Olympia rallies for the Duke

By Chip Bogdanski

Staff Writer

Actress Olympia Dukakis disapproved of George Bush's campaign strategies while Bush supporters protested her speech for her cousin Michael Dukakis, the governor of Massachusetts, at a rally last Monday in the Student Center Ballrooms.

She said that most democrats had disapproved of Vice President George Bush instigating an unbridled finger pointing campaign. Governor Dukakis himself compared the presidential campaign to "Two kids throwing sand in a sandbox."

Olympia Dukakis told the crowd that during a recent campaign speech, country singer Loretta Lynn said of Governor Dukakis, "How can we elect a President when we can't even say his name?"

Vice President Bush stood by and smiled, according to Olympia Dukakis.

Olympia Dukakis said, "This is the type of man who wants to be your next President."

Olympia Dukakis was asked why it took Governor Michael Dukakis so long to attack the Bush campaign in the same fashion. She said, "He doesn't malign or speak negatively about people-it isn't his nature. It took him a while to learn to attack in a way that he could accept."

When asked about the "Liberal" label Bush gave Michael Dukakis, Olympia Dukakis said that any label put on the governor of Massachusetts denies who he is. "He doesn't want a label, or to label anyone else."

Five minutes after Olympia Dukakis began speaking, Bush supporters gathered in the hallway of the student center outside the ballroom and chanted, "Bush Bush! Bush!"

The chant could be heard in the ballroom, and Dukakis pointed at the hecklers and said, "I feel sorry for them if they get Bush!"

The crowd inside the ballroom applauded and chanted, "Duke! Duke! Duke!"

Dukakis added, "Because, if they do, they won't get the educational support they need, they won't get the kind of medical support they and their grandparents need, and there will be no war on drugs which we know has to happen."

"What they will get is a more divided America," said Dukakis.

She said that she was not only out to gain support for Michael Dukakis, but for the Democratic Party as a whole. Democrats, she added, "are out for people," while Republicans are out for "power."

---

Writers discuss politics

By Valerie Kalfrin

Staff Writer

The topics may have been different, but the theme was the same at the "Writing as Political Expression" symposium on Nov. 9 in Kops Lounge, Russ Hall.

Each writer from the five-member panel read aloud from a variety of their works. Some discussed racism and prejudice; some discussed family and moral situations.

However, each selection was considered "political" because it made a statement about something in society, according to the writers.

"The line between politics and what is not political is only as wide as the human heart."

"It seems to me that all work is political, one way or another."

These observations from Joseph Bruchac and Grace Paley, respectively, were among many made at the symposium, which was presented twice, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

---

Board of Trustees

Committee to search for new president appointed

By Carl Chase

Staff Writer

The Board of Trustees appointed a committee to conduct a nationwide search for a new college president at its Nov. 3 meeting.

The committee of 18 will include 16 voting members and two non-voting members. The two non-voting members are committee chairman Dr. Robert Altman and committee secretary David P. O'Brien. Student members include two undergraduate and one graduate student representative.

The temporary committee is charged with conducting a nationwide search and screening candidates for recommendation to the board, which will make the final selection.

According to the board, the committee must function "with the utmost confidentiality to protect potential candidates and MSC."

The New Jersey Student Association (NJSA) opposed any increase in tuition or decrease in the financial accessibility of MSC resulting from the bond issue, it announced at its Oct.
Charters that expire at the end of the Fall semester, 1988:

- Computer Science (Class II)
- Accounting Club (Class II)
- Economics Club (Class II)
- Film Club (Class II)
- Marketing Club (Class II)
- Medieval Ren. Society (Class II)
- Pre-Law Society (Class II)
- Student Paralegal (Class II)
- Theta Kappa Chi (Class III)
- Newman Club (Class III)
- Alpha Delta Tau (Class III)
- Phi Alpha Delta (Class IV)
- Tau Kappa Epsilon (Class IV)
- Music Educators (Class V)

Board names presidential committee

Cont. from p. 1

make New Jersey more attractive to first-rate faculty, but the changes will have the opposite effect.

Acting President Richard A. Lynde announced his support of the Hispanic American Heritage Month. "They have enriched our college community with excellent leadership and intellectual, cultural and artistic achievements. The college acknowledges the accomplishments of Hispanic Americans and reafirms its commitment to provide educational and employment opportunities," he said.

Lynde added he is confident that the entire college community will celebrate Latin Americans' contributions to the nation's cultural enrichment.

THE MONTCLAIR PROTESTANT FOUNDATION

WORSHIP
Fri. 11:00 a.m. Room 418 Student Center

SUNDAY EVENING FELLOWSHIP

Dinner: $2.00
Program: Understanding Your Dreams
Nov. 13 & 20
5:30 p.m.

240 Valley Road (at Silleck) Clifton
1 1/2 miles past Rt. 3

Call 881-7825 for reservations and transportation

MPF is a Class III organization of the SGA

Come Learn About The Natural Environment In Which You Live

Earth Care '89

Presented by New Jersey Legislators
Conservation Club & YES

Tues. November 15
Time: 8:30 a.m. — 1:00 p.m.
Student Center Ballrooms A & B

WORKSHOP TOPICS INCLUDE: Beach/Ocean Pollution, Recycling/Incineration, Hazardous Waste, and many more.

Conservation Club is a Class I of the SGA Inc.
Newsnotes

Food Drive

Alpha Phi Omega, together with Sigma Phi Rho, are sponsoring a food drive at MSC.

The fraternities will be collecting cans of vegetables, soups, fruits, etc. for the Human Needs Administration which is located in Montclair.

The Human Needs Administration, in turn, will donate the food to people in need, in and around the Montclair area, for Thanksgiving.

Between Nov. 14 and Nov. 22 there will be drop-off points in some of the dorms and various buildings.

The main drop-off point is the Alpha Phi Omega office, located in room 406 of the Student Center.

---

Students educated in music therapy

By Amy Knight
Correspondent

It is difficult to give a concise definition for the broad, yet relatively new field of music therapy, said Dr. Barbara Wheeler at Music Therapy Day on Nov. 4.

Wheeler, who is the director of the music therapy program, said that with this type of therapy, music is used as a tool to facilitate physical, mental, and emotional healing.

Music therapy can be administered in a variety of settings which include special schools for handicapped children, psychiatric institutions, nursing homes, hospice care, and medical hospitals, she said.

A panel of professional music therapists, along with two MSC students who are majoring in music therapy, spoke to the group about their experiences in the field.

Registered music therapist Julie McConnel, of the Manhattan School for children with cerebral palsy, said music is effective in relaxation, socialization, improvement of cognitive and motor skills, and self-esteem in children.

The two students on the panel, Amy Bachman and Dawn Vandermerwein, who are currently working with adult psychiatric patients, highly recommended MSC's music therapy program.

It offers a large variety of opportunities in clinical training, they said. Both said they are being solidly prepared for entrance into the field.

---

Aggressiveness necessary in self-defense

By Lilyanne McCleane
Staff Writer

The preparations required for the use of aggressive self-defense are incompatible with a morally virtuous life, said Dr. David Benfield, associate professor of philosophy and religion, in a lecture last Wednesday at Kops Lounge.

“Most people say they would be willing to participate in aggressive self-defense, particularly if they are armed,” Benfield said.

According to Benfield, one must turn himself into a hard person to prepare for aggressive self-defense.

“You must really believe you can shoot someone in order for a loaded gun to work in aggressive self-defense,” he said. “You must dehumanize a person in order to kill them.”

Dehumanization yields separation from the moral community, according to Benfield.

Benfield said that it is bad enough that soldiers are forced to dehumanize people. “I am against people voluntarily getting themselves into that frame of mind,” he said.

Dr. Michael Kogan, chairman of philosophy and religion, said that people who refuse to take a stand against assailants are immoral.

He noted that Anthony Dixon saved Gertrude George, who was being mugged Tuesday night in Brooklyn, by shooting one of the attackers to death and injuring the other.

“I think he is a hero,” he said. “Having a gun enabled him to remain a member of the moral community.”

Benfield said he does not denounce aggressive self-defense without preparation because it doesn’t involve personal corruption.

Benfield also said his viewpoint would not change if the victim was someone close to him. “I could not become the person I just denounced even if it was a member of my family,” he said.

---

FREE ADMISSION

NOVEMBER 30, 1988
WEDNESDAY
8:00 p.m.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM
(LIFE HALL)

$$ CASH PRIZES!!

First $150.00
Second $100.00
Third $50.00

Applications available in CLUB office 112D
Student Center Annex
Shortage of Hispanic faculty is criticized

By Lynn M. Cowan
Editor-in-Chief

The Hispanic Caucus last Wednesday objected to the shortage of minority faculty employed at MSC in its second meeting in Kops Lounge.

Since 1974, the number of Hispanics employed at the college has increased by 49 persons, according to Affirmative Action Officer, Anita Walters.

"There has been a slow but steady increase," Walters said, "but I'm not ignoring that it is in the lower level positions."

Walters proposed a two-step recruitment process for minority faculty. In the first step, Walters said, position announcements should be sent to all potential minority candidates.

In the second step, she said, the Personnel Advising Committee (PAC) should be sensitized to the needs of minority candidates. There are few minority members in PAC, according to Walters.

Dr. Robert McCormick, director of the office of Institutional Assessment, said applicants may not accept a position at the college because the salary offered is not high enough.

McCormick said the salary of an assistant professor at MSC "is ridiculous." Minority applicants often receive more competitive offers from other institutions because they are in high demand, he said.

McCormick said the business department offers competitive salaries to attract professors who would otherwise accept positions in private industry.

"We can compete in the business department against outside offers," said McCormick, "why not in minorities, too?"

Walters said the administration this year has a strong commitment to minority faculty recruitment and retention. Acting President, Richard Lynde is networking with the faculty and staff, she said, to reach minority applicants.

Errors

In last week's Montclarion, Director of Athletics Greg Lockard's name was mispelled in the "Athletic department office in fieldhouse produces conflict" article.

In the same article, it was incorrectly reported that an average of 126 students visit this facility weekly (this is the average daily attendance) and that it is equipped with Nautilus and whirlpools (it has Universal and hot tubs).

The Montclarion regrets any confusion these errors may have caused.

MSC
JEWISH STUDENT UNION
PRESENTS:

AN ADL UPDATE:
"ANTISEMITISM IN THE 80's"
FEATURING STEVEN SHOCHET,
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, ANTI DEFAMATION LEAGUE OF B'NAI B'RITH

WHEN: NOVEMBER 15/8:00PM
WHERE: ROOM 411-412 SC
FREE!!!
Writing as Political Expression

MSC Alumna shares writings

By Susan Sarlo
Staff Writer

Daniela Gioseffi, an MSC alumna and participant at the "Writing as Political Expression" lecture on Nov. 9, is a writer and spokeswoman for world-wide peace and nuclear disarmament, she said in an interview yesterday.

Gioseffi, who graduated in 1963 with a degree in English and a minor in speech and theatre, said, "I would love to come back and teach at Montclair sometime. The students can identify me as someone who came out of their English Department who has published five books with major publishers in the area of creative writing."

Gioseffi is the president of her area chapter of SANE/FREEZE—the largest national peace and nuclear disarmament organization in the U.S., and has been involved in many other organizations.

She serves on the Board of The Writers and Publishers Alliance for Nuclear Disarmament and was active in the Civil Rights movement in the early 1960s.

Gioseffi has written many poems and novels, including the feminist comic novel, The Great American Belly, and her latest novel, coming out on Nov. 19, Women on War. According to Gioseffi, the novel contains poetry, prose and fiction about great women from Eleanor Roosevelt to Coretta Scott King.

Her short stories and poems have been published in numerous magazines, including Choice and The Nation.

Gioseffi is a member of The Poetry Society of America, The PEN American Center, and The National Book Critics’ Circle.

According to Gioseffi, her next book is a translation of Dust Disappears by the cuban poet, Carilda Oliver Labra.

Gregory Rabassa, who Gioseffi called "the world’s greatest translator" is writing the forward to this book. Gioseffi’s translation will be coming out this winter.

Her new book is a translation of "The Poet’s Fiction," poetry and fiction by Carilda Oliver Labra, one of his poems with a form of sign language.

On his life in the literary field, Bruchac said, "We make the mistake of valuing the writing life at the expense of everything else, when it is a part of everything else."

"You may think you’re expressing something for an occasion, but in fact it’s already within you," he said.

Paley said she writes about society, and writes poems as a type of report when she’s traveled somewhere like Nicaragua or China.

Paley, whose short stories have appeared in The New Yorker and several other magazines and who has published several collections of stories to critical acclaim, said that she mostly writes a story when she has a story to tell, and considers the short story to be closer to the poem than the novel.

"All work is political, no matter what position you take," Paley said, before a reading of two of her short stories and a poem.

"All art is about lighting up what isn’t known, and telling us about something we haven’t known before," she added.

Austin, a former newswriter for NBC, read an excerpt from her recently-published book about the relationship of two black families in 1939 Jersey City. She said it was based largely on her experiences growing up.

In comparing the two genres in which she has worked, Austin said, "I don’t think non-fiction is any more political than fiction. I still write journalism, but I wanted the freedom to have a blank page in front of me to write about what I wanted."

Stone read several of her published poems, one of them concerning the anniversary of Kristallnacht, which occurred the same day as the symposium.

According to Stone, political poetry is determined by its subject matter, mainly the writer's attitudes about the world. She also said that her subject matter deals with a sense of the underdog.

Gioseffi commented that there is "No avoiding politics," and added that she has noticed a whole new generation of poets concerned with society.

Gioseffi read from a recently-published collection of poems which she edited, written by women of various nationalities.

"There is a constant struggle," she said, "between political activism and art."

"Sometimes you choose what to write about, and sometimes it chooses you," she said.

"Good writing has to be about empathy with other people—sharing feelings. Not art for art’s sake anymore, at least not for me," Gioseffi added.

Women’s Center provides help to troubled women

By Susan Sarlo
Staff Writer

The Women’s Center, a division of Student Affairs, helps women deal with and overcome discrimination and sexual assault through informational programs and workshops, said Huberta Alcaro, director of the Women’s Center in an interview.

According to Alcaro, the Women’s Center has various activities ranging from Wednesday noon programs to discussion and support groups.

Topics discussed at the Wednesday noon programs vary from “What Women Want From Men” to “Eating Disorders,” Alcaro said.

She added that the various support and discussion groups that develop as interest is expressed include a feminist discussion group, a divorce support group, a non-traditional student group, and a sexual support group.

"Silence helps perpetuate the problem of sexual assault," Alcaro said. "There are many women who have been raped by a family member and don’t want to talk about it. They think the problem is going to go away but need a support group."

The sexual assault support group is a self-help group where women discuss their experiences with each other and meet with Dr. Susan Herman, director of Psychological Services, she said.

"Women are talking about it more which is and important step to greatly reducing the crime," Alcaro added.

According to Alcaro the Women’s Center is sponsoring a Jacks Tournament next semester in order to raise money for the Child Care Center.

If you have any questions concerning the Women's Center and its programming, please contact Huberta Alcaro at 893-5166.
Bond issue passed on Tuesday's ballot

By Perry Del Vecchio
Staff Writer

At last night's SGA meeting, the passage of the bond issue was announced. The vote was 1,108,956 to 620,491; a 2 to 1 margin.

The acceptance of this proposition translates into good news for New Jersey colleges. The bond proposes to increase funds for the improvement of educational facilities across the state.

The series will include a question and answer period with noted scholars, and other related courses of study, she added.

The student representatives on the Presidential Search Committee have been announced. They are Daniel Forte, Board of Trustee student alternate, and SGA legislator Tammy Burke.

Faculty from various disciplines including psychology, sociology, history, English, comparative literature, Spanish, Italian, and fine and performing arts have expressed interest in the seminar to be offered for faculty this summer, she added.

The seminar, as stated in the Grant, is "designed to increase the expertise of MSC faculty in world cinema and stimulate curriculum development," she said.

According to Cutler, participants will "study with noted scholars, generate new ideas and plan course revisions to include relevant film offerings."

According to Cutler, results of the impact an effectiveness of the series and the summer seminar offered to faculty will be monitored by faculty over the course of the following year.

In the past, the English Department has offered courses concerning the history, theory, and aesthetics of film, and the fine arts department has provided film making instruction, she said.

The center, established by the Film Minor Coordinating Committee under a Humanities Grant, offers students, faculty and the community different cultural perspectives on human issues through the use of hard-to-obtain foreign films, Cutler said.

The Latin American Student Organization has activities and lectures scheduled. Additional information can be obtained from the SGA office.

To the new sisters of Iota Gamma Xi, the Alpha Omega Class...

Ginger Brown
Lisa Carlo
Donielle Cioffe
Vicki Clark
Andrea Dimino
Kathy Dlabik
Eileen Donnelly
Laurie Fantasia

Leigh Ann Kertes
Carin Mahoney
Eileen McDade
Tracey McGovern
Nicole Medici
Beth Millner
Kim Reiff

Congratulations, you will be an excellent addition to our family.

From the sisters of Iota Gamma Xi.

Class III Org. of the SGA

Foreign film series added

By Laura Lawson
Staff Writer

In an effort to unify the various film courses offered on campus, a Center for Film Studies has been established at MSC, said Janet Cutler, project director and film minor coordinator, in an interview.

The center, which is overseen by the film minor, is a joint venture of the schools of Humanities and Social Sciences and Fine and Performing Arts. The center will provide a foreign film series, Cutler said.

The series will include a lecture and question and answer period with noted scholars, and will enhance faculty knowledge of film for use in General Education Requirements (GER), film minor, and other related courses of study, she added.

"The project constitutes a first step in showcasing the aesthetic achievements and cultural perspectives of societies outside our own," said Cutler. According to Cutler, films from Italy, Brazil, Japan and Africa will be shown in a series starting in February 1989 and running through April 1989.

The center, established by the Film Minor Coordinating Committee under a Humanities Grant, offers students, faculty and the community different cultural perspectives on human issues through the use of hard-to-obtain foreign films, Cutler said.

The Latin American Student Organization has activities and lectures scheduled. Additional information can be obtained from the SGA office.
Theta Kappa Chi is holding their annual Toy Drive from 11-14 to 11-18 on the 3rd floor of the Student Center. All toys to be donated to make a child’s wish come true!

OKX is a Class III organization of the SGA.

Giuliano Pizzeria & Restaurant
GOURMET PIZZA PLUS
540 Valley Road Upper Montclair, N.J.
Phone 744-6606 - 744-5304
WE DELIVER
We Sell Only Quality Food Last delivery at 10:30
NO IMITATIONS
NO ARTIFICIAL FLAVORS

"I wasn’t rubbing it in—I just wanted Eddie to know the score of last night’s game."

Alex Sum - University of Washington - Class of 1990

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight. So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who’s headed for the Playoffs. Reach out and touch someone.

If you’d like to know more about AT&T products and services, like International Calling and the AT&T Card, call us at 1 800 222-0300.

The right choice.
Sign up for Interviewing

Sign-up sheets for interviewing with the following companies can be found at Career Services, Student Center Annex, room 104.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sign-up dates</th>
<th>Company</th>
<th>Position</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 8-14</td>
<td>United States Testing</td>
<td>Environmental Field Technician</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 8-14</td>
<td>Banker’s Trust</td>
<td>Account Adm.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 8-14</td>
<td>State Farm Insurance Co.</td>
<td>Claim Rep. Trainee</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 9-15</td>
<td>Macy’s Willowbrook</td>
<td>Operations Trainee</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 10-16</td>
<td>Pannell, Kerr &amp; Forster</td>
<td>Asst. Accountant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 10-16</td>
<td>NCR</td>
<td>Sales Rep.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 11-17</td>
<td>The Dial Corp</td>
<td>Outside Sales Rep.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 14-18</td>
<td>Petrie Stores</td>
<td>Various</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 14-18</td>
<td>Horizon Bancorp</td>
<td>Trust/Tax</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 14-18</td>
<td>Crum &amp; Forster Commercial</td>
<td>Insurance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 14-18</td>
<td>Nat’l Community Bank</td>
<td>Mgmt. Trainee</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

To be able to sign up for any of these interviews you must fill out Career Services registration forms and provide 10 copies of your resume.

To improve your resume writing and interviewing skills, you may attend seminars offered regularly by Career Services.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN JOURNALISM?

WOULDN’T YOU LIKE TO REPORT LOCAL NEWS FOR THE STAR-LEDGER?

WELL, The Montclarion Has Good News for You!

ANY MSC STUDENT WHO CAN GATHER AND WRITE NEWS CAN EARN $45 A NIGHT AND SEE HIS/HER WORK IN THE ‘LEDGER’ EVERY TUES AND WED!

COME TO THE MONTCLARION IN STUDENT CENTER ROOM 113

WE’LL GIVE YOU A MONTCLARION STORY TO WRITE

IF YOU MEET THE ‘LEDGER’S HIGH STANDARDS THEN BRUCE MORAN HAS A JOB FOR YOU!

THIS A WAY TO GET INTO REPORTING NOW (PART-TIME)!

The Montclarion is a class I of the SGA

Italian Club announces fall calendar

By Brian Nase
Correspondent

The Italian Club’s membership has increased by 750 percent over last year and is still growing, according to professor Florentino DeMarzo, co-organizer of the Italian Club.

This year’s club is organized by Professor Vincenzo Bollettino, Professor Italo Battista, DeMarzo, and club president Stephan Ketay. A fall agenda has been voted upon by the club’s sixty members and is in effect.

A Christmas dance has been organized by the club, Ketay said. In addition to several other seasonally-oriented dances, the club will also present Professor Alberto DelVivo from New York University.

According to Bollettino, DelVivo will be making a guest appearance in December to speak on the subject of Italian Literary Theory.

There will also be a speaker from the University of Florence who will speak about business opportunities for students with a background knowledge of the Italian language, Bollettino added.

Many other Italian and Italian American personalities will also be featured throughout the year.

The club has planned various recitals and a Spring Show of Artistic Works, DeMarzo said. These recitals and a show of this type will allow the students to express their artistic talents.

All of these events are being organized by specially appointed committees. The committees are responsible for organizing events such as trips, community services, fund raising, programming, advertising, and tutoring, DeMarzo said.

The Italian Club also works closely with the Italian Department’s Summer Study Abroad in Siena, Italy, Bollettino. The exchange program between MSC and the University of Siena is the first of its kind at the college.

The program attracts between forty and fifty students every summer and has been acclaimed nationally as an academic program of high caliber, he added.

The Italian Club will be holding weekly meetings on alternating Weds. and Thurs. Meeting times and places will be advertised throughout the campus.

J.B. WINBERIE
MONTCLAIR, NJ

Existing High Volume Full Service Restaurant is Looking For:

• Bartenders
• Hosts/Hostesses
• Servers
• Cooks

Experience in the hospitality industry is a plus. Excellent training provided. Some late evening and weekend hours involved. We offer good starting pay and a growth-oriented environment.

Please apply in person at: J.B. WINBERIE RESTAURANT & BAR, (across from Hahne’s), 30 S. Park St., Montclair, NJ, between 9am-11am and 2pm-5pm, EOE.

LSAT GMAT MCAT GRE DAT

• Incredibly low introductory price
• Our most experienced instructor
• Extensive, expert counseling available
• Complete, convenient tape library facilities
• Top 20% repeat guarantee

SOUND TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE?

Then, call our bluff.

CALL BAR/BRI Professional Testing Centers
1-800-777-EXAM

The smarter thing to do.

212-643-TEST
1-800-777-EXAM
ARE YOU EXPERIENCED?

Get started with a Full or PartTime Job —
Long & short term assignments are available in Acctg., Admin., Cust. Relations, Data Proc., Personnel, Word Proc., Special Project Work, etc...

FORTUNE 500 COMPANIES

JOBS THROUGHOUT NORTH JERSEY

EARN TOP $$$

and GET EXPERIENCE with

STEEPLE TEMPORARY SERVICES
25 Notch Rd. Little Falls, NJ
(Near Valley Rd. / Up. Mont.)

CALL WENDY AT 256-2444

NEVER A FEE,
JUST OPPORTUNITY!

Campus police report

Fraternity party turns violent

By Rob Tomeo
Staff Writer

At 11:50 p.m. on Nov. 4, a security officer at the Rat called the campus police and asked them to notify the building manager that a party sponsored by the Sigma Phi Rho fraternity was filled to capacity.

About half an hour later the officer called again and reported a fight in progress, involving 400 to 500 people. Back-up police units were called in by the campus police from Little Falls, Clifton, Montclair, Leonia and the Passaic County Sheriff's office.

After several fights had occurred, the police finally got the situation under control around 1:45 a.m. There were several reports of handguns being carried by members of the crowd, but the police found none.

On Oct. 28 at 12:30 a.m., the campus police discovered that some fire extinguishers had been discharged in the hallways of the first floor of Partridge Hall. The Police have no suspects.

On Oct. 31, someone called in a bomb threat to Blanton Hall at 1:30 a.m.

On Nov. 3, a coat was stolen from the Blanton Hall cafeteria between 4:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. when a student left her coat unattended. The theft is under investigation and the police have a possible suspect.

Between 8 p.m. on Nov. 1 and 10 a.m. on Nov. 2, two rooms in Morehead Hall were entered and a desk chair, a telephone, an answering machine, a large plant, and a telephone were taken.

On Nov. 4 between 5:30 and 5:39, a student waiting for the shuttle bus at the stop in lot 8, had his book bag stolen when he left to make a brief phone call. The property stolen was valued at $305.

Between 7:00 p.m. on Nov. 2 and 6:00 a.m. on Nov. 3, a 1986 Dodge two-door car was stolen from lot 30.

A 1987 Chevrolet was broken into, and a door was dented on the car sometime in lot 28, between an unknown time on Nov. 2 and 2:00 a.m. on Nov. 3. Nothing was stolen from the car.

A phone receiver was stolen from the information desk at the student center between 12 noon and 2 p.m. on Nov. 5.

R+R Security

at the yearbook office
Room 111
SC Annex
(it’s free)

La Campana
is a Class I
of the SGA
Have you ever been in love?

PLAYERS IS A CLASS ONE ORGANIZATION OF THE SGA
Players cordially invites you to spend an evening with...

November 16-19, 8:00 p.m., 18-2:15 p.m.
RM. 126 Student Center ANX

For information: 893-5159. Players is a Class I organization of the T.G.I.F.
It's time to ask, ‘What's wrong with our Rat?’

What is wrong with the Rathskellar lately? In the fall '88 semester, there have been at least three incidents involving fights where the campus police have had to be called in. Only recently, an incident occurred where an MSC guest assaulted a campus police officer. The most frightening incident happened on Nov. 4 when police from Clifton, Montclair, Leonia and the Passaic County Sheriff's Office had to be called in to break up a riot that involved as many as 400-500 people.

In addition, there were rumors that some of the people involved were carrying handguns.

What is happening here?

To combat these growing problems, college administrators have decided to suspend all guest privileges. This seems to be a logical decision, considering almost all of the fights have involved non-students of Montclair State.

It has also been suggested that many of the guests are really just under-age students of MSC using fake I.D.'s to get into the bar. For this reason, The Montclarion supports the decision of the administration banning guests from the Rathskellar.

The bottom line is that back then, students were not intent on making judgments like this, couldn't find it in their hearts to endorse either candidate. In what may be recorded as one of the longest cop-outs in the history of American journalism, their non-endorsement read: "This has been a terrible campaign, a national disappointment. For our part and for the reasons we have tried to lay out, we do not feel that we can in good faith argue for the vindication of the cheap shots that have animated George Bush's campaign on the grounds that they might not animate his presidency as well, or close our eyes to alarming deficiencies of the Democratic candidate as a prospective president. As individuals we will each choose and we will vote, along with that pitifully small proportion of the electorate that exercises its franchise every four years. But collectively, as an institution, this year The Post abstains."

I think that's appalling. If you have a two-party system that you've left with, very often, is a choice between two disagreeable alternatives. It is the serious voter's job—also the serious newspaper's—to choose the least disagreeable. There's always something you like better about one candidate than the other: his foreign policy, his domestic policy, his insurance policy, his smile, the way dawn's first light strikes his eyes in an Iowa hog lot—something. I think that a democracy depends on its people always making a choice, always voting; always. Collectively, as an institution, this year The Post is a Wimp.

But the essential problem is the two-party system, which is a complex and varied country. Once you've smoothed out your presidential choices to a single pair, they've had to make so many compromises that they don't look entirely good to the electorate. You don't have that problem in a multiparty system. With a choice of 12 or 15 parties before you, you're bound to find someone you like, just a little. And if, as often happens, none of the parties gets a clear majority, they simply form a coalition government through compromise and choose a prime minister best able to bring the country together. That was beginning to sound good to me.

Until the Israeli election this week. The Israelis have a unicameral parliamentary system. The two biggest parties are the Likud, a rough, tough right-wing party that found its roots in the guerrilla wars that preceded Israel's independence. The Labor Party is, you should pardon the expression, a more moderate group, but not much. The Likud campaigned on cracking down on the Palestinians even harder; Labor campaigned on cracking down on the Palestinians about the same, but with negotiations. The election was almost a dead heat with each party controlling about 40 percent of the total. The balance of power, then, fell to a handful of religious parties that controlled 15 percent of the legislature.

When I say "religious" parties, I do not mean religious in an American sense. The Israeli religious nuts make Pat Robertson look like a Unitarian. What they're mainly interested in is making Israel a religious state. They want the government to enforce the laws of Orthodox Judaism, including the abolishment of Friday night and the limitation of the Jews to true non-Aryans. Well, not exactly that last item, perhaps, but they do want to see excluding people who convert to Judaism under Reform or Conservative Judaism from legal standing as a Jew. They and the Ayatollah Khomeini don't like each other, but they understand each other.

These are not minor issues in Israel, by any means—they fight fierce riots in the streets over them—but it seems to me that the balance of power in a country struggling for its very survival should not be in the hands of religious fanatics. You run that risk with a multiparty system, so count me out.

Say what you will about George Bush, at least he's not going to make you wear a forelock. It may not be good politics, but it's our politics. I'm going to vote with enthusiasm; if not for the candidates, for the process.

Donald Kaul is a syndicated columnist with Tribune Media Service, Inc.
Viewpoints/right

The Mexican drug connection

Last week’s issue of Time magazine featured the life and gruesome death of “Kiki” Camarena, a front-line agent of the Drug Enforcement Administration with whom we, in Mexico, and whose mission was to identify and bring to justice the drug barons there. On the cosmic scale, what happened to Camarena is footnote material—he was one of the victims of the drug merchants’ hit class. He was picked up and tortured brutally (his killers wanted to get from him the names and addresses of the DEA’s informants). The big story—what put Kiki on the cover of Time—is the revelations about Mexico. It is perhaps an exaggeration to say that law enforcement in Mexico is a housepet of the drug merchants, but not much of an exaggeration. The Camarena story takes you to the doorstep of Mexico’s minister of defense.

In Mexico one lives with a culture in which graft is workaday stuff! An outgoing president is routinely expected to take with him a billion dollars or so. The brie to local policeman of a few pesos per week to do what he is supposed to do anyway has been routine since their revolution (and perhaps before). But the brie on the scale in which it is employed by the drug barons is large-scale. A police official bribed to kill or to prevent the detection of a killer might be paid a lifetime’s salary for his services. Against such temptations even sterners cultures get shaky at the knees, which is why we read about the corruptions in drug trafficking is bringing in those major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.

The difficulty in resisting graft is a matter of social concern. That is, a prudent society will take into account the factor of human temptation and by a combination of carrot and stick, attempt to inhibit the virus. The Lord’s Prayer asked that we “be delivered from temptation,” and theology urges the Christian to remove himself from “occasions of sin.” The carrot, for the law enforcement agent, is a decent salary; the stick, years in prison if detected and convicted—as happened to a half-dozen congressmen in a stag operation.

Now it pays to reflect on the subtle difference between graft and corruption to which the late Johnson and General Herman Kahn brought our attention. Graft is simply the making of a tariff. The head of a steel company has breakfast with a congressman and quizzes him about a tariff. Depending on what the congressman says, the steel operator will make a token or a hefty contribution to the congressman’s campaign. A representative of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee will question a legislator over whether he intends to vote to sell AWACS airplanes to Saudi Arabia. If yes, OK, and perhaps a contribution; if no, a blackball and such. A church group, with some major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles, might engage the Sandinistas in Nicaragua and then contribute to the campaign of a congressman who votes against them. Corruption is bringing in the major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles. What about grafters who sell a few pesos a week to do what he is supposed to do anyway has been routine since their revolution (and perhaps before)?

President Johnson announced that he’d forego another four years as president in favor of extricating us from Nam. Then came the assassinations of Martin Luther King and Bobby Kennedy, riots that destroyed the VC and beat the NVA back, but that isn’t the end of the story. The man observing the debate will be 65 in 1990, and he votes for the contender who would retain the status quo.

A form of graft is probably written into the mechanics of democracy, and we can only hope that there will be enough voters who transcend the mechanics of democracy, and we can only hope that there will be enough voters who transcend the normal, corruption has happened. If you can’t pass the vision test for a driver’s license, you pass the inspector $100 and he validates your vision as normal, corruption has happened. Which of the two is it when a voter and an officeholder do business in current America? In most cases, it does not come up. Those voters who on Tuesday were moved primarily by whether the United States should or should not engage the Sandinistas in Nicaragua were in no position to engage in corrupt practices. But there are other examples, a great many other. What about industrialists who seek a protective tariff? The head of a steel company has breakfast with a congressman and quizzes him about a tariff. Depending on what the congressman says, the steel operator will make a token or a hefty contribution to the congressman’s campaign. A representative of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee will question a legislator over whether he intends to vote to sell AWACS airplanes to Saudi Arabia. If yes, OK, and perhaps a contribution; if no, a blackball and such. A church group, with some major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles, might engage the Sandinistas in Nicaragua and then contribute to the campaign of a congressman who votes against them. Corruption is bringing in the major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.

Last week’s issue of Time magazine featured the life and gruesome death of “Kiki” Camarena, a front-line agent of the Drug Enforcement Administration with whom we, in Mexico, and whose mission was to identify and bring to justice the drug barons there. On the cosmic scale, what happened to Camarena is footnote material—he was one of the victims of the drug merchants’ hit class. He was picked up and tortured brutally (his killers wanted to get from him the names and addresses of the DEA’s informants). The big story—what put Kiki on the cover of Time—is the revelations about Mexico. It is perhaps an exaggeration to say that law enforcement in Mexico is a housepet of the drug merchants, but not much of an exaggeration. The Camarena story takes you to the doorstep of Mexico’s minister of defense.

In Mexico one lives with a culture in which graft is workaday stuff! An outgoing president is routinely expected to take with him a billion dollars or so. The brie to local policeman of a few pesos per week to do what he is supposed to do anyway has been routine since their revolution (and perhaps before). But the brie on the scale in which it is employed by the drug barons is large-scale. A police official bribed to kill or to prevent the detection of a killer might be paid a lifetime’s salary for his services. Against such temptations even sterners cultures get shaky at the knees, which is why we read about the corruptions in drug trafficking is bringing in those major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.

The difficulty in resisting graft is a matter of social concern. That is, a prudent society will take into account the factor of human temptation and by a combination of carrot and stick, attempt to inhibit the virus. The Lord’s Prayer asked that we “be delivered from temptation,” and theology urges the Christian to remove himself from “occasions of sin.” The carrot, for the law enforcement agent, is a decent salary; the stick, years in prison if detected and convicted—as happened to a half-dozen congressmen in a stag operation.

Now it pays to reflect on the subtle difference between graft and corruption to which the late Johnson and General Herman Kahn brought our attention. Graft is simply the making of a tariff. The head of a steel company has breakfast with a congressman and quizzes him about a tariff. Depending on what the congressman says, the steel operator will make a token or a hefty contribution to the congressman’s campaign. A representative of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee will question a legislator over whether he intends to vote to sell AWACS airplanes to Saudi Arabia. If yes, OK, and perhaps a contribution; if no, a blackball and such. A church group, with some major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles, might engage the Sandinistas in Nicaragua and then contribute to the campaign of a congressman who votes against them. Corruption is bringing in the major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.

Last week’s issue of Time magazine featured the life and gruesome death of “Kiki” Camarena, a front-line agent of the Drug Enforcement Administration with whom we, in Mexico, and whose mission was to identify and bring to justice the drug barons there. On the cosmic scale, what happened to Camarena is footnote material—he was one of the victims of the drug merchants’ hit class. He was picked up and tortured brutally (his killers wanted to get from him the names and addresses of the DEA’s informants). The big story—what put Kiki on the cover of Time—is the revelations about Mexico. It is perhaps an exaggeration to say that law enforcement in Mexico is a housepet of the drug merchants, but not much of an exaggeration. The Camarena story takes you to the doorstep of Mexico’s minister of defense.

In Mexico one lives with a culture in which graft is workaday stuff! An outgoing president is routinely expected to take with him a billion dollars or so. The brie to local policeman of a few pesos per week to do what he is supposed to do anyway has been routine since their revolution (and perhaps before). But the brie on the scale in which it is employed by the drug barons is large-scale. A police official bribed to kill or to prevent the detection of a killer might be paid a lifetime’s salary for his services. Against such temptations even sterners cultures get shaky at the knees, which is why we read about the corruptions in drug trafficking is bringing in those major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.

The difficulty in resisting graft is a matter of social concern. That is, a prudent society will take into account the factor of human temptation and by a combination of carrot and stick, attempt to inhibit the virus. The Lord’s Prayer asked that we “be delivered from temptation,” and theology urges the Christian to remove himself from “occasions of sin.” The carrot, for the law enforcement agent, is a decent salary; the stick, years in prison if detected and convicted—as happened to a half-dozen congressmen in a stag operation.

Now it pays to reflect on the subtle difference between graft and corruption to which the late Johnson and General Herman Kahn brought our attention. Graft is simply the making of a tariff. The head of a steel company has breakfast with a congressman and quizzes him about a tariff. Depending on what the congressman says, the steel operator will make a token or a hefty contribution to the congressman’s campaign. A representative of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee will question a legislator over whether he intends to vote to sell AWACS airplanes to Saudi Arabia. If yes, OK, and perhaps a contribution; if no, a blackball and such. A church group, with some major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles, might engage the Sandinistas in Nicaragua and then contribute to the campaign of a congressman who votes against them. Corruption is bringing in the major access points to the American drug market: Miami, New York, Seattle, El Paso, Los Angeles.
Cont. from p. 13

MOS of 11–Charlie—mortality. They gave me only three weeks for us to move back to New York to find Linda a new home and job.

We listened to Paul and Mary sing “Leavin’ On A Jet Plane” and wouldn’t let go of each other, twenty-four hours a day. It didn’t seem right to have to think about death at the age of twenty-three. It was not a happy time for young couples in America.

I was ordered back to Ft. Dix and there several hundred other Nam-bound GIs and I were sequestered in old wooden barracks and forced to wear Nam fatigues. We sat on the steps of the barracks and listened to news about Woodstock and jobless. It was in the middle of a hot night when they packed us into “cattle cars” and drove us over to MacGuire Air Force Base and packed us into a chartered DC-8 for the 22 hour flight to Nam.

We made a stop at an airbase, Alaska where I managed to sneak a short phone call to Linda, but when we stopped over at Yokota, Japan, we were under armed guard. Was the Pentagon worried that we’d try to escape? Both they and us had reason to be paranoid.

I remember...landing at Bien Hoa. The heat and the smell were overpowering. A computer somewhere assigned me to the 101st Airborne Division. They sewed Screaming Eagles onto my fatigues. I was only days from the bush and whatever that would bring.

I prayed for a miracle and for once in my life it actually happened! A senior NCO took me aside and offered me an enviable administrative job in base camp and you’d better believe I grabbed at the chance! Life never seemed more precious.

I remember...when my company was at Bien Hoa, twenty miles north of Saigon. It was sunny and warm and the only bad part was getting rocketed or mortared by the NVA every other night. Then they moved us 400 miles north to Phu Bai, six miles south of Hue and only twenty minutes by chopper from Hamburger, Khe Sank and the DMZ.

One week it rained more than 50 inches; midew formed in minutes. We shivered day and night, both of which looked the same. There were enemy probes at night and then came Tet. All that we thought about was survival and getting back to ‘The World’, neither of which seemed likely.

I remember...being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

When I woke up I was in a ward at 85th Evac Hospital at Phu Bai, Starring at a dozen other scared GI patients. It didn’t hurt much—until the Demerol wore off. There wasn’t anything we wouldn’t do to get Demerol.

After a few days they told me they’d have to fly me to a bigger Army hospital in Japan in order to save my right kidney and bladder. The next morning I was in a stretcher hung from the ceiling of a C-141 Starlifter, one of fifty GI patients on the medevac flight to Yokota.

I remember the fear on that plane. Dying at 40,000 feet in the cold, sterile world of a jet, where screams mixed with surges in the engines. Dying alone, without friends or family, at some unknown cross-hatch on the aeronautical charts.

I remember...spending two months in Ward 884 of the 29th Army Hospital at Camp Drake, Asaka, Japan. Business was brisk at the 249th, a direct barometer of how many soldiers were wounded in Nam.

There were 600 beds and they were never empty. All day and night, we’d hear the wall of the siren on the water tower as another medevac chopper arrived from Yokota. The wards got so jammed that the less severe cases were shunted to the corridors and solarium and we had to share wheelchairs and gurneys.

When the surgeons and urologists were finally able to put Humpty Dumpty back together again and at long last other 249th patients and I were put on a charter flight from Yokota, landing at Travis Air Force Base nine hours later.

They checked all our papers and told us to sleep a few hours while we waited for our Honor Flight. A dozen of us Nam vets slept on one side of a thin plywood partition—on the other side slept a dozen “cherries” who were waiting for their flight to Nam (I saw that scene at the beginning of Oliver Stone’s Platoon and it sent chills through me).

I wanted to kiss American soil, but it was too painful to bend down. It was the middle of the night when we arrived at the Oakland Army Depot. There were no bands and no parades, just a free steak dinner.

Six hours later I was a civilian again and twelve hours after that I stepped off a plane in Buffalo and Linda and I had to be picked apart to let the other passengers out. Home. Normalcy. But nightmares too. After the war in Nam ended for me, several years after President Nixon and Henry Kissinger first said “peace is almost at hand,” nearly 15,000 more American GIs would die in Nam. A high price to pay for “save face.” Why couldn’t we have saved our soldiers instead?

I remember...April 1975. Watching Vietnamese hang from the last plane out of Da Nang as the NVA quickly overran South Vietnam. Hue fell and I felt sick knowing that my former camps at Phu Bai and Camp Eagle were in enemy hands. We Nam vets felt like losers and our fellow citizens did nothing to either honor or comfort us.

Dr. Paul Scipione
Professor of Marketing

Dr. Paul Scipione
Zeppelin clones, _Physical Graffiti_, take off in concert

By Matt Mendres
Correspondent

Physical Graffiti-The Led Zeppelin Show, courtesy of Class One Concerts, strutted its stuff this past Monday night at Memorial Auditorium.

They played for a very receptive crowd that, at times, seemed to forget that this wasn’t actually Led Zeppelin they were watching. “Jimmy Page” and “Bonham!” were the two oft-heard battle cries during this show, which included music from every one of Led Zeppelin’s eight studio albums.

 Appropriately, the first set opened with “The Song Remains the Same,” from the Houses of the Holy LP. From there, the band launched into a deluge of crowd-pleasers that highlighted various points in Led Zeppelin’s career—“Misty Mountain Hop,” “Dyer Mak’er,” “Your Time is Gonna Come,” “ Custard Pie,” and “All My Love.”

This wasn’t just a musical experience, however, these guys pulled out all of the stops and tried to be Led Zeppelin, right down to the wardrobe, the brands of equipment, the hair, and the transparent drum set. “Jimmy Page” even had a roadie who brought him a lighted cigarette between songs. If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, then this was a novel-length love-letter to Led Zeppelin.

But were they good? Yes, they were good. But did they sound just like Zep? Yes, they sounded just like Zep. In fact, they sounded too much like Zep. You can practice and work until the cows come home, but it is impossible to capture a sound that, when it was originally being created, came naturally.

Make no mistake, the four members of Physical Graffiti are excellent musicians who know exactly what they are doing; but, as talented as they are, and as much as I love Led Zeppelin’s music, I couldn’t help but wonder how they would sound if they weren’t playing someone else’s music.

After a brief intermission, the band returned for a second set that opened with “In the Evening,” and plowed non-stop into a selection of Zeppelin’s anthemic show-stoppers. The highlight of the second set was, no doubt, “Kashmir,” complete with a faithful reproduction of John Paul Jones powerful synth work.

Slightly overdone renditions of “Whole Lotta Love” and “No Quarter” were also present, and the closing song-yes, you can see it coming from a mile away—was “Stairway to Heaven.” At least they had avoided the cliche of opening with “Rock And Roll.”

Noticeably absent was the energy they must have expended to recreate a Led Zeppelin concert is probably incredible. But I’ve still got to wonder: What do these guys sound like?

Lead singer of Physical Graffiti

Hello and welcome to another edition of Nolan's Notes. Towards the end of the summer, D.J. Jazzy Jeff and the Fresh Prince were brought to court by the creators of the "Nightmare on Elm Street" series. The case developed because of the use of an incredibly similar Freddie Krueger look-alike in their video as well as a Krueger-like voice track in the song. Well, a federal judge ordered the video to stop being played on MTV, ruling that the video's resemblance to the movie had crossed into copyright infringement. The label's attorney tried to say that the video was a parody. The judge ruled that more material than necessary was taken for it to be considered a spoof. Take it from them, judges just don't understand.

MINI—NOTES: The Beach Boys' "Kokomo" hit the top last week 24 years and four months after they first hit with "I Get Around." Also, they have the biggest gap between number ones. Twenty-one years and ten months have passed since they hit with "Good Vibrations" to last week's "Kokomo." "The Loco-Motion" has hit number one in the 60's and 70's and last week 24 years and four months after they first hit with it from them, judges just don't understand.

MINI—NOTES II: Questions of the day...Does Information Society's "What's On Your Mind" sound like old Duran Duran?...What is a Wilbury and why is it Traveling?...Where does it go? What does it do when it gets there? Somebody please tell me...The answer to last week's trivia question: Duran Duran.

Poor man's guide to music

By Dominic Pandiscia
Staff Writer

Warning: the sound you are about to hear is one commonly heard in the local record stores. $10.49 for an album! What are these made of, gold?!

No, the albums and tapes out there are not made of gold, and yes, there is a silver lining to the cloud of retail record prices. Scattered throughout New York City and New Jersey, one can find new and used albums for as little as $1. As compact discs become more and more popular, it is also possible to find used cd's from $4 up on.

This may seem as a dream come true to those who have been paying today's retail prices for records, but it is a very real dream.

Most of these record stores also carry a variety of music memorabilia, rare live recordings, videos, 45's, cassettes, imports, and posters. Below you will find an annotated list of some of the used record stores in the area. This is by no means a complete list of all of them, but they're some of the best and have the lowest prices in town.

Sounds, 20 Saint Mark's Place, N.Y.C.: Sounds has some of the cheapest prices available on records. They also carry used cd's. Providing bins of both new and used records, one is likely to find almost any recording one is looking for. Sounds also has a large selection of used twelve inch records. The selection includes rock, new wave, country, blues, dance, soul, and oldies.

Second Coming Records, 235 Sullivan St., N.Y.C.: Here one can find a wide selection of new and used albums and cd's as well as rare live recordings. There is also one entire wall where all of the records in the bin range from $2 to $10.

Sounds Jazz and classical, 14 Stuyvesant, N.Y.C.: At the jazz Sounds, there is a selection of classical, comedy, soul, rock, jazz, and vocal albums and cd's. In addition, the second floor is packed with videos for purchase. The prices tend to be slightly more expensive than the rock store, but still comparatively cheaper than the retail outlets.

Smash Compact Disks, 17 St. Mark's Place, N.Y.C.: This store mainly deals in new and used compact discs but also carries albums. For the cd enthusiast, there are rare cd singles and compilations. Prices on the cd's range from very inexpensive for the used cd's, and average for the new.

The Sound Exchange, 1482 Route 23, Wayne, N.J.: Although The Sound Exchange carries many of the same items that the other stores do, their prices tend to be much higher. However, it's in New Jersey and much easier to find than some of the New York stores. Even though their prices are somewhat higher than the New York stores, they still beat the retail outlets.

Venues Records, 61 W. 8th St. N.Y.C.: Venues records is similar to Second Coming Records. Here one can find a wide selection of imports. For the true penny pincher, there are several versions of Prince albums, however, are available. The prices here are about average compared to the other used record stores. In the back of the store, a wide selection of buttons and shirts are available for purchase, again, with the focus being on new music.

So, if you're interested in saving some money and finding new cool places to hang out, this is the guide for you. Have fun but save some music for the rest of us!
Latin Month's Dance
Starring:
Raffy Aranjo (El DETECTIVE)
AND 007
Date: Nov. 12, 1988
Where: Student Center
Ballrooms A, B, & C
Time: 8:00 p.m. to ?
Entrance: General $5.00
with MSC I.D. $3.00
For more information call
893-4440 (LASO Office)

THINK L.A.S.O.!
You are invited to our
General Membership Meetings

Nov. 15 SC Annex Rm. 415 2:00-3:00 pm
Nov. 17 SC Annex Rm. 416 6:00-7:00 pm
Nov. 29 SC Annex Rm. 415 2:00-3:00 pm
Dec. 1 SC Annex Rm. 416 6:00-7:00 pm
Dec. 13 SC Annex Rm. 415 2:00-3:00 pm
Dec. 15 SC Annex Rm. 416 6:00-7:00 pm

"Latin Americans in progress" LASO-Class I of the SGA
YOU'RE NEXT. AIX IS CLASS! THETA CLASS—TO EVERYBODY: “OUR LESS” GOOD LUCK ETA—Linda—I want my M.O.D. tape POSSIBILITIES ARE END—gameroom! are both studs. The women—Am I Emil? Smiley rules the pledges of AKY. —Joe and Frank—We think you To my Big Sister in AIX (Best everything on Oct. 29th. You—Christa, I am the woman...with the look in my eyeballs. Dee—Sharon—Have a good 4th day! Father Art—To my roomie: thanx for the help getting your pants back up, anyone can have, I'm always...badly—To the pledges of Alpha Phi OMA, It's almost over. You guys have done a great job—Tracy, It was nice of you to be—Ant—You're the best roommate anywhere can have, I'm always here for you—Aim —Johnson & Johnson stock is gaining—invested: an interested investor—But the contest was rigged—CONGRATULATIONS!!! When do we get the pizza!!? But the contest was rigged—5C16, HHHHMMM, I don't remember their door having anything on it when I turned in the entry form... But then it was judged by 5C17, what a coincidence... Congrats anyway, love your roomie—Chris, your doing great. Love your Big Brother, Joe—Sherry—we finally found a substitute for you.—Sodman & Holmes—To my Meister Cousin in Blanton—How are you? Father Art—To Diane (AIN)—I see you every day—and I manage to mumble up conversation—If I look in your eyes the way I look into yours—you are perfect for me—my admirer—OH GIRLS: We have the Condoms—The Boys—you littles—OH GIRLS: We have the Condoms—The Boys—Ken —No victims except Madonna down the hall! “The Chinese Wonder” wants you badly. —To the pledges of Alpha Phi Omega: Kim, Rob, Anthony, Jim, Hussein, Chris, Maura. You guys have done a great job—J.L. Lombardo—remember what you said-people are over now. Let's get together real soon. WE MISS YOU!!! Love, Age 19 and the Greek—To my favorite Rho man: I really enjoyed that massage. Did you enjoy yours? If you didn't DARE YOU to give me another chance. This time can we make it earlier than 3 a.m. By the way, I'm still waiting for my ride. Penn Station—To Marc and Leslie—They are gone!—Let's go see it, I heard it got great reviews!—To the guy in Jaffe's Dev. Math class come more than once a month!—Ken —To the pledges of Sigma Phi Rho Fraternity, Inc. “You have to earn your way through.” The Potential buds. —To the Sigma Phi Rho Phoes; Thank you for all of your guidance and support. The Potential buds—To the Potential Buds: A seed is the beginning, a bud is a new life, a Rose is the acceptance of maturity and grace. A Potential bud—To the Pledge of Alpha Phi Omega: Kim, Rob, Anthony, Jim, Hussein, Chris, Maura. You guys have done a great job—J.L. Lombardo—remember what you said-people are over now. Let's get together real soon. WE MISS YOU!!! Love, Age 19 and the Greek—Jode—how hare would it be for just looking at our roots. love you littles—OH GIRLS: We have the Condoms—The Boys—Hillery—love you—Douglas—To the Senators, we're happy that we don't have to take our differences everywhere. It's always a pleasure to play with gentlemen—TKE—The “Nasty Nupes” of Kappa Alpha Psi, Fraternity, Inc. wishes everyone a safe and Happy Thanksgiving—Ant, Bridget, Bob, Rob, Yma, Cin—Thank you so much for your help. I love all you guys. Amy—To Mare and Leslie—We feel honored to be your 1st night! Dianne A, —To the pledges of ALPHA IOTA CHI, It's almost over. You can't wait to have you in the family. Stefanie's Big Sis—Darryl—Women. Can't live with ‘em. Can't live with ‘em. —Am I Emil? Smiley rules the pledges of AKY. You will have to party with us more often. Trac, Vic, and JoAnn—To Diane (AIN)—I see you every day—and I manage to mumble up conversation—If I look in your eyes the way I look into yours—you are perfect for me—my admirer.
-AMY pledges--It's almost over! Keep those voices in tune. The Pledge Masters
-Thanksgiving dinner, roomie: Happy OK!!! love your roommate in the hole
-Erik--That building was the library--we keep books in there. Erk don't you teach him ANYTHING!!! (Well, Erin, I guess thats how you got your reputation, "Animal"--Lee)--
-TL--Where the heck have you been? I've been looking for you. I still have your T-shirt. Give me a call. Ma--
-Joel I think you are someone who I'd like to get to know better. An admirer
-Linda--Great display of athletic ability Wednesday night--kidding beware at regionals. the P.J.'s
-To Lynn and John--Thanks!!! Lisa and Elizabeth.
-INAPPROPRIATE CONDUCT WILL NOT BE TOLERATED.
-Do not be Happy 21st, of course I didn't forget!! I love you!! Love always, Staci
-B.C., No junk food! L.L. Beag Happy Birthday John--sk a Dad! A lot early or a little late.
-Mags, you go to pick some one better next time. Sex on the Beach--
-Mare, Andrea, Nancy, and Carolyn--who is going to wash the dishes on Monday? He is busy.
-Judy S.--Happy belated birthday! (By the way, shouldn't you be xeroxing or something right now?)
-J.T.--Happy Birthday, Always E.L.
-H. shoots, He scores!
-There is no food in New Jersey, lets go to Mc Donalds in New York.
-Jayne, good luck on Saturdays exam...then let the parties begin!
-Nancewah, We could have been Strangers in the Night!
-Rondeau, Don, Thanks for being my best friend! Doy! Love--Your Pueblo
-Tammi, I Love You Honey, you're cute! Love always, Thanks for your support. I know I can do it somehow. Love, Bryan
-To Gary S. and all the conservative scum--What's so funny about peace, love, and understanding? Rob
-To John who is bleeding heart liberals can just blame everything on Bush now. I'll start by saying that Rolly squealed on his chalke because he knew Bush was doomed to win. Your turn.-Lynn
-Mary-I thank you for the present and the room. It will linger forever! 307C
-Mary C.--Thanx for being there. And caring. Trill
-Congratulations to the all the new Sigma Delta Phi Sisters-I know you could do it! Love always.
-Theresa--It's definitely not easy, but that's OK!!! Love, Eliz
-You, You, Kaappa Sweethearts. Happy Thanksgiving to all our most gracious and unique ladies. From the "Nasty Nymphs of Kappa Alpha Psi, Fraternity, Inc.
-A1X and my favorite roommate--I love you! A1X 69 and your favorite roommate
-Tray, Mare--Watch out it is personal.
-Spin me big Bill like you know I want to be spun, Do me like you know I want to be done! You were my sweetie
-Andrea--Where's my apple-JO

Help Wanted

TELEMARKETING. Evening/weekend shifts. We'll like to help sell a major publication from our non-smoking office. Earn as much as $12.00/hr. 343-2244 Mr. Mark.

College Tutorial Center offers drop-in tutors for math assistance. Drop by or call the center at 893-3436. Located in the yellow building (Annex E) across from library.

Customer Service: America's top and newest travel plan. Interested persons please send resume to 3563 Ryder Street, Santa Clara, CA 95051.

TELEMARKETING. Earn as much as $12.00/hr. 343-2267. Free trip and cash!!

Furnished Room available in a M/FPE. Rent $650 per month. 8096.

Renter needs sales representative for small boutique in Upper Montclair. Contact Melanie 783-0011.

College Tutorial Center offers drop-in tutors for math assistance. Drop by or call the center at 893-3436. Located in the yellow building (Annex E) across from library.

Customer Service: America's top and newest travel plan. Interested persons please send resume to 3563 Ryder Street, Santa Clara, CA 95051.

TELEMARKETING. Earn as much as $12.00/hr. 343-2267. Free trip and cash!!

Customer Service: America's top and newest travel plan. Interested persons please send resume to 3563 Ryder Street, Santa Clara, CA 95051.
SKI SHOW & SALE

Featuring: More than $10,000,000 worth of the finest ski clothing and equipment by the biggest names in the business

- Rossignol • C.B. • Olin • Descente
- Bogner • Roffe • Look • Elan • Head
- Nordica • Obermeyer • Lange
- Marker • Heerling • K2 • Raichle
- Fischer and much, much more...

Everything at savings up to 80% off why pay more?

Free admission to New York and New Jersey's largest ski show featuring exhibitors from Shawnee Mountain • Ski Time Tours • Vernon Valley
- Alpine Mountain • Ski Card International • Montage • Sugarbush • The Bridges
- Ski The Catskills Plus • Live ski deck shows by ski areas of NJ • Continuous Warren Miller films

Don't miss out!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Thursday</th>
<th>Nov. 10</th>
<th>12PM-MID</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Friday</td>
<td>Nov. 11</td>
<td>10AM-MID</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Saturday</td>
<td>Nov. 12</td>
<td>10AM-8PM</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Free parking till 5pm weekdays in Lot 15 (between Gates "C" and "D")
- Free admission
- Free prizes
- Indoors rain or shine
- All major credit cards accepted

For further information call 1-800-ALL SKIS

Princeton guarantees the lowest prices... or your money back!
Athlete of the Week

Vega the key to MSC win

By Kenny Peck
Sports Editor

MSC tailback Scott Vega, this week's Montclarion Athlete of the Week, went off tackle for a 69-yard touchdown to power the Indians to a 6-0 victory over Jersey City State Saturday.

The sophomore credits the offensive line and the MSC receivers for the run. "Troy (Bowers) threw a really key block uphill to spring me," Vega said.

Though the Indians won Saturday, Vega and the Indians are disappointed because of the fact that the NCAA playoffs are not in the cards for them this season.

"It's kind of hard to find positive things about this season," Vega said. "We won a lot of games, but it really doesn't mean much because we didn't make the playoffs."

"Before the season started, I had two goals: to play the whole season, and to make the playoffs and ultimately win the Stagg Bowl," Vega said.

Vega fell short on both counts, as an early season injury Express" backfield of MSC kept him on the sidelines at times. "I didn't like the Pony Express because you really can't get into a synch playing every third series," Vega said.

As for Saturday's clash with Glassboro, the final regular season game for the Indians, Vega says he'll 'play this game to my fullest potential, just like any other.'

---

NJAC football standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Record</th>
<th>Record</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>* Trenton St.</td>
<td>5-0</td>
<td>8-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MSC</td>
<td>4-1</td>
<td>7-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramapo</td>
<td>3-2</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Glassboro St.</td>
<td>3-2</td>
<td>5-4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William Paterson</td>
<td>2-4</td>
<td>3-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kean</td>
<td>2-4</td>
<td>3-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jersey City St.</td>
<td>0-6</td>
<td>2-7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* denotes clinched conference championship

---

Last week's results:

MSC 6, Jersey City St. 0
Trenton St. 14, Kean 13
Glassboro 27, William Paterson 0

Friday's game

Wagner at William Paterson

Saturday's games

Glassboro at MSC (1:30)
Trenton St. at Ramapo
Western Connecticut at Kean

END OF REGULAR SEASON

---

Wells Fargo Guard Services

Two Campus Drive, Parsippany, New Jersey 07054
(201) 267-5800

ATTENTION: RECENT GRADS

Staff Accountant

Wells Fargo Guard Services, a security industry leader, has an immediate opening for an entry-level Staff Accountant in our Corporate Headquarters. If you are looking to break into the corporate world with a challenging position which offers personal development and growth, this may be the opportunity for you.

This position will provide accounting support to our General Accounting and Financial Analysis Departments. Responsibilities will include preparation of various reports utilizing the IBM PC, monthly analysis of balance sheet accounts, assisting with the preparation of Corporate Audit Packs and budget as well as special projects.

The individual we seek should possess a B.S. in Accounting, minimal work experience is preferred, and knowledge of Lotus 1-2-3 a plus (willing to train).

When you join the Wells-Fargo team, you will receive an attractive starting salary plus excellent benefit package which includes investment plan and company gymnasium.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to submit their resume which must include Salary Requirement for consideration to:

Cynthia M. Martinangelo
Manager of Human Resources
201-397-2541
Knicks will be tough, but Celts will be Celts

By Kenny Peck

Hoopla

This week, on the Inside Corner presents our selections for the 1988-89 NBA season:

EASTERN CONFERENCE

Atlantic Division
- Boston
- New York
- Philadelphia
- Washington
- New Jersey
- Charlotte

WESTERN CONFERENCE

Midwest Division
- Dallas
- Houston
- Denver
- Utah
- San Antonio
- Miami

Central Division
- Atlanta
- Detroit
- Indiana
- Chicago
- Chicago
- Cleveland

Pacific Division
- Los Angeles Lakers
- Seattle
- Golden State
- Los Angeles Clippers
- Portland
- Phoenix

Glassboro State invades Sprague Saturday with upset in mind

By Bryan Morityko

Staff Writer

Bill Fisher, last week's NJAC Offensive Player of the Week, will lead the Glassboro State Profs into Sprague Field in the regular season finale against the Indians.

MSC holds an 18-8 record in the conference, while the defense digs in to hold back the Profs.

Mike Codella and Dan Walsh leading the way. Vega has averaged 107.7 yards in his seven games to lead the “Pony Express” backfield.

The trio has combined for 14 touchdowns on the season, with Codella scoring six and Walsh five. Vega has three.

MSC has been anchored by a tough defense all year, with Paul Cioffi leading the charge. Cioffi has a total of 100 tackles on the year and 14 sacks, leading the Indians in both categories. Also strong has been linebacker Len Kruk, who stands at second in tackles with 68.

Cross-country

Looking ahead, the MSC lady Indians will be working hard as they prepare for the NCAA Regionals, being held Saturday in Center Valley, Pennsylvania.

The Regional will determine if MSC will advance to the National Championships.

Despite a recent loss to Trenton State, the women hold their heads high as the top five runners ran well and achieved all-conference titles.

Improving her time greatly from last year was Rosa Domingues, who came in first for MSC with a time of 19:51. Jennifer Abrahamson came in second with a time of 20:21. Put Anderson, Bernadette Wykipski and Jill Robertson rounded out the top five for the Indians.

“Everyone ran well, and their times improved drastically,” said head coach John Blanton.

What’s What in MSC sports

Bowling

The MSC Bowling team competed at Parkway Lanes in Elmwood Park, New Jersey, defeating St. Peter’s College, 1017-909. Dave Oldenhouse (340), John Orozco (209), and Gary McCarthy (202) led the Indians.

The Indians also traveled to Penn State, where the bowlers competed in the Lion’s Pride Invitational Tournament. The MSC bowlers were successful in the singles portion of the competition, as McCarthy rolled a 227-223-620, Orozco a 204-199-605 and Jim Jourdan a 221-202-600.

Scott Ciglione’s 197 average in conference play leads the team. MSC will again be in action on Sunday at the Cranston Bowl in Cranston, Rhode Island.

Ice Hockey

The Indians rebounded from an opening night defeat by topping Pace, 9-3.

Junior Frank Alessio opened the scoring for MSC with the first of his four goals in the first period, with the Indians erupting for seven goals, highlighted by breakaway shorthanded goals by Alessio and transfer Dave Barbosa.

The Indians will play in Montclair Arena on Sunday, November 20, against William Paterson in MSC’s homecoming game.

Cross-country

Looking ahead, the MSC lady Indians will be working hard as they prepare for the NCAA Regionals, being held Saturday in Center Valley, Pennsylvania.

The Regional will determine if MSC will advance to the National Championships.

Despite a recent loss to Trenton State, the women hold their heads high as the top five runners ran well and achieved all-conference titles.

Improving her time greatly from last year was Rosa Domingues, who came in first for MSC with a time of 19:51. Jennifer Abrahamson came in second with a time of 20:21. Put Anderson, Bernadette Wykipski and Jill Robertson rounded out the top five for the Indians.

“Everyone ran well, and their times improved drastically,” said head coach John Blanton.

Trivia Time-Out

Each week, The Montclarion publishes a list of sports questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia.

In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue.

If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. What NHL team is farthest south?
2. What country’s team is the last team in the Olympic parade?
3. How many double stiches are there in a regulation baseball?
4. How many U.S. Open titles did Ben Hogan win?
5. What pitcher’s ERA of 1.12 in 1968 was the best in major league baseball since 1917?

Answer to last week’s stumper:

What’s an NHL goalie’s goal-against average if he yields four goals in 80 minutes? Three.

Submitting the correct answer was:

Darrell Lynch, Joe Cheevers.

This week’s stumper:

In 1977, Ken Norton held the number three world ranking in heavyweight boxing. Name numbers one and two.

1. What NHL team is farthest south?
2. What country’s team is the last team in the Olympic parade?
3. How many double stiches are there in a regulation baseball?
4. How many U.S. Open titles did Ben Hogan win?
5. What pitcher’s ERA of 1.12 in 1968 was the best in major league baseball since 1917?

Travis Time-Out

Each week, The Montclarion publishes a list of sports questions and answers to test your knowledge of sports trivia.

In addition, there is a sports stumper which will be answered in the following issue.

If you think you have the correct answer to the stumper, drop it off at The Montclarion office in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex. The names of those submitting the correct answer will be published in the next week’s issue. Deadline for submissions is Monday at 3 p.m.

1. What NHL team is farthest south?
2. What country’s team is the last team in the Olympic parade?
3. How many double stiches are there in a regulation baseball?
4. How many U.S. Open titles did Ben Hogan win?
5. What pitcher’s ERA of 1.12 in 1968 was the best in major league baseball since 1917?

Answer to last week’s stumper:

What’s an NHL goalie’s goal-against average if he yields four goals in 80 minutes? Three.

Submitting the correct answer was:

Darrell Lynch, Joe Cheevers.

This week’s stumper:

In 1977, Ken Norton held the number three world ranking in heavyweight boxing. Name numbers one and two.

1. What NHL team is farthest south?
2. What country’s team is the last team in the Olympic parade?
3. How many double stiches are there in a regulation baseball?
4. How many U.S. Open titles did Ben Hogan win?
5. What pitcher’s ERA of 1.12 in 1968 was the best in major league baseball since 1917?
Beats NJIT, will now face Williams

Soccer team wins ECAC East Regional

By Ian Saarmann
Staff Writer

The MSC soccer team won the Eastern Coast Athletic Conference (ECAC) Metro New York-New Jersey Division III Tournament with a 2-0 victory over New Jersey Tech at Sprague-Field Monday night. The Indians will play their first game this season on a beautiful head shot. Vinnie McGowan made a great pass from the left wing to Pladl, who then headed the ball in.

The Indian defense held NJIT scoreless the rest of the way, as goalie Jim Stahl posted his 14th shutout of the season.

In the first round game against Drew, Moramarco scored off of a free kick from 20 yards with just more than two minutes remaining to send MSC into the championship game.

With these two wins, MSC advances to the ECAC overall championships at Muhlenberg College in Pennsylvania this weekend.

The Indians will play Williams of Massachusetts at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. If MSC wins that game, they will play the winner of Muhlenberg and Hobart on Sunday at 11:00 a.m. in the final.

Needless to say, these are big games coming up for MSC. The Indians, however, are confident they can pull it off.

"The team is confident that we can be successful against any team if we keep working hard and give 100 percent all the time," said co-captain Mike Nothefer. "These were our goals in the beginning of the season and we've been successful because we have never stopped working toward them."

The schedule for the next two weekends:

MEN'S BASKETBALL

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NOVEMBER</th>
<th>DECEMBER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Nov. 19: Emmanuel Tournament (A) 4:00/6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Fri./Sat., Dec. 2/3: Dial Soap Classic (H) 6:00/8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tue., Nov. 29: Glassboro State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Dec. 7: Stockton State (A) 7:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Dec. 10: Rutgers-Camden (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Dec. 10: Western Connecticut (A) 2:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Dec. 14: Jersey City (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Tues., Dec. 13: Jersey City State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Dec. 17: William Paterson (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Dec. 17: William Paterson (A) 2:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NOVEMBER</th>
<th>DECEMBER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sat./Sun., Nov. 19/20: Emmanuel Tournament (A) 4:00/6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Fri./Sat., Dec. 2/3: Dial Soap Classic (H) 6:00/8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., Nov. 21: Glassboro State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Dec. 2: Glassboro State (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Nov. 23: Trenton State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Dec. 23: College of Staten Island (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri., Dec. 29/30: Florida Atlantic Tour. (A) 5:00/7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Thurs., Jan. 5: Florida Atlantic (A) 6:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

JANUARY

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NOVEMBER</th>
<th>DECEMBER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fri./Sat., Jan. 6-7: NJIT Tournament (A) 6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Fri./Sat., Jan. 6: Kean College (A) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Jan. 10: Keansburg (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Jan. 13: Rutgers-Camden (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs., Jan. 12: Albany (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Jan. 15: Rutgers-Newark (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Jan. 14: Rutgers-Newark (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Jan. 18: Ramapo (A) 7:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sun., Jan. 21: Stockton State (A) 4:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Jan. 25: Glassboro State (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Jan. 25: Glassboro State (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Jan. 25: Trenton State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., Jan. 30: Hartwick (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Feb. 5: Glassboro State (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

FEBRUARY

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NOVEMBER</th>
<th>DECEMBER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Feb. 1: Kean College (A) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Feb. 1: Kean College (A) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Feb. 4: Rutgers-Camden (A) 5:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Feb. 4: Jersey City (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Feb. 8: Jersey City (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Fri., Feb. 10: William Paterson (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri., Feb. 10: William Paterson (A) 8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Wed., Feb. 15: Ramapo College (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., Feb. 15: Ramapo College (A) 5:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Fri., Feb. 17: Rutgers-Newark (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Feb. 18: Rutgers-Newark (H) 7:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Sat., Feb. 25: Trenton State (A) 2:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs., Feb. 23: Conference Playoffs -TBA-</td>
<td>Sat., Mar. 4: Conference Playoffs TBA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MSC tops JCSC on Vega TD

By Kenny Peck
Sports Editor

Sophomore tailback Scott Vega ran 69 yards on MSC's very first play from scrimmage to lead the Indians to a 5-0 victory Saturday against Jersey City State.

Though MSC was victorious, Trenton State clinched the New Jersey Athletic Conference title with a 14-13 win over Kean Saturday.

The game was played under terrible conditions, as a torrential downpour and 40 mile per hour winds hindered both teams offensively.

On a first and ten play from the MSC 31-yard line, Vega took a handoff from Ed Baffige, bounced off two Gothic Knight defenders, and managed to stay on his feet and rumble for what would be the only score of the afternoon.

The ensuing extra point attempt never got underway, as the snap was bobbled and Colasurdo was tackled trying to run it in to the field goal post.

The MSC defense played well, as they held Jersey City State to 125 total yards.

Freshman Arielle Williams led the defensive charge, as he racked up 14 tackles (six of them solo), knocked down three passes and caused a fumble. Mark Monteyne added nine tackles and a sack.

Running back Dan Walsh was the leading rusher for the Indians, as he finished with 120 yards on 20 carries. Vega finished the day with 99 yards rushing on nine carries.

The MSC victory was the 20th straight for the Indians over Jersey City State, the longest unbeaten streak against one team in Indian history.

Indian info:

Injury report:

Lance Lucarelli and Mike Dalton both suffered sprained ankles but are listed as probable for Glassboro State...Linebacker John Hernandez has slight injuries to his right knee and index fingers but will play Saturday...Roger Hutchins is now off crutches and will practice this week following his ankle sprain of two weeks ago...