Senator Raymond Lesniak stresses the importance of the passage of his proposed pesticide bill.

By MaryEllen Madsac

In an effort to strengthen student awareness of pesticide use in New Jersey and urge them to support the proposed pesticide bill, MSC's Conservation Club along with the Pesticide Safety and Right to Know coalition sponsored an all day conference last week.

In his opening address, Paul Twedowsky, state chairperson of the coalition, emphasized the importance of student involvement in the fight to protect the environment. "If you're not part of the solution," he said, "then you're part of the problem."

According to Twedowsky, the problem of spraying toxic pesticides throughout New Jersey's cities and farms has existed for many years. The proposed pesticide bill is designed to be the solution.

This legislation, introduced last year by Senator Raymond Lesniak, and Assemblyman Steven Adubato, will not only ban the aerial application of broad-spectrum pesticides over residential areas in the state, but will also inform the public in advance of pesticide spraying in their area.

Lesniak, who has sponsored several other environmental laws, stated this bill will also protect farm workers by providing them with pesticide fact sheets. However, he said, because farmers have no voice in Trenton, "It's up to us to speak for them." He said students can show their support for this bill by contacting their state legislators before it comes up for committee approval in the state Senate on March 18.

According to Mark Robeson, a research scientist with the Bureau of Pesticide Control, although pesticides are used to protect food crops from various insects, many non-target organisms such as fish and other animals are affected by pesticide spraying.

"Now researchers are developing soft and biological pesticides," Robeson said, "which will prevent insects from reproducing."

Another alternative to pesticide spraying is the state's agricultural Integrated Pest Management (IPM) program set in Rutgers University. IPM implements economical pest control tactics on food crops while keeping pesticide use to a minimal level. IPM began in 1972 and now has over 1000 agricultural and commercial pests in the state.

A major nationwide concern today is the starvation of millions of African people. As an MSC student, you may ask yourself what can I do? Four on campus students, who are Resident Assistants in the various Residence Halls on campus, have designed a way for you to help—Fast Day '85.

The day, March 20, is being organized in cooperation with two independent relief services, Catholic Relief Service and OXFAM America. Catholic Relief Service is the official overseas relief organization of the American Catholic community. OXFAM America is an international development and disaster relief organization, and is non-denominational.

The purpose of this effort is twofold. First, to educate the college community on the suffering and starvation of the African people. Second, to give MSC a chance to help in the fight against starvation.

A guest speaker from Catholic Relief Services will be at MSC on the following dates to explain and discuss the crisis and how relief money is spent.

Sunday, March 10—Newman Mass 11 a.m. Russ Hall
Tuesday, March 12—Student Center 2 p.m. Rooms 411 and 412
Bohn Hall Lounge 8 p.m.

How can the college help? There are a few ways. First, Saga Corporation meal card holders can pledge meals. Saga will give the cost of the meal pledge to the relief organizations. Any meals pledged will not be eaten on Wednesday, March 20, the actual Fast Day. Sign ups for pledge meals will be held in the Blanton and Freeman Hall cafeterias during meal hours on Wednesday, March 13, and Thursday, March 14.

Second, the students can make donations to the relief organizations on March 20 at tables set up in the Student Center Lobby.

MSC's participation in Fast Day '85 can help supply food for those who do not have enough.

Fast day to help feed the millions in Africa

By Kathie Herbst and Rasellen Foreman

A major nationwide concern today is the starvation of millions of African people. As an MSC student, you may ask yourself what can I do? Four on campus students, who are Resident Assistants in the various Residence Halls on campus, have designed a way for you to help—Fast Day '85.

The day, March 20, is being organized in cooperation with two independent relief services, Catholic Relief Service and OXFAM America. Catholic Relief Service is the official overseas relief organization of the American Catholic community. OXFAM America is an international development and disaster relief organization, and is non-denominational.

The purpose of this effort is twofold. First, to educate the college community on the suffering and starvation of the African people. Second, to give MSC a chance to help in the fight against starvation.

A guest speaker from Catholic Relief Services will be at MSC on the following dates to explain and discuss the crisis and how relief money is spent.

Sunday, March 10—Newman Mass 11 a.m. Russ Hall
Tuesday, March 12—Student Center 2 p.m. Rooms 411 and 412
Bohn Hall Lounge 8 p.m.

How can the college help? There are a few ways. First, Saga Corporation meal card holders can pledge meals. Saga will give the cost of the meal pledge to the relief organizations. Any meals pledged will not be eaten on Wednesday, March 20, the actual Fast Day. Sign ups for pledge meals will be held in the Blanton and Freeman Hall cafeterias during meal hours on Wednesday, March 13, and Thursday, March 14.

Second, the students can make donations to the relief organizations on March 20 at tables set up in the Student Center Lobby.

MSC's participation in Fast Day '85 can help supply food for those who do not have enough.

Conference stresses student awareness of pesticide use

By Debbie Jackson

As of March 1, all front seat occupants of vehicles operated in New Jersey must be wearing seat belts. The new law can only be enforced as a secondary offense when a driver has been charged for another moving violation. The initial fine is $20.

Under this law, the driver is responsible for himself as well as any passenger under the age of eighteen. This indicates that if the driver of the vehicle is stopped for a violation and the passenger does not have his seatbelt on, the driver will be fined an additional $20. All front seat passengers eighteen and over are responsible for themselves, and will also be fined if the driver is stopped.

According to Deniece MeKenney, an employee at the Division of Motor Vehicles in Trenton, Postal Service carriers, persons with written verification from a licensed physician, owners of vehicles manufactured before July 1, 1966 are exempt from the law.

In addition McKenney says, "If you have a harness and lap seatbelts, it is required that you wear both of them." If the driver is stopped and is wearing only one of these seatbelts, the individual will be fined.

Sgt. Herbert L. Lloyd of the MSC campus police said that the new seatbelt law will be in effect for the campus. However Lloyd said, "we will not go out looking for those who aren't wearing their seatbelts."

Lisa Douglas, a junior psychology major said, "I think that the new seatbelt law is a good idea. It will save a lot of lives." Douglas said that although the law will take getting used to, it will be beneficial.

Ann Baker, a sophomore marketing major, opposed the law by saying, "I don't think that the law is a good idea. I personally, do not like wearing seatbelts." She said that many individuals will be uncomfortable wearing seatbelts, and believes the law should not have been enforced.

According to McKenney, in 1982, 221, 906 car accidents occurred in New Jersey with 11 percent resulting in serious injuries. One percent of this 11 percent died while wearing a seatbelt. Although the law is in effect for relatively all front seat passengers, it is optional for New Jersey police officers. According to McKenney, some officers feel that the seatbelt will be helpful if they are involved in a high-speed car chase. Other officers oppose the law, stating that it will get in the way of their guns or if they have to react to a situation quickly.

N.J. seatbelt law put into effect—campus is included
St. Patty's Bash

Featuring...

Step-Aside

COURTESY of CLUB

BAGPIPERS COURTESY of WMSC

GREEN BEER

Lots & Lots of Door Prizes

TIME: 8:00pm - 1:00am
PLACE: The Rat
HOT DOG PIZZA & SODA $1.00

ADMISSION $1 - Students $1.50 Non-Students
ALL PROCEEDS GO TO UNICEF

Sponsored by CINA and Co-Sponsored by ALL Class I Organizations
ALL AGES ADMITTED
This Ad compliments of The Montclarion

MUST BE 21 YEARS OF AGE with 2 FORMS OF ID for ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
CINA IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Campus police towing all illegally parked vehicles

By Wendy Deja

Campus police conducted a two-day towing operation on March 4 and 5 to alleviate the constant aggravation of illegal parking in faculty/staff lots. According to Jayne Rich, chief of campus police, the department has received a great deal of complaints from faculty and staff about the inadequate parking in their areas. Students take advantage of broken meters and park their cars in these areas.

Rich asks that students cooperate with parking rules and utilize student lots to avoid towing and ticket expenses. All illegally parked vehicles are towed to Sam's Garage on Park St. in Montclair where students pay a $30 charge to retrieve their cars. A municipal ticket is also issued at the illegal parking site.

Rich regrets the inconvenience and extent of this operation, but says it is the only way to discourage illegal parking on campus.

On Feb. 28 at 4 p.m., a male caller threatened employees in the financial aid office in College Hall. No suspect has been reported.

On Feb. 25 in lot 20, thieves broke into a '79 Honda and stole an equalizer and C.B. radio valued at $175.

A woman's purse was stolen from the game room on Feb. 28 while she was playing a video game. Total value of the purse and its contents is $110.

A theft was reported in the laundry room of the Clove Rd. apartments on March 1 between 8:00 and 10:00 p.m. A resident left jeans, worth $107, in the dryer only to return and find them missing.

A case of criminal mischief was reported in Panzer Gym on Feb. 28. A woman's swimsuit, left unattended, was found cut in half and returned. The suit is valued at $30.

On March 1 at 12:48 p.m. a brush fire was reported behind the electrical sub-station at lot 14. The Little Falls fire department was called to extinguish the fire.

Chi Alpha shows controversial film on abortion

By Dianne Traftef

The film Silent Scream was shown at last week's Abortion Awareness Day, sponsored by Chi Alpha Christian Fellowship. The 14-minute silent ultrasonic film showed ultrasound images depicting an abortion of a 12-week-old fetus.

Steve Eyerkuss, vice-president of Chi Alpha, explained the purpose of the program was to not offend anyone, but to make the public, and students, aware of all aspects of abortion.

In recent months, the film has been the center of much media coverage. On Jan. 23, "Silent Scream" (CBS News Network) aired the film, while portions of Silent Scream appeared on Nightline on Jan. 22 and Monday Night Sports on Feb. 20. The film will also be shown at the abortion Awareness Program on index cards.

One student wrote, "Tears came to my eyes for the fetuses." Another student, a recent graduate of MSC, "was indeed grateful for the opportunity to view such a film, for it showed the cold realities of abortion. I was deeply saddened by what I saw, and angered also."

All those who attended were invited to write their responses to the Abortion Awareness Program on index cards.

The film was screened at 10:30 a.m., and the viewing was stopped at 11:30 a.m.

SA.GA approves recharter of three Class I Organizations

By Susan Rydall

The SGA approved recharter of three Class I Organizations, the Black Student Cooperative Union (BSCU), Student Intramural Leisure Group (SILC) and the Human Relations Organization (H.R.O).

BSCU is sponsored by the Chi Alpha Alpha Chi Club and is composed of blacks, whites and everyonelse. The organization is composed of 24 students interested in learning Latin American culture and history face-to-face.

SILC is sponsored by the Chi Alpha Alpha Chi Club and the Human Relations Organization (H.R.O) and has a membership of 24 students interested in independent research.

H.R.O is sponsored by the Chi Alpha Alpha Chi Club and the Human Relations Organization (H.R.O) and has a membership of 24 students interested in independent research.

The SGA was asked why it isn't run by faculty and student activities. Kathy Smith, an SGA legislator and member of SILC, responded, "The students wouldn't be as involved in the running of student activities if faculty members were involved."

She continued to explain that the management and organizational skills gained by members of SILC are a priceless experience.

The SGA questioned the difference between H.R.O and Newman Community.

The Newman House has a paid leader from the archdiocese, but H.R.O must pay people to run workshops. This is why H.R.O needs to be a Class One organization.

In other news, a limit of $300 was set for the SGA elections. Eric Squires, president of the student government at the University of North Carolina in Wilmington attended the meeting.

Immerse Yourself

Spend a semester or a year in Latin America:

- Become fluent in Spanish.
- Participate in University courses, internships, or independent research.
- Learn Latin American culture and history face-to-face.
- Study in Peru (Lima/Cuzco) or Colombia (Bogota/Medellin).
- Receive full Academic credit from the University of Miami.
- Use your existing Financial Aid.
- A GLOBAL UNIVERSITY (305) 284-4303
College Life Union Board presents.

the

Spring Ball
at the Imperial Manor

April 18th
8:00 PM to 1:00 AM
$43.00 Per Couple

Bids on sale:
March 19th 7-9 PM
In the Ballrooms
Must show MSC ID

LIMITED SeATING
BIDS ON SALE ONE DAY ONLY!

CLUB IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA

WANT A REAL EDUCATION?
JOIN
THE CONSERVATION CLUB

A Class I Organization of the Student Government Association
Office-Room 403, Student Center, Phone: 893-5102

NEXT GENERAL MEETING:
Monday, March 11th at 4 PM
Room 412 of the Student Center

Don’t forget the Raft Trip in April, Drama in March, EarthDay and the next School of Conservation weekend are all coming soon!

THE CONSERVATION CLUB IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Minority Summer Intern Program
Dec. '85 - May '86 Grads 2.8 Min GPA
Any Major
State Farm Insurance Company (Wayne)

THIS 10 WEEK PROGRAM OFFERS:
1. Exposure to claims, underwriting & general insurance operations
2. Salary - approximately $300/wk

COME TO CAREER SERVICES FOR:
- Resume preparation and assistance
- Applications
- Sign up for on-campus interviews,
March 25th and 27th

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE NOW
WHERE:
Special Events Office
Room 400
Student Center
Between the hours of 9:00 AM and 4:00 PM

REQUIREMENTS:
1. 2.0 Min Cum
2. Full Time Under Grad Student
3. Must be of Soph. or Junior Class

LENGTH OF EMPLOYMENT:
June - August 1985
Includes evenings and weekends on rotating schedule

Weight loss clinic to be held by nutrition majors

By Karen Hughes
If you really want to lose weight for the summer but can’t afford to join those expensive health clubs, the home Economics department has the answer. The members are sponsoring a nutrition clinic which will be free for all MSC students.

"The clinic will be staffed by students who are taking the Nutrition Counseling Workshop course," says Dr. Kathleen Bauer, organizer of the clinic. "Each student will get hands-on experience working in real clinic situations."

The clinic will not be just a diet center, it will give a total overview of the patient and the computerized diet analysis. The patient's percentage of body fat will also be evaluated with a final written report at the end of the session.

Once the patient’s eating habits are assessed, a weight control program will be utilized. This program will be using a behavioral approach to losing weight. The patient will be taught how to change his or her eating habits to reach a desired weight.

The clinic will run from March 4 until May 10. Sign up now in Finley Hall, Room 101. If no one is there, leave your name and number. Someone will call and schedule an appointment. For more information call Dr. Bauer, 893-7057 or stn n in Finley Hall, Room 110.

MSC in the News

MSC in the News will summarize articles which have been previously published in various New Jersey and New York papers, in order to make students aware of MSC's reputation in the eyes of the public.

In a recent book publication, A History of Higher Education in New Jersey written by Peter Sammartino, MSC was cited as "becoming nationally known for the discovery of new methods and values, Montclair had laid these earlier foundations, and had little difficulty in becoming an excellent general purpose college."

Throughout this column we hope to show that MSC is an excellent school with many assets and a college which its students should be proud to attend.

Evening News, Bridgeton, Jan. 16:

MSC is one of "the eight state colleges (which) will share mathematics, science and computer science education information through the Electronic Information Exchange System. . . Dr. Phyllis Kavett, professor of mathematics . . . at Kean College . . . is director. The network (was) established under a state Department of Higher Education grant of $20,000."

New Jersey Law Journal, Feb. 4:

"Montclair State College's Center for Legal Studies has received a contribution of $2,500 from the IBM Corporation to fund special classes for Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) Legal Studies Students. The classes,
'Fundamentals of Legal Research' . . . and 'Introduction to Law and Legal Professions' . . . feature small-group instruction and individualized tutorials.

In addition . . . the college's Center for Legal Studies will conduct a Summer Court Interpreting Institute, the first effort of its kind on the East Coast and only the second in the nation."

Glen Ridge, N.J., Paper, Feb. 7:

"On Feb. 13 . . . Dr. Anand (an MSC faculty member, discussed) 'Love in Literature - East and West' at the literature department of the Women's Club of Glen Ridge. "Dr. Anand's lecture on romantic love (included) excerpts from Milton's 'Paradise Lost.' . . . Anand is a noted Milton scholar and lecturer . . . (She) has published two books and is awaiting the publication of her third."

Herald News Jan. 31:

"In the past year, the state Division on Civil Rights has instituted a quality circle, seeking to improve its handling of complaints about discrimination."

A magazine, "Herbert Sherman, a management professor at Montclair
State College, . . . quality circles make sense for . . . the Division of Civil Rights." Sherman said, "Their value system is one of openness and participation. For quality circles to be effective . . . they have to be embraced by top managers as well as clerks . . . and middle-level administration.

The preceding was compiled by Jett Luciano, a senior marketing major, in cooperation with MSC's Office of Public Information.

Pesticide conference

cont. from p. 1

200 New Jersey farmers utilizing this program. Because the IPM program has recently been cut by President Reagan's budget, they are presently looking for alternatives for funding. If the pesticide bill is passed, it will provide $75,000 for the expansion of IPM.

According to Maria Mazza, a fourth ty medical student at Rutgers University, many pesticides used in Montclair contain hazardous chemicals. For example, such chemicals as capten, which causes birth defects, indane and 24-D, which cause cancer are used in pesticide control efforts in Montclair.

"Although capten has been under review for possible extinction by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) since 1980," Mazza said, "the literature states the dangers of this chemical has been available since 1970."

Since 1969, the Conservation Club has sponsored such events as this to prompt public awareness of the many dangers of pesticides. Most "Maintaining a clean environment is the most fundamental strategy for life to succeed on this planet," said
Marc Seelinger, treasurer of the Conservation Club. "If the environment continues to be raped by man's endeavors to destroy it, life on earth will cease to exist."

Conference Assistant Position Open Summer 1985
Monty Python &
The Holy Grail

Life of Brian

ADMISSION: $1.00 W/ID $1.50 W/OUT

Tuesday, March 12 1985
Student Center Ballrooms
7:00 PM

COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD

Join the club that brings the FUN to MSC

IN THE RAT
LIVE BANDS
TRIPS
WINTER AND SPRING BALLS
BROTHERHOOD WINERY
HAWAII
CABARET NIGHT

LIP SINC
PARTIES
MOVIES
SKI TRIPS

BROADWAY SHOWS

"Entertainment is our business"

CLUB IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
DEPARTMENT OF RESIDENCE LIFE
ROOM SELECTION 1985-86

Applications will be available on March 11, 1985 at the Clove Road Office for current Clove Road Residence, and at the Office of Residence Life, Bohn Hall, fourth floor for students who are not currently living in Clove Road. Deadline for return of applications is March 19, 1985

FEATURES:
1. Two bedrooms, living/dining room, full kitchen and bathroom
2. Fully furnished, air conditioned and carpeted
3. Overnight parking available for all Clove Road residents
4. Open during academic year vacations and winter session
5. Larger Shuttle buses
6. Meal tickets not required but available if you choose
7. More independent life style
8. Rent no higher than Residence Halls, however, each apartment pays its own utilities

Acceptance of groups of four or five is based on combined seniority of each group. Those groups returning to their 1984-85 apartments and those with greater seniority are given first choice of apartment location. Payment of a $100 deposit due March 19, 1985 constitutes formal application for on-campus residence for the 1985-86 academic year.

RESIDENCE HALLS
(for current residents)

Residence hall applications available April 8, 1985 from your Residence Hall Director’s Office or Main Desk. The deadline for applications is April 15, 1985. Payment of a $60 deposit, due from April 9-11 (Blanton Atrium) constitutes formal application for on-campus residence for the 1985-86 academic year.

(for non-residence)

Applications available April 8, 1985 from the Office of Residence Life, Bohn Hall, 4th Floor. The deadline for application is April 15, 1985. Payment of a $60 deposit, due from April 9-11, 1985, constitutes formal application for on-campus residence for the 1985-86 academic year.

WELCOME TO OUR RESIDENCE HALL PROGRAM AT MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE

3 to 4 million African People face starvation here's what you can do to ease their pain participate in:

FAST DAY '85

(Wednesday, March 20)

Sunday, March 10:
11:00 AM in Russ Hall Lounge, Steve Callahan, representing Catholic Relief Services, will speak on the African Crisis at Newman Mass.

Tuesday, March 12:
2:00 PM Student Center Room 411 & 412 and 8:00 PM Bohn Hall Main Lounge, presentation and film on Catholic Relief Services and OXFAM America's efforts to reduce the African Crisis.

Wednesday, March 13 & Thursday, March 14:
SAGA Meal Card holders can pledge meals from their meal plan during Freeman and Blanton Cafeteria hours

Wednesday, March 20 - Fast Day '85:
- Donations accepted in Student Center Lobby
- Pledged meals are not eaten

This Ad compliments of The Montclarion

All proceeds from FAST DAY '85 will go to
THE CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES and OXFAM AMERICA
Protection from pesticides

Pesticides, like food additives, are a part of everyday life. But does that mean we should just sit idly by and accept it? No.

Of course, pesticides serve a useful purpose by protecting agriculture and urban foliage from harmful insects and such, yet people shouldn't be poisoned in the process. We should be aware. How much do you know about pesticide spraying in your own backyard?

According to the New Jersey Coalition for Alternatives to Pesticides, "Pesticides are being used routinely in New Jersey:

... which have been inadequately tested for—or not tested at all—to determine what effect they may have on causing cancer, birth defects or mutations... which are known to cause cancer and yet are still being sprayed...

... without proper safeguards being taken to minimize exposure and associated health risks because of laxness in current regulations regarding pesticide usage."

What can be done? Well, steps have been taken to correct these problems in the form of legislation introduced by Senator Raymond Lesniak and Assemblyman Steven Adubiate, entitled "Proposed Committee Substitute for S-1342." Although the title may not say much, the bill could do plenty.

In addition to banning the aerial application of pesticides in non-agricultural areas, this bill will provide people with advanced notification of a pesticide spraying in their area.

Signs will be posted in public buildings warning the people of the time when spraying will take place, and no pesticide application will take place in schools when students are present.

Because Reagan cut funding for the Integrated Pest Management (IPM), a program designed to utilize alternative methods to pesticides, this bill will provide IPM with $75,000 so it can continue.

What can you do to help? Plenty.

First and foremost, you can write state legislators and show your support for "Proposed Committee Substitute for S-1342." The bill will come before a committee in the state Senate for approval on March 18. Then, in April, the Senate will decide whether it will be enacted.

We, as students, are the future and it is up to us to save ourselves and our environment. If we don't, who will?

The Montclarion is a Class One Organization of the SGA.

Editorial Policy Board

John Connolly ........................................ Editor-in-chief

Michelle Congello .................................. Managing Editor

Kathy Gilligan ........................................ Journalistic Page Editor

Production Department

Arlen K. Muller .................................. Graphics Mgr.

Sandy Lutz .................................. Graphics Inspector

Debbie Barnett .................................. Graphics Assistant

Mark Bayles .................................. Graphics Assistant

Susan August .................................. Typesetter

Lynda Fox .................................. Typesetter

Mary Ann Miceli .................................. Cartoons

A.P.O. .................................. Circulation

Business Department

Terry Keller .................................. Treasurer

Judy Montclair .................................. Ad Manager

Leslie Brandes .................................. Business Manager

The Montclarion is published weekly except during examination, summer, and winter sessions. It is funded, in part, by funds received from the Student Government Association Inc. of Montclair State College. Advertising rates are available upon request in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex, or by calling the business department (201) 893-5237. The views expressed in the editorial pages, with the exception of the main editorial, do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Montclarion.

---

viewpoint, Kathy Gilligan

Prez Reagan's song: Press in Pocket

Remember when the Pretenders catapulted up the rock charts with the hit tune Brass in Pocket? Well, if Ronald Reagan were to suddenly aspire to rock stardom, he could catapult with a similar song. His big hit could be Press In Pocket. The light spring in his step as he left the last presidential press conference could very well have been caused by the rhythm of such a tune sung under his breath.

What is the point of these presidential press conferences? Lately, they seem more like a prime-time Johnny Carson show than anything else.

The missing element is an Ed McMahon intro (Here's Ronnie!), but the rest of the show formula is intact: Reagan gives a monologue, complete with jokes and clever quips, and then, with inimitable charm chats with his guest journalists.

It is this very thing that is the problem. It seems that the White House press corps is more concerned with the prestige factor of a presidential conference than in really digging into what Reagan says during his monologue.

After listening to the question and answer period for a while, you get the feeling that the president handed out the questions before showtime. Possibly, there was even a rehearsal or two.

Just as Carson has an unruly guest once in a while, Reagan is sometimes forced to deal with this eventuality. At this press conference, Sam Donaldson filled the unruly mold. He probably missed the rehearsal, and it appears he came with his own question— one which took Reagan a few attempts to answer. With masterful prodding, Donaldson got Reagan to admit that he would like to remove the Sandinista government in Nicaragua "in the sense of its present structure."

Donaldson's prodding may have been the most exciting moments I've ever experienced during the viewing of a press conference. At last, a real question, and a real, though veiled, answer. However, my excitement was short-lived.

In justifying his desire to remove the Sandinista government, the president blatantly and thoroughly misrepresented the Nicaraguan situation before American viewers. I tensed in anticipation of a barrage of counter-questions from the gathered journalists, but it never came. Why?

You would think that when the president asserted the illegitimacy of the Sandinista government in light of its recent elections, someone would have questioned that. Why didn't anyone mention that 80 percent of the Nicaraguan people turned out for the election (which the Washington Office on Latin America said were free, and easily accessible with guaranteed secrecy)? Of this 80 percent voter turnout, 63 percent voted for the Sandinistas.

How could this possibly be construed as an "unpopular" government? This is more of a whumping than Reagan gave Mondale, and Reagan's popularity is never doubted.

Perhaps no one wanted to touch the emotionally-charged euphemism, "Freedom fighters." Reagan used when referring to the contra's. Yet, charges abound that the freedom fighters wishes he aid in their "pursuit of democracy," are in large part, made up of Somolos national guard and mercenaries from Honduras and other countries.

On the one hand, the president lauds the overthrows of the Somolos government. With the other hand, he offers aid to the very same people whose overthrow he praises. There seems to be a question here of one side of the mouth not knowing what the other is saying.

---

Blood Count!

YES! YES! YES! You MIST!!

---

Unchain the Lawyers!

---

The Untold Story

---

Andrews!

---

Personals!

---

Letters!

---

County Sales!

---

 forth next page
I think it's a good law. Enforcing it may be a problem, but at least it will make people think about the need for seatbelts.

Maureen Schessler
psychology/Sophomore

I don't like it. Wearing a seatbelt is up to the individual.

Antonio Henson
economics/Junior

I believe it 100 percent. I've lost too many friends who weren't wearing them.

Jennifer Yetka
economics/Junior

To the editor:

As a former legislator and a regular observer of the SGA, I read last week's letter from Mr. Michael W. Knierim, in which he criticized the actions at recent SGA meeting with more than casual interest. I too, attended the meeting Knierim discussed. While I agree with many of his points, I also feel compelled to defend the SGA against several of his comments.

At the meeting in question, I was not looking at my watch when it actually began. So, I will accept Knierim's word that it did in fact begin 15 minutes behind schedule. At the same time, I hope he will accept my word that, for this year at least, the meeting have generally started on time. This meeting was more of the exception than the rule.

As a political science major, I also made sure that Knierim realizes that no official meeting can begin unless there is a quorum. So starting a meeting late may not always be an act of courtesy, but a necessity.

Knierim went on from there to state that he felt the 45 minute recess for cake in honor of the birthday of SGA Executive Secretary Tracy Lacovelli was "a nice gesture, but...inappropriate." In this case, I could not agree with Mr. Knierim more. Unfortunately this "birthday custom" has become a tradition at SGA meetings and it would be wrong to denigrate this token of appreciation to Tracy. As far as the cake itself, which Knierim watched members of the legislature "consume," I am almost sure that all he had to do was ask for a piece and he would have gotten one. I know he could have had mine.

Knierim also accused SGA Vice-President Dennis Quinn of being "rude and obnoxious" while he conducted the meeting. He stated that Mr. Quinn "cut off legislators while they were speaking," that many legislators asked "irrelevant questions" and "the same questions were asked numerous times, in different forms."

Could it be that is why Quinn chose to "cut them off"? Maybe not, but then how could he stop legislators from asking questions? "Just for the sake of asking questions?" As a personal friend of Dennis', I know that many people consider him "rude and obnoxious," but that is something he is already aware of. Unfortunately, he is only human, and worse yet, a college student who occasionally makes mistakes!

I also hope Knierim and others realize that Dennis, like the chairman of any group, is acting like a refereee at a sporting event. Not everyone will agree with every call an umpire makes at a baseball game, but someone has to call the play. While I may be accused of being biased, I think that few people know the rules of parliamentary procedure as well as Dennis does. Above all else, he is fair.

Finally, it is unfortunate that many SGA legislators and Executive Board members have, in the past, attempted to place themselves on a pedestal and thereby offended many. But in the end, they are only students just like the rest of us with our own personal problems and goals.

The SGA generally welcomes criticism, and I thank Knierim for offering his views. But, the SGA is an organization that we are all a part of and it is only as good as we make it.

Knierim admitted that this was the first SGA meeting he had ever attended, and I would like to take this opportunity to invite him and others back for future meeting.

Personally, I like to think of the SGA as a giant water buffalo; it may look dangerous and you may get kicked, but you really can't appreciate it until you get up close.

Bill Normyle
broadcasting/Junior

The Montclarion/Thurs. March 7, 1985

MARCH 1985

---

MONDAY

4
Free Notary Public - SGA Office
Room 103 of Student Center Annex
9 AM - 4 PM, Mon. - Fri.

---

TUESDAY

5
SGA Office has 22¢ Stamps!
$3.00 Prescription Program for Undergraduates
Stop by SGA Office for details.

---

WEDNESDAY

6
SGA Meeting
4 PM, 4th Floor of Student Center
HAPPY BIRTHDAY Mr. Proxy (Bill)
from the SGA

---

THURSDAY

7
Class 1 Concerts Open House
Room 117 of the Student Center Annex
9 AM - 4 PM

---

MONDAY

11
Zolnier Ring Company
Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---

TUESDAY

12
Zolnier Ring Company
Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---

WEDNESDAY

13
SGA Meeting
4 PM - 4th Floor - SC

---

THURSDAY

14
Class 1 Concerts Meeting
4 PM - 2nd Floor SC Annex

---

MONDAY

18
Petitions for President, Vice President, Treasurer, Executive Secretary, Board of Trustees, Representative and Legislators in the SGA Office
103 of the Student Center Annex
DUE — March 29, 1985

---

TUESDAY

19
Clove Road Apartment Applications available in Bohn Hall Residence Life Office
Zolnier Ring Company
in Student Center Lobby - 10 AM - 3 PM and
5:30 - 7:30 PM

---

WEDNESDAY

20
First Day of Spring!
SGA Meeting
4th Floor SC - 4 PM

---

THURSDAY

21
Class 1 Concerts Meeting
4 PM - 2nd Floor SC Annex

---

MONDAY

25
Copies - 5¢ Each
SGA Office

---

TUESDAY

26
Lecture:
Applications of Industrial Robots
Noon - Contact Max Sobol
899-4230

---

WEDNESDAY

27
Zolnier Ring Company
SC Lobby — 10 AM - 3 PM
and 5:30 - 7:30 PM

---

THURSDAY

28
Zolnier Ring Company
SC Lobby — 10 AM - 3 PM

---

MONDAY

29
Zolnier Ring Company
in Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---

TUESDAY

30
Zolnier Ring Company
Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---

WEDNESDAY

31
Zolnier Ring Company
Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---

THURSDAY

32
Zolnier Ring Company
Student Center Lobby
10 AM - 3 PM

---
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FRIDAY</th>
<th>SATURDAY</th>
<th>SUNDAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Alumni Association Applications for Scholarships Due</td>
<td>SGA Scholarship Applications Due</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Listen to WMSC FM 101.5 FM</td>
<td>LIBRARY HOURS: 10:30 AM - 4:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>HOUSE PARTIES From 6 PM - 1 AM</td>
<td>RAT OPEN 10 AM - 2 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>HRO WEEKEND</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>WMSC-FM 101.5 Tune in Gary Jam and Bobby B</td>
<td>Library Hours: 10:30 AM - 4:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Tune in Gary Jam and Bobby B 8 PM - 1 AM</td>
<td>RAT OPEN 10 AM - 2 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FOR SENIORS ONLY: Job Readiness Career Services Dress For Success 10 AM - Noon Career Services</td>
<td>Zahler Ring Company Student Center Lobby 10 AM - 3 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22</td>
<td>LISTEN TO WMSC FM 101.5! ARTCARVED RING COMPANY SC Lobby - 10 AM - 4 PM</td>
<td>LIBRARY HOURS: 10:30 AM - 4:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SILC VOLLEYBALL MARATHON Panzer Gym</td>
<td>RAT OPEN 10 AM - 2 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>SILC VOLLEYBALL MARATHON Panzer Gym</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>29</td>
<td>PETITIONS DUE FOR SGA ELECTIONS WMSC-FM 101.5 TUNE IN! Resume Clinic Career Services 11AM - Noon</td>
<td>LIBRARY HOURS: 10:30 AM - 4:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>RAT OPEN 10 AM - 2 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>30</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Advising compliments of The Montclarian.
Godwin provides fresh inspirations in The Finishing School

By Lisa Martucci

"If it is to be a comedy, A Private Function, it must be a comedy, and a very good one at that," says director Alan Bennett. "But it must also be a tragedy, for it is about the end of an era."

The film is set in postwar England and centers on the declining fortunes of a rural family, the De Vannes, who are struggling to keep their farm afloat in the face of the postwar depression.

The main character, Justin, is a young man who is determined to make something of himself despite the odds. He is helped in this endeavor by his friend, the charismatic and optimistic Joyce Chilvers, who is determined to see Justin succeed.

The film is a study of the human condition, and the relationships between the characters are complex and nuanced. The tension between the comedy and the tragedy creates a sense of unease and anticipation that keeps the audience engaged.

The acting is superb, with Michael Palin and Maggie Smith delivering standout performances as the father and daughter at the center of the story.

The Finishing School is a film that rewards repeated viewings, as its themes and characterizations continue to resonate long after the credits roll. It is a testament to the power of storytelling and the enduring appeal of the human comedy.

By S.C. Wood

"It's not just pork, it's power!" and alas, it's politics. In Alan Bennett's comedy, A Private Function, a pig-napping is committed as an act of revenge against power-hungry society.

It's pastoral postwar Yorkshire and the English people are strictly rationed to small amounts of meat and fuel. The poorer English people, that is—the wealthy dother, Swabby (Denholm Elliott) has plenty of meat in his bell and fuel in his car, courtesy of the black market. Allardyce (Richard Griffiths), the pug accountant, isn't suffering from starvation either.

But humble chiropractor Gilbert Chivers (Michael Palin) and his angry, ambitious wife Joyce (Maggie Smith) keep the car in the garage and feed on small spoonfuls of Spam. Joyce teaches piano to make ends meet; Gilbert endures the humiliation of being knocked off his bicycle and having his foot practice kicked out of town by the nasty Mr. Joyce, whose voice is on the verge of breaking down as he sings:

Gilbert's pignapping scheme and Joyce's egging-on show us two really good-hearted people seeking to hang onto their comicstrip lives. In a ludicrously bumbling attempt to rise socially by stealing Swabby's prize black pig—with some like-minded Socialists, only to make us wish the British would shut up about Socialism already. One has had enough of this fantasy of political humor: A Private Function does not stir up it, but plods through in a tiresome fashion.

Even veteran Pythonite Michael Palin can't save the film. His sweetfaced, self-effacing little Everyman is the least interesting of a character. His role is acted with such restraint that his character becomes a throwaway— just another nail-shaving in this legless plot.

Joyce's mother, Liz Smith, may be a very good actress, but her scenes with Graydon Carter at least she is a comic delight in her better moments. Her slow senility and quiet sense of childlike greed endear her to an audience looking for a more sympathetic character than Gilbert. Maggie Smith (Joyce), in top form, puts her all into his mealy movie and gets out of it with her dignity and talent intact. She is ruthless and very funny—she could act her way out of any bad film by the power of her eyes alone. She is mean and gutsy, and enhances the movie's few comic moments by sitting through them with a pork-faced seriousness and a triumphant grace. One craves to see her in a better film.

Richard Griffiths as Allardyce is a cute, anthropomorphic porcine figure who, like Gilbert, is too weak a character to stand up to this angry, harsh, antibourgeois satire. In A Private Function two plots clash: the pork/power/poltics plot of Swabby vs. Joyce, and the cutsey porcine plot of little Betsy the pig allied with Gilbert and Allardyce.

The second plot falters under the acidulous pretensions of the first: the Socialist issue is shoved down our throats like a piece of raw pork. The carcasses, the bloody bargaining, leave little room for anything but the loudest comic.

This very original satire opens with a bang, with what we might now call a Pythonesque gag involving an organ. But it's all downhill from there, and everyone knows what happens to a comedy when it tries to preach and be cute at the same time.

A Private Function is a scathing satire on human beings and their conscious savagery. But its sparklingly surprising, beautiful, horrible finale doesn't vindicate the torture of sitting through the rest of this slow-moving, disjointed movie.

The good jokes and funny sight-gags are stingly rationed out to the viewers, who go as hungry as the film's protagonists. So much talent goes to waste in A Private Function; where did it go wrong? Alas, A Private Function is no funnier than a private joke.
Sling rocks at the Ritz

By Pasquale DiFulco

The Ritz, New York City, last Tuesday night, was the scene of an Evening with Sting, F. W. The only thing missing was you. It was the event of the decade—or at least 1985.

Everybody knows who Sting is, right? Well, for those of you who have been sleeping since 1979, I'll tell you. Sting, c. a. Gordon Sumner, is the vocalist/bassist for the Police.

Do I have to tell you who they are, too? Sting's trio opened with "Rita's Gun," singing with only a guitar accompanying. The crowd, of course, went wild.

Later, he was joined onstage by his back-up band, and what a band it was. No big names here, but as far as musical talent goes, they were easily a tough act to follow. Sting was also joined by two female vocalists who accompanied the Police on their last tour.

After jazzed-up versions of "Shadows in the Rain" and "Driven to Tears," he explained, "What's the hell I'm going to do with all this experiment I'm doing." Then he performed a new song titled "The Children's Crusade." It was a slow, synthesized ballad punctuated by Sting's electric piano.

While singing about "building many walls," I could see the perspiration. It might add some realism to the drama, so the show has a fluid movement and tight construction.

The set changes take place in front of the audience and are interesting to watch. These smooth changes help pace the drama, so the show has a fluid movement and tight construction.

The trial takes place during a scorching summer heat wave. It is interesting to note that in such heat, the actors' hair is in place and their clothes are free of wrinkles and perspiration. It might add some realism to the production to have the clothes a little less fresh-pressed. But credit must be given where it is due. The details of the costumes are historically accurate, right down to the shoes.

Inherit the Wind is exciting, fast-paced and even moving. John Going's fine direction is tight and the scene transitions are smooth. There isn't a dull moment in this production. In a very few words, see it!

Inherit the Wind plays at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn through March 24.

---

Rian Dragen and Museum play at the Dirt Club

Rian Dragen and the band Museum are returning to the New York-New Jersey scene with two new members joining Rian and drummer Paul Berger to enhance the band's sound. New members are guitarist Richie Floyd Heath and bass player George.

Rian, a poet and lyricist, is lead vocalist of Museum. She has performed in such clubs as Bitter End, CBGB's, 240 West and The Jetty in 1984.

As advertised, the new Museum, Rian called the group "strongly poetic; gusty; breathing rock and roll."
Attention

— There was a worm in my pajamas on Tuesday. Film at 11 p.m.
— Cherry trees are in bloom in Washington square.
— Typing services. Reports, letter, resumes, etc. all 667-8063 for more information.
— Typing done for you! Call Sue at 667-8063. Leave message if not home.
— ALL SCAB's: Need money for shirts—PRONTO—Thanks Rich H.
— Professional typist will type term papers, manuscripts, etc. Call after 5 p.m. 438-4922 (on-campus).
— Come to Hawaiian Beach Party. March 20 in the Rat—Free admission-— Alcohol served. Any questions call 893-5232.
— I will do your typing work at my home at a very reasonable rate. Call Bina 278-3065.
— Professional female looking for responsible female roommate to share apt. $300.00 monthly. Preferred Connections 285-9717 No Fee.
— Computerized Resumes—Resumes and cover letters only. Free future updates. Multi-print styles and formats. 53 Kline Place, Dunellen, N.J. 08812 or call 968-8760. $7 and up. Groups discounts.
— 2-year old home for rent. 12 rooms, 2 baths, 2 car garage. Right off Valley Road in Clifton. Available 5/1/85. Contact Maureen Edore—Pat Goudie Real Estate. $1500 per month. 684-4777.
— To all students interested in learning about their futures, contact Kross J.R. Psyche entertainer, Tarot card reader and hypnotist at 669-9432. Mon.—Wed.
— Meet that special someone!!! New, modern dating service for all MSC students. Contact "Stu" Tuesday or Thursday after 5:30pm. at 797-3628. All calls confidential.
— All Saga meal card holders meals to help "feed the world" Fast Day '85 March 13 and 14. Blanton and Free— men can help.
— Conservation club general meeting Thursday 5:00 Student Center #402. All are welcome. Bring a friend.
— "Feed the world." Fast Day '85 Wed. March 20th in Student Center lobby.
— CINA UNICEF and all Class One's present a St. Patrick's Day party with "Step Aside". Wednesday March 13th in the Rat. Only $1 with MSC ID and all proceeds go to UNICEF.
— I know I'm larger than 35". Does anyone have a tape measure so one (and only one) person can verify it. But it may take a few hours!!

For Sale
— '82 Firebird—dark gold metallic automatic, a/c, p/ w, p/ s, p/ t, tilt wheel, am/fm stereo, spoke wheels, 26,000 miles. $7,800 or best offer. Call 450-1140.
— 1979 SAAB 900 midnight blue/grey int. 3 door, speed ac, stereo cassette, fogs. Dealer maintained—excellent!! $4,300, call 783-0740.
— Ross ten-speed men's bike. Good condition. Asking $75. Call 4p.m. 438-4922.
— 25 watt am/fm reciever and two K.L.H. bookshelf speakers. $50 or best offer. Call 991-6693, Sun., Mon. and Wed. after 7:00 pm ask for Mark.

Personals
— Pledges of A.P.O. Good luck on Saturday, right you're almost there. Love, Pattie and Cyndi.
— "Feed the world," Fast Day '85 March 13 and 14 at Freeman and Blanton Cafe.
— Blanton Hall: beware the Nightrider.
— To the filmmakers of MSC: Douglass and Potemkin. Those are the things of film—The Limbo Excursionist. .
— Peter—good luck in your new job. Give me a call! Hazel and Pat.
— To the person(and we know who she is) who owns the blue '74 Toyota Corolla, please move it out of the Stone Hall lot. We do not appreciate you parking there because Stone doesn't have enough parking as it is. Thank you, Men of Stone.
— Dr. Rose, Minc, you may love your "darlings" but we think you are an write me a person us.!!
— Hellooo—Eddy Munster in Blanton Hall.

Texts.

— Mrs. Richard H.—you broke the code. Don't tell anyone else. I'm angry.
— to the owner of love coupons: What if the manufacturer gives you free samples? Will you accept or make copies?—I'll take them!—A.T.—Let's go to someplace simple.
— to my friends: I'm interested in you—not the activity. Love, M.M.
— Matt Jones (T.C.G.)— Congratulations! You finally got a personal!!! A Christian lady, (and jacket keeper).
— JM: I've never felt this way before. I've lost my feeling, I've lost my mind. Cristobo.
— Kathy, you still owe me 3 more dates hopefully many more. Love, Paul.
— to my so-called "acquaintance" remember, you owe me one!
— Stephen: nice new volume of "Me, My Favorite Subject" by Me (L.M.).
— Check local bookstores!
— Only 22 days until the BAHAMA'S!!! Lots of "s.s & s" I'm psyched.
— Tickets to all who made Bill Normy nite a success. Please bring in your receipts so I can exchange the gifts.
— Michele: You're cute when you're answering.
— Blanket: Beige? you know who.
— CINA, CLUB, and all the class one's present a Saturday Party with "Step Aside". Wednesday March 13th in the Rat. Only $1 with MSC ID and all proceeds go to UNICEF.
— Chuck Bond: you are the best thing in my life! Will you marry me and father my children? I love you! Kim.
— Abby Schwartz, you name the time, I'll name the place. Allen and Anne.
— Rich, you broke the code. Don't piddle out to my line-up and don't wear those beach threads. M.C.
— To Eileen: Happy 20th birthday!! from your bestest drinking buddy.
— The hangover has arrived. See him on The Weekend.
— MKAF, just thought I'd drop you a personal before the weekend: I love you, CC.
— Bonnie, happy 20th birthday from the man you lost a bet to over the summer. M.C.
— Mary Jo: I wanna go nanna pickin' now.
— Mitch: Happy Birthday. It’s only three days late. Allison and Anne.
— Snausage: You're the jammiest tart of all!!
— Bong: So when are you gonna stop by and visit? You know you don't need an invitation.
— Pam: how are you doing? I'm wishing you the best. Take care.
— Peter Kemp and Tom Lutz: Have a happy day and maybe I'll see you in May!!
Mary, how was your visit with Thom? Fill me in on all the details.

—Diane Smag: When do you intend to call it a day? It's been centuries since we've heard from you. Sandy and Judy.

—Schnick: You're our little Kittles. We love you lots and lots. But we can't let you in any more, and that's what really rots.

—James: It's meet for lunch someday soon. It's been ages since we've seen each other. Judy.

—Sweetheart, I know no matter how long I'll be there by your side singing this song. John.

—Judy: bag Kevin's a twit. Go for a real man like Gordon. Ha. ha. me.

—Snoa, spring is in the air. Jimmy isn't it?

—Kevin: our good times outnumber the bad, so let's continue having fun! Judy.

—101B: When are you going to clean your apartment?

—Sandy and Billy, I would really appreciate your being quiet in the mornings. Let you in any more, and that's what really rots.

—They: Speak up! We'll find out—and boys!! The are up to 'ta-mum' but I, you boys are up to s-a-un!!! What is it?

—Primrose Pal: we see you in the cafe!!! You said "hi" to us once before—you said "hi" again!! From the Primrose Girls.

—Patty: A picture is worth a thousand words but an action is worth a thou sand pictures! Love always, Quincy Wagon Driver —Fuzz: You make me feel like Perseus. Been giving me what I've been missing. Eight great months! Me 'same Fizz.

—Mingo: thanks for the best five months a girl could ask for. I love you, Lisa.

—Meryl; Janice, Lisa and Lisa: thanks for all your support and caring. Things will work out for the best. Love, Lisa —Cristobo: Happy 519th B-day. Hope it's special and that all your dreams and wishes come true. Love and kisses, J.M.

—He: Why, when are we going to go out to El Torito? I'm still waiting!! I'll even settle for Mickey's D's.

—To: K.P. & P.G. When are we going to take another "trip" (ha!) down the shore?

—Karen, from now on the Dr. gets to come on every CLUB trip. Rosemarie—Come to the CLUB office to see "The Block" from room 35- part of the bed of Big Vanila.

—Cristobo: Happy belated birthday and darring, darring be nice to JM and especially to me...or else. Rose—To MSC forms of life: Fester will arrive soon...watch for them.

—Mary Mialle, for everything and anything. Oh God yes!!—Who said Pat L. is the cutest freshman over 5'8'?

—S.G. A. Legislator of the week: Kathy Smith.

—St. Patrick's Day is coming and boy is Louis Quinn excited. —Mike Krienke: The S.G.A. did't hold a meeting on Jan.20. You must be confused with some other organization.

—There are now only 300 more shopping days till Bill Normile's birthday.

—Snoopy: Have the happiest B-day—ever. Love you lots and we'll celebrate the right way!!!—Rose: stay away from that extra joint guy. Someone doesn't know.

—Jim in visual arts studio II, F., 9:00 a.m.: why did you leave before I could show you my fantasy machine? A—James: Let's expand—when would you like to start? Your wife.

—Michael: Remarkable— or unbeatable, which is it?

—Attention all CIC members: The CIC Times, part III, is in the works. So watch what you say and if you have any ideas or persons, let me know.

—Agent 99: I'm sorry I didn't get the meaning of your personal. Maybe Ford will pardon me, Jim, the Micro Man.

—Patty: an action is w—You know who... "but the greatest of these is LOVE"! I'm always here for you. Me —to the girl in the Rat: Did you like the rose? If so, meet me on the third floor of the Student Center Friday at 12:00.

—Last: one puffin. Known as a Cassidy. If found or seen, contact the limbo excursionist.

Wanted

—Real man with real parts, if you know what I mean.

—to the energy to go to classes, or the ability to make the grades without going to classes.

—EARN $400-$800 PER WEEK PART-TIME! Make your own hours to fit school. No experience necessary. Immediate openings. For further information call 239-1640, Ed Frontera.

—Needed: Ride from Madison to Montclair High School on any or all weekdays—some days 7:25 a.m., other days 7:50 a.m. and Fridays 8:45 am. Call R. Truex, 898-6256. After 6:00 p.m., 377-6304.

—Students interested in our Earth. Come to the Conservation Club, general meeting, Thursday, 5:00 p.m., Student Center, Room 402. START YOUR CAREER NOW: Earn money and work on Fortune 500 Companies' marketing programs on campus. Part-time (flexible) hours each week. We give references. Call 1-800-243-6679.

—WANTED: College Students. Pleasant work and conditions for themed indoor amusement facility in Wayne $3.75—$4.50 h.r. Call Frank 785-1461 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

—GOVERNMENT JOBS: $15,000—$50,000 yr. possible. All occupations. Find out how Call 1-805-687-6000 Ext. 4984.

crossword puzzler

look for answers in next issue

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ACROSS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Fish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. For instance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. For</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Letter</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14. Real estate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15. Real estate</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DOWN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Century plant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Bard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. As far as</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Eagle's nest</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Breathe</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Gift</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. French article</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. French article</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. Stories</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10. as written</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11. Compass</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12. Compass</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13. Compass</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14. Compass</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15. Compass</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

datebook

Thursday

—Conservatory Club general meeting; Student Center Room 402. Begins at 5 p.m. free, all interested students are welcome!

Saturday

—Workshop "Identifying the Characters within": Women's Center. Student Center Room 402 9:30 a.m.—12:30 p.m.; Price $1.00. Pre-registration requested at Women's Center Student Center Room 420.
Sunday 3/10
— Fast Day: Resident Assistants, Russ Hall Lounge 11 a.m.—12 p.m. Price: free, Steve Callahan representing Catholic Relief services, will speak on the African crisis at Newman Mass.
— Dinner: Newman Center 5:00 p.m. Price: $1, Newman Community will have their group photo taken for 1985, yearbook during dinner.
— New Members’ Meeting: Conservation Club, Student Center Room 412 all are welcome!
— Part-time Job Orientation: Career Services, Student Center Annex Room 104 2:00 p.m.—2:30 p.m. Price: Free

Review of procedures to assist students in finding a part time job.

Tuesday 3/12
— Meeting: Phi Chi Theta. Student Center Room 417B 5:30 p.m.—7:00 p.m.
— Residence Hall Federation. 12:00—8:00 p.m. Bohm Hall lounge. — Fast Day: Resident Assistants, Student Center Room 411-412 2:00—4:00 p.m.
— Bohm Hall Main Lounge 6:00 p.m. Price: Free Presentation and film on Catholic Relief services and Oxfam America’s efforts to reduce the African crisis.

Wednesday 3/13
— Speaker Discussion—"Publishing your own Book," sponsored by the Women’s Center. 12 noon to 1 p.m.
— Seminar: What Can You Do With Your Major, Career Services, Student Center, Room 417 10:00—11:00 a.m. Price: Free, Information on numerous job opportunities open to college graduates will be discussed.
— St. Patrick's day Dance Party: CINA, Club, and all the Class One Organizations of the SGA. The Rathskeller 8:00 p.m.—1:00 a.m. Price: $1 with MSC ID $1.50 guest with MSC students. CINA, Club, and all the Class One Organizations of the SGA present a St. Patrick's Day Party with hot new band Step A Side. All proceeds go to UNICEF.

Thursday 3/14
— Interviewing II: Practice, Career Services. Student Center Room 417 10:00 a.m.—11:00 a.m. Price: Free Attendance at Interviewing II is prerequisite. If you have a resume, bring it.
— Resume Clinic: Career Services. Student Center Annex, Room 104 1:00 p.m.—2:00 p.m. Price: Free Be sure to bring copy of your resume.
— Seminar: Interviewing I Career Services. Student Center, Room 417 6:00 p.m.—8:00 p.m. Designed to provide students with understanding of the interview process. Important For Those Who Are Taking Part in Recruitment.

Friday 3/15
— Seminar: For Seniors only, Career Services. Student Center, Room 417 2:00—3:00 p.m. Free. Introduction to Recruitment and the Computerized Job Matching System.
— Seminar: Dress For Success, Career Services. Student Center Room 417 10—12 noon Free. Learn about appropriate and inappropriate dress for interviewing and on the job.

Monday 3/18
— Denis Mullins Concert: Newman. Ballroom B 7:30—9:00 p.m. Call 746-2323.

The invitation just said black tie.

Thanks to your friends, you also wore a jacket and pants.

When none other than the Dean invites you to a black tie reception, what do you do? Start borrowing: a jacket here (40 regular), a pair of pants there, and before you know it, you’re looking pretty sharp.

And when your formal party is over, there’s another one you should arrange. Making sure that each contributor to your wardrobe gets what he deserves in the form of a Löwenbräu.

After all, isn’t any friend worth a cummerbund, worth one of the world’s finest bottles of beer?
Women’s basketball; experience is key for the future

cont. from backpage
well to my coaching philosophy,” said Jeffrey. “They trusted me from the beginning with the new ideas I employed. I think they did exceptionally well in adjusting.”

The Indian’s adjustment did take time, though. After opening the season with a loss to Monmouth, MSC won five of their next seven games and earned a 3-2 conference appearance. This was the toughest time for the team.

“When you start losing, things get really down,” explained Jeffrey. “This team, at the worst part of the season said, ‘let’s not fall apart.’ They really pulled it up and out of the doldrums.

“What I tried to get them to do,” said Jeffrey, “is reflect on the positive. The close games we lost were just because of young mistakes. As much as those losses come back to haunt us, they’ll also come back to help us. One of my favorite sayings is, ‘victory is fleeting but defeat is forever.’ They won’t forget those losses or what they did wrong. They’re going to learn from those mistakes next season.

“I happen to be an eternal optimist,” said Jeffrey. “It’s important the team has really worked for success and has done everything I’ve asked of them. They make me very proud. I think they are the team itself, the reason for my optimism. ... They’re all just a great bunch of kids.”

Being a "great bunch of kids" wasn’t enough for the Indians to escape Jill Jeffrey’s high standards, however. She asks for the team to play as hard as each one of them can play for their own and the team’s sake.

“When I look at my players,” she said, “I see their potential. I set very high standards for them. I have great faith in the character of the players and have confidence in each of them. I look at what they can be.”

“It took the season to get them to see the kind of coach I am, the perfectionist I am, that I want them to reach their full potential, the team’s full potential.”

The team saw their potential in a few games this season and, except for Karen Hughes, the Indians will be returning all their letter-winners.

Hughes, who Jeffrey termed a “spark plug for the team,” played every position except center this season, and “played to win in every role,” said Jeffrey.

Without the versatile Hughes, the Indians still have six players who saw action in at least 25 of the Indians’ 26 games.

Next year appears to be a big one for MSC. With virtually the same starting lineup plus one year’s experience and the move from Division II to Division III basketball, a lot of promise is in the minds of Indian fans.

The team will benefit from the experience of Sue Ball’s passing game, and one more year of Bratton and co-captain Judy De Francisci at forward will only further cement the Indian’s lineup.

Perhaps the biggest help for the 1985-86 Indians will be at the center position. Jeffrey won’t have two freshman centers as she did this year, but two sophomores with a year of experience in Division I basketball.

Sue Ehrmann and Nancy Phillips, both 6’0”, shared playing time this year with moderate success, but both came on late in the season and are going to give MSC an important added dimension next year.

“I think it was a great building year,” said Jeffrey. “They (the Indians) surprised many people. I think they surprised themselves with their potential. I think we have laid the groundwork for the type of program I intended to start building here. I’m very proud of this team.”

Jill Jeffrey recently completed her first season as MSC head coach. She is pleased with her team’s progress, and “playing to win in every role,” said Jeffrey.

The Indians still have six players who saw action in at least 25 of the Indians’ 26 games.

Next year appears to be a big one for MSC. With virtually the same starting lineup plus one year’s experience and the move from Division II to Division III basketball, a lot of promise is in the minds of Indian fans.

The team will benefit from the experience of Sue Ball’s passing game, and one more year of Bratton and co-captain Judy De Francisci at forward will only further cement the Indian’s lineup.

Perhaps the biggest help for the 1985-86 Indians will be at the center position. Jeffrey won’t have two freshman centers as she did this year, but two sophomores with a year of experience in Division I basketball.

Sue Ehrmann and Nancy Phillips, both 6’0”, shared playing time this year with moderate success, but both came on late in the season and are going to give MSC an important added dimension next year.

“I think it was a great building year,” said Jeffrey. “They (the Indians) surprised many people. I think they surprised themselves with their potential. I think we have laid the groundwork for the type of program I intended to start building here. I’m very proud of this team.”

Jill Jeffrey recently completed her first season as MSC head coach. She is pleased with her team’s progress, and “playing to win in every role,” said Jeffrey.

The Indians still have six players who saw action in at least 25 of the Indians’ 26 games.

Next year appears to be a big one for MSC. With virtually the same starting lineup plus one year’s experience and the move from Division II to Division III basketball, a lot of promise is in the minds of Indian fans.

The team will benefit from the experience of Sue Ball’s passing game, and one more year of Bratton and co-captain Judy De Francisci at forward will only further cement the Indian’s lineup.

Perhaps the biggest help for the 1985-86 Indians will be at the center position. Jeffrey won’t have two freshman centers as she did this year, but two sophomores with a year of experience in Division I basketball.

Sue Ehrmann and Nancy Phillips, both 6’0”, shared playing time this year with moderate success, but both came on late in the season and are going to give MSC an important added dimension next year.

“I think it was a great building year,” said Jeffrey. “They (the Indians) surprised many people. I think they surprised themselves with their potential. I think we have laid the groundwork for the type of program I intended to start building here. I’m very proud of this team.”
Milonas and Monaco win NCAA Division III titles

By Perry Schwarz
Nick Milonas and John Monaco will be off to Oklahoma for their portion of the biggest wrestling matches of their careers since being at MSC. They will be competing in the Division I championships where both wrestlers won their respective weight classes. Milonas, who was recruited out of East Brunswick High School, wrestles at the weight class of 126 and in high school came in third while competing in the state finals. He is a junior at MSC. Monaco, a state champion at Clifton High School, went to Syracuse for a year and then decided to transfer back to MSC. He is a junior and wrestled at 167.

"I really feel these kids can win it all," Head coach Steven Strellner said. "Both of these individuals really improved in their overall abilities and worked really hard by putting extra time and effort in the off season as well as during the season," he continued.

The work these individuals put into their wrestling definitely showed results since they are Division III champions in their weight classes. But the road doesn't get easier. It will get harder going up the ladder. There are between 30 and 36 wrestlers in each weight categories and all the wrestlers are of Division II caliber.

However, that has not discouraged the two grapplers, "I really feel these kids are now fine-tuned and can win their classes," Strellner commented. Not only do the wrestlers put in many hours of time and energy, but so do the coaches. Strellner's assistant, Bob Orta, has worked alongside both Monaco and Milonas and helped them develop their techniques to prepare the two for their upcoming matches.

"Without Bob I wouldn't have been able to bring these individuals along and still coach the team and recruit," Strellner said. Orta has been a big part of the success of these athletes and直接 approach as to what they wanted to accomplish. With each player staying within her role and perfecting it, the team's improvement as a whole would naturally follow.

"Each of the roles are important to our strength," said Jeffrey. "It goes down to the tenth player on the team. Once they understand how important each role is we were much more successful."

For the record, Jeffrey's Indians finished the year at 11-15, a six-game improvement over last year. Emery, the "scoring guard," led the team with an 18.5 average. Ball, the "passing guard," had 130 assists to lead the Indians, and Lorraine Bratton, who might be termed a "rebinding forward," paced MSC with 210 rebounds and an 8.4 average.

Although the Indians failed to make the Cosmopolitan Conference playoffs, Jeffrey wasn't discouraged. "We did lay down the foundation for the program and style of play I want to build here. The team adjusted very well as a unit."

By Jim Nicosia
Jill Jeffrey knew what she had to do when she first signed on to take over the head coaching duties of the MSC women's basketball team. She had to take last year's 5-21 squad and try to build them into winners.

Build is the key word here. Jeffrey wasn't fooling herself. She knew that such a transition doesn't happen overnight, so she devised a strict plan on which her team would lay down the foundation for their success.

"What I tried to do was play to our strengths and capitalize on the strength of each individual," said Jeffrey. "When I played here (1976-1980), each player did what she did best. We were a great team where each individual played on her strengths," she recalled.

So she organized her team this year according to what she knew worked. For instance, emphasizing Debbie Emery's scoring ability and Sue Ball's passing finesse by casting them in the roles of scoring and passing guards respectively, gave the team a more balanced team on a winning note.

Coach Jeffrey pleased with lady hoopsters improvement

In the all-around, Bosslar took second with a total score of 33.10. Other Indians who scored points against TSC were Pam Vertes who had a second place finish in the uneven bars with a score of 8.3. In the floor exercise, Bosslar had an 8.6—good enough for second place. Galloway finished third, 8.55.

No MSC gymnast placed in the balance beam competition.