Board backs high tech bond at monthly meeting

By Eileen Oleksiak

Last week, the board of trustees unanimously supported a state bond issue which would provide $90 million for technological advances in business and higher education.

Dr. Graydon Tunstall, director of development and external relations, distributed a fact sheet on the issue at this month’s board meeting which indicated that the state colleges’ share of the proposed funds would total $11 million.

“...This money would help update equipment in the college’s lab departments which are woefully behind the times. Our list of needs is quite extensive,” he said.

Although Tunstall urges the entire campus to support the issue which will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot, he says in his memo to the board “it is important to be aware of several serious questions about it. Of particular interest to the taxpayer is why it is proposed as a bond issue when there is a surplus of funds already in the treasury.”

In other business, Dr. Kathleen Wilkins, faculty representative to the board, gave an update on last month’s board meeting which indicated that the state colleges’ share of the proposed funds would total $11 million.

“...This money would help update equipment in the college’s lab departments which are woefully behind the times. Our list of needs is quite extensive,” he said.

Although Tunstall urges the entire campus to support the issue which will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot, he says in his memo to the board “it is important to be aware of several serious questions about it. Of particular interest to the taxpayer is why it is proposed as a bond issue when there is a surplus of funds already in the treasury.”

In other business, Dr. Kathleen Wilkins, faculty representative to the board, gave an update on last month’s faculty senate meeting. She said the senate is working on a new initiative to solve the problems of part-time and evening graduate students. Wilkins said these problems include an unavailability of services and inadequate academic counseling.

In addition, Wilkins noted that the administration is working on the development of an honors program for exceptionally gifted students. “Some students drop out or transfer because they don’t find the curriculum here challenging enough. This new program will help the offerings at MSC attract a higher caliber student,” she said.

On the issue of fiscal autonomy, Wilkins said that while the faculty is in favor of a proposal that would grant the state colleges more fiscal freedom, there is general concern that individual institutions would lose control over curriculum development.

In addition, she said the faculty is worried about a component of the proposal which would require a reduction in the duplication of course offerings at northern New Jersey state colleges. Another concern is a clause about a centralized admissions policy which might allow a college governing board to determine who could be admitted to each college.

Dr. Catherine Becker, president of MSC’s local teachers’ union, said a centralized admissions policy would “limit opportunities to working and middle class individuals who state colleges have traditionally served.”

Responding to these concerns, MSC President Donald Walters said, “They are a threat but we’re smart enough not to let them materialize. The membership on the board will be us and it is highly unlikely that we would turn on ourselves.”

In other news, Walters distributed a summary of MSC’s 1986 fiscal year budget. The college will receive $1,447,000 for special projects, including the enhancement of MSC’s library collection and internal and external improvements of campus buildings.

“We should recognize with some appreciation the support the chancellor has given us in this area,” Walters said.

Finally, Donna Meade, alumni representative to the board, said the Alumni Association is offering a program entitled “Saturday Seminars” for MSC graduates. This is a series of refreshers courses designed to bring alumni back to the school. The first will be a seminar in French to be conducted by Dr. Robert Glick of the French department. It will take place beginning 9:30 a.m. on Oct. 13 at the Alumni House, and the fee for participating is $15. For further information, call 893-4141.

Sprague expands computer search system

By Kathy Mulligan

Sprague Library recently expanded its computerized reference system, incorporating the Dialog Information Service.

Added in July 1984, the service is a computer-based information retrieval system which searches indexes and abstracts. It then outputs this information in readable form. By utilizing a computer terminal, a researcher may obtain information from a variety of data bases, encompassing many subject areas. This service is available to all MSC students, faculty, and staff at no cost.

According to Dorothy Fleshman, reference librarian and coordinator for the on-line search, the previous service was deficient because students were being assigned more papers due to new General Education requirements.

The new system has many advantages. It benefits students to a greater degree because it offers access to approximately 200 data bases, providing information on such topics as medicine, business, financial systems, reference, education, social sciences and humanities, law and government, and current affairs. Many more specific data bases are also available. Data bases are updated earlier and more frequently than printed indexes, so the information is always current. An on-line search also saves time because weekly, monthly, and annual indexes are searched simultaneously. Citations are provided within minutes. Information is provided without having to search through material unrelated to the specific subject. Searches can be made by author, title, or subject, and by key words designated in each data base thesaurus. The result of a computer search is a clear, itemized list of bibliographic citations or particular facts tailored to the specific topic.

Before a student arranges for a computer search, Fleshman recommends that a preliminary search be done on the subject; the computer serves as a supplementary search system only. Preliminary research also allows a student to weed out information not pertinent to a particular subject.

To arrange for a computer search, a student must obtain search forms at the reference or information desks on the library’s main floor. These forms must be completed so that the librarian can determine whether a topic is best researched by using the computer or the printed indexes. If the computer is to be used, an appointment will be arranged with a reference librarian who will help get the desired information.
CLASS I CONCERTS
presents...

A FLOCK OF SEAGULLS

WITH SPECIAL GUESTS

MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 8 PM
MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Tickets go on sale:

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 9:00 AM
at the Student Center Info Desk
(2nd Floor)

$8.00 W/ID
$9.50 W/OUT

FOR MORE INFO CALL: 893-4478; 893-4429
CLASS I CONCERTS IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Arts seminar draws local high school students

By Jim Benson
Six hundred students from 32 New Jersey high schools attended the first "Conversation in the Arts" seminar, held at MSC last week. The program was sponsored by the college's speech and theater department.

According to Dr. Gerald Ratliff, head of the department, the purpose of the day was to recruit students for the performing arts departments at MSC. The program consisted of a series of workshops and seminars which included mime, improvisational acting, and professional auditioning. Doris Bianchi, professor in the speech and theater department, conducted an improvisational workshop and told students "to see it with your mind's eye" when performing improvisational works. "For an artist to create, imagination is necessary, he has to be able to hear, see and feel the environment around you if you want to reproduce it accurately and not exaggerate it," she said.

According to Bianchi, "Overall the program was very successful. There was a lot of good spirit and energy and some of the students were very, very good."

Sandra Giordano, a senior at Redbank Regional School for the Performing Arts, said, "I've enjoyed the day, especially the playwriting seminar. We put together a play just by sitting around discussing and writing ideas on the blackboard. It was fun and it worked in a short 40 minutes."

Michael Mooney, a senior English major at MSC, said, "It was interesting and well-organized, but some of the workshops could have been on a higher level."

Ratliff said he never expected 600 students to attend when his department first began planning for the day. He said some of the groups were too big to be effective, but he was pleased with the conference overall.

He said "Conversation in the Arts" will be held twice next semester, once at MSC for northern New Jersey high schools and again at Red Bank Regional for central and southern New Jersey schools. The seminar that took place at MSC last week will be televised Oct. 15 on MSC-TV.

Conservation school offers diverse outdoor education

By Ben Smith
Although many students might be unaware, MSC operates the largest collegiate environmental agency in the world. Known as the New Jersey School of Conservation (NJSC), this agency is located on a 240-acre tract of land surrounded by 30,000 acres of forest. It comprises Stokes State Forest and High Point State Park, N.J. and attracts over 11,000 students each year — ranging from third graders to doctoral candidates.

Dr. John J. Kirk, professor of environmental studies at MSC, is director of the world-famous school. Kirk is an internationally recognized authority in the field of environmental education and president of the American Nature Study Society. According to Kirk, "The purpose of the school is to develop environmental awareness through participation."

At NJSC, students may avail themselves of a variety of outdoor activities such as canoeing, mountain climbing, survival, ice fishing, orienteering, and cross-country skiing. Among the many environmental courses offered are field biology, forestry, water ecology and geology.

In addition to science and outdoor activities, the school also offers such classes as American heritage skills, which concentrate on the home style of the American colonies from the 1660s to the 1800s. Skills taught include spinning, weaving, candle dipping and blacksmithing.

Last month, NJSC held a weekend workshop incorporating all of the above activities. Entitled "Utilizing the Environment," the course allowed MSC student participants to earn one credit while learning about the environment. Similar workshops will be offered for credit in the winter and spring semesters.

Bora Simmons, coordinator of the school's programs and assistant professor of environmental studies at MSC, said that while the program "gives a wide variety of experiences in the outdoors, it doesn't focus on only one area. By integrating programs in the humanities, social studies, natural sciences and outdoor pursuits, the program gives a fuller view of environmental education."

According to Kirk, "Environmental education is one of the most urgent prospects to consider adding to a school's curriculum." Because many environmental hazards threaten our society, "we must learn how to cope with these problems in our pursuit of life on this planet," Kirk said.

Riding Club secures grant following hour-long debate

By Allyson Hoyt
After an hour debate, the SGA appropriated $1,450 to the Riding Club to sponsor a riding event for the Inter-collegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA) at Gateway National Recreation Area.

The debate centered around the amount of refund the SGA would receive. The original agreement stated the SGA would be given one-third of the profits made from participant entrance fees.

The Riding Club expected to raise only an additional $100 to $200. During the meeting Pam Gorski, club treasurer, was notified that Bob Cashione, president of the IHSA, would attend the show if it were held and she said his appearance might generate more profits.

Jim Danatos, chairman of appropriations, said if the club was going to make additional profits, the SGA should be fully reimbursed because it currently has a tight budget. He offered an amendment which would allow the club to pay only one-third of its profits unless they made over $700, in which case the SGA would be refunded dollar for dollar. The amendment was rejected.

The Riding Club charges $10 for entrants in the show. The SGA constitution amendment for a Class II organization states that money will only be appropriated to an organization if there is no other alternative source of funding. Danatos said the $10 fee was a source.

Gorski said the profit from the show would not be much. The club would only use the additional money to pay its own entrance fees for shows held in the spring. "Most of the time riders have to dig into their own pockets to pay the $10 fee. We'd like to give the SGA a chance to take back the profits and pay the SGA a dime," Gorski told his fellow club members.

The debate centered around the SGA's request that other organizations ask for money for trips and don't pay the SGA a dime. The debate ended with agreement that if the SGA would give a grant, the SGA would get one-third of the profits.

In other news, Raymond Stover, director of housing, spoke on the modifications in the new campus alcohol policy. Since the banning of alcohol in the Residence Life Halls this semester, vandalism and violence have taken a dramatic decline across campus, Stover said.

He added that because of the ban, many students migrate to Clove Road, where alcohol is allowed. Numerous complaints have been registered by Clove residents for this reason. Many students mill around in front of the apartments making noise and leaving beer bottles on the lawn.

Stover said the administration has ideas on how to stop this littering. New lights are going to be installed near Clove, which, when lit, will signify that students should leave. If there is no response, Stover will deliver the message in person.

The Board of Trustees met with Donald Walter, MSC president, to discuss the recent supplementary budget from the state. The college received $781,000. Walters said the money will be used to keep the library books up to date, improve academic and scientific equipment and install additional security lighting and alarms.
HAWAII

JAN 14-21, 1985 WINTER BREAK

WAIKIKI

TRIP INCLUDES:
* Round Trip Air
* Round Trip Transfers
* Hotel Accommodations
* Porterage & Maid Gratuities
* U.S. Departure Tax & all other related taxes
* Scholastic & Local Rep to assist in Hawaii
* Welcome Service & Flower Lei Greeting

$549

CONTACT EVE in CLUB Office — S.C. Annex Rm. 121
CALL: 893-5232 & Stop by!
$75 Deposit Due Nov. 7

CLUB is a Class I Organization of the SGA

Tear & Mail To: COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD, MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE
UPPER MONTCLAIR, N.J. 07043 or
Scholastic Tours Inc. 14 First Ave, Bloomfield, New Jersey 07003 743-5200-01
Enclosed is my non-refundable deposit of $75.00 for HAWAII trip in January

NAME...........................................................................................................
ADDRESS........................................................................................................
CITY..........................................................STATE............................ZIP..................................PHONE

JANUARY — 14-21
Lecture outlines effects of Chinese cultural revolution

By Laura R. Cohen

Co-authors of a book on China's cultural revolution, a husband and wife team attracted a capacity crowd here last week as they shared their personal experiences of life in that country.

Sponsored by the East Asian Studies Program, the school of Humanities and Social Sciences in cooperation with Phi-Alpa-Theta, the main topic of the presentation was a discussion of Liang Heng and Judith Shapiro's work entitled Son of the Revolution.

Heng, born in Changsha in 1954, met Shapiro in the 1970's while she was temporarily residing in China. Due to anti-Western propaganda, the couple was forced to keep their relationship hidden. They married in 1980 after a long secret romance and soon began collaborating on their book.

Giving an historical perspective on his experiences, Heng explained that from the campaign against "rightists" from 1957-58, through the ten-year long "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution," the life of every Chinese citizen had been changed and touched in unimaginable ways.

During this tragic period, children carried machine guns as they walked down the streets. Heng said he became so confused about the reasons and purposes of the revolution that he contemplated suicide.

Heng was taught that if an individual spoke on behalf of his own mother; if he spoke on her behalf he would be criticized and hated, and therefore Heng deliberately avoided her.

After the downfall in 1976 of Chair­man Mao's widow and other members of the "Gang of Four," successors encouraged an outpouring of stories of the personal tragedies that resulted from abuse of power and arbitrary rule.

Commenting on the lecture, Peter Brancatio, senior political science major, said, "Heng personified the events of the Cultural Revolution, and listening to him solidified the Chinese experience for me. I feel that most Westerners only know about this country through books, but this lecture provided an opportunity to know it experientially."

At the present moment, Heng is a doctoral candidate in the department of East Asian languages and cultures at Columbia University. In 1981, he graduated from Hunan Teachers' College with a bachelor of arts degree in Chinese Language and literature.

Shapiro is now writing and working as an interpreter for the United States State Department. Before going to China, she had studied at Princeton University, and received a masters degree in comparative literature from the University of Illinois and a second masters in comparative literature from the University of California at Berkeley.

By Tom Boud

Succeeding in the news field today means overemphasizing the sensational, according to television newscaster John O'Shea.

Speaking to a group at MSC last week in a lecture sponsored by the Author's/Writer's Network, the Channel 3 newscaster said, "There is much pressure to stay alive in this profession. For this reason, many journalists place the responsibility of attracting an audience before considering the ethical facets of a story."

O'Shea said there is heavy emphasis placed on money, war, and the permutations of love. "All these vices are the apple of the public's eye. They love the sensationalistic excitement that is evoked by these vices." He also said that news must appeal to the taste of the public so that the newspaper or newscaster can achieve popularity.

For this reason, many journalists place sensational stories will attract audience

By Laura R. Cohen

Co-authors of a book on China's cultural revolution, a husband and wife team attracted a capacity crowd here last week as they shared their personal experiences of life in that country.

Sponsored by the East Asian Studies Program, the school of Humanities and Social Sciences in cooperation with Phi-Alpa-Theta, the main topic of the presentation was a discussion of Liang Heng and Judith Shapiro's work entitled Son of the Revolution.

Heng, born in Changsha in 1954, met Shapiro in the 1970's while she was temporarily residing in China. Due to anti-Western propaganda, the couple was forced to keep their relationship hidden. They married in 1980 after a long secret romance and soon began collaborating on their book.

Giving an historical perspective on his experiences, Heng explained that from the campaign against "rightists" from 1957-58, through the ten-year long "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution," the life of every Chinese citizen had been changed and touched in unimaginable ways.

During this tragic period, children carried machine guns as they walked down the streets. Heng said he became so confused about the reasons and purposes of the revolution that he contemplated suicide.

Heng was taught that if an individual spoke on behalf of his own mother; if he spoke on her behalf he would be criticized and hated, and therefore Heng deliberately avoided her.

After the downfall in 1976 of Chairman Mao's widow and other members of the "Gang of Four," successors encouraged an outpouring of stories of the personal tragedies that resulted from abuse of power and arbitrary rule.

Commenting on the lecture, Peter Brancatio, senior political science major, said, "Heng personified the events of the Cultural Revolution, and listening to him solidified the Chinese experience for me. I feel that most Westerners only know about this country through books, but this lecture provided an opportunity to know it experientially."

At the present moment, Heng is a doctoral candidate in the department of East Asian languages and cultures at Columbia University. In 1981, he graduated from Hunan Teachers' College with a bachelor of arts degree in Chinese Language and literature.

Shapiro is now writing and working as an interpreter for the United States State Department. Before going to China, she had studied at Princeton University, and received a masters degree in comparative literature from the University of Illinois and a second masters in comparative literature from the University of California at Berkeley.

By Tom Boud

Succeeding in the news field today means overemphasizing the sensational, according to television newscaster John O'Shea.

Speaking to a group at MSC last week in a lecture sponsored by the Author's/Writer's Network, the Channel 3 newscaster said, "There is much pressure to stay alive in this profession. For this reason, many journalists place the responsibility of attracting an audience before considering the ethical facets of a story."

O'Shea said there is heavy emphasis placed on money, war, and the permutations of love. "All these vices are the apple of the public's eye. They love the sensationalistic excitement that is evoked by these vices." He also said that news must appeal to the taste of the public so that the newspaper or newscaster can achieve popularity.

For this reason, many journalists place sensational stories will attract audience

By Laura R. Cohen

Co-authors of a book on China's cultural revolution, a husband and wife team attracted a capacity crowd here last week as they shared their personal experiences of life in that country.

Sponsored by the East Asian Studies Program, the school of Humanities and Social Sciences in cooperation with Phi-Alpa-Theta, the main topic of the presentation was a discussion of Liang Heng and Judith Shapiro's work entitled Son of the Revolution.

Heng, born in Changsha in 1954, met Shapiro in the 1970's while she was temporarily residing in China. Due to anti-Western propaganda, the couple was forced to keep their relationship hidden. They married in 1980 after a long secret romance and soon began collaborating on their book.

Giving an historical perspective on his experiences, Heng explained that from the campaign against "rightists" from 1957-58, through the ten-year long "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution," the life of every Chinese citizen had been changed and touched in unimaginable ways.

During this tragic period, children carried machine guns as they walked down the streets. Heng said he became so confused about the reasons and purposes of the revolution that he contemplated suicide.

Heng was taught that if an individual spoke on behalf of his own mother; if he spoke on her behalf he would be criticized and hated, and therefore Heng deliberately avoided her.

After the downfall in 1976 of Chairman Mao's widow and other members of the "Gang of Four," successors encouraged an outpouring of stories of the personal tragedies that resulted from abuse of power and arbitrary rule.

Commenting on the lecture, Peter Brancatio, senior political science major, said, "Heng personified the events of the Cultural Revolution, and listening to him solidified the Chinese experience for me. I feel that most Westerners only know about this country through books, but this lecture provided an opportunity to know it experientially."

At the present moment, Heng is a doctoral candidate in the department of East Asian languages and cultures at Columbia University. In 1981, he graduated from Hunan Teachers' College with a bachelor of arts degree in Chinese Language and literature.

Shapiro is now writing and working as an interpreter for the United States State Department. Before going to China, she had studied at Princeton University, and received a masters degree in comparative literature from the University of Illinois and a second masters in comparative literature from the University of California at Berkeley.

By Tom Boud

Succeeding in the news field today means overemphasizing the sensational, according to television newscaster John O'Shea.

Speaking to a group at MSC last week in a lecture sponsored by the Author's/Writer's Network, the Channel 3 newscaster said, "There is much pressure to stay alive in this profession. For this reason, many journalists place the responsibility of attracting an audience before considering the ethical facets of a story."

O'Shea said there is heavy emphasis placed on money, war, and the permutations of love. "All these vices are the apple of the public's eye. They love the sensationalistic excitement that is evoked by these vices." He also said that news must appeal to the taste of the public so that the newspaper or newscaster can achieve popularity.

For this reason, many journalists place sensational stories will attract audience
COME JOIN US!!

COUNCIL ON INTERNATIONAL AND NATIONAL AFFAIRS

For A Weekend In

TORONTO AND

NIAGARA FALLS

NOV. 8 (11:30 PM) 9, 10 & 11

INCLUDES:

* Round Trip Transportation
* 2 NIGHTS STAY IN A 4 STAR HOTEL
* 2 Full American Breakfasts
* 3 Hour Guided Tour of Toronto
* Elevator Ride behind Niagara Falls

ONLY $109 (For MSC Students)
$125 for Non-Students

Sign Ups: Oct. 16 & 17 (10am-8pm) Student Center Lobby
$50 Deposit Required

FOR MORE INFO:
CALL CINA
893-5245

CINA IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Employers searching for December graduates

By Eileen Bruck

What do Xerox, Amerada Hess, GPU, NCR, U.S. Lines, and New Jersey Manufacturers Insurance Company have in common? Beginning on Nov. 1 and almost every day thereafter through mid-December, these and other employers will send representatives to the MSC campus to interview January graduates for entry-level positions. This process is called recruitment.

Recruitment activities are a direct reflection of current job trends. Because of an upswing in the economy, many organizations will come to MSC this fall. Representatives will interview graduating seniors for such job titles as programmer, sales representative, financial analyst, assistant buyer, staff auditor, management trainee, and customer service representative. Some of these employers seek a specific major, but others just look for capable students with no significant major, only a keen interest in their industry or job title.

Employers representing social service agencies, publishing, and public relations, as well as those dealing with the environment, museums, fine arts, and music rarely recruit on campuses anywhere. The reason is that these organizations don't usually hire a number of people at the same time for training classes, but rather recruit individuals as jobs open up.

In addition, these employers most often use employee referral and pools of candidates from resumes mailed directly to them. Moreover, recruitment is expensive for employers and generally only large organizations have budgets for such activities.

You are eligible for recruitment if you are a currently enrolled MSC student completing your degree in December and available for employment after graduation. Those interested must be registered with the Career Services office and should follow the procedure for on-campus interviews. The dates of November interviews and information about the requirements of recruiters are currently available in the Career Services office.

Because these interviews start in November, seniors should complete the required forms and provide the office with copies of their resume as soon as possible. A new seminar entitled “For Seniors Only” will familiarize seniors with the recruitment process as well as tell about Career Services’ computerized job matching system. As is the case in all interview situations, preparation is important. To help seniors prepare for these interviews, Career Services offers a series of interviewing and resume-writing seminars. It is strongly urged that students attend these seminars prior to signing up for interviews. Students should also study all information that is available about the employer, and should know why they are being interviewed, by whom, and for what purpose.

The on-campus recruitment program is one method available for seniors to conduct an effective job search. Information on other job search resources and strategies will be featured in future columns and is currently available in the Career Services office.

Eileen Bruck is director of Career Services.

First auto theft of the semester reported

By Mary Ellen Maclsaac

Campus police reported the first car theft of the semester this week.

CAMPUS POLICE REPORT

On Tues., Oct. 2, sometime between noon and 2 p.m., a '71 Chevy was stolen from Lot 25. The car, valued at $3,550, was recovered in Clifton on Oct. 9. The cost of damage done to the car is unknown.

On Wed., Oct. 3, vandals cut through the convertible top of a '74 MG parked in Lot 8 and stole a radio and speakers valued at $750.

Sometime between 11:45 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. on Thurs., Oct. 4, four wheel rims were taken from a '77 Chevy Vega in Lot 28. Campus police said the rims were valued at $100.

The '83 Ford Escort from which tires and rims were stolen on Sept. 26 in Lot 23 was subject to more vandalism last week. On Sat., Oct. 6, at 11:18 p.m. the car was turned upside down, allowing gasoline to leak out. Campus police notified the owner that the car should be towed to prevent further damage.

Sometime between Wed., Oct. 3 and Thurs., Oct. 4, an attempt was made to break into four offices in Moorhead Hall. Although there were pry marks on the doors, no entry was made.

Early Fri., Oct. 5, an unidentified person removed the hinge from a liquor cabinet in the Student Center dining room and stole two cans of beer. Campus police have no suspects in this incident.

At 1:13 a.m. on Sun., Oct. 7, a female caller said there was a bomb on the second floor of Blanton Hall. For one hour, residents stood outside the building while it was searched. No bomb was found.

Also on Sunday, a complaint was made at 2:10 p.m. that six nude persons were roaming around the amphitheater. Campus police discovered that they were male and female models, posing for a class as pictures were being taken. The class was asked to move to a more secluded area to prevent any further complaints.
BLOOD DRIVE
SPONSORED BY APO

WHEN: OCT. 17TH
NOV. 9TH
WHERE: S.C. Ballrooms
TIME: 9AM - 4PM

WE ARE OFFERING A $25 PRIZE TO THE ORGANIZATION THAT BRINGS IN THE MOST DONORS FOR BOTH DRIVES

APO IS A CLASS 1 ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA

UNITED PARCEL SERVICE
PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT
Loading and Unloading Packages
YEAR ROUND
5 DAYS A WEEK - NO WEEKENDS
(8 TO 5 HOURS DAILY)

APPROXIMATE TIMES:
5:00 PM; 11:00 PM; 4:00 AM
DAY SHIFT: 11:00 AM - 4:00 PM

LOCATION
799 Jefferson Rd. Parsippany, N.J.

PERSONNEL REPS WILL BE INTERVIEWING
OCTOBER 17th 10:00-2:00 PM
ROOM 104, CAREER SERVICES
RATE: $8.00 Per Hour
PLUS Benefits

An Equal Opportunity Employer MALE/FEMALE
ATTENTION NIGHT STUDENTS—DAY SHIFT: 11am-4pm
Hey Dorma! Remember what day this is?

No! No! It's Co-op Awareness Day. The day we can get advice about that competitive edge.

Yay Lucy, but those cute guys we met last week said we'd connect today.

Connect nothing! The free advice we get at that bar is just free. The free advice we'll get at Co-op Day will really connect us with a great future.

But we promised we'd meet them.

Dorma, don't look now, but speaking of connecting...

Well Dorma, looks like there's something more here than those tired jokes at the bar.

And I'm not even talking about the free tee shirt!

Well I like those tired jokes...

But I sure could use some good advice not to mention a new tee shirt!

Some of our Co-op people still going to this college.

...there goes our connection, and he's heading to the Student Center.

Look Lucy, he zipped up to 4th where that Co-op thing is set up!

And now let me present...

Wow! Does she look together! And he's a hunk!

Hey, we're going to this college.

CO-OP ED - THE COMPETITIVE EDGE

MSC and Rutgers-Newark
JEWISH STUDENT UNION
sponsors a

SUKKOT CELEBRATION
TUESDAY Oct. 16
8:00 PM
$2.00
STUDENT CENTER ANNEX 126

Join us for a night of D.J. & Dancing and Munchies. A GREAT way to meet Students from MSC and Rutgers-Newark

JSU is a Class III organization of the SGA
Member and beneficiary of the United Jewish Federation of MetroWest and its United Jewish Appeal and administered by the United Jewish Centers of MetroWest

The College Store
at Montclair State College

COLOR FOR UNI!

October Special
Special Price: 8.69 each
List Price: 81.09 each
Uni-Ball Standard
Colors: Black and Blue Ink

Special prices available at The College Store through October 30, 1984.

Uni-ball
The metal point writes whisper smooth! Durable metal roller point with precision tungsten ball produces 3mm fine line. Premium liquid ink makes words flow. Matte finish barrel with brushed stainless steel pocket clip. Color dot on cap indicates ink color.
The Baron Weekly Planner

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MONDAY</th>
<th>TUESDAY</th>
<th>WEDNESDAY</th>
<th>THURSDAY</th>
<th>FRIDAY</th>
<th>SATURDAY</th>
<th>SUNDAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>MORNING</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>MORNING</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
<td>AFTERNOON</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wake-up 10:45 for 11:00 class, put the &quot;Snooze&quot; button on wake-up at 11:00, go to class, study hard at the library and get ready for a GREAT NIGHT AT THE BARON!</td>
<td>&quot;RAVE&quot; to your friends about the great time you had at THE BARON last night.</td>
<td>&quot;RAT NIGHT&quot; at THE BARON</td>
<td>&quot;LADIES NITE!&quot;</td>
<td>Partyed all night at THE BARON decide to go to class, then rest up for a GREAT weekend at THE BARON!</td>
<td>Wake up at 12:00 to go get FREE PIZZAS at THE BARON</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>1:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GO TO THE BARON TO EAT FREE SUBS! During Football Game</td>
<td>SHOT &amp; BEER NIGHT Shot &amp; Beer $1 (8-11)</td>
<td>&quot;RAVE&quot; to your friends about the great time you had at THE BARON last night.</td>
<td>&quot;RAT NIGHT&quot; at THE BARON</td>
<td>&quot;LADIES NITE!&quot; 75¢ Drinks and free admission for the Ladies!</td>
<td>THE BARON HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION for everyone</td>
<td>THE BARON HAPPY HOUR 75¢ Drinks FREE ADMISSION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>1:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;LADIES NITE!&quot; 75¢ Drinks and free admission for the Ladies!</td>
<td>&quot;RAT NIGHT&quot; at THE BARON</td>
<td>&quot;LADIES NITE!&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;HAPPY HOUR&quot; FREE ADMISSION!</td>
<td>&quot;HAPPY HOUR&quot; FREE ADMISSION!</td>
<td>&quot;HAPPY HOUR&quot; FREE ADMISSION!</td>
<td>&quot;HAPPY HOUR&quot; FREE ADMISSION!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>8:00 - 11:00</td>
<td>1:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FREE PIZZAS During the Football Game!</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

The Baron

OPEN 7 DAYS 'TIL 2:30 AM
239-7003
CEDAR GROVE, NJ
DO YOU KNOW WHERE THE OFFICIAL MSC #1 PARTY PLACE IS?

THE BARON

— TUESDAY —
Tuesday is Shot & Beer Night
Shot & Beer $1 (8pm - 11pm)
Dance with NJ's biggest D.J.
"DAVE THE RAVE"

THE BARON
OPEN 7 DAYS 'TIL 2:30 AM
239-7003
CEDAR GROVE, NJ

LADIES DO YOU KNOW WHERE THE OFFICIAL MSC #1 PARTY PLACE IS?

THE BARON

— THURSDAY —
Thursday is "LADIES NITE"
25¢ Drinks and FREE ADMISSION
for the Ladies (8pm - 11pm)

THE BARON
OPEN 7 DAYS 'TIL 2:30 AM
239-7003
CEDAR GROVE, NJ

DO YOU KNOW WHERE THE #1 WEEKEND NIGHT SPOT IS?

THE BARON

— WEDNESDAY —
Wednesday is "RAT NITE"
Pitcher of Bud - $2.50
Hot Dogs - 25¢

THE BARON
OPEN 7 DAYS 'TIL 2:30 AM
239-7003
CEDAR GROVE, NJ

75¢ DRINKS
FREE Admission for EVERYONE!
(8pm - 11pm)

THE BARON HAPPY HOUR

THE BARON
OPEN 7 DAYS 'TIL 2:30 AM
239-7003
CEDAR GROVE, NJ
Bond issue proposes a new direction for New Jersey

On Nov. 6, voters around the country will decide the future of America by the leadership they elect. At the same time, New Jersey voters will have the opportunity to decide the future of the state.

This year's election ballot will contain the "Jobs, Science and Technology Bond Issue." Created by Gov. Thomas Kean's Commission on Science and Technology, the bond issue would allocate $90 million to establish New Jersey as a high tech world business center.

The bond issue was created in response to the accelerating loss of traditional "smokestack" manufacturing jobs in New Jersey. As these industries either fold or move to the more economically receptive southern belt, New Jersey is left with a void, in terms of unemployment and economic losses, that it is unable to fill.

The specific plan for the issue's enactment involves $57 million to build four advanced technological centers in biotechnology, hazardous waste management, industrial ceramics and food technology. These facilities will be located at universities, including Rutgers and Princeton.

Since a high tech economy would rely on an educated work-force, the remaining $33 million is slated to be used towards the development or improvement of technical educational facilities at county, state and independent colleges. Of this amount, state colleges will compete for $11 million.

There is concern that a high tech economy will provide jobs only for highly educated, highly skilled workers. If this were the case, those left unemployed by the departing manufacturing industries would still be left in the cold.

However, high tech would provide jobs for the unskilled in areas such as material management, benchmark and assembly work. The number of unskilled jobs created may not equal the number lost, but as it is now, the manufacturing jobs disappear and there is nothing to replace them. High tech would at least alleviate part of the problem.

The bond issue has received bipartisan support in the state legislature, and is also acclaimed by educators. When you vote for the future of America this Nov. 6, remember also to vote for the future of New Jersey.

In a recent issue of Newsweek, columnist George Will stated that Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale represent significantly different views of the nation and the world. To some that may seem a keen grasp of the obvious, but to many the candidates are simply two sides of the same coin.

They attack each other in commercials and make seemingly innocent yet glaringly stupid statements, like Reagan's "we have just passed legislation outlawing Russia forever. Bombing will begin in five minutes." He mistakenly assumed the microphones were off.

When Mondale raised genuine concern about Reagan's health and ability following the debate, Reagan made the John Wayne-like comment, "I'll challenge him to an arm wrestle anytime."

Actually Reagan is not the only one in his camp putting his foot in his mouth. Geraldine Ferraro has been referred to as a "political bust" and something "that rimes with rich."

Mondale hasn't made such insensitive remarks, but lacking the Thespian background of his adversary, he has mumbled and bumbled his way along, appearing uncertain and without the wherewithal to be president.

Viewing this election superficially, and relying solely on the preference of coverage by the media, i.e., every bloop and blunder made, there doesn't appear to be much of a choice.

The issues are basic—abortion, ERA, budget deficit, defense spending—and when I just listen to the words, it all seems quite meaningless. My vote couldn't possibly make a difference. Mondale has made his share of mistakes, but lacking the Thespian background of his adversary, he has mumbled and bumbled his way along, appearing uncertain and without the wherewithal to be president.

Looking beyond political rhetoric, looking beyond the wherewithal to be president, looking beyond the rhetoric and relying solely on the preference of coverage by the media, there doesn't appear to be much of a choice.

The issues are basic—abortion, ERA, budget deficit, defense spending—and when I just listen to the words, it all seems quite meaningless. My vote couldn't possibly make a difference, so why bother? Politics... who cares... it's all a joke anyway...

Easy to do. What's not so easy is to look beyond the rhetoric and get a sense of the candidates as human beings rather than simply as political automatons. It seems the human element is conspicuously absent in the political arena—Russians are equated with guns, bombers and "star wars" apparatus; financial aid and welfare recipients become just another dollar sign.

What good will it do me to feel secure against Russian attack if my individual rights are denied me in my own country? While I can't begrudge Reagan, in fact, I acknowledge him, for restoring a sense of security and prosperity—(whether false or not is another issue), he is just too self-imposing for my tastes.

Those significantly different views of which Will refers were readily apparent during the debate. Mondale impressed me with his response to the abortion question while Reagan offended me. Although both candidates have strong religious beliefs there is a fundamental difference. Mondale does not attempt to impose his own morality on the entire country. He respects an individual's right to control her own body.

It is a complicated issue to be sure, no matter what your own personal belief. However, the bottom line is that it's a woman's individual choice; she alone must bear the consequence of her decision. It is a specious argument to compare a woman who chooses not to bear a child to a murderer, as Reagan did in the debate.

Yes, Mondale has made his share of mistakes and he will continue to make mistakes. But on Nov. 6 I'll put my faith in him because I see him as more sincere and more of a humanitarian than I ever forecast Reagan being. I do appreciate the contribution Reagan has made to the country, and now I'd like to see Mondale build on that.

Susan August is the managing editor of The Montclarion.
Sex as the great motivating force behind all human endeavor

To the editor:

Sex is the driving force in mankind's existence and survival. It directs personal, family, human, national and international relations. Sex brings peace or war, friendship or alienation. Sex can be ugly or beautiful, used or abused. Sex is private or public. Sex may be better appreciated by the illiterate than the Ph. D. sociologist, biochemist or psychologist, or brothel madam. As an institution evolved in sex, marriage is one of civilized society's most successful accomplishments. But never has it been tested, challenged or undermined as it has today. It is a fact that millions of Americans live in single-parent families. It seems that many men and women don't give a damn about their children. In unprecedented numbers, men and women no longer want marriage or children. They fail to see that the essential beauty of life is to transmit it. They say "Tell with responsibility," as they lose themselves in a bohemian joie de vivre.

A major political issue arising from irresponsibility in sex is the abortion issue. The Roe vs. Wade and subsequent Supreme Court decisions redefined marriage. That's why American-styled abortion is wrong.

In the first place the Court infringed upon rights of states to determine conditions of marriage. Second, the Court usurped the authority of a gutless Republican Congress. Third, the Court slighted men by giving to women a unilateral right without defining for men an equal, reciprocal right.

The Court said women, all by themselves, can decide to abort. If that is reasonable, then it makes sense to conclude that women decide life. If that is so, the children women bear are theirs alone. They own the children. If women own children, the Court should have the courage to say women must support them.

Therefore, the reciprocal right men deserve, on the basis of Roe vs. Wade, is one where they may voluntarily decide, as women an abortion, to pay support for their children.

Irrationality of the Supreme Court is only part of the problem. The question arises as to who should pay for the fun and games leading to abortion. Surely not the taxpayer. "Smart-ass" women feel it is the responsibility of government. And lawmakers believe them! Such nonsense must cease, for if government can make laws that fine drunken drivers, or fine those with unbuckled seat belts, then it is even more valid to fine women having abortions. Women, not men, should not only pay for abortions, they should be fined.

From the illogic of the Court, a man should be free of abortion costs since the ending of fetal life is a woman's choice. A man may have had a cooperative role in intercourse but he is not responsible for pregnancy. A woman is, sayeth the Court.

Moral aspects of abortion are related to the notion of free-love. In private parlor one many ask, "Is it wrong to seduce your brother's wife or your sister's husband?" The social and political question is, "How, for God's sake, can we stop this indiscriminate mess around?"

One way (which seems to be the direction government is taking) is to establish government-run brothels, like state-operated liquor stores. Government would have to take charge for two important reasons: to protect the health of the people and to protect the United States treasury from going broke. If government eventually accepts such action it should be done in a way that would serve as a perpetual reminder of how it all came about: Let government-approved brothels be erected adjacent to our courthouse.

Cyril E. Sagan

Bloom County

Sex as the great motivating force behind all human endeavor

In the first place the Court infringed upon rights of states to determine conditions of marriage. Second, the Court usurped the authority of a gutless Republican Congress. Third, the Court slighted men by giving to women a unilateral right without defining for men an equal, reciprocal right.

The Court said women, all by themselves, can decide to abort. If that is reasonable, then it makes sense to conclude that women decide life. If that is so, the children women bear are theirs alone. They own the children. If women own children, the Court should have the courage to say women must support them.

Therefore, the reciprocal right men deserve, on the basis of Roe vs. Wade, is one where they may voluntarily decide, as women an abortion, to pay support for their children.

Irrationality of the Supreme Court is only part of the problem. The question arises as to who should pay for the fun and games leading to abortion. Surely not the taxpayer. "Smart-ass" women feel it is the responsibility of government. And lawmakers believe them! Such nonsense must cease, for if government can make laws that fine drunken drivers, or fine those with unbuckled seat belts, then it is even more valid to fine women having abortions. Women, not men, should not only pay for abortions, they should be fined.

From the illogic of the Court, a man should be free of abortion costs since the ending of fetal life is a woman's choice. A man may have had a cooperative role in intercourse but he is not responsible for pregnancy. A woman is, sayeth the Court.

Moral aspects of abortion are related to the notion of free-love. In private parlor one many ask, "Is it wrong to seduce your brother's wife or your sister's husband?" The social and political question is, "How, for God's sake, can we stop this indiscriminate mess around?"

One way (which seems to be the direction government is taking) is to establish government-run brothels, like state-operated liquor stores. Government would have to take charge for two important reasons: to protect the health of the people and to protect the United States treasury from going broke. If government eventually accepts such action it should be done in a way that would serve as a perpetual reminder of how it all came about: Let government-approved brothels be erected adjacent to our courthouse.

Cyril E. Sagan

Bloom County

Sex as the great motivating force behind all human endeavor

In the first place the Court infringed upon rights of states to determine conditions of marriage. Second, the Court usurped the authority of a gutless Republican Congress. Third, the Court slighted men by giving to women a unilateral right without defining for men an equal, reciprocal right.

The Court said women, all by themselves, can decide to abort. If that is reasonable, then it makes sense to conclude that women decide life. If that is so, the children women bear are theirs alone. They own the children. If women own children, the Court should have the courage to say women must support them.

Therefore, the reciprocal right men deserve, on the basis of Roe vs. Wade, is one where they may voluntarily decide, as women an abortion, to pay support for their children.

Irrationality of the Supreme Court is only part of the problem. The question arises as to who should pay for the fun and games leading to abortion. Surely not the taxpayer. "Smart-ass" women feel it is the responsibility of government. And lawmakers believe them! Such nonsense must cease, for if government can make laws that fine drunken drivers, or fine those with unbuckled seat belts, then it is even more valid to fine women having abortions. Women, not men, should not only pay for abortions, they should be fined.

From the illogic of the Court, a man should be free of abortion costs since the ending of fetal life is a woman's choice. A man may have had a cooperative role in intercourse but he is not responsible for pregnancy. A woman is, sayeth the Court.

Moral aspects of abortion are related to the notion of free-love. In private parlor one many ask, "Is it wrong to seduce your brother's wife or your sister's husband?" The social and political question is, "How, for God's sake, can we stop this indiscriminate mess around?"

One way (which seems to be the direction government is taking) is to establish government-run brothels, like state-operated liquor stores. Government would have to take charge for two important reasons: to protect the health of the people and to protect the United States treasury from going broke. If government eventually accepts such action it should be done in a way that would serve as a perpetual reminder of how it all came about: Let government-approved brothels be erected adjacent to our courthouse.

Cyril E. Sagan
HERE'S HOW YOU CAN MAKE EXTRA CASH
And enjoy the benefits of Great Health Too!

In just 3 hours per week, for 6 weeks, you will be certified to teach exercise classes including the popular AEROBIC & JAZZ AEROBIC dancing by Linda Palumbo - the teacher who brought the new Rebound Aerobic Dancing to the East. PLUS, Learn about the facts and fallacies of nutrition and weight control with popular nutritionist Rose Green, M.A.

NOW YOU CAN "LOSE WEIGHT, keep fit and have fun teaching it."

REBOUND AEROBICS
772 Bloomfield Ave.
Verona, N.J.
239-3070

JOB PLACEMENT IS AVAILABLE

BOUNCE INTO FALL AT
Rebound Aerobics

THE NEWEST, MOST EXCITING FORM
OF AEROBIC EXERCISE IS HERE!

FOR ONLY $19 A MONTH

WE OFFER:
* UNLIMITED EXERCISE
* NUTRITIONAL GUIDANCE
* CONVENIENT HOURS
* PROFESSIONAL STAFF
* NAUTILUS (optional)
* Offer good until Oct. 15th ONLY!
* First 10 receive FREE Nautilus Sessions

CALL FOR DETAILS 239-3070
Located in Verona at 772 Bloomfield Ave.

MSC PERLS DEPARTMENT AND RECREATION CLUB present. . .

LEARN, SKI & PARTY WEEK
in THE POCONOS
JAN. 6-11, 1985

2nd Annual Winter Sports Management Course
* Earn Three College Credits
* Course Topics include: Ski Area Management, Ski Area Construction & Design, Winter Tourism Promotion
* Ski, Vacation & Party!
Learn & Ski Week - Includes Lodging, 3 Meals Daily, Full Day & Night Lifts - Tickets Sun-Fri, Use of all Shawnee Facilities Including Indoor Pool, Horseback Riding and much more.
COST: Only $149 plus tuition

PARTY & VACATION WEEK-$175 all inclusive (as above)
CALL: 893-5254 or 893-7073 for details or stop by room 239 Richardson Hall for full details.

GROVE PHARMACY
123 GROVE ST., MONTCLAIR
LARGE selection
COSTUMES,
MASKS,
5550 MAKE-UP for HALLOWEEN

WORK FOR THE FASTEST
GROWING AIRLINE
IN THE INDUSTRY.

PEOPLEExpress is coming to campus in search of RESERVATIONS SALES ASSOCIATES

SOPHOMORES... JUNIORS...
SENIORS... GRAD STUDENTS

START NOW AS A RESERVATIONS SALES ASSOCIATE. You'll be the first point of contact between PEOPLEExpress and our customers, providing accurate scheduling and price information—and selling seats for PEOPLEExpress flights.

You'll be based at NEWARK INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT and you will have a flexible work schedule that fits in with your classes.

THE JOB OFFERS ALL THIS:
* $5.00 an hour to start—with regularly scheduled raises
* UNLIMITED TRAVEL PRIVILEGES ON PEOPLEExpress (Not only for you but spouses, too, after 30 days of employment)
* FREE PARKING AT THE AIRPORT

THE MINIMUM AND MAXIMUM HOURS YOU MAY WORK ARE:
* Minimum of 4 hours per day
* Minimum of 20 hours per week
* Maximum of 40 hours per week

TO QUALIFY you must have a GPA of 2.5 or better, be currently enrolled, be articulate—and have a mature attitude and business-like appearance. Previous work experience is a must.

PRESENTATIONS AND INTERVIEWS WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1984 AT 11:00 AM AND 1:00 PM IN ROOMS 411 AND 412 IN THE STUDENT CENTER BUILDING.

PLEASE BRING A CURRENT TRANSCRIPT TO THE INTERVIEW.

Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

PEOPLEExpress
F L Y  S M A R T

Resume: COMPLETE W O R D
PROCESSING SERVICE
RESUMES*PERSONALIZED COVER LETTERS MAILERS*
TERM PAPERS*THESIS COPIES ETC. PROPORTIONAL
SPACING*ALL PAPER MARY JURISDICTION
Upper Montclair Area 783-5319

ASSOCIATION
A.S.A.P
North Jersey Women's Health Organization

Gynecological Care  Birth Control Testing  Pregnancy Testing  V.D. Testing

ONE LOW FEE * STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL  227-6669
383 Rt. 46 W. Fairfield - Just 3 Mls. W. of Willowbrook  PRIVATE O.B. GYN OFFICE

Protect Your Car
With A Piece Of The Rock

Yes, now you can protect your car— as well as your home or apartment— with "a piece of the Rock." Enjoy the same competent, quality service that helped the Prudential build its reputation. When is the last time you really looked at your auto insurance policy? Is it up-to-date? You may be paying for protection you don't need, and you may not have enough protection against possible serious losses.

Ask someone from the Rock to review and explain your auto insurance. Your home insurance, too. Your Prudential agent may be able to show you changes you can make in your insurance to get more protection for the premium you now pay. Talk to:

Prudential

At Hall 6th Ave

Protective Property and Casualty Insurance Company

Estate Place, Habitut New Air

Thinking about Grad School?
Attend The
GRADUATE & PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL FAIR
Thursday,
October 25, 1984
10:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
STUDENT CENTER BALLROOMS A, B & C

- Explore the advantages of graduate education.
- Join in workshop discussions on admissions, test preparation, curricula, financial support, and career opportunities.
- Talk to representatives and pick up handouts about graduate education.

PARTICIPATING GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS INCLUDE:

- Adelphi University
- Binghamton University
- Boston University - School of Arts
- City College of the City University of New York - School of Education
- City University of New York - School of Social Work
- College of New Jersey
- C.W. Post Campus
- Florida State University - School of Business Administration
- Fordham University
- George Washington University - School of Law
- Georgia State University - School of Business Administration
- Hawaii Pacific University
- Harvard University
- Indiana University Bloomington
- Long Island University - C.W. Post Campus
- Marist College
- Manhattan College
- Montclair State College
- New Jersey Institute of Technology
- New York Institute of Technology
- New York University - School of Journalism
- Northeastern University - School of Law
- Pace University
- Rutgers University - School of Management
- Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey - School of Education
- Seton Hall University
- Temple University
- Trenton State College
- University of Pennsylvania
- Villanova University
- William Paterson College

C.L.U.B. has over $30,000 of your money
COME AND HELP US SPEND IT!

Next meeting on MONDAY, OCTOBER 15 at 4:00 PM 4th floor of the Student Center

CALL 893-5232 for more information
Office Located in Room 121 in Student Center Annex

ENTERTAINMENT IS OUR BUSINESS

CLUB is a Class I Organization of the SGA
The Comateens are unsuccessful at ‘dealing with it’

By Thomas A. Grasso

In 1981 a three-member New York-based urban funk group, Comateens, released a debut album simply titled Comateens. This L.P. promised a bright future. There were no big commercial hits, but the potential was there. All it needed was fine tuning.

In 1983, the band released their second album (their first on Mercury/Virgin/Polygram) entitled Pictures on String. In the two-year lapse between albums my interest weakened. Now that’s the stuff Comateens were made of!

While Phil Everly said in the PBS special, ‘It’s important for our music to mature,’ lyrically EB comes too close to the type of bubble gum love tunes the Everlys put out in the past. No one would deny the boyish charm of those early works, but for the Everlys, who are both now over 40, a carry over of their original style seems out of place, almost ridiculous.

All ten cuts on the album typically deal with love, whether it’s a lack of love or love that’s hard to handle. The duo’s failure to explore other realms of other aspects of life, is disappointing. While the two still maintain a beautiful harmonic balance, they could not have “matured” very much musically if they still insist on singing such lines like, “Just to hear her voice my knees go weak/Leaves me breathless, I can hardly speak.”

This last effort unfortunately seems like an afterthought, like something suggested at the last minute to help the band get away from the heavy funkiness of last year’s “Get Off My Case,” which was a hit on the dance floors. Sadly, enough their experiment has failed, since there is no chart action and not much radio play of the song.

Witness their second single release, “Don’t Come Back.” Here lies the odd exception in this ten-track mish-mash. With its upbeat tempo, James Brown-like guitar work and quirky lyrics (“Don’t come back no matter what you do/What you want is never good for you”), it is on its way to becoming a hit. Hopefully Comateens will realize what they do best and play it in the future.

The album has at least a small chance to gain commercial success. After all, the duo’s latest effort, but really more like an afterthought, like something suggested at the last minute to help the band get away from the heavy funkiness of last year’s “Get Off My Case,” which was a hit on the dance floors. Sadly, enough their experiment has failed, since there is no chart action and not much radio play of the song.

Witness their second single release, “Don’t Come Back.” Here lies the odd exception in this ten-track mish-mash. With its upbeat tempo, James Brown-like guitar work and quirky lyrics (“Don’t come back no matter what you do/What you want is never good for you”), it is on its way to becoming a hit. Hopefully Comateens will realize what they do best and play it in the future.

The Comateens have had their songs recorded by many artists, including Linda Ronstadt and Simon and Garfunkel. Many say this is a form of flattery which is no doubt due the brothers for their harmonious contribution to the world of music. But how refreshing it would be for the duo to faster their tunes and record something like “The Sound of Silence.” In this endeavor, the Everlys might reach their full potential.
Big Bam Boom: explosive hits cater to all Hall & Oates fans

By Robert Broderick

Daryl Hall and John Oates have recently released their 13th album, Big Bam Boom, their first all new material since H2O in 1982.

At first glance, one is deceived by the record’s low budget look. The album’s jacket is a montage of B/W photos, colored zig-zag lines, and what looks like John Oates flying through the air onto Daryl Hall. With Big Bam Boom the Pakmans scribbled in the corner it looks like a scene from Batman. What is found inside though, is anything but low-budget material from Pop’s “Dynamic Duo.”

This album is directed toward street corner funk, and they waste no time in saying it. The record opens with a one minute, 27 sec. piece that is their attempt at music to spin on your back to. This is unfortunate because the rest of the side is roAMY and moody in contrast. Luckily, this false start segues into “Out of Touch,” the first single released off the record. Hall & Oates started over a decade ago in Philadelphia where soul and R & B played a major role in their development. “Out of Touch” really demonstrates this. As Hall sings “We’re soul alone and soul really matters to me, take a look around,” one can imagine any number of Motown vocal groups singing this song 20 years ago.

Side one continues this feeling with “Method of Love.” The fourth track, “Bank on Your Love,” is reminiscent of last year’s hit “Going Thru the Motions,” side two’s opener, is reminiscent of last year’s hit “Adult Education” — a little funkier. The rest of this side follows suit, approaching funk with “Cold, Dark and Yesterday” and “All American Girl.” A contemporary American Bandstand would probably rate this side high because it’s got a good beat and you can dance to it.

The album ends right where it is expected to — on the street — with “Possession Obsession,” a slow soulful number with a capella harmonies and street noises.

Big Bam Boom is extremely well produced. Daryl Hall, Daryl Oates and Bob Clearmountain (the man who mixed Springsteen’s Born in the U.S.A.). There is also a bad song on it. It is closed with either moods to move your soul or rhythms and beats to move your body. Big Bam Boom is highly recommended for even the casual Hall and Oates fans.

Playing with a style more like a jazz saxophonist than a classical oboist, Botti played a duet with Maiullo of Camille Saint-Saëns’ “Sonata for Oboe and Piano.” The piece featured long intricate runs and trills which showed Botti’s incredible breath control and also highlighted the range of the instrument. Considering Botti’s performance, the audience would never have known that the oboe is one of the world’s most difficult instruments to play.

Botti received both his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in Music from the Juilliard School, and made his New York debut at Carnegie Recital Hall in 1978. He has since performed with such renowned orchestras as the Brooklyn Philharmonic, the Houston Symphony Orchestra, and the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. Botti has acted as a Associate Principal Oboist with the New York Philharmonic.

Faculty member David Maiullo is the accompanist for the College Choir, the Chamber Choir, as well as MSC’s Opera Workshop.

The Music Faculty Scholarship Concert Series continues November 2 at 8 p.m., and will feature bass-baritone Edward Pierson in recital. The series will feature flautist Thomas Will on December 7.
Politics meets music in MTS’s production of Fiorello!

By Michelle A. Congello

Pre- and post war politics, epochal manners and attitudes and an almost perfect cast land themselves to the Major Theatre Series’ successful execution of Jerome Weidman’s and George Abbott’s Fiorello!.

Although the storyline really doesn’t seem to reach any tangible climax (biographical plays rarely do), the cast transcends the stigma of this stagnant script. The performers give the play all its life—something that is usually a combination of both script and cast. Without their enhancement, the play’s success would have been a mediocre one.

The play depicts the turmoil, troubles and dreams of both New York Mayor and Congressman Fiorello LaGuardia and the American people. It begins in 1914 at the beginning of the war. Fiorello is a Greenwich Village lawyer who feels like Lot probably did living in the corrupt and baneful city of Sodom. The difference between the two is Lot fled from sin—Fiorello wanted to rectify it. It presents him with one man’s integrity and unwillingness to compromise versus an entire city’s willingness to “go along.” His over-ambitious nature affords him the chance to fight the “evil of the city” by first becoming a congressman and ultimately the renowned mayor of New York.

When offered the case of the shirt waist strikers, Fiorello realizes that this issue could help both the plight of the exploited women and his campaign. He decides to make their cause his own. The play flows perfectly until World War I. The “war to end all wars” was presented as a slide show, the set’s period-catchiness to them.

The casting was just short of flawless. As Fiorello, Wayne Bushell portrays the frustration of climbing the tainted political ladder perfectly. He never focuses too much of his attention on one situation; this is where reality really has its debut. At times it seems that his emotions are too “wishy-washy,” but his emotions are always preoccupied. In the play he is technically married twice, but the true bond is between him and his fight for authentic democracy. The only absurdist aspect is his Italian accent—it only seems present when he so proudly pronounces his name.

Amy Marie Woodruff (Thea), is one flaw in casting. Her portrayal of her character, starts off high and strong and from there simply digresses. This naturally is a disappointment to the audience, but she does passify this deterioration with a magnificent voice. Her voice is by far the strongest and sharpest in the cast. This does not make up for her lack of enthusiasm and emotion, but as I said it does help.

The play depicts the turmoils, troubles and dreams of both New York Mayor and Congressman Fiorello LaGuardia and the American people. It begins in 1914 at the beginning of the war. Fiorello is a Greenwich Village lawyer who feels like Lot probably did living in the corrupt and baneful city of Sodom. The difference between the two is Lot fled from sin—Fiorello wanted to rectify it. It presents him with one man’s integrity and unwillingness to compromise versus an entire city’s willingness to “go along.” His over-ambitious nature affords him the chance to fight the “evil of the city” by first becoming a congressman and ultimately the renowned mayor of New York.

When offered the case of the shirt waist strikers, Fiorello realizes that this issue could help both the plight of the exploited women and his campaign. He decides to make their cause his own. The play flows perfectly until World War I. The “war to end all wars” was presented as a slide show, the set’s period-catchiness to them. The first slide so cleverly stated “somewhere in France,” and the second slide was exactly that. Suddenly it was Armistice, and then the soldiers were back home again. I realize the American participation in WWII was a short one (1 year), but don’t you think that’s pushing it? It wasn’t that it was horrible, but it could have been done in a more professional and entertaining way.

The play depicts the turmoils, troubles and dreams of both New York Mayor and Congressman Fiorello LaGuardia and the American people. It begins in 1914 at the beginning of the war. Fiorello is a Greenwich Village lawyer who feels like Lot probably did living in the corrupt and baneful city of Sodom. The difference between the two is Lot fled from sin—Fiorello wanted to rectify it. It presents him with one man’s integrity and unwillingness to compromise versus an entire city’s willingness to “go along.” His over-ambitious nature affords him the chance to fight the “evil of the city” by first becoming a congressman and ultimately the renowned mayor of New York.

When offered the case of the shirt waist strikers, Fiorello realizes that this issue could help both the plight of the exploited women and his campaign. He decides to make their cause his own. The play flows perfectly until World War I. The “war to end all wars” was presented as a slide show, the set’s period-catchiness to them. The first slide so cleverly stated “somewhere in France,” and the second slide was exactly that. Suddenly it was Armistice, and then the soldiers were back home again. I realize the American participation in WWII was a short one (1 year), but don’t you think that’s pushing it? It wasn’t that it was horrible, but it could have been done in a more professional and entertaining way.

The play depicts the turmoils, troubles and dreams of both New York Mayor and Congressman Fiorello LaGuardia and the American people. It begins in 1914 at the beginning of the war. Fiorello is a Greenwich Village lawyer who feels like Lot probably did living in the corrupt and baneful city of Sodom. The difference between the two is Lot fled from sin—Fiorello wanted to rectify it. It presents him with one man’s integrity and unwillingness to compromise versus an entire city’s willingness to “go along.” His over-ambitious nature affords him the chance to fight the “evil of the city” by first becoming a congressman and ultimately the renowned mayor of New York.

When offered the case of the shirt waist strikers, Fiorello realizes that this issue could help both the plight of the exploited women and his campaign. He decides to make their cause his own. The play flows perfectly until World War I. The “war to end all wars” was presented as a slide show, the set’s period-catchiness to them. The first slide so cleverly stated “somewhere in France,” and the second slide was exactly that. Suddenly it was Armistice, and then the soldiers were back home again. I realize the American participation in WWII was a short one (1 year), but don’t you think that’s pushing it? It wasn’t that it was horrible, but it could have been done in a more professional and entertaining way.
Attention

Reminder to all students who have not picked up their books/money from the APO used book store to do so no later than Fri., Oct. 19.

Those who are interested in being tutored German: Contact Werner in Freeman Hall, Rm. 511, tel. 744-9454.

Circle K is looking for quality members. We are a service organization sponsored by Kiwanis. Meetings 7:30 on Tuesdays, Purple Conference Rm., Student Center.

To person selling space shuttle: I have an interested party. For details, leave name and number in Science Fiction Club mailbox, Rm. 112 Student Center Annex.

NEEDING MORE ATTENTION! Typing - FREE UP YOUR TIME FOR COURSES

Fiction Club mailbox, Rm. 112 Student Center. After 5 p.m.

For Sale

- '74 Datsun 260Z, bronze, 4 spd, front & rear spoiler, louvers, am/fm/cass stereo w/eq., AC, new clutch, Ansa exhaust, no rust, looks and runs great. $4000 or best offer. 787-9598.

- '83 Chevrolet Citation XI, maroon, 2 door, power steering & brakes, cloth interior, 4 speed, sport wheels & rims, rear spoiler, bucket seats, high output engine V-6, good gas mileage, excel. cond. Call 523-4188 or 764-3966.

- '77 Datsun F10, new brakes, new tires, reliable transportation. $1000, call 340-2241.

- Motorcycle: Yamaha 79 XS400, excel. cond. $800 or best offer. Call 783-2188, Lou, Bohn 1021.

Lost/Found

Lost: One roll undeveloped disc film. Return to Gove Rd. 103C or to C.L.U.B. office (Student Center).

Lost: One roommate. Last seen in the BSCU office, the library, People Express...If you can catch her, please return to Rm. 105 Webster Hall, Raymond area.

Lost: My virginity. Somewhere in 101C.

- Lost: Dr. Madeleine Sargent. Last seen two days ago cruising down the Seine River with James Bond. If found, call Interpol at 1-800-266-9999.

Lost: One e-n-c. If found, please tell them we need him. eds.

Personal

- Hey Everyone! Jim got a 25 on his math exam! P.S. Happy Birthday!

- Attention all Oui Beta Meta members: The Oui Eata Meta Girls would like to know why the Oui Beta Meta guys have to play 21 with us around.

- Dear e-n-c: phone home, 893-5230.

- Qu'est que c'est: Sodovoche en el biblioteca. K.W.A., no se!

- The brothers of Phi Alpha Phi senator would like to congratulate and welcome their newest brothers: Jose Parada and Joe (Faz) Testa.

- The weekend is coming!! The weekend is coming!!! Are you going??

- Clive: Hang here, be cool and enjoy the campus life. But don't jeopardize.

- Bill: My lawyer is Oren Zeve. If you have any questions, please have her talk with Oren. Thank you, your ex, Wendy.

- AHN Girls: Look for male burlesque featuring Clyde of PC.

- Dave H.: You, the elevator door, my client: intense pain. Expect a criminal and/or civil suit. IIIG Eight.

- Cathy: If you love something, let it go. If it doesn't come back, hunt it down and kill it. — Susan, who else?

- To "Anonymous" in Life Hall: Thanks for the nice things you said about my legs! Love ya. Jen S. (kissy-kissy)

- Hey Chris Garcia!! How ya' doin'? Love, guess who?

- Hey you Blonde Blanton fuzzy Pooh Bear imator: Not only are you a great fire drill warmer but also a great friend.

- Gary S.: Now that you're stoned, you have to get your rocks off. Shall we wait for the right moment, say when the planets line up? M.

- NEEDED: Caring, dependable, responsible person with car, good driving record, to pick up 2 school age children 3-4 days a week after school to approximately 5:30 p.m. Willing to spend quality time with girl, 8 yrs old and boy 4 1/2 yrs old. References. Call after 5 p.m. 746-8112.

- To 4D19: Yeah Sure!!!

- To Joe and Marie: Thank you for a fast breakfest party last Sunday. It is very much appreciated! Arrt. Jack & Julie, Mac & Anne.

- Sue: Two of the same. One of the heart. Complete together: Separate apart. Love, Rik.

- FOR JULIE: It's been awhile since our class reunion near Boston. Did I ever tell you how much I loved you and that in high school I just could not find the words? Well now you have it in print!!!

- Jen S.: Haya Chickie. Chris is a nice name, isn't it? Love ya, Jen S. (kissy-kissy)

- Hey! Chris Garcia!! How ya' doin'? Love, guess who?

- Dave H.: You, the elevator door, my client: intense pain. Expect a criminal and/or civil suit. IIIG Eight.

- The weekend is coming!! The weekend is coming!!! Are you going??

- Ronny B.: Don't worry, September will soon be gone. Before you know it, June will be back again!

- Walter Harris: You sure look finer than last semester. Keep it up. Hey Sigmas: Where's June — I miss him a lot!

- Matt: Where the hell are we?? Mitch.

- Eric: Beware!! Smersh is going to get you.

- To Joe and Marie: Thank you for a fast breakfest party last Sunday. It is very much appreciated! Arrt. Jack & Julie, Mac & Anne.

- To whom it may concern: It happens once a year. Joe and Marie, you are invited.

- The weekend is coming!! The weekend is coming!!! Are you going??

- To "Anonymous" in Life Hall: Thanks for the nice things you said about my legs! Love ya. Jen S. (kissy-kissy)

- Dave H.: You, the elevator door, my client: intense pain. Expect a criminal and/or civil suit. IIIG Eight.

- To "Anonymous" in Life Hall: Thanks for the nice things you said about my legs! Love ya. Jen S. (kissy-kissy)

- To "Anonymous" in Life Hall: Thanks for the nice things you said about my legs! Love ya. Jen S. (kissy-kissy)

- The weekend is coming!! The weekend is coming!!! Are you going??

- Ronny B.: Don't worry, September will soon be gone. Before you know it, June will be back again!

- Walter Harris: You sure look finer than last semester. Keep it up. Hey Sigmas: Where's June — I miss him a lot!

- Matt: Where the hell are we?? Mitch.

- Eric: Beware!! Smersh is going to get you.

- To "Anonymous" in Life Hall: Thanks for the nice things you said about my legs! Love ya. Jen S. (kissy-kissy)
Thursday 10/18

Employer Related Child Care: Student Center, Cafeterias B & C, 7:30-9 p.m. Sponsored by The Women's Center.

Sunday 10/14

The Newman Community will celebrate Mass at 7:30 p.m. at the Newman Center, and at Kops Lounge, Russ Hall, 11 a.m. Helping Hands Sunday. Canned goods, clothes accepted for poor in Newark.) All are welcome.

Monday 10/15

Newman Community Executive Board: The Newman Center 6:45-8:15 p.m.

— Friendship Supper: The Newman Community. 5 p.m. at the Newman Center. Admission: "A dollar or a dessert."

— Peer Counseling: Women's Center. Student Center 421, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Open to Women & Men; Drop-in or appointments.

Tuesday 10/16

— Wedding Preparation Workshop: Session two: The Newman Community. 8:30-11 p.m. The Newman Center, 746-2323

— Support & Discussion-Bisexuality: Gay & Lesbian Center. Student Center Annex: Multi-Purpose Room. 7:30-10 p.m. All are welcome.

— Meetings: Circle K. 4th Floor Student Center; Purple conference room. Service Organization, meet many people. 7:30-9 p.m.

Wednesday 10/17

— Yearbook Staff Meeting: Yearbook Office, Room 111, Student Center Annex 3 p.m. La Campagna. New members welcome, no experience needed to join.

— Fellowship-Sharing Group: The Newman Community. 7-9 p.m. The Newman Center. All are welcome. 746-2323

— Mass: The Newman Community will celebrate Mass at 12:15 p.m. at the Newman Center Chapel.

— Yearbook Staff Meeting: La Campana, Room 111 Student Center Annex. 3 p.m. All members please attend: new members welcome.

— Discussion: "Blacks and Women in Mathematics". Women's Center. Speaker: Dr. Patricia Kenschaft, MSC, Mathematics Dept. 12-1 p.m.

— Workshop: "Empowerment Workshop For Women". Women's Center Student Center 4:15-5:15 p.m. Two Sessions. Oct. 17 & 24. $10 per session, $15 for both. Pre-registration requested.

— Bagel Sale: Mallory Hall, Jewish Students Union. 7-11 a.m.

— Seminar: Choosing a Major. Student Center Room 419. Career Services. Examine your interests and ideas. Majors appropriate to those interests. 1-2 p.m.

— Job Readiness Seminar: Student Center Room 411. Career Services. 10-11 a.m. For Seniors Only: Orientation to Recruitment and the Computerized Job Matching System.

— Seminar: Job Hunting Tactics. Student Center Room 419. Career Services. Learn how to uncover the hidden job market.

— Coffee Bean Auction: The Bolivian Mafia, Partridge Hall, 1st floor 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Admission: 2 dollars or 200 Bolivian pesos. Everyone must come in togaas and everyone is bound by the mafia code of silence—or else

Thursday 10/18

— Employer Related Child Care: Student Center, Cafeterias B & C, 7:30-9 p.m. Sponsored by The Women's Center.

Personal

— A belated Happy Birthday is better than none—Hope it was superb. Did you do Rude Ditty?? 2.

— Double A's for CIC—Actually, you're both really great, no matter what they say.

— Happy Anniversary Mrs. O. Tahn for the most wonderful year of my life. All my love, all my life, M.J.

— Dear Karen, Sandy and Karen: Thanks for the surprise party and a memorable 19th birthday. I love you all, Dervila-Brigid.

— IRISH: I don't even know you! What are you talking about?

— Happy Birthday "Sid." Love and kisses from your latest "Ebbe."

— Lorenzo G. is back to his nicotine ways.

— To Lisa (alias Lusty): Avoid Peckers and have a Happy Birthday anyway! Love, all your friends: K.L.C.B, D.G.P.B.L.R.

Wanted

— Part time housecleaning available for energetic, enthusiastic and responsible individuals in the surrounding area. Ideal for students—must supply own transportation. Call 947-6081 during a.m. hours.

— CAMPUS REPS NEEDED—SKI FREE: Position involves marketing and selling quality ski and beach trips on campus. Earn FREE TRIPS AND HIGH COMMISSIONS. Call Summit Tours 800-325-0439

— REWARD—Free Trip to Daytona plus Commission Money. WANTED: Organized group or individual to promote the #1 Snow Break Trip to Daytona. If you are interested in our reward call 414-781-0455 or 1-800-453-9074 immediately! Or write DESIGNERS OF TRAVEL, N. 48 W. 13334 W. Hampton Ave., Menomonee Falls, WI 53051.

— J.C. Penney, West Belt Mall, 785-3200. HELP WANTED: Part time days and evening waitress, inc. Sundays. Part time evening cook, inc. Sunday. NEED CASH? Earn $500 plus each school year, 2-4 (flexible) hours per week, plus and filing posters on campus. Serious workers only; we give recommendations. Call now for summer & next fall, 1-800-243-6679.

— People interested in envirological issues, camping, hiking and or nature studies are invited to contact the MSC Conservation Club, Room 403 in the Student Center, 893-5102.

Speaker: Lewiss Goldstein, Asst. dir. of Employer Relations, Dept. of Higher Education.

— Don't get too small here at "The Underground"! Sandy, Karen, Dervila-Brigid, Carrie, and Claudia.

— Female model needed by photog. No experience necessary. $10/hr. part time, flexibler. 432-0241 5-7 p.m. M. T. Th.

— Actress to play Debbie in Bruce Myer's story. Must be bright, funny and small nose. Prices need not apply.

— To buy or to rent: Second-hand typewriter with Frenc accents. Contact Janine at 933-0298.

— 20 handphasers with stun, kill, and disintegrate setting needed for MSC's Space Exploration Training Program. Will pay $1500 per phaser. Call Dr. West at 893-6614.

— Help wanted: Waitress, small Tea Room/catering. Mrs. Tues & Thurs. 4-8, Sat. 1-5, occasional special evening & weekend events. Call 744-7325, Fine Food As You Like It.
Book Review

Gimme Break!

By Perry "The Jet" Schwarz

Hey sports fans, "Let's Go To The Book." This saying may not be as familiar as "Let's Go To The Video Tape," but it gets the message across. The message is Warner Wolf's new book, entitled Gimme A Break!

If you have any sports/broadcasting interests or just enjoy entertaining reading, then this book is just what you are looking for. William Taaffe, radio and TV editor, Sports Illustrated, tells the story of the 22 year sportscasting veteran, and through his writing he gives you the feeling Wolf is in the same room with you telling his stories.

The book deals mainly with Wolf's treks from his days at WGAY to WCBS. Bill Adler, literary agent, approached Wolf about doing the book and explained to him that the book would give him "the chance to talk about anything he wanted and not be interrupted."

"One night my wife brought home a copy of the Washington Evening Star and Taaffe had an article printed in it," said Wolf. "I really liked the style of writing he presented in his pieces, and he had a good feel for radio and T.V. as well."

When Taaffe was asked to do the assignment he took it. So the process of "Gimme A Break" was in operation.

From April of 1981, Wolf and Taaffe spent many days together over a period of a year recapitulating stories about events significant in Wolf's life that would give spice to the book. By October of 1983 the mechanics of the book were complete and now it is on shelves of many bookstores. Avon Books publicity director, described the book as being "an interesting and amusing piece of journalism."

The book starts off with a trial that took place between Wolf and the ABC-TV network. The first word of the book is BOOM, and from that point on the book will keep you in awe. The book kept me so captivated that I would quickly read a few more sentences in my car while waiting for a traffic light to turn green.

Taaffe captures the real Warner Wolf, his very best, with an explosive and humorous narration. Some of the anecdotes in the book range from Wolf's army days at Fort Knox, Kentucky with Sgt. Lazana, to being lost in a massive snowstorm looking for his rent-a-car.

The reader will finally find out where the sayings "Swish, Boom, Boos Of The Week," "Let's Go To The Video Tape," and "Gimme A Break" originated from. These sayings have given Wolf the reputation he has today and the stories that go with them are presented in a way that only Wolf can tell them.

The book is well written, and really lets the reader get into the book. Gimme A Break has everything from drama, humor, emotional accounts and nostalgic sporting events.

It appears Wolf really got a break with this book and has a knack for the business. After all Wolf didn't start at the top. He worked hard to get where he is today. This book may inspire other ambitious youths to get to the top as well. Wolf's first endeavor into sports broadcasting was definitely not a "Boo Of The Week."

SPORTS SHORTS

Women's Field Hockey edged 1-0 by Glassboro State

The Indians were blanked 1-0 by Glassboro State Saturday. The loss marked the sixth time this season MSC has not registered a goal. Kelly Brookman recorded 16 saves in goal for MSC.

The team had as much fun as I did," said Tom Branna.

Women's Cross Country wins second—well sort of

The women's cross-country team notched its second win of the season—well, sort of. When St. Peter's College did not show up in a quad meet against Middlesex Community College, Ocean County, Somerset County and Rockland County Colleges, a few of which were nationally ranked.

"Boo Of The Week."  — Tom Branna

"Junior fullback Pat Luzi busts into the endzone from the one for MSC's only score in a 16-6 loss to American International. See story backpage."

By JoAnn Niemasz

If someone passed Pitaer Field this fall when the men's JV baseball team was playing, he would probably not have recognized it as an organized sport. They had no uniforms, no umpires, no trainers, and, a good percentage of the time, no clue as to the score—but they did have fun. The club finished up the fall campaign this past Saturday with a record of 8-10.

Most of the team consisted of freshmen who had never met each other before and it took them awhile to get accustomed to college life and to learn to work together as a team. Many of them played the first game without knowing the name of the guy they were throwing to. Even though each one of them had been playing ball for years, this club was a new experience.

The fall club was also an experience for the new coach, John Seymour, a former MSC star player. "I wanted to stay involved with the baseball program and when I heard there was an opening for a coach I took it," remarked Seymour.

"Over the course of his four year eligibility at MSC, Seymour played first base and was noted for his exceptional batting average. He knew the ins and outs of the program and proved to be very helpful to the young team. From the start he established a good rapport with the guys and they all worked together to better their games. "I learned a lot from the team," said Seymour, "and I hope they learned a lot from me."

The team was not held more than once or twice a week due to the fact that so many games were scheduled this season. In four weeks 18 games were played. It appeared that 75% of them were played away. JV contended such teams as Middlesex County, Ocean County, Rutgers University, Morris County, Somerset County and Rockland County Colleges, a few of which were nationally ranked.

"In time the team had pulled itself together and developed quite a personality. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other. The guys became friends as well as teammates and got along exceptionally well. The dug out was like no other.

"I thought this fall was a good experience for all of us and I hope the rest of the team had as much fun as I did," said Seymour. Then, taking the overall team state into consideration, he said, "There's good talent on this team and the future looks good for MSC baseball."

JoAnn Niemasz was the statistician for the JV baseball team.
Thursday, October 18

Bus Trip to
ATLANTIC CITY

$10.00 GETS YOU:
— Bus to Atlantic City
— Admission to Atlantic Casino
— $12.00 Food Voucher

WHEN: Thursday, October 18
DEPART: 4:00 PM, Panzer Gym
RETURN: 12:30 AM

Phone Reservations — 893-5238/5281

Bus Trip to Atlantic City

SCHEDULE OF OCTOBER UPCOMING EVENTS

The Campus Recreation Department is looking for students who are interested in becoming REFEREES and FIRST-AID ATTENDANTS. To qualify for First-Aid Attendee, you must possess a valid first aid certification and must be eligible for the College Work Study Program. Referee Applicants must also qualify for Work Study and preferably, have had some practical experience and/or knowledge of basketball rules. For more information please call the FIELDHOUSE at 893-7404, ask for Frank or Cathy.

BACKGAMMON TOURNAMENT
DATE: Thursday, Oct., 18
TIME: 5:00 PM
PLACE: Student Center Cafeteria A
APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE: FRIDAY, Oct., 12
APPLICATIONS DUE: THURSDAY, Oct., 18 at 4:45 pm on site

MEN'S 1-ON-1 BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT
WHEN: Monday, Oct., 22 at 9:00 PM
WHERE: Panzer Gym 6
APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE: Monday, Oct., 15
APPLICATIONS DUE: Monday, Oct., 22, 8:45 PM at the gym

AEROBICS
WHERE: Panzer Gym
WHEN: Monday and Wednesday
TIME: 8-9 PM
FEE: $5.00/Session

OPEN FLOOR HOCKEY
WHERE: Multipurpose Field
WHEN: Tuesday and Thursday
TIME: 4-5:30 PM

NEW JERSEY STATE ORGANIZATION OF CYSTIC FIBROSIS
&
WOMEN'S WORLD HEALTH SPAS
BERGENFIELD * FLORHAM PARK * RUTHERFORD * WEST PATerson * WAYNE
CLIFFSIDE PARK * LINDEN * MIDLAND PARK

Invite you to join our first
AEROBIC DANCE-A-THON

Sunday, October 14th, 1984
1 to 6 PM

MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE

* 3 BIG CASH PRIZES *
For Highest Total Pledges

300 OTHER GREAT PRIZES!

* TOP 40 HITS * REFRESHMENTS * FUN * FITNESS * ENTERTAINMENT

FOR MORE INFORMATION - REGISTRATION FORMS CONTACT:
NJSOCF: (201) 956-8127
WOMEN'S WORLD: (201) 890-0777

“DANCE FOR THOSE WHO CAN’T”

Special Celebrity Guest: Jim Kerr, WPLJ radio!
Lacrosse Club puts emphasis on enjoyment and learning

By Anna Schiavo

Clubs are associated with meeting new people who share a common interest and pursue a common goal. When the common interest is a high powered sport of stickmen and the goal is guarded by tough fleet-footed defensemen, the group is most certainly MSC's Lacrosse Club.

The Lacrosse Club, a class II organization of the SGA, provides an opportunity for the MSC community to learn about the sport. The emphasis is on enjoying the sport for recreational purposes. Everyone gets the chance to play.

It teaches all aspects of the sport, such as the history of the game, the rules and "how to play it safely. You learn the rules and safety procedures before you learn throwing and catching," said Lacrosse Club President John LoBasso.

"The club is open for anyone who wants to play. There are no real restrictions. The club is a lot of fun and we are out there because we want to play," said club member Andy Brown.

The members play to have a good time. "It is more than a sporting type of thing. It is more a social club. It goes beyond the scope of the field," said Brown.

The Lacrosse Club has games with other clubs on Sundays. Everybody tries to win but "they're not after everybody's neck. The club is one for all and all for one type of thing. The club is a good outlet to keep you active and in the right frame of mind," said club member Steve Sona.

Being an active part of a club such as this one is a confidence builder. It teaches you not to be intimidated "by a large organization and that you can achieve anything once you set your mind to it. The people that do come out realize that. They have a social experience that nobody else had and people look up to that," said club participant John Caiafa.

Lacrosse is a sport that has great appeal for both fans and participants. Many lacrosse enthusiasts were interested in other sports before discovering the game.

Sona started playing lacrosse in order to get in shape for wrestling. "After playing that first season I realized that I had a greater love for the game. I love the high paced action and the physical aspects of the game and the great rewards of a scoring goal. It is a high you can't get in any other sport," said Sona.

Caiafa is an athlete who participated in a variety of sports before discovering lacrosse. He played football, wrestled, and was a fine baseball player in the tradition of his father first baseman Cesare Caiafa, who was a semi-pro ball player with the New York Yankees. "Once the club presents lacrosse to the students they can't help loving the game. The club offers a lot of self gratification as far as appreciation of the whole lacrosse system," said Caiafa.

In the club if you make a mistake on "the field no one will jump on you on your case. You have to realize that the best way to learn the game is by your mistakes. You just have to go out there again and try your best. All we ask is that you work on your talents and potential," said President LoBasso.

"No one is a superstar on this club. It is a bunch of players working together for one goal which is to have fun. If the victories come then that is just the icing on the cake," said LoBasso.

The Lacrosse Club is more than just sports, it is a social club.

WHAT IS A BUDDY?

- The Right Words
- A Good Listener
- A Friendly Buddy
- A Loyal Buddy
- Strength
- Bravery
- Responsibility
- Celebratory

Responsibility:
Everyone has an idea of what the ideal buddy, or friend, would be like. But it actually boils down to just one thing — taking responsibility for each other. That's real friendship.

Please think about it the next time you and your friends are in a drinking situation. Even when you are having a good time, you have the obligation to be responsible for your own behavior, so that you don't endanger or embarrass others. And you have the responsibility to look out for your friends.

It means not getting behind the wheel when you've had too much to drink. Instead, call a friend for assistance in getting home. And never let your friends drive when they've had too much of a good time.

During the next few weeks, Anderson-Blanch will be introducing a new program on your campus called the Buddy System.

A Program For Responsible Drinking From Anderson-Blanch

Powerflex
VAULTULUS
772 Bloomfield Avenue
VERONA
(Near Fairview Avenue)

FALL MEMBERSHIP
"BLITZ"

6 MOS. ONLY $95
1 YEAR ONLY $150

* STARTS-TODAY!! CALL NOW

239-5559
First Month Free For MSC Students
MSC left Upsala flat-footed Friday night at Sprague Field as the Indians won handily 8-1.

By Anna Schivo

The Indians bounced back from a 6-1 defeat in the first game of a doubleheader against Seton Hall University to clinch a 5-3 victory in the second game.

Seton Hall, a NCAA Division I school, took hold of a strong 3-0 lead in the first inning of the first game. Although MSC came up with a run in the third, the effort was futile. The winning pitcher was Seton Hall's Doug Cinnella.

In the first game, Seton Hall "benefited from a lot of bad hop ground balls, both in the infield and the outfield. Danny Olsson pitched will enough to win, but we only got two hits so we really didn't help him much," said Head Coach Kevin Cooney.

In the second game, both teams went scoreless for the first inning. MSC picked up a run in the second. In the third, MSC's Dave Stanislawczyk ripped a two-run triple as the Indians jumped out to a 4-0 lead.

In the sixth, MSC scored another run and Seton Hall came up with two. Seton Hall's comeback went unrewarded as the Indians came up the victors, 5-3. MSC's Gabe Noto notched the win.

"The second game was a different story. We hit the ball real well and I was pleased all in all. Seton Hall is one of the best Division I schools in the east. We'll be playing schools like Seton Hall and Temple in the spring and I think we will be able to play with any of those schools because we're good," said Coach Cooney.

WPC comes to Sprague Saturday:

Football team falters; beaten by Div. II school

By "The Jet"

After a 43-year wait, American International College came to Sprague Field and upset the Indians 16-6. The first time these two clubs met was in 1941, and the Yellow Jackets came out on top 10-7. The outcome was the same, Saturday as the NCAA Division II visitors from Massachusetts edged MSC and advanced their record to 2-3.

Statistically the Indians and Yellow Jackets were close in many areas, such as first downs and offensive plays run; however, the Yellow Jackets stopped key scoring opportunities by forcing four MSC turnovers.

Paul Flynn, AIC's freshman kicker, opened the scoring in the first quarter, hitting his first three field goals of the night. (He was 3 for 4, missing a 28-yard attempt.) AIC drove 87 yards on 14 plays only to settle for a field goal of 29 yards. MSC had only two possessions in this quarter; both led to punts.

Five seconds in to the second quarter, Flynn got the call again, this time hitting from 44 yards out and the Yellow Jackets led 6-0.

On the Indians' second possession of the quarter, MSC got in field goal range. Joe Perrin missed and the Indians came away empty handed.

An interception by Ray Moore gave MSC the ball on the 28-yard line of AIC. Moore had five solo tackles and two interceptions on the night. Walter Briggs, who threw for 184 yards, keyed the offense to a score in seven plays. The drive was capped off by Pat Luzzi, who broke through the middle from the one. Perrin's kick failed, leaving the score knotted at 6-6 with 3:16 left in the half.

AIC's offense came to life. They marched 70 yards for another Flynn field goal, hitting 8-6 with 2:31 left. After an AIC kickoff deep in Indian territory, Briggs was picked off by an AIC defensive back who ran in from 5 yard out for another score. This sealed the game at 16-6.

The Indians offense just couldn't get on track Saturday evening. Three key players from the offensive unit were missing from action and could have had an impact in the game. They were Tony Sweet (knee injury), Bryan Scipo (ankle injury) and Jeff Vierning (knee injury). The team played well, holding a strong AIC offense to six points for three quarters, but defense alone can't win a game.

Hopefully, the Indians will rebound from this defeat and be able to get back on track Saturday, when arch-rival William Paterson will enter the Indians' domain. The Indians (3-2) will need a victory to keep them on top of the NJAC conference. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. at Sprague Field.

Booters romp:

MSC walked over Upsala 8-1 Friday

By Susan Resnick

Although the game was now out of reach for Upsala, this didn't stop the Indians. Ioannou proceeded to score three goals to make the final score 8-1.

Sophomore goalkeeper Mike Fierstein played an exceedingly good game. Upsala only scored one goal in their 15 attempts to score. Fierstein, along with freshman goalkeeper Lonnie Peterson, who came in later in the game, performed with great style.

After an electrifying victory over Upsala, the Indians are now 3-3-2. You can catch the next home game Monday at 8 p.m. against Drew University.

Soccer Statistician Needed

The athletic department is in need of a soccer statistician. The student must qualify for the financial aid work study program, no experience necessary. If interested contact Donna Olsin at 893-5251.

Football Statistician Needed

The athletic department is in need of a football statistician. The student must qualify for the financial aid work study program, no experience necessary. If interested contact Donna Olsin at 893-5251.

Calendar

Tues. MSC defeated Monmouth
Sat. MSC defeated Trenton
Sat. American Int'l 16 - MSC 6
Tues. at Kean 3:30 p.m.
Sat. at Manhattanville 2 p.m.
Men's Cross Country
Rider (H) 3 p.m.
Football
Soccer
Mon. vs. Glassboro State/Scipio (H) 8 p.m.
Soccer
Women's Tennis
Sat. Trenton 9 - MSC 0
Women's Tennis
Sat. E.S.S.U. 11 a.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. at Glassboro 3:30 p.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. vs. Southern Conn. State (H) (TBA)
Women's Tennis
Sat. at Manhattanville 2 p.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. at Kean 3:30 p.m.

Women's Tennis
Sat. Trenton 9 - MSC 0
Women's Tennis
Sat. E.S.S.U. 11 a.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. at Glassboro 3:30 p.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. vs. Southern Conn. State (H) (TBA)
Women's Tennis
Sat. at Manhattanville 2 p.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. at Kean 3:30 p.m.

Week in Review

Football
Sat. American Int'l 16 - MSC 6
Soccer
Fri. MSC 8 - Upsala 1
Wed. Kean 5 - MSC 2
Men's Cross Country
Sat. MSC defeated Trenton
Tues. MSC defeated Monmouth

Sports Calendar

Football
Sat. vs. William Paterson. (H) 8 p.m.
Men's Cross Country
Thurs. at Monmouth 3:30 p.m.
Sat. State Championship 12 p.m.
Wed. vs. Rider (H) 3 p.m.

Women's Field Hockey
Thurs. vs. Southern Conn. State (H) (TBA)
Sat. at Manhattanville 2 p.m.
Tues. at Kean 3:30 p.m.

Women's Tennis
Sat. E.S.S.U. 11 a.m.
Women's Tennis
Tues. at Glassboro 3:30 p.m.

Women's Cross Country
Sat. NJCAA
Tues. vs. Glassboro State/ Jersey City State. (H) 3:30 p.m.

Soccer
Mon. vs. Drew (H) 8 p.m.