Welcome to MSC!

The bell tower, located on the top of College Hall, has become so closely associated with Montclair State's tradition of good education that it has become the college logo. When in working order, the bell plays the college's song every hour, on the hour.

Spring week, hosted by the SGA and its organizations, is an explosion of exciting activities for students. Here, an entertainer puckers up for one of MSC's lovely ladies.

Does this look familiar? It's not easy trying to set up a home away from home without several trips up the elevator. It's even harder to adjust to life in an unfamiliar setting. If you're living on campus, don't despair! The Montclarion Guide can give you helpful hints on places to go and things to do on campus or nearby.

Students searching for a parking space? Of course not! It's the Conservation Club, shown here involved in one of the many activities it hosts throughout the year.
Enter the Montclair State experience

Here we go! Yes, we are at the beginning of a new semester. For entering freshmen and transfer students this means the beginning of a new adventure: The Montclair State experience. For returning students this marks yet another semester in the four year struggle to obtain a degree.

Initially, it may not seem like the most thrilling experience of your life. The long registration lines, the hassle of getting the right classes, the fight to get the much needed (and expensive) books, together with the frustration of being away from home for the first time is enough to dishearten even the most enthusiastic newcomer.

Sometimes, your days on campus during the first few weeks can seem like bad dreams. Even for upperclassmen, getting into a set routine is nearly impossible after over three months of vacation. It is strange to go from a strictly nine-to-five schedule (for those who work over summer break) or, even worse, a completely unstructured schedule (for those who don't) to a day where classes can fall anywhere from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and homework knows no time limits.

You may comfort yourself that things can only get better. In a few weeks, when things have settled down a little, you may actually get to like Montclair State.

Once you survive the first few weeks and have a chance to consider the many options offered to you, you may decide to join one of the many on-campus organizations. We can only encourage this. Being a member of any campus organization is an excellent way for you to make new friends and to gain insight into campus life.

Whatever your major is, whatever choices you make in your four years at Montclair, you will bring away a lifetime experience from this campus. For some, this may simply mean valuable skills for a career. For others, the list can range from better time management to a better knowledge of themselves. The possibilities are endless, but the choice is yours: the quality of your college experience depends on one thing—you.
Local places to party

Even the most learned college students need the occasional relief that only a cranking bar can give. Here is just a few for when your thirst for knowledge takes a back seat to your thirst for a cold one.

J.B. Winberie at 30 South Park St. (off Bloomfield Ave) in Montclair. Every Thursday is Hawaiian night and happy hour is daily from 4 p.m. - 7 p.m. For a mere 50 cents you can indulge in the all you can eat buffet.

Torn Hat at 38 Harrison Ave in West Orange. Happy hour is every day from 5 p.m. till 7 p.m. with two for one specials on all draft beer. A sandwich menu is available.

Tierney’s, located at 136 Valley Road in Montclair, offers live music from both cover bands and original ones every Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Charlie Browns at 50 Upper Montclair Plaza in Montclair. Monday is Monday Night Football with 20 ounce Coors mugs for $1.50. Snacks are free and served during halftime. Wednesday night between 8 p.m. and midnight is the “wing off.” You by the first round of chicken wings and the rest are free. This Thursday is Coors night. Coors t-shirts will raffled off. Next Thursday is the half-way to St. Patty’s Day Party. Bailey’s Irish Cream and Frangelico t-shirts will be raffled off. Happy hour is every day from 4 p.m. till 7 p.m.

The Office at 619 Bloomfield Ave in Montclair. Every night until September 24 is their beach party featuring summer drinks like: blue whales, bay breezes and pina coladas. Oktoberfest will run through the entire month and will featuring some limited German beers and German food. Every Monday is Monday Night Football with a discount price on drinks for the ladies.

The Grasshopper at 292 Grove Ave in Cedar Grove. Starting at 9 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays Tierney’s welcomes live bands. Food is available and there is a cover charge of $3.

The Rathskeller in the Student Center serves alcohol every Thursday night. They also feature dancing with music provided by the house disc jockey.

Have fun and drive safe.

Dear students and friends,

As I drove up Valley Road from Route 46 the other night, I was able to see Bohn Hall tower in the darkness, alive with lights. A new semester has begun at Montclair State!

The beauty of our campus setting and the hard work of all who are employed here have one basic purpose: to assist you in getting a great education. YOU are the reason Montclair State College was founded 80 years ago this year. YOU are the reason we are all here today. What began as a tiny dream has grown to be a living legacy. We welcome YOU as you become part of that legacy.

This edition of The Montclarion will inform you of all that goes on here. It's obvious that we have been waiting for you to join us. This year has never happened before and needs you to help it along. Please look to make your mark on MSC. She is rich in tradition, she is proud mother to countless alumni and she is home to faculty, staff and administrators who care for you. Montclair State will not prepare you for real life, Montclair State is real life.

In choosing a motto for his school, Dr. Chapin selected words from a line in Horace's first ode. It has set the tone for campus life since 1908, "Dum loquimur, fugerit invida aetas: CARPE DIEM", "While we are talking, envious time has fled: SEIZE THE DAY." Career goals and future dreams have brought you back to Montclair State or brought you here for the first time that you might seize the daily opportunities presented. May your hopes, goals and dreams keep you going even as you face frustration and uncertainty.

As I start my seventh year at MSC, the interchange that occurs in the first Book of Samuel, Chapter 3, comes to mind. A youth hears a voice and dreams a dream. The meaning and the interpretation are unsure. He seeks the counsel of the wise Eli who helps the youth understand and direct his life. Wise and uncertain, young and old, confused and concerned all meet on this campus and give higher education its best stage to play upon, the one to one relationship. With all that you can do here, look also to all that you are called to be. Seek those who are here to talk and dialog with you. They are very much present and will not let you dream alone nor struggle in uncertainty.

Montclair State College, proud great-grandmother in her eightieth year, throws open her doors and her heart to you. Welcome!

Father Arthur F. Humphrey, Catholic Chaplain/Campus Minister Chair

A beautifully made, tender, truthful and topical film, important in its politics, suspenseful in its plotting and overwhelming in its resolution. The performances and direction are flawless.

—Judith Greer

Tom talks

It's the academic year 1988-89, a great time for students at Montclair State. We will have more say, more opportunities for growth, more achievement than ever before. Bold predictions? No, just lofty goals that can be realized with a concentrated effort by you. Oh yeah, I know the standard excuses—what difference could I make? I don't have the time, I just want to graduate, etc.

Well, let me tell you a little story. I received a phone call last month from a high school friend who graduated from MSC last year. Now she's working full-time for some company somewhere—she never got involved in school and worked her way through all four years. She says she now misses school and regrets not having done any activities other than academics and work. She now envies anyone who is involved in campus activities.

Believe me, there is power behind the student voice. What are the college administrators here for, other than to serve us, the paying students? Don't waste this opportunity to be heard and to participate. Too many times we think of education in an institutional sense, like 'college'.

Education is a complete learning process, which began when we were born and ends when we die. Don't put off your involvement now, because it just may be too late one day. For you new students at Montclair State, WELCOME, and remember—take advantage of what we have to offer. For you returning students, Joanie, Maggie, Jon, Dawn, you know who you are, come join me and your peers in making this a memorable year.

Hot spots to shop in Montclair

Montclair differs from most New Jersey suburbs because it lacks the one building that defines suburbia: a shopping mall. Some might consider this an inconvenience, while others look upon it as a blessing.

One thing is for sure, though—what Montclair lacks in convenience it makes up for in class. There is an abundance of boutiques and out-of-the-ordinary shops that give the town charm and character.

Valley Road

One of the main areas where these small shops cluster is the downtown section of Valley Rd. It stretches approximately two blocks, from the Lorraine Ave. corner to the firehouse. Olympus and Olympia, the closest thing to a department store in this area, have the widest selection of women’s and men’s clothing, respectively.

Olympus carries an extensive selection of brand-name shoes and handbags, including Etienne Aigner, Jones New York, Nickels, Sperry, and Dooney & Bourke. Their clothing leans towards a more conservative look, although their sweaters are fairly trendy.

The men’s counterpart, Olympia, sticks mainly to businesswear and caters to the mature male. Again, its strong point is also shoes and accessories; there, you will find a more casual selection.

Nantucket Lady, a small, preppy boutique, stocks New England-style dresses and outfits that are basically casual. It has many items that are standard L.L. Bean-type fare, plus some that you won’t find in any catalogue. This pricey, high-quality shop isn’t to be missed by those that summer (or would like to) on The Cape.

Chris Parillo, the self-proclaimed “Finest in ladies classic clothing,” is indeed a very classic and classy shop. All you expect from this well-known chain of stores is delivered.

Chris Parillo manages to exude the air of an exclusive boutique while maintaining a wide selection of clothing.

Gentlemen, beware! Geismar-Kaplan Clothiers will draw any man of fashion towards its polished wood-and-brass doors like a magnet. This extremely brand-name oriented shop stocks favorites such as B.D. Baggies, Izod Lacoste, and, for those with a fat wallet, Giorgio Armani. It has a wonderful selection of men’s accessories, including some very interesting styles of boxer shorts.

Orion is a beautiful card/book/gift shop which also features a rental library (yes, for books). There is a wide selection of Gund animals, and even non-traditional animals are in stock—for example, turtles and pelicans.

If you need a cocktail dress or simply love beautiful clothing, Barbara Eclectic carries trendy European imports with an emphasis on evening wear.

As can be expected with imported brands, the prices range a bit higher than conventional shops.

Chelsea Square Fragrances and Fripperies is a Crabtree & Evelyn-style notions shop.

Chelsea Square has the same old-fashioned look and atmosphere without the chain store’s repetition and price range.

Various imported and antique oddities can be found in The Stone Balloon, a treasure chest of unusual pieces. There is a definite emphasis on oriental china pieces, as well as many antique clown dolls and merry-go-round horses.

Louis Homemade Candy has the ideal treat for your favorite sweet tooth. Featuring a range of chocolates and candies that can be arranged in gift baskets, Louis’ claim to fame is the unique service it provides: hand-dipped anything.

If you give a day’s notice, Louis’ staff will hand-dip the item of your choice in chocolate. Some original ideas that have become standard fare: chocolate-dipped fortune cookies and gummi bears.

Church Street

Church Street is also another hot spot for shops. This area, located on the north side of Bloomfield Ave., is a quiet and shady setting for the lines of specialty shops on either side.

La Nuit stocks a wide range of fine intimate apparel in unique prints not to be found in the popular chains of Victorian-style lingerie. It has a huge selection of the always-in-demand teddies, in a variety of styles and sizes.

Class One Concerts (C1C)

Class One Concerts offers MSC students a variety of contemporary concerts, featuring national recording artists such as Billy Idol, The Fabulous Thunderbirds, The Smithereens, and the Hooters. All shows are arranged exclusively by students, providing them the opportunity to participate in all aspects of concert production and promotions. Not only do members of C1C work closely with the artists, they also get a chance to meet other students with similar interests and goals. So if you love music, C1C is looking for you. C1C is located in room 117 of the Student Center Annex and their number is 893-4478.

Executive Producer—Geoffrey Gibbs; Vice President—Dina Tomasetti; Secretary—Maureen McGuire; Treasurer—Pete Benton

Latin American Student Organization (LASO)

LASO promotes awareness of Hispanic culture to the MSC community. This is achieved through informative educational and social programs which promote an appreciation and understanding of the culture. Each spring, “Latin Month” is planned to provide and opportunity to see and sample the music, art, and cuisine of the Latin American Culture. All are invited—regardless of ethnic background—and encouraged to become members. LASO is located in room 100, the Student Center Annex, or can be contacted at 893-4440.

For the very trendy, Fashion Highlites has a stash of clothing chock-full of sequins, appliques, and flashy colors. To complement your outfit, a select amount of artisan jewelry is available for your choosing. Do you want to decorate your room with antiques and old-time memorabilia? Then go to Hearts in the Country, a store that displays country-style bric-a-brac, antique toys, and beautiful printed storage boxes.

Fashion Bazaar is an outlet that features French and Italian sportswear at discount prices. There is also a selection of evening wear that really must be seen, although it is a bit limited.

Natalie Shoes runs the range from the very trendy (Calvin Klein) to the very unusual (green snakeskin heels studded with copper rivets). Beware, bargain shopper: although none of the shoes are marked with prices, they are certainly not free.

Studio Glass Gallery carries only individually made pieces more for the serious collector than for gift-giving. Any art student interested in hand-blown glass should make this stop; every piece is fit for a museum.

Dexterity is the boutique’s boutique. It is rare that one comes upon a shop of this calibre without a long search; and amazingly enough, this remarkable store is only five minutes from campus.

It features one-of-a-kind jewelry pieces, each titled by the artist, such as earrings entitled, "Killer Elevator Music." There are whimsical sculptures by DMZ Coyl, hand-crafted marbles, and dozens of extraordinary Kaleidoscopes. Ceramic whistles in the shapes of wizards and jesters abound, as do blown glass ornaments.

The stuffed animal collection in this shop is literally out of this world—an enormous leather toad sits next to a positively horrific "Underbed Creature" by Charleen Kinsler. Collector and store owner Shirley Zafirau buys every item herself, and believe it—this is quite a collection.

Where would we be on a cold winter day without the warm, woolly—and not to mention fashionable—designs of Benetton? Alas, no mall would be complete without this chain of stores, yet it is not out of place on Church St. Since each store is individually owned, you can never be bored by similarities in selection from shop to shop.

A defense against cancer can be cooked up in your kitchen.

There is evidence that diet and cancer are related. Follow these modifications in your daily diet to reduce chances of getting cancer:

1. Eat more high-fiber foods such as fruits and vegetables and whole-grain cereals.
2. Include dark green and deep yellow fruits and vegetables rich in vitamins A and C.
3. Include cabbage, broccoli, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and cauliflower.
5. Cut down on total fat intake from animal sources and fats and oils.
6. Avoid obesity.
7. Be moderate in consumption of alcoholic beverages.

No one faces cancer alone.

Football team looks strong-again

By Kenny Peck
Sports Editor

Since Rick Giancola took over the MSC football program in 1983, the Indians have compiled a 42-11-1 mark, which translates to a .77 winning percentage. This season, Giancola looks as if he’ll increase that percentage with a team that seems as deep as it does talented. Plotting the Indian offense will be sophomore Ed Baffige, who started all but one game for MSC last season and improved with each outing. In the backfield, Giancola has the luxury of four fine tailbacks, each of whom saw action in Saturday’s opening game win (see inset).

Heading that quartet is sophomore Scott Vega, who comes off an excellent year in which he was named All-Conference as a punt returner. Joining Vega is senior Mike Codella, a transfer from Hofstra, junior Dan Walsh, who was injured for much of last season, and Steve Barrauso, a freshman from West Caldwell.

The Indians will have junior Jeff McGregor at fullback. Sophomore John Fardella, who was also slated to see action at the fullback spot, suffered a broken forearm against Mansfield and is lost for the season.

The offensive line is anchored by tri-captain Doug Robb and returning starters Mike Duelvey and Joe Fernandez. Sophomore Bob Franks and senior Rob Merola make up the remainder of the line, although freshman Mark Padovan and junior Steve Oliver also see action. MSC is fortunate to have four very capable tight ends in juniors Rich Holle, Matt Kingfield and Phil Vigueant and sophomore Terry Silas. At the split end position, sophomore Paul Cioffi. Also back is senior Mark Monteyne, who platoons at the end position with junior Mike Cioffi.

Defensively, MSC is once again very strong. The front line is especially solid, as tri-captain Mark Witzal returns along with senior Matt Clark and junior Paul Cioffi. Also back is senior Mark Monteyne, who platoons at the end position with junior Mike Murphy.

The outside linebackers are junior John Hernandez, a consistent performer who ranked second on the team in tackles last season, and junior Lance Lucarelli.

Junior Len Kruk is back at middle linebacker after a good but unheralded season. Joining Kruk in the middle will be senior Mike Dalton.

Tri-captain David Harris is the only returning member of the secondary, and his experience may play a big part.

Junior Skip Hutchins and Almar Dyer make up the rest of the secondary.

The kicking game is, as usual, a strongpoint. Seniors Paul Castiglia and Tony Colasurdo are the punter and kicker, respectively, and one would be hard pressed to find a better tandem in all of Division III.
