Governor Kean gives approval

Independence for New Jersey state colleges

By Tom Boud

An autonomy proposal, which allows the state's nine colleges to conduct a greater part of their operations independently, became effective July 9 when Gov. Thomas Kean signed the legislation. The autonomy bill enables MSC and other N.J. state colleges to disburse its own checks, handle its own cash, transfer funds from one account to another, collect and keep its own revenues, (using tuition fees as part of the allocated college budget instead of transmitting them to the state treasury, for example) and manage its own purchasing and contracting affairs.

However, some activities such as collective bargaining, the civil service structure for college employees, academic programming, and fiscal year appropriation requests are still subject to state control. The installation of autonomy entails three phases over a period of three years. The first phase includes purchasing and contracting, travel policies, payment authorization, and internal auditing. It is expected to be completed by late November of this year.

The second phase encompasses general accounting, cash management, revenue management, disbursing operations, external auditing, equipment planning and construction, and institutional borrowing. This phase is slated for completion by July 1, 1987.

The college will gain the bulk of its autonomy powers during phase two. The last phase, involving the payroll system and risk management (insurance) should be finished by July 1, 1989.

A clause in the autonomy law immediately permits MSC and all other state colleges to grant tuition waivers, determine student fees, to be exempt from the Vacancy Review Board, and to appoint a college president without seeking board of Higher Education approval.

An autonomy planning commission has been organized by MSC President Donald Walters. The commission reports to Vice President for Administration and Finance William Griffeth and is headed by Assistant Vice President for Administration and Finance Barry Cohen.

On Friday, July 18, the New Jersey Board of Higher Education endorsed the out-of-state consultants' recommendations and called for awards totaling $14 million from the pool established by Gov. Thomas H. Kean as a "challenge" to the nine state colleges to grant tuition waivers, determine student fees, to be exempt from the Vacancy Review Board, and to appoint a college president without seeking board of Higher Education approval.

MSC awarded $5.4 million challenge grant

A $5.7 million Governor's Challenge Grant was awarded to the MSC fine and performing arts program over the summer.

According to Donald A. Mattran, dean of MSC's School of Fine and Performing Arts, "The program is designed to bridge the gap between academic preparation in the arts and career entry."

Described as potentially "one of the most exciting programs of its kind in the nation" by the panel of educators which recommended its funding, MSC's plan provides a unique program of professional training and career entry for students seeking careers in the arts.

The plan establishes on-going relationships with professional artists and arts organizations working closely with students in masterclasses, coaching sessions and professional perfo

Dorms are left “Bohn” dry

At 12 midnight on Sept. 1, approximately 2000 MSC dorm residents were informed that they were not to use the bathrooms due to a water main break on campus.

Residents of Bohn Hall are left to use the lower floor bathrooms. Floors one and two have been designated for men and the third floor for women. The average bathroom has about four stalls and three showers. Bohn Hall has 600 residents in its 16 floors.

Matthew Coyle, a Bohn Hall resident said, “They’ve kept us in the dark about what’s going on. No temporary facilities have been provided for us. These are really unsanitary conditions.”

According to Gale Raucher, also a Bohn Hall resident, “I spoke with Lucy Nikovics, secretary to Dr. Raymond Stover, director of residence life. Nikovics said that the water is expected to be on by Thurs. afternoon. Work crews attempted to repair the break by welding it but this attempt failed. They are now waiting for an ordered part from Texas.”

The bathrooms will be unlocked when the water break main is repaired and when the dorms have acceptable water pressure conditions.

In the meantime the residents will be forced to use the designated dorm bathrooms or the public bathrooms in the school buildings. These public baths do not have shower facilities.

Moreover, Bohn residents may use the public bathrooms on the main floor of Blanton Hall or any of the classrooms on campus. These bathrooms do not contain public shower facilities. Note that all Bohn bathrooms will be unlocked when the water break main is repaired and when Bohn has acceptable water pressure conditions. Should you have any questions concerning this information, please contact the director of Bohn Hall at 893-5266.

Posters like the following have been posted on all Bohn Hall bathrooms:

SORRY - DO NOT USE BATHROOM UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

BECAUSE OF THE MAIN WATER BREAK ON CAMPUS,

BOHN HALL IS EXPERIENCING WATER PRESSURE DIFFICULTIES AFFECTING THE SHOWERS AND TOILETS

ALL BOHN HALL BATHROOMS WILL BE LOCKED TO ENSURE THAT WASTE PRODUCTS DO NOT ACCUMULATE IN TOILETS

The following Bohn Hall bathrooms are functioning and have been designated to be used by all Bohn Hall residents (subject to change):

- Floor 3 - Female
- Floors 1 & 2 - Male

Moreover, Bohn residents may use the public bathrooms on the main floor of Blanton Hall or any of the classrooms on campus. These bathrooms do not contain public shower facilities. Note that all Bohn bathrooms will be unlocked when the water break main is repaired and when Bohn has acceptable water pressure conditions. Should you have any questions concerning this information, please contact the director of Bohn Hall at 893-5266.

Theft wave hits MSC at summer's end

By Tom Boud

A string of thefts plagued the campus a few days prior to the fall semester, according to campus police.

On Aug. 25, a staff member of the Student Center reported that someone entered a locked closet and stole a VCR worth $800. The actual time of the theft is unknown.

A female student reported that the outside rear mirror of her car parked in lot 18 was bent during the night of Aug. 25-26.

In Blanton Hall lobby at 3 p.m., a roll bag was stolen after a male student left it unattended for several minutes. Total loss was $30.

An entire assortment of tools belonging to the Connecticut Lamination contract company was lifted sometime between 12 a.m. and 6 p.m. the same day.

On Aug. 27 at 12:30 a.m., Sgt. Paul Cell arrested a disorderly drunk male by the Clove Rd. apartments after responding to a call of a man "acting crazy." Officers Rose Vacca and Debra Poole assisted Cell in the arrest.

9:30 p.m., that same day a female student’s purse was left unguarded in the McEachern Music Building. The purse was later recovered intact in the men’s room shortly after. Total value was $20 dollars.

During the night of Aug. 27-28, someone entered a 1973 AMC Jeep in lot 17 and stole an overnight parking decal worth $20.

A female student resident of the Clove Rd. apartments told police that sometime between 7 a.m. Aug. 26 and 5 p.m. Aug. 28, 20 slips (clothing) amounting to $400.00 were taken from her room.

A male resident in the same area alerted campus police that his wallet containing $150.00 in cash was stolen from his room.

“Image building” for SGA

By Kathy McDonough

At the first SGA meeting of the fall semester President Mark Brancato stressed the importance of “image building” for the SGA.

SGA News

Plans for Homecoming ’86 were discussed. There are a lot of exciting things planned for the week of Oct. 13, including a comedy show, lip sync contest, parade, and the big game. It was announced that the Rathskeller will be open this semester. Due to high operating costs, alcohol will be served only on Thurs. nights and during special promotions. An advisory committee has been formed in order to improve programming and decor, and to promote a better social atmosphere.

In other news, the following cabinet appointments were approved: Judy Rosenbush, vice president of academic affairs; Robert Acera, director of programming; Perry Schwaerz, vice president of internal affairs; June Herman, director of services; Dren Zeve, assistant to the president, and Julianne Coyne, deputy attorney general.

Autonomy bills

“President Walters has created this commission as a means to develop plans for implementing autonomy," Cohen said. Cohen added that the commission has just begun to meet in order to work on the phase 1 autonomy.

Besides Cohen, the commission is staffed by Marshall Butler of the registrar’s office, Dr. Betsy Clark, health professions, Richard Davis, director of personnel; Suresh Desai, dean of the school of business administration, Dr. Nicholas Michelli, dean of the school of professional studies, Charles Moore, director of budget and fiscal planning, Dr. Wendy Oxman, chairperson of the fine arts department, Jerome Quinn, director of institutional planning, and Lynn Truesdell, director of the computer center. Vice President for Administration and Finance William Griffith is also serving on the commission as an ex-officio member.

SGA Board of Trustees Representative Mike Rodak expressed his support for autonomy. "Autonomy gives more bargaining power to students who are concerned about important issues such as tuition and housing."

Rodak added, "This new law will spare the administration a lot of red tape when it comes to finishing projects and ordering equipment."

Rodak referred to past problems with the proposal. "In 1985, the autonomy bills were vetoed by Kean after the legislature weakened them by making amendments that the governor didn’t like. Thanks to bipartisan support and Kean’s interest in autonomy, the bills were passed."

Autonomy: no losers

A thousand kudos for the New Jersey State Legislature and Governor Kean. When Kean signed two bills granting autonomy to the New Jersey state colleges, he ushered in a new era fof MSC, a "new beginning," of sorts.

The passage of these bills allows the state colleges a financial freedom they have never had before. They now have the power to collect and keep their own revenues, handle their own affairs.

For MSC administrators, the days of bureaucratic red tape and trial and error procedures are over. The bills wipe out a lot of red tape and lay the foundation for MSC to be a self-governing institution.

Governor Kean's initiative was a "new freedom they have never had before. They now have the beginning," of sorts.

With the shift in control from Trenton to MSC, the 46 state colleges now have more bargaining power than ever to influence the state budget. They can go to the Governor and say, "We need more money for this, we need less money for that." Instead of having to fight over the same pot of beans, they can now go directly to the power that be and say, "We need this."

The legislation also gives the students, those people for whom this campus was created, to help make MSC the best state college in New Jersey.

"The passage of these bills allows the state colleges a financial freedom they have never had before. They now have the power to collect and keep their own revenues, handle their own affairs. Therefore, the voice of the MSC college student had to be transported by means somewhat along the lines of carrier pigeon, to Trenton, now students have the 'source' right on campus. Instead of dealing with the state, which is detached from the college atmosphere, MSC students with ideas can offer them straight to the people who make the decisions. In the past, the students could speak but Trenton was under no obligation to listen. Now, with the administration in direct contact with the students and solely responsible for the campus success, student input is not only more readily accepted, but also essential to the growth and development of the college."

Through the administration, we can have a voice in the decision-making process- but only if we bother to speak up. Autonomy is not only for campus officials to use to their advantage. It is also a chance for the students, those people for whom this campus was created, to help make MSC the best state college in New Jersey.

"Yes, there are a lot of faculty members and college officials who are very happy at this point in time. But what does autonomy mean to the students? Actually, autonomy means as much to the people who frequent Partridge Hall and the Student Center as it does those in the offices of College Hall."

With the shift in control from Trenton to MSC, the 46 state colleges now have more bargaining power than ever to influence the state budget. They can go to the Governor and say, "We need more money for this, we need less money for that." Instead of having to fight over the same pot of beans, they can now go directly to the power that be and say, "We need this." But the opposite scenario is more unsettling. What if a student with a matter of days after delivery to change her mind. If she does, she should have an equal right to custody. Does that muddy any agreement for surrogacy? Does that increase the risks for the couples who want a child this way? Absolutely. A biological father could end up with a brand new baby."

BOSTON- Her parents can not agree on anything these days, even on her name. Her biological mother, Mary Beth Whitehead, calls the five month old girl Sara. Her biological father, William Stern, calls her Melissa. The case that will come up on Sept. 10 is no ordinary custody fight between estranged partners. These two parents never had a relationship; they had a deal. The intimacy was not one of man and woman, but of sperm and ovum. Mary Beth Whitehead was hired to be a surrogate mother.

When Stern, a biochemist, and his wife Elizabeth, a pediatrician, discovered they were unable to conceive a child on their own, they decided to use a surrogate mother to help them make their dream a reality. Instead of producing a child, Whitehead would carry it to term as a surrogate mother. Stern and his wife promised Whitehead $10,000.

But when the baby was born, Whitehead "borrowed" her back. When the Sterns tried to reclaim the baby, the Whiteheads ran off with her. Finally, on July 31, Baby M was tracked down in Florida and returned to the Sterns in New Jersey.

"People treat this like we're fighting over a car," says Whitehead now. "But she's not a possession, she's a part of me." She is also a part of William Stern.

What is notable about this custody wrangle is its utter predictability. This was, everyone in the field agree, a case waiting to happen. What was once a one-of-a-kind case, a unique medical miracle, has become a standard for the surrogacy industry. The time for surrogacy is now.

"The passage of these bills allows the state colleges a financial freedom they have never had before. They now have the power to collect and keep their own revenues, handle their own affairs. From the president’s desk

To those of you returning to the campus, I am delighted to be able to inform you that this fall marks back-to-back for another challenging year at MSC. To the new freshman class, more than 1,200 strong, our welcome is seeking to fulfill that desire of the College which occurred after you left in May. Those of us who stayed behind spent an unusually busy summer laying the foundations for a new, bold thrust toward excitement for the new semester. MSC campus is understandably not the same.

The second reason for anticipating your return is the urge to fill you in on some significant developments in the growth of the College which occurred after you left in May. As a result of the award, the College will receive $5.7 million over the next three years to implement a far-reaching program which will give our students the opportunity to perform with colleges and universities throughout the country which control a greater measure of their destinies and chart their own visions of the future. Before this legislation, MSC was treated the same as any other state agency, such as public safety, health, commerce and other departments of state government. Yet, because of the unique nature of education, the bureaucratic systems stifles the flexibility and vitality of the state colleges. Another noteworthy accomplishment which took place during the summer will provide tremendous benefits for the entire campus community. In keeping with its official designation as a “center of excellence in the fine and performing arts,” MSC came away the big winner in the Governor’s Challenge Grant Program this year, taking the lion’s share of a specially-funded competition which “challenged” the state colleges to submit competitive proposals geared toward establishing innovative programs of excellence.

This is of particular importance to MSC because it allows the College more flexibility in fiscal management, and it puts MSC and the other state colleges on par with colleges and universities throughout the country which control a greater measure of their destinies and chart their own visions of the future. A note from the SGA president

It’s here! I know we want to deny it, but the Fall Semester is back! We have to hand in those beach chairs, wipe the sand off our feet, and cap the Cop­ pertone. It’s time to think about the new semester. The College has many campus clubs and organizations have planned for you an exciting menu of activities and events throughout the year. Be sure to take advantage of many of these as you can. I assure you they will enhance your college experience immeasurably.

The arts thrive in downtown Montclair

A rewarding college experience must include more than lectures, textbooks and brain-tilling beer parties. This is the time to pursue your higher interests, to expand your aesthetic experience - and Montclair is the place to be. While MSC offers a variety of cultural programming, your search for artistic diversion need not be confined to campus. Montclair is renowned for its active cultural life, which includes theatre, film, music and art. It's a great place to explore, see, experience and learn.

One of Montclair's most important cultural institutions is the Whole Theatre on Bloomfield Avenue, distinguished by its fine professional casts and quality programming. Some of the greatest names in theatre have graced the stage at the Whole Theatre. This season includes "Pops" by resideant playwright Romulus Linney, "The Sea Gull" by Anton Chekhov and "Grown ties to include musical concerts, comedy cabarets and theatre classes. Ticket prices are very reasonable, but they sell quickly because of the theater's small size.

An even more intimate theater is the Studio Playhouse of Upper Montclair, which features musicals as well as comedy and drama. The 1966-67 season opens with "Scrambled Feet," a musical revue by Movie buffs can choose from three Montclair cinemas to catch the hottest new films. The Bellevue Theater is located on Bellevue Avenue; the Claridge and the Wellmonr are both on Bloomfield Avenue. There are also many video rental stores, including one next to the Bellevue Theater, if you're

For history buffs, the Israel Crane House provides an interesting diversion. Tours are offered by hostess in authoritative 18th cenury garb. Early American cooking can be sampled here amid a period setting. Craft shows and sales also take place; lessons in weaving and other period crafts are offered.

If shopping and browsing are more your style, Montclair is a shopper's paradise. There is a wealth of interesting little shops featuring antiques, books, clothing, gifts and practically everything else. Bloomfield Avenue is a major town center; Church Street, off Bloomfield, offers unusual boutiques and restaurants in a quaint, "Village-type" atmosphere. Other centers of business include Watchung Plaza and Upper Montclair Center on Valley Road.

Good students always need a good library. There is a large public library in Montclair and a smaller branch library in Upper Montclair. The main branch offers film festivals as well as a good selection of books. For good bargains on used books, try Yesterday's Books and Records on Bloomfield Avenue.

Keep your eye on the "Happenings" column published weekly in the Arts/Entertainment section of The Montclairian for Montclair Historical Society

The Montclair Art Museum is an important center for visual art. The season highlights will include masterpieces from the American Painting Collection, an exhibition of American Indian basketweaving, and lectures on art and fashion. In addition to a Sunday afternoon classical concert series beginning November 2.

Helpful organizations and services

College Health Center
Open 24-hours-a-day, from 6 a.m., Monday through 4 p.m., Saturday, the Health Center offers treatment of short term illnesses and minor injuries. For problems after 10 p.m., students must call campus police (X 5222).

A doctor is available for 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday and 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Monday and Thursday. There is a nurse on duty the remainder of the time. For those who require bed rest, beds are available.

Discussion and advice on health problems, as well as referral lists of local specialists and facilities are available. The entire staff assures confidentiality for any treatment or consultations in the Health Center. When the center is closed, students are advised to contact campus police or their dorm directors.

The Health Center is located on the ground floor of Blanton Hall. 893-4361.

Shuttle Bus
The college operates a shuttle bus service consisting of three buses, each with a 32 person capacity and handicap accommodations. The buses run from 7:15 a.m. to 11 p.m. (approximately every 15-20 minutes) weekdays during the academic year. The shuttle bus service provides two different routes, one to the Quarry parking lots (commonly known as "the pits"). The second route services the Clove Road Apartments. Bus stop locations are shown on the campus directory maps located throughout the campus and on page 3 of this guide.

The Women's Center
The Women's Center aims to expand women's freedom and self-reliance. Personal and career counseling is provided free of charge, as well as references to lawyers, doctors and and health and financial assistance.

The Center offers two ongoing workshops: the Legal Clinic, running once monthly, provides advice on marital matters; Transitional Women, for women going through divorce, consists of six Monday night discussion meetings. Other workshops to be offered are the Author's Network and Women in the Media. The Center also provides free weekly programs on Wednesday from noon to one p.m., in room 417, Student Center. Speakers from on and off campus, representing a variety of careers and/or topics of interest, are scheduled.

All are invited. For further information, please call 893-5106.

Psychological Services
Psych Services offers therapy and counseling sessions to the entire student body. The ethical practice standards of the American Psychological Association are the guidelines used by the specially appointed staff at Psych Services. This assures that the contents of therapy sessions cannot become part of a student's record without their consent.

An appointment should be made with the staff secretary for the first interview. Depending on staff availability, students can participate in selecting their psychologist, but may not choose a current professor. Psych Services is located behind Freeman Hall in the Gilbreth House. 893-5211.

Career Services
By planning, students can improve their chances of finding satisfying careers. To aid students with career planning, Career Services has resource materials to broaden your knowledge of careers and lists non-teaching job opportunities. Students are urged to begin using the office as early as freshman year. Open 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Career Services offers counseling, a career library, on-campus recruitment, employment referrals, group seminars, career development workshops, an alumni network, newsletter, resume critique, credential service, vocational training, graduate school information and a candidate retrieval system. Career Service is located in Room 104 of the Student Center Annex. 893-5194.

Co-Operative Education
Co-Operative Education enables students to explore specific field and obtain skills in a given professional area by actually working at a job related to their major. Students can also earn college credits while working.

A minimum GPA of 2.25 and 45 credits earned (15 credits from M5C for transfer students) are required before applying for a Co-Op position. Co-Op offers: academic and career counseling, employment referrals, hiring supervision and evaluation and career development seminars. Co-op is located in Room 104 of the Student Center Annex. 893-4426

Student safety tips from campus police

On-campus parking regulations

Towing

The campus police will tow all cars that are parked on the roadway or parked illegally in a space for the physically challenged, in a crosswalk, near a fire hydrant, in a fire zone, or blocking parking aisles. Cars not parked in a properly designated or approved area subject to towing (i.e., parking in a faculty parking lot). This is not a comprehensive list.

Towing fines are not available due to the fact that there is no contractor towing service or present. Cost to owners of towed vehicles is being associated at the time. These costs will be published as soon as possible.

Disabled Vehicles

Disabled vehicles which impede the flow of traffic must be removed as soon as possible. Call the campus police at extension 5222 to obtain a temporary permit for the time during which you will be arranging repair for your vehicle.

NOTE: Abandoned vehicles will be towed and the owner will receive a summons for abandonment. With this summons goes a $100 fine.

Visitors

Any guests arriving on campus may pick up a temporary parking permit at either the information booth on College Avenue or at the campus police office in Chapin Hall. Any vehicle parked on campus without a parking permit is subject to towing.

Ticketing

Anyone not adhering to the parking regulations is subject to a summons. A copy of the complete parking regulations can be procured at campus police headquarters in Chapin Hall.

To avoid being ticketed, make sure you have a proper decal or temporary parking permit and that your vehicle is properly parked in an appropriate area between two white lines.

General Note

There is enough parking space on campus to accommodate everyone. If all the upper lots are occupied, proceed directly to the lower lots (near the Quarry). It means you will have to walk a little farther (or take the shuttle bus) but is preferable to double-parking in other lots and thereby inconveniencing others and creating safety hazards, not to speak of being towed or ticketed.
Excitement reigns in MSC sports

By Jim Nicols
Success is not something new to the world of MSC sports. Nor is the least sense of the word.

Whether you’re a die-hard sports fan with a soft spot in your heart for winning or just someone who likes to watch (or participate in) quality performances, you’ve come to the right place.

The first success story you’re going to run into this fall is the MSC football squad. Last year’s New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) Champions finished the season with an 8-2 mark and advanced to the final game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Eastern Regional playoffs before getting knocked off by Ithaca College.

Also participating in the fall is the MSC baseball team, fresh off their third-place finish in the 1986 NCAA Division III World Series. The Indians are a perennial NJAC power, and, come springtime, they will be looking for their fourth straight World Series appearance.

The MSC soccer team is coming off a transition year, but with a strong core returning the fall, the club looks to finish with a winning record.

Coming off their initial season in competition, the MSHockey Club looks to renew some of the excitement they brought to the campus last year. The Indians, swapped defending champion Wagner College in the final of the Metropolitan Collegiate Hockey Conference (MCHC) playoffs to be crowned champions in their very first year of existence.

By the middle of the fall semester, you’ll be hearing a lot of things about the MSC wrestling and men’s and women’s basketball teams. Last season, the grapplers took the NCAA Division III championship for the first time in two years.

The men’s basketball team is always a consistent performer behind the coaching of Ollie Geison, who captured his fourth coaching win last season. The women’s basketball team has started even greater success in the two years since Jill Jeffrey took over the reigns as Head Coach. With what was becoming a floundering program, the women have rebuilt themselves back to dominance. Last season they sported a 16-6.

Excitement is the one word that comes to mind when describing the MSC swim teams. The women’s swim team won their fourth straight State Championship title last year and look to repeat again this year. The men are going to try to equal last year’s performance which included a second place finish in the Metropolitan Swimming Conference Championships that saw 11 school records fall.

The men’s and women’s track and field (and cross-country) teams are far from shabby, as well. The men’s team placed second and third, respectively, in their conference championship meets last season. The women’s team has been bolstered by an increased turnout, while the women’s squad performed tremendously with only seven athletes.

If there are any track and field athletes out there without a team to belong to, this is one area where you have an opportunity to be a part of a great team. A few more healthy bodies are all that’s needed to make the Menard’s field teams championship caliber.

Last, but certainly not least, words of praise must also be uttered for the Indian tennis, softball, and lacrosse teams. The men’s tennis team comes off one of their best seasons ever, and were it not for an abundance of rainouts, could have eclipsed the school record for number of wins.

The lacrosse squad has never failed to excite the fans who come to watch. Despite an up-and-down year and some injures, the Indians played near .500.

The softball team has its share of laurels as well. They have been one of the most consistent teams in the NJAC this year and, with improved turnouts, could be a championship quality team.

Whether you’re a die-hard sports fan with a soft spot in your heart for winning or just someone who likes to watch (or participate in) quality performances, you’ll see it on every playing field, in every gym, and in The Montclarion sports pages every week.

Even today, there are still a few students who don't have an HP calculator.

Burning the midnight oil may be necessary. Burning the 2:00 or 3:00 or 4:00 AM oil is absurd. Especially when an HP calculator can get the answers you want — in time to get a good night's sleep. For instance, our HP-15C Professional Scientific Calculator has more built-in advanced math and statistical power than any other calculator. Our HP-41 Advanced Scientific Calculators have even more potential.

That's because there are better than 2500 software packages available for them — more than for any other calculator. There's even a special plug-in software package (we call it the Advantage Module) that's designed to handle the specific problems an engineering student has to solve in his, or her, course work.

No wonder professionals in engineering and the physical sciences widely regard HP calculators as the best you can get. So check one out. Then, when your mother calls to ask if you're getting enough sleep, you won't have to lie.

By the way, if you want more information, just give us a call at 800-FOR-HPPC. Ask for Dept.658C.

QUESTION #1.

WHAT IS THE RIGHT CHOICE FOR MOST COLLEGE STUDENTS?

a) AT&T — for everyday discounts of 40% to over 50% off weekday rates on out-of-state calls.

b) Short bursts of intense study followed by hours of frantic partying.

c) AT&T — for exceptional value and high quality service.

d) AT&T — for collect, third-party and operator-assisted long distance calls.

e) Any class that does not conflict with “The Love Connection.”

If you picked A, C and D, you’re destined for great things. Like AT&T Long Distance Service. AT&T offers so many terrific values. Like a 40% to over 50% discount off our day rate on night, evening, and weekend out-of-state calls. Imagine what you’ll do with the money you could save. Imagine what your parents would do if they found out.

Of course, you can count on AT&T for clear long distance connections any place you call. And AT&T gives you immediate credit for wrong numbers.

To find out more about why you should choose AT&T, give us a call. And if you picked B and E, call anyway. You could probably use someone to talk to.

Call toll-free today, at 1-800-222-0300.

By Pasquale DiFulco

I've got a secret! Wanna hear it? Then listen to Cinema Verite. The band is Dramarama. Remember that, because it's only a matter of time before that name comes up again.

This local band (all the guys hail from Wayne) got its start selling records and ended up making them. Bassist Chris Carter and lead throat John Easdale used to sell imported vinyl out of a joint called Looneytunez Records. clientele included Ian Hunter and Mick Ronson. One day, the guys said, "What the hell?" and recorded a pretty decent cover of Lou Reed's "Femme Fatale." After playing some clubs, they released an EP. Comedy, in late 1984.

Jose Rula, a D.J. and music critic in France, got hold of Comedy, played it, and the French ate it up—enough so to send it to Number One. What did the boys do with all this sudden fame? "We went to France," Carter said. "It was a safe move."

While in France, they recorded Cinema Verite for New Rose Records while still under the guise of their own label, Records. All five songs on the EP appear on the album. "Visiting the Zoo" kicks in with drummer Jesse's pounding backbeat. Guitarists Pete Wood and Mr. E Boy join in with some backbone of their own. Then Easdale assaults you with his barroom-scarred voice, some hot licks are thrown in for good measure, and two weeks later you catch yourself singing the song while you're driving to work.

"Questions?" is a lost lover's lament with guts and grinding guitars. "Does she talk about me? Does she talk about me?" Any guy who has ever lost his lady can identify here.

"Scenario" is about "some girl," according to Easdale. The haunting chorus and hard-hitting lyrics are mesmerizing. "Sister's in the Everglades/ Mother swallows razor blades/Father makes the flags for all the Labor Day parades." This song has bite.

"Anything, Anything" was the most-requested single this spring on Rodney Bingenheimer's show on KROQ, 92 K-Rock's sister station out in Pasadena. I can understand why. It's an adrenaline-pumping song that makes you want to move.

Pianist Theothorus Anathasious (what?) introduces a cover of David Bowie's "Candidate" with a tender touch of the keyboards, and the song slowly whips itself into a frenzy.

It's nice to hear a remake do justice to the original. "Emerald City" shows off Dramarama's ability to play and sing with soul, in addition to kick-ass rhythm and blues and rock and new wave and...it's tough to lump this band into one category. I guess they can be called a crossover band. Whatever term you use, Dramarama is HOT! Critic Robert Christgau (Village Voice, Creem, Playboy) gave Cinema Verite an A-. Robert O'Brien featured the band in Rockbill, where he stated, "After listening to this record, all doubts will be quelled. I love it!"

Pasquale DiFulco is telling you to open your ears. Dramarama is going to be big, no doubt. Catch their act at the China Club. Buy the album. Request it on WMSC. But do something. Quick.
Sports clinic focuses on thinking positively

By Perry Schwarz

"Whatever the mind can conceive and believe, can be achieved."

Competition is a vehicle that separates the winners from the losers. Everyone must face competition at some point in their life. Gilbert devised "The Winner's Workshop." These are one-day workshops which are held off-campus. Gilbert ran the CE and B Elieve. Can Be

"Aim high, aim far, and aim for the best works for them," said Gilbert. "Sports psychology is my life's work, it took a great deal of time and hard work to put 'The Winner's Workshop' together and I love it. The two main reasons why I do it is because I love to teach, and I love to help people reach their goals and develop their full potential."

Additional workshops have been scheduled in the fall so many more can take advantage of a "mind workout." They will be held October 26 and 27, and December 7 and 15. All are held at the Holiday Inn in Wayne. Further information can be obtained by calling 893-5154.

Opportunity Fund (OOF) program this summer and assist with the Big League Baseball Camp held on campus.

"There are many things I wanted to do last year, but couldn't because of my weight," Hernandez said. "Now I am playing football in a comfortable, enjoyable way."

Hernandez not only toned up his body, but his mind as well. He is prepared for the exciting season, but if something goes wrong he knows that he has the strength to bounce back mentally and produce effectively. Although the corporate fitness major has personal goals, he also has the desire to provide encouragement and support for the rookies.

"We have a lot of new personnel at the running back position, I'm glad to work with these new guys. If I have to come out of a game, I want my teammates to be comfortable with my replacement," Hernandez said. "They (the new players) have a lot of physical talent, but now their minds must be molded in order to play football and I will help them do that."

Position coach Rich O'Connor worked with Hernandez for the last two seasons. He noted the back's improvement and feels he can utilize him much more this season.

"I'm happy Eddie lightened himself while maintaining his strength," O'Connor said. "I think he improved by becoming a complete back, and with his agility he should be able to handle the ball more than in the past."

Hernandez was mostly used last season as a blocker, but with his new-and-improved image he will be ready to take on bigger and more important tasks.

MSC’s Ed Hernandez: Dedicated to the game

MSC’s already potent offense will be bolstered by running back Ed Hernandez.

By Perry Schwarz

"MAN’S HAPPINESS IN LIFE AND FOOTBALL IS THE RESULT OF HIS OWN EFFORT."

MSC running back Ed Hernandez didn’t reach his potential until the midpoint of last season. This year, there’s a new backfield, a new attitude, but most of all there’s a new and improved Hernandez. New and improved for many reasons.

“At the conclusion of last season, I took a week off for relaxation,” Hernandez said. “Once that week was over I went back to work on bettering my game so I would be at my best shape when training camp and the season arrived."

The two-year fullback weighed 243 pounds at the conclusion of the 1985 season. On August 22 (opening day of camp), he reported in at a trim weight of 228. Hernandez concentrated on sprints, speedwork, and agility drills. In addition to his intense, dedicated training he still found time to be a resident assistant for the Educational

Training camp: the Indians are back

By Perry Schwarz

"VICTORY IN SPITE OF ALL, VICTORY HOWEVER LONG AND HARD MAYBE, FOR WITHOUT VICTORY THERE IS NO SURVIVAL" - VIDKUN QUISLING

The time has arrived again for MSC's football training camp. The rookies join the veterans in one of the toughest periods of the football season. In fact, those who survive camp usually stay with the team for the entire season. The advantage veterans have over the rookies is that they know what's in store for them the next two years. Many players and fans have a naive perception about camp. Camp is hard on the body and mind. Everything done in the 10 days is by schedule. Practice, dining, meetings - all of it is according to a schedule devised by the coaches. The players are required to follow it. Those who are not in shape mentally or physically, when camp opens are the ones who filter out of the program. "I hope you guys did a lot of roadwork this summer," head coach Rick Giancola said at the organized meeting August 22nd. "It's important you are in shape because we want you to concentrate on football the next few days. You should already be in shape."

The faces of a select few drop. They are the ones who won't make it to September. Don't give yourself the illusion of what these players go through here is a three-day account of the MSC football preparation period.

DAY I: The players and coaches congregate in Richardson Hall to hear the law of training camp and the rules for the season. The first is that "no female cousins" are to visit. Upon dismissal, group meetings are held in Partridge and Richardson Hall. All the mental preparation is done for the next week in these meetings. Defensive back coach Terry Porter presented his goals to the secondary personnel in no uncertain terms. "I would like us to lead the nation in interceptions and win another championship," Porter said.

For the veterans, the strategies are just a review, but for the newcomers, MSC football will occupy their mind for the next few days, and all they will see are X's and O's.

DAY II: (9 a.m.-12 p.m.) The information introduced last night is put to work on the field. Throughout the practice the atmosphere is light and business-like. There is no time for "playing around." At the end of practice, the players run sprints. The sprints help build up the stamina and increase the running form of the athletes. But they also hurt, noticeable.
