MSC Stays Open

In the event of a faculty strike, the college will remain open and "try to operate as much as possible," according to MSC President David W.D. Dickson. Dickson added that all eight state colleges will operate along similar procedural lines should the faculty walk off their jobs, though expressing hope that the faculty will not have to revert to a strike in the current mediations.

"WE COLLEGE ADMINISTRATORS have an obligation to keep schools open," he said. "We will try to keep the school open during the strike. "We have to ascertain whether or not a teacher is working or not he or she will teach during the strike; checking on teachers who conduct classes' distribution of credits to students. Details which are "fussy and specific," Dickson said, "there has to be a way for a faculty member to declare himself on whether or not he will teach during the strike."

He listed some suggested procedures for keeping tabs on teachers who do conduct classes, such as signing a "declaratory sheet," with the teacher stating whether or not he or she would work during a strike; checking on scheduled classes to see if they are being held or having each teacher call in before reporting for work.

The MSC president noted that the college will take steps to insure that state property is not damaged during a strike. This would apparently mean a step-up of security.

"WITH REGARD to students' academic credit, Marshall A. Butler, registrar, stated that there really is no provision for the registrars' office to act under during a strike. He added that, as of yet, no decision has been reached on the distribution of credits to students.

"Credits will depend upon the college's decision," he said. "Butler stated.

HOWEVER, SHOULD teachers hold classes and award grades to students, Butler said that he would post those grades and "give the students credit."

"I want as much as possible," Dickson said, "that both sides college administration and striking faculty not do things that will make it hard for us to work together after the strike." He expressed hope that a faculty strike will not occur.

Illegal Parking Blamed in Three Car Collision

By John Picinich

Three MSC students escaped injury when their cars collided in the parking lot in front of Bohn Hall Monday morning.

According to a campus security report, the accident occurred when the first vehicle, a 1973 Plymouth Duster, turned out of a parking lot side onto Webster Hall road. The driver, a male student, then turned into the path of the second vehicle, a 1973 Duster, and the third car, a 1967 Chevrolet Malibu, had to be towed from the site of the accident.

Security men summoned the Little Falls police and brought a Tow Truck Center nurse to the scene. Services were not necessary. According to security officer Frank Henderson, the Plymouth was heading north on Webster Hall road when the Duster, travelling east, turned into its path and struck it on the driver's side. The Duster then rebounded into the right front fender of the stationary Malibu.

Two of the three vehicles were heavily damaged. The Duster and the third car, a 1967 Chevrolet Malibu, had to be towed from the site of the accident.

The Duster then rebounded into the right front fender of the stationary Malibu.

CARS WERE ILLEGALLY parked on Webster Hall road on both sides of the street from which the Plymouth was exiting. Both drivers involved in the initial collision felt that the parked cars obstructed their view, contributing to the accident. They claimed that they could not see each other approaching until it was too late to avoid colliding.

However, security chief James Lockhart attributed the accident to driver negligence, rather than parked cars. He said that the first driver should have "coped" slowly into the roadway until she was able to see clearly.

He felt that MSC had "no more parking problems than any other campus, any other municipality." He did not believe most on-campus accidents were caused by parking problems. Of the 20 accidents reported in September, only 13 were moving accidents, while only four moving accidents occurred in October, he reported. The other 12 other reported accidents involved individuals who hit stationary vehicles or inanimate objects while parking their cars, according to Lockhart.

HENDERSON NOTED that most accidents incurred less than $500 in damages to the vehicles involved. He could not recall any student having been injured in a campus car accident.
Career Day Slated

Representatives from over 40 industries and businesses will be at MSC Saturday for the first all-campus Career Day.

The program, co-sponsored by the alumni association and the career planning and placement office, will feature panel discussions on the job market outlook and seminars on specific employment problems. Nearly 40 exhibits representing business and industry, the armed forces and various agencies will be displayed in the Student Center throughout the day.

Company spokespeople will be available to answer questions and arrange interviews.

Students who attend the conference will receive packets containing useful job-hunting information on writing resumes, using employment agencies and qualities to look for in an employer.

According to Diane Carlson, executive director of the alumni association, the day will be geared to recent graduates as well as undergraduates.

She described the day as a "response to becoming a liberal arts college." The program will focus on the uses to which a liberal arts degree can be applied. Carlson explained that "a liberal arts education can get one into just about any job line he chooses."

A keynote address at 10 a.m. will kick off the program. Dean Keeler, managing editor of the "College Placement Annual," will discuss "Hiring College Grad-Supply and Demand." Immediately afterward, panel discussions on the job market will be led by spokespeople from the Peace Corps/VISTA and the fields of data processing/programming, finance, sales, and social work.

The pros and cons of graduate school will be the topic of Dr. M. Herbert Freeman, MSC graduate study director. At 2:30, the same time, Claire Krucher, Douglass College assistant director of career counseling, will discuss women in the job market.

The career discussions and seminars will be held in the Student Center fourth floor meeting room. Registration will be held at the Career Information desk throughout the day.

Participating companies include: K branders, Bell Telephone, Borroughs Welcome, Chubb and Son, The Food and Drug Administration, Electronic Data Systems, Executive Search, Hohne and Co., Hoffmann LaRoche, IBM, Midatlantic Bank, Mutual Benefit Life, Marriott Hotels, Newark Police Academy, N.J. State Police, and Soehner-Fluegge, West Point Pepperell, the armed forces and the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Little Falls Moves to Block Gas Station

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Mercocci

The Little Falls township committee voted unanimously at its Dec. 3 meeting to place the Gulf Oil gas station on the town's zoning map. The decision followed a public hearing on the matter, which was attended by over 50 residents.

A referendum to determine whether the Gulf Oil gas station should be removed from the area was held on Dec. 13, but the results were not available at press time. Vincent Calabrese, vice-president of the Gulf Action Group, said that the referendum was not sponsored by the Student Center Policy Board, and was taken against the wishes of the Gulf Oil company.

"We are investigating the feasibility of another company on the station's location," Calabrese said. "We believe that the gas station was not the best use of the land." He added that the referendum was "to attempt to obtain a license through the ABC," noted Capalbo.

The referendum was held on a non-probability basis and the sampling methods were not accepted by the local town council. Seventy percent of those polled supported the teachers in their right to strike, but the same teachers stated that they would go on strike even if the station was not removed.

"We will not just go on strike," Calabrese said. "We will have the right to go out on strike." However, a majority of the 175 students who voted in the referendum said that they were not going to be held on strike.

Bruce Conklin, board chairman, said that the referendum question was "a means of removing the gas station." He emphasized, "We will not just go out on our own." He added, "The task force will continue to boycott Gulf and we will continue to boycott students into the boycott through educating the students about the action."

SGA leaders have kicked off their statewide campaign against a faculty strike with a large-scale letter-writing campaign aimed at students' parents and state legislators.

In addition, the MSC SGA will hold an "Information" rally on the faculty strike vote from 10-12 pm and noon-2 pm today in the Student Center ballroom. Strike information rallies are also planned at Keen State College on Friday.

Seven thousand mimeographed form letters are ready for mailing to the parents of all MSC undergraduates, according to Angelo Genova, SGA president. The letters, which were prepared by SGA legislators and interested students, lack mailing labels but should be posted by Monday, Genova said.

GENOVA REPORTED that the New Jersey Student Association (USA) was sympathetic to many of the American Federation of Teachers' demands. "We do support the faculty in their fight against the oppressive policies employed by the Department of Higher Education," he said. However, "such a job action would only disrupt and cause significant harm to students," Genova commented.

The NJSA is maintaining a "hard third party" position in negotiations between the state and the AFT. "We will meet with both parties to move to aver a strike and influence their negotiations," the SGA president stated. He emphasized that "students have a real stake in this dilemma."

Today's rally is designed to provide the general student body with "vital information on what we can do" in the event of a faculty walkout, according to the SGA. The energy crisis and its possible relation to a walkout and overall effects on college operations will also be discussed by MSC SGA leaders.

Can Little Falls, MSC Work It Out?

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Mercenelli

Any hope to bridge the chasm separating Little Falls and MSC by mutual compromise on such issues as the liquor license and the sanitary landfill appear to have been dashed on the rocks below by the college's decision to approach the State Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control for a special beer and wine license to be used in the Student Center.

In deciding to seek a license from the ABC, the college has apparently decided to go-for-broke rather than wait for a compromise with the township.

Mayor James T. Capalbo explained that both he and the township committee had no prior knowledge of the college's decision but had inadvertently learned of the action through the MONTCLARION four days after a legal advertisement was to have been placed in the Montclair Times.

Capalbo strongly questioned the legality of placing the advertisement announcing the intention of the college to obtain the license in a Montclair paper rather than the local "Times Herald" in which by law the college is to obtain such a license in a Montclair paper rather than the local "Times Herald" in which by law the township is required to print all legal notices.

"Since the purpose of such an advertisement is to obtain the reaction of the local community in which the license is to be granted, the placement of it in a Montclair paper rather than the Little Falls paper is possibly not in accordance with the law," emphasized Capalbo.

By The Task Force Against Racism

The relegation of racism to a minor position among social ills plaguing this campus and the nation should not be tolerated by any rational human being. It is the height of absurdity to believe that racism doesn't exist, or if it does exist, it is so minimal that there is no use in attacking it.

A quick glance at America reveals that minority groups are totally denied participation in relevant social, political and economic decisions. Who inhabits our inner city ghettos? Who suffers the highest rate of unemployment? Who gets reprimanded at a higher education? Whom do we incarcerate in our prisons?

Racism is pervasive. It should be attacked and eliminated in order to create a social environment that will allow equal accessibility to everyone.

Individuals who preach racial hatred on the basis of unscientific theories such as those put forth by Shockley, Himmitt, Jensen and Eysenck should be exposed as widows.

These pseudo-scholars do not have the right to polarize the nation with their lies. It is of great importance for all students and faculty to unite against the fallacy that some people are born with genes that prescribe living in ghettos, being poor and being inferior.

The attack on the Task Force Against Racism by a MONTCLARION columnist suggested that racism is not a problem. Trying to deny the existence of racism will only help racism flourish. We have undertaken the fight against racism by educating the college community. We encourage the free and open exchange of ideas when we sponsored the Teach-In on Racism.

The college community is aware that we deserve the respect we have acquired because we do not play on people's fears. These attacks can only divide all concerned people. Our purpose has been to bring students and faculty together to collectively work against racism.

Denials Help Racism Grow

Contrary to published statements of the college, the college has apparently decided to go-for-broke rather than wait for a compromise with the township.

Pledges Come At 7 PM With Dues
They’ve Got A Secret

This is an extremely difficult time for New Jersey college students. They have been faced with the threat of a faculty walkout and the possibility of several weeks of classes because of the energy shortage. These situations are serious but they are made worse by the fact that very little effort has been made to keep the students informed as to exactly where they stand.

The American Federation of Teachers voted this past Friday to authorize a strike. Since the vote was taken, rumors have run rife as to when the faculty will strike. The most popular of these rumors was that the faculty would strike this past Wednesday. News was mysteriously leaked to top New York news stations that the faculty would soon strike.

What answers do the students get from the faculty and the college to calm their fears? Well, Marconianto Lacatena, president of the MSC chapter of the AFT, has enlightened us all with a brilliant “No Comment” as to when the faculty will strike. The college has been equally informative. No decision has yet been made regarding academic credit if the faculty should strike. Will students lose credit or would a pass/fail system by instituted as was the case in the 1970 MSC student strike?

The faculty should come out with a definitive statement as to how far apart they are with the state in the negotiations, what the current likelihood is of a strike and if so, when it would most likely take place.

The college should answer some of the questions that it has been putting off, especially in the area of credits. This is not a decision that should be put off until the situation arises. The vast majority of the students here are commuters who hold down jobs to pay their tuition costs. It's about time that both the faculty and the college stop treating the students as a non-entity in these situations.

Logic Is Needed

A three-car collision in front of Bohn Hall Monday resulted in three badly damaged vehicles but, fortunately, no injuries to their drivers. Multi-car collisions are rare on campus--most students choose to use parked cars and signposts as their targets. However, the next time one occurs--and with several thousand cars and drivers on campus daily, there is bound to be a next time--the outcome may be much more serious.

Two of the drivers involved in Monday's accident blamed the incident on illegally parked cars which, they felt, obstructed their vision.

It would be simple to put the entire blame for the incident on campus securitv, for not towing away those illegally-parked cars, or at least ticketing them. However, too many students collect parking tickets as if they were stamps or shoes into confetti as soon as they get them. And if security were to tow away every vehicle which was not parked in a legal space, the procession of tow trucks would tie up traffic for hours. That action would also incur the wrath of virtually every commuter on campus.

It's time for students themselves to take the blame for creating and continuing the parking problem. Illegally parked cars don't drive themselves into aisles or in front of other cars--and they don't drive themselves into legal spaces either. Commuting students themselves and they alone, must take the responsibility to park properly. Security men can't do it for them.

The Seesaw Weight Shifting?

In the heat of the energy crisis, it is interesting to note the various reactions of a very nervously middle class to every touchy situation. Most of the reactions are hardly evidence of Americans' "spunk," "spirit," or "stoicism"--or any other such self-educated epithets.

For the most part, the citizen's remarks dissolve into brain grumbling. I have heard four distinct types of reactions so far, and this does not include arroled aesthetics or those people who ride bicycles and store their body heat for future use.

* "The Catalyst Alarmist"--This type includes those people who ran around predicting depressions, famines and the general collapse of the capitalist system followed by a Communist takeover in the United States. They remain fraudulent and passive, in view of the situation and merely retire to their bomb shelters, built in the 1950's, to await "The End."

* "The Cataclysmophobes"--These people remain passive to the situation, but they are more vocal than the Alarmists. They argue that if "this whole mess is the Illegitimate brainchild of Exxon, Gulf, Texaco, Mobil and those doomed Arab oil"--all out to destroy the independent gas station operator, to get the American pipeline built and to raise the price of fuel, seriously and nationally. A subtlety of this group also believes that Nixon planned the crisis as a diabolical tactic to draw attention away from Watergate.

* "The Paranoids"--The Paranoids agree, in an extent, with the Cataclysmophobes, that someone somewhere is pulling the strings according to his own game plan. And they also worry, especially, about the economic reparations of the fuel shortage. Mostly, however, they are worried about the behavior of their fellow Americans. Will there be riots and vandalism? Looking? Will people drain the oil and siphon the gas out of each other's cars? Will you be able to leave a car unattended for an hour in that parking lot? The Paranoids are solely responsible for the booming demand for lockable gas tanks.

* "The Indignant Ugly American"--We all know this type. He believes that his inalienable rights to control the price of gas is a fact. He also argues about the change in his ability to buy anything that he wants. This type fills up his gas tank at every other station, has his own barrel of crude oil in the basement and has 20 electric heaters stationed throughout his house.

He has already written to President Richard Nixon, suggesting that we "bomb those damned Arabs" and blow andbirn all the oil that gushes from the bomb craters. He is also angiraried about our ideological alliance with Israel. How could we be so stupid--Israel does not even export oil!

Other thing--this group is the sole cause for the booming demand for gas filling kits, which in turn results in the most monstrous filling demand for lockable gas tanks, which in turn has caused the conspicuous lines to form at the Al-Chemon.

Somebody once compared economists to playing on a seesaw. In order for one group to be up, another must be down. Is the weight shifting on the seesaw?
Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the men's professional music fraternity, will present its twelfth annual musical production, entitled "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" on Dec. 6. The show is directed by sophomores Paul Nast and Harry Schenawolf and will feature the Men of Sinfonia and the women of Sigma Alpha Iota, the women's professional music fraternity.

The show will feature a variety of acts, encompassing the last 80 years of American musical history. Beginning with a rousing rendition of Maple Leaf Rag, written by Scott Joplin and performed by the Sinfonia Rag Ensemble, the show progresses through the years prior to World War I with the advent of community singing, as remembered in a performance of selections from the show "George M." The development of jazz is shown in performances by the Sinfonia Jazz Band and the DB Bebop Band. Finally, present day jazz-rock styles have produced the final act, a hard and funky portion of the show dedicated to the music of the group, Chicago. "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" will be held this Thursday December 6th at 8 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium. Students are admitted for 75 cents. —MacKay comes a production which although not as spectacular and authentic as the original on-location 1958 film musical, is a creditably complement of the stage work of the authors. Based on the Coelho novel, the rather slight story of a young French girl's maturation as she is being groomed to be a lady of quality and to enter society, the music and songs are very charming and appealing. The show is intimate, not lavish and it does not try to cover all bases. Agnes Moorehead is perfect as the wealthy Aunt Alicia. Her early capture sympathy and mothelessness as Gigi's grandmother. Barbra Caron, who plays Gigi, Daniel Massey admirably conveys boredom and the image of a young and attractive woman. The score is a beautiful way of simplifying colors and rich textures, especially accompanied by choreographer Irma Wright's lifting melodies. Joseph Hardy's direction avoids givinng away too many details, but his work does add to the performance. All in all, the score is a beautiful way of evoking the setting, the atmosphere and the mood of the story.

Vaucluse Comes To MSC

Have you heard the one about the English Club? Well, in its no one even knew that this organization even existed on the Montclair State campus and in point of fact it didn't until last March. Well, that isn't strictly true, either, there had been a group with the same name that had gone quite a few years ago. Anyway, this struggling young club had had an image problem, not only did people not know it existed but when they heard about it they figured that all its members to do was talk about Shakespeare and read poetry to each other. What else would an English Club do? they asked themselves when they even thought about it at all.

"A Night at the Bijou," that is what else, among many other things, that the English Club is up to. Conceived as the last and final way to gain some much needed recognition and status at "MSC, the event will come full-term into the world this Saturday with a roll of the members of the student body, have that this event will once and for all shatter the pre-conceived ideas about their group. It certainly should! as a matter of fact, it may shatter a lot more than that! The group's advisor is Dr. Nash. Would someone please check the closet in his office to see if he is bound, gagged and hidden there? "A Night at the Bijou," will make itself heard on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium and it will cost you two bucks to get in.

Fairbanks Runs Marathon Circuit

By Rich Keller

Marathon races commemorate the legendary feat of Pheidippides, who supposedly traveled from Marathon to Athens in 490 BC to announce the Greek victory over the Persians. Montclair State could have a direct descendent in junior Jim Fairbanks, who ran in five long-distance marathons since last year.

FaiRBANKS, WHO runs cross-country in the fall and track in the spring, said, “I usually practice from one to two months in preparation for a marathon, but I will train as much as two and three months for a biggie, like Boston.”

When asked how he mentally prepared for a race, Fairbanks said, “You have to know you can go the distance...you have to convince yourself that you can last the 26 miles.”

It is usually said to be beneficial to the runner if he tries to think of things other than the race. “I think about how fast I’m going; if I’m going too fast to last 26 miles,” said Fairbanks, who participated in his fifth 26-miler, this year’s Philadelphia Marathon, over the Thanksgiving recess.

A former student of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Fairbanks ran in his first marathon, the New York City Marathon, in October 1972. Placing 99th out of about 300 entries qualified him to run in the best-known of all marathons, the Boston Marathon.

In the Beantown affair, which is held every April, Fairbanks finished 412th out of about 1600 runners. If a runner finishes the Boston Marathon in under three and one half hours as Fairbanks did, then he doesn’t have to qualify again, as long as he participates every year.

IN THE 1000-yard run, Joe Konarkowski, a senior and this year’s cross country captain, turned in a second place performance with a time of 2:14.5. Jonathan Frankel, alias Little Squad, was not too far behind with a second place of 2:16 effort.

Bill Terrill jetted to a strong third place finish in the 800-yard run with a 1:12 docking.

Following the meet, the team rapidly headed for the exits to breathe some good ole New York City air, only to return on Sat., Dec. 15, for the next meet at the 168th Street Armory.

The MSC wrestling team proved to be very unhospitable guests as they traveled to Princeton's Jadwin Gym Saturday and returned not only with a victory over host team Princeton (27-6) but also triumphs over Temple University (22-12) and Gettysburg College (29-3) in a quadrangular meet.

Led by 158-pound freshman Bob Woods' one decision and two pins the Indians were never really threatened all day.

WOOS, WHO was beaten in his first match against East Stroudsburg on Wednesday, came roaring back and scored an 8-4 decision over Princeton captain and premier East Coast wrestler Paul Martinelli. He then pinned back to back last second defeats on Temple's Brian Miller and Gettysburg's Mike Madden.

Nabil Guketlov (126) and Craig Spencer (134) helped pave the way with four decisions and two pins evenly distributed between them. Eddie Alber (118) followed with three winning decisions.

BUT EVEN though the team is now 4-0 they still are not at top form.

As coach Larry Schiacchetano put it, "we are still not completely healthy and wrestlers like Bob Woods and Oscar Zavala are wrestling out of position because of it. When John Reid arrives in January we should be able to make a few shifts and we could be unbeatable."

THIS WEEKEND the Indians embark on their toughest trek of the early season as they take on the cadets of West Point and teams from Indiana, Buffalo State, Bloomsburg and William and Mary at West Point, New York.

Auerbacher's Bucket

Stuns Pioneers

By John Zawoyski

Sophomore Jeff Auerbacher banked a shot with two seconds remaining to give Montclair State a 56-56 victory over William Paterson Tuesday night. Both teams entered the records at 1-1 before a capacity crowd at Panzer Gym.

WITH EIGHT MINUTES to go in the game, the Indians, using a tight defense, managed a nine-point outburst answered by only four WPC points. The Pioneers came back for two more points before Eugene Jimenez tied it at 54-54. Brian Wagner netted two more points for WPC and the Pioneers had a one-basket lead.

With 45 seconds remaining, Chuck Hull's fastbreak tied it at 56-56. MSC applied a full court press before Wagner was fouled in the act of shooting. When the Pioneers missed at the line, the Indians had 25 seconds remaining to work for a good shot.

Passing the ball around from corner to corner with the crowd yelling and the coaches tense, Jimenez let a shot off, hitting the glass. The rebound was taken by Auerbacher who won the battle for a good shot.

The ball was taken by Auerbacher who won the game as the buzzer sounded. The game was over.

The Indians, their mouths hanging open, were stunned on the court, their team rushed toward Auerbacher as the WPC players remained quiet, realizing the significance of the moment.

In explaining the tightness of the score, coach Ollie Gelston said, "We were hurt by the half Court press and could not penetrate their zone defense."

WPC opened the game with a quick basket and MSC then ran off the next 13 straight points, seven of them by senior captain Jim Rakic. Baskets were exchanged until the Indians ended the first half leading 35-23.

At the second half tip off the Pioneers went into a half court press. MSC committed a majority of its 20 turnovers in the second half and were outscored 23-6 to give WPC a 46-43 lead.

"We HAVE to work on our zone press," Gelston stated. The activity led their opening game to American International College (Mass.), 67-69. The next two games will be away at Narwark College of Engineering on Saturday and Kean College Monday, both at 8:15 pm.

By Hank Gola

McKlinney Boston was having trouble moving his vehicle. Stu Richter came running in but couldn't budge it either.

What sounds like an adventure in the MSC parking lot is actually a typical scene at last Saturday's wheelchair basketball game between the New Jersey Blue Devils and representatives of the Student Intramural and Leisure Council (SILC) and student organizations.

THE EVENT was viewed by a crowd that filled half of Panzer Gymnasium and the proceeds of close to $250 were turned over to the Blue Devils, a team of paraplegics and amputees.

The Devils won the game 53-46, but it wasn't even that close because the hosts were spotted 40 points. You don't need a Bomber Brain to figure that MSC tipped the odds only three times.

It's amazing that the SILC team managed to produce even that meager number of baskets. They had a hard enough time getting their chairs to roll smoothly. Some MSCers came rolling on to the court with their brakes still on.

THE SPORT demands a control of the wheelchair, arm stamina and an ability to shoot from the sitting position, all of which were noticeably absent from SILC's play.

While the home team was busily getting their arm worn out, Devil Mike Lioni was putting on a display that would make the varsity Indians blush. Among Lioni's unbelievable maneuvers were behind the back passes, spinning foot-shots and a game high of 26 points.

So that Lioni wouldn't be alone in entertaining the crowd, MSC football coach Don MacKay also put on a one man show. He missed every shot he took, save one. Acknowledging the fans' spontaneous actions, MacKay headed back to the bench tapping at his Adam's apple.

TO BREAK up the monotony of a shutout, SILC'ers Don Walsh and Mike Mesina combined with MacKay for MSC's only legitimate points.

MacKay and Walsh scored back to back with about 2:30 left in the first half. Mesina got his two points at the midway point of the second half.

THE DEVILS, although superior to the MSC squad, are inexperienced when compared to other wheelchair teams.

"We have three members of the starting lineup who never played wheelchair basketball before," the Devil coach said.

Presently the Devils spend their time playing teams like SILC or scrimmaging against other wheelchair squads. They will enter an organized league next year and compete against better teams. Better teams?

"There's a team down in Bayonne that would ruin these guys," offered McKinney Boston.

Let's see, maybe they'll spot MSC's wheelers 60 points, and then..."
