Presidential Fall Symposium
Redfield defines the educated person

By Lynn M. Cowan
Editor-in-Chief

Dr. James M. Redfield was the keynote speaker at the fifth annual Presidential Fall Symposium, held on Oct. 3 in Memorial Auditorium.

Redfield, professor of social thought and classics at the University of Chicago, spoke on the topic, "Defining the Educated Person: Counterpoints."

"Educators are vulnerable to demands," Redfield said in his opening remarks. "They are subject to all expectations of society. We're expected to teach a subject, and teach our society's values."

Because of these demands, he said, educators tend to make gestures rather than actions.

Redfield used language requirements as an example of these gestures. "Students are not required to learn a language anymore, but to attempt to study it for some time." This, he said, was a gesture, not an action.

Redfield then went on to define knowledge. "In most cultures, there are at least three kinds of knowledge circulating about," he said. He listed these three types of knowledge as general knowledge, skilled knowledge, and sacred knowledge.

General knowledge, Redfield explained, consists of the things that everyone ought to know. Skilled knowledge, he continued, consists of the things that a few people know, such as crafts.

Sacred knowledge, he concluded, consists of the things that only certain, privileged people know.

Redfield added that our culture is the exception to these three types of knowledge.

Western culture, he said, has de-mystified this sacred knowledge, but in the process, sacredness of worldly activity has occurred.

"Most think there should be a relation of theory to the world," Redfield said. Interdisciplinary work, though, is not the answer, according to Redfield. "When you take two disciplines and put them together, the result is a third discipline—not a combination of the first two."

Redfield said, "The gap between academia and the world is entirely appropriate and useful."

"What the world has to offer can be learned in the world," he said.

Child care center opened

Construction is almost completed on the new MSC Child Care Center facility in Stone Hall, which will open in mid-October.

According to Janey Nuzzo, director of the Child Care Center, the Child Care Center will be open to children of students, faculty, and staff, ages 2 1/2 to 6 years, who have up-to-date immunization records. The center will be open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Skilled knowledge, he continued, consists of the things that a few people know, such as crafts.

According to Nuzzo there are 200 students applied to live on campus. By the end of the semester, there are at least three types of knowledge circulating about.

Sacred knowledge, he concluded, consists of the things that only certain, privileged people know.

Redfield added that our culture is the exception to these three types of knowledge.

Western culture, he said, has de-mystified this sacred knowledge, but in the process, sacredness of worldly activity has occurred.

Parking issue unresolved

By Laura Lawson Correspondent

When asked if he believed there was a problem with parking on campus, Thomas Stepnowski, assistant vice president for facilities, answered, "Yes, we don't have enough proximity parking. We must disenfranchise someone.

There are 4000 available parking spaces on campus, said Stepnowski, compared to the approximate 8000 cars with decals. He said that lot 28 on Clove Road generally has 300-500 empty spaces. The 350 spaces in lot 13 are said to turn over six times a day.

Lot 13 is frequently reserved for visitor use, in addition to its space limitations. According to Stepnowski and Campus Police, if more than 50 spaces are to be reserved, the campus police must notify the SGA in advance so the dates and numbers may be published in the Montclarion. An SGA representative said this policy has not yet been instituted.

Last spring, the SGA staged a protest to call to the attention of the administration, student dissatisfaction with the use of lot 13 and the inconvenience of Freeman Hall residents who were previously required to park overnight across the campus.

The parking committee, with three student representatives, met after the protest and compiled a proposal submitted for review to Mr. William Griffith, vice president of Administration and Conference.

The proposed parking plan included suggestions for overnight parking for Freeman Hall residents in lot 30, ten designated handicapped spaces in lot 13, reinforcement of lot 17 as commuter parking, and the advance notification by campus police to SGA of reserved parking for visitors in lot 13.

So far, the only concrete change in parking regulations has been the allocation of 30 random overnight spaces in lot 30 for Freeman Hall residents and the establishment of ten permanently reserved handicapped spaces in lot 13, Stepnowski said. Terry Del Vecchio, treasurer of the SGA and student representative on the parking committee, said, "We came to a compromise and nothing has come of it. Everybody thought it was a fair proposal and it would be accepted."

Stepnowski said, "The protest was helpful for people to understand the problem." On the issue of lot 13 he stated, "A philosophical difference existed between how the college treats visitors and how the parking students think visitors should be treated."

Del Vecchio said, "The college should be treating the students consideration first and then outside guests and visitors."

He is concerned with the question of how the requests legitimate? We don't want the policy abused," he said.

In reference to the proposal, Del Vecchio also said, "accepted by the committee, but not by Bill Griffith. The students voiced concern, but the administration did not respond. (They) seemed willing to cooperate with students, but now the flame has burned out. Students are no longer willing. Maybe another protest is in order."

Stepnowski pointed out that visitors and guests at the college come not only as taxpayers in the state of NJ, but also as representatives from various fields as such as lecturers and participants in symposiums whose visits are for the benefit of the students.

He added that he is his "bureaucratic to make sure we have a safe campus and parking is a component in the entire safety package."

Proposal of mandatory ESL

By Lynn M. Cowan Editor-in-Chief

The Hispanic Caucus held its first general meeting on Oct. 4 to discuss the English as a Second Language (ESL) grant. Dr. Alice Freed, ESL coordinator, spoke about the $73,000 one-year grant awarded to the linguistics department to expand the ESL program.

She reported on the progress the program has made in identifying students who need ESL courses to improve their English communication skills. Freed said students are identified for testing for the ESL program based on a three-question Home Language Survey and examination of writing samples.

This screening process, she said, does not automatically place students in the ESL courses, but it does recommend that they be tested to determine their need for the courses.

She added that the grant has also provided funding for an ESL tutor in the campus Tutorial Center, and faculty advising for ESL students.

Freed proposed that all properly identified students should be required to take an ESL placement exam. Hopefully, if their test results showed a need, the ESL courses.

"Students are not required to take these courses, and there are some with a real need who refuse to, she said. Her interpretation of Freed, was that some felt there was a stigma attached to ESL courses.

Mr. Jose Magdalene, career counselor, agreed with the proposal. "I see people graduating from this institution who really have very poor mastery of the English language. These folks are in serious trouble. If the instrument (screening process) is valid and shows the need, these students should be required" he said.

Dr. Joanne Engelbert of the Spanish department, was caucused to examine why the students viewed the ESL courses as a stigma. The caucus convened, agreeing that it would encourage students with a need for ESL training to enroll in the courses. She added that the material used should be "neutral," and that the students should be "comfortable" with the process. It was decided that a group session. He defined a "minority" as anyone who is not a member of the majority. It was finally agreed that in the future, students viewed the ESL courses in a different light.

Global view urged

By Jane Bech Nielsen Assignment editor

At the Presidential Fall Symposium break-out session titled "Global Perspectives", it was concluded that Americans must become better educated about the outside world. The interconnectedness of world affairs.

Dr. William Berlin of political science stressed that this outside world does not necessarily mean countries outside of the U.S. but people outside the U.S. Dr. Harriet Klein, director of the international studies program, said, "There is no substitute for learning about things that are close to us, and for knowing ourselves."

Several participants pointed out the overwhelming ethnocentrism that characterizes American culture. "Being Americans, we are totally emerged in our own culture," Dr. Harriet Klein, director of the international studies program.

Klein, who as an anthropologist has traveled extensively, said that "today the average person gets to appreciate the diversity of cultural values."

You also acquire an appreciation of how other people view your own society," Klein added.

Educational leadership, Julia Dutka, a native of China, said that the separation from her own culture forced a sense of growth. "It enabled me to reflect upon my own culture, to see things I had not previously been able to see," she said.

Several international students attending the session gave examples of American ethnocentrism in how they first came to America, everybody thought I was a coffee bean picker," a Columbian student said.

"They kept asking me about 'coco' although not mentioned in the textbooks," she said.

The session focused on what can be done to incorporate a global perspective into the college curriculum. Some participants pointed out that a global perspective should be incorporated in every part of the textbook. The author of the textbook in the future, students would be expected to read the textbooks must reflect this view.

In a reply to questions of what it meant to "internationalize" should be taught at home, Tolbert said, "Since the family union is under a lot of strain, education must step in. That is the only viable solution."

Liberal is superior

By Lyianne McClean Correspondent

The participants of the Presidential Fall Symposium break-out session titled "Careers" agreed unanimously that the experience prepared people are better prepared for the future.

Dr. Joseph Candelario, assistant to the dean of students, said, "Today, students want themselves like fast food restaurants."

Dr. Carlos Pratt of the psychology department represented. "It hasn't always been that way."

The students also worried about the impact of an educational institution's reputation. According to Robbins, MSC students who are 'liberals' can never compete effectively. "Two years down the road it doesn't matter whether you went to school. We're all students or not you can do the job," Robbins said. "The key to success is open-mindedness and hard work."

Masturbator terrorizes library

By Rob Tomo
Correspondent

On Sept. 29, a female student reported to the campus police an incident that occurred on Sept. 27 at 9:00 p.m. at Sprague Library.

The female was sitting in the first floor of the library near the reference section, when a man sat down next to her and started staring at her. At first she ignored him, but she later discovered that he was masturbating. The police have a description of the man.

The campus police recently received reports from female residents in Bohn Hall on the 10th and 14th floors, that a male resident also of Bohn Hall had been harassing them.

The male reportedly hid in the women’s bathrooms and stared at the females while they were using them. He also reportedly followed the females to their rooms, trying to talk to them.

On Sept. 30, the male was identified and arrested. He has been charged with harassment and trespassing and will be arraigned on Friday, Oct. 7 in Clifton Municipal Court.

Pending the outcome of the court proceedings, he has been thrown out of the dorms and suspended from school.

On Sept. 30 at 1:40 a.m., the campus police received a call from an assistant manager in Bulton Hall that a male resident was trying to break into another resident’s room.

The youth who was under the influence of alcohol, was apprehended by the police and identified as being under the legal drinking age. The minor was brought to Mountainside Hospital for treatment and will be charged with illegal consumption of alcohol beverages.

On Oct. 1 close to 1 a.m., the campus police apprehended an individual that had smashed the window of a fire exit door in Bohn Hall.

The person, who was identified as a visitor and not an MSC student, claimed he was emotionally upset due to family problems. He is reimbursing the college for damages, and no charges will be pressed against him.

Between 7:50 p.m. and 3:00 a.m. on Sept. 28, a 1980 Toyota Tercel was broken into in lot 30. A radar detector was stolen from the car.

Sometime between 6:00 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 5:00 p.m. on Sept. 28, a 1980 Toyota Celica in lot 30 was broken into and an attempt was made to steal the car. The attempt failed, but a radar detector and checks from a checkbook were taken from the car.

A stereo was stolen from a 1987 Volkswagen which was parked in lot 28, sometime between 11 p.m. on Sept. 28 and 9 p.m. on Sept. 29.

A rock was thrown through the rear window of a 1979 Chevy Malibu parked in lot 24, sometime between 9:30 p.m. on Sept. 28 and 10 a.m. on Sept. 30.

An attempt was made to smash the windshield of a 1981 Chevy Malibu parked in lot 22 with a rock. However, the window just cracked. This occurred between 8:30 p.m. on Sept. 27 and 12:45 a.m. on Sept. 30.

An object was also thrown through the windshield of a 1983 Toyota in lot 24 sometime between 8:30 p.m. on Sept. 29 and 1 p.m. on Sept. 30.

Somewhere between 5 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 8 a.m. on Sept. 30 someone stole a Michigan license plate from a 1985 Chysler Laser parked in lot 20.

A Pennsylvania license plate was also removed from a 1987 Honda parked in lot 24 sometime between 5 p.m. on Sept. 26 and 9 p.m. on Sept. 27.

A tree stump was thrown through the window of a glass door in the student center between 2:00 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. on Sept. 29.

Between 8:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. on Oct. 3, a 1967 Mercury Cougar was broken into and a stereo taken from it in lot 30.

A 1980 Toyota Celica was stolen from lot 30 between 6 p.m. on Sept. 30 and 4 p.m. on Oct. 3. The Hoboken Police recovered the car on Oct. 4 after it had received extensive damage, including a punched out ignition, a missing front seat, and a damaged steering column.

Between 10 p.m. on Oct. 1 and noon on Oct. 2, a 1967 Pontiac 2-door, parked in lot 23, was broken into and a stereo was stolen from it.

Corrections

In last week’s issue of The Montclarion, it was incorrectly reported in “Tommy Talks” that Vic Mizzone has stopped his lawsuit against MSC.

Mizzone has dropped his civil lawsuit against the college to file suit in superior court. The Montclarion regrets any confusion this error may have caused.

Intro. to the Short Story

When Carla told me that my date was a little short, I thought she was talking dollars and cents, not feet and inches. So there I was at the door, in my spiked heels, staring at the top of my date’s head.

All I could think was, how do I get myself out of this? I could imagine how my legs would ache if I had to walk around with my knees bent all evening.

So to stall for time, while figuring out how to fake malaria, I made us some Double Dutch Chocolate.

When I brought it into the living room, I discovered that Gary was a chocolate lover too. Ahh, a man after my own heart. Okay, I decided I’ll give him a chance. So we sat down and saw each other face-to-face for the first time. He had a nice smile.

After some small talk—mean conversation—I discovered that we both love Updike, hate the winter weather, and both have miniature schnauzers. So, we made a date to introduce Shadow and Schatzi next week.

PARKING: Do we really get what we pay for?

On Tuesday, April 12, 1988, the students of MSC held a demonstration to protest the insufficient parking on campus. Although the parking situation has been a constant problem, the protest was in response to several recent developments.

A prime concern was the lack of parking for students living in dormitories and other on-campus housing. The students felt that the administration had not done enough to address this issue, despite the promises made in previous years.

Protestors wanted a student majority on the Parking Committee, and hoped that students would be permitted to keep lot 13 free of visitors. The committee's recommendation was then passed on to Vice President of Finance and Administration Bill Griffith, who could choose to use the recommendation or not.

But there's the odd part: Mr. Stepnowski, Director of Facilities and a member of the Parking Committee, does not recall the outcome of any such vote for the proposal ever taking place. A copy of the minutes of the meeting has been requested by Mergola but has been met with considerable delay.

Is information being suppressed? Is the administration deliberately stonewalling the efforts of the Parking Committee? In terms of parking, when will students get what they pay for?

The students of the college deserve better parking arrangements. After all, if the students of this college aren't accommodated, who should we accommodate? It is our belief that this serious problem will not be resolved without the full cooperation of the administration.
Response to racism continues

To the editor:

I think it’s time to throw my hat into the racial ring of criticism. I’ve read every letter to date, and it seems everyone is trying to push their specific belief that racism is at play. I hope to cover the topic of racism on campus both neatly and concisely.

I believe racism exists on campus, but I would be foolish to say otherwise. I don’t believe, however, it exists anywhere here but any other place.

There are always going to be people who dislike other people because of appearances and backgrounds. I think that stinks, but I admit, I see it creep up in me sometimes. We’re in an educational setting at the college, and it would be nice to think that everyone would think first before reacting. Unfortunately, it doesn’t work out that way.

If anyone is still confused about Vic Mizzone, then look around and you’ll find a variety of stories. Don’t focus on any one version and likewise don’t let any one story in particular shape your opinion of racism on campus.

If anyone thinks I’m choosing to ignore racism you’re wrong. I am simply choosing not to react over any one incident. If someone tells me that “Johnny White Boy” punched “Tony Latino” then I have to wonder why. Maybe Johnny is a little psychotic or maybe Tony spit in his face first. I get alarmed when I hear about four or so fights, because the chances of the fights not being racially motivated are slim.

I was involved in an incident about three years ago that didn’t start out as a racial thing, but quickly developed into one. The next day a close friend walked down to campus police and reported the incident.

Two problems quickly arise: (1) maybe people are not reporting the cases of overt racism, and (2) maybe the campus police are not reporting the situations as racial incidents? There is even a third obstacle. Is prejudice the reason for every fight with a minority? Where does equality begin and where does it end?

It is sad, but the problems that seem so clear to some, are not the same to others. I believe in thoughts and feelings of John Lennon, and Martin Luther King Jr., and hope a day will come where we are all equals. I believe that in this country every group that immigrated here was persecuted for some time. Those groups eventually found harmony.

I think that there has been enough public addresses to this topic, and I hope the next comes from the administration in the form of a committee or an outside consultation and progress report on the racism problem on this campus.

Some remain confident in Quale

Within a day or two after these words appear, judgment will be passed on the abilities of Dan Quayle. It can’t be supposed that George Bush does not know that the selection of Quayle as his running mate has crystallized into the ultimate question about Bush’s capacity to lead the nation. It isn’t only the old business about Quayle’s joining the National Guard presumably to avoid a tribute to apple pie, the evaluation of it by its delivery. As to the speech itself, which was that the acceptance speech he gave was written to serve at a moment’s notice as president. We learn is the latest taunt. Answer: “To join the National Vietnam (“Why does a chicken cross the road?”) It isn’t only the old business about Quayle’s criticism. I’ve read every letter hat into the racial ring of cases.

It was unwise, of course, the major anti-Quayle bombast and domestic treacle. The Vietnam War, in addition to pronouncing the idea of individual conscientious objection to an end to the policy of containment, catapulted the idea of individual conscientious objection to a particular war to a dazzling relevance. The stiff-upper-lip case can be made (and made by responsible citizens) that American conscripts were goddamned in any case, because the command- er in chief back by Congress tells them to go and the like.

Future military engagements, if conduct ed without clear evidence that the safety of the republic is in jeopardy, will need to be fought by volunteers. And the toleration of Quayle’s conduct by veterans organizations is the clearest proof of this.

But after the brief exposure before the veterans groups, the impression hardened that Quayle was being tethered for fear that he would not act - could not act - persuasively. In one burst of analysis he got so tangled in his language that he avoided not only the whole issue of the Vietnam War, but like Eisenhower drunk. Although any of the dozen talk shows willing and eager to invite him to appear did so, Sunday after Sunday, he remained in relative reclusion, delivering only before remote R.F.D. crowds his stump speech, which is a combination of patriotic bombast and domestic treacle.

I owe to this depressing account the wait for the news of America’s decision to stay in the Vietnam War. When CBS accused Jeane Kirkpatrick in New Orleans on the floor of the Republic for convening to give the news that Dan Quayle was the choice of George Bush, she flushed with enthusiasm. Now, Mrs. Kirkpatrick is not the kind of person who cares easily. A telephone call established that in her dealings with Quayle on the subject of arms control, she was greatly impressed by his mastery of the subject. Another call, this time to Jack Kemp, yielded a second vote of confidence.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said flat-out that Dan Quayle was not qualified to serve as vice president, that if the Bush ticket were elected, survivor of that war are perfectly situated to say that one was it. Not since the charge of the Light Brigade were soldiers invited so cogently to dwell in no way do they support such unsportsmen like qualities.

I would like to congratulate our women’s field hockey team on a great game, and hope that in no way do they support such unsportsmen like qualities.

It is sad, but the problems that seem so clear to some, are not the same to others. I believe in thoughts and feelings of John Lennon, and Martin Luther King Jr., and hope a day will come where we are all equals. I believe that in this country every group that immigrated here was persecuted for some time. Those groups eventually found harmony.

Circus bears the Big Apple

By Jennifer G. Stelewich
Arts/Entertainment Editor

Oh boy! The circus is coming to town.

After a long absence, the Moscow Circus returns for a 14-city American tour. Currently the colorful exhibitioners offer one magnificent ring on the world’s most glorious stage. Having only one ring gives each performer the proper attention. Their acts deviate from the American big top clown antics and often gaudy/unimpressive routines.

One example from Ringling Brothers, et al, at Madison Square Garden last year involved a daring alligator wrestler. Come on, if it hadn’t swung the passive prey symbol around, there would have been no competition.

But here, the audience is dazzled by skillful, more unique acts. From a famous form of foot juggling, incorporated from the Chinese acrobats, sisters Svetlana and Kristina toss balls and large poles to and fro with their feet. To help them catch the balls and toss other props are the symbolic bears of the Soviet Union.

Dressed in bright hats and “boy-girl costumes,” two cubs lead the dance. They are a hit, replacing the clowns of the American circus and side show.

No circus would be complete without a single man in a cage with 17 Sumatran tigers. Trainer Nikolai Pavlenko commands the beasts through rings and hoops of fire. They also leap over one another and dance for Pavlenko.

An onboard band mimics the performers with drum beats as they land, and horns as they fall. Unfortunately, all of their numbers sounded like pieces from the Starssky and Hutch series of the 1970’s. Next, let’s bring on the dancing horses! Charging onto the stage they wildly race around the ring. Acrobats mount them and swing beneath the animals and hang from their manes. The rush of excitement is sounded in sights as the audience watches in amazement.

The danger of the animals reached the patrons of the orchestra seats most as they bent up their necks to see ferocious cats at play.

Light humor is next attempted by Soviet slapstick performer.

In the past there’s been people like Cole Porter and George Gershwin and people like that, that really good stuff. I really admire people like that. Hank Williams Sr. is someone that I just think is, or was, awesome. It’s really tragic that he died so young. So...I don’t know, I guess just good songwriters mostly are people I look up to.

Mont. - When does songwriting continue for you, or do you ever stop?

J.W. - Actually I go in and out of phases of songwriting. I’ll write and write for months or so and then I won’t do any writing.

J.W. - I can’t easily write when I’m doing business stuff. Like ever since the album came out it’s turned into this whole business that we have just full of doom and gloom, and you commit suicide because everything’s horrible. Or you can be in Ireland, he refused to kill the Barney Stone for fear of catching AIDS or something worse. Is this guy for real!!!

Mini-Notes: People leaving record companies is starting to become commonplace. Debbie Harry has left Geffen; Sheena Easton has traded EMI for MCA and Rick James left Motown for Arista. The latter two left causing major legal battles...U2’s Rattle and Hum movie will debut in London on Oct. 20. Anybody wanna go? In MTV’s latest contest, why is INXS giving away a trailer park?

Mini-Notes II: From the “is it just me” file: Is it just me or do women in the music biz get better with age? Take Joan Jett, Lita Ford, Nancy Wilson, Belinda Carlisle, and any one of the Bangles for example. And so guys get worse? For instance, the Stones’ Mick Jagger and Keith Richards and Aerosmith’s Steve Tyler look to be anorexic skeletons. Whereas on the other hand, Freddie Jackson got bigger after each album. He’s only released three albums and he’s three times the size he was on the first cover.

Quote of the Week: Bon Jovi on loyalty and friendship, “It’s important to me to have people I can depend on. What I look for in romance is friendship. I can get laid anywhere.” Well Isn’t that special? We don’t have an ego now, do we?

The answer to last week’s question (given to me by Mark MacDonald): Sting was given his nickname in high school, for wearing black and yellow sweaters that resembled a bumblebee. This week’s question was given to me by Evan Weissman. We all know that George Harrison, Elton John, Beatles guitarist BUT who preceded him? Think about it...Until next week.

Wiedlin making riffs of her own

By John Martucci
Correspondent

This is the second part of a two part interview with rock artist Janie Wiedlin.

The Montclarion - Your husband and your manager (Geo Malone), one and the same. That’s a pretty interesting relationship. Which came first?

Janie Wiedlin - We met and fell in love first, he was working as a manager in London when I met him, and we uh...dated or whatever for two years and then we got married just over a year ago. At that time I had fired my manager and was looking for new management and I couldn’t find anybody that I liked, I mean as far as I know there isn’t a lot of good managers out there that are trustworthy, want to work real hard and believe in their clients.

Here was this guy I was in love with right here at my disposal. So after we got married and I made that decision that it would make sense for him to manage me...and people told us not to do it, that it was a big mistake.

In a way it worked out fine, but I will say that he’s a lot more business oriented than I am; and where as I can just walk away from the interviews and the promotions and this and that at the end of the day, he has a real hard time not thinking about it.

Mont. - I saw the liner notes on the Scarlet and Black album (another group he manages), and they mention your relationship as proof that management and artists can work together as friends.

J.W. - Yeah, that was nice of them to say that.

Mont. - Do you have a favorite song on the album?

J.W. - Probably two, “One Heart, One Way” because it’s so romantic to me. It’s really about my husband, and some of the lines in it are written in letters from him to me. So, that’s very close to my heart.

Also “Furor” because I do feel so strongly about animals and I especially planned to write a song that actually had a message, but was still fun to listen to.

Mont. - Who would you like to work with in the future? Who would you like to tour with?

J.W. - Well my favorite band is Crowded House, and we’ve been trying to get on their tour, and they’re having a lot of set backs. I guess their second album isn’t doing quite as well as they wished. But, I really, really...like his band. This is a song that I think he’s a brilliant songwriter, and the best singer, and I guess if I could do anything with someone, I would love to either write a song with him, or sing a duet with him or something.

Mont. - You mention Neil Finn, who else do you admire?

J.W. - John Lennon, ah shoot...there are a ton of people out there. Bryan Ferry I’ve always been a big fan of. Although I guess these days he’s only giving a few shows and...I was a teenager when I was a teenager I just thought he was the most sophisticated thing that I could ever imagine, and David Bowie I think was real important in the seventies. I don’t know, I think the thing about having heroes and idols and people to admire, is that you have to be able to let go of it, because otherwise it’s just...it’s a machine thing where I’m kind of endlessly promoting myself and trying to get people to buy the records, and...that’s the way it is.

Mont. - It seems like it takes its toll on you.

J.W. - It’s very wearing and it makes me feel real unreceptive. I mean I can’t even imagine writing a song. When I get that time to myself where I can be able to think, it changes everything and I’m able to write again. I’m definitely one of those people who doesn’t write everyday, but when I’m in a really good period I can write quite a bit, in a short amount of time.

Mont. - Do what you hope your listeners will come away with after hearing this album?

J.W. - I hope it will make them feel motivated and helpful. No, hopeful, not helpful, sorry. I think...I mean it’s like I was saying earlier. There are a lot of problems in the world, and there are a lot of ways you can think about those problems.

You can either stick your head in the sand like an ostrich and totally deny that there’s anything wrong, you can either say that everything’s horrible. Or you can...I mean it’s like I was saying, you can retain that sense of hopefulness.

Rock and roll artists return to folk blues roots

By Dominic Pandiccia
Staff Writer

"Roots." That's the most effective way to describe the latest re-issued albums on Chess records. Howlin' Wolf, Muddy Waters, and Sonny Boy Williamson are three of the artists included in the "More Real Folk Blues" series of albums by Chess records. These three artists make up one of the most influential cornerstones in the world of rock and roll music today.

Chess records achieved it's highest level of success in the 1950's with the popularity of recorded blues and rock music in America. It was at this time that the albums which are being re-issued here, were first recorded. The re-issues of these classic albums present a much higher level of recording quality than the originals which provide another element when returning and listening to these classic recordings.

Some people may remember Howlin' Wolf as the blues musician playing in the street in one scene of the Blues Brothers movie. That scene was exemplary of the "raw" and volume oriented blues that one will find on the Howlin' Wolf contribution to this series of records.

The production runs Thurs. through Sat. Oct. 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium. Matinee Services at 893-5112.

Tasting a touch of Spain

By Luisa Carrizo
Assistant Arts Editor

Imagine yourself in a cafe in Spain complete with white-washed stucco ceilings, candlelit tables and a warm, cozy atmosphere to top it off. Sounds romantic, right? It is. You say you don't have the time or the funds to whisk yourself away to sunny Spain. Then why not do the next best thing? Try your hand at a Spanish dinner at Rincon de Espana.

Located on 226 Thompson St. in Greenwich Village, N.Y.C., this restaurant is a two blocks away from the Blue Note Jazz Club, The Rincon de Espana (corner of Spain) offers a fine selection of authentic Spanish cuisine.

Entrees range from the old standard of arroz con pollo (chicken with rice) to gambas al ajillo (shrimp in garlic sauce). The quality of food was excellent and the flavor was unmistakable of Spain.

For entertainment purposes, a Flamenco guitarist does his rounds from table to table singing Spanish ballads and sevillanas for a truly romantic touch.

The prices, however, did border on slightly expensive. A three-course dinner, drink, tax and tip came to about $25 a person leaving out an appetizer and dessert. The portions are more than generous so you do not go away unfulfilled.

Though the size of the restaurant is small, it lends to a genial climate. And, if your quest in life is to seek and discover the true ecstasy of genuine Spanish food, this is undoubtedly the place to go.

If you are ever in the city, visit Rincon de Espana. It is a little bit of Spain in the heart of the Village.

Soccer team knots Kean, tops Dowling

By Jan Naarman
Staff Writer

The MSC soccer team battled conference leading Kean to a 0-0 tie on Wednesday night at Union. The game was marred by bad calls and ejected. MSC Head Coach Dave Maurer was ejected in the second overtime for arguing a call that almost cost the Indians the game. A Kean player was also ejected in the first overtime.

Besides the bad calls, the game was very well played. The Indians’ (7-2-3) best opportunity to score came on a corner kick by Mike Nofio. The ball went to freshman Gus Maromarco, who made a quick pass to Vinny McGowan. Just as McGowan was going to take the shot, his defender jumped to clear the ball. The Indians are presently strong Indian defense this season, which is the key, he continued.

As for the rest of the season, “It looks challenging, as long as we continue to take one game at a time, we will be successful.”

According to Stahl, upcoming teams to beat are Glassboro State and Trenton State. He is confident about victory.

Jim Stahl

Jim Stahl is the Athlete of the week. According to Stahl, the team is coming together as a unit, which is the key. He said, “As long as we all continue to do our part, we can give up five goals as long as we score six.”

The team is moving into second place in the conference.

The team is coming together real well,” co-captain Mike Nofio said. “One of the major reasons why is goalie Jim Stahl, who once again recorded shutout. Center half Charlie Smith also had a great game for the Indians.

MSC 4-Dowling 1

John Rubinetti and Charles Smith sparked the MSC soccer team to an early lead as the Indians beat Dowling 4-1 in Montclair on Saturday. The Indians took a 2-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Dowling scored quickly in the second half, however, on a goal by James O’Byrne to cut the lead to 2-1. The Indians held off the challenge by getting goals from Adam McNally and Lou Ken-Kwofie.

Look to bounce back from Pride Bowl loss

Witzal and Clark try to instill spirit in Indians

By Mary Carlomagno
Staff Writer

Trying to come back after a tough Wagner loss, seniors Mark Witzal and Matt Clark believe that character, leadership and a winning attitude will put MSC back on top. The expectations of the entire MSC team are high. Last year was the only year that the Indians did not win the conference in the past six seasons.

"We're not supposed to lose," said co-captain Witzal. Witzal, a defensive tackle, has made the New Jersey Athletic Conference all-conference team twice. This year, he was named pre-season All-American.

"Last year we didn't feel like we accomplished what we wanted to accomplish, even though a lot of schools would kill for that record," Witzal continued.

Clark, a three-year veteran at noseguard who made second team all-conference last year, stated, "Since I've been here, I have only lost six games. We are in a position where we will always be in contention of winning the conference or continuing into playoff games."

The example set by the veteran players will be a key in the Indian success. "The true leaders have to get back to everyone thinking as a team, whether it seems plastic or not. We have to bring the team back as a whole," Clark said.

Witzal and Clark share a true commitment that is an important part of the Indian tradition. By seeing some very good leaders through their college football careers the two seniors are able to be 'role models that give that extra effort,' according to Witzal. "What I've gotten from being at MSC is seeing good leaders come and go in the program. I keep them in the back of my head when setting an example for the younger guys, because I care very much about this team in the future," Clark explained.

A building of character through experience begins the first day of camp. Witzal stated, "It happens little by little, but, by the end of camp, the younger guys have gained the respect."

"We are not a true team just because we wear the same color jerseys or come from the same school. We've put a lot of time in. Everyone who made it through camp became a family. Both veterans stress the idea of a "complete dedication" which sets the Indians apart. Witzal and Clark share a feeling of team unity and togetherness which serves as a backdrop. They feel that winning the national championship, not individual play, is the focus.

"I want to play my position as well as I can, knowing that if everyone approaches it that way, as a team we will be successful," Clark added. "Individual play is not as important as winning as a team. If you're a star that's great for you, but it doesn't show anything for the team," said Witzal.

Clark attributed the Indian's success to friendship, such as the bond that he and Witzal share. "This in itself is the passing down of the Indian tradition. Keeping this in mind, certain expectations become harder to live up to."

After suffering a defeat to Wagner last week, the Indians are hungry for a win. "Bouncing back" becomes essential at this point.

"Perhaps this loss was a blessing in disguise," said Witzal. "Before the Wagner game we were looking down the road too far in advance instead of taking one game at a time. After all, you can't win your fifth game until you win your fourth game."

Clark said of the Wagner loss, "I don't know which is the greater pain, you hearing it and living it for yourself or being constantly reminded by other people. Now we have an opportunity to gain back our pride and respect."

Regardless of last week's upset, MSC must 'approach every game like it is the biggest,' said Clark. "We need to take it play at a time."

"We have the individual talent, and if everyone plays together, we will pull through. We haven't peaked yet, but when we do, we will be unbeatable," Witzal said.

Clark concluded, "In all hopes, everyone will take this loss constructively and begin to realign their thoughts. We know now that every play is do or die."

NJAC still wide open

Despite Saturday’s 51-21 loss to Wagner, The MSC football team is still in a good position to garner a post-season playoff spot, courtesy of a New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) championship.

Last year’s NJAC champions, the Kean Cougars, haven’t exactly set the world aflame this season after being touted as favorites to repeat. This was because the Cougars won the title last year with a fairly young team, and most of the starters are back. But Kean is finding life tough at the top, as illustrated by their 14-13 loss Friday at William Paterson. This week, the Cougars meet MSC in what will be probably be termed a big game, and it may be an accurate term.

The Indians would certainly love to win this game, if for no other reason than to avenge last season’s loss which essentially cost MSC the NJAC conference title. But it’s also a big game because it will be interesting to see how the Indians bounce back from last week’s game. Last year, the Indians faced East Stroudsburg for a season-opening loss to Wagner, and won a game that wasn’t as close as the 13-2 final score appears. And after the Indians lost to Kean, they beat Ramapo 65-0 the following week.

At the ballpark

Post-season play began Tuesday in the baseball world, and the opening game pitted the New York Mets against the Los Angeles Dodgers. The game was the opener of a best of seven series to determine the National League champion.

Billed as the “battle of the aces”, the game turned out to be just that as Dwight Gooden (NY) and Orel Hershiser (LA) put on a spectacular display. Gooden threw a four-hitter going seven innings and Hershiser carried a shutout into the ninth inning. Suddenly the seemingly invincible Gooden was found to be human as he walked the first batter to put runners on first and second. That brought up Gary Carter, who responded with a blooper to center after going 0-2 in the count. Strawberry scored from the Dodgers, as he took out Hershiser despite the fact that Hershiser had just allowed the first inning run off him since August 30th. Jay Howell, described as “effectively wild” by experts, came in and walked the first batter to put runners on first and second. That brought up Gary Carter, scoring Jeffries.

Tommy Lasorda, manager of the Dodgers then committed what proved to be a fatal error for the Dodgers, as he took out Hershiser despite the fact that Hershiser had just allowed the first run off him since August 30th. Jay Howell, described as “effectively wild” by experts, came in and walked the first batter to put runners on first and second. That brought up Gary Carter, scoring Jeffries.

So once again the Mets won in the ninth, bringing back memories of the 1986 season when the Mets went on to win the World Series. Can they do it again? They certainly are in a good position after beating the ace of a tough LA pitching staff.

Track team 5th in Bloomsburg Invit., blanks NYU

By Tracy Anderson

The MSC track team once again proved to have a powerful group of legs as they vigorously ran into position five at the Bloomsburg Invitational last Saturday and achieved a major shutout Tuesday against New York University (NYU).

The two top runners, Rosa Dominques and Jennifer Abrahamsen, brought home excellent standings as they placed ninth and tenth overall in Bloomsburg and first and second with times breaking 20:00 in the dual meet at NYU.

“My times are improving, but I’d like to get them even lower, nowhere I am satisfied,” said Dominques.

“They are very consistent runners and have high potentials,” said Blanton. Anderson and Wypisz took third and fourth positions at NYU Tuesday afternoon.

Despite the victories this past week, Blanton has anxiety in his voice while talking about the New Jersey Championships being held Saturday at Holmdel Park.

“We have the top four runners racing as a pack, but we need a fifth up there or else we are in trouble,” said Blanton. Blanton is looking toward Sophia Teresa Lewis or junior Jill Robinson to join the pack.

The lady Indians will be competing on a difficult course and against outstanding runners but assistant coach Colliera is confident the girls can take first place.

“The team is running very well and I think the girls can pull it off and shoot for first place on Saturday,” said Colliera. The team will be in action in the NJIAAW/NJAC championship meet in Holmdel Saturday, and will travel to Lincoln University Wednesday for a 4:00 meet.

Wagner quarterback Greg Kovar threw three touchdown passes, all in the first half, to lead the Seahawks to a 51-21 victory over MSC Saturday in the tenth annual Pride Bowl.

The Wagner point total was the second highest point total ever scored against MSC. The school record, set by East Stroudsburg in 1946, is 53 points.

The Indians found themselves behind 14-0 after the first quarter and 28-0 at halftime.

Wagner, however, responded with a touchdown of their own in the third quarter to cut the deficit to 28-14.

Indian quarterback Ed Baffige, who received the Most Valuable Player award for MSC, completed 19 of 42 passes for 347 yards and three touchdowns.

The Seahawks held MSC to 217 yards on the ground with 162 yards rushing and two touchdowns.

The Seahawks held MSC to 80-yard bomb, set a Pride Bowl record, while the second was a 15-yard reception.

MSC fell to 3-1 with the loss, while the Seahawks improved their record to 3-1.

The Indians will play their second conference game of the year this week when they travel to Union to take on Kean, while Wagner returns home to face Newport News Saturday. For a preview of the MSC-Kean game, see the story below.

Defending champ Kean to get stiff test from MSC

By Bryan Morytko
Staff Writer

The New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) champion Kean Cougars take on the Indians in Union Saturday. Last year it was Kean’s upset of MSC that set the stage for their conference title. Both MSC and Kean finished the year 5-1 in the NJAC. However, because Kean defeated the Indians 16-14 in their only meeting, the Cougars snatched the title.

Second year Head Coach Glenn Hedden, a 1972 MSC graduate, admits that the conference will be more balanced this year but feels Kean can defend the conference.

That will very likely depend on this week’s game as MSC is favored to win the NJAC. The Indians’ response to Hedden? As quarterback Ed Baffige said, "We'll (Indians) be looking for revenge in the Kean game."

The Cougars lost only five lettermen last year, among them only two starters. Thus, this is essentially the same squad that surprised the Indians last year.

The defense is led by senior linebacker Dave Johnson and his favorite receiver, tight end Kevin McGuirl. This combination accounted for ten touchdowns last year and could be the key to the Kean offense.

Sophomore running back Daryl Butts ran for seven touchdowns last year to lead the running game. Meanwhile, Craig Davis averaged seven and a half yards per carry on 73 attempts.

Along with McGuirl, sophomore split end Rodney Scott is a formidable receiving threat.

Key Matchups:

MSC QB Ed Baffige vs. Kean Secondary- Baffige racked up a lot of yardage last week but seemed to make a lot of forced passes while the defense pressured him. The Kean secondary is a young but powerful one.

MSC Outside Linebackers vs. TE McGuirl- McGuirl is the key to the Cougars’ passing offense. Coming off a season in which he was named Kodak All-American, McGuirl looks to finish his career on a high note, and this may be the biggest game of the season. If the Indians can shut him down, or even slow him down, Johnson will have to find some other sure hands to lead the Cougars down field.

MSC Receiver Amod Field vs. Kean Secondary- Field has ten receptions on the year for 247 yards and an incredible 24.7 yard average. Last week Field caught his longest of the season at 80 yards. If the Cougars can’t stop Field, it will prove to be a long night for Kean.

MSC split end Amod Field caught two of Baffige’s three touchdown tosses. The first, an 80-yard bomb, set a Pride Bowl record, while the second was a 15-yard reception.

MSC fell to 3-1 with the loss, while the Seahawks improved their record to 3-1.

The Indians will play their second conference game of the year this week when they travel to Union to take on Kean, while Wagner returns home to face Newport News Saturday. For a preview of the MSC-Kean game, see the story below.
