Limited budget in economics dept. might result in a greater selectivity

By Warren Thomas

Due to budget restraints, the economics department may have to become more selective of its students according to Dr. Phillip LeBel, chairman of the department. At the Nov. 7 Board of Trustees meeting, LeBel said the department has experienced an increase in the number of MSC students majoring in economics. There are now over 400 students in the department, an increase of over 150 students since 1980.

However, due to these budget restraints, LeBel said, “We may have to raise our academic standards in order to meet our limited resources in order to maintain the quality of instruction.” As a result of expanded enrollment, the department has increasingly come to rely on part-time faculty members to teach the expanded course offerings. LeBel also noted the department’s commitment to provide services to the entire college. “We fully support the concept of a liberal arts institution at MSC,” he said. “Our future plans are to broaden our course offerings and beef up our advisement systems for students.”

Prof. cites cellular computer patterns as common phenomena

By Tom Boud

The scientific principle known as cellular automata, the formation of patterns on a computer or hypothetical grid, was the focus of a lecture sponsored by the department of mathematics and computer science. Dr. Stephen Wolfran of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton explained that cellular automata is a common phenomenon. “Cellular automata even encompass objects as simple and ordinary as snowflakes,” Wolfran said. “For snowflakes can and do have intricate patterned forms which demonstrate that cellular automata occurs naturally.”

Wolfran also said that animal pigmentation patterns as well as the production of cells involve cellular automata. “The pigmentation on mollusk shells and the creation of biological cells are other areas where this phenomenon takes place in nature,” he said.

Referring to the faculty senate’s censure of the administration’s actions regarding the suspension of Prof. Scott MacConnell, faculty representative to the Board, Dr. Kathleen Wilkins, said: “I was surprised at the unanimous support of the censure resolution. My sense is that the faculty senate is taking no position as to the right or wrong of MacConnell’s actions. They are just expressing their disagreement with the actions of Pres. Walters, which they felt were inappropriate and untimely at this stage.”

Wilkins expressed her concern for the effect that the MacConnell case could have on faculty morale. “There are tremendous implications on the actions taken on MacConnell in regard to faculty rights,” she said. “I think its most important thing we try to function together harmoniously.”

President Donald Walters announced that the proceedings and recommendations of last month’s Fall Symposium would be published and distributed around the campus. He also said that a feasibility committee has been established to examine if MSC has the capacity to conduct a fundraising campaign for higher education.

The science department, at the Nov. 7 Board of Trustees meeting, said that the proceedings and recommendations of last month’s Fall Symposium would be published and distributed around the campus. He also said that a feasibility committee has been established to examine if MSC has the capacity to conduct a fundraising campaign for higher education.

Reception promotes friendship among students of all nations

By Warren Thomas

The International Student Organization (ISO) held a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.

Lloyd Moorhouse, president of the ISO and a senior marketing and management major from Australia, thanked Walters for his “active and sincere interest in the club.” Moorhouse also welcomed Dr. Harriet Klein, the director of the new International Students Office.

“We want American students to join our organization, it’s not just for foreigners,” Moorhouse said. “It’s basically to promote friendship and understanding between foreign students and their American host.”

Founded seven years ago, ISO is now composed of 147 students from 43 different countries in Europe, Asia, and South America.

Among the recommendations presented by ISO is to establish a scholarship program for international students, to hold a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.

Reception promotes friendship among students of all nations

By Warren Thomas

The International Student Organization (ISO) held a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.

Lloyd Moorhouse, president of the ISO and a senior marketing and management major from Australia, thanked Walters for his “active and sincere interest in the club.” Moorhouse also welcomed Dr. Harriet Klein, the director of the new International Students Office.

“We want American students to join our organization, it’s not just for foreigners,” Moorhouse said. “It’s basically to promote friendship and understanding between foreign students and their American hosts.”

Founded seven years ago, ISO is now composed of 147 students from 43 different countries in Europe, Asia, and South America.

Among the recommendations presented by ISO is to establish a scholarship program for international students, to hold a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.

Reception promotes friendship among students of all nations

By Warren Thomas

The International Student Organization (ISO) held a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.

Lloyd Moorhouse, president of the ISO and a senior marketing and management major from Australia, thanked Walters for his “active and sincere interest in the club.” Moorhouse also welcomed Dr. Harriet Klein, the director of the new International Students Office.

“We want American students to join our organization, it’s not just for foreigners,” Moorhouse said. “It’s basically to promote friendship and understanding between foreign students and their American hosts.”

Founded seven years ago, ISO is now composed of 147 students from 43 different countries in Europe, Asia, and South America.

Among the recommendations presented by ISO is to establish a scholarship program for international students, to hold a reception on Nov. 12 for President Donald Walters to express their appreciation for the administration’s past support and to propose recommendations for ISO’s future.
Pushing Ahead '85
A Minority Career Conference

Wednesday, November 20,
12:30-7:30 p.m.
Student Center Ballrooms

12:30-1 p.m. Registration
1-2 p.m. "From School Work to Paid Work: Making the Transition"
The first year on the job is crucial to your advancement in the corporate world. Learn what to expect as you make a successful transition.
2-3 p.m. "Marketing Yourself for Success"
Learn the effective marketing techniques to move up the career ladder and whether or not minorities must use strategies other than those normally required for non-minority candidates.
6:30-7:30 Submit resumes and talk informally to representatives from major corporations about full-time, part-time, and summer job/internship opportunities.
5:15-6:30 Dinner. Employers, students, and alumni will have another opportunity to exchange information.

Employers that have participated include:
ADP
Arthur Andersen
AT&T Communications
Bamberger's
Bell Laboratories
Beneficial Management Corp.
Blue Cross/Blue Shield
CBS
Coopers & Lybrand
CVS
Deloitte Haskins & Sells
Deluxe Check Printers
Ernst & Whinney
Haene's
IBM
J.C. Penney
Jersey Central Power & Light
NCR
New Jersey Bell Telephone Co.
New Jersey Transit
Ortho Pharmaceutical People Express
Price Waterhouse
Prudential
State Farm Ins. Co.
Stern's
U.S. Lines
Xerox

Participants should come dressed as they would for an interview and have resumes to give employers. All are welcome to attend regardless of race, creed, color, or sex. All participants must PRE-REGISTER BY NOVEMBER 19, 1985. (For more information, contact Career Services, Room 104, Student Center Annex. (201) 893-5194.)

Sponsoring Groups: LASO, BSCU,
BLACK ALUMNI COMMITTEE AND HISPANIC ALUMNI COMMITTEE OF MSC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

---

Bring or Mail to:
Career Services. Student Center Annex, Room 104
Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, N.J. 07043
(201) 893-5194

"Yes,
I would like
to pre-register"

Name: ___________________________ Class: ______
Current Address: ___________________________
Zip. ______ Phone Number: _______________________

Please check one only:
___ I will attend only the program at no charge (excludes dinner).
___ I will attend and have dinner. Enclosed is my $3 check or money order which is payable to MSC Alumni Association.

---
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is planning tunnel construction under MSC

By Terry Rehm
The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is planning to construct an underground tunnel which will lie partially under the MSC campus, according to Jayne Rodak, SGA legislator, at last night’s meeting. The tunnel would be built in an effort to control consistent flooding in the Passaic River Basin. Flooding in the area causes an average of $77.8 million worth of damage each year. The 14 mile, 300-foot-deep tunnel would extend from Pompton Plains to Clifton. The project would be federally funded, and MSC would incur no costs.

The tunnel, if constructed, would most likely run under the Student Center. Rodak plans to research what kind of impact the construction would have on the MSC campus. "We need to find out if buildings will have to be uplifted, or if ground would have to be uplifted" he said. Rodak mentioned that geological studies have revealed solid rock which underlies the campus. This could decrease the feasibility of tunnel construction.

In other news, the Welfare and Internal Affairs Committee has been investigating the ever-increasing problems with shuttle buses. Lately, students have had to wait 45 minutes for buses. Hal Benz, committee member, met with campus police chief, Jayne Rich, on the matter. "As with everything else, the problem is money," reported Benz. He explained that the drivers take many personal and sick days, and that MSC does not have the money to keep reserve drivers on call. Rich and Benz discussed the possibility of parking lot attendants getting bus licenses, so they could fill in if necessary.

The SGA is sponsoring a bus trip to Glassboro State for this Friday’s football game. "It’ll be a lot of fun if we get a lot of people going down there," said SGA legislator Gary Takvorian. The bus will depart from the front of Partridge Hall at 4 p.m. on Friday, and will arrive in Glassboro one hour before the start of the game. Tickets will be on sale Thursday and Friday in the dorms and Student Center, at a cost of $1. Takvorian urged MSC students to attend this important game, saying, "We should give this championship team championship support."

In other news, the SGA appropriated $1,200 to the Ice Hockey Club, a Class II organization.

Alpha Phi Omega

We ask that each student bring in 2 cans of either a vegetable or meat (i.e. tuna, beefstew) to help us meet our goal of 3,200 cans! All food collected by the drive will be distributed by the Community Food Bank of New Jersey to benefit the hungry of New Jersey.

Receptacles will be located throughout campus
Student Center Room 406 Alpha Phi Omega Office
Mallory Hall
Newman House
Clove Road Apartments
Blanton Hall
College Hall

Look for the "Ton of Thanks" logo on the receptacle
For more information call X5431 Alpha Phi Omega
Kicks off Monday, November 11
Food Drive Ends Tuesday, November 26

Sponsored by: Alpha Phi Omega—A Class IV Organization
The Newman Community—A Class III Organization
THE BLACK STUDENT COOPERATIVE UNION PRESENTS:

“'A Media Awareness Night”

Topics addressed:

Employment and depiction of the Afro-American in news, TV shows and print

Panelists include:

Pat Battle— reporter for NJ Network News
John Hickman— owner of radio station WUSS
Stanley Terrell— reporter for the NJ Star Ledger
Francis Tinsley— Alumni of MSC who is currently the program director for WBLS and WLIB

DATE: Tuesday, November 19th
TIME: 7:30 P.M.
PLACE: SC Annex/Room 126

All Are Welcome!

BSCU is a Class I Organization of the S.G.A.
News Notes

Three Tuition Assistance Programs

The Financial Aid Office has announced three tuition assistance programs available to veterans this fall. The first program, the Veterans Tuition Credit Program (VTCP), is open to New Jersey residents who served on active duty from December 31, 1960 to August 1, 1974. Applicants may be enrolled in either an undergraduate or graduate degree program.

The second program is the Vietnam Veterans Tuition Aid Program (VVTAP). The program is open to New Jersey residents who served between August 5, 1964 to May 7, 1975, and who were awarded the Vietnam service ribbon. Applicants may be enrolled in initial undergraduate degree programs only. Veterans interested in the VVTAP must file a New Jersey Financial Aid Form to be eligible.

A third program is available to members of the Selected Reserve units, which include the Army, Naval, Air Force and Marine Corps Reserve as well as the Army National Guard, Air National Guard and the Coast Guard Reserve. Applicants must be enlisted to serve for a period of at least six years. Applications for all three programs may be picked up in either the Financial Aid Office, Room 321, College Hall or Veterans Services, located in the Student Center, Room E. The deadline for filing applications for the 1986-87 academic year is March 1, 1986.

For more information regarding these programs, please call the Financial Aid Office at 893-4461 or Veterans Services at 893-5180.

Graduate student award nominations

An award for outstanding professional achievement in counseling, human services or guidance will be presented next spring to a graduate of the Master's program offered by the department of counseling, human services and guidance in the school of professional studies. Anyone who completed the program three or more years ago and is not presently a faculty member or an active adjunct in the department is eligible for consideration.

Nomination forms must be submitted for consideration by February 15, 1986; they will be collected by Mrs. Kur. Only the members of this department who have demonstrated outstanding abilities in one or more of these areas in the community.

For more information, contact Dr. Eldola Talley at 893-7181.

Art Forum lecture

The Art Forum Lecture Series continues at MSC with fiber artist Barbara MacCallum on Thurs., Nov. 21 at 6:30 p.m. in Calcia Building, Room 135.

The lecture is free and open to all students. For more information, contact Pat Lay at 893-4307.

Women's Center sponsors forum on safety

MSC's Women's Center is sponsoring a forum, "Women: Safety and Danger on Campus", on Tues., Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m. in Room 417 of the Student Center.

Jayne Rich, chief of campus police, will discuss the realities and fallacies of this issue. She will also provide information on how women can protect themselves. Admission is free and all students are welcome to attend.

Computer lecture

cont. from p. 1

and faculty foreign exchanges, and increasing international studies in the MSC curriculum.

"We're going to try to give students a broader vision of other cultures in their courses," Klein said.

Ronojoy Datta, a sophomore business major from India, reflected on his experience in America saying, "It's really nice here. My roommates are Americans, and it's a new experience making friends with people from another culture."

Dorit Wiener, a junior English major from Austria, explained that she is part of a special sister-city exchange program between MSC and the University of Graz. "I like the courses here," she said. "It's also the first time I've lived in a dormitory, which has helped me make a lot of new friends and meet a lot of new people."

Workshops on:

Endangered Species

Birds, Bugs, and Critters

Salt March Wetlands

New Jersey Water Issues

Arts in the Environment

Air Pollution

Garbage and Related Issues

Energy Conservation

Welcoming Address will be made by Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden

• In order to attend, you must register at the Conservation Club Office Room 403.

Phone — 893-5102

Sponsored by—Conservation Club (Class I Organization of the S.G.A.)
Class One Concerts and BSCU Present

MELBA MOORE

and

FREDDIE JACKSON

Wednesday, November 20  8:30
Memorial Auditorium

Tickets are still available
and will be sold at the door

$12 with MSC I.D.  $14 without MSC I.D.

CIC and BSCU are Class Ones of the S.G.A.
Minority Career Conference will address major concerns

Minorities entering the work force are faced with the same difficulties as the majority population, plus more. Not only do minority candidates have to prove their competence and perform well above the standards to be successful, but they also have to cultivate the correct contacts and adapt to the corporate culture and politics. Adapting successfully in the corporate culture may mean sacrificing aspects of one's ethnic culture if they go against the grain.

To aid in this process, MSC's 3rd annual "Pushing Ahead '85: A Minority Career Conference" will be held on Wed., Nov. 20, from 12:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center Ballrooms. The conference will consist of workshops led by minority professionals, who will address some of the special concerns that may be faced as minority individuals enter the corporate world. In addition, company representatives from 30 major corporations from industries such as retailing, banking, insurance, and pharmaceuticals will be available to answer questions concerning career options. They will accept resumes for potential job openings.

The purpose of the conference is twofold: to promote and emphasize the importance of networking as well as career planning, and to provide successful role models.

There will be two workshops presented. The first is "From School Work to Paid Work: Making the Transition" which will focus on the first year on the job which is crucial to your advancement in the corporate world. The second will be "Marketing Yourself for Success" which will examine the effective marketing techniques to move up the career ladder, and whether or not minorities must use strategies other than those normally required for non-minority candidates.

The conference is being coordinated by Career Services and sponsored by the Black Student Cooperative Union, Latin American Student Organization, and the Black and Hispanic Alumni Committees of MSC's Alumni Association.

Employers will be accepting resumes from participants, who are expected to dress as they would for an interview. There is no fee for attending the conference. But there is a $3 charge to students and an $8 charge to alumni and faculty/staff for dinner. Dinner seating is limited, so please register now. Contact Career Services, Student Center Annex, Room 104, for registration and information.

Senior speaks out

Personnel job provides psych major with good experience

Getting a job after graduation is a big concern for most students. In order to get ready for the job market, I turned to the Office of Cooperative Education. They told me they placed undergraduates in entry level professional positions where students get experience, credits, and a salary. As a psychology major I found myself becoming interested in human resource management, and hoped Co-op would help me get some practical experience and training. My Co-op coordinator, Joseph Stahley, sent me on two interviews.

First, I went to the training department of Revlon; then to the personnel department of Ebasco Services. In August 1985, I was hired by Ebasco as a personnel assistant in the quality control department.

Ebasco Services is an engineering and construction firm which employs approximately 7,000 people worldwide. They build power plants and have many sites in the United States. My duties include screening resumes, handling relocation policies, setting up interviews across the country, and sitting in on interviews. Since my employment I have had the opportunity to apply my college education to the intrinsic functions of a fast-paced corporate headquarters. My duties include such things as screening resumes, handling relocation policies, setting up interviews across the country, and sitting in on interviews.

One of the best facets of the job is that it requires dealing with people constantly. The training and experience is giving me a competitive edge over other students entering the job market. I am also receiving credits while doing something that can only enhance my post graduation job prospects.

Looking back, I just happened to be in the right place at the right time. Do yourself a favor, get to the right place - The Cooperative Education Office. The right time is now! Gaye Hallenbeck is a senior, psychology major.
Explore opportunities with the

NEWARK AIRPORT Marriott

Excellent benefits; tuition assistance, free meals, etc. Full and Part Time Positions

Positions Available:

*Waiter/Waitress
   (restaurant, banquet, cocktail lounge, roomservice)
*Bellstand
*Host/Hostess

THE WATCH
New Jersey's #1 Dance Band

Every Thursday 9 P.M.-2:30 A.M.
Free Admission with College I.D.
Free Hot/Cold Buffet
DRINK SPECIALS
Proof of 21 required

THE PATCH
Hew Jersey's #1 Dance Band

♦

Joeys
A NITE CLUB

1296 VAN HOUTEN AVE.
CLIFTON, N.J.
(201) 777-2044

gacom, n.j.
§3(201)777-2044

For Further Information or Immediate Consideration:
call (201) 623-0006 Ext. 6613
Monday-Friday, 3-4 P.M.

E.O.C. M/F/H/V
The Montclarion/Thurs., Nov. 14, 1985

SGA Legislators

Neil Guth
Status: Junior
Major: Marketing/Management
Activities: External Affairs Committee
Hobbies: MSC golf team
Goals: As a member of the External Affairs Committee, I intend to keep the SGA and all students informed of outside events concerning new laws in the state of N.J.

Cesar Ospina
Status: Senior
Major: Mathematics
Activities: SGA
Hobbies: Roller skating, making friends, photography
Goals: To make the students aware of the services available to them, and do the best job as an SGA legislator.

Maria Cirianni
Status: Junior
Major: Accounting/computer science minor
Activities: Montclarion treasurer
Goals: To serve students by becoming involved with decisions that will benefit the entire campus.

Wanda M. Johnson
Status: Sophomore
Major: Biology
Activities: SGA
Hobbies: Football, dance, music
Goals: To make this campus a better and more comfortable place to live.

SANTA'S Shopping LIST:
(Things to buy at the College Store!)

- mugs
- glassware
- pewter plates
- musical figures
- calendars
- *posters
- pen and pencil sets
- *key chains
- calculators
- trade books
- hats, scarves
- *New Items
- *walk-belt (for radio)
- backpacks
- *umbrellas
- *night notes
- *Halley's Comet map/poster
- stuffed animals
- lamps
- address books
- briefcases
- letter openers
- paper weights
- *Christmas needlepoint

FREE Gift with purchase of $5.00 or more

The College Store is owned and operated by the Faculty Student Cooperative Assn., Inc.
The Black Student Cooperative Union
Presents It's Annual:
HARVEST BALL

This year's theme is: "We Are Family"

Guest Speaker:
Gwendolyn Goldsby Grant
writer of "Just Between Us"
column in Essence Magazine

This festive occasion takes place:

DATE: Sunday, November 17, 1985
TIME: 5-11 P.M.
PLACE: S.C. Ballrooms

Come out and enjoy the Festivities

a Class One Organization of the S.G.A.
HELP A FRIEND BREAK A HABIT ON NOV. 21

If you have friends who smoke, help them quit during the Great American Smokeout on November 21. Keep a friend from smoking for one day, and you may keep a friend for life.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD presents

The 'Family Feud'

Starring your favorite game show host and mine Jack Lyons

Friday, December 6th 12:00

in the Rat

*Sororities*Fraternities*Commuter Groups
*Class I, II, III, IV’s*Roommates*Suitmates*Etc.

Sign up in Room 121 Student Center Annex by Friday, November 22nd.

CLUB is a Class I of the S.G.A.
Cheer on MSC at Glassboro!

The football team (B-1) has already clinched the divisional title, but an NCAA playoff berth still is at stake. A loss at Glassboro State Friday night would virtually eliminate the Indians from consideration; a win would make their chances that much better.

The college is providing a bus to and from Glassboro for any students who wish to go and cheer on our team. The cost is only a dollar (plus the cost of entrance to the game). The bus will leave from Partridge Hall at 4 p.m. sharp Thursday afternoon and depart from Glassboro shortly after the game. Tickets for the bus are available in the Student Center lobby or in the SGA office. However, they must be purchased by 11 a.m. Friday.

So, lock up the house and show your school spirit. Catch the 1985 Indians in their final regular season game.

Breathe clean, fresh air on November 21

Why do you smoke?
Is it just a habit?
Would you like to quit?
You don't think you would be able to do it?
If you're even thinking of quitting, give it a try next Thursday. You won't be alone.

November 21st marks the ninth annual Great American Smokeout sponsored by the American Cancer Society. According to a survey conducted by the Gallup Organization, an estimated 20.4 million smokers succeeded in either avoiding cigarettes completely or cutting down on their tobacco intake during that day last year.

Even though this is an encouraging sign, there are still an estimated 55 million smokers in the United States today. We urge anyone who smokes to try quitting for JUST ONE day. If you can do it for a day, you can do it for life. Please, give it a try.

Put aside your summit scorecards; take down the pinups of Gorbachev and Reagan; stop counting "us and them" missiles for a minute. Let's hear it for Humphrey the Humpback Whale.

If you ever need a good omen in the pre-summit fog, look for it in San Francisco Bay. If you need a bit of hope, take it from the survival of one member of a species even more endangered than our own.

Twenty-five days ago, a 40-foot-long, 45-ton behemoth made a wrong turn out of the Pacific and headed on a course of self-destruction. Stubborn, wrongheaded and way out of his salty element, the whale entered Oakland Harbor, kept swimming up the Carquinez Strait, up the Sacramento River, past the Rio Vista Bridge and got stuck 70 miles from the ocean smack in a dead-end channel called Shag Slough.

If that doesn't sound like a metaphor for Soviet-American relations, you haven't heard the recent sounding from our own international slough of despair.

Humphrey sat in this narrow, muddy puddle for nearly a week from Oct. 19-24, slowly turning a moribund shade of gray. He couldn't go forward and he didn't have the nerve to go back under the same old bridges. Humphrey didn't know best. Doesn't this sound familiar?

About this time, some people started giving up on the mammal creature. At least one marine biologist said that the whale was doomed because of its behavior. Others suggested the whale was sick to begin with, and probably had parasites in the brain. This wasn't propaganda, mind you; it was science.

But in California, people take their whales seriously. They're like peacocks that way. There evolved a group of experts, fans, groupies and citizens intent on trying to save the misguided creature from himself. On Oct. 24, one fisherman led a group of boats, with people playing percussion instruments under the water. They banged their pipes until they herded the reluctant whale through the first set of bridges.

It was not, however, clear swimming from then on. Some things take longer than others. Humphrey was about as flexible as open to a quick change in direction, as the State Department and the Kremlin rolled into one mass of blubber. He was the whale who didn't necessarily want to be saved.

The average Californian appeared more concerned with Humphrey's future than Humphrey was. Some tried herding the whale and others tried leading him alone to find his own way. Some just wanted to lift the stubborn mammal by a crane and carry him to safety.

Others wanted to throw a net over Humphrey and haul him there. They tried to scare him into action with the tape-recorded sound of his enemy, the killer whale, and to spear him with a radio transmitter.

Every time people turned him toward friendly waters, the creature balked. For the whale, it was 12 miles forward, eight miles back.

But now there's a happy enough ending to peel the glaze from eyes focused too long on the summit. Last Sunday, Humphrey was pursued and lured out of danger.

In one day he traveled 50 miles, chasing a boat that broadcasted one thing: the everyday sounds of other humpbacks. On Monday, after dallying about San Francisco Bay, urged on by cheering fotilia, he was finally home free. The recording, by the way, was made by the man who did the sound effects for "Apocalypse Now."

I don't want to drown in this briny metaphor. Foreign relations is not a whale. It is harder to turn a military heading full speed in the wrong direction than to turn a 45-foot mammal wallowing in a dead-end slough.

But even governments can be stirred when people who care beat the pipes behind them. Even leaders are attracted by the everyday sounds of life and hope from their own endangered species. And, did you notice, the ocean that Humphrey got back to is called the Pacific.

Ellen Goodman is a syndicated columnist.
Reserved tables make Winter Ball sales unfair

To the editor:

As I was reading the Nov. 6 edition of The Montclarion, I came across CLUB's ad for the Winter Ball. I'm happy to see that they will be using a numbers system in an effort to make the bid sales as fair as possible. I've been to a number of CLUB sponsored Winter/Spring Balls in the past, and bid sales have been nothing short of chaos. Certainly the number system will bring some sort of order to this ordeal. However, I question why CLUB is so interested in "fair" bid sales?

If one looks closely at the bid sales, they would find that each year a number of tables are reserved long before the bids are made available to the public. Who is reserving them? CLUB members, members of various other Class I organizations, the SGA executive board, and our SGA legislators. It has become a tradition within the SGA and the Class 1's that their members get a chance to ensure table reservations for themselves and their friends before the rest of the student body has an opportunity to buy the bids. Why is this different? After all, it's the student fees of the entire student body which makes this event possible, not just that of the SGA and the Class One's.

If CLUB really had fairness in mind this year, they would have advertised the Ball honestly. Their ad would state that there is a reserved seating available but only if you are one of the student "leaders." After our "leaders" see to it that they have all of the prime seating that they need, then make the leftovers available to the rest of us. Then they have the nerve to turn us away saying, "We're sorry, you should have come earlier." Perhaps they should be saying, "We're sorry, you should have been a member of a Class One or the SGA."

I don't expect anything to come of this letter. Why? Because the majority of MSC students really don't care enough to do anything about this kind of bureaucratic apathy. CLUB is what SGA bureaucracy to exist. Perhaps it's time that the SGA change their motto. "Students serving students' sounds great, but it's unrealistic. A more appropriate motto would read "students serving themselves first, then serving others."

Harry DiCalias
Senior/psychology

Editor's note: According to CLUB, there are tables reserved for the SGA executive board, CLUB members and administration, but no tables are reserved for the SGA legislature or Class One organizations.

Home economics' title is unworthy of the 80's

To the editor:

I would like to voice a particular source of anger and embarrassment on behalf of all home economics majors. It's our title! Home economics is outdated, unprofessional and unworthy for the 1980's. When will the MSC administration realize that we will never be able to change the image of the home economist! It is a title that conjures up a bunch of silly girls learning and relearning the art of baking cookies. This has been ingrained in our minds over and over again in grammar school and high school. Home economics majors will run the gamut to avoiding telling someone their actual major. I find it appalling, disgraceful, and a total put down on women who must learn to live with this low-grade title!

Perhaps it's time that the SGA change their motto. "Students serving them selves first, then serving others." "Students serving students" sounds great, but it's unrealistic. A more appropriate motto would read "students serving themselves first, then serving others."

Linda Olahan
Senior/home economics

Letters policy: Letters to the editor must be type-written and double-spaced. The deadline for letters is 3 p.m. Monday before Thursday publication. Letters must include student's year, major and social security number in order to be printed. The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all letters for reasons of style and brevity.

FRESHMEN □ SOPHOMORES □ JUNIORS □ SENIORS □ GRADUATE STUDENTS

NOW... Work PART TIME and step into Phase I of our dynamic new Training Program

CUSTOMER SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES

BUILD YOUR FUTURE WITH PEOPLEXpress

It would take the nation's most innovative airline to "reinvent" career training like this! We're seeking highly competent individuals with a real capacity for compassion, caring and concern for people. Join PEOPLEXpress NOW as a Customer Service Representative, and you will be on the most direct route to eligibility for POST-DEGREE TRAINING and a long-term career in the airline industry.

If you've got:

• Matriculated status in a full-time college program
• 2.5 cumulative GPA
• Professional appearance
• Customer contact experience
• Good communications skills
• Ability to provide own transportation

We'll offer you:

• $4.50 an hour for working 20-35 hours a week at NEWARK INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT
• Schedules to fit your classes
• Travel privileges on PEOPLEXpress
• Free parking

GET MEANINGFUL TRAINING--as you handle challenging responsibilities like customer check-ins, boarding, baggage procedures, and other operational support activities. PEOPLEXpress offers you so much more than just a part-time job—here's a chance to really LEARN and EARN!

For more information or to schedule an interview appointment:

For full information or to schedule an interview appointment:

PEOPLEXpress
FLY SMART

Equal Opportunity Employer

Equal Opportunity Employer
Out of Pilobolus comes...

Momix
Friday, November 22, 1985
8 P.M., Memorial Auditorium
511; $9 Senior Citizens; $6 Students
Call 893-5112
School of Fine and Performing Arts
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, New Jersey

Montclair State College Brass Ensembles
Sunday, November 17, 8:00 PM
Union Congregational Church, 176 Cooper Ave.
Upper Montclair, N.J.

Opera Workshop
Bernstein's Trouble in Tahiti
Friday, November 22 and Saturday, November 23
8:00 PM, Studio Theatre, Montclair State College

Montclair State College Chamber Choir
Sunday, November 24, 8:00 PM
Montclair Heights Reformed Church
71 Mt. Hebron Rd., Upper Montclair, NJ
Admission Free

School of Fine and Performing Arts
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ-1
Call 893-5112

C.L.U.B. Invites You To...

THE CHRISTMAS TREE LIGHTING
at Rockefeller Center in New York City
on Monday, December 9

COST: $4.00 W/MSC I.D. & $5.00 W/OUT MSC I.D.
   —Price includes Round Trip Bus Fare—
   Bus leaves MSC at 3:00 P.M. and returns 9:30 P.M.

TICKETS ON SALE STARTING NOVEMBER 20!!
In C.L.U.B. Office Room 121 in the Student Center Annex—
893-5232
Limited Seats!!

Get into the Spirit with C.L.U.B!!
Players’ “The Crucible” is moving, effective drama

By S.C. Wood

To enter “The Crucible” is to enter another world: the first thing that strikes one about Players’ newest production is the threatening set, which looks like a dream cullled out of the pages of Dante or Milton.

“The Crucible” is also unreal in that it deals with an actual event which could not happen today: the Salem witch trials of 1692. In order to make this fantastic and ridiculous event appear credible, Arthur Miller has turned the infamous trials into a drama of personal revenge.

In “The Crucible” John Proctor (Louis Chialafuilo), an upright independent farmer, is drawn into the witch trials and into an examination of his own moral values when his former lover, Abigail (Michelle Tauber) accuses his wife Elizabeth (Michelle Begley) of practicing witchcraft, an offense for which the punishment could be death.

Despite the exciting premise, “The Crucible” is hard to produce. It has a cast of 20 actors who keep running on and off the stage. The dialogue is sometimes ridiculous, what with religious fanatics ranting about yellow birds and golden candlesticks. In a word, “The Crucible” could easily turn into a farce or a circus in the wrong hands.

Luckily, Players director Andrew J.M. Regiec has managed to overcome these problems by blunting the humorous lines with subtly downplayed performances. The constant entrances and exits are handled by having the actors function as a chorus which trails reverently up and down the aisles.

Unfortunately, because of the dramatic downplaying of the lead roles, some of the witty lines are lost in slow, numbing contemplative spaces. Louis Chialafuilo’s Proctor does not come out as the master of irony he is in the script. He is a little too soon and phlegmatic until the final scenes, when he builds his character into a fine whirlwind of conflicting emotions.

Another fine supporting actor is Pat Keenan (Reverend Parris). He is a very literate actor and sometimes he even upstages Chialafuilo by the sheer power of his delivery.

The latest album, Steve McQueen Prefab Sprout—a curious sort of name, you’ve missed something in the natural with that of the technological in the same way that The Electric Prune did years ago. It’s also a name that could mean instant death in a world where flash sells best and “zapp pow” monickers like “Wham” and “A-ha” dominate the music scene. When the name was banded about the offices of CBS Records as if it was supposed to mean something, I remained unimpressed. Only when one of my fellow reviewers started to extol the virtues of this English band did I take the time to see what they were all about.

The inner sleeve of the LP recommends playing noodle Louis LAU, perhaps to compensate, though I prefer a good set of headphones. Still, you end up playing the album and putting it, long after everyone else has gone to bed. It’s hard to get bored with Prefab Sprout.

Two Wheels Good boasts interesting lyrical images. New Musical Express pays Paddy McAloon the compliment of calling him “poet,” the songwriter himself will point out that he’s not some sort of pop star who will churn out albums every six months.

This thought in mind, it’s a shame that there is no lyric sheet included with the record. Repeated listenings allow one to glean scattered images that show a nice turn of phrase: the contrast of infrared to sun, paper nostrils to sell a song/then Prefab Sprout would have a chance. As it is, I think I’ll stockpile a few records and pass them out to friends. It’ll be our legacy to the world when they’ve finally gotten tired of top-forty sounds. May it be soon.

Prefab Sprout soars above and beyond the top forty

By Rich Hango

Prefab Sprout—a curious sort of name, you’ve missed something in the concept of the natural with that of the technological. The Electric Prune did years ago. It’s also a name that could mean instant death in a world where flash sells best and “zapp pow” monickers like “Wham” and “A-ha” dominate the music scene.

The latest album, Steve McQueen Prefab Sprout is a production that leaves too many loopholes for hilarity and contains many anachronisms. Louis Chialafuilo (Proctor) plays on all-rerun radio.

The Montclarion/Thurs., Nov. 14, 1985 15

Prefab Sprout: the band whose sound runs “counter to the bubblegum music that plays on all-rerun radio.”

but ignored in the States where the sound ran counter to the bubblegum music that plays on all-rerun radio. In addition, the production values of Swoon were somewhat crude and didn’t set off the songs to best advantage.

Two Wheels Good sees the addition of drummer Neil Conti to the band’s lineup, as well as the studio contribution of Kevin Armstrong on guitar. Overseeing the whole project and lending some extra keyboard work is Thomas Dolby, well known for his Golden Age of Wireless and Flat Earth albums. In contrast to Swoon’s rough edges, the new record exhibits a clarity and smoothness that makes its songs accessible in a way somewhat reminiscent of Steely Dan’s albums.

But this is a two-edged sword. Whereas a lot of chart-toppers are little more than a beat and rhythm track with scant lyrical content, the songs of Prefab Sprout contain a complication of tracks that blend pleasingly together. When the songs glide past you, almost before you’ve realized it, you know only that you’ve missed something even if you’re not sure what.

The inner sleeve of the LP recommends playing noodle Louis LAU, perhaps to compensate, though I prefer a good set of headphones. Still, you end up playing the album and putting it, long after everyone else has gone to bed. It’s hard to get bored with Prefab Sprout.

Two Wheels Good boasts interesting lyrical images. New Musical Express pays Paddy McAloon the compliment of calling him “poet,” the songwriter himself will point out that he’s not some sort of pop star who will churn out albums every six months.

This thought in mind, it’s a shame that there is no lyric sheet included with the record. Repeated listenings allow one to glean scattered images that show a nice turn of phrase: the contrast of infrared to sun, paper nostrils to sell a song/then Prefab Sprout would have a chance. As it is, I think I’ll stockpile a few records and pass them out to friends. It’ll be our legacy to the world when they’ve finally gotten tired of top-forty sounds. May it be soon.
arts/entertainment

The courses below are offered as a service of the Midrasha Institute of Jewish Studies of the Jewish Educational. Science and Judaism.

Roberson Campus - Room 234
Name
Monday, Nov. 20, 11:30 A.M.-1:00 P.M.

Mid-East Politics

Conversazione

Introductory Hebrew

Montclair State College

Historical Lessons from the Holocaust

The Sociology of Interacting Intermarriage and Identity

Israel Dancing

Study Midrash

Introductory Talmud

Jewish View of Sexual Ethics

Drew University

Introduction to Talmud

Fairleigh Dickinson University

Jewish Films

Chanukah: The Whole Story!

Jewish View of Sexual Ethics

Jewish Filmmakers

Students interested in private study or pursuing other topics of Jewish interest—contact us at 642-1922.

You will be notified of the location of the sessions upon registration.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

There is no charge for the Jewish Free University courses. Registration fees cover basic administrative costs only and net proceeds to attend ALL sessions. To register in person contact the advisor of your campus Jewish Student Organization.

REGISTRATION FEES

Through Nov. 7—$10. After Nov. 7—$15. No fee for JSS members.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Call: 642-1922 8 A.M.-5 P.M. or contact your campus Jewish Student Organization.

M.C.J.S.

Students interested in participating in other topics of Jewish study will be contacted as space permits.

M.T.O.

Name
Address
City
State
Zip
Phone (Day)
(Eve)
Course Titles

Mail Registration

Mail with completed registration form to Jewish Free University, 153 Washington St., Newark, N.J. 07102.
Become A Doctor of Chiropractic

For more than 40 years, Northwestern College of Chiropractic has helped thousands of students fulfill their career goals as successful health care practitioners.

We offer you:

- One of the best academic programs in the nation.
- A beautiful 25-acre campus with modern facilities and dedicated educators.
- $4 million a year in financial aid opportunities through grants, loans and scholarships.
- A chiropractic degree recognized for state licensure in all 50 states and Canada.
- A curriculum nationally accredited through the Council of Chiropractic Education (CCE).
- National recognition as a Category I Health Care Provider such as MDs, DOs and DSSs.

For more information on Northwestern College of Chiropractic, call Toll Free 1-800-328-3322, extension 290; collect at (612) 886-4777 or complete the form below and return it to Northwestern College of Chiropractic, Admissions Office, 2501 West 84th Street, Bloomington, MN 55431.

Please send me more information on Northwestern College of Chiropractic.

Name__________________________
Address__________________________
City__________________________State________Zip________
Phone__________________________Years of college experience:____

Send To: Northwestern College of Chiropractic
        Admissions Office, 2501 West 84th Street,
        Bloomington, MN 55431
        Call Toll Free 1-800-328-3322, Extension 290;
        Collect at (612) 886-4777.
- Jerry Hunt: Are you being good? Lisa.
- RJ: That 100 proof had some affect on me.
- Gush: You are more fun than humans should be allowed to be. Love, Mic.
- MSC Ice Hockey: We saw you Sunday, too bad you lost. Good luck and we'll be there all season to cheer you on. The guys from school.
- Tim Reilly: You are interesting, intelligent, & extremely sexy! Don't let it go to your head though. Signed, a friend.
- Worldwide Marketers: Great job. Keep up the good work! Signed, the interview supervisor. P.S. Happy Birthday Greg!
- Father Tim: I'll join you in prayer once again real soon. Love, Sister M. Rose.
- Karen: Thanks for understanding. We are going to make CLUB #1. Love ya, Rose.
- Fran: Don't you know your foot would be size 5 without those socks? Love, Hair.
- Teke: What would I do without you, you're the best! Thanks for those late night talks. Love ya, Rose.
- The Q man: Thanks for the back scratch. Jodie, Reynolds: That's right, your definitely a pieces rising sign! I always knew the Leo in you was mild.
- Sue Mc: Have any ringless weekends lately? Unfaithfully yours, Mr. Gossip.
- Andy: I'm sorry! Lots of love from Oscar the Grouch.
- To the Primrose Gang: Let's celebrate life together. Thanks for being my FRIENDS! JJ.
- Barbra: Sometimes I believe in miracles. Love, Barbra.
- Ronnie: If you're lucky, I'll write you another personal. Love, Ray.
- Gooch: So you slept with the Hooters? Was it good for you? Do you want a cigarette? Don't worry, I still respect you, James.
- Bridget: Thanks for the helping hand. Those crutches are a pain in the neck. I want a cigarette? Don't worry, I still have strong feelings for you. If you're still interested, let me know. Person you rode the trains with.
- Sharif, Kirk and Tim: It was fun rooming with you guys, except for the extra activities in the morning. Michael.
- Sue and Beth: Sue learn to sleep in clothes. Bath learn to pick up real men. RM 426.
- The winning 50/50 ticket number (from Halloween night at the Rat) is: 300034. Bring the winning ticket stub to Dr. Bond's office, speech/theatre.
- Rich H.: Thanks for being my chauffeur even though I had to bribe you. Cath.
- To my sweetmates in 449: You're the greatest.
- To the blonde bret in the commuter cafe: Don't be so rude, get a new Do, and I'll smoke where I want! The Chimney.
- Yadira: Here's the personal you wanted! Love, Beth.
- Beth: Here's the personal you wanted, Love, Yadira.
- Anthony (my favorite lot attendant): Where's my personal? Am I going to have to turn someone down on Kennedy Blvd? Drop that traffic violation pad and write me a personal. NOW! Brown Ford.
- Lisa B.: Please join our HBI sorority, we have the “Rutgers Tapes” that will ruin you. HBI-Bound! Doris Day and Slunk talk.
- Otto Monaco: Good looks and BRAIN too? I'm impressed! Write back. Not easily impressed.
- To the preppy blonde guy who studies diligently in the library every night: I think you're adorable! The brains are the skunk tail.
- I'm still looking for the girl in red, if you've called me, please call me again, I'm between 9-5 so you can talk to my machine.
- Jane: I think it's time we tried on a few pairs of jeans. Your roomie.
- Mickey: Found any cool Big Macs lately? Are they with Vladimerie twirling rifles? Do me a favor-stop farting! I know. Person you rode the trains with.
- Coach: love you. We'll make it work. I want to tickle you in the night forever. Love always your nightmare on Elm street.
- Ed: I just want you to know that I love you more than anything in the world and here's to another happy anniversary. Love Allison.
- Rose: Now that we have the two HOTTEST men, we've completed the Wayne and Allen, thanks a lot! Love, Rose.
- You want potato? I got waffle, it is good to clean table! From Finger Sausage.
- G: You said you had strong feelings for me. Well, I have strong feelings for you. If you're still interested, let me know. Person you rode the trains with.
- Techno: The space ship is orbiting & will land approximately 5:30 a.m. (Rutger's Time) You know where, Jody.
- To the Sorrentino Rabbit: Sorry to hear of your untimely departure. I hope nobody is preggo.
- I'm sorry: You think what are funnier than what's? You know! John at Quarterly.
- R.I.P. valued: Are you just a flirt, or is there more to it than what meets the eye? Confused.
- Remember the night of the Toga Party, I really enjoyed dancing with you and would like to do it again sometime. Lisa: P.S. Next time, I'll make it better.
- Karen the pear: Get well soon. You are sorely missed. T.B.
- Hedy: Cousin Joe is waiting for us at Lake George... I love you.
- Kelly: Thanks for being such a good friend. Guys like you are hard to find.
- To Terri L.: Let's live for tomorrow but do it tonight.
- Roommate: I got a good feeling about this one. Love, your roommate.
- Nicolette: Remember that time in Lake George... I love you.
- O: what will I do? It's been great. LL-Trust.
- To the cast of The Crucible: Give em Hell, Baby.
- Bunny: You're an ill mannered slob.
- Yay: Hey Jack! Where's your slot machine.
- Boss: Quitting school, white sailor suits in bars, shaved heads, beards? "cmon Hagel, throw it at me". Chiefly.
- Rex: Hang in there! You'll never be alone because you've got a friend! Love ya, Donna.
- N: Be a good boy, stop it, back seat something? Just a couple of pumps, a couple?
- Marilyn: When boxed, sponge burns the grapefruits. Love, your kitchen.
- A.R.T will be here Nov. 20, 21, and 22. DO NOT MISS IT.
- Mark Hall: (aka Pank) Think Genesis! “Spend the night” with CLUB-PJ party in the Rat Nov. 20.
- Roe, Jen, Jean and Net: Do you want woffle or podado. Bitty cents.
- Joe Covino: You are the reason why I had good time in Boston. You're the best, always keep laughing. You were too funny. L&J, JM.
- Karen: I only have eyes (3) for you. The Boston Bleeder.
- Janet, Karle, Natalie, Joe, Rob, Paul and Roe: Thanks for all your love and support. I'm too lovin' the environment you have. Your appreciative buddy.

Wanted

- Need extra cash for Christmas? JNC, Nutley's Women's and Men's Apparel Store, is now hiring sales help for Christmas. Call 667-1900, ask for Mr. Mazzolla.
- P/T salary $5-$12 per/hour. Little Falls Office, to 10:30 p.m. Office, to 2:30 p.m. Morning or evening hrs available. Age no barrier. No experience necessary. Benefits included. Call 980-9546.

Thursday
- The Conservation Club, a class I organization of the SGA is having a club meeting at 5 p.m. in Room 403 of the Student Center. All are welcome, come and enjoy the talk and the event.
- Players of the SGA is sponsoring Arthur Miller's haunting drama of man's test for truth, The Crucible, in Memorial Auditorium, Life Hall from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. $2.50 for students, $3.50 for faculty/staff and $4.50 standard.

Friday
- Players of the SGA is sponsoring Arthur Miller's haunting drama of man's test for truth, The Crucible, in Memorial Auditorium, Life Hall from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. $2.50 for students, $3.50 for faculty/staff and $4.50 standard.
- Players of the SGA is sponsoring Arthur Miller's haunting drama of man's test for truth, The Crucible, in Memorial Auditorium from 2:15 p.m. to 5 p.m. $2.50 for students, $3.50 for faculty/staff and $4.50 standard.

Saturday
- Players of the SGA is sponsoring Arthur Miller's haunting drama of man's test for truth, in Memorial Auditorium from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. $2.50 for students, $3.50 for faculty/staff and $4.50 standard.

Sunday
- The Newman Community is having mass at 11 a.m. in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall, all are welcome.
- The Newman Community is having mass at 7:30 p.m. in The Newman Center Annex, Room 206. The theory and practice of writing a job-winning resume.
datebook

cont. from p. 19
— The Newman Community is having a friendship supper at 5 p.m. in the Newman Center. All are welcome. Admission is a dollar or a desert.
— The Newman Community is having mass in The Newman Chapel at 4 p.m.

Tuesday 11/19
The Riding Club, a class II organization of the SGA, is having a meeting in The Student Center on the 3rd floor from 8-9 p.m. All are welcome.
— Career Services is sponsoring a Resume Clinic in The Student Center Annex, Room 104 from 3-4 p.m. Be sure to bring along your copy of your resume.
— Career Services and Psych Services are sponsoring a Personal Growth Seminar, "If Only I'd Said..." in The Student Center Annex, Room 206 from 12 noon to 2 p.m. Video tapes and role play on the techniques of assertiveness so you can communicate more effectively with others.
— Human Relations Organization is sponsoring a Non-Verbal Communication Workshop at 8 p.m. in Room 413-414 of The Student Center. For further information call 893-4487 or stop by HRO in Room 122 of The Student Center Annex.

Wednesday 11/20
— Career Services, Alumni Association, BSCU, and LASO are sponsoring "Pushing Ahead '85: A Minority Career Conference," in The Student Center Ballrooms from 2-8 p.m. Representatives from major corporations will answer questions regarding career options. Primarily for minorities, but all are welcome.
— College Life Union Board is having a PJ Party in the Ratskeller from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. Let's spend the night together.
— La Campana is having yearbook staff meetings in Room 111 of The Student Center Annex at 2 and 3 p.m. All members please attend.
— The Management Club is having a meeting in The Student Center Annex, Room 106 at 4 p.m. All majors welcome.
— The Newman Community is sponsoring a Liturgy Planning/Music Ministry meeting at 7:30 p.m. in The Newman Center. For more information call 746-2323.

Friday 11/22
— Career Services is sponsoring a Seminar: Interviewing I, in The Student Center Annex, Room 206 from 1-3 p.m. Designed to provide students with understanding of the interviewing process. IMPORTANT TO THOSE WHO ARE TAKING PART IN RECRUITMENT.

Monday 11/25
— The Newman Community is having Thanksgiving Dinner in The Newman Center at 5 p.m. Reservations are needed, please call ext 7240, 746-2323.

This space contributed as a public service.

THANK YOU FOR NOT SMOKING ON NOV. 21

Join the Great American Smokeout Thursday, November 21. Quit for one day and you might quit for good.

The great beers of the world go by one name: Löwenbräu. Brewed in Munich, in England, Sweden, Canada, Japan and here in America for a distinctive world class taste.

© 1985 Miller Brewing Co. Milwaukee, Wl.
Alright, sports fans, here's a chance to test your knowledge of sports facts. Each week, the Montclarion will publish a list of sports questions and answers. In addition, there will be a sports stumper that will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer, drop your response off at the Montclarion, Room 113 in the Student Center Annex. The names of those who submit the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. What team won the first USFL Championship?
2. Who was hockey’s “Golden Jet”?
3. Which college won the most lopsided football game?
4. What is former NFL quarterback Sonny Jorgenson’s first name?
5. Who won hockey’s first Norris Trophy?

Last week’s stumper answer:
Submiting the correct answer was John DiNapoli.

This week’s stumper:
What Hall of Famer had the same number of hits at home and away games?

DAK falls short in N.J. Intramurals championship

By Barb Hinkle

DAK failed in its attempts to win the New Jersey Intramural Touch Football Championship last week, falling to Ramapo College, 18-7 in the second round.

DAK got off to a fast start in the opening round, defeating Rider College, 12-7.

A Bob McAuliffe to Billy McAuliffe touchdown pass in the first half gave DAK a 6-0 lead. Rider came right back, though to take a 7-6 lead at halftime.

Rich DeMario’s touchdown in the second half put DAK in front to stay, but once again, the team fell short on the extra point attempt. Interceptions by Ed Nafeh, Pete Crisafulli and Billy McAuliffe kept Rider off the scoreboard in the second half.

DAK was less fortunate against Ramapo however. Ed Nash scored the first points of the game with a touchdown run in the first quarter. The extra point attempt was good, enabling DAK to take a 7-6 lead at halftime. But Ramapo went on to score three unanswered in the second half to win the game, 15-6.

The loss put DAK in the consolation game against William Paterson. Ed Nash’s touchdown in the opening minutes of the second half gave DAK a 6-0 lead, but a WPC touchdown midway through the second half tied the score at 6. The game went into overtime before WPC won, 12-6.

Billy McAuliffe and Pete Crisafulli both had interceptions against WPC.

Last Chance to See Hawaiii!

January 9-16th for $588

Tickets on sale during November at the C.L.U.B. Office Room 121 in the Student Center

For more information call:
Dawn at 893-5232

C.L.U.B. is a Class One Organization of the S.G.A.
SILC PRESENTS
CO-REC 3-ON-3 BASKETBALL
DATE: 11/18
PLACE: Panzer Gym
TIME: 8:00 P.M.

TURKEY TROT
DATE: 11/26
TIME: 1:45

MEN'S 3-ON-3 BASKETBALL
DATE: 12/9
PLACE: Panzer Gym
TIME: 8:00 P.M.

CO-REC VOLLEYBALL
DAYS: Tuesdays and Thursdays
TIMES: 8:00-11 p.m.
PLACE: Panzer Gym
Applications and information available at:
SILC
SC Room 418
893-5245
FIELDHOUSE
Lot #23
893-7494
Student Activities
SC Room 400
893-4418

Class I Organization of the S.G.A.

SILC presents:
THE FALL
CO-REC VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE
STARTING DATE:
December 3
NIGHTS:
Tuesdays and Thursdays
TIMES: 8:00-11:00 P.M.
Applications and Information Available At:
SILC
SC Room 418
893-5245
FIELDHOUSE
Lot #23
893-7494
Student Activities
SC Room 400
893-4418

Class I Organization of the S.G.A.

HRO:
PRESENTS A WORKSHOP IN
NON-VERBAL COMMUNICATION
DATE: NOVEMBER 19th
PLACE: RM. 413-4 SC
TIME: 8:00 P.M.
HRO is a Class I Organization of the S.G.A.

“Christmas Sale”
at the College Store
• Boxed Christmas Cards 50% Off
• Christmas Ornaments 50% Off
Gift Wrapping buy 2 get one FREE

The College Store is owned and operated by the Faculty Student Cooperative Association, Inc.
By Perry Schwartz

In the fourth quarter of a USFL game last May a 67-yard touchdown on a punt return put the Memphis Showboats ahead 21-14, but a red flag on a punt return turned the game around and the Portland Breakers won by a 17-14 score.

If you are not sure what the red flag is, then you are experiencing the same feeling many USFL fans and viewers did at the beginning of this past season. The flag is the signal for the USFL’s instant replay system.

Cal Lepore is the head of an instant replay system and one of the supervising officials of the USFL. Lepore, by request of the USFL commissioner, Harry L. Usher, the USFL’s instant replay supervising official, is the man who decides to implement the challenge.

“The red flag helps officials decide a controversial call and at the same time creates excitement for the fans and viewers at home,” Usher said.

The mechanics of the system are easy to understand. A coach is given the opportunity to use the replay once every five minutes. The referee on the field is notified by a player or a coach that a challenge has been requested.

That isn’t counting the improvement the official approaches the coach at the sideline. The referee then talks to the review official stationed in the press box about the play.

Three calls can result from the challenge:

— The play will stand as originally called.
— The review official will inform the referee that no replay was available, thus, the play remains as called.
— A change in the call will be made.

If a change in the call isn’t made, a time-out is charged to the team making the challenge.

“The only time the USFL replay can be used is during a game televised by ABC,” ESPN. Television said the official in the press box through the use of front and profile angles.

The players are also impressed with the system. “I like it, OU can turn to the network’s feed and see the call again. The fans are consumers. The product they demand is replay. We have the opportunity to do some things totally different from any other league,” Usher said.

According to Dick Maxwell, NFL Director of Information, the NFL experimented with the replay in 1978.

“We used the replay during seven nationally televised pre-season games. We found the replay was very complex and extended the games by an average of 11 minutes,” Maxwell said. According to Maxwell, the NFL wanted to implement their own system so they could observe the play from 10 different angles.

Although the NFL, initially came up with the idea, the USFL used the concept and made it creative and exciting. In the NFL, an official would be in the press box, and if he disputed a call, the officials would be notified on the field. This wouldn’t be as complicated and expensive system to institute, so they turned to the network’s feed.

In the second week of the season, a game between the Washington Redskins and Houston Oilers was decided in the last moments. An Oiler receiver caught a pass in the end zone, but it was ruled out-of-bounds. This would have been a great opportunity for Hugh Campbell, Oiler coach and former USFL coach, to use the replay.

According to Charlie Taylor, Redskins public relations director, Joe Gibbs, Redskins coach, is in favor of the replay for the “obvious calls.”

Women's basketball

cont. from backpage

and center Nancy Phillips, the squad is looking forward to more than just a winning record.

"The team is very excited about the season," says Jeffrey. "They are very confident as a team, and I think they’re going to be very competitive." "That confidence comes from a system Jeffrey installed when she began coaching here — a system that emphasizes each player’s strengths and concentrates on them.

Last year, the team turned at one of their present conference foes, defeating Trenton St., 53-51. With that win under their belts, and the experience of having played Division I basketball, the Indians know they have a chance to win this year’s conference title. That isn’t counting the improve-
Horn leads MSC to 31-17 win over Gothics

By Perry Schwarz

Leroy Horn rushed for 310 yards and scored three touchdowns — all in the second half, to pace MSC to a 31-17 victory over Jersey City at Sprague Field, Saturday. The win clinched the JAC title for the Indians. MSC opened the scoring with a 28 yard field goal by Tony Colasurdo after the Gothic defense stalled the Indians drive. After a punt, MSC drove 77 yards on nine plays to score. Walter Briggs locked up with Tony Fleming from 36 yards out. The Indians took an early 10-0 lead, but the Gothics came alive at the end of the first.

John Policano ran two yards and Dan Techer made 10. The second quarter, JCSC's Marcus Bond sacked Briggs and recovered a fumble which put the Gothics in scoring position. Gothic's quarterback Walter Smith ran a keeper and the Gothics went in with a 14-10 lead. "They played well. I gave them a lot of credit." Briggs said. "They twisted their man up front and stunted a few linebackers which caught me off guard," Briggs said. Briggs, who was sacked five times, completed 12 passes for 145 yards.

On the ensuing kickoff, MSC went back to work after some halftime adjustments. The second half could be called the "Leroy Horn Show." Horn, who replaced Tony Fleming after a rib injury, scampered 57 yards capping a 92-yard drive. "The holes opened up front and Ahmad (Field) and Ed (Chavis) threw key blocks in the secondary to spring me loose," Horn said.

JCSC converted their next possession into a field goal. The kick tied the game at 17. Then the Indians came to life. In the third period, MSC's Dion Roman intercepted a pass to stall the Gothic drive. Roman accumulated 10 tackles and one sack in the game.

Horn went back to work, taking the ball 75 yards to put the Indians ahead 21-17. The run was similar to his previous one. "The game was a tribute to the type of back Leroy is," Bob Generelli, offensive lineman, said. "When he gets into the secondary he makes things happen." Horn, a sophomore, broke Bobby Vannoy's school record of 260 yards in one game set in 1982.

Horn finished the scoring with 7:06 on the clock. He ran 58 yards, which sewed the game up, 31-17. "They came ready to play. Their defense executed and applied pressure," Chavis said. Chavis caught five passes for 55 yards.

Generelli said the Indian offensive line was flat early in the game. "MSC lost their composure and they took advantage of that. At halftime the coaches gave us a chance talk, and made adjustments. We were a different team in the second half."

Jersey City played a tough game, but Curtis Gaines said MSC had to meet the challenge. "We can't have any letdowns. We weren't ready to play, because there were breakdowns in key situations," Gaines said.

The Indians secured a conference title with the victory, but now they have to defeat Glassboro to look for an NCAA Division III playoff bid. They travel to Glassboro State Friday. Game time is 8 p.m.

Junior tailback realizes his collegiate rushing goal

By Anna Schiavo

Last Saturday Leroy Horn rushed for more yards than most college backs do in their entire career—running for 310 yards on 21 carries in only two quarters.

Anyone who has been following Horn's football career knows that what happened was not a fluke. At Summit High School, Horn set a rushing record of 1,280 yards breaking Willie Wilson's record of 1,093 yards.

Head Coach Rick Giancola feels that Horn is a good athlete. He works hard in practice to improve his skills and he has a strong desire to become a complete football player. He's a versatile athlete. He can run, return punts and kickoffs. All of his contributions throughout the year have had a direct influence on our success. Horn is "still amazed at what I did. In my mind I wanted to do it in a game. I never thought it would come true. I never thought I would reach 300 in one game, but I wanted to reach 200 in college because I felt it was much tougher than high school." Horn said.

Horn feels that it is his agility that makes him a good tailback. "I'm not as fast as Tony Fleming but I think I could do the job as well as he does it. I believe in myself. I don't worry about it. I should be playing a lot." In any sport where winning depends on team co-operation it is important for the individual player to know the team is behind him. "The team pulls for me. They say 'you can do it; don't worry about it.' They make me feel relaxed in the huddle. Since Tony starts, if he gets hurt I'm going to be the next tailback to go in and they always give me a positive feeling when I come in," said Horn.

Horn feels that it would be very hard to top Saturday's performance. "I could come back next week or next year to rush for 300 yards or more and it would be the top of my goals. I don't know of anything else to top that. Right now I want MSC to go to the playoffs and do well in them."

"I'd like to thank everybody who cheered me on; my teammates and the fans, especially the fans who gave me three standing ovations," said Horn. "A lot of people think it is going to give me a big head but I don't see that. I just want to take every day as it comes just like I did before it happened."

MSC women's basketball looking for title this season

By Jim Nicosia

Last year at this time, Jill Jeffrey was about to enter her first season as the Head Coach of women's basketball with a team that had gone 5-21 the year before.

Perhaps she was considered overly optimistic at the time, coming out with great things to the program, but after a competitive 11-15 season last year against tough Division I competition, people were beginning to heed her words.

This year, the team drops into Division III play (where it belongs, since no scholarships have been available to the team in years) and Jeffrey is looking more and more like a prophet. With a returning nucleus of guards Debbie Emery and Sue Ball, forwards Lorraine Bratton and Judy DeFrancisci look to the type of back Leroy is," Bob Generelli, offensive lineman, said. "When he gets into the secondary he makes things happen." Horn, a sophomore, broke Bobby Vannoy's school record of 260 yards in one game set in 1982.

Horn finished the scoring with 7:06 on the clock. He ran 58 yards, which sewed the game up, 31-17.

"They came ready to play. Their defense executed and applied pressure," Chavis said. Chavis caught five passes for 55 yards.

Generelli said the Indian offensive line was flat early in the game. "MSC lost their composure and they took advantage of that. At halftime the coaches gave us a chance talk, and made adjustments. We were a different team in the second half."

Jersey City played a tough game, but Curtis Gaines said MSC had to meet the challenge. "We can't have any letdowns. We weren't ready to play, because there were breakdowns in key situations," Gaines said.

The Indians secured a conference title with the victory, but now they have to defeat Glassboro to look for an NCAA Division III playoff bid. They travel to Glassboro State Friday. Game time is 8 p.m.

Junior tailback realizes his collegiate rushing goal

By Anna Schiavo

Last Saturday Leroy Horn rushed for more yards than most college backs do in their entire career—running for 310 yards on 21 carries in only two quarters.

Anyone who has been following Horn's football career knows that what happened was not a fluke. At Summit High School, Horn set a rushing record of 1,280 yards breaking Willie Wilson's (outfielder for the World Series Champion Kansas City Royals) record of 1,093 yards.

Head Coach Rick Giancola feels that Horn is a good athlete. He works hard in practice to improve his skills and he has a strong desire to become a complete football player. He's a versatile athlete. He can run, return punts and kickoffs. All of his contributions throughout the year have had a direct influence on our success. Horn is "still amazed at what I did. In my mind I wanted to do it in a game. I never thought it would come true. I never thought I would reach 300 in one game, but I wanted to reach 200 in college because I felt it was much tougher than high school." Horn said.

Horn feels that it is his agility that makes him a good tailback. "I'm not as fast as Tony Fleming but I think I could do the job as well as he does it. I believe in myself. I don't worry about it. I should be playing a lot." In any sport where winning depends on team co-operation it is important for the individual player to know the team is behind him. "The team pulls for me. They say 'you can do it; don't worry about it.' They make me feel relaxed in the huddle. Since Tony starts, if he gets hurt I'm going to be the next tailback to go in and they always give me a positive feeling when I come in," said Horn.

Horn feels that it would be very hard to top Saturday's performance. "I could come back next week or next year to rush for 300 yards or more and it would be the top of my goals. I don't know of anything else to top that. Right now I want MSC to go to the playoffs and do well in them."

"I'd like to thank everybody who cheered me on; my teammates and the fans, especially the fans who gave me three standing ovations," said Horn. "A lot of people think it is going to give me a big head but I don't see that. I just want to take every day as it comes just like I did before it happened."