MSC crime rate high among New Jersey colleges

By Mary Ellen MacIsaac

For the past three years, MSC's crime rate has remained the second highest among the thirteen schools listed in the University and College Offense Data (UCOD). The college continues to head the list in car thefts as well.

In '81, '82 and '83, MSC's total number of crimes was 301, 321 and 270 respectively, compared to Rutgers University in New Brunswick with high crime totals of 694 in 1981, 830 in '82 and 668 in '83.

Glassboro State had the third highest crime rate in '81 with a total of 290. However, in 1982 and '83 Trenton State was third highest with a total crime index of 277 and 231 respectively.

In '81, Rutgers Camden had the lowest total crime rate with an index of 117. Rutgers Newark's total crime was the lowest for 1982 with an index of 129, and also for '83 with a total crime index of 277 and 231 respectively.

For the past three years, MSC's total car thefts was 21, 16 and 18 respectively, compared to Rutgers

By Ginny Rossi

Nearly 70 percent of the 18 to 24-year-olds voting in Tuesday's election supported "four more years" of President Ronald Reagan, according to ABC News. Reagan won by a landslide, capturing 49 of the 50 states and setting a record for a U.S. presidential victory.

Robert Stewart, representative of the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group, said increased registration of 18 to 24-year-olds is due to the first get-out-the-vote effort initiated by national student organizations.

Explaining why he thought this group backed Reagan so strongly, Bingaman said, "People tend to think of students as a cultural entity in and of themselves. College is often perceived as a vacuum away from society. The results of the election, however, are a reflection of what's going on in the rest of society."

In addition, Bingaman said the Republican Party spent considerable time and money campaigning on the college level. "The Democrats put very little resources into this effort and were out-organized by the Republican Party."

See Students for Reagan, p. 7

President Ronald Reagan shows his approval of America's political tastes.
Players presents

& A Little Night Music &

music & lyrics by Stephen Sondheim  book by Hugh Wheeler

suggested by a film, Ingmar Bergman

originally produced & directed on Broadway by Hal Prince directed by Kenneth Garner choreographed by Melanie Clements-Behm

musical director Thomas R. Martin scenery & lighting by Lawrence Nussbaum

Memorial Auditorium Montclair State College

November 7, 8, 9, 10 8:30 pm

Matinee November 9 2:15 pm

Reservations 746-9120

a class 'J' organization of the S.G.A.
Nicaragua is not a Communist country, according to Drs. Joanne Engelbert, George Martin, and Richard Franke, all MScProfessors who visited the Latin American nation during the past. Speaking at a lecture in Ruas Hall last week, the three said some of what the American public believes about Nicaragua is false.

Expanding on these falsehoods, Dr. George Martin of the sociology department said, "Although the United States government and the media portray Nicaragua as a Marxist-Leninist subversive power, the truth is that Nicaragua is really an evolving democracy." Martin cited many examples to support his delegation.

"There is no doubt that the Sandinist government is striving for democracy," said Martin. "The Sandinists permit the Left and Right parties to exist, tolerate the presence of an opposition press, sanction open elections, and maintain a 60 percent capitalist economy. They have openly appropriated the vast lands formerly owned by ousted dictator Anastasion Somoza to the public for private use.

Martin also said that the Sandinista government is a regime independent from the Soviet Union. "Managua is so far politically removed from Moscow that the Soviet Union refuses to sign a friendship treaty with the Sandinists and the Soviet Union will not send arms and material to Nicaragua."

Martin pointed out that the Sandinista regime is a popular government supported wholeheartedly by the common people. He said, "With three-quarters of the Nicaraguan population carrying automatic weapons around regularly, the public could force the Sandinistas out of power if they truly didn't like them."

Touching upon the origin of the Sandinistas, Dr. Richard Franke of the anthropology department said, "When the revolution started their rise to power in 1977 when a two-year-long popular revolution began. The cause of the revolution was widespread public discontent with the corrupt Somoza regime. Specifically, the former dictator Anastasion Somoza said disaster aid which was intended for the victims of Nicaragua's 1972 earthquake at exorbitant prices. The U.S. government, which had backed this autocracy for decades, let Somoza get away with it—but the people of Nicaragua didn't."

Franke also referred to the atrocities that the U.S. is committing at present. He said, "The contras, which the U.S. supported, are not the glorious freedom fighters that we think they are; instead, the 15,000 contras are mercenaries who are paid $60 million to fight against Nicaragua. What's more is that these contras almost never attack military targets. Instead, they kill and massacre civilians and destroy non-military targets. So far, the contras have murdered 7,000 innocent civilians and ravaged over $250 million worth of property!"

Referring to the country's cultural life, Dr. Joanne Engelbert of the Spanish department stressed that the Sandinistas have done much to enrich the formerly decadent culture of Nicaragua.

"Contrary to what everyone thinks, Nicaragua is teeming with innovation," Engelbert said. "The Sandinist government has sponsored poetry, literature, art, and even theatrical workshops for beginners. The goal of these workshops is to develop personal creativity and to stimulate the mind. Also, the Sandinistas hope they will create a sense of national unity and pride."

Engelbert said Nicaragua's cultural programs are far more extensive than those here in America. "The workshops are very prevalent; people from all walks of life, including post-pensioners and policemen, regularly take part in these activities, and the work accomplished by everyone is customarily issued in weekly literary magazines."

Engelbert also talked about the true nature of the Sandinista populace. "The Nicaraguans welcome us; they are not anti-American at all. Again, it's the delusion created by a biased U.S. government and media that causes us to think the citizens of Nicaragua are against us."

Including, the professors emphasized that the U.S. government's campaign against Nicaragua is pointless.

---

Student claims 'wild' dogs in area are harmless

By Michelle LaLumia

Stories about a pack of wild dogs threatening Montclair residents have been greatly exaggerated, according to a former employee of the Pound Animal Welfare Society (PAWS).

Ron Berreman, who served as a PAWS animal control officer from February to October of this year but left to pursue some other job, refuted accounts in local newspapers and TV news about stray dogs in the area are causes for alarm.

"The stories originated early in August, when Mrs. Muriel Windolf, a Lloyd Road resident, reported that wild dogs had killed two of her cats near Eagle Rock Reservation. When Berreman received this report from Montclair police, he dispatched a new emergency night call PAWS officer, Patrick Abdich. According to Berreman, Abdich told the woman he had heard that a pack of wild dogs kill and drag two deer down from the reservation. Windolf included this information in her report to Berreman, who has been making repeated phone calls to PAWS.

Prior to the printing of the two articles and the television broadcast, Berreman sent a letter to The Montclair Chief of Police containing what he believes is an accurate account of the dog story. He also made a recommendation to the PAWS board of directors to inform The Montclair Times that the deer story is false. The board did not get back to the newspaper until Nov. 5. The Berreman account will appear in a letter to the editor in today's edition of that paper.

Last month's articles in The Montclair Times and The Star-Ledger further elaborated on allegations made by local residents.

Cook family. They said that two wild dogs jumped their five foot fence, but were held off by their golden retriever while the family ran inside. According to Berreman, "If these were big wild dogs after the people, I don't think one dog could ward them off."

When Berreman patrolled the area early in August, he did see a group of nine dogs, but they did not act viciously. "I followed them around for over half an hour up and down Lloyd Road and tried to catch them with leashes, but they avoided me. They seemed wary of people, but not vicious,” Berreman also said that some had collars, indicating that pets may have joined the strays.

After the third week of September, the dogs apparently disappeared; however, a week later a group was reported seen in the Rosedale Cemetery. Berreman investigated and spotted the same dogs from the reservation which had travelled across town. "Some of the dogs also had collars and none acted violently when I approached them," he said.

Berreman trapped two of the dogs in the cemetary on Orange Road by the West Orange border, using human box traps with spring doors. This disturbed the group.

PAWS has also set two traps in the Eagle Rock Reservation, but, so far, only raccoons and squirrels have been caught.

Though it has been difficult to catch the dogs using leashes and traps, PAWS cannot do much else except make daily patrols and try to leash them. "PAWS can't use tranquilizer guns because, depending on the dog's size and metabolism, we could kill one of them. But the worst we can do is make the dogs run when we approach them—we have to be careful," Berreman said.

According to Jean DeFalco, the current manager of the PAWS animal control board, all the recent calls have been regarding stray dogs, which were subsequently returned to their owners. Windolf is the only resident who has been making repeated phone calls and each time that PAWS responds, they find no wild dogs.

Mary Ann Dietz, a MSc student who works part-time at the shelter, said, "The stories have been blown out of proportion."

The only solution is the possibility of dogs picking up communicative diseases from the strays. "But, we're not worried about rabies," Berreman said. "There hasn't been an incidence of rables reported in this area for forty years."

If students or others living in the Montclair area see any dangerous-looking stray dogs, call 746-5212, and PAWS will immediately respond. According to Berreman, "Other than exercising caution around stray animals, we don't think there's any reason for people to panic."

---

NEWS NOTE

Committee sponsors teaching workshops

The Faculty Committee on Teaching is sponsoring two workshops. The first, entitled "The Well-made Lecture: From Paper to Presentation," will be held Wed., Nov. 14, from 2-4 p.m. in the Purple Lounge on the fourth floor of the Student Center. The second, "Leading a Discussion: Motivate and Stimulate" will be held in Room 419 of the Student Center on Mon., Dec. 13, from 4-6 p.m. Coffee, tea and snacks will be served.

---
CLASS 1 CONCERTS

present

An Evening Of Jazz With . . .

BILL BRUFORD and
PATRICK MORAZ

Sunday Night, Nov 11
Student Center Ballrooms
Limited Seating Available
CALL 893-4478 for info and
RESERVATIONS!!!

*ON SALE ALL WEEK
BEGINNING WED NOV 7TH
ALL DAY AND EVENING, AND
THE EVENING OF THE SHOW*

C1C IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Mischief Night vandals play “tricks” on campus

By MaryEllen Maclsaac

Several incidents of vandalism took place on campus last week. On Wed., Oct. 30, vandals turned over benches outside College Hall, and decorated the trees around the mall with toilet paper. Garbage cans were thrown on top of the roof of Life Hall, and sheets of plastic were stretched between several trees. Sometime between Tues., Oct. 30, at 11 a.m. and Wed., Oct. 31 at 1 a.m., a ’77 Datsun, worth $5,800, was stolen from Lot 13. On Thurs., Nov. 1, the car was found without its four tires in Woodbridge.

In Lot 2B, sometime between 10:30 p.m. on Nov. 1 and 1 p.m. Nov. 2, someone entered a ’77 Toyota and stole the speakers, tape player and a wallet. The total value of the items is $460.

For the second time this semester, the equatorial sundial was wrenched from its base outside College Hall on Wed., Oct. 31. The sundial is worth $125 and there are no suspects in the theft.

On Fri., Nov. 2, $107 was taken from an office desk in Life Hall. The exact time of the incident is unknown.

On Sat., Nov. 3, vandals smashed the glass of one of the office doors in College Hall. The cost of the damage is unknown.

On Thur., Nov. 1 at 11:15 p.m., an angry male punched the glass of the door near the Pilgrim Bank in the Student Center. The male suffered a cut in his arm and was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Two bomb threats were made last week. On Wed., Oct. 31 at 10:30 p.m., someone called campus police saying there was a bomb in the Cove Road apartments. On Sat., Nov. 3, at 5:15 p.m., a caller said a bomb was hidden somewhere in Freeman Hall. In both cases, the buildings were evacuated and no bombs were found.
6. The Montclarion/Thurs., Nov. 8, 1984

WELCOME MONTCLAIR STATE STUDENTS TO

ROSEMAYR

(Featuring Inside)

WEEKEND TAIL GATE PARTIES
ENJOY PRO AND COLLEGE FOOTBALL ON OUR 3 TV'S - ESPN - MSC
SAT.-SUN.-MON.
MUG 'O BEER 50¢
SAT.-SUN.-MON.-THURS. GAMES
KITCHEN WILL FEATURE OUR DELICIOUS ½ LB. HAMB. & EXTRA LONG HOTDOGS
RAIN OR SHINE — YOU WILL HAVE A GOOD TIME — OUR GAME ROOM HAS OLD FASHION SHUFFLE BOARD - POOL TABLE TAPPER VIDEO BY BUD — USA VS. USSR HOCKEY FOR HOCKEY FANS WE NOW HAVE SPORTS CHANNEL

779-9578  773-1847
KITCHEN UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT
OPEN DAILY 11:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. & 7:30 p.m.-10:00 p.m.-11:30 p.m.
Short Lunch? Call, we'll get it ready.
½ mile from Rt. 3 (Bloomfield Ave. changes to Broadway) to corner of Brook & Broadway, Clifton borderline.

OPEN DAILY 11 A.M. - 2:45 A.M. - PARKING IN REAR

OFFICIAL “I.D.” CARD REQUIRED.
SAT., SUN., MON., NOV., Specials Including MONTCLAIR STATE STUDENTS AT THE ROSEMAYR PUB...

LADIES - BAR DRINKS - APPLE PIES - WINE $1.00
LARGE MUG OF PABST 50¢ SHOT KAMIKAZE 50¢
WERE ONLY DOWN THE ROAD A SPELL

A 24 HOUR DANCE-A-THON FOR MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY!
THE PLACE TO BE:
DATE: November 30th
PLACE: Blanton Atrium
TIME: 10 PM Fri to 10 PM Sat

GRAND PRIZE
trip to Walt Disney World for two; or a Panasonic home computer!!! AND HELP FIGHT MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY:
DANCE APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE AT THE BLANTON HALL DESK EXT. 5442 or 5448
WE NEED YOUR HIGH ENERGY!

$5 DEPOSIT DUE BY NOV. 16TH to hold your spot on the dance floor
Minority Career Conference scheduled for Nov. 14

By Janine S. Myatt

Minorities entering the working world are faced with the same difficulties as the majority population, plus more. Not only do minority candidates have to prove their competence and perform well above standards to be successful, but they also have to cultivate the correct contacts and be familiar with and adapt to corporate culture and politics.

To aid in this process, MSC's second annual "Pushing Ahead: A Minority Career Conference" will be held on Wed., Nov. 14, from 2 to 9 p.m. in the Student Center Ballrooms. The conference will consist of workshops led by minority professionals, and will address some of the special concerns and issues that may be faced by minority individuals as they enter the corporate world.

In addition, representatives from 25 major corporations in industries such as retailing, banking, insurance, and pharmaceuticals will be available to answer questions concerning career options and will accept resumes for potential job openings.

There will be two workshops presented. The first is "Selling Out...: an afternoon colloquium for faculty concerning the speaker's present research, and an evening lecture open to the entire campus community.

The series will begin tonight at 8 p.m. in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall with a City in Contemporary American Literature." Other lectures in the series will cover such topics as biblical study, linguistics, and literary criticism.

According to philosophy and religion professor Dr. Thomas Bridges, who organized the series, "The aim of the program is to bring distinguished speakers to MSC, but beyond that, to show the strength of studies and research in the humanities and social sciences."

The afternoon discussions will take place during the regularly scheduled School of Humanities and Social Sciences Research Colloquium, but are open only to MSC faculty and invited students. "The colloquium will hopefully tie in with current research being done at MSC," Bridges said.

Although most of the evening lectures will be based on previously published research, some will relate to the speaker's present work. For instance, Ann Douglas, professor of English and comparative literature at Columbia University, will speak on the interpretation of contemporary mass horror fiction in both of her presentations.

"Humanities can sometimes be buried under the attention given to other schools," Bridges said. "We'd like this program to illustrate the richness of humanistic study, at a college where the humanities are already quite strong."

By Mark Breitinger

Twelve distinguished scholars of humanities will be visiting MSC this year to participate in the "Seminars in the Humanities" lecture series, highlighting significant past and current research in the field.

Funded by a $15,000 grant from the New Jersey Department of Higher Education, each event in the series will consist of two separate presentations: an afternoon colloquium for faculty concerning the speaker's present research, and an evening lecture open to the entire campus community.

The series will begin tonight at 8 p.m. in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall with a lecture by Steven Marcus, George Delacorte professor of humanities at Columbia University, entitled "Reading representations of the literature." Other lectures in the series will cover such topics as biblical study, linguistics, and literary criticism.

According to philosophy and religion professor Dr. Thomas Bridges, who organized the series, "The aim of the program is to bring distinguished speakers to MSC, but beyond that, to show the strength of studies and research in the humanities and social sciences."

The afternoon discussions will take place during the regularly scheduled School of Humanities and Social Sciences Research Colloquium, but are open only to MSC faculty and invited students. "The colloquium will hopefully tie in with current research being done at MSC," Bridges said.

Although most of the evening lectures will be based on previously published research, some will relate to the speaker's present work. For instance, Ann Douglas, professor of English and comparative literature at Columbia University, will speak on the interpretation of contemporary mass horror fiction in both of her presentations.

"Humanities can sometimes be buried under the attention given to other schools," Bridges said. "We'd like this program to illustrate the richness of humanistic study, at a college where the humanities are already quite strong."

Students for Reagan

On the same issue, Stewart said Reagan may have won because he "appeals to the people's sense of confidence not only in their own lives but in the country's state of affairs." At MSC, a poll published in last week's edition of The Montclarion indicated that students supported Reagan over Mondale on the issue of the nation's economy, defense and the federal deficit.

Susan Ryall, an undeclared sophomore, said, "A lot of people voted for Ronald Reagan with out knowing his background and what he has done in the past four years. I'm disappointed that Mondale did not win, and I'm surprised to find that so many people voted for Reagan."
FALASHAS
THE BLACK JEWS
OF ETHIOPIA
The Forgotten People -
VICTIMS OF PERSECUTION AND ANNIHILATION
A FILM SPONSORED BY:
The Jewish Student Union
WHEN: Thurs, Nov. 15, 7:00 PM
WHERE: Cafeteria B - Student Center
○○○○○ PIZZA SERVED ○○○○○
○○○○○ ADMISSION FREE! ○○○○○
JSU IS A CLASS III ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA

WINTER BREAK IN Fort Lauderdale
Friday, January 11th-Sunday, January 20th
$199* per person/4 to a room
*plus skip & damage deposit
* triple, twin, single, efficiencies available
INCLUDES: Deluxe round trip motorcoach transport equipped with restroom and temperature control; necessary taxes, tolls & permits; seven (7) nights accommodations.
ACCOMMODATIONS: RIVIERA HOTEL across A1A from the BEACH and OCEAN in the HEART of the ACTION and EXCITEMENT.
OPTION: Tuesday, January 15th - Walt Disney World,
Unlimited Passport, Admission and round trip bus, $29 must be paid with final payment. (Grayline charges $49.)
Reservations with payment, only two buses, first paid,
first reserved.
PAYMENT PLAN - $75 deposit (includes Damage & Skip Deposit)
$75 additional due November 9th
Payment in full due December 14th
CONTACT: Margaret Ralph, 3A15 Blanton Hall
(between 6 & 11 pm Monday-Friday)
783-2411
Agent for Community Coach, Inc.

THE MONTCLARION
New Jersey's Leading Collegiate Weekly
JOIN THE STAFF!
We need Writers, and Photographers
for
News, Arts, and Sports
Stop by the Montclarion Office
in room 113 of the Student Center Annex
anytime
As of the end of Oct. '84, MSC's total number of car thefts is 23, which is the lowest figure of the past three years. However, it still remains the highest among these schools listed in this offense data book.

Explaining this constant high rate, Jayne T. Rich, chief of the campus police, said, "This is an open campus, which means it's easily accessible to everyone. Due to the budget crunch, we have a low number of staff, and so we can't patrol everywhere on campus. We need people to be our eyes and ears by reporting everything suspicious. If people don't report the crimes, we can't help them."

In addition, Rich said, "More cars are parked in Lot 22, thus enabling thieves to hide in between the cars while they break into vehicles. It is best if students avoid this lot as much as possible."

Although car thefts remain high, there has been a decrease in the amount of personal property left in parked autos. Rich said, however, that "tape decks and CB's are still vulnerable to both the professional and amateur thief." According to an article in a Dec. '79 issue of U.S. News and World Report, a convicted car thief said no American car is theft-proof and that he could steal most models in less than 90 seconds.

Although car thefts remain a big problem on the MSC campus, larceny thefts are committed more often than any other crime on all the college campuses listed in the UCOD.

MSC had the third highest rate of larceny in '83 with 185 incidents, behind Rutgers New Brunswick with 597, and Trenton with 185. So far this year, exceeding last year's figure of 162.

Larceny is defined as "the non-violent crime of stealing another's money or other personal property." Thus, it takes into account such crimes as pick-pocketing and shoplifting, which are more likely to occur than burglary and auto theft. According to Rich, the primary reason for this high rate is that, "people don't take care of their property."

"Dorm residents believe that because a security officer is at the front desk, they can leave their rooms unlocked. Students are constantly leaving their books, clothing, purses, and other items unattended in classrooms. Then they are surprised when one of their belongings is missing," Rich said.

Agreeing with Rich's statement, Hotaling said, "People who are careless with their property more or less invite crime." Statistics show the number of burglaries committed over the past three years is lower than larceny incidents, but the act of breaking and entering is still a problem. In '81, Glassboro had the highest rate of burglaries with a total of 56; Rutgers New Brunswick had the next highest with 53, and MSC had the third highest with a total of 50. MSC had the highest rate in '82, with a total of 93 and Rutgers New Brunswick second with 71. In 1983, Stockton had 79 burglaries, and MSC came in second with a total of 63. As of Oct. 1984 MSC has a total of 41 burglaries, which is 22 less than last year.

A spokesperson from the state police said that thefts can be prevented. "If residents securely bolt their windows and doors at night or when they leave their rooms or apartments, it would help to keep their property safe. Residents also shouldn't hand out duplicate keys to friends because this practice just increases the chance of the keys falling into unfriendly hands," he said.

According to these authorities, public awareness is a key to stopping crime. Due to a low number of campus police, Rich urges students to report crimes. "I would much rather have students call in a suspicious incident and be wrong nine times than miss one actual crime that should have been reported," she said.

To help people understand how to protect themselves against crime, Rich would like to hire a full-time crime prevention officer, but might not be able to due to a tight budget. "This officer would give self-defense lectures and tips on keeping property safe," she said.

The spokesperson from the state police said crime in New Jersey has declined over the past three years and part of it is due to public awareness programs. "These programs, such as Neighborhood Watch and Community Awareness, are the result of a greater willingness on the part of the public to reduce and report crime," he said. "Even the reporting of suspicious acts is paying off with arrests."

As there is a decrease in crime in New Jersey, there is also a decline in the total crime index for college campuses in the state. The overall total crime index of the six state colleges and the three Rutgers schools for 1981 was 2,596. This figure decreased slightly in '82 to 2,558 and dropped further to 2,168 in '83.

According to Hotaling, MSC may soon have a higher crime rate than when he entered the force in 1972, but this may be due, in part, to more students. Both Hotaling and Rich stress the importance of informing the campus police about criminal incidents saying this is a victim's most logical course of action. The emergency number for the campus police is 893-4111.
A necessary decision

Last week, The Montclarion’s sports editor, John Connolly, wrote a column entitled, “A game with no winners.” Since then there has been much talk about the topic: tailgating at MSC home football games.

This situation has drawn the attention of students, the student government and the administration. Reactions are mixed. The administration is not happy with the problem, as shown by Dr. Edward Martin’s letter in this week’s Montclarion.

Things will be different this weekend at the game. The administration has said that they will be enforcing the college’s alcohol policy. What they mean is campus police might be arresting people for drinking while tailgating. If you intend to drink this Saturday night, prepare to be held responsible for your actions.

Some students have complained that there is no social life here at MSC. They say the football games have been the best thing to happen to MSC’s social life in a long time. Yes, the football games are fun, but people don’t have to drink to enjoy them. Drinking and driving is too great a risk to take. Perhaps next season the Rat should remain open on Saturday nights when there is a home game; this would at least solve some of the litter problems. Part of the litter problem is also apparently due to a lack of garbage cans—a situation the administration can easily remedy.

And if the social life is so bad here at MSC, do something about it. Talk to the Class I Organizations, try to get programming on the weekends, and then attend these activities.

The Montclarion stands behind our sports editor and we are glad his column brought this situation to light for the students at large. This may not be the administration’s most popular decision in recent times, but it is necessary.

This is the age of the journalist, more than the age of the artist, the teacher, the pastor. It is the age of “non-fiction” because imagination cannot keep up with the fantastic daily realities. —Eric Severid
Enforcement of alcohol policies to become norm at campus events

To the editor:

Mr. John Connolly’s article in the Nov. 1, 1984, issue of The Montclarion illustrates a dilemma faced by all members of our college community. Clearly, we all wish our extra curricular events to be well attended and certainly there is no wish to impinge unreasonably on the freedoms of students, Alumni, or friends of the college. Nonetheless, it must be understood that the college prohibits the possession and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages everywhere on campus except in Clove Rd. Apts., licensed Student Center areas, or at special events for which an Alcoholic Beverages Commission Special Permit has been obtained. Therefore, those who violate the policy must face the consequences.

Student leaders and campus police all agree that some consumption is taking place, as Connolly reports, but all concerned indicate that much smaller numbers participate than the possible 3,500 hinted at in Connolly’s Corner.

The numbers should not, however, blur the important aspects of the report. The consumption of alcoholic beverages cannot be overlooked: no one should drink and then drive, and we should not wait for a tragedy to strike before acting.

Let me, as Dean of Students, request that all members of the college community respect our alcohol policies, since they are intended to protect us all. Please be forewarned that enforcement of the college regulations about possession/consumption will be observed particularly at the Glassboro game this Saturday and at all future events, for the safety of all concerned.

Dr. Edward C. Martin
Dean of Students

Connolly’s Corner is congratulated

To the editor:

Kudos to John Connolly for expressing his concern regarding tailgate drinking (“The Montclarion, Nov. 1”) I concur with his apprehension. Tailgate partying should not be eliminated, but the excessive drinking and littering are uncalled-for.

Mary Berlingeri
Senior/English

Letter Policy: Letters to the editor must be type-written and double-spaced. The deadline for letters is 3 p.m. Monday before Thursday publication. Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Letters must include student’s year, major and social security number in order to be printed. The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all letters for reasons of style and brevity.

Students Speak

By Leslie Corona

Photos by Chris Garcia

Regardless of the outcome, what do you think has been the most significant aspect of this year’s presidential campaign?

“I don’t think what Reagan had to say about the abortion issue was very good. Mondale made a lot of sense throughout the campaign. I don’t think Reagan helped us at all. He cut funds for welfare recipients and to schools also; he raised taxes for the poor, and helped the rich by giving them tax breaks.”

Nancy Mosiha
Freshman/word processing

“The most important aspect was the split on the tax issue. Reagan said he would not raise taxes, and Mondale said he would raise them in order to bring down the deficit. They were both very clear on that issue.”

Bob Daly
Senior/physics

“I think the vice-presidential candidacy of a woman was very significant. Geraldine Ferraro’s participation in this campaign has inspired other young women to pursue careers in politics, or at least to vote.”

Linda Mercurio
Sophomore/political science

“Mostly the publicity of the campaign. The extensive use of advertising and how they portrayed the political commercials was more polished and professional than ever before. I am sure they spent more money on television advertising than ever. Also, Jesse Jackson had a strong impact because he got a lot of people interested and registered to vote.”

Harold Clark
Junior/industrial studies

Sight pollution on MSC’s campus

To the editor:

This is in response to the letter in last week’s Montclarion, submitted by the members of TKE, MSC’s newest fraternity. Stating that their chartering was intentionally not mentioned in The Montclarion’s SGA news of Oct. 11, reeks of paranoia.

In their letter, TKE praises the merits of their fraternity and the benefits they bring to MSC. Granted some fraternities here at MSC are good and worthwhile organizations which are a credit to the SGA and MSC.

APO is one such fraternity. They are a service-oriented fraternity that serves the campus well. If only more organizations would follow their lead. The problem I see with other fraternities, including TKE, is after I read all about the good things they do for MSC, I am confronted by TKE graffiti painted on a rock between Math Science and Finley Hall. When I see this, I have to stop and wonder. I'm not saying that this type of behavior is limited to the members of TKE; there are many other fraternity names that deface this campus, painted on rocks, sidewalks and even dorms.

It is this type of action which discredits these organizations in my eyes. If these fraternities wanted to show their genuine care for MSC they would initiate a campaign to clean up the graffiti and strike such future acts from their rushing and hazing activities.

If the fraternities do not clean up the “sight pollution” they have created, perhaps the administration should bill their organizations for the costs of a clean up.

Name withheld upon request

TKE is not alone in rendering services

To the editor:

In answer to TKE’s question in the 11/1/84 issue of The Montclarion; yes, there are other organizations who participate in philanthropic events.

To name just four, there are Alpha Phi Omega, Eta K, the Jewish Student Union and the Newman Community. None of these are funded by the SGA.

Sorry about TKE’s lack of notariety, but in service, spirit and philanthropy, you are not alone.

Father Art Humphrey
Catholic Chaplain at MSC
Attention
— Portraits, posters, signs, charts done cheap. Contact Doug at 471-1791.
— For All typing, creative writing, call ASTERISK at services. Call Beverly Wardell, 471-1791, after 5 p.m.
— Typing services. Call Beverly Wardell, 365-1892, after 5 p.m.
— The English Club is now accepting submissions for the Memorial prizes in the Humanities contest. Submit poetry, prose or film essay to G-408 or Quarterly submission box Room 113A Student Center Annex marked "Attn: L. Robb" by Nov. 16. Cash awards given 12-4 at X-mas party.
— All social fraternities, Inter-fraternity council is being started. Need to know your whereabouts. Please get in touch with Rob at 783-2438.
— Fun, friends, food and fancy footwork on Nov. 30th at Superdance '84. $5 deposit due by Nov. 16th 1984. Student Center lobby or call ext. 5448 or 5442.
— Joe Carusu, actor and MSC student, is starring in "The New Jersey Comedy Shop," a weekly cable television comedy series on the CTN network 10 p.m. Saturday nights.

For Sale
— '80 Honda Civic. Exc. cond., am/fm, red. Asking $4200. Please call 783-2037.
— 1981 Yamaha 650 Special. 5,700 miles, just tuned, exc. cond. $1,200 or best offer. Call 438-2546 or 460-1435. Ask for Jay.
— Is it true you can buy jeeps for $44 through the U.S. government? Get the facts today! Call 1-312-742-1142 ext. 6181.

Lost/Found
— Lost: 1 ninja and Clint Eastwood's double. If found put on the number 3 train in New York to La-la land.
— Lost: One tacky tourist. Last seen in the Rat on Oct. 31st. May be armed and dangerous. Shoot on sight. Clint E. and Bruce L.

READINGS by DOROTHY
With this ad half price for the Holidays. Palm, Tarot Cards, E.S.P. — Open 7 Days a week. 1219 Washington Street, 792-5849. Past, Present & Future, Advice on LOVE, Business & Marriage. Guaranteed to help you solve your problems.

PART TIME
POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Work for one of New Jersey's largest financial institutions while still in school. Learn more about our insurance operations.

16-20 Hours a week day or evening, we can accommodate your schedule. Extra hours available during school breaks. $3.60 an hour. Basic oral communication skills and light typing skills necessary. Knowledge of medical terminology helpful. Call Nancy at 994-8306 to schedule an appointment.

Prudential
Equal Opportunity Employer

56 N. Livingston Ave, Roseland NJ 07068

SPRING BREAK
Help us sponsor your Ft. Lauderdale trip and you go for free!

LUV Furnishings
(800) 368-2006 TOLL FREE

WATERBED
INCLUDES MATTRESS LINER, HEATER, FRAME PEDESTAL

REG. $299.99
$179.00

WATERBED WAREHOUSE
1200 ROUTE 46, PARSIPPANY, NEW JERSEY 07054
335-4949

Lowenbrau. Here's to good friends.

Good friends keep you going when all you want to do is stop.

Your feet hurt. Your legs hurt. Even your teeth hurt. But your friends thought you looked terrific. And with them urging you on, your first 10 kilometer race didn't finish you. You finished it.

Now that you have something to celebrate, make sure your support team has the beer it deserves. Tonight, let it be Lowenbrau.
AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE
ARE YOU CONFUSED BY THE NEW LAW?

We'll Help You Find The Best Set Of Options
TO LOWER YOUR PREMIUM

- No charges for drunk driving or moving violations
- Many discounts available if applicable
- Good student discount

U.S. Argen Agency
119 S. State St., Hackensack, NJ 07601
201-342-8958

WORK FOR THE FASTEST
GROWING AIRLINE
IN THE INDUSTRY.

PEOPLEexpress is coming to campus in search of
RESERVATIONS SALES ASSOCIATES

FRESHMEN...SOPHOMORES...JUNIORS...
SENIORS...GRAD STUDENTS

START NOW AS A RESERVATIONS SALES ASSOCIATE. You'll be the first point of contact between PEOPLEexpress and our customers, providing accurate scheduling and price information—and selling seats for PEOPLEexpress flights. You'll be based at NEWARK INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT and you will have a flexible work schedule that fits in with your classes.

THE JOB OFFERS ALL THIS:

- $5.00 an hour to start— with regularly scheduled raises
- FREE TRAVEL PRIVILEGES ON PEOPLEexpress (Not only for you but spouses, too, after 30 days of employment)
- FREE PARKING AT THE AIRPORT

THE MINIMUM AND MAXIMUM HOURS YOU MAY WORK ARE:

- Minimum of 4 hours per day
- Minimum of 20 hours per week
- Maximum of 40 hours per week

TO QUALIFY, you must have a GPA of 2.5 or better, be currently enrolled, be articulate—and have a mature attitude and business-like appearance. Previous work experience is a must.

PRESENTATIONS AND INTERVIEWS will be held on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1984 at 11:00 AM and 1:00 PM in room 117 of the Student Center. PLEASE BRING A CURRENT TRANSCRIPT AND A PROFESSOR RECOMMENDATION WITH YOU TO THE INTERVIEW. For further information, contact your Placement Office.

Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

MCAT-DAT

- Professional classroom instruction
- Specialist instructors - Biology, Chemistry, Physics
- Study binder sent immediately after registration
- Call today for registration info

Call TOLL FREE 1-800-345-3033

SKI the ALPS!!!

Courchevel, France
World's Largest
Ski Area

CHRISTMAS BREAK '84
Departs: N.Y., Boston: $1019

INCLUDES EVERYTHING:

- All Lift Tickets, good for 170 lifts
- One day and night in GENEVA, SWITZERLAND.
- 8 nights lodging, breakfast & dinner, double occupancy, private bath
- Round trip airfare VIA AIR FRANCE
- FREE Guided powder skiing

Call For Reservations and Information:
International Collegiate Ski Asn.
1-800-521-6455

The Montclarion/Thurs., Nov. 8, 1984
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Show</th>
<th>Host/Program</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>JAZZ</td>
<td>KEN DEDEIAN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-6</td>
<td>JAZZ</td>
<td>ANDY MCGUIRE</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-9</td>
<td>Football</td>
<td>MSC FOOTBALL</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-8</td>
<td>The Italian Cultural Show</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-9</td>
<td>Motown Mondays</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-1</td>
<td>The Jet Show</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10-12</td>
<td>RICH RAHNEFELD</td>
<td>BOB WILLIAMS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10-12</td>
<td>AUDIE-O DANCE MUSIC</td>
<td>DENNIS QUINN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10-12</td>
<td>TO STEW ROY</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-6</td>
<td>THE OPPOSITION PARTY</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-7</td>
<td>THE OLDIES SHOW</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8</td>
<td>Dance Music</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-9</td>
<td>THE NEWS</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-9</td>
<td>THAT CHRISTIAN GUY WITH MATT JONES</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-9</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-1</td>
<td>ROCKIN' W</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

HOURS:
- SUN: 12:30-Midnight
- MON-FRI: 10:00am-Midnight
- SAT: 8am-Midnight

NEW MUSIC SEVEN

SEVEN

ALWAYS TAKING YOUR REQUESTS

WMSC-FM
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Show</th>
<th>Host(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6 - 7</td>
<td>Radio Free Montclair</td>
<td>Mark Colino</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 - 7</td>
<td>The Top 10 Countdown Bob Williams</td>
<td>Andy McGuire</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7 - 8</td>
<td>Just the Beatles Andy Timm</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7 - 8</td>
<td>The Voice of Broadway Joyce</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8 - 9</td>
<td>The Polka Party Bob &amp; Bill</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9 - 1</td>
<td>The Friday Night House Party with Bob Williams</td>
<td>Rich Rahnefeld</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away, the saga began with....

proudly presented by
The College Life Union Board
in
WIDE-SCREEN CINEMA SCOPE

DOUBLE FEATURE
And then it continued with.......

Monday, November 12th 7:00 PM
Memorial Auditorium
$1.00 W/ID   $1.50 W/OUT

CLUB IS A CLASS 1 ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA

DOUBLE FEATURE
The Thompson treasury: an artist comes full circle

Richard Thompson's music never seems to lose its purity. His sympathetic readings of "Never Again," "Down Where the Drunkards Roll," and "A Heart Needs a Home" are easily equal to the original versions (all sung by Linda), and the bare acoustic treatment they get here calls attention to the simple beauty of his songwriting. Small Town Romance is probably the best acoustic folk music you'll hear on record this year, and is a must for Thompson fans. Non-initiates, however, may find this record too unsophisticated to hold their attention. For them I recommend any of the Richard and Linda Thompson LPs; if they aren't available in local record stores, they can be obtained along with catalogue information from Carthage Records, 611 Broadway, Suite 415, New York, NY 10012. The price by mail is a bit steep, but they're all audiophile-quality pressings and worth every penny. It may be some of the finest music you'll ever hear.

By Mark Breitinger

Richard Thompson's newest five acoustic release, Small Town Romance, marks a homecoming of sorts. Not only does it neatly pull together his recording career thus far (both solo and with ex-wife Linda), but it coincides with the re-issue by Carthage Records of almost the entire Thompson catalogue. Both occasions are cause for celebration.

Since the release of I Want to See the Bright Lights Tonight more than a decade ago, the Thompsons have produced six superb albums—a standard of excellence almost unheard of in the rock world. Their unique blend of traditional English folk, rock 'n roll, and macabre lyrical wit makes them stand out as the best purveyors of British folk rock since the demise of Fairport Convention, of which Richard Thompson was a founding member.

Richard and Linda's first three albums as a duo—Bright Lights, Hokey Pokey and Pour Down Like Silver, are all timeless classics. Highlighted by Richard's exceptional guitar work and vocals, songs like "Down Where the Drunkards Roll," "Night Comes In," and "The Sun Never Shines on the Poor" grab the listener's ear and won't let go. These records never grow old—there's always some nuance of harmony or instrumentation there to refresh and surprise.

Richard's songwriting, a marriage of beautiful melody and morbid obsession, has never been better. In the folk singalong "We Sing Hallelujah," his rough, resonant vocal delivers verses like "A man is like a rusty wheel on a rusty cart/He sings his song, as he rattles along, and then he falls apart." On "The Sun Never Shines on the Poor," one of the pair's best songs, churning acoustic guitars illuminate these lines: "Some of the people are poor in the purse, they don't have the cash at the ready/And some of the people are crippled and lame, they can never stand up true and steady/And some of the people are poor in the head—that's the simplest fools that you see/But most of the people are poor in the heart—that's the worst kind of poor you can be."

The next Thompson effort, First Light, is extremely weak by comparison and contains very few real gems. But its followup, Sunnyvista is a great album for guitar players, highlighting Richard's swirling, eccentric Stratocaster leads on nearly every track.

When Shoot Out the Lights was released in 1982, it was met with overwhelming critical acclaim and finally paved the way for their commercial acceptance in the U.S. Unfortunately, it was made during the breakup of Richard and Linda's marriage—something which, in retrospect, the album makes apparent. "Man in Need" rides a pounding rock beat while drawing a contrast between a man's need to provide and be provided for. The classic Thompson cut "Wall of Death" blends lyrics, music and performance into seamless perfection. The record's most beautiful moments are Linda's ballads. "Walking on the Wire," is a gorgeous chronicle of a troubled relationship, and "Just the Motion," a song where life's difficulties are likened to a storm on the sea: "You're just feeling seasic/You're just feeling weak/Your mind is confused and you can't seem to speak/It's just the motion."

Following the breakup of their marriage, Richard recorded Hand of Kindness, which explores the poignancy of regret while revealing the cathartic possibilities of rock 'n roll. Full-lift rockers like "Tear-Stained Letter" and "The Wrong Heartbeat" are cast next to the bitter sweet "How I Wanted To" and the title track. Hand of Kindness, a marriage of Richard's songwriting, a marriage of excellence almost unheard of in the rock world.

This brings us, finally, to Small Town Romance, a set of fourteen songs recorded during solo performances at New York's Bottom Line and Folk City in 1982. Far from a "greatest hits" collection ("Here's a medley of our greatest hit!" Richard jokes before playing Bright Lights' title track), this LP allows the artist to step outside of the tight arrangements that characterized his work with Linda.

His sympathetic readings of "Never Again," "Down Where the Drunkards Roll," and "A Heart Needs a Home" are easily equal to the original versions (all sung by Linda), and the bare acoustic treatment they get here calls attention to the simple beauty of his songwriting. Small Town Romance is probably the best acoustic folk music you'll hear on record this year, and is a must for Thompson fans.

Non-initiates, however, may find this record too unsophisticated to hold their attention. For them I recommend any of the Richard and Linda Thompson LPs; if they aren't available in local record stores, they can be obtained along with catalogue information from Carthage Records, 611 Broadway, Suite 415, New York, NY 10012. The price by mail is a bit steep, but they're all audiophile-quality pressings and worth every penny. It may be some of the finest music you'll ever hear.

By C.S. Wood

MSC student triumphs in Forensics tournament

By S.C. Wood

Capturing four prizes at a national forensics tournament last week, junior English/Communications Theory major La Vaughn Slaven lead public speaking as the most difficult form of theater, but also the most rewarding," Forensics, a committee of Players, was founded eleven years ago with such ideals of excellence and accomplishment in mind.

La Vaughn Slaven's performance at the Sidney Presser Tournament at NYU exemplifies the quality of MSC's speakers. Competing against teams from Columbia, Fordham, the University of Pennsylvania and many other colleges, MSC's team took 6th place in the competition.

Oral interpretation of literature was among the contests; Slaven won first prize in both the prose and poetry interpretations, in which she discussed the works of Booth Tarkington and Freya Manfred. She also took second place in the SJD (Single Interpretation of Drama) competition and fifth place in the Impromptu event.

The values of winning such events are manifold. While forensics competitions polish up one's speaking skills, they also enhance a resume. Slaven cites a friend who was hired as a lawyer by a competition firm, despite the fact that she had had no computer experience. The importance of good communications skills cannot be overemphasized: effective speakers clarify their ideas and are persuasive because they impart confidence to others.

The satisfaction of one's accomplishments also increases one's poise and self-confidence. In honing one's communication skills, Slaven says, "You learn perfection." Her many trophies and recent awards attest to this gift in speaking. Slaven's coaches, former Forensics members Donna Colantuoni and Donna Recchione, have each won over a hundred prizes in forensics competitions. Hence members of MSC's Forensics can depend on coaching from the experts.

La Vaughn Slaven is proud to belong to Forensics, and speaks of it as an organization with "a rich history of success in forensics competitions."

Those interested in joining Forensics should contact either team president Susanne Begoria or La Vaughn Slaven at the Players Office, Room 118, Student Center Annex.
The Actors Theatre of Louisville, Kentucky.

Regional theater is alive and well at the Actors Theatre

By S.C. Wood

In the wake of Dustin Hoffman's visit to Montclair to promote the Whole Playhouse, regional theatre is receiving much merited attention. Outside of our metropolitan area, theaters across the country are presenting vibrant productions.

The Actors Theatre of Louisville is one of these fine playhouses. Celebrating its twenty-first season with a revival of The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial, the Actors Theatre's production offered a fine range of professional talents. William Verderber, starring as Lt. Barney Greenwald, has had roles in The Exorcist and the delightful convent comedy, Nasty Habits, as well as in many of the major soaps.

This eclectic background has served Verderber well. The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial, a tight, tense courtroom drama, is performed often. Henry Fonda introduced the part of Greenwald in 1954, Verderber more than lived up to this competition in his role, imparting the nervous energy of the military defense lawyer effectively.

The part also encompasses a good deal of wry irony, hence the actor must walk a tightrope between pure bitterness and bitter comedy. Verderber met these demands, embel­lishing the role with his own gestures of angry and nervous impatience.

Christian Kaufman plays Lt. Stephen Maryk, the neurotic defendant who seized control of Capt. Queeg's ship during a severe storm. Maryk's self-conscious jitteriness, his inappropriate use of humour, create the suspense of the play: was Maryk qualified as an officer? Was he justified in his takeover of a naval vessel in wartime?

Kaufman created an unsympathetic character, a fool who triumphed in his action, while Bob Burrus as the wronged Capt. Queeg framed his rebuttal with a gentle paternalism. Beginning his role weakly, Burrus turned out to be a more sympathetic Queeg than even Humphrey Bogart's, because of his very quiet unobtrusiveness. Could Burrus' kindly Queeg be the madman every maniacally accuses of abusing his crewmen through unreasonable tactics and regulations?

Hence Maryk's giddy blabbing is juxtaposed to Queeg's serene calm and Greenwald's itchy anger. In this way, suspense is created through sheer opposition of character.

Whether one knows the ending of this famed play or not, the Actors Theatre has brought together a group of actors who can still make an audience shift in its seats, sending vibrations of laughter or shudders through the theater. One test of fine dramatic acting is the novelty it can bring to familiar productions, especially those like Caine Mutiny, which has already been filmed with major actors in the starring roles.

The theater space itself is a bit cramped, but all the seats are good ones, centered as they are around the stage, in three semicircles. The space of the action is limited on a small stage, but Jeff Hill's warm, comfortable lighting compensates for this defect. Most of the production staff has served a long term of duty for the Actors Theatre, and their competence and experience glows in the fine production of Caine Mutiny. For both actors and staff, regional theater is sheer effort, in which the audience reaps the chief rewards.

A concert scene from the Talking Heads' Stop Making Sense.

The concert is a classic... but the film frankly falters

By James Curran

After reading the advanced publicity, I was disappointed with the film I saw. While its subject was probably the best concert ever filmed, the movie itself falls short of "Best Concert Film."

The shortcomings of the average concert film are probably best exemplified in Paul McCartney's tedious Rock Show; glancing back and forth between pictures of Paul and Linda McCartney while listening to "Wings Over America" is an equal sensory experience. Films of this genre are usually endless closeups of the band members with little concern with what is happening on the stage as a whole.

The concert opens with the stage completely open: harnesses and cat-walks, hidden by curtains and speakers in most concerts, are clearly visible in the back. Then David Byrne walks on stage alone and performs "Psycho Killer" accompanied only by a ghetto blaster and his (wireless electric) acoustic guitar. At the end of the song, bassist Tina Weymouth walks on, and the two perform the next song. The roadies wheel out a riser with a drum kit on it, Chris Frantz appears, and the trio continues.

With the forth song, guitarist Jerry Harrison joins in, and the Heads are complete, but expansion continues. The next few songs introduce curtains and projection screens covering the unsightly backstage, more risers with keyboard players, another guitarist, and three backup singer (basically the remaining members of Weymouth and Frantz's other band, the Tom-Tom Club; they get to perform one of their own songs later as Byrne is changing into the incredibly oversized suit seen in the movie ads).

As the concert progresses, Byrne employs various props, steam machines, slides (projected in the back) and dramatic lighting to produce a show which is closer to performance art than to an ordinary rock concert.

However, there lies the problem with the film of the concert. What director Demme doesn't seem to realize is that in performance art the whole is more important than any individual part, and all the parts are equal (at the end of the show, the roadies who wheeled the risers on come out to take their bows along with the band). When Byrne staged the concert, he obviously intended it to be viewed by a person sitting in the audience.

But Demme uses this "audience-view" of the show very sparingly,

The Montclarion/Thurs., Nov. 8, 1984
TEMPORARY HELP WANTED

* * * * * * * * * *
OVER 100 POSITIONS AVAILABLE
* * * * * * * * * *
Princeton Ski Shops' Giant Stadium Ski Sale
NOV. 11 - NOV. 17
FULL TIME - PART TIME FLEXIBLE SCHEDULES
$ HIGH PAY $

CALL 843-3900

Everything to make your party
A SUCCESS!
Tables, Chairs, Linen, Dance Floors,
China, Glasses, ETC.

ATLAS INC.
TENT RENTALS

Atlas Tent Rentals, Inc. 790-3779

Women's Choice
Reproductive Health Care Professionals
Abortion
Free pregnancy tests
Free counseling
Local or general anesthesia
One Low Fee * Strictly Confidential
Board certified gynecologists

489-2266
10 Zabriskie Street, Hackensack

North Jersey
Women's Health Organization

Gynecological Care
Pregnancy Testing
V.D. Testing
Birth Control Testing
Pregnancy Terminated

ONE LOW FEE * STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL
227-6669
383 Rt. 46 W. Fairfield - Just 3 Mls. W. of Willowbrook
PRIVATE O.B. GYN OFFICE

APO
PRESENTS A ONE HOUR
FREE SEMINAR!!!

* GET BETTER GRADES * CUT STUDY TIME IN HALF
* REMEMBER PEOPLES NAMES
* REMEMBER WHERE YOU PUT YOUR KEYS OR GLASSES

"AN IMPROVED MEMORY"

LEARN THE SECRETS TO DEVELOPING A POWERFUL MEMORY

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8
ROOM 126 STUDENT CENTER
(SAME FLOOR AS BOOK STORE)

TUES. NOV. 6
THURS. NOV. 8
ROOM 126
STUDENT CENTER
(SAME FLOOR AS BOOK STORE)

WED. NOV. 7
ROOM 415
STUDENT CENTER
HOURS EACH DAY
11, 12:30, 2

HOURS
11, 12:30, 2

A.P.O., Inc.. 379 Broadway Kt. • New York, New York 10013 • 212-764-3503
Thursday 11/8
— Workshop: "Retirement and Pre-retirement Planning" Women's Center, 7:30-9:30 p.m. Student Center Room 411. $1 admission. Pre-registration requested.
— Meeting of Authors Network: Political writing discussion. Women's Center, 7:30-9 p.m. Student Center Room 421.
Saturday 11/10
— Workshop: "Assertiveness Training" Women's Center, Student Center Room 411, 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. and Thurs., Nov. 15, 9-10 p.m. $40.00. Pre-registration requested.
— NYC Trio: The Newman Community. Meet at Newman Center. 9:30 a.m.-?

Sunday 11/11
— The Newman Community will celebrate Mass at 11 a.m. in Kops Lounge of Russ Hall and at 7:30 p.m. in the Newman Center. Helping Hands Sunday. All are welcome.

Monday 11/12
— Job Readiness Seminar: For Seniors only, Career Services. Introduction to Recruitment and the Computerized Job Matching System. Student Center Room 411, 2-3 p.m.
— Friendship Supper: The Newman Community, The Newman Center, 5 p.m. Admission price: 'a dollar or a dessert'
— The Newman Community will celebrate Mass at 4:15 p.m. at the Newman Center Chapel.

Tuesday 11/13
— Riding Club Meeting: Lisa's House, 8 p.m. To view video of the show. Call Lisa or Linda if need information.
— Support & Discussion for those in & out of the college community. Gay & Lesbian Alliance (GALA) 7:30-10 p.m. Student Center Annex Room 112. All are welcome.
— HRO General Meeting: Student Center Annex 106, 7:30-10 p.m.
— General Meeting: MSC Riding Team. Student Center Purple Conference Room, 8-9 p.m. We still welcome any new members who would like to ride horses and do many horse activities.

Wednesday 11/14
— Slide Show/Lecture: East Asian Studies, Dr. K. Olenik & Phi Alpha Theta. Kops Lounge Russ Hall, 8 p.m. Speaker: Rev. Ewing W. Carrol, Jr.
— Write & Treat Missionary/Specialist on Chinese Religious Life. For Info: 893-7563.
— Discussion & Lecture: "How Can I Be Me and Get Along With You? Women's Center, Student Center Room 411, 12 noon-1 p.m. Speaker: Dr. Charity Runden, Professor Emeritus, Psychology Dept, MSC.
— Yearbook Staff Meeting: La Campana, Yearbook office, Room 111, Student Center Annex. 3 p.m. All members please attend!
— Fellowship-Sharing Group: The Newman Community; 7-9 p.m. at the Newman Center; All are welcome. 746-2323.
Will Anyone Trade A Springsteen For Your Paul Anka?

Post your ride requests, housing needs, personal messages, protestations of love, music trades, job hopes — anything and everything — on National Campus Classifieds.

When you do, you'll be advertising to the entire American college community, not only the folks at Montclair State College.

It's all part of College Press Service's new nationwide electronic higher education newspaper.

NCC and all the latest college news are available on your computer via CompuServe and NewsNet.

To get your message on NCC, just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office. It's easy and very cheap.

Let The Whole Country Read Your Ad

For just an extra $10, you can let the whole U.S. college community see the same ad you place in The Montclarion.

It'll be on National Campus Classifieds, part of College Press Service's nationwide electronic higher education newspaper.

You can read your message and all the news on your computer via CompuServe or NewsNet.

To place your message on NCC, just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office. $10 per week for a message of 50 words or less.

Need A Ride To Central America?

Post your ride requests, housing needs, personal messages, protestations of love, music trades, job hopes — anything and everything — on National Campus Classifieds.

When you do, you'll be advertising to the entire American college community, not only the folks at Montclair State College.

It's all part of College Press Service's new nationwide electronic higher education newspaper.

NCC and all the latest college news are available on your computer via CompuServe and NewsNet.

To get your message on NCC, just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office. It's easy and very cheap.

$10 per week for a message of up to 50 words.

Sell Your Used Books To A Student In Hawaii

Post your ride requests, housing needs, job hopes, protestations of love, music trades, classwork problems, job hopes — anything and everything — on National Campus Classifieds.

To get your message to students all over the country, just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

The Most Entertaining bulletin board on earth: National Campus Classifieds. It's part of College Press Service's electronic higher education newspaper, readable via your microcomputer.

To post your message for just $10, ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

Electronic Love

Post your loves, rides, job hopes, items for sale on National Campus Classifieds, where the whole American student body can see them via microcomputer. Just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

— The U.S.A. Just $10

Post your message on National Campus Classifieds, where the whole American college community can see it via microcomputer. Just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

— Electronic Love

Post your loves, rides, job hopes, items for sale on National Campus Classifieds, where the whole American student body can see them via microcomputer. Just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

— Sell Your Used Books To A Student In Hawaii

Post your ride requests, housing needs, job hopes, protestations of love, music trades, classwork problems, job hopes — anything and everything — on National Campus Classifieds.

To get your message to students all over the country, just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

— The Most Entertaining bulletin board on earth: National Campus Classifieds. It's part of College Press Service's electronic higher education newspaper, readable via your microcomputer.

To post your message for just $10, ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.

— Electronic Love

Post your loves, rides, job hopes, items for sale on National Campus Classifieds, where the whole American student body can see them via microcomputer. Just ask at The Montclarion's classified ad office.
WINTER BREAK

Help us sponsor your school’s winter break ski trip and ski free!

— Abby (Oren): Loved your outfit. You were certainly one of a kind. SGA members.
— Dan: You’re such a nerd! SGA members.
— Mark: Remember, don’t ever use any softener! Concerned legislators.
— Rosanne: You make my heart go gitty up, NC.
— Dear Carrie: Happy 20th birthday! Love, Claudia, Karen, Brigid, Sandy, Karen and Annie (Meow).
— Cindi S.: I’m glad we’re friends. It was good to talk. I hope all works out well. Love, Opus’ pal.
— New Brother of Alpha Phi Omega: Nancy: All your time and effort paid off. You did a great job as pledge—the heart. It was very good for me.
— Chris: Old niruas never die, they just— Quarterly is coming! Quarterly is coming!
weekend possible: Thank you from Time-Life books?
— To Meg and Cohen: Thanks for being brothers as you were pledges.
— P.C.: You’re in your bed and I’m in mine. That’s no fun! Let’s get our act together. Just don’t fall asleep on me, ok? Love, KH.
— Paul: Just for being the best “big brother.” Your “little sister,” Sue.
— To the girl that laughs like Woody, I know you’re watching me. Love, Pat.
— Mitch F.: I’m tired of holdin’ on. To a feeling I know is gone. Though it hurts to say goodbye/I believe it’s time for me to fly. SLB.
— Well, everyone did their best…I guess it just wasn’t our day. Congratulations still go to Stacie, 2nd; Ronnie, 4th; and Pam, 6th at the 1st Annual Horse Show at Marist. Dawn.
YOU WERE GREAT! Hope you came to the reunion. See you all in the spring! Love, Ron.
— Maria, Maria, Sandra, Roxanne, Lisa, Tommy: Hey, are you back in reality yet? I’m not! Love you all, me.
— Hey Yogi: Oooh, I love you! BooBoo.
— Hey Middie Nameless: Give me one good reason why I should write you a personal. Think we should tell Bob? Me.
— Jr.: So you think I’m all talk. We’ll see what you’re made out of next time. Love ya, SR.
— Dear K: You’re a hard habit to break.
— Do you think a half an hour with a smooth, slippery Goddess is worth nine dollars?
— Sure I’d love to drive you to school. I may get there a half an hour late, but I’ll drive you.
— Support the Ice Hockey Club: Buy raffle tickets on Thursday night at the Rat. You could win a $75 or $50 gift certificate at Bamberger’s. Drawing Nov. 21, just in time for Xmas.
— Chuck (not Chuckie): Thanks for writing on my board. Guess who.
— Paul: Just for being the best “big father.” Your “little sister,” Sue.
— To the girl that laughs like Woody, I know you’re watching me. Love, Pat.
— Mitch F.: I’m tired of holdin’ on. To a feeling I know is gone. Though it hurts to say goodbye/I believe it’s time for me to fly. SLB.
— Well, everyone did their best…I guess it just wasn’t our day. Congratulations still go to Stacie, 2nd; Ronnie, 4th; and Pam, 6th at the 1st Annual Horse Show at Marist. Dawn.
YOU WERE GREAT! Hope you came to the reunion. See you all in the spring! Love, Ron.
— Maria, Maria, Sandra, Roxanne, Lisa, Tommy: Hey, are you back in reality yet? I’m not! Love you all, me.
— Hey Yogi: Oooh, I love you! BooBoo.
— Hey Middie Nameless: Give me one good reason why I should write you a personal. Think we should tell Bob? Me.
— Jr.: So you think I’m all talk. We’ll see what you’re made out of next time. Love ya, SR.
— Dear K: You’re a hard habit to break.
— Do you think a half an hour with a smooth, slippery Goddess is worth nine dollars?
— Sure I’d love to drive you to school. I may get there a half an hour late, but I’ll drive you.
— Support the Ice Hockey Club: Buy raffle tickets on Thursday night at the Rat. You could win a $75 or $50 gift certificate at Bamberger’s. Drawing Nov. 21, just in time for Xmas.
— Chuck (not Chuckie): Thanks for writing on my board. Guess who.
Come join the Organization that brought you:

BROTHERHOOD WINERY
BACHELOR PARTY
BYSTANDER
HAWAII
FOOTLOOSE
ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW

The College Life Union Board

NEXT MEETING ON MONDAY, NOV. 12

AT 4:00 PM in Room 413
in the Student Center

EVERYONE IS WELCOME!

ENTERTAINMENT IS OUR BUSINESS

CLUB IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA

COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD
MSC’s cheerleading squad faces a man shortage

By Anna Schiavo

MSC’s cheerleading squad is a familiar sight for football and basketball fans. They are an integral part of these sporting events. However, their unique cheering style may be in jeopardy.

The squad is facing a serious dilemma. Before the basketball season starts, they will lose most of the male members of the squad to graduation and transfers. This will virtually eliminate some partner stunts.

"For the past ten years MSC has had a coed cheerleading squad and is one of the pioneers in the North East of the ‘new’ style of collegiate cheering. Our style of cheering demands more athletic ability than just your normal cheerleading," cheerleading coach Trude Wolfarth said.

Cheerleading is a varsity sport at MSC. There is a lot of athletic ability involved. Both men and women need a general gymnastics background. The women also need "a series of stunts that they have to do when they try out and a lot of dance ability and general knowledge of cheerleading, but one that can be changed because our style is very different from high school," captain Mike Stickle said.

Men need to be able to bench press a minimum of 120 pounds. The rest is taught because in general men have not been cheerleaders in high school," Stickle said.

As with any other sport, practice is essential to achieving the goal of becoming the best you can be. "We put just as much hard work into perfecting our routines as any varsity sport," said cheerleader Gwen Keaton.

"Each person brings something to the squad. We have our gymnasts, dancers, cheerleaders, the strength of the men and people who excel in particular stunts. One person does not have to have all of these qualities, but you do need more than one of them," the coach said.

Each sport provides a unique cheering experience. "With basketball you are closer to the audience and you can get them going more, whereas in football you’re behind the fence," said captain Ellen Mary Breen.

In both 1983 and 1984 at the National Cheerleader Association Collegiate Camp in Virginia, the squad was awarded four blue ribbons for excellence and they also received the spirit stick award. This is the highest award they give at the camp. The squad competed against schools such as Purdue, Indiana, Rutgers, Army, Navy and Villanova.

Some of the stunts the squad performs require a lot of skill and total concentration. "Because of the danger involved in the sophisticated pyramid building and particular stunts, teamwork is very crucial. As the coach, I find that each year the men and women on the squad become like family because your safety is in somebody else’s hands. The members of the squad work very hard and take it very seriously," Wolfarth said.

"One pyramid that we do can be built in less than 15 seconds and for something to go up that fast it takes a lot of teamwork and athletic ability. You need body control and split second timing and strength on the guys part," Stickle said.

Stickle feels that it would be a shame to "have what we’re doing stopped because of a lack of participation in the school."

"We appeal to any male MSC student who feels he may possess the qualities necessary to be a good cheerleader," said Wolfarth.

Interested men may contact the cheerleading coach at 893-5264.

Looking for an inexpensive way to advertise your organization or event?

Do it with professional posters/flyers

The Montclarion poster service is available for only $10 per poster/flyer*

Inquire at the Montclarion Office, Student center Annex. Rm. 113
Ask for Aileen or Judy

* Printing not included
Fencing team needs students

By Tom Branna

Are you a health-conscious person who wants to stay active but don’t have the time necessary to devote to a varsity program at MSC? Or maybe you’re a closet “jock,” always ready and willing to shoot some “hoops” but can never find a group to share your enthusiasm? If so, then the Student Intramural and Leisure Council (SILC) is the right SGA organization for you.

“SILC is more than just another sports program at MSC,” said Kathy Hunt, one of the program’s organizers. “It gives students a chance to meet new people and is therefore more a social experience than an athletic one.”

But don’t be fooled. Those who participate in such SILC activities as softball, basketball, volleyball, and bowling are in it to win it. After all, there are trophies and awards up for grabs.

“Teams earn their trophies based on a point system,” explains Hunt. “Besides giving points to the winning team, we also give points for such things as meeting attendance, good team conduct, and if the team has no forfeits counted against them.”

Besides offering a variety of sports, SILC also has a variety of formats to take into consideration. There are men’s, women’s, and co-rec divisions, as well as team, individual, and tournament groups.

If all this seems a bit confusing, would-be participants are encouraged to contact the SILC office at either the Student Center, Room 418, 893-5245, or the field house, 893-7494. Once there, SILC personnel can advise students how they could go about organizing a team and what rules and regulations they must follow.

“We’re always looking for more participants,” says Hunt.

Those interested in submitting a team roster for any winter activity are asked to fill out and return the necessary forms by the beginning of December.

Presently, SILC activities include volleyball and floor hockey. Earlier in the semester, a men’s fast-pitch softball tournament was held and plans are being made for a Turkey Trot and basketball competition.

But maybe your “thing” isn’t played on a gym floor or a baseball diamond. Are you more at home with a pool table or video machine? Great! SILC has the answer.

Wednesday, Nov. 28 a game room triathlon will get underway. Activities listed are billiards, ping-pong and pole position—even the non-athletic athlete can find something at SILC.

“It’s just a matter of getting people conscious of our organization.”

SILC offers students intramural athletics in a social atmosphere

Upcoming events

- Women’s Basketball League
  - Starts: Monday, November 12 at 8:00 PM
  - Where: Panzer Gym
  - When: Monday, Thursday

- Turkey Trot
  - When: Monday, November 20 at 10:00 PM
  - Where: Dioguau Track

- Men’s 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament
  - When: Monday, November 26 at 9:00 PM
  - Where: Panzer Gym

- Applying Available
  - Deadline: Monday, November 12

- Game Room Triathlon
  - When: Wednesday, November 29 (11:00 AM - 3:00 PM)
  - Where: Student Center Game Room

- Application Available
  - Deadline: Friday, November 9

- Team Point Competition

SILC is a class I organization of the SGA

CONFERENCE FOR TODAY’S WOMAN

New Extended Evening Hours
Mondays and Thursdays, 5:00 - 8:30 PM

CALL FOR BETTER CARE AND CONVENIENCE:

239-8003

Planned Parenthood-Essex County
799 Bloomfield Avenue
Verona, NJ 07044

WORK AS A TEMPORARY

AROUND YOUR COLLEGE SCHEDULE AND DURING VACATION PERIODS

BOTH SKILLED AND UNSKILLED

$ JOBS AVAILABLE $

BUSINESS EXPERIENCE WILL LOOK GREAT ON YOUR RESUME! CALL OUR NEAREST OFFICE

UNTEMP. $

539-8484

PARAMUS, MEADOWLANDS

845-7444, 867-3800

VERONA, NJ 07044
This sign isn’t for show. Parking spaces designated for the physically challenged are ONLY for the physically challenged. If that’s not you, STAY OUT!!
By "The Jet"

MSC continued its drive for the conference title by rolling over Jersey City State 45-6 last Saturday on Sprague Field.

The scoring opened up with a Joe Perri field goal. After an eight play 69-yard drive, Perri boomed his kick through from 29 yards.

Later in the first quarter, Dan Zakashefski recovered a costly Gothic fumble and three plays later Walter Briggs hooked up with Ed Chavis from 13 yards out.

Following up on a Vance Dobry's fumble recovery, the Indians went in again. Briggs hooked up this time with Brian Scipio from 24 yards out, ending a four play drive. With .06 left in the first the extra point attempt was no good and the Indians were on top 16-0.

MSC's longest offensive drive of the game started when Ed Poveromo recovered a Gothic fumble at MSC 25. Eight plays later Pat Luzzi ran in from the five for the score and Briggs' pass to Chavis was good for the two point conversion. Keying the drive was Chavis catching a 43-yard pass from Briggs. MSC led 24-0 at the half.

Leroy Horn ran in from the five yards out to key MSC's only score in the third quarter. Perri's kick was good and the Indians led 31-0. Horn totalled a 133 yards on 11 carries.

Entering the fourth quarter, Horn was given the call again. This time he ran 27 yards ending a three play 45-yard drive. Perri popped another point after which Chavis catching a 43-yard pass from Briggs. MSC led 38-0, but the Indians weren't through yet.

Curtis Gaines intercepted a Jersey City pass and sprinted his way up the sideline 80 yards into the Gothic end zone. It's this kind of play a cornerback dreams of doing.

With 1:53 left to play, and most of the Indians' defensive starters on the bench, Jersey City scored on Walter Smith's 23-yard pass to Vince Dortch.

The Indians' offensive starters returned andwith 1:10 left to play, Larry Lewis fired three touchdowns and a field goal to key a final drive and win over William Paterson. His primary target is wide receiver Terry McGovern, Glassboro's all-time leader in receptions and reception yardage.

It was the first time this season a conference opponent scored a touchdown.

The Indians defense, coordinated by former New York Giant McKinley Boston, is presently ranked in the top 10 nationally of the NCAA Division III. The squad has given up an astonishing 12 points per game.

Junior Keith Tierney of Montclair, Piscataway's Ed Poveromo, Junior Ray Moore from Irvington, and sophomore Dan Zakashefski of Middlesex combined for 33 tackles and six quarterback sacks.

MSC battles Glassboro State for conference crown Saturday

By Gregg Goldin

In a dramatic rematch of last year's finale, MSC will attempt to regain the New Jersey State Athletic Conference crown when they battle Glassboro State this Saturday at 8 p.m. at Sprague Field.

The two schools finished in a triple tie for first place last season with Trenton State. Last year, Glassboro came from behind to edge the Indians 16-7 and create the deadlock.

MSC's offense recovered four fumbles and intercepted three passes.

Looking for interested students

By John Connolly

Fielding enough players to fill athletic teams is an all too common problem facing NCAA Division III schools like MSC. The women's fencing team currently confronts this dilemma.

The more popular sports of football and basketball don't have to deal with this situation; it's the lesser-known sports, such as fencing and women's cross country. Division III schools can't offer any form of scholarships to their athletes, so recruiting is all the more difficult.

The fencing team has had a poor turnout so far and with practices set to begin next week, they are in need of more members.

Mrs. Desi, an MSC physical education professor and one of the coaches for this year's fencing team, said, "There aren't many students with high school fencing experience, so you aren't dealing with a large pool to start with. It's hard to find people who are just interested in the sport." Desi said.

Any women, with or without fencing experience, who are interested in joining the program should contact Donna Olson, the assistant athletic director, at 893-5250.

In addition to a lack of members, the team is also without a permanent coach. However, this may be a blessing in disguise. Six alumni of MSC's fencing team have come to the rescue.

Both players and coaches of MSC's yesteryear have come back to volunteer their time and talent to help the program. In doing so they have back both knowledge and enthusiasm. "The team has strong alumni support. They are trying to gather support for the program on campus. They have committed themselves to helping and providing lessons until a permanent coach is found," Desi said.

One of the six, Kathy Taylor, was a national champion for MSC as a student, at 3000 pounds. She hopes to produce some future national champion fencers to help the program.

SILC offers students intramural sports with a social approach.

See story p. 26