Alcohol sales remain banned at Rat

The sale of alcoholic beverages at the Ratskeller remains banned following an incident on March 3, 1989, which led to 11 arrests by New Jersey State Police and one arrest by Montclair State Campus Police after officers checked student ID’s.

Dr. Edward C. Martin, Dean of Students, said it was a “college decision” to end alcohol nights at the Raths­kellar follow­ing the ABC action. “The matter is still in the process of appeal with the ABC,” said Martin. “There are two main factors why there are no alcohol sales presently going on at the Raths­kellar. The first is that we still await a ruling on the complaint filed by the ABC and the second is, the incident itself has led many to question the place that alcohol has at an educational institution.”

Linnehan said student input is “very important before any decision is made about the future of alcohol at the Raths­kellar. I believe that with work and good programming, the Raths­kellar can be successful without the sale of alcohol.”

“We (the SGA) plan to have a student committee put together to discuss the issue as well as a survey that we plan to put out to the students, to see what they want and what their opinion is,” Linnehan added.

Martin said that a non-alcoholic night could be an “absolute success.”

Some students on campus last night were not as optimistic as Martin. “The people on campus will now be drinking and driving. They can’t drink in the dorms, and now they can’t in the Rat, either,” said Kevin Verbeke, a senior home economics major.

“I feel sorry for the people who live on campus. Now there’s nothing to do here. This is really going to become a weekend suitcase college,” said Tracy Dattoli, a senior home economics major, referring to the tendency of residents to return home every weekend.

The college has continued an indefinite ban on the sale of alcohol at the Raths­kellar, pictured above, following a police raid on the bar last semester.

Faculty prepares for possible strike

Some five hundred Montclair State College instructors may join a faculty strike of New Jersey’s nine state colleges if halted contract negotiations with the state do not resume, union leaders said yesterday.

Dr. Catherine Becker, President of American Federation of Teachers local 1904, which represents about 540 faculty members, librarians, and professional staff people at MSC, said, “Though we still hope to reach a negotiated settlement, preparations are underway for us to strike.”

Dr. Becker said, “Between 50 and 75 faculty members from Montclair State are planning to attend a demonstration on Friday, Sept. 22 at Edison State College, which is the site of the meeting of the Board of Higher Education” on that day.

The three major issues the union opposes are: low salaries, the establishment of a new “superprofessor” title, and the institution of a new multiple-pay range system.

Becker said that, “25 percent of new contracts for public school teachers in New Jersey have a higher top salary than the $54,688 that a top professor would receive. That top salary is for a full professor that has had between 10 and 15 years experience, has a Ph.d., and has had published works.”

The establishment of a new “superprofessor” title is opposed by the union because, as Dr. Becker explained, “The plan would bring in famous people to teach and would pay these people exorbitant amounts of money while adding nothing to the available salary pool, in effect taking away from the salary of those already here.”

She added that a move like this would be “very demoralizing to the people who worked so hard to get where they are now.” The state also wants to institute a multiple pay range system for the faculty. This is opposed by the union because it would lead to a situation where professors with certain credentials would make more money than one with the same credentials.

Dr. Joseph Moore, the former President of Local 1904 at MSC said, “If this demonstration does not get negotiations moving again, then we will strike.”

Dr. Moore added that he expects several faculty members to give their classes library assignments so that they can attend the demonstration in Trenton this Friday.

During the nearly twenty years in which the AFT has been bargaining collectively with the state, the union has struck twice. One strike lasted 8 days while the other lasted only 1 day.

The Hispanic Caucus welcomes new faculty

The Hispanic Caucus executive board “proudly acknowledged” the arrival of seven new Latin American faculty members at MSC this Fall at their first meeting on Sept 14.

Caucus President Jose Magdaleno called the additional staffing “a big step in the right direction” and “a breakthrough” for the Hispanic community.

“I have been here since 1981. Some years there have been 11 Hispanic instructors and some years 13, but the number has never exceeded 12,” Magdaleno said.

Some twenty members of the campus-wide organization also gathered to discuss programming including a reception for President Irvin Reid Sept. 26, to be co-sponsored with the African-American Caucus.

“This is a good way to introduce him to our minority community,” one member said. Organizers expect a “low key, but exciting evening” with 100 to 110 people in present.

Also on the agenda was an annual Hispanic Recruitment Day, scheduled for November 14, when an estimated 200 to 300 New Jersey high school sophomores and juniors visiting the campus will be encouraged to attend Montclair State College or college in general.

Organized by the admissions department and 17 high schools, the event includes a tour of the campus, a sample of the cafeteria food and workshops run by MSC faculty and staff.

Jose Magdaleno, Hispanic Caucus president, said of the workshops “the young will benefit a great deal from seeing concerned people.”

Reid pays surprise visit to SGA

By Mike Gluckman
Correspondent

Prior to the SGA president’s report, Montclair State College president Irvin Reid paid a surprise visit to the legislature on Wednesday night, Sept. 20. "I think this will be an exciting year on campus," Reid said. "I will do anything I can to help. I know there will be some controversy and some heated debate. If there were none, we would not be in an academic environment.”

"We will all be better off" for having coped with such problems, he said.

With respect to the fighting that occurred at Friday, Sept. 15 outside the Black Student Cooperative Union dance in which two campus police officers were injured, SGA president Mary Jane Linnehan said, "We must work to have better security at these events in the future."

In other business, Jonathan Rothman was nominated for homecoming king and Jennifer McCall for homecoming queen.

Regarding a proposed $5,000 appropriation to the Child Care Center at Stone Hall SGA, Linnehan said, "Five thousand dollars is a lot of money and it would only be for one year." She added that,"The SGA will work to try to organize alternative funding for the center."

Perhaps through corporations or through the faculty co-op foundation on campus."

In other business, the legislature elected Margaret Kurdlya as president pro-tempore, which makes Kurdlya the leader of the legislative body, liaison between the legislature and the executive board, and head of the constitutional review committee.

Upcoming events include a voter registration drive to be held by the SGA on Monday, Sept. 25, as well as a Montclair State Night at the Meadowlands Race Track on Friday.

Black student organization cites police insensitivity:

BSCU opposes police allegations

By Lilyanne McClean
Assignment Editor

Abdul-Hassan Sharif, Vice-president of the Black Student Cooperative Union, said in an interview last night that a campus disturbance Friday night was a direct result of the campus police’s insensitivity towards black students.

Campus police reported that 100 people were involved in a disturbance that became riotous and involved five local police stations.

According to Sharif, the incident could have been avoided if campus police had stayed at the party as they do at other activities. “Two officers sat outside during the production of Agnes of God and chatted,” he said.

“We asked them to come at 8:00 p.m.,” said Hope Nixon, Secretary of BSCU. “They came and then they left. If they had stayed, they could have prevented people from loitering and a crowd would have never formed.”

Sgt. Newcome could not be reached for additional comment.

Sharif added that the crowd was composed of people who were denied entrance to the party because they did not have escorts or MSC ID.

Sharif also said that this situation is just one of many times that the campus police have neglected to protect the BSCU students. “We were collecting money at the table and we needed protection,” he said. “They always come after it is too late.”

In addition, the police are always apt to refer to any black function as a riot, disturbance, or demonstration, according to Sharif. “They don’t acknowledge the fact that the people inside, from BSCU, were having fun within school policies,” he said.

Campus Police Report

Fight erupts at BSCU event

By Lilyanne McClean
Assignment Editor

Campus police arrested a 22-year-old male last Friday for punching a campus police officer in the jaw during a disturbance in front of the Student Center that involved five local police departments, according to campus police.

Campus Police Sgt. Debra Newcombe said that a “riot” began after about 100 people were denied entrance to a party sponsored by the Black Student Cooperative Union.

Newcombe also said an unidentified male was kicked into unconsciousness. “We called for medical assistance, but he woke up and was carried off by one of his friends,” she said.

The rioters resorted to kicking, punching, or hitting each other with motorcycle helmets according to Newcombe.

Three campus police officers first went to the Student Center at 12 p.m. when a BSCU representative called the station, saying that the party had reached its limit.

The same three officers later sustained injuries as they attempted to clear the crowd from in front of the student center. Two of the officers were treated at Mountainside Hospital and the third officer was treated at the MSC Health Center according to Newcombe.

The police departments called to assist included Little Falls, Essex County, Montclair, Bloomfield, and the Passaic County Sheriff’s Department.

The Newark P.D. also called to offer assistance, according to Newcombe.

Other campus police matters included a threat made by two Clove Road Apartment residents against a unit manager. Newcombe said the residents threatened to “get even” with the unit manager if she wrote them up for an illegal party on Sept. 14.

In Lot 23 on Sept. 15, seven cars were stripped of their antennas and windshield wipers and bottles were thrown through the windshields. A female resident of Webster Hall reported that she was being harassed by her boyfriend on Sept. 17—“This happens all the time,” Newcombe said. “We usually just call the guy and try and calm him down.”

Jello wrestling at MSC?

Team Challenge '90 kicks off

By Jolleen Newby
Correspondent

"Team Challenge '90," a new kind of sports program based on student participation, will begin its first season with a jello wrestling contest on Thursday, Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. in Panzer Gym. A feature match will also be held with wrestling coach Steve "The Strapper" Streliner.

Other contests, such as soccer, banner day, volleyball, a basketball triathlon, inner tube water polo, ultimate frisbee, and the final May event, track and field day, will follow monthly throughout the school year. All MSC students are invited to participate.

Holly Gera and Jo Santorine of Campus Recreation and Dave Mausor of the Athletic Dept. are the creators of the innovative program. The Student Intramural Leisure Council is also donating its services.

"Team Challenge is designed to promote recreational sports and athletics as well as encouraging student involvement" in them, Santorine said. Gera added there are tentative plans for "events that have not been done by SILC or any other group on campus."

The organizers aim to involve residence halls, greek organizations, SGA organizations as well as independent students. Ideally, ten teams will compete, said Gera.

Registered participants will form teams of twelve—six men and six women—plus two men and two women alternates. Each player will receive a "Challenge '90" tee-shirt and after jello wrestling, the winning teams for each event will earn cumulative points. A large silver cup goes to the final winner in May for display in the Student Center.

Jello Wrestling points will be scored on audience excitement and response and performance originality, among other categories.

Interested students are encouraged to volunteer for scorekeeping and officiating, events management, and other posts. Others may simply be spectators and root for their friends.

Anyone interested should contact the campus recreation department and register as soon as possible.

Team Challenge '90 will be co-sponsored by Domino's Pizza (free pizza at selected events), Campus Recreation and the Athletic Dept.

The Meadowlands Racetrack will hold a special salute to MSC on Friday night, September 22, 1989 including a Montclair State College Stakes race.

The MSC Center for Continuing Education will co-sponsor a series of lectures with the Daughters of Israel Geriatric Center, West Orange, on topics concerning health workers.

All of the seminars are scheduled on Wednesdays, from 9:30 am until 4 pm, starting with the Sept. 27 discussion of "New Issues in Healthcare Insurance."

The Flannery Fund of the APO will hold a special salute to Alpha Phi Omega and one of the events will be a flea market in Verona. The Flannery Fund is available at the Student Center, West Orange, on topics concerning health workers.

Corrections
In last week's issue of The Montclarion, it was reported that the Black Student Cooperative Union was attempting to change their name to Organization of Students for African-American Unity. The name they actually seek is Organization for African Unity.
In the same edition, SGA treasurer Tim Nee was quoted as saying Plan B of Master Planning Committee proposals was "grossly over budget." Nee was actually referring to Plan C.
The Montclarion regrets any confusion that these errors may have caused.

Pre-med students study at Harvard

By Valerie Kaflrn
Features Editor

Terri Ronna and Michele Costanzo spent their summer in Boston, asking about condoms. Well, not just condoms. AIDS prevention. Serious research, actually, for Harvard Medical School.

For Terri, now 24, it all began back in 1985 when a car accident made her reconsider her career goal as a professional dancer.

She decided to study medicine, aiming to become an orthopedic surgeon specializing in sports medicine. "I figured if I can't do it, I may as well be with the people," she says.

She transferred from the Alvin Ailey American Dance Center in New York City to Montclair, majoring in biology, where she met Michele in a chemistry class.

Michele, 22, started as a marketing major at Berkeley before coming to MSC. "I was really involved in the fashion industry, especially the advertising," she says. "I had to take a lab course in chemistry for a requirement, and from there it just snowballed."

Terri and Michele had no support system for pre-med students on campus, and in the fall of 1985, founded the Pre-Med/Professional Society on campus. She asked Michele to be her vice-president.

Last April, the two took 30 students to Harvard over the weekend for a tour. That's where they spied the posters advertising summer research opportunities.

"Michele and I just grabbed a bunch," Terri says, "and kept calling doctors until we finally got accepted into the summer program."

Dr. Paul Cleary of Harvard's Health Care Policy department accepted them a project involving surveys of satisfied patients.

They proposed their summer research plans to Vaughn Vangdergraf, dean of the school of math and science, and Bob Hilliard of the Alumni Association.

"He (Hilliard) coordinated the whole thing for us," Michele says, adding that the Alumni Association supplied them a grant along with the SGA and the medical school itself.

After the surveys, the two split up into areas of personal interest. Terri worked with Cleary's assistant on non-operative treatments of Chondromalacia, a chronic syndrome which softens cartilage in the knees of athletes.

Michele worked with a medical historian and a medical attorney on a follow-up study of a pre-marital screening case in Illinois.

Then came the AIDS research.

"He (Cleary) wanted to know what pharmacists' knowledge was about the prevention of AIDS and the use of condoms," Michele explains.

So she and Terri randomly interviewed pharmacists all over Boston for facts about AIDS and the different types of condoms.

"It was like play-acting," Michele says. "You assumed a role and you performed."

"It was a lot of fun," Terri adds. "It was a little embarrassing at times, but it was good."

At the end of the project, they wrote a paper which is pending publication at Harvard entitled, "Pharmacist Knowledge of AIDS Prevention." Except for the ending statistical analysis done by professors, they are credited with the entire work.

This fall, Terri plans to observe an orthopedic surgeon from her former alma mater and the New York City Ballet, while continuing her dance classes.

She also plans on studying at the National Sports Institute of China this summer before applying to Harvard Medical School in the fall.

Michele plans to continue developing a national advisory program for undergraduate pre-med students, a project she started over the summer.

"We hope it'll act as a 'reach-out' program to bridge the gap between the undergraduate program and the medical profession. I think it's really going to take off," she says.

With a prestigious research project behind them, anything can happen. As Terri says, "Have the courage to set your sights high, and the wisdom to see that everything is possible when you believe."

After all, what have they got to lose?

Rainbow Lobby fights for fairness

By Alice Singer
Correspondent

You are not alone if you feel that elected leaders are not representing and protecting your rights, or if the government is not dealing with issues that need to be addressed.

For these reasons, the Rainbow Lobby began.

Our country ranks 75th in voter participation among democratic nations. According to the Rainbow Lobby, many Americans major reason why is they feel that there is little chance that their voices will be heard and effect a change.

The lobby, started in 1984 and currently composed of activists and attorneys from the Civil Rights movement, has made fair elections and democracy its chief crusade.

The lobby has recently opened a fundraising headquarters at 8 Park Street in Montclair, and plans to come to MSC during this week.

Rainbow Lobby fights for fairness

It has more than 150,000 supporters nationwide (3,300 in New Jersey alone) who are concerned with legislation that they believe weakens their democratic institutions, protect their fundamental rights, and include citizens participation in the election process, according to the lobby representatives.

The lobby helped draft the Fair Elections Bill, House of Representatives No. 1582, which is currently in possession of Al Swift, chairperson of the Washington State Subcommittee on elections, and is scheduled for hearing in the fall.

If this bill is passed by Congress, it would equalize the standards for independent, non-party candidates in terms of fair ballot access and media coverage. The Lobby hopes by letting new voices be heard and innovative ideas be expressed, voting will increase.

Lobby supporters and the U.S. Students Association are urging college students around the country to fight for alternatives to an ultra-conservative, right-wing monopoly by supporting H. R. 1582.

N.J. Rainbow Lobby director Bonny Gildin believes that college students play an integral part in the fate of our nation.

"The fight for the students of the late 70's and 80's is to stop the erosion of democracy which is threatening all those gains we made," she said.

Julie Lenner agrees, explaining that once a schedule is set up, representatives from the lobby plan to visit MSC one day a week to recruit students to go door-to-door and obtain support for H. R. 1582.

The lobby has also been a strong advocate for civil, women's, and gay rights, and democracy abroad. An American with Disabilities bill is currently waiting to be passed in the Senate, and the U.S. cut aid to Zaire because of lobby-organized protests during a recent visit by the President of Zaire against the treatment of that country's citizens.

The lobby is also working to influence companies to stop buying goods from South Africa, and is working on legislation for issues such as homelessness and environmental pollution, and drafting a federal AIDS Bill of Rights.

If you are also concerned with these issues or would like more information, contact the Montclair office at 744-5540.

Clean and Cool

Remember when teenagers thought it was cool to do drugs? The peer-pressure of yesteryear dictated that smoking pot was the thing to do.

Then cocaine came into vogue and people became a bit more hesitant about being cool. Now we have crack, and we all know how cool it is to be clean.

As many of us are aware, following the war on drugs, the potential costs of higher education are not decreasing.

In fact, paying for college today puts many in dire straits financially. With the costs of higher education and the continual price hikes, combined with the less than adequate state contribution to educational costs, financing an education is becoming very difficult.

However, as New Jersey residents, we have been given the chance to take advantage of state colleges. Through these partial state subsidized educational institutions, we have been given a quality education at a fairly reasonable cost which is the very essence of the state college system.

One can safely estimate that a large percentage of Montclair students work while attending school to help pay tuition costs. With this in mind, any tuition increase will have an effect on a large sector of Montclair College students who are at least partially funding their own educations.

Students who are both in school and working, may already have less opportunity to take part in campus activity, due to their heavy work schedule.

Therefore, as tuition increases, may their work schedules, leaving even less opportunity to be an active student.

Based on these thoughts one might concur that all efforts of the college should be focused on means of lessening the burden of students.

As many as we are aware, after seeing the bill for this semester, the costs of higher education is not decreasing.

However, after some actions this summer, I question if this is really possible. As many may already be aware, this past semester ended with a pending decision of which Facilities Master Plan would be accepted by the Board of Trustees. With roots in the passage of the Bond Act of 1988 in N.J, where Montclair will be receiving $13 million from the state and must match that by 50 percent or $6.5 million.

Part of this $6.5 million is already being financed through a tuition increase of $11.00 per year for the next four years. Our tuition, combined with the state allotment and "estimated projected" amounts of deferred maintenance, college cash reserves and private contributions (the last three of which no amount is guaranteed) the college estimates a total of about $24.5 million plus loans.

At the end of last semester two plans were in existence-one within budget-known as Plan B, the other nearly $8 million over budget-Plan C.

Based on the earlier thoughts of this article, which plan do you think should have been passed? The 2 plans were basically the same-both including an extension of the library, classroom renovations, a receiving building and a new large classroom/office building.

Also included in both plans is a 600 space parking garage (one that will be subsidized by you, through daily charges). The essential difference is that Plan B called for a new Residence Hall, while as Plan C called for the renovation of Russ and Chapin Hall back into residence halls.

Yes, a renovation is less expensive than a new residence hall, so Plan C would have a lesser effect on the resident students who will be subsidizing this improvement.

However, because classes will be lost in Russ and Chapin, a larger classroom building must be built on Lot 13-a cost for which Plan C over budget-a cost that has the potential to be subsidized by all students.

The visions of both plans will without doubt add to existing excellence of Montclair, but let's remain realistic about costs.

At the July 13 Board meeting, Plan C was recommended by the Facilities Master Committee Act passed by the Board of Trustees.

So as we presently stand, we will be taking this over budgeted plan to the Board of Higher Education for final approval. We currently stand to be at risk for once again seeing our tuition creep up the scale.

Although no definite increases have been announced, keep in mind-we will have an $8 million over budgeted plan in need of financing. If other methods do no avail-which they are not guaranteed-a tuition increase may be the only alternative.

As our motto “Carpe Diem” states yes, seize the day, but do not expand the vision of squeezing out it's most valuable resource—we, the students.

Is SOUP soluble?

To the Editor:

As I returned to M S C this fall for my junior year, I found the campus to be virtually unchanged since last spring.

The buildings are still standing, the cafeteria food remains mediocre, and parking is still horrendous.

The campus is virtually unchanged, but not unseathed.

The word “SOUP” has been spray painted on various parts of the campus. I’m sure you’ve noticed.

It is highly unlikely that someone has a strong affection for hot diluted beef and vegetables. More likely is it the acronym for ‘Student Organized Uninhibited Publication’.

On September 14 of this year, SOUP (the magazine, not the appetizer) held a meeting for new members and to assemble so that SOUP may continue to Having contributed to SOUP, I was interested in being involved again and to find out what the deal was with the graffiti.

The topic of the painting did come up during the meeting. It was not looked upon as an act of vandalism. Rather it was labeled, “a dumb thing to do.”

Leaving your car lights on all day or saying your dog ate your homework are dumb things to do.

Painting SOUP on a college campus is a conscious act which requires thought, especially when repeated several times over.

To ensure the integrity of the magazine, I suppose, it was suggested that the paint is very soluble and will eventually rinse away after a few rain storms.

To the Editor:

This letter is in reference to the editorial featured in the September 14th issue of the Montclarion entitled “National Sororities: No Hazing.”

While I applaud the efforts of the three sororities (Phi Sigma Delta and D-Phi-E) to stop hazing and focus on scholarship and service, I think it is important to mention that we have three other national sororities whose goals have always been service and scholarship.

They are Delta Sigma Theta, Alpha Kappa Alpha, and Zeta Phi Beta.

These organizations belong to the National Pan-Hellenic Council and are renowned for their community service.

To the Editor:

When I first saw a recent Zeta Beta Tau flyer that said “(Sorry...No Pussies, Wimps, Fags or ‘Spics’)” I thought I was exaggerating.

During the first week of school, I had problems finding a decent spot in Lot 13. Now, it seems one must be here by 7:30 to get a decent spot in the quarry.

Think I’m exaggerating? During the last semester, I would have to be there by 7:30 in the morning to get a decent spot in Lot 13. Now, it seems one must be here by 7:30 to get a decent spot in the quarry.

As a woman, I must voice my outrage at the use of the word “pussies.” It is not only chauvinistic but also derogatory toward every woman.

The other element of the flyer that is offensive is the use of the word “fags.”

The homosexual community has enough to deal with without being debase and insulted by a gang of homophobic boys.

The members of ZBT should think of what their flyers mean to people before they post them.

Words influence minds which control actions.

I am voicing my opinion because if someone does not then these attitudes will turn into violent actions.

ZBT offends

To the Editor:

The homosexual community has enough to deal with without being debase and insulted by a gang of homophobic boys.

If the words “nigger” or “spic” were used on this flyer, the administration and the majority of the student population would have demanded justice for such an outright discriminatory insult.

Due to the fact that this incident is directed toward women and homosexuals, nothing will be said or done because these two groups have historically been passive and non-threatening to the majority.

Elton John

By Jon Max Green Correspondent

Life styles of the flamboyant and famous wouldn’t be the same without the talented face of Elton John. However, the rocker/R&B man has recently hung up his bejeweled Donald Duck suit that he donned for a crowd of over 400,000 at a free concert in Central Park. He also auctioned off his 54-inch boots that he wore for The Who’s rock opera “Tommy.”

It seems that Elton John (or Reginald Kenneth Dwight, who he answers to only when his mother is calling) is taking a much harder, more serious look at the music he is putting out.

Recently Elton John has gone back to his roots and returned with old friend and lyricist Bernie Taupin on his new album “Sleeping With the Past.” In case you’re not familiar with their work as a team, the two have produced such hits as “Your Song,” “Daniel,” “Crocodile Rock,” “Rocket Man,” and “Don’t Let the Sun Go Down On Me.”

If you’re not familiar with their work, then you had no preteen life and you’ve traveled “Where no man has gone before.” The two are rhythm & blues smart guys. So if you are like me and happen to like your rhythm & blues with “Elton and Bernie,” then you’ll love this new album.

R&B is the format that was closely followed on the album. It was the band’s feeling that they had become too diverse musically and they wanted to get back to a sound that was all their own. As a result, Elton and Taupin were extremely picky as to what went on the album and what was cut. Even if the song was good, it was put aside if it wasn’t an R&B. The outcome is pure old-style-Elton.

So here’s a message to those who criticize his new music by saying, “I like old Elton.” Although this album cannot compete with the likes of “Captain Fantastic” or “The Brown Dirt Cowgirl,” which debuted at number one on the pop charts, “Sleeping With the Past” shows a definite swing back to Elton John’s future.

SMOKE AND THE AROMA THAT FOLLOWS THE PEOPLE WHO FOLLOW THE GREATFUL DEAD ACROSS THE COUNTRY FILLED THE BREN-legged BYRNE ARENA ON WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, SEP. 6 AND 7 DURING THE CONCERTS GIVEN BY THE JERRY GARCIA BAND.

JERRY WAS ALSO ACCOMPANIED BY ANOTHER DEAD MEMBER, BOB WEIR, WHO OPENED THE SHOW WITH AN ACOUTIC SET THAT INCLUDED BOB WASSERMANN'S GOD-GIVEN TALES ON HIS BANJO.

JERRY GARCIA STOOD ON STAGE LIKE A FATHER FIGURE REACHING OUT TO HIS CHILDREN WITH HIS LYR D AND GUITAR.

THE AUDIENCE WAS COMPOSED MOSTLY OF DEADHEADS COMING IN HOPE OF NOT ONLY HEARING JERRY'S SOLO MUSIC, BUT ALSO MUSIC FROM HIS OTHER MORE POPULAR COLLABORATORS.

MUCH OF THE AUDIENCE SEEMED A LITTLE DISAPPOINTED AS JERRY PLAYED ONLY A COUPLE OF DEAD SONGS AND DIDN'T COME BACK ON FOR AN ENCORE.

THOSE WHO CAME TO THE SHOW TO HEAR THE GREATFUL DEAD'S TUNES WERE SLIGHTLY DOWN, BUT THOSE WHO CAME JUST TO HEAR GREAT MUSIC LEFT WITH TOTAL SATISFACTION AS THIS MARKS THE LAST MAJOR CONCERT EVENT AT THE BYRNE ARENA FOR THE SUMMER SEASON.

The Bottom Line  by Matt Wintner

Even though the 49ers and the Lions did not play against each other this weekend, both Jerry Rice and Barry Sanders were victimized by a combination of the instant replay rule and poor officiating.

The first incident in question occurred in the second quarter of the Giant-Lions game when Barry Sanders fumbled on a 24-yard run. The referee decided to have the instant replay crew look at the play to see if a mistake had been made. In this case CBS could only offer two camera angles to the replay crew. Both angles did not clearly show Sanders hitting the ground before the ball came loose and the play was not reversed. It seems that replay officials seem to have an easier time making controversial calls thanks to the reverse angle.

The other incident involving instant replay occurred in the final minutes of the 49ers-Buccaneers matchup. With the 49ers trailing by three points late in the game, quarterback Joe Montana threw a 32 yard pass to his favorite target, Jerry Rice. It was caught in the back of the end zone and was ruled a touchdown. However, it was clear that Rice only had one foot in bounds. The replay crew reviewed the play and overruled the call.

These two situations make you wonder how much longer instant replay will stay in the NFL. Many people will tell you that instant replay should not be a part of football. Just because society as we know it today lives in a video age, it doesn't mean that football games have to join the club as well.

The main reason to get rid of instant replay is that since its induction, the quality of officiating has declined considerably. Officials seem to be more tentative and less decisive in making calls when a game is on the line. If you take away instant replay, officials will have to concentrate more on what's going on instead of letting camera angles decide a team's fate.

Five days ago, Notre Dame's width its first game of the season against Michigan State by the score of 2 to 1. And no other day the final outcome would have been my top story of the day. But not on this day.

This season was at the game was to get familiar with a camera I've never used before. After snapping a few pictures, I felt fairly comfortable with the Canon and decided to call it a day. As I was leaving, I looked up the first base line and noticed a familiar face taking in the game.

I couldn't place the face at first, and his shades didn't help my perception. After a few quick glances I decided to ask this familiar face if he was who I thought he was.

Are you Sean Burke? "Yeah", he said, and we shook hands. I asked him what he was doing at a Montclair State fall baseball game. He told me to watch his friend Joe DeMilo, very on pitching for the Blue Jays who had met Burke at Cedar Grove Inn (CGI's).

I didn't want to pull out my reporter's pad and start peppering Sean with questions. He seemed excited about this new year. "I'm a big baseball fan," Burke said, "Teague looks really good.

I commented to him that the speed of the Blue Jays and the goal scoring of Brett Hull was going to help the team offensively. Burke added that he felt positive about the upcoming year.

After a few minutes of talking about baseball, the subject switched to hockey. "I'm a Toronto Blue Jays fan, but I'm a big hockey fan too. I enjoy watching hockey. On the contrary, I enjoy watching him make kick and glove save's. But I wasn't in awe because Burke is really down to earth. Some stars need that to boost their egos, not Burke.

As the MSC game rolled into the later innings, it was time for me to leave for work. I told Sean Burke what a pleasure it was to hang with him. And he told me that he was the greatest sports person I've ever seen. Burke, not just because he's a Blue Jays and Devils fan, but because I could relate to him on the level of my fellow students and friends. I wasn't in awe of the talented goalie's presence, and it wasn't because I didn't recognize or respect his talent, but Burke had a lot of confidence. On the contrary, I enjoyed meeting Sean Burke, not just because I'm a sports writer and Devils fan, but because I could relate to him on the level of my fellow students and friends. I wasn't in awe of the talented goalie's presence, and it wasn't because I didn't recognize or respect his talent, but Burke had a lot of confidence. On the contrary, I enjoyed watching him make kick and glove save's. But I wasn't in awe because Burke was really down to earth. Some stars need that to boost their egos, not Burke.

As the MSC game rolled into the later innings, it was time for me to leave for work. I told Sean Burke what a pleasure it was to hang with him. And he told me that he was the greatest sports person I've ever seen. Burke, not just because he's a Blue Jays fan, but because I could relate to him on the level of my fellow students and friends. I wasn't in awe of the talented goalie's presence, and it wasn't because I didn't recognize or respect his talent, but Burke had a lot of confidence. On the contrary, I enjoyed watching him make kick and glove save's. But I wasn't in awe because Burke was really down to earth. Some stars need that to boost their egos, not Burke.
Hawks rip Warriors

Quarterback Ed Baffige passed for 200 yards and running back Dan Walsh rushed for 121 yards more as the Red Hawks defeated the Warriors of East Stroudsburg State University 20-19. A crowd of 1,000 rain soaked fans showed up at Eiler Martin Stadium in East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Baffige hit wide receiver Amod Fields with 21 yard pass left in the game to cap the 60 yard 10 play drive that began with Derrick McCoy's 32 yard kickoff return. Montclair State was helped by a personal foul on East Stroudsburg's all american linebacker Pat Brady that put the Red Hawks 13 yard line. Fields then caught an 11 yard pass that brought the ball to the Warriors 2. Amod then made a leaping catch of Ed Baffige's pass for the touchdown.

Montclair State was able to overcome a sloppy first half in which there were several snaps, including one that led to an East Stroudsburg touchdown. A poor kicking game also added to the Red Hawk woes as Mike Attardi missed a 20 yard field goal.

The second half of the game was highlighted by several great diving catches by Amod Fields (10 catches for 136 yards and 2 touchdowns) and the outstanding running of Dan Walsh. Not to be outdone, the defense had no problems getting holding ESU to 205 yards of total offense. Paul Cioffi created havoc in the Warriors backfield with 2 sacks of quarterback Austin Cook and 2 back sacks. Matt Clark recovered 2 ESU fumbles.

It was a typical East Stroudsburg-Montclair State game as 6 of the last 8 games have been decided by a touchdown or less, while 5 of these 6 have been by a field goal or less.

The full time schedule consists of a sixteen game slate in the New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC).

Before the start of play this year, the athletes had only three weeks to prepare. This is a concern of coach Latartara. The coach said that “the other teams are established varsity programs so it will not be easy.” But the soccer coach seemed confident that the team would “by the end of the season, win our share of games.”

The make-up of the team, according to Latartara “consists of primarily sophomores with a handful of juniors and freshmen.”

But the coach was happy with the whole team in general. “This is a first year effort and student support is welcomed,” said coach Latartara when asked about student support for the team. Coach Latartara concluded by saying that “The girls work hard and practice every night. They are very determined to do the best they can.”

MSC soccer past and present

The Montclair State soccer team thrives on success. Since the arrival of head coach Dave Masur in 1987, the team's record has continued to improve itself. In the 87 season they posted a record of 7 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties. Although short of winning the conference in the '88 season, their record improved considerably to 17-4-3. They went on to capture the Conference (MSC) soccer past and present

This year a women's soccer team has officially been added to MSC's varsity schedule. The team is led by first year coach Peter Latartara. Latartara takes over a women's soccer program that, until this year, was a grouping of athletes getting together after classes playing as a club. With no formal schedule or recognition, the program has changed.

I spoke with Coach Latartara last week and asked him about the origin of his newly formed program. "For a number of years students were clamoring for a team with a full time schedule." The full time schedule consists of six seniors who provide leadership on and off the field. They are defense-ners, there are six seniors who provide leadership on and off the field.
