MSC To Ration But Not Guarantee Gas

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Mercorelli

With nine out of ten gas stations closed for lack of fuel, the MSC Student Center Gulf station, the only one of its kind in the country, has been pumping gas nine hours daily during the current crisis. However, a rationing plan will be put into effect at the earliest possible moment.

Vincent Calabrese, vice-president of administration and finance, said that ration cards are in the process of being formulated. These cards would carry a student’s parking decal number, license plate number and a validation area for embossing to prevent counterfeiting.

Students would be allowed to purchase gasoline once a week, explained Calabrese, at which time his card would be punched to prevent duplicate sales. He emphasized that possession of a ration card would not guarantee a full purchase.

Michael Loewenthal, student center director, explained that the station will be open when the students need it most, especially the first and last weeks of each month when outside fuel sources are not available to students.

Calabrese commented that, “we are lucky to be the only college in the country with an on-campus gas station.” Both Calabrese and Loewenthal believe that this will enable the college to remain open with a minimum number of problems.

While MSC is formulating its own rationing plan, Loewenthal said that the station must follow any state guidelines issued, such as the Hawaii system. Faced with a minimum number of problems, MSC is formulating its own rationing plan. Loewenthal said that the station must follow any state guidelines issued, such as the Hawaii system for odd-even alternation. Rationing was prompted by the long lines which tied up campus traffic Monday night. Even with the rerouting of traffic onto the Life Hall mall, lines still exist. Police have been hired by the center to help minimize the abuse directed against its personnel, Loewenthal pointed out.

"People must maintain a community spirit if our operations are to continue in a fair and equitable manner," explained Loewenthal. "If everyone realizes that we have to work together to make this place run, we may be able to weather the present crisis with a minimum of discomfort," he asserted.

Loewenthal said that students should not attempt to purchase gas unless they need at least $3 or a half-tank of fuel. This would not only alleviate some of the lines but would help stretch gas supplies for the difficult beginning and end of month periods.

Operating hours and purchase limits will be adjusted according to off-campus availability of fuel, on-campus gas supplies and demand. Station access will only be through the mall entrance by Sprague Library. Students are advised not to start queing around the entrance before hours. "We simply will not tolerate any lines which hamper the normal traffic flow on campus," stressed Loewenthal. It was pointed out that every effort will be made to keep campus entrances and exits clear.
POWER Fills Fuel Info Gap

The Community Action Council (CAC), Pompton Lakes, N.J., is operating an Energy Crisis Information and Action Office. According to a press release, CAC has already served more than 100 callers with information about fuel oil and gasoline.

The majority of callers have been calling the POWER hotline for information about the fuel crisis and the names of open gas stations.

The committee heading the project, named People Organized with Energy Resources (POWER), will provide information and aid to upper Passaic County residents on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

Motorists in difficulty may call the CAC POWER telephone for assistance (201) 835-6225. In addition to establishing emergency supplies of gasoline for motorists, POWER will also keep a record of service stations and their hours of operation and supply.

Any question in regard to the energy crisis may be directed to POWER, 22 Lakeside Ave., Pompton Lakes, N.J. 07442.

Stop Gap, an investigatory column, will again begin to appear in the MONTCLARION. The column will provide updates on gas station availability and other energy-related issues.

To Cornell University for any questions, call Frank Choppy 228-2946.

To University of Conn. for any questions, call Sue In Freeman Hall 744-9488.

To New Haven Conn. for any questions, call Nancy in Bomar Hall Room 707.

To University of Conn. for any questions, call Lori 845-3249.

To Cornell University for any weekend, call Shula 335-5439.

To Erie, Pa. for any weekend, call Stephanie 676-4339.

To MSC daily, call Frank Choppy 258 Mountain Ave. N. Caldwell, 228-2946.

CAR POOLS

Warren-Watchung area, call 356-7238 after 6 pm. Ridgewood area, call 228-2946 leaving at 8 am returning at approximately 4 pm.

Stop Gap, an investigatory column, will again begin to appear in the MONTCLARION. Stop Gap cuts through the bureaucratic red tape to find satisfactory answers to students' questions. Please address any questions to Stop Gap, MONTCLARION.

The Paperback Book Shop

50,000 Paperbacks in Stock
Special Orders for Students
As the Fine German
580 Bloomfield Ave.
Bloomfield, N.J. 743-4740

RESEARCH

thousands of topics
$2.75 per page
Nation's most extensive library of research material
SEND FOR YOUR UP-TO-DATE, 144-PAGE, MAIL-ORDER CATALOG. ENCLOSE $1.00 TO COVER POSTAGE
RESEARCH ASSISTANCE, INC.
11941 Wilshire Blvd., Suite #2
Los Angeles, Calif. 90025
(213) 477-8474 or 477-5493

Our research material is sold for research assistance only — not as a finished product for academic credit.

For those who have time, energy & a desire to be of service to their fellow students,

Drop In Center Training Session
Feb. 21-24

for information come to the Drop In Center

Send the FTD LoveBundle™ and the Extra Touch™ of Joie de Fleur perfume.

When she's there and you're here and it's Valentine's Day, send her the FTD LoveBundle Bouquet—tender blossoms and a satin heart sachet with a capsule of FTD's exclusive new Joie de Fleur perfume. Joie de Fleur. Call or visit your FTD Florist today. He can send your flowers across the street or across the country.

For information come to the Drop In Center
SGA Bill Proposed To Dissolve Galumph

By Joan Miketzuk

Angelo Genova, SGA president, presented a bill Tuesday to the SGA legislature proposing the dissolution of Galumph, the campus magazine. The bill was sent to committee to be studied before an actual vote takes place.

Genova cited "self-interest," "a lack of energy" and less than the 15 active members required by the SGA statutes for Class One status.

Jim Johnston, a member of the staff of Quarterly, the campus literary arts magazine, agreed with Genova that the humor magazine did not have adequate active membership. "We have only four active members," he admitted.

Johnston suggested that Galumph be discontinued as a Class One organization but be retained as a publication under the Class One Quarterly.

"It makes no difference to me (if Galumph is dissolved) because Quarterly was planning to absorb it anyway," Johnston said at Tuesday's SGA meeting after the bill had been proposed.

ONE OF Genova's complaints against the magazine centered around the issue put out in the fall semester called the Best of Galumph. This issue was listed as a collection of the best humor of the magazine from the past 10 years.

Genova remarked that the magazine represented "the worst of Galumph" and added that he did not agree with the magazine's brand of humor, saying the issue in question "a goof."

The SGA leader asserted, however, that he was not against having a humor magazine and that such a publication "could be a credit to the campus."

Kevin O'Neill, an associate of the Galumph staff, said that the Best of Galumph issue was a reaction to the criticism that the magazine had been getting. O'Neill claimed that Galumph had been barred for not sticking to purely campus styles of humor and that the trend of the magazine had gone beyond the boundaries of the campus. "It wasn't a goof," he replied.

GENOVA EXPLAINED to the legislature that the magazine had co-editors last semester. One of the editors (Chuck Ward) was one student teaching during the fall and the other editor (John Boonstra) dropped out of school "around October," Genova said.

When contacted at his home yesterday, Ward said that the only information he had received about the bill was "second, third and fourth hand stuff."

"Nothing had either the guts or the courtesy to come and say anything to me personally," Ward stated, claiming that no word was left for him about the meeting at which the bill was proposed.

WARD ALSO explained that the organization has another issue in preparation that is "95% written and 75% drawn.

"I can't say I'm totally surprised about it (the movement to dissolve the publication)," he concluded, "but after 10 years and after what we've done this past year, we think we deserve better than this mob Hitchcock type of situation."
Winter Session

Film and Culture Studies Popular

By Stephanie E. Valyo

Despite the lack of heat and the limited facilities available during the month of January, Montclair State College’s Winter Session emerged successful. The courses offered during this innovative period afforded many opportunities for in-depth studies of subjects not included in the school’s regular calendar.

Among the more popular offerings was a film course featuring works by Alfred Hitchcock, Federico Fellini, and Sergei Eisenstein. This course was designed by Theodore Price, assistant professor of English, and boasted an enrollment of approximately 185 students. Some students came from other colleges to view the Hitchcock films which had been recently made available for general viewing. The organized scheduling of these films made it possible to study directorial style as easily and thoroughly as one studies the works of prominent authors. As one student remarked, “Where else can you see thirty movies for $65.00?”

“Black Mosaic,” a developmental study of black culture through song, improvisational dance, and dramatic interpretation. The performers drew capacity audiences during the two performances given on January 29. After attending the matinee, MSC President, Dr. David W.D. Dickson, sent a letter to McDonald in which he lauded the spirit and professionalism shown by the troupe. “Black Mosaic” may be repeated during the spring semester.

Not all of January’s courses were campus-bound. Many students took advantage of the winter session by traveling abroad to pursue their major fields of interest. One such group of fourteen students, accompanied by Dan Eaton of the Speech and Theatre Department, flew to London and Dublin to study aspects of the theatre, including acting and directing, broadcasting and set design. Their tour included independent side trips to Stratford and Coventry, and attendance at performances of the repertory groups at Birmingham and the Merce Arts Center in Great B’train.

Let a phone share your room for only 23¢ a day.

And put an end to this.

For only $6.85 a month, plus a one-time $15.00 installation charge, you can have your own private phone.

For only $6.85 a month, plus a one-time $15.00 installation charge, you can have your own private phone.

You’ll be able to make and receive personal calls. Even reach other campus phones by dialing only four digits. All without going through a switchboard.

How is this possible? Because Montclair State installed Centrex, the modern telephone service. So, look at it this way: if you and your roommate go halves, the cost is roughly 12¢ a day. Well worth it when you think about waiting in pay phone lines on those busy got-to-get-a-date-for-the-weekend nights.

Agreed? Just pick up an application at the Housing Office. And order a phone for your room.

New Jersey Bell
Open new vistas of hope for her.

She's the kind of young girl that feels lonely. Feels left out. Feels the whole world is a hostile place.

The kind of girl who has crumbled under the awesome pressures of a disrupted home and an inconsistent society. The adolescent girl who has built a wall around herself and who will never grow up emotionally unless love breaks through to free her.

The SISTERS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD who are religiously committed and professionally trained dedicate themselves to guiding adolescent girls who have personal, social, and family difficulties.

As psychologists, child care and social workers, teachers, nurses, recreation leaders, and in other fields, the sisters strive through love, understanding, and total commitment to Christ to help these girls find themselves and God again.

Do you have a deep interest in others? Would you like more information on our apostolate of caring?

Yes, please send me information.

Vacation Director
Sisters of the Good Shepherd
Mt. Florence, Peekskill, New York 10566

Name Age

Address Zip

College

For Info Call 288-9835

College Students Spend Spring Recess in Florida Free

Why not do yourself a favor — and gain a valuable experience this spring. A one time excursion to Pensacola, Florida is being offered for anyone considering the field of aviation after graduation on MARCH 18th, returning MARCH 21. Your ticket is a passing score on the Navy's Aviation Officer Candidate Test — without any further obligation! For details contact

LT's Monroe/Christiansen Navy Recruiting District
Gateway 1 Building Newark, N.J. 201-645-2109
No One's Talking

With the state Board of Higher Education and the AFT still talking over the bargaining tables as the MONTCLARION went to press, it becomes apparent that both parties are serious about settling. The agreement to postpone the deadline reflects this attitude.

However, the news from the bargaining sessions comes in dribs and drabs, assumptions and second and third hand information. What issues have been settled, how they have been settled, what issues are still being discussed and how far apart both parties are in the negotiations is difficult to ascertain. Rumors circulate quickly from various sources but there are few people willing to discuss or confirm anything.

Pay The Price

The New Jersey Student Association has, in a public statement, demanded that the state must come to terms with the union. They say nothing about the union compromising or coming down in their utopian demands. Should the state submit to these and union pressures, the result would be something slightly short of disaster.

Should the faculty get their wishes and be working only nine hours a week and getting a raise worth more than one-fourth their current salaries, the state will be forced to hire more teachers and pay them according to the contract. Free medical, dental and psychological care does not come from the air like snow. It, too, must be paid for by someone.

In order to compensate for these increased expenditures, the state will be forced to get more money from somewhere and someone. Guess where that somewhere and who that someone is? It's the students and their parents. Either tuition will be raised or taxes will go up, or both.

Those who choose to support the faculty in their demands or who pressure the state to concede without doing the same to the union should prepare to pay the price.

Stay In Class

In the case of a faculty walkout on Monday, students would do best and no, i am wrong! after graduating from MSC, i thought that there was no more such thing as if there were no tomorrow. Apparently Watertage has whetted the public’s appetite for stories of phone taps, whether real or imagined.

HORROR

But there are many who live under the horror of bugged phones and police surveillance and they would be the first to say that it is neither romantic nor thrilling.

Such is the case with Nobel prize-winner Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn. "The Gulag Archipelago, 1918-1956," a long hidden nonfiction work about the Soviet system of terror, will be published this spring by Harper & Row. The book is named after Soviet prison camps that dotted Russia like islands in the sea. "Gulag" is the Russian acronym for "Main Administration of Labor Camps."

EXPLOSIVE

The book could easily be the most politically explosive work of the author's career for a number of reasons. Primarily, the book lays the blame of Soviet terror upon Nicolai Lenin, a messiah in Soviet theology. This is perhaps unprecedented in Russian. Solzhenitsyn also suggests that the elaborate system of Soviet terror, with in mass arrests, interrogation and torture, rigged trials and labor camp imprisonment, claimed more victims than czarist repression or the Nazis.

This seems quite undeniable, if not reasonable, to the Kremlin. It is exceedingly fortunate for literature that Solzhenitsyn is well known both inside and outside the Soviet Union. This hampers any blatant attempts to get rid of him as the USSR does not want a cog in its still strained relations with the West.

Letters To The Editor

Letters must be submitted to the MONTCLARION, fourth floor, Student Center, no later than 4 pm Monday before desired publication date. The MONTCLARION reserves the right to edit letters for style and brevity.
Government Made Energy Crises

much of the recent debate and comment concerning the energy crisis illustrates the wealth of economic ignorance and misconception that pervades our society. One would think that the colleges would be leading the way in cutting through the fog and exposing some of the sophisms so frequently put forth by the political demagogues and the generally uninformed. But alas, one finds that the colleges only reflect the political demagogues and the uninformed. One would generally think that the colleges would be a glowing example of teacher "effectiveness" in communication and "relevancy".

QUESTIONS

But are the energy crisis and its related inconveniences the result of private enterprise and the market economy? Are the oil companies really the devils they are made out to be? Is more government control really the answer? Or is government control in the form of price controls the real culprit? Much of the recent debate and comment concerning the energy crisis but serve to make it decisively worse.

As for those who don't like paying 50 cents a gallon for gas or who find waiting on line a bit inconvenient, perhaps they should have the opportunity to talk to their student counterparts in, say England and Poland, about the wonders of government control. In the former country gas prices average a dollar a gallon without a crisis and in the latter waiting on line to buy such things as food is somewhat of a tradition. The average student in both countries cannot afford to own his own car.

It is a very sad commentary that the free market economy continues to lose ground by default. Through an unfortunate lack of understanding, many of its chief beneficiaries remain incapable of unwilling to defend it in its hour of need.

Karen Wangner

'what this country needs'

wretches, while milk is 50 cents a gallon and bread is a dollar a loaf, and gas is a dollar a gallon, you will no longer ruin your pockets with that loose, small change, and when the president says, "let them eat (cake)," he sincerely means it. twinkies are only 59 cents a pound.

STUPOR

be glad, be glad, you ungrateful wretches, the time it takes you to wait in line for gas, asphyxiating to a stupor, you can fly Jabesh to st. croix, bask in the sun and exploit the native population, you'll shake off one more ism to our enemies list: sturm und drangism, what this country needs is a good five cent Shirley temple movie.

be glad, be glad, you ungrateful wretches, the tab for the myriad watergate investigations (not including the cost of xeroxing all those documents) has reached, the eight million dollar mark. justice is an expensive and painstaking process, although blind and savage revenge would have been quicker and cheaper in the long run. still, it is worth every bit of it to hear those sayings of chairman sam.

be glad, be proud, be grateful, we have a leader who is an expert at playing on-up-in-the-knowmanship, a leader who can now count his crises on the bony brain that his wife gave him for christmas (to help him figure out his income tax), a leader who mixed wheat with oil and milk and came up with instant muck, which the muckrakers are still raking over, a toast to our leader-in-grief: all's well with the world, omen!

Angelo Genova

Students Must Fight In Third Party Role

The position outlined by the SGA in regards to the proposed faculty strike has been subject to much discussion, criticism and praise. The third party as outlined by the SGA can be viewed in two ways, either as a neutral non-committal cop-out or as a self-interested attempt to assert our independence and autonomy.

I contend that our position is a cop-out on the issue. We have critically analyzed the position of the state and the American Federation of Teachers. We do not feel that our interests are compatible to the principles of the AFT yet we cannot endorse their job action for it will only hamper students' practical and pragmatic needs. The state has felt our pressure in regards to higher education and issues under negotiation.

Maynard Ferguson

and his Band in concert

Wed., Feb. 13 8 pm
Memorial Auditorium

Workshop 3 pm

SGA $2 and $1 Others $4 and $3
Euphoniumist William Mackay of Neptune City will be presented in his senior recital in McEachern Recital Hall tonight at 8:15 pm.

Mackay is a 1970 graduate of Neptune High School, where he studied with William Figart and David Shotwell. At MSC he has been the pupil of Lawrence Toddi and Ward Moore. He will graduate in June with a BA in music education.

The recital program will be highlighted by “Sonata for Euphonium (baritone horn) and Piano” by Leslie Bassett. Since the solo repertoire for the euphonium is at a minimum, Mackay has selected compositions written for other brass media to complete his program. These will include “Suite” by Vaclav Nelhybel, “Sonata No. 1” by John-Ernest Galliard and “Andante et Allegro” by K. Guy Ropartz, which is usually performed by cornet or trumpet.

According to the program notes, these selections give the recitalist an opportunity to “interweave elements of dissonance and syncopation into a pleasing interpretation of music for the euphonium.”

Mackay will be assisted by Jane Mullen, MSC Class of 1971, at the piano. Mullen, a resident of East Orange, currently serves as director of choral music at East Hanover Junior High School.

Maynard Ferguson, famed “high-note” jazz trumpet player, will play in concert with his band on Wed., Feb. 13 at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium.

Earlier in the day, Ferguson will conduct a clinic at 3 pm in the auditorium. Both events will be sponsored by the Music and Arts Organizations Commission.

Ferguson has been a professional musician since he formed his first band 30 years ago at age 15, following musical training at the French Conservatory of Music in Montreal. There he studied all instruments in the saxophone family as well as the clarinet and slide trombone, finally settling on the trumpet.

His previous three tours of the United States have taken him to such jazz spots as Palls Mall in Boston, Mr. Kelly’s in Chicago, Brandi’s in Philadelphia and the Famous Ballroom in Baltimore; such concert halls as Town Hall in New York and Massey Hall in Toronto; and 41 high schools and universities.

CONCERT TICKETS $4 and $3 general admission, $2 and $1 with SGA I.D. This price includes attendance at the clinic. Admission fees to the clinic alone are $1 general admission and $.50 with SGA I.D.
MONTCLAIR/FRID., Feb. 8, 1974.

"We thought we'd try a flop," Players' president Martin Van Treuren mused, "and see if we could make a success out of it."

Players, in their second collaboration with the Music and Arts Organizations Commission, is currently making that attempt in their presentation of the musical "Anyone Can Whistle," playing nightly at 8:30 pm through Sunday with a 2 pm matinee tomorrow in Memorial Auditorium.

"ANYONE CAN WHISTLE" qualified as a Broadway flop—it barely sustained a nine performance run when it premiered in April, 1964.

"Anyone Can Whistle," playing currently making that attempt in collaboration with the Music and Arts Organizations Commission, is (with a 2 pm matinee tomorrow in Memorial Auditorium) has managed to keep the show's fury to enlighten the audience and make them squirm. But the performers on the stage of the Brooks Atkinson Theatre come off much better than the author.

"I'VE GOT YOU TO LEAN ON!" — Left to right, Virginia Craig as Cora pays tribute to her cohorts Joe Fitzpatrick as Chief Magnerud and Stuart Zaglitz as Comptroller Sobol in this scene from "Anyone Can Whistle," presented by Players and MAOC daily at 8:30 pm in Memorial Auditorium through Sunday.

"Exorcist'

By Larry Hopper

Despite the "Day-Glo" blood, the exceptional cleanliness of the noxious fluids spewing from the character's mouth, and the unbelievable physical contortions exhibited, the scenes of possession and confrontation between the demon and priests work exceptionally well.

The expected acting of Max von Sydow and Lee J. Cobb is the bright spot in the film that casts a long shadow over the other players. Cobb is as admiringly restrained and soft-pedaled in the role of "Columbo"-like homicide detective that it is easy to overlook his part and find it difficult to remember that he was in the picture. Both he and Von Sydow are masters that lose out generally because they did not choose to chew up the scenery as did some of the other principals.

Adapted at shah, master of dawn, and manipulator of reality, the Devil proves an able teacher that Warner Brothers has learned from well. As a superficial gimmicky experience with popular appeal, this $10 million supernatural "Godfather" cannot be denied, but as a cohesive, fulfilling, whole, this film fails.

Van Treuren said that the Players play reading committee considered various musicals, popular standard shows as well as those rarely revived. According to Van Treuren, Thomas Babbitt, former MSC student, who directed and conducted the orchestra for last year's independent study production of "She Loves Me," brought "Whistle" to their attention, which they selected above such possibilities as "High Spirits" and "Lady in the Dark."

Since 1964, however, things have changed surrounding "Whistle." Laurents wrote the popular musicals "Do I Hear a Waltz?" (lyrics by Sondheim to Richard Rodger's music, "Hallelujah, Baby!") and scored a huge success last year with his script for the film "The Way We Were." Sondheim, hailed by Newsweek Magazine in an article last year as "Broadway's Music Man," has become recognized as a composer-lyricist of the highest quality, with his award-winning scores for "Company," "Follies" and "A Little Night Music." (Because of Sondheim's recent popularity, Columbia Records has reissued their cast album of "Anyone Can Whistle."

Shocks But Disappoints

"Why don't you go home?" his wife asks when she resigns herself to her husband's rejection. "I'll meet you there."

According to Van Treuren, Thomas Babbitt, former MSC student, who directed and conducted the orchestra for last year's independent study production of "She Loves Me," brought "Whistle" to their attention, which they selected above such possibilities as "High Spirits" and "Lady in the Dark."

Since 1964, however, things have changed surrounding "Whistle." Laurents wrote the popular musicals "Do I Hear a Waltz?" (lyrics by Sondheim to Richard Rodger's music, "Hallelujah, Baby!") and scored a huge success last year with his script for the film "The Way We Were." Sondheim, hailed by Newsweek Magazine in an article last year as "Broadway's Music Man," has become recognized as a composer-lyricist of the highest quality, with his award-winning scores for "Company," "Follies" and "A Little Night Music." (Because of Sondheim's recent popularity, Columbia Records has reissued their cast album of "Anyone Can Whistle.")

"Exorcist'

By Larry Hopper

Despite the "Day-Glo" blood, the exceptional cleanliness of the noxious fluids spewing from the character's mouth, and the unbelievable physical contortions exhibited, the scenes of possession and confrontation between the demon and priests work exceptionally well.

The expected acting of Max von Sydow and Lee J. Cobb is the bright spot in the film that casts a long shadow over the other players. Cobb is as admiringly restrained and soft-pedaled in the role of "Columbo"-like homicide detective that it is easy to overlook his part and find it difficult to remember that he was in the picture. Both he and Von Sydow are masters that lose out generally because they did not choose to chew up the scenery as did some of the other principals.

Adapted at shah, master of dawn, and manipulator of reality, the Devil proves an able teacher that Warner Brothers has learned from well. As a superficial gimmicky experience with popular appeal, this $10 million supernatural "Godfather" cannot be denied, but as a cohesive, fulfilling, whole, this film fails.

Shocks But Disappoints

"Why don't you go home?" his wife asks when she resigns herself to her husband's rejection. "I'll meet you there."

According to Van Treuren, Thomas Babbitt, former MSC student, who directed and conducted the orchestra for last year's independent study production of "She Loves Me," brought "Whistle" to their attention, which they selected above such possibilities as "High Spirits" and "Lady in the Dark."

Since 1964, however, things have changed surrounding "Whistle." Laurents wrote the popular musicals "Do I Hear a Waltz?" (lyrics by Sondheim to Richard Rodger's music, "Hallelujah, Baby!") and scored a huge success last year with his script for the film "The Way We Were." Sondheim, hailed by Newsweek Magazine in an article last year as "Broadway's Music Man," has become recognized as a composer-lyricist of the highest quality, with his award-winning scores for "Company," "Follies" and "A Little Night Music." (Because of Sondheim's recent popularity, Columbia Records has reissued their cast album of "Anyone Can Whistle.")

"Exorcist'

By Larry Hopper

Despite the "Day-Glo" blood, the exceptional cleanliness of the noxious fluids spewing from the character's mouth, and the unbelievable physical contortions exhibited, the scenes of possession and confrontation between the demon and priests work exceptionally well.

The expected acting of Max von Sydow and Lee J. Cobb is the bright spot in the film that casts a long shadow over the other players. Cobb is as admiringly restrained and soft-pedaled in the role of "Columbo"-like homicide detective that it is easy to overlook his part and find it difficult to remember that he was in the picture. Both he and Von Sydow are masters that lose out generally because they did not choose to chew up the scenery as did some of the other principals.

Adapted at shah, master of dawn, and manipulator of reality, the Devil proves an able teacher that Warner Brothers has learned from well. As a superficial gimmicky experience with popular appeal, this $10 million supernatural "Godfather" cannot be denied, but as a cohesive, fulfilling, whole, this film fails.
King And Co. Rule After Four Straight

By Rich Keller

The first place finishes by Junior Jan King and strong performances by the remaining gymnasts helped the Montclair State women's gymnastics squad overtake their third and fourth victories of the '73-'74 season. The Squaws trimmed Nassau Community College, 84.40-81.80 and breezed past Hofstra University 84.40-68.20, in a tri-meet at NCC.

Jan King and strong performances by the renaming gymnasts helped the Montclair State women's gymnastics squad to their second and fourth victories of the '73-'74 season. The first place finishes by Junior Jan King and strong performances by the renaming gymnasts helped the Montclair State women's gymnastics squad to their second and fourth victories of the '73-'74 season.

Two firsts in vaulting and floor exercise and a second in uneven bars by King and a first, second and third (balance beam, floor exercise and vaulting, respectively) by Wans lead the Montclair State women's gymnastics team to their second consecutive win, as they crushed Nassau Community College, 71.85-39.25.

Linda Mancos
Gymnast Mentor

RACKET REMINDER

Steve Siegel, of Teaneck, current New Jersey indoor champion and Arthur Carrington of Elizabeth, current No. 1 ranked player of the American Tennis Association, will participate in a pro tennis exhibition on Sunday, Feb. 10, in Panzer Gym at 8 pm. The MSC Alumni Association will sponsor the match and the proceeds of the exhibition will go to improve the college tennis program. Admission is $2 per person.

THEY DRAFT INDIANS

Indian shortstop Karl Gordon and soccer forward Joe Cozza were high draft picks at winter meetings of their respective sports. Gordon, of Irvington, was the first round selection of the Chicago Cubs. The infielder was picked by the San Francisco Giants at last year's free agent draft but did not sign.

Cozza was taken in the second round by the Philadelphia Toms, last year's North American Soccer League champs. If the Newark native inks a contract, he'll join MSC coach Manny Schellscheidt, a player coach with the Atoms last season.

Tracksters Lack Depth At Meets

Towards the closing of a lackluster winter session, Montclair's indoor track team was meagerly represented at two invitational meets. MSC had four mentionable performers at the N.J. College & University Indoor Track Meet held in Jadwin Gym at Princeton University. Ace two miler Joe Kornakowski ripped off a 9:25.50 clocking to notch fifth place. Irish trackster Tim O'Donoghue contributed a 4:43 time in the mile. In the shot put, MSC freshman Bill Martens hurled the 16 lb. ball a surprising 47 ft., 13½ in. for fourth place, beating out junior Jerry Composto, whose throw measured 47 ft., 2¾ in. for a fifth place finish.

More recently the team competed in the College Track Conference Meet at Queens College. Once again the turnout of MSC runners was not sufficient to properly fill up the relays. Coach George Horn was forced to enter most of the available MSC runners in more than one relay race.

The J.V. distance, two mile, and spring medley relays each copped second place for triple silver. Freshman Ralph Bolognese churned out two impressive half-miles ten minutes apart in two relays for the MSC workhorse of the day award. Horn worked with an undersized squad and hopes more bodies will appear to run in the CTC individual championships.

Drop In Center

Just Some Of The Areas In Which We Can Help By Pamphlet, Referral or Talk

- Campus Services
- Venereal Disease
- Drug Laws
- Academic Counsellors
- Doctors
- Consumer Complaints
- Student Organizations
- Psychological Referral
- Area Museums
- Campus Telephone Numbers
- Interpersonal Adjustments
- Poison Control
- Dentists
- Pregnancy
- Legal Referrals
- Family Hassles
- Drug Clinics
- Employment Agencies
- Bus Schedules
- College Employment
- Suicide
- Consumer Tips
- Gynecologists
- Birth Control
- Loneliness
- Gay Lib
- Food Stamps
- Area Libraries
- Campus Activities
- Religious Programs
- Alcoholism
- Financial
- Housing

Drop In Or Call 893-5271 24 hours A Day - Everyday
Wrestlers Climb High In Rankings

By John Delery

Stealing a line from the Carpenters' song the MSC wrestling team is almost "On Top of the World" of college wrestling. While the "common" people were at home relaxing in preparation for spring semester, the MSC wrestlers were "common" people were at home relaxing in preparation for spring semester, the MSC wrestlers were taking on seven opponents, including national powerhouses Oregon State University and North Dakota State; winning six and losing only one. They also fielded champions in the first six weight classes at the University of Delaware Tournament.

This, along with victories over CCNY (45-0), C.W. Post (31-9), Trenton State (26-15) and Fairleigh Dickinson (30-9) helped move the Indians into second place in the Division II standings. More recently, Monday to be exact, the Indian grapplers pinned a 50-0 defeat on the hands (or rather the back) of the Glassboro State Professors. With their record at 11-7-1 the Indians travel to Wilkes Barre, Pa., Wednesday night to take on Wilkes College in a battle of Eastern titans.

Going up against the Division II leader North Dakota State on January 25, only a week after the Indians faced Oregon State some people might have thought that the schedule makers had flipped their wig but the Indians were equal to the task and led by pins from Tom Stokas (167) and Steve Strellner (177) they took a 25-16 decision to push the Indians into second in the nation. In a competition pitting one of the best in the East against the best in the West, the Beavers from Oregon State squeaked out a 21-14 decision in a match that wasn't decided until the heavyweight bout.

So on Wednesday night the showdown will take place. Number one Wilkes against newly-named runnerup Montclair State. As Slachets Society stated, "Wilkes is a very balanced squad. They have reality no week spots to talk of. But if we win the first three weights then all I would say we would need to win is to take two of the next four matches. Those weights [142-167] will be the critical points."

MSC Swimmers Slip Up

By Len Guida

During Jan. 21 to Feb. 19 occurs the zodiac sign of Aquarius. However, for Montclair State's swim team, it definitely was not the "age of aquarians." The girls were outstroked and outkicked by Glassboro and University of Delaware in two lopsided defeats.

On Jan. 29 at Glassboro State, the MSC dolphins splashed a 70-58. Obviously it was not the "day of the dolphins," Diane Jaglowski swept the three freestyle events for the only MSC individual victories of the day. Denise Kileen took second in the 100 freestyle and Laura Sanson captured second in the 100 backstroke, setting a new team record in the event. Montclair State split the relays, winning the 200 medley relay and dropping the 200 free relay. As a bright note, both relays qualified for the NCAA cuttimes.

At the University of Delaware last Friday, the squad flipped again by a 75-64 score. The 200 medley relay of Sanson, Relling, Kileen and Jaglowski won again, but the 200 free relay was left far behind by almost 15 seconds. In the 100 and 400 freestyle, Diane Jaglowski came away with first but could only manage a second in the 100 individual medley. Nancy Relling swam to victory in both the 50 and 100 breaststroke events. MSC could only muster five firsts out of 15 events.

Not only is there a gas shortage but also a girl shortage at swimmers. Coach Kay Meyer exclaimed, "There are not enough girls to compete. Only eight swimmers and three divers went to Glassboro." Coach Meyer sends out a plea for more girls to join the swim team. Practice is a 4 to 6 pm for swimmers, and 3 to 4 pm for divers.

All interested should contact Meyer or come down to the Panzer pool at the above times. Maybe the track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they track and swim teams should get together and see what bodes they
It's A Garden Party

By Joe Castronovo

"We didn't intend to sit back and let them take it. We went out there to play and they knew it. Our game plan was to control the tempo of the game, not run with them, take the good shot and limit their shooting as much as possible. I'd say we succeeded in doing that..."

No, the words weren't those of Digger Phelps following the grand victory of his Fighting Irish over the heavily favored Bruins of UCLA three weeks ago. They were, rather, spoken by Ollie Gelston, proud mentor of a smaller, somewhat less recognized but equally determined group of young cagers known as the Montclair State Indians.

Although their sparkling, 74-69 upset of the much taller, higher jumping, feeter-footed Tigers of Grambling Saturday at Madison Square Garden can't be seriously be rated on quite the same scale nor of the same magnitude as that of Notre Dame's, nevertheless the closing minutes of the contest were every bit as dramatic and surprising. With 6:00 left to play in the game, Grambling unwisely chose to sit on a slim four point edge, 67-63, going into a stall and thus slowing the pace considerably.

As a result of this maneuver, Grambling managed to wrinkle the net but once in the time remaining. For the most part, they took bad shots and kissed their lead good-byes as the Indians, forcing turnovers left and right, ended the contest in high fashion, running off nine unanswered points.

The key buckets were scored by Jim Rake on a driving layup which deadlocked the game at 60 with 1:47 left, and Chuck Holland on a jumper from the right corner that put the tribe ahead to stay, 71-69. Early in the first half, MSC jumped out to as much as an eight point lead, 64-55, with 11:49 remaining. Their big gunner, Aaron James, began popping in jumpers from everywhere inside the key, adding a quick 12 points before seven minutes had elapsed.

However James was never heard from again after that outburst, as he was held to just 26 points, three below his season average. "We had planned on more or less a team effort handling James," Gelston admitted, "although Pat Hagen did a remarkable job of covering him." Hagen entered the game for precisely that reason, silencing James for the rest of the night. The Indians never lost their poise, slowly creeping back to within four. At that point, they completely took over the momentum of the game as the Tigers died a fast death, succumbing to that ever-potent weapon so similar to MSC fans: willpower.

Almost But...

Wilkes Barre, Pa. (BULLETIN) - Montclair State's confrontation with top ranked Wilkes College came out as a disaster for the Indian wrestling fans. The Pennsylvania power won 26-10. MSC's three wins were recorded by Ed Alber (118), Nabil Guketlov (126) and John Reid (190). Guketlov won by superior decision. More wrestling news on page 11.

Squaws Overthrow Queens, Trenton

By Chris Natoli

Touch and Go: Montclair State guard Jeff Aurbacher (23-white) scores over Grambling College's Aaron James (23-dark), contributing another two points to the Indian's 74-69 upset at Madison Square Garden on Saturday.

James, the second leading scorer in College Division II was held to 26 points, the easiest task, but the Montclair teams within one week may not be split.

In their 57-43 conquest of Queens, the Squaws came back to ranked Southern Connecticut State four below his average.

The Squaws didn't let up in the second half and went on to win 57-43, Bietromouvits's 11 points, Fuller's 10 and Burdick's 10 paced MSC to its sixth win against one loss. "We simply outscored, rebounded and shot Trenton, blowing them off the court," Paskert said after the victory.

The team will travel to Glassboro State before returning home to face unbeaten William Paterson College.

Montclair Montclaron/Scott Winter

LOSING THE HANDLE: MSC's Pat Hagen applies pressure to the College Division's second leading scorer, Grambling's Aaron James. James and his teammates were held in check as the Indian's upset.