Students Enjoy Summer At Disney

MSC's Co-op program has helped many students decide on a career, but none had as much fun as Paige L. Albano, John J. Dorval, Lawrence J. Fogerty, Lisa E. Parvin, Douglas W. Todd, and Timothy J. Weir. Here, they pose with Snow White as part of their summer co-op in Disney World.

Now that you've survived the first few grueling days of college life you can rest easy knowing that the worst is over, and the best is yet to come.

Even though you may have moved all your worldly possessions into your dorm room, and soon realized your roommate has about enough space to fit his/her toothbrush; or stood on an Ad/Drop line for 45 minutes, only to discover you've scheduled yourself for 8:00 a.m. classes Mon.-Fri.; trust me, it does get better. And if in the midst of it all, you find yourself screaming at the guy sitting next to you in Mythology, "What did I do to deserve this cruel and unjust punishment?" - you may want to consider seeking professional help.

Seriously, new beginnings are never easy. But, If you take the time to look around you, you'll be surprised at how much is going on at MSC. Our Student Government Organization includes just about every club, sorority, fraternity, or group you can think of. Inside The Montclarion/Guide you'll find a complete listing of all these organizations. Although a new semester means getting back to the books, don't rule out getting involved.

These pages also contain helpful information about the campus on the whole, where to park, where not to park... We've also listed valuable information about the town of Montclair. Something you shouldn't miss.

The Montclarion has also started it's own new beginning. This fall semester many of our staff members are new, we also have all new people in our business and graphics department. This issue is just a preview of the changes you can expect. Our layout and design will be different, so you can look forward to a whole new look for The Montclarion.
From the desk of the President

As we begin this new academic year, I am pleased to have this opportunity to extend a warm welcome to all of you. Those of you returning to the campus have my best wishes for another challenging and rewarding year at MSC.

To our new freshman class, more than 1300 strong and to the 500 students who have transferred to MSC, I offer my hope that your first year at MSC will be especially rewarding. I know I speak for our entire campus community when I say that we are delighted that you have chosen to be with us and that we will make every effort to ensure that you will soon feel “at home” on our campus.

This new academic year begins on an exceptionally high note. As our returning students know, MSC was the only state college to receive two awards from the Governor’s Challenge Grant Program. With the help of funds from this program, designed to establish innovative programs of excellence at the New Jersey State Colleges, we have created an Institute for Critical Thinking and expanded our programs in the Fine and Performing Arts.

The Critical Thinking Institute will infuse techniques for in-depth analysis, comprehension and academic inquiry in teaching across the curriculum. Its work will bring an added measure of intellectual enrichment to our campus community.

Challenge Grant funds dedicated to the Fine and Performing Arts have allowed us to bring nationally acclaimed arts organizations including Alvin Ailey Dance Center, the New York Philharmonic and the American Symphony Orchestra to our campus not only to perform but also to offer master classes for MSC students. A variety of artists and performers will be “in-residence” throughout the academic year.

The Opera and Music Theatre Institute was established last year under the general mentorship of opera basso Jerome Hines, who serves as its director, enrolling its first class of 25 pre-professional vocalists, musicians and stage managers from a field of 300 applications received from throughout the U.S. These students will get a unique headstart on entry to the professional world of opera and theatre, fields that have traditionally been difficult to enter without the help of inside professional contacts. They will get the rare chance to learn from, and perform with, leading professional contacts.

Those of us who stayed on campus during the summer months witnessed a few notable activities worthy of mention. Among them were the resolutions passed by the New Jersey Assembly and Senate commending the MSC Indians baseball team, which emerged as the NCAA, Division III world champions; the establishment of the College of a new Inn of Court training program designed to give young lawyers access to seasoned trial lawyers who can teach them the “tricks of the trade”; the third consecutive Summer Institute in Court Interpretation, an intensive course which this year focused on training educators from various colleges and universities throughout the U.S. who plan to implement court interpreter curriculums at their home institutions; and the seating of two MSC students, Michael Rodak and Robin Miller, on the College’s Board of Trustees. Michael is the first student to serve with voting power, a historic change which I believe will positively enhance student involvement in the college community.

I have told you all that you will take advantage of the many opportunities offered to you to become active members of our college community. I can assure you that involvement will enhance your college immeasurably.

SGA Prez stresses student involvement

You have probably heard this more times than you would like to admit and will probably continue hearing it for some time to come. Yet, I will say it anyway - Welcome (back) to Montclair State College.

For some, you will be embarking on an adventure unlike any you have experienced. For others, you will be returning to share your stories of a summer gone by, of the “shore” beaches (and bars,) of your lousy jobs or your newly found romances.

Still others will be glad or sad to be entering your final year of college, looking forward to continuing your education or worse, “the real world.”

Whether an incoming freshman, a transfer or returning student, all of you will experience the benefits of MSC. Some may be here to take advantage of our highly accredited faculty. Others may be awaiting to get involved in one of the Student Government’s sixty-seven chartered organizations or take part in one of over 500 events these organizations provide the campus community.

As President of the Student Government, I urge you to get involved in at least one of these student organizations: Class I, II, III, or IV, a fraternity or sorority or a sports club. These groups offer a wide variety of activities to satisfy everyone’s interest and allow you to gain valuable interpersonal and leadership skills.

In addition, I hope each of you will take advantage of the many services the Student Government provides. Be it free legal aid, discount prescriptions, college rings or this year’s incredible discount card, your student fee allow you to offer these services at either free or a reduced cost to you.

In closing, I wish each of you the best of luck and good times while at MSC and hope you will share with me any concerns or ideas you may have to better the campus. Have a safe and enjoyable school year.

There’s more to Montclair than meets the eye—just take a look

A rewarding college experience must include more than lectures, textbooks and brain-killing beer parties. College is the time to pursue higher interests — to expand your aesthetic experience — and Montclair is the place to do it. While MSC offers a variety of cultural programming, your search for artistic diversion need not be confined to the campus.

Montclair is renowned for its active cultural life, which includes theatre, film, music and art. It’s a great place to explore, see, experience and learn.

Theatre

One of Montclair’s most important cultural institutions is the Whole Theatre at 544 Bloomfield Ave. This theatre is distinguished by its fine professional casts and quality programming.

The upcoming season includes “Beautiful Bodies” by Laura Cunningham, which opens Oct. 20 and stars Karen Allen and Mary Kay Place; “Adaptors” by the Movement Theatre, opening Dec. 1; “School for Wives” by Moliere, opening Jan. 5; “Tracers” by a group of Vietnam veterans, which opens Feb. 9 and “The Rose Tattoo” by Tennessee Williams, opening March 8.

Music

Montclair also offers frequent opportunities to enjoy classical music. Local ensembles and choirs perform in the town’s churches, and concerts are given in the Montclair High School Auditorium.

Highbrow fans will not want to miss the New Jersey Chamber Music Society’s performances at the Union Congregational Church in Upper Montclair.

Museums and Galleries

The Montclair Art Museum on South Mountain and Bloomfield Ave. is an important center for the visual arts. This season’s highlights include exhibits on Navajo weaving and bronze works by Allen Houser. For more information, call 746-5555.

Area art galleries include Discerning Images Gallery at 204 Bellevue Ave. (744-4818) and Vitti Artisans Gallery at 590 Valley Road (746-1715).

For history buffs, the Israel Crane House at 110 Orange Rd. provides an interesting diversion. Tours are offered by hostesses in authentic 18th Century garb. Early American cooking can be sampled here amid a period setting. Craft shows and sales also take place; lessons in weaving and other period crafts are offered. For more information, call 744-1796.

Books

Good students always need a good library. There is a large public library in Montclair and a smaller branch in Upper Montclair. The main branch offers film festivals as well as a large selection of books. For bargains on used books, try Yesterday’s Books and Records on Bloomfield Ave.

Shops

If shopping and browsing are more your style, Montclair is a veritable shopper’s paradise. There is a wealth of interesting little shops featuring antiques, books, clothing, gifts and practically anything else.

Bloomfield Avenue is a major town center, Church Street, off Bloomfield, offers unusual boutiques and restaurants in a quaint village-type atmosphere. Other shopping centers include Watchung Plaza and Upper Montclair Center on Valley Road.

Funny, it doesn’t look like it’s worth $12,000.

As a college student, you’re exploring a lot of great ideas. Here’s another. A part-time, commissioned Sales Consultant position at Macy’s can help you turn something as basic as a tie into $12,000 a year.
You can buy a lot of books with that kind of money.
The Macy’s sales experience. Apply in person or call the Employment Office at Macy’s Paramus, Garden State Plaza, 843-9100; or Macy’s Willowbrook, 100 Route 46, Wayne, 785-9525. We are an equal opportunity employer, m/f.

Located in a relatively upper-class suburb, MSC seems to most new students to be without crime problems. However, this is not the case; like any other campus, students must take care of themselves as well as their personal possessions. Do not believe it is safe to leave a car unlocked, walk alone at night, or carry large sums of money in your pocket. Crimes do occur on campus, so know how to protect yourself and your property.

In the Dorms:
1. Keep your door locked at all times even if taking a short nap, visiting a friend's room, entertaining friends, or just sitting and studying.
2. Always ask people to identify themselves before opening your door to them.
3. Don't leave keys, checkbooks, credit cards, money, jewelry, or other valuable lying about in your room.
4. Never lend your dorm key to anyone. Report lost or stolen keys immediately to housing personnel and to campus police.
5. Do not allow strangers to attend your parties.

Tom Kimmel—5 To 1 (PolyGram)

Tom Kimmel has a bone to pick with the record industry. "I had to cut through the label's perception that Nashville couldn't produce rock 'n' roll." 5 To 1, Kimmel's debut album on PolyGram, definitely proves that the Nashville sound isn't just cheatin' hearts and steel guitars. The ten tracks on this record rock just as hard as anything coming out of New York, L.A., or points in between.

Tom Kimmel's life reads like a classic rock song: born in Memphis, he was raised on Elvis, the Beatles and Jimi Hendrix. He joined his first rock band in high school, worked as a waiter, cook and factory worker and gigged around Nashville for six years.

This upbringing shines through on 5 To 1, a great album in the mainstream rock style of such artists as Bruce Springsteen, John Cougar, and Bryan Adams. I use these artists only as reference points, since Kimmel is a truly original performer. In fact, his songs have already been covered by such artists as Johnny Cash, Roger McGuinn and Joe Cocker.

For a new artist, Kimmel displays excellent abilities both lyrically and instrumentally. The title track illustrates his lyrical style perfectly. "Well the Greyhound Station is a place to eat/And new shops open up and down the street/But just around the corner it's a loaded gun/And bums over hookers may be 5 to 1." And almost every track displays a talent for combining vocals, guitars, drums and keyboards.

"Tryin' To Dance" presents another effective fusion of words and music. Over a pumping rhythm section Kimmel lays down a bleak picture of life in the 80s. Guitarist Kenny Greenberg, who is the instrumental star of the album, contributes a searing solo with some wah-wah effects. Other standout tracks include "Shake" and "No Tech," both of which highlight the talents of Kimmel's excellent band.

5 To 1 is a truly great debut album and I look forward to more of the same from Kimmel. Greenberg, who is the band's musical director, may be the next "hot" guitarist of the 80's. Tom Kimmel is already a force to be reckoned with on the rock scene today.

Shy—Excess All Areas (RCA)

Remember back in the 70s when it seemed that everyone formed a disco group after the success of "Saturday Night Fever"? Well in 1987, thanks to bands like Bon Jovi, Cinderella, and Poison, the current trend seems to be "Hey, let's form a glam metal band!"

One of the latest is a five-man outfit from England called Shy. Their second release on RCA, Excess All Areas is a textbook example of mediocre metal. The only excess present on this album is an excessive lack of originality. Believe me, everything here is borrowed from bands who have done it better. "Emergency" sounds like the second coming of Def Leppard, but since the original group is still alive and kicking, do we really need another version? "Young Heart" sports a Judas Priest-styled guitar solo, but it lacks the power of Priest. And "Just Love Me" is Shy's token ballad. Ooh, they're just sooo sensitive!

Correct me if I'm wrong, but don't heavy metal bands usually emphasize guitar? Shy is more of a heavy synthesizer band. If the Pope needs a backing group for his upcoming U.S. tour, the angelic backing vocals and soaring syn lines of Shy would suit him perfectly. Of course Shy's lackluster cover of the Cliff Richard hit "Devil Woman" would have to be dropped.

Shy in a nutshell: Clothes — fringe leather; Hair — mountainous mousse; Sound — "What, you mean we can't just get by with just our clothes and hair?"

Get the point?

Vince Gill—The Way Back Home (RCA)

Vince Gill's The Way Back Home reminds me of one of those small movies that isn't splashed all over the papers but nevertheless has a certain charm to it.

Gill is no rookie in the music business. In 1984, he won the Academy of Country Music's Top New Male Vocalist award. Yet The Way Back Home, Kimmel's third album still has a certain appeal that many artists seem to lose after their first album or two.

Vince Gill is a good country artist. Along with the emergence of quality country artists like Dwight Yoakam and Steve Earle, it appears that country music has begun to return to the glory of its past tradition.

The three best songs on this album are all up-tempo numbers. "Everybody's Sweetheart" sounds like a Dave Edmunds/Nick Lowe rockabilly number and features an interesting chorus: "She's everybody's sweetheart but mine/Should have kept her barefoot/Barefoot and pregnant all the time."

"Let's Do Something" is another twangy guitar rave-up with great backing vocals by Bonnie Raitt. The album is filled with great vocals by such artists as Raitt, Emmylou Harris, and Roseanne Cash. And in "Baby That's Tough" Gill creates a 60's country sound with lots of reverb and bass vocals.

On some of the album's slow numbers, Gill teeters on the edge of sappiness. But these numbers are saved by some nice instrumental work. All of the songs, good or bad, feature classic country electric and pedal steel guitar. This may not be a landmark album in country music history, but Vince Gill's The Way Back Home is worth at least one listen.

Baseball...

There were great performances and drama connected with this drive to the title. The memories were many. Blow after blow, hit after hit, the players stayed alive and never gave up, a credit to the entire sports program. If ever a team deserved a national championship, this was the one.

First baseman Pepe Herrero was named Player of the Year and Vanderoef was named Pitcher of the Year for the New Jersey Athletic Conference. Both, incidentally, will return next season when the Indians defend their championship. Next season looks to be a rebuilding year for MSC, as they lose three starters and two pitchers. Geez, doesn't that sound familiar?

Bill Dioguardi, former MSC athletic director, passed away on May 31, 1987. Dioguardi served MSC for 30 years as head of the sports department. His entire life centered around the betterment of MSC athletes and sports programs.

His contributions were unsurpassed in the state of New Jersey. No athletic director could match his innovative ideas and wits. In fact, he set the tone for the New Jersey Athletic Conference. Below are some comments from the people who knew Dioguardi well. Many had a long-term relationship with him as a coach, administrator or friend. Dioguardi influenced or touched all these people in some facet, and each remembers him in a special way.

Oliver Gelton
MSC Men's Basketball Coach: “Bill will be remembered for many things, but there are two primary contributions which stand out the most in my mind. Bill wrote the athletic history in the NJAC. He separated athletics from physical education in New Jersey. His leadership helped make athletics a separate entity. Secondly, the outdoor facilities as they stand today are a direct result of his work. He was instrumental in getting these facilities which helped in recruiting the caliber of athletes that attend MSC. Thus, he helped to develop MSC from primarily a teacher's college into a multi-purpose institution, attracting a number of diversified student athletes.”

Rick Giancola
MSC Head Football Coach, Assistant Baseball Coach: “Bill Dioguardi was way ahead of his time— a pioneer. There are a few things that vividly stand out in my mind about the man. He was an innovative leader and fearlessly made drastic changes, thereby becoming the focal point of athletic directors. When he made a decision within the conference, everyone followed suit. Because of Bill, MSC was the first school to have a lighted field and astroturf. Also, he was a tough man, but in a positive way. He was very sharp and he knew how an athletic program should be run.”

Dr. David W.D. Dickson
Former MSC President: “Mr. Dioguardi was the reason why we were successful in those years. He had an ingredient which pulled us together to win the championship. His contributions were unsurpassed in the state of New Jersey. No athletic director could match his innovative ideas and wits. In fact, he set the tone for the New Jersey Athletic Conference.
