Skirmish Closes SC Pub

By Michelle Bell

The decision to temporarily shut down the Rathskeller was made last Thursday after a fight broke out among patrons which called for backup help from the Little Falls Police Department.

The reopening on Sept. 30 will entail significant changes, including new guest and seating policies. According to Michael Loewenthal, Student Center director, he added, but subsequent investigation convinced them that the incident was not “blaming anybody for the result of the incident security in any way caused by the brawl.”

Although they stated that they were calm and free of any tension, many noticed. The main concern was to handle the situation quickly and calmly,” replied Loewenthal.

Lockhardt went on to say that the students involved in the break-in of the Rathskeller’s main purpose, “To generate positive social interaction,” is respected by those who use it. However, he continued, incidents make it appear that “there’s an abnormal amount of people” causing fights.

When the Rathskeller reopens, it will not be under the same conditions. Table service and a broader food selection have been added. Admission will depend on the availability of tables. The seating capacity, which is presently 225, will be increased by the addition of tables.

Patrons will also be able to select beef and sausage sandwiches along with the usual snack items. Entertainment has also been added. According to Loewenthal, “we had entertainment this summer and it was successful.” Large bands however will not be included due to pace and the budget. Loewenthal foresees some guitar pickers and a few people more or less doing “their thing.” TV will also be used as entertainment, “especially for Monday night football,” said Loewenthal. The next goal for the Rathskeller is to make the case “a real problem.”

Victims Out of Luck

By Tom Malcolm

Two Webster residents, who were robbed of approximately $1500 worth of goods on the morning of Sept. 19, have little hope that the investigations currently being conducted by the Little Falls police and MSC security will result in the capture of the individual or individuals involved in the break-in of their room.

Both David Buonocore and Chip D’Angelo, the victims of the robbery, feel that current security measures on the MSC campus are inadequate. Although they stated that they were not “blaming anybody for the burglary,” they expressed hope that security would be tightened as a result of the incident.

“Don’t worry, the incident is a very real problem.”

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, also said that the point of entry to the building has yet to be determined. A police officer who was on the scene said, “I don’t know,” and added that the lack of workable clues makes the case “a real problem.”

The case of this incident was not yet been announced.

Another Int'l Film Festival Presentation

A new statute which would allow the legislature to remove the head of a Class One Organization by a two-thirds vote has triggered a wave of protest this week.

The proposal was introduced at Tuesday's SGA meeting as part of a general updating of SGA statutes. Opponents of the new measure charged that the proposal was aimed at stifling independence within the Class Ones. But SGA president Mike Messina denied the charges, saying that he was giving what he termed "due process" to a firing procedure already in effect.

The new rule calls for the SGA president to recommend to the SGA that a Class One president be removed. A special committee then investigates and makes its recommendations to the SGA. A Class One leader may be removed from office if two-thirds of the SGA agree.

"The response from the Class Ones was generally unfavorable. "The SGA is acting out of fear, rather than reason," said former WMSC general manager Charles Hecht. He also said that he thought the rule's purpose was to "keep the Class One leaders from becoming too independent."

David Kovel of the Student Filmakers Association noted with tongue-in-cheek that the rule was "an excellent idea. Now the SGA can control the Class Ones through blackmail by threatening to remove the leaders."

He also expressed concern that a strong-voiced SGA president could use this rule to dominate the Class Ones.

Sitting in his office, Messina denied the charges. He said he was not trying to stifle the Class Ones and that their activities will not be stifled by the new measure.

Messina said that the SGA president already has the power to dismiss the head of a Class One Organization. He said the new rule comes from "the Articles of Incorporation, with supporting by-laws to guarantee due process."

MESSINA ALSO defended the right to dismiss a Class One head by stating that he is responsible for running the SGA.

He also noted that while he has the right to dismiss a Class One head, he added the provision into the SGA by-laws to guarantee due process. Before this rule was passed, he said the SGA president could fire a Class One head at will.

Messina also received some backing from a few of the Class Ones. Imers Swan, president of the Black Student Union, said that the rule is better than dissolving the whole organization.

The remaining half of the legislature will be filled by appointments made by Messina beginning at next Tuesday's legislature meeting. Messina explained that the appointments do not have to be from those departments not represented but that all appointments must be notified by a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

The students elected by one vote are: Kevin Kreedy, mathematics; Pam Wichham and Nancy Bellacic, communications sciences and disorders; Pamela Lerner and Susan Excellent, business administration; Janet Neighbours, fine arts; Maryanne Purtunick, French; Lynda Davis, home economics; and James Johnston, speech and theatre.

"While the SGA president can fire a Class One head, he added the provision into the SGA by-laws to guarantee due process. Before this rule was passed, he said the SGA president could fire a Class One head at will."

The new procedure, which has been allowed by the SGA, will have to be made before the station's general membership holds its election of officers. A meeting of the membership is slated for Monday at 4 pm in the Student Center meeting rooms to decide election procedures.

Messina emphasized that in dissolving the internal structure of the station, all responsibility falls on the SGA. The station's financial affairs will be decided by Peter Liber, SGA treasurer and the fact-finding committee retains the right to set policy for the station.

THE SGA authority will end upon the election of the new officers. The fact-finding committee was created last spring by the SGA legislature when the station charter was suspended by alleged financial violations and staff discontent during the summer. A six-man task force made up of station staff members attempted to get the radio station on the air. The fact-finding committee transferred responsibility to the SGA when the task-force agreement expired.

Charles Hecht, former executive manager, explained: "I asked Mike to dissolve the structure and take over because he kept giving me responsibilities without any authority."

Along with the SGA takeover came a change of locks to the station door, prohibiting access to the studios by anyone but SGA personnel.

DOUG SANTANELLO, former WMSC music director, claimed, "They (SGA) never felt we had a right to be in the office, so they finally locked us out."

Messina explained that the committee felt that since no current member of the station held any position of authority only he should have access to the office.

Following the election of officers, the membership of the station will appoint three members to the board of trustees. The SGA appoints another three trustees and both the general manager and professional advisor hired by the college serve in a non-voting capacity.

The MSC ham radio club, along with other ham radio clubs in the United States, are acting as links between the hurricane victims to aid the hurricane-swept country.

Since the hurricane, the club has kept the radio going whenever they can, usually 4-8 hours per day. The location of the college gives them the perfect position to transmit messages to New York or Washington DC.

Actually, the MSC station can pick up almost anywhere in the world, including the USSR, Hungary and other countries.

"They can also listen in on other transmissions. In one instance, a doctor from Honduras communicated by radio with a fellow physician in Los Angeles to ask advice on treatment of a patient."

Any information passed from Honduras can be picked up by MSC and, in turn, passed on. The volunteers and priests who transmit from Honduras speak English, so there is no language problem.

The MSC station, at present, is able to find out damage reports in different areas where the storm hit. They can pass along information on the aerial deployment of relief planes. In about 48 hours, the station may be able to find out about the worries of particular residents and relatives.

Recently, the radio equipment began to be shipped to the stranded hurricane victims so they could communicate with the outside world.

The ham radio club of MSC has been in existence since 1965. It meets on Tuesdays at noon in room 236 of the Math-Science building.

The recent storm that tore through Honduras causing flooding, destruction and death, has also left many people homeless and stranded. They are without food, medical supplies and pure water. They have lost all communication through telephone with the outside world. Our country is doing its best to aid the storm victims by sending relief through supplies, clothing and antibiotics.

SGA Office Student Center Fourth Floor
State $ May Help MSC’s Handicapped

By Janet Ratcliffe

Although MSC’s wheelchair population consists of only half dozen students and one faculty member, much attention has been focused on them and their handicaps.

During the past five years, all buildings constructed on campus have been designed with features which will accommodate handicapped persons. These features include ramps, elevators, and special bathroom facilities.

According to Jerome Quinn, institutional planning director, “About half of the buildings on campus are now suited for handicapped use.”

BUT WHAT about the other half of the buildings? The MSC Board of Trustees has requested from the state an allocation of $287,000 to modify conditions.

These modifications would be effected on 15 of the older buildings and would incorporate the following features: elevators installed in seven buildings, special bathrooms in 13 buildings, building entrance ramps to be constructed for nine buildings and building modifications for 12.

Edward Martin, student personnel representative, feels that these improvements would benefit not only those students permanently in wheelchairs, but also blind students, students with artificial limbs, pregnant students and the temporarily handicapped.

David Benavage, who resides in Webster Hall and can be seen commuting about MSC in his wheelchair, says he does not find it particularly difficult to get around. This is partially due to a privilege which allows him priority in enrolling in classes held in buildings such as Partridge Hall, which are easily accessible.

However, Benavage hopes that the renovations will come about in the near future. This will mean virtually no restrictions to him and other handicapped students at MSC.

Senate Set for Banana Blast-off

How many bananas can you stash past your throat in 10 minutes? If it’s more than the next person, you can stash $15 in your pocket on Wed., Oct. 2, at the Phi Alpha Psi (Senate) Banana Blast. Even if you finish second-best, Senate is offering a $10 prize.

Senate president Ken Maimud said that the banana-eating contest was copied after the sophomore class’s “Banana Bang” held two years ago. The contest will be presided over by a mysterious “Banana Queen” who will officiate and award the prizes.

There are 15 positions open for the blast which will take place at noon on the Student Center mall. Registration is at the Center information desk until tomorrow.

Rain date for the contest is Thurs., Oct. 3.
Once again the warnings of a hike in tuition are coming up from Trenton. But they are no longer creeping like the fog on little cat feet. The cries are starting to sound more like a foghorn when there should be 60. And of those 30, less than a third of the seats were contested in the spring elections. None were contested on which department or school one comes from. If they need someone to fill a seat from that sector, you're in.

Students may scoff at the legislature as being powerless and dictatorial. Is this more than 30 feet away? This is also temporary until new offices to the WMSC studios-no more dictatorial that they had to revert to changing the lock behind the backs of the radio station members. At the meeting on the 19th it was recommended that the front door lock was to be changed at WMSC. It happened on the 23rd. Why wasn't Charles Hecht (temporary General Manager appointed by Michael Messina) notified prior to the actual happening? Does it take longer than four days to walk from the SGA offices to the WMSC studios-no more than 30 feet away? Is this democracy? But as far as we're concerned, this action not only demonstrates the process, but also strips them of their personal integrity.

We would like to know exactly who gave the order to change the front door lock of WMSC. Because according to the letter that was sent to the president it was only a recommendation from the fact-finding committee. Even more important than this, one dramatic question comes to the foreground:

WHAT WAS THE LOCK CHANGED?

If the FCC meant little to the SGA, at least Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Procedures did. Now those of us who have been here ever expect the courtesy afforded in the Parliamentary procedure.

The cards have never been dealt from the top of the deck. Yes, we've made mistakes but at least we were honest about it. WMSC held a meeting: to make "decisions and recommendations" for WMSC. However, once again, there was no station member knowledgeable in broadcasting present at this meeting. This type of meeting can only lead to disaster.

As far as making the chief engineer an ex-officio member with no vote on the newly titled "Board of Trustees of WMSC," might we remind the fact-finding committee that no matter what the board votes on, if it conflicts with the decision of the chief engineer, according to FCC rules, the board can take their votes and flush them down the toilet. Sincerely,

Michael Mesina

CLASS 1 DEMOCRACY

By Anthony Zaza

There are those who would think religion to be no more than a crutch for man. We often find that these people are referring to the institutions of different faiths, not of religion itself. In such a case, therefore, any belief and any institution ought to be regarded as a crutch.

To observe religion as an opiate, as a crutch and hinderance to man, is to take a purely superficial glance at religion per se and of its actual place in human life.

SEARCH FOR INFINITY

As Frederick Schleiermacher has observed, religion is a natural part of each man, expressed perhaps in different fashions but nonetheless still existent. Religion may be considered the natural longing for the infinite, which all men inherently possess, regardless of what they may feel they are striving for.

The absurd and unfounded notion that religion teaches that men are bad (or "naughty-naughties") as Mr. Radoslovich calls it, is a highly biased and extremely limited criticism. The statement carries overtones of immaturity and unintelligent handling of the idea of religion. Such generalizations ought to be avoided unless the critic has some supportive evidence for his bold statement.

GOOD AND EVIL

What religion does teach is that in each man there exists the potential for good and evil and that men ought to avoid evil tendencies they might encounter within themselves. There is a difference between evil tendencies and evil itself. The potential for good and evil remain constant; it is the individual himself who determines the outcome.

Blaming religion for one's own inferiority complex and guilt syndrome is a cheap method of self-justification. However, there are many simplistic critics who will retry the notion of religion being a crutch, for the sake of creating a community to which they can identify.

Religion has so far been the source of man's actions, though it does not claim to offer any solutions. It leaves the individual totally free. It merely offers one viable path to follow for one's meaning in life.

Rebuttal

By Marcoantonio Lacatena

The failure of the NJ Senate to meet its responsibilities by providing a broad-base tax in order to fund essential state services has resulted in a cut-back in the budgets of all state institutions and agencies. It has also brought countless threats for tuition increases and infeasible schemes for reducing enrollments in the state's colleges.

SMART TACTIC

At such times, the smart politicians attempt to set one group against the other, each fighting for their "share" of the reduced pie. Students should not be asking that their teachers be required to bear the load by either foregoing wage raises needed to keep up with the increased cost of living or by taking on larger class sizes. Nor should teachers expect students to bear the burden in the form of increased tuition. Rather, it would be more profitable if teachers and students addressed themselves to the primary cause of the problem.

The primary cause of our financial difficulties lies in the fact that New Jersey, practically alone among states of its kind, refuses to pass a necessary broad-based tax in the form of a state income tax, in order to adequately finance those services which are essential.

By considering the student organizations, as well as the faculty organizations, and the members of these groups to consider themselves to be an organized effort to pass the income tax. This tax will provide adequate funds for all the services needed in New Jersey, including a higher education which is accessible to all, regardless of income.

avoid it like the plague because no purchaser of stolen goods will accept it. To do so would be to admit guilt under the law. To do this use an electric engraving tool (they cost about $10 and last well nigh forever. It would be a wise purchase for each dorm to get one for all students to use).

3. Use your social security number or your auto tag number when you mark your valuables and engrave it deeply. They cannot completely eradicate the mark as this will compress molecules beneath the engraved mark which special police laboratory methods will bring out even if the thief or the purchaser tries to eradicate it. It cannot be done beyond the ability of the police to detect it.

4. Register your identity number with the police departments in all the surrounding communities and especially in Newark, where the "foot" most likely will end up.

5. Place on your doors and windows notices to the effect that all items are so marked. The result will be about a 95% drop in the likelihood of illegal entrance in the first place.

6. Also place on the item itself another little notice to the effect that it is marked. Even if a thief does enter the likelihood of his taking anything so doubly marked is only about 1 in 6000.

WISE ACTION

When these measures are taken the reported theft rate drops by about 95% or more. I suggest it would be a wise action by dorm councils to organize such marking of valuable items (typewriters, stereo sets, radios, tv sets, etc.) and organize their marking by suggested law enforcement techniques. Such dorm councils should also turn in on behalf of all residents list of names and identifying markings to police on an organized basis.

I urgently recommend serious consideration of these measures as soon as possible so we can all be rid of these professionals. Once a campus is "known" as being "marked" it is left alone.

Petite a Big Man as Indians Sweep

By John Clark

CLIFTON - Frank Petite's tremendous 375-foot home run in the third inning of the first game of Sunday's doubleheader at Holster Park led Montclair State to a 5-0 victory over Fordham University. The Indians went on to win the second game 5-2 to complete the sweep.

With Kevin Donohoe on second and Paul Pignatello on first following a single and a walk, Petite stepped up to the plate and promptly knocked a Scott Gleckel fastball out over the fence and the distant horizon. The shot accounted for three runs and all the scoring winning pitcher Paul Mirabella needed.

"I knew it was going to be over the kid's head, but I didn't think it was going to carry the fence," said Petite. "It was a high fastball."

But the compact second baseman wasn't going to quit after the homerun. In the first game he drove in all five Indian runs with two singles and the three run Homer plus a walk. He had two singles and scored a run in the nightcap.

WHEN ASKED if this was one of his better days, Petite replied, "This has been my best day."

Petite's feat somewhat overshadowed the fine pitching performance of Paul Mirabella. He shut out the Rams on a two-hitter and five strike outs. Both hits came in the fourth inning. Tornillo was very enthusiastic about Mirabella's pitching.

"Paul's been having a sore arm," said Tornillo. "He hasn't been pitching too many innings lately, but he did a great job today. He got a lot faster in those last four innings."

Dave Grunstra hurled for the Indians in the second game and scattered three hits in the six innings he pitched. Dave Varina came in to pitch the seventh inning to preserve the win.

The Indian pitchers had the benefit of Danny Dunn's arm in right field. In the first inning of the first game, Dunn threw out Tony Laura at third base after Laura tagged up at second on a fly ball to right. In the fourth, Paul Pungello of Fordham slashed the ball into right center. Pungello tried to stretch a single into a double, but Dunn cut him down. In the fourth inning of the second game, Pete DeMarco had notions of scoring from second on a single, but Dunn rifled the ball into catcher Stu Richter who tagged out DeMarco.
They can pull it off. They have a strong defense, and probably the reasons why Carty enjoys working at one person on the sidelines who is familiar to both teams. Carty worked as the defensive secondary coach at WPC.

Winless, the 26-year old coach refuses to take the Pioneers lightly. Carty will probably want to stay with the plan that has been doing well with so far. He's a great coach to work for. He respects my opinions and makes his own decisions.

Although Piscataway is winless, the 26-year old coach refuses to take the Pioneers lightly. Carty says, "If they put everything together all day but let one get by as the Lion's took a 1-0 squeaker."

By Lonny Cohen
BLOOMFIELD — Schedules have a way of doing strange things to a team's record and reputation. Staying Hartwick College for the opener of MSC's soccer season didn't do much for the Tribe's record, but it couldn't have hurt their reputation.

For the second straight season, MSC played the New York state strongboys close and lost a heartbreaker. The fourth-ranked Lions pushed in a second-half goal after staving off an Indian rush, and won 1-0.

"It's like playing Notre Dame in football or UCLA at basketball," contemplated MSC headman Bob Wolfarth. "Hartwick is always strong and it's no disgrace to lose to them. We played them even, but they got the one big opportunity."

With 18:00 to play in the contest, Jim Harrison, the Hartwick sweeper, came across the weak side, cleared his way from Zerenkov Ombody for the shot, beating Chuck Doran to his high right side.

By Phil Salerno
When Montclair State and grid rival William Paterson College clash at Sprague Field Saturday there will be one person on the sidelines who is familiar to both teams.

Kevin Carty, MSC's new receiver coach, is no newcomer to this week's opponents. For the last two seasons, Carty worked as the defensive secondary coach at WPC.

Although Paterson is winless, the 26-year old coach refuses to take the Pioneers lightly. Carty says, "If they put everything together they can pull it off. They have a strong defense, and probably the biggest defensive line we will face all year."

Carty feels the Indians will stay on the ground and run directly into the Pioneers strength. "We passed for 187 yards in the opener, but we only had three shots to contend with all day but let one get by as the Lion's took a 1-0 squeaker."

Hartwick Boots Tribe
But it's a Shot in Arm

Bill Gaertner had brought the crowd to its feet only moments earlier with a breakaway against the visiting goalkeeper. Gaertner headed a pass from the right side only to be frustrated by the leaping netkeeper. A following shot by Gaertner off the rebound was deflected by a Lion fullback and the ball knocked out of play.

The initial half was marked by the defense-oriented type of play that MSC has prided itself on over the years. The Tribe held their Lion opponents to only 3 shots on goal, but could manage only one themselves. Indian goalie Chuck Doran provided most of the first half highlights when he turned two dramatic saves in the last three minutes.

Exhusted was the only word that could describe the Indians at the halftime horn. It was obvious that depth on the opposing benches would make the difference.

The tide of the game turned with a change in Hartwick strategy. The Lion halfbacks came out shooting from 30 yards and in, and from here on the offense stayed basically with Hartwick.

Although the Hartwick bench provided the majority of field play in the second half it was Harrison, a starter that capitalized for the only score of the game. The Indians finally took control in the final minutes, but ran out of clockwork. Kayastano Basalda missed a hook-up with the two wings on a 20 yard indirect kick that was MSC's best opportunity.

The Indian feelings after the game were best summed up by goalie Chuck Doran. "I wasn't disappointed even though we lost. We played as well and we could."

"We can't afford to put our heads down," added Wolfarth. "We have too many tough teams on our schedule."

Carty Knows Pioneers

Physical education teacher at George Washington Junior High in Wayne, Carty knows what he is talking about when it comes to organization and competition. He attended Trenton State, where he starred for four years in the defensive secondary.

After graduation, he planned to try out for the Jersey Jays of the Atlantic Coast Football League (ACFL). His plans were foiled, though, when the league went bankrupt. Since then, the league has restarted and the Jays have become the Bridgeport Jets. Instead, he decided to try his hand at coaching. He served as defensive secondary coach at WPC before joining the Indian braintrust.

After the secondary job here was filled (former all-pro Kenny Graham was hired), it was only natural for Carty to take on the job as receiver coach. It was only a matter of moving to the other side of the scrimmage line. With his knowledge of the secondary, Carty is teaching the receivers to read opposing secondaries and zones.

When asked if there was any coaching style in particular that he admired, Carty replied, "No, not really. I've attended lots of clinics and things. I just try to pick up things I think are important from everyone involved in the game."

However, one of the ideals that is his own is Carty's philosophy on winning. His philosophy is, "Winning is super important. That's what I am getting paid for, and that's what you aim for from the very first day of practice (August 26th) to the last. But after you lost you have to get up and start again. You can't stay down and quit."

Stroudsburg Hex Broken

By John Delery
Before last Saturday night's contest between East Stroudsburg State and Montclair State the Indians would have been happy just to have contained Don Ford, the Speedy State and Montclair State the Indians contest between East Stroudsburg put the brakes on the rest of the stop him cold but they were able to little running back. Well they didn't stop him cold but they were able to put the brakes on the rest of the Warrior offense enroute to a 17-7 victory in the mud and rain of Sprague field.

Ford, who only a week before gained over 200 yards in total offense in a 47-20 loss to Slippery Rock State, was "held" to only 132 yards in 21 carries by a defense that was awesomming over the field all night. But the ESSC coaches thought they had a better idea than Ford. When the running game stalled, the Warriors decided to take to the air waves but were met again by a brick wall as quarterback Jim Cantafio and Bob Finley combined for three completions in 23 attempts for a meager 30 yards and no touchdowns.

AS DEFENSIVE co-ordinator McKlinley Boston put it, "Our whole defense centered around stopping Ford on the power dive. They had a decent passing game but nothing we were afraid of." He later explained, "Our run from the very which utilizes running formations as much as 80% of the time. When we stopped their running attack they had to revert to the pass and we just bottlenecked that up too!"

While the Warriors were having trouble getting out of their own territory the Indians used timely passes from quarterback Craig Hugger to score two first half touchdowns and a field goal to put the game away.

Following a Warrior punt by Bob Boyd the Indians were in business with a 3-0 lead on the ESSC 48 yard line. From there Ray VanderMay burst up the middle for 21 yards and a first down to 27. Staying with off tackle attach the Indians moved down to the nine yard line on four more plays. On third down, Hugger, under heavy pressure, rolled left and found halfback Dennis Ginn for a diving TD grab. Bob Valli's PAT split the uprights and the Indians led 10-0.

A BAD pass from center on Boyd's first punt attempt set the Indians up on the Warriors doorstep at the six yard line early in the first quarter.Repeated shots into the line by VanderMay and freshman Walt Roberson and an incomplete pass away any touchdowns.

"It took them the entire first half to get their offense going. In the second half, to beat the Warriors for the first time in three years, 17-7.

"We contained East Stroudsburg very well," remarked MSC head coach Clary Anderson. Our defensive secondary was good; they stopped the back breakers. If they were going to score against us, they were going to have to earn it. The way we were playing, we weren't going to give away any touchdowns.

"I make no reservations about our specialty teams, they played lousy. Stroudsburg got their field position later in the game because of the bad punt and kick-off coverage, but our defense just took longer and shut them off."

CONTAINMENT SEEMED to be the magic word for the night, as the Indians only gave up 151 total yards; 119 on the ground and 32 through the air. By comparison, MSC racked up 273 total yards.

BOSTON DISCUSSED the defensive formation that the Indians are using this year. "We use the University of Tennessee defense, which is suited for linebackers. Evasion didn't go the way it should have, so we made a variation. Instead of reading the offensive backs as Tennessee does, we now read the linemen through to the backs. This system works better for us," he noted.

Willy Hillis scored from one. The PAT was good and the Warriors closed the gap to 17-7 but time ran out six minutes with the same score prevailing.

The Indians' 12-0 open up their defense of their NJSCAC title this week when they take on the Pioneers of William Paterson College at Sprague Field beginning at 6 pm.
