A Carnival Atmosphere:

By John Picinich
Staff Writer
The selling of both beer and wine at Carnival was to be a sort of testing ground for the opening of the Rathskeller in which Little Falls officials would determine the fate of the Rathskeller on the basis of the outcomes of the weekend event. Michael Koser, SGA vice-president of internal affairs, attended an open meeting held on Monday night in the Municipal Building of Little Falls to observe the kind of effect Carnival would have on a liquor license for the Rathskeller. We are still waiting to decide, he said. Koser stated that the proposed liquor license was neither brought up nor discussed during the meeting.

The difficulty surrounding the liquor license for the Rathskeller is centered on a Little Falls ordinance that allows for only two liquor licenses in the Little Falls area. The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have the two licenses. Carnival's effect on the Little Falls decision on the liquor license depends on whether or not the Little Falls officials were sincere in stating that they would judge the liquor license with Carnival as the testing ground to see the effect the selling of liquor would have on the college community.

Koser stated that many Little Falls residents oppose the liquor license because of the murder that occurred on this campus in late October. Many apparently feel that with the selling of liquor on the campus the potentiality of murder would increase.

Koser also stated that a proposal of the Clove Rd. project for the building of apartments was discussed during the course of the meeting. Nothing was reaffirmed, he said, but the project was violently opposed, he continued.

Koser stated that Little Falls has brought in an environmental protection agency to oppose the project. We went on to say that the building contractor had asked for a copy of the laws involved with the building of the apartments. To Koser's knowledge the town has refused to send the contractor a copy of the laws. He (the contractor) must go to Little Falls to pick up those copies.

Weather Dampens Carnival Spirit
For those who attended Carnival, the event was a success "in spite of the weather," according to Mike Ruiz, Carnival cochairman. He stated that the people had a "good time" which is the purpose of Carnival.

"It's a shame that after so much work went into Carnival, freak weather put a damper on it," he said.

CARMELA MARINO, co-chairman of Carnival, agreed that Carnival was a success "considering the weather." Both Marino and Ruiz stated that if the weather was better, the turnout for the event would have been larger.

According to Ruiz, 20 MSC organizations had booths at Carnival. We are proud of the organizations that did stick out the weather. There's talk of apathy, but they worked hard and put their all into Carnival and despite of the cold weather manned the booths.

Speaking on the selling of beer and wine at Carnival, both Marino and Ruiz stated that the situation was handled "well." "There were not any problems," Ruiz said. He went on to say that selling liquor at Carnival was a harder situation to control than the Rathskeller.

According to Marino, there were Montclair policemen at the booths selling liquor checking on the ages of those who bought the beer or wine.

Liquor License Fate Remains Undecided

MSC's newest student publication made its debut this week. Its underground,comically covered carries the warning that it "has absolutely no relation to anything within these hallowed pages," setting the tone for the first issue of Nu Galumph.

Don't change your summer plans

If you're going to spend a lot of this coming summer around the water—sailing and swimming—you'll want the protection of Tampax tampons.

Girls have frequently wondered about swimming without tampons. An old-fashioned napkin is not only uncomfortable, but it is embarrassing when you find yourself wet in the middle of a sidewalk. Old-fashioned napkins are nothing but a nuisance during those difficult days. Tampax tampons make swimming possible, but with Tampax tampons the message has always been: "Go ahead and swim." You're "down east" with your swimsuit because internal protection is invisible protection.

So don’t change your summer plans just because your period might interfere. Tampax tampons let you sail, swim, water-ski, sunbathe—just like everyone else! You never have to worry about anything because your period might interfere. Tampax tampons will protect you internally. And you can participate in a world of impossibilities and idiocies... The following seven pages contain an interview with a contestant in a nude quiz show, the monster mosquito tale, "whatever happened to Claude Kirchener," advice on curing warts and an art contest. "(Draw the jackass and win a prize. Or don't draw the jackass. We don't really care.)"

Vanyo did most of the magazine's art work and all of the writing. Bruce Conforth designed the comic cover. Vanyo described the pamphlet as an "independent" production, entirely student produced and financed by the Galumph staff. Conforth described it as a "prenatal lapse in judgment."

Richardson To Return To Teaching

By Carla Capizzi
Staff Writer

Richardson announced his future plans at the testimonial dinner given Monday night in his honor at the Robin Hood Inn. Richardson, whose resignation will be effective August 31, stated that in September he will teach philosophy at Newark State College.

In two years, Richardson will return to MSC as a professor of philosophy. "I feel my intentions to be away from Montclair for two years," he said. The outgoing president explained that he believes this to be the best course of action for both himself and his successor.

RICHARDSON expressed a desire to return to full-time teaching as "unchangeably." Approximately 400 people attended the testimonial. The group included administrators, both from MSC and from other state colleges, faculty and a small number of students. Richardson was presented with a plaque reading "SGA Presents Dubious Honor." In an emergency session on Monday afternoon, the SGA legislature passed the following bill:

Be it enacted by the Student Government Association, Incorporated of Montclair State College, that President Thomas H. Richardson demonstrates the qualities necessary for admission to the student body of Montclair State College; these qualities being a rebellious nature as evidenced by his attitude toward Trenton and the Board of Higher Education, his openness in dealing with students as in the round-the-clock office hours he held during the days of May, 1970, and his justice in difficult decision-making such as the Recreation Lodge dilemma.

WHEREAS: The aforementioned President Richardson will be leaving Montclair State College as of August 31, 1973.

BE IT RESOLVED: The Student Government Association, Incorporated of Montclair State College hereby declare President Thomas H. Richardson a life-member of the student body of this institution and afforded the rights and responsibilities thereof.

This bill was presented to Richardson at Monday night's testimonial dinner by SGA president Sam Crane. After presenting Richardson with the SGA plaque, Crane informed him that he could now grow his hair long and that he will be assessed for back SGA fees.

Weekend College Faces MSC Merger

By Michael Horan
Staff Writer

The New Jersey Student Union, currently functioning on a high school level, has formed an organizing committee to bring about "the nation's first statewide union of high school and college students," according to a written statement. The new organization would function as the "exclusive representative of students." The need for such a union may be great at state colleges.

This could be a means of dealing with rising tuition costs at state colleges. "If THE SCHOOL is integrated into the college structure, all its administrative procedures, such as registration, scheduling and hiring of teachers, would be assumed by individual MSC offices and departments. At present, the school handles these arrangements itself," Collazzo explained.

"The changeover might be more expensive for the college since it would have to hire bilingual personnel for all the departments and offices involved. Moreover, the board specified that many "regular pupils" might be unable to teach on a weekend or unable to teach in Spanish. This, she said, could restrict the number of bilingual courses available and could even discourage participation in the program.

SGA: No New ISP Funds

By Carla Capizzi and Patrica Memorelli
Staff Writers

The SGA has not approved any new funding for the International Programs (ISP) "because it does not benefit the entire college community," Domozyk feels that other organizations need this money "here at Montclair," he said, "In all fairness I couldn't see requesting it." Most organizations will ask for their "fair share" of until Wednesday morning. Kloza speculated that many "regular pupils" might be unable to teach on a weekend or unable to teach in Spanish. This, he said, could restrict the number of bilingual courses available and could even discourage participation in the program. Richardson Presents Dubious Honor

The Board of Trustees also CONCLUDED the evening by honoring Richardson for his military service to higher education. The Board of Trustees also CONCLUDED the evening by honoring Richardson for his military service to higher education.
Gynecological Self-Help Program Slated

A gynecological self-help program will be held in May 10 at 7:30 pm in the Bohn Hall lounge.

Lolly and Jeanne Hirsch, a mother and daughter team will be present to aid women in understanding their bodily functions. The Hirsches will show how to perform a self examination of the cervix and vagina. Slides and discussion will ensue.

SHIRLEY GRILL, Bohn Hall director, explained the program as "an attempt to put people in touch with their bodies and to help them understand what happens to them."

"We are trying to emphasize the fact that menstruation, pregnancy and the act of child bearing are normal, healthy functions," Grill continued.

Grill stated that two other important women's programs will be given by the Bohn Hall House Council. A consumer auto mechanics course will be offered on May 16, 23 and 30 from 7-9 pm in F-117. At the same time a home electricity course will be offered in F-225.

STUDENT PAY IN OFFING

As budgets for the Class One organizations come before the SGA legislature for approval, a new area of concern is developing — the question of paying students for services rendered to the organization.

An attitude evident in many SGA legislators is typified by: "I really have to get out of this kingdom is certainly not going to peaces!

Organizations requesting funds to pay students include the MONTCLAIRION and WVMS. The MONTCLAIRION has served as a guinea pig in this area because for the past year we have paid our business and advertising managers.

These students are responsible for the supervision of our advertising revenue, which added about $12,000 this year to the funds which we received from the SGA. WVMS is also requesting funds to pay an advertising manager.

In the past it has been very difficult to find volunteers to adequately fill these positions for several reasons. Very few people are willing to assume such a workload, particularly one of a financial nature. These positions must also be filled by people with a solid business background. When an organization is dealing with thousands of dollars, a responsible business supervisor is needed to maintain the financial control essential to the operation of the organization.

In order to find and keep a person who meets these requirements, the organizations must offer a salary. The requests to pay students are largely to fill these financial positions but they represent a trend, which can be found in many colleges and universities, to pay students who hold any position of responsibility in an organization.

Conflict results from a tendency to view the organizations as clubs instead of the business that they actually are. When a person or group of people is responsible for the disbursement of thousands of dollars, their job leaves the realm of an extra-curricular activity and enters that of a business.

Organizations are in business in which a job must be done within certain financial limitations. The officers are responsible for the performance of their staffs and in getting the work done. There is no reason why the students with these jobs should not be paid.

The limited funds available through the SGA is one obstacle in the way of student salaries. A solution might be for the organizations to boost their outside revenue, as the MONTCLAIRION has done through advertising. Increased funds would facilitate increased programming as well as student salaries.

Protect Hard-Won Rights

What students want is a return to a safe, plural academic environment devoid of all rational decision-making. One look at Genova’s campaign reflects this fact amply. He intends to concentrate on the SGA problems such as traffic tickets, thus implying state issues can take a back seat.

BETRAYAL

Perhaps he’s right in believing this, but somehow it is a colossal betrayal of the sacrifices and work many student leaders have accomplished over recent years. Faculty evaluation, a rep on the board of trustees, weren’t won by sponsoring leg comes or banana bamps. It was done with sweat, long hours, and hard-nosed attitudes when all else failed.

The SGA is the main body, for better or worse, which articulates student interests. If the executive leadership is strong, the chances are a status quo will exist between students, faculty, and administration. But if there is no leadership and the SGA devotes endless time to petty issues the balance is lost and the opportunity for one group of students to assume greater control is multiplied.

Balance

Hopefully, Genova is aware of this precarious balance. Maybe I am bringing too much on him but he must be cognizant of the fact that a percentage of the 650,000 organization is more than a mere social post. Maintaining good relations with the faculty is of prime importance. But this is only one part of the equation. The balance is also a high priority in order to maintain student unity.

SGA FEES.

..Of course it was cold, of course it was wet, of course it was dreary. But one thing was not — or in.

What is worrying though, is the reaction given to this year’s campaign. In previous contests one could not restrain the emotions on election day. The candidates would war in anticipation of the ultimate outcome and once a winner was named all pandemonium would break loose. MECHANICAL.

But this time around all enthusiasm was lacking. The candidates went through their motions mechanically with the only life provided by the sour grunts statement of Michael King after the results were posted.

I think this is indicative of the change that has occurred on campus. Students just don’t give a damn about anything political. The activism which so prevailed three years ago and was still strong during the tuition crisis has all but disappeared.

I THINK WE’VE GOT HIM TO THE STATE OF MIND WHERE HE’LL PAY ANYTHING WE ASK!

THR Has The Qualities

PRESIDENT THOMAS H. RICHARDSON was made a lifetime member of MSCC’s student body in a bill passed in response to his resignation by the SGA legislature Monday afternoon. As OUTGOING SGA PRESIDENT SAM CRANE explained at Richardson’s testimonial dinner Monday night, Richardson displayed “all the qualities necessary for admission to the student body of Montclair State College.” Crane also mentioned that Richardson now owns some 30 square feet of RETROACTIVE SGA FEES. Of course it was cold, damp and windy Friday night, it was CARNIVAL WEDNESDAY, wasn’t it?...Someone has got to do something about running next years SGA executive board candidates in PROPER CAMPAIGN PROCEDURE. For instance, this year’s presidential winner, ANGELO GENOVA, laughed in his Stone Hall dorm room while the votes were being counted. Where was the FRENNED MOB OF VESTERYEAR that always thronged outside the SGA office doors? Credit goes to DR. JAMES PETTIGROVE, of the English department for taking the time to write a column for the MONTCLAIRION — so few faculty members do... Someone should tell that student quoted in last week’s article on the Student Center’s price-shading that the CENTER FOOD SERVICE is owned and operated by the Center so his money isn’t going to an “OFFCAMPUS FOOD SERVICE” like he thought... TYPICAL MONTCLAIR LUNACY... There was a REFERENDUM during the recent SGA elections to lower the required student population voting percentage. Currently 30% of the entire student population must vote to lower the percentage to 15%. The referendum was invalid. For two years, they have tried to lower it to 15%. This year’s bid was defeated because only 13% voted (the way it stood it was a real popular, 51% for long, 49% against). Someone better realize the REFERENDUM PROCEDURE is insane as it stands... The GULF is owned and exploited by the “Gulf Off Campus” people are very interesting. But it seems we’ve seen that format somewhere before...

There was a PARACHUTING DEMONSTRATION on the fourth floor of the Student Center Tuesday. Everyone was convinced the chutes were going to jump out a window...

EDITOR'S NOTE: Since the MONTCLARION recognizes the need for student input on vital issues, beginning this week "Student Viewpoint" will be a regular editorial feature.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: What was your reaction to President Nixon's Watergate speech last week?

By Patricia Mercorclli

Staff Writer

"It's really good that people's ideas about Nixon are not as distorted as they were before," commented Charles Bargcrstock, MSC director of career planning and placement. For prospective teachers, however, the situation is not too bright.

Although Bargcrstock said that the number of jobs available is still limited, he noted that "the economic picture has improved, causing companies to return to college campuses."

"We are gradually making it known that MSC prepares students in five other schools besides education,"

Bargcrstock added. Another reason for the improvement, he said, is the fact that companies are just beginning to learn that the two-year old placement office exists.

OPPOSITE

While Bargcrstock has found the job market improving, Dr. Norman E. Lange, student teaching and educational placement director, has found the exact opposite to be true in the teaching field.

"We are going into a period when jobs are tightening up," Lange explained. He pointed out that the number of jobs offered have decreased by 23-30% since last year. While his office managed to place 90% of MSC's 1972 education graduates, Lange does not expect to be as successful this year.

Bargcrstock mentioned that the report about MSC in "American's Colleges," which objectively appraises the college, has been of help to job applicants. His position as president of the Mid-Atlantic Placement Association has also brought prestige to MSC's placement office.

OPEN DOORS

He commented, "Charles Bargcrstock as an individual is not as important as Charles Bargcrstock as president of the Midsouth Placement Association. It has tended to open a lot of doors."

Although there is a large number of teaching positions available, Lange said that the number of applicants for these positions has increased. He noted that one-third of the college graduates in the US are qualified to teach.

This means that "school superintendents are becoming a bit choosy when they offer jobs," said Lange. He explained that they are looking for graduates who can do more than "just come to school at 8:15 am." There is a trend toward hiring teachers who are certified in more than one field and who can handle extracurricular activities, he added.

UNSUCCESSFUL

At least one 1972 graduate, Richard De Santa, has not noticed any increase in job prospects. An English liberal arts major with a year as the MONTCLARION's managing editor to his credit, De Santa sought employment in newspaper work. He applied to all of the major area newspapers but was unable to find a job on any of them.

"The only jobs that are being offered are the ones where you cannot make any money," De Santa remarked. Sales positions are also available, but he commented that "if you do not want to sell, then you are in trouble because only sales positions are open."

De Santa sent out approximately 45 resumes and received only a few replies. After working temporarily as an elevator repairman, he has started the job-seeking process over again. He has little hope of finding work in his field, and for him an acceptable job has become "one with reasonable pay and a growth possibility."

ADVANTAGE

Ted Oldc, who graduated from MSC in January, had the advantage of looking for employment when most college seniors were still concerned with classes. However, he was also unable to find work in his field of personnel management. The only jobs which were available were in retail sales, which, he remarked, "was not my bag."

Both Oldc and De Santa made the rounds of employment agencies and reached the same conclusion."They stink," Oldc said. De Santa commented, "Agencies are the biggest sham going," and described several cases of misleading advertising which he encountered.

CONTACTS

Oldc's story does have a happy ending, however. The business major managed to land a job through his own personal contacts with a life insurance company in its sales department. He enjoys being able to choose his own hours and the people with whom he works. "I do not feel that I would have been happier in management."

Bargcrstock concluded that opportunities are best in accounting, business, retailing, merchandising, banking and insurance. While there are not many college graduates looking for sales positions, Bargcrstock noted, "That is where the greatest number of jobs are."
It's Happening At the 'Zoo'

By Susan Cunningham
Staff Reviewer

A darkened room in Partridge Hall, lit only by a few randomly placed candles, was the setting for "Zoo" the dramatic poetry reading presented by senior speech/theater major Steve Insolera on Wednesday, May 3 at 10 am.

"Zoo" was in fact much more than a poetry reading — it was a multi-media happening. Insolera said, "It is a combination of poetry and dramatic readings."

Through poetry, prose and music, "Zoo" related the story of one man's life — the joys and traumas of his youth, the happiness of his first love that is soon replaced by pain and disillusionment, the bitterness against society and the establishment and the final fading into old age. "Zoo" was not merely a history of one life but a history of the lives of all men.

Insolera presented "Zoo" before a combined group of students enrolled in "Contemporary Poetry" taught by Dorothy Rudy, assistant English professor. Insolera was assisted by junior art major Mary-Justyne Kolba, Quarterly art editor, who provided musical accompaniment on the guitar. Kolba also sang several duets with Insolera in the voice of the inner man, who appeared to express man's personal feelings and beliefs; the establishment, the bitterness against society and the establishment and the final fading into old age.

"Zoo" had four main characters, all played by Insolera: man, the main voice throughout the presentation; inner man, who appeared to express man's personal feelings and beliefs; the establishment, against which man vents his anger and frustration and the narrator, who introduced the story and gave the concluding remarks.

Insolera constructed "Zoo" from bits and pieces of well-known poems, songs and plays. The audience of almost 60 students sat in silence as Insolera presented pieces from "Journey of the Fifth Horse" by Ronald Friedman, selected poems and letters of Robert Frost including "The Road Less Travelled"; Par's "Annabel Lee", "Camino Real" by Tennessee Williams and Byrnon's "She Walks in Beauty." Along with these classic works, Insolera included lyrics from contemporary songs, such as "Never My Love" and "Everything That Touches You" by the Association, James Taylor's "Fire and Rain," selections from the Beatles' "Abbey Road," "Acatasury" by Jimma Tull and Simon and Garfunkel's "Bookends."

In all, "Zoo" was moving, sincere, thought-provoking and sensitive.

'Music's the Greatest Star

"She Loves Me," a musical originally produced on Broadway by Harold Prince, will be presented at MSC on May 17, 18 and 19.

Thomas Babitt, who made his debut at MSC last year as musical director in the production of Aristophanes "The Frogs," will direct the musical as an independent study project financed by the Malcolm Fairfield Independent Study Fund. The fund was begun three years ago in memory of Fairfield, a speech and theater student.

"She Loves" revolves around a man and a woman who work in the same store and despise each other. Unknown to the both of them, they belong to the same singles correspondence club. After becoming pen pals, they fall in love via the mail. "It's not heavy," Babitt commented, adding that, if anything, the plot might be considered a comment on the duality of love and hate in a relationship.

"I chose the show because it is representative of a kind of musical theater at its best," Babitt explained. He described the show as being of the Rogers and Hammerstein genre where the music futhers the mood of the plot.

"She Loves Me" opened on Broadway in 1963. The music was written by Jerry Bock, lyrics by Sheldon Hanick and doing by Joe Masteroff. The play was relatively unsuccessful and Babitt called it "a good piece of musical theater that has gone unappreciated."

Babitt also chose "She Loves Me" as his project for several practical reasons. He explained that it was necessary to choose a play that "fit into the limitations of MSC." Because the play is to be performed in the studio theater, one advantage is that it is "not too big" to be performed on a small stage. Babitt called the play "simple, intimate and unpretentious."

The play was also chosen because it is not technically difficult to perform. However, there are 60 people involved in the production — 20 in the cast, 20 in the orchestra and 20 involved in sets and make-up.

The seven students involved in character roles are: Virginia Craig, James Van Treuren, Christine Finlay, Stuart Zapata, Michael Z. Murphy, Martin Van Treuren and Alan Tulin. laminia Piozka is the show's choreographer. The set designer is Curt Weil and Nancy Dobrynio is in charge of costumes.

The star of the show is the music," Babitt emphasized. The play consists of 22 songs, seven or eight more than in the average musical. The junior speech and theater/music major will be conducting the orchestra. "This will be the first time that I've conducted," Babitt said. His job will be complicated somewhat by the fact that the orchestra will be situated behind the set. There is no orchestra pit in studio theater.

Curtain time is 8 pm. Admission to the show is $1. for non-reserved seats and $1.50 for reserved seats.

Spring In Chorus

Two major choral works will highlight the annual MSC College Choir on Tues., May 15, at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium. The 135-voice student ensemble is under the direction of Leon Hyman, a Montclair State music faculty member.

The first of the featured numbers will be Brahms' "Schicksalslied" ("Song of Destiny") with concert pianist Michael May as guest artist. May's own arrangement for two pianos will be performed with Gail Archer, a Montclair State piano student, at the second keyboard.

The second major offering of the evening, Leonard Bernstein's "Chichester Psalms," will feature a member of the Newark Boys Choir in the boy-alto part and four soloists from the college. An ensemble of brass, percussion and harps will join May, now at the organ console, for the grand finale. This work, written for the 1965 music festival at Chichester Cathedral in England, uses as its text six psalms sung in Hebrew.

The program will also include several short works by di Lassus, Victoria, Hassler and Mozart. The concert is open to the public at 50¢ for students and $1 for others.

DeJianne and Gordon
Superstitions Haunt MSC Pair

By David Benavage
Sports Writer

If an MSC baseball player takes the field with his shirt on backwards and his left shoe on his right foot, it's bound to be Bob DeJianne in a batting slump.

Baseball players are a superstitious lot and the MSC team has its share.

DE JIANNE (DJ) explained, "I'm very superstitious so if I'm in a slump I'll dress in a pattern. One day I'll put my socks on first, then my shirt. But if I don't break out of it, I try a different pattern the next day."

Besides DJ's quirks, the squad also tolerates shortstop Karl Gordon's habit of keeping his batting glove in his left pants pocket and his handkerchief (to wipe off his glasses) in the right pocket.

But of the two, DJ is the most superstitious. And the most talkative. "I usually hit fifth in the lineup and one day Coach (Clary) Anderson put me in the third slot. I didn't hit for a few games so I asked him if he'd move me back. Then I started hitting. It sounds crazy but I hit better in that slot," remarked the dark-haired junior.

BOTH PLAYERS have worked together on summer league teams and opposed each other in high school. The fair-haired and studious Gordon boasts a .314 batting average with eight runs batted in. The Indians' lead-off hitter has been doing his job of getting on base and has yet to strike out in 51 times at bat.

DJ is also having a good season, but in right field and at home plate. He's batting .333 with 13 RBI's. DJ also shares the team lead in the home run category with two circuits and has committed one error in 20 games.

THE TEAM got off to a slow start this year which both Gordon and DJ attribute to sloppy defense. "The team just hasn't come around yet," the latter remarked.

Gordon provided some insight into DJ's fiery nature when he related: "We were playing a game against Adelphi and the players on the Adelphi team would shout and yell every time DJ came up to bat. In the eighth inning, DJ grounded out as he went 0 for four on the day."

"While he was running down to first," the shortstop continued, "he stopped after the umpire called him out, turned to the Adelphi team and challenged the whole team to fight him after the game. It was one of the funniest things I've ever seen."

DJ remembered the time that Gordon hit one of his rare home runs. As the bespectacled infielder rounded second base, he tripped over the bag, DJ recalled.

"YEAH, I remember that," Gordon retorted. "Then you came up and hit a home run and tripped over the same base."

SECOND TIME AROUND: For the second consecutive year, 478 grammar school children invaded Sprague Field for the Essex County CYO annual track meet. MSC senior Edd O'Connor has been the meet's assistant director for the past five years.

Frisbee Tournament To Precede The Great Race
Croddick, Mykulak
Take One-on-One

By Andy Miketzuk
Sports Editor

Sophomore Jim Croddick and junior Nick Mykulak were the winners of the first intramural one-on-one basketball championship held last Wednesday night at Panzer Gym.

Croddick downed Tom Cesaretti in the under 5 foot 10 inch division title game, 20-16. Meanwhile, Mykulak was disposing of Gary McGriff, 22-18.

Both Games were tightly battled and well fought contests. In his final round match, Croddick, who won four games in getting to the finals, tied the score at 10, 12, and 14 points on 15-foot jumpers. He went ahead, 16-14, only to have Cesaretti knot it on a 15-footer.

Croddick hit again from the area of the foul line, and, after two offensive fouls and a missed field goal by Cesaretti, the sophomore wacked the cords from 10 feet to win.

MYKULAK, WHO won five games en route to the championship tilt, got off to a quick start against McGriff, scoring the first six points. He took a 10 lead on a twisting drive down the middle, but McGriff came back to tie the score with two 10-foot hook shots.

Both players then traded baskets as the score was tied at 12, 14, 16 and 18 points.

At This point the game was held up as Mykulak was cut on the right arm, apparently on a drive to the basket. After the first aid was administered, he sunk a driving layup to go ahead, 20-18.

McGriff then missed a 15-footer, and 10, 12, and 14 points on 15-foot jumpers. He went ahead, 16-14, only to have Cesaretti knot it on a 15-footer.

Why does a man join Maryknoll?

There are probably as many answers to this as there are individual Maryknoll priests and Brothers. Some men are deeply moved when they fear of babies dying in their mother’s arms because of hunger or disease. Others are distressed by the growing anti- paganism and separation between the rich and the poor nations. Many are concerned about the great injustices that have been inflicted upon the poor by those who possess wealth and power to an excessive degree. Others look to learn from peoples who have grown up with a different mentality than that which is theirs. In all, there is the only solution to the crises that threaten to split men asunder is the love of God as shown in the life of His Son, Jesus Christ. This love of God urges men to go forward and be missioners so men can love one another.

If you keep saying you want to do something with your life—here’s your chance to prove it.

MSC Nine Blooms in May

By Joe Castronovo
Sports Writer

April showers bring May flowers, and for the MSC baseball team, better luck. It looks as though the Indians are finally off and flying, although where to is hard to say.

As mediocre as Clary's boys looked in April, that's how good they've appeared in May.

THE INDIANS started the month of May with a bang, beating conference foe Glassboro, 7-4. Freshman Rich Waller hurled a great game, striking out 13 Prof's, while walking three. He also gave up only two hits in the seven innings he pitched.

What proved to be the decisive runs were scored in the bottom half of the fifth inning when Bob Cosentino got on base on an error, Jim Rake sacrificed to right field and Karl Gordon singled to center scoring Cosentino.

That tied the score at four all. Bob DeLamme followed with a single to right field, sending Gordon to third and finally home after a bad throw to third sailed out of the playing field, enabling MSC to take the lead for good, 5-4. They added two more insurance runs in the next inning.

PITTSER FIELD received another workout the very next day, May 2. As the Indians coasted to a 3-1 victory over Monmouth College, MSC's versatile Rake got the decision as he went all the way, compiling 14 strikeouts, giving up one walk and allowing three runs. Waller had two more insurance runs in the ninth on two hits, striking out 13 Profs while walking three.

What proved to be the decisive runs were scored in the bottom half of the fifth inning when, with two outs, Bob DeLamme followed with a single to right field, sending Gordon to third and finally home after a bad throw to third sailed out of the playing field, enabling MSC to take the lead for good, 5-4. They added two more insurance runs in the next inning.

THE INDIANS then hit the road, traveling to Baruch College only to be rained out, then on to Trenton State Saturday where they recorded a 3-1 triumph.

M ALLER PITCHED another classic, going the full nine, striking out 15 while allowing three walks and one unearned run on six hits.

The effort through his record to 3-2. Chet Snook, who belted a grand slam in the Indiana previous meeting with Trenton, found the going a bit rougher this time as he surrendered all three runs on 11 hits, while striking out two and walking one.

Waller took a 3-0 shutout into the ninth striking out, with two outs, Snook reached first on an error sending Terry Armenti, who had singled to second, Jerry Nesi then singled Armenti home for second.

THE INDIANS scored their second run in the fifth when, with the score 1-0 in their favor, Rake (there's that name again) singled, Gordon doubled sending Rake to third and DeLamme sacrificed to left, scoring Rake.

The victory pulled MSC to within percentage points of Trenton State as far as league standing goes, giving them a 6-3 mark to the Lions 5-2 showing.
