MSC President Walters presses for improvements

By Tom Boud

In his first public address to the faculty, the new MSC President Dr. Donald Walters outlined his plan for improvements at the college.

Expanding on a topic he discussed at this month's board of trustees meeting, Walters reviewed the state college fiscal autonomy proposal. Formerly billed as the University of New Jersey, the new proposal was developed by Chancellor of Higher Education T. Edward Hollander and does not call for a name change at any of the state institutions. Walters said, however, that it did "recommend that each campus be granted the freedom to be self-governing."

Walters cited points from the proposal which had been released to the public since the last board meeting. He said it called for "the termination of state agency status for each state college by June 30, 1986 and the transfer of all fiscal, purchasing, and most personnel powers from the departments of treasury and civil service to the state colleges."

He explained that this transfer would take place through renewable one, two or three-year contracts between the board of higher education (BHE) and each state college to be effective July 1, 1986.

Walters said, "This proposal on autonomy is not in every respect perfect. It does require a higher level of trust and confidence in the BHE and its staff than some would prefer. The alternatives, however, are limited."

On the issue of funding, Walters informed the faculty that approximately $780,000 has become available to MSC through a supplementary appropriation which he said will be used to "meet some of the college's most critical operating needs." All departmental chairpersons will shortly be sending requisitions of urgent needs through their deans to Walters. "The only stipulation is that the funds cannot be spent on personnel," Walters said.

The college is also receiving $800,000 from the state for external repairs on some of the older buildings such as College, Chapin, and Moorehead Halls. In addition, Sprague Library's roof will be repaired as well as the building's air circulation system, and portions of the roads and sidewalks on campus will be repaved.

As a means of generating additional money for projects not supported by the state, Walters suggested the development of an "aggressive college-wide fund raising program." Walters said this would involve a "commitment of time as well as money" on the part of the college community.

On the academic level, Walters said MSC needs to strengthen its graduate program, continue faculty development, and expand its international program. Currently, there are about 150 foreign students on campus, and Walters said he would like to see this number increase.

Recapping other issues he addressed at the last board meeting, Walters spoke of declining enrollment at MSC and of the need to market the college in light of this trend. He said the campus community could confidently promote MSC because the school is "simply the best college in New Jersey and, I would argue, among the top one or two in the public four-year institutions in the entire North Eastern region of the United States."

In closing, Walters commented on his administration saying, "We have a chance at MSC to reaffirm our commitment to excellence, and a chance to find new ways to express this commitment as a united campus."

Asbestos removal in dorm "sloppy job"

By Terry Giordano

At a meeting designed to update students about the asbestos problem in on-campus dorms, State Health Representative Dennis McDonough said the substance was not effectively removed from Bohn Hall.

McDonough said the asbestos removal job at Bohn was "sloppy" and the residue contaminated the new wall material. He said only 95 percent of asbestos was completely removed from Bohn and the remaining substance can be found in crevices and corners of the building.

In some cases, McDonough said, entire walls and ceilings will have to be removed, but because some ceilings have been sprayed there should not be any danger unless the surfaces are poked or punctured.

Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning, said Webster Hall has an excessive amount of asbestos and not much has been done to correct the situation. He said this problem may exist because the asbestos in Webster is not pliable which means that the substance doesn't easily flake and is not readily noticed.

Dr. Jean Armstrong, vice president for student affairs, said the administration is aware of the general problem of asbestos but there is no immediate cause for alarm.

McDonough said he will avoid using the term "no risk" even though there have been no cases of death related to the asbestos content in these buildings. He explained that asbestos is cancer causing and an individual is more likely to develop such an illness if he works with the substance or is exposed to it on regular basis for extended periods of time.

Of the 10 to 20 million people exposed to low levels of asbestos on a daily basis, only 20 or 30 individuals may die from asbestos-related cancers, McDonough said. There is a greater chance of getting cancer from cigarette smoking, but the risk with asbestos exposure should not be discounted, he said.

Dorm students who discover new ceiling cracks through which asbestos could spread should report these cases to Dr. Raymond Stover, director of housing at 893-5252.
THE College Life Union Board
PROUDLY PRESENTS
KEVIN BACON
IN

Start the month off right with a CLUB Movie!

$2 W/OUT  Mon. Oct. 1st
$1 W/ID    7:00 PM and 9:00 PM

S.C. Ballrooms

CLUB is a Class I Organization of the SGA
Shorter cafeteria hours send more students to Rat

By Mary Ellen MacIsaac

Due to declining profits, the Student Center cafeteria has shortened its schedule forcing some students to go to the Rathskellar for evening meals. "It was necessary for us to consolidate and reduce losses to the Student Center," Harold Ostroff, manager of auxiliary services at the Student Center, said. "The Rat will provide adequate meals and seating for those students who are on campus in the evening," he said.

Whereas the cafeteria used to be open until 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 5 p.m. on Fridays, it will now close everyday at 4:30 p.m. Jefrey Shapiro, president of the faculty student co-op said "there wasn't enough patronage" to retain the former schedule.

Because the Rat was "dry" for the first few weeks of the semester, the entire area was open to all students. However, now that alcohol is again being served, the Rat will undergo some changes.

Monday through Wednesday the Rat will be open from 11 a.m. until midnight. After 2:30 p.m., the Rat will be separated into two sections. Alcohol will be served on one side, and the other side will remain open for those who are not of legal drinking age.

On Thursdays the Rat will be in operation from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. After 8 p.m., only alcohol will be served, but food will still be available for take-out by underaged students.

Although the Rat has now become the "evening cafeteria," the food menu is more limited than that of the upstairs food service. SGA president, Dave Handal, said some students have complained they want other things beside fast foods, for example, salads. He said, "If there's a major concern voiced, measures will be taken to try to reorganize the food section of the cafeteria."

Dorothy Jordan, a second career student, said, "People depend on the cafeteria for good dinners. I think it's a bad idea not serving food."

As for the Rat's selection of food, Shapiro said the college is waiting for renovation plans. Once this happens, new facilities will be installed in the Rat's kitchen enabling management to expand the menu.

WINTER SESSION REGISTRATION

Advance registration for the 1985 winter session will run from Oct. 10 until Oct. 19. Course request forms must be completed and submitted to the registrar's office no later than Oct. 19.

Students will be scheduled on a class priority basis, according to the number of credits previously earned. Bills will be sent to only those students who are scheduled into courses; others will be notified by mail.

Tuition must be paid by Nov. 16.

Late registrations of courses will take place from 9 to 11 a.m. on Dec. 27 in Room 121 College Hall. Students wishing to late register must have a permission to register card or a previous schedule from advanced registration to attend. Tuition must be paid during the registration session.

Registration Dates Winter '85

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Winter Session 1985</th>
<th>Jan. 2-18</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Advanced Registration</td>
<td>Oct. 10-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bills and Notifications Received</td>
<td>Nov. 5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schedules Received</td>
<td>Dec. 12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Permit to Register Cards Available</td>
<td>Dec. 1-27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Late Registration</td>
<td>Dec. 27</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Proposed day care program to assist parents in college

By Allyson Hoyt

The SGA passed a bill today which supports the establishment of a day care center at MSC.

The bill was proposed by SGA legislator Terry Hocker. It said that because many parents are now pursuing a college degree, it would be an advantage for these individuals to have their children properly cared for while they maintain a busy schedule.

Every other state college in New Jersey has facilities for day care except MSC. If anyone is interested in helping get such a program started, contact Susan Scalera at 893-5277.

In other news, the creation of a Sports Council is under consideration by the SGA. Dave Handal, SGA president, said one member from each intramural sport would form a committee to solve any problems that might arise within the athletic department.

One of the major problems in the past has been physical injury. The SGA is not responsible for an athlete who injures himself during competition.

Freshman Seminar eases student adjustment period

By Laura Cohen

Adapting to college life is difficult for some freshmen. At MSC, there's a course geared toward making this adjustment a little easier.

Entitled Freshman Seminar, one of the course's general objectives is to better acclimate the beginning college student to campus life through an emphasis on effective education and development.

Awareness of personal values and interpersonal skills are stressed through lectures and active individual participation. The seminar also strives to teach students how to use interpersonal skills and style more effectively. This interpersonal style refers to the day-to-day manner in which an individual behaves when he is with people.

Other important objectives include learning to express and perceive feelings of both a verbal and non verbal nature, to develop listening and responding skills, and to manage stress more successfully.

Emphasis is further placed on the abilities to accept oneself and others, and to better understand the applications of communications theory.

Freshman Seminar follows a very strict course format. Two days a week, there are large group sessions in which Dr. Mark Friedman, associate professor in the psychology department, lectures on concepts, theory, and research behind the field of group dynamics.

On the third day of class, students are divided into small groups of eight to ten members. During these sessions, students meet with upper-class group facilitators to discuss the large group presentations and relevant issues that are brought up by the group members themselves. This session can be considered the course's experimental learning laboratory.

Students are required to keep logs because they help the facilitators monitor the weekly interpersonal progress in the group and give individuals personal attention where needed.

Kathy Orozem, a small group facilitator strongly recommends the class. "This course lets you seeijow you are perceived by others and gives you the chance to learn about yourself," she said.

The SGA sponsored an Information Day last week to acquaint students with some of the 80 on-campus organizations.
USE THE POWER! 18 Register and Vote!

PLEDGE

National Service Fraternity
COME MEET THE BROTHERS

FREE BUFFET DINNER
7:30 SEPT. 28
Newman House

4th FLOOR STUDENT CENTER  893-5431  Co-Ed
Education and the 1984 election are topics of debate

By Dianne Traflet

Reagan? Mondale? Which presidential candidate should students support? This question was the basis of a debate on education sponsored by the Council on International and National Affairs (CINA) Tuesday.

The guest speakers were Professor Jack Nelson of Rutgers University, who backs the Mondale-Ferraro ticket, and Professor Edward Shapiro of Seton Hall University, who backs the Reagan-Bush ticket.

According to Nelson, Mondale is the hope for American education because he has shown a long-term commitment to education on all levels.

Shapiro, a teacher, said students must vote for someone who has a history of support for schools and teachers. Reagan, he said, has shown a lack of support and has "used education as a political ploy . . . more rhetoric. While parading as a savior of American education, he is the most anti-education president in United States history."

On the other hand, Shapiro ended the debate by saying that this year the best vote from a consumer point of view is one for Reagan because his policies will most benefit society by providing a diversity of choice.

Another inquiry dealt with statistics concerning cuts in student loans and cuts in school lunch programs for the poor. Nelson agreed with the statistics, while Shapiro said that subsidies for school lunch programs were cut for the middle class, not the poor.

In Nelson's concluding comments, he charged that Reagan censors those who disagree with him, and plans to eliminate the department of education.

On the other hand, Shapiro ended the debate by saying that this year the best vote from a consumer point of view is one for Reagan because his policies will most benefit society by providing a diversity of choice.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MONDAY</th>
<th>TUESDAY</th>
<th>WEDNESDAY</th>
<th>THURSDAY</th>
<th>FRIDAY</th>
<th>SATURDAY</th>
<th>SUNDAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>MORNING</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>MORNING</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wake-up 10:45 for 11:00 class, put the “Snooze” button on wake-up at 11:00, go to class, study hard at the library and get ready for a GREAT NIGHT AT THE BARON!</td>
<td>Don’t cramp arm by writing too many notes - need your arm to lift those Shots &amp; Beers at THE BARON</td>
<td>“RAVE” to your friends about the great time you had at THE BARON last night.</td>
<td>Read The Montclarion, catch up on all of THE BARON Specials!</td>
<td>Partyed all night at THE BARON decide to go to class, then rest up for a GREAT weekend at</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>1:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GO TO THE BARON TO EAT FREE SUBS! During Football Game</td>
<td>SHOT &amp; BEER NIGHT Shot &amp; Beer $1</td>
<td>&quot;RAT NIGHT&quot; AT THE BARON</td>
<td>LADIES NITE! 75¢ Drinks and free admission for the Ladies!</td>
<td>THE BARON HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION FOR EVERYONE</td>
<td>THE BARON HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION</td>
<td>FREE PIZZAS During the Football Game</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>THE BARON OPEN 7 DAYS ‘TIL 2:30 AM 239-7003 CEDAR GROVE, NJ</td>
<td>HOT DOGS 25¢</td>
<td>HEATERS OF SUB</td>
<td>LADIES NITE!</td>
<td>HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION</td>
<td>HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION</td>
<td>FREE PIZZAS</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE BARON WEEKLY PLANNER
Academically talented youngsters enroll in college

By Tom Boud

Can a 12-year-old attend college? At MSC, academically gifted youngsters are given this opportunity.

The college's Academically Talented Young Program begins its fourth year on Sat., Sept. 29, under the direction of Dr. Carl Gottschall and Dr. Philip Zipse, associated professors in the department of mathematics and computer science.

This program involves teaching college level courses to seventh, eighth and ninth grade students who are academically gifted. According to Gottschall; all those enrolled are in the top three percent of their classes.

Zipse said, "I believe this is an excellent opportunity for these capable students to supplement their regular academic work. The educational experiences they receive here expose them to some of the challenges and excitement of learning that they otherwise may not receive."

The students come to MSC on Saturdays or Sundays during a semester to study one course in the discipline of humanities and social sciences. "A wide-ranging choice of courses is available to these youngsters," Gottschall said.

The math/science discipline offers algebra, trigonometry, pre-calculus, mathematical logic, advanced cell biology, chemistry, geology, fossils, dinosaurs, and oceanography. A unique course has also been established for prodigy students called Robots and Microelectronics. "There is no other program in the entire nation that offers it to gifted students," Gottschall said.

The humanities discipline offers such courses as English vocabulary, beginning French, mythology, creative writing, writing with humor, creative self-expression, musical arts, simulation games and global problems. In addition, students are able to take computer programming courses if they wish.

Beginning this semester, a new program for fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students is offered, where similar but more basic courses are taught. MSC's Academically Talented Young Student Program originated in 1981 when Gottschall learned of the Johns Hopkins University Talent Search and the State of New Jersey's ROGATE (Resources Offered Gifted and Talented Education) program. These two organizations, which were working together at the time, contacted Gottschall and furnished him with lists of names and addresses of prodigy students who performed well on college level SAT examinations.

To establish this program Gottschall contacted Dr. Philip Cohen, dean of the school of humanities and social sciences, and Mr. Robert McVane, then vice-president of academic services and currently the senior advisor to the president. Gottschall said, "I could not have done it without their support and approval because our program involves the participation of almost every academic department on campus."

Today, over 300 students are enrolled, despite the fact that Johns Hopkins University discontinued its support for MSC's program in 1982.

Kean decides future of dump

By Linda Longo

Gov. Thomas Kean has one month to act on a bill which would close down the MSC landfill. Last Thursday, the bill was passed by both Houses. James Segreto, attorney for the township of Little Falls, said a veto is highly unlikely because Kean "made a personal visit to the site and said it was an inappropriate place for a dump."

Senate President Carmen Orrachio sponsored the bill and Rob Pignetello, his administrative assistant, said the senator gave his support because he "thought it was a hazardous situation."

For over nine years local residents have protested and opposed the plans for the dump, which is located in a section of the quarry near Clove Road. A total of 35,000 names were signed to petitions.

The department of environmental protection (DEP) does not advocate the bill's passage. Supervising planner Robert O'Malley said, "The department has consistently been opposed to the passage of the bill because the department is being involved in something it has nothing to do with, except that it issued a permit."

The bill would require the DEP to buy out the landfill from the Carrino Company, the permit holders. O'Malley said, "The state money could be put to better use because New Jersey needs more landfills."

Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning at MSC, said the contract provided for the building of a multi-purpose recreational field on top of the landfill. If Kean signs the proposed bill and makes this contract void, Quinn said the college will ask the DEP for funds to build the athletic field. These funds would not be issued, however, until 1987.

DO YOU KNOW WHERE THE OFFICIAL MSC #1 PARTY PLACE IS?

THE BARON

WEDNESDAY

Wednesday is "RAT NITE!"

Pitcher of Bud - $2.50

Hot Dogs - 25¢
FAMOUS LAST WORDS FROM FRIENDS TO FRIENDS. I'm perfectly fine. I can drive with my eyes closed. There's nothing wrong with me. Are you joking—I feel great. What am I—a wimp? I'm in great shape to drive. You're not serious are you? What's a couple of beers? Nobody drives my car but me. I've never felt better. I can drive with the best of them. But I only had a few. So I had a couple. I can drive rings around anybody. I can drive my own car, thank you. I'm not drunk. I drive better when I'm like this. Who says I can't drink drive? I can hold my booze. I know I'm doing. I always drive like this.

Drinking and driving can kill a friendship.
Series of dorm bomb scare prove to be false alarm

By MaryEllen Maclsaac

A series of bomb threats occurred last week in three of the resident dorms.

CAMPUS POLICE REPORT

On Thurs., Sept. 20 at 10:45 p.m., Bohn Hall received a call that a bomb was hidden in one of the garbage cans. For almost two hours, residents stood outside while the cans were searched. Nothing was found.

Four separate bomb threats were made on Fri., Sept. 21. At 3 a.m., a bomb was said to be in a Bohn Hall lounge. The building was evacuated, and no bomb was found.

Forty minutes later, Blanton Hall received a bomb threat on the fourth floor. Again, the building was evacuated and no bomb was discovered.

In Freeman Hall, a bomb scare was called at 2 p.m. The residents remained outside for a half hour while the building was searched. No bomb was found.

Later in the evening, a bomb was said to be on the third floor of Freeman Hall. For 45 minutes, residents stayed outside while the building was searched and no bomb was found.

In addition to bomb threats, several thefts and incidents of vandalism took place last week.

On Mon., Sept. 17 in Blanton Hall, a $240 bracelet was stolen from a room on the second floor. The woman left her room unlocked for several minutes about 10 p.m., and returned to discover it missing.

A clarinet, worth $200, was taken from an '80 Chrysler in Lot 13. The picture was stolen from Brown's lounge in Panzer gymnasium on Fri., Sept. 14. There was minor damage done to the picture, campus police said.

Discover many job options at Career Services

By Marilyn Kinch

Fascinated by technology? Like computers? Trying to figure out what to do with yourself when you grow up?

Wondering how you'll survive economically if you don't want to "grow up?"

If you can answer any of these questions in the affirmative, come to Career Services (Student Center Annex, Room 104) and sign up to use Discover, our new computerized guidance system. No special knowledge about computers is required to use the system, which has been designed with a number of purposes in mind.

If you are an undeclared freshman or simply an uncertain sophomore, Discover asks you to consider how important certain values are, such as creativity, economic return, and intellectual stimulation—and whether these or other values must exist in your occupation.

Which skills do you want to use? What interests should your job incorporate? Working through the first part of Discover will help you to increase your understanding of self and identify occupations that capitalize on your strengths and needs.

The system is also designed for those students who want concrete occupational information. As a supplement to the career library, Discover presents information on the typical tasks, required skills, usual salary, overall outlook, and so on for over 400 occupational titles.

You will be able to ask 14 questions about each occupation in the data base, and printouts of key information can be made.

Finally, Discover is designed to help you to get information about the undergraduate and graduate programs of over 1,800 colleges and universities. The entire program takes about three hours to go through, and users will sign up for three separate one-hour blocks of time. The information students put in the computer is stored from session to session but is completely confidential, as each user selects a name and number by which to be subsequently identified.

Discover is a powerful tool for career exploration, and everyone is encouraged to try it. No single activity, however—even using an interactive career guidance system—can ever provide the final career choice answer, and it is strongly recommended that students work with Career Services counselors, attend seminars, and use the career library to fully develop their career awareness.
New Jersey’s Voter Registration Application: Your Ticket to Power.

CIVILIAN ABSENTEE BALLOT APPLICATION

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Fill out application. Print and sign your name as indicated.
2. MAIL or DELIVER application to County Clerk.

INFORMATION

1. You must be a registered voter.
2. Your Absentee Ballot must be received by the County Clerk not later than THE ELECTION unless you apply IN PERSON or if SICK or CONFINED via authorized messenger during the day prior to the election.
3. Your Absentee Ballot must be received by the County Clerk not later than THE ELECTION unless you apply IN PERSON or if SICK or CONFINED via authorized messenger during the day prior to the election.
4. You will receive instructions with your Ballot.
5. Your Ballot will be mailed out or after the 25th day prior to Election Day.
6. Do not submit more than ONE application for the same Election.
7. You must apply for an Absentee Ballot for EACH Election.

IMPORTANT INSTRUCTIONS

Print in Dark Ink

Qualifications of an eligible applicant

By the time of the next election, you must be 18 years old and a United States citizen. You must also be a resident of New Jersey and of your county for at least 30 days before the election.

a. Items 1 through 8 must be completed in full. Complete item 5 if you were previously registered. NOTE: If applicant is unable to sign his or her name a mark must be affixed to the line designated signature or mark in item 7 on this form.

b. Item 7 must be signed by the applicant after completing the form.

c. Item 8 must be signed by a registered voter of the State of New Jersey after witnessing the applicant’s signature and completion of the form.

d. The Commissioner of Registration will notify you upon receipt and review of this form. NOTE: Sign and complete all questions before mailing.

APPLICANT SIGN HERE

WITNESS SIGN HERE

WITNESS MUST BE A REGISTERED VOTER OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

Office of the Secretary of State
Election Division
CN300
Trenton, N.J. 08625

---

NEW JERSEY’S VOTER REGISTRATION APPLICATION: YOUR TICKET TO POWER.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Fill out application. Print and sign your name as indicated.
2. MAIL or DELIVER application to County Clerk.

INFORMATION

1. You must be a registered voter.
2. You will not be permitted to vote at your polling place in the same election.
3. Your Absentee Ballot must be received by the County Board of Elections before close of polls on Election Day (8:00 p.m.).

IMPORTANT INSTRUCTIONS

Print in Dark Ink

Qualifications of an eligible applicant

By the time of the next election, you must be 18 years old and a United States citizen. You must also be a resident of New Jersey and of your county for at least 30 days before the election.

a. Items 1 through 8 must be completed in full. Complete item 5 if you were previously registered. NOTE: If applicant is unable to sign his or her name a mark must be affixed to the line designated signature or mark in item 7 on this form.

b. Item 7 must be signed by the applicant after completing the form.

c. Item 8 must be signed by a registered voter of the State of New Jersey after witnessing the applicant’s signature and completion of the form.

d. The Commissioner of Registration will notify you upon receipt and review of this form. NOTE: Sign and complete all questions before mailing.
Where the candidates stand:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ronald Reagan</th>
<th>Walter Mondale</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Increase taxes only as a last resort to cut the deficit. Let indexing of personal income-tax brackets begin in 1985 as scheduled to offset inflation. Establish a &quot;simpler and fairer&quot; tax system.</td>
<td>Raise taxes to reduce the deficit, mainly by hitting corporations and upper incomes. Delay indexing of tax brackets. Lower tax rates and eliminate many deductions, credits and exemptions.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rely on an expanding economy to increase revenue and reduce spending on unemployment and welfare benefits. Push constitutional amendments requiring a balanced budget and permitting votes of individual items in appropriations passed by Congress.</td>
<td>Reduce the deficit by two-thirds in four years by cutting the rate of increase in defense spending, containing government-subsidized hospital costs and slashing farm-price supports.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Award tax credits to employers who hire disadvantaged youths and the handicapped. Establish a subminimum wage to encourage hiring of teenagers. Create enterprise zones to promote inner-city employment.</td>
<td>Target the chronically unemployed and young people for training and employment. Create jobs by rebuilding roads, bridges and other public projects. Expand the investment tax credit to include worker training and education.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Support the Fed's current money-growth policies to expand the nation's money supply at a &quot;moderate&quot; rate designed both to hold the line against inflation and to maintain economic recovery.</td>
<td>Reach accord with the Fed by reducing the deficit and expect the Fed in turn to compensate with a monetary policy that allows more-balanced and sustainable economic growth. Seek to appoint the chairman at the start of each presidential term instead of overlapping terms.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Promote free trade but use import limits or voluntary quotas to protect such endangered industries as automobiles, steel, sugar and textiles. Oppose grain embargoes and laws requiring imports to contain some share of U.S.-made-parts.</td>
<td>Provide temporary protection for depressed industries. Support domestic-content legislation for imported cars. Boost use of the Export-Import Bank and Commodity Credit Corporation for helping sell U.S. products abroad. Oppose grain embargoes.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Push a consistent and steady increase in defense outlays, including 7.8 percent more for the coming year. Continue the emphasis on modernizing major new weapons systems while improving the combat readiness of conventional forces.</td>
<td>Boost defense spending but at half the rate proposed by Reagan. Shift the focus from costly equipment such as nuclear-powered aircraft carriers in favor of building up the readiness of conventional forces. Crack down on Pentagon waste and fraud.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Press for more research on a space-based antimissile defense system. Deploy sea-launched nuclear cruise missiles and continue development of the MX missile, B-1 and &quot;stealth&quot; bombers as well as Trident 2 submarine-launched missiles.</td>
<td>Hold up testing an antisatellite system and deploying sea-launched nuclear cruise missiles pending negotiations with the Soviet Union on banning them. Scrap the MX missile and B-1 bomber while proceeding with a single-warhead missile, Trident 2 submarine missiles and &quot;stealth&quot; bombers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stands ready to talk with Soviet leaders at any time, preferably if the conference is well prepared in advance and has a good chance of making substantial progress.</td>
<td>Do you favor summit talks with the Soviets?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Negotiations to reduce nuclear-arms levels, not just freeze or limit their expansion, will be resumed whenever the Soviets wish. Would not sign any agreement permitting Moscow a clear edge on such systems as intermediate-range missiles.</td>
<td>Where do you stand on holding arms-control talks with the Soviet Union?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Continue strong U.S. support for Israel and moderate Arab nations. Work for an autonomous Palestinian entity in the West Bank and Gaza. Oppose moving the U.S. Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. Back a negotiated end to the Iran-Iraq War. Keep U.S. forces ready to protect oil supplies.</td>
<td>Return to Camp David-type talks for solving the Arab-Israeli conflict while reaffirming unreserved support for Israel. Bar selling advanced weapons to Arab nations. Move the U.S. Embassy to Jerusalem. Use U.S. troops if necessary to prevent a blockade of oil shipments through the Persian Gulf.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Display a strong military presence and keep up military and economic aid to counter Soviet-supported subversion. Continue pressing El Salvador to improve human rights but oppose moves in Congress to condition aid on that basis. Help finance antigovernment rebels in Nicaragua.</td>
<td>What should be this country's policy in Central America?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What would you do about taxes?</td>
<td>What would you do about defense spending?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How would you go about trimming the record federal budget deficit?</td>
<td>What is your approach to new weapons systems?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What's your formula for creating more jobs?</td>
<td>How would you work with the Federal Reserve Board?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Where the candidates stand:

Ronald Reagan

- Increase taxes only as a last resort to cut the deficit. Let indexing of personal income-tax brackets begin in 1985 as scheduled to offset inflation. Establish a "simpler and fairer" tax system.
- Rely on an expanding economy to increase revenue and reduce spending on unemployment and welfare benefits. Push constitutional amendments requiring a balanced budget and permitting votes of individual items in appropriations passed by Congress.
- Award tax credits to employers who hire disadvantaged youths and the handicapped. Establish a subminimum wage to encourage hiring of teenagers. Create enterprise zones to promote inner-city employment.
- Support the Fed's current money-growth policies to expand the nation's money supply at a "moderate" rate designed both to hold the line against inflation and to maintain economic recovery.
- Promote free trade but use import limits or voluntary quotas to protect such endangered industries as automobiles, steel, sugar and textiles. Oppose grain embargoes and laws requiring imports to contain some share of U.S.-made-parts.
- Push a consistent and steady increase in defense outlays, including 7.8 percent more for the coming year. Continue the emphasis on modernizing major new weapons systems while improving the combat readiness of conventional forces.
- Press for more research on a space-based antimissile defense system. Deploy sea-launched nuclear cruise missiles and continue development of the MX missile, B-1 and "stealth" bombers as well as Trident 2 submarine-launched missiles.
- Stands ready to talk with Soviet leaders at any time, preferably if the conference is well prepared in advance and has a good chance of making substantial progress.
- Negotiations to reduce nuclear-arms levels, not just freeze or limit their expansion, will be resumed whenever the Soviets wish. Would not sign any agreement permitting Moscow a clear edge on such systems as intermediate-range missiles.
- Continue strong U.S. support for Israel and moderate Arab nations. Work for an autonomous Palestinian entity in the West Bank and Gaza. Oppose moving the U.S. Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. Back a negotiated end to the Iran-Iraq War. Keep U.S. forces ready to protect oil supplies.
- Display a strong military presence and keep up military and economic aid to counter Soviet-supported subversion. Continue pressing El Salvador to improve human rights but oppose moves in Congress to condition aid on that basis. Help finance antigovernment rebels in Nicaragua.

Walter Mondale

- Raise taxes to reduce the deficit, mainly by hitting corporations and upper incomes. Delay indexing of tax brackets. Lower tax rates and eliminate many deductions, credits and exemptions.
- Reduce the deficit by two-thirds in four years by cutting the rate of increase in defense spending, containing government-subsidized hospital costs and slashing farm-price supports.
- Target the chronically unemployed and young people for training and employment. Create jobs by rebuilding roads, bridges and other public projects. Expand the investment tax credit to include worker training and education.
- Reach accord with the Fed by reducing the deficit and expect the Fed in turn to compensate with a monetary policy that allows more-balanced and sustainable economic growth. Seek to appoint the chairman at the start of each presidential term instead of overlapping terms.
- Boost defense spending but at half the rate proposed by Reagan. Shift the focus from costly equipment such as nuclear-powered aircraft carriers in favor of building up the readiness of conventional forces. Crack down on Pentagon waste and fraud.
- Hold up testing an antisatellite system and deploying sea-launched nuclear cruise missiles pending negotiations with the Soviet Union on banning them. Scrap the MX missile and B-1 bomber while proceeding with a single-warhead missile, Trident 2 submarine missiles and "stealth" bombers.
- Do you favor summit talks with the Soviets?
- Where do you stand on holding arms-control talks with the Soviet Union?
- Return to Camp David-type talks for solving the Arab-Israeli conflict while reaffirming unreserved support for Israel. Bar selling advanced weapons to Arab nations. Move the U.S. Embassy to Jerusalem. Use U.S. troops if necessary to prevent a blockade of oil shipments through the Persian Gulf.
- What should be this country's policy in Central America?
Something's in the air

There's new energy being generated around the campus this semester, and although there isn't one particular source, the Student Government Association (SGA) should be acknowledged for their part in the matter. Members of the SGA have been working for us (the students) since June and already have a few notches in their belts, including a reinstated alcohol policy at the Rathskeller and a now-functioning fountain in front of Sprague Library.

Big deal you may grumble, who cares about a stupid fountain? Well, that's the point. There's a new optimism present, a new attitude that students can make things happen around here.

SGA President Dave Handal and his cabinet have already established a rapport with our new college President, Dr. Waiters, and other top administrators. Regular meetings are being set up to voice our concerns.

The executive board is setting a positive example for legislators and other students. Handal and SGA Vice president Dennis Quinn especially had some differences of opinion during their campaign. It is apparent and encouraging to see those differences resolved with no trace of an adversarial relationship.

The SGA will continue to be more visible and accessible, to students this year. "What's your beef?" tables will be set up at locations throughout campus to publicize the work that they're doing and to hear your comments and suggestions. They're working on a teacher evaluation guide in which students themselves rate professors as well as courses.

On your toes, professors!

Overall there's a great amount of creative energy within the SGA. It's refreshing and, we hope, contagious. One aspect of being on the student governing body is the opportunity to learn professional skills; it is also the opportunity to express one's creativity and provide some relief from the pressure of classes and jobs.

Although The Montclarion doesn't always agree with the SGA, we do appreciate their energy and enthusiasm and urge students to take advantage of them.

So you don't care about the fountain, but maybe you do care about the lack of child-care facilities. Or maybe you don't care about the alcohol policies, but you'd like to see increased night-time security. Whatever your concern, make it known. Call Handal or Quinn at 893-4202 and let them take your message to someone in the administration who can do something about it.

By Rhonda Kupfer, JSU president

By Rhonda Kupfer, JSU president

The Mediterranean Sea, Falafel, Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, and Kibbutz are not concepts that are 6,000 miles away for me. Instead, I had decided to study abroad at Tel Aviv University, submerging myself into the midst of Israeli culture.

The Overseas Program at Tel Aviv University is taught in English, and offers students the opportunity to take courses in six areas: Middle Eastern Studies, Israeli Studies, Jewish Studies, Business and Labor Relations, and the Arts and General Studies. As a business major, I took a variety of classes from different departments, and all of them were applied to my humanities requirements.

A student can receive social science, humanities, or even elective credit while studying in Israel. A perfect example of gaining credit while in Israel is that of fulfilling the foreign language requirement in one year as compared to two years back home.

Since I have been in Israel, I have realized that the advantages brought by studying abroad go much farther than just the academic value of the classroom. The cultural opportunities in meeting foreign people are exciting. Every day you share their joys and anxieties. At least once during each day, an Israeli will let you know his/her opinion on a current event.

A regular part of the Overseas Program is the extensive field trips throughout the country. While traveling from the Golan Heights in the north to the Negev Desert in the south, we did not see the country in a detached way, but actually experienced the land of Israel. On many of our excursions, we had the unique opportunities to meet and have discussions with top officials and leaders of the country.

I could never have gained this experience from reading a textbook in sociology, human geography, or from sitting in a political science class. It is the personal exchanges with people of another culture that made the time spent in Israel so worthwhile.

One of the most interesting classes offered was "Kibbutz: A Way of Life." This class took place at a kibbutz study center where interaction with Israelis from many of the 360 kibbutzim in Israel was most enlightening. As we learned about the history and current events taking place in the kibbutz movement, we also had the opportunity to experience and understand them firsthand.

Kibbutz is not only a unique agricultural settlement, but today it also plays a major role in technology and industry. The first kibbutz was created in 1916 and settled in order to create a way of survival. But as the members of this communal family grew, so did their ideals. Questions arose as to how children were to be raised and whether the kibbutz should expand from 30 to over 200 people. There were concerns as to whether produce from the kibbutz should be sold outside of the community.

Today, each kibbutz is unique, yet all have certain values and ideals in common. The kibbutzim (those who live and work on Kibbutz) have the opportunity to work in all areas of the community, from working in the fields to overseeing business affairs and tax accounting.

You can find out about this and other programs in Israel by stopping at the JSU office, Room 407, 4th floor, Student Center.
Peace and prosperity. If re-elected, President Reagan assures Americans that this is what the future will look like. It is attractive bait. After all, it hits squarely at the heart of what Americans desire. Wouldn't it be wonderful if this most persuasive incumbent could actually deliver this promise?

Someone once said that human beings are "a mass of contradictions." If nothing else, this certainly indicates that Reagan is at least human. After all, how can anyone reconcile a promise of "peace and prosperity" with a "Star Wars" project that could conceivably destroy any possibility of peaceful co-existence on the planet? With such a project implemented, "prosperity" does not stand much of a chance of becoming a reality either. The two ideas are not only contradictory, but are mutually exclusive.

Let's take a look at the "peace" promise first. It was with great amazement and shock that I received the news of the Reagan administration's proposed plans to "scrap" the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) treaty. This treaty, (brought about in one of Nixon's shining moments) is considered to be the most important arms control agreement because it is the foundation on which efforts to impose limits on offensive nuclear forces are based. The treaty prohibits the development, testing, or deployment of space-based missile defenses. While the first phase of the "Star Wars" project, the research phase known as the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI) can be argued to lie within the limits of the treaty, when it comes time to develop and test these new weapons, the ABM treaty will be in the way. Herein lies the administration's justification for the failure of "two wrongs make a right."

The fact is that two wrongs will not hurt us forward into an even greater wrong: a new arms race in space. If the ABM treaty is violated, Americans cannot expect the Russians to sit idly by while we achieve nuclear superiority in space. What if the Russians believed that we were using "Star Wars" as a protective shield, not only against a Soviet first strike, but as a guarantor of U.S. first strike ability? If the Russians are unable to develop a similar protective device, they could view themselves as backed into a corner. In that case, wouldn't it be in their best interests to strike first before the "Star Wars" facility is in working order? Well, what about "prosperity?" How prosperous can America become when the projected costs of SDI over the next five years are estimated at $26 billion? How prosperous will the Russians become if they are forced to defer resources to a similar project? I know Reagan's promise did not include the Russians, but I wonder just who it does include.

The prospect of an arms race in space is indeed frightening. The proposed death of the ABM treaty and the millions of dollars in lost revenues that could be better applied for social problems, or research in ways to promote peace, is also frightening. But the most frightening thought of all is, what if all this is completely unnecessary?

In the meantime, can we afford to lose all hope of peace and prosperity in this country, and the world, for a fantasy?
MONDAY

1. Men’s Fast Pitch Tournament
   Co-Ed Slow Pitch Tournament
   TIME: To Be Announced
   PLACE: Softball field in Quarry
   CLUB - MOVIE: Footloose 7 to 9 PM
   S.C. Ballrooms, $1 W/ID $2 W/OUT
   FINAL DAY to file for final evaluation for June '85 BA or BS
   CLUB MEETING
   4 PM S.C. 126

TUESDAY

2. Lacrosse Clinic
   4 - 5:30 PM Multi Purpose Field
   HRO Pre-Weekend Workshop, 8 PM, S.C. 419
   BSCU Meeting, 7:30 PM, S.C. Caf. C
   Gay and Lesbian Alliance Meeting
   7:30 - 10 PM, S.C. 106
   FINAL DAY to submit Withdrawal resulting in 50% refund

WEDNESDAY

3. SGA Meeting, 4 PM, S.C. 411
   La Campana Meeting, 3 PM, S.C. 111
   Colloquium Lectures
   Fractals, Formals, and Computer Graphics
   Dr. Alan Norton, 3 PM, Memorial Aud.

THURSDAY

4. Lacrosse Clinic, 4 - 5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
   Conservation Club, 4 PM, S.C. 402
   Read The Montclarion

---

MONDAY

8. AEROBICS, 8-9 PM, Panzer
   LASO- Clothing Drive Begins
   9-4 PM, S.C. 100

10. Nobel Laureate Lecture
    The Birth and Prospects of Expert System
    Dr. Joshua Leiderber, Pres. Rockefeller Univ.
    12 Noon, Memorial Aud.
    Women's Day Lecture and Debate
    10-3 PM, S.C. Ballrooms
    DEBATE-"Who Should I Vote For?"
    Foreign Policy, Military Budget
    8 PM W120
    CLUB - Movie: Bachelor Party, 7-9 PM
    S.C. Ballrooms, $1 W/ID $2 W/OUT
    SGA MEETING, 4 PM, S.C. 411
    La Campana Meeting, 3 PM, S.C. 111

15. AEROBICS, 8-9 PM, Panzer
    CLUB Meeting, 4 PM, S.C. 126
    WMSC-FM 101.5
    Motown Monday 8 PM

17. AEROBICS, 8-9 PM, Panzer
    CLUB-Movie: Sudden Impact, 7 and 9 PM
    S.C. Ballrooms, $1 W/ID $2 W/OUT
    SGA Meeting, 4 PM, S.C. 126
    LA Campana Meeting, 3 PM, S.C. 111

23. Lacrosse Clinic, 4-5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
    HRO General Meeting, 7:30 PM, S.C. 413
    BSCU Meeting, 7:30 PM, S.C. Caf. C
    Gay and Lesbian Alliance Meeting
    7:30 - 10 PM, S.C. 106

25. Lacrosse Clinic, 4-5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
    Conservation Club Seminar
    "Asbestos & Air Pollution"-The Real Facts
    Presented by: Rosnagel & Assoc. Inc.
    (the Company that did testing at MSC)
    7 PM, S.C. 419
    Read The Montclarion

TUESDAY

9. Lacrosse Clinic, 4-5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
    HRO Pre-Weekend Workshop, 8 PM, S.C. 419
    BSCU Meeting, 7:30 PM, S.C. Caf. C
    Gay and Lesbian Alliance Meeting
    7:30 - 10 PM, S.C. 106
    FINAL DAY to submit Withdrawal resulting in 50% refund

WEDNESDAY

16. Lacrosse Clinic, 4-5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
    HRO Staff Workshop, 7:30 PM, S.C. 417
    BSCU Meeting, 7:30 PM, S.C. Caf. C
    Gay and Lesbian Alliance Meeting
    7:30 - 10 PM, S.C. 106

THURSDAY

18. Lacrosse Clinic, 4-5:30 PM, Multi Purpose Field
    Conservation Club Seminar
    "Asbestos & Air Pollution"-The Real Facts
    Presented by: Rosnagel & Assoc. Inc.
    (the Company that did testing at MSC)
    7 PM, S.C. 419
    Read The Montclarion

29. AEROBICS, 8-9 PM, Panzer
    CLUB-Movie: Andy Warhol's
    "How Gov't Really Works"-former Watergate conspirator
    8 PM, S.C. Ballrooms A & B
    $1 W/ID $2 W/OUT

31. HAPPY HALLOWEEN
    AEROBICS, 8-9 PM, Panzer
    SGA Meeting, 4 PM, S.C. 126
    La Campana Meeting, 3 PM, S.C. 111
A Calendar of Events

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FRIDAY</th>
<th>SATURDAY</th>
<th>SUNDAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 PM, Multi Purpose Hall, M, S.C. 402</td>
<td>Harry A. Sprague Library Hours: 10 AM - 4:30 PM</td>
<td>Harry A. Sprague Library Hours: 9 AM - 9 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>WMSC-FM 101.5, TOP 10, 6 PM, “Gary's Jam” 8 PM</td>
<td>SGA Office Hours: 9 AM - 2 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Conservation Club “Slumber Party” 8:30 PM, Further Info in office</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TOP 10, 6 PM, “Gary's Jam”, 8 PM</td>
<td>Live Broadcast</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Bob's House Party, 9 PM</td>
<td>Harry A. Sprague Library Hours, 9 AM - 9 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19 PM, Multi Purpose Hall, M, S.C. 402</td>
<td>Alliance of Jewish Student Organization Dance at YM YWHA of Metro N.Y. “Autumn Bash”, 8-12 PM</td>
<td>Harry A. Sprague Library Hours, 9 AM - 9 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>WMSC-FM 101.5, TOP 10, 6 PM, “Gary's Jam”, 8 PM</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Bob's House Party, 9 PM</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Conservation Club</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Pinelands Camping Trip &amp; Bikeathon</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>26</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>26 PM, Multi Purpose Hall, M, S.C. 402</td>
<td>HRO Weekend</td>
<td>HRO Weekend</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>For more info contact HRO Office</td>
<td>For more info contact HRO Office</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TENTATIVE: Halloween Party 8 PM - 1 AM, Location TBA</td>
<td>Tentative: Halloween Party 8 PM - 1 AM, Location TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FINAL DAY — Withdrawl w/out automatic “F”</td>
<td>October 2023</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>27</td>
<td>28</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>HRO Weekend</td>
<td>WMSC-FM 101.5, Football MSC-vs-TSC</td>
<td>HRO Weekend</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>President Walters INAUGURATION 2 PM Memorial Aud.</td>
<td>Rebroadcast MSC-vs-TSC Football Game WMSC-FM 101.5</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Attention

—FREE UP YOUR TIME FOR COURSES NEEDING MORE ATTENTION!! Typing done for your convenience.Call Cathy, 256-7493, after 5 p.m. Local.

—TEACHERS! Need to blast a banner in their possession, accidentally or on purpose, please return to its proper place in the Multi-Purpose Room. Thank you.

—Break Dance Shows, Lessons, demonstrations. Call "The Universal Breakers" 839-1632. Devoted to the art of breakin' & poppin'.

—General Meeting MSC RFing Team: Tuesday Sept. 25, 1984 from 8-9 p.m. 4th Floor, Student Center. Come out and join us every Tuesday night.

—Are you restless, bored with just studying or hanging out? Well, you too can get involved with the people who work hard and play hard at the conservation club, Room 402 Student Center.

—Professional typist will type term papers, manuscripts, etc. Spelling corrected at no additional charge. Call 438-9422 5 p.m.

—For Sale

—Moped, Sleek black Baretta Magnum, perfect condition. Only 200 miles. $300. Call 794-0789.

—Yamaha Classical Guitar. Rosewood back and sides and close grain spruce top. Good condition used by MSC music major. $100. Goes for $325 new. -Chevy 1978 Malibu Classic: 76,000 miles, p/s, p/b, am/fm cassette, chrome spoke wheels, good condition 93,000 miles; $2400 or best offer. 694-1528

Lost & Found

—Found: New Enthusiasm in the Quarterly! We're looking forward to a great year & we want to share it with new members. Drop by and meet us or drop off a submission. Dead—are Oct. 5.

—Lost: One girl's tan bike jacket. 2 pockets, padded shoulders, broken zipper-on 9/5. Please return by calling Helen at 838-6850.

—Lost: My virginity to a werewolf. Anybody who knows the whereabouts of this beast please contact Kate Smith in Bohn hall. By God she is America.

—Mr. Rogers-Can you say "SGA Bribe"?!

—Boy Eric: Can I see your wardrobe sometime? By the way did you loose a set of earrings this weekend?

—Kathy O.: A communal cup and we have herpes! Sexual urges don't start until you're 21 and I'm only 19. Oh No! Wendy.

—Mary Miele: Have a Ducky of a Day!

—Chris: You and champagne go quite well together. How about another sip? Simone (Part 2)

—Chris: When is part 2? Simone

—Al: I'm staging a coup. We still love you. "Captain, I have no wish to command... The needs of many outweigh those of a few."

—To Big Tommy T: "You Silly Wabbit."

—Desslok: How many dead Shima's does it take to screw in a light bulb?

The moon was up, the stars were out and—pfft!!—your rear tire was down. Good thing there was a phone nearby. And a few good friends who were willing to drive a dozen miles, on a Saturday night, to give you a lift. When you get back, you want to do more than just say "thanks." So tonight, let it be Löwenbräu.

Löwenbräu. Here's to good friends.
50 ways to outspend the Soviets and increase your budget

By Ellen Goodman

Two men came to the Senate last week to spill the beans about Air Force coffee pots.

The airmen who worked on spare parts at Travis Air Force Base, said that a 10-cup coffee maker for a plane had cost the Air Force $7,600. This did not include the stainless steel pot or, for that matter, the coffee.

The men brought another goodie with them to the Senate subcommittee: a flashlight the Air Force had bought for $180. They didn’t bring the aircraft armrest that cost $670 each, but said that it could be manufactured for between $5 and $25.

The coffee pot, the armrest and the flashlight will be added to the infamous $436 hammer and the $1,119 plastic stool-leg cap. The names of Robert Greenstreet and Thomas Jonsson will be added to the list of whistleblowers and national heroes.

But for one refusal to pin a medal on these two men, it’s just too easy to laugh at the military these days. It’s like picking on someone who is suffering from a problem he can’t control: forced feeding.

Today’s military budget is rather like a tube permanently placed in the throat of the armed services, into which they mercilessly pour money. The $7,600 coffee pot is merely its “foe gras.”

Remember what happened in 1981 when budget officers found out that the administration was going to ask for an increase of $32 billion? Nicholas Lemann reports in the October Atlantic, the first question facing the officers was: “What can we think of to spend all the money on.” A man working on readiness accounts said, “Carter had given us a lot. The Weinberger team came in and said, ‘Add More. Find room to add. Find places to put more money.’”

It was, as they say, a tough, dirty job, but somebody had to do it. The mandate according to Weinberger was to outspend the Soviets.

It was an article of faith among the Reaganites that the Soviets were outspending the United States. Indeed, it had to be an article of faith, since there simply is no way to estimate the Soviet budget, let alone compare it to our own.

The government says that in 1982 the Soviets spent $257 billion to our $196 billion. But of course, the Soviets don’t spend any dollars, they spend rubles. How do we compare these apples and oranges of two economic systems?

The CIA has devised some wonderful, fanciful ways of doing this. They count beans, and I don’t mean coffee beans. They count up each piece of equipment and each military personnel and then figure out what it would cost us in dollars to have what they have. This leads Weinberger into Wonderland. A Soviet private, for example, is paid in rubles worth about $100 a month, while an American private is paid $573 a month. But we calculate the Soviet privates at American wages.

When we give our men and women a raise, we give one to the Soviets. (They should be so lucky.)

That’s simple compared to what we do for equipment. We take a photo of a Soviet missile or plane. We then ask our own defense contractors to tell us what it would cost their companies to build the same missile or plane. We have no way of knowing whether these contractors will contract Soviet budget $670 for each armrest in the mythical Soviet plane. But when this whole bizarre process is over, we take the figures from Hughes Aircraft or whoever and charge those to the Soviet side of the ledger.

As Andrew Cockburn wrote in “The Threat”: “The bottom line is that no one has the faintest idea what the real costs of Soviet defense are and the tremendous efforts that go into finding a figure are solely for the purpose of helping drive up the U.S. defense. But have a little sympathy for the military. Faced with this bogus accounting system, and pressure from the administration, the poor beleaguered men still have to figure out some way to outspend the mythical Soviet military budget. If the Soviets were listed, for example, as spending $50 on their hammers (they are probably inefficient enough to do that without financial fandango) then the least we could do for the sake of our country is to spend $436 on our hammers.

Spending here, spending there, spending everywhere. It’s pretty tiring stuff. Frankly, after a long, hard day of spending, I think the officers in charge deserve a nice $7,600 cup of coffee without getting roasted for it.

Ellen Goodman is a syndicated Washington columnist.

Editorial

50 ways to outspend the Soviets and increase your budget

By Ellen Goodman

Two men came to the Senate last week to spill the beans about Air Force coffee pots.

The airmen who worked on spare parts at Travis Air Force Base, said that a 10-cup coffee maker for a plane had cost the Air Force $7,600. This did not include the stainless steel pot or, for that matter, the coffee.

The men brought another goodie with them to the Senate subcommittee: a flashlight the Air Force had bought for $180. They didn’t bring the aircraft armrest that cost $670 each, but said that it could be manufactured for between $5 and $25.

The coffee pot, the armrest and the flashlight will be added to the infamous $436 hammer and the $1,119 plastic stool-leg cap. The names of Robert Greenstreet and Thomas Jonsson will be added to the list of whistleblowers and national heroes.

But for one refusal to pin a medal on these two men, it’s just too easy to laugh at the military these days. It’s like picking on someone who is suffering from a problem he can’t control: forced feeding.

Today’s military budget is rather like a tube permanently placed in the throat of the armed services, into which they mercilessly pour money. The $7,600 coffee pot is merely its “foe gras.”

Remember what happened in 1981 when budget officers found out that the administration was going to ask for an increase of $32 billion? Nicholas Lemann reports in the October Atlantic, the first question facing the officers was: “What can we think of to spend all the money on.” A man working on readiness accounts said, “Carter had given us a lot. The Weinberger team came in and said, ‘Add More. Find room to add. Find places to put more money.’”

It was, as they say, a tough, dirty job, but somebody had to do it. The mandate according to Weinberger was to outspend the Soviets.

It was an article of faith among the Reaganites that the Soviets were outspending the United States. Indeed, it had to be an article of faith, since there simply is no way to estimate the Soviet budget, let alone compare it to our own.

The government says that in 1982 the Soviets spent $257 billion to our $196 billion. But of course, the Soviets don’t spend any dollars, they spend rubles. How do we compare these apples and oranges of two economic systems?

The CIA has devised some wonderful, fanciful ways of doing this. They count beans, and I don’t mean coffee beans. They count up each piece of equipment and each military personnel and then figure out what it would cost us in dollars to have what they have. This leads Weinberger into Wonderland. A Soviet private, for example, is paid in rubles worth about $100 a month, while an American private is paid $573 a month. But we calculate the Soviet privates at American wages.

When we give our men and women a raise, we give one to the Soviets. (They should be so lucky.)

That’s simple compared to what we do for equipment. We take a photo of a Soviet missile or plane. We then ask our own defense contractors to tell us what it would cost their companies to build the same missile or plane. We have no way of knowing whether these contractors will contract Soviet budget $670 for each armrest in the mythical Soviet plane. But when this whole bizarre process is over, we take the figures from Hughes Aircraft or whoever and charge those to the Soviet side of the ledger.

As Andrew Cockburn wrote in “The Threat”: “The bottom line is that no one has the faintest idea what the real costs of Soviet defense are and the tremendous efforts that go into finding a figure are solely for the purpose of helping drive up the U.S. defense. But have a little sympathy for the military. Faced with this bogus accounting system, and pressure from the administration, the poor beleaguered men still have to figure out some way to outspend the mythical Soviet military budget. If the Soviets were listed, for example, as spending $50 on their hammers (they are probably inefficient enough to do that without financial fandango) then the least we could do for the sake of our country is to spend $436 on our hammers.

Spending here, spending there, spending everywhere. It’s pretty tiring stuff. Frankly, after a long, hard day of spending, I think the officers in charge deserve a nice $7,600 cup of coffee without getting roasted for it.

Ellen Goodman is a syndicated Washington columnist.

Letters

Student-parents would like to see child care facilities at MSC

To the editor:

Did you realize that MSC is the only full-time state college in New Jersey that does not have child care facilities? A bit embarrassing, isn’t it? Are our students expected to forfeit education and careers because they are unable to obtain quality child care?

It is a reality that I have had to face and I am sure I am not alone. I have two children to juggle along with my studies and my position as a graduate assistant. I’m lucky, though.

My husband has agreed to postpone his pursuit of higher education in order to care for the children. Not everyone has this support. I believe child care facilities would enable more students to take advantage of the opportunities available here.

Child care on campus could also greatly affect faculty and staff. Mr. Lewis Goldstein, Assistant Director of Employer Relations in the New Jersey Department of Higher Education, came to MSC on Sept 12 for the Women’s Center to speak on the issue of child care.

Some of the advantages he listed for child care on campus were a lower rate of absenteeism, higher morale, and increased productivity. Imagine the impact this could have on both the faculty and staff of MSC and the resulting benefits for the students!

It is high time to meet the demands of today’s society and establish a child care facility on MSC’s campus. I will be looking for your support.

Susan B. Scalora
Graduate Assist. /Special Tutorial Program

Now we can detect a breast cancer smaller than this dot.

At such an early stage, your chances of living a long, healthy life are excellent. But we need your help. The only proven way to detect a cancer this small is with a mammogram. A mammogram is a low-radiation x-ray of the breast capable of detecting a cancer long before a lump can be felt. If you’re over 50, a mammogram is recommended every year. If you’re between 40 and 50, or have a family history of breast cancer, consult your doctor.

In addition, of course, continue your regular self-examinations.

American Cancer Society
By Thomas A. Grasso

When Diana Ross took the stage last Thursday night at Radio City Music Hall, the audience was immediately captured. Initially outfitted in a shimmering ball gown, Ross, upon seeing her pianist dressed in street clothes, shed the gown to reveal a pair of blue jeans and a red tank top. This opening number set the tone for the evening: informality with a touch of class.

Diana Ross is as elegant as a fairy princess, and at the same time, exudes the charm and appeal of a small child. Glamorous costume changes, a selection of hits culled from an outstanding total of 53 albums, and a beautiful voice elevated magnificently to create a show that literally left the audience standing, cheering and calling for more.

The evening glided along smoothly with heart and soul to match. Despite the two mentioned earlier, Ross chose a brilliant red-sequined evening dress, a sparkling silver-white pant set with a corset-like top, and a loose-fitting contemporary black dress, all of which she had a hand in designing. During what has become an anthem with Ross, “Reach Out And Touch Someone,” the audience eagerly raised clasped hands high in the air, swaying back and forth and singing along.

In what was a “subtle” poke at Manhattan politics, Ross came on stage before the backdrop of rain, representing the torrent that hit her Central Park concert last year. She may have been joking, but the audience appreciatively got the message when the entertainer stated loud and clear that there is money for the Central Park playground, if the politicians would only stop constantly changing things around.

Of course, part of the evening was dedicated to the promotion of her new LP, Swept Away. Ross felt equally comfortable performing four songs from this recent release; “Missing You” dedicated to late Marvin Gaye, the bouncing “Touch By Touch,” “All Of You” and the twice performed title cut. Dedicated to the late Marvin Gaye, the twice performed title cut.

In the course of the evening the legions of fans were treated to many memorable moments that make each Diana Ross concert a unique event. The show opened with a novel pre-recorded tape, in which the star’s three daughters introduced their mother amidst giggles. We were also treated to a video backdrop for the highly danceable “Swept Away,” in which our heroine assumes the role of a scorned lover, who is ultimately triumphant.

Other unforgettable events included five extraordinary costume changes. Besides the two mentioned earlier, Ross chose a brilliant red-sequined evening dress, a sparkling silver-white pant set with a corset-like top, and a loose-fitting contemporary black dress, all of which she had a hand in designing. During what has become an anthem with Ross, “Reach Out And Touch Someone,” the audience eagerly raised clasped hands high in the air, swaying back and forth and singing along.

In what was a “subtle” poke at Manhattan politics, Ross came on stage before the backdrop of rain, representing the torrent that hit her Central Park concert last year. She may have been joking, but the audience appreciatively got the message when the entertainer stated loud and clear that there is money for the Central Park playground, if the politicians would only stop constantly changing things around.

Of course, part of the evening was dedicated to the promotion of her new LP, Swept Away. Ross felt equally comfortable performing four songs from this recent release; “Missing You” dedicated to late Marvin Gaye, the bouncing “Touch By Touch,” “All Of You” and the twice performed title cut. Dedicated to the late Marvin Gaye, the twice performed title cut.

In the course of the evening the legions of fans were treated to many memorable moments that make each Diana Ross concert a unique event. The show opened with a novel pre-recorded tape, in which the star’s three daughters introduced their mother amidst giggles. We were also treated to a video backdrop for the highly danceable “Swept Away,” in which our heroine assumes the role of a scorned lover, who is ultimately triumphant.

Another outstanding performance by Diana Ross.

In the course of the evening the legions of fans were treated to many memorable moments that make each Diana Ross concert a unique event. The show opened with a novel pre-recorded tape, in which the star’s three daughters introduced their mother amidst giggles. We were also treated to a video backdrop for the highly danceable “Swept Away,” in which our heroine assumes the role of a scorned lover, who is ultimately triumphant.

Other unforgettable events included five extraordinary costume changes. Besides the two mentioned earlier, Ross chose a brilliant red-sequined evening dress, a sparkling silver-white pant set with a corset-like top, and a loose-fitting contemporary black dress, all of which she had a hand in designing. During what has become an anthem with Ross, “Reach Out And Touch Someone,” the audience eagerly raised clasped hands high in the air, swaying back and forth and singing along.

In what was a “subtle” poke at Manhattan politics, Ross came on stage before the backdrop of rain, representing the torrent that hit her Central Park concert last year. She may have been joking, but the audience appreciatively got the message when the entertainer stated loud and clear that there is money for the Central Park playground, if the politicians would only stop constantly changing things around.

Of course, part of the evening was dedicated to the promotion of her new LP, Swept Away. Ross felt equally comfortable performing four songs from this recent release; “Missing You” dedicated to late Marvin Gaye, the bouncing “Touch By Touch,” “All Of You” and the twice performed title cut. Dedicated to the late Marvin Gaye, the twice performed title cut.

In the course of the evening the legions of fans were treated to many memorable moments that make each Diana Ross concert a unique event. The show opened with a novel pre-recorded tape, in which the star’s three daughters introduced their mother amidst giggles. We were also treated to a video backdrop for the highly danceable “Swept Away,” in which our heroine assumes the role of a scorned lover, who is ultimately triumphant.

Other unforgettable events included five extraordinary costume changes. Besides the two mentioned earlier, Ross chose a brilliant red-sequined evening dress, a sparkling silver-white pant set with a corset-like top, and a loose-fitting contemporary black dress, all of which she had a hand in designing. During what has become an anthem with Ross, “Reach Out And Touch Someone,” the audience eagerly raised clasped hands high in the air, swaying back and forth and singing along.

In what was a “subtle” poke at Manhattan politics, Ross came on stage before the backdrop of rain, representing the torrent that hit her Central Park concert last year. She may have been joking, but the audience appreciatively got the message when the entertainer stated loud and clear that there is money for the Central Park playground, if the politicians would only stop constantly changing things around.

Of course, part of the evening was dedicated to the promotion of her new LP, Swept Away. Ross felt equally comfortable performing four songs from this recent release; “Missing You” dedicated to late Marvin Gaye, the bouncing “Touch By Touch,” “All Of You” and the twice performed title cut. Dedicated to the late Marvin Gaye, the twice performed title cut.

In the course of the evening the legions of fans were treated to many memorable moments that make each Diana Ross concert a unique event. The show opened with a novel pre-recorded tape, in which the star’s three daughters introduced their mother amidst giggles. We were also treated to a video backdrop for the highly danceable “Swept Away,” in which our heroine assumes the role of a scorned lover, who is ultimately triumphant.
MARS affords you the chance to turn back the pages of time

By Janet Hirsch

At the start of every school year, freshman enter college with the hopes of earning a degree which will eventually help them in the future. But college is also an opportunity for students to enjoy themselves and not just study all the time.

There are many organizations on the campus which appeal to the students' interests. Some of these clubs are more unusual than others, and offer the student a bit more than the typical fraternity or sorority. The Medieval and Renaissance Society (MARS) is such an organization.

This Class II organization of the SGA is open to all majors, and no previous knowledge of history is necessary. MARS is dedicated to the study and enjoyment of the Middle Ages and Renaissance. All aspects (including dance, music, theatre, food, costumes, art and warfare) are explored.

Trips to the Cloisters, the Metropolitan Museum of Art and various local Medieval and Renaissance festivals are an important part of the club's programming. There are also lectures on various topics pertaining to the period, which are given by teachers and students. Every semester the club holds a party where members come in costume to feast, drink and be merry. Food of the period is served, and there is music of the time to add to the atmosphere.

So whether you are a history buff, or just someone who is looking for something fun to do, the Medieval and Renaissance Society can offer a different outlet for your talents and interests.

MARS meets Fridays at noon on the fourth floor of the Student Center.

Jones and Cockburn bring individuality back to pop

By Mark Breitinger

In this enlightened age of new music and its increasingly global perspective, many critics would have us believe that the introspective singer/songwriter is a creature of the past. Most of the best-known practitioners of that genre—Jackson Browne, James Taylor, and Jon Mitchell, to name a few—have either stepped into the commercial mainstream or moved so far away from it as to be nearly inaccessible.

Still, the tradition is being kept alive, and its possibilities are nowhere more evident than on two excellent new releases: Rickie Lee Jones' The Magazine and Bruce Cockburn's Stealing Fire. Both records are deeply personal, eccentric, and subvert the current pop ethic by mining some of its richer elements.

Rickie Lee Jones, whose work has been erratic since her 1979 debut, has made her third full-length LP a kind of consolidation. Pulling together the many pop idioms that Jones has coined throughout her career, along with a jazzy swing and her trademark vocal technique, The Magazine is a step up in overall quality from last year's EP, Girl at Her Volcano. It's a beautiful pop record, overwrought with enigmatic wordplay, slyly instrumental flourishes, and state-of-the-art production.

Unfortunately, the record may be a disappointment to some long-time fans. Her 1981 LP, Pirates, led listeners to believe that Jones had a lot more to offer than the eccentric pop singer/songwriter to man. Against a haunting background of African chants and percussion, the voice— at least I've got to try/lf I had a launcher, I would retaliate.

What makes this statement so bracing is that it arises not from mere leftist politics (a la The Clash) but from one man's deeply felt convictions. Cockburn has stopped pleading for justice, having decided that the better course of action is to stand up and demand it: "I want to raise every —at least I've got to try/If I had a rocket launcher, some sonofabitch would die."

Rickie Lee Jones

Found on her debut, but The Magazine just does not make good that premise. Pirates was a gorgeous street opera, rendered in Cinemascope, each song intrinsically intertwined with those around it.

Those who, like me, still consider that album one of the pop highlights of the decade will find Jones' new work somewhat random. Some of the tracks here recall that wide-screen treatment, most notably the ethereal opener, "Gravity." At other times, as in the aptly-titled "Rorschachs" that close side two, the music and vocals drift aimlessly through street poetry, snatches of song, and broken rhythms — like enigmatic pictures in search of a context. Although The Magazine is ultimately a satisfying work, one hopes that Jones will recover her higher ambitions next time around.

Bruce Cockburn

that Jones will recover her higher ambitions next time around.

Bruce Cockburn, on the other hand, has been growing artistically ever since his American debut in 1979 with Dancing in the Dragon's Jaws. His new album, Stealing Fire, signals a return to the American marketplace with a new single, "Lovers in a Dangerous Time," and his first contract with a major U.S. label.

Although Cockburn is well-known in his homeland of Canada, he remains relatively obscure in the U.S. Hopefully, "Lovers" and its follow-up single, "If I Had a Rocket Launcher," will change that. Not only is Cockburn an incomparable songwriter, guitarist, and poet, but he has steadfastly retained a personal vision throughout his career, something almost unheard of in today's music world.

The record's centerpiece is "Rocket Launcher," in which Cockburn displays righteous anger at man's inhumanity to man. Against a haunting background of African chants and percussion, the singer calls out, "I don't believe in guarded borders and I don't believe in hate/I don't believe in generals or their striking torture states/If I had a rocket launcher, I would retaliate."

Progressive Student Network

Coast to Coast '84

Rewrite the Script: Dump Reagan and Reagainment in 1984 and Beyond

OCT. 5-7, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Speakers Workshops Networking

Unite the Student Movement in the 80's

PSN National Office 175 W. Ward St. NW, Washington, DC 20009 Tel: (202) 328-0722

SEMESTER IN SPAIN

Not just for Spanish majors only, but for everyone: beginners, "in between" students, and advanced. Put some excitement into your college career!

BEGINNER OR ADVANCED: Cost is about four hours a day, four days a week, four months. Earn 16 hrs. of credit (equivalent to 4 semesters taught in U.S. colleges over a two year time span). Your Spanish studies will be enhanced by opportunities not available in a U.S. classroom. Standardized tests show our students' language skills superior to students completing two year programs in U.S. Advanced courses also.

Hurry, it takes a lot of time to make all arrangements.

SPRING SEMESTER — Jan. 30 - May 29

FALL SEMESTER — Aug. 29 - Dec. 19

FULLY ACCREDITED — A Program of Trinity Christian College

For full information — send coupon to:

SEMESTER IN SPAIN

2442 E. Collier S.E. F-5

Grand Rapids, Michigan 49506

(A Program of Trinity Christian College)

The Montclarion/Thurs., Sept 27, 1984
Don’t let this

AN AMERICAN SALUTE with the Edward Villella Dancers
Edward Villella, host
Friday, October 26 at 8 PM

AN AMERICAN SALUTE is an evening of dance devoted entirely to the work of American choreographers and composers. The company of ten dancers will perform ballets by George Balanchine, Edward Villella and a New Jersey premiere of a work choreographed by Richard Tanner for Mr. Villella, commissioned by The Empire State Institute for the Performing Arts. Mr. Villella will host this special evening as well as appear in two of the works.

REBECCA KELLY DANCE COMPANY
Friday, November 16 at 8 PM

Since its founding in 1979, the Rebecca Kelly Dance Company has evolved a contemporary ballet-modern style that is theatrical and often humorous, rich with smooth, deft lines and impeccable rhythmic unity. The company of eight dancers brings a lively, lyric and fresh form of contemporary dance to our stage.

JENNIFER MULLER AND THE WORKS
Friday, January 25 at 8 PM

The WORKS has become one of the most sought after contemporary dance companies in the world. This vital and energetic company of nine dancers has been called “one of the best-looking companies around”, “a feast of dancing”, “a sleek original virtuosity”. A Muller concert is nothing if not controlled abandon.

THE JACOB’S COHEN THEATRE

ANIMATION
Saturday, October 27

Animation is the one art form that combines the technology of film and video with the sensibilities of painting, sculpture, and graphic design. This program will include the newest, most exciting, and innovative animation from artists and studios around the world, concentrating on the work from Europe. Selections will include films screened at this year’s major international film festivals and will range from humor and satire, to serious social themes, and experimental images. Do not equate animation with cartoons for animation is as limitless as the imagination itself.

HARRY, dance and other works by SENTA DRIVER
Friday, February 8 at 8 PM

A bold innovator, Senta Driver has been challenging existing dance premises since she began her company in 1975. She calls her company HARRY to invite audiences to expect the unexpected. The lifting in one of Driver’s dances may more often be done by the women than the men. Her dancers dance en point in bare feet; do pirouettes on their heads. There is a cleverness to her twists of physical movement that makes for an intensely personal signature.

THE JOYCE TRISLER DANSCOMPANY
Friday, April 19 at 8 PM

When the Joyce Trisler Danscompany made its debut in 1974, Anna Kisselgoff of The New York Times wrote that the performance “reaches the level of the magnificent.” Since then, dance connoisseurs in the United States and abroad have continually hailed Joyce Trisler’s works as “brilliant”, “astonishing”, and “glorious”.

THE BEST OF THE BRITISH – NEW FILMS FROM ENGLISH PRODUCERS.
Saturday, February 9

In England, high quality short and medium length film production abounds, supported by theatrical and television distribution for comedy, drama, and experimental work. This program will consist of live action and animated films showing the diversity of talent coming from Great Britain today. Films will be selected in consultation with the London Film Festival and the Cambridge Film Festival.
SEASON PASS you by!

THEATRE

ACTORS FROM THE ROYAL SHAKESPEARE COMPANY

Friday, February 15 at 8 PM
Saturday, February 16 at 8 PM

Actors from the large and distinguished Royal Shakespeare Company will appear at Montclair State College as part of their week long teaching and performing residency. They begin their public performances with an anthology program selected from either Pinter, Beckett or other contemporary playwrights. The second evening will feature a Shakespearean play. Their unique approach to Shakespeare is quite different than the usual one with full sets, costumes, and an individual actor for each role. Five actors play all the parts.

You don't want to miss this.

Actors from the Royal Shakespeare Company is a program from The Alliance for Creative Theatre, Education, and Research (ACTER), The University of California, Santa Barbara.

A SUNDAY EVENING CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES
WITH THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC ENSEMBLES
Sunday, October 21 at 7 PM
Sunday, November 11 at 7 PM
Sunday, April 14 at 7 PM
Sunday, May 12 at 7 PM

Four Sunday evenings of the best in chamber music with members of the most celebrated orchestra in the world, The New York Philharmonic. This is the first time the New York Philharmonic Ensembles have performed in New Jersey and you won't want to miss them.

EAST OF HOLLYWOOD—THE AMERICAN INDEPENDENT FILMMAKER,
Saturday, April 13

Working on often modest budgets, but filled with high standards and expectations, there is an entire generation of new filmmakers working outside of the big studio system. This program will feature films by directors of live action comedies and dramas, experimental film essays and animation. Many of the films are award winners at this year’s major domestic film festivals and all are memorable examples of filmmaking that challenges the viewers while being entertaining.

All events are held in Memorial Auditorium.

ASK ABOUT OUR CAMPUS ARTS PASS

FOR TICKET INFORMATION CALL 893-5112, or STOP BY THE OFFICE OF CULTURAL PROGRAMMING, A-129 LIFE HALL classified

Persons
— To the SGA V.P.: Your shirt is fine. It just saw a good thing and went for it! Thanks for being the Student Leader who did give the shirt off his back! You marvelous D.O.
— Wendy: Leave our food alone. We don’t want a lesson in food storage. But we would gladly offer one in communication.
— Frank: Happy Birthday to someone who is very special to me. Love, Terry.
— Paul: Hope to see you home soon. From someone who misses you very much.
— To the girl who never got a personal from the girl who never gave one.
— Hey Kappa XI: Save us some meatballs. The women of Sigma are here, and we’re hungry!!
— To Wendy & Bill: Glad we could share your special moment this weekend. Love, from all of us at Spears Eljabar.
— Mark: Hey Bud, what’s your problem? Dean Tom, heard you were a splash on the SGA weekend.
— To the Happy Couple: Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Normylv! From all of us at the SGA. You made our weekend special!
— Dr. Olenik... qing, qing, qing, qing...
— Has anyone seen my roommate?
— To the person who inquired about the Greek club: Call your SGA office. 893-4202. They can give you the information you need.
— Andy B: You make a great sacrifice—Next time we’ll remember the knife—Your favorite priestess of RA. P.S. Here comes the sun.
— Jon: Nude Beach Power! And Penny Power! Friday is D.K. in October—Orca. —lotta Sisters!! In case you missed us, meetings are every Wed. at 3 p.m. on the 4th floor of the Student Center. See ya, Nicole.
— To the SGA Executive Board: Thanks for a Great weekend. But can we have it at the Hilton next year? L.
— To the Stuck up SGA Secretary: You need a good lesson in food storage! Hey isn’t it time to tell everyone how you earned the name “Trash bag”—The one who never sweats.
— To the Cockiest Guy I know: Sunday night was great! I wish you had been there. P.S. You better start working if you want to keep that Campbell Soup title.
— To the “Shshshsh — Shut up” electrical Lady. Sometimes known as Little Miss Sunshine. Why do you always have those hands on your chest?
— Hooband: Two short months can eradicate a bad lifetime. How glad I am that you choose me. Maybe you can spank me at fishing. Wiff.
— Gus: Tomato Seeds are all right, but they’re hard on my skin. Anything else goes, especially my calves. Fuzz.

ABC Motion Pictures Presents IMPULSE
Starring TIM MATHESON MEG TILLY HUME CRONYN
Music by PAUL CHIHARA Written by BART DAVIS and DON CARLOS DUNAWAY
Produced by TIM ZINNEMANN Directed by GRAHAM BAKER

STARTS FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28th
AT A SPECIALY SELECTED THEATER NEAR YOU
How to procrastinate tastefully.

Pour yourself a cup of Irish Mocha Mint. Chocolatey, with a hint of mint, it's a delicious way to postpone the inevitable. And it's just one of seven inspired flavors from General Foods International Coffees.

Available at: Faculty Student Co-op, Inc.

General Foods International Coffees. AS MUCH A FEELING AS A FLAVOR.
- Entries for the memorial prizes in the Humanities Award. We are accepting prose, poems, and film essays. Submit to Prof. Becker. Mailbox Room 465 Partridge Hall. Deadline: Nov 9.
- New members for the English Club. Meetings are on Weds. 10:30-11:30 in Room 412 Partridge Hall.
- Anyone for Tennis? I'm an intermediate player looking for games at night or afternoon. Call Barry 797-8344.
- Earning big money. Train for a career in sales. Part-time trainees for appliance, TV, video stores. Immediate openings.
- Part-time, 4-6 hrs weekly. Must be reliable and flexible. Call 746-6386.
- Book Keeper. Experience necessary.
- Wanted: A person from Linden area to commute with. Call Jeanette 925-1006.
- Book Keeper. Experience necessary. Part time, 4-6 hrs weekly. Must be reliable and flexible. Call 746-6386.
- Cynda Williams. If not home, leave name, number and message.
- Unique Specialty food store (Montclair). Need a full-time employee. Experience not necessary as reliability, love of fine foods and concern for people. Respond to G.S. c/o The Montclarion.

---

WANTED

- Wanted: A person from Linden area to commute with. Call Jeanette 925-1006.
- Book Keeper. Experience necessary. Part time, 4-6 hrs weekly. Must be reliable and flexible. Call 746-6386.
- Cynda Williams. If not home, leave name, number and message. Unique Specialty food store (Montclair) seeks employee. Experience not necessary as reliability, love of fine foods and concern for people. Respond to G.S. c/o The Montclarion.

---

Life Insurance? Who Needs It?

Life Insurance is protection, when you're still in college. Premium rates are lower when you're young, and soon you start building cash values early for future opportunities. Prudential has a policy just for you. It can guarantee you the option to buy additional life insurance in the future regardless of your health or occupation. Prudential has a policy just for you. It can guarantee you the option to buy additional life insurance in the future regardless of your health or occupation.

- Talk to someone from the Rock about Prudential’s life insurance plans for students. Talk to Doreen Mullenbauer.
- 55 Madison Avenue
- Montclair, N.J. 07042
- 201-520-4311
- MBC CLASS OF 63

---

Women's Choice

- Reproductive Health Care Professionals
- Abortion
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free counseling
- Local or general anesthesia
- One Low Fee - Strictly Confidential

- Board certified gynecologists
- 489-2266
- 10 Zabriskie Street, Hackensack

---

crossword puzzler

Look for answers in next issue

Answers to last week's puzzler

ACROSS

1. Gratuities
2. Roman road
3. Courtly
4. Malice
5. Feeling
6. Note of scale
7. Brim
8. Clever
9. Newest
10. Diminutive
11. Beautiful
12. Commonplace
17. Beautiful
20. Fencing swords
21. Abound
23. Strokes
24. High card
30. Condensed
31. Proceed
32. Expire
33. Pronoun
34. Poem
36. Dinner course
38. Church bench
39. Metal fastener
41. River duck
43. Cant of thighs
45. Regions
46. Explores
50. Flexible
51. Part of stove
52. Tiny
54. Save
55. Strip of leather
56. Worthless leaving
57. Jump
3. Pole vault
4. Chess game
6. Nursery attendant
7. Part-time attendant
8. Part-time attendant
9. Part-time attendant
10. Part-time attendant
11. Part-time attendant
12. Part-time attendant
13. Part-time attendant
14. Part-time attendant
15. Part-time attendant
16. Part-time attendant
17. Part-time attendant
18. Part-time attendant
19. Part-time attendant
20. Part-time attendant
21. Part-time attendant
22. Part-time attendant
23. Part-time attendant
24. Part-time attendant
25. Part-time attendant
26. Part-time attendant
27. Part-time attendant
28. Part-time attendant
29. Part-time attendant
30. Part-time attendant
31. Part-time attendant
32. Part-time attendant
33. Part-time attendant
34. Part-time attendant
35. Part-time attendant
36. Part-time attendant
37. Part-time attendant
38. Part-time attendant
39. Part-time attendant
40. Part-time attendant
41. Part-time attendant
42. Part-time attendant
43. Part-time attendant
44. Part-time attendant
45. Part-time attendant
46. Part-time attendant
47. Part-time attendant
48. Part-time attendant
49. Part-time attendant
50. Part-time attendant
51. Part-time attendant
52. Part-time attendant
53. Part-time attendant
54. Part-time attendant
55. Part-time attendant
56. Part-time attendant
57. Part-time attendant

DOWN

2. Roman road
3. Courtly
4. Malice
5. Feeling
6. Note of scale
7. Brim
8. Clever
9. Newest
10. Diminutive
11. Beautiful
12. Commonplace
17. Beautiful
20. Fencing swords
21. Abound
23. Strokes
24. High card
30. Condensed
31. Proceed
32. Expire
33. Pronoun
34. Poem
36. Dinner course
38. Church bench
39. Metal fastener
41. River duck
43. Cant of thighs
45. Regions
46. Explores
50. Flexible
51. Part of stove
52. Tiny
54. Save
55. Strip of leather
56. Worthless leaving
57. Jump

---

Their 10 Year Old Daughter is Suing Them for Divorce

Starts Friday September 28
At A Flagship Theatre Near You!
The women's field hockey team lost a close match against Kings College Tuesday at home by a score of 2-1.

Rebuilding year for field hockey

cont. from backpage

The women's field hockey team lost a close match against Kings College Tuesday at home by a score of 2-1.

The women's field hockey team trounced Rutgers-Camden by a score of 9-0 Saturday. The Indians won their matches in straight sets over an outclassed Rutgers squad.

First singles Linda Watchman led the MSC onslaught by defeating her opponent 6-1, 6-0. Number two singles Pat Lassen also had a laugh, defeating the opposition, 6-2, 6-0.

"Get your kicks!"

Soccer statistician needed

The athletic department is in need of a soccer statistician. The student must qualify for the financial aid work-study program. No experience is necessary. If interested contact Mrs. Cooper at ext. 5234.

Men's cross country 2-1 after dual meet split

The men's cross country team upped its record to 2-1 after splitting a tri meet with Glassboro State College and New Jersey Institute of Technology at Garret Mountain.

Frank Caizzo's fourth-place finish helped the Indians crush NUI, 19-41. Caizzo had a time of 26:08 for the 10,000 meter (6.2 mile) course.

Pete Guthrie finished a strong seventh with a time of 26:55. Frank Liebel, Jim O'Hara and John Hogan rounded out the top five finishers for the Indians. The trio finished eleventh, twelfth and fourteenth respectively.

Women's field hockey team blanked by Trenton 5-0

Despite being blanked by Trenton State 5-0 Saturday, the Indians field hockey team was not without an outstanding performer. Freshman Kelly Brodman recorded 12 saves for MSC. The goalkeeper has done an admirable job for the Indians all season while replacing an injured Lisa Flynn.

Written by Tom Branna
Sports

Tennis team looks toward strong season

By Ben Smith

The women's tennis team, who finished with a 7-4 record last season and were fourth in their conference, look forward to another successful season. Despite the loss of Amber Smith, last year’s number three singles player, all things indicate a stronger season.

"More than in other years," explained Coach Linda Galate, "I think we have greater depth throughout our singles line-up. This, coupled with strong serve and volley on the part of Linda Watchman and Pat Lassen, should be formidable toward improving last year’s record."

The women's tennis team looks to improve last season's 7-3 record.

After their first meeting against Monmouth College was cancelled, the tennis team captured a decisive victory against Fairleigh Dickinson University. The women defeated FDU in all six singles matches and won two out of three doubles matches. The only loss came when Eileen McNeill and Audrey Kelly, playing together for the first time, were beaten by FDU's top two singles. Coach Galate said, "The girls played extremely well for their first time together against the best that FDU had to offer."

The team is led by Watchman, a transfer student from Rutgers. Lassen, freshman Kathy Limms. The doubles teams consist of Eileen McNeill and Audrey Kelly, Karen Canind and Kathy Limms, and Regina Feduniewez and Gabriele Binder. The team looks forward to their next match at Monmouth today.

Indians batter Rutgers 11-5

cont. from backpage

innings before giving way to middle reliever Tom Carey.

Meanwhile, Rutgers pitchers were falling behind MSC's batters. One player noted, "Whenever you fell behind, you're going to get hit. Even when Shaun fell behind, he got hit."

Mike Litterio was one Indian batter who capitalized on Rutgers pitching. He hit a solo home run to right field in the seventh to put MSC into double figures. Center fielder Tim Johnson was another who jumped all over the Knights' pitchers, going 4 for 4 with a walk and two stolen bases. The Indians' attack was spread throughout the lineup, perhaps the factor which makes this team the caliber it is. Only John Cowan (2 for 3) and Andy Wetter (2 for 4) drove in runs for MSC.

It was a solid win for the Indians, who seem to be battering opposing pitchers with relative ease. Coach Kevin Cooney commented on the team's offensive output, "We should hit well, but we hit some young pitchers today.

MSC splits twinbill with Monmouth

cont. from backpage

go. Due to this fact the Indians crushed any hope the opponent might have had for sweeping the double header. The hitting power of MSC exploded in the first when some of MSC's finest sluggers came to bat. Dave Staniszewsky blasted a homer to knock in one run and John Cowan brought in two when he ripped a triple and Nick Zichella doubled. The team looks toward their next match at Monmouth today.

by Ben Smith

PILOT PRECISE ROLLING BALL PENS.
NOW WE GIVE YOU A CHOICE.

FINE.
EXTRA FINE.

If you love fine writing, now you can choose between two Precise Rolling Ball pens that write so fine yet flow so smoothly you'll wonder how we made it possible.

And it's only The Precise that allows you to write so beautifully in either fine point or extra fine point. The price? It's even finer. Only $1.19 each.

PILOT PRECISE ROLLING BALL PENS.
2 OF THE FINER THINGS IN LIFE.

Budweiser
KING OF BEERS.

The Student Intramural & Leisure Council (SILC) would like to take this opportunity to welcome old, as well as new, participants to our Intramural Recreational Sports Program. SILC, in coordination with the Campus Recreation Dept., will attempt to provide a wide range of sports, special events, and activities for Men and Women on the competitive and non-competitive levels, and for those of a more competitive nature, look into SILC's Team Point Competition, where your team accumulates points through out the school year and the team with the most points at the end of the Spring Semester will be named the Intramural Champions and awarded as such.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Aerobics
Men's & Co-Ed Softball
Open Floor Hockey
Foul Shooting Tournament
Backgammon
Men's 1-on-1 Basketball Tournament

For information on dates, time, place, and when applications will be available, call Campus Recreation at 893-4418, The Fieldhouse at 893-7494 or stop by the SILC Office, Student Center, 4th Floor, Room 418.

this Bud's for you!
Indians crush Kean 43-3 in Pride Bowl

Football team is now 2-1 on season, face Ramapo at Sprague Field Saturday

By "The Jet"

The Indians maintained their pride in front of a crowd of over 10,000 fans last Saturday as they advanced their record to 2-1 when they beat Kean College in a 43-3 rout.

The game was played at Schools Stadium in Newark and all the proceeds of the game went to Project Pride, a program created to help youths in Newark. This was the sixth annual Pride Bowl.

After a 41-yard punt by MSC's Dan Dooley, the Indians capitalized on their next two possessions in the first quarter. Both drives were turned into scores, as Kean fumbled twice inside their own 20-yard line. Ray Moore recovered the first fumble which led to a Joe Perri 26-yard field goal and Tony Zuppa recovered the second which led to Pat Luzi scoring on a one-yard run with 3:35 left in the first. Perri scored the first of four extra points and his streak is still alive with 17 consecutive extra points.

"Our offense has gotten much better and we took advantage of opportunities that came our way," explained Rick Giancola.

The Indians struck early in the second quarter when Luzi scored his second touchdown from six yards out and the rout was on. Due to an intense offensive line led by Jim Renea, Ed Kostecki, Tony Sweet, and Bob Knudson, the Indians controlled "the pit" throughout the whole game.

After a Walter Briggs fumble Kean College had their first opportunity to put the ball in the endzone, but the Indians' defense foiled those plans. After eight plays, Kean's George Martin boomed a 41-yard field goal in the closing minutes of the half, making the score 17-3.

Giancola stuck with his game plan throughout the whole game and it paid off. "Our defense played very well and our offense really played up to their full potential in the second half," Giancola said.

Tony Zuppa, Dan Zakashefski, Tony Defade, Keith Tierney, and Moore were just a few of the defensive members that Giancola praised. Moore received the Most Valuable Player award for the Pride Bowl. He collected eight tackles, two fumble recoveries and a fumbled punt return which led to a touchdown.

Early in the third quarter Briggs connected with Van Johnson for the next MSC score from 36 yards out. Briggs capped off a seven-play, 77-yard drive with the pass play and Perri popped the extra point.

Briggs finished the day with 13 completions in 22 attempts for 146 yards. Sixty of those yards went to Bryan Scipio. He caught five passes which keyed two MSC scores.

Moore came back into the picture after returning a punt for 30 yards after Keith Tierney partially blocked it. "Our special teams are looking very good. They just need to be more consistent for us," asserted Giancola.

When MSC's offense took the field again after a Kean punt, Briggs led the team downfield reaching Ed Chavis for 19 yards out for the next score. With Perri's kick, MSC pulled to a 36-3 lead with 1:08 left in the third quarter.

For the last five minutes of the fourth quarter Giancola played some of the younger players such as quarterback Mark Lisa (two completions for 28 yards) and Lery Horn (three carries for 15 yards). They put in just as much effort as the first string did in the opening quarter.

When Victor Stanziale intercepted another Kean pass, Lisa surged the team 31 yards in three plays with Phil LaGreca getting the call to put the ball in from the eight yards out. Kean held onto the ball for the closing seconds of the game, watching the dreams of beating MSC tick away.

"We'll enjoy the victory for right now, but come Monday it is right back to work," Giancola commented after the game.

This week's opponent will be Ramapo, who is ranked second in the conference. The game will be played at Sprague Field and kickoff is at 8 p.m.

The Indians maintained their pride in front of a crowd of over 10,000 fans last Saturday as they advanced their record to 2-1 when they beat Kean College in a 43-3 rout.

"Our offense has gotten much better and we took advantage of opportunities that came our way," explained Rick Giancola.

"Our defense played very well and our offense really played up to their full potential in the second half," Giancola said.

Tony Zuppa, Dan Zakashefski, Tony Defade, Keith Tierney, and Moore were just a few of the defensive members that Giancola praised. Moore received the Most Valuable Player award for the Pride Bowl. He collected eight tackles, two fumble recoveries and a fumbled punt return which led to a touchdown.

Early in the third quarter Briggs connected with Van Johnson for the next MSC score from 36 yards out. Briggs capped off a seven-play, 77-yard drive with the pass play and Perri popped the extra point.

Briggs finished the day with 13 completions in 22 attempts for 146 yards. Sixty of those yards went to Bryan Scipio. He caught five passes which keyed two MSC scores.

Moore came back into the picture after returning a punt for 30 yards after Keith Tierney partially blocked it. "Our special teams are looking very good. They just need to be more consistent for us," asserted Giancola.

When MSC's offense took the field again after a Kean punt, Briggs led the team downfield reaching Ed Chavis for 19 yards out for the next score. With Perri's kick, MSC pulled to a 36-3 lead with 1:08 left in the third quarter.

For the last five minutes of the fourth quarter Giancola played some of the younger players such as quarterback Mark Lisa (two completions for 28 yards) and Lery Horn (three carries for 15 yards). They put in just as much effort as the first string did in the opening quarter.

When Victor Stanziale intercepted another Kean pass, Lisa surged the team 31 yards in three plays with Phil LaGreca getting the call to put the ball in from the eight yards out. Kean held onto the ball for the closing seconds of the game, watching the dreams of beating MSC tick away.

"We'll enjoy the victory for right now, but come Monday it is right back to work," Giancola commented after the game.

This week's opponent will be Ramapo, who is ranked second in the conference. The game will be played at Sprague Field and kickoff is at 8 p.m.
Women's field hockey team rebuilds

By Susan Resnick

Although the women's field hockey team is off to a slow start, Head Coach Sharon Goldbrenner feels "with a lot of hard work and effort the girls should have a successful season."

Despite being shutout in the first two games of the season by Hofstra and Drew, the team came to life in the third game of the season beating Bridgeport 3-0.

This year's team consists of a new coach and a number of new players. According to Goldbrenner, this year is going to be a rebuilding season. The girls are young and motivated and the coach's hope for the season is for the girls to learn to play with each other as well as communicate and get a feeling of cohesiveness. There's a lot of raw talent that needs to be developed.

Returning to the team this year are the tri-captains Kim "toast" Troast, Linda Grice and Dawn Morgenthien. Troast, a forward, scored two goals in the win against Bridgeport. She is a great leader who adds a lot of energy to the team. Grice, also a forward, is the workhorse of the squad. She covers a lot of ground in a short time. Morgenthien scored the third goal of the Bridgeport game.

Other players are Lisa Flynn, last season's top scorer, and Linda Grice and Dawn Morgenthien.

Girls field hockey team ties Rutgers 1-1; triumphs over Jersey City 4-1

By JoAnn Niemiec

Indian draw

The men's soccer team went into double overtime in their attempt to defeat Rutgers Camden on Sprague Field last Saturday afternoon. The game ended in a 1-1 tie.

MSC took the lead early in the game. At 3:25 in the first period, senior forward George Kyriacou, assisted by Junior forwards Alex Piczczek and John Ioannou, scored.

Rutgers tied the game up at 6:25 in the second period when Paul Wallowitch, assisted by Rich Alber, put the ball in the net.

It was a constant struggle throughout the rest of the second half and the score remained tied. The two teams went into two ten minute overtimes. The Indians, led by Kyriacou and Ioannou with two goals each, had a total of seven shots on goal.

Rutgers' defense held tight. MSC's Piczczek had an exciting shot on goal. However, it was picked up by Rutgers' sophomore goalkeeper Mike Fierstein.

MSC had a total of 27 shots on goal, of which 12 saves were made by Rutgers' goalie Pete Doford.

The Bucks, led by Kryiacou and Ioannou with two goals each, had a total of seven attempts on Rutgers' goal.

Rutgers' asset, Alber, contributed four of Rutgers' nine shots on goal in an attempt to score on the Indians' sophomore goalkepper Mike Fiersteen.

Women's field hockey team rebuilds

By Susan Resnick

Although the women's field hockey team is off to a slow start, Head Coach Sharon Goldbrenner feels "with a lot of hard work and effort the girls should have a successful season."

Despite being shutout in the first two games of the season by Hofstra and Drew, the team came to life in the third game of the season beating Bridgeport 3-0.

This year's team consists of a new coach and a number of new players. According to Goldbrenner, this year is going to be a rebuilding season. The girls are young and motivated and the coach's hope for the season is for the girls to learn to play with each other as well as communicate and get a feeling of cohesiveness. There's a lot of raw talent that needs to be developed.

Returning to the team this year are the tri-captains Kim "toast" Troast, Linda Grice and Dawn Morgenthien. Troast, a forward, scored two goals in the win against Bridgeport. She is a great leader who adds a lot of energy to the team. Grice, also a forward, is the workhorse of the squad. She covers a lot of ground in a short time. Morgenthien scored the third goal of the Bridgeport game.

Other players are Lisa Flynn, last season's top scorer, and Linda Grice and Dawn Morgenthien.