Alcohol sales remain banned at Rat

By Mike Gluckman
Correspondent

The sale of alcoholic beverages at the Rat'skellar remains banned following an incident on March 3, 1989, which led to 11 arrests by New Jersey State Police and one arrest by Montclair State Campus Police after officers checked student ID's.

Lt. Michael Postaski of campus police said the State Police were conducting a surprise visit at the Ratskeller last spring. "The officers had to actually witness underage drinking," he said.

According to Mary Jane Linnehan, President of the Student Government Association, officials of the Alcohol and Beverage Control Commission (ABC) "found underage people drinking at the Ratskeller".

Dr. Edward C. Martin, Dean of Students, said it was a "college decision" to end alcohol nights at the Ratskeller following the ABC action. "The matter is still in the process of appeal with the ABC," said Martin. "There are two main factors why there are no alcohol sales presently going on at the Ratskellar. The first is that we still await a ruling on the complaint filed by the ABC and the second is, the incident itself has led many to question the place that alcohol has at an educational institution."

Linnehan said student input is "very important before any decision is made about the future of alcohol at the Ratskellar. I believe that with work and good programming, the Ratskellar can be successful without the sale of alcohol."

"We (the SGA) plan to have a student committee put together to discuss the issue as well as a survey that we plan to put out to the students, to see what they want and what their opinion is," Linnehan added.

Martin said that a non-alcoholic night could be an "absolute" success.

Some students on campus last night were not as optimistic as Martin. "The people on campus will now be drinking and driving. They can't drink in the dorms, and now they can't in the Rat, either," said Kevin Verbeke, a junior home economics major.

"I feel sorry for the people who live on campus. Now there's nothing to do here. This is really going to become a weekend suitcase college," said Tracy Dattoli, a senior home economics major, referring to the tendency of residents to return home every weekend.

Faculty prepares for possible strike

By Mike Gluckman
Correspondent

Some five hundred Montclair State College instructors may join a faculty strike of New Jersey's nine state colleges if halted contract negotiations with the state do not resume, union leaders said yesterday.

Dr. Catherine Becker, President of American Federation of Teachers local 1904, which represents about 540 faculty members, librarians, and professional staff people at MSC, said, "Though we still hope to reach a negotiated settlement, preparations are underway for us to strike."

Dr. Becker said, "Between 50 and 75 faculty members from Montclair State are planning to attend a demonstration on Friday, Sept. 22 at Edison State College, which is the site of the meeting of the Board of Higher Education" on that day.

The three major issues the union opposes are: low salaries, the establishment of a new "superprofessor" title, and the institution of a new multiple-pay range system.

Becker said that, "25 percent of new contracts for public school teachers in New Jersey have a higher top salary than the $54,688 that a top professor would receive. That top salary is for a full professor that has had between 10 and 15 years experience, has a Ph.D., and has had published works."

"The establishment of a new "superprofessor" title is opposed by the union because, as Dr. Becker explained, "the plan would bring in famous people to teach and would pay these people exorbitant amounts of money while adding nothing to the available salary pool, in effect taking away from the salary of those already here."

She added that a move like this would be "very demoralizing to the people who worked so hard to get where they are now."

The state also wants to institute a multiple pay range system for the faculty. This is opposed by the union because it "would lead to a situation where professors with certain credentials would make more money than one with the same credentials."

Dr. Joseph Moore, the former president of Local 1904 at MSC said, "If this demonstration does not get negotiations moving again, then we will strike," Dr. Moore added that he expects several faculty members to give their classes library assignments so that they can attend the demonstration in Trenton this Friday.

During the nearly twenty years in which the AFT has been bargaining collectively with the state, the union has struck twice. One strike lasted 8 days while the other lasted only 1 day.

Hispanic Caucus welcomes new faculty

By Laura Elhilow
Correspondent

The Hispanic Caucus executive board "proudly acknowledged" the arrival of seven new Latin American faculty members at MSC this Fall at their first meeting on Sept 14.

Caucus President Jose Magdaleno called the additional staffing "a big step in the right direction" and "a breakthrough" for the Hispanic community.

"I have been here since 1981. Some years there have been 11 Hispanic instructors and some years 13, but the number has never exceeded 12," Magdaleno said.

Some twenty members of the campus-wide organization also gathered to discuss programming including a reception for President Irvin Reid Sept. 26, to be co-sponsored with the African-American Caucus.

The college has continued an indefinite ban on the sale of alcohol at the Ratskellar, pictured above, following a police raid on the bar last semester.

"This is a good way to introduce him to our minority community," one member said. "Organizers expect a "low key, but exciting evening" with 100 to 110 people in present."

Also on the agenda was an annual Hispanic Recruitment Day, scheduled for November 14, when an estimated 200 to 300 New Jersey high school sophomores and juniors visiting the campus will be encouraged to attend Montclair State College or college in general.

Organized by the admissions department and 17 high schools, the event includes a tour of the campus, a sample of the cafeteria food and workshops run by MSC faculty and staff.

Jose Magdaleno, Hispanic Caucus president, said of the workshops "the young will benefit a great deal from seeing concerned people."

Reid pays surprise visit to SGA

By Mike Gluckman
Correspondent

Prior to the SGA president’s report, Montclair State College president Irvin Reid paid a surprise visit to the legislature on Wednesday night, Sept. 20.

"I think this will be an exciting year on campus," Reid said. "I will do anything I can to help. I know there will be some controversy and some heated debate. If there were none, we would not be in an academic environment."

"We will all be better off" for having coped with such problems, he said.

With respect to the fighting that occurred at Friday, Sept. 15 outside the Black Student Cooperative Union dance in which two campus police officers were injured, SGA president Mary Jane Linnihan said, "We must work to have better security at these events in the future."

In other business, Jonathan Rothman was nominated for homecoming king and Jennifer McCall for homecoming queen.

Regarding a proposed $5,000 appropriation to the Child Care Center at Stone Hall SGA, Linnehan said, "Five thousand dollars is a lot of money and it would only be for one year." She added that, "The SGA will work to try to organize alternative funding for the center."

Perhaps through corporations or through the faculty co-op foundation on campus."

In other business, the legislature elected Margaret Kordyla as president pro-tempore, which makes Kordyla the leader of the legislative body, liaison between the legislature and the executive board, and head of the constitutional review committee.

Upcoming events include a voter registration drive to be held by the SGA on Monday, Sept. 25, as well as a Montclair State Night at the Meadowlands Race Track on Friday.

Personal Growth Workshops

The Psychological Services Center will offer five workshops designed to help students manage academic stress and develop their potential. Each one helps the participants take a close look at one dimension of their lives and make whatever changes are necessary. They will meet one hour a week for six weeks. These workshops are in addition to the regular program of individual and group counseling and psychotherapy offered by the Psychological Services Center.

Adult Children of Alcoholics
Participants will have the opportunity to think about how their development was different from that of others, how they can break the cycle, and how they can more effectively deal with the alcoholics in their families. Time: Fridays at 12:00 noon, beginning Oct. 6, 1989.

Gay Students Discussion Group
This group is designed for gay students who want to meet other gay students on campus and discuss issues such as coming out, dating, family, homophobia, relationships. It will be conducted by Dr. Mark Koppel of the Psychology Department. Time: Wednesday at 3:00 p.m.

Overcoming Academic Stress
This workshop is for students who are especially uncomfortable while taking tests, giving presentations, or participating in classroom discussions and activities. Several methods will be discussed that can help to reduce this stress. Time: Thursdays at 1:00 p.m., beginning Oct. 5, 1989

Rap Group
(for women who have been victims of physical, verbal or sexual abuse)
This is an ongoing group for women who have been victims of any form of abuse. We will discuss its effects on our lives and help each other to grow happier and healthier. (Co-sponsored with the Women's Center) Time: Wednesdays at 11:00 a.m.

Women's Workshop: Transitions, Challenges and Choices
This workshop will focus on women's feelings in the exploration of transitions, choices and values in their lives. Time: Thursdays at 10:00 a.m., beginning Oct. 5, 1989.

Black student organization cites police insensitivity:

BSCU opposes police allegations

By Lilyanne McClean
Assignment Editor

Abdul-Hassan Sharif, Vice-President of the Black Student Cooperative Union, said in an interview last night that a campus disturbance Friday night was a direct result of the campus police's insensitivity towards black students.

Campus police reported that 100 people were involved in a disturbance that became riotous and involved five local police stations.

According to Sharif, the incident could have been avoided if campus police had stayed at the party as they do at other activities. "Two officers sat outside during the production of Agnes of God and chatted," he said.

"We asked them to come at 8:00 p.m.", said Hope Nixon, Secretary of BSCU. "They came and then they left. If they had stayed, they could have prevented people from getting upset and a crowd would have never formed."

Sgt. Newcombe could not be reached for additional comment.

Sharif added that the crowd was composed of people who were denied entrance to the party because they did not have escorts or MSC ID.

Sharif also said that this situation is just one of many times that the campus police have neglected to protect the BSCU students. "We were collecting money at the table and we needed protection," he said. "They always come after it is too late."

In addition, the police are always apt to refer to any black function as a riot, disturbance, or demonstration, according to Sharif. "They don't acknowledge the fact that the people involved, from BSCU, were having fun within school policies," he said.

"They always come after it is too late."

Fight erupts at BSCU event

By Lilyanne McClean
Assignment Editor

Campus police arrested a 22-year-old male last Friday for punching a campus police officer in the jaw during a disturbance in front of the Student Center that involved five local police departments, according to campus police.

Campus Police Sgt. Debra Newcombe said that a "riot" began after about 100 people were denied entrance to a party sponsored by the Black Student Cooperative Union.

Newcombe also said an unidentified man was kicked into unconsciousness. "We called for medical assistance, but he woke up and was carried off by one of his friends," she said.

The rioters resorted to kicking, punching, or hitting each other with motorcycle helmets according to Newcombe.

Three campus police officers first went to the Student Center at 12 p.m. when a BSCU representative called the station, saying that the party had reached its limit. The same three officers later sustained injuries as they attempted to clear the crowd from in front of the Student Center.

Two of the officers were treated at Mountainside Hospital and the third officer was treated at the MSC Health Center according to Newcombe.

The police departments called to assist included Little Falls, Passaic County Sheriff's Department, the Newark P.D. also called to offer assistance, according to Newcombe.

Other campus police matters included a threat made by two Clove Road Apartment residents against a unit manager. Newcombe said the residents threatened to "get even" with the unit manager if she wrote them up for an illegal party on Sept. 14.

In Lot 23 on Sept. 15, seven cars were stripped of their antennas and windshield wipers and bottles were thrown through the windshields.

A female resident of Webster Hall reported that she was being harassed by her boyfriend on Sept. 17. "This happens all the time," Newcombe said. "We usually just call the guy and try and calm him down."

Jello wrestling at MSC?

Team Challenge '90 kicks off

By Jolleen Newby
Correspondent

"Team Challenge '90," a new kind of sports program based on student participation, will begin its first season with a jello wrestling contest on Thursday, Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. in Panzer Gym. A feature match will also be held with wrestling coach Steve "The Strapper" Streliner.

Other contests, such as soccer, banner day, volleyball, a basketball triathlon, inner tube water polo, ultimate frisbee, and the final May event, track and field day, will follow monthly throughout the school year. All MSC students are invited to participate.

Holly Gera and Jo Santorine of Campus Recreation and Dave Masur of the Athletic Dept. are the creators of the new program. The Student Intramural Leisure Council is also donating its services.

"Team Challenge is designed to promote recreational sports and athletics as well as encouraging student involvement in them," Santorine said. Gera added that there are tentative plans for "events that have not been done by SILC or any other group on campus."

The organizers aim to involve residence halls, greek organizations, SGA organizations as well as independent students. Ideally, ten events will be run, said Gera.

Registered participants will form teams of twelve—six men and six women—plus two men and two women alternates.

Each player will receive a "Challenge '90" tee-shirt and after jello wrestling, the winning teams for each event will earn cumulative points. A large silver cup goes to the final winner in May for display in the Student Center.

Jello Wrestling points will be scored on audience excitement and response and performance originality, among other categories.

Interested students are encouraged to volunteer for scorekeeping and officiating, events management, and other posts. Others may simply be spectators and root for their friends.

Anyone interested should contact the campus recreation department and register as soon as possible.

Team Challenge '90 will be co-sponsored by Domino's Pizza (free pizza at selected events), Campus Recreation and the Athletic Dept.

The MSC Center for Continuing Education will co-sponsor a series of lectures with the Daughters of Israel Geriatric Center, West Orange, on topics concerning health workers.

All of the seminars are scheduled on Wednesdays, from 9:30 am until 4 pm, starting with the Sept. 27 discussion of "New Issues in Health Care Insurance."

Montclair State College will offer six graphic arts courses this fall, beginning Monday, Sept. 25, all co-sponsored by the Association for the Graphic Arts (AGA) and the college's Center for Continuing Education.

Craftspersons and others interested in participating in a flea market in Verona Sunday, Sept. 24, are being sought by the Montclair State College chapter of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity which is planning the event to benefit the young family of an alumna.

While proceeds from sales at individual tables will remain with the vendors, proceeds from the $15 table rentals will be contributed to the Flannery fund.

Alpha Phi Omega (APO) is a national co-ed service fraternity based on the principles of leadership, friendship and service with chapters on college campuses across the country. The fraternity has been active on the MSC campus since 1962.

Persons interested in participating as vendors should call Kim McGee at (201) 857-1271.

Residents on the seventh floor of Bohn Hall are shown in their "room"—the hallway lounge. Watch for information next week focusing on overcrowding in the dorms at MSC.

Corrections

In last week's issue of The Montclarion, it was reported that the Black Student Cooperative Union was attempting to change their name to Organization of Students for African-American Unity.

The name they actually seek is Organization for African Unity.

In the same edition, SGA treasurer Tim Nee was quoted as saying Plan B of Master Planning Committee proposals was "grossly over budget." Nee was actually referring to Plan C.

The Montclarion regrets any confusion that these errors may have caused.

Pre-med students study at Harvard

By Valerie Kaitrin
Features Editor

Terri Ronna and Michele Costanzo spent their summer in Boston, asking about condoms.

“We have AIDS prevention. Serious research, actually, for Harvard Medical School.”

For Terri, now 24, it all began back in 1985 when a car accident made her reconsider her career goal as a professional dancer.

She decided to study medicine, aiming to become an orthopedic surgeon specializing in sports medicine. “I figured if I can’t do it, I may as well be with the people,” she says.

She transferred from the Alvin Ailey American Dance Center in New York City to Montclair State University, where she met Michele in a chemistry class.

Michele, 22, started as a marketing major at Berkeley before coming to MSC. “I was really involved in the fashion industry, especially the advertising,” she says. “I had to take a lab course in chemistry for a requirement, and from there it just snowballed.”

Terri worked at the Alvin Ailey American Dance Center in New York City to Montclair State College, where she met Michele in a chemistry class.

Michele worked with a medical historian and a medical attorney on a follow-up study of a pre-marital screening case in Illinois.

After the surveys, the two split up into areas of personal interest. Terri worked with Cleary’s assistant on non-operative treatments of Chondromalacia, a chronic syndrome which softens cartilage in the knees of athletes.

Michele plans to continue developing a national advisory program for undergraduate pre-med students, a project she started over the summer.

“We hope it will act as a ‘reach-out’ program to bridge the gap between the undergraduate program and the medical profession. I think it’s really going to take off,” she says.

With a prestigious research program behind them, anything can happen. As Terri says, “Have the courage to set your sights high, and the wisdom to see that everything is possible when you believe.”

Rainbow Lobby fights for fairness

By Alice Singer
Correspondent

You are not alone if you feel that elected leaders are not representing and protecting your rights, if or if the government is not dealing with issues that need to be addressed.

For these reasons, the Rainbow Lobby began.

Our country ranks 75th in voter participation among democratic nations. According to the Rainbow Lobby, many Americans, have not had a chance to go to the polls; they feel that there is little chance that their voices will be heard and effect a change.

The lobby, started in 1984 and originally composed of activists and attorneys from the Civil Rights movement, has made fair elections and democratic rights its chief crusade.

The lobby has recently opened a fundraising headquarters at 8 Park Street in Montclair, and plans to come to MSC during this fall.

Clean and Cool

Remember when teenagers thought it was cool to do drugs? The peer-pressure of yesteryear dictated that smoking pot was the thing to do.

Then cocaine came into vogue and people became a bit more hesitant about being cool. Now we have crack, and we all know that crack isn't cool. Crack is a one way ride into hell and everyone knows it. The sad part is that some people can't get off.

Taking drugs is like tying a noose around your own neck and hanging yourself. If you give into drug use, you'll just dangle from your own noose like a useless dummy.

The war on drugs is not only at the political level. It has filtered down and has become every citizen's personal problem. Some people try to ignore it, but the problem has spread too far and no one can hide from it.

Living so close to New York City, we have a first hand view of the horror in the streets. There are drug zombies everywhere. It's no longer funny to watch your friends act silly when they're high. It's kind of embarrassing. The people who once laughed at the antics are now shaking their heads in disgust.

Tremendous and it is no longer socially acceptable among peers - less tolerant of those who do. The peer-pressure has eased up.

As many of us are aware, after seeing the bill for this semester, the cost of higher education is not decreasing.

In fact, for college planning, this past semester ended with a pending decision of which Facilities Master Plan would be accepted by the Board of Trustees. With roots in the passage of the Bond Act of 1988 in NJ, where Montclair will be receiving $13 million from the state and must match that by 50 percent or $6.5 million.

Part of this $6.5 million is already being financed through a tuition increase of $11.00 per year for the next four years.

One can safely estimate that a large percentage of Montclair students work while attending school to help pay tuition costs. With this in mind, any tuition increase will have an effect on a large sector of Montclair College students who are at least partially funding their own educations.

Students who are both in school and working, may already have less opportunity to take part in campus activity, due to their heavy work schedule. Therefore, as tuition increases, may their work schedules, leaving even less opportunity to be an active student.

Based on these thoughts one might concur that all efforts of the college should be focused on means of lessening the burden of students.

As many may already be aware, this past semester ended with a pending decision of which Facilities Master Plan would be accepted by the Board of Trustees. With roots in the passage of the Bond Act of 1988 in NJ, where Montclair will be receiving $13 million from the state and must match that by 50 percent or $6.5 million.

Part of this $6.5 million is already being financed through a tuition increase of $11.00 per year for the next four years. Our tuition, combined with the state allotment and "estimated projected" amounts of deferred maintenance, college cash reserves and private contributions (the last three of which no amount is guaranteed) the college estimates a total of $24.5 million plus loans.

At the end of last semester two plans were in existence-one within budget-known as Plan B, the other nearly $8 million over budget-Plan C.

Based on the earlier thoughts of this article, which plan do you think should have been passed? The 2 plans were basically the same-both including an extension of the library, classroom renovations, a receiving building and a new large classroom/office building.

Also included in both plans is a 600 space parking garage (one that will be subsidized by you, through daily charges). The essential difference is that Plan B called for a new Residence Hall, where as Plan C called for the renovation of Russ and Chapin Hall back into residence halls.
Is SOUP soluble?

To the Editor:

As I returned to M S C this fall for my junior year, I found the campus to be virtually unchanged since last spring. The buildings are still standing, the cafeteria food remains mediocre, and parking is still horrendous.

The campus is virtually unchanged, but not unscathed. The word "SOUP" has been spray painted on various parts of the campus. I'm sure you've noticed.

It is highly unlikely that someone has a strong affection for hot diluted beef and vegetables. More likely is the acronym for 'Student Organized Uninhibited Publication'.

On September 14 of this year, SOUP (the magazine, not the appetizer) held a meeting for new members and to assemble so that SOUP may continue to

To the best of my knowledge, the paint remains the same. Ironically, none of the people at the SOUP meeting attended because they had seen SOUP painted on the library steps.

One can also safely assert that none of SOUP's readers will treasure their copy because they had seen SOUP painted near Blanton Hall.

Who is responsible for the painting and why it was done are not important. It is important that the guilty person or persons clean up their mess because kids, reece is over! Thanks ahead of time.

No Hazing

To the Editor:

This letter is in reference to the editorial featured in the September 14th issue of the Montclarion entitled "National Sororities: No Hazing."

While I applaud the efforts of the three sororities (Phi Sig, SDT, and D-Phi-E) to stop hazing and focus on scholarship and service, I think it is important to mention that we have three other national sororities whose goals have always been service and scholarship.

They are Delta Sigma Theta, Alpha Kappa Alpha, and Zeta Phi Beta. These organizations belong to the National Pan-Hellenic Council and are renowned for their community service.

Their major thrust revolves around academic excellence, public service and cultural enrichment - emphasizing the social side of sorority life.

To that end, the requirements for membership in these prestigious organizations include a minimum G.P.A. of 2.5, leadership skills, and community involvement.

I believe the time has come for all Greek organizations to return to the original philosophies on which they were founded (which I'm sure don't include hazing) and for us to salute those who have never gone astray.

ZBT offends

To the Editor:

When I first saw a recent Zeta Beta Tau flyer that said "(Sorry...No Pussies, Wimps, Fags or Queers)" I tried to accept it as just another example of the existing prejudices or our culture.

However, this incident is not just prejudicial; it is both harmful and potentially dangerous.

As a woman, I must voice my outrage at the use of the word "pussies." It is not only chauvinistic but also derogatory toward every woman.

The other element of the flyer that is offensive is the use of the word "fags."

To that end, the requirement would have demanded justice for such an outright discriminatory insult.

Due to the fact that this incident is directed toward women and homosexuals, nothing will be said or done because these two groups have historically been passive and non-threatening to the majority.

I am voicing my opinion because if someone does not then these attitudes will turn into violent actions.

The members of ZBT should think of what their flyers mean to people before they post them. Words influence minds which control actions.

Intelligent words create intelligent and compassionate minds which then motivate intelligent, compassionate and humanitarian actions.

Elton John

By Jon Max Green

Elton John has gone back to his roots and returned with old friend and lyricist Bernie Taupin on his new album "Sleeping With the Past." In case you’re not familiar with their work as a team, the two have produced such hits as “Your Song,” “Daniel,” Crocodile Rock,” “Rocket Man,” and “Don’t Let the Sun Go Down on Me.”

If you’re not familiar with their work, then you had no pre-teen life and you’ve traveled “Where no man has gone before.” The two are rhythm & blues smart guys. So if you are like me and happen to like your rhythm & blues punch “Elton and Bernie,” then you’ll love this new album.

R&B is the format that was closely followed on the album. It was the band’s feeling that they had become too diverse musically and they wanted to get back to a sound that was all their own. As a result, Elton and Taupin were extremely picky as to what went on the album and what was cut. Even if the song was good, it was put aside if it wasn’t an R&B. The outcome is pure old-style-Elton.

So here’s a message to those who criticize his new music by saying, “I like old Elton.” Although this album cannot compete with the likes of “Captain Fantastic” or the “Brown Dirt Cowboy,” which debuted at number one on the pop charts, “Sleeping With the Past” shows a definite swing back to Elton John’s future.

In July 1964, 4 mods from Great Britain began a musical group known then as “The High Numbers.” They would soon rename themselves “The Who,” a name under which they would become famous for their guitar-smashing, microphone-twirling, and hotel room trashin’ antics...but more importantly, for their work as a team, the two are rhythm & blues smart guys. So if you are like me and happen to like your rhythm & blues punch “Elton and Bernie,” then you’ll love this new album.

The Dead Start A New Life

By Rob Campos
Correspondent

Smoke and the aroma that follows the people who follow the Grateful Dead across the country filled the Brenden Byrne Arena on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 6 and 7 during the concerts given by the Jersey Garcia Band.

Jerry Garcia, lead guitarist for the Grateful Dead, performed much of the original solo work, a couple of Dead songs, and some cover tunes with his band. This band included, for the night, Clarence Clemmens, whose saxophone complimented Jerry's guitar perfectly.

Jerry was also accompanied by another Dead member, Bob Weir, who opened the show with an acoustic set that included Bob Wessman's God's given talk on ban. Jerry Garcia stood on stage like a father figure reaching out to his children with his lyrics and guitar.

The audience was composed mostly of Deadheads coming in hopes of not only hearing Jerry's solo music, but also music from his other more popular collaborators.

Much of the audience seemed a little disappointed as Jerry played only a couple of Dead songs and didn't come back on for an encore.

Those who came to the show to hear the Grateful Dead's tunes were slightly down, but those who came just to hear great music left with total fulfillment as this marks the last major concert event at the Byrne Arena for the summer season.

Tom Jones - a must see

By Candy Cordes
Correspondent

Tom Jones, performed at Drew University, is a must-see for adventure-loving theatre goers! Yes, it is performed by the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, but no, it isn't Shakespeare.

John Morrison's adaptation somehow chomped through 600 pages of the original script by Henry Fielding, and his accomplishment was a production under three hours packed with everything imaginable. Tom Jones is a comedy, so it ends on an upbeat note and leaves the audience refreshed after having laughed for a couple of hours.

On a second note, Sheridan Cris, who appeared in MSC's Equus last semester as a guest artist in the role of Dr. Martin Dysart, appears in Tom Jones in the riotous role of the irrational Irish gentleman. So if an entertaining and affordable evening at the theatre is due, this lavishly costumed, hysterical production is worth the trip.

Hawks rip Warriors

By Mike Cohen

Quarterback Ed Baffige passed for 200 yards and running back Dan Walsh rushed for 121 yards more as the Red Hawks defeated the Warriors of East Stroudsburg State University 20-19. A crowd of 1,000 rain soaked fans showed up at Eiler Martin Stadium in East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Baffige hit wide receiver Amod Fields with 21 yard pass left in the game to cap the 60 yard 10 play drive that began with Derek McCoy's 32 yard kickoff return. Montclair State was helped by a personal foul on East Stroudsburg's all american linebacker Pat Brady that put the Red Hawks on the Warriors 13 yard line. Fields then caught an 11 yard pass that brought the ball to the Warriors 2. Amod then made a leaping catch of Ed Baffige's pass for the touchdown.

Women's soccer

By Michael Walmley

This year a women's soccer team has officially been added to MSC's varsity schedule. The team is led by first year coach Peter Latartara.

Lataratta takes over a women's soccer program that, until this year, was a group of athletes getting together after classes playing as a club. With no formal schedule or recognition, however, the program has changed.

I spoke with Coach Lataratta last week and asked him about the sign of his newly formed program. "For a number of years students were clamoring for a team with a full time schedule. The full time schedule consists of a sixteen game slate in the New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC). Before the start of play this year, the athletes have had only three weeks to prepare. This is a concern of coach Lataratta. The coach said that "the other teams are established varsity programs so it will not be easy." But the soccer coach seemed confident that the team would "by the end of the season, win our share of games."

The make-up of the team, according to Lataratta "consists of primarily sophomores with a handful of juniors and freshmen."

But the coach was happy with the whole team in general. "This is a first year effort and student support is welcomed," said coach Lataratta when asked about student support for the team. Coach Lataratta concluded by saying that "the girls work hard and practice every night. They are very determined to do the best they can."

MSC soccer past and present

By Jon R. Capristo

The Montclair State soccer team thrives on success. Since the arrival of head coach Dave Masur, in 1987, the team's record has continued to improve itself. In the 87 season they posted a record of 7 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties.

Taking a short of winning the conference in the '88 season, their record improved considerably to 17-4-3. They went on to capture the ECAC regional championship by defeating Drew University 1-0 in the semi-finals. In the finals, they defeated NJIT 2-0, making them first time winners of the ECAC regional championship.

Coach Masur is especially happy with last year's success. However, he made his point clear by saying "that was last season and now it's this season, so it's time for our team to refocus our attention to what we have to do each day."

Despite losing three games at the start of this season, Montclair decided to re-group and has bounced back, winning two games in a row.

With the exception of the six returning seniors, this team has a young roster. Some new corners that can really provide a positive impact on the season's outcome are freshman defensemen, Hugo Munoz, who Masur says "came in out of shape but has really played well...we have a lot of confidence in him." Another player to look out for is Vinnie Palmiero, who Mazor says was "hampered with injuries earlier but is doing exceptionally well now."

William Bustamante, a freshman from St. Benedict's High School, who started at midfield, is another newcomer.

"There are some other new players who are just getting the feel of things...it's hard to break into a team that's returning eight starters," said Masur.

Of the eight returning starters, there are six seniors who provide leadership on and off the field. They are defensemen Bill Fitzpatrick, forward Adam McNally; midfielder Charlie Smith; defensemen Tom Conroy, and the Co-Captains, defensemen Rob Chesney and defensemen Roger Rubenetti.

Masur is grateful for the quality of his players along with their inner desire to want to play competitive soccer. He thanks the athletic department for their support and mentions that "it is because of the athletic department that the season's outcome are freshman defensemen, Hugo Munoz, who Masur says "came in out of shape but has really played well...we have a lot of confidence in him." Another player to look out for is Vinnie Palmiero, who Mazor says was "hampered with injuries earlier but is doing exceptionally well now."
