Twelve arrested at Clove Road

By R.A. Campos

Twelve people under the legal drinking age were arrested and charged with the possession of alcoholic beverages at the Clove Road apartments between 12 and 1:30 late Thursday night, Sept. 6. All but two were identified as MSC students.

One student became aggressive when approached by Campus Police and was also charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

The Campus Police arrived at Clove Rd. after receiving complaints of noise and the consumption of alcoholic beverages in violation of Residence Life policy. The complaint was made by a Clove Rd. Unit Manager at about 10:30 pm.

When Campus Police arrived at Clove Rd. they reported about 150-200 people gathered outside the apartments. While Campus Police, in cooperation with Little Falls Police, was clearing the area the individual arrests were made.

The Little Falls Police Department does not have jurisdiction over the Clove Rd. apartments unless they are contacted by Campus Police. It is Campus Police policy to do so if they believe it is necessary.

Edward Martin, Dean of Students, said that the administration is looking for a mechanism to insure the safety of the residents at Clove Rd. which might include the banning of alcoholic beverages.

New regulations have been adapted for the Clove Rd. apartments because of the consumption of alcoholic beverages by under-age drinkers according to Margaree Coleman-Carter, Director of Residence Life.

The penalty for consuming alcoholic beverages under-age is a minimum $100 fine. Maximum fine is $1000 and/or up to six months in prison. If the violation occurs in a motor vehicle, the court may suspend the individual's driver's license for up to 30 days.

The penalty for drinking in public is a fine up to $500 for a first offense.

The court date for the accused is Sept. 26.

See 'Clove Policies' on p.3 for further coverage of the proposed alcohol policy at MSC.

State cuts MSC Funds

By Steve Sukala
Assignments Editor

There will be an eight percent cut in funding to New Jersey state colleges effective for their 1991-92 budgets, despite the objections of administrators who say that the state is taking back too much.

"This will be devastating," said Thomas Auch, Vice President of Administration and Finance, when asked of the proposed cuts.

MSC can expect approximately $32 million from the state in appropriations for the 1992 fiscal year, as compared to $34 million in this year's budget. The administration had originally hoped for a $1.5 million increase in appropriations for MSC, in addition to a targeted $2.7 million restoration from the state to cover last year's cut.

All told, MSC will receive $5 million less than was expected for next year's budget.

New regulations for Clove Road residents

By R.A. Campos
News Editor

The administration is considering the adoption of a new policy that will ban the consumption of alcoholic beverages at the Clove Road apartments. If the policy is adopted it will go into effect for the 1991 Fall semester making MSC a completely dry campus and the only New Jersey state college that prohibits alcohol.

Dr. Jean Armstrong, V.P. of Student Affairs, said that due to a number of events involving parties with alcohol, there was a recommendation to ban alcohol from Clove Rd. These problems include difficulties with crowd control and with the accessibility of fire trucks to the apartments.

She also said that much of the problem is created by invited visitors from either the dorms or off-campus.

"According to some definitions, we do have an alcohol problem on campus," said Edward Martin, Dean of Students, who is working to develop alternative activities on campus to show students that they do not need to drink to have a good time.

Martin also said, "I consider anything to improve the health and welfare of our students."

Margaret Coleman-Carter, Director of Residence Life, said that the mass drinking and under-age drinking cannot be controlled. Although administration will have the final decision, Dr. Irvin Reid, President of MSC, said that the students will have a part in the deliberation as whether or not to enact the policy.

"Provisions should be made for students of legal drinking age so students on this campus will be deterred from drinking and driving," said Tony Susco, President of the SGA. According to VP Armstrong, there are no plans to open the bar or secure a place on campus were students that are of the legal age may drink.

There have also been restrictions made on the present alcohol situation at Clove Rd.
1. Parties may only be held on Friday and Saturday nights with only 1 party held in each complex. (Previously 2 were allowed per complex)
2. Parties must be registered by residents.
3. There is a maximum of 15 people allowed per party. (Previously 30 was allowed)
4. Parties may last no later than 1am. (Previously they could go on until 2:30am)
5. Additional gates were installed and new traffic patterns developed. The details of which shall be released later.
6. "There's no reason to move from the dorms if they abolish the alcohol policy," said Billy Gallagher, a business major.

Dr. Barry Martin also said, "I consider anything to improve the health and welfare of our students."

d. Nothing in this act shall apply to possession of consumption of alcoholic beverages by any such person while actually engaged in the performance of employment pursuant to an employment permit issued by the Director of the Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control, or a bona fide hotel or restaurant, in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 33:1-26.

Campus Police Report

Woman awakens to stranger in room

By R.A. Campos
News Editor

Campus Police received a call from a female resident of Bohn Hall claiming she woke up and found a white male in her room at 7:45am on Sept. 6. She asked him what he was doing there and he replied that he didn't realize that it was a private room and left.

She gave a description of the man as being average height, not very muscular, about 250 lbs. wearing glasses and an aqua-green button-down shirt.

During the course of the investigation, another female resident approached campus police saying she saw a suspicious male the same morning with similar characteristics.

There are no suspects, but if anyone has any information they are to contact the campus police at 893-5222.

Twenty-one people in total were arrested on campus this past week for illegal possession of alcohol. All who were arrested were under the legal drinking age. Twelve people were arrested at Clove Road (see story on pg. 1 for details).

On Sept. 4, a radar speed trap was set up by campus police along Carlisle Rd. At 1:30am the campus police pulled over a vehicle and during the course of investigation found open bottles of alcohol. Seven of the eight passengers, who are all students at MSC, were charged with the consumption of alcohol in a moving vehicle and drinking under age. The eighth passenger, being a minor, was only charged with possession.

On Sept. 9, campus police found a student walking across Clove Rd. bridge with alcoholic beverages. He was arrested and charged with possession of alcohol under the legal drinking age.

Two cars were stolen from campus.

A 1987 Mitsubishi Stanion was stolen from lot 24 on Sept. 10 between 11:45pm and 1am. The owner was not a resident. The vehicle was found early Thursday morning missing the radar detector, stereo, cellular phone and numerous other items.

A 1986 Pontiac Trans Am owned by a student was stolen from lot 22 on Sept. 11 between 7:30 and 9:30am.

Two cars were broken into.

A 1974 Chevy Camaro owned by a student was broken into in lot 23 on Sept. 6 between 11am and 2pm. Apparently, an attempt was made to steal it as the steering column was broken.

A 1988 Chevy Cavalier was broken into and the radio stolen in lot 29 on Sept. 9 at about 7:50am.

The windshield of a 1981 Toyota Corolla in lot 30 was broken on Sept. 4 between 5:30pm and 1am.

There were three bomb threats to resident dorms on Sept. 9.

Bohn Hall and Webster Hall received threats between 3am and 4am. Residents were evacuated for 1 hour.

Bohn Hall also received a threat at about 4am. No evacuation was made.

It is believed that all three calls were made by the same person from a campus phone in Blanton Hall.

Property was reported stolen from a room in Blanton Hall on Sept. 7 between 11pm and 3:30am. Among items reported stolen was a stereo, a refrigerator, and a desk lamp. There were no signs of a forced entry.

There were three separate reports of books stolen in front of the book store.

On Sept. 5 between 10:40am and 11am two text books were stolen.

On Sept. 10 a book bag was stolen at about 2:30pm and two books were stolen out of a book bag at about the same time.

Three female students pulled into lot 4, in front of Campus Police Headquarters, on Sept. 8 at 11:50pm claiming they were being followed.

The male following them pulled into the lot after them and, when questioned by the police, said that the girls had called him an "asshole" and he was trying to catch up to them just to tell them he was not an "asshole." No charges were pressed.

New MSC Deferment fund

By Steve Sukala
Assignments Editor

A fund was set up over the summer by the administration to help students showing financial need to temporarily defray the cost of tuition. The difference between last year's tuition and this fall's tuition will be deferred until Dec. 15. The regular amount is still due in August.

Thomas Auch, Vice President of Administration and Finance, said "only three or four people" had taken advantage of the program this fall, and there was no real effort to publicize the fund.

The Board of Trustees had approved a "revolving fund" last May to help students in financial need, but due to problems with the fund's legality, it was changed into a deferment program.

"Up to $350,000 is available in the deferment fund," according to Auch, but he says there is little chance that amount will be reached. Up to $250 per student can be deferred each semester, but most students would average in the range of $100.

As the program now stands, it will end at the close of the school year. The possibility of continuing the program next year in the face of even sharper budget cuts than last year is uncertain, "We won't know until March or April," said Auch.

WMSC back on the air

By Bill Hendrixson
Correspondent

The WMSC broadcast tower, located by Clove Rd., was struck by lightning, cutting the station’s signal for over eight weeks. On Labor Day, just after repairs were made, the antenna was again disabled by another bolt of lightning keeping WMSC off the air until last Monday.

The return of WMSC should not be the only thing noticed by its listeners; the quality of the signal itself is expected to be markedly improved. The 800-foot cable that relays the signal from the amplifier to the antenna, which was replaced over the summer, was not only worn and frayed but of improper diameter.

In 1984, the amplifier and antenna were replaced on the tower. They required ½ inch cable, but the old ¾ inch cable was left in. The faulty cable was the primary factor blamed for the station’s poor reception in what would otherwise have been well within their listening area.

The signal has been known to be quite weak in towns as close as Clifton. WMSC’s 10-watt signal should be easily received in more distant areas such as Newark and New York City.

Brian O’Boyle, publicity director of the station, seemed surprised that it took as long as it did for repairs to be made since the initial damage last June. “We thought it was only going to take a few weeks,” O’Boyle said. Just after returning to the air, the antenna was once again struck by lightning the very same day that it had been repaired. On the morning of Tuesday, September 11, the station returned to the air after a nine-week hiatus.

These unexpected repairs and renovations weighed heavily upon WMSC’s budget, and funding had to be acquired by special appropriation from the SGA. The transistors replaced on Monday cost $155. The special rigid cable needed to feed up the 780 foot tower cost $3700. After the damage on June 25th, the cable, which was imported from Texas, was also difficult to install due to its stiffness.

SGA News

Montclair State College cannot currently achieve university status due to state regulations, according to President Irvin Reid. He assured the SGA that the change is definitely in MSC’s future and is optimistic that “MSU” will become a reality soon.

Reid also said that MSC was listed 12th in Money Magazine’s top 100 best buys in the country for higher education. This is the first year MSC has broken the top 100. Reid doubted there has ever been such a dramatic jump in previous years.

“By 1992, there may be as much as a $5 per credit increase in tuition,” said Reid. “There could be more financial distress for all areas of MSC.”

“There has been a cut of 8% in state funding, which took us all by surprise,” said Reid.

The administration is looking into many different ways to get more funds, including corporate grants and private donations. “MSC is going from a state-supported school to a state-assisted school,” said Reid.

Anthony Auch, Vice President of Administration and Finance for MSC agreed, and anticipates further cuts in state funding. “There is a possibility of delay in the hiring of new faculty, and the faculty pay raises may also be in jeopardy. We are saving whatever we can, and we are looking into other sources of revenue,” said Auch.

Mr. Auch assured the SGA that tuition increases are a last resort.

Treasurer hunt

By Thomas C. Sullivan
Correspondent

The position of SGA Treasurer is still open because David Blacker, who was elected treasurer in May, did not meet the required number of credits to hold the position.

Blacker fell two credits short of the mandatory 30 as stipulated by the SGA Constitution.

The SGA has so far been administered with minimal difficulty because Abraham Pelc has been serving as acting treasurer since June, according to SGA President Tony Susco.

Due to the fact that Pelc is unable to continue carrying out the responsibility of treasurer since June, according to SGA President Tony Susco.

It is now open for anyone to begin running for the position of Treasurer.

The responsibilities of Treasurer include:

A. The disbursal of all monies appropriated by the Legislature.

B. Assisting the President and being assisted by the Financial Advisor in preparing the budget and compiling the account of expenditures for the Legislature.

C. Reviewing and formulating financial policies subject to the approval of the Legislature.

D. Recommending to the President the appointment of such Assistant Treasurers as are necessary to execute the Office of the Treasurer.

E. Being a member of the President’s cabinet.

Many other schools offer money or credit for SGA posts. MSC, however, makes no such provisions.

Susco said that he would not like to see this changed because the reward should be one of personal satisfaction.

The office of treasurer is open to any MSC student who has at least 30 credits and a 2.5 GPA. Any qualified student who is interested in running for the position can get more information from Tony Susco at the SGA office in the Student Center, room 103, or by calling 893-4202.

Blanton Bags Banned

By Anthony DiPasquale
Editorial Page Editor

Students entering Blanton cafeteria are required to leave their book bags on a table located near the exit. This decision by Residence Life and Food Services came in response to the increasing costs of replacing china due to student theft, according to Thomas Bove, Director of the Board of Operations for Food Services.

“Our main objective is to minimize our costs and the costs to the students. We spend thousands of dollars on china a semester and students bring in their book bags and steal it,” said Bove.

Another objective for restricting book bag accessibility is to restrict students from taking food out of the cafeteria to eat later.

“I’m still responsible for any food that leaves the cafeteria, so if a student makes a sandwich to eat later and doesn’t refrigerate it, then gets sick the school is liable.”

For now, many students express concerns about leaving their valuable books exposed to theft because when the Campus Book store buyback begins, a receipt isn’t necessary to sell back a book.

“We haven’t had anyone report a book bag stolen yet, and the table is supervised. The way it is set up now is just temporary. We hope to have a cubby hole that will hold 40 to 50 bags at a time,” said Bove.

Questions asked by the SGA are:

1) Should alcohol be permitted on the campus of MSC?
2) Should alcohol be permitted in the Clove Road apartments?
3) Should MSC establish a location where students of the legal drinking age may be permitted to consume alcohol?

The SGA urges that all students attend the open forum on MSC’s alcohol policy in the Student Center mall following the debates for the new SGA treasurer on September 26.

“The administration is ignorant. How can they say that they are doing it for our own safety if students will now have to go off campus to drink? Many will be forced to drive home drunk,” said Eric Callaro, president of Delta Chi and a resident of Clove Rd.

Susco said that if student opinion is against the policy, it’s just a matter of channelling student voice and showing that they can handle the responsibility of alcohol.

remains unclear.

In response to how further budget cuts would affect the functioning of MSC, Auch said that there is “a strong inclination of the college to protect student services.”

Non-salary expenditures, such as utilities, paper, and other supplies, were kept at the same level as last year, which translates into a 7 to 12 percent cut when inflation and price increases are factored in. “We have to save wherever we can,” said Auch.

The administration does not plan to take the proposed cut in state appropriations passively, according to Auch.

“We can’t take this lying down, we’ve got to fight.”

There is a better way.
Father Art Remembers a Friend

On the morning of May 20, 1990, Gregory H. Brown, a student at Montclair State, died as a result of injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in New York City. Greg was the only person involved in this tragedy.

It was my privilege and joy to have known Greg Brown. He entered my life and the lives of so many others here at MSC, and all I can say is that we have never been the same.

On the morning of May 20, 1990, Gregory H. Brown, a student at Montclair State, died as a result of injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in New York City. Greg was the only person involved in this tragedy.

If there was an open window, Gregory came through it like Spiderman. The roommates at Clove 110 C still recall his ability and agility to go from window to hallway via the couch, the table, the chairs, and the counter top. He would then give a glance to let you know it was your problem if you had to use the floor.

I learned at Greg’s wake that he was faced early in life with a disability. He took that challenge and then made all things possible.

You would remember him on campus as the unicyclist, the mime, the bare-chested juggler, the one-on-one dynamo we often called “Brownie”. He laughed and danced and celebrated his life intermingled with ours. If there was a positive side, Greg always seized it. At his wake, students and alumni recalled that “Greg always told you good news,” “He was always willing to help you,” “You could always count on Greg!”

My life was joined very close to his when he decided to become a member of the Catholic Church. “Art”, Greg said, “I think God's calling me somewhere, I need your help to find it.”

For nine months Greg, Scott Califano, Ralph Acquaro, and I met in a small group to look at the call they felt and how to live out that call.

It was my joy, on April 17, 1988 to baptize, confirm and share with Greg his first Eucharist.

One snowy Sunday night, after Mass at Newman Center, Greg was busy playing with the snow that was piled on the front porch. He called us outside to look at his one-foot-high snowman. He left saying that all he had time for was that snowman, but it was better to play in the snow than let it pass him by.

I am very thankful Greg took the time to be part of my life and that of our campus community.

I realize, once again, that some of us may get only one time around, so living each day to the fullest is what really counts.

I am looking forward to our first snowfall this winter. I want to try my hand at a one-foot snowman. I am sure Greg will be jumping on those snow clouds. I just want him to know he is remembered and loved.

An organized party in the quad?

This week, as part of the Outlook section, The Montclarion is proud to present The Guide, a special four-page pullout that offers lots of helpful information about MSC and its neighboring area. Enjoy!

We've got class — ones, twos, threes, and fours

If you've got a special skill you'd like to share, want to expand your cultural and social horizons, or just get involved on campus, MSC offers a multitude of organizations to join.

All the following belong to a different class in the Student Government Association (SGA). Whom they serve (and their budget) determines their class rank. For example, class one organizations serve the entire student population — undergraduates, transfers, graduate students — and invite all students to become members. Their offices are all in the Student Center Annex.

Class two, three, and four organizations run the gamut from language clubs, fraternities and sororities, and groups with common interests. Their budgets are more limited, some have to raise their own funds. Their offices are located all over campus, but the SGA office (Room 103 of the Student Center Annex) has more information on each and ways of getting in touch with them.

Here are all the SGA-chartered campus organizations, divided by class:

CLASS I

- College Life Union Board (CLUB) (Room 112) - This multi-programming organization provides the college community with first-run movies, Ballroom affairs, Rathskeller entertainment, fall/spring festivals, and much more. CLUB is also run entirely by the students to be in touch with what students want to know and learn more about environmental and conservation issues. It offers many services, including recycling, job referral, and workshops, and sponsors such activities as Earth Care Day and fall and winter backpacking.

- Conservation Club (Room 103) - This club's aim is to inform students who wish to know and learn more about environmental and conservation issues. It offers many services, including recycling, job referral, and workshops, and sponsors such activities as Earth Care Day and fall and winter backpacking.

- Human Relations Organization (HRO) (Room 413) - HRO is the newest class one organization (it was officially "promoted" last spring semester) and deals solely with interpersonal relations and communication. Workshops are sponsored throughout the semester, as well as "The Weekend," a retreat that helps students get better in-touch with themselves.

- La Campana (Room 111) - La Campana, the college yearbook, gives all MSC students the opportunity to portray their impressions of college life through prose, poetry, artwork, and photography. The publication covers a wide variety of campus events, and offers the opportunity to gain knowledge about layout and production.

Fifty campus organizations participated in the second annual "Back-to-School Bash" last Wednesday in the Student Center quad. SGA treasurer Seth Liebowitz estimated close to 1,000 students attended the celebration, which was designed to promote SGA-chartered organizations as well as other campus groups such as Cooperative Education and Work Study.

- Latin American Student Organization (LASO) (Room 100) - LASO gives students the opportunity to understand and appreciate Latin-American culture through informative social and educational programs. LASO sponsors lectures, dances, and Latin Month each spring. All students are encouraged to become members, regardless of ethnic background.

- Montclarion (Room 119) - The Montclarion is a student-operated radio station broadcasting from the Student Center. Students may be in touch with what students want to know and learn more about environmental and conservation issues. It offers many services, including recycling, job referral, and workshops, and sponsors such activities as Earth Care Day and fall and winter backpacking.

- OSAU (Room 119) - The OSAU is directed toward meeting the needs of minority students on campus and exposing non-minority students to the minority experience. They offer diversified events (including Black History Month in February) that are directed toward fulfilling students' cultural, social, and educational needs.

- Players (Room 118) - Players is the student theatrical organization of the SGA, and produces at least three shows per academic year: a drama, a musical, and a comedy. Auditions are posted throughout the campus. All information pertaining to Players is posted on the Players bulletin board, located in the lower hallway of Memorial Auditorium.

- Quarterly (Room 113A) - The Quarterly organization publishes the Four Walls literature and art magazine. Quarterly is the oldest student-run organization on campus. It is written, edited, and published by MSC students and provides them with a means of creative expression through poetry, fiction, art and photography. It is published once each semester, and submissions are accepted until the middle of the fall and spring semesters.

- Student Intramural Leisure Council (SILC) (Room 121) - SILC is also a fairly-new class one organization. It invites students to form their own teams (from their friends in the dorms, classes, or elsewhere) and compete in tournaments. Basketball and baseball, in particular, have a large following.

- WMSC-FM (Room 110) - WMSC is the student-operated radio station broadcasting from the Student Center.

President reinstates the 18th amend.

The MSC administration has made its decision to take away the last refuge where residents over the age of 21 can drink in peace and safety—the Clove Road apartments. The decision will go into effect next year, forcing residents to drive off campus to drink alcohol in bars, which costs more money and creates the hazard of the foolish, yet inevitable, drunk driver.

What the administration fails to recognize is the ramifications of the decision on student morale. College is a place where young men and women come to prepare themselves for living in the real world, and the Clove Road apartments were aptly designed to prepare the older student for apartment living. With apartment life came the burden of responsible drinking, because in the dorms living conditions are so closely supervised that students are forced to have some discipline. But once at Clove Road the student immediately discovers what it is really like to be on their own, and if they don’t develop their own discipline, they will soon suffer the consequences.

But now it seems the administration no longer feels this is a necessary part of our education, and desires strict supervision until we graduate. It will only be after we are out on our own and have real jobs, that we must learn what freedom is and how to deal with all of its pleasures and pressures.

We at the Montclarion suspect that many students will not want to wait until they graduate to learn freedom, and will transfer after their freshman year. Students pay a great deal of money to attend college and will not tolerate being subject to harassment. If they are of lawful drinking age, they should be permitted to have alcohol in their apartment.

As MSC seeks to become a university, it should reevaluate its position on not allowing residents who are over 21 and live at Clove Road to drink in the privacy of their own apartments because students who graduate and become professionals will not recommend their alma mater if they remember themselves being treated like prisoners and they certainly will not contribute alumni funds.

Book bag ban

To the Editor:

As anyone who dines in the Blanton Hall Cafeteria is no doubt aware, book bags are no longer permitted inside. This is, of course, in response to alarming increases in the area of food service theft. It has also presented a few enterprising individuals an excellent money-making opportunity.

I had just returned from the book store, where I had spent a good deal of my hard-earned summer income on textbooks. I was told that bags were not allowed in the dining hall and I would have to leave mine there. I might as well have left my wallet on that table. I don’t know if I expected a bag full of brand new textbooks and their receipts to still be there when I got back but thank God they were—this time.

The person at the desk who was so dutifully ensuring everyone used their meal cards property, suggested that it was not their responsibility as they could not do their engrossing job and keep track of the plethora of book bags that had accumulated.

Were they afraid I would steal a paper plate? A plastic fork or two? Or, Heaven forbid, take a sandwich back to my room for later? I think most rational people can see this is a ridiculous infringement and is completely unnecessary.

Fascist State College

I truly believe that MSC has turned into a fascist state. It is unbelievable how arrogant Montclair “rent-a-cops” act toward students. Is it the fact that these so-called police are jealous that we, as students, will make more money our first year out of school than they will in 3 years?

The other night at the Clove Rd. Apts, I witnessed at least 5 students getting arrested. I don’t know if all these students were drinking or not, but most “real” colleges don’t have hired goons walking around arresting anybody who dares stand in front of them with a cup in their hand. Are these rented cops so expertly trained as to be able to detect alcohol unmistakably?

Underage drinking is illegal, but so is car theft. I wonder how many cars were stolen Thursday night when the whole force (of stomach pulled in so I can look bigger) cops were throwing 20 year old students against cars slipping handcuffs on them. The only words I heard from them all night were “show me your I.D.” or “shut up punk”. Maybe these maladjusted stormtroopers should learn to say “Hi” or “Please.”

There was no sign of any type of activity which warranted a full scale police action. We, the students, pay too much money to this school to have them hire incompetent and overreactive rented police.

Meet the SGA

To the of students Montclair State College. This space has been reserved so I could plead to you to become involved in the Student Government Association and its charted organizations.

Without wasting a lot of words, what you put into your college experience is what you will get out of it. Your money is used to fund the services and activities provided by the Student Government and Class One organizations. These organizations have been developed to be run by the students and for the students enabling the students to develop their skills and follow their interests. Membership is opened to all undergraduate students.

If interested in becoming involved, visit Class One organization offices or the Student Government office located in the Student Center Annex.

The choice is yours, the experience is yours, so “Make the Connection” and get involved.

By the end of this year, many changes will be taking place such as; the construction of new buildings (Master Plan C), the Alcohol Policy of Clove Road Apartments, plan Tuition increase due to the proposed budget cuts to Montclair State.

These changes will affect the campus environment and the student population. As students we will have to take an active part to ensure that our concerns are heard and incorporated in the development of this campus. We must not only look at now, but we must look ahead for the future students at Montclair State.

Once again, the choice is yours, the experience is yours, so “Make the Connection”, and get involved.

As Student Government President, I can offer no more than the full use of my time to benefit the students, all the students of Montclair State College.

Without your help, the students’ needs and concerns will be more effectively addressed.

Anthony Vito Susco
SGA President

Welcome back

Welcome to the 1990-91 academic year at Montclair State! I hope your summer was enjoyable and that you are ready to embark upon or continue your education here with pride, conviction and vitality.

This semester marks the beginning of my second year as president of this fine institution. As many of you know, the last academic year was a tough one, peppered with threatened strikes, protests and reduced budgets. This year we are again faced with a possible 8 percent budget cut. But I remain undaunted and ready to begin upon this academic year with the knowledge that MSC is among New Jersey’s best institutions of higher education.

I assure you that even faced with news of shrinking revenues from the state, we will strive to maintain MSC’s stature of academic excellence without damaging its accessibility. Affordability is one of the key attractions of Montclair, evidenced by a recent national ranking in Money Magazine which placed us as the nation’s twelfth most affordable public institution of quality higher education.

I would like to reiterate one thought from my commencement address in May, which was recently reprinted in another national magazine, Jet: “A college degree is neither a union card nor a credit card. It is not a ticket to success or a badge of superiority. It is a key to opportunity, and an emblem of responsibility. A college degree is not an end. It is a beginning.”

I charge each of you to take these words to heart and make the most of your education here. Take advantage of the many fine programs Montclair has to offer; explore the possibilities; expand your horizons; begin to cut new paths for your future. These are your formative years — years that prepare you to cross your horizons; begin to cut new paths for your future. These are your formative years — years that prepare you to cross the threshold from student to professional life. Make the most of them. Good luck!

If, by any chance, you have the time to shop (in between studies, of course), and want to look beyond the Student Center shops, Montclair and the surrounding areas have some interesting places to go.

Travel down Valley Road and you’ll find a string of quaint stores ranging from five-and-dime style to top of the line women’s clothes. Guys, your clothes are there, too, at Geismar-Kaplan Clothiers.

Hungry? Valley Road also has delis, cafes and even Louis’ Homemade Candy.

Church Street has its share of shops, too. Although the street is currently under construction, the stores are still accessible. There you’ll find Benetton (the only store you’re sure to recognize the name) or Boomerang if you’re looking for something a bit different in women’s clothes.

If it’s knick-knacks you’re after, have a look at The Cat’s Pyjamas or Dexterity. Both carry an array of novelties ranging from rubber chickens and kaleidoscopes to clocks and watches.

If it’s familiarity you want, Willowbrook Mall is a short ride out Route 46 West. The old standbys are there—Sears, Macy’s, Steinbach—as well as hundreds of those little chain stores. There’s even a food court with Casey O’Toole’s and Everything Yogurt (just to name a few) for after you’ve satisfied your shopping appetite.

If you need the services of a bank rather than the on-campus teller machine, both of these offer totally free checking accounts, non-interest bearing accounts, and require no minimum balance:

First Federal Savings and Loan - 597 Valley Road, Montclair. 746-4400.
Montclair Savings - 590 Valley Road, Montclair. 744-3500.
Eat in, hang out, catch a movie — it’s all here

Applegate Farms features ice cream made on the premises.

If the food on campus just hasn’t hit the spot, you might want to check out these area restaurants for any meal (or dessert) of the day:

International House of Pancakes - 631 Bloomfield Ave., Verona. 239-5533. Open seven days a week.

Pizza Hut - Route 46 East, Little Falls. 256-2510. Open 24 hours.

China Wing - 708 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair. 744-0420. Weekly specials and delivery.

Crabby Lobster - 586 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair. 744-2090. 10% off total check or free soda with any entree and the SGA card.

Guilianos Brothers’ Pizzeria - 540 Valley Road. 15% off total check or free soda with any entree and the SGA card.

Houlihan’s - 614 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair. 744-2090. 10% off total check or free soda with any entree and the SGA card.

Essex Green Cinema - Route 280, exit 2a, West Orange. 731-7755. Admission - $6.50 (price may vary according to film).

Peppermint Lounge
- Central Ave., Orange 678-9115

Looking Backward

Ten years ago this week, money and silverware were changing hands, while five years ago, facelifts were popping up all over...

Sept. 11, 1990

• "TAG bill controversial"
  National news hit the campus as a bill passed in the state Senate that allowed the Department of Higher Education to reassess up to half of the $9 million tuition hike. The money was to be used for tuition aid grants, but opposition (including the American Federation of Teachers) claimed that the money was being used to pay a deficit incurred by other higher education sectors.

• "Dinnerware thefts crippling cuisine"
  Approximately $1,400 in silverware and glasses were lost, stolen, or broken during the first three days of Bohn Hall cafeteria’s operation. The loss resulted in a future increase in the price of meal plans.

Would you live at the Clove Road apartments if alcohol were banned there?

"No. If you’re old enough, you should have the freedom to drink in your own place."

Nicole Poranski, Junior
Sociology

"Yes. Alcohol is not an integral part of education."

Robert Nagle, Junior
Psychology / Education

"Yes, I would. I don’t drink that much anyway; my decision wouldn’t depend on the alcohol policy."

Stacy Clavozzkin, Junior

"Yes, I would still live there. I’m against the banning, though. Too many people would go off campus to drink and then drive drunk."

Greetings and Salutations, MSC. I know you’re all wondering where the hell Jarrett Nolan’s Nolan’s Notes went. Let me explain. Mr. Nolan is now a most prestigious MSC alumnus. Way to go, ‘Uncle Buck!’ Anyhow, thanks to Jarrett, I have been bestowed the honor of taking over his column.

My handle is Angel, and I hope you have all had an interesting summer. And interesting it was, indeed. It ranged from the breathtaking performance of the masturbatory Madonna on HBO to the mournful death of 35 year old blues guitarist, Stevie Ray Vaughan (1954-1990).

1st String: Caught the 1990 MTV Video Music Awards. I never would have thought Arsenio Hall could outdo himself with a more hideous outfit than last year’s awards. Guess I was wrong. Flavor Flav from Public Enemy was actually invited onstage this year. He didn’t have to jump out from the audience this time around. Once again, Madonna shocked and rocked the house with a "Dangerous Liaisons" version of "Vogue" in which others, not she, did the grabbing. Other highlights included a New Edition reunion, and the debut performance of "Suicide Blond," the first single from the upcoming INXS album, X. Big winners included Sinead O’Connor’s "Nothing Compares to You." Video of the year and best female vid: "The End of the Innocence" by Don Henley (best male vid); "Janie’s Got a Gun" by Aerosmith (viewers choice); "Vogue" by Madonna (best direction); and Janet Jackson received the Video Vanguard award. And I thought Milli Vanilli had a chance... NOT!

2nd String: Check out George Michael’s new video for "Praying for Time." His latest single from the new Listen without Prejudice, Vol. 1 album. It has more of a message than an image, since all you see are the lyrics to the music. Very intelligent and thought provoking... Pick up a copy of "Ritual de lo Habitual" of the year and best female vid); "The End of the Innocence" by Don Henley (best male vid); "Janie’s Got a Gun" by Aerosmith (viewers choice); "Vogue" by Madonna (best direction); and Janet Jackson received the Video Vanguard award. And I thought Milli Vanilli had a chance... NOT!

3rd String: See the new video for "Madonna" by Madonna. A "Dangerous Liaisons" version of "Vogue" in which others, not she, did the grabbing. Other highlights included a New Edition reunion, and the debut performance of "Suicide Blond," the first single from the upcoming INXS album, X. Big winners included Sinead O’Connor’s "Nothing Compares to You." Video of the year and best female vid: "The End of the Innocence" by Don Henley (best male vid); "Janie’s Got a Gun" by Aerosmith (viewers choice); "Vogue" by Madonna (best direction); and Janet Jackson received the Video Vanguard award. And I thought Milli Vanilli had a chance... NOT!

High Strung: "Blaze of Glory" by Jon Bon Jovi has the #1 pop-spot in the nation... "Feels Good" by Tony! Tony! Tony! Tone! holds the #1 spot for a second week on the black singles chart... MC Hammer holds the #1 album spot for a thirteenth week with "Please Hammer, Don’t Hurt ‘Em."

Stringing you along: In the proud tradition of the trivia question, here’s one to keep you guessing: Guess who bared all at a Palladium performance and kept strutting her stuff like the true professional that she is? Dwell on it...

Until then...Later, MSC

The Bottom Line... LT is best/49'ers win

by Matt Wintner

He may not be a member of England's Royal Family, but Sir Lawrence of the Meadowlands is the King of NFL linebackers. Make no mistake about it, what we witnessed Sunday night was a clinic by the greatest linebacker to ever pummel a quarterback.

In the early stages of Taylor's 45 day holdout, Bill Parcells commented, "You don't sign Mickey Mantle if you don't want to win a pennant." Parcells was right. The Giants defense is better than most teams without Taylor, but with Sir Lawrence, they have that 5th gear that makes them serious contenders to win it all.

LT's impact was felt in more ways than a 3 sack, 7 tackle, and 1 forced fumble performance. Taylor's impact and presence on the field makes everyone around him play that much better.

The entire defensive unit deserved a game ball for it's effort Sunday. There is no doubt that many Eagles had to make reservations to get into the whirlpool on Monday. There is also no doubt that LT had his teammates playing on an entirely different level.

LT is the equivalent of the life of a party. He's the kind of guy that walks into a party, blasts the stereo, and makes everybody go crazy. Turn it up LT. Turn it up.

Maybe it was the spoiled Bourbon Street crawfish gumbo. Or could it be the 49ers aren't the dynamic superteam that everyone is expecting to see this year.

On Sunday in Trolleytown the sky will be raining pigskin as the Redskins battle the Niners at the Stick. The Redskins are flying high after a 31-0 win over Phoenix at RFK Stadium, while the Niners wondered where their dome magic was Monday beating the Saints 13-12.

The Niners are six point favorites and the line could drop more by game time. The Niners opened at 6 point favorites before dropping to 6 yesterday. If Redskins' defensive backs Darrel Green and Alvin Walton can keep Rice and Montana silent like the Saints did Monday, the Skins have a serious shot to win the ballgame. The Skins must also pressure Montana to keep him off balance. Montana may be the best QB around, but even the best can't throw when he is parallel to the ground.

Washington's offense may not be as finely tuned as the Niners, but they do have one of the brightest young qua

A Class One Organization of the SGA
Montclair State Men’s Soccer delivers Domino’s Pizza Classic with style

By Richard T. Green
Staff Writer

The MSC men’s soccer team kicked off the season in stunning fashion by capturing the First Annual Domino’s Pizza Soccer Classic Tournament held at Sprague Field.

In the first round of tournament play MSC outscored and outplayed CCNY en route to an easy 6-0 victory. MSC was led by Scranton transfer Tom Estes who played masterfully by netting three goals in the victory. John Rubinetti had three assists, Guillermo Siles, Pedro Aguiar, and Antonio Alcaide scored one goal apiece for MSC, which advanced to the second round to face Baruch College.

Sunday’s game against Baruch saw another impressive performance from Tom Estes as MSC defeated Baruch 6-0 to capture the Domino’s Classic Title. Estes scored three goals and had two assists and was named tournament MVP for his stellar performance.

Coach Dave Masur was pleased with winning the tournament but felt his team must improve in certain areas if they wished to repeat as champions in the NJAC.

This year MSC returns a very talented, but young team. Six key seniors have graduated, but Coach Masur is looking for Captain Gus Moramarco and Assistant Captain’s John Rubinetti, Vinny Maegowen and Fernando Barbozo to step up and give good leadership to the younger players.

Captain Gus Moramarco has been a First Team All-NJAC player two years running. On last year’s team, Moramarco was a creative, aggressive style player who was relied on mostly for scoring, but with the loss of the seniors, Coach Masur wants him to play more of a leadership role on the field and bring stability to the front line.

The defending NJAC Champions are currently 3-1, after beating Westchester 7-1, and losing to Villanova 4-0 in the Villanova Classic.

MSC had a fine season last year, winning the NJAC and advancing to the quarter finals of the Division III championships, losing only to Elizabeth 1-0, the eventual champions.

SILC is a Class One of the SGA
The Montclair State ground game paced by sophomore John Walker ran wild Saturday night as the Red Hawks upseted the University at Buffalo 21-0 before 4,500 fans in the Hawks' home opener.

Walker racked up 226 yards on 22 carries including runs of 64 yards and an 80 yard touchdown scamper in the third quarter. Derrick McCoy also frustrated Buffalo's defense checking in with 96 yards on 15 carries and a touchdown.

Montclair State's defense was equally impressive holding Bulls' quarterback Frank Reilly for 12 yards passing and intercepting him three times.

The first of Reilly's three interceptions came late in the first quarter. With Buffalo driving, Reilly looked for split end Chaz Ahmed at MSC's 18 yard line, but found safety Tim Miers who returned the interception to the Montclair 43.

The interception proved to be costly. Two plays later, Walker took a handoff from freshmen quarterback Steve Banas and raced 64 yards off right tackle before being brought down at the Bulls three yard line. "I got a couple of great blocks from freshmen quarterback Steve Banas and running back Chaz Ahmed at the Montclair State 18 yard line, said. "That's what really turned it into a big play."

On the next play, fullback Tim McArthur ended the 16 second drive with a three yard plunge for the first score of the game. Kicker Jim Young added the extra point to put Montclair State up 7-0.

The Bulls tried to answer back on the ensuing drive as they marched 51 yards on nine plays getting to the Montclair 15 yard line. Bulls' kicker Tom McLaughlin missed a 32 yard field goal attempt to end the scoring threat. McLaughlin later missed a 42 yarder in the closing minutes of the half to keep the score at 7-0.

Coach Giancola's gameplan worked well as they established the run through the trenches with the help of a mountain sized offensive line. "We are a traditional team and we like to utilize our strengths which in this case is our running game and offensive line," Giancola said.

Montclair's first drive of the second half led to a 14-0 lead. The drive was capped off when Derrick McCoy raced 20 yards for the score. Quarterback Steve Banas in his first collegiate start completed 2 of 3 passes on the drive for 30 yards. Banas who threw for only 5 yards passing the first half shook off the butterflies looking sharp and more comfortable as the game went along.

The freshmen quarterback from Mahwah finished the evening with 51 yards passing completing 7 of 14 passes and was intercepted twice. Although Banas' numbers weren't flashy, coach Giancola was pleased with his performance. "He's a smart quarterback," Giancola said. "They (Buffalo) threw a lot of different things at him and he handled it well. He even called a couple of audibles that turned what would have been bad plays into good ones."

Buffalo had one last chance to make a game of it when free safety Brent Pry recorded his second interception midway through the third quarter to give the Bulls the ball at the Montclair 26 yard line.

Bulls fullback John Hartman ran up the middle for another 12 yards but they would get no further as the defense put the clamps on the Buffalo offense. The scoring threat came to an end when Reilly was sacked by Paul Cioffi on 4th and 10. "That was a play you would expect and All-American to make," Giancola said.

Standout defensive performances were also turned in by John Hernandez and Derek Sininski who were around the ball all night long. The Monmouth County products combined for 21 tackles.

To many shots of Johnny Walker made for a long bus trip back to Buffalo for the Bulls. Walker's 80 yard TD run was the second longest in Montclair State history.

Johnny Walker Red-226 proof

By Matt Wintner
Asst. Sports Editor

The backbreaker for the Bulls came three plays later on a 3rd down and 6 draw where Matt Reilly took off on an 80 yard race to the end zone. Once again, Walker was quick to praise his offensive line. "Our line is great. They are the type of line that beats on you, bends you, and finally breaks you," Walker said.

The Hawks didn't reflect on their victory for long because Division II rival East Stroudsburg awaits. Last year Montclair squeezed out a 20-19 victory at ESU and Saturday's game is expected to be another barnburner. The opening kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Sprague Field.

Langer appointed Sports Info. Director

By Michael Frasco
Sports Editor

Hard-working, organized, creative. These are the qualities which describe Al Langer now the full-time Sports Information Director for Montclair State.

A graduate from Rutgers-New Brunswick in 1987, Al Langer initially wanted to be a sports writer. However, during an internship in his junior year, Langer worked in the sports department performing various duties. The combination of sports writing, not living up to his expectations, and a growing interest in the sports department led him to his current career.

In January 1988, Langer was offered the job of sports information director at Montclair State however, this was just part-time as there was not an existing full-time position. Faced with being paid only $4,000 annually, he made the decision to take the job, knowing that was what he truly wanted to do. He made ends meet by bartending at night.

Langer continued the job through 1989, putting in extra hours to make Montclair State sports as respectable as possible, while hoping to someday obtain a full-time position.

In 1990 he had the reality of getting his dream or residing to a new job stared Langer right in the face. A search committee was set up in the summer of 1990 the reality of getting his dream or residing to a new job stared Langer right in the face. A search committee was set up in

What was Langer's reaction? He said, "It feels good, the days are long but I wouldn't do this job if I didn't love it."

Langer said his number one priority will be to send information to the media. But this would be done in his own way. He explained, "Information needs an image. How it looks and is read is important. I try to be cordial and project an image so the media will respect Montclair State."

Langer said the duties are plenty and that the day goes by fast. Some of those duties include running the press box or keeping score at most sporting events, taking care of the infinite amount of statistics, and making sure the reporters have all the information needed.

Langer noted that some Sports Information Directors just do what they have to do to the best of their abilities, but his job is to send information to the media. He takes pride in his job and enjoys it.

Turning to the evening, Langer attends classes to complete a Masters degree in Physical Education with a concentration in Sports Administration. Presently, that goal is almost accomplished as he is just six credits short of completing the degree.

Al Langer is doing what he loves to do at MSC. And the athletic department is all the better...
