MSC divests monies from South African businesses

By Tom Boud

A policy concerning the divestiture of $300,000 in Faculty Student Cooperative Association (FSCA) investments in South Africa was ratified at the March 6 Board of Trustees meeting.

These FSCA investments are in the form of money market portfolios with the Providence National State and Pilgrim State banks, which have reinvested the funds with the approximately 120 U.S. corporations in South Africa.

The new policy explicitly states that college investments which are in the hands of companies that do not heed the Sullivan Principles (a set of guidelines for U.S. companies in South Africa designed to counteract Apartheid practices by promoting equal opportunity and employment) shall be removed as soon as possible, said Vice Chairman to the Board Robert Birnbaum.

"This policy will demonstrate our disapproval of U.S. businesses in South Africa who won't resist Apartheid in their employment practices," Birnbaum said.

The Board opted to enact two adjuncts in conjunction with the divestiture policy in order to make it more equitable.

"The first adjunct is a clause which will permit the college to keep its investments with the 34 of the approximately 120 companies in South Africa which uphold the Sullivan Principles," Birnbaum said. "The second is a special measure that will permit the board to re-examine the entire divestiture policy in one year."

Board Chairman Murray Cole further explained the rationale for the divestiture decision. "Three hundred thousand dollars may not appear to be a huge amount of money. But hopefully, other colleges and institutions who also have investments with pro-Apartheid companies will join MSC in manifesting its disapproval."

In a later interview, President/Chief Executive Officer of the FSCA Jeffrey Shapiro said that the portfolio investments will be examined in accordance to the Board's policy. "During the next two weeks, we will be going through the portfolios, sorting out the investments with the companies in which we're allowed to invest from those in which we can no longer invest," he said. Shapiro said that the administration will be notified when this process is done.
Mozart's O.K.
But Wouldn't You Rather Rock??

presents
THE WAR OF '86
"A BATTLE OF THE BANDS"
starring
5 of New Jersey's Hottest Groups
RISING
FEAR OF FLYING
LOST IN AMERICA
SHEM
HEAT

Tuesday, March 18 at 8:00 P.M.
Memorial Auditorium

Tickets only $1!!
on sale at the door

* * * * * Audience will choose winner!

Winner will be opening act at an upcoming CIC concert

CIC IS A CLASS I ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
forces reject a veteran professor after many years of dedicated service." The department said. "It isn't right to throw away good and talented faculty who have an intellectual value like any other professor or instructor on campus."

"This law unfair is that it is solely based on age rather than other criteria. That is to say, it does not take into account the inherent capacity of the professor." Dr. Robert Beckwith of the history department said, "It isn't right to forcibly reject a veteran professor after many years of dedicated service." The retirement age law will take effect on Sept. 1 of this year, but no faculty member will be required to retire before June 1, 1987.

Pass/fail option criticized Board Faculty Representative Kathleen Wilkins expressed the faculty's frustration about the growing misuse of MSC's academic pass/fail option. "A large portion of the faculty from all disciplines feel that the pass/fail program is being abused by students who use it as an easy way to cut classes or do less work," she said.

"Explain this abuse, Wilkins said, "Pass/fails is supposed to give the average student the opportunity to learn in an environment with less stress," she said. "But in reality, it's encouraging students to do a bare minimum of work, which in turn, adulterates the value of college education."

According to Wilkins, "Much of the faculty wishes to see the pass/fail option changed so that if a student is doing well, he or she can be put back on a regular grade basis." She also stated that some faculty members would like to see the pass/fail option "abolished altogether."

"Now we can detect a breast cancer smaller than this dot. At such an early stage, your chances of living a long, healthy life are excellent. But we need your help. The only proven way to detect cancer is with a mammogram. A mammogram is a low-radiation x-ray of the breast capable of detecting a cancer long before a lump can be felt. If you're over 50, a mammogram is recommended every year. If you're between 40 and 50, or have a family history of breast cancer, consult your doctor. In addition, of course, continue your regular self-examinations."

American Cancer Society

Upcoming programs planned by Residence Life Federation Residence Life

By Patrice L. Crooks

"Old Sarge," as the officer is known, believes that success is achieved through competency and excellence, and wants his troops to represent their race well. However, the troops do not enjoy his harsh methods.

As Assistant Dean of Student Affairs James Harris states, "There is a widening gap between those (blacks) who have 'made it' and those who are still striving." Come out to Bohn Hall Lounge on March 19 at 8 p.m. for what promises to be an interesting movie and discussion. For further information call Caryn Hefter at 893-5339 or Karoline Kehlenbach at 893-5332.

These programs are for all MSC students and you are encouraged to join in.

Patrice L. Crooks is Student Director of Residence Life Affairs.

COMING MARCH 22 at 8 p.m.

"A Soldier's Story" is a gripping film that deals with WWII and the tension between a black senior officer and his black troops. These "young turks," or black militants, were acutely aware, and constantly reminded, of the racism that existed in the then non-integrated army.

Colony Life Union Board presents...

THE LIP SYNC CONTEST

Applications Available in CLUB office room 121

DEADLINE: April 8th

The contest will be April 22. Tuesday night at 7:30 in Student Center Ballrooms
AN EVENING WITH
VED MEHTA

Blind since early childhood, the India-born American writer, Ved Mehta, is one of today's most versatile writers. The author of both fiction and non-fiction books is staff writer and reporter for The New Yorker magazine.

MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE
MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM
8 PM WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1986
ADMISSION FREE

Sponsored by The Montclair State College Alumni Association
Students protest pilgrim policy

cont. from front page

provided by the bank to cash payroll checks for non-account customers. The bank branches are entitled to the one dollar surcharge, and the bank hours are sufficient for customer service.

"The Pilgrim bank has always served the community in a fine manner, and will continue to do so," said Puglia.
"The bank is not here to serve any one, but themselves. I can understand about personalized checks, but not state of New Jersey checks," Melanie
McWilliams, a junior CWS student said.
In addition the college branch of the Pilgrim State bank raised its money order fee from 75 cents to two dollars on March 1, 1986.

The college branch raised its money order fee to conform with the other four branches, Puglia said.

Overall, all the branches had a 75 cents fee, he said. When the bank raised the fee, officials decided to keep the 75 cent price at the college branch as a discount for the students.
According to Mary and Mike, a sophomore student worker, "Any service on campus should be a non-profit organization, since it is here to serve the students."

NEWS NOTE

Indians Resist Relocation

The International Indian Treaty Council, Big Mountain Support Group, People's Anti-war Mobilization and All People's Congress are sponsoring "Hear the Voice of Big Mountain," an anti-relocation event including speakers, a reception and a slide show.

The program is aimed at stopping the relocation by the U.S. government of over 16,000 Dineh (Navaho) and Hopi people from their Big Mountain homeland in Arizona, the largest and most populated reservation left in the U.S.

Speakers include the Dineh Grandmothers of the Big Mountain Tribal Council, who are leading Navaho representatives, fighting to keep Big Mountain; Larry Anderson, representative of the International Indian Treaty (IITC) and member of the Big Mountain Defense Committee; and Vernon Bellecourt, who has been to Nicaragua five times, working with the Sandinista government and with local indigenous peoples to establish a framework for autonomy within the Nicaraguan Revolution.

Donation for the event is on a suggested basis. Child care is available at the event, and international foods will be served from 6 to 7 p.m. The speakers and slide show will be presented from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

"Hear the Voice of Big Mountain" will be held at Hunter College, at 68th and Lexington Sts., West Bldg., Rm. 615. For more information, call (212) 741-0633.

Friday, April 4th 10 P.M. thru
Saturday, April 5th, 10 P.M.
Blanton Atrium

SUPERDANCE '86

A 24-HOUR DANCE MARATHON TO BENEFIT MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Applications Available:
- SGA Office and SC
  Information Desk
- Thursday, March 20th-
  MDA Night at the Rat
- Outside Blanton Cafe
- or call 783-2037

FIRST PRIZE: 4 days 3 nights to Freeport in the Bahamas including airfare and lodging.

SECOND PRIZE: Personal Home
Computer

Chairperson Award: The Fraternity or Sorority or other organization of MSC with the greatest number of dancers (minimum 5) will receive $50.00 gift certificate from the Rat.

Grobstein stresses importance of choosing family practitioner

By Regina Slavinski

Family practitioner Dr. Naomi Grobstein, encouraged people to select one doctor in family practice rather than a number of individual specialists, at the sixth Women's Center lecture on Wed.
March 5, at the Student Center.

It is most important to "have an ongoing relationship with a person that you trust rather than hopping from doctor to doctor," said Dr. Grobstein.

"People need to be informed and in family practice," he said.

"People need to be informed and in
family practice," he said.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you see for the first time." It is also financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"People need to be informed and in
family practice," he said.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.

"Somebody who knows you and knows
your history can treat you more quickly
and effectively than somebody you
see for the first time." It is also
financially wiser to see specialists only
when necessary, said Dr. Grobstein.
SOMETIMES IT TAKES AN ARMY TO PAY BACK YOUR COLLEGE LOAN.

Paying back your college loan can be a long, uphill battle. But the Army's Loan Repayment Program makes it easy.

Each year you serve as a soldier, the Army will reduce your college debt by $6,000 or $1,500, whichever amount is greater. So after serving just 3 years, your college loan will be completely paid off.

You're eligible for this program with a National Direct Student Loan or a Guaranteed Student Loan or a Federally Insured Student Loan made after October 1, 1975. And the loan can't be in default.

And just because you've left college, don't think you'll stop learning in the Army. Our skill training offers a wealth of valuable high-tech, career-oriented skills. Call your local Army Recruiter to find out more.

SSG ARMSTRONG. (201) 783-5254
691 BLOOMFIELD AVENUE, MONTCLAIR, NJ 07042

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Part Time Position
Office Worker

SQA INC.

Student Government Assoc.

For More Information Contact:
SGA Office, Room 103
Student Center Annex

MUST QUALIFY FOR FINANCIAL AID
The Washington Center, a non-profit educational organization will hold its annual foreign policy symposium for college students Aug. 17-28. The two-week program, Crisis and Choice in American Foreign Policy, will address a variety of topics, including the making of foreign policy, the role of the media in foreign policy, apartheid, International terrorism, Third World development, and arms control.

Featured speakers include Former Assistant Secretary of Defense Dr. Lawrence Korb; Director of European Studies for the Georgetown Univ. Center for Strategic and International Studies Robert Hunter; Deputy Staff Director for the U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Graeme Bannerman; Washington Post Staff Writer Hobart Rowen; and Policy Planning Council Member with the U.S. Dept. of State Robert Osgood. An optional third week, The U.S. and the Soviet Union in World Affairs, will be offered Aug. 10-15.

Washington Center, will also hold its 1986 Legal System and Legal Careers Symposium for undergraduates and law school students May 18-31, 1986. Participants will experience approximately 35 hours of lectures, panel discussions, case simulations and briefings.

The symposium provides the opportunity for students to question and exchange ideas with actual courtroom trials.

Colleges typically award two to three academic credits for participation. A limited amount of scholarship assistance is available. Low cost housing is offered to all participants.

Enrollment is guaranteed provided that applications are received by April 25, for the foreign policy symposium and March 21, for the law symposium.

For applications and more information on both events, contact Merrill Schwartz, The Washington Center, Lincoln Building, 514 10th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20004, (202) 289-8680.

If you know now what you would like to do, you don’t have to wait until graduation to begin your career. People Express is offering you the chance to get a head start on your future by working for us, part time, in our dynamic new Intern Program, while you are still in school.

In Phase I of our program, you’ll work as a Customer Service Representative—interacting face-to-face with our customers while getting involved in the whole spectrum of ground operational support activities. Upon graduation, you will be an eligible candidate for our Phase II Post Graduate Program.

If you are highly competent, with a real capacity for compassion, caring and concern for people, we would like to meet you. You can start your career with People Express right now. If you are a full time student with a 2.5 cumulative GPA call today to learn more about our Intern Program.

To schedule an interview call:
961-8505/3454
Monday-Friday
From 9 A.M.-5 P.M.

Equal Opportunity Employer
Escape To The Catskills...
A Weekend Getaway
Sponsored by
The ALLIANCE OF JEWISH STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

MARCH 28th—30th
RALEIGH HOTEL
SOUTH FALLSBURG, NEW YORK
COST - $130.00
Includes:
COCKTAIL PARTY • ALL MEALS • DOUBLE OCCUPANCY • DeLUXE ACCOMODATIONS! • SEMI-FORMAL DANCE • SOCIAL EVENTS AND WORKSHOPS • PRIZES • MIDNIGHT SWIM ON FRIDAY
ALL TAXES AND GRATUITIES
WEEKEND '86
Free Bus Transportation is Available (Seating Limited)
Make CHECKS payable to:
JEWISH STUDENT SERVICES
153 Washington Street, Newark, NJ 07102
201-642-1922

PAYMENT PLAN
Feb. 28th—$65.00
March 14th—$65.00
Includes Jewish Student Organizations at Rutgers Newark, Kean, Montclair, William Paterson, Drew, N.J.I.T., F.D.U., C.C.M., Ramapo, Bergen and Union C.C.
FOR MORE INFORMATION
CONTACT YOUR J.S.O. CAMPUS ADVISOR

United Parcel Service
Part Time Positions in Saddlebrook and Parsippany Location
10:00 A.M. & 2:00 P.M. Interviews on March 18 at Student Center Lobby
— Loading/Unloading Tractor Trailers
— 3-5 Hour Shifts
— Monday thru Friday
— $8.00 per hour

Saturdays Only
— Shifts Available:
4 A.M.-8 A.M. 5 P.M.-9 P.M.
11 A.M.-3 P.M. 11 P.M.-3 A.M.
MSC shows support of autonomy

By: S.L. Halness

Michael Rodak, SGA, vice president for external affairs, spoke before members of the press in Trenton Mon. March 10, to enlist support for the State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak explained the importance of these bills to the N.J. State College Administrations autonomous power, but admitted one “has to think twice it’s a lot of power and they’ll use it.”

According to Rodak, the main opposition to the State College Autonomy Bills is the American Federation of Teachers. (AFT). He fears their opposition will further delay the passing of the bills for another decade. Rodak said to faculty “put your selfish fears away and work with us in developing a better state college system.”

Dr. Catherine Becker, president of the local AFT union 1904, during a separate interview, said, “We are not opposed to the concept of autonomy, but to two provisions in the bills that declare colleges can subcontract work and remove our civil service protections.” Becker hopes these bills will get the “necessary amendments”. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Shooting suspect arrested

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”

Campus Police apprehend criminal in lot 28

By Vivette Watson

A campus police officer arrested a male in lot 28 at 3:32 a.m. on Thurs., March 6. After questioning the male, it was determined that he was being sought by the Paterson police department in connection with a shooting in a town bar. The suspect was turned over to the Paterson Police Dept.

Crimes were determined to be done to the Westfield State College Autonomy Bills. Rodak said, “I give the teachers and other union members assurance that the SGA will not have anything happen to them that will jeopardize their standing in our state college system.”

He added, “with the teachers under civil service, the colleges have not gained autonomy. Very little harm has been done to teachers in California and Illinois, which are autonomous and have the best state college systems in the country.”

N.J. State Assemblyman John Rocco, who sponsors the State College Autonomy Bills, said, “These bills will benefit ultimately the most importantly the students, because that’s what an institution is all about to serve SGA’s role is significant to the importance of this legislation. It shows that the students agree with the basic premise (of autonomy).” Patti Healey, junior political science major and SGA legislator said, “It’s important to learn more about these bills in order to further the SGA’s understanding of this issue.”
Ten $980 Scholarships in conjunction with Artcarved and Josten's Ring Companies

CRITERIA
1. GPA—2.7 or better
2. 56 credits or more by 1/86
3. Sophomore or junior status
4. Shown leadership and involvement within SGA organizations and/or legislature

Available:
SGA Office
Student Center Information Desk
Student Activities
Student Affairs

Deadline:
March 21, 1986
In the SGA Office 103 Student Center Annex

LOOK HOT FOR SPRING
with the latest fashions
At 20% off with this ad till 3/31/86
SPORTSWEAR
ACTIVEWEAR
BONJOUR
ACCESSORIES
CANDIES SHOES
'N SNEAKERS

Penny Lane Boutique
331 A Lakeview Avenue
Clifton, NJ
478-7231

North Jersey
Women's Health Organization
Gynecological Care
Pregnancy Testing
V.D. Testing
Birth Control Testing
Pregnancy Terminated
Awake or Asleep*STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL
227-6669
383 Rt. 46 W. Fairfield—Just 3 Miles W. of Willowbrook
PRIVATE O.B. GYN OFFICE

Customer Service Reps
Part Time

Could you be one of the people we're looking for?
— If you have good telephone skills,
— If you type accurately,
— If you have good interpersonal skills...

You may be right for one of the many part-time positions available in our Basking Ridge facility. No prior experience necessary to apply.
We offer free parking, cafeteria facilities, and a starting salary of $7.00 and hour!

To schedule an interview, call
201/953-6523

Purolator Courier Corp.
131 Morristown Road
Basking Ridge, NJ 07920

Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/V/H
Looking For Work?
Take advantage of these great opportunities with fortunoff

Seasonal and Regular Positions Available in our Wayne and Paramus Stores

Excellent starting pay, flexible full time and part time hours. Immediate store wide discount.

We need: Sales People and Cashiers
Positions Available Immediately

Also:
Regular, Full and Part Time Restaurant Positions Available at:

CLARA'S CAFE

Pantry Person
Prep Person
Waiters/Waitresses
Bakery Counter Sales Person

These positions offer good starting salary and excellent company-paid benefits, paid vacations, paid sick days and holidays

Applications Accepted:
Monday-Friday 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Personnel Dept. "B" Mezzanine Level
250 West Belt Mall Rt. #23, Wayne

POSITIONS AVAILABLE FOR NON-SMOKERS
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F
Pilgrim bank cashing in on MSC students

The signs above the Pilgrim State Bank read: A full service commercial bank. Serving MSC since 1973. However, as of March 1 students, faculty and staff will have to pull a little extra money out of their pockets for some of this "full service."

Non-account customers, who wish to cash their payroll checks, will now have to pay an additional dollar surcharge for each transaction. This surcharge, effective in the other four bank locations, is unfair and unnecessary. So is the $1.25 increase on money orders. The Pilgrim bank is providing a much needed service to the campus community. That's why it is here, to serve us. So what does it need the extra money for?

The Pilgrim bank seems to be taking advantage of the fact that it is the only bank on campus.

Over 1,000 students receive state payroll checks through jobs in the College Work Study program and Student Assistance programs. The amount of each check isn't much. Plus, the $1.25 surcharge. Sometimes students work hard for the little money they do get paid.

And lets not forget Uncle Sam who takes a bite out of these checks. Now the Pilgrims want some of it too?

Why? According to Albert Puglia, vice-president and MSC branch co-ordinator, this surcharge was installed so as to "lessen the traffic flow of customers" so regular depositors won't have to wait on long lines.

If that's the case, why doesn't the bank establish separate windows for the depositors and non-account customers who want to cash their payroll checks? Maybe the long lines could be cut if the Pilgrim extended its hours to 6 p.m. on Fridays--payday, its busiest day.

Most other banks do.

Puglia said the bank will continue to serve the community in the same fine manner. How, if students are being inconvenienced and losing a portion of their checks week after week?

The Montclarion.

JOIN US!

The Montclarion is a Class One Organization of the SGA.

Editorial Policy Board

Mary Ellen Maclsaac ........................................... Editor-in-chief
Stephanie Wood .............................................. Managing Editor
Matt Russas .................................................... Editorial Page Editor

Editors

Gary Ruff ......................................................... Arts
Stacey Haines ................................................... Assissta
Beth Lysaght ................................................... News
Maureen Freeburg ......................................... Aesign
Jim Nicosia ..................................................... Sports
Mike Woods ....................................................... Photo
Tom Brann ........................................................ Copy
John Connolly .................................................. Feature

Production Department

Marianne Salai ............................................. Graphic Mgr
Tracey Dukes ................................................ Graphic
Beth Ann Smela ............................................. Graphics
Lynda Fox ....................................................... Typesetter
Joanne Cummings ......................................... Typesetter
Kathy Gilligan ................................................ Typesetter
Mary Ann Miletic ......................................... Cartoonist
John Paul .......................................................... Cartoons

Business Department

Maria Grinni .................................................... Treasurer
Susan Baldasare ........................................... Ad Manager
James Caci ...................................................... Business Manager

The Montclarion is published weekly except during examination, summer, and winter sessions. It is funded, in part, by funds received from the Student Government Association Inc. of Montclair State College. Advertising rates are available upon request in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex, or by calling the business department (201) 693-5237.

The views expressed in the editorial pages, with the exception of the main editorial, do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Montclarion.

CHICAGO—The pickets are gone now. So are the television cameras. At the sprawling Jean Baptiste Point DuSable High School, the loudspeaker announces meetings of the pep squad and the senior lunch committee. And in Room 156, the medical clinic is open for sport checkups, eye exams, bumps, bruises and birth control.

Back in September, a newspaper here ran a headline about this clinic: "Pills Go to School." The furor brought more attention to the black inner-city high school than it had received since opening day in 1935.

Judy Steinmagen wasn't surprised at that. To this day, the pragmatic principal of DuSable, a school with a 56 percent dropout rate, admits, "People who left high school 30 or 40 years ago and don't have teen-agers were shocked. I will be the first to say that the schools probably shouldn't be in this (birth control). But kids today are sexually active. It's a Band-Aid situation."

This particular Band-Aid is trying to solve the injury that comes to children when they bear children. It is something that happens commonly in this neighborhood. The South Side High School which graduated the mayor of Chicago now draws from what is arguably the poorest urban neighborhood in the United States, including a massive housing project of 28 buildings, housing about 1,000 people each. About 80 percent of the families live below the poverty line.

Here, in 1983, 436 babies were born to women between 10 and 19 years old, 300 of them to women of high school age. Most of them joined the ranks of welfare. In 1985 alone, American families like these, families that started when the mother was a teenager, cost taxpayers $16.6 billion.

It is these numbers and these cost figures which have pushed the issue of teenage pregnancy into the headlines and encouraged experiments like the one at DuSable. Today there are only 40 high school clinics that give birth control counseling. Only nine in the country actually dispense condoms and pills.

Nevertheless, the opening of this clinic hit a sensitive nerve. Americans still argue about whether to provide birth control. The US is shockingly behind in this aspect and has the highest teenage birth rate of any country in the world. The Pilgrim bank seems to be taking advantage of this.

"The boys don't run for office," says Mr. Davis, a school official. "The girls come in and say, 'I need a pill.'

"We don't have a waiting list."

Even Dr. Doris McCulley, clinic director and a 1965 graduate of DuSable says, "There's not 'a' solution. There's a significant role in teaching moral ethics. But right now we need to stop the hemorrhaging."

"We see everything from asthma to early labor," says the forthright nurse-practioner Louise McCurry, who wishes the public and press would care as much about teenage health as teenage sex. "In the first two months, 10-15 percent of the kids we screened couldn't see well enough to read. We had six cases of diabetes, and a lot of hypertension."

But she adds with pleasure that the birth control program is working. At first it was mostly boys who came in for condoms, then girls who came in with a friend for "checkups."

"It's real clear that the number of kids who are pregnant this year has decreased." They won't do an official count until the first year is over in June, but anecdotal evidence suggests that there is now one pregnancy for every six last year.

Part of the success, McCurry admits, is the public attention suddenly focused on DuSable.

"The children are aware that it's not an okay thing to become pregnant." The attention of clinic workers has certainly helped. "We do a lot of parenting. But the biggest difference, McCurry believes, is that "The boys don't run out of condoms, the girls don't run out of pills."

It isn't possible to guarantee a safe course through adolescence to adulthood. We can't rewrite every childhood, restructure every family on the South Side of Chicago. Sometimes we are left with imperfect options.

"We see everything from asthma to early labor," says the forthright nurse-practioner Louise McCurry, who wishes the public and press would care as much about teenage health as teenage sex. "In the first two months, 10-15 percent of the kids we screened couldn't see well enough to read. We had six cases of diabetes, and a lot of hypertension."

CHICAGO—Whatever the name of the school, the pickets are gone now. So are the television cameras. At the sprawling Jean Baptiste Point DuSable High School, the loudspeaker announces meetings of the pep squad and the senior lunch committee. And in Room 156, the medical clinic is open for sport checkups, eye exams, bumps, bruises and birth control.

Back in September, a newspaper here ran a headline about this clinic: "Pills Go to School." The furor brought more attention to the black inner-city high school than it had received since opening day in 1935.

Judy Steinmagen wasn't surprised at that. To this day, the pragmatic principal of DuSable, a school with a 56 percent dropout rate, admits, "People who left high school 30 or 40 years ago and don't have teen-agers were shocked. I will be the first to say that the schools probably shouldn't be in this (birth control). But kids today are sexually active. It's a Band-Aid situation."

This particular Band-Aid is trying to solve the injury that comes to children when they bear children. It is something that happens commonly in this neighborhood. The South Side High School which graduated the mayor of Chicago now draws from what is arguably the poorest urban neighborhood in the United States, including a massive housing project of 28 buildings, housing about 1,000 people each. About 80 percent of the families live below the poverty line.

Here, in 1983, 436 babies were born to women between 10 and 19 years old, 300 of them to women of high school age. Most of them joined the ranks of welfare. In 1985 alone, American families like these, families that started when the mother was a teenager, cost taxpayers $16.6 billion.

It is these numbers and these cost figures which have pushed the issue of teenage pregnancy into the headlines and encouraged experiments like the one at DuSable. Today there are only 40 high school clinics that give birth control counseling. Only nine in the country actually dispense condoms and pills.

Nevertheless, the opening of this clinic hit a sensitive nerve. Americans still argue about whether to provide birth control. The US is shockingly behind in this aspect and has the highest teenage birth rate of any country in the world. The Pilgrim bank seems to be taking advantage of this.

"The boys don't run for office," says Mr. Davis, a school official. "The girls come in and say, 'I need a pill.'

"We don't have a waiting list."

Even Dr. Doris McCulley, clinic director and a 1965 graduate of DuSable says, "There's not 'a' solution. There's a significant role in teaching moral ethics. But right now we need to stop the hemorrhaging."

"We see everything from asthma to early labor," says the forthright nurse-practioner Louise McCurry, who wishes the public and press would care as much about teenage health as teenage sex. "In the first two months, 10-15 percent of the kids we screened couldn't see well enough to read. We had six cases of diabetes, and a lot of hypertension."

But she adds with pleasure that the birth control program is working. At first it was mostly boys who came in for condoms, then girls who came in with a friend for "checkups."

"It's real clear that the number of kids who are pregnant this year has decreased." They won't do an official count until the first year is over in June, but anecdotal evidence suggests that there is now one pregnancy for every six last year.

Part of the success, McCurry admits, is the public attention suddenly focused on DuSable.

"The children are aware that it's not an okay thing to become pregnant." The attention of clinic workers has certainly helped. "We do a lot of parenting. But the biggest difference, McCurry believes, is that "The boys don't run out of condoms, the girls don't run out of pills."

It isn't possible to guarantee a safe course through adolescence to adulthood. We can't rewrite every childhood, restructure every family on the South Side of Chicago. Sometimes we are left with imperfect options.
Students describe women's rights march

To the editor:

Thirty-five MSC students traveled to Washington, D.C. to participate in the Nation's March For Women's Lives on Sun., March 9. The march, sponsored by N.O.W. (National Organization For Women), attracted approximately 85,000 people interested in preserving women's rights to choose behavior. That main focus was on keeping abortion and birth control safe and legal.

Pro-choice demonstrators gathered at the mall at 11 a.m. anticipating the start of the march. Carrying signs and wearing buttons, demonstrators flooded the streets of Washington chanting such things as: "We are the majority and we want free choice."

Other chants heard on Pennsylvania Ave.: "Uncle Sam stay out of our pants," and "Hey Hey, Ho Ho, this patriarchy has got to go." The roaring of the crowd only increased as participants passed the White House.

The majority of the 85,000 were students and faculty from numerous college campuses. They came from near and far to represent the pro-choice population at their campus. Most represented themselves by carrying signs with slogans.

MSC's banner read, "Don't Judge Our Bodies By Your Laws." Still others carried coat hangers in protest to the return of back-street surgery. The general feeling was that women will no longer be victimized by self-righteous law-makers.

Upon completing the march, demonstrators poured onto the grounds of the capital to prove their unity and hear speakers. Eleanor Smeal, president of N.O.W., introduced other feminist leaders such as former Democratic Representative Bella Abzug, Gloria Steinem and representatives of supportive groups such as the National Black Women's Political Caucus.

Participants joined singer Holly Near in producing a sound that was destined to remain forever in the music of the heavens as a testimony to women's strength. MSC students found their participation in the march to be both exciting and very educational.

Says Jackie Gross, "I felt empowered by the unity of those around me. At these times, the American political process really works."

Mrs. Women's Center Director, Huey Alcaro was heard to say, "Those who think the Women's Movement is dead and that women have become acquiescent, had better think again."

Kerr Dunn
Senior/psychology

Dean differs with editorial

To the editor:

Your editorial comment implying that Vice President Armstrong "veted" SGA President Dave Handal's decision concerning a bus trip authorization is unfair to both of those officers. Mr. Handal vetoed the legislation because of his concern for the welfare of the Student Government, and to assure that its corporate status and Internal Revenue designation were not jeopardized.

Dr. Armstrong, a student advocate by choice as well as job description, was called upon to review that decision by several students who wanted to attend a program in Washington, D.C. Fact-finding determined that Mr. Handal's concerns were unnecessary in this particular matter because of the fact that MTA funds are not derived from the SGA fee and therefore, not subject to their rules and regulations.

At a meeting attended by Mr. Handal, SGA Vice President Mark Brancato, three students who wished to go to Washington, and several administration officials, including myself, a decision on how to address the problem was reached.

We mutually agreed that because time was of the essence, funds would be allocated directly to the project rather than through the MTA procedure. All agreed that this was being done to assure that the mere passage of time would not serve to prevent this particular activity from occurring. I regret that some might think that we would "overrule the SGA simply because we were dissatisfied with their decision." We have nothing but the highest regard for all of the students involved. We mutually acted as we did because once some questions which perhaps confused the decision-making process were answered, a resolution satisfactory to all was possible.

Edward C. Martin
Dean of Students

The Montclarion's Letters policy

All MSC students are encouraged to express their views in the letters page.

Editorial letter guidelines
- Typewritten and double spaced
- Addressed to the editor
- Submitted by 4 p.m. the Monday before Thursday publication
- Include student's social security number, year, major and telephone number for confirmation.

Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request.

These guidelines must be adhered to or the letter may not be printed. The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all letters for reasons of style and brevity.
We're Going For The World Record!

April 23rd

Be There Or Be Square!
Pre-Registration Forms Available March 13th
In The SGA Office and at Information Desk
Forms Must Be Completed and Returned to the SGA Office by March 21st

Fee: 25¢

For More Info Call 893-7160

An S.G.A. Sponsored Event
Poet Andy Elliot finds inspiration in the driver’s seat

By Beth Lysaght

Andy Elliot, a 1986 graduate of the School of Business, is a published poet and driving instructor. His new poetry book, “Lingering Curiosities,” will be published in the summer. Elliot, who teaches literature and poetry, said he has a special relationship with his shuttle bus. It has often given him material for his poetry.

Elliot’s shuttle bus is a 1983 Ford Econoline, purchased by the MSC Home Economic Department for $1,200. He now rents it for $130 per month.

Elliot originally purchased the bus as an instructor for the Home Economic Shuttle Service, which shuttles students to class and various off-campus locations.

“Poetry is reflective of what could possibly happen,” Elliot said, “based on my observations of human nature. Andy believes that luck and chance are factors of human success: people who take happiness for granted do not realize its frailty. He sees people standing on pedestals which must eventually fall for a lack of a secure foundation. It is as if some people are on a magic carpet ride, and the time comes when they must pass on the rug for the next person in line,” he said.

In his poetry as well as his work, Andy’s people-oriented personality can be seen. Andy finds his job as a shuttle bus driver rewarding for the benefit of being around a wide variety of personalites.

“All with writers of poetry there is a certain feeling which inspires the poetry to come out from within. For Andy, this compelling sensation is strongest when he is driving, not only on the job, but in his own car. He’s ‘always enjoyed driving because I get so much freedom from it. I’m constantly in scenery. This stimulates ideas and I like to turn my analogies together in the back of my head to write down later.’

Andy finds that winter is his best season for writing poetry. This is because he is more confined to indoors and therefore has more time to reflect on what is going on inside himself.

“I get most of my source knowledge from my faith in God,” Andy said. He is more influenced by Bible proverbs than by other poets; in fact, he confesses that he does not even read the works of other poets. Andy believes that his work will remain original and unique if he builds on the “sound foundation” of his own insights and style. Although he respects his fellow poets, Andy would rather write from his own imagination than conform.

Perhaps because his poetry is so personal, Andy did not seek publication for many years, despite the urging of his friends and girlfriend. Finally, a friend for whom Andy had written a special poem introduced him to an interested publisher.

Now that “Lingering Curiosities” is being published, Andy feels confident. He continues to write, and is working on a collection of his poetry which he hopes to have published soon.

Lingering Curiosities

How good would we feel...if for just one week... only the dumb could speak...the deaf could hear...and the brave could fear.

What would happen if for that same week...
...the days would become the nights...and all wrongs turned into rights...
...the rich become the poor...and the city runs into the shore.

How would we think...if the East shifts to West...and the North becomes the South...confusion I suppose...a lot of people with open mouths.

How would we stand in the unfitable shoe of reverse criticism...
...should the strong become the weak...the sound become the freak...the short become the tall...What would our reaction be...should the winter become the summer...

...and the spring become the fall.

I suppose a lot of suicide and hatred by those without the love for God and one another...
...and uncomparable honors for those who believe in love and are equipped with the patience, faith and will to withstand it all.

How envious would we remain...or become...or how vain would we get...should those of us who were fortunate enough to be shapely, beautiful, talented and of considerable weight...suddenly become the idol, the less fortunate ones portrayed.

And worst of all...what if everybody is of the same race...the one most hated...

...we would just learn that fish could be caught without casting a net...

...and without the use of bait...simply by removing the water from under their fins.

What would be a more glorious feeling...than having a constant loser experience...the thrills and enthusiasm...the winner feels each time he wins.

...the thrills and enthusiasm...the winner feels each time he wins.

By Andrew Carl Elliott

Students model spring fashions

By Delia Matula

MSC students displayed the latest sensational spring fashions in the Student Center Ballrooms on Wed., evening, March 5. The show, entitled “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “Anything Goes,” was a project for five Fashion Studies students.

The show included three themes: “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “A Night on the Town.” Appropriately, the models donned sport outfits, business attire, and evening gowns. The fashions were donated by local clothing boutiques.

All through this evening of fun and excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring

by Delia Matula

Students model spring fashions

By Delia Matula

MSC students displayed the latest sensational spring fashions in the Student Center Ballrooms on Wed., evening, March 5. The show, entitled “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “Anything Goes,” was a project for five Fashion Studies students.

The show included three themes: “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “A Night on the Town.” Appropriately, the models donned sport outfits, business attire, and evening gowns. The fashions were donated by local clothing boutiques.

All through this evening of fun and excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring

by Delia Matula

Students model spring fashions

By Delia Matula

MSC students displayed the latest sensational spring fashions in the Student Center Ballrooms on Wed., evening, March 5. The show, entitled “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “Anything Goes,” was a project for five Fashion Studies students.

The show included three themes: “Funwear,” “The Working World” and “A Night on the Town.” Appropriately, the models donned sport outfits, business attire, and evening gowns. The fashions were donated by local clothing boutiques.

All through this evening of fun and excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring excitement, the models twirled about with stylish showmanship. The spring
STUDENT GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS

Petitions now available for:
President * Vice-President * Treasurer * Secretary

Representatives to the Board of Trustees and SGA Legislator
DUE: Friday, March 21, 1986 at Noon
Full details in the SGA Office Room 103 SC Annex
By Tom Boud

In William Mastrosimone’s “Extremities,” the indescribable turmoil of rape drives a woman to dark and desperate revenge. This Major Theatre Series production, directed by Suzanne Trauth, is structured around a college girl’s bitter struggle to cope with an attempted rape and its aftermath.

The action in “Extremities” takes off when Marjorie (Paula Goldberg) is accosted in her friend’s country-style apartment by Raul (Daniel Kahn), a stranger who appears under the pretense of looking for a lost pal. Marjorie tries to get Raul to leave, but he becomes increasingly menacing and starts to haunt Marjorie with sexual insinuations. Marjorie tries every excuse in the book to save herself, but she can’t forestall the inevitable, and Raul forces her down on the floor.

What ensues is a torrent of torment as Marjorie is molested, slapped, yanked by the hair, and suffocated with a pillow. The drama takes a sudden turn as Marjorie manages to overpower Raul; she then ties him up, blindfolds him, imprisons him in a fireplace and pours bleach all over him in a desperate rage of vengeance.

Terry (Sandra M. Rossi) and Patricia (Michelle Begley) come on stage just in time to find Marjorie on the verge of killing Raul. She has even prepared a gravesite with his name on it. What’s more, the irrational Marjorie won’t permit Terry or Patricia to call the police. For these two, their troubles have only just begun.

As the drama continues, the audience is seized by a high-velocity whirlwind of emotion. Marjorie’s insane impulsiveness, and Raul’s low-life demeanor and nasty attitude toward women, contribute to Terry and Patricia’s hopeless situation. These two must deal with the combination of a ravishing sex monster and a victim gone berserk.

Enhancing the suspense and excitement are a couple of stage blackouts supplemented by horrific “Friday the 13th-style” music (thanks to Sound Designer Tibor Spiegel), which creates a state of wonder and uncertainty.

The acting is energetic and fierce, enabling the audience to live the play instead of just seeing it. Paula Goldberg is excellent, vividly expressing the trauma of Marjorie’s experience. At other moments, Goldberg has the solid stature of an iceberg.

Daniel Kahn’s portrayal of the ill-willed Raul reeks with the authentic intent of a rapist. He compounds his unforgivable deeds by trying to excuse himself, arguing that he’s a male who is subject to fits of lust.

Sandra M. Rossi’s rendition of Terry combines outbursts of emotion with a rational attitude. Patricia (Michelle Begley) is the most levelheaded character. Begley fares well in displaying this, also accenting her role with uncontrollable explosions of tension.

Director Suzanne Trauth makes the chemistry between the actors succeed. The evil of Raul, the insanity of Marjorie and the anxious concern of Terry and Patricia work in concert to produce an overwhelming chaos that gives “Extremities” its magnitude.

Fight Director Randy Kovitz deserves special recognition for his skillful choreography of the fight scene between Raul and Marjorie. Kovitz presents a decisive confrontation with realism, without going overboard. His staging makes the physical exchange of blows and kicks look natural and easy.

“Extremities” is an absolute must to see. The dog-eat-dog fighting, the candid, intense acting, the graphic language and profanity, the earth-shaking motion and riveting action all make “Extremities” erupt with excitement.
Attention

Tickets:
- Grateful Dead Tour, Wrestlemania, Firm, Rush, Aerosmith, Peter Allen, Yankees, Mets, Circus, Rangers, Knicks—Call Union Tickets, 201-851-2880. Major credit cards accepted.
- Two female Montclair State grads are looking for a responsible female to share the expenses of a spacious three-bedroom apt. located in Clifton. Rent very reasonable. Contact Liz or Leslie at 772-0123 after 5:00 p.m.
- Hoagiemania is coming soon...watch for details in your near future.
- Are you ready for the rag? Read The Monthly Rag—it'll be a big relief. Copies are available from the Women's Center or in the Student Center Lobby.
- Film Minors! Dr. Janet Cutler will be discussing this new minor in a free program on Tuesday, March 18 at 2:00 p.m. in Room 417 of the Student Center. It's a great opportunity to ask questions, see student films and meet other students in the Film Minor Program. All are welcome.
- QUARTERLY: You gotta be in it to win it! LaVaughn loves you! 113A S.C. Annex, 893-4410.

For Sale
- Rust color leather jacket: Cooper Designer, NYC, NY. Size 44 (Small). Worth $135, asking $75. Never worn. See Neil in CLUB office or call 893-5232 or 384-3487.
- Sanyo Walkman AM/FM cassette player (Model MG95): auto reverse, metal tape capability, mute switch, carrying strap, lightweight stereo headphones, brand new (never used). $50 or B.O. Call Beth at 227-0497 or 235-5672.
- SONY WALKMAN AM/FM cassette player (Model WMF 10 II) Dolby noise reduction system, only 7/8" thick, lightweight stereo headphones, brand new, still in box. $90 or B.O. Call Beth at 227-0497 or 235-5672.

Personals
- Beth: "and you know who you are." HUGO IS THE LOSER-ERGO HUGO-and you know who I am. Beth: HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU, you live in a zoo, you look like a Hugo and put whatever the hell else you want in it. ERGO.
- Odds Bodkins! Jim stay off bikes! You're not on track any more. Your coach, Beth.
- Barb: To my adopted little- where have you been! Miss seeing you around. Your adopted big, Lisa.
- Hi Alice: Thank you for being such a good friend this past year. May you get Bruce someday. Love, David.
- To the MSC Wrestling Team: Congratulations on being NATIONAL CHAMPS!! So when's the party? Love, your managers.
- Joe: I had a great time at lunch! I'm looking forward to getting to know you better, and more fun times ahead. Love, Michele.
- Hor-Hey: The hospital scene was a good one. but the next one will be a whopper. Love, Lips and Dimples.
- R.R.: What's this? Your fifth roommate in four semesters. There must be a problem. Signed, Y.B.B.
- Spyman: I want to play with your orange underwear. Did you change your mind yet? Love ya, me.
- Bob G.: How exciting, your first personal and hopefully not your last. Thanks for everything! Looking forward to my first personal. E.M.B.
- Terry: Thinking of you now as always. I love ya! (you really tilt my terminal *6 c ! ! ) Jo.
- To the Satirical Typesetter: God is alive and well and lives in the heart of those who care to acknowledge him.
- Patti and Barb: Friends forever. We'll never part. We have to get together soon. Love ya, Chuckles.
- Gerard: You don't know how sorry I am! I just hope our friendship is stronger than this! A friend and a brother.
- Happy 20th Cathy! You flood the Cafeteria and I'll jump in the puddles! Love ya, Trish.
- Sue L. and Kathleen: Have you pooled before.
- Happy 22nd Beth! Hope it's a GREAT ONE! Love, THE MONTCLAIR STAFF.
Test yourself.

Which early pregnancy test is as easy to read as red, no -white, yes?
Which is portable for convenience?
Which early pregnancy test is as accurate as many hospital and lab tests?
Which is 98% accurate, as accurate as any hospital and lab tests?
Which is portable for convenience and privacy?

WE GIVE YOU MORE PLACES TO GO WITH YOUR CAREER.

As a Navy nurse, you'll find more career possibilities than you ever thought possible.
Right now, we have nursing positions in our hospitals and station facilities all around the world, and we need your expertise.
Of course, you can expect a lot in return.
You'll be part of a team of professionals - keeping current with state-of-the-art technology and facilities and providing your patients with the very best medical treatment available.

Navy Nurse.
It's Not Just A Job, It's An Adventure.

PERSONALS

- Tom: It's always green. Love, MEM.
- Trisha: Thank you for Carmen. Lizzy is so happy now! They are both in Lizard heaven. Love, the Lizard Woman.
- Think Beachdez.
- T.O.L. and C.0.4: "Loosen up and let it all hang out! Let's start having fun!" The Joker
- Mike L: I want your body! Jim
- R.R.: With God as our witness, a 2.9 GPA just does not cut it on the Dean's list. Signed, Y.B.B.
- O.K.: I've waited long enough. Am I going to find out who sent me an anonymous V-Day card? Are you trying to make me crazy? Who are you? Teri.
- Pete: "The Sleezzzz Smith" You're a goin'- the real king of the office.
- Terry: Loving you everyday; yes, even Thursday! XXXXXX!!! Kisses and hugs! Jo.
- The Beachdez are coming!! The Beachdez are coming!!
- Amy P.: Communication is the key to happiness. "Things can only get better." Howard Jones.
- Just think, Sandle, Kim, Maria, Lisa two weeks till we leave for Paradise. I can't wait. See you on the sand. Love, Susan.
- Thank you Mel, Eileen, Donna, Laura for a good "Italian Nite." Love, Art.
- Yes! I will be in Fort Lauderdale to see if it is all true! Art Frank.
- Brad Bianchi: You don't have to change for anybody but yourself. And believe it, more people envy you than you think, including myself. Love, Sue.

more personals on p. 21.
Maybe there is a substitute for experience.

After you're done with school, you face one of the hardest lessons in life: Without experience, it's tough to get a job. And without a job, it's tough to get experience.

At The Wall Street Journal, we recognize that experience is something you don't start earning until after you graduate.

But while you're waiting, we can give you a head start by providing some of the same competitive advantages that experience brings.

For instance, our wide-ranging news coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex world of business.

Our tightly focused feature reporting prepares you for your more specific ambitions—whether in management, accounting, finance, technology, marketing or small business.

And our in-depth analysis helps you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more persuasive way.

Call 800-257-1200* ext. 1026—or mail the coupon—and start your subscription to The Wall Street Journal at student savings of up to $44 off the regular subscription price.

That's a pretty generous offer. Especially when you consider what it actually represents. Tuition for the real world.
Trivia Time-Out

OK, sports fans, back by popular demand, here is your chance to see just how much you know about sports facts. Each week, The Montclarion will publish a list of sports questions and answers to test your sports trivia knowledge.

In addition, there will be a sports stumper that will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at the Montclarion, Room 113 in the Student Center Annex. The names of those who submit the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. Which NHL team set a record by losing 17 consecutive games in 1973?
2. In how many different seasons did Babe Ruth hit over 50 home runs?
3. In Canadian football, how many players take the field for each team?
4. What football coach was fired for punching an opposing player during the Gator Bowl?
5. Aside from Ty Cobb, name the only other player to hit over .400 in two consecutive seasons.

Last week’s stumper:
What was the original name of the Orange Bowl Palm Festival Game.

This week’s stumper:
What Detroit Tiger first baseman won the 1961 AL Batting title with a .361 average, but never batted .300 again?

cont. from back page

Softball team seeks success with blend of veterans & frosh

Through graduation and some leaving the team won’t hurt the Indians. She insists the team is strong at every position.

On the Indians’ pitching, Barbossa said that Dina DeAquino and Debbie Emery should carry the team. De-Aquino, she said, is much improved from last year, and both have had experience with no-hitters in college softball.

Barbossa and her teammates see their toughest competition coming from last year’s champion Trenton State, but the players are optimistic about their chances of making the playoffs.

Pitcher Dina DeAquino is one of the talented Indian starters returning to the diamond this season.
What’s What in MSC Sports

By Tom High

The MSC Women’s Indoor Track Team will be well-represented at the Nationals to be held March 14-16 at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Coach Michelle Willis’ team will send three athletes, including Sharon Johnson, who is currently ranked number one in the long jump for Division III. The freshman, from Newark Central High School, also qualified in the 55 meters.

Sophomore Angela Ogleby enters the meet ranked third in the 55 meters. Senior Sue McMurtry is currently ranked fifth in the high jump, coming into the meet with the qualifying height of 5-6. Freshman Sevet Flowers, ranked fifteenth in the 55 meter hurdles, however, fell just short of qualifying for the Nationals.

Whatever the outcome of the Nationals, this indoor track season has been one of the most successful team performances since the inception of the program. Individual performances in Minnesota will just be icing on the cake for Willis and the entire team.

Nic’s Niche

Jim Nicolas

MSC centerfielder Tim Johnson will turn author, and his book, Hit to all Fields and Market the Game, will become a million-seller. However, after realizing his new office job doesn’t afford him the luxury of chewing tobacco, he will go back into baseball and flounder in the minor leagues for four years. Mets first baseman Keith Hernandez will hold a press conference mid-way through the year to deny all past reports of his cocaine addiction. “I was just kidding,” Hernandez will proclaim.

Mets outfielder George Foster will drop lots of fly balls and play generally uninspiring baseball. Then the Mets will sign him for four more years for $6.5 million.

The MSC softball team will finish in a tie with Trenton State for first place in the conference. The tie-breaking playoff game will be held at Trenton State, so if they aren’t in first, who cares where they are?

MSC Head Coach Kevin Cooney, in an attempt to raise his team’s sagging batting average, will coach Director of Athletics Bill Dioguardi into purchasing a $9,000 computer system. This plan will fail miserably as Cooney cannot find anyone in baseball who can work the computer, nor anyone in the Computer Science department who knows a thing about baseball.

The Mets baseball team will finish in a tie with Trenton State for first place in the conference. The tie-breaking playoff game will be held at Trenton State, but will go into extra innings and will be cancelled due to darkness. Everyone will forget to replay the game.

The Mets will win the NL East pennant, but will lose to MSC in a benefit game at Pitsner Field.

The Yankees will not win the AL East pennant, and that’s all that matters to Steinbrenner, so if they aren’t in first, who cares where they are?

Well, the 1986 baseball season is just around the corner now, on both the professional and collegiate levels. As always, all sorts of questions are going to be popping up, concerning winners and losers, hirings and firings, drugs, and if the Mets will ever finish better than second place.

So without further ado, here are my predictions of what will be the more important (and totally insignificant) occurrences in Baseball, 1986:

Yankees manager Lou Piniella will be fired six weeks into the season. George Steinbrenner won’t be able to find someone willing to coach under his reign, however, so Piniella will be re-hired seven days after his firing.

Mets catcher Gary Carter will be voted National League MVP after playing two months with a broken right leg.

Joaquin Andujar will be suspended from baseball for one year after hitting an umpire with a water cooler.

Mets outfielder George Foster will drop lots of fly balls and play generally uninspiring baseball. Then the Mets will sign him for four more years for $6.5 million.

Getting an Early Start on Your Summer Tan & Keep it all Year at OLYMPIA GYM

$99 for 1 year membership

567 Bloomfield Avenue
Verona, New Jersey 239-9633

Minority Summer Intern Program
Dec. ’86—May ’87 Grads 2.8 Min GPA
Any Major
State Farm Insurance Company
(Wayne)

This 10 Week Program Offers:
1. Exposure to claims, underwriting & general insurance operations
2. Salary - approximately $300/wk

Come To Career Services For:
— Resume preparation and assistance
— Applications
— Sign up for on-campus interviews, April 7th
Hockey club advances in MCHC playoffs

By Delia Matula

The MSC Hockey club has made its presence known throughout the Metropolitan Collegiate Hockey Conference. The Indians played their first-ever playoff game at Mennen Arena in Morris Township Monday night, and made the very best of it. The Indians' superior athletic ability pushed Southern Connecticut out of the playoffs as they advanced in overtime, 4-3.

MSC suffered through a slow first period, but picked up its level of play in the last two periods to capture the win. The one player that you couldn't help but notice during the game was MSC's Mike Zarillo. Zarillo scored two goals and added an assist to help the Indians overtake Southern Connecticut.

The lndians' lineup includes talented freshmen, as well. Ann Deutsch is one newcomer who is expected to have an impact. Her high school record indicates that she will be filled by the talented crop of new recruits.

The game became more intense as the game progressed, and the pressure built when Southern Connecticut's Rob Savignano scored to knot the game at 2-2 in the third period. Knowing this...