Adjuncts outnumber MSC faculty

By Valerie Kalfrin
Correspondent

According to Greg Waters, vice president of academic affairs, the number of adjuncts has not greatly increased since last year.

Although the number of adjuncts employed by MSC may not have increased, department chairpersons show that more than half of the schools of humanities and social sciences, mathematics and computer science, and fine and performing arts are staffed by adjuncts or outside specialists.

Waters said during scheduling it is decided which courses require regular professors and which require adjuncts.

A number of faculty members involved in various research projects and over 250 different academic programs at MSC create vacancies which adjuncts are hired to fill, according to Waters.

For example, Waters explained last June a group of faculty retired. According to an early retirement plan put into effect two years ago, MSC must hire adjuncts to fill their positions the following year while in the process of hiring full-time faculty.

However, adjuncts are hired for reasons other than replacing retiring faculty members, said Waters. At any given time, there are a number of professors on sabbatical or on leave. Others receive grants for research projects and have their workload for the semester cut by one course.

In other cases, adjuncts bring special talents to the college. “It is valuable for a college to draw on the talents of the community as well as the faculty,” Waters stated. He added that it is his job to provide the faculty with room for growth and the students the opportunity to work with people who have special talents.

Waters said adjuncts are also hired to teach basic skills courses in reading, writing, math and speech.

New Jersey instituted the basic skills program several years ago, which requires incoming students to take tests in math, speech, and reading. As a result, said Waters, MSC has had to add special courses so that students with difficulties could become equipped for regular college work, which explains the large number of adjuncts in the English, math, and speech departments.

“We are committed to keeping class size limited,” Waters said. “There is not enough faculty to cover all the courses.

In addition to course requirements and faculty grants, budget limits play a large part in the hiring of adjuncts.

MSC’s budget is set by the State College Administration in Trenton, and only 73 percent can be spent on salaries, explained Waters. If there are not adequate resources in a department to hire a full-time staff member, an adjunct is hired instead.

According to Waters, although there are a great number of adjuncts in the faculty, MSC’s budget is less than on the national level.

“To a degree, it’s an economic issue in the sense that it’s not in our resources to hire as many faculty as departments would like,” he explained.

Clearly, students would want to work with full-time faculty and complement that with working with adjuncts,” he added.

Dr. Thomas Benediktsson, acting director of the honors program, feels that hiring a large number of adjuncts is “a convenience for the administration.”

Benediktsson added that he thinks a lot of adjuncts are good, but “in our concern...the low pay [$1050 for a three-credit course, $350 for a one-credit course] and the quality of an education that relies so heavily on adjuncts.

According to Benediktsson, “it’s a real liability” to have the number of adjuncts exceed the number of full time staff, but when considering the budget limit issue, it becomes “sort of a catch-22 situation.”

Philip Cohen, dean of the school of humanities and social sciences, does not think that it enhances the departments to have more adjuncts than professors, but that it does benefit the department by allowing professors to take sabbaticals or do other research projects.

“By and large, we’re very happy with the quality of their the (adjuncts) work, but there are far too many,” he stated.

Some full-time professors agree. Dr. Rita Jacobs of the English department said her attitude towards adjuncts is complicated because she was formerly the department chairperson.

Jacobs said adjuncts are underpaid and that “it’s hard to get good ones and keep them.” She added that there are drawbacks to having so many adjuncts on campus.

“Students don’t get to see them after class, which is an important part of education,” she commented. They are there “too many to observe regularly in teaching,” which allows for no quality control. “People who run in and out are not the best education possible, even if they are wonderful people.”

Dr. Laura Kramer, department chairperson of sociology, doesn’t have as many adjuncts in her department as others, and feels that “we’re able to hire some good people who are able to work at very low wages because of unusual circumstances in their personal lives.”

The last selection was a dedication to the reggae group Bob Marley and the Wailers. This time it was Amiri Baraka’s turn, who recited the poem with the feeling and intensity so typical of the Baraka style.

Carolyn LaBate, an MSC alumna, was pleased with the poetry readings, but disagreed with Baraka’s views on communism.

“I think she should leave the country and go to Russia if she feels that strongly about it,” LaBate said. “I think she’ll find that she was misinformed about the work available in these countries.”

LaBate gave an example and said there are about 37 million unemployed people in China.

BSCU president Olanda “Pinky” Williams said that the poetry performance was excellent and that “she touched upon a lot of significant views.”

Mark Robinson, a pre-law student and MSC freshman, said “it was a good speech” and that there should be “more people like her.”

Amiri Baraka is best known for his plays “Dutchman” and “The Slave.”

According to Black Voices, edited by Abraham Chapman, Baraka received an Obie award for “Dutchman” as the best off-broadway play of 1964. Baraka is a graduate of Howard University, and completed his graduate work at Columbia University, according to Chapman’s book.

Dr. Vivian Gordon will be the next speaker sponsored by the African-American studies program. The topic is “Black Women, Feminism and Black Liberation: Which Way?” on Oct. 10 at 12:00 p.m. in the Student Center.

For further information, contact Dr. Saundra, director of the African-American studies at 893-5201.
Thieves arrested in dorm heist

By Rob Tomeo
Correspondent

Between the late hours of Sept. 21 and the early morning hours of Sept. 22, the campus police received reports from residents in Blanton Hall that three white males combed their way into three dorm rooms and stole jewelry, cash, and other items.

The thieves returned to Blanton Hall on the night of Sept. 25 and a resident alerted the campus police, but not before they robbed another room.

The police apprehended one of the males who pointed out an accomplice that was driving the third robber's car. The police eventually learned that the two main assailants in the robberies were adults and had brought a different juvenile helper on each of the two nights they were at the dorm. None of the thieves are MSC students.

The criminals have all been arrested and have been charged with trespassing and stealing. More charges may be brought against them. All stolen property has been recovered with the exception of a wallet, a camera, and a ring that have not been identified. If anyone is missing these items, please contact the campus police.

On Sept. 24 at 12:12 a.m. a large fight was reported as taking place outside Bohn Hall. About 10 to 12 black males were engaged in a heated argument. The police tried to break up the fight. When other fights started breaking out in the group, the Montclair Police Department was called in to back up the campus police.

About six males were arrested and four and were identified as MSC students. Their ages range from 18 to 24. One of the males was carrying a pipe, while another was armed with a bat.

At 1:30 a.m. on Sept. 23, the police apprehended three MSC students involved in a fight that occurred as the Rathskellar was closing. Earlier in the evening the three students got into a verbal argument that led to an initial fight. The students, who have charged each other with assault, had been drinking heavily.

On Sept. 22, a 1987 Honda Firebird was smashed in lot 23. The car's speakers were stolen. Also on Sept. 20, the Wayne Police Department recovered a Chevy Monte Carlo in a parking lot. The car had been stolen on Sept. 15.

On Sept. 21, the Newark Police Department recovered a Jeep Cherokee that was stolen Sept. 15.

On Sept. 22, a 1987 Honda was broken into and some articles were stolen from the car between 11:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Two hubcaps were stolen from a 1981 Chevy Camaro on Sept. 22 between 8:00 a.m. and 9:41 a.m. in lot 23.

Between Sept. 23 and Sept. 25, a 1979 Volkswagen Rabbit in lot 24 was illegally entered by unknown means and the car's stereo was stolen.

In lot 29, a 1980 Datsun 280 ZX was walked over. This occurred between 12:30 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 10:30 a.m. on Sept. 27.

Between 9:00 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 2:00 a.m. on Sept. 27, the stereo of a 1985 Jeep Cherokee was stolen. The theft occurred of Sept. 22 between 3:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

On Sept. 23 at 4:30 a.m., a bomb threat was called in to the Blanton Hall desk.

On Sept. 24 at 1:30 a.m., it was discovered that someone threw a brick through a door and a bathroom window in Partridge Hall.

MSC employee had been illegally obtaining money from the "George" machine in the Student Center. Charges are being pressed by the bank.

At approximately 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 21, a verbal dispute took place between a food service employee and a student. The food service employee's truck was blocking the student's car which was illegally parked.

The student asked the employee, who was inside Freeman Hall to move his truck. When the student did not feel the employee responded fast enough he rammed the truck with his car while he was waiting. No charges are being pressed by either party. The matter is being handled internally.

A women left her handbag in a classroom in Richardson Hall and when she returned her money and I.D. card had been stolen. The theft occurred of Sept. 22 between 3:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

On Sept. 24 at 3:00 a.m., a theft occurred of Sept. 22 between 3:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

On Sept. 25, a 1980 Datsun 280 ZX was walked over. This occurred between 12:30 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 10:30 a.m. on Sept. 27.

Between 9:00 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 2:00 a.m. on Sept. 27, the stereo of a 1985 Jeep Cherokee was stolen. The theft occurred of Sept. 22 between 3:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

On Sept. 23 at 4:30 a.m., a bomb threat was called in to the Blanton Hall desk.

On Sept. 24 at 1:30 a.m., it was discovered that someone threw a brick through a door and a bathroom window in Partridge Hall.

Registrar's schedule confirmation

Confirmation schedules were mailed to all students for the fall 1988 semester, on Sept. 22, 1988. Schedules for students who live on campus were sent to their home address.

Students must review this schedule to make sure that the courses agree (by number, day, and time) with those which they are attending.

If there is ANY discrepancy with your schedule, you must report to the Office of the Registrar, immediately!

Failure to resolve these discrepancies will result in no credit or failing grades for some of your courses. All registration must be made by Oct. 4, 1988.

If you have not received a confirmation schedule, you must report to the Office of the Registrar immediately.

All copies of your registration transactions should be brought with you when making inquiries.

Thursday Night at the CEDAR GROVE INN is College Night

All regular bar drinks & domestic beer

$1.00 til 11 pm

Listen to your favorite new & old Dance Rock, played by our professional DJ's!

Proper ID & Attire required.

DON'T MISS IT! Open 7 Days
Adjaunts relieve faculty load

Conf. from p. 1

The alternative to hiring adjuncts, Kramer said, is hiring more full-time faculty which leads to a reduction of teaching load and/or course load.

"I think we have some very good people teaching as adjuncts, but there are too many. It's unfair to the adjuncts and unfair to the students," Kramer added.

One recently employed faculty member of MSC explained, "No matter what college you go to, this question (the number of adjuncts) always crops up. It's a matter of servicing the student community. No adjuncts, less classes."

Gregory Good, an international business consultant who teaches in the management department, thought it's better to be an associate or have some sort of degree, adjuncts have an opportunity to "go outside academia, which gives a great variety to the campus. You have to have a good balance within the department between adjuncts and professors. (It's) the only way the school gets better."

Daniel Gualtieri, a math teacher from North Bergen High School who also teaches in the math department, believes that there are a lot of adjuncts because people are not going into teaching anymore and others are looking for second jobs.

Although he is not at MSC as much as some others, he is available during office hours like all adjuncts and professors.

"If the students make it, they make it, and if they don't, they don't," said Gualtieri.

While the students are the most affected by the situation, their opinions on adjuncts vary. A senior who had an adjunct as an English teacher called her class, "Horrible. Absolutely horrible," saying that the teacher rushed through the material and volunteered to get a tutor for any students who had any questions.

Another commented that his adjunct was "hard to find."

One junior who had an adjunct in the speech department recalled that her teacher cancelled a lot of classes to handle her business, and later her adjunct was fired.

"Adjuncts are usually much more personable and friendly," one junior quipped of his experience with adjuncts in philosophy and speech.

"She was great," one sophomore stated, finding no problem at all with her adjunct in the psychology department.

One senior found "really no difference" between her adjunct and professors in the art department except that her adjunct were somewhat easier and they got their point across well. "I've had some really lousy professors," she added.

A sophomore who had a full-time professor for an algebra class was impressed with the situation from both ends. "It's better to have a full-time professor than an adjunct, but it's better to have an adjunct than to have your class canceled," he said.

Another added, "You can't judge a teacher by their position. You can have good or bad adjuncts and good or bad professors."

Winter Session 1989

There will be an advanced registration period for winter sessions 1989. Students are encouraged to advance register due to the limited number of courses offered. Courses available at late registration will be minimal.

National Sorority aids the homeless

By Amber Smith

Correspondent

Inside the Penn Station doorway, several people are on the floor sleeping, dirty from the hard floors. In a park nearby, a man is sitting under a tree with his bag of belongings with him. Another person, raggedy and rugged from head to foot, digs into a garbage can, searching for food or a newspaper.

These are the homeless, and there are approximately 32,000 of them in New Jersey, according to the Annual Survey, a private non-profit organization designed to help the unfortunate.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., another non-profit organization designed to help the homeless, is called the organization's city chapter of North Jersey that is sponsoring the project.

Cannady said that the "Project Homeless" idea was originated by chapter members. "Our national executive board encourages us to submit any new or original ideas," she said.

Some concentrated areas for "Project Homeless" include urban areas like the Camden, Penn Station in Newark, and Elizabeth, Cannady said. Over 200 people were fed in the last homeless project.

Ronald Williams, a former employee of Bell Telephone in Newark, said that he had been homeless for six months after having problems with his landlord.

Williams became an alcoholic after his mother passed away about fifteen years ago. He plans to seek professional help through a free clinic. "Hopefully they can lead me to some shelters to get me off the street," he said.

According to Cannady, the nation is not doing an efficient job in helping the homeless. "The Republicans have cut funding for so many programs—it's like taking from Peter to feed Paul," Cannady added. "Organizations aren't getting to the root of the problem because they can only do so much.".

Cannady said projects sponsored by the Deltas include "Adopt A Black Family," in which Thanksgiving meals will be provided for poor black families, and donations for Jamaica's hurricane victims, according to Cannady.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., was founded at Howard University in 1913. There are over 125,000 members nationwide, and is the largest black women's sorority in the country.

Famous members include actresses Ruby Dee and singer Leotyne Price, Cannady said. Several members of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., and Sigma Phi Rho Fraternity, Inc.

from MSC's campus also participated in "Project Homeless".

"We had a lot of fun," said Samuel A. Davis Jr., secretary of Kappa Alpha Psi, Iota Episilons chapter. "Everything went smoothly. They were very receptive and there were no problems."

Gardner Walker, service chairman of Sigma Phi Rho of Montclair State said he was "impressed with the whole project," adding, "I would like to thank Deltas for allowing my organization to participate in this program. I was very pleased to see Greek lettered organizations come together in an effort to help the community."

Walker and Sigma Phi Rho are willing to participate in future homeless projects.

On the same note, Davis added, "I didn't pledge to segregate from other Greeks. The members of Kappa Alpha Phi hope that this example of unity will motivate all other Greek lettered organizations and neighboring communities in general to participate in a very worthwhile project."

According to Cannady, several northern chapters of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., are already doing its share in helping the homeless. Zeta chapters from Montclair State, Fairleigh Dickinson University, and Upsala College are currently sponsoring a raffle. Proceeds will benefit the Newark homeless.

Tickets are 95c. People interested in purchasing a ticket can call Linda Harris at 783-2329, or see any member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. The drawing will take place on Friday, Sept. 30 in the Blanton Hall atrium.

The Deltas encourage everyone to participate in "Project Homeless." The next project is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 23. All interested persons and organizations should meet at the Blanton Hall lobby at 12 p.m. on that day for further instructions.

FDA sponsors health fair to tip consumers

By Julia DiMartino

Correspondent

Look your absolute best. Feel better than you ever have before. Avoid, and even cure, disease. These claims sound great, but there is a catch, which in many cases they are.

This was the theme relayed at a seminar titled, "Health Products: Fact or Fiction?" which pinpointed misinformation about health products.

Given on Friday, Sept. 23 by the United States Food and Drug Administration, the seminar investigated such topics as anti-wrinkle creams, herbal remedies, diet aids, sterede abused and economic scams.

According to an F.D.A. office, beginning with the age of everyone traveling, we have been bombarded with medical frauds.

F.D.A. Compliance Officer, Leatru R. Mathis said this because of today's fitness craze, many entrepreneurs seek to capitalize with the assurance of quakers. It is for this reason that the F.D.A. and Consumer Affairs nationwide are cracking down on the false marketing and deceptive claims.

At the seminar, it was emphasized that misleading advertisers may promote food substances such as vitamins, claiming that it has the effects of a drug by treating ailments like cancer and herpes.

According to Joel Aronson, consumer safety officer with the Health Fraud Statt of the F.D.A., this type of promotion is against the law. "One cannot disguise a food as a drug," he said.

The use of steroids were repeatedly attacked by Mathis and Lucius Bowser, chief, Office of Drug Control, N.J.S.D.H. The effects of anabolic steroids. Sterility, liver and kidney failure, and intra-abdominal hemorrhaging have been associated with the use of steroids, they said.

The staff of Humphry's Pharmaceutical Inc. discussed the issue of homeopathy. The staff said that specialists use homeopathy to cure people of a condition, claiming that the people will build an immunity to a disease by the administering of a diluted drug. Such a drug would cause symptoms on a healthy person similar to the symptoms wished gone, they said.

The staff commented on this type of treatment and its validity. The major concern with homeopathy is how drugs are diluted and the way it is marketed, they said.

The products, in addition to others, were discussed on Friday. The conference organizers Lillie C. Dortch-Wright and Joan G. Wilmot, stressed that any way to end medical quackery is to inform the consumers of its effects. Seminars such as the one given last week seek to do just that, they said.
Career Services

Seven common myths

Students often have misconceptions about Career Services and career planning that need to be exposed and explored. Accurate information will help students take advantage of their resources and programs while they’re at Montclair State College.

Myth #1. Career Services is an employment agency.

Career Services is really much more. The office provides a full range of services, including career counseling, a career library, career planning and job hunting seminars, and a computerized guidance system called DISCOVER. Employers do contact Career Services about part-time and full-time openings, and these positions are listed in job books found in the office and mailed to registered students and alumni.

Myth #2. If students don't know their major, they can't begin career planning.

The first step in the career planning process is developing a self-awareness—thinking about what one likes to do, about what one does well, and about one's priorities. Once a student has done this, he can begin to explore career options which match with who he is.

Myth #3. If students have made a career choice, they don't have to use Career Services until they are ready to graduate.

Even if a student has made a career choice, it is best to test it out while still at school. This can be done by getting related part-time or summer jobs or speaking to people in the field. Career Services can help students find such a jobs and identify Montclair State graduates in a specific career, for students to talk to.

Myth #4. Students' majors determine their career paths.

It is a prevailing myth that a major is intimately linked to the work that will be done in the future. This connection is certainly true for accounting, recreation, or food service management, but many college graduates use their skills in work settings which had no obvious connection to their college majors. Remember, a student is a whole person, not just a major.

Myth #5. Career Services only works with seniors.

According to a national survey, 77 percent of today's workforce entered their occupation by chance rather than by choice. Counselors in the Career Services office want to work with students as soon as they start at the college so that they can number among the 23 percent who have planned and have made a choice. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are very welcome.

Myth #6. Students need a GPA of at least 2.4 and must have completed 45 credits to work with Career Services.

There are no guidelines that students must meet to use the Career Services office. They can begin whenever they choose and can use all the services or can pick the ones which meet their needs.

Myth #7. All the companies which come for on-campus recruitment seek business administration majors.

Each year, companies such as Xerox, Bloomingdale’s, Aetna, Nabisco, Mid-Lantic, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, and Prudential do not ask for students with specific majors, but want those who are interested in the positions available or in the industry. Additionally, the large and small businesses which list jobs with Career Services most often ask for people with particular skills, work attitudes, or personality characteristics (i.e., writing ability, energetic, outgoing) rather than particular majors.

by Eileen Bruck
Director, Career Services

Library Amnesty

SPRAGUE LIBRARY
25TH ANNIVERSARY LIBRARY AMNESTY

October 1, 1988 -- October 31, 1988

BRING THOSE BOOKS BACK
CLEAR UP THOSE OLD FINES

OVERDUE BOOKS --- if returned, no fines
(You must hand the books to us in person)

OLD OVERDUE FINES --- will be excused in full
(You must speak to us in person)

Please bring any library obligation notices applying to amnesty to the library

AMNESTY DOES NOT APPLY TO RESERVE ROOM MATERIALS OR LOST OR NON-RETURNED BOOKS

Circulation Department
Harry A. Sprague Library
Montclair State College

Call 893-4288 for more information

SGA begins on campus voter registration

By Barbara DiMaris
Correspondent

The SGA forwarded the following information to the campus community: any organization advertising their activities on campus must include what class of the SGA their organization belongs to in their advertisement.

On Sept. 29 the mandatory meeting between two representatives of the SGA and two representatives from each of the Greek Councils will be conducted in Ballroom A located in the Student Center at 7:30 p.m.

Voter registration week has begun. On Sept. 29 and 30 students may register during the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the main lobby of the Student Center. On Oct. 3 and 4 in the main lobby of the Student Center students may register to vote during the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Telescope night

Every clear Thursday, except on holidays, Dr. Mary Lou West holds a public telescope night outside of Richardson Hall. The event is held from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. and is free of charge. All are welcome.

Voter registration week

On Sept. 29 the mandatory meeting between two representatives of the SGA and two representatives from each of the Greek Councils will be conducted in Ballroom A located in the Student Center at 7:30 p.m.

Telescope night

Every clear Thursday, except on holidays, Dr. Mary Lou West holds a public telescope night outside of Richardson Hall. The event is held from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. and is free of charge. All are welcome.
SALLY FIELD  TOM HANKS
PUNCH LINE

EXCLUSIVE NEW YORK ENGAGEMENT STARTS FRIDAY.

SHE LEFT EVERYTHING SHE KNEW AND ENTERED A WORLD FEW HAVE EVER SEEN.

SOME SAY SHE WENT TOO FAR.

IN THE MIST
The Adventure of Dian Fossey

NOW PLAYING IN SELECT THEATRES.
COMING SEPTEMBER 30TH TO A THEATRE NEAR YOU.

INTRODUCING LEGEND

A POWERFUL NEW CLASSIC!

SAVE UP TO $60 ON GOLD RINGS!

Date: Oct. 3, 4, 5
Time: 10-5pm (til 7pm on Tues.)
Place: Student Center Lobby

A Service of Your SGA
Come out and vote!

Voter Registration will be held from Sept. 28 to Oct. 4

You have your choice of two areas to register:

The Student Center
Wed.: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.  Mon.: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Thurs.: 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.  Tues.: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Fri.: 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Blanton Hall
Wed. to Tues.: 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

PHI ALPHA DELTA
PRE-LAW COED FRATERNITY
Meeting
Student Center
Rm 418
Tues., Oct. 4, 1988
4:00 pm
2:00 pm

ALL WELCOME
MANDATORY FOR OLD MEMBERS

PHI ALPHA DELTA IS A CLASS IV OF THE SGA

Get A's and B's for your parents, and a CD for yourself.

Try a Macintosh today—you may win a Sony Discman.

Now that a new school year is under way, we have an idea that’ll make both you and your parents feel a bit more confident come finals time:

Get a Macintosh® computer to help with your homework.

Then you’ll never have to spend another all-nighter retyping a paper just to purge a few typos and dangling modifiers. You’ll be able to crank out assignments that look as though you bribed a friend in art school. And with an amazing new program called HyperCard®—which just happens to come packaged with every Macintosh—you can easily store, organize, and cross-reference research notes to your heart’s content.

And if that isn’t enough reason to look at a Macintosh today, here’s another:

Right now, you have three chances to win one of Sony’s Discman® CD players—including the exciting Sony Pocket Discman, which also plays the new 3-inch CDs. And even if you miss out on the CD player, you may still win one of 15 Apple T-shirts. No strings attached—just fill out a registration form at the location listed below.

Enter: September 8th-September 30th
The College Store
Student Center Building
Montclair State College

So come in and get your hands on a Macintosh.
If not for yourself, do it for your folks.

The power to be your best.

Try a Macintosh today—you may win a Sony Discman.
Students Speak

Compiled and photographed by Kevin Onorevole

Q. Do you feel that our athletes are being judged fairly at the Olympic Games?

"Yes, I think they are. I don’t see how they’re being discriminated against. It’s international play, the judging is the same for everyone."

Thomas Smeraldo
Junior/Sociology

"I think that the entire Olympic Games are more political than anything else, and that the athletes aren’t able to really show their potential."

Debi McGoldrick
Junior/Undeclared

"Yes, I feel that our athletes are being judged fairly because the judges must be qualified in order to participate. I feel that this is the best system because there is no neutral party."

John Zueck
Sophomore/Undeclared

"No, I don’t think that the athletes are being treated fairly. I think they are being discriminated against due to them playing in another country."

Rich Murawinski
Freshman/Undeclared

"Yes, I don’t think that the athletes are being treated fairly. I think they are being discriminated against due to them playing in another country."

Skippy Hall
Sophomore/Undeclared

"I think that they’re being treated fairly because everyone is judged fairly in my opinion."

Thomas Smeraldo
Junior/Sociology

HELP SUPPORT MONTCLAIR’S BIGGEST COED BUSINESS FRATERNITY

GET INVOLVED: BECOME A PART OF THE MANY FACES OF PHI CHI THETA!!

Voting will be in the Student Center Oct. 4, 5 10AM-3PM AND 6PM-9PM

CLASS IV ORGANIZATION of SGA
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
What fears hold you back?

Fear is a universal human experience. Our differences lie only in what we are afraid of and how we handle it.

Coming to college can produce anything from mild anxiety to bone numbing fear, even when we’ve been looking forward to getting a degree. Our fear, until overcome, can keep us from functioning at our best.

Some of us need friends to feel connected to life, and yet shyness can keep us from reaching out for the thing we need most.

The first step in overcoming our fears, is identifying and naming them. In the Bible, Paul said, “We have not been given the spirit of fear” and Jesus said, “My peace I give to you.”

While these words may sound trite sometimes, they are nonetheless true. In the midst of a very anxious world there is a peace and power from God that can be discovered and experienced.

We share the Lord’s Supper/Communion every Monday noon on the 4th floor of the Student Center. Anyone may come. For further information call Rev. Ed Wilder 893-5364 or 881-7825.

The Montclair Protestant Foundation is a Class III organization of the SGA. Room 409 Student Center.

You don’t need your parents’ money to buy a Macintosh.

Just their signature.

It’s never been difficult for students to convince their parents of the need for a Macintosh® computer at school.

Persuading them to write the check, however, is another thing altogether.

Which is why Apple created the Student Loan-to-Own Program. An ingenious loan program that makes buying a Macintosh as easy as using one.

Simply pick up an application at the location listed below, or call 800-831-LOAN. All your parents need to do is fill it out, sign it, and send it. If they qualify, they’ll receive a check for you in just a few weeks.

There’s no collateral. No need to prove financial hardship. No application fee.

Best of all, the loan payments can be spread over as many as 10 years. Which gives you and your parents plenty of time to decide just who pays for it all.

Introducing Apple’s Student Loan-to-Own Program

The College Store
©1988 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc.
FIFTH ANNUAL MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE
PRESIDENTIAL FALL SYMPOSIUM

DEFINING THE EDUCATED PERSON: COUNTERPOINTS

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: Dr. James M. Redfield
Professor of Social Thought and Classics
The University of Chicago
OCTOBER 3, 1988

General Session
11 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Memorial Auditorium

Break Out Sessions
2:00 to 3:00 p.m.
Student Center

For Registration information contact:
Office of the President
Montclair State College
(201) 893-4344

HARRY A. SPRAGUE LIBRARY
25th ANNIVERSARY

STUDENT RECEPTION

WHEN: TUES., OCT. 4, 11:00 AM-2:00 PM
       WED., OCT. 5, 11:00 AM—2:00 PM

WHERE: FRONT STEPS/LOBBY OF THE LIBRARY

WHO: ALL MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE STUDENTS

FREE REFRESHMENTS AND LIBRARY SOUVENIRS!
Who will really suffer for the lies of Tawana & Company?

Following their painstaking seven month investigation, the grand jury is set to reveal evidence that will once and for all end this media circus of rhetoric and unsubstantiated allegations called the Tawana Brawley case.

According to an investigation in Tuesday's New York Times which is based upon the testimony presented to the grand jury, Miss Brawley fabricated rape story to avoid severe punishment by her mother's live-in boyfriend. She also knowingly "mislead doctors, social workers, the public and the police to believe that she was a victim of a hate crime and that fragments found in the hands of racists—a tale luridly embellished by her family, lawyers and advisers—and that has since refused to cooperate in order to cover up her actions."

But is that really to blame? It is easy to point the finger at the obviously troubled youth. It is in fact the family's "advisers" that began and then perpetuated this blatant fraud.

Only these three charlatans, Alton Maddox Jr., C. Vernon Mason and Rev. Al Sharpton, could hold a press conference and name Duchess County Prosecutor Steven Pagones as one of her "attackers" without offering a shred of proof.

Surely they must have known that Glenda Brawley's live-in boyfriend was a convicted murderer and a known drug dealer, and that Glenda Brawley herself was arrested on shoplifting charges.

Surely they must have known that residents of the apartment complex where Tawana was found say that they saw her crawl and that F.B.I. tests link the writing found on her body and denim fragments found in the abandoned apartment to Brawley.

Unfortunately, it is the next truly victimized Black person that will suffer because the public will not forget this "cry wolf" scam.

There are many lies that have surfaced because of Tawana and her cohorts, and many of them will surely come out when the grand jury releases its report. But one thing is for certain—Tawana Brawley is a liar—and Maddox, Mason and Sharpton are crooks.

WASHINGTON—Dan Quayle is a fortunate man. Born rich and handsome, he now has his credentials for the vice presidency questioned because he ducked the draft during the Vietnam War. For Quayle, this is the luckiest break of all. It obscures how unqualified he is for the office he seeks.

At 41 years of age, Quayle is in his second term in the U.S. Senate where he is known for very little. In the House, where he served previously, he passed through that body like a servant emptying ashtrays at a party. No one noticed him. "Down deep," a member of the House told me, "this man is superficial."

For Quayle, this performance was characteristic. At DePauw University, his professors recall someone who challenged the laws of physics: a near perfect vacuum. "He was as vapid a student as I can recall," said Michael Lawrence, who attempted to teach both constitutional law and American government to Quayle. Another of Quayle's teachers offered a similar assessment. "Dan Quayle was a crassly mediocre student," said Robert Sedlack, who taught him English.

So what qualifies Quayle for the vice presidency? Everything. The office is the Founding Father's little joke—often a political purgatory. What's in the office for Quayle? His towering intellect? His well-documented success in the Senate or his administrative experience? No person is immortal. Accidents can happen. Quayle could be a President a day after Bush takes the oath of office—assuming he wins in November. In that case, the United States will have a President whose colleagues know him as shallow, whose teachers recall him as mediocre—who leads no constituency, no wing of his party and whose administrative experience was mostly as assistant publisher at a newspaper owned by his old man.

Worse, Quayle has shown in the last few days that he lacks both character and candor. There is a bit of the Richard Nixon in him. He turns legitimate questions about his National Guard service into an attack on the press and talks of his reserve duty behind a typewriter as if it had been winter at Valley Forge. He turns aside inquiring by noting the irrelevant: He is small-town boy; he has a wife; they have children. He stoops to demagoguery— the assertion that guardsmen everywhere have been sullied. His defense of National Guard service has been one long Cheekers speech. Will he soon produce a dog? Ever since George Bush wrapped up the GOP presidential nomination (right after the New Hampshire primary in February) he has promised us a vice-presidential candidate in his own image: someone with the standing to walk into the Oval Office and say what's on his mind. But it takes the willing suspension of disbelief to imagine Quayle barging in on Bush and telling him to reverse engines.

Can anyone imagine Bush listening to Dan Quayle? Based on what? Quayle's experience? His towering intellect? His well-documented candor and good judgment? His standing in the party or his leadership of a constituency group?

Nothing Dan Quayle has done in the last week even approaches presidential. Indeed, he has been discovered for what he is: a chest-pounding defender of the Vietnam War who, when his time came, had daddy arrange a different version of flat feet. That, though, could only work once. For the presidency, there is no National Guard. In the Oval Office, Dan Quayle would be 4-F.
Students rebut SGA president
"Unmitigated gall" angers readers

To the editor:

As a concerned student of MSC, I would like to respond to "Tommy Talks" on September 15, 1988. "Unmitigated Gall" ruined commencement ceremony.

I think he should be more careful before he writes his column. Tommy is just as unaware of the point that the honorary degree recipient was making as he is of the racial conditions on campus. Tommy did not speak of the fact that the graduation ceremony was a personal platform for the awarding of honorary degrees on campus. Tommy failed to mention that an assassination threat was made on the honorary degree recipient. Tommy speaks of things on campus, and not the incident that ruined the Commencement Ceremony.

Tommy mentioned that the college had received threats of a demonstration during graduation by a white supremacist group. Tommy did not mention that an assassination threat was made on the honorly degree recipient. Tommy is just as unaware of the point that the honorary degree recipient was making as he is of the racial conditions on campus. Tommy failed to mention that an assassination threat was made on the honorary degree recipient.

To Tommy, please, in the future, investigate thoroughly before you "talk" and please don't assume because you know what happens!

Olandina “Pinky” Seldon
President of BSCU

To the Editor:

This will be relatively short. First and foremost, Tommy, Wake up! It's people like you who are blind to the real facts that prevent solutions to these problems. How many racial incitement that occur, actually get reported? Not too many Tommy. Do you honestly think that Tommy spoke about a woman with such disrespect without first giving the students all the facts. He then went on to ask a question concerning what she was talking about, then answered the question that he already admitted he did not know.

Tommy continues to insult the senator by mentioning issues that she has no control over. For example, the reading of the graduates' names, and the hiring of the track coach. Blanton is, in my opinion, more qualified, why should he be criticized over issues he has already had nothing to do with. Tommy just applied for a job someone advertised.

Is this truly a harmonious atmosphere to all? Could it possibly be that Senator Lipman has been listening to students at all colleges? Could it be that she has been listening to the New Jersey State Board of Education in collaboration with the National Conference of Christians and Jews Inc., who ran a conference last year about racial problems on college campuses?

One problem on this campus is that there is no forum to address minority student concerns of racial harassment. Let us find a way for minorities to not sit idly by while their concerns are not addressed.

Tonia Penn
Senior/Economics

Tommy talks
Response to last week's criticism

I guess my Sept. 15 "Unmitigated Gall" editorial caused a little discussion and received a response. Well, that's good, because that was my intention.

I'd like to respond to both letters printed. To Mr. Furr: I believe that your interpretation of my editorial was way off base. In fact, my story was on how Lipman used the graduation ceremony as a personal platform for the awarding of honorary degrees on campus. Lipman used the graduation ceremony not the comments that the college had received threats of a demonstration during graduation by a white supremacist group. Tommy is just as unaware of the point that the honorary degree recipient was making as he is of the racial conditions on campus. Tommy failed to mention that an assassination threat was made on the honorary degree recipient.

To Tommy, please, in the future, investigate thoroughly before you "talk" and please don't assume because you know what happens!

L.G. Greene
Senior/Psychology

To the Editor:

In reference to the article in The Montclarion on September 15, 1988 on "Unmitigated Gall Ruins Commencement Ceremony," I find it interesting that Tommy spoke about a woman with such disrespect without first giving the students all the facts. He then went on to ask a question concerning what she was talking about, then answered the question that he already admitted he did not know.

Tommy continues to insult the senator by mentioning issues that she has no control over. For example, the reading of the graduates' names, and the hiring of the track coach. Blanton is, in my opinion, more qualified, why should he be criticized over issues he has already had nothing to do with. Tommy just applied for a job someone advertised.

Is this truly a harmonious atmosphere to all? Could it possibly be that Senator Lipman has been listening to students at all colleges? Could it be that she has been listening to the New Jersey State Board of Education in collaboration with the National Conference of Christians and Jews Inc., who ran a conference last year about racial problems on college campuses?

One problem on this campus is that there is no formal structure to address minority student concerns of racial harassment. Let us find a way for minorities to not sit idly by while their concerns are not addressed.

Tonia Penn
Senior/Economics

Tommy Mergola is the SGA president

You mention the words multi-culture, multi-ethnic groups on campus. Don't you mean Afro-American and Hispanic? You see, there was a group of individuals last year who felt they weren't represented in the SGA or on campus.

You know what they did? They formed a group, sought out my help, and with it became a Class II of the SGA. I'm talking about the Arab Club.

I, like you, believe we have racism on this campus. However, I, unlike you, are willing to publicize and eventually remove these problems.

Tommy Mergola is the SGA president

The Montclarion Letters Policy
All letters must be:
* typewritten and double spaced
* addressed to the editor
* submitted by 4 PM on the Monday before the Thursday issue
* include student ID number, year, major, and telephone number for confirmation.

The Montclarion reserves the right to edit letters for style and brevity.
Beckett's Godot bewiders

By Ashley Rhodes
Correspondent

Samuel Beckett's Waiting For Godot marked the opening of the 1988-89 Studio Theatre Series.

Director Gerald Lee Ratliff rose above the small stage and cast, and most bizarre script to offer another audience of the 1987 movement of the clown-faced actors and actresses gave the words more meaning. With playful limbs and acrobatic poses, the repetitiveness of the dialogue was well disguised.

Waiting, and waiting in the sylph set is Vladimir, played by Kevin S. Smith and his companion Estragon, Nina Derham. Together their timing is exciting and well presented. They bring the language of the script to a visual level.

Smith appeared relaxed and well rehearsed. He moved to the fine characterization of the characters, and presented a strong performance.

Derham gave an equally exciting portrayal of her forgetful yet philosophical character. Her finely crafted expressions revealed an inner understanding of her character's mind. Kevin Carolan bounded onto the stage as the egotistical Pozzo. Clad as a whimsical sorcerer, he evoked laughter from the audience to his pompous utterances.

From the seriousness of the play, Pozzo is a gift of comic relief, brightening the confounding and sometimes uninteresting dialogue. Carolan presents his character with fine comedic timing, performance, as in many other productions in which he's participated, is marvelous.

Supporting characters include Hilary S. Nugent as Lucky and Jennifer A. Skinner as a young girl.

Lucky is the pathetic slave of the high and mighty Pozzo. In a tattered ballerina costume, weighted down with suitcases and other paraphernalia, she carries around her Pig and Scum, Pozzo abuses her physically and mentally. When her master grants her a short ride, Lucky rambles through a breathless array of rhyming phrases.

Nugent withdraws sympathy from the audience. Her movements as the bedraggled servant are humorous, yet pitiful. With her short monologue she imitates voices with an articulate hysteria.

As the little girl, Skinner adds to the confusion of the play. She brings messages to Vladimir from Godot, telling him to wait until tomorrow—he'll surely come. This only adds to the confusion.

Why do they believe this little girl? Why do they keep waiting? The program says it's a "biblical story retold as a fractured fair-tale." Maybe Godot depicts a religious figure? And Vladimir and Estragon will keep waiting, not realizing that's he's already there.

The play is clouded with references to searching and meaning itself. Unfortunately Waiting For Godot is difficult to follow and leaves the audience waiting. Waiting for an explanation.

The program runs Thursday, Sept. 29 through Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. in the Studio Theatre.

Sugar single sweetens Leppard Hysteria tour

By Matt Mendoza
Correspondent

Def Leppard returned to the Brendan Byrne Arena last Wednesday night for the first of three shows this weekend. The band is in the middle of the band's 1987 Hysteria tour.

Wait a minute, wasn't there a U.S. leg of the band's 1987 tour? You bet. In fact, the boys from Sheffield, England, played a lone performance at the Arena last Oct.

All that was before "Pour Some Sugar On Me," the Arena's most recent hit and a favorite of the fans. However, it's amazing what a hit single will do for ticket sales, isn't it?

It's unfortunate that it took a hit single to inspire this kind of interest in the band, because "Sugar" notwithstanding, Def Leppard has always been a band worth seeing. Don't confuse or include them with heavy metal "pretty boy" bands. Def Leppard has gotten where they are through talent—nothing more, nothing less. Their audiences are readily getting faces from it. UB40 owe their recent resurgence to a radio station in Phoenix, Arizona. One of their contents is a nightly competition in which two songs, one old, one new, go head to head. Well, after winning for a couple of weeks, the program director at the station decided to put it on their playlist. Hence, the re-release of "Red, Red Wine."

MINI-NOTES: Now that Madonna has ended her run on Broadway, the Speed the Flow costar is in the studio recording her next album expected early next year...Albums out this week: From Your Neck to My Chest by Debbie Harry, and 1984 by The Boss. Also out is "Metal," a double album by Def Leppard. And of course, the album comes complete with a free T-shirt from Def Leppard's recording label, Universal. The band's next album is expected early next year...

Hawkins Dance Company

The Erick Hawkins Dance Company will perform on Fri. Oct. 7 and Sat. Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium. Tickets are $12 standard, $10 for senior citizens and $6 for students. For more information call the Box Office at 893-5112.

Art forum lecture series

Beginning on Sept. 8, the Art Forum Lecture Series will resume its free Thurs afternoon presentations by working artists and professionals in the Calcina Fine Arts Building Auditorium.

The series features experts giving presentations on various art forms.

Among the professional artists to appear are Lori Lindenfeld, fiber artist; Ed Ruda, abstract painter; Sandi Fellman, artist/photographer; Dorette Bibby, curator of American art; NancyBowen, sculptor; and Pat Olesko, performance artist. For more information, call Patricia Lay 893-4307.

Chapman art exhibit

Painting, ceramic sculpture, handblown glass and photography are just a few of the diverse media played by former M. Anne Chapman during her lifetime. An exhibition of her work in these and other media is now on display in the College Art Gallery, Life Hall.

The exhibition will be open to the public Tues. through Sat. from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Fri. and Sat. from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. through Oct. 5. Further information can be obtained from the gallery director, Lorenzo Pace, at 893-5113.

Nolan's Notes by Jarrett Nolan

Hello and welcome to another edition of Nolan's Notes. When the "Red, Red Wine" was first poured in 1984, few people got a buzz off of it. Now that it's aged a little, more people are readily getting faces from it. UB40 owe their recent resurgence to a radio station in Phoenix, Arizona. One of their contents is a nightly competition in which two songs, one old, one new, go head to head. Well, after winning for a couple of weeks, the program director at the station decided to put it on their playlist. Hence, the re-release of "Red, Red Wine."

MINI-NOTES: Now that Madonna has ended her run on Broadway, the Speed the Flow costar is in the studio recording her next album expected early next year...Albums out this week: Anita Baker, Sept. 27; Kenny G, Sept. 29; Luther Vandross, Sept. 30; R.E.M. and Cameo, Oct. 3; Eddie Money and Keith Richards, Oct. 4. Tickets to: An Evening at the Garden Oct. 2-3; Michael Jackson at the Byrne Arena Oct. 3-5; Baker and Vandross double bill at the Garden Oct. 5-6.

MINI-NOTES II: From the "is it just me" file: is it just me or does Tracy Chapman really look like Buckwheat?...Jackson claims that this will be his last concert tour ever...SOUL!! The answer to last week's trivia question: How did Sting acquire his nickname?...Think about it...Next week:...
Wiedlin passes the Go-Go's in Rush Hour

By John Martucci
Correspondent

This is the first part of a two part series.

Jane Wiedlin has created a treasure of an album, that is warm and sensitive, as well as fun and upbeat. The first single "Rush Hour," peaked at number nine in Billboard. Throughout this interview, her honesty was startling and several times she became emotional. When talking about animal rights it was obvious she was holding back tears.

Montclair (Mont.) - Does being a former member of the Go-Go's ever come back to haunt you? Are you always being referred to as a former Go-Go?

Jane Wiedlin (J.W.) - Well, at first I kept thinking that once I get a single, people won't forget I used to be a Go-Go and I could be Jane Wiedlin. But, I realize it probably isn't going to go away; and the good thing is it means I actually come from somewhere.

Mont. - There were a lot of differences between this album and your first album three years ago: new label, new musicians, new producers and you co-wrote more songs. What are the reasons for the changes and the lag in time between the two albums?

J.W. - I'm not one of those people who is afraid to change things; and when something is not going right, you've got to change or else you're dead. Obviously what I was doing on the first album wasn't happening. So the first thing to do was to get off that label, and go somewhere where people thought I could be a star. Unless your record company thinks you have potential, there isn't much point in being there.

Mont. - And the last album?

J.W. - I realize the first album was a result of me leaving the band and suddenly experiencing a lot of freedom and it sounds that way to me now. It just goes in a lot of different directions. This time I wanted to be more solid, and that's why I wanted to work with just one producer on the whole album instead of a whole bunch of people...and the record company suggested writing with different writers. That was actually a lot of fun, I really enjoyed that.

Mont. - One reoccurring theme is concern for society and another seems to be love and relationships. Why do you focus on those two?

J.W. - Well I actually find it difficult to write about political issues and causes, but I think it's important to do so if you have strong beliefs because you're in a position to influence a lot of people. So...well I know a lot of pop artists chose not to use that power, but, I really feel as if I have no choice because I do feel so strongly about so many things.

As far as the love and relationship thing, that's just sort of a traditional...I don't know, it just seems that all along writers have always written about love, and I'm no exception.

Mont. - "Fur,"...it's a song, and it's the album's title. Is there any significance to that, the concept, the ideas or what?

J.W. - I guess there is significance...over the last four or five years I've become involved with different issues-most of which are animal issues. I also feel real strong about human rights, ecological issues and the nuclear problem. But, the thing with animals that really touches my heart is that they have no voice. They have no one to speak out for them, and they are the innocent victims of man's greed. I feel compelled to try and speak out for them because they can't. That's why I wrote the song "Fur."

I think that people have to learn to be more compassionate if we as a race are going to survive. Things are reaching this weird crisis stage where pretty soon there is going to be no water to drink, and no air to breathe and...no animals left, just people...and maybe a lot of different bugs or something.

Mont. - You were arrested once...You were involved with some sort of organization...in fact it was more than once. It was for protesting or something?

J.W. - Yeah...I was arrested four times and convicted once of blocking a doorway. I was at the University of California at Los Angeles which is a very big university in Los Angeles.

Mont. - - Yes I think I've heard

Tube Talk

By Raymond Ecke
Editorial Page Editor

Yo Yo what's up people; car wrecker and face wrecker Mike Tyson was interviewed by Barbara Walters for this Friday's edition of 20/20. Also present at the interview, which was held at Tyson's home in New Jersey, were his wife Robin Givens and mother-in-law Ruth Roper.

Typical Barbara Walters question: Mr. Tyson if you could be any kind of tree which would it be?

On Oct. 8 the Fox network premieres a new comedy show, The Comic Strip Live will be on Saturday nights at 11 p.m. Saturday Night Live don't fear it's only a half hour long. The show will originate from Los Angeles and will be hosted stand-up comic Jimmy Brogan and will feature five of the funniest stand-up comics.

O.K. by a show of hands, how many of you hate Bryan Gun­bel? Well you're in good company. Among the people that hate his guts are: Linda Ecker­bee, David Letterman, Connie Chung, Steve Garvey and his own mother. O.K. well maybe his mom doesn't hate his guts but they sure aren't close. In a recent interview Gunbel's 68 year old mom said she could not afford to give up her job as a city clerk in Chicago and is afraid to ask him for the money for fear he might reject her.

"I'm just trying to forget I have him," Rhea Gumbel said. Bryan recently signed a three year, $7 million a year contract with NBC. Readers say it with me please - "What a JERK." Thank you.

But wait here's more stupid­ity. You have a show, for the sake of argument lets call it A Different World. You have a star we'll call her Lisa Bonet. The show bombs, the star leaves, the show's finished right? Nope, the show's new season begins Thursday, Oct. 6, go figure.

I'm having a vision-L.A. Law's Abby Perkins (Michele Greene) will be so dissatisfied at the firm and set up her own practice. Did I mention I had E.S.P.?

Star Trek fans set your remote control on WPIX/ch 11 because the show will be showing in its entirety the "The Cage," the show's original pilot as part of a two hour special. The show will air this Monday at 8 p.m.

Finally, Valerie "give me more, MORE I said" Harper recently won her law suit against her former producers, Lorimar to the tune of $1.85 million. Just a little background: Harper wanted more money, the producers didn't give it, and she was fired. The only problem was that the show was called Valerie so what did they do? Bring in Peter Pan and call it The Hogan Family. Sounds good to me, hey whatever works babe.

Lame Movie of the Week: Hollywood Vice Squad Friday night at 10 p.m. on HBO. It's a movie that has violence, all the things that make life grand. Do yourself a favor and pick up a book. Ciao.
Help Wanted

Wait Staff
We offer top pay, benefits and a great work environment!
Apply in person daily.
HOUHIAN'S
Rte. 46 West, 1/4 mile west of Willow Brook Mall.
Fairfield 808-1300
Equal Oppy. employer m/f
-Available to do any style typing in my home. $2.00 p/page. Call 778-4174.
-Messengers-Courier service seeks reliable individuals with good car and clean driving record. Knowledge of N.J. roads a big plus. Will train. Compensation based on a per trip basis with a guaranteed minimum. Call 228-0211.
-Gay Activist Alliance in Morris County presents
Romanovsky & Phillips
nationally acclaimed singing duo
in concert
Monday, October 10
We meet every Monday at 8:30 pm in Morristown. Womyn's Network meets at 7:30 pm.
Helpline 201-285-1595 7 - 10 pm, nightly

Class Concerts
is looking for local bands
TO PLAY MSC

PLEASE SUBMIT: 1. Demo Tape
2. Short Biography
3. And a picture as soon as possible to Room 117 Student Center Annex Montclair State College, or call 893-4478

We have OCT. DATES THAT NEED TO BE FILLED
CLASS I CONCERTS IS A CLASS ONE ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
For Sale
- 84 Mazda GLC LX, 5-spd., Hatchback, New All-Season Bridgestone Radials, New Brakes, Excellent condition Inside and Out, LX Amenities, $2,950. Call 210-245-6025.

Date Book
On Wednesday, Oct. 5, 1988, The Newman Community will be sponsoring "Emmaus" Group at the Newman Center. Starts at 7:30. For more info, call 893-7240.

On Sunday, October 2, 1988, The Newman Community will celebrate Mass at 11 am in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall and at 7:30 pm in the Newman Center, with Deacon Sam & Erma Ventola. Call 893-7240 for more info.

Wanted
- H.O. Scale Aurora Slot Car Sets and Accessories. Call Mike at 478-0379.
- 1.5 cubic ft. refrigerator. Must be in good shape. Call 728-7480 and ask for John.

Attention
- Alpha Phi Delta—The largest National Fraternity in the tri-state area is forming a new chapter at MSC. If interested call—John at 8331-7992, Karom at 595-8522, Paul at 790-9224.

- Habitat for Humanity—Campus chapter being organized at MSC. Habitat for Humanity is an international, non-profit organization that builds homes for persons who cannot afford them. The MSC chapter will work directly with projects in N.J. and projects worldwide. If you would like to help contact Lise Greene at 893-4213.

The Editor of the Student Voice would like to apologize to TKE & AIX for stating that they would be building a float for homecoming.

ESSAYS & REPORTS
16,278 to choose from—all subjects
Order catalog today with Visa/MC or COD
Call 1-800-351-0222
Or, rush $2.00 to:
Essays & Reports
11322 Idaho Ave. #206-SN
Los Angeles, Ca. 90025
Custom research also available
Personals

- It's all Geoff's fault. Dammit.
- Don't be immature children, stop playing bumper canoes.
- Perry, don't let the worm get to your head. A fellow shot.
- Kathy - Happy 21st! Get out there and use that I.D. Make us proud! Love - Jayne, Sue, Carolyn, and Mary
- Dear Goretti - The T.R.F. class would be a total bore without your attractive presence. From A Seating Chart Member
- OPUS - From bad habits to a totally unmannered slob. You're O.K., just turn off the light! From R.A.S.
- Glenn & Kris - it was Eugene who tipped the canoe. Scapegoat
- F. Art - Thanks for the talk, nice sweats, the refreshment run, and your company. Happy Camper.
- Hey Phi Sigs! I'm so proud of you! Let's keep a good thing going and GOING STRONG! Love Maggie
- Sara and Kris - Here's to the one we all know and love-Chakka M.
- Tammy - HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!! YEAH!! Love Maggie
- To the guys with the water guns (in Blanton): You can squirt me anytime. Hope to see you again. How about this Thurs.? From the girl on the phone
- To J.M. - Who are you? From Mary
- Gail - My God! Don't you park by the High Voltage sign! Keep that Chastity Belt TIGHT-do you hear me?? And only go out with nice boys! Love Mags
- Sara and Kris - Here's to the one we all know and love-Chakka M.
- Matt - Why? I don't care! Me
- Brian - Venice Beach tans, blondes without black roots, Hollywood nights and Malibu frolics. L.A. will never be the same. When are we moving back to Cali.? Trill
- To J.M. - Who are you? From Mary
- To Michele, Lisa, and Linda: You guys are the best. I'm glad we're friends. Love Mary
- To my baby Robert: I hope you have the best birthday ever. I just want you to know "I love you very much!" Me
- Pledge TKE - The parties are ours, the fun could be yours! Ask for Rich.
- Christine - Happy Belated 21st! Sorry I couldn't get you what you really wanted-want what can I say I don't have his number. Love K.
- Turtle - You're a schnerble, but I love you. Do it again, and I won't. Only kidding. Hugs and joggles, your Boss.
- Greg - What we did was wrong and totally uncalled for...Sometime next Thursday/Friday?? "Stretch me."
- To the LITTLE BOY: congrad's on the job promotion and if my opinion counts, "YOU are a SPECIAL person" And YES, I felt just like a LITTLE GIRL again.
- Dear Mona Theresa - HAPPY Birthday! I could never forget, even if this personal is late!! Love your long lost roomie, still in Blanton!! Jules

Gag Reflex

Gag Reflex

By John Paul

AIRS IS NO LAUGHING MATTER.

LEMONS ON THE OTHER HAND, IS A RUT!

cont. on p. 17
What's What in MSC sports

Soccer

The Indians won their only two contests this past week to stretch their win streak to four. On Tuesday night, the Indians had an NJAC matchup with William Paterson. MSC won 2-0, on goals by John Rubini and Robert Casey. On Friday, the Indians defeated Stockton State, 3-1, as Scott Logan scored twice and Gus Maromarco added a goal. Upcoming matches: Sat., Dowling (H), 1:00; Wed., at Kean, 3:30.

Fall Baseball

The Indians entered last week facing a tough schedule and came out smiling. MSC had three games scheduled, the first against William Paterson College, which they dropped 5-4. The next two games came against Division I Rider College, in a doubleheader played in the first inning. The first five MSC baserunners hit safely in the game which ended with a score of 16-7. Game two was also a success for the Indians, as first baseman John Deutsch blasted his second homer in five games to make the score 4-0 after six. MSC held on for the win as the game ended 4-3. Upcoming game: Today, at Rutgers-New Brunswick.

Women's Tennis

The Indians are off to a rough start under interim coach Jill Jeffrey, holding a record of 0-3. The team dropped their opener by a score of 9-0 to Farleigh Dickinson University. However, they have shown some signs of life in the last two matches, losing 6-3 in both as they faced William Paterson and East Stroudsburg. Leading the team have been singles players Melissa Kollar and Jacque Mazicken, who have both won in the last two matches.

Field Hockey

Head coach Marge Snyder's Indians vaulted to a 5-1 record following two wins last week. The game opened against King's College where the Indians dominated throughout the game. The MSC defense played tough, not allowing King's College across the 50 yard line until only eight minutes remained in the game. Judy DeMarco turned in another incredible game as she netted two goals in the 4-0 rout. The Indians continued their torrid streak when they squared off against conference rival William Paterson, winning 2-1 in overtime. DeMarco scored the winner in that one, bringing her total for the season to five. Mary Liuzzi scored a crucial goal, sending the game into overtime.

Trivia Time-Out

Each week, The Montclarion publishes a list of sports questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. How many Triple Crown winners did jockey Eddie Arcaro ride?
2. What NFL team's owner took to calling plays himself near the end of a miserable 1981 season?
3. Who set an NFL record with 41 rushing attempts in a single game?
4. Who was the first Hispanic elected into the baseball Hall of Fame?
5. What pitcher won a lawsuit after the volatile Billy Martin broke his jaw?

Answer to last week's stumper:
Who was the starting catcher for the Chicago White Sox in the 1959 World Series? Sherman Lollar.

Submitting the correct answer was: Tammi Nichols, Lisa Fasano, Dan O'Brien.

This week's stumper: What did thieves steal from the North Hills Golf Course in Douglaston, New York, in 1929?

-Pend-TKE-We make collegiate an experience. There is no substitute. Ask for Rich.

-Kev-talk to me, don't bottle it and mope. I'll listen. Lynn

-Gaby, Honey! Happy 21!! Now you can go out with us legally.

-Love ya Jules

-Congratulations to the New Executive Board and Committee for the success of B.S.C.U.

-You're doing a Great Job! Keep up the Good Work! Sincerely The Pink One

-Men of Senate-We're so proud of you. Here's to an Ihrie year of my life. I Love You so much. I have some questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

-Pend-TKE-We make collegiate an experience. There is no substitute. Ask for Rich.

-Kev-talk to me, don't bottle it and mope. I'll listen. Lynn

-Gaby, Honey! Happy 21!! Now you can go out with us legally.

-Love ya Jules

-Congratulations to the New Executive Board and Committee for the success of B.S.C.U.

-You're doing a Great Job! Keep up the Good Work! Sincerely The Pink One

-Men of Senate-We're so proud of you. Here's to an Ihrie year of my life. I Love You so much. I have some questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

-Pend-TKE-We make collegiate an experience. There is no substitute. Ask for Rich.

-Kev-talk to me, don't bottle it and mope. I'll listen. Lynn

-Gaby, Honey! Happy 21!! Now you can go out with us legally.

-Love ya Jules

-Congratulations to the New Executive Board and Committee for the success of B.S.C.U.

-You're doing a Great Job! Keep up the Good Work! Sincerely The Pink One

-Men of Senate-We're so proud of you. Here's to an Ihrie year of my life. I Love You so much. I have some questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

-Pend-TKE-We make collegiate an experience. There is no substitute. Ask for Rich.

-Kev-talk to me, don't bottle it and mope. I'll listen. Lynn

-Gaby, Honey! Happy 21!! Now you can go out with us legally.

-Love ya Jules

-Congratulations to the New Executive Board and Committee for the success of B.S.C.U.

-You're doing a Great Job! Keep up the Good Work! Sincerely The Pink One

-Men of Senate-We're so proud of you. Here's to an Ihrie year of my life. I Love You so much. I have some questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

-Pend-TKE-We make collegiate an experience. There is no substitute. Ask for Rich.

-Kev-talk to me, don't bottle it and mope. I'll listen. Lynn

-Gaby, Honey! Happy 21!! Now you can go out with us legally.

-Love ya Jules

-Congratulations to the New Executive Board and Committee for the success of B.S.C.U.

-You're doing a Great Job! Keep up the Good Work! Sincerely The Pink One

-Men of Senate-We're so proud of you. Here's to an Ihrie year of my life. I Love You so much. I have some questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia. In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue. If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office or Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.
Walsh capitalizes on opportunity to play

By Mary Carlonmagno
Staff Writer

In MSC's game against Ramapo on Saturday, he carried the ball seven times, scored three touchdowns, and ran for 156 yards.

Although his statistics should speak for themselves, junior Dan Walsh, this week's Montclarion Athlete of the Week, has much more to talk about than just his record.

Walsh has been playing for the Indians for three years. He transferred from Kutztown University in 1986. In his first season at MSC, he played defense. Last season, Walsh suffered an injury to his hamstring and was redshirted.

According to Walsh, experience will definitely be a factor for the Indians this season.

"We are in sync with each other. Since we have been playing together for a long time, it seems that things usually go our way. It seems that we get the breaks when we are supposed to get the breaks," stated Walsh.

"If we lose I will be shocked," Walsh continued. "There is so much talent on the team, both offensively and defensively."

MSC tailback Dan Walsh, who exploded for 156 yards Saturday against Ramapo to earn Montclarion Athlete of the Week honors.

The Indian defense was exceptionally strong last week, as the unit let up only eight points. Walsh feels that it was 'what kept us in the game early.'

"I wasn't at all surprised at last week's game," Walsh said. "Our defense is so strong that it doesn't seem to make a difference if we put points on the board or not."

Team co-captain Mark Witzal said of Walsh's performance, "Danny is a tough, straight ahead type of runner. He did what he had to do—rack up the yardage and steamroll the Ramapo defense."

Nose tackle Matthew Clark stated, "We have three running backs (Scott Vega, Mike Cedella, and Walsh) with stats that could enable them to start. No other team is in that position. It then becomes the coach's problem in picking who will play."

Clark continued, "We are individuals with the understanding that if each single player does his job, the team will succeed. Dan Walsh, by being present in the backfield, is clearly doing his job."

Walsh reinforces the idea of group effort and unity. "It is not in my nature to point out what my individual strengths may be. We are all as good as each other," he said.

Upcoming for Walsh and the Indians is the Pride Bowl, which will be played at City Stadium on Saturday. Walsh is confident that MSC will win.

"I really don't think there is a team that can beat us. We have the best and the biggest defensive line in Division III."

As for the rest of the season, Walsh added, "I know I can play. Now I just need to get the opportunity."
Inside Corner starts with $16.40 selection

By Kenny Peck
At the Meadowlands On September 8, On the Inside Corner tabbed a two year old by the name of Two Pence as a good bet in a moderate-to-high allowance race (yes, we're gloating). Faithful followers of this column were rewarded with a $16.40 return when Two Pence won by a length Saturday night at the Meadowlands. Now, before we hit an eleven week losing streak and are chastised for our lack of skill, please let us take a few moments to gloat.

That's OK, back to the selections. Over the course of the next few weeks, we'll be looking for three horses: Turbo Prop, who comes out of a key race on September 11. Maluke ran seventh in the same race with Turbo Prop, and came back to win in the same class. Look for Turbo Prop in low claimers, up to $16,000. Havin' a Blast had trouble in the stretch last Thursday, as he checked twice. Native Royalty was also checked twice in the stretch but still managed to be second. He'll be chalk, but probably worth it. Only on the grass.

Other items worth noting: the track is extremely fast. Low claimers were running in the 1:09's Wednesday night. Also, speed is holding up well. Lastly, when John Tammaro puts mud caulks on his mounts, look out—he means business.

Olympic-sized mess The 1988 Summer Olympic Games will, unfortunately, be remembered for the negative occurrences rather than the great accomplishments of some of the athletes. Everyone points to Ben Johnson and his use of steroids, but people seem to have forgotten about the disqualification of an American boxer because he arrived about ten minutes late for his bout as a result of an error in reading his schedule. I have no problem with that—it was (supposedly) the biggest moment of the guy's life, and his coaches get him there late. No excuse whatsoever.

But now what about the Korean boxer who was sent to the canvas when he thought he could hit the bell which sounded in the adjoining ring was signalled for his fight, and he dropped his hands, only to be dropped himself? Wasn't that an error in judgment on his part? If it was, then why was the fight cancelled and rescheduled? Why didn't the boxer who was late get a second chance?

Forget any rational explanation. The fact is, if the roles were reversed and a Korean fighter showed up late, he would not have been disqualified. And if an American had been clocked by Johnson's motivation to cheat—after all, everybody's doing it.

LT's back Yeah, so Lawrence Taylor is back, and he might play for the Giants Sunday. The Giants (and the NFL, for that matter) are probably glad to have him back. And why not? The guy's a great ballplayer, he generates excitement, and he's a character. But the thing that both the league and the Giants don't want to hear is that Taylor is a Grade-A jerk, and not for the same tired, old reasons. Here's the point: he writes a book, and in it he explains how he got around the drug-testing procedures of the league. Then he proceeds to go out and continue to use drugs, and get caught at it, too.

Amazing.

Track season gets off on right foot

By Tracy Anderson Correspondent
After a victory over St. Peter's and a third place finish in the Trenton Invitational, optimism is high as the MSC women's track team prepare for this week-end's competition at Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Junior Rosa Domingues was named All Conference for the two-mile event and has been a major factor in MSC's strong opening performances. Her victory in the St. Peter's meet followed a superb race at the Trenton Invitational, where she finished with a time of 20:14 for 3.1 miles.

Head coach John Blanton believes Domingues will be a valuable asset to the team for the upcoming season. "I'm very pleased with Domingues' performance and I'm anticipating her to run even faster in the future," said Blanton.

Jennifer Abrahamson, also named All Conference in 1987, proved a top competitor in early seasons meets, as she ran up to expectations at the Trenton Invitational and finished second against St. Peter's with a time of 20:34.

Coach Collura has been involved with the program for a year, and with her expertise as well as her vast knowledge she will prove invaluable to the team.

Sophomores Linda Magloire, Teresa Lewis and Patricia Anderson together with juniors Bernedette Wyips and Jill Robinson make up what Blanton calls the "pack five". The five runners all performed consistently well in both of the Indians early season meets.

This will be Blanton's first year in charge of the MSC's track team. He is convinced that this talented women's squad will achieve many successes in the 1988 campaign.

"We will take each day as it comes. If we win, we will win humbly, and if we lose, we will lose graciously," said Blanton. "Our ultimate goal is to compete regionally and subsequently nationally."

Wagner preview

Seahawks ready for Pride Bowl showdown

By Kenny Peck Sports Editor

MSC takes on Wagner Saturday afternoon at City Stadium in Newark in the 10th annual Pride Bowl. The benefit game, which supports Newark's Project Pride (a non-profit youth organization), pits two of the top teams in all of Division III.

The Indians, who haven't lost since September 29 of last season, will be attempting to stretch their winning streak to eleven games.

Wagner (2-1), last year's Division III national champion, ripped District of Columbia last week, 61-14, while the Indians (3-0) rocked Ramapo, 40-8.

The Seahawks are led by an impressive backfield tandem of seniors Terry Underwood and Tom Pugh. Underwood leads the team in rushing with 449 yards on 67 carries, while Pugh boasts a team-high five touchdowns.

Senior quarterback Greg Kvar is back for Wagner. Thus far this season, Kovar has completed 49 of 85 passes for 603 yards and one touchdown.

The Seamahawk secondary is an inexperienced unit, as none of the three starters (sophomore Frank Swart, junior Brandt Mandia and senior Randy Johnson) were starters on last year's championship team.

On September 8, On the Inside Corner tabbed a two year old by the name of Two Pence as a good bet in a moderate-to-high allowance race (yes, we're gloating). Faithful followers of this column were rewarded with a $16.40 return when Two Pence won by a length Saturday night at the Meadowlands. Now, before we hit an eleven week losing streak and are chastised for our lack of skill, please let us take a few moments to gloat. That's OK, back to the selections. Over the course of the next few weeks, we'll be looking for three horses: Turbo Prop, who comes out of a key race on September 11. Maluke ran seventh in the same race with Turbo Prop, and came back to win in the same class. Look for Turbo Prop in low claimers, up to $16,000. Havin' a Blast had trouble in the stretch last Thursday, as he checked twice. Native Royalty was also checked twice in the stretch but still managed to be second. He'll be chalk, but probably worth it. Only on the grass.

Other items worth noting: the track is extremely fast. Low claimers were running in the 1:09's Wednesday night. Also, speed is holding up well. Lastly, when John Tammaro puts mud caulks on his mounts, look out—he means business.

Olympic-sized mess The 1988 Summer Olympic Games will, unfortunately, be remembered for the negative occurrences rather than the great accomplishments of some of the athletes. Everyone points to Ben Johnson and his use of steroids, but people seem to have forgotten about the disqualification of an American boxer because he arrived about ten minutes late for his bout as a result of an error in reading his schedule. I have no problem with that—it was (supposedly) the biggest moment of the guy's life, and his coaches get him there late. No excuse whatsoever.

But now what about the Korean boxer who was sent to the canvas when he thought he could hit the bell which sounded in the adjoining ring was signalled for his fight, and he dropped his hands, only to be dropped himself? Wasn't that an error in judgment on his part? If it was, then why was the fight cancelled and rescheduled? Why didn't the boxer who was late get a second chance?

Forget any rational explanation. The fact is, if the roles were reversed and a Korean fighter showed up late, he would not have been disqualified. And if an American had been clocked by Johnson's motivation to cheat—after all, everybody's doing it.

LT's back Yeah, so Lawrence Taylor is back, and he might play for the Giants Sunday. The Giants (and the NFL, for that matter) are probably glad to have him back. And why not? The guy's a great ballplayer, he generates excitement, and he's a character. But the thing that both the league and the Giants don't want to hear is that Taylor is a Grade-A jerk, and not for the same tired, old reasons. Here's the point: he writes a book, and in it he explains how he got around the drug-testing procedures of the league. Then he proceeds to go out and continue to use drugs, and get caught at it, too.

Amazing.

Track season gets off on right foot

By Tracy Anderson Correspondent
After a victory over St. Peter's and a third place finish in the Trenton Invitational, optimism is high as the MSC women's track team prepare for this week-end's competition at Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Junior Rosa Domingues was named All Conference for the two-mile event and has been a major factor in MSC's strong opening performances. Her victory in the St. Peter's meet followed a superb race at the Trenton Invitational, where she finished with a time of 20:14 for 3.1 miles.

Head coach John Blanton believes Domingues will be a valuable asset to the team for the upcoming season. "I'm very pleased with Domingues' performance and I'm anticipating her to run even faster in the future," said Blanton.

Jennifer Abrahamson, also named All Conference in 1987, proved a top competitor in early seasons meets, as she ran up to expectations at the Trenton Invitational and finished second against St. Peter's with a time of 20:34.

Coach Collura has been involved with the program for a year, and with her expertise as well as her vast knowledge she will prove invaluable to the team.

Sophomores Linda Magloire, Teresa Lewis and Patricia Anderson together with juniors Bernedette Wyips and Jill Robinson make up what Blanton calls the "pack five". The five runners all performed consistently well in both of the Indians early season meets.

This will be Blanton's first year in charge of the MSC's track team. He is convinced that this talented women's squad will achieve many successes in the 1988 campaign.

"We will take each day as it comes. If we win, we will win humbly, and if we lose, we will lose graciously," said Blanton. "Our ultimate goal is to compete regionally and subsequently nationally."

Wagner preview

Seahawks ready for Pride Bowl showdown

By Kenny Peck Sports Editor

MSC takes on Wagner Saturday afternoon at City Stadium in Newark in the 10th annual Pride Bowl. The benefit game, which supports Newark's Project Pride (a non-profit youth organization), pits two of the top teams in all of Division III.

The Indians, who haven't lost since September 29 of last season, will be attempting to stretch their winning streak to eleven games.

Wagner (2-1), last year's Division III national champion, ripped District of Columbia last week, 61-14, while the Indians (3-0) rocked Ramapo, 40-8.

The Seahawks are led by an impressive backfield tandem of seniors Terry Underwood and Tom Pugh. Underwood leads the team in rushing with 449 yards on 67 carries, while Pugh boasts a team-high five touchdowns.

Senior quarterback Greg Kvar is back for Wagner. Thus far this season, Kovar has completed 49 of 85 passes for 603 yards and one touchdown.

The Seamount defensive has been stingy this season, yielding only 34 points in three games and coming up with the big plays when needed. This Saturday, the Indians take on defending Division III national champion Wagner in the tenth annual Pride Bowl at City Stadium in Newark.
Walsh leads MSC past Ramapo, 40-8

By Kenny Peck
Sports Editor

Tailback Dan Walsh scored three touchdowns to lead the Indians to a 40-8 victory over Ramapo Saturday in a New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) game in Mahwah. Walsh set a school record with his first score, an 85-yard run. It was the longest run from scrimmage in MSC history, smashing the old mark of 80 yards which was held by Bill Grundy (1980) and Bobby Van­noy (1981). He later scored on runs of 59 yards and one yard. The junior from Hazlet finished the game with 156 yards rushing on just seven carries.

For his efforts, Walsh was named East Coast Athletic Conference Player of the Week. Walsh's performance overshadowed an excellent performance by running back Mike Codella. The senior from Par­sippany carried the ball 19 times for 114 yards and a touchdown. The Indians fell just 41 yards short of the school record for total offensive yards in a single game, as they rolled up 457 total yards.