MSC Stays Open

In the event of a faculty strike, the college will remain open and "try to operate as much as possible," according to MSC President David W.D. Dickson. Dickson added that all state colleges will operate along similar procedural lines should the faculty walk off their jobs, though expressing hope that the faculty will not have to revert to a strike in the current mediations.

WE (COLLEGE ADMINISTRATORS) have an obligation to keep schools open," he said. "We will try to keep the shop afloat." he added. Dickson commented that the steps the college would take during a strike would be determined by the number of students not attending class.

H O W E V E R, SHOULD teachers hold classes and award grades to students, Butler said that he would post those grades and "give the students credit." Butler noted that a reduction of the 16-week semester could affect funding of the college, as the college is funded on a 16-week basis. "Anything less than 16 weeks might well result in less state support," he warned.

EXPLAINING DISLIKE of details which are "better left unspecified," Dickson said, "there has to be a lilt way for a faculty member to declare himself on whether or not he will teach during the strike." He listed some suggested procedures for keeping track on teachers who do conduct classes, such as signing a "declared sheet," with the teacher stating whether or not he or she would work during a strike; checking an scheduled classes to see if they are being held (g having each teacher call in before reporting for work. The MSC president noted that the college will take steps to insure that state property is not damaged during a strike. This would apparently mean a step-up of security.

W I T H R E G A R D to students' academic credit, Marshall A. Butler, registrar, stated that there really is no precedent for the registrars' office to act under during a strike. He added that, as of yet, no decision has been reached on the distribution of credits to students. "Credits will depend upon the college's decision," he said.

A L S O, D E P E N D I N G on an academic decision will be the date of senior graduation, Butler stated.

H O W E V E R, SHOULD teachers hold classes and award grades to students, Butler said that he would post those grades and "give the students credit." "Anything less than 16 weeks might well result in less state support," he warned. "I want as much as possible," Dickson said, "that both sides in the academic administration and striking faculty not do things that will make it hard for us to work together after the strike." He expressed hope that a faculty strike would not occur.

Illegal Parking Blamed in Three Car Collision

Three MSC students escaped injury when their cars collided in the parking lot in front of Bohn Hall. According to a campus security report, the accident occurred when the first vehicle, a 1973 Plymouth Duster, turned out of a parking lot while the second vehicle, a 1967 Chevelle Malibu, hit the Duster and the third car, a 1967 Chevelle Malibu, had to be towed from the site of the accident.

The driver of the Chevelle Malibu was severely injured and had to be taken to the hospital. The Duster was heavily damaged. The Duster and the third car, a 1967 Chevelle Malibu, had to be towed from the site of the accident.

The accident occurred when the Little Falls police and brought a hospital emergency to the scene. The services were not necessary. According to security officer Francis Henderson's report, the officer arrived on the scene and found the Plymouth Duster was heading north on Webster Hall road when the Duster tangled with the Malibu, causing it to veer off the road. The Duster then reenergized into the right front fender of the stationary Malibu. CARS WERE illegally parked on Webster Hall road on both sides of the road from which the Plymouth was exiting. Both drivers involved in the initial collision felt that the parked cars obstructed their vision, contributing to the accident. They claimed that they could not see each other approaching until it was too late to avoid colliding.

A survey taken by seven Montclair State students in conjunction with a marketing research class shows that MSC students feel that the faculty "have the right to go out on strike." However, a majority of the 175 students relying on the survey voiced the opinion that they would support the strike.

The survey was taken on a random non-probability basis and the sampling methods were by convenience and not purely random. Students polled in the Student Center, College Hall and other buildings on campus last week in what Gallay, dean of students, claims is an on-the-street-type of interview.

"It appears that the college is going to take a hit in the psyche of the students if they are attempting to obtain a license through the ABC," noted Capalbo.

Are you planning to be married? Perhaps you should ask yourself these questions: "How do I see myself? How do I see my partner? How do I think my partner sees me?" Rev. Thomas E. Davis, Catholic chaplain for Montclair State, offers a pre-marriage conference at Newman House for couples who have made a serious commitment about becoming married.

"WE HELP the people to identify themselves as persons and where they are in relation to the person to whom they are engaged," said Davis, with his blue eyes smiling. He added that the conference is "not an advice giving thing. We are not about to give advice."

Davis was inspired by the techniques of the sensitivity weekend sponsored by the Human Relations Lab (HRL) and decided to combine these techniques with the Pre-Cana concept of the Catholic Church.

Dressed in the traditional collar, Davis stated that the conference is not a religious approach to marriage. He went on to explain that the Gospel said very little about rules on marriage. He further explained his view that the first estate of Paul on marriage was open to interpretation and that Paul was writing as a "man of his times."

DAVIS DID state that the conference is accepted as a replacement for the Pre-Cana sessions of the Catholic Church.

During the first session of the four sessions which make up the conference, Tape H. Teten, assistant professor of education, and his wife led the discussion which dealt with appreciation of one's own strong and weak points in personality.

The second session featured Gene Herbert, who works with industry to develop techniques of communications. The discussion centered upon the question, "What kind of a communicating person am I?"

A DISCUSSION on the human sexuality, led by Davis was the subject of the third session. Dr. Virginia Malfinan, gynecologist and guest speaker, answered questions on the physical, physiological and emotional components of a successful relationship. If asked about premarital sexual intercourse Davis would answer with a Christian approach. "Intercourse is one of total commitment until death," Malfinan explained that she sees a purpose in "living together (before marriage) without having sexual intercourse."

The fourth session involved married couples sharing their lives and problems with the engaged couples and a summary of the conference. Davis, in blue jeans and a work shirt, helped lead the discussion along with Teten, who sports a beard and often assumed a philosophical pose. This last session dealt with the negative aspects of a relationship such as bad habits and the problems the couple have encountered in their sexual (married). The couples opened up slightly but showed a definite shyness in speaking about themselves and their partners during this particular session, according to Davis.

Davis, officiates at approximately 50% of the marriages of the couples who take part in the conference. He will officiate at mixed racial and religious marriages, but asks that "at least one partner be Catholic."

Campaign Planned Strike Information

SGA leaders have kicked off their statewide campaign against a faculty strike with a large-scale letter-writing campaign aimed at students’ parents and state legislators.

In addition, the MSC SGA will hold an “information” rally on the faculty strike vote from 10-12 pm and noon-2 pm today in the Student Center ballroom. Strike information rallies are also planned at Keen State College on Friday.

Seven thousand mimeographed form letters are ready for mailing to the parents of all MSC undergraduates, according to Angelo Genova, SGA president. The letters, which were prepared by SGA legislators and interested students, lack mailing labels but should be posted by Monday, Genova said.

GENOVA REPORTED that the New Jersey Student Association (NJSA) was sympathetic to many of the American Federation of Teachers’ demands. “We do support the faculty in their fight against the suppressive policies employed by the Department of Higher Education,” he said. However, “such a job action would only disrupt and cause significant harm to students,” Genova warned.

The NJSA is maintaining a “hard line” position in negotiations between the state and the AFT. “We will meet with both parties to move to avert a strike and influence their negotiations,” the SGA president stated. He emphasized that “students have a real stake in this dilemma.”

Today’s rally is designed to provide the general student body with “vital information on what we can do” in the event of a faculty walkout, according to the SGA. The energy crisis and its possible relation to a walkout and overall effects on college operations will also be discussed by MSC SGA leaders.

Today’s Army wants to join you.

Can Little Falls, MSC Work It Out?

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Mercenelli

Any hope to bridge the chasm separating Little Falls and MSC by mutual compromise on such issues as the Squar license and the sanitary landfill appear to have been dashed on the rocks below by the college's decision to approach the State Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control for a special beer and wine license to be used in the Student Center.

In deciding to seek a license from the ABC, the college has apparently decided to go-for-broke rather than wait for a compromise with the township.

INADVERTENT

Mayor James T. Capalbo explained that both he and the township committee had no prior knowledge of the college's decision but had inadvertently learned of the action through the MONTCULARION four days after a legal advertisement was to have been placed in the Montclair Times.

Capalbo strongly questioned the legality of placing the advertisement announcing the intention of the college to notify the township prior to its action is indicative of the inconsiderate and uncooperative attitude of the college in its dealings with Little Falls, "announced the intention of the ABC, the college has apparently decided to go-for-broke rather than the Little Falls paper is to obtain the "Times Herald" in which by law the advertisement is to have been placed in the Montclair Times.

Capalbo strongly questioned the legality of placing the advertisement announcing the intention of the college to seek a license in a Montclair paper rather than the local "Times Herald" in which by law the township is required to print all legal notices.

"Since the purpose of such an advertisement is to obtain the reaction of the local community in which the license is to be granted, the placement of it in a Montclair paper rather than the Little Falls paper is possibly not in accordance with the law," emphasized Capalbo.

Denials Help Racism Grow

The relegation of racism to a minor position among social ills plaguing this campus and the nation should not be tolerated by any rational human being. It is the height of absurdity to believe that racism doesn't exist, or if it does exist, it is so minimal that there is no use in attacking it.

A quick glance at America reveals that minority groups are totally denied participation in relevant social, political and economic decisions. Who inhibits our inner city ghettoes? Who suffers the highest rate of unemployment? Who gets arrested for a higher education? Whom do we incarcerate in our prisons?

Although the college has expressed a public willingness to work closely with the township in resolving the various problems that arise between the two parties, in actuality there have been no chances to meet and work with township officials.

"I am perfectly willing to meet with the township committee to discuss our mutual concerns," explained MSC President David W.O. Dickinson. "However, legally we were compelled to inform them of our intentions to approach the ABC for a license," he continued.

Dickinson did admit that as of this day he has met only with the mayor and the unofficial Citizen Advisory Committee. These meetings occurred earlier in the year, before the current controversy.

Sheber pointed out that the Citizens Advisory Committee is an unofficial organization and that he wasn't "even sure of who is on this committee," Capalbo explained that he is the only member of the township committee currently attending the advisory committee meetings.

It would appear that neither the college nor the community is willing to continue or expand the present lines of communication. And caught in the middle is the powerless student.

This is an extremely difficult time for New Jersey college students. They have been faced with the threat of a faculty walkout and with the possible postponement of several weeks of classes because of the energy shortage. These situations are serious but they are made worse by the fact that very little effort has been made to keep the students informed as to exactly where they stand.

The American Federation of Teachers voted this past Friday to authorize a strike. Since the vote was taken, rumors have run rife as to when the faculty will strike. The most popular of these rumors was that the faculty would strike this past Wednesday. News was mysteriously leaked to Top New York news stations that the faculty would soon strike.

What answers do the students get from the faculty and the college to calm their fears? Well, Marconauto Postacens, president of the MSC chapter of the AFT, has enlightened us all with a brilliant "No Comment" as to when the faculty will strike. The college has been equally informative. No decision has yet been made regarding academic credit if the faculty should strike. Will students lose credit or would a pass/fail system by instituted as was the case in the 1970 MSC student strike?

The faculty should come out with a definite statement as to how far apart they are with the state in the negotiations, what the current likelihood is of a strike and if so, when would it most likely take place?

The college should answer some of the questions that it has been putting off, especially in the area of credits. This is not a decision that should be put off until the situation arises.

As for the energy crisis, the college administration should make a concerted effort to inform students as soon as possible as to whether Winter Session will be cut or the opening weeks of spring semester postponed. What will happen to the students who need the credits provided by the intersession to graduate? What will happen to the student teachers who must take short term courses in the beginning of the semester before the weeks of teaching? These are questions that must be answered soon.

Students are not here because they haven't got anything better to do with their time. The vast majority of the students here are commuters who hold down jobs to pay their tuition costs. It's about time that both the faculty and the college stop treating the students as a non-entity in these situations.

\textbf{Is The Seesaw Weight Shifting?}

In the heat of the energy crisis, it is interesting to note the various reactions of a very nervous middle class to every touchy situation. Most of the reactions are hardly evidence of Americans' "spunk" or "stolidity" or any other such self-assigned epithets.

The following is a sample of the citizens' reactions: the first two of the four types of reactions which I have discerned:

* "The Cataclysmophobes"-These people remain passive in the situation, but they are more vocal than the Alarmists. They argue that "this whole issue" is the illegitimate brainchild of Exxon, Gulf, Texaco, Mobil and "those damned Arabs"-all out to destroy the independent gas station operator. They want the government to step in and take care of the "real" problem. The Pennsylvans are solely responsible for the booming demand for lockable gas tank cans.

* "The Indignant Ugly Americans"-We all know this type. He believes that his miserable relatives can't get gas because of the "bomb the price of oil" tactics. He is already angry about our ideological alliance with Israel. How could we be so stupid?-is not even report.

Other one-this group is the sole cause for the booming demand for gas-whoever makes the price rise will have to blame themselves. If the price rises, they say, it is the fault of the "bombing American" who causes all the troubles.

It is interesting to note the various reactions of the students to the energy crisis. Most of the students here are commuters who hold down jobs to pay their tuition costs. It's about time that both the faculty and the college stop treating the students as a non-entity in these situations.

\textbf{Crossing Picket Lines Treats You To Treason}

With the issue of a strike looming overhead, it is important that we take a good look at the issues involved. There is an old expression about "applying the mask from the face of the ruling class." That is exactly what must be done in this instance.

We must look beyond the rumors and slander and anti-labor stance of Trenton and see why teachers and students (who should have reported aware for the first time the power of the people and of their ability to shake hands - and the power of the state. Because the faculty at MSC has not worked to create solidarity with the students, this could be achieved primarily by working with students to fight rising tuition costs and to give students a greater role in running the school. This failure by most faculty members to realize their role is not, however, sufficient reason to refuse support when it is needed.

\[\text{Angelo Genova} \]

\textbf{Students Take Hard AFT Line}

After a lot of strenuous effort, effort and thought the New Jersey Student Association has come to a finalized agreement as to its position on the state American Federation of Teachers negotiations. We cannot support a faculty walkout. We believe that such job action would only disrupt and cause significant harm to students. We do support the faculty in their struggle against the suppressive policies employed by the Department of Education. If there is a strike at MSC, crossing a picket line would be the ultimate expression of the just demands of labor and to the potential of the movement.

\[\text{Higher Education. We will express this support by applying pressure on Governor Brendan T. Byrne, the state legislature and the Department of Education to work in terms with the faculty to rectify the attitudes of the Department of Education.}\]

\[\text{OBLIGATION}\]

We have all paid for our education and expect to receive it. The state has the obligation to provide this education for us and it is the responsibility to come to terms with the faculty.

In turn, the faculty must realize that students have a role stake in this dilemma. The faculty cannot continue to lay claim to their self-proclaimed role as sole determiners of college governance. We will fight to maintain ours role in college governance. We will pressure both parties not to negotiate governance structures until tri-party negotiations are a reality.

\[\text{We do all these things?} \]

Initially we will be sending letters home to all parents explaining the situation and urging them to pressure Byrne to bring this struggle to a just conclusion. We will urge you to write letters to the legislature and to the Department of Education.

We will meet with both parties to get their views and influence their negotiations. This position, in short, is a hard, thorough-going stand on the part of the public. We cannot continue to remain passive, sit and be brutalized under questionable agreements and falsehoods used to entice our cooperation.
MUSICAL AMERICA

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the men's professional music fraternity, will present its twelfth annual musical production, entitled "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" on Dec. 6. The show is directed by sophomores Paul Nast and Harry Schenawolf and will feature the Men of Sinfonia and the women of Sigma Alpha Iota, the women's professional music fraternity.

The show will feature a variety of acts, encompassing the last 80 years of American musical history. Beginning with a rousing rendition of Maple Leaf Rag, written by Scott Joplin and performed by the Sinfonia Rag Ensemble, the show progresses through the years prior to World War I with the advent of community singing, as remembered in a performance of selections from the show "George M." The development of jazz is shown in performances by the Sinfonia Jazz Band and the DB Bebop Band. Finally, present day jazz-rock styles have produced the final act, a hard and funky portion of the show dedicated to the music of the group, Chicago. "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" will be held this Thursday December 6th at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium. Students are admitted for 75 cents. —MacKay

HIGH NOTES

MAJOR THEATER SERIES

American Primitive

"American Primitive -- A.D.U.D."

By Hal Plain

"American Primitive: John and Abigail" never has a chance to get off the ground. From concept to execution this second show of the Spree Theater Department's Major Theater Series is a disappointment. Instead of readers' theater as the initial publicity suggested, we were warmed-over Experimental Theater Group instead of the usually fine performances of many of our most familiar actors and actresses we get well enough to act out. As readers' theater, it might have worked but acted out it came across as muddled, confusing and downright boring. In its present form it reminds one strongly of a coast attraction performed at a revolutionary battlefield site for the summer.

To further confuse matters, the lead roles of the piece, John and Abigail Adams, are switched around and played at various times by all the members of the ensemble. This never allows anyone to develop a coherent characterization and we are left with the spectacle of actors merely playing surface mannerisms to create any impression of character at all. Even worse, the phony warm up exercises presented to the audience as the "decider" to fill in the feeling that the performance removes any concept we might have of the actors portraying characters for us and instead, we can only conclude that they are being themselves and not the people they portray. This creates an even more serious problem of audience embarrassment. As we watch the actors in sequences of supposedly great emotion and feelings, we see only the actor, naked and vulnerable to our scrutiny in all his nakedness.

Original music for the show was created and performed by Dennis Daugherty and Ed Peter. The music was pleasant by itself but it came at awkward moments in the show and further broke the show's overall mood.

"A Night at the Bijou" will make itself heard on Saturday at 8 pm in the Fine Arts Auditorium and it will cost you two bucks to get in.

Have you heard the one about the English Club? Well, in this no one even knew that this organization even existed on the Montclair State campus and in point of fact it didn't. Strictly true either, there had been a group with the same name that had only a few members and read poetry to each other. "What get SGA funds and help break the ground. "Gigi Sparks Fond Memories"

By Michael Finnegan

A great musical comedy store has finally rooted where one suspected it should have always originated - on the stage. The score is that of Leonard and Loewe's for "Gigi." With extensive collection of song standards comes a production which, although not as spectacular and authentic as the original, holds much potential. The on-location 1958 film musical, "Gigi," incorporates complements for the stage the work of the authors. Based on the Guy de Maupassant novella, the rather slight story of a young French girl's maturation as she is being groomed to be a lady of quality and culture and in due time to be betrothed, is the tale and without much change.

"The Night They Invented Champagne," "Thank Heaven for Little Girls," "She's Not	Thinking of Me," "It's a Bore," "I'm Glad I'm Not Young Any More" and the title song are classics which make gentle yet insightful statements about romance, wealth, age and youth in cleverly subtle ways.

On the screen tarts tailor-made personalities as Muriel Gray, Cherry Gibbons, Lavinia Plonka all had some moments, though precious few, where their obvious talents managed to reach the audience.

Technically, the show limped along its endless way with little or no visual interest. The total absence of set certainly was no help to the show. We have come to expect much more from designer John Figola. There never is any excuse for allowing this poor quality of work to be placed before the public. The lighting also by John Figola, was flat and clitched. Costumes by Debbie Lavin were adequate for the production.

The technical aspect that pleased was the set designing. The performance was the rear screen projection system. Film images and pictures were projected behind the action and arrows of light were used to illustrate positions on the maps. The definition of the slides was poor and the gliemock detracted rather than added to the show. The proper optical systems for this application must be custom designed at great cost and making do with what you have just doesn't cut it, it should have been left out.

"American Primitive," from concept to execution, is a disappointment, the turkey is an American bird.

Fairbanks Runs Marathon Circuit

By Rich Keller

Marathon races commemorate the legendary feat of Pheidippides, who supposedly traveled from Marathon to Athens in 450 BC to announce the Greek victory over the Persians.

Montclair State could have a direct descendent in junior Jim Fairbanks, who has run in five long-distance marathons since last year.

FAIRBANKS, WHORUNS cross-country in the fall and track in the spring, said, "I usually practice from one to two months in preparation for a marathon, but I will train as much as two and three months for a biggie, like Boston."

When asked how he mentally prepared for a race, Fairbanks said, "You have to know you can go the distance...you have to convince yourself that you can last the 26 miles."

It is usually said to be beneficial to the runner if he tries to think of things other than the race. "I think about how fast I'm going; if I'm going too fast to last 26 miles," said Fairbanks, who participated in his fifth 26-miler, this year's Philadelphia Marathon, over the Thanksgiving recess.

A former student of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Fairbanks ran in his first marathon, the New York City Marathon, in October 1972. Placing 99th out of about 300 entries qualified him to run in the best-known of all marathons, the Boston Marathon.

IN THE Beantown affair, which is held every April, Fairbanks finished 412th out of about 1600 runners. If a runner finishes the Boston Marathon in under three and one-half hours, he doesn't have to qualify again, as long as he participates every year.

“GET OFF MY BACK” is what East Stroudsburg wrestler Bill Cuff (bottom) must be thinking as he takes on MSC’s Eddie Alber in a 119-pound bout. Alber decisioned Cuff 3-1 to start the Indians toward a 29-15 win in their opener last Wednesday.

ON TOP OF THE SITUATION: Montclair State’s Nabil Guketlov (top) picks up some riding time on Brian Lichty during the second bout of MSC’s 29-25 win. Guketlov went on to pin his opponent at 2:57 of the second period.

Wrestlers Wreck Princeton, Temple

By John Delery

The MSC wrestling team proved to be very unhospitable guests as they traveled to Princeton’s Jadwin Gym Saturday and returned not only with a victory over host team Princeton (27-6) but also triumphs over Temple University (22-12) and Gettysburg College (29-3) in a quadrangular meet.

Led by 158-pound freshman Bob Woods’ one decision and two pins the Indians were never really threatened all day.

Woods, who was beaten in his first match against East Stroudsburg on Wednesday, came roaring back and scored an 8-4 decision over Princeton captain and premier East Coast wrestler Paul Martinelli. He then pinned back to back last second defeats on Temple’s Brian Miller and Gettysburg’s Mike Madden.

Nabil Guketlov (126) and Craig Spencer (134) helped pave the way with four decisions and two pins evenly distributed between them.

Eddie Alber (118) followed with three winning decisions.

As coach Larry Schiacchetano put it, “We are still not completely healthy and wrestlers like Bob Woods and Oscar Zavala are wrestling out of position because of it. When John Reid arrives in January we should be able to make a few shifts and we could be unbeatable.”

He also said that “the first three wrestlers (Alber, Guketlov and Spencer) are carrying the team so far and if it wasn’t for the great depth on this team things might be a little bit different right now.”

THIS WEEKEND the Indians embark on their toughest trek of the early season as they take on the cadets of West Point and teams from Indiana, Buffalo State, Bloomsburg and William and Mary at West Point, New York.

Records at 1-1 before a capacity crowd at Panzer Gym.

With eight minutes to go in the game, the Indians, using a tight defense, managed a nine point outburst answered by only four WPC points. The Pioneers came back for two more points before Eugene Jimenez tied it at 54-54. Brian Wagner netted two more points for WPC and the Pioneers had a one-basket lead.

With 45 seconds remaining, Chuck Hofflin's fastbreak tied it at 56-56. MSC applied a full court press before Wagner was fouled in the act of shooting. When the Pioneers missed at the line, the Indians had 25 seconds remaining to work for a good shot.

Passing the ball around from corner to corner with the crowd yelling and the coaches tense, Jimenez let a shot off, hitting the glass. The rebound was taken by Auerbacher who won the hustle battle, turning up the monotony of a shutout, SILC'ers Don Walsh and Mike Lioni were given the opening game to American International College (Mass.), 67-69. The next two games will be away at Newark College of Engineering Monday, both at 8:15 pm.

The Devils won the game 53-46, but it wasn't even that close because the hosts were spotted 40 points. You don't need a Bomber Brain to figure that MSC ripped the cords only three times.

It's amazing that the SILC team managed to produce even that meager number of baskets. They had a hard enough time getting their chairs to roll smoothly. Some MSCers are seen rolling on to the court with their brakes still on.

The SPORT demands a control of the wheelchair, arm stamina and an ability to shoot from the sitting position, all of which were noticeably absent from SILC's play.

While the home team was busily getting their arms worn out, Devil Mike Lioni was putting on a display that would make the varsity Indians blush. Among Lioni's unbelievable maneuvers were behind the back passes, spinning layups and a game high of 26 points.

So that Lioni wouldn't be alone in entertaining the crowd, MSC football coach Don MacKay also put on a one man show. He missed every shot he took, save one. Acknowledging the fans' spontaneous actions, MacKay headed back to the bench rapping at his Adam's apple.

To break up the monotony of a shutout, SILC'ers Don Walsh and Mike Mesina combined with MacKay for MSC's only legitimate points.

MacKay and Walsh scored back to back with about 2:30 left in the first half. Mesina got his two points at the midway point of the second half.

The DEVILS, although superior to the MSC squad, are inexperienced when compared to other wheelchair teams.

"We have three members of the starting lineup who never played wheelchair basketball before," the Devil coach said.

Presently the Devils spend their time playing teams like SILC or scrimmage against other wheelchair squads. They will enter an organized league next year.

"There's a team down in Bayonne that would ruin these guys," offered McKinley Boston.

Let's see, maybe they'll spot MSC's wheelers 60 points, and then...
