12-9-1982

The Montclarion, December 09, 1982

The Montclarion

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion/404

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Montclair State University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Montclarion by an authorized administrator of Montclair State University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@montclair.edu.
Reactions are mixed:

One semester later: the Annex—blessing or curse?

By Kelley Huey and Diane Hahner

The new $3.2 million Student Center Annex has received mixed reviews from school officials and students. The relocation of Class I organizations and student service organizations has elicited a variety of reactions.

Kathy Cuneen, president of Players, referred to the building as "a bomb shelter." Sophomore Dawn Wernicki said, "The layout, for someone who didn't know where she was going, is very confusing."

Tom Stepnowski, assistant dean of student affairs, said, "The Annex was built in an attempt to concentrate student services as much as possible." He said, "Relocation of activities previously located in Life Hall, such as Career Services, had to occur, as Life Hall had become part of the School of Fine and Performing Arts. Relocation of Class I organizations from the fourth floor of the Student Center to the Annex also contributes to the centralization of student services."

Joani Condo, president of HRO, expressed no positive points concerning the move to the Annex. Condo said, "There should have been a meeting of Class I organizations concerning who would move down to the Annex. We were forced." HRO occupies the smallest of all the new office space in the annex. They have not been provided with "a bulletin board, bookshelves, or even half the amount of furniture we previously had," according to Condo.

HRO believes they have been short-changed in the move to the Annex. WMSC, the campus radio station, voiced the same opinion. According to Pete Feinstein, general manager of WMSC, the station was only provided with enough shelving space for a small portion of their albums. Lack of assistance from SGA and the administration led Feinstein to secure funds from Paul McCormick, manager of the College Supply Store, with the help of Stepnowski, for extra shelving.

Membership Gains

Rob Thibault, editor-in-chief of The Montclarion, like Spinelli, is satisfied with the changes generated by the move to the annex. Thibault said, "We generally like our office space; our old offices were scattered over three floors." However, Thibault said that since the walls are concrete, an echo problem does exist. "When more than one person is talking on the phone, or typing, the echo is fairly loud," Thibault did say that people who visit our office are impressed. However, Thibault attributes this more to new desks, typesetting equipment, and better organization, all of which "send themselves to a more professional appearance."

Michelle Kane, president of the Council on International and National Affairs, also reports an increase in membership since the move to the annex. Kane said, "Our office on the fourth floor was bigger and had a better view, yet I like our location because we are near the bookstore, which is good for advertising, and because membership has increased."

Graphics by Stephen McLean—Photo by Barbara Bell

Faculty questions Dickson's leadership

See story page 3
C.L.U.B. and Schlitz Light proudly announce our great Spring destinations

BERMUDA

$310
$324
$334
$524

All Complete Prices

Add $20 - to each price after Dec. 23rd

Package Includes

Mon. - College Day at Elbow Beach
10:30 AM - The weeks first big beach bash with swimming, volleyball & live music, also complimentary B—B—Q lunch.

Tues. - Limbo Beach Party & Dance/10:30 AM
Live rock bands, free lunch, limbo demonstrations, and competition.

Wed. - College Week Cruise/10:30 AM
or 1:30 PM
Take this opportunity to see Bermuda from the sea.

FT. LAUDERDALE

$319 - 6 person occupancy
$349 - quad
(all complete prices)
Add $20 to each price after Dec. 23rd

7 nights at the Holiday Inn Oceanside
(the Home of The Button Bar)
Flight Leaves From Newark

$30.00 Deposit For Both Trips
Sign-ups start:
Dec. 13, 14, 15,
in Student Center Lobby
9 AM - 2 PM, 5 PM - 8 PM

CLUB is a Class One Organization of the SGA
Stealing students' computer programs is on the increase

By Jamie McHugh

A major thief at computer science majors has been the victims of an increasing problem in the computer center: having their accounts broken into.

Since it costs money to use a computer, students are given an account, which is reduced as the student uses computer time.

According to Dr. Dorothy Wolff, a math and computer science professor, account stealing is not widespread, but has become troublesome recently.

"In the past, if a student's account balance ran out, the student could ask a teacher for a balance increase because there were funds available. Today, it is much more difficult to receive a balance increase because the funds just aren't there. This could prompt the student to steal from other accounts," Wolff said.

Wolff added that a student with a zero balance in his account could be compelled to steal or copy from another's program.

Joe Di Pippo, assistant supervisor of academic lab services in the computer center and a computer science major, said that accounts are usually not reduced to zero because the funds just aren't there. This could prompt the student to steal from other accounts.

"If you keep your original password, you are asking for trouble," said Michael Chinni, a junior computer science major, and Di Pippo suggested that "students change their passwords once a week." But even that may not be the solution. According to Patrick Rutherford, also a junior computer science major, "Seven or eight people, who live in my dorm wing alone, have had their accounts broken into, even with changing their passwords." Account stealing is easy, he said.

Chinni added, "Anyone who sees you typing in your program can take a note of your password and break into your account." As an added precaution, Chinni has added extra passwords to his account to help keep it safe.

Program stealing has also been a problem, though not as serious. Students go to the center to pick up their finished programs and often find them missing.

According to Gideon Nettler, a computer science and mathematics professor, program stealing is common, but program copying is even more of a problem. He added that teachers can tell when the program has been stolen or copied by questioning the student, but it is obviously impossible to question them all. That's why we must have tests. They act like a net and catch the cheaters," he said.

Wolff added that tests are definitely needed to catch program stealers and copiers, but believes that computer cheating and stealing are common because of the many unqualifieds lured to the computer science field by the vast job opportunities offered.

"These students don't realize the discipline and problem-solving ability needed to be a computer major," projects are a more realistic appraisal of a student's ability.

Dickson’s leadership ability questioned by Faculty Senate

By John Connolly

The Faculty Senate last night "concurred with the spirit of" a resolution that would evoke a vote of no confidence in the leadership of Dr. David W.D. Dickson, president of the college, and request the board of trustees to accelerate the transition to a new president.

Dr. Edward Boyno, president of the senate, called the resolution "symbolic," and said it expressed the faculty's concern without explicitly saying it had no confidence in Dickson.

Dickson, who arrived late and was not present for much of the meeting, appeared visibly shaken after reading a copy of the resolution. He said later that he was "disturbed" by the resolution, but would not comment further.

Boyno said the resolution was not in response to the possible salary roll back for faculty, but rather a reaction to a long standing problem. "One of the reasons the resolution was sent back to the committee was that we did not want it perceived as a response to the possibility of a cut," Boyno said.

According to Boyno, the faculty felt that the college was "drifting" under Dickson's leadership. "We admire him as a man, but we expected strong leadership from him, and it did not seem that we were getting it," he said.

Boyno said that he does not anticipate a formal vote on the resolution, but, he added, "It depends on what happens in the next six months to a year."

Dickson, 63, took over as president of the school in September 1973. He succeeded Dr. Thomas Richardson and was selected from over 600 candidates.
This energy book is not a waste of energy

By Mona Sehgal

The energy crisis isn't nearly over yet, according to Dr. Philip LeBel, associate professor of economics at M.S.C. L. I. LeBel examines historical and contemporary energy situations in his new book entitled Energy: Economics and Technology, which was published by Johns Hopkins University Press in November.

The book, which took LeBel four years to complete, emphasizes the world's dependency on a limited supply of energy. LeBel's solution to the crisis lies in the "cheapest form of energy," conservation.

Next semester Lebel will teach an economics course here based on his book. LeBel said he will stress "the importance of broadening the view of the energy crisis we face today and the serious crises we will be confronted with in the future."

"The U.S. is very wasteful in comparison to Western Europe, he said. "European buildings are designed to save energy through a system of cogeneration. This method allows the rejected steam from the generator to provide electricity to be used for heating. This way, little energy is wasted," LeBel said.

European-made cars are engineered to be fuel-efficient as well. Also, gas has always cost more in Europe and tax on petroleum is artificially high to discourage waste. "Even in the '60s, while I was motorcycling through Europe, gas was 65 cents in England, about 80 cents in France and only 30 cents in the U.S.," LeBel said.

Conserving and commercializing renewable energies such as solar, wind, and hydropower will leave the world a greater aggregate supply of energy resources, OPEC, said LeBel, shows no mercy to the third world countries. The additional yield as a result of conservation, Lebel said, would lower the price of oil and allow the poorer countries to purchase according to their need. "This is at least as important as a dollar's worth of assistance," he said.

Legislators write to Trenton to protest cuts

By Lisa Fochesato

At yesterday's SGA meeting, a fifteen-minute recess was called for legislators to write letters to the assemblypersons in their districts. In their letters, the legislators stated that they were upset about the budget cuts to higher education. They stressed the points of teacher's salaries being reduced and reduction of educational equipment. Today from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the SGA office there is a phone-a-thon to the NJ state legislature to protest cuts in higher education.

The state of NJ is proposing a bill of legal drinking age should be allowed to attend. The bill failed. The SGA made numerous changes in its statutes. The most important change concerns a rule which states that if a Class I organization has a function such as a concert or a lecture which costs over $100, it must make a Major Event Report. The SGA is now raising that amount to $200 because of inflation.

Another change that was passed was Statute Change of Contract. This states that contracts can be returned no later than two weeks after received. Weekend College, a Class II organization, was granted a Class III charter, International Fellowship was granted a Class II charter, and Kappa Sigma Rho received a Class III charter.

The SGA is now raising the amount to $200 because of inflation.

Another change that was passed was Statute Change of Contract. This states that contracts can be returned no later than two weeks after received.

What To Do

With Your College Textbooks

I've accumulated all these books over the past few years. And I don't want to keep having them always. They'll just sit on a shelf. They still have some value. But what else can I do with them?

We will buy your unwanted textbooks at The College Store.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Annex Entrance

WHEN: December 6 - 23

March - Thurs., 9:00 - 7:30
Fri., 9:00 - 4:00

*Come in person.....no phone quotes

Need to Buy Gifts for the Holiday Season??

We will buy your unwanted textbooks at The College Store.

How Much?

As much as 50% off today's retail selling price

When: December 6 - 23

Mon. - Thurs., 9:00 - 7:30
Fri., 9:00 - 4:00

Happy Holidays
MSC group helps make a special Hanukkah for youths

By Frank Ross

To some people in this country, the holiday season of Christmas and Hanukkah is a blessed time of sharing. However, for others, it's just an emptiness between Thanksgiving and New Year's filled with crass ornamentation. It means freedom.

Although Hanukkah is a blessed time of sharing, the girls do not have the time and energy to give. They want to leave their little home in Riga, the capital city of Latvia (one of the Baltic Republics in the USSR) because they were forced to suppress their Jewish beliefs which they held so dearly.

Fortunately, the Smutrovs were given permission to exit the Soviet country. Through the sponsorship of Given permission to exit the Soviet country, they were able to resettle in the U.S. three months ago and are currently living in a small apartment in Passaic.

The transition from the USSR to the U.S. has not been a completely smooth one for the Smutrovs. As payment for their visas, the Soviet government confiscated most of their finances and belongings, leaving them virtually penniless. Right now, they are barely subsisting on welfare and food stamps from the government until the parents can find work in their chosen professions, engineering and nursing.

Helping them to ease their culture shock and their paltry existence is a student-run organization at MSC called the Slavic Circle, formed two years ago.

Since being informed of the new immigrants' arrival by the Jewish Center in Clifton, this group has been teaching the Smutrovs English and giving Inna and Natasha a thorough indoctrination into our culture. To date, they have taken the girls to such American landmarks as Burger King and Baskin-Robbins, brought them on campus to see Star Wars, and made them a gingerbread house.

It's been fun for the club to do with Inna and Natasha the things everyone on this campus takes for granted," said Caroline Scielzo, professor of Russian language at MSC and advisor to the Slavic Circle. "They were delighted just to get a box of Crayola crayons. When they received them, they went wild. They think of America as a kind of wonderland," she said.

In addition to the Circle's assistance, a local family treated the Smutrovs to an all-American Thanksgiving dinner with turkey, mashed potatoes, pumpkin pie, and other trimmings. This was a fitting holiday for the Smutrovs not only because they were grateful for their new-found freedom but also because it reaffirmed the first and most imbedded impression of this country—its abundance of food.

Right now, the Slavic Circle is trying to make Inna and Natasha's Hanukkah as memorable as their Thanksgiving. To date, they have treated the Smutrovs to a special Hanukkah party, a welcoming gift that includes medicines and a chest full of children's toys.

"Moscow is not known for their farewell parties and presents," Scielzo said. "Therefore, the girls do not have toys and games that we consider typical childhood goodies.

We are appealing to students to share with us their outgrown Stable sets, stuffed animals, games, dolls—anything that's American," she said.

Scholarships for the worthy

By Diane Hayes

Are you someone who is constantly involved with college happenings and who works for the community? Do you ever feel that your efforts have gone unacknowledged, and wish someone would take the time and energy to thank you?

If your answer is yes, you will be happy to know that people are aware of your efforts and are ready to reward them. The Alumni Association of MSC wants to thank you. The Alumni Association of MSC wants to thank you. The Alumni Association of MSC wants to thank you.

Well, if you wish to donate toys or money to two future citizens of this country, drop them off in the foreign language office on the fourth floor in Partridge Hall.

On Tuesday, Dec. 14, members of the Slavic Circle will wrap these gifts in Hanukkah paper and present them to the children.

CLOTHING SALE
AT
THE COLLEGE STORE

20% OFF EVERY ITEM!!!

December 6 to December 23
Do Your Christmas Shopping Early
An Opportunity You Shouldn't Miss!

A SERVICE OF THE FACULTY STUDENT
COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION, INC.
By Lidia Wilimberg

Seventy-five to 100 push-ups a night. How does she do it? For Marjorie Noritsky, a petite 5-foot-11-year-old freshman, it's part of her daily routine. Marjorie holds a yellow belt in karate. She became involved in karate by pure chance six months ago. "It was a toss-up between taking a class in karate or jazz," she said.

"People look at me and can't believe I'm capable of hurting someone. But you have to remember, it's not your height and weight that matters, but how quick you are," Marjorie boasts.

There are different types of karate. Marjorie originally studied Tae Kwon Do, which is a form of Korean fighting which involves more use of the hands than feet. Marjorie is taking a class in Koei/Kan, which is a Japanese form of defense where full contact is made during sparring.

Marjorie explained that karate involves a great deal of concentration and stamina. "If you wish to obtain rank, you need to set a date for when you wish to be evaluated by your instructors on Kota and your knowledge about the forms themselves. But one thing to keep in mind is that rank isn't everything. It's what you know and how you feel about what you know. Your belt does not enhance your knowledge, it's your degree of study and dedication that matters."

At one point, Marjorie's parents thought it may be too rough for her, especially after she had been punched in the nose when sparring. "They told me to forget it," she said. "I was scared to spar again, but I realized I had to learn quickly from my mistakes and that in any match, there's always someone who loses. Now my parents encourage me, as well as my brother, a blue belt, who has inspired me through his dedication to the art.

"It takes a lot of devotion and drive to appreciate karate," Marjorie said. Most of all you have to do it, live it, and be it."

She really gets her kicks out of karate

By Judy Mongiello

Sal Pulitano, a sales representative from Radio Shack, recently spoke to members of the Administrative Management Society. His talk was on microcomputers and their applications in small business.

Pulitano, a graduate of MSC, received his master's here in 1970. "Because of the advances in technology, computers are becoming more affordable for everyone to own," Pulitano said. Explaining the capabilities of the microcomputer, Pulitano said, "You can change the computer into a word processor with a change of a diskette." The computer can also be equipped with a 100,000 word dictionary that will highlight and correct any spelling mistake. However, it cannot correct grammatical errors, such as (to) for (two).

He noted that with an additional disk drive the word processor can be merged with a mailing list. In this way, not only are letters printed out at 500

See Computers on page 7

Microcomputers have a growing place in businesses

Passaic County's Premier Rock N Roll Room
Corner Union and Preakness Ave.
Paterson, N.J.

THE LION CLUB

The Lion Club

GRAND OPENING

Thurs. Dec. 9

NETWORK

College ID gets you a free Bar Drink

From NYC

Fri. Dec. 10

Saturday Dec. 11

College ID gets you a free Bar Drink

Tues.

LADIES NIGHT
NO COVER AND LADIES DRINK ALL NIGHT FOR $1.00

WED.

College Night
ID GETS YOU IN AND GIVES THAT PERSON A FREE DRINK

Every Thurs.

Rock with D.J. Scott and Company
New Wave Rock Dancing

Every Thurs. Fri. Sat.

Top Bands From N.J. and NYC
Call 942-5556 for Information and Auditions

Respectable Attire Please
MSC students document career of the jazz 'doctor'

By Ellen Oleskamp

Adolphus "Doc" Cheatham, a 78-year-old trumpet player who is still going strong, is a prime example of all that jazz. As the result of a revitalized interest in jazz music during the past decade, Cheatham, for one, has been receiving quite a bit of attention. In fact, he is the subject of a documentary film currently being made.

The project has been undertaken by five ambitious MSC students: Louis Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in film making at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.

Louis Cortese, a co-producer of the documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC. When he was an undergraduate he took a few courses in film and became interested in the "moving image." Thus, he views his involvement in the production of "West End Jazz," a proposed documentary, is presently pursuing a graduate degree in filmmaking at MSC.

Cortese, Arish Fyzee, Glen Arnolds, Bob Price, and Tom Keanes. They have been working on the project since last spring and thus far have gotten footage of Cheatham in live performances in New York's Village club Sweet Basil's and the Kool Jazz Festival. Their task will be to film the musician during radio, a jazz station in Newark.
Computers are child's play for young programmers

By Eileen Oleksiak

Tots and tots: computers have become virtually child's play, not only in the arcade, but in the classroom as well. Barbora Dubitsky, education coordinator for children's technology at Manhattan's Bank Street College, recently discussed this trend at MSC in a lecture sponsored by the math and computer science department. The lecture was entitled "Computers, Children, and Logo."

Dubitsky said the invention of Logo, a computer language designed with kids in mind, was responsible for the increased use of computers within grammar schools. She said the new language made the computer a more accessible tool for the young students. She noted that parents and teachers were pointing to what they thought were the valuable aspects of such systems. Dubitsky agreed that computers were a positive addition to the classroom, but her reasoning differed from many of the faculty members she had spoken to.

"Some people think computers are good delivery systems. But I'm skeptical whether or not a child can really learn how to think by doing math drills, and/or reading passages and answering questions. In these cases the child simply turns on the machine, puts something in the disk drive, and presses a few keys. A child can sometimes get the wrong idea that a computer is a magic box which knows a lot. This won't help him understand computers for a future job market."

She also renounced the idea that teaching kids a computer language will help them become the programmers of tomorrow. Dubitsky feels that many of the computer languages will be radically different in the future.

"Her support of computers in the classroom stemmed from what she thought kids could do with Logo. "You teach someone four words in Logo and he's motivated to find out more," she said. This was especially true of a nine-year-old student Dubitsky encountered. The child worked on one project for two months, consulted books and science teachers, and literally went beyond the computer to make his program run. Dubitsky liked the idea that the kids were not relying solely on the computer for answers."

Dubitsky explained that another student gained status in the classroom through his mastery of Logo. "Many of the kids would go to him for help and he was usually willing to oblige." In her observation of students at the Bank Street School, Dubitsky noticed a general atmosphere of cooperation not found in the regular classroom situation.

Dubitsky said the computers served as good outlets for two very intelligent students who, because of their mathematical ability, were far ahead of the lesson the teacher was presenting of their 10-year-old classmates. Dubitsky said they didn't want to put the kids in a high school algebra class, for example, because they were socially immature. In this case, the computer seemed a fitting alternative.

One disturbing factor Dubitsky discussed was the fact that boys seemed more interested in the computers than girls. She said society has taught girls that tinkering with machines is unladylike.

Co-op helps marketing major gain profit

Lisa: As a Co-op student at Nabisco, do you feel differently or apart from the mainstream of workers? Veron: The people I work with make me feel like I'm a part of the organization. They realize I'm being trained and don't always know as much as they do, but they still see me as part of the system because every bit of my work is part of some end result.

Nabisco has also shown me how managers deal with their responsibilities. Lisa: Summarize, if you will, what you feel you have received from the Co-op program and what it has to offer students at the college.

Veron: Students who have the opportunity to look into the Co-op program should be grateful that they can get a feel for the working world. Co-op allows you to meet people in your field and establish contacts. This benefits you in your job search. By being a Co-op student, you no longer have to be worried about the saying, "no experience, no job."

The Co-op Education office is located in the Student Center Annex, Room 104, and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and has evening hours on Thursday until 7 p.m.
The SGA Student Directory is in the Production Stages. Any student NOT wishing to be in the directory, please complete the form below and return it to the SGA Office, Student Center Annex.

Name ____________________________
Address ____________________________
Zip _______ Phone ________________

Do not wish phone number printed.
Do not wish address printed.
Do not wish name, address and phone number printed.

The Latin American Student Organization wishes everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We are celebrating the month with the Latin spirit and invite all to enjoy our festivities.

Feliz Navidad y Prospero Año Nuevo

The following is a List of Events for December:

Thurs. 9 - STUDENT CAFE TEATRO
The L.A.S.O. theater group “Rasgos” will entertain everyone with their skits and humor. Come enjoy traditional foods and caroling from our hispanic home lands.
Place: Russ Hall Lounge Time: 7:00 p.m.

Mon. 13 - EDUARDO VARGAS, exchange professor at Montclair State from the Inter-American University of Puerto Rico, will give a lecture about “Neoricans: Neither Here Nor There.” The plight of Puerto Rican Americans returning to the Island.
Place: Student Center 4th Floor, Meeting Rms. 1 & 2 Time: 2:00 p.m.

Tues. 14 - Prof. Eduardo Vargas will present a film about “Puerto Rican Non-Verbal Communication.” A discussion on the subject will follow.
Place: S.C. Annex Rm. 126 Time: 7:00 p.m.

Thurs. 16 - Santa Claus Photo Session is coming to town! Come take a picture with Santa.
Place: Student Center Lobby Time: 12 - 4 p.m.

Fri. 17 - Christmas Party
We are celebrating the end of the semester with a party. Come dance merengue, cumbia and more with us. If you cannot dance we will help you. Come and have a Feliz Navidad!
Place: Student Center Ballrooms Time: 8 - 1 a.m.

Through the entire month, L.A.S.O. is also sponsoring a TOY DRIVE. To make Christmas a bit more pleasant to the needy we are collecting toys to donate to charity. A box will be located at the Lobby of the Student Center. Please donate any toy you can.

L.A.S.O. is a Class One of SGA
The Annex blues

Within the last year MSC has been graced with two projects, each costing millions of dollars: Blanton Hall and the new Student Center Annex. Blanton Hall won an award for its creative use of concrete and we're anxiously waiting to hear what type of award the Annex will win.

The purpose of the Annex, which was to concentrate student services in one central location, is a logical one and in many cases has helped boost the membership and popularity of student organizations. The Annex is convenient for students since most of the student organizations are now on the same floor as the bookstore, the bank, game room and the Rathskeller.

The idea behind the Annex is a good one, but for $3.2 million, couldn't we have gotten a building that was inhabitable? Many of the concrete walls are still not painted and will probably remain that way. The only area in the entire Annex with windows is the walkway connecting the Annex to the Student Center. It is questionable why the building was designed this way, since the offices in the Annex are used much more frequently, yet they are the areas without any windows.

Students in campus organizations often spend a great deal of time in these offices and often find them bare and depressing.

In addition to its sterile appearance, the Annex has had other problems. People in the Women's Center, Career Services, and the SGA office have often complained of throat and eye irritation since their move to the Annex. Because of this, the Department of Environmental Protection was called in to check the Annex for high carbon monoxide levels. Although they found nothing serious, it is still unknown what in the Annex caused these symptoms.

Because the Annex walls are concrete, it is usually excessively noisy in the offices and meeting rooms. There have also been considerable problems in controlling the amount of fresh air pumped into the Annex. The large windows in the walkway connecting the Annex and Student Center have even leaked on occasion. Hopefully the Annex has gone through all the problems common to "new" buildings.

From an architectural viewpoint, the Annex may be a masterpiece, but it should have been designed with the students in mind.

The Invisible Ceiling and the Manmade Lake are Just Two of the Features of this Outstanding Example of Minimalist Architecture

John Lennon is remembered: The dream is still living today

By Jim Benson

Two years ago, on the night of Dec. 8, 1980, I was relaxing at home watching Mofday Night Football: a game in which the Miami Dolphins beat the New England Patriots 16-13 in overtime at the Orange Bowl in Miami. It is a night that I will always remember, yet wish I could forget: wish that it had altogether not happened. A night's events I wish could be erased from history. For me it was a night that encompassed the extremes of the emotional spectrum, from elation to devastation over the incidents that occurred.

Yet I will not remember that Monday night because a struggling Miami (my favorite team) beat a playoff-bound New England. I'll remember it as a night "that will live in infamy"—the night Howard Cosell told America that John Lennon was dead. The night that I cried myself to sleep listening to Vin Scelsa on the radio.

The tragedy of that has been etched into my memory as if done with acid. The consoling music and remembrance of John, in the at times poetic words of Vin Scelsa and his listeners who shared over the radio their thoughts and emotions, helped me make it through the night. The events that followed like the vigil in Central Park for the 10 minutes of silence for which Yoko asked also helped to make the hurt less.

This year I hope everyone took some time out yesterday to stop and think of John; if not, at some point this week spend some time not only remembering John, but remembering what he stood for, what he believed in, what he meant to the world. An advocate of world peace before it was in vogue, a man of love and humanitarianship; a human being in the full sense of the word. He was a visionary who saw what the future could be, if only we were willing to work for it.

There was time when it seemed John could put all things in perspective for us, a time when dreams could be believed in and allowed to grow and thrive. At times it seems as if that is gone from us all; that the dream is truly over. But it isn't. The dream and John's spirit are still with us; perhaps it takes a different kind of person to still feel them among us.

At times I find myself looking at the world and seeing what John believed in, seeing the dream and visions becoming almost extinct and wishing that he was still here to show us the way. Although we do not have John here physically today, we still have his words and music, his spirit to help us in our quests.

John Lennon was not merely murdered, he was crucified. Even in death he couldn't escape the vulture-like public, with exploitation reminiscent of Elvis Presley, an occurrence which John so despised. No one will wear a symbol of John Lennon's death around his neck; he'll never be sainted. Musically he was appreciated for almost 20 years, philosophically he may not be heralded until the world consists of our children's children.

I still feel a deep emptiness, a sorrow that transcends a hero. December 8 will forever be a day to remember. I hope that John has found peace, and pray that in death he can become omnipresent. John Lennon is no longer a man, but a spirit; a hope within us all.

To some John Lennon was a father, brother, leader, guru poet and hopefully prophet. The dream is not over. It is up to us to pick up the dream and carry it out.

"And so this is X-mas And what have you done? Another year over And a new one just begun So Happy X-mas."
Students speak

Are you aware of the asbestos problem in the library and what do you think should be done about it?

By Janet Hirsch and Bruce Myers

We are exposed to it. It endangers our health and I think they should fix it.
Janice Sepe
Junior/communication

They should fix it, but with the state's money, not ours.
Mike Leap
Freshman/undeclared

I think they should fix it; asbestos is a serious problem.
Brian Keams
Freshman/industrial arts

I think they should fix it because it is hazardous to our health.
Debbie Collins
Junior/recreation

We hope you're good enough for us!

By Janet Hirsch and Bruce Myers

Phone-in on 3% budget cut

To the editor:

As you know, the NJ Department of Higher Education is facing a $42 million dollar deficit in fiscal 1983. The DHE has increased tuition and fees by $20 million and reduced expenditures by a total of $22 million, and to add on to this, Governor Kean has requested all his department heads to react to an anticipated three percent cut in the budget for each area.

As a student you may be asking yourself, "Well, what does this mean to me?" What it means is that there will be cuts on services the college provides. For example, library books and educational supply purchases, educational equipment, and academic courses will all decline in quantity and quality. And probably, sooner or later, we will all face another tuition increase!

In view of this, the administration, SGA, and the New Jersey Student Association have decided to take a base of action.

The NSA, along with the SGA, will have a phone drive to call your respected representatives in NJ. In all lobbying effort, the colleges across the state will be calling their legislatures this week. MSC will be having its phone-in today.

I hope that all these efforts don't go to waste. As The Montclarion wrote in its Nov. 18 Op-ed section, "It is time that students get their noses out of the books, their bodies out of the Rat, and make their presence felt. If students don't look out for themselves, no one else will."

Angel Ramos

To the editor:

MSC's fundamental commitment to liberal arts can be enhanced through a more comprehensive environmental education curriculum. Liberal arts programs are intended to provide students with general knowledge and intellectual capacities, such as reasoning and judgement.

The goal of MSC is to educate students who will utilize their skills in a manner that is positive and beneficial to their communities. Our answer to the current crisis in funding and lack of clarity lies in strengthening the bond between MSC's campus programs and MSC's NJ School of Conservation programs.

The potential benefits are far-reaching in both the professional and liberal arts fields of study. All of this is at our fingertips; no new programs, just the implementation and expansion of those that exist.

Some examples of innovations are bringing environmental issues into journalism (which is a highly specialized field of work) and creative writing courses. Music and theater can also display these issues. Law courses can explore international environmental laws as in Yale and Harvard programs, along with environmental advocacy.

Social programs can deal with urban issues. The MSC's fundamental commitment to the arts, including an awareness and strategies for community involvement or eco-activism. Alternative energy training can be incorporated into the natural and physical sciences curriculum and industrial arts programs, as in Stevens Institute of Technology. Agriculture issues, such as the use of pest control examined by the biological and other science programs. Environmental education can be incorporated in the teaching professions.

All of these existing curricula can be expanded and none are jeopardized. This focus provides clear and steady goals for the college and a responsiveness to social and technological changes. Not only will high quality students be attracted to the college, but high quality students will graduate from the college.

Janine Barna

Bland food in Blanton Hall

To the editor:

We are already near the end of the semester. After exhausting the alternatives, we think if we publicize our complaint in The Montclarion, something may be done. We are on-campus residents and are forced to pay for at least ten meals per week in the cafeteria. Since we have no choice in this matter, we think that it is only fair that the "food" is of a quality and variety that we can depend on to satisfy our nutritional needs.

This is definitely not the case in the Blanton Hall cafeteria. We are all taking multiple vitamins because we feel we just aren't getting it in the food. Menus are practically the same every week despite the continuous reasonable ideas we have been submitting to their "suggestion box." Maybe they are just being considerate—we are all building up a strong immunity to bad food.

It is especially difficult for a vegetarian to get a balanced meal. Who wants to eat salad twice a day, every day? We all usually end up cooking our own meals after we eat what we have paid for in the cafeteria. It's not as if nothing can be done. Even last semester the food was better. The only time there is a slight improvement in the food is on Friday nights after many people have left for the weekend.

One thing we have to admit—at least we don't have to eat a lot of food in the cafeteria; the portion sizes they serve are about the size of soup line rations. It's really sad that we are forced to pay for this food, especially when they make things like "Creamed Eggs on Toast"--for dinner!

Debra Barnett
Dave Sagurton
Sue Ellen Lee
Carol Giusto
Susan Young
Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo
Friday, December 10
Saturday, December 11
8:00 PM
Memorial Auditorium
$8.00 Students, Faculty, Staff
Tickets Available in College Art Gallery

PUBLICK HOUSE

CRYAN’S

M. S. COLLEGE NIGHT
*Bar Shot & Beer - $1.00 *All Tropical Drinks - $1.00

PARTY WITH DRIVER

THURSDAY*
COLLEGE NIGHT
*All Ladies Drinks Reduced
*Jumbo Pitcher - $3.00 *Carafe of Wine - $4.25
D.J. and TEASERS

FRIDAY & SATURDAY*
D. J. and Rock & Roll
LIVE ENTERTAINMENT
*Every Saturday - LADIES DRINKS HALF PRICE (7 till 10 PM)

SUNDAY*
D-J’S KAMI-KAZI PARTY
SHOTS .50¢

“DANCE UNDER OUR ALL NEW LIGHT SHOW with N.J.’s TOP D-J’S” Tues. thru Sun.
NEVER A COVER CHARGE
292 GROVE AVE., CEDAR GROVE * 239-1189
(One Block in From Route 23)

Montclair State College

“This Bud’s For You”
Champagne' King toasts MSC

By Lonnie Tea

Monday nights are rough. Monday night concerts during the holiday season, with exams and term papers coming are even rougher. However, if you were one of the lucky ones who managed to see and hear The Lady, "Champagne" King, you could easily have forgotten what day it was.

Only a small crowd turned out to hear Evelyn King, but undaunted, she turned Memorial Auditorium into a disco. When she took over the stage (from her special guests The Chops), she took up her band and took over the audience with the aura and grace which make her a number one star. To hear the lady sing and speak and to watch her move is a more powerful experience than any disco provides.

"I'll turn you on to your own power tonight," she said to a wildly dancing crowd. Yet, it was something more than the power of the audience that lifted this show to such a height. Moving like music on stage, in her flashing white satin, Evelyn opened hotly into "Spirit of the Dancer," and by the next song, "Shame," the aisles were filled with dancing and excitement. She brought the audience into frenzied admiration when she took the bongos for a solo. When she shook, the crowd shook with her.

"I want to get everybody singing," she said to the crowd as she moved into "You Make My Love Come Down." Hearing her, you could with Evelyn "Champagne" King.

When she took over the stage, she took up her band and took over the audience with the aura and grace which make her a number one star.

Tribute to Zeppelin

By Julius Spada

The first post-Zeppelin album Coda hit the record shops in mid-November. Spanning the decade from 1969 to 1978, this album encompasses all of the aspects of the band that their listeners have grown accustomed to over the years. From the boogie style of "Darlene" to the forbidding tale of "Poor Tom," the Zeppelin style is highlighted in every song.

Robert Plant's raspy vocals in "We're Gonna Groove" are the very substance that set the Zeppelin afoul in the band's early years. This aspect, coupled with Jimmy Page's subtle style of guitar playing, which is featured on "Ozone Baby," shows why Led Zeppelin was still a driving force in the rock and roll industry. The late John Henry Bonham is featured on "Bonzo's Montreux," a drum piece which has Jimmy Page messing with the electronic aspect of the song.

Seven of the eight songs are new to the record buyer, the exception being the Willie Dixon piece, "I Can't Quit You Baby." This song appeared on their first studio album, only this time the song was recorded during a sound check at the Royal Albert Hall in 1970. All of the other songs were outtakes from different albums over the years.

The album is aptly entitled Coda because according to Webster, this is "an adjunct to the close of a composition, for the purpose of enforcing the final character of the movement." The album clearly performs this function by taking the old and new material of Zeppelin and closing out a very respectable stay in the world of rock.
Thurs., Dec. 9
— Picture Perfect, Inc. will be selling plastic picture holders from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Student Center Lobby at a low price of only $2.75.
— La Campana Photo Staff Meeting: In the Student Center Annex, Room 111 (yearbook office), at 3:30 p.m.; new members always welcome.

Fri., Dec. 10
— Picture Perfect, Inc. will be selling plastic picture holders from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Student Center Lobby at a low price of only $2.75.
— Dance: "Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo" in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.; $10 standard, $8 senior citizen and MSC ID; for further information contact Cultural Programming at 893-5112.
— Drama: All-Spanish language program of Christmas scenes; sponsored by the Hispanic Experimental Theater at MSC at 8 p.m. in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall; for additional information contact Dr. McCormick at 893-7509.

Sat., Dec. 11
— Dance: "Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo"; for additional information see Friday, Dec. 10.
— Trip to Mother Theresa's Soup Kitchen: Sponsored by the Newman Community; interested parties should meet at the Newman House at 9 a.m.; for more info call 746-2323.

Sun., Dec. 12
— Recital: Music Preparatory Division student recital in McEachern Recital Hall at 3 p.m.; admission is free; for additional information call Sheila McKenna at 893-4443.
— Music: "An Evening with Count Basie" sponsored by Class One Concerts in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.; $10 standard, $8 with MSC ID; for more info call Class One Concerts at 893-4478.
— Liturgy: In the Newman House (894 Valley Road or follow the path behind Morehead Hall) at 7 p.m.; to be followed by X-mas tree trimming party.
— Liturgy: Sponsored by the Newman Community in Russ Hall Lounge at 11 a.m.
— Combined Concert: MSC Chamber Choir/Brass Ensemble to perform at Montclair Heights Reformed Church at 4 p.m.; admission is free; for more info call Julie Marchini at 893-5112.

Mon., Dec. 13
— Board of Trustees Meeting: In Kops Lounge, Russ Hall at 7:30 p.m.; meeting is open to the general public.
— Movie Night and Bagel Sale: Sponsored by the Science Fiction Club in Partridge Hall from 6 to 10:30 p.m.; 6 p.m.: s/f film; 7:30 p.m.: fantasy flick; 9:30 p.m.: horror classic; admission is free.
— Lecture: "The Neo-Rican Student," to be held in the Student Center, fourth floor, meeting room one and four, at 12 p.m.; for additional info contact Dr. Rambaldo 893-4285.

Tues., Dec. 14
— WMSC-FM: General membership meeting in the Student Center, fourth floor, meeting room one at 4 p.m.
— Traffic Safety Day: Sponsored by the Health Department (Dr. Redd) in the Student Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
— CINA Meeting: Last general membership meeting in '82! Come and visit—surprises for everyone! To be held in the CINA office (Student Center Annex, Room 102) at 2 p.m.
— Liturgy: Sponsored by the Newman Community in the Newman House at 12:15 p.m.
— Concert: The MSC Band will perform in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.; admission is free; for more information contact the music department at 893-5226.

Wed., Dec. 15
— Affirmative Action Committee

When the party is BYOB (Bring Your Own Brush), you find out who your friends are.
Thurs., Dec. 16
— Liturgy: Presented by the Newman Community in the Newman House at 12:15 p.m.

— Art Forum Lecture: Donald Sultan, painter, will speak in the Calcia Fine Arts Building, Room 135 at 3 p.m.; admission is free; for more info contact Pat Lay at 893-4307.

Fri., Dec. 17
— Recital: Music Preparatory Division student recital in McClellan Recital Hall at 7 p.m.; admission is free; for more info contact Sheila McKenna at 893-4443.

Sat., Dec. 18
— Lecture: Sociodrama lecture and demonstration from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Montclair Center for Psychodrama; admission is $15; for more info call the Women's Center at 893-5106.

— Candlelight Christmas Liturgy: Sponsored by the Newman Community in Newman House at 10 p.m.

— Christmas Caroling: Presented by the Newman Community; carolers interested in singing at local nursing homes should meet at 7:30 p.m. at Newman House.

— Picture Perfect, Inc. will be selling plastic picture holders, at a low price of only $2.75, on Thursday, Dec. 9, and Friday, Dec. 10, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Student Center Lobby.

—Part-time Job: Recreation Instructor, 3- to 5-year-olds, early childhood major, Montclair, NJ. Complete listing available in Career Services, Student Center Annex, Room 104.

— Full-time Job: Asst. Billing Manager, magazine publisher, B.A. plus experience with marketing statistics, Morris Plains, NJ. Complete listing available in Career Services, Student Center Annex, Room 104.

Sun., Dec. 19
— Liturgy: Presented by the Newman Community at 11 a.m. in the Russ Hall Lounge.

Mon., Dec. 20
— Newman Community: Will be holding official elections all day at the Newman House.

— Monday Night Supper: Presented by the Newman Community at Newman House at 5 p.m.; for additional information call 746-2323.

Burt Reynolds & Goldie Hawn
A Norman Jewison Film

"Best Friends," starring Jessica Tandy, Barnard Hughes, Audra Lindley, Keenan Wynn, Ron Silver, Burt Reynolds & Goldie Hawn

Music by Michel Legrand
Lyrics by Alan and Marilyn Bergman
Executive Producer: Joe Yuzan
Directed by Norman Jewison

Classified Ad Policy: Classified ads are free to all SGA fee-paying students. A fee of $5, payable in advance, will be charged to all non-students. Ads will be accepted Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Montclair office (893-5169). Ads may be mailed also. Any ad accepted after Monday will appear in the following week's issue.
classified

For Rent

- Furnished Room: Share cooking and bath facilities; single, male, college student only; East Orange area; 672-8663 after 6 p.m.
- Glen Ridge: Trade rent in exchange for babysitting services. Private room available. Third-floor, one-man apartment. Call 744-6084 after 6 p.m.
- Two furnished student rooms and bath for rent; on third floor of centrally located Montclair home; near bus line; light cooking facilities; rent reduction for housekeeping chores; $40/week; call 783-2032.
- For housekeeping chores; $40/week; call 783-2032.
- Lost: White, soft cover, looseleaf notebook; CBS News Standards and Practices
- There will be much ingratitude if you forget the bid. You Know Who?
- Carol: Pick you up at seven sharp. There will be much ingratitude if you forget the bid. You Know Who?
- Dear Dianne: You'll never go straight, never stop talking. The Lonely People.
- Dear John: In my life, I loved you more. The Lonely People.
- Why didn't Jim fall out of the tree?
- Why didn't Jim fall out of the tree?
- Dear Joseph: You don't have a place to stay for winter break? Why not sublet my fully furnished apartment? It's only four miles from campus and one block from the bus. Sound good? Call 783-6325 for more information.

For Sale

- '75 VW Bug: Steel-belted radial tires; sunroof; good, cheap, dependable transportation; $1050; call 232-1990, or 232-5744 at night.
- '74 Monte Carlo Landau: power steering, brakes, and windows; air conditioning; tilt wheel; bucket swivel seats; am/fm eight-track; extras; will take best offer; call 232-1990 or 232-5744 at night.
- Frame your friend for the holidays. Because he's going to the Winter Ball.
- 7-11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in The Montclarion office (893-5169), Student Center Annex, Room 113. Ads may be mailed also. Any ad accepted after Monday will appear in the following week's issue.
- The Tokyo Show would like to thank all those involved in setting up for the successful Uncle Floyd interview on Friday. Again, thank you!
- The Shank of the evening has finally arrived!! See you at the pre-cocktail hour Cocktail Party!! L.
- Dear John: In my life, I loved you more. The Lonely People.
- Dear Joseph: You don't have a place to stay for winter break? Why not sublet my fully furnished apartment? It's only four miles from campus and one block from the bus. Sound good? Call 783-6325 for more information.

Lost and Found

- Lost: One scruffy, matted beard, please contact Howard at WMSC-FM.
- Lost: One scruffy, matted beard, please contact Howard at WMSC-FM.
- Lost: White, soft cover, looseleaf notebook; CBS News Standards and Practices
- Lost: White, soft cover, looseleaf notebook; CBS News Standards and Practices
- Lost: Brown Westward wallet on Nov. 15; if found please call 744-1573.
- Lost: White, soft cover, looseleaf notebook; CBS News Standards and Practices
- Lost: Brown Westward wallet on Nov. 15; if found please call 744-1573.
- Lost: Brown Westward wallet on Nov. 15; if found please call 744-1573.

Personal

- ERNESTINE: The Grapes of Wrath can be sour indeed! Why don't you go to the bookstore and get Cliffs Notes? They'll help you understand what you read, and they give a great review. Then you'll have more free time for me! I've got a cold bottle of Ripple... care to share? JULIO.
- Linda: When you want Rob moved out, call me. I'll be happy to help. Rich.
- Linda: When you want Rob moved out, call me. I'll be happy to help. Rich.
- Linda: When you want Rob moved out, call me. I'll be happy to help. Rich.
- Linda: When you want Rob moved out, call me. I'll be happy to help. Rich.

Classified Ad Policy: Classified ads are free to all SGA fee-paying students. A fee of $5, payable in advance, will be charged to all non-students. Ads will be accepted Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in The Montclarion office (893-5169), Student Center Annex, Room 113. Ads may be mailed also. Any ad accepted after Monday will appear in the following week's issue.

Canadian is a living language.

Molson Golden. That's Canadian for great taste.

—Patty: Despite the awkward silences, I still had a good time. Let's try it again sometime.

—Picture Perfect—it's only a frame of mind!

—Pattikins: When are you coming to an SGA meeting? And what were you doing with that teapot? Joe (Dept. 001, 147, 295, etcetera).

—Luke: I'm looking forward to tonight with you.

—Glenn: Whoever was sleeping in your bed reported to the CINA office today. He wants to talk to you. Monique.

—Yvette: Why did we leave those cuties? Stop looking for dog snouts, Pooh Bear. Love, Monique.

—Donna: Happy belated classified. It would be un-American and uncollegiate not to get one before graduation. Also... congratulations on your engagement, on graduation, on getting out of office (yeh!), etcetera. Laura.

—Jim L. and Maureen: Congratulations on your graduation from the Jim B. School of Coordination and Speech Pathology. Now while tripping over your words you can simultaneously trip over your feet! Incognito.

—Mike B.: You say it's your birthday—well Happy Birthday to ya. Love, CC Ryder.

—BASHFUL: Every time I see you, your head is buried in a book. Why don't you go to the bookstore and get Cliffs Notes? They'll make those tough assignments easier to understand, and they'll give you a great review. Throw down those chains and come out with me! INTERESTED.

—Stephanie: When can I finally get that cup of coffee?

—Steve: Thanks for satisfying my appetite. You were right. I was hungry. Bunny Rabbit.

—Time: “Dream, do you dream? Dreaming, do you? In my dreams I can see, I can. I can see a love that could be.” A Simple Man.

—Bashful: Every time I see you, your head is buried in a book. Why don't you go to the bookstore and get Cliffs Notes? They'll make those tough assignments easier to understand, and they'll give you a great review. Throw down those chains and come out with me! INTERESTED.

—Judy: I think the pink taffeta will make the scene! Stay cool—see you later. Your Buddy.

—Pizzaman: Now that we've tried the chablis, I also enjoy burgundy. Let me teach you about Pinot Noir. Marketing Club X-mas party? Policy's Resident Wine Expert.

—Mas: If Sundays are not appropriate, what days are good for you? Keep in touch. B.B.

—To the NST: How does it feel to be on your own? With no dingleberries to hide behind. A disgusted friend.

—Dave (my star): “The stars are so romantic.” Thanks for our four wonderful years! (plus many more...) I love you! Jenny (your star).

—To Mortimer Brewster: I think you did a great job with Arsenic and Old Lace, no matter what the paper said. 4A06.

—Monica: Your nails are growing like weeds! Love, Bean Bazeen.

—Monica: Your nails are growing like weeds! Love, Bean Bazeen.

Good times offer:

Brighten up your wall with a reflection of your good taste. For this unique 16" square mirror in a sturdy frame, just send this coupon, along with a check or money order for $9.95 per mirror (no cash please) to: Seagram's 7 Crown Mirror Offer, P.O. Box 1622, New York, N.Y. 10152.

Name (Please Print)

Address

City State Zip

Specify quantity Amount enclosed $___ Seagram’s 7 & 7

Seagram’s 7 Crown Mirror Offer, P.O. Box 1622, New York, N.Y. 10152.

© 1982 SEAGRAM SECILLIUS CO., N.Y. AMERICAN WHISKY-A BLEND. PROOF “Seven-Up” and “7UP” are trademarks of the Seven-Up Company.
classified

— Pat: Tonight's the night. Winter Ball '82. Here we come. Guess.
— Katie: This is your favorite roommate. I am your favorite aren't I? You've only got one, what do you mean NO! Ha-ha. M.J.
— Chris: You I.S. I'm still waiting!
— To Tom in 4A19: I think we should get together sometime. Your friend down the hall.
— To You Know Who: You still owe me a drink! Since there's a whole month for break. I'm sure you'll pay up. You Know Who.
— John "P" Burns: Tonight's the night! Love, Baby Gl.
— Executive Sect'y — Oh, you swine!
— Rob: All you love is my hair. You're so selective. I love all of you! Stephanie.
— To the Candyman at the Student Center: What is your name?! Don't I know you from somewhere? Love the red sweat shirt! Write back! B.V.M.
— There are no giant worms at La Campana— only a big snake and a teddy bear, who subsist solely on Diet Coke. In other areas of the Student Center Annex, however...
— D.C.P.: A special thanks for your always listening ear, many thoughts, never-ending time, everlasting patience, and ever-flowing effort. Can't wait for Milwaukee. L.A. Mom.
— Griz: Enough is enough. Why don't you cut the bull and grow up!!!
— To all I.S. Club members who helped this semester: Many thanks!! W.P.S. (Mom).
— Kath: Art the Rat has been looking for you— watch out, he'll creep up on you. R.T.
— Dear LingLing: Have a fantastic time at the big "W.B.," at least one of us is going. Work on that lip action!!!
— To the night centipede student: You brought me luck! Score— 51.098. My friend finished your turn— 24,198. How about a re-match next Thursday? Piano Player.
— H-Man: Can't you do it any faster? (Surveys that is.) When is the next full moon? We'll have to get together for it. Love, Your V.P.
— To tables 3 and 4: Let's have a terrific night! Judy.
— Ed Ox: If you hadn't gone to Jim B.'s school for walking, you wouldn't have needed Jim L. to pick you up when you were acting like a dead monkey. Ogdenia.
— Rob: Lower your morals and make an old woman happy. C'mon— be wonderful. Luv You! Me.
— Frank L. and Rich H.: Are you over your black patent leather fetish— OR WHAT?! The Executive Sect'y.
— Whoever stole Pam's "left one," I want it back!
— Joni: Here’s your personal (finally). Your were a great pres, and you'll always be a great friend. Love, Karen.
— Frosted Flake: The four closes, swimming, yellow cottons, football games, screwdrivers for breakfast, chauffer, why are we friends? never on time all the fun. Love, Tramp.
— Linda: Your brutha, mutha, and fatha can come to our riding lesson anytime, but gag me with a spoon if you don't ride a Thelwell again. Silly Filly.
— A.B.N.W.: I love you— all the way— and then some!! A.B.N.
— Frosted Flake: The four closes, swimming, yellow cottons, football games, screwdrivers for breakfast, chauffer, why are we friends? never on time all the fun. Love, Tramp.
— Linda: Your brutha, mutha, and fatha can come to our riding lesson anytime, but gag me with a spoon if you don't ride a Thelwell again. Silly Filly.
— A.B.N.W.: I love you— all the way— and then some!! A.B.N.
— Frank L. and Rich H.: Are you over your black patent leather fetish— OR WHAT?! The Executive Sect'y.
— Whoever stole Pam's "left one," I want it back!
— Joni: Here’s your personal (finally). Your were a great pres, and you'll always be a great friend. Love, Karen.
— Frosted Flake: The four closes, swimming, yellow cottons, football games, screwdrivers for breakfast, chauffer, why are we friends? never on time all the fun. Love, Tramp.
— Linda: Your brutha, mutha, and fatha can come to our riding lesson anytime, but gag me with a spoon if you don't ride a Thelwell again. Silly Filly.
— A.B.N.W.: I love you— all the way— and then some!! A.B.N.

Classified Ad Policy: Classified ads are free to all SGA fee-paying students. A fee of $5, payable in advance, will be charged to all non-students. Ads will be accepted Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in The Montclarion office (893-5169), Student Center Annex, Room 113. Ads may be mailed also. Any ad accepted after Monday will appear in the following week's issue.
— Big Guy: Excellent job in the play. Bully for you—I was very proud of you! Love From Your Little Girl.

— Congratulations System Six!! Once again you proved that sweats finish second, and beauties like you finish first. The Coaching Staff.

— Harris: You're a sweetie! A fellow Cabinet Member!

— Sue, Cathy, Linda, and Staff: Bonne chance en France la semestre prochain. N'oubliez pas m'écrire! Barb.

— Montana Mike: Little did I know one picture assignment would bring you up to your lens in Smurfs. Oh—Laura and Skeeter miss you. Silly Filly.

— Also R.: If R. won't do it for 20 seconds, how do you look in gold lame? I'll give you a buck. S.

— Rob: We promise, no more gold lame jokes. We're moving into black satin. R. and P.

— Lynch: I am most sanguine that you washed your car Saturday.

— Dear Lori G.: Merry Christmas, you are very special to me. Love, Mr. B...

— Charnette: Don't say no one loves you! This is the BIG DAY! Don't forget "up the wall" tonight! See you later. The A.A.P.

— Johnny Lowe: Thank you for the super tunes! You are a sweetheart! Looking forward to Duran, Duran. Your Princess.

— A.K.: What will you do after the semester's over? You'll have no more books to keep you company! I can suggest an alternative. Anonymous.

— Margie: I think I have an overwhelming task ahead of me next semester. Thanks for the support! No, I haven't gone shopping yet! Help! Ellen.

— Dear Jillian: You won't be a teenager much longer now. You're getting up there. Have a Happy 20th Birthday. Your friend, Barb.

— Bruce: Your performance was excellent last week. You can perform for me anytime. An Admirer.

— S.: Sorry, you'll only get me in leather. Also R.

— Pete Feinstein for Nothing! He's short and exonerated!...poor guy.

— Shank: It's finally Dec. 9! Let's trip and no or what! J.

— Brian Travis for General Manager. Leave him alone!

— Mike Bobrowicz for Chief Engineer and Advisor. He'll give 97% for you.

— To my favorite coach and my favorite journalist. All I see is our future! Together. Love, R.H.P.W.

— Amy: Thank you for all you've done! You're a real buddy! Let's "burn" the charge cards! Merry Christmas! Love, Ling-Ling.

— Griz: Have a Merry Christmas and see you at our first meeting next semester. Mom.

— Sue F. (304): Enjoy your holiday. Term papers are over. L.A. Windy (509).

Typing Services

— Papers Typed: Fast and accurate; $1/page; call Ina at 783-2353.

— Typing Service: Reports, term papers, theses, resumes prepared and reproduced; word processing; contact Business Services, 6 Pine Court, Little Falls, 254-0274.

— Resumes, term papers, letters, etc.; good, quality work, reasonable prices; East Orange area; call 674-8840 for info; by appointment only.

— Do you have typing that needs to be done? Fast and accurate; $1/page; call 555-6131.

— Typing Service: Reports, term papers, theses, resumes; fast, efficient, and great rates! Contact AOS at 664-8356 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or call 338-1915 after 6 p.m.

— Typing: Letters, resumes, term papers, etc.; IBM Correcting Selectric II for neat, professional look; fast, accurate, and reasonable; call Sharon at 478-5731.

Wanted

— An Assistant General Manager for WMSC. He or she must be clean shaven and have no holes in his or her pants.

— Campus Reps Wanted: Earn free trips and $$ working on your campus for America's number one student travel organization. Call (212)355-4705 for full details, or write to: Inter-Collegiate Holidays, 501 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10022.

— Apartment Wanted: Upper Montclair or Montclair; will consider sharing; mature male, responsible, non-smoker, away all day; call 988-1492.

---

For the ride of your life...

All you need for Christmas are your two front seats!

AIRPLANE II THE SEQUEL

PARAMOUNT PICTURES PRESENTS A HOWARD W. KOCH PRODUCTION AIRPLANE II: THE SEQUEL. ROBERT HAYES, JULIE HAGERTY, LLOYD BRIDGES, CHAD EVERETT, WILLIAM SHATNER. DIRECTOR OF PHOTOGRAPHY: JOE BIRD. A.S.C. PRODUCED BY HOWARD W. KOCH. WRITTEN AND DIRECTED BY KEN FINKLEMAN. A PARAMOUNT PICTURE.

Opens December 10th at a theatre near you.
First of all, it's not you who gets naked, it's a bottle of Today's Schaefer. What you do is strip off the label and ask a friend to try it. Don't let him (her?) know what beer it is.

What will happen is the same thing that happened when we tried it on beer drinkers in New York. 8 out of 10 liked it. They said it was a smooth, good tasting beer. And when we tried it on more beer drinkers, they were surprised to find out it's Schaefer beer.

No surprise to us, though. Today's Schaefer is being brewed by the Stroh family, who have devoted their 200 years of brewing experience to making Schaefer better than ever.

Test it yourself before you try it on a friend. Today's Schaefer will make a Schaefer drinker out of you.

Tell us about your naked beer test and we may print it. Write to: Schaefer Naked Beer Test, P.O. Box 1703, Grand Central Station, N.Y., N.Y. 10016.
The Montclarion

Frank Galvin has one last chance to do something right.

THE VERDICT
TWENTIETH CENTURY-Fox Presents A ZANUCK/BROWN PRODUCTION
PAUL NEWMAN / CHARLOTTE RAMPLING
JACK WARDEN / JAMES MASON
THE VERDICT / MILO O'SHEA
MUSIC BY JOHNNY MANDEL / EXECUTIVE PRODUCER BURTT HARRIS
SCREENPLAY BY DAVID MAMET / BASED ON THE NOVEL BY BARRY REED
PRODUCED BY RICHARD D. ZANUCK AND DAVID BROWN
DIRECTED BY SIDNEY LUMET

WORLD PREMIERE ENGAGEMENT STARTS WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8th

CLASS CONCERTS proudly presents
C O U N T B A S I E
AND HIS ORCHESTRA

SUN., DEC. 12, Memorial Auditorium, 8 PM
Tickets $8.00 W/MSC ID $10 general public
TICKETS ON SALE MON. DEC. 6 STUDENT CENTER

DON'T MISS THIS NIGHT OF UNFORGETTABLE ENTERTAINMENT

CLASS 1 CONCERTS IS A MEMBER OF YOUR SGA
sports

Wrestlers top Oneonta 24-19

The wrestling team, in its second quad match of the season, defeated Oneonta State University 24-19, but lost to Mansfield State College 27-22 and East Stroudsburg State College 29-26.

Nick Milonas went undefeated in the 126-pound weight class, pinning Craig Brecker of Mansfield in 5:40 and winning his other two matches by decisions. Bob Stravides, in the 150-pound weight class, also went undefeated by decisions over his three opponents.

Against Mansfield, Mike Kurtz pinned Mike McConville in 5:30 for the Indians at 118 pounds. Troy McCann at 158 pounds and Bob Haley at 190 pounds won their matches by decisions.

Against ESSE, heavyweight Joe Galisto pinned Mike Luke in 2:43. In the match against Oneonta, Dave Drelack won by a 6-1 decision over Kevin Delargy in the 167-pound weight class. Bob Haley of MSC moved down to the 177-pound weight class to defeat Greg Kern by a 12-10 decision and Roland Achstav won the 190-pound weight class by an 8-5 decision over Howie Goldberg.

Mike McConville in 5:30 for the Indians at 118 pounds. Troy McCann at 158 pounds and Bob Haley at 190 pounds won their matches by decisions.
The Montclairian, Thurs., Dec. 9, 1982

Sports

Gymnasts are tumbling toward successful year

The MSC gymnastics team is hoping to duplicate last year's sixth place finish in the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women national championships. Dominated by freshmen and juniors, the young but talented squad is working hard to improve. Head coach Mike Dow is confident in this year's team and is looking forward to another successful season.

Four important members returning are sophomore Wendy Bossier, juniors Margie Breznak and Stephanie Grohoski, and the team's only senior, Sharon Banukas. Bossier received all-American honors and placed ninth in the uneven parallel bars and 10th in nationals, improvement by junior Jill Mandel and sophomore Karen Collins is crucial.

Mandel and Collins both perform in the all-round competition of balance beam, floor exercise, uneven bars and vaulting. Grohoski, an eight place finisher in the EAIAW for uneven bars, rounds out the veterans who are returning from last year.

Newcomers to this year's squad include Grohoski's sister Staci, Jill Lichtenberger, Karen Lukach and Pam Vertes. Vertes is the only gymnast with some club background while the rest are basically from high school teams.

Dow is confident in his squad's skill despite a slow start due to many injuries and competing in the NCAA for the first time this year. "Right now only two people aren't hurt but I expect to do better this year than last year. We've upgraded our schedule due to competing in the NCAA but I don't put much emphasis on our dual meet schedule. I put more into the realization of fulfilling each girl's potential," Dow said.

Dow has had six years of coaching experience at MSC; the last four as head coach. Dow's assistant, Tim Marotti, has accompanied him the past four years; each coaching floor and vaulting with Dow concentrating on bars and Marotti on beam.

---

Budweiser

King of Beers®

MEN'S Varsity

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DAY</th>
<th>DATE</th>
<th>OPPONENT</th>
<th>PLACE</th>
<th>TIME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>NOV 30</td>
<td>LEHIGH UNIV.</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WED</td>
<td>DEC 1</td>
<td>RITZVILLE</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>8:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>DEC 7</td>
<td>BANNOPO COLLEGE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>THURS</td>
<td>DEC 14</td>
<td>PRINCETON UNIV.</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>JAN 14</td>
<td>RIVERHED PICT.</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>JAN 15</td>
<td>STOCKTON STATE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MON</td>
<td>JAN 17</td>
<td>U.S. MILITARY ACADEMY</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>JAN 22</td>
<td>WILLIAM PATRICK COLLEGE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>JAN 25</td>
<td>GLASSBRO STATE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>JAN 29</td>
<td>Kean University</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>FEB 1</td>
<td>STONESTOWN</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>FEB 14</td>
<td>WILLIAM PATRICK COLLEGE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>FEB 15</td>
<td>GLASSBRO STATE</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>8:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WOMEN'S Basketball

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DAY</th>
<th>DATE</th>
<th>OPPONENT</th>
<th>PLACE</th>
<th>TIME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>NOV 30</td>
<td>OCEAN COLLEGE</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>DEC 4</td>
<td>NOVA STATE H</td>
<td>C</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WED</td>
<td>DEC 11</td>
<td>MIDDLESEX CC</td>
<td>C</td>
<td>1:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MON</td>
<td>DEC 19</td>
<td>ROBERTS C.C.</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>JAN 2</td>
<td>UNION COLLEGE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>JAN 4</td>
<td>PULLMAN PATRICK</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>JAN 11</td>
<td>TRENTON STATE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>6:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>FEB 3</td>
<td>ESSEX COUNTY COLLEGE</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>1:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>FEB 11</td>
<td>WEST POINT PREP</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>9:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TUES</td>
<td>FEB 24</td>
<td>ESSEX COUNTY COLLEGE</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>1:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAT</td>
<td>FEB 26</td>
<td>WEST POINT PREP</td>
<td>H</td>
<td>1:00 P.M.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

ASSIST COACH

Joe Rappaport

---

Chanukah Latke Blast

Featuring:

- "Helena & the Harem"
- Live DJ
- Refreshments Served

Join us for a fun filled evening with Bellydancer - "Helena & the Harem"

Learn the art of Bellydancing and Dance up a storm with the latest Disco sounds.

DATE: Thursday, December 9
TIME: 8 o'clock PM
PLACE: Ballroom B - Student Center
COST: $2

JSU is a Class III Organization of SGA
The Dial Classic

Indians win championship defeating Army, Syracuse

By John Connolly and Kathy Szorentini

The women’s basketball team captured the Fourth Annual Dial Classic by defeating the United States Military Academy (Army) 75-61 in the preliminary round Saturday and Syracuse University Sunday in the championship game by a score of 83-74.

A strong offense and an outstanding defense kept the Indians ahead of each team. Captain Marguerite Dempsey led the Indians in steals and Jean Wohlgemuth totaled 25 points against Army and 29 points against Syracuse. MSC guard Tracey Brown scored 20 points in both games and Sharon Ross led in rebounds, totaling 25 for the championship.

The Indians got off to a sluggish start in the game, but with 12:25 remaining in the first half they pulled to an 18-16 lead and never looked back. Defense was the key for MSC as they were able to force mistakes and slow down Army’s inside game, making them take outside shots. The Lady Knights managed only 27 points in the first half while giving up 51 to an Indian offense led by the hot hand of senior Jean Wohlgemuth, who scored 17 points in the half.

Army fought back in the second half against poor MSC play but the deficit was too great for them to conquer. MSC never allowed the game to get too close as they coasted to a 14-point margin of victory. Wohlgemuth led the Indian attack with an excellent all-around performance tallying 25 points, seven rebounds and five assists. Senior Tracey Brown contributed 20 points and senior Sharon Ross turned in a fine game with 16 points and 15 rebounds.

Melody Smith led the Lady Knights with 16 points in a losing effort. Army fought back in the second half with a tighter defense, concentrating on slowing down Brown and keeping the Indians outside. MSC compensated with continual pass-play to bring the ball downcourt. Ross and Brown worked together and Wohlgemuth made more shots from the outside. Syracuse made use of their 6’2” center, Ingrec, to make shots near the basket but MSC’s defense still hindered the Orangewomen.

Both Dempsey and Brown took hard hits from Ingrec, who on one play knocked them to the ground when they attempted to stop her from scoring. That was Ingrec’s fourth personal foul of the game.

The Indians steadily gained a lead over the Orangewomen with Wohlgemuth hitting jump shots from the outside and Brown using her tremendous speed and dribbling skills to evade the Syracuse hoopsters. Brown raced the ball downcourt before the Orangewomen could set up.

Defense was kept tight with outstanding guarding by Ross and Dempsey, forcing Syracuse to use the talent of Anne Flannery’s jump shots and the height of Toni Ingrec, the team’s center, to score.

In the last few minutes of the first half a wave of personal fouls slowed down the action, but it ended with the Indians leading 41-33.

Sharon Ross rises above Syracuse’s Anne Flannery, concentrating on two more points for the Indians’ win. Ross totaled 36 points for the tournament. Photo by Paul Huegel

MSC’s Tracey Brown is swarmed by three Syracuse Orangewomen. Brown scored 20 points and had 15 assists in the game. Photo by Paul Huegel

Dial Classic MVP Jean Wohlgemuth shoots for two of her 29 points in the championship game against Syracuse. Photo by Paul Huegel

Syracuse returned in the second half with a tighter defense, concentrating on slowing down Brown and keeping the Indians outside. MSC compensated with continual pass-play to bring the ball downcourt. Ross and Brown worked together and Wohlgemuth made more shots from the outside. Syracuse made use of their 6’2” center, Ingrec, to make shots near the basket but MSC’s defense still hindered the Orangewomen.

Both Dempsey and Brown took hard hits from Ingrec, who on one play knocked them to the ground when they attempted to stop her from scoring. That was Ingrec’s fourth personal foul of the game.

Toward the end of the second half, fouls again increased with Ingrec totaling six before she was taken out of the game. Syracuse started to close the gap with jump shots from Flannery and points scored by Ingrec, but the Indians remained ahead, scoring 42 in the half to Syracuse’s 41, winning the championship 83-74.

Claiming their third Dial Classic title, the Indians played a strong, smart game using their tough defense and teamwork to overcome the Orangewomen. Brown, Ross and Wohlgemuth, along with Flannery of Syracuse and Melody of Army, were named to the Dial all-tournament team and Wohlgemuth was chosen as most valuable player.

For the championship game, Brown was 8 for 17, had 15 assists and scored 20 points. Ross was 10 for 22, led in rebounds with 10 and totaled 20 points. Dempsey was 3 for 6, led the team in steals, and tallied 10 rebounds. Wohlgemuth was 12 for 25, and scored 29 points. Center Lisa Long had five rebounds and two blocked shots.