Nicaragua crisis probed

By Debra Farina

"Faces of War," a documentary depicting the effects of ongoing conflict in Nicaragua, was shown in the Student Center April 15 as part of Latin Week. Accepted as a member of the United States Congress feared U.S. involvement in the Nicaraguan crisis could lead to a repetition of the Vietnam War.

In addition to the film, Dr. Martin Povlete, George Howard, and Jan Cooper presented their views on the crisis in Nicaragua at the forum.

According to Dr. Joanne Englebert, a psychology professor at Columbia University, the U.S. Administration sees Nicaragua as a hostile government and a national threat. Commenting on the documentary, "Faces of War," Garcia, a psychology professor at MSC, described the film as "heart-rending" in its depiction of the suffering of the people. Garcia and Howard, mayor of Pearl Lagoon, Nicaragua, agreed that there was no peace, there was no justice. The war totally devastated the Nicaraguan people, according to Howard.

With Witness for Peace, Noble traveled to Nicaragua for two weeks this past January. He said the Contras "totally disrupted the remote villages (of Nicaragua)." Houses and farms were destroyed, women were raped, children were tortured, and men were killed.

But unlike the Americans, the Nicaraguan people "openly received us as individuals," Noble said.

MSC alumni offer advice to aspiring professionals

By Regina Slavinski

Women need an "old girl's network" for support in their careers, said professional women alumni as they discussed strategies and obstacles in the working world, at a seminar on April 16 in the Student Center.

"Men go out together and share knowledge while women tend to hold it in," said Carol Lotto, 1978 graduate and manager of the Sports Systems Finance at NBC.

"Women should be allies because they have a common cause," said Roseann Tuchman, a 1982 graduate and clinical social worker at Christ Hospital in Jersey City. "We are socialized to please and be liked by everyone and we must get past this attitude to achieve."

Gloria Kolodziej, mayor of Clifton, said her first obstacle in the professional world was skepticism. "What's a nice girl like you doing in politics?" she said describing the general reaction to her political career. Character traits are interpreted differently for men and women, she said. "An aggressive woman is pushy. Cautionousness is considered picky. When men are firm, women are stubborn. A man follows through, while a woman does not know when to quit. Enthusiasm is seen as naively," she said.

The alumni offered advice to aspiring professionals. "Accept criticism and learn from those more knowledgeable," said Jan Cooper, a 1979 graduate and president of Cooper and Associates, public relations firm. "When I came to an impasse, I was frightened. You have to take fear and turn it around as strength and give it all you've got. You get out of it what you put into it."

Lotto said, "If you do any job to the best of your ability, someone will notice you." She said she noticed people would do a poor job because they felt they were meant for a better position. "Mediocrity was rampant," she said stating that she used this mediocrity as leverage in proving her own competence.

The Women's Center presented this seminar, sponsored by the Alumni Association, as the fourth in a series on women professionals given in memory of Helen Z. Rendall, secretary of the MSC Alumni Association from 1961-1971.

Greek Week tradition revived

By Rob Acerra

The fraternities and sororities of MSC are in the process of reviving another tradition, Greek Week. Originally, Greek Week was an event that was filled with fun, excitement and competition. The fraternities and sororities would compete against each other for prizes.

More than twenty fraternities and sororities will be competing in the week events. Tom Cecala, coordinator of Greek Week, has been working for several months along with the members of the Student Intramural and Leisure Council (SILC). "We have planned a week of athletic events designed not only to test ability and endurance, but to strengthen the common bonds among Greek organizations," McKinley Boston, Greek Council advisor, commented. "Greek Week will enable all the fraternities and sororities on campus to exhibit their true brotherhood and sisterhood. They will display to the entire campus the true thrill and excitement that is derived from being a member of a Greek organization."

Greek Week is scheduled from May 3 to May 9. All members of fraternities and sororities are encouraged to come.

The following is a list of planned Greek Week activities:

- Raquetball Party: Sat., May 3 - 8 p.m.
- Triathlon: Sun., May 4 - 12 p.m.
- Six-man relay: Mon., May 5 - 2 p.m.
- Obstacle course: Mon., May 5 - 3 p.m.
- Arm wrestling: Tues., May 6 - 12 p.m.
- Tennis: Wed., May 7 - 3 p.m.
- Baseball: Thurs., May 8 - 3 p.m.
- Softball: Fri., May 9 - 8 p.m.
- Volleyball: Fri., May 9 - 12 p.m.
- Awards Ceremony

LASO's Latin Week comes to MSC

Former LASO presidents recognized at ceremony

By Dennis Campbell

LASO's Latin Week comes to MSC

Former presidents were invited to pay tribute to the leaders instrumental in the formation and creation of LASO into a Class One organization of the SGA. Perry Schwarz, Latin Week Coordinator, said, "These 13 presidents played a vital part in the development of LASO. I felt it was a nice touch for them to see how Latin Week has evolved over the years."

Essex County Executive, Peter Shapiro, said, "The celebration of Latin culture and the achievement of Hispanic Americans is an important and significant endeavor and one which deserves the participation and support of the college community and the larger community of Essex County."

MSC's Chaplain, Father Humphrey, delivered a special prayer to an audience of 160, which included the President of the College, faculty and students.

Jose Arango, Assemblyman of the 33rd Congressional District, and the keynote speaker, urged MSC students to get involved. "There are a lot of important issues concerning students that they should be aware of," he said.

"The future is bright and if you are honest, this is the right place to be somebody in the United States."

Harry Morales, the first president of LASO as a Class One organization, remarked on the progress of the club since his graduation in 1975. He was impressed that the club has grown bigger, noting the dedication and spirit of the members is even stronger now. "Achieving Class One status was not easy," he said. "It was a coordinated three-year plan. It took a long time to convince the SGA they were worthy of Class One consideration. The seed was planted in 1973, to aggressively reorganize LASO. The idea he said, was to make LASO a truly cultural organization that would appeal to everyone and deal with issues that were relevant to students.

"This was the best Latin Week in my three years here at the college," Schwarz said. "Not only was there student support, but the administration was receptive to many of the events. Outside groups also attended Latin Week and really maintained the enthusiasm despite the rain. It's going to be tough to top last week, but if we receive the same LASO support along with students and administration, Latin Week will continue to strive to perfection."
MSC Lawyer Alumni Organization Formed

The Montclair State Alumni Association has embarked on a unique and exciting program targeted at alumni in the legal profession. Twenty alumni, all practicing attorneys, attended the lawyer group's first organization meeting on March 30th, 1986. The initial steering committee has identified the establishment of a mentor program for undergraduates who are seeking law school admission or careers as an entry-level attorney. Other plans include a lecture and seminar series devoted to timely legal issues and geared toward the undergraduate population.

To kick off the organization, the Lawyers' Alumni Group is sponsoring its first program on April 29th, 1986, entitled "Alumni in Law." The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Alumni Center in Room 419. At the same time, the Alumni Steering Committee will conduct its second organizational meeting and elect a permanent steering committee.

Montclair State College alumni who are currently practicing attorneys or are presently attending law school are invited to attend. Interested alumni who would like to participate in the activities of the MSC Lawyer Alumni Group can find more information from Susan Marmo, MSC Alumni director, at 201-879-4114.

Are you denying yourself a better shot at grad school?

Okay, it may be too late to get a 4.0. But it's not too late to try to do better on your LSAT, GMAT, GRE, or MCAT. For that, there's Stanley H. Kaplan.

No one has prepped more students than Stanley H. Kaplan. Our test-taking techniques and educational programs have prepared over 1 million students.

So whatever grad school exam you're taking, call us. Remember, the person next to you during your exam might have taken a Kaplan course.

Teachers: How to prepare for your first job interview

By Maralyn L. Klnch

Your first interview is coming up. You've always wanted to teach and now you have the chance. You know you'd feel less nervous if you knew what the superintendent was going to ask you.

The following is a list of typical questions you can think about before the interview. Being prepared is, after all, more than half the battle!

1. Why do you want to teach?
2. Why are you interested in this particular position?
3. How do you think student teaching prepared you for this job?
4. What courses did you enjoy most and find helpful in preparing you to teach? Why?
5. What are your teaching strengths? Weaknesses?
6. Describe a discipline problem you have had and how you handled it.
7. What are your expectations of teaching as a profession?
8. How do you motivate students to learn?
9. How do you handle differences in learning style?
10. What are your expectations of your department chair and principal?
11. What do you know about this community? Have you been involved with any community organizations?

When you are asked if you have questions, be sure to ask those that relate to the job. Questions about a pension plan can wait until a job offer has been made.

1. How will I be evaluated? How often? By whom? By what criteria?
2. Will I be teaching from a prescribed curriculum?
3. How much creativity will I be allowed?
4. How many preparations will I have?
5. Describe your concept of a successful teacher.
6. What support services exist to help me? To help my students?
7. Describe your philosophy of classroom management.
8. What duties outside the classroom might I be assigned?

Women's Center lecture:

In the pursuit of happiness

By Regina Slavinski

"Happiness is not externally caused, it's inside us," said Dr. Cathy Norris as she discussed the problems surrounding the pursuit of happiness, at the Women's Center Wednesday.

"Happiness is how we deal with and process external events and people and in what we emphasize or de-emphasize," she said.

"If we place expectations for happiness on others, we lend ourselves to disappointment," said Norris. "It also gives us a "future orientation" which puts us on a never ending quest for an elusive tomorrow and causes us to miss the good things in the present," she said.

"The "happiness ever after myth" perpetuated by fairy tales causes us to overlook the pain and struggle of getting there," said Norris. "We need bad and discomfort to know good and comfort. The negative helps us recognize the positive."

"We tend to define happiness as a high which ensures disappointment because highs do not last," said Norris. "It should be defined in terms of comfort and serenity," she said. "Small things like an easy conversation with friends or a good movie or book are not euphoric but they provide happiness through comfort," she said.

Norris suggested taking a look at ourselves and our approach to life. "If we aren't satisfied, it isn't permanent," she said. "We can re-learn what we learned from birth to now."

Childhood experiences figure prominently in defining how we see ourselves today, said Norris. "Traits we possessed as children, such as shyness, may no longer apply to us as adults yet we believe they do. Exorcizing bad memories from childhood can get us on the road to self acceptance which is the first step in the pursuit of happiness. Peer counseling and encounter groups provide guidance which can help us if we need assistance along the way."

Organizational Effectiveness Workshop

HRO will be sponsoring a workshop next Tuesday night, April 29, on the topic of Organizational Effectiveness. It will be presented by Dr. Richard Gray of MSC. Skills and information to help run clubs better and to improve cooperation between organizations will be presented. The workshop will last approximately one to one and a half hours and will be open to dealing with concerns expressed by those who attend. The workshop will be held 8-9:30 p.m. in Rm. 413 in the Student Center.

If you know now what you would like to do, you don't have to wait until graduation to begin your career. People Express is offering you the chance to get a head start on your future by working for us, part time, in our dynamic new Intern Program, while you are still in school.

In Phase I of our program, you'll work as a Customer Service Representative—interacting face-to-face with our customers while getting involved in the whole spectrum of ground operational support activities. Upon graduation, you will be an eligible candidate for our Phase II Post Graduate Program.

If you are highly competent, with a real capacity for compassion, caring and concern for people, we would like to meet you. You can start your career with People Express right now. If you are a full time student with a 2.5 cumulative GPA call today to learn more about our Intern Program.

SGA renews charters

By Kathy McDonough

The Montclarion was granted a Class I charter at last night’s SGA meeting. Editor-in-Chief Mary Ellen MacIsaac, representing the newspaper, opened with remarks concerning the need for more student input.

MacIsaac expressed a desire for more direct comments and suggestions pertaining to the paper. The use of a suggestion box in the office was proposed by members of the SGA.

Questions were also raised concerning problems relating to the late delivery of the papers. MacIsaac cited problems with the printer not meeting their deadlines as the reason for the delay. Work is now being done to correct this problem in order to avoid unnecessary delays in the future.

The operations budget of $21,470 was also approved, following an explanation of the various uses of the funds by the newspaper.

The presentation by the music fraternities was proclaimed as the “unofficial official start of Spring Week” by Liz Refinski, Director of Public Relations and Coordinator of Spring Week ’86. The enthusiasm carried over to the Lip Sync contest where 200 people had to be turned away due to lack of space.

Upcoming events include Twister, originally scheduled for Wednesday, which will be held on Friday, April 25 in the Student Center Mall. The carnival, to be held Thursday through Sunday, should prove to be MSC’s biggest and best yet.

La Campana, MSC’s yearbook, was the subject of criticism by Dave Handal. He stated a need for “checks and balances” within the system. His reasons include examples of the use of “private jokes” throughout the yearbook, which appeal to a very small segment of the student population.

He cited a need for overall expansion of the view of student life at MSC. In other news, a Class I charter was granted to the Council on International and National Affairs (CINA), whose programs include lectures, trips and seminars related to international and national issues. CINA’s president, Martha Losche, was complimented by Dave Handal, who said she was doing a “fantastic job” with the organization, her being instrumental in putting together the various programs presented.

A Class II charter was granted to the Management Club. Phi Chi Omega, a social sorority active in Greek Council and various fund raising events for local charities, received a Class III charter.

A bill was passed appropriating $250 for Sigma Phi Rho’s trip to Central Park, to participate in a Walk-a-thon for the March of Dimes. The trip is scheduled for April 27.

Near the close of the meeting Ray Bueno, representing some of the employees of the Rathskellar, proposed the formation of a committee to save the Rat. The idea of a petition or a resolution was suggested. This was brought about by the recent rumors being circulated as to the possible closing of the Rat.

Spring Week '86: Just for the fun of it

Last year, the SGA brought back an old and forgotten tradition — Spring Week. This year, Spring Week is back to "Keep the Pride Alive" at MSC.

According to Liz Refinski, director of public relations for the SGA and coordinator for Spring Week '86, she and several other SGA members spent many long hours in preparation for a week in which all MSC students can come out of the woodwork and have some fun.

The official beginning of Spring Week was Monday, April 22, and as shown by the success of such events as Tuesday night's Lip Sync contest, all is going well.

However, the main attraction—the carnival—begins tonight at 6 p.m. in the Clove Road parking lot 28. It will run until Sunday, April 27, and include a variety of rides, game booths, movies, fireworks, turtle races and other activities.

Due to yesterday's unexpected snowfall, the Giant Twister Contest was cancelled, but is rescheduled for Friday, April 25, from noon to 3 p.m. in the Student Center Mall. So, even if you didn't sign up to participate, why not come and take a glimpse at history in the making? MSC students are going for the Guinness World Record. So come out and cheer them on!

This is your chance as hard-working college students to take a break from exams and term papers, and have a good time.

JOIN US!

It's always a party at CLUB!

As the middle of April draws near, College Life Union Board (CLUB) members are once again busy preparing fun and exciting programs for all to enjoy.

CLUB tries to plan at least one event each week but since everything gets behind and we run into situations such as "This film can't be ordered 'til next week" or "Those comedians are booked until May 1986" or "You can't have the Rat for your Lip Sync contest" most of the events usually take place during the last two months of the semester.

These past weeks CLUB has packed the Rathskellar with comedians, showed Rocky IV and then dressed up as Nerds and partied in the Rat with a band called "THE NERDS". CLUB's annual Spring Ball took place at Mayfair Farms this year and all who attended had a great time.

All of CLUB's programming this semester will peak with Spring Week '86, where CLUB will play a big part in the festivities. Tuesday night CLUB packed the ballrooms with their annual Lip Sync, on Wednesday night CLUB and C1C co-sponsored a band "THE TREND" and held a Sock Hop with 50's Music. Today CLUB will sponsor their annual Spring Day.

This year's theme will be "Springamania" Springamania will be held outside on the Mall. There will be a caricature, Marty Bear (those of you who were here for Freshman Orientation remember him) and Screew Lewie (yes, the same ones as Mary's Husbands and Fatso Fogarty's) April's programming calendar will then wind down with another movie, "Back to the Future" on Tuesday, April 29th.

Our newest member, our mascot "CLUB" is helping us a lot this semester. CLUB may only be a painted piece of wood but when he dresses up and helps us publicize our great events, he comes alive. You can usually see CLUB outside the Student Center or up on stage in the Rat.

Yes, we all have been pretty busy these past few weeks and will be even busier during the next few, but we all have fun doing what we do. If you too want to have fun, join The Club. Our meetings are held every Monday at 4 p.m in Cafeteria C in the Student Center or stop by our office, we are located in Room 121 in the Student Center Annex. Come help us plan a great "programming" year for '86-'87.

To the editor:

As a second semester freshman, I feel that most deal of animosity and hostility in the dorms. At present, it is time for room selection. I fear that a separation from their desired roommate. These were big issues, but the one that I am most concerned with is the high demand for rooms in Blanton Hall. It is true that Blanton Hall is the dorm in highest demand because it is by far the newest and most comfortable of the five dormitories on campus.

However, while everyone living on campus pays the same amount for housing, everyone doesn’t get an equal living status, as far as comfortability and quality is concerned. I am voicing my views on this matter because I am not happy. The current situation is long overdue. This is a matter that should have been contended with the start of the tripping process if not the beginning of room selection as a whole. It is very uncomfortable for people to live in a room made for two; not to mention unfair. We do pay the same amount for housing. It is highly suggested that, as a solution to these problems, and for these very reasons another dorm should be erected and problems in the existing dorms to be corrected.

Craig Rogers, Freshman, undecided

SGA campaigns overboard

To the editor:

I give the SGA candidates credit for their outstanding efforts in attempting to get elected to their respective offices. But I am a bit disturbed about how they have gone about trying to get students to vote for them. While walking through the student center quad, I was approached and asked to support and vote for 5 separate candidates.

I realized that the campus police have many duties to attend to and on a busy night at Clove, their duties are increased, but that makes me wonder even more what exactly the procedure is for using the escort service? Is it only for certain nights? When it’s convenient for the police? Is it for males to use as well as females? With any other guidelines that we should be made aware of, you can please clear this matter up for me and for anyone else who may not know.

Kelly Aumack, Sophomore, fine arts

Faculty Viewpoint

Putting Libya into focus

To the editor:

For my benefit, as well as for other students on campus, could you please explain how the escort service works? Although I’m very glad that it has finally been created and is being started, I don’t understand what the exact procedures are.

Last week, while at a party at the Clover Road Apartments, I left alone, escorted back to Blanton Hall. He replied with a short and simple, “we’re too busy right now,” and turned back to whatever it was that he was doing. He didn’t offer me an alternative, or ask me to wait a few minutes.

It would have been a little reassuring to know that our own campus police cared more about someone possibly being raped or attacked on the way back to their dorm in the middle of the night, than a possible alcohol or drug bust. The police are always saying that we, as students, don’t utilize the service and that’s half of our problem. But when I do, I expect to be treated better than the way I was treated on that evening. Luckily, another officer saw me walking and took me in the car for the remainder of the walk. But what if he hadn’t and something had happened to me? I wonder if that negligent officer would even care? Regardless, something that could’ve been avoided, wasn’t.

I realize that the campus police have many duties to attend to and on a busy night at Clove, their duties are increased, but that makes me wonder even more what exactly the procedure is for using the escort service? Is it only for certain nights? When it’s convenient for the police? Is it for males to use as well as females? With any other guidelines that we should be made aware of, could you please clear this matter up for me and for anyone else who may not know.

CIC IS A CLASS I OF THE SGA
Experience pays off in Stewart's new solo effort

By Perry Schwartz

Jermaine Stewart's road to success has been a long and hard one. It's been a hard road for singer/dancer Jermaine Stewart to travel, but he did it, and in stylish fashion. The Chicago church singer started his career as a Soul Train dancer and sang backup to groups such as Millie Jackson, Culture Club, and the Travers. He then teamed up with Narada Michael Walden to put out his second album, Frantic Romantic.

Frantic Romantic is a unique and fresh style of music that appeals to a large spectrum of listeners. The album is structured with a variety of sounds. This is an album that should hit the charts. Stewart felt he had to prove something to the people and himself with "The Word Is Out." Stewart said in a telephone interview, "All the vocals were done by me so people could hear the Jermaine Stewart sound."

The Stewart sound is a refreshing, innovative style. The title track has an upturn introduction and there is an important part of the business. The introduction sets the mood for the song. "Don't Ever Leave Me" is a song that's much more mellow. This song is easy listening and the drums maintain a steady pace. The climactic part of the song is provided by backups and high vocals.

"Why Do We Have To Take Our Clothes Off?" is a quick and energetic song. The introduction sets the mood of the song. This song, written by Walden and Jeffrey Cohen, is already generating club activity.

"Good music is music," Stewart said. "I don't think it should be categorized as rock or soul. I consider myself to be a versatile singer and spread myself with a balance of stuff. I invited different artists, including Olympic gold winner Carl Lewis, to sing and break up the monotony of one voice."

The experience Stewart received from Culture Club made a definite influence in his three years as a solo singer. Stewart doesn't mind being behind the scenes because learning is an important part of the business.

"I know what the Jermaine Stewart sound is all about, but it's still in the beginning stage," he continued. "You are never old enough to stop learning, and I am still learning to improve my sound to bring the best to my listeners."

Fast start not enough for lacrosse team

By Dennis Campbell

MSC's lacrosse team was clicking on all cylinders in the first quarter against Kutztown State at Sprague Field on Saturday. Jam es "Hollywood" Galione was cruising, Brian Walters was picking apart the Kutztown defense and Doug Morton was leading the defense with his physical style of play.

The problem for MSC was that one quarter of good lacrosse was not good enough to beat the determined Kutztown team. The Golden Bears entered the game with a combined record of 2-4 to the Indians' 4-4.

Although MSC dictated the tempo early on, the Golden Bears were able to bite the bullet and manage a 5-5 tie at the end of the first quarter. The Kutztown team then came out with fire in its eyes in the second half and ran the Indians ragged, coming up with a big 20-8 win.

Eddy Sargeant got the Indians off to a fast start with the game's first goal on an assist from Peter Franklin. Franklin then scored after a Kutztown timeout. The timeout proved effective and Kutztown was forced to call a timeout. The timeout proved effective and the Indians attack. They used long passes to counterattack. At the seven minute mark, Kutztown applied good pressure to surprise the MSC team. They used long passes to try to increase their lead. Kutztown was able to withstand the charge, and with 10 seconds remaining, they tied the score at 5.

The second quarter started at a furious pace as the Golden Bears came out charging. At 12:53, they scored on a power play to grab a 6-5 lead. Walters scored on an assist by Nugent to knot the game again, but Kutztown went on a tear and scored four more goals in the period to grab a 10-7 lead.

The third period started with a flurry as the Golden Bears were able to use their quickness and wear down the Indian attack. They used long passes effectively to surprise the MSC team with quick scores. Kutztown led 15-7 at the third quarter, and that proved to be more than the Indians could recover from.

"We played two different games," said MSC co-captain Al Reinoso. "In the first half, we caught them off guard. In the second they came out running and running, and we could not stop them."

Kutztown 20 - MSC 8
MSC 26 - Rutgers-Newark 5

Something a little unusual happened at Pittser Field Friday. Maybe not unexpected, but certainly unusual. The Indians pummelled Rutgers-Newark (6-12-1) in the NJAC contest, 26-5, with the help of six home runs, 23 hits and an 11-run fifth inning. They hit five of their home runs in the fifth inning, setting a new school record and tying the NCAA record for all colleges.

Leading the way for MSC was Kevin Cavallo, who had four hits, including a grand slam home run in MSC's fifth-inning outburst. The Indians also got home runs from Jim Fasano, Pepe Herrero, Lou Blanco, Joe DelSol, and John Deutsch. Fasano's blast knocked in three runs, Herrero's was good for a pair of RBIs, and Blanco, DelSol and Deutsch added solo shots.

Fasano, Andy Welter and Lou Blanco each had a banner day for MSC. Fasano went 4-for-5 with six RBI's. Welter hit a single, a double and triple in the game, and Lou Blanco was a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate.

MSC starter Tony Foti picked up the win, his fourth against no defeats. He struck out eight in 5-1/3 innings of work.

Indian Info: As of April 20, Tim Johnson led the Indians with over 40 at-bats in seven categories: runs scored (29); hits (37); singles (29); home runs (4, tied with Pepe Herrero); walks (23); stolen bases (16 of 19 attempts); and average (.425). Jim Fasano was leading the team in the RBI category with 27, and Andy Welter paced MSC in four other categories. Welter's team-leading totals included 11 doubles, four triples, 55 total bases, and 23 walks.

Trivia Time-Out

OK, sports fans, back by popular demand, here is your chance to see just how much you know about sports. Each week, The Montclarion will publish a list of sports questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there will be a sports stumper that will be answered in the following issue.

If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion, Room 113 in the Student Center Annex. The names of those who submit the correct answer will be published in the next week's issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. How wide is a football field?
2. How tall is a hockey goal?
3. What is the diameter of a basketball hoop?
4. Against what team did Pete Rose get his 4000th hit?
5. What country is recognized as the birthplace of golf?

Answer to last week's stumper:
Who is the only pitcher in the last fifty years to win thirty games in one season? Denny McLain.

Submitting the correct answer was:
Tom Branna, Bill Bedford, Marc Schaeffer

This week's stumper:
Who was the first player in the NFL to score over 1000 points?

By Jim Nicosia

Aside from MSC's clash against Division I Rutgers University Tuesday afternoon, it wasn't exactly the toughest week on the Italian baseball schedule, but they showed no hesitation in disposing of all four of their opponents this past week. Their 4-0 record left them with a four-game winning streak and a record of 7-2.

Included in the Italians' week was a 26-5 drubbing of Rutgers-Newark which helped MSC achieve first place in the New Jersey Scholastic Conference North Division standings. Previous leader William Paterson fell to second when they lost to Glassboro last Friday.

The Indians play a string of crucial NJAC games the week. Thursday, they host William Paterson. Friday, they meet Ramapo at Pittser Field, and Saturday, Rutgers-Camden visits MSU.

Also on the list of highlights was Italian shortstop Jim Fasano's achievement this past week. Fasano was named College Player of the Week and Star-Ledger College Athlete of the Week for his exploits at the plate. After shutting off a series of runners to his ankle, the MSC shortstop rebounded by going 12-for-18, knocking in 13 runs, scoring one of his own runs, hitting two home runs, four doubles and a triple.

MSC 4 - Rutgers 0

On bleak and dreary Tuesday, the Indians played host to Division I Rutgers University, threw freshman pitcher Jeff Vanderoef at the Knights, and came away with a hard-fought 4-0 victory.

Vanderoef showed some of his best pitching to the Rutgers team, and the 18-12 Knights could do nothing to beat him. Vanderoef went 6-2-3 innings.

He got Mark Kauffmann on a comebacker to the mound for the last out and the Indians broke a scoreless tie with three runs in the bottom of the seventh. Enough to count.

Indian third baseman Joe DeSol ignited the Indians' seventh inning rally with a single to center and was sacrificed to second by Ron Spadaro. Centerfielder Tim Johnson then put runners on the corners by collecting his second single of the game.

...then broke the game open with a single to left. Weiter then scored three runners when the ball scooted through the Rutgers left fielder for an error.

MSC 8 - STAC 0

The Indians were led to a sweep of St. Thomas Aquinas College by a pair of stellar pitching performances in Saturday's doubleheader at Pittser Field.

Gabe Noto (3-2) and Brian Chessy correlated eight runs on 11 hits and capitalized on eight STAC errors to take the opener. They took a 3-0 lead in the second inning of the game and never looked back.

Jim Fasano began his masterful hitting day by smoking two hits, one an inside double. Later, he homered as the Indians added four runs in the bottom of the seventh.

DeAquino placed a new meaning on the words "earned the victory," as she went all eleven innings, allowing only five hits, two unearned runs, walked one and struck out five.

The MSC offense, meanwhile, stranded 15 runners in the contest. They managed 17 hits in game two, but until the ninth inning, could only send two runners across the plate. Brooks was 3-for-6 with two runs scored and a stolen base. Peters was 3-for-4 with a pair of RBIs. Theobald added four hits in four at-bats, and Linda Morgenstein hit .500 (2-for-4) to highlight the Indian attack.

Glassboro 6- MSC 3

MSC 5 - Glassboro 2

It took 13 innings of mound work at Quarry Field Saturday, but MSC pitcher Dina DeAquino finally came up with a win. DeAquino (11-5) pitched in both games of MSC's New Jersey Athletic Conference doubleheader with Glassboro, losing the first 6-3, but going 11 innings to pick up the win in the second, 5-2.

The MSC sophomore lasted only two innings in the first game, allowing four runs on four hits while walking one. Debbie Emery came on in relief and held the Pros scoreless for the next four frames to allow MSC to crawl into the second, 1-0.

DeAquino grabbed a one-run lead in the top of the inning when Brooks scored on a leadoff single to left, but watched it disappear as the Pros countered with a run in the bottom of the inning.

In game two, catcher Marge Theobald led the MSC attack, as she belted four hits in four trips to the plate in the 11-inning MSC victory. Sophomore second baseman Linda Giarussosmacked a pair of doubles in the contest for MSC.

Then, in the eleventh inning, the Indians finally erupted. They scored three times in the inning to provide them with a much-needed margin of victory. Kay Paiktales singled in the first run from third, and Peters knocked in two with a two-out single to give MSC a three-run cushion.

DeAquino placed a new meaning on the words "earned the victory," as she went all eleven innings, allowing only five hits, two unearned runs, walked one and struck out five.
