Impounded Vehicle stolen from towing co.

By Lynn M. Cowan
News Editor

An impounded vehicle was reported stolen by Roach Towing when the car owner removed it from the towing grounds on Sept. 13. On Sept. 14, campus police spotted the vehicle on MSC grounds, and impounded it a second time.

Sometime between Sept 13 and Sept 15, a 1984 Volkswagen parked in lot 13 had its stereo recovered.

The Bohn Hall director called campus police at midnight on Sept. 17 to report a disorderly resident. The student later returned to speak to the director. No charges were filed.

A stereo was stolen from a 1979 Oldsmobile sometime between Sept. 16 and Sept. 17. The car was parked in lot 20 and showed no signs of forced entry.

On Sept. 18, at 4 am, a female resident of Blanton Hall reported a theft. No charges were filed.

The intruder left only when the resident began to scream, and a fire alarm followed almost immediately, hindering police investigation.

Several other female students on the same floor reported similar experiences that night. The matter is still under investigation.

A 1983 Jeep had its stereo stolen between 10:30 am and 3:30 pm on Sept. 18. The Jeep was parked in lot 23 and was not forcibly entered.

Alleged racist flyer incident heats up

By Shawn Smith
Correspondent

At a meeting hosted by the Newark branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), minority students met to discuss what sanctions should be imposed on Iota Kappa Phi (IKP), a New Jersey Institute of Technology fraternity that posted controversial flyers at day night party, Howard Beach goes to trial!

Three cartoons were displayed on the flyer: a frightened subway passenger sitting opposite another passenger who is holding a newspaper with a headline reading, "Subway shootings every day", below it, a picture of a skeleton in typical city-street attire; and on the right, a set of footprints. Members of BSCU have interpreted the footprints to be those of slain Michael Griffith, a black youth who was killed by a car while fleeing white pursuers in Howard Beach.

IKP president Michael DiVincenzo claimed in the past the fraternity has used current event themes such as John Belushi's death, the South African Apartheid crisis, the Gary Hart-Donna Rice affair, the Iran-Contra hearings, and the Bernhard Goetz trials in their party flyers.

After two members of IKP posted the Howard Beach party flyers at MSC, Aleyah Mubarak, president of BSCU, and other members of the organization took offense.

Mubarak immediately informed Debra Smith, president of the National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) at NJIT, who had not seen the flyers because they were posted only at MSC. Mubarak then contacted Leon Squire, president of the Black Association of Student Engineers (BASE), as well as the Newark and Montclair branches of the NAACP so that a meeting could be held to decide a course of action.

DiVincenzo sent a letter of apology to Smith when he learned of the complaint against the fraternity. The fraternity members involved were disciplined, and their social chairperson dismissed.

Fenster revoked IKP's charter, terminated their campus privileges, and forbade them to have fraternity rushes.

At a Sept. 16 meeting between the NSBE and BASE of NJIT and the BSCU of MSC, members decided that the letter of apology was "totally unacceptable." Fenster also refused to accept the apology. The letter of apology was sent only to Smith, and according to her, was undated and included many typographical errors. A second letter was then sent to Smith, which, she felt, was more apologetic.

In a telephone interview on Friday, DiVincenzo claimed that he "never saw the flyer. I would not have approved of it if I had." He usually approves all flyers, he said, but this one had been made after 12 am on Sunday and was delivered Monday after 4 p.m. to MSC. DiVincenzo says that a new fraternity brother did not "understand the implications of the consequences" when he made the flyer.

Concerned students from MSC and the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) met at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) Newark branch on Sept. 18 to discuss the controversial flyer incident involving Iota Kappa Phi, an NJIT fraternity.

MSC to promote a theme party.

The meeting, held on Sept. 18 at the NAACP Newark branch, was attended by minority students from NJIT and MSC. The students voted that the fraternity should be suspended for one year, the second half of which some form of community service directed at minorities must be performed.

Additional proposals suggested that a one-year probationary period should be imposed when the charter is reinstated. A committee made up of a cross-section of the minority organizations from both NJIT and MSC will determine if the requirements for reinstatement have been met. The sanctions will have to be approved by NJIT President Fenster.

IKP, a fraternity known for using current event headlines as party themes, was accused recently of racism by MSC's Black Student Cooperative Union (BSCU). The incident was sparked by a flyer distributed on campus that read, "Iota Kappa Phi (the green house) presents another Iota night party, Howard Beach goes to trial!"

Three cartoons were displayed on the flyer: a frightened subway passenger sitting opposite another passenger who is holding a newspaper with a headline reading, "Subway shootings every day", below it, a picture of a skeleton in typical city-street attire; and on the right, a set of footprints. During last night’s SGA meeting, the legislature approved a name change for MSC’s literary magazine Four Walls, a class I organization of the SGA, to its original name of Quarterly. However, the SGA voted against approving a budget for this organization until more financial information is available. A vote will take place in two weeks.

In other news, the first freshman election to be held in seven years has nine candidates for five open seats. This special election will be held in the Student Center lobby on Sept. 28. All freshman students are eligible to cast a vote and may do so between 10 am and 7 pm.

Iota Kappa Phi, a New Jersey Institute of Technology fraternity, was de-chartered by the president of NJIT. This action was prompted, in part, by the Black Student Cooperative Union of MSC after posters with racial implications were found on campus. “De-chartering was kind of tough, in my opinion. Just be aware that flyers may be considered insensitive by some people,” said SGA president Rob Acerra. The posters were advertising a party with a theme of ‘Howard Beach Goes to Trial’.

An appointment of MSC student Brent Henderson as vice president of Internal Affairs was granted after a long line of questioning. “I see many problems on campus that relate to all students which need to be fixed. I’ll do the best I can to make sure the problems are corrected,” said Henderson. “This job will entail reporting all non-academic concerns within the college to the SGA.”

For over a year, the college has been developing a marketing approach toward enrollment at MSC. According to Cynthia Barns, assistant to the president, the purpose of this approach is to increase interest from potential students and add to public awareness of the college. One way of accomplishing this will be through newspapers and radio.

Finally, the SGA legislature voted to change their fiscal year for greater ease in auditing. The new fiscal year will run from June 1 to May 31.

On-campus recruitment

What do Haagan Dazs, Prudential, U.S. Secret Service, Xerox, Ingersoll-Rand and AT&T have in common? Beginning on Nov. 2 to Dec. 4, and from Feb. 8 to May 2, these and other employers will send representatives to MSC to interview graduating seniors for entry-level positions.

New Jersey’s healthy economy has attracted many of the companies that are planning to recruit this year.

Representatives will interview graduating seniors for job titles such as personnel trainer, sales representative, financial analyst, assistant buyer, staff auditor, programmer, management trainee, and commercial underwriter.

Seniors interested in participating must complete the required forms and provide potential employers with copies of their resume as soon as possible.

To help seniors prepare for their interviews, Career Services offers a series of interview and resume writing seminars. Seniors are strongly urged to attend these sessions prior to signing up for interviews.

Students eligible for recruitment must be currently enrolled at MSC, and be ready to graduate in December, May, or August.

Flyer incident

how it could be interpreted that way, but (racism) was not intended. Howard Beach was not a racist incident. Also, the footprints on the flyer were intended to be green, representing the footprints leading to the fraternity house.” DIV- incenzo also said that “the party themes are not meant to give the fraternity’s position on any given issue.”

He also stated that the whole incident has been “blown out of proportion. They (NJIT) just want to make examples of us. The school is reversing the tables, and we’re the ones being discriminated upon. The last thing Iota Kappa Phi is racist."

The consensus of the members at the Sept. 16 meeting was that other measures of disciplinary action should be taken against IKP. President Fenster, according to Smith, had said that he would support whatever decisions were made by the group.

Minority students later expressed their feelings about the incident at the Sept. 18 meeting. Jeffrey Wiley of NJIT said, “celebrating the Howard Beach incident and the Goetz shooting is celebrating the killing of African-Americans in America.” Donald Grant, also from NJIT, said that the incident “shows a deeper problem at NJIT and the surrounding community.”

What angered Smith the most was that the fraternity “made contradictory statements in the same breath.”

According to Smith, the fraternity leadership said, “Anyone would be blind and stupid not to notice that this is a controversial issue,” yet stated in their letter of apology that their members “were unaware of the racial implications.”

Smith said, “I’m hurting for the fraternity. I don’t want to hurt anyone, just set an example. I think the fraternity is saying, ‘We made a mistake and don’t understand why, but we’re willing to listen.’”

Squire also thinks that the fraternity is sincere. “They did something wrong and sincerely want to make amends,” he said.

Mubarak, however, differs with Smith and Squire, saying, “I think the Iotas are pleading; they’ll do anything to keep their name. The sanctions developed will...be a model for other campus communities.”

“HOW I MADE $18,000 FOR COLLEGE BY WORKING WEEKENDS.”

As soon as I finished Advanced Training, the Guard gave me a cash bonus of $2,000. Then, under the New GI Bill, I’m getting another $5,000 for tuition and books.

Not to mention my monthly Army Guard paychecks. They’ll add up to more than $11,000 over the six years I’m in the Guard.

And if I take out a college loan, the Guard will help me pay it back—up to $1,500 a year, plus interest.

It all adds up to $18,000—or more—for college for just a little of my time. And that’s a heck of a better deal than any car wash will give you.

THE GUARD CAN HELP PUT YOU THROUGH COLLEGE, TOO.

It's 5 pm: Do you know where your car is?

Rumor has it that MSC students are placing bets on whether their car will appear in next week's Campus Police report under the stolen car section. Aside from the laborious task of searching for a parking space each day, the MSC commuter is increasingly faced with the possibility of not having a car at the end of the day. Car theft is a problem that has plagued the campus for several years. The scenario goes something like this:

Nearing the end of the day the commuter is overcome with a gnawing fear that his car may have been vandalized or stolen. Suddenly, his head becomes filled with images of his car parked somewhere on Route 3, only to be grimly reminded that the shuttle doesn't go that route. Where is his car?

We here at The Montclarion feel that there is an urgent need to upgrade the present security system that exists at MSC. The weekly Campus Police reports indicate that crime is a major problem. The increase of thefts and incidents of vandalism serve as proof. If you read the reports you'll see how many stereos are stolen and cars vandalized within a week's time.

Campus Police can not be expected to carry the entire burden of MSC's safety problems, though. The college as a whole should take on the responsibility and implement a course of action.

For 2,200 MSC students this campus is their home. As members of a community their needs must be addressed. The student voice carries a lot of weight. Maybe if we turned our attention to the needs of the students the increase of thefts would decrease.

It's 5 pm: Do you know where your car is?
Iota Kappa Phi sends apology to MSC

The Brothers of Iota Kappa Phi (NIJT) are sincerely apologizing for using the very sensitive issue of Howard Beach in a poster advertising a Tuesday night party on Sept. 15, 1987.

We realize the flyer has racial implications and we are sorry if we have offended any individuals or organization. Never again will an affair like this happen in the future of our fraternity. We hope our sincerest apologies are accepted.

The Brotherhood of Iota Kappa Phi

Alumnus applauds racism editorial

To the Editor:

Realizing the sensitive nature of the situation arising between MSC's Black Student Cooperative Union (BSCU) and NIJT's local Kappa Phi (IKP) fraternity, I want to commend you on your editorial of Sept. 17.

Your handling of the subject was both rational and unbiased—something not often seen at the college newspaper level, but often at The Montclarion.

It was important for you to note the seriousness of this situation without ignoring any flames with brush statements. MSC doesn't need a revolution, and you helped prevent that with your responsible coverage.

I agree that the initial blame goes to the fraternity, which acted irresponsibly—probably not maliciously. But a flippant attitude toward something as serious as the Howard Beach murder, regardless of its racial implications, does not reflect well on the fraternity at all and they certainly deserve the negative criticism. As you stated, "Racial tension is no laughing matter."

Yet, revolutions are not the answer to soothing racial tensions, wifer. Nor is anger. Contempt breeds contempt. Period. Retaliation is just an extension of the cold war with minority groups.

MSC's BSCU had a right to be angry at the posters placed on campus, which do all human beings. They were an affront to all people—black or white. However, BSCU could have chosen to rise above the controversy. Their unbending demands for strict and harsh punishments (dechartering, expulsion, fines, many hours of community service) certainly don't prove they are to be advanced beyond the stage of "an eye for an eye."

A cue could have been taken from Mahatma Ghandi in this case, instead of Martin Luther King. Militant attitudes must stop. Revenge is not an answer. It is a grown-up (?) form of "gotcha back."

Again, I commend you on your coverage. You are once again ahead of the game, and I commend you on your sense of responsibility.

Footsteps teaches the little facts of life

By Michael J. Cullen
Correspondent

The following review is from the dress rehearsal of the Players production of Little Footsteps.

We all know how babies are made. The Players production of Little Footsteps tells us how parents are made. A young man, who is the epitome of the Peter Pan Syndrome, and his wife who is oversheltered by her parents, are about to become parents.

The lights go up and Ben (Brian Shnipper), a childish and unambitious man in Disney underwear, immediately breaks the fourth wall by telling the audience his views on children and his wife.

In the first act Ben teases his wife like a little brother would. When Ben learns his wife is pregnant, he experiences trepidation, and finally acts resentful towards her for getting pregnant.

Shnipper is colorful. He shows real depth and understanding of his character. He has a strong grasp on the character’s soul.

The only other character in the first act is Joannie (Jodi Plaia). Joannie is a combination mother and wife to Ben. She is an overly happy girl who tries to “paint rainbows” over her problems. As she sees problems developing she paints rainbows on the nursery walls.

Joannie’s emotions may change too quickly but they are well displayed by Plaia. She clearly illustrates both the joy she feels when she first tells Ben about the baby, and the obvious blow she takes when she realizes Ben doesn’t want to be a father.

There are some slow moments during the first act. The light, silly portions of the dialogue go on a little too long. The first act is filled with lines like, “Do you want him to be born with stunted lungs?” “Hell no, let him earn them like I had to.” The emotional performances of Brian and Jodi make up for all the one liners and baby jokes.

In the second act, Joannie struggles through baby Daniel’s christening party without Ben. Here, Natalie Ferrier portrays Joannie’s mother, Charlotte. Although at times her movements seem mechanical, some good facial expressions and a great speaking voice keep her character entertaining.

Joannie’s father Gil (Kevin Carroll) is a man in his own world. He has effective few emotional scenes. Kevin makes the most of this character with some great movements and very real facial expressions. Kevin really brings a less-than-lively character to life.

The christening party guests are played by Marilyn Carroll, Cheri Biddle, and Joy Trapiani. Trapiani made the most of a very small part as Gwendolyn.

The setting in the first act is the baby’s unfinished bedroom. The walls are bright blue with half finished stencils of stars and rainbows.

In the second act solid blue walls cover up the rainbows that existed when Ben and Joannie were happily married. The nursery no longer has a bright atmosphere. The drab furniture reflects Joannie’s feelings. The setting cannot have been improved.

Jim Giordano did an extremely commendable job. The Players did the best they could with a slow moving and at times, patience demanding, play. Little Footsteps is worth seeing for the fabulous acting if not for the script.

Pink Floyd portrays new sonic brilliance

By Jim Nooney
Correspondent

Question: What new album was recorded in seven different studios and features six key musicians? The new Pink Floyd record, A Momentary Lapse of Reason, is a technical and artistic triumph for a band that has effectively combined the most effective example of Roger Waters’”Signs of Life,” the instrumental “The Wall” produced by Gilmour and Roxy Music’s Phil Manzanera.

This fusion influence is one of the more interesting aspects of the album. “One Slip” is a song written by Gilmour and Roxie Music’s Phil Manzanera. It is the most effective example of this style, as King Crimson’s Tony Levin provides a great funk bass line unlike the style of Roger Waters. Fusion may be an area Pink Floyd would do well to explore further.

The standout track on the album is “The Dogs of War.” As menacing keyboards pulse in the background, Gilmour integrates the actions of covert military personnel.

“In hard cases we wistle and deceive! Even our masters don’t know the web we weave... Invisible transfers, long distance calls! Hollow laughter in marble halls!”

So, did Pink Floyd suffer a momentary lapse in judgement when they released this album? Well, they’ll never sound quite the same without Roger Waters, but A Momentary Lapse of Reason indicates that he may not be missed. As they said in The Wall, “The show must go on!”

Are we all Molly-ed out? That is the question we must ask about Molly Ringwald’s new film, The Pick-up Artist. Also starring is Robert Downey (Back to School). He is a humorous and talented actor who tries his best to save a very disappointing film.

Downey plays Jack Jericho, a smooth-talking ladies’ man who uses the line “Did anyone ever tell you you have the face of a Botticelli and the body of a Degas?” Surprisingly it usually works.

Jack finally meets his match with Randy Jensen (Ringwald), who isn’t interested in him. She’s too concerned with her obligations, they’ll probably pull a dozen outtakes every 18 months if anyone ever tells them what. In Search of the Double Helix, The Reckoning, Unraveling the mystery of life on earth — from Darwin to DNA. The incredible chase of a nuclear submarine.

This movie should have been made for just Downey. His acting was stronger and more enjoyable. But, Ringwald is a bigger star, and the script had to accommodate her too. Randy is dull and obnoxious.

Most of Ringwald’s pictures were interesting and likable. But this one wasn’t. Possibly she’s getting old and wearing out. Maybe she should stick to the high school scene.

If anything, you should see the movie for Downey’s character. The movie starts off strong, but then, falls fast and Ringwald can’t catch it.

The Pick-up Artist was written and directed by James Toback and is rated PG-13.

Hey, hey, waddaya say? New Sting single sounds more like Rick James than Louis Armstrong. Sting tells us his roots are firmly imbedded in jazz-blues, and then he turns around and pulls this crap. Maybe I’m being a bit harsh, but that was the first impression...Report in last week’s Daily News tells us that Bono of U2 is now the richest man in Ireland. The papers put his yearly income at about $15 million. Small change, huh? Speaking of U2, isn’t it amazing that they have all six of their records in the top 20??...People really should give Jimmy Buffett a serious listen. Parrothead fans (Buffett fans) know that Buffett goes beyond “Margaritaville.” It’s time the rest of America found out...So Darryl Strawberry finally released his rap single. Don’t trample each other on the way to the record bins...Isn’t R.E.M. getting quite a bit of commercial radio play as of late?...Watch for Bobbie Michael Jackson to take over the top spot on the album chart soon...New album from Motorhead hit the stores last week. Comments anyone?...The entire Kiss catalogue is now available on CD...Check out these top 10 artists from 10 years ago this week: K.C. and the Sunshine Band, E.L.O., Shaun Cassidy, Andy Gibb and the immortal Meco, who gave us the classic “Star Wars Title Theme”...Even though The Rolling Stones are a thing of the past, expect at least three more new albums. To fulfill contractual obligations, they’ll probably pull a dozen outtakes every 18 months and pass it off as a new record. If only typewriters let you proofread your work before they printed it on the page.

What a mess! You've just proofread your term paper and it's got typos, spelling errors and misplaced paragraphs. Now, you can't hand in a paper like this. So no matter how tired you are, you've got to retype the entire thing. That is, unless you typed it on a Videowriter.

The Videowriter solves all your typing problems. Take the most obvious one: typos.

On an ordinary typewriter it would mean a bottle of white-out and a frustrating interruption. On a Videowriter it just means pressing the key marked "delete." That's all. Because you type your work on a screen before you print it on a page.

It edits. And how about those bigger problems like wanting to rearrange paragraphs? On an ordinary typewriter you have to "cut and paste" them. On a Videowriter you only have to press the key marked "move" and then indicate the area you want it moved to. It's that simple.

It spells. What happens when you're typing and you come to a word you can't spell? On an ordinary typewriter you have to stop typing, find a dictionary and look it up. Not so on a Videowriter. Spelling problems can be corrected simply by pressing the key marked "spell."

It counts words. If you've ever had a teacher tell you to write a thousand word essay, you know what a pain it is trying to count your words.

On an ordinary typewriter you have to do it with your finger. But on a Videowriter you can press a mere two buttons and it does the counting for you.

It makes multiple copies. From time to time you want a copy of what you've typed, right? Well, if you use a Videowriter you won't have to go to the school library to look for a copier machine. All you'll have to look for is the button marked "print." Press it and the Videowriter will make another original.

And because your work is automatically stored on a standard 3½" floppy disk, you can make as many copies as you want.

It obviously does a lot more than type. That's because the word processing features just go on and on.

What's more, we sell the Videowriter® Word Processor for around the price of a good electronic typewriter.

And that's quite a bargain when you consider the amount of time it'll save you. Time you can spend doing the work for your other classes.

You would do that, wouldn't you? What's more, we sell the Videowriter® Word Processor for around the price of a good electronic typewriter.

The Kean Cougars, undefeated in two games this season, take on MSC Saturday looking for their first victory ever against the Indians.

Kean, winless in 12 games with MSC, comes off victories against Brooklyn College (31-6) and Ramapo (26-6).

The Cougars have the ability to put a lot of points on the board, courtesy of their Delaware Wing-T offense. Last year, Kean averaged only 18 points per game while utilizing a veer-option offense.

First year Head Coach Glenn Hedden feels this season’s team will turn quite a few heads.

“This is a new year for the Cougars. Our approach to this season is a fresh and innovative one,” he said. “There were a lot of off-season developments within the conference and I feel our squad will be able to compete with any of the teams in the NJAC (New Jersey Athletic Conference).”

The offense is led by junior quarterback Dave Johnson and his favorite receiver, tight end Daryl Butt, Brian Gallagher and Tim Merikas head the backfield. Projected starter Jim Greene is feared to be lost for the season with a broken leg.

Along with McGuirl, freshman split end Rodney Scott is a formidable receiving threat.

The defensive unit for Kean is a young one, with only three seniors and four juniors, and the Cougars will have to adapt quickly.

Junior linebacker Mike Iezzi and senior safeties Don Zarrillo and Steve Castora will take on the key to the Cougars’ passing defense. If the Indians can shut him down, Kean will have to adapt quickly.

Kevin McGuirl. This combination accounted for two touchdowns last week against Ramapo. Overall, Johnson completed 8 of 20 passes for 131 yards.

Up front, the Cougars are led by linemen Bob Smith (sophomore) and Rich McGovern (senior).

Freshmen running backs Daryl Butt, Brian Gallagher and Tim Merikas head the backfield.

The Kean secondary—possibly the strongest point of their fine defense—will turn quite a few heads.

As for the specialty teams, senior John Mattos and Johnson will handle the kicking and punting, respectively. Both return from fine seasons last year, as Johnson averaged 38 yards a kick.

Key Matchups:
MSC QB Ed Baffige vs. Kean secondary. Baffige played very well in leading the Indians over East Stroudsburg last week, and the Kean secondary is probably the strongest point of their fine defense.

MSC Outside Linebackers vs. TE McGuirl. McGuirl is the key to the Cougars’ passing offense. The Indians can shut him down, or at least slow him down. Kean will have to adapt quickly.

MSC Offensive Line vs. Kean Defensive Front. The Cougars may have the size and experience to control the line of scrimmage.

MSC Running Back Leroy Horn vs. Kean Defense. Horn ran wild against ESU last week, enabling the Indians to keep the Warriors off balance. If the Cougars can’t contain Horn, it will be a long night for Kean.

Soccer team blanks Jersey City St., 4-0

By Dennis Campbell
Staff Writer

MSC controlled the game from start to finish, exploding for four goals to come away with a convincing win at Sprague Field last night. The Indians got on the scoreboard early, neutralizing the Jersey City State attack and coming away with the 4-0 win, upping their record to 2-1 with the victory.

Michael Nothero, commenting on the team's ability to penetrate the Goethals defense, said, "The coach is always telling us to look up, and make a quick pass. The key was that we were able to make short, quick, one-touch passes. We worked really hard in practice, and that hard work paid off tonight."

The Indians opened the game by playing a controlled, relaxed game. Nothero felt that in "the first games we were rushed in our passing, but this game the offense and defense gelled. The more games we play together, the better we are going to execute our passes. The team is more experienced, and that helps our ability to communicate on the field.

The Indian midfield was clicking early, as they pressured the Goethals defense. At the ten minute mark, the Indians worked a good give and go as Robert Briggs flicked a pass to Adam McNally, who shot just wide of the net.

MSC did manage to score the first goal at 17:46 as Nothero flicked a quick pass to Bill Fitzpatrick, who pounced on the ball in traffic to give the Indians the lead by a score of 1-0.

The Goethals came out in the second half fired up, applying a tighter, trapping defense. They had their best chance of the game to score as a Gothic attacker had a breakaway with only the goalie to beat, but Chip Hyde came out to punch the ball away and make a fine save.

Derek Lewis, who has sparked the Indian offense this season, was held in check during the first half but got into the scoring act in the second. Nothero dumped the ball to him in the middle, and Lewis was able to flick it over the head of the oncoming goalkeeper for the score.

Montclair totally dominated the final thirty minutes of the game. Chris Gonczlik was foiled outside the penalty area and the Indians were awarded a free kick outside the penalty area.

On the free kick Bill Fitzpatrick faked with his left and then passed the ball to Robert Chesney, who it turned batted home, stretching the lead to 3-0.

The Indians scored the final goal as Lewis got the ball from Nothero on the the left, streaked down the wing and made a bullet pass that went across the Goethals goal. Phil Cicirione picked up the ball on the right side and made the pass to Gonczlik in the middle, who banged home the shot to give MSC their final tally.

NY Jets tab Briggs to play as 'scab' quarterback

By Kenny Peck
Sports Editor

Former MSC quarterback Walter Briggs may be the signal caller for the New York Jets come October 4 should the current NFL strike continue.

Briggs became New Jersey's leading passer of all time last year as quarterback of the 10-2 Indians. As a reward for his efforts, he was asked by the Jets to come to training camp as a free agent.

Briggs was cut later in the summer, but when he was let go, Jets Head Coach Joe Walton was impressed. He said that while Briggs had talent, he just "lacked experience." Since then, Briggs has been playing for a semi-pro team in Connecticut, awaiting his chance.

Enter the NFL strike. The key issue of the strike is the subject of free agency. The Players' Association wants it, while the owners will approve only slight changes in the existing compensation system.

Briggs was quoted as saying he "can't even see who's right and who's wrong in this thing. I just see that it could be to my advantage."

Team officials and personnel directors around the league are busy trying to put together 40-man "scab" squads. Several players from around the league have decided to cross the picket lines, most notably quarterbacks Gary Hogeboom (Colts) and Marc Wilson (LA Raiders) and defensive end Mark Gastineau (Jets).

Hogeboom and Wilson are crossing the picket lines reluctantly, as contract clauses demanded it. Gastineau feels that Jet management has treated him well over the years and thus will not support a walkout against them.

In the event that a solution is not found, the games that were to be played this weekend will be cancelled and will not be rescheduled. Action will resume in the league the following weekend with the normal schedule, depending of course on if teams can find enough free agents to fill their rosters.

Briggs, however, will not be handed a starting job. He will have to contend with David Norrie, a UCLA graduate who was also a late cut by the Jets this past summer. The Jets are also considering activating Bill Ransdell, who is currently on the injured reserve list.
