Nicaragua crisis probed

By Debra Farina

"Faces of War," a documentary depicting the effects of ongoing conflict in Nicaragua, 1982 gradients and a foreign sponsored by LASO on April 15 as part of the celebration of Latin Week.

According to the film, the United States Congress feared U.S. involvement in the Nicaraguan crisis could lead to a repetition of the Vietnam War.

In addition to the film, Dr. Martin Povlete, George Howard, Joye Noble, and Dr. Margarita Garcia presented their views on the crisis in Nicaragua at the forum.

According to Dr. Joanne Englebert, a political science professor at Columbia University, the U.S. Administration sees Nicaragua as a hostile government and a national threat.

Commenting on the documentary, "Faces of War," Garcia, a psychology professor at MSC, described the film as "heart rending" in its depiction of the sufferings. Garcia and Howard, mayor of Pearl Lagoon, Nicaragua, agreed that there is no peace, there is no justice.

The war totally devastated the Nicaraguan people, according to Howard.

With Witness for Peace, Noble traveled to Nicaragua for two weeks this past January. He said the Contras totally disrupted the remote villages (of Nicaragua). Houses and farms were destroyed, women were raped, children were tortured, and men were killed.

But unlike the Americans, the Nicaraguan people "openly received us as individuals," Noble said.

MSC alumni offer advice to aspiring professionals

By Regina Slavinski

Women need an "old girl's network" for support in their careers, said professional women alumni as they discussed strategies and obstacles in the working world, at a seminar on April 16 in the Student Center.

"Men go out together and share knowledge, while women tend to hold it in," said Carol Lotto, 1978 graduate and manager of the Sports Systems and Finance at NBC.

"Women should be allies because they have a common cause," said Roseann Tuchtmann, a graduate and clinical social worker at Christ Hospital in Jersey City, "We are socialized to please and be liked by everyone and we must get past this attitude to achieve."

Gloria Kolodziej, mayor of Clifton, said her first obstacle in the professional world was skepticism. "What's a nice girl like you doing in politics?" she said describing the general reaction to her political career. Character traits are interpreted differently for men and women, she said. "An aggressive woman is pushy. Cautionness is considered picky. When men are firm, women are stubborn. A man follows through, while a woman does not know when to quit. Enthusiasm is seen as naive," she said.

The alumni offered advice to aspiring professionals. "Accept criticism and learn from those more knowledgeable," said Jan Cooper, a 1979 graduate and president of Cooper and Associates, public relations firm. "When I came to an impasse, I was frightened. You have to take fear and turn it around as strength and give it all you've got. You get out of it what you put into it."

Lotto said, "If you do any job to the best of your ability, someone will notice you." She said she noticed people would do a poor job because they felt they were meant for a better position. "Mediocrity was rampant," she said stating that she used this mediocrity as leverage in proving her own competence.

The Women's Center presented this seminar, sponsored by the Alumni Association, as the fourth in a series on women professionals given in memory of Helen Z. Rendall, secretary of the MSC Alumni Association from 1961-1971.

LASO's Latin Week comes to MSC

Former LASO presidents recognized at ceremony

By Dennis Campbell

Former presidents of the Latin American Student Organization (LASO) were recognized at the opening ceremony of Latin Week, at the Student Center, on April 14.

Former presidents were invited to pay tribute to the leaders instrumental in the formation and creation of LASO into a Class One organization of the SGA. Perry Schwarz, Latin Week Coordinator, said, "These 13 presidents played a vital part in the development of LASO. I felt it was a nice touch for them to see how Latin Week has evolved over the years."

Essex County Executive, Peter Shapiro, said, "The celebration of Latin culture and the achievement of Hispanic Americans is an important and significant endeavor and one which deserves the participation and support of the college community and the larger community of Essex County."

MSC's Chaplain, Father Art Humphrey, delivered a special prayer to an audience of 160, which included the President of the College, faculty and students.

Jose Arango, Assemblyman of the 33rd Congressional District, and the keynote speaker, urged MSC students to get involved. "There are a lot of important issues concerning students that they should be aware of," he said.

"The future is bright and if you are honest, this is the right place to be somebody in the United States," Harry Morales, the first president of LASO as a Class One organization, remarked on the progress of the club since his graduation in 1975. He was impressed that the club has grown bigger, noting the dedication and spirit of the members is even stronger now.

"Achieving Class One status was not easy," he said. "It was a coordinated three-year plan. It took a long time to convince the SGA they were worthy of Class One consideration. The seed was planted in 1973, to aggressively reorganize LASO. The idea he said, was to make LASO a truly cultural organization that would appeal to everyone and deal with issues that were relevant to students.

"This was the best Latin Week in my three years here at the college," Schwarz said. "Not only was there student support, but the administration was receptive to many of the events. Outside groups also attended Latin Week and really maintained the enthusiasm despite the rain. It's going to be tough to top last week, but if we receive the same LASO support along with students and administration, Latin Week will continue to strive for perfection."

Teachers: How to prepare for your first job interview

By Maralyn L. Klnch

Your first interview is coming up. You've always wanted to teach and now you have the chance. You know you'd feel less nervous if you knew what the superintendent was going to ask you.

The following is a list of typical questions you can think about before the interview. Being prepared is, after all, more than half the battle!

1. Why do you want to teach?
2. Why are you interested in this particular position?
3. How do you think student teaching prepared you for this job?
4. What courses did you enjoy most and find helpful in preparing you to teach? Why?
5. What are your teaching strengths? Weaknesses?
6. Describe a discipline problem you have had and how you handled it.
7. What are your expectations of teaching as a profession?
8. How do you motivate students to learn?
9. How do you handle differences in learning style?
10. What are your expectations of your department chair and principal?
11. What do you know about this community? Have you been involved with any community organizations?

When you are asked if you have questions, be sure to ask those that relate to the job. Questions about a pension plan can wait until a job offer has been made.

1. How will I be evaluated? How often? By whom? By what criteria?
2. Will I be teaching from a prescribed curriculum?
3. How much creativity will I be allowed?
4. How many preparations will I have?
5. Describe your concept of a successful teacher.
6. What support services exist to help me? To help my students?
7. Describe your philosophy of classroom management.
8. What duties outside the classroom might I be assigned?

Maralyn L. Klnch is assistant director of Career Services.

In the pursuit of happiness

By Regina Slavinski

"Happiness is not externally caused, it's inside us," said Dr. Cathy Norris as she discussed the problems surrounding its pursuit, at the Woman's Center Wednesday.

"Happiness is how we deal with and process external events and people and in what we emphasize or de-emphasize," she said.

"It's a great feeling to know we're taking charge of our lives and futures while we're still in school."

NEWS NOTES

Julia Sprague remembered

Julia C. Sprague, widow of former MSC President Harry A. Sprague, died Sunday, April 20, in St. Clare's Hospital, Denville. She would have been 97 on July 11.

Associated with the College for more than 60 years of its history, Mrs. Sprague came to MSC in 1924 when her husband became head of the institution. She helped preside over many faculty, student and alumni events and was one of the founders of The Faculty Dames, an organization of faculty wives, since replaced by The Women of Montclair State College, an organization of wives and women employees of the College.

According to MSC Professor Emeritus James Pettigrove of Upper Montclair, "Julia and Harry Sprague were the center of the MSC faculty family when the faculty was small and at the time the college built its reputation as one of the finest teachers' colleges, the first accredited as a liberal arts college (in 1937)."

Mrs. Sprague was also active in the life of the town of Montclair and was a volunteer in church and community affairs.

A graduate of The Julliard School, she brought music to the Montclair campus for more than 30 years and indirectly helped influence the addition of the music major at the college. After Dr. Sprague's retirement in 1951, she played piano for The Rotary Club in Sparta, NJ, for 20 years.

She is survived by her daughter, Elizabeth Love, and two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will take place at 4 p.m., Sunday, May 4, in the First Presbyterian Church, Sparta. The family suggests donations to the church, 32 Main St., Sparta, NJ 07871.

Organizational Effectiveness Workshop

HRO will be sponsoring a workshop next Tuesday night, April 29, on the topic of Organizational Effectiveness. It will be presented by Dr. Richard Grey of MSC. Skills and information to help run clubs better and to improve cooperation between organizations will be presented. The workshop will last approximately one to one and a half hours and will be open to dealing with concerns expressed by those who attend. The workshop will be held 8-9:30 p.m. in Rm. 413 in the Student Center.

C.L.U.B. expresses apology and thanks

The members of the College Life Union Board (C.L.U.B.) would like to thank all those who attended our Lip Sync Contest on 4/22/86.

"It's a great feeling to know we're taking charge of our lives and futures while we're still in school."

"There's only one thing better than knowing what you want to do when you graduate. "Having the experience to do it!"

"Working for People Express has given me that extra edge. The classifieds are full of ads for 'recent grads'—when I graduate I'll be a 'recent grad' with experience."

SGA renews charters

By Kathy McDonough

The Montclarion was granted a Class 1 charter at last night’s SGA meeting. Editor-in-Chief Mary Ellen Maclsaac, representing the newspaper, opened with remarks concerning the need for more student input.

Maclsaac expressed a desire for more direct comments and suggestions pertaining to the paper. The use of a suggestion box in the office was proposed by members of the SGA.

Questions were also raised concerning problems relating to the delivery of the papers. Maclsaac cited problems with the printer not meeting their deadlines as the reason for the delay. Work is now being done to correct this problem in order to avoid unnecessary delays in the future.

The operations budget of $21,470 was also approved, following an explanation of the various uses of the funds by the newspaper.

The presentation by the music fraternities was proclaimed as the “unofficial official start of Spring Week” by Liz Refinski, Director of Public Relations and Coordinator of Spring Week ’86.

Upcoming events include Twister, originally scheduled for Wednesday, which will be held on Friday, April 25 in the Student Center Mall. The carnival, to be held Thursday through Sunday, should prove to be MSC’s biggest and best yet.

La Campana, MSC’s yearbook, was the subject of criticism by Dave Handal. He stated a need for “checks and balances” within the system. His reasons include examples of the use of “private jokes” throughout the yearbook, which appeal to a very small segment of the student population.

He cited a need for overall expansion of the view of student life at MSC.

In other news, a Class I charter was granted to the Council on International and National Affairs (CINA), whose programs include lectures, trips, and seminars related to international and national issues. CINA’s president, Martha Losche, was complimented by Dave Handal, who said she was doing a “fantastic job” with the organization, her being instrumental in putting together the various programs presented.

A Class I charter was granted to the Management Club. Phi Chi Omega, a social sorority active in Greek Council and various fund raising events for local charities, received a Class III charter.

A bill was passed appropriating $250 for Sigma Phi Rho’s trip to Central Park, to participate in a Walk-a-thon for the March of Dimes. The trip is scheduled for April 27.

Near the close of the meeting Ray Bueno, representing some of the employees of the Rathskellar, proposed the formation of a committee to save the Rat. The idea of a petition or a resolution was suggested. This was brought about by the recent rumors being circulated as to the possible closing of the Rat.

Spring Week '86: Just for the fun of it

Last year, the SGA brought back an old and forgotten tradition — Spring Week. This year, Spring Week is back to "Keep the Pride Alive" at MSC. According to Liz Refinski, director of public relations for the SGA and coordinator for Spring Week '86, she and several other SGA members spent many long hours in preparation for a week in which all MSC students can come out of the woodwork and have some fun.

The official beginning of Spring Week was Monday, April 22, and as shown by the success of such events as Tuesday night's Lip Sync contest, all is going well.

However, the main attraction—the carnival—begins tonight at 6 p.m. in the Clove Road parking lot 28. It will run until Sunday, April 27, and include a variety of rides, game booths, movies, fireworks, turtle races and other activities.

Due to yesterday's unexpected snowfall, the Giant Twister Contest was cancelled, but is rescheduled for Friday, April 25, from noon to 3 p.m. in the Student Center Mall. So, even if you didn't sign up to participate, why not come and take a glimpse at history in the making? MSC students are going for the Guinness World Record. So come on out and cheer them on!

This is your chance as hard-working college students to take a break from exams and term papers, and have a good time.
Putting Libya into focus

What we think about the bombing of Libya will depend upon how we view America itself. Newspapers, radio and television are filled with peaceloving, seeking justice, opposed to the kind of terrorism Khadafi is certainly guilty of. The only “debate,” as framed by the media, is over whether the bombing was the “best way” to deal with terrorism.

The mass media never question this benevolent portrait of American intentions. But there is another responsible viewpoint which paints an uglier picture of our government’s actions.

The evidence that supports this viewpoint has been compiled by human rights groups, researchers, and journalists both here and abroad. Few Americans are aware of it. And we use our media distort, underplay, or simply ignore this horrifying information. As in any debate, we cannot discover the truth when we are kept from knowing all sides and the evidence in favor of, and against, each one. Instead of a balanced presentation, we are given propaganda for one side only.

Supporters of this position point out that the “death squads” which torture and murder thousands each year in Latin America and elsewhere were trained and equipped by the U.S. They remind us that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) trained and put hundreds of armed terrorist squads against Cuba and Chile and eight attempts to assassinate Fidel Castro. They reveal that, in the only country where the people in charge are not the people in charge, the CIA introduced into Cuba the virus to create the 1970 swine flu epidemic.

Our government also supports massive terrorism by others: U.S.-backed “contras” torture and kill Nicaraguan civilians. Israeli bombing raids on Palestinian towns have slaughtered many times the number of civilians as have PLO raids into Israel. But only PLO raids are called “terrorist.”

The evidence has been withheld from us. We can distrust the mass media. The mere fact that they omit the evidence that has been withheld indoctrinates with. We can look into preconceived ideas that we have been instilled with. We can look into the evidence that has been withheld from us. We can distrust the mass media in this matter that should have been investigated in the past. It is painful, too, to consider the anti-communism we are all taught to believe. Many argue that the U.S. brands “communists” that do not follow the path of the “progressive” movement.

Our government also supports terrorism in the form of a “classless society” where every Latin American is free to work for a better life for the majority of people, that in fact most rack-and-click a brand. This is a policy which we should be questioning.

The CIA has been involved in many countries where the people in charge are not the people in charge. We should be questioning the policy.

Student seeks a solution to the dormitory problem

SGA campaigns overboard

To the editor:

As a second semester freshman, I feel that a lot of animosity and hostility in the dorms. At present, it is time for room selection, I fear that a repetition of what occurred last year will happen once again. That which I am referring to is the scarce amount of rooms available on the MSC campus.

Last year at the end of room selection, there were a number of students left without rooms, on a long waiting list, and in the end some were forced to separate from their desired roommate. There were big issues, but the one that I am most concerned with is the high demand for rooms in Blanton Hall.

It is true that Blanton Hall is the dorm in highest demand because it is the most convenient. As a second semester freshman, I moved into Blanton Hall last year.

What can we do? A great deal. We should not “accept” or “reject” the viewpoint presented above. Rather, we should start by questioning the preconceived ideas that we have been indoctrinated with. We can look into the evidence that has been withheld from us. We can distrust the mass media. We can ask if the government’s propaganda should make us very suspicious. And if we understand “communism” as Marx and Lenin did, as referring to a classless society where no one has more than anyone else, it follows that the Soviet, Chinese, Cuban, etc. regimes are no more “communist” than Ronald Reagan.

To the editor:

I give the SGA candidates credit for their outstanding efforts in attempting to get elected to their respective offices. But I am a bit disturbed about how they have gone about trying to get students to vote for them. While walking through the student center, I was approached and asked to support and vote for three separate candidates.

Hitting buttons and flyers shoved into my hands, I was asked to come inside to cast my vote. Had I not already voted for my selected SGA candidates, I certainly would not have cast a vote after the scene in front of the student center. I see a need for more positive participation on the part of the student body, but I do not like the way that the hopeful candidates made their presence known.

CIC IS A CLASS I OF THE SGA
Experience pays off in Stewart's new solo effort

By Perry Schwartz

It's been a hard road for singer/dancer Jermaine Stewart to travel, but he did it, and in stylish fashion. The Chicago church singer started his career as a Soul Train dancer and sang backup to groups such as Millie Jackson, Culture Club, and the Traverses. He then teamed up with Narada Michael Walden to put out his second album, Frantic Romantic.

Frantic Romantic is a unique and fresh style of music that appeals to a large spectrum of listeners. The album is structured with a variety of sounds. This is an album that should hit the charts. Stewart felt he had to prove when he entered the business and now is able to show his true creative talents with Frantic Romantic.

"I had to prove something to the people and myself with "The Word Is Out,"" Stewart said in a telephone interview. "All the vocals were done by me so people could hear the Jermaine Stewart sound."

The Stewart sound is a refreshing, innovative style. The title track has an uptune introduction and there is a good interlude. Stewart easily hits the background of drums.

"Don't Ever Leave Me" is a song that's much more mellow. This song is easy listening and the drums maintain a steady pace. The climactic part of the song is provided by backups and high vocals.

Why Do We Have To Take Our Clothes Off? is a quick and energetic song. The introduction sets the mood of the song. This song, written by Walden and Jeffrey Cohen, is already generating club activity.

"Good music is music," Stewart said. "I don't think it should be categorized as rock or soul. I consider myself to be a versatile singer and spread myself with a balance of stuff. I invited different artists, including Olympic gold winner Carl Lewis, to sing and break up the monotony of one voice."

The experience Stewart received from Culture Club made a definite influence in his three years as a solo singer. Stewart doesn't mind being behind the scenes because learning is an important part of the business.

"I know what the Jermaine Stewart sound is all about, but it's still in the beginning stage," he continued. "You are never old enough to stop learning, and I am still learning to improve my sound to bring the best to my listeners."

Prize student slides to be shown

When the Eastern Communication Association meets for its regional convention in Atlantic City next month, among their number will be nine MSC communication studies majors who will preview their award-winning slide shows for the audience of professional communicators.

Taking first place are Lorig Hamparian, Simone Korb and Mary Ann Villalobos who collaborated to produce "America." In second place is Amy Neffinger's "You've Got A Friend." "The Sound of Silence," a joint effort by Lisa Butera and Susan Zimmerman, placed third.

Honorable mentions were "You've Got A Friend," produced by Rick Kuerzi and Meg Spoltore, and another version of "You've Got A Friend," by Jeanine Chibbero.

Fast start not enough for lacrosse team

By Dennis Campbell

MSC's lacrosse team was clicking on all cylinders in the first quarter against Kutztown State at Sprague Field on Saturday. James "Hollywood" Galione was cruising, Brian Walters was picking apart the Kutztown defense and Doug Morton was leading the defense with his physical style of play.

The problem for MSC was that one quarter of good lacrosse was not good enough to beat the determined Kutztown team. The Golden Bears entered the game with a combined record of 2-4 to the Indians' 4-4.

Although MSC dictated the tempo early on, the Golden Bears were able to bite the bullet and manage a 5-5 tie at the end of the first quarter. The Kutztown team then came out with fire in its eyes in the second half and ran the Indians ragged, coming up with a big 20-8 win.

Eddy Sargeant got the Indians off to a fast start with the game's first goal on an assist from Peter Franklin. Franklin then scored after a Kutztown goal to give MSC a 2-1 lead. With 8:42 left in the quarter, Kutztown scored on a counterattack to even the score 2-2. MSC then employed a deliberate style offense and Brian Chrobak was able to score at the 8:24 to give the Indians a 3-2 edge.

The Indians dominated this stretch and Kutztown was forced to call a timeout. The timeout proved effective, and Kutztown was forced to call a timeout. The timeout proved effective and MSC scored on a power play to grab a 6-5 lead. Walters scored on an assist by Nugent to knot the game again, but Kutztown went on a tear and scored four more goals in the period to grab a 10-7 lead.

The third period started with a flurry as the Golden Bears were able to use their quickness and wear down the Indian attack. They used long passes effectively to surprise the MSC team with quick scores. Kutztown led 15-7 at the third quarter, and that proved to be more than the Indians could recover from.

"We played two different games," said MSC co-captain Al Reinoso. "In the first half, we caught them off guard. In the second they came out running and running, and we could not stop them."

Indian Tony Petrone evaded two defenders to set up Scott McGuirl at the two minute mark to tie the score 4-4. Brian Walters, at 1:28, bounced off two defenders to score, giving the Indians the lead 5-4. With the quarter winding down, MSC went on an all-out attack to try to increase it's lead. Kutztown was able to withstand the charge, and with 10 seconds remaining, they tied the score at 5.

The second quarter started at a furious pace as the Golden Bears came out charging. At 12:53, they scored on a power play to grab a 6-5 lead. Walters scored on an assist by Nugent to knot the game again, but Kutztown went on a tear and scored four more goals in the period to grab a 10-7 lead.

for MSC, simply outdid Noto's performance by pitching a one-hitter to boost the Indians to an 8-0 victory.

The MSC bats, meanwhile, provided Masters with an early 2-0 lead, getting single runs in each of the first two innings.

Fasano was the hitting star in the second game, smacking a two-run double to left centerfield in the fourth inning with Chris Pagano and Tim Johnson aboard to extend the MSC lead to 4-0. Fasano also provided the Indians with some extra insurance runs in the sixth by ripping a two-run triple to right center, making the score 7-0.

On the negative side, in game two, the hot-hitting Cavallo injured his right shoulder. He did not come out of the game, but afterwards, the injury was diagnosed as a slight separation. Cavallo is expected to sit out at least until Saturday.

MSC 26 - Rutgers-Newark 5

Something a little unusual happened at Pittser Field Friday. Maybe not unexpected, but certainly unusual.

The Indians pummeled Rutgers-Newark (6-12-1) in the NJAC contest, 26-5, with the help of six home runs, 23 hits and an 11-run fifth inning. They hit five of their home runs in the fifth inning, setting a new school record and tying the NCAA record for all colleges.

leading the way for MSC was Kevin Cavallo, who had four hits, including a grand slam home run in MSC's fifth-inning outburst. The Indians also got home runs from Jim Fasano, Pepe Herrero, Lou Blanco, Joe DeSol, and John Deutsch. Fasano's blast knocked in three runs, Herrero's was good for a pair of RBIs, and Blanco, DeSol and Deutsch added solo shots.

Fasano, Andy Welter and Lou Blanco each had a banner day for MSC. Fasano went 4-for-5 with six RBI's. Welter hit a single, a double and triple in the game, and Lou Blanco was a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate.

MSC starter Tony Foti picked up the win, his fourth against no defeats. He struck out eight in 5-1/3 innings of work.

Indian Info: As of April 20, Tim Johnson led the Indians with over 40 at-bats in seven categories: runs scored (29); hits (37); doubles (27); home runs (4, tied with Pepe Herrero); walks (23); stolen bases (16 of 19 attempts); and average (.425). Jim Fasano was leading the team in the RBI category with 27, and Andy Welter paced MSC in four other categories. Welter's team-leading totals included 11 doubles, four triples, 55 total bases, and 23 walks.

MSC Starter Tony Foti Picked up the Win
By Jim Nicosia

Aside from MSC's clash against Division I Rutgers University Tuesday afternoon, it wasn't exactly the toughest week on the Indians' schedule, but they showed no hesitation in disposing of all four of their opponents this past week. Their 4-0 record left them with a four-game winning streak and a record of 21-6-1.

Included in the Indians' week was a 26-5 drubbing of Rutgers-Newark that helped MSC achieve first place in the New Jersey Conference North Division standings. Previous leader William Paterson fell to second when they lost to Glassboro last Friday.

The Indians play a string of crucial NJAC games this week. Thursday, they host William Paterson. Friday, they will meet Ramapo at Pittser Field, and Saturday, Rutgers-Camden visits MSC.

Also on the list of highlights was Indian shortstop Jimmy Fasano's achievements of the past week. Fasano was named Colonial Player of the Week and Star-Ledger College Athlete of the Week for his exploits at the plate. After shutting off a string of runs to his ankle, the MSC shortstop rebounded by going 12-for-18, knocking in 13 runs, scoring nine of his own runs, hitting two home runs, four doubles and a triple.

MSC 4 - Rutgers 0

On bleak and dreary Tuesday, the Indians played host to Division I Rutgers University, threw freshman pitcher Jeff Vanderloof at the Knights, and came away with a hard-fought 4-0 win.

Vanderloof showed some of his best pitching to the Rutgers team, and the 18-12 Knights could do nothing to beat him. Vanderloof went 6-2/3 innings, struck out one, walked two and allowed three hits. Left-handed reliever Brian Cheswick took over in the top of the seventh with two outs and a runner on third, and Vanderloof allowed one hit, walked two and struck out five.

DeAquino pitching helps Lady Indians split

By Jim Nicosia

Glassboro 6 - MSC 3
MSC 5 - Glassboro 2

It took 13 innings of mound work at Quarry Field Saturday, but MSC pitcher Dana DeAquino finally came up with a win. DeAquino (11-5) pitched in both games of MSC's New Jersey Athletic Conference doubleheader with Glassboro, losing the first 6-3, but going 11 innings to pick up the win in the second, 5-2.

The MSC sophomore last only two innings in the first game, allowing four runs on four hits while walking one. Debbie Emery came on in relief and helped the Profs scoreless for the next four frames to allow MSC to crawl to within one, 4-3. Glassboro then sealed the win with a pair of unearned runs in the top of the seventh for a 6-3 lead.

In game two, catcher Marge Theobald led the MSC assault, as she belted four hits in four trips to the plate in the 11-inning MSC victory. Sophomore second baseman Linda Giarusso managed only three runs. Freshman Andrea Peters accounted for all three of the hits and batted in two runs. Freshman Donna Brooks scored all three MSC runs, doubled once, and stole two bases. JoMarie Cumberland added two hits to the MSC cause in the opener.

After falling behind 1-0 on an unearned run in the top of the third inning, the Indians tied the game in the sixth when Emery scored on a mis-played hit by Cabinet to left. After a scoreless seventh, the game went into extra innings, but neither team managed a run until the tenth. MSC grabbed a one-run lead in the top of the inning when Brooks scored on a wild pitch, but watched it disappear as the Profs countered with a run in the bottom of the inning.

Then, in the eleventh inning, the Indians finally erupted. They scored three times in the inning to provide them with the winning margin of victory. Kay Paiktakes singled in the first run from third, and Peters knocked in two with a two-out single to give MSC a three-run cushion.

DeAquino placed a new meaning on the words "earned the victory," as she went all eleven innings, allowing only five hits, two unearned runs, walked one and struck out five.

The MSC offense, meanwhile, stranded 15 runners in the contest. They managed 17 hits in game two, but until the tenth inning, could only send two runners across the plate. Brooks was 3-for-6 with two runs scored and a stolen base, Peters was 3-for-4 with a pair of RBIs. Theobald added four hits in four at-bats, and Linda Morgenthein went 2-for-3 to highlight the Indian attack.
