Former workers charge People Express with union busting

By Frank Rosa

The People Express Workers Association (PEWA), an organization representing 400 of the more than 600 People Express full-time, temporary reservationists, whose 3 month employment contracts were not renewed this year, have accused the Newark-based airline of replacing workers with students from MSC and other colleges. They have also charged the company with racism and union busting.

Since it began its operation in Newark on April 30, 1981, People Express has hired approximately 2,000 employees as reservation sales agents. These workers were given 90-day renewable contracts. According to Darlene Foster, chairperson of the PEWA, 200 contracts were not renewed, and Foster said she expects an additional 100 workers to be out of a job as of May 21.

Edward Stukane, spokesperson for People Express, said the airline had planned to increase its number of customer service managers, a rotating full-time permanent position that would entail working in ground and flight operations, staff functions and reservations. The company decided it didn’t need as many reservation sales agents and let 170 employee contracts expire in Jan.

"People Express was growing rapidly. We needed people to answer the phones because of the demand for our product. That’s when we went for temporaries. We hired them and trained them in three days. We gave the new workers three month contracts, five dollars an hour, and one free flight per month depending on availability and no benefits," Stukane said.

"At the end of the contract period in Jan., we decided that we were going to get out of the temporary reservationist plan, in favor of bringing in more customer service managers," Stukane said.

"The policy to phase out employees from the old plan was formulated when the company was first established in Newark," Valli Robinson, team manager for reservation center with customer service and flight managers. "It was done to change the racial make-up of the workforce."

"They (the workers) were supposed to have been given the opportunity to become customer service managers. They were not," Irizarry said.

Joe Fortunato, another lawyer representing People Express and an MSC professor, said the company was violating their implied contract with the workers, which stipulated that the workers would have "relatively stable employment" with the company.

"When the news broke of this incident, I talked to Jim Howard, (People Express representative to the MSC office), and he told me that those workers had full-time temporary 90 day contracts which were renewable only if the company liked their performance," Bruck said. "They weren’t fired. They just didn’t renew their contracts."

"They told us if you wanted to become customer service managers, you would have to quit the company and reapply for that position. You’d have a better chance coming off the street than if you were working for the company," Foster said.

She cited two examples to support PEWA’s claims, including People Express general manager Larry Martin’s recent interview with The New York Times. According to Martin, it would take five years before the company would completely staff its reservation center with customer service and flight managers.

Eileen Bruck, director of career services at MSC, Holli Stephens, assistant director for co-op, and Joan Riegel, job developer for career services, denied the accusation that students were taking jobs away from People Express employees.

"The people who came here from People Express were recruiting for part-time positions, all in the reservations area. They are not looking to replace anybody," Bruck said.

"When the news broke of this incident, we went to the MSC police department and asked for them to investigate," Bruck said. "We were told that we were unable to do that." Bruck said. "They weren’t fired. They just didn’t renew their contracts."

"They told us if you wanted to become customer service managers, you would have to be at the company and reapply for that position. You’d have a better chance coming off the street than if you were working for the company," Foster said.

The company realized they were going to expand with the purchase or more aircraft, and needed more reservationists who would be comfortable with the idea of a temporary job. "We wanted people, specifically college students, who would benefit from the experience," Stukane said.

Subsequently, People Express recently increased their recruiting efforts at MSC and other area colleges. As a result, they were able to extend offers of employment to approximately 2,500 college students. 150 of whom attend MSC, and are in the cooperative education or extracurricular work experience program.

"The workers were terminated by People Express without being given any reason," Ramon Irizarry, a lawyer representing the PEWA, said. "We feel it was done to change the racial make-up of the workforce."

"This is a classic example of union busting and racism," Foster said.

The three-judge panel said MSC was not responsible for the delays that resulted in the additional cost to Carrino.

Richard Aronsohn, the attorney representing Carrino, said the company will go to the supreme court to appeal the decision. "We’ll try and appeal the decision which was reached last week," Aronsohn said. "If Carrino is granted the necessary bonds, they will finish work on the MSC field, but we will still appeal and try to overturn the court decision," he said.

Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning at MSC, said, "because the situation is still under litigation, it is not appropriate for me to make a statement."

In 1973, MSC accepted Carrino’s bid to fill 7.9 acres of the quarry in order to construct a sports field. Carrino planned to fill the quarry with garbage by charging trash haulers to dump at the site, so the work was to be done at no cost to the college. The Field was supported to remain open in 18 months, but, because of numerous delays, it has still not been finished.

Court rules in favor of MSC; But Carrino will appeal decision

By Linda Welchenrieder

A state appeals court reversed a lower court ruling last week that ordered MSC to pay $789,709 in compensatory damages to the Carrino Contracting and Trucking Co. Inc. The three-judge panel said MSC was not responsible for the delays that resulted in the additional cost to Carrino.

Richard Aronsohn, the attorney representing Carrino, said the company will go to the supreme court to appeal the decision. "We’ll try and appeal the decision which was reached last week," Aronsohn said. "If Carrino is granted the necessary bonds, they will finish work on the MSC field, but we will still appeal and try to overturn the court decision," he said.

Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning at MSC, said, "because the situation is still under litigation, it is not appropriate for me to make a statement."

In 1973, MSC accepted Carrino’s bid to fill 7.9 acres of the quarry in order to construct a sports field. Carrino planned to fill the quarry with garbage by charging trash haulers to dump at the site, so the work was to be done at no cost to the college. The Field was supposed to remain open in 18 months, but, because of numerous delays, it has still not been finished.
Class 1 Concerts presents
A Summer Music Jam
with
Louie, Louie
Snapshot
Wood n Strings
Special Guest
John Eddie & the Front Street Runners
Sunday, May 15
2 p.m. Amphitheatre

Bring Friends, Pack A Lunch For An Afternoon of FREE Music.

Class 1 Concerts is a member of your SGA
Lack of federal funds prevents asbestos cleanup in Sprague

By Cathy Clarke

Eliot Mininberg, vice president for administration, said that the lack of financial assistance from the State of Connecticut to remove asbestos from the library and other buildings on campus is a concern.

According to Mininberg, "It would cost a couple hundred thousand dollars to have the asbestos removed from the library." He said there are more important things that have to be done that MSC does not have money for, such as installing air conditioning in the library. He said that the state has been trying to get the asbestos problem under control.

Mininberg still maintained that the asbestos in the library does not pose a health hazard, and he is not worried about it. He said, "It is wrong and irresponsible for students and the library staff to neglect the advice of experts. Just because a few people are complaining doesn't mean they are right. Somebody throwing dust is always unhappy about something."

"I will not ignore any suggestions from outsiders or the library staff," Mininberg said. "There is little he can do about the situation unless he receives money from the state."

Hispanics seen as viable political force in America

By Jess Rothenberg

"No one knows how many Hispanics are presently in the U.S.," Herman Badillo, former congressman and deputy mayor of New York, said at a lecture sponsored by LASO last week. Badillo said that Hispanics are in a situation similar to that of blacks and Jews in the U.S. He said, "We are about 10 years ahead of blacks and 5 years ahead of Jews." He said that the rate at which Hispanics are entering the country is increasing.

According to Badillo, the national ID card has been "equated with fascism" and has opposition from all over. He said that the bill will eventually pass in the House, however, because children born of illegal aliens in the U.S. are citizens. "Technically speaking, when they turn 18, they could adopt their parents, who would in turn become citizens."

"The biggest problem facing Hispanics is poor preparation for the job market, which is due to the high drop-out rate of Hispanic students in high school," Badillo said. According to Badillo, the drop-out rate is 45 percent, or 60 percent in black and Hispanic communities.

He said the drop-out rate is linked to Hispanic students missing out on important courses and lack of encouragement by parents. He said that the students are being pushed into vocational tracks, said. "As the number of applicants has decreased, so have the chances of hiring illegal aliens.

"Economically it's more expensive to attend private schools, so more students are applying to state institutions," Dickson said. "We have a higher percentage of minority students at the university levels." He said that the students are being accepted at a higher rate, and that the university is trying to accommodate them.

"We want to show that we are a viable political force in America," Badillo said. He said that the Hispanics are a minority group that should be represented in government.

Dickson said college admission is based on talent not income

By Lidia Willenberg

"Choose students by their talent, not their income," Dr. David W.D. Dickson, president of Montclair State College, said. Montclair upholds a tradition of being an institution for minorities who have been pushed into vocational tracks, Dickson said. "As the number of applicants has decreased, so have the chances of hiring illegal aliens.

According to Dickson, "The Montclairian/Thurs., May 12, 1983 3. Hispanic politics, but they have not been able to become recognized as an important factor in elections and could therefore affect some positive changes for the Hispanic population. Badillo has successfully formed minority coalitions and has gotten many Hispanics to vote in the last gubernatorial election in N.Y. In this, Badillo supported Cuomo.

Badillo had been at the forefront of Hispanic politics, but said he was an uphill battle against the system. Badillo sponsored the Voting Rights Act of 1975, which provided for the printing of the names of candidates who are Hispanic. According to Mininberg, "It would be a waste of time to print the names of candidates who are Hispanic."

Herman Badillo, "a Hispanic in Spain when more than five percent of a community is Hispanic. He has been successful in fighting illegal election practices with regard to registration and early poll closings. "Hispanics can't rely on political machines because they encounter prejudice. To be successful in politics, Hispanics must build organizations and coalitions."

Dickson said college admission is based on talent not income

By Lidia Willenberg

"Choose students by their talent, not their income," Dr. David W.D. Dickson, president of Montclair State College, said. Montclair upholds a tradition of being an institution for minorities who have been pushed into vocational tracks, Dickson said. "As the number of applicants has decreased, so have the chances of hiring illegal aliens.

According to Dickson, "The Montclairian/Thurs., May 12, 1983 3. Hispanic politics, but they have not been able to become recognized as an important factor in elections and could therefore affect some positive changes for the Hispanic population. Badillo has successfully formed minority coalitions and has gotten many Hispanics to vote in the last gubernatorial election in N.Y. In this, Badillo supported Cuomo.

Badillo had been at the forefront of Hispanic politics, but said he was an uphill battle against the system. Badillo sponsored the Voting Rights Act of 1975, which provided for the printing of the names of candidates who are Hispanic. According to Mininberg, "It would be a waste of time to print the names of candidates who are Hispanic."

Herman Badillo, "a Hispanic in Spain when more than five percent of a community is Hispanic. He has been successful in fighting illegal election practices with regard to registration and early poll closings. "Hispanics can't rely on political machines because they encounter prejudice. To be successful in politics, Hispanics must build organizations and coalitions."

Dickson said college admission is based on talent not income

By Lidia Willenberg

"Choose students by their talent, not their income," Dr. David W.D. Dickson, president of Montclair State College, said. Montclair upholds a tradition of being an institution for minorities who have been pushed into vocational tracks, Dickson said. "As the number of applicants has decreased, so have the chances of hiring illegal aliens.

According to Dickson, "The Montclairian/Thurs., May 12, 1983 3. Hispanic politics, but they have not been able to become recognized as an important factor in elections and could therefore affect some positive changes for the Hispanic population. Badillo has successfully formed minority coalitions and has gotten many Hispanics to vote in the last gubernatorial election in N.Y. In this, Badillo supported Cuomo.

Badillo had been at the forefront of Hispanic politics, but said he was an uphill battle against the system. Badillo sponsored the Voting Rights Act of 1975, which provided for the printing of the names of candidates who are Hispanic. According to Mininberg, "It would be a waste of time to print the names of candidates who are Hispanic."

Herman Badillo, "a Hispanic in Spain when more than five percent of a community is Hispanic. He has been successful in fighting illegal election practices with regard to registration and early poll closings. "Hispanics can't rely on political machines because they encounter prejudice. To be successful in politics, Hispanics must build organizations and coalitions."

Dickson said college admission is based on talent not income

By Lidia Willenberg

"Choose students by their talent, not their income," Dr. David W.D. Dickson, president of Montclair State College, said. Montclair upholds a tradition of being an institution for minorities who have been pushed into vocational tracks, Dickson said. "As the number of applicants has decreased, so have the chances of hiring illegal aliens.

According to Dickson, "The Montclairian/Thurs., May 12, 1983 3. Hispanic politics, but they have not been able to become recognized as an important factor in elections and could therefore affect some positive changes for the Hispanic population. Badillo has successfully formed minority coalitions and has gotten many Hispanics to vote in the last gubernatorial election in N.Y. In this, Badillo supported Cuomo.

Badillo had been at the forefront of Hispanic politics, but said he was an uphill battle against the system. Badillo sponsored the Voting Rights Act of 1975, which provided for the printing of the names of candidates who are Hispanic. According to Mininberg, "It would be a waste of time to print the names of candidates who are Hispanic."

Herman Badillo, "a Hispanic in Spain when more than five percent of a community is Hispanic. He has been successful in fighting illegal election practices with regard to registration and early poll closings. "Hispanics can't rely on political machines because they encounter prejudice. To be successful in politics, Hispanics must build organizations and coalitions."

Dickson said college admission is based on talent not income
EARN EXTRA INCOME

A Fortune 500 Corp. and producer of superior quality products with a high market demand is offering unlimited income, all expense paid vacations, bonus car of your choice and non-contributory retirement plan to individuals with a desire for a better life. Set your own hours. Call Mrs. Ollis (evenings) at 429-0269 for appointment.

Hew Jersey GYN Associates, Inc.

ABORTION SERVICES

Free Pregnancy Testing - Abortion Procedures - Birth Control Counseling - Breast Screening Clinic - Complete Obstetrical and Gynecological Care - Sterilization Procedures including Vasectomies.

Phone 737-2600 for an appt
Hours: 9:00 to 5:00, Monday thru Saturday
22 Ball St., Irvington, N.J. 07111
(Right off Exit 143, GSP North, near the Irvington Bus Terminal).

BuckSavEr Charters

Europe from $179

Intrac of JFK

Exclusive! FREE TRANSFERS

LONDON from $179
Dep. Sat. or Sun; Return Sun. or Mon.

Amsterdam from $199
Dep. any Monday; Return any Tuesday.

PARIS from $199
Dep. any Thursday; Return any Friday.

ROME Round Trip from $549
Dep. any Monday; Return any Tuesday.

CALL YOUR TRAVEL AGENT of 212/986-6176
Intrac Charters = 44 E. 43rd St. • New York 10017

993-5271 Drop-In Center
Service of SGA

The Drop-In Center will discontinue its 24 hour service during the summer months.

Our limited summer hours of operation will be followed by 24 hour service in September.

Applications for training will be accepted in the beginning of the Fall semester.

“Quitting is a snap!”

I'm gonna help you break the cigarette habit with my Larry Hagman Special Stop Smoking Wrist Snappin Red Rubber Band. Get one free from your American Cancer Society.

"If it's only records and tapes, it's only...

Disc-O-Mat Student Discounts

BILLY JOEL
THE NYLON CURTAIN

MICHAEL JACKSON
THRILLER

TOTO
IV

CULTURE CLUB
KISSING TO BE CLEVER

EARTH, WIND & FIRE
POWERSHIFT

On Columbia Records and Tapes

SPECIAL pick up these hits at the super low price of $5.99 each

LAURA BRANIGAN
BRANIGAN 2

ERIC CLAPTON
MONEY & CIGARETTES

JARREAU
$6.29 EACH

MADNESS
RECORDS AND TAPES GIANT SELECTION

JARREAU
CASSIOPEIA

Disc-O-Mat beats the competitions prices! No 8.98 list LP sells for more than

JARREAU
CASSISOME

THE WARNER/REPUBLIC/ATLANTIC FAMILY OF LABELS

if it's only records and tapes, it's only...

Disc-O-Mat
Now with 2 great locations in new jersey

WEST BELT MALL
WAYNE, NJ
(201) 890-0120

AT. 4 EAST
PARAMUS/RIVEREDG
(201) 342-3713
Early morning rain did not dampen this year's Spring Day activities

By Lori Henry

Neither early morning rain nor crowded Student Center Ballrooms could keep MSC students away from the Spring Day activities, which featured a hypnotist and a Simon Sez contest.

逾300 SGA organizations participated in the event, which was held on May 4. Games, raffles, international foods, balloons, and a karate demonstration were all part of the scheduled activities on that day.

Tom DeLuca, a hypnotist/comedian, was one of the more interesting attractions, and drew more than 300 students into the ballrooms. During his performance, DeLuca hypnotized 11 people, who regressed back to their childhoods, sunned themselves in the ballrooms, and took their clothes off and danced eroticly during the one-hour performance.

DeLuca, however, had to turn away three volunteers for his act that day because they could not be hypnotized.

People Express recruiting students

cont. from p.1

Just let anybody on campus. We check to see if the companies are bonafide. We check to see if the companies are bonafide. People Express recruiting students Since this company was well-recognized there for over a year and a half, "They would be our replacements. They are our replacements in Jan. We had no idea that in his opinion, the bill did not violate the spirit of the constitution. The legislature rescinded its original vote and narrowly approved the bill. In other business, Richard Hango was appointed attorney general for the 1983-84 academic year. The legislature approved the 1983-84 SGA operations budget, which totalled $131,602. The constitutions for the Middle Eastern Student Organization, Iota Gamma Xi, Sigma Delta Phi, and Phi Epsilon Kappa were also approved. Players, a Class I Organization, also had its $19,820 budget approved by the legislature.

SGA news

Two bills, one allotting $4,000 to pay for housing, and credits for the four SGA executive board members over the summer session, and another allocating $226 for the SGA student representative to the board of trustees, were being narrated at yesterday's SGA meeting. The bills, introduced by Mark Spinelli, SGA president, are intended to ensure the presence of the executive board over the summer session and to lighten their course load during the academic year, enabling them to donate more time to their SGA duties. Oren Zev, an SGA legislator, pointed out, however, that the SGA constitution strictly prohibits any form of compensation for SGA officers.

Spinelli and legislator Peter Feinstein argued that the SGA statutes state that the SGA will absorb the cost of summer housing and six credits per board member. After approximately 30 minutes of debate, the bill allocating $4,000 was passed on a voice vote.

Also, the bill was brought up by a student from Wisconsin, not Montana, who was lobbying for a textbook tax exemption similar to one in Minnesota. Montana does not have such a bill.

Exam schedule in SGA calendar inaccurate

The final exam schedule printed in the Student Government Calendar is inaccurate. Please refer to the Schedule of Courses Booklet, Spring 1983, for the correct days and times of all final exams.

Pi Omega Pi named outstanding chapter

The Pi Omega Pi, Beta Sigma chapter of MSC was recognized as this year's national outstanding chapter. Pi Omega Pi (POP) is a national business teacher education honor society. Dr. Ron C. DeYoung, past president of the POP national council, will present the national chapter award at POP's annual banquet on May 20, 1983 at the Bethwood, where it will celebrate its 35th year.

POP received this recognition by accumulating the most points from its chapter activities. These activities include selling shirts and sweatshirts with the POP emblem; making and distributing memo-reminder cards to each of the 300 MSC secretaries on Secretary's Day; contributing articles in the national newsletter, Here and There; and attending the national convention in Florida.

Compiled by John Connolly, Judy Mongello, Angel Ramos
DON'T JUST READ IT, WRITE IT!

The Montclarion staff wishes all graduating seniors a successful and financially rewarding future. We also want to thank the entire student body for their support. Stay cool and have a GREAT summer!
Margo Berman is a resident hippie and a jill-of-all-trades

By Mona Sehgal and Seshl Dharmapur!

— student spotlight---------------------------------------------------------------

Margo Berman is a resident hippie and a jill-of-odd-trades had to have been rejected by a clique."

Looking down at her purple basketball sneakers, Margo explained, "I think

"Photography is too exact. There would be too much of me there. Like

the anonymity of fine art. I’m painting

you get an essence of me, an interpr­

tation by the artist."

In high school, a bunch of kids and I

flung at exploring before I settle down

in the Co-op program said, "This position has made me more marketable in

the retailing field."

By Evelyn del Toro

Being a former retailer

in large and small retail stores in NY

are keenly aware that

men’s clothing fashions down to the skids in a professional work setting.

By Judy Mongello

MSC is the first school in the state to offer a full-time retail merchandising

and management program. According to

Dr. Joseph Hecht, director of the program

and assistant professor in the business

education department, "We have increased in Co-op, work-related issues are addressed in the concurrent seminars

der the direction of Al Rossetti, the

BEOSA department chairman, all business majors enrolled in Co-op I this

spring participated in a new course

offering, which is now the model for all future Co-op courses.

The aim of this course is to cover

such relevant work issues as: work as a crucial factor in one’s identity, the

organizational structure of the sponsoring company, attitudes and their effect on success, coping with stress

and conflict, employee/employee relationships, employer/employee relationships and other topics of interest.

There is still time to apply for fall ‘83

placement. Some of our fall compan­

es, sponsoring Co-op firms: A&T, Na­

tisco, Paterson News, Scherling Plough,

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

and others.

"A lot of people don’t approve of what I do...that’s O.K. But I would like them to understand why I approve."

Looking down at her purple basketball sneakers, Margo explained, "I think

"Photography is too exact. There would be too much of me there. Like

the anonymity of fine art. I’m painting

you get an essence of me, an interpr­
tation by the artist."

In high school, a bunch of kids and I

flung at exploring before I settle down

in the Co-op program said, "This position has made me more marketable in

the retailing field."

By Judy Mongello

MSC is the first school in the state to

offer a full-time retail merchandising

and management program. According to

Dr. Joseph Hecht, director of the program

and assistant professor in the business

education department, "We have increased

in Co-op, work-related issues are

addressed in the concurrent seminars

der the direction of Al Rossetti, the

BEOSA department chairman, all business majors enrolled in Co-op I this

spring participated in a new course

offering, which is now the model for all

future Co-op courses.

The aim of this course is to cover

such relevant work issues as: work as a

crucial factor in one’s identity, the

organizational structure of the sponsoring company, attitudes and their

effect on success, coping with stress

and conflict, employee/employee relationships, employer/employee relationships and other topics of interest.

There is still time to apply for fall ‘83

placement. Some of our fall compan­

es, sponsoring Co-op firms: A&T, Na­

tISCO, Paterson News, Scherling Plough,

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

and others.
College students are being used by People Express

Each year at this time, students scour through newspapers searching for a job, any job, or at least one that will put some change in their pockets. This year some MSC students have the opportunity to make $5 per hour working for People Express, but they may have to cross picket lines to collect their cash.

So far, almost 1,000 People Express have lost their jobs, and many of these vacant positions are being filled by college students. A People Express recruiting manager said that by employing college students, People Express would have a "closer working relationship with other communities." How would college students help an airline have a closer working relationship with other communities?

Another People Express spokesman said that they have to be comfortable with a temporary job because of their situation at school. It's also easier for People Express to help an airline have a closer working relationship with other communities. "How would college students help another job," he said. "Then they can simply start another recruiting campaign at another college. They don't have to worry about any huge salary increases for their employees, because they're not there long enough to get one. The airline also doesn't have to worry about the students banding together to form a union.

People Express' lure to hook college students is certainly a tasty one. For five dollars an hour, many college students will stand on their head, have kinky sex, or lick their boss' toes. The added bonus of free round-trip airfare to wherever the company flies makes the package irresistible to any impoverished student.

But there is one problem. Students who accepted summer jobs with People Express must decide whether they want to cross picket lines every day in order to get to work. They must also decide where to park their cars, so that their tires won't get slashed by disgruntled workers. Sure students need the money, especially in the summer, but if students had known about the situation at People Express before they were hired, many of them might have turned the job down.

This is a difficult column to write because it's a "farewell" column, and I'm not terribly fond of "farewell" columns. I'm not against them in principle, but generally, farewell columns are meant to impart a sense of purpose, as if the writer suddenly understands everything that went on during his or her stay at college and wants to tell the world about that understanding, and the sense of loss the writer feels now that he or she has to leave.

What usually happens, however, is that the column deteriorates into a display of sloppy sentimentality, and no one reads it except those who think their name will be mentioned in it. What also invariably happens is that the writer forgets half the people who should be mentioned and winds up losing most of the friends made while at college.

Well, I'm not going to fight tradition. So if you don't know me, you might as well stop reading. I will, however, skip the part about imparting a sense of purpose because I haven't quite figured out the meaning of my college experience—on to the sentimentalism. (I apologize in advance to anyone I forgot to mention.)

My first order of business is to give some well-intentioned advice to those I've encountered over the last few years, and am leaving behind.

Elliot Mininger's name is the first that comes to mind. I never had the problems with Elliot that my predecessor Meryl Younish had, but he has received some bad press lately, and his name sticks out.

Most of Elliot's problems have come about because of his own words (I want to say "big mouth," but I won't). As I see it, Elliot, either get a press secretary or refer all questions to either the president of the college or to one of your subordinates. Let one of them put his foot in his mouth.

Dean Jean...oh, I almost forgot, vice president Jean Armstrong's name also comes to mind. I'd love to use her nickname (the dean who ate Montclair), but I won't. Dean Jean (vice-president Jean) just doesn't sound as poetic as has, in a very short time, accumulated a great deal of power and responsibility, more than Al Haig's wildest dreams. But please Dean Jean, remember what happened to Al Haig.

This is my farewell to arts, MSC and the Montclarion. I will always remember the good times I had with the friends in my club and the staff members of The Montclarion. Being a Class II president was a joy as well. I will never forget my appearance before the SGA, dressed in a medieval costume, or sword fighting in front of the Student Center. But staying up 'til all hours of the night (and morning) putting the newspaper together really takes the cake.

Weeks without any sleep and tons of aggravation all seemed to fade away when I realized how great it felt to have my name in the press box as arts editor. It is a wonderful feeling to know that you have accomplished something. It is even better when people comment on how nice the pages look. I sacrificed many things in order to be an editor. I have managed to alienate myself from a large part of the outside world, neglect my school work, and give my mother severe insomnia, as well as aggravate her already ever-present case of the only child syndrome. But it was worth it.

I am trying my best not to get sentimental, but I am failing miserably. I will probably cry my eyes out at graduation. Thanks must be given to the members of The Medieval and Renaissance Society for their help and their support. I know they will keep the club going strong, even if they have to recruit members with the point of a sword!

I must also say goodbye to The Montclarion staff. They made my stay at MSC enjoyable, if not unusual, experience. Thank you, Mr. Bayles, for putting up with me and my inability to do my layouts without running into problems. I will never forget the Fantasy Island party and my very short miniskirt, and those great parties at Bob's house. However, I will try my best to forget the disgusting pizza, the unsuccessful arts meetings, where no one showed up, and the aggravation of trying to find my successor (thanks, Sue). This is it. The big finale. This is my farewell to arts, MSC and everything. I hope I never see another one-point line again!
Students speak

By Patty Winters and Chris Garcia

Every year, the SGA gives an award to the outstanding Class I Organization for the school year. In your view, which Class I Organization deserves the distinction of being named the best for 1982-83?

LASO has been great this year. They have been well organized, especially with Latin Week.

Jose Encarnacion
Sophomore/Industrial arts

Lacrosse team left in the dark

To the editor:

I was appalled at the recent treatment of the MSC men's lacrosse team by the athletic department. Last Saturday, our game against Kean College was delayed one hour and twenty minutes because the lights on the field were not turned on. This final game was scheduled months ago and it was the highlight of MSC's Lacrosse Day. Many of the players had invited their parents to this final game. It was also attended by many prospective students. This delay was an embarrassment to the lacrosse team, coach Willard, the athletic department and MSC.

The Montclair, for the sole reason that they give a good overall coverage of the school.

Ron Federico
Freshman/business

MSC-FM deserves that distinction. I like the music they play in the morning. It's a good radio station.

Alex Basurco
Senior/economics

I feel that Class I Concerts should get the award. They get really popular groups, when they get them.

Donna DeMaria
Freshman/psychology

The Montclair has been the best this year, considering that no one gets paid for their services. They don't have to volunteer all of their time every week.

Jim Craig
Senior/finance

Class I Concerts is the best organization this year. It is something that all the students can benefit from.

Tim DeCarlo
Senior/marketing

From the president's desk

Thank you for all your support

To the editor:

As my term of office comes to an end, I think that it is appropriate that I thank the many members of the campus community (students, faculty, administration) who have been a help to me and the members of my administration.

I wish the new administration has the same cooperation and support of the college community as I thought I had.

There are few college experiences that rival the opportunity of serving students through the SGA. I urge all students who have an interest in public service to run for office or volunteer their time to their fellow students.

Mark Spinelli
SGA President

SGA and RHF unity is needed

To the editor:

This past weekend, Residence Hall Federation sponsored Springfest weekend. I'm sorry to say, I didn't think it went over too well. For once student interest was high, but organizational planning was weak.

For many years now, RHF has attempted to stay free of the SGA. Too bad! As a former cabinet member of the SGA, I tried very hard to bring these two organizations together. Unfortunately, the attitude has remained the same.

Many campuses across the country have had fantastic Springfest weekends because they join the organizations of their campuses together. With more money, ideas and people, they are able to put on a great Springfest. I hope that next year, our newly-elected SGA and RHF officers can put an end to this "bad feeling" and get together for once. Instead of a separate Spring Day and springfest, it's put it all together. With the SGA and RHF and all their affiliate organizations, we could most definately establish a well-programmed Springfest!

Carlo Cordasco
Junior/business

MSC maintenance staff thanked

To the editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to the maintenance staff at MSC. It is a pleasure to walk on a campus that is so well-kept, litter-free and clean. The shrubbery is always trimmed, the gardens are well-attended and the lawns so free of the garbage that plagues many other public places.

Walking to and from classes is getting more enjoyable as the weather gets warmer. I am looking forward to seeing the colorful flowerbeds along the walkways and the leafy trees surrounding the buildings. It is all due to our wonderful maintenance crew. You make going to school a visible pleasure. Keep up the good work and a job well done!

Jean Graeves
Freshman/undeclared

Attention

Summer home for rent: Upper Montclair, immaculate modern Colonial home; quiet dead-end street near park, 1/2 mile to "Goorikula" from mid-June to end of Aug. Rental period negotiable. Central A/C, 2 bdrms., den., full dining room, living room, eat-in kit., dishwasher, washer, 2 half baths, garage. Completely furnished. No children, no pets. Top references, professional people. Contact, Dr. Jerome Landsman at 783-9505.

Computer science tutor: Available for private lessons in Algol 60, C, Pascal, Fortran, C++. Finish all programs before deadlines!

Resume: Of highest quality at reasonable cost, repetitive letters, term papers, all word processing service. Call 783-6319.

For Sale

- 78 Cutlass Supreme: Excellent condition, very low mileage, V-8, air conditioned, AM/FM radio, bucket seats, 26,000 miles. Call 226-2684.
- 1980 Chevrolet: Automatic, 8-cylinder, air conditioning, AM radio, good condition. $700 negotiable. Call Vinny at 300-3757.
- 1963 Buick Special: Black 4-door, rebuilt transmission, 8,000 miles, extra running condition, good tires, and body. Great for reliable transport or restoration project. Asking $650. Call anyone from 6 p.m. on.

- Typewriter: Brother electric with case. Good for occasional student use. $35. Call Frank at 226-9999.
- Typewriter: IBM Selectric II. One year old, perfect condition, self-cor- recting, dual pitch, aluminum color, two elements and cover included, extra elements available. $750. Call Karl Greene at 667-4896 or 398-3642.
- Record: A Collection of 7 singles and old singles, in good condition, for only $25. Please contact Frank Jr. at 483-7271.
- Pontiac Catalina: Clean, runs well, new water pump. Good student car. In excellent condition. $250. Call George at 226-7581.

Wanted

- Apartment: Summer sublet only. Need 2 people to share. Own room, full kitchen, living room close to Montclair Center. Call 744-2518.
- Public relations firm seeks articulate college students for special assignment to central Jersey. Good pay, car necessary. Communications, public relations or political science majors preferred. Call Susan White at 201/474-7717 between 9:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. weekdays.

Personals

- All 3 Crescent's of Blanton Hall: Have you graduated? From the Floor? "It has been my pleasure to have all of you in my wing, Dave." Members of APO: Thanks for making my year fun, and for being such a great group of people! 3C is always exciting and, most of all, productive. You always have been and always will be the best. From Linux, Lance, Luck to Tiger, Kat, Gras, MJ, Darnold, Cyndi, Annemarie, Fac and the rest of the 3C Family. Keep up the good work! Love ya all (especially you, Ralph). Barbara.
- Andy and Maureen: Be good, I'll miss you two. The Dean.
- Dear Class: Concerts: Thank you for giving me a great year, you're really great people. I loved working with you. Your producer, Neal.
- Congratulations to the new officers of the Programming Club: S.V., S.V. president, Donna C., Secretary, Linda J.
- Margoleth: You may go all the things great and small, but you'll never go modern American fiction. See ya all tomorrow, Patti.
- To Peggy: Early congratulations on your wedding. Have a great life together. Patti L.
- To the Industrial Studies Club: Next year we are really going to take off! And all thanks to you who have good taste and work to keep up our good image. J.B.
- A.B.N.W: You are a part of a family; please consider us a walk on the beach because they love you too much. Me.
- To my fellow Wed. night sufferers: Remember, it's your section, F--- hard and have special coffee. Not that I care, so leave me alone! S.E.
- M.M.: I'll always be your friend. Love, M.
- Peter: Welcome home! Mom.
- Andy: When we met on campus, I neglected to mention, "the mustache looks great!" Have a good summer, Mary.
- In the gang at The Montclarion: Thanks for making my senior year my best at MSC. You guys are tops, and I'm gonna miss you a whole lot. Espe- cially you, B.L. Eileen. Your ace reporter, Frank.
- Beth: The year may be over, but our love has just begun! I love you always and forever. Beebe.
- To John: And here I thought you were only attracted to me... I'm glad you enjoy your summer!! Love ya, Bub.
- To my Shady Fair-Tears: Remember, it's your section, F--- hard and have special coffee. Not that I care, so leave me alone! S.E.
- M.M.: I'll always be your friend. Love, M.
- To all the gang at The Montclarion: Thanks for making my senior year my best at MSC. You guys are tops, and I'm gonna miss you a whole lot. Especially you, B.L. Eileen. Your ace reporter, Frank.
- To John: And here I thought you were only attracted to me... I'm glad you enjoy your summer!! Love ya, Bub.
- To my Shady Fair-Tears: Remember, it's your section, F--- hard and have special coffee. Not that I care, so leave me alone! S.E.
- M.M.: I'll always be your friend. Love, M.
- To all the gang at The Montclarion: Thanks for making my senior year my best at MSC. You guys are tops, and I'm gonna miss you a whole lot. Especially you, B.L. Eileen. Your ace reporter, Frank.
- Beth: The year may be over, but our love has just begun! I love you always and forever. Beebe.
- To John: And here I thought you were only attracted to me... I'm glad you enjoy your summer!! Love ya, Bub.
- To my Shady Fair-Tears: Remember, it's your section, F--- hard and have special coffee. Not that I care, so leave me alone! S.E.
- M.M.: I'll always be your friend. Love, M.
- To all the gang at The Montclarion: Thanks for making my senior year my best at MSC. You guys are tops, and I'm gonna miss you a whole lot. Especially you, B.L. Eileen. Your ace reporter, Frank.
- Beth: The year may be over, but our love has just begun! I love you always and forever. Beebe.
- To John: And here I thought you were only attracted to me... I'm glad you enjoy your summer!! Love ya, Bub.
- To my Shady Fair-Tears: Remember, it's your section, F--- hard and have special coffee. Not that I care, so leave me alone! S.E.
- M.M.: I'll always be your friend. Love, M.
Childhood education is stressed

The role of the early childhood educator is multi-faceted. She or he must provide the young child with an environment that will develop the child's cognitive abilities, promote physical strength and dexterity, promote a positive self-image, and foster social relationships. An early childhood educator must provide an atmosphere that supports and nurtures a love of learning, and provide the young child through a well-planned and meaningfully supported curriculum. In order to do this properly, the early childhood educator must be well-versed in the principles and theories of math, science, social studies, the social sciences, interpersonal relationships, art, music and much, much more.

An early childhood educator must provide this curriculum in a safe, stimulating, and accepting atmosphere. As such, the early childhood educator must be an advocate for children and act as an advocate for children and the teaching profession.

To the editor:

The vast majority of people on this campus are well aware of the fine tradition, and ongoing excellence, of the teacher-training program in secondary education at MSC. Less well known is the excellent teacher-training program in early childhood education that is available on this campus.

As I speak to various people here at MSC, I find that they are either unaware that the Nursery School/Kindergarten Certification program exists, or aware, but misinformed, about the training and role of early childhood educators. My pride in my future professional fessions of home economics and teaching has prompted me to share the following information with you.

In order to be enrolled in the N/K certification program, a student must major in home economics with a concentration in family and child studies. This background provides the student with a thorough foundation in every aspect of family relations and an intense understanding of child development.

The N/K program requires an additional 35 semester hours, added onto the 45 semester hours of the family and child curriculum. The faculty members of the home economics department, as well as the education department, are dedicated, highly educated and experienced professionals, who make every effort to insure the future professionalism of their students.

Cynthia Zakour
Senior/home economics

The Problem.

There are two doors. One leads to heaven and one leads to hell. You have to choose the one to heaven, but you don't know which it is. Between the two doors is a supernatural being. He could be an angel or a devil.

The angel always tells the truth and the devil always lies. With only one yes or no question allowed to be asked, what one question could you ask to go through the right door?

Note: This is a problem of logic not theology.

1. It has to be a yes or no question. Questions like, "What door would you tell me...?" are already wrong.
2. The problem does not state the existence of two beings at once. It is clearly an "either/or" situation. So answers that ask, "What would your opponent, adversary, other being, etc...?", are assumptions and not facts of the problem. Therefore, according to this specific problem, they're wrong. In answering a problem of logic, assumptions can't be made, only the clearly stated facts can be used.
3. Questions like, "If you were the devil...?", are wrong because if it is the devil, he would have to lie about what he would say as the devil.
4. Questions like, "If you were the devil...?", are wrong because if it is the devil, he would have to lie about what he would say as the devil.

THE QUESTION ANSWERED !!!

No one got the correct answer.

The Problem:

There are two doors. One leads to heaven and one leads to hell. You have to choose the one to heaven, but you don't know which it is. Between the two doors is a supernatural being. He could be an angel or a devil.

The angel always tells the truth and the devil always lies. With only one yes or no question allowed to be asked, what one question could you ask to go through the right door?

Note: This is a problem of logic not theology.

1. It has to be a yes or no question. Questions like, "What door would you tell me...?" are already wrong.
2. The problem does not state the existence of two beings at once. It is clearly an "either/or" situation. So answers that ask, "What would your opponent, adversary, other being, etc...?", are assumptions and not facts of the problem. Therefore, according to this specific problem, they're wrong. In answering a problem of logic, assumptions can't be made, only the clearly stated facts can be used.
3. Questions like, "If you were the devil...?", are wrong because if it is the devil, he would have to lie about what he would say as the devil.

Finally the Correct Answer.

If I had asked you a moment ago (point to a door) if this was the door to heaven, you would have said yes.

If an angel and if the door was the door to heaven, - he would have said yes a moment ago and also he would say yes now.

If a devil and if the door was the door to heaven he would have said no a moment ago, but now he would say yes because he would lie about what his response a moment ago would have been.

Chi Alpha Christian Fellowship sponsored the BIG QUESTION.
Thursday, May 12

-Speaker: Karen Killie will be speaking in the Drop-In Center from 7 to 9 p.m. on interacting with the handicapped.

Friday, May 13

-PARTY: The Freelance Philosophy Association is having a Work or Leisure party at Paul, Mike and Bruce's house at 8 p.m. They say it'll end at 1 a.m., but it probably won't. Be there or be a trapezoid.

Sunday, May 15

-Liturgy: At 11 a.m. in the Amphitheatre. In case of rain, the liturgy will be held at Russ Hall.

-Concert: Class I Concerts is holding a concert at 2 p.m. in the Amphitheatre, featuring four bands (including John Eddie and the Front Street Runners). Bring your own lunch—no bottles or cans.

Monday, May 16

-Supper: The Newman Community is sponsoring a supper/barbecue at 5:15. I.S. Club officers: We are definitely going to get together this summer for some good times. See all of you then. Jimmy in the Clouds.

-ABNW: My love for you will always endure. Think about why I did it? I seem for hurting you. Love, forever and always. ABN.

-SPM: Does dessert come before the main course, or what? J.W.

-To fellow survivors of Assembler: We are definitely dying to know.

—Boomer: What the hell is going on with you? If you know, I wish you would please explain it to me! I'm dying to know.

—Marie: We hope you are in our Algebra class next semester, and we hope you aren't still "goin' crazy." Love ya! Ziggyfan.

—Mooch: Looking forward to a summer that will make up for last year. We aren't still "goin' crazy." Love ya! Airhead.

—to my friends in 106C: Despite our ups and downs, I'll miss you guys. You've made my first year here a lot of fun. Hope to keep in touch, Karen.

—Moosh: Looking forward to a summer that will make up for last year. We made it through another semester, and another school. Love you, Bright-eyes.

—Wesazubug: It's been an experience, saving Garfield from the nappers. Don't forget about me and all my "paids." Love ya! Sgypten.

—Vivian! The Medieval and Renaissance Society's new council of leaders! Grand Poobah, Kirk Wendt; Grand Moff, Martha Schuae, High-lama, Dave Sicco; Antelope, Phyllis Blasi.

—To my friends in 106C: Despite our ups and downs, I'll miss you guys. You've made my first year here a lot of fun. Hope to keep in touch, Karen.

—Moosh: Looking forward to a summer that will make up for last year. We made it through another semester, and another school. Love you, Bright-eyes.

—Wesazubug: It's been an experience, saving Garfield from the nappers. Don't forget about me and all my "paids." Love ya! Sgypten.

—Vivian! The Medieval and Renaissance Society's new council of leaders! Grand Poobah, Kirk Wendt; Grand Moff, Martha Schuae, High-lama, Dave Sicco; Antelope, Phyllis Blasi.

Sunday, May 15

-Liturgy: At 11 a.m. in the Amphitheatre. In case of rain, the liturgy will be held at Russ Hall.

-Concert: Class I Concerts is holding a concert at 2 p.m. in the Amphitheatre, featuring four bands (including John Eddie and the Front Street Runners). Bring your own lunch—no bottles or cans.

Tuesday, May 17

-Liturgy: We will be meeting at 12:15 p.m. in the Newman House.

Wednesday, May 18

-Liturgy: We will be meeting at 12:15 p.m. in the Newman House.

Sunday, May 22

—Pentecost Liturgy: To begin at 11 a.m. in the Amphitheatre. In case of rain, the liturgy will be held in Russ Hall.

—To the I.S. department: Thanks a bunch for all the great times we've shared together. Johnny Be Good.

—To Ann and Suzanne: J. Parker's was outrageous. We had a great time and hope to do it again.

—Jim and John: Can't wait for the baseball game.

—John: I bet you sure felt good when you dropped the glass outside J.P.'s! Set you won't do that again.

---

Attention Undergrads & Graduate Students

Seeking Financial Aid to continue your studies? Nu-Castle has the answer for you! Try our scholarship matching service. Call for free info. 675-5338

---

FREE CAR WASH AND HOT WAX

To introduce you to our unique car wash, we are offering you a FREE CAR WASH and HOT WAX. Just bring in this ad and hand it to the attendant. He will give you a coupon to return entitling you to your free car wash and hot wax when you return for your next wash. You pay for your original wash—the next one is free. And if you get a power wash with your original wash, you will also receive a free hot wax. STOP IN SOON!

MCAT, LSAT, GMAT, DAT ACT, GRE, CPA

-Permanent Centers open daily, evenings and weekends.
-Local test center. Delivered scores daily.
-Complete TAPE for all sections of class test and sample written test.
-Available exclusively at several institutions.

June LSAT+GMAT+GRE classes now forming

Call Dan, Dan & associates
Stanley H. Kaplan
333 Park Ave. 5th Floor
New York, NY 10022-9420
(212) 488-4778

---

The Montclarion Resume Service is still available.

Resumes may be submitted and picked up in the Montclarion Business Office, Room 113-C, on Mondays from 12:00-2:00 and Wednesdays from 9:00-11:00.

Cost of 1 resume · $10.00
Special discounts for more than 1 resume.

---

The Montclarion

Thurs., May 12, 1983

---
Walt Disney Productions brings
Ray Bradbury classic to screen

By Janet Hirsch

Dreams come true? This question is asked of the residents of a small town in Illinois by a mysterious stranger in Ray Bradbury's Something Wicked This Way Comes.

It seems that everyone is making horror films today, and Walt Disney Productions has decided to join the cast of thousands who are in the "scare wars" business. Is nothing sacred anymore? Whatever happened to Bambi and Peter Pan? They are certainly not in this film. Instead of the usually jolly characters we associate with Walt Disney, we are introduced to Jonathan Pryce as the ominous Mr. Dark along with his Pandemonium Carnival.

Produced by Peter Vincent Douglas, and directed by Jack Clayton, this film takes the audience on a journey to an ordinary town during the 1920's, where two boys discover the dark secrets of a carnival which mysteriously arrives in the dead of night.

The two boys, Will Halloway and Jim Nightshade, delightfully played by Vidal L. Peterson and Shawn Carson respectively, endanger themselves when they learn that Mr. Dark can make peoples' dreams come true, but they must pay a heavy price for their fantasies.

Dark discovers the boys lurking in his carnival tent at night and sends his evil but beautiful accomplice, the Dust Witch, portrayed by Pam Grier, to retrieve them. What follows can be best described as somebody's nightmare. Green mist follows the boys as they run for safety, a green mist which eventually invades Jim's home and turns it into a convention of big, hairy, and scary tarantulas.

Will and Jim seek the help of Will's librarian father, Charles, portrayed by Academy Award winner Jason Robards. He is confronted by Mr. Dark in the library while the boys are hiding. Charles is unsuccessful in trying to stop Dark, who incapacitates the old man with the help of the Dust Witch. Dark then finds the two boys and returns with them to the carnival.

Charles recovers in the nick of time to save the boys and Green Town from Mr. Dark and his evil schemes.

The special effects, something that Disney Productions is known for, were marvelous and added a great deal to the mood of this film. Rolling clouds and a thundering cyclone whip through Dark's carnival like a knife cuts through butter.

The set was the largest to be built since the making of Hello Dolly! An entire town, as well as Mr. Dark's carnival, were painstakingly created for this film. They really made Green Town, Illinois come to life. The music, with its haunting, mysterious and suspenseful melody, lend an eerie feeling to the film.

Robards was admirable as Charles Halloway, the father trying to regain the love of his son while resisting Dark's tempting offer to give him back his youth. Jonathan Pryce was superb as the evil and menacing Mr. Dark. Royal Dano was delightful as Tom Fury, the lightning rod salesman who is captured by Dark, but eventually escapes and helps to destroy the Dust Witch. Pam Grier was bewitching as the lovely but deadly Dust Witch. She didn't have too many lines, however, so she lets her pet tarantulas do the talking for her.

This movie is not only intended to scare you, but it also brings across a very simple, but important message. Bradbury doesn't want people to be afraid of life or death. He wants us to be happy, and he wants us to love each other because it is a wonderful thing. It might be a cliche to say that good triumphs over evil and love conquers hate, but this is what Bradbury is trying to convey to us.

Something Wicked This Way Comes is a good film, something one has come to expect from Walt Disney. However, it is not a film that you should take your youngest brother or sister to see, unless you want them jumping into your bed in the dead of night for the next three weeks.
Personals

— Morticia: I'll give my world to you if you will accept it. You mean the world to me. In my world, it's heaven on earth when you're near. Please stay that way, Gomez.
— Paul and Mike: Friday's dinner was good, despite learning that shrimp have legs, Barbara.
— Best of luck to all WMSC members trekking cross-country this summer. I.S.
— James: Thank you for being there when I needed you most. Your love and encouragement pulled me through the toughest year of my life. Always, Lori.
— To Montclair State: Thanks for the fun, controversy, and my drinking problem. A graduating senior.
— Dude and Sal: So you don't have to graduate without ever getting a personal, Kath.
— To Ed and Ogdania Ox: Can't wait for our reunion at Mo and Eric's wedding. Heart-shaped tubes and all!! The Dean.
— Hey Lisa: Welcome to Miller Time. I found it, but you must visit in order to collect! See ya, NKD.
— Colleen: Congrats on being lota's 1st "green" prez! Good luck and best wishes for a great year ahead. Also, have a super 20th "B"-day! Love, your secret pal.
— May I inquire discreetly, When are you free to have some tea with me? Bruce.
— Oh Biwwy: This summer's gonna be "our summer." Can't wait! 1-4-3. Guess who?
— Diane: It's the last edition, but I got it in. Here's a personal just for you. C.C.
— Quad Squad: Hopefully when we read this, we will be champs and have terrible hangovers. C.C.
— To my favorite staff of journalists: You guys were great this semester, if we can learn how to spell tuition (oops!) we'll be O.K. I love you all. Your blonde editor-in-chief.
— To Laura, Karen, Sarah, Ellen, Aileen, Patty and Mary: Thanks for putting up with my zanyness! I love you all. Linda.
— Dodi: This place won't die without you, but it sure won't be the same. Lots of luck to you—going to miss you. Mary.
— Karen: Congratulations and best of luck to one of my favorite accounting buddies. JOY, JG and I are going to miss you. Mary.
— Cheekers: Get ready for the kinkiest summer of your life! May that lucky 13 be with us always! Crazy Munchkin.
— To my sisters and brothers in APO: Thank you for the election as advisor. However, let's keep the riots down in the hallway! Thanks, AFH.
— To Donna, Mike, Lynn, Diane and Jill: Thanks for your patient service this semester on the N.C.E.B. Love, Joanie and Art.
— Barbara Joan, I shall miss you: Our walks, our talks, our shopping, our laughs. Remember the roller skate for the turks. Love you, my Clare!! Arthur Frank.
— SPM: Thanks so much for being such a great friend. I'll cherish our friendship forever. John — Cheekers: Happy one-year Anniversary! You've got the cutest chubby cheeks, and the rest of your body is sexy, too! I love you! Your Little Munchkin.
— Curly Q's: You're something special! We need more people like you around. Have a nice summer. Love ya lots, Bubbles.
— To Lida: You have been a great suitemate, friend and sister. Thank you—as of this year it's been great. Isabel.
— Thanks, babe. See you during the week, Steve Housse.

© 1983 Beer Brewed by Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, Wl

"Repeating...due to a computer foul-up, finals week will be postponed."
Golf team takes second
Cont. from p. 16

Knight also led a field of 148 golfers in the 34th Metropolitan Golf Association Intercollegiate Championships last week with a 73. Teammate Charlie Cowell followed in second place, with a 75 to give MSC a one-two finish individually, and a second place team finish by one point to Ramapo.

"I am happy about going to the championships, but I'm also disappointed, because our team deserved to go," Knight said. Besides the MGA championships, Knight said the team also played very well at the Eastern championships in Syracuse, where the Indians finished third overall, defeating three teams that are going to the NCAA finals.

The decision to prohibit the MSC golf team from competing in the NCAA championships is one that is questionable. The Indians finished second in the NJSAC with a conference record of 8-2, the two losses from the 10-1 champs, Ramapo College.

The first match against Ramapo ended in a 375-392 for MSC. It was one of the highest-stroke scores for the golfers, yet it was still a fine performance.

The second contest was a completely different story. In what was the closest match MSC had all year, Ramapo edged the win by one stroke, 394-395. This was MSC's second loss in the conference and overall, making their record 11-2. Ramapo's overall record was 16-2, one of their worst records in six years.

This is the best performance MSC has turned out in years; unfortunately, they will be losing three of their golfers to graduation this season — Knight, Schubert, and Dreux Zeller. "I will be losing more than I can afford," Famiano said. "How well we do next year will depend on who is coming in." Although the three outstanding members will be hard to replace, Cowell, Mike McCormick, and Martino will be back next year to give the team the experience it will need.

FINAL GOLF STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Conference</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>W L Pct.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramapo</td>
<td>10 1 1.000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montclair State</td>
<td>8 2 .800</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trenton State</td>
<td>4 6 .400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Glassboro State</td>
<td>2 8 .200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Keen</td>
<td>0 10 .000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William Peterson</td>
<td>0 10 .000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>W L Pct.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramapo</td>
<td>16 2 .889</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montclair State</td>
<td>11 2 .845</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trenton State</td>
<td>14 4 .778</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Glassboro State</td>
<td>8 8 .500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Keen</td>
<td>11 .313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William Peterson</td>
<td>1 11 .025</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Women's track
Cont. from p. 16

tender to win the nationals this year.

At the AIAW Division III championships, the Indians led off with two runs in the first inning, picking up one run in the third and one in the seventh to defeat Cortland, 4-1.

Emery (9-1) gave up only five hits and three walks, maintaining an ERA of 1.24.

MSC's Debbie Emery went the distance against Cortland State for the AIAW Division III championships. The Indians led off with two runs in the first inning, picking up one run in the third and one in the seventh to defeat Cortland, 4-1.

Emery (9-1) gave up only five hits and three walks, maintaining an ERA of 1.24.

In field events, Janice Welty and Kim Shelley brought in the most points in the discus competition. Welty placed second in the AIAW, but won first in the conference with a throw of 130'11". Shelley placed third with 115'.

Handling the distance events for the Indians are Patty Leisher, a national qualifier, and Dana Caruso. Leisher faced TSC's Colleen Casey in three events and placed second behind her each time. Willis said, "Patty didn't run as well as we thought she would. We were hoping she would do a little better, but she had to double up." Leisher's double was the 5000 and the 3000, running 17:47:1 and 10:24:5 respectively.

Sharon Kearns was another first place finisher in the conference, winning the 200 in 25.5 seconds and placing second in the 400. Kearns also won the AIAW 200 and will represent the Indians in the nationals.

Kim Wood was added to the list of NCAA qualifiers Saturday in the eight-event heptathlon. Wood totaled 4432 points in the shot put, javelin, high jump, 100 hurdles, long jump, 200 and 800 run to easily clear the 4160-point standard.

The Indians will travel to Maine this weekend for the Eastern AIAW Championships.

Yogi Berra's Racquetball Club

LAST CHANCE

* 1 Year Student Membership
* Offer Valid From May 12th thru May 26th
* Students Must Present A Valid MSC ID

$10

227-4000

333 Fairfield Business Campus Rt. 46 West, Fairfield N.J. (2 Miles West of Willowbrook Mall)

* Buds for you!*

Congratulations Seniors!

The Budweiser Selection Committee
Indians face Ramapo in conference playoffs

By John Connolly

The men's baseball team (27-9-1) will open up the NJ State Athletic Conference (NJSAC) playoffs today as they square off against Ramapo College at 3:30 in MSC's Pittser Field.

The Indians are coming off a regular season, which ended yesterday with a 21-7 romp over Upsala. This placed MSC atop the NJSAC standings with an 11-2 mark, giving them top seed in the NJSAC. Olsson, who had a six-game winning streak, snapped against Kean College this past weekend, and is coming into the game with a 6-4 record, a 4.25 ERA and 40 strikeouts in 82 1/3 innings pitched.

MSC only has to win today's game to eliminate Ramapo. However, if the Indians should lose, they would have to win the next two games to stay alive in the conference playoffs.

Coach Fred Hill feels MSC has "as good a chance as anyone" to take the conference crown. He added, "we can beat any of the teams in the playoffs, because we did it during the season. "But in these short series, anything can happen. We just have to play our best baseball."

The Indians wrapped up the season last Friday by defeating arch-rival William Paterson College 14-13 in a thriller. The Pioneers jumped out to a 10-0 romp by the fourth inning as they rank the starting pitcher Olson. However, Olson evaded a loss as teammates rallied back, scoring five runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Trailin 14-9 at the top of the ninth, the visiting Indians went on the war-path. Standout rightfielder Steve Lipinski and leftfielder Rick Hyer blasted back to back, 400-foot home runs to tie the game and allow only three earned runs to the showers.

The next batter, Bob Vesper, who raised his average to .336 with four homers in the last eight games, connected off reliever Rich Di Renzo for a home run of his own. Then, with two out and two on, senior co-captain Glenn De Lio delivered a game-winning two-run single.

The Pioneers, however, refused to lay down and die. Indian reliever Greg Bachion, who eventually earned the win, gave Coach Hill a scare as two Pioneers rocketed deep drives that were caught by MSC's outfielders with their backs to the fences. This ended the game and gave MSC a narrow, one-run come-from-behind victory.

Throughout this season and his three-year career at MSC, senior co-captain Lipinski has been a driving force behind the Indian attack. Smashing numerous batting records, this major league prospect has inscribed his name in the MSC record books for many years to come. Lipinski now holds the record for most hits (157), most runs scored (137), most home runs (25), most runs batted in (130), most total bases, and most times at bat.

The 6'0", 190-pound rightfielder led the team in hitting with a .397 average this year, while collecting 54 hits, eight homers and 42 RBIs. Steve looks to be a definite offensive and defensive key in the Indian playoff run.

Other players who have been vital to MSC's success are center fielder Mike Nicola, who hit .346 with 10 home runs, while setting a new single-season record for RBIs with 59. Senior right-hander Brian Cloney posted a 3.65 ERA, accompanied by a 5-2 record. Serving as the stopper from the bullpen, Greg Bachion finished with a 4.00 record and had a stubborn ERA of 2.40. Todd Carnevale worked as a starter and reliever to lead the team in ERA's with 1.97.

If the Indians can take Ramapo, whom they beat twice in two meetings this season, they will most likely face WPC again. The powerful Pioneers, second in the conference, are taking on Glassboro today. Like MSC, WPC only has to win today to eliminate their opponent. An Indian and Pioneers match would be a vengeful series, as evidenced by the two teams' battle this past weekend.

Golfers take second in conference

By John DeBurgeo

The Indians fell for the fourth time this season to the defending national champion golf team of Ramapo College, in the New Jersey State Athletic Conference Golf championships. Despite a fine performance by Charlie Cowell, who stroked two over par for the best score of the day, the MSC golfers placed second with 404 strokes to Ramapo's 392.

Of the six conference teams that competed, only Ramapo will be going to the NCAA Division III national golf championships. MSC's only losses came at the hands of the Roadrunners, but the Indians were informed this past weekend that they did not make the cut.

Coach Pete Fumiano said, "They didn't play as well as possible, because they knew they had no chance to get into the playoffs."

MSC's score of 404 is definitely their worst performance of the season at Cressmont Country Club, their home course, but despite this weak performance, four of the five golfers were able to finish in the top ten out of a field of thirty. Charlie Cowell led the MSC golfers and the field with 73 strokes. His 34 strokes on the back-nine was also the finest performance for nine holes. Cowell's closest competitors had finished four strokes behind with 77. Teammate Jerry Martino finished with 79. and teammate Jim Shadwitz with Mike Knight finished with an 82.

Knight will represent MSC in the NCAA Division III national golf championships this season, only the second golfer to go in MSC history. Knight was selected over two other golfers because his scoring average, 76, was the lowest on the team. Ironically, Knight was cut from his high school golf team in Cranford during his junior year, but this slow start has not hindered his progress. His best match with the Indians was a 72, going one under par against Fairleigh Dickinson University.

See Golf team takes second p. 15

Women's tracksters finish second to Trenton in JAC

By Kathy Scorrentini

Every team has an arch-rival. In the case of the MSC women's track and field team, it's Trenton State College. MSC has met, fought, and lost to the TSC Lions every time this season.

The Indians first lost of the season, and only defeat in the conference, came at the hands of TSC, by a narrow three points. Last weekend, the Indians once again faced TSC, along with seven other teams, in the NJ Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women championships. Rutgers University won the meet with 266 points, and once again the Lions slipped ahead of the Indians with 101 points to MSC's 97.

The Indians' last chance to beat TSC came in the conference championships Tuesday. Despite six, first-place finishes and constant placings in the top five, TSC again took the win and the Indians took second by 20 points.

Coach Michelle Willis said, "We hadn't a chance to beat Trenton, but we don't have the depth where TSC does. I was disappointed that we didn't beat them, but I'm pleased with our performance."

The MSC "Tribe" is packed with individual talent, with six members ready to travel to the NCAA nationals at the end of the month.

One member hoping to make the qualifying time in the 800 or 1500 is Dana Caruso. Caruso ran a personal best of 4:51.9 in the 1500 for second place in the AIAW, as well as second in the JAC 800. Caruso is the conference champ in the 1500, running a 4:53.2 for the win.

Having broken the school record in the javelin three times this season, Jean Wohlgemuth is a definite contender to win the NCAA title. See Women's track p. 15