eight sprints, but the Squaws earned the victory by scoring five more touches than Brooklyn.

The girls will host Fairfield Dickinson (Trameck) next Thursday at 6:30 p.m in Panzer Gym.

MARY CAPRIO led MSC with three victories against 12 points. Julie Lovernge and Mary Lou Caffara captured two bouts apiece while Nancy Murray added a win to the squaw's total.

Murray had a tough afternoon, losing two to bebe bouts (by one touch). Brooklyn's Debbie Aveniste was the only undefeated fencer for either team, winning four bouts.

In spite of Michelle Macnamara's three victories and Jody Tomolino's two wins, the JV squad fell to Brooklyn's JV, 5-7.

INDIANS STAB THIRD
The men's fencing team took third place in the North Atlantic Intercollegiate Fencing Championships at Rochester, NY last Saturday. Seton Hall University won the competition as well as the championship placed second. The team improved their standing from last year's tournament at Pace College when they ranked fifth in the region.

Cagers Planted In Garden

NEW YORK- With all the emphasis on defense nowadays, you'd think that's all there was to the game of basketball. However, as coach Ollie Gelston would attest to after watching his Indians fall to the defense-minded Fairleigh Dickinson Knights, 60-49, Thursday night at Madison Square Garden, a little offense never hurt.

It was MSC's last game of the season and fourth straight setback. In the silence of the losers' locker room, Gelston explained: "You cannot shoot as poorly as we did and still expect to beat a team with the size and overall defensive ability of FDU." The tribe shot a miserable 37% from the floor to the Knights' 45%. Limited to just four free throw attempts, three of which were missed by Rich Conrad. But then, that's another story.

"Conrad is probably the best guard we've faced this year," Gelston remarked. His 24 points, nine above his season average, paced all scorers.

Another thorn in the Indians' side was Howie Alexander, the game's second leading scorer with 17 points, 10 above his average. Alexander, all 6-foot-8-inches of him, took top rebounding honors with nine.

ALL TOLD, MSC remained in the game for the first four minutes of play. After that, the relatively sparse crowd, by Garden standards, began to speculate on the upcoming clash between Manhattan and Fordham (the second half of the twinbill) for as far as anyone could see, the MSC-FDU battle was over.

With 15:57 left in the first half, and the score tied, 6-6, FDU's Rich Scialabba canned a free throw, giving the Knights a one point lead they never surrendered. In the time remaining, FDU outscores the Indians, 25-12, taking a commanding, 32-18, halftime lead.

As the Manhattan and Fordham rooters piled into the arena, MSC's hopes for another upset flew out. The Indians outplayed the Knights in the second half, 31-28, but the 14 point first half deficit was too high to climb, especially with the Knights' slowed down manner of ball-control play, blocking most of the paths to the hill's summit.

Squaws Squashed In Regionals, 55-41

After defeating Morgan State of Maryland, 59-35, in the opening round of the Women's Intercollegiate Regional Basketball championships, Montclair State then lost to West Chester State, 55-41, last week-end.

The Morgan State victory, played on Thursday afternoon, proved to be surprisingly easy for the Squaws. Mary Hayek was high scorer with 17 points. The bench came in early for the regulars, as Morgan just couldn't get off a strong attack against the taller Squaws.

ON FRIDAY, the Squaws faced West Chester of Pennsylvania, in second round action. This game was much closer as both teams were more evenly matched in height.

The score at the end of the first half was 24-21, in favor of West Chester. The Squaws took the lead towards the end of the third quarter, but the period closed in a tie, 36-36. The final quarter was disastrous as the Squaws were outscored, 19-5.

The refereeing was tighter than usual, and MSC's aggressive defense was hurt by the frequent foul calls. MSC was charged with 25 fouls to West Chester's 11.

HAYEK AND LaVorgna, who usually score in double figures, were held to nine points each. Debbie Schoen was high scorer for the Squaws with 10 points. MSC had the scoring opportunities, but the shots just weren't falling. Their shooting percentage was a dismal 28%.

"This was to be our year," coach Cathy Paskert said. "Just one off day, and you're finished.''

The Squaws closed the season with a 15-2 record.
