Governor Kean gives approval

Independence for New Jersey state colleges

By Tom Boud

An autonomy proposal, which allows the state’s nine colleges to conduct a greater part of their operations independently, became effective July 9 when Gov. Thomas Kean signed the legislation.

The autonomy bill tenable MSC and other N.J. state colleges to disburse its own checks, handle its own cash, transfer funds from one account to another, collect and keep its own revenues, using tuition fees as part of the allocated college budget instead of transmitting them to the state treasury, for example) and manage its own purchasing and contracting affairs.

However, some activities such as collective bargaining, the civil service structure for college employees, academic programming, and fiscal year appropriation requests are still subject to state control.

The installation of autonomy entails three phases over a period of three years. The first phase includes purchasing and contracting, travel policies, academic programming, and fiscal year appropriation requests are still subject to state control.

The second phase encompasses general accounting, cash management, revenue management, disbursing operations, external auditing, equipment planning and construction, and institutional borrowing. This phase is slated for completion by July 1, 1987.

The college will gain the bulk of its autonomy powers during phase two.

The last phase, involving the payroll system and risk management (insurance) should be finished by July 1, 1989.

A clause in the autonomy law immediately permits MSC and all other state colleges to grant tuition waivers, determine student fees, to be exempt from the Vacancy Review Board, and to appoint a college president without seeking board of Higher Education approval.

An autonomy planning commission has been organized by MSC President Donald Walters. The commission reports to Vice President for Administration and Finance William Griffith and is headed by Assistant Vice President for Administration and Finance Barry Cohen.

On Friday, July 18, the New Jersey Board of Higher Education endorsed the out-of-state consultants’ recommendations and called for awards totaling $14 million from the pool established by Gov. Thomas H. Kean as a “challenge” to the nine state colleges to develop programs of excellence in their arts.

Speaking of the Governor’s Challenge Grant Program, now in its second year, MSC President Donald E. Walters said, “We are delighted to be the recipients of the largest in this year’s round of Challenge Grant awards.”

Walters added, “It is the largest grant this college has ever received. It is also, to the best of our knowledge, the largest grant of its kind ever awarded to an educational institution for programming in the arts.”

Other state colleges receiving Challenge Grant awards were Ramapo, $3.4 million; Trenton State, $2.9 million, and Edison, $1.8 million.

“We are very grateful to Gov. Kean for his extraordinary leadership in creating the Challenge Grant Program, and to the Department of Higher Education for providing the means for this major breakthrough in arts education,” Walters said.

The review panel also recommended MSC’s proposal for a program in critical thinking be approved in concept and receive funding in the next round of Challenge Grant competition.

That proposal calls for establishment of an Institute for Critical Thinking whose purpose would be to serve as a catalyst in the development of educational excellence at the college.

Through a variety of means, the program would enable faculty to help sharpen students’ thinking abilities.
The Drop-In Center, an information, referral and peer counseling service, is staffed entirely by student volunteers. The caliber of the service offered to the student body can not be maintained without you. If you want to help people, learn more about yourself, and do something constructive with your time for 10 hours (min.) a week, this could be the toughest non-paying job you have ever loved. While the training is rigorous and the commitment level high, the experience will be carried throughout your life.

The Drop-In Center is a good place to grow for students of all majors. We will teach you the lost art of listening as you learn by doing.

In-service instruction will include:
- On-Campus referrals
- Off-Campus referrals
- Bus and Rail routing
- Psychological referrals
- Health referrals
- Sexual Health referrals
- Publicity.

Dorms are left “Bohn” dry

At 12 midnight on Sept. 1 approximately 2000 MSC dorm residents were informed that they were not to use the bathrooms due to a water main break on campus. Residents of Bohn Hall are left to use the lower floor bathrooms. Floors one and two have been designated for men and the third floor for women. The average bathroom has about four stalls and three showers. Bohn Hall has 600 residents in its 16 floors.

Matthew Coyle, a Bohn Hall resident said, "They've kept us in the dark about what's going on. No temporary facilities have been provided for us. These are really unsanitary conditions."

According to Gale Raucher, also a Bohn Hall resident, "I spoke with Lucy Nikovics, secretary to Dr. Raymond Stover, director of residence life. Nikovics said that the water is expected to be on by Thurs. afternoon. Work crews attempted to repair the break by welding it but this attempt failed. They are now waiting for an ordered part from Texas."

The bathrooms will be unlocked when the water break main is repaired and when the dorms have acceptable water pressure conditions.

In the meantime the residents will be forced to use the designated dorm bathrooms or the public bathrooms in the school buildings. These public bathrooms do not have shower facilities.

Moreover, Bohn residents may use the public bathrooms on the main floor of Blanton Hall or any of the classrooms on campus. These bathrooms do not contain public shower facilities. Note that all Bohn bathrooms will be unlocked when the water break main is repaired and when Bohn has acceptable water pressure conditions.

Should you have any questions concerning this information, please contact the director of Bohn Hall at 893-5266.

Posters like the following have been posted on all Bohn Hall bathrooms:

SORRY - DO NOT USE BATHROOM UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

BECAUSE OF THE MAIN WATER BREAK ON CAMPUS,

BOHN HALL IS EXPERIENCING WATER PRESSURE PROBLEMS

DIFFICULTIES AFFECTING THE SHOWERS AND TOILETS

ALL BOHN HALL BATHROOMS WILL BE LOCKED TO ENSURE THAT WASTE PRODUCTS DO NOT ACCUMULATE IN TOILETS

The following Bohn Hall bathrooms are functioning and have been designated to be used by all Bohn Hall residents (subject to change):

Floor 3 - Female
Floors 1 & 2 - Male

Moreover, Bohn residents may use the public bathrooms on the main floor of Blanton Hall or any of the classrooms on campus. These bathrooms do not contain public shower facilities. If there are any questions concerning this matter you can contact the dorm directors.

Theft wave hits MSC at summer's end

By Tom Boud

A string of thefts plagued the campus a few days prior to the fall semester, according to campus police.

On Aug. 25, a staff member of the Student Center reported that someone entered a locked closet and stole a VCR worth $800. The actual time of the theft is unknown. A female student reported that the outside rear mirror of her car parked in lot 18 was bent during the night of Aug. 25-26.

In Blanton Hall lobby at 3 p.m., a roll bag was stolen after a male student left it unattended for several minutes. Total loss was $30.

An entire assortment of tools belonging to the Connecticut Lamination contract company, was lifted sometime between 12 a.m. and 6 p.m. the same day.

On Aug. 27 at 12:30 a.m., Sgt. Paul Cell arrested a disorderly drunk male by the Clove Rd. apartments after responding to a call of a man ‘acting crazy’. Officers Rose Vacca and Debra Poole assisted Cell in the arrest.

9:30 p.m., that same day a female student’s purse was left unguarded in the men’s room shortly after. Total value was $20 dollars.

During the night of Aug. 27-28, someone entered a 1973 AMC Jeep in lot 18 and stole an overnight parking decal worth $20.

A female student resident of the Clove Rd. apartments told police that sometime between 7 a.m. Aug. 26 and 5 p.m. Aug. 28, 20 slips (clothing) amounting to $400.00 were taken from her room.

A male resident in the same area alerted campus police that his wallet containing $150.00 in cash was stolen from his room.

"Image building" for SGA

By Kathy McDonough

At the first SGA meeting of the fall semester President Mark Brancato stressed the importance of "image building" for the SGA.

SGA News

Plans for Homecoming '86 were discussed. There are a lot of exciting things planned for the week of Oct. 13, including a comedy show, lip sync contest, parade, and the big game.

It was announced that the Rathskeller will be open this semester. Due to high operating costs, alcohol will be served only on Thurs. nights and during special promotions. An advisory committee has been formed in order to improve programming and decor, and to promote a better social atmosphere.

In other news, the following cabinet appointments were approved: Judy Rosenbush, vice president of academic affairs; Robert Acerra, director of programming; Perry Schwartz, vice president of internal affairs; June Herman, director of services; Oren Zeve, assistant to the president, and Julianne Coyne, deputy attorney general.

"President Walters has created this commission as a means to develop plans for implementing autonomy," Cohen said. Cohen added that the commission has just begun to meet in order to work on the phase 1 autonomy.

Besides Cohen, the commission is staffed by Marshall Butler of the registrar's office, Dr. Betsy Clark, health professions; Richard Davis, director of personnel; Dr. Suresh Desai, dean of the school of business administration; Dr. Nicholas Michelli, dean of the school of professional studies; Charles Moore, director of budget and fiscal planning; Dr. Joseph Moore, history department; Dr. Wendy Oxman, chairperson of the fine arts department; Lee Primiano, chairman of the law and taxation department; Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning; and Lynn Truesdell, director of the computer center. Vice President for Administration and finance William Griffith is also serving on the commission as an ex-officio member.

SGA Board of Trustees Representative Mike Rodak expressed his support for autonomy. "Autonomy gives more bargaining power to students who are concerned about important issues such as tuition and housing."

Rodak added, "This new law will spare the administration a lot of red tape when it comes to finishing projects and ordering equipment."

Rodak referred to past problems with the proposal. "In 1985, the autonomy bills were vetoed by Kean after the legislature weakened them by making amendments that the governor didn't like. With bipartisan support and Kean's interest in autonomy, the bills were passed."

Autonomy: no losers

A thousand kudos for the New Jersey State Legislature and Governor Kean. When Kean signed two bills granting autonomy to the New Jersey state colleges, he ushered in a new era of freedom they have never had before. They now have the power to collect and keep their own revenues, handle their own affairs. For MSC administrators, the days of bureaucratic red tape and the ever-present feeling that things are out of their hands are one step closer to becoming a memory.

The autonomy bills could not have been passed a moment too soon for MSC. Last year, some of you may remember, the diswashing system at the Freeman Hall cafeteria broke down. Under the pre-autonomy rules, the college had to obtain three competitive bids for a new diswasher before being allowed to purchase a replacement. As a result, the cafeteria went almost the entire semester without the services of a diswasher.

With the new independence the colleges have just received, problems like this could no longer occur. Instead of having to wait, the colleges now have the "permission" to go out and act on their own behalf, for their own good.

Yes, there are a lot of faculty members and college officials who are very happy at this point in time. But what does autonomy mean to the students?

Actually, autonomy means as much to the people who frequent Partridge Hall and the Student Center as it does those in the offices of College Administration.

With the shift in control from Trenton to MSC, the MSC students now have more bargaining power than ever to influence and affect the campus community. Whereas previously the voice of the MSC college student had to be transported by means somewhat along the lines of carrier pigeon, to Trenton, now the students have the "source" right on campus. Instead of dealing with the state, which is detached from the college atmosphere, MSC students with ideas can offer them straight to the people who make the decisions. In the past, the students could speak but Trenton was under no obligation to listen. Now, with the administration in direct contact with the students and solely responsible for the campus' success, student input is not only more readily accepted, but also essential to the growth and development of the college.

Through the administration, we can have a voice in the decision-making process—only if we bother to speak up. Autonomy is not only for campus officials to use to their advantage. It is also a chance for the students, those people for whom this campus was created, to help make MSC the best state college in New Jersey.

Baby M and the mess it made

BOSTON—Her parents can not agree on anything these days, even on her name.

Her biological mother, Mary Beth Whitehead, calls the five month old girl Sara. Her biological father, William Stern, calls her Melissa. The court in Bergen County, N.J., just calls her Baby M.

The case that will come up on Sept. 10 is no ordinary custody fight between estranged partners. These two parents never had a relationship; they had a deal. The intimacy was not one of man and woman, but of sperm and ovum. Mary Beth Whitehead was hired to be a surrogate mother.

When Stern, a biochemist, and his wife Elizabeth, a pediatrician, discovered they were infertile, they went to an infertility clinic. There they met Whitehead, a 29 year old mother of two, the wife of a sanitation worker. And there, they drew up a contract.

Whitehead agreed to be artificially inseminated with Stern's sperm, to conceive and carry a baby for the couple in return for $10,000. She signed on the dotted line, a promise that she would not "form or attempt to form a parent-child relationship" with the baby she carried.

But when the baby was born, Whitehead welched on the deal.

After turning her over to the Sterns, refusing their money, she "borrowed" her back. When the Sterns tried to reclaim the baby, the Whiteheads ran off with her. Finally on July 31, Baby M was tracked down in Florida and returned to the Sterns in New Jersey.

People treat this like we're fighting over a car," says Whitehead now. "But she's not a possession; she's a part of me."

What is notable about this custody wrangle is its utter predictability. This was, everyone in the field will agree, a case waiting to happen. When the first stories written about surrogate motherhood made their way into the media, it sounded as if the biological mother suffered nothing more damaging than stretch marks. It sounded as if surrogate mothers were just an easy housemate for the infertile. But there was always that question hovering in the air: "What if she changes her mind?"

Could the biological mother be held forcibly to a contract for the sale of her egg and use of her womb? If she reneged, could the biological father demand back his money, or his genes? If she changed her mind, what would happen to the baby?

The sad human part of this drama is that neither the Whiteheads nor the Sterns predicted her emotions. "I was completely devastated having the child taken from my arms," Whitehead wrote after the fact. "I felt like I was used for one purpose and was no longer needed or wanted." This was exactly what she had been promised: to be no longer needed or wanted. But is it something a person can promise?

I don't know how the courts will deal with this question. There is very little law governing surrogate motherhood, and the law in the field will agree, is a case waiting to happen. A child is not a piece of property and babies are a product for sale. I do not believe that anyone should be able to sign away parental rights before they have even born the child. A baby is not a piece of goods and human emotions do not make for neat contracts. But at the very least, a mother should have a matter of days after delivery to change her mind. If she does, she should have an equal right to custody.

Does that muddy any agreement for surrogacy motherhood? Does that increase the risks for the couples who want a child this way? Absolutely. A biological father could end up without even visitation rights!

But the opposite scenario is more unsettling. If a mother can legally turn over the rights to her womb, then the ethic of the marketplace has won. Pregnancy becomes a service industry and babies are a product for sale. I do not know what the end of the story will be for Baby M. I suspect that the M stands for Messy, the Whiteheads and the baby have formed an emotional triangle. But they have also become the stars of a cautionary tale about the surrogate motherhood industry itself. Be wary of people with contracts in their hands who promise a real easy deal on a brand new baby.

A helpful handbook to MSC & beyond

THEY’RE HERE!
Urgent! Read this!!!

By Jim Nicosia
Editor-in-Chief
The Montclarion

Aha! Caught you! Little did you know when the last time you read a letter from the editor. Well, don't worry. This one is not your usual run of the mill introduction to the guide, but rather a message from the Editor-in-Chief.

The Montclarion is a great source of information for incoming students, but also a place where you can connect with the community. It's a place where you can share your stories, your experiences, and your passion for the college.

Wait, there's more! If you've read this letter under normal circumstances, you might have noticed something interesting. About 93% of incoming students who actually read this letter under normal circumstances, have already read and/or are familiar with the guide. Adding that to our equation, we find that even more people are interested in reading it now.

OK, so before you start reading, here's why I'm writing this. I'm going to tell you why.

Despite all the speeches you undoubtedly heard during orientation and such, I know how much everyone wishes you success and prosperity in your four years here. One fact remains: MSC can be a great place if you want it to be.

I've left all the academic information to the qualified hands of the deans and others who have already given you their spiels on about MSC topics. But you can rely on us, as a non-academic institution, to bring you the truth. What's the truth? Well, according to surveys, 93% of all incoming students are already sick of reading letters from the editor, and an estimated 96% who read them but won't admit it.

Of these people, 58% read letters from the editor only to see if their name is mentioned. Well, nobody's name is in this one. This makes us somewhere in the vicinity of 81% of all college students who would actually read this letter under normal circumstances.

But wait, there's more. You see, surveys show that 93% of all incoming students to MSC are already sick of or tired of being welcomed to the campus. Adding that to our equation, we find an even more reduced number of people willing to read a letter from the editor on the first Thursday of the semester, telling them... Welcome to MSC! I'm sure you're going to love it here, etc., etc., etc.

So, when you open up this letter, you'll find a list of things you can do to make MSC a more attractive place for you. It's a list of things you can do to make MSC a more attractive place for you.

I can honestly tell you, MSC didn't become a fun place for me until I did become involved in The Montclarion. I'm sure you'll hear similar stories from members of other groups, too. Doing something you like with people who enjoy the same thing is only one way to make MSC a more attractive place for you.

Anyway, in this guide, we have attempted to provide you with just a taste of the MSC campus activities. You'll find a complete list of activities and services at MSC. Also included in this guide is an overview of restaurants, theatres, and museums in the Montclair area, and for those lovers, the complete fairgrounds schedule has been reprinted on your page 12.

Well, that about wraps it up for me. I hope you find this guide informative and helpful. Live long and prosper.
From the president's desk

To those of you returning to the campus, I am delighted to be able to formalize the return to campus for another challenging year at MSC. To the new freshman class, more than 1,200 strong, I extend an equally hearty welcome to the fresh and continuous flow of young home away from home.

I have awaited your arrival this year for two primary reasons. The first and most obvious is the return to campus to assume an administrative management role as one of the finest colleges in New Jersey. While you were away, the State Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, an important piece of legislation which took place during the summer will impact MSC and the other state colleges on par with colleges and universities throughout the country. The purpose of this legislation has been to control a greater measure of their destinies and chart their own visions of the future. Before this legislation, MSC was often faced with the same as any other state agency, such as public safety, health, commerce and other departments of state government. Now, because of the unique nature of education, the bureaucratic systems stifle the flexibility and vitality of the state colleges.

Another noteworthy accomplishment which took place during the summer will yield tremendous benefits for the entire campus community. In keeping with its official designation as a "center of excellence in the fine and performing arts," MSC came away the big winner in the Governor's Challenge Grant Program this year, making the lion's share of a specially-funded competition which challenged the state colleges to submit competitive proposals geared toward establishing innovative programs of excellence.

As a result of the award, the College will receive $5.7 million over the next three years to implement a far-ranging program which will ease transitions into arts careers for MSC graduates. While considerably less active during the summer, the campus wasn't exactly dormant. Learning took place in our usual Summer Sessions programs and by a younger contingent of students enrolled in the College's Health Careers Program and its Academic Foundations and Academically Talented Young Students Program. Additionally, the Legal Studies Program reported a highly successful experience from attending the Court Interpreters Program conducted on campus for the second summer, and our new Summer theater, "Summerfest," enjoyed a season of rave reviews from critics and audiences alike.

You will no doubt notice some unfamiliar faces among the faculty and administrative staff. As you encounter them, I know you will extend a welcome. Although there were few students around when they made their decisions to come on board, their decisions were based, at least in part, on the descriptions of the student body provided by those who know you. I am confident that they'll be even more impressed upon personally getting to know you.

As usual, the Office of Student Affairs, the Student Government Association and the many campus clubs and organizations have planned for you an exciting menu of activities and sports events throughout the year. Be sure to take advantage of as many of these as you can. I assure you they will enhance your college experience immeasurably.

A note from the SGA president

It's here— I know we want to deny it, but the Fall Semester is back! We've got to hang up our beach chairs, wipe the sand off our feet, and cap the Cornpone. It's time to think about the new Bamberger's Fall collection, the scenes of the 1986-87 calendar, and an exciting year of fun programming.

This year, more than ever, the Student Government Association is dedicated to providing you with the best in entertainment and the finest services around. Look for your favorite summer movies, including "Back to School," "The Big Chill," "The Last Waltz," and "A Night at the Roxbury," plus organizing MSC's unquenchable desire to dance, the SGA, through its organizations, is seeking to fulfill that desire by sponsoring various "Club Nites." Watch for rafting trips, Caribbean getaways, ski weekends, the Winter Ball, first-rate comics, bands, interesting speakers, and to extend a welcome. Although there were few students around when they made their decisions to come on board, their decisions were based, at least in part, on the descriptions of the student body provided by those who know you. I am confident that they'll be even more impressed upon personally getting to know you.

As usual, the Office of Student Affairs, the Student Government Association and the many campus clubs and organizations have planned for you an exciting menu of activities and sports events throughout the year. Transportation:
Three buses and a train depart from the MSC campus. The 60 bus and the P3 bus pick up passengers at the bus shelter, which is located across the street from College Hall. The 60 takes you through Montclair, via Valley Road and Park Street, it runs on Bloomfield Avenue and continues to Bloomfield and Newark. This year, the 60 is offering a special rush-hour service, from 6:29 to 8:11 a.m. and from 2:45 to 4:40 p.m.

Across the street from Panzer Gym is the Montclair Heights train station. The train takes you to Hoboken between the hours of 7:08 to 8:36 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. Train fare is $2.45.

The Montclarion
The Montclarion is MSC's student newspaper. The Montclarion staff aims to keep you, the student body, abreast of current campus news, events, arts and sports. Artwork, photographs, and writing to photography is done by the staff, who encourage all students interested in journalism to join. Writers interested in reporting news, arts and sports are always needed. You can also gain knowledge of layout and editing procedures. To join, just come by our office located in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex or simply call 893-5169.

La Campana
La Campana, the college yearbook, offers you the opportunity to portray your impressions of college life through the media of artwork, prose, poetry and photography. This yearbook covers a wide variety of campus events and endeavors to reflect the interests and character of college life. If you're interested in gaining knowledge of layout and production processes, then join us. A large staff is needed to produce a quality publication so all are welcome. Our office is located in the Student Center Annex, Room 111 or call us at 893-4446.

The College Life Union Board (CLUB)
CLUB is a multi-programming organization which provides major first run movies, Rathskeller entertainment, Ballroom affairs, Spring/Fall Festivals, Travel from Florida to Hawaii and much more. As students, we are in love with what you want in Co-Curricular activities that are important and valuable. We add a new dimension to college beyond the classroom experience and we have a blast doing it! If you are interested, drop your hands up in the air and join! We are located in Room 121 in the Student Center Annex or call 893-5323.

The arts thrive in downtown Montclair

A rewarding college experience must include more than lectures, textbooks and brain-killing beer parties. This is the time to pursue your higher interests, to expand your aesthetic experience--and Montclair is the place to be. While MSC offers a variety of cultural programming, your search for artsy diversion need not be confined to campus. Montclair is renowned for its active cultural life, which includes theater, film, music and art--a great place to explore, see, experience and learn.

One of Montclair's most important cultural institutions is the Whole Theatre on Bloomfield Avenue, distinguished by its fine professional casts and quality programming. Some of the greater names in theater have graced the stage at the Whole Theatre. This season includes "Pops" by resident playwright Romulus Linney, "The Sea Gull" by Anton Chekhov and "Grow Ups" by Jules Feiffer. Also, founder Olympia Dukakis has expanded the theater's activities to include musical concerts, comedy cabarets and theater classes. Ticket prices are very reasonable, but they sell quickly because of the theater's small size.

An even more intimate theater is the Studio Playhouse of Upper Montclair, which features musicals as well as comedy and drama. The 1966-67 season opens with "The Lion in Winter" by James Goldman. Also, founder Olympia Dukakis has expanded the theater's activities to include musical concerts, comedy cabarets and theater classes. Ticket prices are very reasonable, but they sell quickly because of the theater's small size.

For history buffs, the Israel Crane House provides an interesting diversion. Tours are offered by hostesses in authentic 18th century garb. Early American cooking can be sampled here amid a period setting. Craft shows and sales also take place; lessons in weaving and other period crafts are offered.

Helpful organizations and services

College Health Center
Open 24-hours-a-day, from 8 a.m. Monday through 4 p.m. Saturday, the Health Center offers treatment of short term illnesses and minor injuries. For problems after 10 p.m., students must call campus police (X 5222).
A doctor is available from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, and 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Monday and Thursday. There is a nurse on duty the remainder of the time. For those who require bed rest, beds are available.

Discussion and advice on health problems, as well as referral lists of local specialists and facilities are available. The entire staff assures confidentiality for any treatment or consultations in the Health Center. When the center is closed, students are advised to contact campus police or their dorm directors.
The Health Center is located on the ground floor of Blanton Hall. 893-4361.

Shuttle Bus
The college operates a shuttle bus service consisting of three buses, each with a 32 person capacity and handicap accommodations. The buses run from 7:15 a.m. to 11 p.m. (approximately every 15-20 minutes) weekdays during the academic year. The shuttle bus service provides two different routes, one to the Quarry parking lots (commonly known as “the pits”). The second route services the Clove Road Apartments. Bus stop locations are shown on the campus directory maps located throughout the campus and on page 3 of this guide.

The Women’s Center
The Women's Center aims to expand women's freedom and self reliance. Personal and career counseling is provided free of charge, as well as references to lawyers, doctors and and health and financial assistance. The Center offers two ongoing workshops: the Legal Clinic, running once monthly, provides advice on marital matters; Transitional Women, for women going through divorce, consists of six Monday night discussion meetings.
Other workshops to be offered are the Author's Network and Women in the Media. The Center also provides free weekly programs on Wednesday from noon to one p.m., in Room 417, Student Center. Speakers from on and off campus, representing a variety of careers and/or topics of interest, are scheduled.
All are invited. For further information, please call 893-5106.

Psychological Services
Psych Services offers therapy and counseling sessions to the entire student body. The ethical practice standards of the American Psychological Association are the guidelines used by the specially appointed staff or Psych Services. This assures that the contents of therapy sessions cannot become part of a student’s record without their consent.
An appointment should be made with the staff secretary for the first interview. Depending on staff availability, students can participate in selecting their psychologist, but may not choose a current professor. Psych Services is located behind Freeman Hall in the Gilbreth House, 893-5211.

Career Services
By planning, students can improve their chances of finding satisfying careers. To aid students with career planning, Career Services has resource materials to broaden your knowledge of careers and lists non-teaching job opportunities. Students are urged to begin using the office as early as freshman year. Open 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Career Services offers: counseling, a career library, on-campus recruitment, employment referrals, group seminars, career development workshops, an alumni network, newsletter, resume critique, credential service, vocational training, graduate school information and a candidate retrieval system. Career Service is located in Room 104 of the Student Center Annex. 893-5194.

Co-Operative Education
Co-Operative Education enables students to explore specific field and obtain skills in a given professional area by actually working at a job related to their major. Students can also earn college credits while working.
A minimum GPA of 2.25 and 45 credits earned (15 credits from M5C for transfer students) are required before applying for a Co-Op position. Co-Op offers: academic and career counseling, employment referrals, hiring supervision and evaluation and career development seminars. Co-op is located in Room 104 of the Student Center Annex. 893-4426

Student safety tips from campus police

It's a popular myth that college campuses are exempt from the crime phenomenon that affects today's society. As much as we'd like to believe this, the statistical data do not support this notion. In fact, campus crime rates are on the rise. It is crucial for students to be aware of their surroundings and take necessary precautions to ensure their safety.

On-campus parking regulations

Towing
The campus police will tow all cars that are parked on the roadway or parked illegally in a space for the physically challenged. In a crosswalk, near a fire hydrant, in a fire zone, or blocking parking aisles. Cars not parked in a properly-designated lot are subject to towing (i.e. parking in a faculty parking lot). Please read the following:

Disabled Vehicles
Disabled vehicles which impede the flow of traffic must be removed as soon as possible. Call the campus police at extension 5222 to obtain a temporary permit for the time during which you will be arranging repair for your vehicle.

General Note
There is enough parking space on campus to accommodate everyone. If all the upper lots are occupied, proceed directly to the lower lots (near the quarry). It means you will have to walk a little farther (or take the shuttle bus).

Excitement reigns in MSC sports

By Jim Niccolini

Success is not something new to the world of MSC sports. Nor is the least sense of the word. Whether you’re a die-hard sports fan with a soft spot in your heart for winning or just someone who likes to watch or participate in quality performances, you’ve come to the right place. The first success story you’re going to run into this fall is the AASC men’s soccer team. Last year’s New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) Champions were the defending champion Wagner College in the 1986 NCAA Division III World Series. The Indians are a perennial NJAC power, and, come springtime, they’ll be looking for their fourth straight World Series appearance.

The AASC soccer team is coming off a transition year, but with a strong core returning this fall, the club looks to finish with a winning record.

Coming off their initial season in competition, the MSC Hockey Club looks to renew some of the excitement they brought to the campus last year. The Indians swamped defending champion Wagner College in the finals of the Metropolitan College Hockey Conference (MCHC) playoffs to be crowned champions in their very first year of existence.

The men’s hockey team has sported an 18-6 mark and advanced to the final game of the Metropolitan Swimming Conference Championships that saw 11 school records fall.

Excitement is the one word that comes to mind when describing the MSC swim teams. The women’s swim team won their fourth straight State Championship title last year and look to repeat again this year. The men have two of their riders finished first place in the Metropolitan Swimming Conference Championships that saw 11 school records fall.

Home course: Garrett Mountain

By the middle of the fall semester, you’ll be hearing a lot of things about the MSC wrestling and men’s and women’s basketball teams. Last season, the grapplers took the NCAA Division III championship for the first time in two years.

The men’s basketball team program is always a consistent performer behind the coaching of Ollie Gelsfon, who captured his 400th coaching win last season. The women’s basketball team has sparked even greater success in the two years since Jill Jeffrey took over the reigns as Head Coach. With what was becoming a floundering program, the women have rebuilt themselves back to dominance. Last season they spoiled at 10-6.

Excitement is the one word that comes to mind when describing the MSC swim teams. The women’s swim team won their fourth straight State Championship title last year and look to repeat again this year. The men are going to try to equal last year’s performance which included a second place finish in the Metropolitan Swimming Conference Championships that saw 11 school records fall.

The men’s and women’s track and field (and cross-country) teams are far from shabby, as well. The men and women placed second and third, respectively, in their conference championship meets last season. The men’s team has been bolstered by an increased turnout, while the women’s squad performed tremendously with only seven athletes.

If there are any track and field athletes out there without a team to belong to, this is one area where you have an opportunity to be a part of a great team. A few more healthy bodies are all that’s needed to make the AASC men’s and field teams championship caliber.

But, last but certainly not least, words of praise must also be uttered for the Indian tennis, softball, and lacrosse teams. The men’s tennis team comes off one of their best seasons ever and, were it not for an abundance of rainouts, could have eclipsed the school record for number of wins.

The lacrosse squad has never failed to excite the fans who come to watch. Despite an up-and-down year and an extremely injuries, the Indians played near-500 lacrosse.

The softball team has its share of laurels as well. They’ve been one of the most consistent teams in the field and cause a stir in the neighborhood.

Looking for their fourth straight World Series appearance, the men’s softball team is a perennial NJAC power, and, come springtime, they’ll be looking for their fourth straight World Series appearance.

Also participating in the fall is the MSC baseball team, fresh off their third-place finish in the 1986 NCAA Division III World Series. The Indians are a perennial NJAC power, and, come springtime, they’ll be looking for their fourth straight World Series appearance.

The AASC soccer team is coming off a transition year, but with a strong core returning this fall, the club looks to finish with a winning record.

Coming off their initial season in competition, the MSC Hockey Club looks to renew some of the excitement they brought to the campus last year. The Indians swamped defending champion Wagner College in the finals of the Metropolitan College Hockey Conference (MCHC) playoffs to be crowned champions in their very first year of existence.

ARE YOU BEGINNING TO THINK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE?
ADVANTAGES is a newsletter expressly for students who want to succeed in the job market.

ADVANTAGES gives you the benefit of quality career skill advice from people who are already successful in their fields. Practical, hard-hitting advice that comes from experience on topics like Job Hunting, Networking, Resumes, Interviewing, Reputation, and many more.

ADVANTAGES covers 2 subjects every 3 weeks from October through May for a total of 20 of the most important topics you need for your future success. With each one you gain a clear understanding of another career skill, you get examples of how to do it right, what to watch out for, and an action checklist to get you started.

If you want to succeed, start by taking advantage now of the advice of men and women who have already done it. Of all the learning you do this year, this might benefit your future the most.

Get 40% savings with this special risk-free Back to School offer!
While the normal subscription price for ADVANTAGES is $49.95, send in your check or money order payable to ADVANTAGES postmarked no later than Sept. 15, 1986 and pay only $29.95 for all 20 topics. Not only a small investment in your future, but a risk-free one. If you ever wish to cancel your subscription, just let us know and we’ll promptly refund your money on all unmailed issues.

Even today, there are still a few students who don’t have an HP calculator.

Burning the midnight oil may be necessary.
Burning the 2:00 or 3:00 or 4:00 AM oil is absurd.
Especially when an HP calculator can get the answers you want — in time to get a good night’s sleep.

For instance, our HP-15C Professional Scientific Calculator has more built-in advanced math and statistical power than any other calculator. Our HP-41 Advanced Scientific Calculators have even more potential.

That’s because there are better than 2500 software packages available for them — more than for any other calculator.

There’s even a special plug-in software package (we call it the Advantage Module) that’s designed to handle the specific problems an engineering student has to solve in his, or her, course work.

No wonder professionals in engineering and the physical sciences widely regard HP calculators as the best you can get.

So check one out. Then, when your mother calls to ask if you’re getting enough sleep, you won’t have to lie.

By the way, if you want more information, just give us a call at 800-FOR-HPPC. Ask for Dept.658C.

Question #1:
What is the right choice for most college students?

a) AT&T — for everyday discounts of 40% to over 50% off weekday rates on out-of-state calls.

b) Short bursts of intense study followed by hours of frantic partying.

c) AT&T — for exceptional value and high quality service.

d) AT&T — for collect, third-party and operator-assisted long distance calls.

e) Any class that does not conflict with "The Love Connection."

If you picked A, C and D, you're destined for great things. Like AT&T Long Distance Service. AT&T offers so many terrific values. Like a 40% to over 50% discount off our day rate on night, evening, and weekend out-of-state calls.

Imagine what you'll do with the money you could save. Imagine what your parents would do if they found out.

Of course, you can count on AT&T for clear long distance connections any place you call. And AT&T gives you immediate credit for wrong numbers.

To find out more about why you should choose AT&T, give us a call. And if you picked B and E, call anyway. You could probably use someone to talk to.

Dramarama: local band reaches for international fame

By Pasquale DiFulco

I've got a secret! Wanna hear it? Then listen to Cinema Verite. The band is Dramarama. Remember that, because it's only a matter of time before that name comes up again.

This local band (all the guys hail from Wayne) got its start selling records and ended up making them. Bassist Chris Carter and lead throat John Easdale used to sell imported vinyl out of a joint called Looneytunez Records. clientele included Ian Hunter and Mick Ronson. One day, the guys said, "What the hell!" and recorded a pretty decent cover of Lou Reed's "Femme Fatale." After playing some clubs, they released an EP, Comedy, in late 1984.

Easdale used to sell imported vinyl out of a joint called Looneytunez Records. Clientele included Ian Hunter and Mick Ronson. One day, the guys said, "What the hell!" and recorded a pretty decent cover of Lou Reed's "Femme Fatale." After playing some clubs, they released an EP, Comedy, in late 1984.

Jose Rula, a D.J. and music critic in France, got hold of Comedy, played it, and the French ate it up—enough so to send it to Number One. What did they do with all this sudden fame? "We went to France," Carter said. "It was a safe move."

While in France, they recorded Cinema Verite for New Rose Records while still under the guise of their own label, ? Records. All five songs on the EP appear on the album.

"Visiting the Zoo" kicks in with drummer Jesse's pounding beat. Guitars Pete Wood and Mr. E. Boy join in with some backbone of their own. Then Easdale assaults you with his barroom-scarred voice, some hot licks are thrown in for good measure, and two weeks later you catch yourself singing the song while you're driving to work.

"Questions?" is a lost lover's lament with guts and grinding guitars. "Does she talk about me? Does she talk about me?" Any guy who has ever lost his lady can identify here.

"Scenario" is about "some girl," according to Easdale. The haunting chorus and hard-hitting lyrics are mesmerizing. "Sister's in the Everglades/Mother swallows razor blades/Father makes the flags for all the Labor Day parades." This song has bite.

"Anything, Anything" was the most-requested single this spring on Rodney Bingenheimer's show on KROQ, 92 K-Rock's sister station out in Pasadena. I can understand why. It's an adrenaline-pumping song that makes you want to move.

"Emerald City" shows off Dramarama's ability to play and sing with soul, in addition to kick-ass rhythm and blues and rock and new wave and...it's tough to lump this band into one category. I guess they can be called a crossover band. Whatever term you use, Dramarama is HOT!

Critic Robert Christgau (Village Voice, Creem, Playboy) gave Cinema Verite an A-. Robert O'Brien featured the band in Rockbill, where he stated, "After listening to this record, all doubts will be quelled. I love it!"

Pasquale DiFulco is telling you to open your ears. Dramarama is going to be big, no doubt. Catch their act at the China Club. Buy the album. Request it on WMSC. But do something. Quick.

Welcome back, you groovy guys and gals!...Old business: Amnesty International: good show, huh? Dragged on just a little bit you say? Maybe if Joni Mitchell hadn't stopped the show dead in its tracks it would've worked itself into a powerhouse ending. I have nothing against the woman or her music, but I would have preferred seeing her play a set with Stanley Jordan, rather than between Bryan Adams and U2...I know you're just dying to know what my top vinyl picks are for this summer. In no particular order...Jimmy Buffet, "Floridays." Andreas Vollenweider, "Down to the Moon." Steve Winwood, "Back in the High Life." David Lee Roth, "Eat 'Em and Smile."...Hot rumours dept.: Bruce to release a multi-record live collection in time for Christmas...The Police also have a live set on deck with "a couple new songs"...Keith Richards may be going solo...Trivia time: tell me, what rocker was born with the moniker Elias McDaniel?..."'Til next week, ta ta...
Sports clinic focuses on thinking positively

By Perry Schwartz

"What ever the mind can conceive and believe, can be achieved.

Competition is a vehicle that separates the winners from the losers. Everyone must face competition at some point in their life, especially when that time comes, the person must be ready to deal with the situation mentally as well as physically.

It takes a sound mind along with a sound body to accomplish something or feel physically effective. Athletes traditionally develop their bodies to peak performance, but not their minds.

Nationally-known sports psychologist, Dr. Rob Gilbert developed a workshop to achieve peak performance and positive motivation through the mind. With the assistance of MSC's Continuing Education program, Gilbert devised "The Winner's Workshop."

These are one-day workshops which are held off-campus. Gilbert ran the clinics throughout the summer, the last one being on August 23 at the Holiday Inn in Wayne.

At the beginning of the clinic, Gilbert established that absolute peak performance of a sport can be obtained by training your mind. He strived on getting his message across by touching him mentally and learning to love himself. Words like can't, not, or impossible do not exist in Gilbert's vocabulary.

He uses simple exercises to help the participants realize that there's nothing that cannot be accomplished. In less than four minutes, Gilbert trains his students to remember ten words and a 32-digit number. The key to success he says, is strategy.

"When you're in school and a teacher asks you to memorize something, she/he never tells you how to do it," Gilbert said. "I believe practice doesn't make perfect, but perfect practice makes perfect. The only time a person's mind should be on achieving perfect performance is now. Not the past or future, but now!"

Many of Gilbert's techniques appear difficult at first, since the "little voice" telling you it's impossible is silenced, the 32-digit number can be mastered in two minutes, and juggling, which he teaches the group, within five.

That's right - juggling in five minutes! "I don't give them enough credit," said Gilbert. They can accomplish any feat they want to, but the person must believe in himself/herself and apply mental force to the task.

The common problem is that people are negative about themselves and concentrate too much on strengths without building up the weaknesses.

"There are millions of strategies out there," Gilbert said. "I'm learning with giving my students the one that best works for them."

"This clinic is much different than I ever attended," said one student. "The people learn because of the act of participation and not theoretical information. Ron uses the applied theory to practical use in a clever way."

Gilbert said one should enjoy what they are doing in order to reach the specified goal. For example, weightlifting where Gilbert's theory plays a vital part in achieving.

"Aim high, aim far, and aim for the stars," said Gilbert. "Sports psychology is an essential part of physical education. Ideal of time to put "The Winner's Workshop" together and I love doing it. The two main reasons I do it is because I love to teach, and I love to help people reach inside themselves and develop their full potential."

Additional workshops have been scheduled in the fall so many more can take advantage of a "mind workout." They will be held October 26 and 27, and December 7 and 15. All are held at the Lincoln Park Center and further information can be obtained by calling 893-5154.

Opportunity Fund (EOD) program this summer and assist with the Big League Baseball Camp held on campus.

"There are many things I wanted to do last year, but couldn't because of my weight," Hernandez said. "Now I am playing football in a comfortable, enjoyable way."

Hernandez not only topped up his body, but his mind as well. He is prepared for a dynamic, exciting season, but if something goes wrong he knows that he has the strength to bounce back mentally and produce effectively. Although the corporate fitness major has personal goals, he also has the desire to provide encouragement and support for the rookies.

"We have a lot of new personnel at the running back position; I am trying to work with these new guys. If I have to come out of a game, I want my teammates to be comfortable with my replacement," Hernandez said. "They (the new players) have a lot of physical talent, but now their minds must be molded in order to play MSC football and I will help them do that."

Position coach Rich O'Connor worked with Hernandez for the last two seasons. Hernandez helped score their backs, which he feels can utilize him much more this season.

"I'm happy Eddie lightened himself while maintaining his strength," O'Connor said. "I think he improved by becoming a complete back, and with his agility he should be able to handle the ball more than in the past."

What's What in MSC sports

Track and Field - The MSC Season finished on a high note for the Spring of 1986. A few athletes were entered into the rank of All-Americans.

In the women's division, Eileen O'Connor was the winner in the triple-jump. She set the school record, and in the process became the CTC and State champion for the Spring of 1986.

In the men's division, Ahmad Field was chosen to the All-American squad for the 400 meter hurdles and Dan Dooley was chosen All-American for his talents with the javelin. Congratulations to these three fine track stars!

MSC’s Ed Hernandez: Dedicated to the game

MSC’s already potent offense will be bolstered by running back Ed Hernandez.

By Perry Schwarz

"MAN’S HAPPINESS IN LIFE AND FOOTBALL IS THE RESULT OF HIS OWN EFFORT."

MSC running back Ed Hernandez didn’t reach his potential until the midpoint of last season. This year, there’s a new backfield, a new attitude, but most of all there’s a new and improved Hernandez. New and improved for many reasons.

"At the conclusion of last season, I took a week off for relaxation," Hernandez said. "Once that week was over I went back to work on bettering my game so I would be at my best shape when training camp and the season arrived."

The two-year fullback weighed 243 pounds at the conclusion of the 1985 season. On August 22 (opening day of camp), he reported in at a trim weight of 228. Hernandez concentrated on sprints, speedwork, and agility drills. In addition to his intense, dedicated training he still found time to be a resident assistant for the Educational cont. on p. 18

Trivia Time-Out

OK, sports fans, back by popular demand, here is your chance to see just how much you know about sports. Each week The Montclarion will publish a list of sports questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. If you think you have the right answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion, Room 113 in the Student Center Annex. The names of those who submit the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m. So start working and get into those trivia books.

1. What is Yankee Stadium known as?
2. In 1969 what player doubled as a coach and led his team to an NBA world championship?
3. In what year was the International Federation of Bobsleigh and Tobaggoning formed?
4. Who was the world boxing champion from 1908 to 1915?
5. How many games did the 1973 World Series go?

This week’s stumper: Where were the 1960 Olympic gymnastic events held?

The first membership meeting for the Champion Ice Hockey Club will be held on Monday, September 8th from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in Room 413 of the Student Center.
The time has arrived again for MSC's football training camp. The rookies join the veterans in one of the toughest periods of the football season. In fact, those who survive camp usually stay with the team for the entire season. The advantage veterans have over the rookies is that they know what's in store for them next.

Many players and fans have a naive perception about camp. Camp is hard on the body and mind. Everything done in the 10 days is by schedule. Practice, dining, meetings - all of it is according to a schedule devised by the coaches. The players are required to follow it. Those who are not in shape mentally or physically, when camp opens are the ones who filter out of the program.

"I hope you guys did a lot of roadwork this summer," head coach Rick Ganciale said at the organized meeting August 22nd. "It's important you are in shape because we want you to concentrate on football the next few days. You should already be in shape.

The faces of a select few drop. They are the ones who won't make it to Durbin. Give you insights as to what these players go through here is a three-day account of the MSC football preparation period.

DAY I: The players and coaches congregate in Richardson Hall to hear the law of training camp and the rules for the season. The first is that no "female cousins" are to visit.

"Upon dismissal, group meetings are held in Partridge and Richardson Hall. All the mental preparation is done for the next week in these meetings. Defensive back coach Terry Porter presented his goals to the defensive personnel in no uncertain terms.

"I would like us to lead the nation in interceptions and win another championship," Porter said.

For the veterans, the strategies are just a review, but for the newcomers, MSC football will occupy their mind for the next few days, and all they will see are X's and O's.

DAY II: (9 a.m.-12 p.m.) The information introduced last night is put to work on the field. Throughout the practice, the atmosphere is light and business-like. There is no time for "playing around. At the end of practice, the players run sprints. The sprints help build up the stamina and increase the running form of the athletes. But they also hurt, noticeable.

COACHES VIEW

HEAD COACH RICK GIANCOLA: "We had a few players that didn't return, but we are going to play with what we have. I see a lot of talent, and many of the young guys have a shot to play with time. Defensively, John DeBarreau and Matt Clark, demonstrated humble determination, and quickness. Cornerback David Harris has also been impressive. Offensive, Joe Fernandez had a great camp."

"Overall, we had an enthusiastic campaign. Some of it is unproven, but that will change with time. There have been a few players that will make an impact on our season."

Cornerback Joe Altonaga has been a pleasant surprise. He worked hard and is respected by his fellow players for being a starter. Freshman linebacker John Hernandez has showed he will be able to help us in the defense.

MSC football team prepares for '86 Training camp: the Indians are back

By Perry Schwarz

"VICTORY IN SPITE OF ALL, VICTORY HOWEVER LONG AND HARD MAYBE; FOR WITHOUT VICTORY THERE IS NO SURVIVAL." - VIDKUN QUISLING

MSC's Hernandez: Mr. Dedication. See story, page 19.

The time has arrived again for MSC's football training camp. The rookies join the veterans in one of the toughest periods of the football season. In fact, those who survive camp usually stay with the team for the entire season. The advantage veterans have over the rookies is that they know what's in store for them next.

Many players and fans have a naive perception about camp. Camp is hard on the body and mind. Everything done in the 10 days is by schedule. Practice, dining, meetings - all of it is according to a schedule devised by the coaches. The players are required to follow it. Those who are not in shape mentally or physically, when camp opens are the ones who filter out of the program.

The faces of a select few drop. They are the ones who won't make it to Durbin. Give you insights as to what these players go through here is a three-day account of the MSC football preparation period.

DAY I: The players and coaches congregate in Richardson Hall to hear the law of training camp and the rules for the season. The first is that no "female cousins" are to visit.

"Upon dismissal, group meetings are held in Partridge and Richardson Hall. All the mental preparation is done for the next week in these meetings. Defensive back coach Terry Porter presented his goals to the defensive personnel in no uncertain terms.

There is no time for "playing around. At the end of practice, the players run sprints. The sprints help build up the stamina and increase the running form of the athletes. But they also hurt, noticeable.

MSC football team prepares for their summer training camp.

Just by the looks on the players' faces covered by sweat.

12 p.m.-2 p.m.: Lunch and a brief cooling period occupy the time. Just as the players get comfortable in their rooms and in the lounge of Blanton Hall, it's time to return to the field.

2 p.m.-5 p.m.: After lunch the players drag themselves back to the field. Many of the guys carpool to the field. The final practice of the day is an intensive one. The motivated players push through the form run and other sprints. Form running is where the players run as fast as they can without gaining distance. It's similar to running in place.

7:30 p.m.-9 p.m.: It's meeting time. The players respond to their assigned rooms with the paper and pencil supplied to them. Extra information is added and the system becomes more complex. Tonight more information is added and by the end of camp, the system should be in effect with a few adjustments.

The final practice was on Labor Day. While everyone was enjoying themselves at home, the Indians were sweating for the last time at camp. It's the last day the players give it their all in every area, from special teams to the defensive unit.

Breakfast, practice, lunch, practice, dinner and team meetings were the standard routine for the 10 days. Everything of major importance was introduced in the 10 days. Within those 10 days a few highlights took place on and off the field which brought a chuckle to the team and made camp proceed more smoothly.

AUGUST 25: The players were happy to see new faces on campus. Many of them combed the dorms to assist young girls who were in need of instruction on opening the doors.

SEPTEMBER 1: The final day of camp is here! From pre-practice to form running, the players are sharp and maintain a loud, aggressive intensity.

The intensity is broken for a few minutes, when Coach Porter was tripped by ELMO (the little green guy in the turf that makes people fall). That's it, camp is over and the defending NJAC champions will face Muhlenberg College this Saturday.
