The Montclarion, October 23, 1980

The Montclarion
Unions at odds

by Naedine Hazell and Mindy Goldstein

The New Jersey Education Association NJEA is seeking faculty support in its move to contest the American Federation of Teachers/AFT from its position as the collective bargaining agent for MSC faculty.

AFT negotiations were to be held jointly with the Association's PAC, and faculty support was expected. However, the AFT's stance on the matter remains uncertain. According to a union fact sheet, NJEA organizers held a meeting with NJEA members on July 1, 1982, to discuss the issue.

AFT negotiations were to be held jointly with the NJEA, and faculty support was expected. However, the AFT's stance on the matter remains uncertain. According to a union fact sheet, NJEA organizers held a meeting with NJEA members on July 1, 1982, to discuss the issue.

AFT negotiations were to be held jointly with the Association's PAC, and faculty support was expected. However, the AFT's stance on the matter remains uncertain. According to a union fact sheet, NJEA organizers held a meeting with NJEA members on July 1, 1982, to discuss the issue.

TAG bill amended

by Meryl Yourish

Assembly bill A. 1972 was amended last week in another apparent victory for state college students, according to Ken Brown, student representative to the board of trustees.

The bill, which originally would have raised tuition by $4.5 million or 30 percent of last year's increase, was defeated in the Senate. The amended version allocates up to $1.4 million more from the tuition increase, and increases by $200,000 the amount transferred from management and administrative services of the department of higher education.

Another $100,000 was channeled into the TAG account from aid to private colleges. Also, $1.3 million was appropriated from the general treasury fund.

"No matter how you look at it, it's a victory," Brown said, adding that although he was glad for the partial victory, he was not upset.

"At least the money that we do lose will go to private colleges," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works.

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

TAG bill amended

by Meryl Yourish

Assembly bill A. 1972 was amended last week in another apparent victory for state college students, according to Ken Brown, student representative to the board of trustees.

The bill, which originally would have raised tuition by $4.5 million or 30 percent of last year's increase, was defeated in the Senate. The amended version allocates up to $1.4 million more from the tuition increase, and increases by $200,000 the amount transferred from management and administrative services of the department of higher education.

Another $100,000 was channeled into the TAG account from aid to private colleges. Also, $1.3 million was appropriated from the general treasury fund.

"No matter how you look at it, it's a victory," Brown said, adding that although he was glad for the partial victory, he was not upset.

"At least the money that we do lose will go to private colleges," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works.

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The TAGE bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.

"We were never out to kill TAG," Brown said, "and we're glad that it's still getting needed funds." Brown was pleased with the results of the protests, but he stressed that there is still more work to be done. "I think, overall, we'll benefit from it," he said. "It proved that the system of democracy still works."

The amendment to the TAG bill comes as the department of higher education passed its new recommended budget for the 1981-82 academic year. The $596.4 million budget, adopted Friday, represents an overall increase of 8.2 percent over last year's budget, including a 4.6 percent increase to the state college sector and a 25 percent increase to the private college sector. The plan also calls for a forced decrease in enrollment at Rutgers University and the state colleges while allowing the state's 17 county colleges to increase their private, out of state, and community colleges.
news notes

Rutgers paper burned

(NEWARK, NJ)—Members of the Black Organization of Students (BOS) stormed the office of the Observer, Rutgers University’s student newspaper, in a fury over a cartoon it printed last week. They burned close to 1,000 issues, according to John Fatteross, editor-in-chief.

“About 30 students, not a delegation, stormed the office, calling it a ‘lily white’ paper and saying there weren’t enough black writers,” Fatteross said. BOS was formed in the early 70’s to combat racism, he added.

The cartoon in question was a caricature of Paul Robeson, an early civil rights leader, after whom the Student Center is named. “Uncle Paid scz... an early civil rights leader, after whom the Student Center is named,” Fatteross explained.

Fatteross said he had a “sense of outrage” over the incident. “Our intent was harmless,” he said. “The Observer has lots of Black writers. You can’t tell a person’s color by the by-line.”

“It was meant only as a trademark, a symbol of endearment, I can’t believe anyone could be offended by it,” Al Knight, the cartoonist, said.

“We are demanding to be paid for the burned issues. The paper is published with student fees. It is not sold,” Fatteross said. “We want 25 percent of $870, which is what it costs to put out 4,000 issues,” he added.

Debate plans settled

(WASHINGTON, DC)—President Carter and Republican candidate Ronald Reagan have finally decided to debate each other on Tues., Oct. 28, in Cleveland, OH. The League of Women Voters reported that the nationally televised debate will be 90 minutes long and consist of two parts.

The first part of the debate will consist of questions from the four panelists, and the second half will include rebuttals from the candidates and responses to the rebuttals. There will be a brief closing statement from each candidate.

A representative for the league stated that the questions will deal with domestic issues, the economy, foreign policy, and defense.

Independent John Anderson, who’s been slipping in the polls, wasn’t invited to the planned debate.

Athletes charge racism

(POMONA, NJ)—Eleven Black football players at Ramapo College, Ramapo claimed racial discrimination when they were dropped from the team, Lynn Black, editor-in-chief of Argo, the school’s weekly student newspaper, said.

“The coach is not thinking of us as persons,” Black quoted the players as saying. “They are asking for a minority coach and a Black captain if they are reinstated,” she added.

Black said the team coach had explained that the 11 in question had not attended practices and were simply not ready to play.

“They felt they didn’t get to play even when they did attend practices,” Black said. “They are正しい to see if they will be reinstated,” she added.

SHU dorms searched

(South Orange, NJ) -- An internal warrant was issued for the search of student dormitories at Seton Hall University/SHU after the theft of a couch and two armchairs which were later recovered, the Setonian, SHU’s student newspaper, reported.

Phil Hartman, news editor of the weekly, said the newspaper is conducting an investigation into the legality of such a search. “The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said the search seemed excessive,” he said.

It’s a dangerous incident in that it may set a precedent for other such searches,” he added.

The search warrant for Boland Hall, a 400 room dormitory, was signed by a university vice president after the furniture disappeared from the office of Sue Hailman, an assistant director there. Hartman said the search warrant for the weekly, said the newspaper is conducting an investigation into the legality of such a search. “The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said the search seemed excessive,” he said.

“It’s a dangerous incident in that it may set a precedent for other such searches,” he added.

The search warrant for Boland Hall, a 400 room dormitory, was signed by a university vice president after the furniture disappeared from the office of Sue Hailman, an assistant director there. Hartman said the search warrant was issued because “There was a strong likelihood the furniture did not leave the building.” She said the furniture was later recovered from one of the dormitory rooms although she refused to disclose details of the search.

“The laws about this sort of thing are kind of vague,” Hartman said. “We are trying to find out if dormitories fall under domicile or hotel laws.”

Hartman said the search could be legal if dormitories were operated under hotel laws. However, if dormitories considered domiciles, it would probably be illegal, he said.

Anderson Carter bought NJ

(NEWARK, NJ) -- Independent presidential candidate John Anderson accused President Carter of using federal funds to try to buy votes in NJ.

In an interview with the Associated Press Tuesday, Anderson said vote buying was Carter’s goal in awarding a $4.5 million federal grant for a new water pipeline for the North Jersey drought area.

News Notes compiled by Janet Gough, Courtesy AP wire service.
Religious group under review

by Mary Ann D'Urso

Followed by an investigation by The Montclarion into allegations made against Chi Alpha, a religious group on campus, the SGA will place the organization's Class III Charter into the Constitutional Review Committee, which will decide next week whether or not to change Chi Alpha to a Class IV Organization or to decharter the group completely.

Last week The Montclarion reported that Chi Alpha, and hence the SGA, was threatened with a lawsuit brought by a disgruntled MSC student complaining that the religious organization constituted a church established on state property--interpreting this as a violation of the law of separation of church and state. In a well known case concerning the separation of church and state, Justice Black summed up the Supreme Court's majority view on this issue as follows: "Neither a state nor the Federal Government can...pass laws which aid one religion, aid all religions, or prefer one religion over another." The committee's decision concerning Chi Alpha's charter may effect other religious based groups on and off campus, such as Newman House, the Jewish Student Union/JSU, and InterVarsity Christian Fellowship IF.

"Religious organizations are chartered through the SGA like any other organization, and the chaplains are registered at the dean of students," Thomas F. Stepnowski, director of student activities, said.

Dr. Edward C. Martin of the dean of students office had said that it's really a standard type of procedure and the clergy usually come up to the dean of students office and work out a basic groundwork which we think will benefit the clergy and the students as well.

Chi Alpha, an outreach program of the Assembly of God Church, is advised by its chaplain, Steve Espamer, by his own admission, in addition to receiving monies from the donations of Chi Alpha members, also receive monies from the Assembly of God Church and private individuals.

Newman House, located off campus on Valley Rd., is funded by a scholastic endowment and Newark. Father Herter, director of Newman House, said Newman Hour provides counseling and worship services to students wishing Catholic guidance. He is provided for solely by the archdiocese.

JSU, a Class III Organization of the SGA, makes no claim to religious affiliations, but rather works with the university to socialize through cultural programs, lectures, and dances. Joy Kirland, adviser, said that it is legal. Kurland came to MSC through the Jewish Community Federation, Allan Worshinski, of the Rutgers' Newark Jewish Students Services said. Another of the student's complaints is the nature of Espamer's source of income, namely donations made by Chi Alpha's members at the organization's Thursday night meetings and Sunday morning worship services. Espamer had commented that the students paid the right fee, that they want with their money.

The SGA's rational behind reviewing Chi Alpha's charter is that it may be in violation of the statutes governing Class III Organizations. Because only Class IV Organizations are entitled to have national affiliations, and because Chi Alpha, a class III Organization, is affiliated to the Assembly of God Church, the question has arisen as to the constitutionality of its charter.

If Chi Alpha is made a Class IV Organization, it would be entitled to meeting space in the Student Center and the legal protection of the SGA. However, if Chi Alpha is dechartered completely, it would not be allowed to meet in the center and, if involved in a law suit, would be forced to fend for itself.

The procedure would follow for any organization under the SGA.

Programs accessible to the handicapped

by Mike Davino

With the defense of last November's higher education bond, MSC was forced to seek alternative means of complying with Federal law mandating that college facilities be made accessible to handicapped students.

In order to comply with the Federal standards, MSC has assigned classes to buildings that are already accessible to the handicapped and is bringing support programs to students who cannot reach existing programs because of barriers in the older buildings on campus.

In order to comply with the Federal standards, MSC has assigned classes to buildings that are already accessible to the handicapped and is bringing support programs to students who cannot reach existing programs because of barriers in the older buildings on campus.

Another of the student's complaints is the nature of Espamer's source of income, namely donations made by Chi Alpha's members at the organization's Thursday night meetings and Sunday morning worship services. Espamer had commented that the students paid the right fee, that they want with their money.

The SGA's rational behind reviewing Chi Alpha's charter is that it may be in violation of the statutes governing Class III Organizations. Because only Class IV Organizations are entitled to have national affiliations, and because Chi Alpha, a class III Organization, is affiliated to the Assembly of God Church, the question has arisen as to the constitutionality of its charter.

If Chi Alpha is made a Class IV Organization, it would be entitled to meeting space in the Student Center and the legal protection of the SGA. However, if Chi Alpha is dechartered completely, it would not be allowed to meet in the center and, if involved in a law suit, would be forced to fend for itself.

The procedure would follow for any organization under the SGA.

Sexual assault charge dismissed

by Beth Winkelmann

The attempted sexual assault charge against James L. Lewis was dismissed during his probable cause hearing held last night. Lewis will remain charged with aggravated assault on an unidentified female classmate. He has been ordered to appear before a Passaic county grand jury for indictment.

Last night in Little Falls court, Judge John J. Cavenda said that he was satisfied that there was probable cause that the aggravated assault occurred, and that Lewis caused it to happen.

Gavenda dismissed the attempted sexual assault charge because the victim could not identify the area where it occurred.

MSC police officer Lee Buchanan testified that although the victim was capable of determining the exact location of the alleged attempted sexual assault, she did identify the spot where Lewis' car was parked when he allegedly hit her over the head.

According to campus police reports, police laboratory technicians searched Lewis' impounded car and found what they believed to be concealed dangerous substances. Also found was a gold cigarette case and a wooden pipe, both with marijuana residue, seeds, and leaves in them. Lewis was given a conditional discharge and will be on probation for six months for this offense.

Lewis' bail for the aggravated assault charge will remain at $20,000, according to Cavenda. Dennis LaHiff, attorney for the suspect, informed the judge that a bond had been set.

The victim, a brown haired young woman, was questioned by her attorney, assistant prosecutor D. Lockin, to explain the court what happened on the morning of October 6. She replied that she went out with Lewis for coffee after class. She stated that after walking with him in his car for a few minutes, he hit her over the head two times with an unknown object. According to her statements, she sustained head lacerations, one of which needed stitches.

After this occurred, the victim said, Lewis drove her to a wooded area off campus and choked her and dragged her out of the car. She stated that she pleaded with him not to hurt her, and he drove her back to Normal Ave., where she was released.

She then stated that she walked to the white information booth on College Ave. and asked for help. Police Solar grant awarded

by Mary Ann D'Urso

MSC recently received a $40,000 grant—one of the largest in NJ—from the department of energy to develop a system making solar energy economically feasible for installation in private homes.

Winfield Parsons, of the industrial education and technology department, will head the program assisted by William Goetheus, a research technician student at MSC.

MSC is contributing $12,000 to the existing $40,000 grant.

Job listings and

CAREER SEMINARS

(A more complete listing of Fall seminars and current job listings is available in Career Services, Life Hall.)

JOBS LISTINGS AND

CAREER SEMINARS

Resume Writing

Tue., Oct. 28, 1 pm

Interviewing 1 (Techniques)

Mon., Nov. 3, 11 am

Interviewing 2 (Techniques)

Thu., Nov. 6, 2 pm

Interviewing 3 (Videotaped “Mock Interview”)

Mon., Oct. 27, 1 pm

Job Hunt

Thu., Oct. 30, 6 pm

Applying to Graduate Schools

Mon., Nov. 3, 3 pm

FULL-TIME

Mechanical draftsman—BS

industrial arts—listed October 1980—negotiable—Paterson.

Additional copy of current English background—listed Oct. 14—

10K—NYC.

Speech therapist-MA or eligible for certification—list Oct. 3—$30 an hour—Brooklyn.

Recreational assistant—recreation degree—listed Oct. 14—

$170 a week—Newark.

Coaches—any major—Listed Oct. 8—negotiable—Hudson.

Parttime

after school program coordinator—Any major or senior

Media assistant—any major—listed Oct. 10—$3.75 an hour—East

Orange.

Furniture loader—any major—listed Oct. 6—$6.80 an hour—

Brooklyn.

Municipal tickets increased to $10

by Mary Ann DeFoire

Dr. Elliot I. Minnberg, vice president of finance, announced at last Wednesday night’s meeting of the board of trustees that the fine for violations of the two hour parking limit on the streets of Montclair has been increased from $2 to $10 by Montclair town officials.

Also discussed at the meeting was the under-representation of minority faculty in public universities and colleges during a presentation made by Anita Walters, affirmative action representative to the trustees.

The trustees resolved to form a task force to aid in the hiring of minority faculty, and to provide information to minority students.

The trustees announced the results of a test conducted to measure the asbestos levels in areas of the campus containing this fiber. “The asbestos levels are well below the federal regulation level,” Minnberg said.

Referring to the increased parking violation fee, Minnberg said that many Montclair residents were disturbed because of the number of cars belonging to MSC students parked on their local streets. Minnberg attempted to explain the parking situation and attempted to explain the parking situation and the residents’ complaints.

Ken Brown, student representative, was asked to explain the students’ role in improving the hiring of minority students at MSC.

He said that a search recruitment team was formed consisting of SGA legislators and the Student Cooperative Union of the Latin American Student Organization LASSO.

They will work with the Admissions Office to recruit more minorities,” he said, adding “Multiracial groups of students are going out with the Admissions Office to recruit.”

Ernest May, chairman of the trustees, suggested to Brown that a Black student and minority student also be asked to sit on the Affirmative Action Task Force. These attempts at furthering the hiring of minority faculty and student populations at MSC are in response to a board of higher education affirmative action resolution requiring the boards of trustees at public institutions to identify practices which are preventing the hiring of minority faculty. Walters reported that there has been a statewide decline in the hiring of minority faculty.

Minnberg also told the trustees that a parking consultant has been hired to review the MSC parking situation. It is hoped that the consultant will find ways to improve parking accommodations for handicapped persons and visitors and to generally improve the parking situation throughout the campus.

Career Corner

Senioritis strikes

by Peter Prichard

Senioritis n. 1. A gnawing sensation experienced by many college seniors during the time of the junior-senior transition and attempted to explain the results of the study.

An artist’s rendition of a parabolic collector.

An artist’s rendition of a parabolic collector.

Courses changed

by Peter Prichard

Another course, Media in Intersectoral Communications, has been approved as fulfilling the requirements.

Those students not planning to go to graduate school can take advantage of several employment related services which are available at MSC.

The Office of Student Affairs and Educational Placement, Room 001 in the Hall, provides assistance.
Campus Police Report

Assault on probation

by Chris Carroll

Jamie J. Lewis was issued a summons in lieu of arrest for possession of a concealed deadly substance on Oct 10. Acting on a consent warrant issued last week when Lewis was arrested on charges of aggravated assault and attempted sexual assault, state police laboratory technicians were searching Lewis' vehicle when they found what was believed to be marijuana in the glove compartment. Also found was a gold cigarette case and a wooden pipe, both with marijuana residue in them, and seeds and leaves scattered around the car. Lewis was given a conditional discharge and will be on probation for six months. Officer Robert Williams is investigating.

A male was assaulted while he was walking outside of Freeman Hall on Oct. 10 at 6:50 am. The victim stated that a Black male struck him in the neck outside of the dormitory and knocked him to the ground. The victim managed to knock his assailant to the ground and held him down when another Black male grabbed him and began choking him, the report stated. A number of students separated the victim and his assailants. According to the report, the victim cited an earlier incident in which one of the assailants cut into a food line as a possible reason for the assault. No complaints have been signed as of yet. Officer James Fassnacht is investigating.

Debra Newcomb is investigating a theft from a motor vehicle that occurred on Oct. 20 in Lot 8. The officer of the vehicle said she left her car locked in the lot at 11 am. When she returned at 2:15 pm, her personal belongings were missing. An imitation black fur, a hair dryer, a black bag, and a book were reported stolen. Also missing were the registration and insurance card for the vehicle. The value of the missing property is estimated at $103.

Twenty-five books were reported stolen from an office in College High on Oct. 7 at 8:31 am. According to the report, unknown persons entered a faculty member's office by removing the door molding and using a sharp object to push back the lock. All of the missing books dealt with accounting and were carefully selected from the numerous books on the shelves in the office, the report stated. The value of the missing property is approximately $542. Officer Vicky Brown is investigating.

An employee of the English department was involved in a motorcycle accident on Oct. 7 at 5 pm. According to the report, the gate arm at the entrance to Lot 9 came down and hit the employee in the chest. The rider was knocked off the bike but was uninjured. Officer Charles Jones responded.

SGA news

Bill debated

by Meryl Yourish

Yesterday's SGA meeting ended in controversy last night. The Appropriations and Government and Administration Committees cosponsored a bill at the request of Scott Garrett, SGA treasurer, that would require any Class I contract to carry both the SGA president's and treasurer's signatures. Currently, only the president's signature is required to validate a contract. After a lengthy debate, a recess was called to cool tempers down. Quorum was called after the recess, and was not present.

The cricket club was granted a Class III charter for 1980-82. The lacrosse club was also granted a Class III charter.

FLORIDA

A Holiday on Campus

$27 per day

Includes: Twin beds, A/C Room, Minutes from Beach, 3 meals per day, Plus: activity program.

242 Bellevue Ave
Upper Montclair, N. J
Tel: 744-8724

ALSO - Low cost air or bus departures.

Presents

8 Days & 7 Nights in Cozumel
MEXICO

January 13-20, 1981

Students, staff, faculty, and community residents celebrate the Christmas break with an exciting vacation in the land of warm sunshine! MEXICO! Discover for yourself the white sand beaches, blue green waters and lush tropical flavors which charmed the 17th century pirates, conquistadors and the Maya civilization.

PRICE INCLUDES

• Round trip Jet Flight from Newark to Cozumel, Mexico.
• Multiple Accommodations—Air Conditioned suites (Living Room Area, Dining Area, Full Kitchen, Bathroom and Showers). (Price based on three to five occupants per suite, for double accommodations add $15.00 extra per person.)
• United States Airport Tax.
• Round trip transfer from Cozumel Airport to Hotel. Baggage Handling. Tips. Reconfirmation
• Escorted by your CTC Campus Rep.

SIGN UP IMMEDIATELY

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: Ned Robinson 744-9491

The balance is due no later than November 15, 1980.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: Ned Robinson 744-9491

Tues., Wed., Thurs.
6:00 pm to 8:00 pm.

TC=présent

Richard Kleva. C.T.C. Director

2609 Glendola Road
Wall, New Jersey 07719

2601 Franklin NUTLEY FRANKLIN AV. 667-1777
SHIRLEY: MacLAINE-JAMES COBURN
SUSAN SARANDON: STEPHEN COLLINS

Fur, a hair dryer, a black bag, and a book were reported stolen. Also missing were the registration and insurance card for the vehicle. The value of the missing property is estimated at $103.

Twenty-five books were reported stolen from an office in College High on Oct. 7 at 8:51 am. According to the report, unknown persons entered a faculty member's office by removing the door molding and using a sharp object to push back the lock. All of the missing books dealt with accounting and were carefully selected from the numerous books on the shelves in the office, the report stated. The value of the missing property is approximately $542. Officer Vicky Brown is investigating.

An employee of the English department was involved in a motorcycle accident on Oct. 7 at 5 pm. According to the report, the gate arm at the entrance to Lot 9 came down and hit the employee in the chest. The rider was knocked off the bike but was uninjured. Officer Charles Jones responded.

SGA news

Bill debated

by Meryl Yourish

Yesterday's SGA meeting ended in controversy last night. The Appropriations and Government and Administration Committees cosponsored a bill at the request of Scott Garrett, SGA treasurer, that would require any Class I contract to carry both the SGA president's and treasurer's signatures. Currently, only the president's signature is required to validate a contract. After a lengthy debate, a recess was called to cool tempers down. Quorum was called after the recess, and was not present.

The cricket club was granted a Class III charter for 1980-82. The lacrosse club was also granted a Class III charter.

A bill was passed establishing Tue., Nov. 4, a day to remember the American hostages in Tehran. There will be a brief, nondenominational service at noon in the Student Center Mall. President David W.D. Dickson, Father Kenneth Herberter, and Brian Cage, SGA president, will speak at the service.

The health professions club was given $400 from Unappropriated Surplus to hold a "Here's to Your Health" health fair on Nov. 5. The geoscience club received $205 from the Student Activity Fund to sponsor a bus trip to Pennsylvania.

FLORIDA

A Holiday on Campus

$27 per day

Includes: Twin beds, A/C Room, Minutes from Beach, 3 meals per day, Plus: activity program.

242 Bellevue Ave
Upper Montclair, N. J
Tel: 744-8724

ALSO - Low cost air or bus departures.

Presents

8 Days & 7 Nights in Cozumel
MEXICO

January 13-20, 1981

Students, staff, faculty, and community residents celebrate the Christmas break with an exciting vacation in the land of warm sunshine! MEXICO! Discover for yourself the white sand beaches, blue green waters and lush tropical flavors which charmed the 17th century pirates, conquistadors and the Maya civilization.

PRICE INCLUDES

• Round trip Jet Flight from Newark to Cozumel, Mexico.
• Multiple Accommodations—Air Conditioned suites (Living Room Area, Dining Area, Full Kitchen, Bathroom and Showers). (Price based on three to five occupants per suite, for double accommodations add $15.00 extra per person.)
• United States Airport Tax.
• Round trip transfer from Cozumel Airport to Hotel. Baggage Handling. Tips. Reconfirmation
• Escorted by your CTC Campus Rep.

SIGN UP IMMEDIATELY

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: Ned Robinson 744-9491

The balance is due no later than November 15, 1980.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: Ned Robinson 744-9491

Tues., Wed., Thurs.
6:00 pm to 8:00 pm.
The battle isn't over

Due largely to the student strike of several weeks ago, Students of NJ state colleges won a battle in the fight over Assembly bill 1972. But the war is not yet won. Albert Burstein (D-Tenafly) generously amended the bill to offer "25 cents a year" with both the tuition increase, instead of up to $4.5 million. It's nice to know that he's returning some $3 million to us, but there's a slight problem.

We're still paying for a debt we did not incur. Whether we pay $1 million or $100 million, the fact remains—state colleges underspent their Tuition Aid Grant/TAG programs. We're still being penalized for administrative errors by the board of higher education(HEA).

Another problem is that some $200,000 will be transferred from the management and administrative services budget of T. Edward Hollander, the chancellor of higher education. Making Hollander pay for his own ineptitude isn't fair, but that honesty is supposed to go to improvements that would benefit all of the state colleges. No matter which way we turn, we're being robbed.

The fight is far from finished. The SGA intends to keep up the lobbying effort, and we urge you to do your part. Call your assemblymen, or better still, write them. Let them know you are not satisfied with the amended version. Show them that you really care about the horrible state of higher education spending in NJ. I tell them that we deserve to be better than 47th in the nation in per capita spending on education.

We're doing all we can. Right now, the rest is up to you. We're asking you, once more, to stand up for your rights. No one else can do it for you.

Well done

We would like to applaud the athletic department, specifically Dr. Leonard Lencsea, Dr. Joan Schleede and Tim Sullivan and all their students, for their work with the NJ Special Olympics. It is often that the campus community takes an active part in such worthwhile endeavors as last week's Special Olympics.

The expressions on the faces of those participating in the event said more than any article could. This day should be an example to those cynical critics who claim that humanity no longer has a heart and that college students are apathetic and jaded.

One year ago, on election day, less than one-quarter of the eligible voters between the ages of 18-25 exercised their right to vote. That was the year that MSC lost over $12 million it would have received if voters had approved a higher education bond issue.

In fact, the number of eligible voters that turn out on election day has declined steadily since 1960—which is most of our lifetimes.

Now you probably are saying to yourselves, "Oh, I'm not going to read this if it is another stupid article telling me to go out and vote."

Well, this is not another stupid article telling you to go out and vote. It is an important article telling you, the MSC student, professor, or staff member, that you are (to use a technical political language) a real nerd if you don't go out to vote on Nov. 4.

I can't understand what is so repulsive about going out to vote, with the possible exception of Ronald Reagan. I'm sure more than 22 percent of you went to the dentist last year. Why is it you can motivate yourself to have some guy with bad breath lean over you and fill in the forms when you can't motivate yourself to enter the nice little booth and pull a few levers? It's the same result.

If you neglect to go to the dentist, your mouth stinks and your teeth rot. If you neglect to go out and vote, it's the same result.

I'm sure more than 22 percent of you voted on Nov. 4.

You and I are (to use a technical political language) a real nerd if you don't go out to vote. It is an important article telling me to go out and vote.

Getting out and vote

Get out and vote. T his day should be an example to those cynical critics who claim that humanity no longer has a heart and that college students are apathetic and jaded.

One year ago, on election day, less than one-quarter of the eligible voters between the ages of 18-25 exercised their right to vote. That was the year that MSC lost over $12 million it would have received if voters had approved a higher education bond issue.

In fact, the number of eligible voters that turn out on election day has declined steadily since 1960—which is most of our lifetimes.

Now you probably are saying to yourselves, "Oh, I'm not going to read this if it is another stupid article telling me to go out and vote."

Well, this is not another stupid article telling you to go out and vote. It is an important article telling you, the MSC student, professor, or staff member, that you are (to use a technical political language) a real nerd if you don't go out to vote on Nov. 4.

I can't understand what is so repulsive about going out to vote, with the possible exception of Ronald Reagan. I'm sure more than 22 percent of you went to the dentist last year. Why is it you can motivate yourself to have some guy with bad breath lean over you and fill in the forms when you can't motivate yourself to enter the nice little booth and pull a few levers? It's the same result.

If you neglect to go to the dentist, your mouth stinks and your teeth rot. If you neglect to go out and vote, it's the same result.

I'm sure more than 22 percent of you voted on Nov. 4.
MSC divided over chartering

by Georgia Panagakos and Phil Lanoue

Do you think the SGA should charter religious organizations?

"No, because MSC is a state institution, and the state should not supplement religious activities."

-- Diane McGinley, 1981/3 business administration

"Yes, I think that the population should practice what they want without being in an organization. I think organizations are something to hide behind. Religion should be run only on its own."

-- Betty Casteline, 1983/3 computer science

"I think that religion should not be chartered. It should be a free organization where anyone can join."

-- Chris Gregely, 1984/4 marketing

"No. I think that people should practice what they want without being in an organization. I think organizations are something to hide behind. Religion should be run only on its own."

-- Art Penny, 1981/1 political science

"Yes, I do believe that religious organizations should be any different than other organizations."

-- James Carbo, 1984/1 communications

"I think that religion should not be chartered. It should be a free organization and anyone can join."

-- Joe Natski, 1981/3 psychology

"No. This is not a religious college. If it was, it should have been named Saint Montclair State. If they want religion, they should have gone to a religious college."

-- Richard Byrne, 1980/2 English

Past performance also an issue

To the editor:

This is in regards to Phillip Karali's column on Jimmy Carter ( "Carter: a man of integrity?""). In the Oct. 2 issue of The Montclarion, I applaud Mr. Karali's efforts, but believe the point could have been hammered home a bit harder. Four years ago, Carter was elected on the platform of cutting inflation at home, establishing a clear foreign policy, and his ever famous crusade of human rights. He has failed on all counts.

First, by his own admission inflation is running wild and is now seemingly uncontrollable. In fact, the only things Carter has done for inflation are: (1) change the formula for computing it and (2) increase it.

Secondly, to this date we have yet to establish a foreign policy. While Carter tries to figure out how to deal with Iran, Russia knows exactly how to deal with a country like Afghanistan.

On human rights I simply ask what rights the Americans being held hostage for almost a year have. What has Carter as President done for our country? He's given us inflation, unemployment, and recession at home, and embarrassment worldwide.

Folks, it's simply not an issue of integrity, it's a question of past performance.

-- Thomas Buckley, 1981/1 accounting

Critic questioned

To the editor:

This letter, like others you have probably received, was an article which appeared in The Montclarion on Sept. 25, containing a review of the recital by Barbara Holmquest on Fri. Sept. 19, which was written by Stephen Kantrowitz.

How any publication could continue to employ someone as a musical critic without musical taste is a mystery to myself, and, frankly, the extraordinary number of people who attended this concert.

Contradictions are one of the main plagues of the review. Kantrowitz stated that Holmquest was "...very conservative in style and in her approach to the music." Not only is this an aurally unwarranted statement, but contradicts this following sentence: "...Holmquest has a tremendous amount of sensitivity...a richness of tonal color and variety." These remarks hardly indicate "conservatism" in performance.

Yet another contradiction is accomplished here, when Kantrowitz remarked on the Impromptu in F minor, Op. 142, No. 1 by Schubert. The piece possesses "...lovely, flowing passages..." but Mrs. Holmquest played them "too rigidly, and didn't enable the music to flow as it should have." However, Kantrowitz later writes that the "piece was light and spacious." Now, if Holmquest played the piece with rigidity, how could she possibly have light and spacious qualities?

These grammatical and semantic blunders are not the only reason for being upset. All who attended the concert enjoyed themselves immensely. Holmquest is a past instructor of Edmund Battersby, who resides on our music faculty. This made for an evening of sentimental value also, for those who know Battersby.

It was, in short, and remains to be, a most enjoyable and worthwhile event. The audience was far from shortchanged."

-- Michael McMahon, 1983/1 music

Article misleading

To the editor:

In response to your article 'Religious group questioned,' in the Oct. 16 issue of The Montclarion, I feel that certain statements may have been somewhat misleading, and I would like to try to clear up any misunderstandings which may have arisen as a result.

A few weeks ago, it was brought to my attention that one of our chartered organizations, Chi Alpha, could possibly be sued. Although this would be an unlikely occurrence, it was of concern because the SGA would be ultimately responsible for any suit involving any chartered organization.

As chairman of the Constitutional Review Committee, I was asked to submit a bill to review the Chi Alpha Charter. As such, the main purpose of my bill was to have the charter changed from a Class III to a Class IV. All rights and privileges of Class III and Class IV Organizations are the same, except a Class IV has a nationwide affiliation, whereas a Class III does not. There was no mention of possible discharterment to be discussed in my committee, nor is it likely at this time that there will be.

After discussion with several members of the SGA, it was agreed that the picture captioned "Church vs. State" was misleading and put the SGA in an unfavorable light. The SGA has been very helpful to Chi Alpha throughout this whole issue, as it would be to any chartered organization, and the implication that they are fighting one another is a dangerous one.

The end of this entire issue may very well be a simple charter change. If any further problems arise, they will be dealt with. At this time, however, the SGA does not wish to place Chi Alpha on the defensive. We appreciate their concern and cooperation throughout this trying matter.

-- Phil Anter, 1982/2 marketing

Help for tenants

To the editor:

Students who are residing as tenants in the town of Montclair and having difficulties with their landlords should be aware that they can receive assistance from the Montclair Tenants Organization.

Also, the Essex County Tenant Resource Center will be conducting classes this month to help tenants learn what their rights are and how to exercise these. For more information you can write the Montclair Tenants Organization, Box 841, Montclair, N.J. 07042 or call at 744-4042.

-- Barbara H. Chassin, 1981/2 psychology

Research properly

To the editor:

This is a short comment admonishing Darrel Lippman for crediting the group Queen with introducing "theatrical rock". The adjective theatrical is, at its best, vague. If Lippman means that they introduced theatrics to the rock stage, then he is ignoring Alice Cooper, who was at his peak around 1974. David Bowie, whose Diamond Dogs tour during the summer of 1974 was widely acclaimed for its theatrics; and last but not least, Mott the Hoople, who had already disbanded by 1976.

If Lippman is referring to the operatic Bohemian Rhapsody then he's forgetting the Who's A Quick One and Tommy, both recorded prior to 1969.

It is suggested that Lippman pick up any of the number of rock history books available.

-- Diane McGinley, 1981/3 business administration

The audience was far from the picture captioned "Church vs. State" was misleading and put the SGA in an unfavorable light. The SGA has been very helpful to Chi Alpha throughout this whole issue, as it would be to any chartered organization, and the implication that they are fighting one another is a dangerous one.

The end of this entire issue may very well be a simple charter change. If any further problems arise, they will be dealt with. At this time, however, the SGA does not wish to place Chi Alpha on the defensive. We appreciate their concern and cooperation throughout this trying matter.

-- Phil Anter, 1982/2 marketing

Help for tenants

To the editor:

Students who are residing as tenants in the town of Montclair and having difficulties with their landlords should be aware that they can receive assistance from the Montclair Tenants Organization.

Also, the Essex County Tenant Resource Center will be conducting classes this month to help tenants learn what their rights are and how to exercise these. For more information you can write the Montclair Tenants Organization, Box 841, Montclair, N.J. 07042 or call at 744-4042.

-- Barbara H. Chassin, 1981/2 psychology

Research properly

To the editor:

This is a short comment admonishing Darrel Lippman for crediting the group Queen with introducing "theatrical rock". The adjective theatrical is, at its best, vague. If Lippman means that they introduced theatrics to the rock stage, then he is ignoring Alice Cooper, who was at his peak around 1974. David Bowie, whose Diamond Dogs tour during the summer of 1974 was widely acclaimed for its theatrics; and last but not least, Mott the Hoople, who had already disbanded by 1976.

If Lippman is referring to the operatic Bohemian Rhapsody then he's forgetting the Who's A Quick One and Tommy, both recorded prior to 1969.

It is suggested that Lippman pick up any of the number of rock history books available.
ZETA PHI BETA SORORITY, INC.

presents an International Foreign Student Dinner
"COLOR OF A RAINBOW"

On Friday evening, October 24, 1980 from 6-10pm in Russ Hall on campus. Xi Iota chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. sponsored by Gamma Omicron Zeta chapter of Northern, will be holding an International Dinner. Zeta Phi Beta Sorority is an International Sorority that focuses on scholarship and service to the communities around the world.

PARTICIPATING:  BSCU Choir, LASO,
Dr. Curtis Jackson (Dir. of Intracollegiate Academics Programs),
Dean Harris (Assit. Dean of Students),
Karen Wood-Basilleus of Xi Iota Chapter

ENTERTAINMENT

DINNER

Come and Join The Sisters of "Uniqueness"
Trivia contest is a teaser

by Regina Brzek

"Question 11," bellowed the master of ceremonies/MC. "In what movie did Julie Andrews win a best actress award?"

The heads of the seated contestants bowed in unison as they hastily searched out what they thought was the correct answer.

"OK," he continued, "does anyone need more time?"

No one replied. Everyone seemed to have that smug, confident look on their faces. They all knew that the only movie Julie Andrews could have possibly gotten an Oscar for was...

"Alright," said the bearded MC. "Does anybody have the correct answer?"

"The Sound of Music," blurted a contestant from the back of the room.

"Wrong," said the MC, shaking his head from behind the podium. A chorus of grunts and moans rose from the long tables where the contestants brainstormed for answers.

"Anyone else?" questioned the MC.

A tall, intelligent looking young man, with a closely clipped haircut and wide glasses, spoke from the front tables. "Was it Mary Poppins?"

"Correct!" beamed the MC. One voice from the far left corner of the ballroom muttered, "I always do that. I knew the right answer. Why the hell didn't I write that down?"

And so the same pattern followed through the remaining 20 questions asked last Wednesday afternoon at the movie trivia contest sponsored by the Student Intramural and Leisure Council/SILC. Eleven contestants braved out the teaser-test held at noon in Ballroom C of the Student Center.

"It's a lot of fun," Charlee Bannon said, the small redhead in charge of the trivia contests. Being an MSC student is the only requirement necessary to enter. "Just come on down!"

The movie contest was one of the several trivia games sponsored by SILC during the month of October. The second Wednesday of the month was TV trivia; yesterday's was sports, and next week's is a porkpie contest for those without a field of concentration. A possible TV cartoons trivia contest is being mulled over.

The MC calls out the questions and the contestants answer them on scrap paper. The participants get to compare their accumulative scores with their rivals as the scorekeeper chalks the points beside their names posted on a blackboard. A bonus question is thrown in to give the contestant an opportunity to bet his points with the chance of gaining or losing the same amount he bet.

We get our questions from a few trivia books, even from the 6 pm news, and we bounce the questions at each other up in the SILC office," Bannon said, smiling.

Cash prizes are also awarded at the games. First place wins $15, second place wins $10, and third place wins a SILC T-shirt.

Michael Price, the guy with the Ivy-league look who popped the Poppins answer, won first place in the movie trivia game with a score of 120. "I just love movies," Price said. "I guess I just have a good memory for that kind of thing."

I knew the correct answers to questions about movies that I haven't seen since I was a kid."

Price said that he often refers to trivia books, even from the 6 pm news, and he bounces the questions at each other up in the SILC office. "I always do that. I knew the right answer. Why the hell didn't I write that down?"

Michael Price, the guy with the Ivy-league look who popped the Poppins answer, won first place in the movie trivia game with a score of 120. "I just love movies," Price said. "I guess I just have a good memory for that kind of thing."
Indians salvage Homecoming, 28-0, as rain ...

Defense denies WPC

Quarterback Joe Rebholz threw three touchdown passes, and tailback Bill Grundy ran for a fourth as MSC avenged last season's 7-7 tie to William Paterson College/WPC, 28-0. It was the Indians' fifth straight victory since their opening game loss.

The rain that persisted up until five minutes before kickoff may have deflated the pregame balloon liftoff and any anticipated tailgating parties, but it did not hold back the Indians' defense as it recorded its second shutout in six games.

Rebholz, who did an outstanding job playing in place of injured Scott Fischer, hit receiver Don Lewis for 10 yards and a touchdown on the Tribe's first possession of the game. Kicker Keith Sahlin then added the extra point to make it 7-0 and put him in the MSC record book once again.

With that point, Sahlin became the holder of every career, seasonal, and game kicking record in MSC history.

Tailback Mike Horn also entered the books on Saturday at Sprague Field when his 60 yard run around left end in the first quarter put him ahead of Tony Valpone's 1,191 career rushing yards. His total of 152 yards on the night gives him a career total of 2,018—the first player in MSC history to rush for over 2,000 yards.

Chris McGrath caught a five yard Rebholz flip, also in the first quarter, to give the Indians a 14-0 lead at halftime. The score, however, should have been double that.

Touchdown strikes to John Jefferson look alike Terry Porter, and Grundy were called back on holding calls in the first half, and the question began to arise as to whether MSC would beat itself. Turnovers, too, kept the Indians' defense constantly on their toes as the wet astroturf made the ball difficult to hang onto.

The surprisingly large crowd (considering the rain) that flocked the wet benches at Sprague Field, saw the Tribe come out strong in the second half as Rebholz found wide receiver Dave Reavis six yards away in the corner of the end zone. Minutes later, Grundy scrambled over from the four to give MSC a comfortable 28-0 lead in the third quarter.

From there, the Indians' defense—as it had done all game and has done all season—totally shut down the Pioneers' offense.

Led by all-America linebacker Sam Mills, (9 tackles) and a hard hitting defensive secondary, the Tribe limited WPC to just 137 yards on the ground and 157 total yards.

MSC tries for its sixth consecutive victory on Sat., Oct. 25 vs Central Connecticut State College at 1:30 pm in Connecticut. The Indians return home on Sat., Nov. 1 at 8 pm vs conference rival Trenton State College.

Two for the books

With his first quarter extra point, Keith Sahlin became the holder of every career, seasonal, and game kicking record in MSC history. (above)

With his 152 yards, senior tailback Bill Grundy struggles for additional yardage en route to his 151 yard performance.
as rain deflates pregame festivities

nies WPC

passing, and tailback Bill Grundy ran for a un Paterson College/WPC, 28-0. It was the first loss for the Indians. The kick may have deflated the pregame races, and it did not hold back the Indians' defense as it helped the Indians' defense. Kicker Keith Sahlin hit receiver Don possession of the game. Kicker Keith Sahlin in the MSC record book once again.

career, seasonal, and game kicking record in sday at Sprague Field when his 60 yard run Valpone's 1,191 career rushing yards. His of 2,018—the first player in MSC history to in the first quarter, to give the Indians a 14-0 e double that.
ner Porter, and Grundy were called back on rise as to whether MSC would beat itself.
their foes at the wet astroturf made the ball
at flooded the wet benches at Sprague Field, hbhoze found wide receiver Dave Reavis six r, Grundy scrambled over from the four to ge game and has done all season—totally shut 1 and a hard hitting defensive secondary, the and 137 total yards.
ct. vs Central Connecticut State College
on Sat., Nov. 1 at 8 pm vs conference

The books

With his 152 yards, senior tailback Mike Horn became MSC's all time leading rusher and the first player in MSC history to rush for 2,000 yards in a career (below).

Pioneer halfback Owen Mills is swarmed on by MSC's "Red Monster Defense".
Sam Mills (62), Rich Raber (75), and
Brian Monahan (92) lead the charge
(above) as MSC's cheerleaders acknowledge their performance (right).

Defensive end Brian Carlson (64) psyches himself up with the help of kicker Keith Sahlin before Saturday night's game vs WPC.
Come Enjoy Your Winter Break with C.L.U.B. in sunny ACAPULCO

January 6 — 13, 1981
8 Days, 7 Nights

$429.00 per person
includes airfare, hotel, transfers

Meetings for Information, Sign-up and Payment

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DATE</th>
<th>TIME</th>
<th>STUDENT CENTER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>October 24, 31</td>
<td>10 am — 12 pm</td>
<td>Meeting Room 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>28</td>
<td>12 — 1 pm</td>
<td>Ballroom C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>29</td>
<td>10 am — 1 pm</td>
<td>Meeting Room 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 3, 4, 10, 11, 17, 18, 24, 25</td>
<td>12 — 1 pm</td>
<td>Ballroom C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7, 14, 21</td>
<td>10 am — 12 pm</td>
<td>Ballroom C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12, 19, 26</td>
<td>10 am — 1 pm</td>
<td>Ballroom C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>December 1</td>
<td>10 am — 1 pm</td>
<td>Ballroom C</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Final Payment Due DECEMBER 1, 1980
Any Questions Call 893-5232

A Class One Organization of the SGA
RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE:

is benefitting Robert Teta-a victim of leukemia.

gives any donor access to blood for you or your family when needed.

is good for you! Giving blood cleanses the system!

LET'S TOP OUR 312 PINT RECORD

—YOU'LL FEEL REAL GOOD!!!!—

OCT.29-30 10AM—4PM
STUDENT CENTER BALLROOMS
by Meryl Yourish

Goldie Hawn is, without a doubt, one of the best comic actresses of our time. She has captivated audiences with her unique brand of humor since she first appeared in Laugh-In, and her latest movie, Private Benjamin, is a study in excellence.

Hawn plays Judy Benjamin, a rich young Jewish American Princess who has everything—a car, a nice house, a wealthy husband. Victor Franz, who plays her husband, and Gregory Solomon, the furniture and belongings in an apartment are being torn down. Victor wants to sell all of his furniture and belongings in the apartment where their father had his law practice for turning his back on the family business. Walter, his older brother, Walter Franz, has taken different paths in life. Victor chose to become a successful doctor for turning his back on the family business, and Walter chose to continue with his education and become a successful lawyer. The brothers are reunited after a number of years. The setting is a rude awakening, to say the least.

She gets on the bad side of her commanding officer (Eileen Brennan) when she complains about having to sleep in the same room with strangers and no curtains on the windows. "I know I joined the army, but I joined a different one," Judy says. "I joined the one with the condoms." She learns the hard way that she is stuck for three years, and proceeds to become the least competent commanding officer parents find her and try to take her home. Suddenly, Judy becomes the model soldier, and her squad captures the enemy headquarters after getting lost in a swamp all night by mistake (don't they always?) during war games.

She gains confidence and begins to respect herself. On graduation night, she meets a breathtaking Frenchman, Henri. Judy falls in love and jumps at the chance to transfer overseas, where she sees Henri again. The story of Private Benjamin is about a priest, old and bitter, who has seen everything, and manipulates her way even through army red tape.

Armand Assante, as Henri, is overwhelmingly charming. Judy is so taken with him that she has formed an immense good looks between Little Darlings and Secretary. It was given by Ed Thom as Solomon. Speaking with a thick Yiddish accent, Thom was able to achieve the emotional intensity his actors have been trained to do.

The Price: Take my brother, please

by Stephen Kantrowitz

The beautiful Westminster Theatre, on the Bloomfield College campus, is the heart of Actors Cafe Theatre. Playing through Nov. 8, is a somewhat stodgy production of Arthur Miller's The Price. The Price is a play about obligations. The two main characters, Victor Franz and his older brother, Walter Franz, have different paths in life. Victor chose to give up his education and take care of his father, who needed his help. Walter decided to continue with his education and become a successful doctor. The brothers are reunited after a number of years. The setting is Mountain Camp, is the home of Actors Cafe Theatre. Playing at Fort Biloxi for basic training is a somewhat dull performance of Private Benjamin.

The beautiful Westminster Theatre, on the Bloomfield College campus, is the heart of Actors Cafe Theatre. Playing through Nov. 8, is a somewhat stodgy production of Arthur Miller's The Price. The Price is a play about obligations. The two main characters, Victor Franz and his older brother, Walter Franz, have different paths in life. Victor chose to give up his education and take care of his father, who needed his help. Walter decided to continue with his education and become a successful doctor. The brothers are reunited after a number of years. The setting is Mountain Camp, is the home of Actors Cafe Theatre. Playing at Fort Biloxi for basic training is a somewhat dull performance of Private Benjamin.
Assortment of pop treats

by Bill Melo

For people who follow new music closely, the name Rough Trade is a familiar one. The organization started in 1976 as a record shop and eventually expanded to become a record label, releasing some of the best music on either side of the Atlantic. Rough Trade records have always been different. The label has placed itself to presenting challenging, new music to a greater number of people than ever before. To this end, Rough Trade has expanded its operations by setting up shop in San Francisco, thus allowing the American audience an opportunity to buy Rough Trade product at a cheaper domestic price.

Another example of this dedication is the recently released Rough Trade compilation album entitled Wanna Buy A Bridge? This record contains 14 songs previously unreleased in the UK, from such diverse sources as Delia Faye, Spuzzuenergy, and Staff Little Fingers / SLF. The music on this record is not your standard fare: be forewarned. You will not find Billy Joel or Styx sound-alikes on this compilation. What you will find, though, is a lot of exciting music. The album kicks off with Alternative Ulster by Northern Ireland's SLF. SLF plays a fiery brand of rock, most reminiscent of early Clash, mixing political references with the fury of punk. Another band who makes music with a political slant is the funk oriented Pop Group. We Are All Prostitutes, their first single on Rough Trade, is included on Bridge.

Diversity is the key element on this record. From the funkiness of the Pop Group to the lighthearted balladering of Robert Wyatt, this record is a winner. Also of note is the contribution of women to the music on this album. Of the 14 artists represented here, no less than six have women playing major roles. In fact, two of the bands, Kleeneex (now known as Lilmup) and the Raincoats, are all female. Other groups such as Delta Five, whose Mind Your Own Business single included on this collection is a dance club favorite, are fronted by women. Wanna Buy A Bridge?

Rock Calendar
Coming to Aldo's Hideaway:
Oct. 16 Stranglers

Furs possess creative spark

by Maureen Baker

Many rock fans, whose tastes having developed, are yearning for something more involved in the musical scope. One such band, the Psychodelic Furs, was contracted by CBS records and has recently released an LP simply titled The Psychodelic Furs.

In 1977, England was being bombarded by the punk movement, and that year the Furs decided to expand the movement by adding their own bit of kinetic energy to the wave. Their first single, We Love You/Pulse, was released in 1979 and was soon followed by another, Sister Europe.

By 1980 when the LP was released (including all three cuts from the singles), college and undergraduate play catapulted the album sales and airplay so far as to chart them as No. 18 on the British charts as a new entry. The Furs have been convincing in their stateside tries, also charting nationally in Canada and in the US.

The Psychodelic Furs are a 10 song, mostly roto-rotating set (except for a few jazzy cuts) that firmly establishes this group as a major market player. Their most recent tour has been in Europe and the US.

The songs feature a creative spark necessary to ignite mass consciousness—just read any fanzine or music review, and you'll see the psychodelic proof.

The group is truly captivating, narcotizing the listener to the point of becoming wholly engrossed in the performance, both on vinyl and in the flesh.

The disc includes 10 enchanting songs, all written and arranged by the Furs; with the detectable production of Steve Lillywhite (producer of XTC and The Brains, and member of the English pub band Peter Gabriel to do the Furs debut). The performing aggregation is Tim Butler on bass, John Ashton and Roger Morris on guitars, an industrious Durene Kilborn on saxophones, Vince Ely on drum kit, and Richard Butler propelling the action (as though on a remote control mechanism) with hypnotic vocals.

The group has a healthy respect for the music they play; they often comes across as automatic, yet remarkably alluring; all six performers are incredibly provocative.

The challenge is to try to describe the songs separately, because every one offers an illustrious genius (lyrically and musically) on a different level; yet they remain very credible and persistent (having nothing to do with the era).

So, you want to buy the LP. The tension and emotional value crumted in melodic patterns and each shimmering pattern. Guaranteed.

You can experience the magic of the Furs at Aldo's Hideaway in Lyndhurst, NJ on Oct. 23. WABX will also feature an interview with the band on this date from 8-10 pm.

Forbert goes electric with third LP

by Ilan Strasser

Now that he has gone electric with his third album, Steve Forbert threatens to enlarge his already sizeable audience. An acquaintance of mine who has thrilled to Forbert's music since the beginning was not impressed with the new album, Little Steve Orbit. But, fortunately, I think he will fall into the minority of listeners.

The new album pulsates with the type of energy that is readily apparent at a Forbert concert. While I did not see Forbert at his recent MSC concert. While I did not see Forbert at his recent MSC

I am here upon this circumstance called Earth. And all I am. I take this form: I'm shooting through the universe at birth, If the world becomes the great unifying force that everyone proclaims it to be, it will be Steve Forbert who helps lead the way to that coming together. I don't know about you, but for my money, his straightforward and realistic approach to life is about the best morality lesson I've ever heard. And it's fun to be learning it from him.

Steve Forbert:
Teaches us straightforward, realistic approach to life.

steve forbert: little steve orbit

nemperor jz36595

1 rade products at the cheaper domestic prices.

Atlantic.

SALE at the MSC Bookstore

Quality, Hardcover Books
up to 2/3 off original retail price!!!
including...

THE VIKING WORLD James Graham-Campbell
originally $30.00 — now $10.95

THE HISTORY OF IMPRESSIONISM James Rewald
originally $27.50 — now $9.95

THE ANNOTATED SHAKESPEARE A. L. Rowse
3 vol. set originally $60.00 —
now $24.95

And 20% off Hardcover Best Sellers
including...

PRINCESS DAISY Judith Krantz
THE SECOND LADY Irving Wallace
THE COVENANT James Michener
Terrific P/T Jobs

UNITED PARCEL SERVICE

evening/nite or early am hours

5.51 - 9.19 per hour

Applications - Interview At:
799 Jefferson Rd
Parsippany, N.J.
884-1525

M/F equal opportunity employer

Join the paper!

PART TIME EMPLOYMENT
UNITED PARCEL SERVICE
SADDLE BROOK
LOADING/UNLOADING

$5.51/hr. to $9.19/hr.

FULL BENEFITS
APPLY: TUES. & THURS.
9AM TO 3PM

At ST. ATHANASIOS CHURCH
51 PARAMUS ROAD, PARAMUS
OR CALL 864-2810 ex.255

EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT IS $ NITE

Thursday the 23rd
Reflection Records Record Artists
T. ROTH
&
ANOTHER PRETTY FACE

dollar admission, $drinks-all night long

Friday the 24th
TRIGGER
&
FULL STRIDE

Saturday the 25th
THE NINES
&
FULL STRIDE

Every Sunday
New Wave Rock'n Roll
THE MODERNS
&
THE NINES

ALSO 100 Ladies received MODERNS & NINES T-Shirts
ALSO first 100 customers receive MODERN & NINES buttons

Every
Wednesday Night
WHITE TIGER

Reflection Records Record Artists
T. ROTH
&
ANOTHER PRETTY FACE

dollar admission, $drinks-all night long

Saturday the 25th
THE NINES
&
FULL STRIDE

Every Sunday
New Wave Rock'n Roll
THE MODERNS
&
THE NINES

ALSO 100 Ladies received MODERNS & NINES T-Shirts
ALSO first 100 customers receive MODERN & NINES buttons

Every
Wednesday Night
WHITE TIGER
THUR., OCT. 25, 1980
UNDERGRADUATES: Sign up for Semester Abroad Program for spring 1981 study. Opportunities in Australia, Denmark, and Israel. Contact Dr. C. Jackson, Director Intracollegiate Academic Programs. C-306A; 893-4431.

FRI., OCT. 24, 1980
MEETING: First information meeting for CLUB's Acapulco trip. 10 am-12 pm, Meeting Room 1, Student Center.

SAT., OCT. 25, 1980
HALLOWEEN PARTY: Sponsored by BSCU and LAFO. Student Center Ballrooms 8 pm-1 am, $1 with ID, $1.50 without ID. There will be refreshments, a Latin band, DJ, game and candy room, two money prizes, and much, much more.

SUN., OCT. 26, 1980
FASHION SHOW: Rehearsals for fashion show sponsored by BSCU and SGA Cultural Affairs every Sunday and Wednesday. Student Center Meeting Rooms at 7 pm. All are invited to attend and participate. For additional information call Kish Bryant at 893-4198 or 4285.

MON., OCT. 27, 1980
HALLOWEEN PARTY: Sponsored by CLUB. A Halloween party with music by the Suspects. Admission is $1 with costume and $1.50 without. 8 pm in the Student Center Ballrooms A and B.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE: Sponsored by CINA. Presidential candidate Dr. Barry Commoner, Citizens Party. Student Center Ballrooms or outdoors, between 2-3:30 pm. No admission price. Come hear and meet the candidate. Also sponsored by the anthropology club.

THUR., OCT. 30, 1980
PARALEGAL STUDIES: A panel discussion with paralegals working in diverse legal areas will be held on Nov. 5 at 2-4 pm, in Russ Hall Lounge. For further information call Marilyn Frankenthal at ext. 4152 or 4285.

THUR., FRI., AND SAT., OCT. 30-Nov. 1, 1980
REVIVAL: First annual Fall Revival. Theme: It’s Time To Seek the Lord, sponsored by Montclair State Contemporary Gospel Ensemble. Oct. 30-31— Student Center Cafeteria, 7-10 pm. Nov. 1—Freeman Hall Cafeteria, 12-10 pm. There will be speakers, choirs, dinner, seminars, and monologues.

FOR SALE:
1971 Ford LTD, ps/pb, good transportation, just passed inspection, asking $350, negotiable. Call 226-0011.

PERSONAL:
Michael, this is just the start of the Birthday that you’ll never forget. Love always, Robin.

PERSONAL:
Karen, To the best friend anyone could ever have. Have the best birthday ever. Love always, Robin.

FOR SALE:
Audio-vox FM-stereo stereo. Used 5 months, excellent condition, asking $75, call after 5 pm, 766-6213.

FOR SALE:

PERSONAL: To “the Gleam,” I’m so glad we became friends! You’re super! Love, Deb.

FOR SALE: 1971 Ford Maverick, runs good but needs some work, $150, call 868-1563.

FOR SALE: 1979 Ford van, ps/pb, 21,000 miles, 6 cyl., customized, $4,800. Call Bob after 5:30 at 859-1450.

FOR SALE: Wedding gown only worn once, Queen Anne style, size 12, best offer. Call Doreen at 370-200.

CINA & Anthropology Club present
Citizen Party Presidential Candidate
BARRY COMMONER
Monday, October 27
2 — 3:30 PM
Student Center Ballroom A
FREE Admission

A Class One and Class Two Organization of the SGA

ALPHA PHI OMEGA
is throwing our annual
HALLOWEEN PARTY
Wednesday, October 29 8 PM
at Newman House

Costume Recommended.
Booters notch second victory

by William Delorm

Forward Alvaro Tarrago scored twice, and sweeper Paul Liddy converted a penalty kick to give MSC its second victory of the season, 3-1, vs New York University NYU, Friday at Brookdale Park.

Liddy's goal, at the 41:12 mark of the first half, proved to be all the Indians would need to subdue the winless (0-10) Violets. Midfielder Gary Holt was taken down inside NYU's penalty box to set up the score.

The Tribe's leading scorer, Tarrago, gave MSC a rare lead past 14 minutes into the match when he outran the Violet's defense and fired a loose ball past an out of position NYU goalkeeper.

Tarrago's second goal of the game and his fifth of the season came 31:26 into the second half. After taking a perfectly timed pass from midfielder Tom Conners, he used the NYU goalie, catching him flat-footed, and pushing the ball into the left corner of the net.

“We moved the ball better in the second half than we have since our opener vs Mercy,” assistant coach Rich Neumann commented after the game.

A lot of MSC's success at moving the ball can be credited to Australian midfielder Wally Broder and “Kamikaze” forward Jeff Greulich.

Broder played one of the best games any Indian has this season. He scored, and one touch passes kept NYU defenders running crazy, and his dominance in the air was rivaled only by the high flying Liddy.

Greulich, who started the season as a second string fullback, was brought to the front line vs Kean College last week. His job was primarily to harrass opposing fullbacks and goalkeepers into making costly mistakes in front of the net.

Thus far, he hasn't caused that bag of an error, but he has given opponents enough body contact to have them concentrating on him and not the ball. Twice on Friday, NYU’s goalie found himself eating dirt with Greulich on his back as he tried to hang onto MSC shots.

NYU's lone score came with only seven minutes to play in the match, when Jimmie Al headed an indirect kick past a lunging Mike Iopoano.

“Wow shot. It just hit his head. He didn't even realize it went in,” Iopoano commented in disgust after losing his shutout.

“All we needed was a win,” head coach Phil Santiago stated afterwards. “Now they're (the players) talking about knocking off Trenton and Glassboro. And we can do it,” he added.

THROW INS: MSC's victory followed a two hour team meeting the day before in which the players and Santiago told each other just how they felt about the team, their teammates, the season, and the coaches. Obviously, something was discovered—like how to win...The Indians' next game is on Sat., Oct. 27, 1980 at 11 am vs Ramapo College at Sprague Field.

On Wednesday night, Oct. 29, the Indians will face one of their toughest opponents all season when they take on Trenton State College under the lights at Sprague Field. Game time is 8 pm.
MSC holds soccer clinic for very special athletes

by Paul Huegel

Under the sponsorship of the NJ Special Olympics, more than 600 NJ mentally retarded athletes of all ages participated in a state wide soccer clinic at MSC on Oct. 15.

Special Olympics is the largest program of sports training and athletic competition for the mentally retarded—a year round program in 95 percent of America’s counties. It’s success has been made possible by the love and dedication of hundreds of thousands of volunteers who know that the mentally retarded have important contributions to make in society. MSC can take pride in saying they are part of the success of Special Olympics.

MSC has participated in soccer clinics for the mentally retarded for the past five years. Previous clinics were at Brookdale Park. Last Wednesday’s was the first time the event was held at Sprague Field. About 120 MSC students, mostly physical education majors, helped as referees and trainers for the participants who had already played soccer at their schools and institutions.

This program, based on a grant from the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped of the US department of education, is developing means for mentally retarded persons to make a successful adjustment to leisure situations through educational experiences that include physical education and recreation.

The Special Olympics is an international program of physical fitness, sports training, and athletic competition for mentally retarded children and adults. It is unique in that it accommodates competitors at all ability levels by assigning them to “competition divisions” based on both age and actual performance.

The program contributes to the physical, social, and psychological development of mentally retarded participants. Through successful experiences in sports, they gain confidence and build a positive self image associated with success rather than failure.

Mentally retarded individuals eight years of age or older are eligible to participate in Special Olympics. There is no upper age limit.

The Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation created Special Olympics.

The program is operated by Special Olympics, Inc., a nonprofit, charitable organization located in Washington, D.C.

Special Olympics is a volunteer program. Over 315,000 volunteers provide the manpower for Special Olympics. They come from high schools and colleges, service and women’s clubs, parents, groups, youth agencies, sports, physical education and recreation, among others.

Special Olympics is sport in its truest sense. The goal is not to win, but to try; to experience, not to conquer. No time is too slow, no distance too small to earn a hug, a cheer, or a sincere “well done.” No records are broken in Special Olympics—except those for courage, determination, and sportsmanship.

Since its beginning, Special Olympics has grown remarkably to the point where now more than 1,000,000 special children and adults are participating. Each year, the retarded have a chance to show their families and communities just how much they can accomplish. This was the case last Wednesday at MSC.

Special Olympics offers 15 official sports—basketball, bowling, diving, frisbee, gymnastics, floor hockey, pole vaulting, ice skating, Alpine and Nordic skiing, soccer, softball, swimming, track and field, volleyball, and wheelchair events. Of these, MSC offers clinics in three—soccer and basketball in February, and track and field in the spring.

Dr. Leonard Lucek, state coordinator for the soccer competitions, Dr. Joan Schleede, chairwoman of MSC’s physical education department, and Tim Sullivan, state coordinator of the Innovative Sports Skills Instructional Program, all members of the physical education department, coordinated the soccer clinic.

“I feel the clinic is an excellent learning experience for my students and is valuable to both them and the participants,” Lucek commented.

“About 98 percent of my students volunteered their services,” he added.

“This was a great opportunity for students in the physical education department to be a part of a national project and work with mentally retarded children,” Sullivan noted.

“Also, I feel it is great anytime the college can work with the community and the community can rely on the college,” he added.